John Foxwell Sparklin, 71, an employee of the Newark Post for the past 34 years, died suddenly at his home in Elkton on Saturday, March 4. Funeral services were conducted from his late residence at 245 E. High Street, Wednesday afternoon, with the Rev. J. J. Bunting, pastor of the Elkton Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in the Elkton Cemetery.

Surviving the deceased is one daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Perkins, and one granddaughter, Miss Lorene S. Perkins; four brothers, William Usilton, Bayard Usilton and Norman Usilton, all of Washington, D. C., and John Usilton, of Glendale, California; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Duncan and Mrs. Lulu McAvoy, both of Washington, D. C.

The deceased was preceded in death by his wife, Elizabeth, who died four years ago and a daughter, Evelyn, who died two years ago. Mr. Sparklin was a former member of the Elkton Town Council, a trustee and member of the official board of the Elkton Methodist Church and was a life member of the Patrons and Founders Association of Wesley Junior College, Dover.

He was born at Chestertown, Md., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Sparklin. He served his apprenticeship in the printing trade in the Government Printing Office at Washington, D. C. and formerly worked at the Cecil Whig for a period of ten years. He came to work for the late Everett Johnson in 1910 when the Newark Post and the Press of Kells was founded and had been employed by the Newark Post and its successors ever since.

Mr. Sparklin commuted daily from Elkton and was in apparent good health although he had had heart trouble prior to his death. He worked at his home on Saturdays by his daughter when she returned from a visit in Pennsylvania.

MAIL RATE INCREASES MARCH 26

2-Cent Local Postage Rate Expires Soon

The increase in the local first class mail rate from 2 cents an ounce or fraction thereof, to 3 cents, becomes effective here March 26, Postmaster C. E. Rittenhouse said yesterday. The increase throughout the nation, was authorized by Congress recently. There will be no more 2-cent rate for first class mail under the new schedule. Postcards will continue to be 1 cent, and first class mail for points out of Newark will remain at 3 cents.

Air mail from one postoffice to another on the mainland of the United States and Alaska will be 8 cents. The rate now is 6 cents.

The rate of 6 cents for air mail for each ounce or fraction will continue in effect for air mail sent by the armed forces of the United States overseas and served through the Army and Navy postoffice. There has been no change for this type of air mail.

Persons who have a stock of the 2-cent government printed envelopes on hand can use them by affixing a 1 cent stamp. Those having 6 cent air mail envelopes must affix a 2 cent stamp.

VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED

Company "G" of the Delaware State Guard located at Newark was organized in October of 1943 and at the present time this organization has reached a strength of forty-four men. The authorized strength of the company is eighty men and it is hoped that this will be reached within the next few months.

Volunteers are urgently needed from men between the ages of thirty-eight and forty-five years as a large part of the present personnel who are under thirty-eight may soon be inducted into the Armed Forces.

Male citizens of Newark who have had experience in the Civilian Defense groups which are now more or less discontinued are urged to take up this activity. Drills are held in the Newark Armory each Monday evening from eight until nine-thirty o'clock.

Named Dean

Robert L. Spencer, Dean of the School of Engineering at the University of Delaware has been appointed acting dean and registrar of Delaware College to fill the posts held by Dean George E. Dutton up until his death last Tuesday.

Dr. Walter Hüllihen, president of the University of Delaware, said the appointment was made pending action by the board of trustees of the university. Dean Spencer has been associated with the university for more than fifteen years.

COLLECTION SCHEDULE FOR PAPER ANNOUNCED

Critical Need Of Paper Prompts Increased Aid For Disposal

C. N. Lanier, Jr., chairman of the Newark Salvage Committee, today announced an increased effort for the collection of waste paper, now the nation's No. 1 critical salvage material of war.

The local drive is part of the U. S. Victory Waste Paper Campaign which was started recently by the American Newspaper Publishers Association at the urgent request of Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board.

Newark's Boy Scouts, under the leadership of Conrad Lewis, Jr., and Charles Wollaston, have collected and disposed of 49 tons of waste paper since the local campaign began. In an effort to regularize collections in Newark, arrangements have been made for a distributor to provide large trucks for collections. Since these trucks are available only on Sundays, general collections will be made twice monthly on Sunday afternoons as follows: Please turn to page 8

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK MONDAY

Miss M. S. Jones To Speak On Chinese Problems

Miss Mabel Steel Jones who has served as a missionary in China for the past twenty-nine years will be the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newark Methodist Church on Monday night at eight o'clock.

Miss Jones served as secretary to a Y.M.C.A. official in China before her missionary appointment in 1913 and it was during that time that she began to understand the people with whom she was to live and work with for twenty-nine years.

In 1920, she moved to Showchow to do pioneer evangelistic work and she stayed there during the Japanese invasion and saw the indomitable courage of the Chinese women refugees. Often she walked through the city, giving comfort to the bereaved, and helping the injured as they were brought to the hospitals.

In August, 1942, she returned to the United States on the repatriation vessel, MS Gripsholm.

Electric light receipts for the month were $7,279.80; electric power receipts were $4,708.17; water receipts were $7,281.95.

Chief of Police William Cunningham reported seventeen arrests for the month of February classified as follows: unnecessary noise, leaving the scene of an accident, rape, disorderly conduct and no operators license, one arrest for each offense; reckless driving, and speeding, 2 arrests for each offense; assault and battery, 3 arrests; drunk and disorderly, 5 arrests.

Fines collected amounted to $191.00; one person was committed to the workhouse in default of fine and one case held for court. Six accidents and four larceny cases were investigated. Three of the larceny cases were cleared. One bicycle was recovered but the owner has not been found.

One soldier was turned over to the Military Authorities for defacing the town Honor Roll and one car reported stolen was found at Fader's Garage. It had been taken there by mistake.

The department answered 149 police calls during the month and overnight lodging was provided for 4. The police car patrolled 2468 miles.

WEEK NETS $2000 FOR RED CROSS

First Reports Made By Zone Captains Sunday

The 1944 War Fund Campaign of the Newark Branch of the Red Cross got off to a flying start last week. The support of the entire community and its outlying districts is being sought by a large corps of volunteer workers who are canvassing every house.

This drive is not the ordinary Annual Red Cross drive but a determined campaign to raise at least $10,000 which is Newark's share of the tremendous sum of $200,000,000 needed to carry on the wartime activities of the Red Cross.

Zone captains made their first reports Sunday evening to Dr. J. R. Downes, Chairman of the local drive. During the week about $2,000 was collected. Mrs. Dora Burris, Captain of Zone 24-A, reported that her zone had been completely canvassed and all returns made. Dr. Downes expressed gratification at the good work being done by the various teams.

The Special Gifts Committee, consisting of Dr. Walter Hüllihen and J. K. Johnston advised the general drive committee that they were planning to send out letters this week.

Canvassing of the entire area is expected to be complete and all returns in by Sunday, March 12. Zone captains are to present their final reports to Dr. Downes' office that evening between 8 and 8 P.M.

JOHN FOXWELL SPARKLIN

This issue of the Newark Post is dedicated to John Foxwell Sparklin, 71 year old member of its force for the past thirty-four years, who was taken suddenly by a heart attack at his Elkton home Saturday, March 4.

Mr. Sparklin, or "John L." as he was more familiarly known to his fellow workers, was the strongest influence the Newark Post ever has or ever will know since the late Everett Johnson. He was always the first man on the job in the morning and the last to leave in the afternoon. He never knew an idle moment and always worked for the best interest of his employers.

He was more than a printer. He was a craftsman of the old school as his many years of service in Washington, Elkton, New York, Wilmington and finally Newark, testified. The high standard of printing maintained at the Newark Post was due largely to his artistry, diligence for perfection and untiring efforts. His passing is a sad blow to his employers and co-workers and he will be sorely missed throughout the years to come.

The first issue of the Newark Post, founded by Everett Johnson, was printed by John F. Sparklin on January 26, 1910. He served the same publication through a succession of different ownerships until the time of his death. He saw the Newark Post grow from a small publication of several hundred circulation until it reached its thirty-fifth birthday and became recognized as one of the outstanding weeklies in Delaware with a circulation of more than two thousand.

John F. Sparklin was the kind of an employee that employers dream about. He never murmured about long hours, difficult jobs or hardships. He gloried in his love for his profession and was one of the best printers it has been our privilege to know in many varied years of experience. He was a distinguished gentleman, a staunch church member and prominent citizen of his home community. We bow our heads in tribute and dedicate this issue of the publication he served so long and faithfully to the everlasting memory of and in respect to JOHN FOXWELL SPARKLIN.

THE PAPER CRISIS

According to reliable Washington information less than 20,000 more men set to work cutting pulp wood would solve the paper shortage crisis confronting the country. This additional manpower could cut sufficient pulp wood to keep all the paper mills running.

Here are some examples of the growing crisis in paper materials: The supply of wood pulp fell from 980,000 tons in September 1942 to 470,000 tons in November 1943. Stockpiles of waste paper dropped from 590,000 tons in October 1942 to 220,000 tons in November 1943. The WPB thinks these inventories are below a workable minimum.

Unless vigorous steps are taken to rebuild the raw material stockpiles, there may be additional curtailments in paper allotments for newspapers, magazines, commercial printing, boxes, packages, books and the thousands of other uses to which paper is put. To meet all of the demands on even the current restricted allotments, 14,000,000 cords of wood must be cut in the United States in 1944.

Many paper mills are closed down today because of lack of raw materials. Others are operating only a few days a week. Yet every paper requirement could be filled if the War Manpower Commission would recruit only 18,500 more men for work in wood cutting.

Also, the problem could be partially solved if the Army Provost Marshall would assign additional prisoners of war to cutting wood. It is estimated that fewer than 500 prisoners of war are engaged in this kind of work in the United States at this time. It is said that the decision of using prisoners of war to cut wood rests with the local camp commanders. But surely a directive from the War Department would encourage these commanders. Also, there are 10,000 Japanese-American citizens available in relocation centers who could perform this kind of work. A large part of the sugar beet crop was saved last fall by these Japanese-Americans. The U. S. Employment Service has not made any effort to recruit these evacuees to cut wood.

It is both a patriotic responsibility and a profitable enterprise for farmers and others who have wood lots to cut wood for pulp purposes. Every newspaper published in a farm area is in a position to help farmers dispose of this wood to the paper mills.

In England it is an offense to throw away as much as one wrapping from a package of cigarettes. We may not have come to that but it is certainly the responsibility of every American to save every bit of paper and turn it in or sell it to the paper salvage drive.

Printers and buyers of printing must of course, conserve paper by accepting lighter weights of paper and by using smaller sizes when possible.

All in all, we believe the paper crisis can be overcome. The War Manpower Commission will have to bestir itself. Maybe a few letters written to Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt in Washington urging that manpower be allocated for wood cutting might help.

Brockton, Mass., staged a parade with bands playing recently in honor of James B. Simmons, 26-year-old Negro, on the occasion of his induction into the army, he being the town's only colored citizen to be drafted so far.

Police were asked to look for Clifford Bates, 14-year-old Chicago boy who disappeared after leaving a note, "I went to California to see Walt Disney."

Afternoon Services At The Head of Christiana Church

Services at the Head of Christiana Church will be held in the afternoon on Sunday, March 12 with the Sunday School starting at 1:30 o'clock and the regular worship service being held at 2:30 P.M.

Harold L. Stanley, superintendent, will be in charge of the Sunday School hour when the lesson topic to be discussed will be "Jesus Betrayed, Denied and Condemned."

The pastor, Rev. Evan W. Renne, will preach the sermon at the church service on the subject "Life's Greatest Question." The choir will present two special numbers and everyone is cordially invited to attend these services.

How About That!

By Ruth Safran

I went to sleep last night with my mind hopefully clutching at the news in the New York Times that maybe next year the House Ways and Means Committee will have carpentered the present withholding tax so that people not making over $5000 would not have to file a regular return. That's next year.

Meanwhile, I am pretty proud of the success in filling out that snare and delusion called Form 1040 — without the aid of those inviting books on how-to-prepare-income with one-car-to-your-lawyer's chest or without consulting the purchased aid of an accountant or his ilk.

But honesty calls forth the admission that I phoned a friend out of a sound sleep for counsel on what went into which column — and then sought the measured opinion of six people on the subject of the deductibility of luxury taxes — and the contents of almost all my drawers were heaped on the floor in a mad search for receipts. And I also had to rewrite same return six times either because the figures added themselves wrong or a new bit of evidence loomed up — like the happy news that I hadn't deducted amounts paid on my 1943 income.

The pile from the drawer became very fascinating — in the midst of this copying — and I decided to sort some mail by people and look through memory-evoking cards. About 12 o'clock I resolved that it was good business to keep the serial numbers of my bonds. There was a copy of "Goodnight, Sweet Prince" downstairs. What better way to meet the tax deadline than by reading about the antics of John Barrymore while strategically peeling a couple of oranges.

The following day, same person who straightened out the columns discovered that I had counted in the whole amount spent on amusement (instead of the tax thereon. (At that point, I was convinced that I should have stood in bed).

So, I have succeeded in cleaning out drawers and reaching into tattered pockets of jeans to send a check to a very impersonal Collector of Revenue. I've a vague feeling that my duets will help the "war effort" ... I'm only wondering what kind of balm helps an outraged pocket nerve.

Which reminds us of the recent tricky Philadelphia Inquirer headline (only because I'm curiously tax-conscious). It came out after Barkley resisted Roosevelt's criticism of the way Congress tortured the tax program.

It read: "Barkley bolts and Doughton bolts and Roosevelt eats ivy — and Poison Ivy too ..."

PARTY HELD AT COLLEGE

A birthday party was given to the soldier boys at the University of Delaware last week by Mrs. Pearl Beste, dietitian and manager of the Howard Johnson Restaurant, operators of the Mess Hall for the Army Specialized Training Program.

Four Ways to Build Better Chicks

- 1 Buy well-bred, pullorum-free chicks from a reliable nearby hatchery.
- 2 Have a clean, warm house ready for the chicks when they arrive. Plenty of room and ample feeding and watering space will help keep chicks healthy and growing.
- 3 Check with your local Southern States Co-operative Service Agency in order that plans may be made to keep you supplied with the good Southern States feed you need.
- 4 Keep the chicks growing right from the start with Southern States Starting & Growing Mash. With higher corn content and more of the vital vitamins, Starting & Growing Mash now meets approximately its own high pre-war standards. There is no better feed for getting chicks off to a good start during the critical first six weeks. At six weeks start feeding scratch grains and grit.

SHOTS

by J. H. (Sureshot) Rumer

With the basketball season at the University and the Newark High School over the sport page will be in a bad fix until baseball season gets under way. Also those fellows at the high school who have been getting their names in print will be losing out with their public.

Private Jack Powell was a Newark visitor over the week-end. General Powell had a 72-hour leave or pass, whatever they call it and he, not being stuck on those girls at Cornell, felt that he should spend his time in Newark with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Powell. He is also reported to have visited others. Jack said that 9 out of 10 girls are beautiful and the 10th girl goes to Cornell where he is stationed.

Olan Thomas is another soldier who is home on leave. Olan, who has spent a lot of time out in the wild and woolly west always has someone with him whenever I see him.

The Eastern Beagle Club had a little hard luck last Sunday when it snowed and they could not hold their regular monthly trials as scheduled. The club is holding a meeting in the club house this evening to plan other dates for the affair. Dates will be announced next week in this paper.

The money collected by the Red Cross could much better be used at home than to waste it on some ungrateful people in Europe or Japan who will only bite the hand that feeds them in another twenty years or so. Charity should begin at home.

A fund should be raised to purchase medals for those two soldiers, who on their return from the battle front poked John L. Lewis in the nose. What this country needs is more nose pokers.

It is reported that Storekeeper First Class Frank C. Mayer, who has been stationed at Bainbridge has been operated on at the station hospital for appendicitis and is getting along nicely.

The "B" section of the eighth grade walloped the "C" section basketball team this week by the score of 30 to 6. Last week they beat them 40 to 3. What is the matter with the B's? Are they slipping or are the C's getting better.

Bob Gregg, who scored 16 points this week must be off form because last week he was high with 24 points. Sureshot thinks that he is eating too many ice cream cones. Tony Cosetti also had a let-down. He only scored 8 points this week and last week he had 14 points. Tony is slipping but Joe Zappo showed a little more speed as he doubled last week's record. Bill must be taking lessons from that Bill Pie fellow who was the star of the Yellowjacket team this season.

Dick Davis showed quite a lot of improvement. Last week he had one point, this week his score was 5 points. Possibly Buddy Cataldi has taken him in hand. Buddy has quite a reputation.

Now to come to the girls' team. That Lois Guhl should have played on the Newark varsity. She could outplay any fellow on the team. 25 points in one game is a real fair score but Lois Guhl is a real fair girl and she knows her basketball.

The Newark Chamber of Commerce was supposed to hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday night but through some mistake the rooms in the council building were locked. The town magistrate opened his office to the Commerce members who were found holding a meeting on the steps leading up to the second floor of the council building and George Honey, president of the group conducted more or less (principally less) of an experience meeting. Cyrus E. Rittenhouse who is said to be the vice-president of the meeting talked on various subjects and Mike Plinick, who is Newark's leading shoe merchant told some humorous jokes. The group was shortly joined by Sergeant Leroy Hill of the Newark Police Force who thought some big case was being held in the magistrate's court and while the war was not exactly won the International policy was generally settled.

The Newark Post is grieved by the loss of John F. Sparklin, for-man of the composing room who died suddenly at his home in Elkton last week. Mr. Sparklin, who has been with the Newark Post since 1910 had become quite a fixture and was loved by all.

Illinois Race Board Revises License Forms
The Illinois Racing Board has moved to eliminate the undesirable who infiltrate into horse racing occasionally.

The new forms will be a searching questionnaire of the applicant's record and reputation and in the case of owners will amount to an affidavit of ownership.

"We have been embarrassed occasionally by issuing licenses to stables to race in the state, only to learn later that the real owners, hiding behind assumed names, were hoodlums whom we are trying to keep out of the game."

"By demanding sworn statements, I think we've put teeth in the applications."

Boy Scouts To Collect Waste Paper Sunday

Newark Troop No. 55, Boy Scouts of America held their regular weekly meeting in the Scout rooms of the Old Academy building on Tuesday night and following the opening exercises of the Troop, first aid instruction was given the boys by the senior patrol members.

Due to the snow storm last Sunday the collection of waste paper was postponed until this coming Sunday when all territory South of Main Street and West of the B. & O. railroad and New London Avenue will be canvassed. The Boy Scouts are asking the public to have all bundles securely tied so that the paper will not blow around.

4-H CLUBS MOBILIZE TO INCREASE WAR EFFORT

Delaware 4-H Clubs have played a big part in the State's war effort already. During 1943, in addition to producing a total of $82,045.91 worth of goods, chiefly of essential food products, Delaware's 1,620 club members collected 500,000 pounds of scrap metal, rubber, and fat, acted as air raid wardens, plane spotters, fire fighters, Red Cross workers, neighborhood leaders or messengers, U.S.O. workers, and various other civilian wartime jobs.

This year they plan to do even more. During National 4-H Mobilization Week, March 4 to 12, they are strengthening their program to produce more food and carry on more civilian wartime jobs.

This year they plan to do even more. During National 4-H Mobilization Week, March 4 to 12, they are strengthening their program to produce more food and carry on more civilian wartime jobs.

The boys and girls by putting their individual efforts into group action have been able to accomplish more. At the same time they are learning better methods of farming and home making, they are learning to cooperate in accomplishing their work; and they are developing leadership.

Our country can and will count on these young people to carry a big load in our war effort and in our post-war world. Said President Roosevelt in a recent message to club members regarding 4-H Mobilization Week, "Today our country relies on the determination and courage of its youth to see us through to victory. In the years to follow we shall look likewise to our youth for leadership in building a world of peace. Through 4-H Club work you have demonstrated that you are a powerful influence in this direction. In being ever mindful of your responsibilities . . . you are furthering your own wholesome development and that of your own family and community. Moreover, through assuming such responsibilities you are helping materially in building a world of progress, justice and mutual understanding . . ."

Our country can and will count on these young people to carry a big load in our war effort and in our post-war world. Said President Roosevelt in a recent message to club members regarding 4-H Mobilization Week, "Today our country relies on the determination and courage of its youth to see us through to victory. In the years to follow we shall look likewise to our youth for leadership in building a world of peace. Through 4-H Club work you have demonstrated that you are a powerful influence in this direction. In being ever mindful of your responsibilities . . . you are furthering your own wholesome development and that of your own family and community. Moreover, through assuming such responsibilities you are helping materially in building a world of progress, justice and mutual understanding . . ."

SOYBEANS GOOD MEAT SUBSTITUTE

Demonstrations Will Be Held This Month

A Chinese bean "trick" 3000 years old is to be put into practice in New Castle County in the very near future by all homemakers who are interested in supplementing the meat rations of their families diet with a rich source of protein says Mrs. Kate Henley Daugherty, New Castle County Home Demonstration Agent for the University of Delaware Extension Service.

Soybeans are known in the Orient as the "poor man's meat" or "boneless steak." They contain the most reliable vegetable protein substitute for meat. They contain most of the elements found in animal proteins.

With the prediction that we will have less beef, veal, lamb, and mutton this year, Mrs. Daugherty feels that it will be wise for every homemaker to learn the value of the soybeans as a meat substitute.

During the month of March, Mrs. Daugherty will give a demonstration on preparing the soybeans in various ways to twelve home demonstration clubs throughout New Castle County. All of the meetings will be open meetings to which the public is invited. Several meetings have already been held. Those yet to be held are the following:

- Friday, March 10, at the home of Mrs. Lewis Hurd, Claymont, 1:30 P. M.
- Monday, March 13th, Middletown Fire Hall, 4:30 P. M.
- Tuesday, March 14th at Mrs. D. D. Fowler's near Newark, 1:30 P. M.
- Wednesday, March 16th, Mrs. Lloyd Dasher's, near State Road, 1:30 P. M.
- Monday, March 20th, Mrs. M. J. Bergen's near Bear, 1:30 P. M.
- Tuesday, March 21st, Delaware Power & Light Company, Wilmington, 1:30 P. M.

Girl Scouts will call on homes preceding collection days to distribute circulars and help, if necessary, in the preparation of paper for disposal. Newspapers and magazines should be tied in bundles; cartons should be flattened or used as containers; loose paper should be placed in cartons or bags.

Tin Can Collection Is Discontinued

The collection of flattened tin cans which has been conducted by the town on the Monday preceding the usual trash and rubbish collection will be discontinued until further notice it was stated this week by Town Supervisor, George E. Ramsey.

It was stated that there is such a small response to this appeal and also that the flattened tin cans have accumulated at the town collection center without being removed by the proper authorities and it is felt that the collection of the cans should be discontinued as it involves a great expense on the part of the town.

Bible Presbyterian Services On Sunday

Services of the Bible Presbyterian Church will be held as usual on Sunday, March 12 at the Red Men's Fraternal Home, corner of South College Avenue and West Park Place.

4,000 Owners In State Renew Auto Licenses

The local office of the Motor Vehicle Department up to Monday had renewed 1,621 automobile registrations for New Castle County motorists, while the total in the state issued so far amounts to 4,000. There are approximately 36,000 registrations to be renewed by March 31.

So far only about 15 of a total of 450 drivers, 75 years of age or over and who must take drivers tests before securing new operators licenses, have appeared at the Wilmington office for examinations.

The regular operators licenses are being issued by the department. So far the local office has issued about 500. There are approximately 100,000 licensed operators in Delaware.

3rd Grade Assembly

The Pioneers who were in the first scene were accompanied by friends and neighbors, played by Joan Sullivan, Wayne Warner, Clifford Shew, Stephen Gladsky, Dick Lawson, Frank Cochran and Jim Sult. The narrator for this scene was Lillian Wright.

After those Pioneer scenes Arthur Boulden pointed out the dangers against which the Pioneers had to fight and emphasized the fact that all, even the children, helped in their fight. Then he added that in the present fight, even though it is different from that of the early days, even the children can and must help in many ways. Several children then dramatized ways in which they can help in the war effort, which they can help at home.

Rose Marie Duffy and Joan Sullivan said that children can help at home while parents do war work. Marvin Goodchild and John Marns emphasized saving waste paper. Gene Dempsey and Paul Ewell the saving of scrap metals. Frank Cochran and Wayne Warner suggested the purchase of war bonds and stamps. Patsy Moore and Barbara Greenplate urged the saving of foods. Herbert Marin and Bobby Simpers urged the writing of letters to men in the services and Bobby Lane and Fred Kilpatrick made a plea for the Red Cross.

Council Meeting

George E. Ramsey, town supervisor reported that holes in Main Street had been repaired with asphalt. Paper Mill Road has been repaired as well as Dalem Road and Creek Road. The south end of Orchard Road was repaired with cinders. One tree was removed on Kells Avenue and another on Cleveland Avenue. Trees have been trimmed to clear electric wires on Main Street, South College Avenue, Delaware Avenue, North College Avenue and Cleveland Avenue.

During the month there were 15,368,900 gallons over February, 1943.

Clean-up days for the removal of trash and rubbish were set at Wednesday and Thursday, March 15 and 16, Monday, March 13, was set for the collection of tin cans.

The question of holidays for town employees was discussed and the council voted that the town offices would be closed on the following days each year: New Years Day, Memorial Day, 4th of July, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas.

The council voted to give members of the police department an increase in salary. It was pointed out by members of the police commission that our officers work seven days a week and receive no holidays. It was also shown that they received less pay than other towns of the same size throughout the state.

The town elections will take place this year on Tuesday, April 11 and at this time citizens of the town will elect a mayor and three members of council. The councilmen whose terms will expire are: Herman Wollaston, Norman E. Battersby and John F. Richards. In as much as Charles C. Hubert has filed for the office of Mayor there will have to be another councilman elected from the Eastern District to replace Mayor Hubert. The last day to file as candidate for office is April 1, ten days before the town election.
