NEWARK WINS FIGHT AGAINST DOVER

THREE NEWARK TEACHERS HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Miss Irene Wilkinson in Hospital; Others Not Badly Injured

CONDITION NOT SERIOUS

Three Newark School teachers, en route to Wilmington yesterday, Wednesday, afternoon, at about 2:30 o'clock, were shaken, cut, and bruised when the automobile in which they were riding was crashed into by another car on the Lincoln Highway, near Elmore.

Miss Irene Wilkinson, daughter of A. G. Wilkinson, business administrator of the University of Delaware, is in the Wilmington General Hospital, suffering from injuries to her back and legs. Miss Greta McKinsey, of 1301 West Eighth street, Wilmington, who also teaches in the Newark School, was badly shaken and was slightly bruised, and a third Newark teacher, whose identity could not be established before The Newark Post went to press, was bruised and cut about the face.

The three young women were riding (Continued on Page 8.)

DANIEL S. REED DIES; VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Aged Man Struck by Car Driven by Walter Fouracre

DRIVER HELD BY LAW

Daniel S. Reed, aged 79, who resided on South Chapel street, in Newark, died in the Homeopathic Hospital in Wilmington early Friday morning from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile driven by Walter Fouracre, of this town.

Mr. Reed, who lived with his son-in-law, Rankin Colmer, tax collector for White Clay Creek Hundred, at about 6 o'clock last Friday evening, crossed Chapel street from his home to a store. After finishing his business in the store, he started back across the street. Fouracre, who is employed at the fibre mills, was on his way to his home. Just in front of Mr. Reed's home, he was struck by the car Fouracre was driving, and was thrown to the pavement. The Aetna Company ambulance was called, and the injured man was rushed to Wilmington to the hospital, where he died.

Fouracre was arrested by Officer Cunningham and was taken before Magistrate Daniel Thompson, who ordered him held under bail to await the outcome of Reed's injuries. Since Reed's death, Fouracre's bail has been increased, and he is charged with manslaughter.

This is the third accident Fouracre has had within the past year and a half. All of these accidents have occurred in about the same location, and each one has been that a man was struck by the car Fouracre was driving.

BICYCLIST INJURED

Little Ann Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, of Kells avenue, was slightly injured at noon yesterday when she became confused while riding her bicycle and ran into an automobile.

U. OF D.-DUPONT TO PLAY FOR AID OF UNEMPLOYED

Army Post and Blue Chicks to Battle Here Saturday

SOLDIERS STRONG FOE

A post-season football game, the proceeds of which will be donated towards the relief of unemployment, will be played on Frazer Field next Saturday between the University of Delaware eleven and the Fort Dupont team.

The agreement to play this benefit game was reached a few days ago by officials of the University and of the Army post. A large number of universities throughout the country, especially those having football teams this year which are attracting more than the usual amount of interest and attention, have signified their intention of playing post-season games for the benefit of the unemployed and the deserving needy, and the action of the Blue and Gold team and the soldiers is receiving a great deal of favorable comment and approval from football fans and others.

The game gives every prospect of being one of the hardest, if not the hardest game, that Delaware will play this season. At a practice game before the start of the football season, the Delaware squad outplayed the Fort Dupont squad, but the army post eleven has greatly improved, both in playing and in strength, since that time, and is now considered a very dangerous foe for the Blue Chicks. The strength of the soldier eleven is best shown by the fact that in the last five games, Ft. Dupont has rolled up a total of 187 points against 6 for their opponents. Atkinson and Hoagland, two star backs for Dupont who were injured when Dupont defeated Fort Meade Sunday before last, are back in shape again, and are expected to be two sources of worry to the Delaware team.

It is expected that this game will draw one of the largest crowds of the season.

$130 ADDED TO WELFARE FUND BY CARD PARTY

Benefit Affair at Home of Miss Mary Wright is Success

BOY SCOUTS TO AID

The proceeds of the benefit bridge and card party which was held on November 12 in the home of Miss Mary E. Wright amounted to $130, it has been announced by the Welfare Committee of the Newark New Century Club.

This sum has been added to the fund of the Welfare Committee and will be used in aiding the unemployed and needy of the town this winter. The appreciation of the Welfare Committee has been extended to Miss Wright for her kindness in offering the use of her home for the party, and the thanks of the Welfare Committee is also extended to all those who helped make the occasion a financial success with their contributions.

The Welfare Committee is eager to have response made to the appeal of the Boy Scouts of Newark for toys to be repainted and repaired for the Christmas baskets. The scouts will be glad to collect any toys upon notification. Notice should be given to T. A. Baker, A. E. Tomhave, or to Vernon Steele, and the toys will be called for by some scout.

LIONS CLUB TO RAISE FUNDS TO AID TOWN NEEDY

Will Work in Conjunction with Century Club in Relief Program

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The Newark Lions Club, at its meeting Tuesday night, started its active work to aid in the relief of the distress in this town this Christmas season by the signing of pledges by the members of the club for the donation of sums of money, and by the appointment of a committee of three to conduct a drive of the merchants and residents of Newark to subscribe to a relief fund for the needy.

A short time ago, when the Chamber of Commerce solicited donations to provide Christmas lighting and decorations for Main street during the holidays, a number of people stated that they felt that money could be better employed this year in helping the unemployed and needy. The Chamber of Commerce, taking into account that situation, decided that it would postpone its plan for the lighting of Main street until next year, the fund to help those in need of help.

The Lions Club decided to conduct the drive during the next three weeks and to work in conjunction with the Welfare Committee of the New Century Club in the distribution of the money raised. Robert Jones was appointed chairman of the committee, and Frank Fader and L. Newton Sheaffer were appointed members to work with Mr. Jones.

I. B. Finkelstein, of Wilmington, who has just returned from the White House Conference on Child Welfare, was the speaker at the dinner meeting of the Lions Club. He gave parts of President Hoover's speech in regard to the work of the workers in this field. Walter D. Smith, of the Delaware Safety Council, was also a guest of the club Tuesday evening.

It was decided to entertain the members of the Newark High School football team at a Thanksgiving dinner next Tuesday evening. The Lions Club will be hosts to the squad, including about 30 boys and their coach, W. Gillespie.

The Hockessin Orchestra rendered several selections under the direction of Mr. Skillen.

PROTEST OVER 26-0 SCORE NOT UPHOLD

NEWARK AMERICAN LEGION GIVES $100 TO AID NEEDY

At the meeting of the Newark Post of the American Legion this week, the members of the post voted to give $100 to the Welfare Committee of the Newark New Century Club for use in the aiding of the poor and needy of the town.

The Post decided that at this present time of need, when there is so much unemployment in the town, that the donation of this sum of money would be of great help in the alleviation of some of the distress in the town. The American Legion has in the past always given its aid and money in the caring for disabled soldiers and of soldiers' widows and children, but the members felt that at this time the appropriation of the sum of money to the Welfare Committee would be of benefit to the town.

CHORAL GROUP TO MAKE DEBUT MONDAY NIGHT

Community Singers, Under Swinnen's Direction to Give Concert

TO SING FOUR NUMBERS

The Choral Society of Newark, the organization of singers organized by Firmin Swinnen, will make its debut before an audience next Monday night, December 1, at the close of the regular Monday night organ recital in Mitchell Hall.

Four selections will be rendered by the chorus: "Close Thine Eyes," "Volga Boatmen's Song," "To A Wild Rose," and "Hymn To America."

This society is composed of about 80 men and women, part of whom are students and faculty members, and the rest of whom are townspeople and residents of this community. The chorus is directed by Mr. Swinnen, and is accompanied by Carl Budin, a student at the University.

The Choral Society is the result of long planning. For several years the people of Newark have been interested in such a project, but the necessary facilities were never before available. With the building of Mitchell Hall came the fruition of the plan. The new auditorium of the University is large enough for such a group to study and rehearse, contains an excellent pipe organ, and it brought with it to this town a world-known organist and musician, Firmin Swinnen.

Shortly after the school year began tryouts were held for all persons interested in joining such a chorus. More than twice as many applicants for membership in the chorus were received than could be accepted. It is planned to hold these tryouts each year so that the gaps left by those members of the chorus who graduate or move away from Newark can be filled.

DR. GEO. H. RYDEN IS ARCHIVIST

Leon DeVallinger, of Dover, was selected as assistant to Dr. Ryden. Both Dr. Ryden and Mr. DeVallinger will assume their duties on December 1.

The annual Christmas dinner of the Baraca Class of the Newark Presbyterian Church will be given in the church building on Friday, December 12. A special turkey feast will be served at the dinner, and a special program of speakers and entertainment is being arranged.

Move By Dover to Prevent Game With Delmar For Championship of State League Spiked By D. I. A. A.

Protest on Technicality Termed Poor Sportsmanship on Dover's Part; Meeting is Stormy One; Newark Fans Elated

WILL PLAY DELMAR TODAY FOR TITLE

A protest against the victory won by the Newark High School football team last Friday afternoon over the Dover High School team was ruled against by the executive committee of the Delaware Interscholastic Athletic Association at a special meeting Tuesday night in Dover. The ruling of the D. I. A. A. officials assures the Newark-Delmar game today at Dover for the state championship.

The meeting Tuesday night was a stormy one. The objection raised by the Dover officials, headed by Superintendent of Dover Schools Virgil Wiley, was that they had not been notified one week before the game last Friday of the name of the headlinesman for the game. The contention was raised that at a conference prior to the game, the name of one man had been mentioned as headlinesman, and that another man held that position during the game.

The conference was held in the office of the Newark School. It was claimed by Superintendent Brinser that the name of the alternate headlinesman, Ryan, was discussed with the Dover officials as a substitute in case another man, Kelleher, could not be obtained for the position. Mr. Brinser's statement was verified by Coach Gillespie and Miss Hannah Lindell, Mr. Brinser's secretary. Mr. Wiley and the Dover coach said that they did not remember of Ryan's name being mentioned, and on that ground based their protest. Some ruling of the D. I. A. A. states that the home team shall notify the officials of the visiting team of the names of officials of the game one week in advance to the game, but as the game was played at Delaware City, on neutral ground, neither team could be classed as the home team.

Charges were hurled throughout the meeting challenging the statements made by the representatives of both schools. Superintendents of other schools in the state who were present for the meeting were rather outspoken in their comments concerning the poor display of sportsmanship displayed by the Dover officials. The game was an overwhelming victory for Newark, the score being 26 to 0 in their favor, and several men at the meeting voiced their opinion that if the score had been a close one, Dover might have been justified in their protest, but as the game was such an outstanding victory for Newark, that they could see no way by which the choice of the officials would have had any effect on the game.

Matters at the meeting nearly came to a fiery climax when the coach of the Dover school used profane language and language unbecoming of a gentleman and a teacher in addressing a reply to Superintendent Brinser. Quick action was necessary to prevent serious consequences to the statement, and possibly serious injury to the coach.

Had the protest been allowed, Newark would have been declared ineligible to play Delmar for the state championship today, and Dover would have played the southern district winners for the state honors.

This is the second year in succession that Dover has protested on rather obscure grounds the loss of a game. Other years there have also been protests filed over some technicality. Superintendent Brinser stated after the meeting Tuesday night that had the protest been allowed, and Newark declared ineligible to play Delmar for the state championship, that Newark would have withdrawn from the D. I. A. A., and would have played other teams in athletic contests.

NEWARK HIGH WINS NORTHERN CHAMPIONSHIP OF D. I. A. A. LEAGUE

Smothers Dover Eleven 26-0 to Take Sectional Honors; Will Play Delmar for State Laurels

With Barrow, clever signal barker in the stellar role, Newark High School's band of grid gladiators defeated the Dover High School eleven, 26 to 0, on the Fort Du Pont grid Friday and advanced to the finals in the Delaware Interscholastic Athletic Association.

Newark won the right to meet the Delmar High School gridders for the championship of the D. I. A. A. for high schools outside of Wilmington. A large crowd saw the game.

Barrow was easily the star of the game, which was marred by the many fumbles of the Senators. No less than four misplays were made by the Doverites and three of these resulted in touchdowns for the Newark band, who smothered the Senators to coup northern honors.

Barrow accounted for nineteen of Newark's total scoring three touchdowns. Barrow got off on the longest run of the hectic struggle, too, racing 50 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter.

Newark tallied twenty points in this quarter, Barrow going wild and getting three six-pointers and adding a point after one of the touchdowns.

Barrow, after Johnson recovered a fumble in Dover territory, scored the first touchdown early in the second quarter. The Newark quarterback added another shortly after on a pass and snatched a Dover pass late in the period to tally his third.

Barrow also had something to do with the final tally. He intercepted a Dover pass to start a rally, and then, on the first play, he tossed a 30-yard forward to Willis, who scored without trouble.

Dover threatened only once, Reed and Shahan making nice gains to bring the ball to the 25-yard line. A fumble ruined their chances.

Shahan and Reed were Dover's stars. Barrow stood head and shoulders over the Dover stars and his mates. The lineups:

When Our Forefathers Landed on the "Stern and Rock-Bound Coast"

They came to found a land where they could give free expression to their firm religious beliefs, and the pioneer work they accomplished had a most telling influence in the future growth of America as a land of freedom, tolerance and opportunity.

As we celebrate Thanksgiving this year, let us turn the pages of history and read anew the inspiring story of the Pilgrim.

Their prudence and foresight proved precious boons to the future of America. It is incumbent upon individuals to follow their noble example. Let us offer thanksgiving on this occasion for the many blessings which we have enjoyed in the past, and let us insure the future for ourselves and for all to come by fostering and extending the freedom, tolerance and opportunity of our great nation, even as the Pilgrims did for us three centuries ago.

GRANDMOTHER OF 1930 GLAD TO BE CLASSED WITH YOUTH

Modern Maternal Flappers Like Change from Awed Respect to Comradship with Youngsters

The average 1930 grandmother apparently is not pining for the good old days when children treated her with awed respect. She likes being called by her first name and wave a chrysanthemum at a football game.

Distinguished grandmothers who were members of the White House Conference on Child Welfare in session at Washington stoutly maintain that a child's best friend today is his up-to-date grandmother.

Through answers to a questionnaire the typical conference grandmother revealed that she is glad to be removed from her pedestal and taken into her grandchild's confidence. She has changed her ideas in regard to rearing boys and girls. She says less stress on personal conduct and more on vocational training is best.

The consensus of conference grandmothers is that the junior high school age now presents the most problems for parents to solve.

There is a wide range of opinion on the subject of orthodox religious training for grandchildren. Some grandmothers come out flatly against any church training, while others believe everything depends on the type of Sunday school teachers.

Mrs. A. H. Reeve, grandmother to six, and president of the General Federation of Home and School, blames the "moral indigestion which is epidemic today" not on youngsters, but on grown-ups.

Mrs. Walter McNabb Miller, of New York, who also has six grandchildren, recalls that in her youth she "walked softly, spoke softly and waited upon a little grandmother who sat in a rocking chair clad in black silk and a lace cap."

"Sometimes I'd like a bit of the reverence I gave her," this modern grandmother admits, "but life is more interesting the modern way. My grandchildren expect me to be ready for any game, to be keenly interested in their work and play and be alive to every modern trend. They treat me as though I was their own age."

DAIRY INDUSTRY OUTLOOK GOOD

Producers and Distributors Working in Accord, Reports Say

Developments at the convention of the National Co-operative Milk Producers' Federation, just held at Des Moines, indicate a definite trend toward a better understanding and a more satisfactory working basis as between milk producers and distributing companies.

The issue of retail distribution of dairy products by cooperative associations in competition with the established private companies was put before the Federation by Thomas H. McInerney, president of the National Dairy Products Corporation, probably the largest distributing company in the world, a company which pays to the milk producers of the country approximately $5,000,000 in cash every week.

Mr. McInerney in cordial frankness told the cooperatives that such organizations as National Dairy were better equipped, both in plant facilities and financial resources, to handle milk distribution than were the associations. If not, he said, then it would be entirely a question of the survival of the fittest. In his opinion the farmer is a better farmer than merchant and the merchant is a better merchant than farmer, and each could be of service to the other.

Conceding the value of well-managed cooperative associations Mr. McInerney stated frankly that collective bargaining in the sale of the raw materials in dairy products was not only sound economically but that he welcomed it.

From subsequent discussions on the subject it appears that distinct fields of service may be outlined for both the cooperatives and the distributing companies and that points of conflict in time may be entirely eliminated. The meeting augurs well for the dairy farmers and the industry as a whole.

PUBLIC KINDERGARTEN IS PLANNED AT MIDDLETOWN

The Middletown Parent-Teacher Association is interested in the possibility of a public kindergarten. A committee will be appointed in the near future to consider the matter, Gilbert Nickel, at the meeting, November 17th, stressed the importance of regular attendance of pupils, of allowing no interference with school work, of hearty co-operation between parents and teachers. The association starts the year with a balance of $46. A membership drive has been started under the chairmanship of Mrs. Emma C. Donovan. At the meeting on December 15th, prizes will be awarded to the two grades obtaining the highest percentage of members. Dues are 25 cents. Mrs. Howard Poole, in behalf of the Century Club, invited the faculty to be guests of the Club. After a program of guessing games, Mrs. John Piser and her committee served ice cream, cake and coffee.

A convenient arrangement of the kitchen with work centers in a logical sequence reduces the time spent in it.

PROLAPSUS OF OVIDUCT

By Prof. H. D. Munroe

A large percentage of poultry mortality can be traced to the trouble commonly called prolapsus, or inverted oviduct. The causes of this poultry trouble, though not definite, may be due to one or more of the following factors:

1. Pick outs.
2. Weakening of the muscles of the oviduct brought on by the strain of heavy production.
3. An overfat condition of young pullets just starting to lay.
4. Constipation due to not enough laxative feeds such as green and succulent feeds or a lack of liquids.
5. Lack of lubricating material in the oviduct brought on by an incomplete ration.
6. Difficulty in laying large eggs.

Even if some trouble does not appear, it is a good plan to prevent it as far as possible by using a liberal supply of succulent green feeds. Such feeds as sprouted oats, cabbage and mangels should be used. Some kind of milk in the ration is important. A dose of some laxative such as epsom salts (1 pound of salts per 400 pounds of poultry) may be needed as often as once a month if no succulent feed is available.

At a time of abnormally high production, accompanied by prolapse, it is practical to reduce the proportion of mash consumed. This can be most easily done by increasing the amount of grain. If production is checked severely by any change in feeding the loss from lowered egg production is likely to be greater than the loss of birds from prolapse.

A suggestion worth trying is to reduce the amount of corn to 25 per cent of the scratch grain mixture. Such grains as wheat, oats, barley and buckwheat can be added to take the place of corn.

As prolapse appears in a flock, cannibalism is likely to cause heavy losses. Birds are likely to start picking at the vents that show a trace of blood.

Some hens have the habit of staying near the nests and pecking those while in the act of laying. For this reason it is advisable to keep the nest darkened. Whenever a bird is caught picking another, trim her beak. In bad cases of pick-outs it is necessary to trim the whole flock. Often picking in a hen flock can be stopped, as with chicks, by feeding a moist mash once a day made up of 2/3 alfalfa meal and 1/3 laying mash.

Unless hens are kept busy they are likely to start some vice such as cannibalism. Provide plenty of hopper space so that mash is kept before the hens at all times. Feeding green and succulent feeds, moist mash, etc., in small quantities as often as three or four times daily is one more means of keeping them busy. In some cases it may be advisable to allow the hens outdoors in order to stop trouble such as cannibalism.

The Stanton Parent-Teacher Association held its monthly business meeting Thursday evening, November 20. Twenty-three have signed for an adult class in handicraft work, which means that the course will be given by the State Department of Education. P. T. Wier, a member of the school board, announced that $400 has been appropriated to the school board by the State Board of Education and that this money will be used for the purpose of providing a driveway around the school.

Industry, Barter and Ethics on the Banks of the Delaware 300 years ago was the topic presented by Mrs. Ada Helmbreck. She also spoke concerning the work in the modern progressive school such as is located at Georgetown.

The school choir rendered several selections and the fifth grade presented a playlet, "Three Mince Pies."

PROFITS IN CHRISTMAS TREES

Christmas-tree growing offers the farmer whose farm is properly located with reference to markets a side-line that may bring in extra income at a time of year when it is particularly acceptable. It also provides a way for utilizing odd corners of tillable land not needed for other crops and small areas of waste land suitable for reforestation. Before starting a plantation, one should carefully consider the market for the trees and the competition from wild or natural-grown trees and from other plantations, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The Eastern and Central States generally offer the best opportunities. The ideal Christmas tree is symmetrical with a dense conical crown, is fragrant, and retains its foliage in a warm room. The spruces and true firs combine many of these qualities. Select species that grow fairly rapidly.

TO ORGANIZE SINGING CLASS

At a meeting of the Newport Parent-Teacher Association, November 18, attended by 85 people, the children of the school presented a program. Interest is being aroused in an adult singing class. The association plans to raise money by means of an entertainment given by a traveling troupe.

THE heating system of a rural church froze during an exceptional cold snap. The damage was not discovered until the night before an important service. Arrangements quickly were made for the use of a local schoolhouse and, by telephoning members of the congregation scattered over a wide farming area, the minister secured a record gathering the next day.

Thanksgiving

In former days people were supposed to spend a good part of Thanksgiving Day in prayerful meditation upon their blessings. It was a generous conception of life.

Today not much time is spent in meditation about anything. People are rushing hither and thither. Millions of Americans go some distance to attend some Thanksgiving dinner, but they have hardly reached the old hearthstone, or wherever the family party is held now, when they have to turn around and rush back. They do not find much time for thankfulness, or anything else, but eating a big dinner, probably more than is good for them.

Yet we do not want to give up this old holiday. Its early history is inspiring. The first Thanksgiving on our continent was celebrated in Newfoundland in 1578, by an English minister, when he exhorted his companions to show thankfulness to God who had delivered them in those and dangerous places. It was a faith that heartened many hardy pioneers for the perilous tasks before them. They believed they were guided by divine providence, and it gave them power to accomplish the seemingly impossible.

From the early days Thanksgiving Day was a very cheerful feast. People forgot their troubles and had a day of merriment. It sent them out on the difficult tasks of life with new happiness.

Let us all rejoice as our families come together. These ties of blood should mean very much. They hold when less firm ones break apart. And let us not forget that this faith in the divine providence to which thankfulness was expressed, had much to do with the successful founding of our country. It sustained our fathers in many dark hours, and we should have this same spirit here in Delaware.

Passing the Buck

When a man makes a mistake, he should be man enough to admit it, not beat around the bush and "pass the buck" to someone else. For even if his attempt to unload the blame for some error from his own shoulders is made without malice or with no thought of ensnaring some one else in his own difficulties, the very act of "getting out from under" is bound to react to the discredit of some person, and to do some harm to them.

When a business firm falls down on a job of some sort—the failure to deliver the goods might be caused by circumstances over which no one could have control—and tries to explain its position by offering the excuses that the laxity or lack of co-operation or mistakes of some other concern are the causes of its trouble, the explanation may be given with no thought of harming the reputation of the other concern, yet harm has been done.

Perhaps these excuses are made to a customer. He at once becomes prejudiced against the concern named as the cause of his troubles, although the chances are that he will never investigate the matter to determine the truth. Whenever the name of that concern is mentioned, he instinctively takes an adverse attitude towards it.

The same thing applies to individuals. Many people failing to accomplish some mission to the satisfaction of all others, "passes the buck" by attributing his failure to some one else. Such action is unfair, unsportsmanlike, and unwarranted. So when you are wrong, admit it, and don't "pass the buck" to some unfortunate fellow who is not to blame.

Poor Sportsmanship

While we are happy to know that our Newark High School football team will play this afternoon for the State championship with Delmar, we still burn with indignation whenever we think of the rotten exhibition of poor sportsmanship displayed by the school authorities at Dover over the losing of the game to Newark last Friday.

To our minds, the attitude taken by the Dover Superintendent of Schools and the Coach of the Dover team is about as despicable and as small as it could be. What a fine example of sportsmanship and good manners for a coach and a school superintendent to set for their students! And on top of their low display of trickery in their attempt to prevent Newark from playing for the State championship and to work the Dover team into the game instead, the Coach of the Dover team could not even conduct himself as a gentleman at the meeting. For a man, especially a teacher and leader of boys, to use insulting and profane language in a meeting of school executives, both men and women, certainly does not reflect to the credit of the man or the school he represents.

We attended the meeting in Dover Tuesday night, and came away from that meeting with a strong and justified feeling of disgust for the Dover officials and their actions. If there had been any logical grounds for the protesting of the football game, then we would freely admit that Dover would be right in filing the protest. But when their team lost by a score of 26 to 0, and the game was played before officials whose reputations for accuracy, fairness and ability is above question, then we consider it a prize display of poor sportsmanship and ungentlemanly conduct to attempt to have the game outlawed so that their own team could compete for the State championship. And when the coach of a losing team went so far and to such low levels to use profane language and to call another coach and a superintendent of schools insulting names, we say that coach is not fit to be classed as a gentleman, and is unworthy to be placed in a position of responsibility and leadership as a teacher. The attitude of other school superintendents, from other towns throughout the State, who also attended the meeting, agrees with our attitude, and several of these school authorities made no bones in expressing their distaste as to the methods employed by the Dover officials.

After such actions by the Dover group, we are strongly against the continuation of any athletic relations between Newark and Dover. Newark teams have proved in the past that they are superior to Dover teams, and if Dover is incapable of showing any clean sportsmanship about its athletic contests, then we feel that it is better for our teams not to be associated in any way with such a group.

UNION MISSIONARY MEETING

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church will have as their guests the St. Thomas Auxiliary and the Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, on Thursday evening, December 11, in the lecture room of the church at 7.45 o'clock. It is very desirable that all members be present, as the hostess society feel quite fortunate in having secured the Rev. Francis Shunk Downes, D. D., Associate Secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Missions, as speaker for the evening.

COLLEGE HOUR WILL PRESENT ORPHEUS CLUB

Well-known Singers to be Heard Here Next
Thursday

PUBLIC IS INVITED

The Orpheus Club, perhaps the most outstanding musical organization in Delaware, will be brought to Newark under the auspices of the College Hour Committee of the University of Delaware, on next Thursday evening, December 4, and will give a recital in Mitchell Hall.

Announcement of the engaging of the Orpheus Club was made yesterday by the officials of the College Hour. This group of singers enjoys a wide reputation for their skill and technique in the interpretation and rendering of vocal numbers, and it is a distinct achievement on the part of the College Hour Committee to bring the Orpheus Club to Newark.

For a number of years in the past, the Orpheus Club has been presented here, but each time an admission charge has been made. The College Hour Committee, however, knowing the interest that the concert will create, and the appreciative manner in which it will be received, has decided to make the concert free of charge, and has extended an invitation to the public to attend.

Miss Mildred Faas, soprano, will be the assisting artist at the concert. Harry Banks is the accompanist and the chorus is under the direction of H. Alexander Matthews.

The program which will be given is as follows:

- (a) Ho! Ho! My Nut Brown Maiden—Old Scotch Air, air by Burleigh; (b) A Brown Bird Singing—Haydn Wood; (c) Rolling Down to Rio—Edward German. The Orpheus Club.
 - Soprano Solos: (a) By My Widow—Tschakovsky; (b) Flickan—Sebelius; (c) Aria from "The Snow Maiden"—Rimsky Korsakow. Mildred Faas.
 - (a) Hundred Pipes—Old Scotch Air—air by Whiting; (b) Dream Ship—Strickland; (c) To Arms—J. H. Maunders. The Orpheus Club.
 - Soprano Solos: (a) Enough—Ellen Vinton Ford; (b) Four Smile—Harry C. Banks; (c) Fairy Rockets—Milton B. Harding; (d) Sometimes—Madeleine C. Walther; (e) A Morning in Spring—H. Alexander Matthews. Mildred Faas.
 - (a) My Johnny was a Shoemaker—Old English Folk Song, air by Deems Taylor; (b) Banjo Song—Sidney Homer; (c) Old Man Noah—Bartholomew. The Orpheus Club.
- This has been a subscription program in the past, but the College Hour Committee is glad to offer it free to the public at this time.

STUDENTS REHEARSING FOR "OUTWARD BOUND," E51 PLAY

"Outward Bound," the play selected by the E51 class on play production of the University of Delaware for its first presentation, is now in its third week of rehearsal. The play will be given on the evening of December 11 in Mitchell Hall, at 8:20.

An effort is being made to encourage attendance at this play as a part and expression of the Little Theatre movement now sweeping the country. This movement aims to bring to the community good, solid, and wholesome entertainment in the drama, and to produce it out of the talent in the community itself. Of such a nature is the Drama League in Wilmington. It is especially significant that in "Outward Bound" two local students are playing leading roles.

Harold Plummer, who takes the lead, can be remembered for the part of the deserter which he so admirably portrayed several years ago in "Sun-up." Roberts Potts is making his debut in college dramatics as Henry, the young lover.

That two students residing in Newark should be selected for these parts out of a student body representing the whole State, is a tribute to this community.

As a special convenience for citizens of Newark, all the tickets sold to the general public will be reserved in the center section of the orchestra. Seats may be reserved at Rhodes' drug store beginning next Monday. The box office in Mitchell Hall will be open from four to five-thirty each afternoon, and on Monday and Thursday evenings up to December 11. Seats will be reserved in order of application.

NEWARK BOY IS PLAYING GOOD GAME AT UNION COLLEGE

Wilmer Riley, known to his friends and to football fans as "Butch," is another Newark boy who is making a name for himself in collegiate football this season. As tackle on the Union College Bulldogs, the Union College team of Barboursville, Ky., Riley is drawing a lot of favorable attention from football followers in that section of the country.

According to reports, Riley has been starring as an offensive player, while his defensive work has been well above the average. The successful season that has been enjoyed by Union College so far this year has been contributed to greatly by Riley's good playing.

ALUMNI HOST TO FOOTBALL TEAM

U. of D. Squad Guests of
"Old Grads" at Banquet

The Alumni of the University of Delaware tendered a testimonial dinner for the football team Saturday evening at Old College, following the victory over Haverford. About 200 alumni attended the affair and the entire football squad, including coaches Gus Ziegler and Charley Rogers.

J. Alexander Crothers, president of the Alumni, presided, and Alexander J. Taylor, of Wilmington, was chairman. Following the dinner Coach Rogers introduced the members of the football squad. Short talks were made by Lieut. E. P. Jolls, president of the Athletic Council J. Pearce Cann, and A. L. Lauritsen, member of the Athletic Council; Coaches Ziegler and Rogers; Gerald P. Doherty, graduate manager; A. G. Wilkinson, business manager; Caleb Boggs, president of the Student Council; Dr. W. O. Sypher, former president of the Athletic Council; George Stewart, chairman of the Athletic Committee of the Alumni; Sam Sloan, captain of the football team; and H. G. Lawson, secretary of the Alumni Association.

A. G. Wilkinson suggested that old Mechanical Hall might be made into an ideal training house, if the Alumni could raise $10,000 to fix it up. At present the squad is housed in a building at the lower end of town, inconveniently located to the campus. George Stewart, who has been keenly interested for several years in Delaware athletics, paid tribute to Coaches Ziegler and Rogers. Attention was called to the fact that 1933 will be the centennial celebration of the University of Delaware. Three major colleges, it is hoped, will be on the schedule within three years. H. G. Lawson commented on the fact that out of 1350 Alumni, only about 200 are actively interested in the affairs of the University.

ANTI-DIPHTHERIA TOXIODS TO BE GIVEN TO CHILDREN

Dr. Robert C. Strode, Deputy State Health Commissioner for New Castle County, has announced that toxiods for the prevention of diphtheria will be given to pre-school children at the Health Center in Newark, on December 2 and December 23.

The benefit derived from the inoculation of school children with preventatives against disease has been of great value to this State, and it is the hope of the State Board of Health to include all children in the State in its work to check disease. Parents are requested to take their children to the health centers at the first opportunity, so that contagious disease can be stopped in the State.

Dr. Strode's announcement follows: "Notice to Mothers—Newark and Vicinity:

"Toxiods for prevention of diphtheria will be given to children of pre-school age at the Health Center at Newark on December 2nd and December 23rd, 1930, from 2:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.

"Two injections of toxiods are given to complete the treatment and we strongly urge that mothers bring their children on the above dates in order to receive complete protection."

WOMEN'S COLLEGE BANQUET

Other short addresses were made by Dr. J. S. Gould, Miss Kathryn Poinsett, Class of 1931, and Miss Mary Helling, Class of 1932.

Miss Dorothy Hudson, Class of 1934, gave two violin solos, and several numbers were sung by the college glee club. The College Instrumental Ensemble provided music for the evening. Miss Catherine Broad, Class of 1933, and Miss Mary Matlack, Class of 1934, made short remarks, and Dean Winifred Robinson spoke to the students and their guests.

The guests at the dinner were: President and Mrs. Walter Hullahen, Mrs. A. D. Warner, Dean and Mrs. George E. Dutton, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wilkinson, Professor and Mrs. Elisha Conover, Dr. George A. BOND ISSUE FOR SCHOOL VOTED

Marshallton and Brandywine
Springs to Have Joint

Four building commissioners, all from Marshallton, were elected to work with four members of the State Board of Education for the construction of a new consolidated school for the Marshallton and Brandywine Springs Districts Saturday afternoon at an election held in Marshallton and Brandywine Springs. In addition the residents of both school districts voted on the question of raising $50,000 by bond issue for their part in the construction of the school and the vote was 857 for the bonding of the districts for the new school and 25 against.

This overwhelming vote in favor of raising the money by bond issue for the construction of the consolidated school comes as a climax of a battle over the consolidation of the two districts and the proposed construction of one consolidated school, which has been going on practically all summer. The election of four members to the building commission to work with four members from the State Board of Education on the school, all from Marshallton, will result, it is confidently believed now, in the location of the consolidated school at Marshallton. The real bone of contention in the consolidation of the two districts was over the question of the location of the school, and apparently Marshallton has won.

The site chosen was 500 yards east of the present school at Marshallton, at the top of a small hill. It is an acre of land, and near the Lincoln Highway.

The result of the election is favor of the bond issue and the election of the building commissioners will be a start plans for the new $150,000 school which will consist of 14 rooms with gymnasium, auditorium, and cafeteria. It will replace a number of antiquated schools, one of which has been condemned by rural fire companies as being dangerously unsafe.

If the layers in the poultry feed are confined to the poultry house or there is little sunshine in late fall and winter, it is well to add about 10 per cent of cod liver oil to the ration. Use 1 pint of oil to each 100 pounds of mash. Don't add oil to more than two weeks' supply of feed.

ANNUAL REPORT ABOUT NEWARK SCHOOLS MADE

Brinsler Sends Information to State Board of Education

MORE ROOM IS NEEDED

A report of the progress, work accomplished and problems and needs of the Newark Schools for the past year was sent to Dr. H. V. Holloway, secretary of the State Board of Education, recently by Superintendent of Newark Schools Ira S. Brinsler. With in the report were incorporated the outstanding facts concerning the local schools, and a general report of the activities conducted throughout the year.

The report, which is of interest to all of the parents of school children in this section, and to all other citizens of Newark, follows:

Outstanding Problems

Increasing enrollment adds new problems each year. This increase of enrollment has several sources: first, the growing community of Newark; second, the small number of pupils who leave school; and third, the increasing number of pupils who are availing themselves to the benefits of transportation to a school which provides the Junior and Senior High School grades. This increase of enrollment which has averaged at least fifty each year for the last five years, has presented several problems. First, housing is a problem. All available space is now crowded in the Newark buildings. Part of the Primary School is of necessity housed on the third floor of a building with wooden stairways, undesirable lighting and unsafe in case of fire. It would seem a building for primary children in Newark is one of the real necessities for Newark's three hundred primary children. A real beginning can only be given to primary children when there is proper and ample housing facilities for an educational program which will guarantee to them a broad, dependable, and useful foundation with the real tools of learning over which they are the masters. With little added cost in such a building, provision could easily be made for that great pre-school agency, the Public Kindergarten.

Present Fifteen Room Addition Will Be Insufficient in 1932

With the authorization of fifteen additional rooms to the present new children will spend the Thanksgiving holidays with friends in Perkassie, Pa.

Mrs. Mary Gambeau, home demonstration agent for the Wilmington Gas Company, gave an illustrated lecture on Thanksgiving cooking at the Newark New Century Club meeting this week.

WEDDINGS

Cornog-Simmons

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Simmons, of Elkton, Maryland, announce the marriage of their daughter, Annie, to I. Philip Cornog, son of S. L. Cornog, of Newark, Saturday evening, November 22, at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage in Newark, by the Reverend W. E. Gunby, D. D.

building by the State Board of Education and the Newark Building Commission the grades now housed in the Main Street Building will be housed in the New Building. This fifteen-room addition will, however, be completely occupied by the present enrollment and the fifty additional anticipated for 1931-32, when the present new building is put in operation September, 1931.

The problem, however, is still unfinished, for more room will be needed for 1932-33 for the natural increase of enrollment in grades four to twelve and the necessity of keeping the classes of the earlier grades to such a size as will be possible for a teacher to attain best results.

Co-important with these housing problems is the need for more laboratories for Agriculture, Biology and General Science. In addition to these laboratories comes the need of Art, Industrial Arts, shop for Manual Arts and related work. Our girls in their Home Making Courses will be very well cared for in the present building; our boys need the challenge of Industrial Arts; our boys and girls need the laboratories to learn through actual doing. The Educational value of an Auditorium and Gymnasium in a school is well known: choruses, bands, orchestras, dramatics, public speaking, games, teamwork—throughout the years of public school life and adult education thereafter. All these and many more are great factors for unity, participation, growth, creative activities, cooperation and those attitudes and abilities which will make the "pursuit of happiness" a reality in school and after school days.

The School At Work

1. The Board of Education maintains a keen interest in the broad policies of the Newark School. They meet at least once a month. These aims live in the mind of the child, the teacher, the home, and the community makes their counsel, guidance, inspiration, and patience a great force for good in our school and community.

2. The Staff of the Newark School holds regular meetings for unity, research, discussion, guidance and inspiration. (Our men engage in volleyball games with other schools.) The organization of the Staff Meeting is contributory toward a definite end. The use of a professional library of more than fifty educational magazines and a large number of professional books adds much in keeping contacts with the educational world as well as in stimulation of mutual understanding, teamwork and progress.

3. The Unit plan of Instruction has added much to our professional clarity of purpose and much guidance to pupils. The Newark School is committed to the policy of pupil growth in self-control, self-direction, and responsibility through intelligently guided participation in school government, thereby making the participation in school life more nearly comparable to life's school. The fine growing responses from pupils in this field are the best tests of its worth.

4. Student Teaching in cooperation with the University of Delaware is showing finer results from the viewpoint of pupils' work and also from the viewpoint of the class room as a laboratory for the training of teachers. As stated in my report of 1928-29, I would like to repeat the hope that with the raising of the general standard of schools it is hoped that the qualifications of critic teachers will be essentially those of supervisor with a further recompense for greater preparation and educational investment.

A CORRECTION

Last week we stated that a daughter had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Kumler, of Wilmington. We wish to correct that statement by saying that the youngster is a son, and a fine one at that. The little fellow has been named after his father, Ralph Waldo, and both mother and son are getting along splendidly. Mrs. Kumler is the former Miss Elinor Harter, daughter of Dr. George A. Harter, former president of the Delaware College.

5. Definite attempts were made: in the correlation of subject matter; in teaching pupils how to study; in testing the results of instruction and setting up proper remedial measures for improvement; in helping pupils form habits of work and play; in keeping in touch with the public and parents; in being responsive to the needs of the school; in reducing the number of failures by analyzing pupils' difficulties and then applying remedial measures; in guidance for the better use of study hours with inter-instructor cooperation; and in being sensitive and sympathetic with the human problems of the school.

6. We had football, baseball, soccer, volley-ball, dodge-ball, basketball, and track teams in the Junior and Senior High School. Our football team won the State championship game from the strong Seaford team. Our Junior High School baseball team also won the second State championship game. A good spirit prevails in our games and teams, which should continue to function as an agency of good-will long after the games are history. Our work in band and orchestra is making fine progress.

National Societies.—The Newark School has a chapter of the National Honor Society in both the Senior and Junior High School. Membership is based on scholarship, service, character and loyalty.

Substantial progress has been made in our school library for all departments of the school. About four thousand volumes are available. The increase in interested and intelligent use of these libraries and the more spirited tone of the class room furnishes ample evidence of encouraging progress in the growth of our library.

The past year has been one of healthful progress in the Newark School. This has been made possible by the fine spirit of loyalty and cooperation. I am under deep obligation to the Board of Education, the Staff of the Newark School, the pupils, the

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE ON CHILD HEALTH AND PROTECTION

The Children's Magna Charta
(By Walter Dent Smith)

The world will never be the same! It is bound to be much better when the nineteen point program adopted last Saturday morning at the close of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection is put into effect.

This bill of rights is an amazing document. As the Great Charter signed by King John at Runnymede, June 15, 1215, guaranteeing rights and privileges to the barons and people alike not only changed the course of world history but also continues to be a symbol of progress and liberty so will these terse statements of principles stand for a more intelligent guiding of child life and symbolize its emancipation from burdensome handicaps and delictious influences.

On first reading many of the points will seem unnecessary and self evident. Later in this series of articles the summaries of individual committee researches and findings will indicate how essential they are.

The final conclusions of the conference are summarized in the following Children's Magna Charta:

Every American child has the right to the following services in its development and protection. The conference is mindful of the special emphasis needed upon these services in child health and protection in Porto Rico, the Philippines and our other insular possessions.

1—Every child is entitled to be understood, and all dealings with him should be based on the fullest understanding of the child.

2—Every prospective mother should have suitable information, medical supervision during the pre-natal period, competent care at confinement. Every mother should have postnatal medical supervision for herself and child.

3—Every child should receive periodic health examinations before and during the school period including adolescence, by the family physician or the school or other public physicians and such examination by specialists and such hospital care as its special needs may require.

4—Every child should have regular dental examination and care.

5—Every child should have instruction in the schools in health and in safety from accidents, and every teacher should be trained in health programs.

6—Every child should be protected from communicable diseases to which it might be exposed at home, in school or at play, and protected from impure milk and food.

7—Every child should have proper sleeping rooms, diet, hours of sleep and play, and parents should receive information as to the needs of children of various ages as to these questions.

8—Every child should attend a school which has proper seating, lighting, ventilation and sanitation. For younger children, kindergartens and nursery schools should be provided to supplement home care.

9—The school should be so organized as to discover and develop the special abilities of each child, and should assist in vocational guidance, for children, like men, succeed by the use of their strongest qualities and special interests.

10—Every child should have some form of religious, moral and character training.

11—Every child has a right to play with adequate facilities therefor.

12—With the expanding domain of the community's responsibilities for children, there should be proper provisions for and supervision of recreation and entertainment.

13—Every child should be protected against labor that stunts growth, either physical or mental, that limits education, that deprives children of the rights of comradeship of joy and play.

14—Every child who is blind, deaf, crippled or otherwise physically handicapped should be given expert study and corrective treatment where there is the possibility of relief, and appropriate development of training. Children with subnormal or abnormal mental conditions should receive adequate study, protection, training and care.

Where the child does not have these services, due to inadequate income of the family, then such service must be provided to him by the community. Obviously, the primary necessity in protection and development of children where poverty is an element in the problem is an adequate standard of living and security for the family within such groups.

15—Every waif and orphan in need must be supported.

16—Every child is entitled to the feeling that he has a home. The extension of the services in the community should supplement and not supplant parents.

17—Children who habitually fail to meet normal standards of human behavior should be provided special care under the guidance of the school, the community health or welfare center or other agency for continued supervision, or, if necessary, control.

18—The rural child should have as satisfactory schooling, health protection and welfare facilities.

19—In order that these minimum protections of the health and welfare of children may be everywhere available, there should be a district, county or community organization for health education and welfare, with full-time officials, co-ordinating with a State-wide program which will be responsible to a nation-wide service of general information, statistics and scientific research. This should include:

(a) Trained full-time public health officials with public health nurses, sanitary inspection and laboratory workers.

(c) Full-time public welfare services for the relief and aid of children in special need from poverty or misfortune, for the protection of children from abuse, neglect, exploitation or moral hazard.

(d) The development of voluntary organization of children for purposes of instruction, health and recreation through private effort and beneficence. When possible, existing agencies should be co-ordinated.

AFTER THE BATTLE

Among the most interesting phases of a general election are the after-election statements of the candidates, both victorious and defeated.

The last election had this in common with its predecessors—from it can be "proved" almost anything anyone desires.

A "discontent" vote—multiplied by unemployment and business depression, likes to experiment.

In one great state the winning candidate for the governorship, who had a power plank in his platform, was a man who, as an individual, is superior to his issues. His general record of usefulness, integrity and intelligence unquestionably brought him a large vote from persons who, on the score of public ownership of power, disagree with him violently.

The political parties, in the old sense, are disrupted. We elect individuals, not platforms. There is not a single major issue which is the exclusive property of one party.

Those who are attempting to show that the last election was a great victory for government ownership of industry, wets or dries, high tariff or low tariff, may be sadly mistaken.

GASOLINE SALE TAKES BIG DROP

Gov. Buck Believes Lower Sales Due to High Prices

A decrease in the sales of gasoline for the months of August, September and October, amounting to $1,600,000 in Delaware, has been reported to Governor C. Douglas Buck, by the State Automobile Department. The decreased revenue from the three months amounts to nearly $50,000 to the State and $230,500 to the distributors.

Governor Buck, when advised of the decrease in the number of gallons sold, said it was largely due to the fact that the prices charged in this State, are two and three cents a gallon more than in several other states.

Governor Buck some weeks ago asked Attorney-General Reuben Satterthwaite, Jr., to inquire into the reasons why gasoline dealers in Delaware uniformly charge from two to three cents more per gallon for gasoline than the dealers do in other states and to take court action if necessary.

As soon as the present term of court is over, it is understood that the Attorney-General's office will summon witnesses and if the information given in his office justifies action being taken, indictments will be prepared against the companies operating in the State. The inquiry will be for the purpose of determining whether there is a conspiracy in the State to stifle competition by maintaining a fixed price.

During the entire year of 1929 motorists purchased in Delaware 31,559,914 gallons of gasoline. The saving of one cent a gallon on this sum would amount to $315,599.14 for the year.

For the first nine months of the present year the number of gallons of gasoline purchased in Delaware amounted to 30,660,158 and the State Automobile Department estimates that during the remainder of the year 4,896,000 more gallons will be purchased or a total for the year of 35,556,158. The saving to motorists over an entire year, with gasoline used at this rate, would be $355,561.58.

THE RICHEST HERITAGE

The real point at issue in the argument to put the government in business boils down to this: Do we, as a people, want to replace individualism with socialism?

The fact that a private company, its employees and owners would be injured financially by tax-free government competition with their business, is relatively unimportant. But the establishment of the principle that would make such a situation possible—that of liberty, both individual and industrial.

Ford Shows Faith in Future by World Wide Construction Program

Top—The Ford plant at Edgewater, N. J., opposite New York City. Center—The new plant at Long Beach, Cal. Bottom—A model of the plant being built at Dagenham, England.

THE Ford Motor Company's faith in the future of business, and especially in the future of the automobile, is evidenced by the fact that it is spending more than $60,000,000 for new plants and improvements in the United States and in foreign branches and associated companies.

The company has nine new plants under way throughout the world, while plans are being formulated for several others not yet announced. Wherever possible the new plants are being erected on sites accessible to both rail and water transportation so that, with each form of transportation supplementing the other, substantial savings will be effected.

Five of the new plants are in the United States, as follows:

Long Beach, California—This plant, recently completed to serve Southern California, has a capacity of 400 cars a day. Operating at capacity it employs 2,600 men.

Edgewater, New Jersey—The Edgewater plant, one of the company's largest assembly branches, has just been completed to serve New York City and surrounding territory. It has a capacity of 600 cars a day and employs 6,000 men.

Richmond, California—Work was started recently on a plant at Richmond, to be completed next year. It will have a capacity of 400 cars a day and will employ 2,400 men. It will supply cars to the San Francisco area.

Buffalo, New York—This plant will have a capacity of 400 cars a day and will employ 2,500 men.

Seattle, Washington—A site has been acquired and plans for a plant are being drawn.

A new manufacturing plant being erected at Dagenham, England, eighteen miles from London, to supplant the present works at Manchester, will be completed next year. It will be the largest automobile factory in the world outside the United States. Its capacity will be 200,000 cars a year.

An assembly and manufacturing plant is being built at Cologne, an assembly plant at Antwerp, and a service plant at Stockholm. Two branches—one at Perth, Australia, and one at Port Elizabeth, South Africa—were completed.

In addition the Ford Motor Company is spending several million dollars to increase the power capacity of the Rouge plant at Dearborn, Mich., and several million more in miscellaneous improvements.

DYNAMITE A BUILDER, NOT A DESTRUCTIVE FORCE

Explosives are a constructive civilizing force because they are a form of power—and power is the keynote of the modern age. Like steam and electricity, explosives are a means of lifting a load of racking toil from the human race. We may think of a charge of high explosives as a small bundle of intensely concentrated energy, waiting man's word to be released suddenly to do the work that a thousand men could not do without its aid.

A massive piece of stone, a solid wall of rock, is reduced in the twinkling of an eye to a mass of fragments that can be readily moved by a steam shovel. What a striking contrast to the drudgery and travail that prevailed in ages past! We admire the prodigious material achievements of antiquity—the mighty pyramids of Egypt and of Mexico, the Great Wall of China, the Roman aqueducts and Catacombs, the mysterious titanic masonry of the Incas in Peru and Bolivia, the marble quarries of Pentelion from which the gleaming temple of the Parthenon was wrought. But think of the pathetically crude implements with which the materials for these were obtained from the hard resistant body of the earth—think of the primitive bronze picks, the stone hammers, the wooden wedges inserted between cracks and then soaked in water to make them swell and split the stone. Think of the infinite slowness of the process—the years, the decades, that passed away while such work was being carried out. And think, too, of the armies of wretched, desperate slaves—straining, groaning under the merciless taskmaster's lash and the blistering rays of a southern sun!

Dynamite has changed all that. And thus, dynamite is not only an accelerator but a liberator, of the very first rank.

The art of mining gold, silver, lead and copper was known as far back as the patriarchal days of Job. The magnitude of Solomon and of every great ruler and conqueror after him. But did you ever ask yourself the question: How did it happen that we had to wait thousands of years for their full development? What caused this great "gap" in the progress of the human use of metals and their products on a large scale?

And the steam engine and our modern machinery could not be developed without unlimited quantities of iron and copper and unlimited fuel for the generation of steam. It was because adequate amounts of these essentials could not be obtained without powerful explosives. Without these, the steam engine would have remained merely the strange plaything of some obscure eccentric—mankind would have been the poorer. Thus, the super-force, dynamite, became a veritable Aladdin's lamp for the budding industrialism of our modern life.

When introducing new foods into a child's diet, give only one food at a time, and that in small quantity, well cooked and nicely served.

PROMOTE HIGHWAY SAFETY

An announcement which should be of great interest to the motoring public was recently made by the Pacific Highway Motor Bus Company which serves a number of far western states and which is one of the largest organizations of its kind in the nation. This company, in order to do its part in making the highways safer, has ordered all its drivers to extend motorists every consideration and give aid in case of accident, whether or not the bus is involved. All buses carry first aid equipment. The leading bus lines of the nation are recognizing their responsibility as a major agency of transportation. All a young industry, they are rapidly perfecting their facilities, their standards of service, and their personnel. They are opening up new territory in every state and offering the public a safe, fast and economical mode of transportation. Last year 31,000 people were killed on highways and it has been forecast that the death toll will reach 40,000 in 1930. It is interesting to note that established bus lines are only involved in these accidents. They are making a sincere, intensive effort to promote highway safety, both for themselves and for all other motorists.

WINTER FEED FOR SHEEP

Leguminous hays such as alfalfa, clover, soybeans, and cowpeas are the most satisfactory winter roughage for sheep. Straw and cornstalks are used to a limited extent in connection with these—and with good results. When only legumes are fed, ewes need no supplementary feed until near lambing time. From 2 to 4 pounds of roughage will be fed to ewes weighing up to 150 pounds, depending on the kind and quality as well as the amount of supplemental grain feed given. Oat or rye straw is better than rye or barley straw for sheep feed, as the seeds of the latter may be troublesome. When used as a part of the roughage ration, corn stover should be used where the ewes can eat off the cob without difficulty. If the ration is chiefly cornstalks or straw, feed a liberal amount of cottonseed cake as a nutritious concentrate. Succulent feeds such as roots or silage help to keep the ewes in good health. Silage and well-matured corn can be fed to ewes with good results. Don't feed more than 3 pounds a day. Feed roots especially turnips—sparingly—to ewes. Where ewes run on fall pasture or rye, supplement the pasture with some dry or concentrated feed.

TALK GIVEN ON INDIANS

At a meeting of the Odessa Home School Association, November 18, fourth grade project on Indian Life, narrated by a long frieze and various pieces of handwork, was exhibited. A health project was described and original health jingles were read. The fifth and sixth grades displayed sketches made on an imaginary automobile trip across the U. S. The children's program included songs of the various grades and by the boys and girls' Glee Clubs. This session, in which Mrs. George Sawyer is president, will serve hot punch at cost every Friday. Various projects of improving school conditions are discussed.

Lesson for November 30

ZACCHAEUS THE PUBLICAN, A BUSINESS MAN CONVERTED

LESSON TEXT—Luke 19:1-10. GOLDEN TEXT—For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost. PRIMARY TOPIC—A Man Who Thought Jesus Would Not Care. JUNIOR TOPIC—A Man Who Righted His Wrongs. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Religion Changes One's Life. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Making Business Christian.

I. Jesus Passing Through Jericho (v. 1).

Jericho is noted as the stronghold of the Canaanites, which was miraculously delivered into the hands of Israel in response to their faith (Josh. 6), and also for the faith of Rahab which saved her from destruction with the city (Heb. 11:30, 31). It was thus noted as a city where faith and unbelief played against each other. It was fitting that Jesus should pass through Jericho. Faith and unbelief again were manifested. Two notorious sinners, Rahab and Zacchaeus, were saved at Jericho.

II. Zacchaeus Seeking Jesus (vv. 2-4).

1. His object (v. 3). He sought to see who Jesus was. Though perhaps prompted by curiosity, he eagerly sought Jesus.

2. His difficulties (v. 2, 3). (1) His infamous business (v. 2). He was a tax collector for the Roman government. The very fact that a Jew held such an office under the hated Romans would make him extremely unpopular. Then, since he was rich, it was evident that he had practiced extortion in collecting the taxes. Many men and women have a hard time in coming to Christ because of their questionable business relations.

(2) His shortness of stature (v. 3). He was too small to crowd his way through to Jesus, and being hated by the people they had thrust him aside.

3. His persistence (v. 4). He ran before the multitude and climbed up into a tree. What he lacked in stature he determined should be made up by the height of the tree. Though Zacchaeus' legs were too short to enable him to see Jesus they were long enough to run past the crowd and enable him to climb the tree.

III. Jesus Finding Zacchaeus (vv. 5, 6).

While Zacchaeus was trying to see Jesus, Jesus was looking for him. This is always the case. When desire is stirred up in a heart to see Jesus, Jesus is seeking that one. When Jesus saw him he commanded him to come down from the tree and declared his intention to go home with him. Zacchaeus got more than he expected. Jesus called him by name. He did not utter a word which would humiliate Zacchaeus. Jesus knew his heart's desire and dealt accordingly with him. All souls who earnestly seek Jesus shall be found of him. How wonderful his grace, that regardless of one's past life, Jesus will receive him as a friend and enter into fellowship with him! Zacchaeus quickly responded. He came down and with joy received Jesus.

IV. Zacchaeus' Conversion (vv. 7-10).

His conversion was sudden and thorough. He was converted before he had reached the ground.

1. What the crowd said (v. 7). They said just what they say today when sinners come to Christ. They call to mind the man's former sins. They also reproached Christ, saying that he had gone to be a guest of this notorious extortioner, the tax collector. That for which they reproached Jesus was his glory. His supreme mission was to save sinners (v. 10).

2. What Zacchaeus said (v. 8). His conversion was thorough. It took hold upon his heart. His new life began with resolution and restitution. He dedicated half of his goods to the poor. The man who a little while ago was a grafter was now a generous giver. His conversion got hold of his pocketbook. His determination to make restitution wherein he had wronged exacted taxes shows the genuineness of his conversion. While God forgets the past of a sinner when he comes to Christ, the sinner who is converted will seek to right all wrongs, be they unkind words or unrighteous deeds. Sorrow for sin is not enough when restitution is possible.

3. What Jesus said (vv. 9, 10). "Today is salvation come to thy house." The publican was now a child of God, a son of Abraham. Salvation is a present reality when one receives Christ.

Because of the short time the university is closed and the fact that Delaware plays the final game of the collegiate football schedule for this season with P. M. C. at Chester, on Thursday, many students of the University of Delaware will not even go home for the Thanksgiving vacation. The university will be closed only from this noon until the first class at 8 o'clock Friday morning. A large group of the students will remain over to go to the football game.

Despite this fact, however, not a student in either Delaware College or the Women's College missed a Thanksgiving turkey dinner. Following out the custom inaugurated some years ago there was a special Thanksgiving dinner for the students at each college. It was held at the Women's College on Monday evening of this week and at Delaware College on Tuesday evening. It was a typical Thanksgiving dinner with plenty of turkey for all. In addition to the students these dinners were also attended by a number of the faculty and some invited guests.

At the Women's College Miss Mildred Walton Fabian, of Manoa, Pa., president of the Students' Self-Government Association, was toastmistress, while J. Caleb Boggs, of Cheswold, Del., president of the Student Council, presided at the Delaware College dinner. There were a number of after dinner speeches and musical programs.

"TIME CRACKS"

The Chicago Tribune points out that "time cracks and splinters under the sledge of science." It observes that a hundred years ago it took at least three months for a message to go from London to Chicago. In 1850, five weeks were necessary. By 1900 this time had been reduced to half an hour. Now, with the telephone, the time element has almost entirely disappeared. Words spoken in London—or Paris or Buenos Aires—are heard at the same instant in Chicago or any other American community.

The constructive urge of private enterprise has thus destroyed time, as it has obliterated distance. The machine age has produced no greater marvel than the instrument which makes it possible for our voices to be heard thousands of miles away.

WARNING—No hunting or trapping on my farm at Cooch's Bridge, including bluffs, under penalty of arrest. EDWARD W. COOCH. 11.20.21.

AXE, FISTS, FLY IN LIQUOR RAID

Agents Subdue Kent County
After Assault with Weapon

Deputy Prohibition Administrator Harold D. Wilson, accompanied by two agents, Friday afternoon visited the Blue Dragon Filling Station, near Dover, and after purchasing alleged liquor, served a warrant on Martin L. Swiggett, the proprietor of the place.

When the Federal agents attempted to make the arrest, Swiggett and his father attempted to destroy the evidence and also resisted the officers.

The father went after the agents with an axe but was disarmed. On account of his age he was not placed under arrest. The alleged owner of the place also put up a fight but was subdued by the agents. A brother of Swiggett, Mark, is now serving a sentence for a similar offense.

Swiggett was taken before Magistrate Wilbur D. Burton, at Dover, and held under $1000 bail for trial at the February term of the Kent County Court on a charge of selling liquor.

Wilson said that other charges would be placed against Swiggett before the case goes to the Grand Jury.

This was the first case since Wilson came to the State where a raid and arrest was made wholly by Government agents and the prisoner turned over to the State authorities for trial.

In explaining this action Mr. Wilson said that when he came here he had announced that he intended to leave the smaller cases to the State and cooperating with State and other authorities in liquor cases. He made this statement, he said, because he considered such cases as this were purely local cases and should be turned over to the State authorities while the larger cases such as the capture of two truck loads of liquor last week, padlock cases and similar offenses against the prohibition law should go to the federal court.

BUCK TO ATTEND GAME SATURDAY

Will See Delaware-Ft. Dupont
Benefit Game for Unemployed

Governor Buck was a guest of President Walter Hüllihen, of the University, at the Delaware-Haverford game last Saturday which Delaware won 14 to 7. Attorney General Reuben Satterthwaite, Jr., accompanied the governor. This gives Delaware five victories, two defeats and one tied game for the season with the P. M. C. game on Thanksgiving the final one of the schedule. This is the best record that a Delaware team has made for many years.

Final plans are being made for the football game for charity to be played on Saturday of this week on Frazer Field, University of Delaware, between Delaware and the First Engineers' team of Fort Dupont. When Governor Buck suggested such a game as one of the projects to aid the unemployed of Delaware the officials of the university and members of the football team readily agreed and have entered into the plan with a zeal. The game is to start at 2 o'clock and the general admission will be $1. It is hoped that a large sum will be realized. Governor Buck and other state officials will attend the game.

THREE NEWARK TEACHERS HURT IN AUTO CRASH

to Wilmington in Miss McKinsey's car. They were taking the young woman, whose name could not be found out, to the station in Wilmington, where she was to catch a train to her home for the Thanksgiving holidays. Just this side of Elsmere, a car registered in the name of Byron Streets, Newark Route 1, pulled out of line in the traffic coming out of Wilmington, and crashed into Miss McKinsey's car. The tracks of the tires of the two cars on the highway showed that Miss McKinsey swerved her car to the far side of the road, but the other car was so far over on the wrong side of the road that the crash could not be avoided by Miss McKinsey.

STATE TO RUSH ROAD BUILDING

Will Aid Unemployed by Rushing Construction Work

At a meeting held in Dover Tuesday the members of the State Highway Commission discussed the unemployment situation in Delaware and decided to do everything within its power to assist in relieving the situation.

It was decided to proceed with all work possible at once, except such work as involves the laying of concrete. It was pointed out that considerable grading and similar work for roads to be constructed, can be done at the present time, and progress can be made unless the ground is frozen hard. There is some variety of bridge work which can also be done at this time.

The idea of the commission is to award contracts for work which can be done at this time be done at once and the concrete work left until such time as it is safe to lay concrete.

Bids have been asked for the construction of a road from St. Georges to Odessa to make a dual highway similar to that from State Road to St. Georges. Bids have also been asked for a fill on a new section of road to be built at Marshallton and for some guard rails along the Philadelphia Pike.

It is pointed out that all of this work, except laying concrete on the new road can be done at present and considerable time saved in constructing the road by not waiting for the winter season to be over.

In advertising for proposals for this new work, the commission has followed a plan which has never been followed before on road work. The commission provides in the advertisements for estimates on the work that as far as possible work must be given to men who are residents of Delaware. In some instances the road builders have brought most of their men from other states, but at that time there was plenty of work in Delaware. The commission is now striving to aid Delaware workmen who are out of employment.

It is not yet known how much road work can be done this winter, but Chief Engineer Mack will go over the list of improvements to be made and map out how much can be safely done in the winter season.

DELAWARE TRIUMPHANT OVER HAVERFORD FOE; SCORE 14-7

Blue Hen Chicks Turn Back Ancient Enemies After Poor
Display of Football

Crowd of 6000, Largest in History, See Whirlwind Drive to Victory

Displaying a whirlwind attack in the last period, Delaware rolled irresistibly over its ancient rival, Haverford, scoring two touchdowns in the opening minutes of the final frame to put the Blue and Gold on the long end of a 14-7 score in their annual game Saturday at Frazer Field.

Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a football exhibition on Frazer Field and with a distinguished list of notables in attendance, Delaware came from behind with a rush that could not be denied and ended only when the Mudhenners had gained the most desired victory of the season.

Governor Buck was welcomed before the game with the military salute of four ruffles and flourishes. In the Governor's box were Dr. Walter Hüllihen, president of the University, Attorney-General Satterthwaite, Lieutenant Colonel Robert Glassburn, and George Davis.

Delaware entered the contest handicapped by the absence of two varsity linemen, Captain Sam Sloan, end, and Nigels, right tackle. Henning replaced Nigels while Pohl shifted from tackle to the wing post. Pohl's place was filled by Dillon. Herman Walker was injured early in the game and when Erskine substituted for him, the Delaware first defense had only four varsity men to oppose the experienced Haverford line composed mostly of seniors playing their last game for their Alma Mater.

Delaware showed the poorest form of the season in the first three quarters. Opposed by a hard-charging, fighting and determined eleven, the Blue and Gold exhibited but rarely the kind of football of which they are capable.

The assemblage of 6,000 football fans was furnished to some real entertainment between the halves, the Freshmen Pajama Parade and Shoe Rush producing the diversion. The shoes of all the frosh were placed in a huge heap in the center of the field. Members of the first year class were then lined on opposite sides of the field and upon the signal of the sophomore president were required to recover their own shoes. Casualties were limited to several black eyes, bruised limbs, and sore muscles.

Rejuvenated by some unknown force, the Blue and Gold suddenly began to do things and go places in the second half. On the first play of the final period, Green shot a long, accurate heave to Kemske at midfield who raced 48 yards before he was tackled just two yards short of the goal line. After three tries Branner, with a berserk plunge placed the ball over the final stripe. "Aub" Walker booted the extra point.

White kicked off to Haverford and Pohl downed Logan on the 18-yard marker. The Main Liners were driven back for a 7-yard loss on the next two plays. Forced to kick, "Stretch" Pohl aggressively broke through the Haverford defense to block the punt, while Hurley recovered the ball behind the goal line for a touchdown. "Aub" Walker again booted the extra point to give Delaware a 14 to 7 advantage over the Crimson and Black.

By this time the Delaware stands were one continuous uproar as they cheered the spirited comeback of their gridiron warriors. Haverford took to the air in a final effort to stave off defeat but the Delaware defense was impregnable and the game ended with Delaware throwing Haverford for consistent losses. The lineup:

NEWARK DELMAR GAME THURSDAY

Clash for Title in D. I. A. A.
to be Held at Dover

The big Turkey Day attraction for the football fans of Delaware will come on Thanksgiving afternoon when the Delmar High School, winners of the southern D. I. A. A. title will meet Newark High School, winners of the northern title, to decide the State D. I. A. A. championship at the Dover Baseball Park at 2:30 p. m.

This year's game brings a new contender to the front in Delmar High School and a close hard fought game is predicted.
Newark, northern titlists, have been contenders for the championship for the past three years, and this year are coming down State to realize their hopes and carry home the championship.

Ample free parking space is available for automobiles at the park, and a covered grandstand will make it possible for the fans to witness the game in comfort, even in inclement weather. The game will start promptly at 2:30 p. m., and one of the largest crowds that has ever witnessed the D. I. A. A. gridiron classic is predicted.

WELL KNOWN FORMER NEWARK BUTCHER DROPS DEAD

Clarence E. Major, a retired butcher died of heart trouble while taking a friend on the street at Richardson Park, Thursday afternoon. He was carried into a garage and a physician summoned who said that death had been instant.

Mr. Major was 63 years old and was born in New Jersey. He had lived in Maryland and Newark, Delaware for the greater part of his life. He retired from business twenty years ago. His wife, Mary Lynch Major, died about three years ago. He survived by six children, E. H. Major, Clarence E. Major, C. L. Major, Fred Major, Alvin J. Major and Miss Mildred Major.

The funeral was held on Monday. Services were private and interment was made at Head of Christ Church Cemetery.

It is poor economy to cut the value of sound, large trees to make Christmas trees. To do so is to destroy the value of the trees for timber.
