SWARTHMORE DEFEATS BLUE HENS 25-19

Final Game Of Season

Swarthmore College quintet defeated the Delaware five in the final game of the season on February 27, by the close score of 25-19.

Swarthmore came down here, as in football, with a great record and expecting an easy victory over Delaware. Before the game was many minutes old, the Swarthmore men saw that they had tackled a much harder job than they had expected. Self-confidence, coupled with a little luck gave Swarthmore an early lead. At first their system of offense completely fooled our guards, but it wasn't long before our men kept them so completely covered up that they were forced to take long shots, few of which they made. The Blue Hens had hard luck in shooting thruout the first half. This was accountable mostly to eagerness to score, as Swarthmore had a big lead. The first field goal for Delaware was scored from a difficult angle by Captain Horsey. This seemed to put pep into the rooters as well as the players, as they soon scored another. Swarthmore held a good lead all through the first half. The score being 14-6 in favor of the visitors when the time-keeper's whistle sounded at the end of the half.

In the second half the Delaware Team came back with lots of pep and confidence and soon showed Swarthmore that they were going to liven things up. Ritz was substituted for E. Barnard after the first five minutes of the second half. On the first play after Ritz was put in, he scored a double-decker much to the joy of the Delaware rooters. "Little Walt" seemed to have plenty of "stuff." He was all over the floor at the same time. Delaware soon evened the score with some spectacular goals by Horsey, Ritz, and Alexander. For five minutes the score see-sawed back and forth, first one side ahead and then the other. At this point of the game Captain Horsey received a painful blow on his elbow; he was compelled to handle the ball with only one hand from then on. Marston also injured himself by wrenching his knee out of place. This greatly handicapped the team and it is possible that if these injuries had not occurred the result would have been different. Only in the last few minutes was Swarthmore able to establish a deciding lead. Alexander, Horsey, and Ritz starred in the scoring, while Carter and Marston played a wonderful floor and guarding game. E. Barnard also played well, although a recent attack of measles greatly handicapped his condition.

The Swarthmore Team was much larger and heavier than the Delaware team. Yoder was high score for the visitors with four field goals and seven fouls to his credit. The score:

To Decide Champion-ship Of College

Great interest has been aroused this season in the advent of the interclass basketball games. At the suggestion of Coach Baumgartner a regular series has been arranged in place of the former short and unsatisfactory series in which one game was played between the Sophs and Fresh, one between the Juniors and Seniors and a final game between the victors in these preliminary contests. The plan this year is to develop more enthusiasm and to provide a sufficient playing period to allow the men a test of their true abilities.

Following is the schedule of games:

March 4—	Fresh-Soph, 4.30
"	Senior-Junior, 5.15
March 6—	Fresh-Junior, 4.30
"	Soph-Senior, 5.15
March 8—	Fresh-Senior, 4.30

Ex-1918 Students Married

Miss Isabel Stott, Women's College, ex-1918, and Corporal Clarence Burton Sypherd, Delaware College, ex-1918, both of Dover, were married in their home town Monday, February 25. Corporal Sypherd is at present with the Delaware troops stationed at Camp Dix. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

CHEMISTRY AS A PROFESSION

Chapel Address By Dr. C. L. Penny

On Friday morning Dr. Charles L. Penny, head of the department of chemistry, addressed the students upon the subject, "Chemistry as a Profession." The speaker pointed out particularly the fact that chemistry is a saver of human life; that it has done more to save human life than the art of war has done to destroy it. He gave as examples of this the work of the biological and sanitary chemists; he also spoke of the chemists work in standardizing commercial materials, such as iron rails and the like. Dr. Penny then told something of the origin of chemistry; of how it grew up from the old studies in alchenny. He also spoke briefly of the great extent of chemical knowledge, and of the necessity for specializing in one branch of chemistry.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETING

Revision Of Constitution Discussed

On last Monday evening the Student Council held its weekly meeting in Old College Hall. The dance which is to be held on March 8th was taken up, and committees for the final arrangements were appointed. As has been previously stated in the Review, the affair is to be given in honor of the basketball team, and will be given on a scale similar to the one held on Thanksgiving night for the football team. The council is exerting an earnest effort to make the dance a typical "Delaware" event in every respect.

The most important matter which was given consideration, however, was that of the revision of the constitution. This work is obviously of extreme importance to the future student life at the college, and consequently all of the details are being minutely worked up and given cautious consideration. Student self-government is practically a new issue at Delaware College and in order to devise a successful and smooth working set of regulations it has been necessary to look to other institutions which have had adequate experience in self-government, and to insert in our constitution certain principles which have been proven indispensable elsewhere.

The work on the revision of the old constitution has been by no means completed, and much has been left over until further meetings of the Council. Although by the very nature of work it is necessarily slow, it is the purpose of the council to formulate a constitution which in the long run will prove adequate to meet the needs of the student body and will prove of definite permanent value.

Glee Club Meets

The Glee Club held its regular weekly meeting in O. C. H. Thursday evening, February 28. There was a very good attendance. No new songs were tried; but particular attention was paid to the toning and phrasing of the old songs. Mr. Carpenter formulated some valuable plans in connection with the Minstrel Show. The Club contemplates a recital in chapel in the near future.

Doctor Dyer Addresses Students

Doctor D. C. Dyer addressed the student body last Tuesday, dwelling on the educational possibilities in this country. He stated that several years ago it was essential that a man should go to Europe to study chemistry and the allied sciences. "Today," said Doctor Dyer, "a man can secure as good an education in America as anywhere in the world, and perhaps a better one." Speaking of a recent meeting of the American Chemical Society which he attended, Doctor Dyer described one paper on the development in this country of the chemical glass manufacture since the war began. This industry has shown how effective is American experimental work.

THRIFT STAMP CAMPAIGN

Contribution Aggregated $3800

On Wednesday morning, during the chapel period, the desire was expressed that the sum total of the thrift stamp contributions of both students and faculty should amount to $2000. A typical evidence of the real contributive spirit of Delaware was evidenced when the final report was made on the following day which aggregated $3800.

In his report on Wednesday, A. L. Lauritsen, chairman of the solicitation committee, stated that the student body had contributed $885, and that no canvass had been made of the amount given by the faculty. Accordingly the Senior class met and arranged for a thorough canvass of the faculty for subscribers. The result of their efforts was given in chapel in the next when the final sum for the faculty was given out as $2600.

The canvass of the student body directed and supervised by the four class presidents, with the aid of sub-committees. The amount subscribed by the four classes, was approximately $1100. Following is a list of the amount given by each individual class: Senior, $195; Junior, $250; Sophomore, $315; Freshman, $325.

These results are the outcome of the movement as presented recently by Mr. H. P. Scott, and Ex-governor Miller, on their last visit to the college.

American University Union Meeting Postponed

Information has been received by cable that the meeting at the Sorbonne set for February 24th has been postponed until "late spring." The message from the institutions belonging to the American University Union in Europe can therefore be sent by mail instead of by cable. The message to be sent was written by Dr. Finley of the University of the State of New York, and is as follows:

"We, students in American Colleges and Universities, East and West, North and South, send our affectionate greetings to our brothers in the land of Lafayette, and to the sons of France now also our brothers. Our hearts have enlisted with yours in the high cause of liberty and justice as Lafayette's enlisted with ours. We are united here in love for France which is dear because her soil has become our battle-field. The great assembly in the Sorbonne is but a symbol of the intellectual alliance which is to hold France and America together perpetually."

Three special courses in tractor study and operation are being given under the direction of the department of agricultural engineering at the University of Iowa because of the increased use on farms and because of its greater use in war emergencies.

STUDENT COUNCIL DANCE

Everybody Out

On Friday evening, March 8, the Student Council will give another one of the dances which have so strongly appealed to all of the followers of the terpsichorean art in the college during the collegiate year. The dance will be given in honor of the basketball team which has done such exceptionally good work during the past season. It is hoped and urged that every one will be there to make the men from the team have a good time. "Specs" Craig is in charge of the affair and he promises that the dance will be an unusual one. He's negotiating for a colored orchestra, the kind that makes the orchestra of the muses retire to the shade, and which comes from the "land of jazz." The refreshments will be served as usual from the kitchen and while they will not consist of chicken salad and salted peanuts they will be enjoyed by every one. Tickets will be on sale Monday. Everybody is urged to get back of this dance and make it the most successful and the most enjoyable one of the season. Don't forget—Friday, March 8.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR TENNIS

Hard Schedule Arranged

The prospects for a winning tennis team this year are good. Manager Sumwalt has been working hard on the schedule and has tentatively secured the following teams for this season: Haverford, Swarthmore, Western Maryland, and St. John's. Coach Dutton intends to have the work out soon in the gymnasium and will continue practice there until the courts are in shape. It is strongly urged that all the men in college who can play tennis will report for practice when the call is issued. It is hoped that sufficient interest can be aroused to have interclass matches. From last year's team McMillian, Sumwalt, Humphrey, Gutowitz, and Olcott remain. The following men are expected out from the Freshman class: Spaid, Horts, Donoho, and it is hoped many other. From the above men and some new "phenoms" a crack team should be developed. All out, men, and show that Delaware has the stuff in tennis as well as in basketball.

Basketball

Looking back on the basketball season the question arises whether it was a success or not. In some ways the season may be called an unsuccessful one, but when all things are considered the successes offset the failures. Judging from the victories and defeats, alone, the record of this year's team does not stand out prominently with that of previous years. Five victories and six defeats appears to an "outsider" as if the season was anything but a good one. To the students of the college this record stands among the best.

One of the encouraging facts which makes all Delaware men point to the season's record with pride is that the colleges which opposed the team this year were of the highest class, athletically and otherwise, in the East. A defeat at the hands of colleges such as appeared on the schedule this year is more of a credit than a one-sided victory over an unworthy opponent. Delaware showed in the games this year that she is ready and prepared to meet such opponents as Swarthmore and Lafayette. The games between these teams and Delaware were the best witnessed here this year and the hardest fought. Even though defeated by both (though Delaware men will never consider the Lafayette game a defeat) Delaware clearly demonstrated that she must be classed with these colleges.

A tendency has existed in the past to secure a certain number of teams on the schedule which would be "easy picking"—teams which would help to swell Delaware's side of the won column. This practice was abolished this year and to this fact much of the success of the past season can be attributed. The standard of athletic teams at Delaware can never be raised as long as the policy of scheduling weak teams—teams weaker than ourselves—is continued. There is no credit in playing a team weaker than yourself; there is no honor in beating a weaker opponent; there is no incentive for men to keep in good condition when they know that they can win without doing so. Such has been the case, too often, at Delaware in some years past. Such was not the case in the season just closed.

It is too much to believe that Delaware will ever produce athletic teams which can cope with the largest universities and colleges. That is not the object of Delaware athletics—and it should not be. But it should be the object of every Delaware man to help raise the standard of athletics at his college in order that Delaware will be placed on an equal footing with Haverford, Dickinson, Swarthmore, and Lafayette, colleges with whom we should be classed athletically as well as scholastically. In the past a Delaware victory over any of the above-mentioned colleges was sufficient provocation for a "Bonfire" and a holiday. It is needless to add that both were "rare." But this is the practice Delaware wants and needs to get away from. The time has passed when a victory over colleges of this type should come about as frequently as leap years; the time has come when victories over these colleges should be a regular occurrence. At least Delaware should be ready to "win" her share of victories against Haverford, Swarthmore, Dickinson, and Lafayette.

To the fact that the basketball team showed that it was capable of meeting these teams on an equal footing the season can be called a success. Greater success will be attributed to future Delaware teams when they demonstrate that they can not only meet these same teams on an equal footing but can also win their half of the victories.

Of the College, By the College, Or for the College?

Are you—are we all of the College by the College or for the College? Are you, of the College, registered in the Dean's office, paying your term bills, attending at least one athletic event every season, and having your name printed in the Spring Catalog?

Or will you, by the College, drawing intellectual nourishment from her bosom, advancing yourself by the advantages which she offers, qualifying as a charter member of the ancient order of Knockers, sidestepping responsibility, possessing talents of a sort but selfishly allowing the interest, enthusiasm and self-sacrifice of some one else to place Delaware in her rightful position among the colleges of the country?

Or are you for the College, filled at all times with loyalty, enthusiasm and forebearance for the institution which is yours; suffering when need be, hopeful always, and ready to do your bit in bringing about the consummation of those dreams and visions for Delaware which we should all entertain?

Delaware needs men—men who are for the college all the time and every day; who are willing to sink petty differences, personal prejudices, and fancied injuries into the background and devote every effort to advancing the interests of this—our Alma Mater.

If the College needs something and we are the College, then it is up to us students to supply that thing which is needed. The only way to do this is to get out and get going; enlist in every movement that will in any way advance the interests of the College; cooperate with anyone or anything that is working toward that end which every Delaware man, no matter how faintly, feels to be the goal for which Old Delaware is striving.

Signed, ? "Eighteen"

Miss Beck

Ever since her departure for the Delaware Hospital last week, "Old Delaware" has centered her anxiety and sympathy on her "patron saint"—Miss Beck. For two years Miss Beck has rendered services to the student body which are incalculable. She has toiled; she has suffered; she has loved—and she is loved.

Our flowers are but the minutest expression of our hearty sympathy; who can measure it? While she slowly recovers may she know that our thoughts are daily with her. Cheer her on!

Chapel Attendance

The new rule passed by the faculty forcing chapel attendance and allowing only seven cuts for the term is a very good thing. Chapel during the past semester and during the first month of the second semester has consisted of the most interesting exercises we have had in chapel during the past four years. We have listened to almost a hundred of the best speakers that could be secured by Dr. Mitchell. Among these men you will be pleased to remember the renowned Colonel Clayton, Mrs. Henry B. Thompson, Ex-governor Miller, Mr. Rodney Sharp, Mr. Stanley Arthurs, members of the Board of Trustees, students and alumni in the service, and many addresses by faculty members. These were talks which every man needs and which every man should hear in order to broaden himself and to obtain a more sympathetic attitude toward the other fellow. The faculty were perfectly right in ruling for compulsory chapel attendance. But there is one thing which we have not yet been able to thoroughly swallow. Why do the faculty force an iron-clad rule upon the student body and not prove their recognition of its benefit by coming themselves? It is with all due modesty and deference to "the powers that be" that we suggest that the faculty should fall in line and practice what they preach. They nobly agreed to adhere to the rule of not smoking in Wolf Hall. There was co-operation between faculty and students. Why not do the same in this case? Frankly, the faculty is ignorant of the good things that they are missing. Only two members of the faculty have been regular attendants at chapel out of forty. Truly, that is a miserable showing. The students would greatly appreciate seeing the entire faculty present at chapel every day. With such co-operation between faculty and students greater sympathy would be aroused and there is no end to the good that sympathy and co-operation can accomplish.

Scrubs Suffer First Defeat 24-21

In the last game of the season the Scrubs lost their first scalp to the Wilmington All-Stars. Both teams were in fine fettle and the game was hotly contested throughout. The cool head work of Plum and Aikens and the team work of the second strugglers were the features. Marvel played his usual stellar game at forward displaying fast work in passing and shooting. Due to the wrenching of his knee in the second half Marvel was materially incapacitated for the remainder of the game. Aikens deserves credit for his foul shooting—he caged 13 out of 15.

Ewing and Attix played steady basketball at guard but were withdrawn in the second half for obviously no other reason than to afford Harty and Foulk a chance to get some exercise.

For the visitors Livermore starred, caging six from the open. The visitors lacked perceptibly in team work.

This game shows that the Scrubs have greatly improved in their play. The fouls called on merit of the game. The score: decrease over former games. The superiority of the All-Stars in individual play was the deciding element of the game. The score:

Totals	4	13	21

Fouls committed: All-Stars, 15; Reserves, 5. Referee, Baumgartner, Chicago. Timekeeper, Bowen, Delaware.

If this game could be excepted the Scrubs would present a clean slate.

As it is the second string team deserves credit for its 11 victories. In none of these conquests was the team augmented by varsity material. Those who figure in the successes of the season are Aikens, Marvel, Plam, Attix, Ewing, Roach, Robin, Monahan, Downing.

"REVIEW RUST"

Every one remembers Colonel Clayton, the Canadian officer who entertained us so masterfully a few weeks ago. The Colonel tells the following story to exemplify English taciturnity and American flippancy:

An American civilian was riding in an English train. At his side was a young English officer reading a newspaper. The American inclined slightly toward the Englishman so as to share his paper. "H'm'm!" said the flippant one, after sighting the big headlines, "Some fight!"

"And some don't," said the Englishman, without turning his head.

DELAWARE COLLEGE REVIEW

Extension Lectures

Dr. K. R. Greenfield has recently been on a two day visit to Sussex County as a member of the committee on High Schools. His purpose is to increase the number of students who may be interested in taking up work in college after graduation from high school. Dr. Greenfield found that the prospects in the lower end of the State are fairly good and he knows definitely of about a half dozen students who intend to enter some college next September. During his trip he visited the Selbyville, Frankford, Millsboro, and Georgetown High Schools. College students must this year be recruited in the high schools and it is in view of this fact that these extension trips are being made. Dr. Greenfield was substituting in place of Prof. C. A. Short who has charge of the Sussex County district. Prof. Dutton made a similar tour visiting the Bridgeville, Laurel, Seaford, and Greenwood High Schools. These trips are part of the plan in which the students must take part as well as the faculty in getting men interested in college and calling the attention of the High School students to the importance of taking the places of their brothers and friends who have gone to the front.

The Delaware College Board of Trustees will meet on Tuesday, March 5, in the lounging room of Old College Hall. The place of meeting is a new departure from the custom of meeting in Recitation Hall, and it is a very fitting note of progress that they should transfer their quarters to the real center and heart of the college. Among the things which the board will discuss is whether military for next year will or will not be compulsory for Juniors and Seniors. It is recommended by the Faculty that it shall be compulsory for them to drill. The large number of men who did not elect drill this year was unforeseen when the present rule was passed and it is hoped during this tremendous crisis of nations thru which we are passing that every man will be compelled to drill and to know the fundamental principles of warfare.

The faculty of Delaware College will be the guests of the Board of Trustees at luncheon on Tuesday. The luncheon will take place in the small dining room of Old College Hall.

Most pleasing results have been obtained in one of the French classes at Lafayette in which the students pursuing the course met in one of the fraternity houses and exercise their vocal organs by the rendition of French songs. These gatherings are strictly informal and quite popular.

PRINCETON

Princeton University has decided to abandon all informal teams and to enter regular varsity teams in all branches of intercollegiate sport. This action follows the remarkably poor results which have been obtained by the informal teams, not only at Princeton, but also at other colleges where the informal system Athletic control expressed itself in favor of resuming all sports in the ground that they are a great help to military training. In granting its favor for the resumption of all sports the boards made only one stipulation, that they be carried out on a much less extensive scale than in the past. This stipulation is made as a matter of economy.

The Williams Record, quoting a Boston paper, gives these figures, which show the great influence of the war on the college: Last year, 123,327 men and women attended college, while this year there are 102,353. A comparison of entering classes shows a decrease of 3,359 from last year. The attendance at women's colleges has slightly increased. Athletics have been affected to the extent that 26 colleges have discontinued them entirely; 22 out of 26 have eliminated pre-season coaching, and 23 out of 26 have no training tables.

Harvard University has again taken up an active interest in all sports. The Athletic Association has promised every kind of support possible to the different teams and the students have displayed their evident intention to again resume athletic activities.

Prof. Moore: "I had a very brilliant uncle who was a cripple. The accident happened when at the age of ten years he fell on his head and became stupid."

Drowsy voice from the rear: "Well professor, when was he born?"

Silence!

They tell this one about the aftermath of the Lafayette game. Every body was excited and considerable vociferations were vented against Referee Carey. "Bess" Carter directed his opinion to the unfortunate "ref." in the following terms: "You're a blank blank blankety blank blank of a blank blank blank, blank blank blank you."

Mr. Horsey, father of "Don" Horsey and a man who never says anything worse than "O! Sugars" stood at "Bess's" shoulder during the altercation—"blankety blank blank!" finished Bess. "That's right Mr. Carter, that's what he is, that's just what he is!" said Mr. Horsey.

A Little Laugh

"Gonna' work this summer, George?"

"Ya, gonna' get a job as lineman for a wireless telegraph company. What are you gonna' do?"

"Get a job picking flowers from Century plants."

"How would you tell a Freshman Aesthetic Dancing — Professor 'Show it to him.'

"Would you scream if I kissed you?"

"I've such a cold I can scarcely whisper."

Prof.—"Open the window, Mr. Blair."

Blair—"It's cold in here now, Professor."

Prof.—"I know it is, but there should be plenty of fresh air in a bedroom. The class is asleep."

To be college bred does not mean a four years' loaf.

There is no disgrace in failure. It is how we rise after a fall that counts.

Below are a list of "don'ts" published for the benefit of the "Femmes" during Junior week at Lafayette. "Delaware" girls beware.

Don't, when asking a man what class he is in, begin with the Freshman class and work up. The reverse process is considered by local talent to be the thing this year.

Don't, say "Frat." or "fraternity." The philosophers tell us that familiarity breeds contempt. Abbreviations may be applied only to proper names.

Don't, ask any of the chaperones if their husbands are on the faculty.

Don't, look in closets, Lafayette has no medical school but skeletons are none the less common for that.

Don't, bite on the old one about Phi Beta Kappa. Watch chain keys are made in various designs.

Don't, mention college widows. SSSh, there aren't any.

Don't, ask the waiters any questions. They've never been in the house before either.

Don't under any conditions mention the words "football," "glee club" or "Melange."

Don't try to remember names. You can't keep it up anyway.

Don't wear those new slippers to the Sophomore Cotillion. "They'll be ruined, my dear, simply ruined."

Don't remove any cigarettes from stray boxes. The contents have been carefully counted. Smoke your own.

Don't ask your dance partner why he didn't join T. N. E.

Don't ask for "a drink." Specify Water.

Don't bring your knitting to the college show.

Don't put anything in writing.

Don't believe all this stuff about "waiting for a call from the aviation."

Don't confuse the "new" faculty with the seniors. The latter often wear mustaches.

Don't ask about examinations. If he passed any he'll tell you several times.
