Judged Entries In Newark Dog Show

R. R. Cornell Has Best Of Exhibit; 69 Dogs Entered
By "The Roamer"
National Dog Week was marked in Newark last Saturday by the first organized showing of canines ever staged here. More than 200 spectators viewed the judging from the football stands at the Newark High School athletic field. Hastily arranged, following a last-minute request by A. Raymond Jackson of Wilmington, state chairman of the observance, and his state show committee chairman, Frank H. Clark of O'Del Kennels, near New Castle, the event attracted a total of sixty-nine dogs.
Forty-five owners participated in the six groups judged as follows: Sporting, hound, working, terrier, non-sporting, and toys. GUARD HERE TO GET 46 MORE MEN

Enlistments Now Open Under Arms Expansion Plan

Battery E, 198th C. A. C. (A. A.), of the Delaware National Guard, located here, has been ordered to increase its force from 65 members to normal peace strength of 111 and three commissioned officers, Captain H. Wallace Cook, commander, announced this week.
The whole national guard regiment will be increased 75 per cent by addition of 600 enlisted men in line with President Roosevelt's recent decision to augment the nation's armed strength.
The increase will give Delaware a total national guard personnel of more than 1,500 officers and enlisted men. Secretary of War Harry W. Woodring has authorized the increase, according to Brig.-Gen. Weiler E. Stover.

To Recruit Men
Following the return of Captain Cook from Springfield, Mass., late this week, a recruiting campaign will likely be started by the local battery to increase its strength.

The present strength of the Delaware National Guard is 859 enlisted men of whom 735 are assigned to the 198th Coast Artillery and 124 to the harbor defense unit. With the additional men, the guard will have 1,459 enlisted men. No increase in the number of officers is anticipated at this time.

According to reports, the present strength of the machine gun batteries, which is 65 men, will be increased to more than 100 men. Similar increases in the three-inch gun batteries, each of which is composed of 70 enlisted men, are expected.

Milk Marketing Dinner Attended By 160 Guests

One hundred and sixty persons attended the banquet held in the Newark M. E. Church dining hall, given by the Wilmington Milk Marketing Committee for its shipper. Music was furnished by the Pendergraft Grange No. 60 orchestra.

A brief talk on "The Fertilization of Pasture Land" was given by George M. Worrell, county agent, and O. H. Hoffman, general manager of the Milk Producers Cooperative, spoke on the "Conditions of the Philadelphia Milk Market."

The following were named members of the committee for the coming year: Ralph Bower, chairman; Lewis Phipps, secretary; J. Leslie Ford, H. Wilson Price, Hazel Price, Charles Moore, J. J. Rubincame, H. W. Cook, Irvin Klair, and Harris McDowell.

The annual homecoming exercises will be held at the Christiana Presbyterian Church on Sunday, Oct. 8, with services at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. The Rev. David A. Reed, former pastor, will preach at the morning service. The speaker at the afternoon meeting will be Dr. Charles L. Candee, of Wilmington.
Lunch will be served during the noon recess. Special music will be rendered at both services and Rev. Samuel L. Irvine, pastor, has invited all former members and friends to attend.

Predict Greater Farm-Products Demand

Last Quarter Of Year To Improve For Agriculture

Improved demand for farm products during the last quarter of this year was forecast recently by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Basis is the expansion in industrial activity and consumer incomes in recent months accelerated now by war conditions. Producers were cautioned, however, not to expect a "run-away" market, since supplies of practically all farm products are more than enough for current and prospective needs.
The bureau indicated that sustained improvement must depend upon actual, not speculative, increases in domestic and foreign demand for farm products. Some of the initial war upsurge in commodity prices has abated since it has become generally realized, the bureau said, that "supplies of most raw materials are ample and unused manufacturing capacities more than sufficient to take care of any likely near-term increase in consumer demand."

Highest Level In Year

Recent gains have raised the Government index of prices of farm products to the highest level in nearly a year. Nevertheless, it was reported that the index is still below the 1910-14 base period, and that because of the unfavorable relationship of prices received to prices paid for commodities used by farmers, the farm purchasing power index is 20 to 25 per cent below the 1910-14 level.

The bureau said that although some of the recent commodity price gains may be lost as adjustments are made to actual conditions, "it seems probable that the effect of the European war will be to strengthen both domestic and export demand for farm products in general. "The war," it was added, "is likely to decrease European production of some commodities and cause belligerent nations to have less regard than in peace times for the effects of imports on their financial resources or domestic economies programs."

Situation Summarized

The bureau issued the following summary of the agricultural situation from its current report on the demand and price situation:
Wheat: The total wheat crop in the United States is only about 50,000,000 bushels larger than probable 1939-40 domestic disappearance, but world supplies are expected to be about 300,000,000 bushels larger than the high record world supplies of 1938-39. Wheat prices in the United States are now above long values, but below parity.
Corn: Corn prices advanced about 15 cents per bushel during the first half of September and other feed grains made smaller advances. Corn supplies are much larger than needed to supply domestic requirements, so the price rise seems to reflect an expected increase in European demand for grains and livestock products. Since the indicated 1939 supply is below the marketing quota level, no referendum on marketing quotas will be held this year. The present situation indicates a loan rate on 1939 corn of 75 per cent of parity.

Livestock Prices

Livestock: Prices of all livestock rose sharply during the first week of September following the outbreak of the European war. (Please Turn To Page 8)

Willard Raleigh, Elkton, R. D. 3	212,000
Mrs. William Wideman, Newark	238,000
Mrs. Elizabeth W. Zebley, Newark, R. D. 2	243,000

We are proud of the workers in our subscription campaign. They are putting up a great race, realizing as they do the value of the prizes offered. The top winner will have earned $100 a week for the seven weeks of the campaign. The work is not hard, but as in any business, the ones who give the campaign the most thought and time, energy and enthusiasm, are the ones who will take down the big prizes.

We find a new leader this week according to the credits published. Miss Maybelle Aiken followed closely by Mrs. H. M. Irwin are warming things up for the entire group. In fact the race is still so close that it would be hard to say there is any actual leader.

The end of the first period on Wednesday of next week may show a decided leader up to that point as that is a very important time for all owing to the big drop in credits after that date. If you have promised your favorite, your subscription, give it now before the credits take a big drop. Help that favorite win.

Mrs. Charles B. Evans, who has held the office of president of the Newark branch since its organization on October 12, 1921, points out that the guild is preparing for its 54th anniversary with the same faith and high courage that actuated the small group of young women who laid the foundation so many years ago.
Last year the local branch donated about 425 garments to the needy in the immediate vicinity.
The annual donation of two new garments, or articles of household linen, or a sum of money constitutes membership.

London Antique Dealer Claims Art Find
Riches from a single picture await George Fripp, a London antique dealer, if he can make good his claim to the greatest art discovery of the century, a Holbein painting of Queen Elizabeth as a girl. He believes it to be the picture she sent to her brother, Edward VI. For generations, art experts have been trying to trace this treasure.

Three years ago Fripp purchased at private gallery 150 pictures for $150. When washed, a begrimed oil painting disclosed a girl with red hair. Suspecting that this was the missing portrait, he had it restored, and an investigation produced evidence to prove his conjecture correct. If the picture is authentic its value will be vastly greater than that of Holbein "Duchess of Milan," sold for $360,000 in 1909.

WORLD SERIES OF 1905

As the 1939 world series approaches, sports writers are digging up stories of famous baseball classics of former years, and the feat of Christy Mathewson, who pitched three shut-out games in the series of 1905, is recalled.

This was the first world series in which the New York Giants of the National League participated, and the second played by teams of the present major leagues. The first was played in 1903, and won by the Boston Americans over the Pittsburgh Nationals. The Giants won the National League pennant in 1904, but Manager John McGraw refused to play the Boston Americans for the world championship that year.

In 1905, however, McGraw consented to play Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, and sent Mathewson to the mound for the first game, which he won, 3 to 0. The Athletics won the second game, and Mathewson was called on to pitch the third, winning 9 to 0. New York also won the fourth game of the series. Mathewson pitched and won the fifth and final game, 2 to 0.

In the three games Mathewson allowed a total of only 14 hits, walked 1, struck out 13 batters, and held the Athletics scoreless.

There was nothing phenomenal about his performance so far as any individual game was concerned, but to win three games of a world series without allowing a run was something no other pitcher has ever done, and in that respect it made baseball history.

WORLD SERIES OF 1905

As the 1939 world series approaches, sports writers are digging up stories of famous baseball classics of former years, and the feat of Christy Mathewson, who pitched three shut-out games in the series of 1905, is recalled.

This was the first world series in which the New York Giants of the National League participated, and the second played by teams of the present major leagues. The first was played in 1903, and won by the Boston Americans over the Pittsburgh Nationals. The Giants won the National League pennant in 1904, but Manager John McGraw refused to play the Boston Americans for the world championship that year.

In 1905, however, McGraw consented to play Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, and sent Mathewson to the mound for the first game, which he won, 3 to 0. The Athletics won the second game, and Mathewson was called on to pitch the third, winning 9 to 0. New York also won the fourth game of the series. Mathewson pitched and won the fifth and final game, 2 to 0.

In the three games Mathewson allowed a total of only 14 hits, walked 1, struck out 13 batters, and held the Athletics scoreless.

There was nothing phenomenal about his performance so far as any individual game was concerned, but to win three games of a world series without allowing a run was something no other pitcher has ever done, and in that respect it made baseball history.

Girl Scout Head Addressed Local Meeting Tuesday

Parents Assemble With Troops For First Time This Year Others Talk

"Little House," headquarters for Newark Girl Scouts, was the scene of the first fall meeting between parents and members of the three local troops Tuesday night. The program was arranged by Mrs. C. E. Douglass, chairman of the troop committee.

Mrs. C. E. Mendinall, a member of the executive staff in the Wilmington area, solicited the good will and patient understandings of parents in the main speech of the session.

She urged parents to cooperate with Scout leaders and troop committees in furthering the work with girls. "To provide wholesome recreation for girls" was emphasized as she presented a picture of the history of girl scouting in Newark.

Encampment Outlined

"The growth of scouting depends upon the girl, upon her leader, upon the troop committee—and upon the cooperation, we should have three strong troops in Newark, each with its own tradition and program."

A high-light of the program was a short synopsis by Miss Virginia Brittingham, a University of Delaware student, concerning her experiences this summer while attending an International Girl Scout encampment.

The gathering was held at "Our Chalet," Adelphi, Switzerland. Miss Brittingham won the national Juliette Low Girl Scout scholarship. She termed her experience at the encampment with girls from many nations as "thrilling, friendly, and educational."

Leaders introduced by Mrs. Douglass were: Miss Ann W. Chalmers, captain of Troop 4, assisted by the Misses Brittingham and Mary MacCormick; Mrs. Morris T. Ewing, captain of Troop 8, assisted by Miss Betty Welden, and Mrs. W. R. Davis, captain of Troop 13, assisted by Miss Gene Chambers. Mrs. Fred Bellinger is acting as volunteer field captain for the three troops.

Joseph Dolinski, fire chief of New Haven, was fined for parking his car too near a fire hydrant.

Conway The Confident

"Gimme thuh damn' ball and I'll stand those bums on their ears in both games," tersely remarked Reggie Conway Sunday, when Manager Ellis P. Cullen announced him as Continental's pitcher assigned to face Newport.

Far from just ordinary games, the battles meant everything to the Fibremen. Newport, leading the New Castle County League's championship series with two wins against one defeat, needed only one more triumph for the pennant.

The first game was being played in Newport before an overflow crowd that was anything but friendly in its attitude toward the local tossers. Such pitching talent as Bill Weaver, Paul Mullin, and Tommy Wright was on deck and trimmed for action, but Cullen placed his faith in Conway.

That Reggie came through in magnificent style is now a matter of history. He not only defeated the Paintmakers at Newport, 8-0, but returned to Newark later the same afternoon to hurl them into the dust again, 4-2.

-R.W.F.-

Sets Great Mark

Although no records of local pitching feats are available, the speedy right hander's work last Sunday established something for the book.

With the games limited to seven innings under the league rules (it operates as a twilight affair ordinarily), Conway fanned 14 in the first engagement and whiffed another 11 in the nightcap, for a total of 25 strikeouts in 14 innings.

Previous to the "iron man" stunt Sunday, Conway had hurled a scoreless seven-inning deadlock against Newport in the fourth series game. He fanned ten on that occasion, which increased his astounding performance to 35 strikeouts in 21 innings of play.

All of which took place in a championship series between teams that completed the regular schedule exactly one-half game separated. To merely say that Reggie had what it takes in a clutch is a gross understatement concerning his ability when the Fibremen were battling with their backs to the proverbial wall.

-R.W.F.-

He's Married Now

While married life has been known to have deterring effects on an athlete, it seems to have provided Conway with the stimulant and necessary restraint to bring out his finest qualities as a hurler.

He has always been blessed with loads of natural ability, plus the stamina of three men. Moreover, he's a born hustler and versatile as to ability. But Reggie's one main weakness, in former years, was to do too much celebrating before an important game. In fact, he was inclined quite often to celebrate the

Flashes By Bill Fletcher

COACH STEVE GRENDIA'S CHIEF PROBLEM IN DEVELOPING a football team at the University of Delaware this year seems to be the deplorable lack of experienced guards.

ONLY ONE MAN WITH ANY experience at this position under the Hen system at all. Wilmer (Lunk) Apley, is available for this berth, a key spot in the Blue and Gold's attack. That is the reason, according to Delaware's grid mentors, the ground offensive failed to function as smoothly as it might against Fort DuPont in the scrimmage staged on Fraser Field Tuesday afternoon.

In Hugh Bogovich, who hails from Turtle Creek, Pa., and Bill Laurelli, former Wilmington High School star, are two good prospects, but they still haven't had enough time to familiarize themselves with their important duties.

Bill Swift, third victim of Coach Grendia's conversation instinct, has also justified his change from the backfield to guard and has shown up well in practice sessions, but it will be a long time before the former Sunny Hills School ground-gainer will be of very much use.

We're glad it's not our problem. WORKING OUT ON THE NEWARK High School athletic field, some thirty-five 90-pounders are paced through their signals every night, each striving for a starting berth on a midget eleven which will probably stage preliminaries to the high school games.

The kids can play a lottuv football and should prove and added attraction to draw indifferent fans to the scene of the high school encounters. They go about their work in a business-like fashion that matches even an experienced team's performance and watch your neighbor's eyes pop when they pull an involved triple-reverse with all the trimmings.

Coach W. K. Gillespie, with two squads to supervise, now has his hands plenty full and if you don't think a group of 35 youngsters enthused about a sport is a handful—ask 'em who has to take care of only one.

ABOUT THE MOST ENCOURAGing thing of Fraser Field these days is the abundance of ball carriers and apparently capable ones at that.

With Capt. Howie Viden showing an improved ability to slant off tackle into the clear, a former Newark High School star, sophomore Melvin Brooks has blasted his way into the spotlight and with these two backs will probably rest the scoring spurs of the Blue and Gold.

The hard-hitting lad from Glasgow showed signs of the form he is flashing this season toward the end of the 1938 campaign and if given any kind of support he should be in for a banner year. Short and bulky, he has a running back on the defense with all the power of exploding dynamite and his combination of speed and shiftness makes him a constant offensive threat on end sweeps or in a broken field.

IN VIDEN, THE TEAM HAS A triple-threat whose passing-to-date has proved conclusively that a shoulder, injured last year, is completely recovered. In Conrad Sadowski, former Wilmington High School star whose passing reputation was well-founded in scholastic circles, Delaware has a sharp-shooting aerial projector who can bounce tosses of receivers' noggin.

And so as far as the aerial force is concerned, the Hens are well fortified. Ground maneuvers will be aided no little by two former West Nottingham Academy stars, Walt Paul and Jim Spillane, a couple of light but fast leather toters.

Mitchell doubled and Peterson slammed his second triple of the day for Continental's final run in the fifth.

Borecki, after fanning five times in succession, finally landed on base in the seventh and eventually scored Newport's second run of the game and afternoon.

Conway Performs "Iron Man" Feat

REGGIE HURLS FIBREMEN TO TWIN WIN ON SUNDAY

Initial Victory Ties Newport In County League Series; Second Is Good For Pennant; Whiffs 25 In 14 Innings; Chalmers' Bat Busy

By "The Roamer"

"Iron Man" (known familiarly as Reggie) Conway took personal charge of Continental's closing drive for the New Castle County League pennant last Sunday with the result that the Fibremen routed a staunch Newport team in a double meeting and thereby copped the title.

Conway In Command

Despite the presence of such hurling talent as Bill Denver, Paul Mullin, and Tommy Wright, Conway elected to pitch both of the deciding games and pitch them he did.

Three hits in each contest was the best that Newport could garner off the jumpy speed-ball artist as the Fibremen knotted the final series of the Shaugnessy play-off by winning at Newport, 8-0, then moved to Continental Field here, where they climaxed an uphill fight by taking the deciding battle, 4-2.

With each game limited to seven heats, Conway turned in a total of 24 strike outs for the afternoon. He fanned 14 in the initial contest, then retired another 11 on strikes in the finale.

Trouble Meant Nothing

While two of Newport's three bingles in the opener were doubles, the hits went for naught when Reggie bore down to end scoring threats by the effective strike out method.

Webb opened the Paintmakers' second with a double, but remained on second when Messimer skied to Hubis and Borecki and Marsh went down on strikes.

After Steel had grounded out, Chalmers to Hubis, in Newport's fourth, Webb took a pitch in the ribs and Messimer singled, but again Borecki and Marsh fanned. With two out in the sixth, Webb walked and Messimer doubled, but Borecki whiffed for the third straight time to end Newport's final scoring threat.

Meanwhile, the Fibremen, paced by Shorty Chalmers, were finding the offerings of Bill Boyd for ten hits and eight big runs. Scoring was confined to two heats, the fourth when three markers were shoved home, and the seventh when five more Continentals trickled across the rubber.

Peterson Starts Parade

Mike Peterson, Conway's battery mate who had tripled in the first only to be thrown out at the plate in attempting to stretch the drive to a home run, started the Fibremen to victory by opening the fourth with a single.

Ernie George rolled to Ruff and both runners were safe when the ball was kicked around. Wright went out to Messimer unassisted, but Chalmers slammed his second of three hits for a double to left.

Peterson scored on the clout, but George was erased at the plate. Marsh to McGonigle to Spear, Harrington singled Chalmers home and promptly stole second. Hubis singled to count Harrington, then stole second and third, but died on the bag when Mullin fanned for the final out.

Errors Hinder Newport

With one out in the seventh, Conway and Mitchell singled. Peterson loaded the bats when Messimer errored. Two runs crossed when Ruff kicked George's roller and Fibremen occupied second and third on Wright's sacrifice fly to deep center.

Chalmers walked to again crowd the corners and all three runs crossed when Marsh dropped Harrington's fly. Hubis and Mullin finally fanned to end the nightmare.

Conway, opposed by Paul McGonigle in the deciding game, was more than master of the situation as he again stopped the Paintmakers with three blows.

Score At Start

Manager Ellis Cullen's pots worked on McGonigle in the first frame. Mitchell fanned, but Peterson was safe on Messimer's boot. George fanned for the second out, but Wright doubled Peterson home, then crossed on Chalmers' single.

Wright's error on McGonigle's fly and successive singles by Ruff and Boyd gave Newport a run in the second, but it was promptly erased in the home half by Hubis' single. Mullin's out, and a single by Mitchell.

Mitchell doubled and Peterson slammed his second triple of the day for Continental's final run in the fifth.

Borecki, after fanning five times in succession, finally landed on base in the seventh and eventually scored Newport's second run of the game and afternoon.

HARD WORK FOR HEN GRIDDERS

Passers And Punters Drilled Under Fire

Rough workout and plenty of it has been dished out to the University of Delaware gridders as Coach Steve Grendia's charges approach their first tilt, scheduled to take place with Ursinus College at Collegeville, Pa.

Rough Workouts

With two weeks remaining before the opener, the Hen's mentor has spent the last few days in blocking, tackling, punting and passing drills, exercises similar to actual scrimmages in their intensity.

With the backfield shaping up in good style, the question mark is hovering over the center of the Blue and Gold forward wall. Two freshmen, Bill Laurelli, former Wilmington High School star, and Hugh Bogovich, of Turtle Creek, Pa., temporarily sidelined due to an injured wrist, are the more prominent bidders for the guard berths along with Wilmer (Lunk) Apley, last season's regular.

The Hen's running attack will be built around the blocking back and the interfering guards and with two of the three outstanding bidders for the latter posts freshmen, the success of the Delaware offensive is doubtful.

Numerous passing and kicking workouts under actual game conditions have revealed that the heavy assignment will probably be divided between Capt. Howie Viden and Conrad Sadowski, a sophomore hailing from Wilmington High School, while the punting job will be handed to either Viden, Walt Paul, a freshman from West Nottingham Academy, or Ed Mullen, former Salesman star who has been converted from center to a backfield post.

Battle At Center

The pivot position is the object of a desperate battle between Bill Hancock, ex-Newark High School standout, and Ed Carullo, of Waterford, N. J., with both gridders turning in good performances at every workout.

The starting backfield has just about boiled down to Viden and Brooks, another former Yellowjacket who played last year. Mulbert, who has shown rapid progress in mastering the duties of a ball carrier, and Lorenzo (Dutch) Clark, Springfield transfer, ineligible last season, whose work as a blocking back has attracted the Delaware coaches' eyes.

Lined up on the "A" team's forward wall this week has been: Bruce Lindsay, recently converted from guard, and Earl Sheats, veteran flank, at the ends; Al Northwood and John Grundy, veteran linemen, at tackles; Laurelli and Bogovich or Apley as guards, and Hancock at center.

On the "B" team, the line has been composed of Joe Julian and Bill Wendell, ends; Bob Papy and Lee Baer, tackles; Charlie Vibbert and Bill Swift, guards; Carullo, center, and Al Newcomb, Sadowski, Jim Spillane, and Ken Pleasanton, backs.

Richards And Anderson Renew Links Rivalry

George F. Anderson, local champion, and B. F. (Sankie) Richards will renew their rivalry, which has extended over a period of years, in the E. B. Wright Memorial Tournament, being staged at the Newark Country Club.

Richards moved into the semi-final round by turning in a 4 and 3 victory over J. F. Anderson in the handicap event while the title holder advanced by turning back T. S. Beck, 3 and 2.

Results of quarterfinal round matches were:

Richards (0) defeated J. F. Anderson (8), 4 and 3; George Anderson (3) defeated T. S. Beck (10), 3 and 2; Wallace Williams (11) defeated Charles Davis (8), 1 up; Wayne C. Brewer (8) defeated J. A. Giamatteo (6), 5 and 4.

Blue Hen Grid Prospects Can Sing--As Well As Play Football

Pennsylvania Youths Making Great Progress

(This is the second of a series of articles introducing football candidates at the University of Delaware. Two biographies and high lists of players will be presented every week.—Ed. Note.)

By Bill Fletcher

We have the pleasure of introducing this week a pair of University of Delaware grid candidates who sing at their work—one a ball carrier, the other a lineman, who are gradually finding the harmony range on Fraser Field.

Pappy And Newcomb

In the upper photo is Robert Henry Pappy, Jr., 200 pounds of hulk that may or may not find its resting place on the Hens' forward wall for 1939, while in the lower picture is Albert Augustus Newcomb, Jr., a light but flashy ball totter.

A graduate of Yeadon High School, Pappy wasted little time for besides grabbing off letters in football and basketball, he was also active in the social order of things. A member of the National Honor Society, a reward for scholastic attainment Pappy served on various committees throughout his career, sang in the boys' chorus (you guessed it—bass), and also shot straight enough with a rifle to cop an emblem. He's a little slow, a little heavy; but when some of that weight drops off and he starts "pickin' 'em up" a little faster, watch for a high-powered explosive on the Blue and Gold forward wall.

A native of Laurel, Md., Newcomb was hauled off to Lima, Pa., at the tender age of three and after growing up started his athletic career at Lansdowne High School where he earned letters in two sports, football and baseball.

Nottingham Captain

That his high school team's lack of success could not be placed on the Hen freshman's shoulders was attested by his election to the captaincy of the 1938 West Nottingham

Academy eleven, a team in the ranks of the unbeaten last year. At the Colera, Md., school, Newcomb wasted no time and added basketball to his list of activities.

Nineteen years of age, he scales 165 pounds, stands 5 feet, 9 inches and on an evening, when not too tired after a hard workout, can be heard hitting off a popular tune in a clear baritone voice. You might class choral work as his hobby.

A hard worker, he's steadily mastering Coach Steve Grendia's system of play and Blue and Gold fans can expect to see a lot of this Pennsylvania lad on the gridiron.

35 Youthful Grid Aspirants Turn Out For Midget Eleven

Team Will Play Preliminary To Newark High School Tilts

A squad of 35 youthful grid aspirants turned out last week to place bids for positions on the 90-pound team which will represent the Newark schools on the gridiron this season.

The boys are being instructed by Coach William K. Gillespie, high school grid mentor, who has equipped his candidates with a series of plays which they will use in future competition. While no definite schedule has as yet been mapped out, several Wilmington schools have developed midget teams and games will probably be played as a preliminary to the high school tilts.

Fight For Berths

With every boy nursing a desire to make the first eleven, there's a real fight on for every berth on the varsity which now consists of Edmund Lewis and Johnny Wells at the ends; Tommy Silk and Martin Grundy, at tackles; George Knighton and Tommy Casbo, guards, and Bob Emerson, center.

In the first string backfield is Bob Foster, hard-plunging fullback; Bill Hamilton and Albert Vogel, fast-stepping halfbacks, and Mike Gillespie, fiery quarterback.

E. J. Helmbeck and Daniel Boone are handling the wing positions on the second team with Ernie Cameron and Wayne Hanson at the tackle posts. At the guard berths are Sammy Talucci and Paul Colmery while Danny Hamilton has a strong hold on the pivot duties.

In the backfield is Buddy Cataldi at quarterback, Johnny Morrison and Roddy Houton at the halves, and Brandon Davis at fullback.

Other outstanding bidders for starting assignments are: Bill Gregg, a ball carrier, and Bill Daly, Johnny Williams, Jacky Carmine, Ed-

ST. HEDWIG GRID COMBINE AT FORT DUPONT ON SUNDAY

Due to the state of "limited national emergency" declared to exist by President Roosevelt, the Washington Navy Yard has been forced to abandon its plans for a football team this year and the game scheduled at Fort DuPont Sunday has been cancelled, it was announced this week.

In place of the Washington combine, the Red Devils will inaugurate their 1939 campaign on Sunday by entertaining the St. Hedwig's Catholic Club of Chester.

The return of the Pennsylvanians to the Engineers' schedule marks the renewal of a one-time torrid rivalry which was suspended when the Devils started playing an almost exclusive card of service teams.

Others who are slated to play on Saturday are: Francis (Please Turn To Page 7)

CHICK CHATTER

By WALTER T. SMITH

By Walter T. Smith. Practice in all of Delaware's fall sports is in full swing. Again, with the first sharp tang of autumn in the air, one can hear the staccato barking of the quarterback and the clash of men hurling themselves against each other, pitting strength and skill against strength and skill.

The greatest glamor and color of college is found during the football games as two eleven's strive to push the pigskin over the double-striped touchdown mark. So here we are, on the eve of another football season, watching with interest the Blue Hens getting themselves into shape for their initial struggle against Ursinus on the seventh of next month.

CHICK CHATTER. We share the opinion with many others that this season will find the Hens with the best team in several years. The Blue and Gold mentor, Steve Grenda, has had the gridiron squad working since early in September, and although the play is still rough in several respects, he will probably put a smooth-working organization on the field against the Bears.

Several of the regulars of last season have not returned. Among these are: Charley Allen, Allen George, Tommy Ryan, Ernie George, and Larry Hodgson. A few others have been forced out by injuries or scholastic ineligibility. Returning regulars are John Grundy, Earl Sheats, Howie Viden, Melvin Brooks, Wilmer Apley, Al Northwood, and Bruce Lindsay. These few will provide the sparkplugs of the campaign.

Outstanding in the scrimmage held between Fort duPont and Delaware on Tuesday was the work of Melvin Brooks, who showed great drive in both the offense and defense. With only a year's collegiate play behind him, he is beginning to show the qualities of a seasoned veteran.

CHICK CHATTER. The Hen punting is improved, but no one candidate has shown ability enough to kick with height and distance under fire to warrant Grenda's selection for the berth. The blocking and tackling are still very rough in spots, but that is always true at the first of the season.

Some of the freshman candidates for the team are doing very well in practice and a few will undoubtedly gain a first-string position. We will venture to guess that Mullen will work with Viden, Brooks, and possibly Clark in the backfield on the basis of his showing thus far.

Ursinus used the Rockne system last year. However, reports say that they are modifying it. Delaware scouts will have the opportunity to study the Bears' offense and defensive weaknesses when they open next week against Lafayette.

CHICK CHATTER. Although football attracts the greatest attention from Delaware rooters, the soccer team will be playing a heavy schedule this fall. It must be remembered that the Blue and Gold boasted the Middle-Atlantic soccer championship in the season of 1937.

FIFTEEN EVENTS AT AVONDALE

Competition To Be Keen At 4th Show Of Horses

Avondale, Pa., Sept. 27—(Special)—Keen competition in the fifteen events of the fourth annual Avondale Horse Show, Ralph W. Long, secretary, stated today, when he reported that more than 80 horses from three states had been entered in the popular meet scheduled to be held Saturday.

This year, three events have been arranged for the youngsters, giving them an additional opportunity to display their horsemanship than was afforded last year. They will have a pony class for children up to 12 years old, a pony driving class for the same age limit, and a children's hunter class for children under the age of 16.

Many Other Events. Other events include the breeders' class, farmers' jumpers, green hunter, open saddle horse class, outside course for hunters, touch and out class, sweepstakes jumping, musical chairs, pairs of jumpers, ladies' hunters, and handy hunters.

The final event of the day will be the Avondale Horse Show Association Challenge Cup, and doubtless a new winner for this event will receive the trophy this year. The Colby Dill stables and Gramm Dripps, of Haverford, the latter winner of last year's show, have failed to make program entries. However, there are already twelve horses entered in this competition, and post entries may be made.

Notable Exhibitors. Among the exhibitors will be John W. Talley of Wilmington; Jane Ann eleventh of October against Dickinson at Carlisle. Last year the Hens defeated the Red Devils in an extra period, 3-2. The strength of the Dickinsonians is not known so we will not predict the winner although we give the Hens an edge because of their sparkling play in practice.

Interest is being aroused on the campus in regards to having a fencing team this year. Last season there were not enough candidates to warrant a team or a schedule. However, Paul T. Trader, captain of the lads and there should be a fencing team with a schedule this year, when and if the athletic department will appropriate a little money for equipment.

Lovett, Elizabeth L. Woods, Fred A. Davis, and Miss Henrice Smith of Newark; William James and J. Warren Marshall, of Yorklyn, Del.; Nancy Shakespear, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Siple, and Betty Bonnell of Chester, Md.; Jack Shoun, Ruth Ann Webb, and Dr. Edward A. Miss Ann Chalmers Downs Four Foes In Net Tournery

Miss Ann Chalmers, winner of the women's tennis tournament in 1937, finished in the runner-up position behind Miss Mary Lou Gaffney, repeating crown-holder, by turning in four straight victories. Mrs. Walter Wilson was the only contestant to carry Miss Chalmers to a third set. She bowed by a 6-3, 4-6, 6-3 count.

Mrs. Robert J. Boyd was defeated 6-1, 6-1; Mrs. B. H. Mackey fell 6-2, 6-4, and Miss Mary Bradford was turned back by a 6-2, 7-5 score.

stole second. Ruff sacrificed him to third, from where he raced home on Boyd's roller to Conway.

Second Straight Flag. Chalmers paced Continental's attack with a double and three singles in six officials trips to the plate, while Peterson's big bat played a loud tune with two triples and a single.

The victory gave the Fibremen a final standing of three triumphs as against two defeats in the series with Newport, plus their second successive County League flag.

Cullen's charges finished atop of the league standings at the end of the race, then polished off Holloway Terrace in the initial elimination series. Newport, the season's runner-up, topped Elmhurst in the elimination.

Continental's season record showed 41 victories in 50 starts.

Eastern Beagle Club Set For Annual Field Trials

More than 200 hounds from nine states are expected to compete in the annual American Kennel Club member-licensed field trials to be staged over the Eastern Beagle Club's course, near Milford Cross Roads, from October 1 to 7.

Classes to compete over the sports course, which is located on the S. Haddock duPont estate, follow: 13-inch bitches, 13-inch AA dogs, 13-inch derbies, 15-inch AA bitches, 15-inch AA dogs, and 15-inch derbies.

Otis Vogel, Leechburg, Pa., and Robert Stenloff, Jr., new Bedford, Conn., will judge the trials. One hundred and fifty rabbits were released over the course last week in preparation for the affair.

EARLY TO MARKET

WHEN PIGS REACH the 50-pound mark, start feeding them Purina Hog Chow as a supplement for your corn. This is the pork-making combination that helps you get your pigs to market early ahead of the runs. And it's a way to get a better price for corn that you feed to hogs.

Come in and get Hog Chow the next time you're in town.

WEDDING

Woodrow-Thomas
Friends in Newark have received word of the marriage of Miss Edna Thomas and Mr. Albert Woodrow, in Elkton on Tuesday, September 29. Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow are spending two weeks with relatives in Oxford, Pa., after which they will live in Wilmington. Mr. Woodrow is an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Heavy Loss By Fire

Fire at noon on Thursday destroyed all the outbuildings, 1,800 bushels wheat, 100 tons of hay and 40 tons of straw on the Jacob B. Cazier farm, Samuel Austin, tenant, in the Mt. Pleasant section, near Middletown. Two fine draft horses and a pair of mules, worth $500, perished in the flames. The loss is put at $6,500, with but slight insurance. It is said, several head of horses and mules and about a dozen cows were rescued. The tenant is unable to account for the fire which may have been caused by matches dropped by a stranger farm help that had been sleeping in the stable loft.

Opening Of Women's College

Saturday, October 10, 1914, will mark the beginning of a new epoch in the history and development of higher education in Delaware. On that date will be held the exercises which will formally open the Women's College of Delaware to the young women of the State, and also the exercises in connection with the installation of Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell as President of both Delaware College and the College for Women. It is hoped that every one in the state who is interested in any way in education will consider himself or herself personally invited and urged to attend these ceremonies. The committee in charge has nearly completed its plans, and they will be announced in a few days. All departments, class rooms, laboratories, dormitories, and offices of Delaware College and the Women's College will be open for inspection during the whole day. Guides will be provided free of charge for all visitors who wish them. There will probably be an exhibition drill by the cadet corps of Delaware College. The Delaware College Orchestra and the Band will take a prominent part in the exercises. In the afternoon there will be a foot-ball game on Joe Frazer Field.

Subscription Drive

for and will give your favorite in the campaign a total of 35,000 credits. This applies to renewals—new subscriptions count double. This tells the story and there is no doubt but what the long term subscriptions will be a big factor in the winning of that first prize.

Neither this paper nor the campaign manager have any favorites in the campaign; we try to encourage them all and give no information to one that cannot be given to another. Our object is the volume of business in the form of subscriptions and renewals and may the most successful workers win.

Our Object

The object of this campaign is not a money-making proposition, but is in line with our other plans of expansion and growth. Our desire is to make The Newark Post a perfect medium for news and advertising in this section and we feel that the people will be only too willing to help us do this, by helping their favorite candidate to realize their ambition of winning the big first prize in this campaign. It costs you no more, in fact you save on a long term subscription, to subscribe through one of the candidates and at the same time you will be helping your favorite.

To the workers we might give this word of advice: Don't hesitate in going over the other fellow's trail as you may get subscriptions where the others fail. A different approach, sometimes a smile and a pleasant voice, or it may be that the prospect is in a better humor than when approached by some other candidate. These things all help, and when mixed with a certain amount of determination and energy will make you hard to beat.

End Of Period

After the end of the first period on Oct. 4, the credits take a big drop and we advise all the workers to get in every promised subscription by that time. It has been proven in many campaigns of this nature that the candidates who leads at that time, will, in the majority of cases lead at the finish. Keep this in mind and make every minute count from now until Oct. 4. It will pay big dividends.
