U of D Officials Have Success In Legislature

Compiled from News-Journal.

University officials met with considerable success in the General Assembly on Tuesday.

After conferring with George M. Worrilow, vice-president for university relations, and James M. Turner, chairman of the board of trustees, Rep. William E. Alsip, D-Brookside agreed to trim the scope of his proposed audit of university funds.

Alsip, one of the university's chief legislative critics, agreed to revise his resolution to provide that the audit only cover the fiscal year 1965. Originally, Alsip's proposal called for the audit to extend back to 1963.

The agreement with Alsip was reached after Tunnell noted that enabling legislation providing for the audit of university funds was not passed until near the end of fiscal 1964. Before that, Tunnell said, the university had been intermingling state funds with funds received from private benefactors and other sources.

Commenting on another measure proposed by Alsip which would take away the university's fiscal autonomy, Tunnell said that such action would endanger the university's position with its benefactors.

Dan Peterson Selected As Basketball Coach

After almost a month of evaluating 70 (plus) candidates, the university athletic department named Dan Peterson to succeed Irv Wisniewski as Delaware basketball coach.

Peterson, who is 30 years old, coached the plebe team at the U.S. Naval Academy last year. His college coaching career has been limited to freshmen teams, but he has compiled a very successful record, and has been highly recommended by many basketball luminaries.

An energetic, 5' 5" and 140 pounds, the new coach will be assuming his duties starting Monday, and will probably be devoting full time to basketball, as coach and chief recruiter.

Although he never played high school or college basketball, Peterson has been "a student of the game" since he was a schoolboy.

"Dan Peterson is just the

Registration Starts Monday

Next week, students currently enrolled in the Undergraduate Division are to register in advance for the coming fall semester by turning in their fall registration forms at the Student Center Lounge between 1:45 and 4:45 p.m.

Early registration for summer session will take place at the same time.

Each student who is expecting to return next fall is to plan a program of courses distributed across the full class week and free of conflict in class hours and duplicate examination codes. Schedules of classes and a trial roster form are being sent to all students currently enrolled in the university.

There are two forms to be filled out. Students should note when filling in the course and section request form that only the student's name and number and the schedule sequence number for each class are required.

The latter is found to the left of the department symbol for each class; the schedule sequence number for each course is to be entered on the "request" form in the order of preference, listing first the course most desired.

Students will have their requests for courses and sections thereof processed in much the same order of priority as in past registrations. The time of entry of the student's "request" card into the computer being likened to his entry into the Field House.

Each student will be sent a listing of the classes assigned during August. Students who have failed a course this semester, have changed their college or major, taken a course during the summer, had enrolled for a course which was cancelled or noted the availability of a desired course not shown in the attached Schedule of Classes may request a change of course(s) by returning to the Records Office the printed schedule with the appropriate change(s) noted thereon.

The Records Office would

DRAFT TEST

The Selective Service Test will be given in Sharp Laboratory at 1 p.m. (tomorrow) and May 21 instead of 8:30 a.m. as announced in the Bulletin of Information.

The test will not be given on June 3 at the University because of final exams, but an additional test will be administered on June 24.

Students who have not yet applied for the test may make application for the June 24 date on forms available from their local board or from the Counseling and Testing Office, 216 Hullen Hall. Applications for the June 24 test date must be postmarked not later than June 1, 1966.

opened last night, and will continue to run for a 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. performance today, and another at 8 p.m. tomorrow night.

The play will be directed by Brooks McNamara, a faculty member of the Dramatic Arts and Speech department. He will present the play in the style of the original production, with complete period costumes and musical accompaniment by the Brandywine Recorder Consort, under the leadership of Calvin Bourgeois.

Vietnam War Correspondent To Discuss Asian Problem

Fresh from the battle fronts of Viet Nam, famed war correspondent Stan Swinton of the Associated Press will speak at 7 tonight at the Kirkbride Room in the Student Center.

Swinton will detail conditions in Viet Nam as they exist for the fighting man and the reporter who covers the scene. Following his talk he will answer questions on the Viet Nam situation as a reporter sees it.

Swinton has covered the Viet Nam situation since its beginning with the Indo-Chinese War, and is one of the few American reporters to interview Ho Chi Minh, the North Vietnamese leader. He had not one but several interviews with the Communist leader who engineered the defeat of the French in Indochina.

Swinton, whose byline has appeared on dispatches from more than 100 countries, is one of a series of special speakers being sponsored this

Personnel Ask Union; University Is Neutral

Movement toward unionization for the university employees took steps toward the final election on May 4.

Discussion revolved around a petition for unionization which was presented to the administration last Monday. "To petition for a union, it is necessary to have a 32% vote in favor of it," said Shirley Lockhart, of the maintenance department.

A simple majority of the employees is required to establish such a union. "The petition for union recognition was filed with the Department of Labor with a substantial majority of the university employees favoring it," said Robert Proby, AFL-CIO field representative assigned to assist the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees for the Delaware area.

The Delaware Department of Labor and Industrial Relations met with university officials Wednesday to verify the number and classification of employees to be included in the collective bargaining with regards to the petition filed by the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees.

Temporary officers of the University of Delaware Employees Local 439 were also present. The hearing was to determine the place and time of union elections and such things as the number of polling places that will be open.

The union will be a subsidiary of the AFL-CIO, and can unionize about 425 persons employed by the university. The administration was not in attendance to the last union meeting which was held at the Phoenix Coffeehouse. They are reported to be neutral on the subject.

Moving Up Day Features AWS Scholarship

Traditional Moving Up Day will be held on Thursday at 6:30 p.m. on the steps of Memorial Hall immediately following the annual banquet for The Association of Women Students.

At this time the women are presented with the privileges and responsibilities of the class above them. During the ceremony the newly elected AWS members are introduced.

Recognition will be given to an outstanding woman student who is a capable scholar and who gives service to her residence hall and to the program of AWS by the awarding of a scholarship. This scholarship will be awarded at the AWS Banquet. Funds for the scholarships, which will be given annually, have been raised through the activities of AWS, as Slave Day which was held this past fall.

Credits For Youngest College Business And Economics Gains Honors

Recognition of outstanding accomplishment in the academic world has been given the newest undergraduate college of the university.

The College of Business and Economics was given full accreditation by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business at its 50th anniversary meeting in San Diego, April 29.

Of more than 600 U.S. institutions which offer programs in business and economics, only 125 meet the Association's rigorous standards. Delaware joins such outstanding universities as Harvard, Stanford, the University of California, Cornell and the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania in meeting the Association's requirements.

The A.A.C.S.B. is the official accrediting association for colleges of business and economics recognized by the National Commission on Accrediting. First organized in 1916, it is dedicated to excellence in collegiate education for business students.

Accreditation of Delaware's College of Business and Economics is considered unusual since its status as a full-fledged college dates only to 1963. Although the youngest college, it is one of the largest and fastest-growing university divisions with approximately 700 undergraduate majors, 500 graduate students and a faculty of 25 members.

The Delaware program was deemed above minimal standards in all aspects. Considered were its broad base in liberal arts and strength in such major functional areas as statistics and computer science, law, accounting, finance, marketing, management and economics.

Dean Ruben V. Austin, who has headed the College since its establishment, was enthusiastic about its acceptance into the Association.

"To our college, accreditation is important not only in maintaining the highest standards in business education for the young people of Delaware, but as an added incentive in holding and recruiting faculty of quality," Dean Austin said. "Delaware has had a successful record of placing its graduates in business and in the better graduate schools. Recognition of our programs by the Association should enhance our students' opportunities in both of these areas," he continued.

President John A. Perkins expressed his appreciation for the Association's action in a memorandum to the college's faculty members. He noted that it was "especially remarkable" that accreditation had come so quickly after the establishment of the college as a separate entity.

Further approval of the university was voiced at the San Diego conference when H.V. Olsen of Dartmouth, one of the Association's founders being honored for his many contributions, disclosed that he had begun his teaching career at Delaware.

New Computer Course

An additional four year undergraduate Bachelor of Science degree program will be offered this fall in statistics and computer science.

In recognition of the importance of new concepts, techniques, and technology, the Department of Statistics and Computer Science was formed in 1964. It presently offers programs leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Statistics and a Bachelor of Arts in Computer Science.

The new B.S. degree program is unique in its objectives and organization. It will provide background in applied mathematics, in statistics and computer science.

Training will include development of mathematical models expressed in deterministic or probabilistic form, followed by analysis of these models using modern digital and analog computer techniques.

Students will also take courses in a minor area of their own choice where the quantitative techniques learned in the statistics and computer science courses can be applied.

The program will provide students with a much broader and more complete view of the methods of problem solution than is possible in the B.A. programs. Freshmen and sophomores can easily transfer into the program.

A unique feature of the new program is a tutorial system in which students meet each week individually or in small groups with faculty members of the Department of Statistics and Computer Science to discuss areas of mutual interest.

Those students who wish to pursue graduate work and those who wish to work in industry at a technical level comparable to that of engineers and scientists, are strongly urged to consider the B.S. degree program.

"Discussions with representatives of industry and government, concerning the

IMPORTANT

Under the Social Security Amendments of 1965, a student who is eligible for social security benefits as the unmarried son or daughter of a person receiving old-age or disability insurance benefits or a person who has died, may qualify for benefits until age 22, if enrolled as a full-time student.

Prior to amendment of the Social Security law, such benefits ended at age 18. An unmarried, full-time student who previously received social security payments which were stopped when he or she reached age 18 may now have these benefits started again.

Payments may be made for months back to January 1965. Students who may qualify for benefits under the amended Social Security law are advised to contact a Social Security office to make application for these benefits.

potential demand for graduates of the proposed B.S. degree program, have indicated that the demand is enormous," said David E. Lamb, chairman of the Department of Statistics and Computer Science.

As the undergraduate catalogue offers little information about either the Department of Statistics and Computer Science or the B.S. degree program, interested students should contact Dr. Lamb, 355 DuPont Hall, or call the departmental office, extension 661, before the May registration.

Nursing Receives National Standing, Accreditation

The National League for Nursing, Inc., yesterday granted professional accreditation to Delaware's department of nursing.

A letter received yesterday from the collegiate board of review, department of baccalaureate and higher degree programs for the league, indicated the agency has voted to grant accreditation for the university's program with a major in nursing.

The university's nursing department was organized in 1962, and has been working on accreditation since that time. The league, however, will not award accreditation until a department's first class is in its last semester of work.

Yesterday's announcement followed an inspection of department facilities in February and submission of a 219-page report by the department of nursing faculty.

Mrs. Madeline O. McDowell, chairman of the department, said accreditation "opens many doors" for the 125 students and 11 faculty members in nursing.

With yesterday's announcement, she said, no qualification examinations will be necessary for department graduates to enter graduate schools, and no deficiencies will exist on the records of students entering further nurses' training.

Alpha Phi Omega Reelects Cronin Inducts Members

Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity installed its newly elected officers and inducted eight new brothers and two honorary members at a recent meeting.

Bob Cronin, BE8, was re-elected president of the fraternity and presided over the ceremonies.

Other officers for the coming year will be George McDowell, ED9, first vice-president; Tom Williams, EG9, second vice-president; Burt Pyle, AS8, recording secretary; Frank Moore, ED7, corresponding secretary; Bryan Landis, AS7, treasurer; Jay Beeson, AS9, historian; and Charlie Moore, AG7, sergeant-at-arms.

The eight new brothers who have just completed a seven week pledging period are: Gene Anderson, AS9; Gene Caven, EG9; William Clough, AS9; Leo Treadway, AS8; Bryan Williams, AE8; Richard Willing, AS9; Jack Youtte, EG8; William Zehner, AS8.

Marion R. Disborough, Scout Executive of the Del-Mar-Va Council, Boy Scouts of America, and past National President of Alpha Phi Omega, and Franklin P. Brinkley, ranger at Camp Rodney, were also inducted as honorary members of the chapter.

U of D Culture To Go South

"An Evening with University of Delaware," a program of music, art and drama, is scheduled for Georgetown High School auditorium, Tuesday at 8 p.m. The performance will highlight the year long Eighteenth Century program.

More than 600 people have requested tickets for the program which will feature the University Concert Choir, the E-52 University Theatre and a representative exhibition of student art works.

The Concert Choir, under the direction of Dr. Ivan Trusler, will present the first act of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Gondoliers" in concert form. The program has already drawn capacity audiences in Mitchell Hall and has been presented in nine Delaware high schools.

Dr. Brooks McNamara will direct a condensation of Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer," the final major production of the E-52 University Theatre for 1966 which began on the university campus Thursday and will run through tomorrow. The scenes to be presented for the Georgetown performance will be linked together by a narration.

During an intermission between music and drama, refreshments will be served and the audience will be invited to inspect the student exhibition of painting and sculpture, assembled under the direction of Associate Professor Julio Acuna, art department.

The Georgetown program has been in preparation for more than two months. Arrangements for the evening are being coordinated by a committee which includes representatives of the three academic departments, the Division of University Extension and the Office of Alumni and Public Relations.

Three busloads of students, President John A. Perkins, Vice-President George M. Worriow, all the university's academic deans, and Directors John A. Murray and Elbert Chance will attend the program. Murray is chairman of the planning committee and Chance will be master of ceremonies for the evening.

Less than one hundred tickets are available for the performance. For additional information or tickets, interested persons are invited to call any of the alumni coordinators in major Sussex communities.

IFC Examines Expansion ; Hipkins Heads Committee

Delaware may soon have another fraternity, if enough interest is shown on campus. In order to make an addition to the system possible, the Inter-Fraternity Council appointed Lee Hipkins, AS7, as chairman of the special IFC Expansion Committee.

Commenting on the appointment, James Goodwill, AS7, and president of the IFC, said, "The University of Delaware

Manwiller To Lead Honorary

Isabelle Manwiller, AS7, was elected president of Mortar Board Tuesday and will succeed Elaine Isaacs, HE6.

Also elected to office were: Pat Selman, AS7, vice-president; Joan Piekarski, AS7, secretary; Judy Motson, ED7, treasurer; Diane Bupp, AS7, historian; and Sue Malotky, ED7, editor.

Mortar Board is a national senior women's honorary society which recognizes women for outstanding scholarship, leadership, and service. Delaware's chapter tapped 13 junior women April 13.

Miss Manwiller has served as news editor of The Review for the past year and was chosen outstanding member of the staff at the annual publications banquet.

In addition to her work on The Review staff, Miss Manwiller was a junior counselor and has been elected to Phi Kappa Phi.

Pat Selman, a mathematics major, has been treasurer of Thompson Hall for two years, is a junior counselor, and was elected to Phi Kappa Phi.

Miss Motson, an English major, was a member of Concert Choir for two years and has served as president of her residence hall and treasurer of the Association of Women Students.

Joan Piekarski has been a junior counselor for two years and is now an advisor in Russell B.

has grown tremendously in recent years, and can be expected to continue this growth. IFC expansion should parallel this trend, extending the fraternity experience to greater numbers of campus men. I wish Lee and his committee outstanding success in their work."

Hipkins commented, "I expect that a new fraternity will have a lot going for it. For one thing, we know of various alumni who would be willing to help start a new chapter. Also, a new house will be able to take advantage of all the experience that Lambda Chi Alpha has had in getting started. What we have to do now is find interested students."

Interested men may contact the IFC Expansion Committee by sending a letter to the IFC through the campus mail, stated Hipkins.

Klan Klatch Klipped

KKK Loses To Local Fair

Although no rain or burning bans "cramped their style" the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan encountered their second downstate failure in as many attempts.

Only about 150 persons, many of whom were curiosity seekers and reporters, were on hand to hear the Klan doctrine spelled out from a sound truck by several speakers.

Early arrivals heard recordings denouncing Negroes, sung in the country-western idiom, and skipping and sticking from time to time. About an hour after the scheduled time, speakers mounted the platform and began denouncing the theory of evolution, race mixing, the federal government, and practically everything else, linking each of their targets to the "communist conspiracy."

Fliers were handed out entitled "The Myth of Equality."

The 1966 Blue Hen Yearbook will be available late next week to students who purchased them announced Kathie Meehan, editor of the yearbook.

Delivery is expected Wednesday and all students who bought a copy should check the Daily Bulletin and the Student Center Main Desk for instructions as to when and how their copy may be picked up.

There were no incidents with the exception of a small fire-works interruption which a speaker described as Negroes "stirring up trouble."

Attracting a greater and more enthusiastic crowd in the Millsboro area was the "Blue Devil Fair," a benefit function where citizens of that area, Negro and white, cooperated in an effort to finance improvements for the local school.

Commenting on the failure of the Klan rally and the success of the rival function, a Millsboro citizen said, "I guess the people of this area have made it clear to those idiots that we don't want them, now or anytime."

Joy Of Mechanization

With final preparations being made by university officials for the coming big event — early fall registration — students and faculty members alike are waiting in anticipation (and, perhaps a bit of last-minute trepidation) for the filling out and returning of the thousands of forms which will pour into the Records Office next week. The return of these rather frightening-looking forms will signal the start of the massive task of compiling all information about courses and student schedules — a job which will be done over the summer months.

One must congratulate the administration, and especially the registration officials, on finally discovering a possible solution to the horrors of registration day — the long lines in front of Carpenter Field House, the suspense of waiting to see if one will get the desired courses, and, finally, the agony of discovering at 5 p.m. that a complete revamping of one's schedule is necessary. Problems still need to be resolved, and any disastrous slip, for example, with the computers, could send the university back to the old method next fall. Bugs are expected to occur in even the most well-thought-out plans, but the giant step has been taken to minimize the needless bother of trying to register 5,000 or so students in one day. The fruitlessness of such a task was clearly pointed out in the past two registration periods, as the freshmen tried frantically to get their desired classes — the result being complete chaos in the registration lines.

Although students grumble about the extra load of late afternoon hours and the heavy rescheduling of Saturday classes, these arrangements are inevitable. If the university is to successfully arrange each student's schedule, thus giving him all the courses that he requests, it must relocate overcrowded classes, fitting them into whatever time is available.

Whatever the groans heard from students, or the last-minute problems plaguing administrative ranks, the early registration promises, in the end, to lighten the load of both students and university officials. Rising enrollments demand a more efficient system than what was previously used — a demand which can be met only by increased computer use. Although the general public cry has been against excessive mechanization as one of the large menaces to society, registration is one university area which will benefit immensely from mechanical aid.

"Speaking of shortages, Mr. Ford, you might include campaign issues!"

Cycle Noise Annoys Townspeople

by LINDA SLATER

Controversy appears to be the keynote with respect to the operation of motor cycles and scooters at this university.

Recently, the City of Newark has highlighted a new facet of this controversy: noise. In a letter to the university, Charles D. Long, Secretary of the Council of the City of Newark advised that complaints had been coming into his office from residents of the Courtney Street-Ashley Road area about "university students driving motor bikes at high speeds, making a lot of noise during the night-time hours, from midnight until 2 to 3 a.m."

Long indicated that the Mayor and Council expressed no objections to students owning or driving motorbikes. However, he felt the noise and disturbance could be curtailed by more consideration on the part of student drivers, especially during early morning hours. Long added that this could be a police matter, but that the city was trying to maintain good relations with the university by taking the problem directly to its source.

There have been complaints made to the Newark Police Department from residents of the Courtney Street area. The department emphasized that there is a Delaware law against excessive noise, and that offenders can be arrested. The police recognize cycle noise as a problem that has existed in previous years, but, with the increasing number of cycles, the students have to show more consideration in their driving habits.

From the students' point of view, transportation itself is a problem at the university. On an expanding campus, motor cycles and scooters provide a valued means of getting from one place to another. They must of necessity make some noise.

A solution to this problem does not seem evident. Ideally, there must be a certain amount of toleration of both sides. Long was hopeful that "the students will take this problem in hand and there will be no more trouble."

Letters To The Editor
Dress Shows Individualism

TO THE EDITOR:

In response to the article on dress last week, I can only utter complete astonishment. Please understand I also refrain from playing football in a tuxedo; by the same token, I exert the maximum effort against the perpetration of a "certain formal air" in the class room. To think that "the coat and tie create a mature and serious attitude toward education" is somewhat frightening. I cannot cite the grounds on which Mr. Chipman bases his argument; but invariably, the sport coat has possessed somewhat of a social connotation. A suit would be more apt in generating respect for knowledge.

In attending the University of Vermont last year, I saw the beauty of informal and unusual dress. Not only does it provide for a comfortable climate, but it also combats the conformity so prevalent on many campuses. In also visiting a friend at the University of Virginia, (being the mentioned Bruce Chipman), I can't help but notice that their dress almost necessitates a "false" attitude. In direct response to Mr. Chipman, people who feel they need to be more conscientious about their education (as opposed to their appearance) have a choice to wear a coat and tie at Delaware.

There is no choice at Virginia. Donald Biehn, BE9

Poor Attitude

TO THE EDITOR:

It seems to be about time to inform the food service people in the Student Center Dining Hall of the fact that students do not, by this time, go there in the hope of enjoying any sort of culinary masterpieces. The food is absolutely the worst to be found on this campus and I am tired of the attitude of the staff there which intimates that everybody is trying to get more than his share, or, indeed, that we eat it for any other reason than to keep body and soul together.

This general mistrust of the student body on the part of the staff is manifested in other areas (i.e., a student may not purchased anything at the Student Center main desk with a check), but it is nowhere so prevalent as among this particular branch of the food service.

Despite my humble status as a student, I am an adult with no penchant for petty larceny and I sincerely resent the treatment we receive at the hands of these people, who seem to view us as children and/or potential thieves.

Beach Boys Show Provides Much Variety

by BILL HORWITZ

Promoted as a "variety show," the Beach Boys' Concert, held Monday night in Carpenter Field House proved to offer a great deal of just that... variety!

Although the show was scheduled to start at 8:30 p.m., early comers, about 100-200 strong, appeared at the gates of Carpenter at about 5:30 p.m. To those present, it appeared to be a very large crowd, but a brief survey of the attending group led this reporter to surmise that, at best, university students comprised a little less than half of those present. The actual attendance was estimated at about 2200 by official sources.

In an atmosphere of excitement and frenzy, the first act, incorrectly billed as "The Lost Four," but actually "The Lost," was shuttled on stage. These five guys, (or was it four guys and one girl... or was it three guys and two girls... or was it... anyway, this introductory group displayed their musical "wares" in an uncanny fashion, creating a lot of activity on stage. More than their musical ability, the audience, in general, was fascinated by the wild attire and the long, long, long hair which all but the drummer sported.

HAIRDOS
After about ten minutes of viewing these hairdos, "The Lost" were replaced by "The Uncalled for Three." At first these three clean shaven, college-type men were disappearing something like the vaudeville comedy team following the strippers act.

Within a few short minutes, however, this group was in the midst of presenting a very well-received comedy act. Although most of their jokes were based on a high school level, using basic Shakespearean lines for their punch lines, the audience in general enjoyed them. University students especially got a "kick" out of their reference to "the monster that devoured Dr. Perkins."

The brief intermission, which was announced to be 15 minutes, turned out to be more like 25. The reason for the delay was later understandable. Four of the Beach

Boys came running out on stage, but Dennis Wilson, immediately upon reaching the stage, stooped over, obviously being sick, and had to make a quick retreat to the men's locker room. It was later found out that he had the flu and was taken to a local doctor during the performance.

Of the remaining group on stage, only three were members of the original group. Brian Wilson, the bass guitarist, song writer and arranger, was back in California where he is engaged in writing and arranging the new songs for the group. The drummer from the first group, Lee Mason, was called upon to fill

Registration

like to remind students that unless they voluntarily distribute their course selections throughout the university week, it will be necessary to assign students to classes to accomplish this distribution, since it is essential that the university utilize its instructional facilities during Saturday morning and later afternoon hours. However, where a need exists for a special schedule, a request must be submitted in writing to the Registrar furnishing documentary evidence to support the request.

Advisement for the Fall Registration will, of course, also occur next week. Faculty the gap for the ailing Wilson.

It was immediately obvious that the Beach Boys were going to be in a tight spot, with only 60 per cent of the "Beach Boy Sound." It was going to be difficult for them to meet the demands of the crowd.

This was in fact what happened. With little of the expected shouting, anticipated by the high school girls in attendance, the Beach Boys had almost complete silence in which to perform.

SLOW START

After a slow start with "Little Honda" and "Surfer Girl" it appeared obvious that the group missed their drummer when Bruce Johnston, the bass player slipped when he answered the audience cry of "we want Denny (Wilson)," with a candid "so do we."

Although it was apparent that there was a lot of shuffling around and stalling for time, the group in general seemed to come on stronger as they went along. Some of the highlights from their numerous hit recordings, which they presented were, "Sloop John B," a current top seller, "Rhonda," "I get Around," "Barbara Ann," and "Hawaii."

After about 50 minutes, they laid their equipment down and when charging off stage, apparently expecting the habitual mad rush of autograph and flesh seeking young girls. If anything, it appeared that Delaware lived up to its conservative attitude by showing very little emotion to the whole performance.

In general, it appeared that the entire show, with the exception of the comedy act, was done very unprofessionally, and in general the audience was not too receptive to the evening's entertainment.

An interesting sidelight for any of those who were a bit disappointed in the "staged show," another act was in process while the Beach Boys were performing. Beside the stage, our sturdy young men in blue (?), otherwise known as the campus security guard, were standing by to maintain the peace.

On stage, the performers were doing their best at creating wild expressions on their faces and "dancing" around with their equipment. In the midst of all of this, standing about three feet away, and clearly visible to the audience, our strong silent heroes maintained extremely grave, somber faces which proved quite a contrast to performers. For those lucky enough to catch this sidelight, it proved to be one of the most entertaining parts of the evening.

EDITED BY DICK ECKERD

ALPHA EPSILON PI

Almost two weeks ago the pledges got in. Congratulations.

AEP's weekend was held last week. It was great. Miss Nina Freeman, of George Washington University, is the new Sweetheart of AEP.

The Juniors and seniors won the annual SuperSoftball Game thanks to the prowess and skill of Brother Ehrenfeld. Preacher Roe also helped.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Help Week once again united the Brothers and pledges in the spirit of public service. It was quite a workout for everyone concerned.

Several cinematic essays on the problems of adult adjustment were viewed on Friday night. It was generally agreed that they were most informative.

The Earth has once again completed its annual circuit, bringing ATO Weekend. The action starts tonight at the Granary. Exhaustion will probably bring it to an end sometime Sunday.

KAPPA ALPHA

Today the traditional parade of Rebel soldiers and Southern gentlemen will begin K.A.'s spring weekend. This year will mark the debut of the already-famous KAnnon. After delivering invitations to the Southern Belles at their respective dorms, the entourage will proceed to Kent Hall where, in a speech given by President Spahr, K.A. will "secede" from the University.

Tonight's Old South Ball, with its crowning of the KA Rose, will be the highlight of the weekend, while Saturday's house party, featuring The Coachmen, will be the climax. The anti-climax will be a Sunday afternoon picnic at Brother Burris' rest home, devoted to the treatment of severe headaches and nausea.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

With the advent of spring registration, Lambda Chi Alpha wishes all students the best of luck in the university's version of "Operation Match". While on the subject of luck, it should be mentioned that Brothers Glaubitz, von dem Hagen, Coram, and Kerr received awards at last week's Awards Day.

Last week's Spring Weekend saw the crowning of Miss Janet Anderson of Wagner College and Miss Sharon Burns of Hood College as this year's Crescent Queens. In conjunction with Spring Weekend, Brother Bruce Hart received the annual Moby Dick Award. The return to the use of whale blubber as cooking grease

COMING SOON!

The Campus-Bowl All-stars, Bill Skold, AS7, Warren Reintzel, AS7, Spotswood Foster, AS9P, and Marcia Pawlina, AS7, will meet a team composed of four faculty members at 8 p.m., Wednesday, in Sharp Lab. All interested students and faculty members are cordially invited to watch this contest.

replaces increased draft calls as Brother Hart's greatest fear.

PHI KAPPA TAU

Last week witnessed the inauguration of a new tradition at Phi Tau, "treeing." A newly pinned Brother is tied to a tree and covered with mud, shaving cream, mustard, and worse stuff. His pinmate is then brought forth and forced to prove her love before the entire Brotherhood (by kissing him) before he is released. Brothers Calvin and Larson were the first victims.

There being no official parties this week-end, the Brotherhood divided its time between studies and the glorification of Motherhood.

Congratulations to all the new Brothers. They are as follows: Dave Adams, Den Barnes, Jeff Bross, Larry Conforti, Bill Downes, Dave Eisenhaur, Bruce Jackson, Drexel Morgan, Wayne Morgan, Dave Sachse, Thom Skelly, Rick Stearns, Rob Tuttle, Chris Ward, and Randy Young.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Tonight the Pikes begin their traditional Spring Weekend with a hayride. The festivities continue throughout Saturday's Dinner-Dance and well into Sunday when the tired forces regroup for a picnic. It is expected to be a memorable weekend.

The Brothers invited their families to a Mother's Day luncheon. Over 100 attended the session at the Student Center which featured words of wisdom from President Chris Roosevelt, AE7, and a fabulous PIKA serenade under the able leadership of Al Hayden, ED8.

The softball team claims the best defense in the league—giving up only 42 runs in 8 games—however, their own efforts have netted only 14. Spring Football practice has begun in anticipation of another strong team next fall.

SIGMA NU

Once again it is quiet at Sigma Nu, but the Brotherhood has nearly recovered from the Spring Weekend. And it was a smasher! Walbler's was wild, and their Singapore Slings seemed to make quite a hit. Congratulations to Miss Carol Johnson, the new White Rose Queen.

The Atlantic was a little nippy Saturday, but old Sol kept the sands warm enough. Thanks go out to Anheuser-Busch, Inc., for keeping the sun worshippers in a happy state. The South Sea Island party really moved to the sounds of Lee Smith and the Hi Larks—a very colorful combo, indeed! And the decorations were out of this world.

Just how great was Spring Weekend, 1966? Well, it seems there are about half a dozen new pinmates in the fold. Yeah! Apparently the Snakes made a favorable impression on at least a few felines.

What comes next? There is a rumor that a panty raid on the Park is in the offing, although it sounds unlikely. But, maybe? Swing on, SNus!

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The Sig Ep Weekend turned out the most enjoyable social event of the year. Linda Gray, pinmate of Aubrey Clemens, was serenaded as Sig Ep Sweetheart. Lenny Bird was named Outstanding Sig Ep and was presented with the gavel with which he served as president last year.

Brothers Wright and Walls and Pledge Mountz advanced to the semi-finals in intramural tennis, thus assuring a Sig Ep victory in this sport. The Sig Ep softball team moved into contention by defeating Sigma Nu, 23-11, in a real pitchers' duel.

THETA CHI

Congratulations are extended to everyone who is still around to talk about last weekend. It will be many moons before something quite like this weekend happens again. To some, it was a rather hair-raising experience (no pun intended). Bill Neiger has been asked to emcee some TV spectacles next fall after his ear-catching performance last Sunday.

Tonight marks the beginning of Theta Chi's Spring Weekend with a formal dinner-dance at The Madison House. Insignificant rumor has it that Lawrence Welk et al will provide the dance music. However, since champagne is forbidden by the university, his appearance had to be cancelled.

FRENCH-ENGLISH SOCIETY AND TRAVEL ASSOCIATION is again organizing Junior year abroad and graduate studies at the Sorbonne: total cost entire school year $1235. Offer guarantees: round trip flight New York-Paris, departing Oct. 66 returns June 67 — Modern apartment, 2 meals daily plus university fees.

Michigan Band Presents Excellent Concert

by BOB PURVIS

Last Sunday the university was privileged to hear the University of Michigan Symphony Band in the Dover Room, Student Center. This was the band's seventh in a nine-concert tour which took them throughout the Northeast.

Conducted by William D. Revelli, the symphony band abandoned the formal program in part and instead selected various numbers from a repertoire of over one hundred pieces, ranging from the seventeenth century to be present.

Among the best of these was Nelhybel's "Trittico," a three movement work consisting of an allegro maestoso, adagio, and allegro marcato, all of which would impress the listener as being contemporary.

A selection from Wagner's opera "Lohengrin," "Elsa's March to the Cathedral," was quite effective; the band maintained its intensity throughout the work. Both works showed it capable of excellently instrumental blending. The band's musicianship and talent was first-rate almost without exception.

Recognized as one of the finest instrumental ensembles in the world, the band was the first chosen to represent the United States in a cultural exchange program. Under this program, the band recently travelled and gave concerts in the U.S.S.R., Egypt, Turkey, Lebanon, and other countries of the Near East. Too, it also claims the distinction of being the first major university band to concertize extensively in the United States each year.

The band's excellence also resulted in its selection by the prestigious "Vanguard" recording firm in the making of four albums: "Touchdown U.S.A.," "Hail Sousa," "On Tour With the Michigan Band," and "Kickoff U.S.A."

Director of the Michigan bands for the past forty years, Dr. Revelli has played an important role in developing not only these bands, but also similar groups across the country, by virtue of his ability to constructively offer advice for improvement. Hence, he has played a large part in developing the marching and symphonic bands of the U.S. to their present position of being the best in the world.

PIKA brother Jim Richards, AS9, poses with fraternity's latest acquisition, Dalmation named Herman.

Dog Acquires PiKA

by SAM WALKER

PIKA's new mascot is a two year old, 55 pound Dalmation named Herman. He can frequently be seen on campus taking brothers on walks.

Herman has made a rapid adjustment to fraternity life. After being discouraged in his early attempts to take over a bed in the deck, he has settled for sleeping on the couch in the living room. His regular diet consist of two cans of dog food per day, plus whatever he can beg from brothers or salvage from the trash can. Herman's favorite pastimes include taking walks, going on car rides, and chewing on his bone.

Like most Dalmations, Herman is hard of hearing, as evidenced by the fact that he sits through serenade practices without a whimper. He is normally very quiet, and generally the only time he barks is early in the morning on the deck. Since he is well-trained and obedient, he will lie down, roll over, sit down, or shake hands whenever he wants to.

Since beginning his reign as king of the household, Herman has proved himself to be tyrannical, spoiled, troublesome, and thoroughly lovable.

Air Race Provokes Chuckles

by CAROLYN M. THOMAS

Races, in more ways than one, have been the subject of films lately. In the comedy aspect of this there have been two excellent examples of just what we can accomplish when we want to, namely "The Great Race" and "Those Magnificent Terry Thomas, who plays the hated villain in "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines", now at the Cinema Center.

Men in Their Flying Machines."

"Those Magnificent Men" is exceptional even if there is a great deal of similarity between it and "The Great Race". In actuality the similarity stops with the fact that they both deal with races - one with cars, the other with airplanes. But one does make the viewer recall the other - reasons ensue:

Both of these films have a villain, but the one in "Those Magnificent Men" has none of the devil-may-care appeal of Jack Lemon. For the part, however, which is much smaller and not as central, Terry-Thomas comes over "spinningly." There is also the beautiful young heroine, meddlesome and independent - Sarah Miles, who proves to be quite fitting for the part. And then there is the young American, sure of himself, as everyone thinks Americans should be - a part that Stuart Whitman handles ably.

The comedy in "Those Magnificent Men" is definitely above the most humorous I have ever seen - the scenes flow from one laugh to another and there is little time to stop and think.

One of the definitely humorous things about the film is the interplay between the different nationalities that enter the race; the Americans and the English fight, the Germans and the French fight, the French and the Italians fight, and the villain just fights. The stereotyping, of which there is quite a bit, is handled so skillfully that it does not detract from the characters.

The most appealing character of the film turns out to be the girl-chasing young Frenchman who wrecks his plane when he sees a pretty model on the beach. What he does in the race is even funnier. His duel with the German will make you chuckle for days.

Swinton To Talk On Conditions In Viet Nam War Fronts

semester by The Review. He is assistant general manager and vice-president of the Associated Press, the oldest and largest international press organization.

Swinton wrote a famous eyewitness account from behind the German lines when Benito Mussolini, Italy's Fascist dictator, was killed and hung by his heels by Communist partisans.

The late King Farouk once expelled Swinton from Egypt for disclosing to the world that Farouk planned to make the fiancée of a young Egyptian commoner his queen against her will.

In 16 years as a foreign correspondent, he has covered revolutions in Indonesia, Viet Nam, Malaya and Burma. During World War II, on leave from AP, he was a front-line correspondent for "Stars and Stripes," the Army newspaper, in North Africa, Italy and Southern France, where he and cartoonist Bill Mauldin landed together on D-Day. He resumed his war correspondent's role during the Korean conflict.

In 1946 he covered the first phases of the Vietnamese revolution, which then was directed against France. In the Communist capital of Hanoi, he several times interviewed Ho Chi Minh.

Today Swinton directs AP news and newsphoto distribution in more than 100 countries outside the United States. An average year finds him overseas four months with visits to more than 20 countries.

Swinton was in charge of AP operations in Southeast Asia, the Middle East, Italy and much of the Mediterranean before returning to New York as general news editor of AP's World Services in 1957. Later, he was promoted to director of world services and in 1964 he was given the additional title of assistant general manager.

Born in Charlevoix, Mich., Sept. 1, 1919, Swinton wrote his first news story at the age of 15 for The Detroit Free Press. The two-inch story brought him $1 -- and a desire to stay in journalism.

His first published short story, written at 16 won him an Avery Hopwood Fiction Award at the University of Michigan.

We set out to ruin some ball bearings and failed successfully

The Bell System has many small, automatic telephone offices around the country. The equipment in them could operate unattended for ten years or so, but for a problem.

The many electric motors in those offices needed lubrication at least once a year. Heat from the motors dried up the bearing oils, thus entailing costly annual maintenance.

To stamp out this problem, many tests were conducted at Bell Telephone Laboratories. Lubricant engineer George H. Kitchen decided to do a basic experiment that would provide a motor with the worst possible conditions. He deliberately set out to ruin some ball bearings by smearing them with an icky gunk called molybdenum disulfide (MoS<sub>2</sub>).

Swack! This solid lubricant, used a certain way, actually increased the life expectancy of the ball bearings by a factor of ten! Now the motors can run for at least a decade without lubrication.

We've learned from our "failures." Our aim: investigate everything.

The only experiment that can really be said to "fail" is the one that is never tried.

VISTA To Interview Volunteers As Representatives Visit Campus

University students will have an opportunity May 26 to volunteer for service on Indian reservations, among migrant farm workers, in urban slums, and in rural pockets of poverty ranging from Appalachian hollows to Alaskan villages.

Representatives from Volunteers In Service To America will be on campus to outline the program and its role in the war on poverty.

"We're looking for volunteers of all backgrounds and abilities," reported Sheldon Butts, leader of the VISTA contingent. Butts described Volunteers as "people who can listen, understand and communicate with others and who are committed enough to live and work for a year among the poor in this country."

VISTA Volunteers serve for one year, receiving living expenses and medical care. In addition to an allowance for food, housing, travel and clothing, they receive $600 at the end of their service.

Butts pointed out that over 2,100 VISTA Volunteers are currently in training or on assignment to poverty areas throughout the United States. About 75 percent of them are between the ages of 18 and 24.

to say how it is spent," Tunnell said.

By giving the state control over all university finances, he said, "you could simply kill the goose that lays the golden egg."

The state, he said, now contributes 34 per cent of the university's operating expenses and private benefactors and endowments provide 15.7 per cent.

In construction, the private gifts and endowments make up 34.8 per cent of the funds now being expended and the state funds 44.8 per cent, Tunnell said.

"Students now serving as Volunteers are involved in a list of activities as long as the problems which poverty creates," he said. They are conducting literacy programs, organizing clean-up campaigns, developing recreation programs, tutoring dropouts, setting up libraries, organizing community meetings and surveying health needs.

They have renovated one-room school houses, started night classes for adults, and extended legal services on bail bond projects.

for

1966 ENGINEERING GRADUATES

Expanding military and commercial business has created even more openings.

As you contemplate one of the most important decisions you have yet had to make, we suggest you consider joining us at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft. Like most everyone else, we offer all of the usual "fringe" benefits, including our Corporation-financed Graduate Education Program. But, far more important to you and your future, is the wide-open opportunity for professional growth with a company that enjoys an enviable record of stability. You will be working on challenging new problems of propulsion.

And make no mistake about it...you'll get a solid feeling of satisfaction from your contribution to our nation's economic growth and to its national defense as well.

Your degree can be a BS, MS or PhD in: MECHANICAL • AERONAUTICAL • ELECTRICAL • CHEMICAL ENGINEERING • PHYSICS • CHEMISTRY • METALLURGY • CERAMICS • MATHEMATICS • ENGINEERING SCIENCE OR APPLIED MECHANICS.

For more specific information (and immediate action) concerning a career with Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, write today (or use coupon) to Mr. William L. Stoner, Engineering Building 1-A, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, East Hartford, Connecticut 06108.

Placement Bureau Establishes Service For Marketing Research Papers

New York - A service for evaluating and marketing college research papers, called the Research Writers' Bureau Ltd., was established in the New York area recently in response to wide-spread demand amongst publishers for articles on academic subjects. The firm is reported to be the first organization of its kind to concentrate its efforts entirely on selling campus-written material.

According to Richard Fennelly, director of the literacy agency, there are thousands upon thousands of periodicals, ranging from the smallest journals to some of the largest "slick" magazines, which need well-researched student manuscripts. He reports that some of these pay up to 10 cents per word for this material.

"Academic journals are usually the first and too often the last place students consider as an outlet for their work," Fennelly says.

"This is lamentable because there are numerous semi-popular magazines which pay decent money for research writing. They cover a wide field of interest, including science, religion, history, medicine and business." Virtually every area of college study has some representation in this type of periodical, according to the firm's director.

The new agency, which does not return manuscripts unless first queried with a description of the paper, is located at 95-31 104 St., Ozone Park, N.Y.

Students Receive Creative Awards At Contests' End

Awards for the Creative Writing Contest, sponsored by the English Dept., were distributed on Wednesday at 3 p.m. in the Ewing Room. A brief, informal coffee segment preceded the presentation.

Robeson Bailey opened the ceremony by awarding, in absentia, the Bancroft Prize for excellence in freshman composition to Paul Clement, AS 9.

Paul Cundiff, English Department Chairman, assumed the podium to award the Margaret L. Tendel Award to Helen L. List, the senior English Major to attain the highest cumulative index. Miss List has also received membership in Phi Beta Kappa and the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Award this year.

Peterson To Play Celtic Ball

type of coach we wanted," Nelson said in making the announcement. "He has coaching experience at the collegiate level, he is familiar with this area, he is fully qualified academically and he comes to us with excellent credentials."

Peterson graduated from Northwestern University in 1958. He received his master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1960.

He became freshman coach at McKendree College in Lebanon, Ill., in 1962 and directed his team to a 16-3 record. The following two seasons he coached the Michigan State freshman team to a combined record of 25-3 before moving to Navy for the 1965-66 season. The Navy Plebes had a 10-5 record under Peterson's tutelage last year.

Peterson was highly recommended by the former head coaches at Michigan State and Navy.

Peterson said he plans to install the Celtic style of play at Delaware.

"We will play a hard-nosed attacking defense and a driving offense," Peterson said. "We are going to have an aggressive team and hope to attract some fan support and enthusiasm."

Lockland, Ross Impress Coach

by DICK BECK

The 20 day spring football drills culminated Friday in the annual intersquad, Blue White game, as new head football coach, Harold "Tubby" Raymond put his players through their paces.

A three-touchdown final quarter enabled the Blues to overtake and defeat the White team by a 28-19 score. But the score of the game is of secondary importance. The main objective was to allow the coaches a long look at the team in a game situation.

Coach Raymond used the returning backs of last year with a line comprised of upperclassmen. Many of the offensive line have graduated. Experience was on the Blue side. The White, coached by Irv Wisniewski, was comprised of the first string defensive backfield and the new linemen. The Whites were surprising in what they showed seven different defenses, and used stunting in holding the Blues well in check through all but the final quarter.

Head Coach Raymond announced this week that Jimmy Flynn would be joining the varsity coaching staff in the fall. Paul Billy will replace Flynn at the freshmen football helm. Flynn will be working with Mickey Heineken in the backfield. The line coaching chores will be split between Ed Maley and Scotty Duncan, while Irv Wisniewski will tend to the end position duties, and continue as chief scout.

Coach Raymond was especially impressed with some of the freshmen who will vie for a starting position. Bill Lockland, a guard on the Bluesquad and Gary Ross, linebacker for the Whites, were very impressive in the game.

The quarterback position, vacated by Tom Van Grofski, now has two men ready for action. George Shirmer displayed some fine team handling and completed 9 of 18 passes for 134 yards and three touchdowns. Frank Linzenbold, the only candidate for the position before the game led the Blues well, completing 7 of 19 passes for 162 yards. His 71 yard pass play to end Mike Purzycki enabled the Blues to take a 14-13 lead.

Linksmen Take 5th In MAC Tourney

The Hen linksmen placed fifth in the Middle Atlantic Conference Golf championship at Saucon Valley Country Club, Bethlehem, Pa. Lehigh, the host team, won the MAC title. The Engineers' Steve Hopper came away with medalist honors while shooting an 81 and 79 for a 160 total.

On Wednesday of this week, the Hens won their 12th straight match, defeating Rutgers by a score of 10-8. This win, however, means nothing in the run for the championship. Final standings are not taken into consideration. It was decided in Monday's one-day, 36 hole tournament.

In other action, the Hens took Franklin and Marshall last Friday by a 9 1/2 - 8 1/2 score, and Dickinson by a 10-8 tally. Dickinson was the MAC champ last year and F & M placed second this year.

Today, the Hens travel again to Saucon Valley to meet Lehigh in head to head competition. This is their final match of the season and will determine in the Hens' minds who the real champ is.

THE COLLEGE PRESIDENT: HIS CAUSE AND CURE

Oh, sure, you've been busy, what with going to classes, doing your homework, catching night crawlers, getting married, picketing—but can't you pause for just a moment and give thought to that dear, dedicated, lonely man in the big white house on the hill? I refer, of course, to Prexy.

(It is interesting to note that college presidents are always called "Prexy." Similarly, trustees are always called "Trixie." Associate professors are always called "Axy-Pixy." Bursars are called "Foxy-Woxy." Students are called "Algae.")

But I digress. We were speaking of Prexy, a personage at once august and pathetic. Why pathetic? Well, sir, consider how Prexy spends his days. He is busy, busy, busy. He talks to deans, he talks to professors, he talks to trustees, he talks to alumni. In fact, he talks to everybody except the one group who could lift his heart and rally his spirits. I mean, of course, the appealing, endearing, winsomest group in the entire college—delightful you, the students.

It is Prexy's sad fate to be forever a stranger to your laughing, golden selves. He can only gaze wistfully out the window of his big white house on the hill and watch you at your games and sports and yearn with all his tormented heart to bask in your warmth. But how? It would hardly be fitting for Prexy to appear one day at the Union, clad in an old rowing blazer, and cry gaily, "Heigh-ho, chaps! Who's for sculling?"

No, friends, Prexy can't get to you. It is up to you to get to him. Call on him at home. Just drop in unannounced. He will naturally be a little shy at first, so you must put him at his ease. Shout, "Howdy-doo, sir! I have come to bring a little sunshine into your drear and blighted life!" Then yank his necktie out of his vest and scamper goatlike around him until he is laughing merrily along with you.

Then hand him a package and say, "A little gift for you, sir."

"For me?" he will say, lowering his lids. "You shouldn't have."

"Yes, I should," you will say, "because this is a pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, and whenever I think of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, I think of you."

"Why, hey?" he will ask curiously.

"Because, sir," you will say, "though you are no longer a young blade, still you gleam and function. Full though you are of years and lumps, rheumy though your endocrines and flaccid your hamstrings, still you remain sharp, incisive, efficacious."

"Thank you," he will say, sobbing.

"So it is with Personna," you will continue. "Naturally you expect a brand-new blade to give a close, speedy shave. But how about a blade that's had hard and frequent use? Do you still expect a close, speedy shave? Well, sir, if it's a Personna, that's what you'll get. Because, sir, like you, sir, Personna is no flash-in-the-pan. Like you, sir, Personna abides."

He will clasp your hand then, not trusting himself to speak.

"But away with gloom!" you will cry jollily. "For I have still more good news to tell you of Personna!"

"How is that possible?" he will say.

"Hearken to me," you will say. "Personna, in all its enduring splendor, is available not only in Double Edge style but also in Injector style!"

He will join you then in the Personna rouser, and then he will bring you a steaming cup of cocoa with a marshmallow on top. Then you will say, "Good-bye, sir. I will return soon again to brighten your dank, miasmic life."

"Please do," he will say. "But next time, if you can possibly manage it, try not to come at four in the morning."

Tobin, Conant Win MAC Title

by BOB REARDON

Swarthmore's netmen retained their traditional dominance of Delaware on Wednesday with a 7-2 victory over the visiting Hens.

The loss, Delaware's second of the season over-all, and their first in Middle Atlantic Conference competition, thwarted the Hens' bid for an MAC Southern Division title. Swarthmore, 8-0 in the conference and 9-1 over-all has the Southern Division crown virtually sewn up with the victory over Delaware. The Garnet, currently coached by former Davis Cup team coach Ed Faulkner, has never lost to Delaware.

The loss was softened for Delaware tennis fans, however by the return of the M.A.C. doubles title to Newark last Saturday. Roger Conant and Bill Tobin regained their crown of two years ago by defeating Bill Cartier and George Kelhart, of Moravian, in the title round of the championships held in Bethlehem, Pa., last weekend.

Delaware's only other entry in the 2-day MAC Championships was captain John Hauge, who was eliminated in the first round, losing the Jim Edwards of Dickinson, 7-5, 6-1.

Tennis Exhibition

Former Davis Cup players Chuck McKinley and Gene Scott will give a tennis exhibition on the Women's Courts at the university Sunday at 2 p.m. No admission will be charged.

The McKinley-Scott match will be preceded by a clinic conducted by Margaret Varner, one of the country's top amateur tennis players and a member of the women's physical education staff at the university.

McKinley, a graduate of Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas, was a member of the Davis Cup team for five years. The Wimbledon singles champion in 1963, he has held 11 U.S. men's titles in his career.

Scott, a graduate of Yale University and University of Virginia Law School, was a teammate of McKinley's on the 1963 Davis Cup Team. His victories include the Pan American Doubles title with Nick Pietrangeli in 1964.

Stickmen Top Drexel, 8-3 Bring Season Log To 9-1

With a win over Drexel last Wednesday, the university lacrosse team brought their season's record up to nine wins and one loss. In the last week the Hens have recorded three wins: Hofstra on Saturday, 9-6, Loyola on Monday, 7-2, and Drexel on Wednesday, 8-3.

At the beginning of the lacrosse season Coach Mickey Heineken said that he would be happy if his team could produce a winning season. With only three games left on their schedule the Hens can do nothing but bring forth a winning log. From being an unknown entity the players have put forth a performance which is a credit to their own playing ability as well as their coaching.

Hofstra was probably the toughest of the Hens' opponents so far this season. The Long Island school lost by three goals in a game dominated by the Hen's attack.

The Hens start their finishing drive tomorrow with a game against highly rated Washington College.

Scarlet Knights Lance Hen Hurlers; Delaware Rebounds To Defeat Drexel

by LYLE POE

After being swamped by a powerful Rutgers team at home last Saturday, 13-0, Delaware's baseball team bounced back with a 7-5 victory over Drexel.

The Hens start the final week of the season tomorrow with their final conference game against Bucknell, away. This coming week they also face away games with Seton Hall, Muhlenberg, and Penn State. The date with Penn State is a season-ending double-header scheduled for Saturday, May 21.

The Rutgers game was all bad news, as the 13-0 score showed. The Hens could muster only one hit, a single by Denny O'Brien, and had even more trouble holding down Rutgers. Before the game was over three Delaware hurlers got bombed for thirteen runs, the highest since early in the season.

Pitcher Tom Palmer however came back to do a good job against Drexel and get credit for the victory. Palmer had control trouble - he walked seven men in his seven innings of pitching - but he also picked up six strikeouts. Also helping to counterbalance the walks was the flawless play of the Blue Hen defense and the fact that Palmer allowed only four hits.

Drexel got all of their hits off Palmer in the first inning when they picked up two runs. They added another run in the second and got two in the eighth when reliever Jim Bar-

This Could Be The Year Hens Vie For MAC Title

The climax of varsity track competition comes this Friday and Saturday when Delaware travels to Lycoming College for the Middle Atlantic Track and Field Championships.

Referring to the annual meet, varsity coach Jimmy Flynn comments, "We can get it - but so can Temple, LaSalle, and St. Joseph's."

"But," he continued, "We are going to need help from Lafayette, Lehigh, and Bucknell."

Flynn was referring to last year's M.A.C. Championships. Delaware finished second to LaSalle, not being able to muster a winning margin because of four strong contenders and a handful of weak ones. Lafayette, Lehigh, and Bucknell must grab vital points from Temple, LaSalle, and St. Joseph's in the Hen's weaker events for Delaware to take the team crown.

The Hens find themselves without any top-flight contenders in the sprints, but have what must be considered the strongest field event delegation in the two-day meet due to the predominance of their record-breaking weightmen.

Flynn thinks Delaware will be bringing the best shot, discus, javelin, and long jump men in the conference into the meet, along with the second-best javelin, triple jump, high hurdles, and distance men.

This seems to be sufficient to take all, but neither the team nor Coach Flynn can bank on it. Delaware finished second in the championships three of the last four years, winning it in 1963. The Hens are due, and this might be the year.

In freshman competition, the Blue Chicks finished their season with a third in the M.A.C. Frosh Invitational on Wednesday.

day. Host West Chester took team honors with LaSalle second.

Bruce Regenthal led Delaware with firsts in the long and triple jumps for his tenth and eleventh first places of the spring season. Greg Walther won the 120 high hurdles in 15.9.

Second places were registered by the Hen's 440-relay squad.

New Era Foreseen

by RAY GOLDBACHER

The Athletic Council got exactly what it wanted in a new basketball coach in the person of Dan Peterson.

Peterson has a successful record of college coaching at McKendree College, Michigan State, and the Naval Academy where he directed his freshman teams to a combined 51-11 record.

Dan Peterson came to Delaware highly recommended by his former head coaches at Michigan and the Academy, and received a glowing recommendation from former Celtic coach "Red" Auerbach. Who can ask for more?

Peterson's ideas on coaching and the game in general are not really radical, but Peterson has one quality which overshadows all the others - a natural and boundless enthusiasm, for the game, for coaching, for his team, and significantly, for recruiting.

"Pete" has a strong will to win but does not profess to be a thunderer of the Adolph Rupp school. He stresses communication between player and coach, and "loves" to recruit.

Given the proper conditions and a relatively free hand, Dan Peterson should be capable of elevating Delaware basketball to a high plane, and if he does, the student support which he feels is so necessary will come by itself.

High school basketball has generally been a high interest, well-attended, and well-played sport in this state. However, over the years, the lack of a post-season basketball tournament has tended to put a damper on the sport. Just when interest should be reaching its highest level, it is abruptly cut off.

We feel that such a tournament can be a valuable addition to the high school sports program of this state, (just as the post-season wrestling tournament has become) and urge that it be carefully considered, and adopted.

TOUCHDOWN!—Oops! Well at least they're wearing helmets - Delaware stickman scores goal in Hofstra game.
