Board Of Education Seeks New Building
With Referendum Scheduled For June 6

The Newark Board of Education has called for a referendum on Saturday, June 6, for approval to build a new elementary school on Casho Mill Road; the expansion of four existing buildings; the construction of and equipment for two elementary school libraries, and purchase of library books to bring the district average up to 10 books per student.

Approximate additional cost to local taxpayers for these projects will be four cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Growth in the Newark special school district is reported as "without parallel in the history of the State of Delaware."

One out of every six children who entered Delaware public schools this year entered a school in this district.

With pupil enrollment still rising, local officials report that "the schools must continue to expand to carry on the program of education demanded by residents of the community."

The Casho Mill Road School will mark a departure in elementary school construction of recent years, in that it will be a two-story building.

There will be 24 classrooms as well as the usual facilities in other local elementary schools.

If approved, the school will be constructed on the west side of Casho Mill Road.

The building will be needed in September, 1965, school officials state.

With Oil Painting

Nancy Sobolewski, a senior at Newark High School, has been named state winner in the 1964 Art Talent Contest sponsored by The General Federation of Women's Clubs and Hallmark Cards, Inc.

Nancy's winning entry was an oil painting entitled "Loyalty."

Still life, it has three points of interest — an orthodox Russian building seen through a window; an empty chair; and the American flag with, in the background, a suggestion of the Statue of Liberty.

The painting won a certificate of excellence for Nancy and will be entered in the national contest in Kansas.

Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Sobolewski, Elkton Road, has been active in dramatics and with the Krawen yearbook.

She plans to enter the University of Delaware in September as an art major.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON REPORT

Food Stamp Program To Aid Poverty Fight by U.S. Rep. Elizabeth Kee (D-W.Va.)

With the recent House approval of the Food Stamp Program, the Johnson Administration has an effective new weapon for its war on poverty.

In pilot projects throughout the United States, the program has proved its worth and was wisely supported by the 88th Congress.

Under the food stamp program, needy families exchange the amount of money they normally could be expected to spend for food for coupons of a higher monetary value. The difference between the amount the families pay and the value of the coupons they receive represents the Federal contribution.

Participating families use the food coupons to purchase food out of regular commercial supplies at retail food stores approved to accept such coupons. Any food, except for a few imported items, may be purchased with those food stamp coupons. Retail grocers redeem the coupons through the facilities of our commercial banking system.

What has been our overall experience with the food stamp program? The record is worth accounting:

A special survey of the dollar volume of retail food store sales was undertaken. In eight pilot areas before and after the inauguration of the pilot projects. Following the start of these projects, sales in the survey stores increased by 8 percent, after adjustment for seasonal factors.

A study of household food consumption in two of the pilot areas showed that families participating in the food stamp program made significant increases in food purchases.

Based on survey results, one can make the following evaluation of the food stamp program with reasonable certainty:

First. That the program is effective in improving and maintaining the diets of participating families.

Second. That the additional food purchasing power generated by a universal or nationwide program could provide general support to the domestic demand for food and, therefore, act to bolster farm income.

In McDowell and Mingo Counties, W. Va., areas of long-time substantial and chronic unemployment, typical of coal mining areas in the Appalachian range—the food stamp program has meant a continuing toehold on life, a program of hope for those who are participating in it. The surplus food program has been a vital sustainer of life. But this program is essentially one of powdered eggs, powdered milk, lard, beans, and flour.

Under the food stamp program, the coupon user has been able to purchase meat, fresh fruit and vegetables, fresh eggs, fresh milk, and a wide variety of packaged staple foods. And all of this has meant more wholesome diets for adults as well as for children.

The Food Stamp Program, as part of President Johnson's war on poverty, will help this affluent nation extend the benefits of its great agricultural capabilities to its own needy people.

Oral Polio Clinics Conducted Sunday For 12,000-Plus

More than 12,000 Delawareans attended Sabin oral polio vaccine clinics in the state last Sunday.

The Medical Society of Delaware, sponsor of the state polio immunization program, announced that make-up clinics will be held this Thursday and Friday only, at the State Board of Health office, 800 West Street, Wilmington, and at the Emily P. Bissell Hospital in New Castle County.

All three types of Sabin vaccine will be available at Thursday and Friday make-up clinics, permitting Delawareans to obtain any types they may have missed at previous clinics.

More than half of the persons who visited Sunday's clinics requested Type I vaccine, the type issued at the first clinic of the current series last year. Medical Society officials felt that many of these were persons who missed the first clinic while others were persons taking Sabin vaccine for the first time.

The Society advised Delawareans who had not been immunized, to take Type I vaccine, since the majority of cases of paralytic polio are produced by the Type I virus. Dr. Henry H. Stroud, state chairman of the polio immunization campaign urged persons still in need of various types of Sabin vaccine to consult their family physicians.

This week's make-up clinics will be the last to be sponsored by the Medical Society, but family physicians will be able to direct their patients to sources of supply at any time.

McAllister Advises On Full Employment For Successful Delaware Farm Operation

Are Delaware farmers fully employed, or are they victims of the same automation and technology that is causing under-employment in other industries? This question is good for an argument in most farm circles, especially this time of year, and W. T. McAllister, farm management specialist at the University of Delaware, says that most successful commercial farmers in the state are fully employed.

While there is room for many of them to become more efficient and thus handle more acres or more livestock, most of them are putting in full days on a year-round basis.

Before you can decide about full employment, there are a few problems that must be considered.

First, what is full employment? The industry standard is a 40-hour week for 48 weeks with time out for sick leave and a handful of holidays. On the other hand, farmers are expected to work from dawn to dark seven days a week. But is that full employment?

Then there is the problem of seasonal variations in farming. There are times in the dead of winter when farmers do little more than feed their livestock, and grain farmers don't even do that. But when conditions are right for putting in the crop it isn't uncommon to work 18 hours a day.

Farming, as well as non-agricultural pursuits, may provide year-round employment, but is the labor being used in an efficient, profit-producing way?

A study of 47 Central Illinois farms indicates the labor situation. Available labor on these farms was calculated and compared with the amount of actual work done. The study showed that the Old Bohemia Society Plans Tuesday Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Old Bohemia Historical Society, Inc., will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday in St. Joseph's Hall, Middletown, when directors and officers will be elected.

The Society is dedicated to restoration and reactivation of St. Francis Xavier or Old Bohemia Church near Warwick, Md.

farmers did have surplus labor, but on the average they all worked more than 40 hours per week. Much of this extra labor was available only in the winter, and then not always in quantities that would permit off-farm work.

When agricultural economists deducted the hours of labor used in farm work and in off-farm jobs from the total labor supply on these farms, they found a range of excess labor from 437 to 1,192 hours per year.

More than 60 per cent of the surplus occurred in December, January, February, and March.

EARLY IN-HOME TRAINING FOR HUNTING DOGS

By Bob Bartos, Manager

Friskies Pet Food Research Center

Hunters take note. Two old beliefs long associated with hunting dogs have just bitten the dust. It's not true that you ruin a dog for hunting by either making a pet of him or by training him when he's too young.

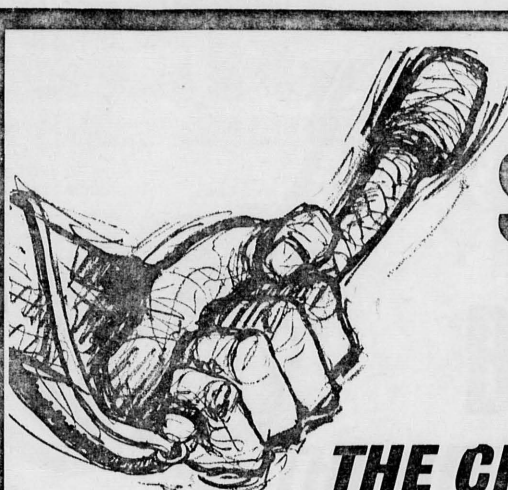

Studies conducted at the Animal Behavior Laboratory at the Hamilton Station of the Roscoe Memorial Laboratory, Mount Desert Island, Maine, have proved that you should take your puppy home and start training him when he's 49 days old. From that exact date until he's four months old is the period during which he's most responsive to training and forms the man-dog relationship.

Winning your puppy's love, trust and confidence and teaching him the basic do's and don'ts of dogdom during this very formative time in his life are all important forerunners of field training. They're more easily instilled in the pup if he lives under the same roof as you, and you're on hand to give out with affection and correction. By the time he's ready for elementary field training, which can start as soon as he's mastered the basic commands, you'll find that his understanding of the commands, together with his well developed will to please, makes training progress at a surprisingly fast pace.

Your control of the mature dog that has been raised and trained along these lines will be far greater than the dog that you plunked in a pen as a pup, and whose only contact with you was at mealtime. The pen-raised dog has not had the chance to form the close man-dog relationship and the almost automatic response to commands that the house-raised dog has.

Feeding tip: If your dog happens to be both small and choosy about his food, try feeding him Friskies Puppy Food, which has an appealing beef flavor.

$100 BILLION BLACKJACK

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL

CONSTITUTES THE GREATEST GRASP FOR EXECUTIVE POWER IN THE 20th CENTURY

The American people are being set up for a blow that would destroy their right to determine for themselves how they will live. What is being piously presented as a humane effort to redress past wrongs—the "Civil Rights" bill—is, in fact, a cynical design to make even the least of us, black and white alike, subject to the whim and caprice of government bureaucrats. Unless American workers, farmers, business and professional men, teachers, homeowners, every citizen awakens now, harsh Federal controls will reach into our homes, jobs, businesses, and schools, into our local and State elections, and into our municipal and State governments.

$100 BILLION BLACKJACK

You should know, through this bill you are to be struck by a $100 Billion Blackjack—almost the total Federal budget. Your tax money is to be used as a weapon against you.

That is the meaning of the Civil Rights bill:

- (1) It would amend every Federal law (hundreds of them) that deal with financing so that each Federal department or agency could make its own regulations to manipulate Federal funds: Each Federal department or agency would define for itself what is "discrimination" and apply its own penalties (Secs. 601-602).
- (2) It would empower Federal political appointees—through the use of the blacklist, cancellation of contracts, foreclosure, and other punitive means—to use almost $100 billion a year to force our people to knuckle under to Executive dictation (Secs. 601-602). You should know this.

TOTAL FEDERAL CONTROL

Within its coverage the bill now pending in the United States Senate would:

- (a) Allow people to be jailed without trial by jury (Titles I, II, III, IV, and VII).
- (b) Allow the government to hold Star Chamber sessions and to imprison those who disclose, without permission, what went on behind its closed doors (Sec. 501).
- (c) Deny an individual the right to freely seek employment without Federal interference as to race or religion—it would deny this right (Titles VI and VII).
- (d) Deny the employer the right to hire, fire, promote and demote without Federal interference as to race or religion—it would deny this right (Titles VI and VII).
- (e) Deny to School Boards (public and private) and to colleges the right to determine, unhampered by the Federal government, how their students and teaching staffs should be handled—it would deny this right (Titles IV, VI, and VII).
- (f) Take from local and State officials their right, without Federal interference, to handle local and State elections (Title I); to regulate local parks, swimming pools and other recreational facilities (Title III); to regulate hotels, restaurants, motion-picture houses, stadiums etc. (Title II); and to regulate employment practices (Titles VI and VII).

THE MYSTERY WORD: "DISCRIMINATION"

The bill now pending in the United States Senate would

- (a) Allow each Federal department and agency to determine for itself what is and what is not "discrimination" (Titles V, VI, and VII)—the bill, itself, does not define the word.
- (b) Allow each Federal department and agency to determine for itself what is and what is not "race" and "religion" (Titles IV, V, VI and VII)—the bill, itself, does not define either word.

Therefore, there would be no uniformity of interpretation. What might be classified as a "discriminatory practice" by one agency, might not be so classified by another agency.

WITHIN THE COVERAGE OF THIS BILL, FEDERAL CONTROL WILL EXTEND TO—*

FARMERS, as to:

1. All Federal farm programs.
2. Employees and tenants.
3. Membership in farm organizations.

EMPLOYEES AND LABOR UNION MEMBERS, as to:

THE CORRECT LABEL STRIKES HOME

EXPLODING A MYTH

We are gratified to see that the United States Senate has at last taken steps to explode one of the myths of our time—the use of the term “federal funds” as a cover-up for the actual expenditure of taxpayers’ funds.

How many times have you driven by construction sites and seen the phrase “being built with federal funds” on an adjoining sign and sped past without giving it a second thought?

The “federal funds” cliché has been consistently used as a smoke screen for dispensing funds provided by taxpayers, ever since big government spending became a way of life some 33 years ago.

The only money the federal government has — or ever has had — is that which it gets from the taxpayers. Therefore, when money is sent to aid a foreign country, for instance, it does not come from “federal funds”; it is supplied by taxpayers who have been required to “chip in” to make the money available.

Letters To The Editor

102 Bent Lane
April 18, 1964

Dear Sir:

I would like to express to the voters of Newark my sincere appreciation of the fine turnout at the polls last Tuesday. To those who voted for me and for the principles for which I stand, and most particularly to the many people who worked so diligently in my behalf, go my genuine thanks.

To all the citizens of Newark, regardless of how they cast their ballot, I publicly renew my pledge to represent fully and equitably every district in whatever decisions are made. To this end, I invite questions and suggestions, for our city will forge ahead only to the degree that we have representative thinking at work in our policy making.

Many problems face council in the months ahead, and judgment, cooperative effort, and patience will be required of everyone.

With an interested, informed citizenry, I have every confidence that Newark will remain a city second to none.

Joseph A. Shields.

As an out-of-state resident, I wish to commend Newark on its police force.

Early last week, the family car driven by my wife, was involved in an accident and I deeply appreciate the consideration and courtesy shown her by the police officer responding to the call.

Many times, I am well sure, these men in uniform feel they are performing thankless duties, so let us in turn show them consideration and courtesy, and give them a well deserved “thank you.”

A Maryland Resident.

Buick has a great transmission.

An automobile transmission, we grant you, isn't the most soul-stirring subject on earth. Nothing to look at either.

But if you'd like for your next new car to give you a better break on performance and gasoline mileage, something happened last week to be your guide.

The Los Angeles to New York Mobil Economy Run proved one thing for sure. There's quite a difference in the transmissions of new cars.

Three out of four for Buick

The long-time champion in the transmission league—Buick—walked off with the 1964 economy pennant. No other single make of car won as many events as Buick. Four entries, three winners.

The winning Special carried the new Super Turbine 300 automatic transmission; the LeSabre was equipped with the Super Turbine 400 (both optional at extra cost). They're the latest in a long line of Buick. They're the latest in a long line of Buick. They're the latest in a long line of Buick.

They're the latest in a long line of Buick. They're the latest in a long line of Buick. They're the latest in a long line of Buick.

converter type to help you safely pass cars and trucks as well as gas stations.

You'll hear a lot about it in the next couple of years as this modern kind of transmission is adopted by more and more car builders.

What about engines?

Of course, an efficient transmission gets more efficient when teamed up with a lean, agile engine. The winning Buick power plants were our new V-6 and V-8. The 300 cubic inch V-8 in the winning Buick Special (the lowest priced of all Buicks) and the Buick LeSabre (the lowest priced big Buick) is like a well-conditioned fighter. All muscle, no fat. Weighs in at far less than other V-8's of similar punch. It took every other V-8 in the Economy Run.

Your type of driving—regular gas

The Run was through cities and towns, across super highways, in traffic, out of traffic. This was not race track driving or proving ground driving. This was your kind of driving—even though you can't expect to get as good mileage as these expert drivers in their finely tuned production cars.

The distance was 3,243 miles, about what most families log in four months. All three Buicks used regular gas. So the Economy Run is not just a cross country tour for the Mobil people and a few car buffs. It's a reliable test of a car's power team and what it's able to squeeze out of its fuel.

We don't expect everybody to rush out this weekend to buy a new Buick just because we won a few economy trophies. There are so many other good reasons for leaning to Buick that economy usually gets second billing. There's styling, naturally. An unusually great ride. Extraordinary engineering and workmanship. And very young performance. Small wonder Buick sales are running at 11.5% over last year.

But it's nice to get economy as a plus in a Buick. Beyond the dollars saved on gasoline, there's a certain pride in knowing you have a car that's built to get the most out of every tank of gasoline.

Historic Inn Visit Planned By YWCA With Tour By Bus

Historic Smithville Inn at Absecon, N. J., just 20 minutes from Atlantic City, is the destination for the first spring tour sponsored by the Newark YWCA.

Founded in 1787 on a stage coach route, the Inn became famous for its food and was the scene of many a sleighing party. As a fine history, its fame persists today.

Clustered near the restored Inn is an old general store, with the aroma of freshly ground coffee and a display of old-fashioned penny candies, a cracker barrel and pot-bellied stove.

A grist mill, blacksmith shop, and other restored buildings create a small Sturbridge Village. The bus will leave the Newark "Y" next Thursday at 9 a. m., returning at 5 p.m.

Lunch will be at the Inn, and reservations may be made at the YWCA no later than next Monday.

Asparagus Glamorizes Molded Salad

If your family likes asparagus, they will love this creamy-smooth molded salad. It's called a Molded Souffle Salad because it has the light airiness generally associated with souffles. Actually, it is a delightful blend of asparagus and cream cheese with enough crunchy celery for texture appeal.

The canned cut green asparagus you use for this salad is as handy as your cupboard shelf. The tender, plump, delicately flavored pieces are a bright color contrast to the creamy white salad base.

You can make your salad ahead, ready for unmolding just before you serve dinner. And wouldn't this salad be a handsome addition to a buffet table? Pretty it up with canned green asparagus spears and hard cooked egg slices arranged in a flower pattern.

Molded Souffle Salad

One 10½-oz. can cream of asparagus soup, undiluted
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water

One 8-oz. package cream cheese, softened
1 cup dairy sour cream
One 10½-oz. can cut green asparagus spears, drained
½ cup chopped celery

Heat soup in medium-sized saucepan. Stir in lemon juice, salt and gelatin which has been softened in cold water. Beat in cream cheese and sour cream. Chill until partially set. Fold in remaining ingredients; pour into an oiled 1-quart loaf mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with canned whole asparagus spears and hard cooked egg slices, if desired. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

ANESTHESIA

A CAN OF CHLOROFORM OR ETHER, A SAFETY PIN STUCK IN THE TOP, AND A GAUZE MASK WAS ALL THE ANESTHESIA EQUIPMENT NECESSARY (OR AVAILABLE) FOR SURGERY NOT TOO LONG AGO.

THE TRANSITION TO MODERN ANESTHESIA METHODS IS CLOSELY RELATED TO ADVANCES IN SURGERY. THE SIMPLE TECHNIQUES OF EVEN TEN YEARS AGO WERE NOT ADEQUATE FOR TO-DAY'S BRAIN SURGERY, BLUE BABY OPERATIONS, OR EVEN RELATIVELY SIMPLE PROCEDURES FOR THE WEAK OR ELDERLY.

THE WONDROUS DEVELOPMENT AND USE OF NEW ANESTHETIC DRUGS, GASES AND EQUIPMENT IS STILL ANOTHER REASON FOR THE INCREASED COST OF HOSPITALIZATION.

"Back To The Farm" Trend For Vacations Offers Rural Dweller Income Supplement

Demand for recreation facilities is expected to increase three times within the next 35 years, and with large city populations and mushrooming suburban areas, the "back to the farm" trend for vacations has been gaining rapidly in popularity, says Gerald L. Cole, assistant professor of agricultural economics at the University of Delaware.

Developing farm land into a recreation business can be a source of supplemental income for Delaware farmers, Cole states. Skill in operating a recreation business is related to good farm management and being able to get along with other people.

When planning a recreation enterprise, Cole says consider your location, the people who will come to your area, and the types of recreation they want. Families are the major outdoor recreation seekers, accounting for 36 per cent of the business in some areas.

There should be a well-rounded program, with something for every member of the family to do. Young people will be attracted to active sports such as swimming and horseback riding, while everyone is likely to enjoy picnicking, fishing and camping.

There are no natural lakes in Delaware, which gives some advantage to those with conservation and old mill ponds. Although most farm ponds are not large enough to meet safety requirements for public swimming, many offer possibilities of fishing, boating and picnicking.

The farmer who thinks that a couple of wooded acres can be made into camping facilities with little work or upkeep for him may be taking a bad risk, says Cole. Families like to get away from heat and congestion in the summer, but summer customers don't like to "rough it" when it comes to hot water and cleanliness.

Some profitable camping facilities represent an $8,000 to $10,000 investment. If you plan camping grounds, consider other features you can offer, either on the farm or near-by. If camping is your only ace, maybe you would be better to forget it. It can be costly to set up and maintain, Cole says.

Keep in mind also that summer is the busiest season on the farm. Summer guests may seem ideal when snow is on the ground but can turn out to be unwanted extra labor when you are trying to work. Be sure someone will be available to aid guests while you are busy.

City, Old Council Sued By Developer With Apartments

The City of Newark and members of the Newark City Council that denied a request for rezoning last Jan. 27, are being sued by the builder of College Towne Apartments on Elkton Road.

Named in the suit filed by attorneys Walter P. McEvilly and Clyde M. England, Jr., are former Newark Mayor Carl S. Rankin, and the council which served until this month's election, William M. Coverdale, Joseph A. Shields, LeRoy C. Hill, Jr., Charles J. Schneider, Henry A. Folsom, Jr., and Betty M. McClelland.

The plaintiff contends that his rights under the federal and state of the Methodist Country House and the council which served until this month's election, William M. Coverdale, Joseph A. Shields, LeRoy C. Hill, Jr., Charles J. Schneider, Henry A. Folsom, Jr., and Betty M. McClelland.

Narcotics Charge, Molestation Count Lodged By Police

Newark police arrested two men last Saturday night — Robert Lloyd Keech, 29, for possession of narcotics and for contributing to the delinquency of a minor — and Edward Allen Mather, 22, for keeping a disorderly house on the first block of Chateau Street. Both resided at the same address.

Keech was committed to the New Castle Correctional Institution in default of $5,000 bail on the narcotics charge, and $500 bail for the delinquency count, while Mather posted $200 bail in arrangements before Magistrate Horace H. Best in Newark.

Police report finding marijuana in Keech's room which he rents from Mather who leases the house. A local 15-year-old girl reported to police that she was molested by Keech in his room where she was offered a marijuana cigarette last Saturday evening.

Booth wants the land rezoned from single unit residential to permit him to build four more apartment buildings.

Booth contends in the suit that the rezoning is not feasible for anything but apartments and that its current zoning is an "unreasonable restraint on the use of such property."

The parcel is bounded on two sides by existing apartments, separated from three homes on a third side by a stream and bordered on the fourth side by a vacant lot, and only access to the land is by way of the College Towne driveway to Elkton Road, the developer states.

Trips and new experiences seem to be in the air everywhere lately, and several New Castle County 4-Hers will be traveling this summer.

Opening day is scheduled for Saturday, May 9.

In warm, pleasant contrast with prior and subsequent weather developments, spring was very much in evidence last Saturday evening at Elk Neck State Park where other anglers from the urban way of life were picknicking or fishing on the rocky, sandy shore of the Elk River at the base of the clay cliffs, or boating on the gently rippled surface of the water.

With Bus Humphreys and Buzz Pennington, we tried bloodworms with a Humphreys Special spinner attachment for rock in some casting from the shoreline, and after losing several fish to the rocks—not rock-fishing but rather to the rocks—fishing in the water. The last cast involved a bluegill hanging, but fighting our way through a tangled marsh of deep mud, driftwood, and greenbriers was even more difficult.

In the clear at last, we walked out on a sandy hook sheltering a quiet cove from the river, and were greeted by a big bass that leaped high above the surface to inspect the three visitors.

That was good enough for one member of the party, who stopped right there for his fishing, but Bus and Buzz continued on out the point for a go at the resident rock in the open river water.

And before they had traveled 50 ft., we hooked into a good fish fighting with every indication of being the bass that had just jumped. Messrs. Humphreys and Pennington paused momentarily at this quick strike on a spinner-nightcrawler combination, but the bass turned out to be a sleek, big, fork-tailed channel catfish, and they walked on.

We caught another catfish—a sluggish, square-tailed mudcat—and then Bus Humphreys stimulated all hands by beaching a 1-3/4-lb. largemouth bass—green-gold and fat from the lush living in Maryland tidewater.

"I think I have a rock!" Buzz Pennington called from behind a whipping rod as he stood knee-deep in the water and East River water off the end of the point, but the rock like the first bass, degenerated into a channel cat.

The sun set behind a bank of dark clouds across the river, and as an early vanguard of summer's swarming mosquitoes tuned up, a gentle rain began to fall along with darkness.

And with the rain came the wind—a cold blast out of the southwest that changed a misting rain into pelting, liquid birdshot—and then as suddenly as it began, rain and wind stopped and quiet again settled down over the river.

The tide was low when we arrived, and it continued to fall along with our hopes for any feeding rock until we left for home at 9 o'clock with eight channel cats and the bass for a fish fry, and after catching a dozen or so rock-laden white perch that were restored to the water for fulfillment.

Miller's Vikings Second In Relays At Baynard Field

Coach Ron Miller's Christiana Vikings won the two-mile and medley events to share a 10-point second place with Mt. Pleasant and Conrad high schools at the Peninsula Relays last Saturday at Baynard Stadium.

The Viking team of Don Miller, Bruce Jones, Rod Gillespie and Jake Correll won the two-mile relay in 8:44.8, and in the 800, 440, 220, and mile medley, Christiana's Jones, Larry Phillips, and Phillips and Correll finished first in 8:30.3.

Flynn's Hens Win 33d Straight Meet In Beating Lehigh

Coach Jimmy Flynn's Flynn Hens won their 33d consecutive dual track meet in defeating Lehigh 89-42 at Frazer Field on Wednesday last week with Phil Anderson, Mike Brown and Don James each winning two events.

Anderson took the 440 and 880; Brown, the 100 in 10.2 and the 220 in 22.1; and James won the shot put and javelin tosses.

Last Saturday in New York, the Delaware trackmen took second in the mile and finished fourth in the sprint medley at the Queens-NY Relays.

The Blue Hens will compete in the Penn Relays at Philadelphia tomorrow and Saturday, and face a home stand against Bucknell on Friday at Frazer Field at 4 p.m. next Tuesday.

A likely candidate for greater fame is Halfback Jack Hoopes, a fast 65-pound freshman from Ridley Park, Pa. Hoopes, who did not play football last year, has all the attributes necessary to become a star, according to Nelson.

"He's like a lion when he's in the game," Nelson said. "He's got the best of the new backs. Hoopes has good speed, good moves and can develop into a fine defensive back."

Nelson said that Hoopes, 170-pound Ken Bills of Danville, Pa., and 175-pound Stu Green of Newark were the leading frosh halfbacks after the first two weeks.

Halfback ranks will be reduced by a graduation of Mike Brown, Johnny Wallace, and Joe Slobjan.

Delaware's search for a No. 2 quarterback to play behind letterman Tom VanGroski may have met with success. Nelson believes that Bernard (Buddy) Luby, of Clifton Heights, Pa., can be the man.

"Luby should be a good one before he's through. He doesn't have a great deal, but I think he'll get the job done. He's a field goal kicker, too!"

The 175-pound Luby alternated with Jim Romberger at quarterback on the '63 freshman squad. Romberger, who was directed to play more than Luby's but who doesn't have the latter's all-around abilities, is also making his spring bid.

Other newcomers hailed by Nelson as likely contributors to the football team are:

Churchwomen Plan Local Observance Of Fellowship Day

Services To Be Conducted With Installation Of New Officers Here On May 1st

The United Church Women of the Newark area will participate in nationwide observance of May Fellowship Day on May 1, at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 266 South College Avenue.

A worship service will be held in the sanctuary at 11:30 a.m. with devotions by the Rev. Marvin H. Hummel, chaplain of Episcopal students at the university.

Mrs. James Hastings, former president of the United Church Women of Newark, will preside at the morning session in place of Mrs. Gerald T. Borchardt, retiring president of the Newark Council, who will be in San Antonio, Tex., attending a state presidents' meeting. Mrs. Borchardt was elected state president of Delaware United Church Women at the annual meeting on April 3.

The new slate of officers of the Newark Council elected at the January meeting, will be installed by Mrs. Park Huntington, former president of the state council. New officers are Mrs. James A. Todd, Calvary Baptist Church, president; Mrs. Warren Hoffman, Limestone Presbyterian, and Mrs. Garland Truitt, Newark Methodist, vice-presidents; and Mrs. John A. Brown, St. Paul's Lutheran, recording secretary.

Officers serving the second year of their terms are Mrs. Mabel Hoeflinger, St. Andrew's Presbyterian, vice-president; Mrs. Isaac Holmes, Pilgrim Baptist, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. William E. Godwin, Ebenezer Methodist Church, treasurer.

Luncheon will be served in the Parish House at noon.

Presiding at the afternoon session will be Mrs. James A. Todd, newly installed president.

The theme of the program for May Fellowship Day is "One Family under God: Freedom of Residence and Job Opportunity."

Keynote speaker will be the Rev. Philip U. Martin, associate minister of Hanover Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, chairman of the inter-racial committee of the Wilmington Council of Churches.

Local reports will be heard from Mrs. Ralph Purcell, chairman of the Newark by-racial committee, and Mrs. J. R. Perkins, executive director of the Newark Housing Authority.

Mrs. William S. Heilbron is chairman of the May Fellowship Day program.

A nursery for young children will be provided.

refinements would help further research.

Fact-gathering instruments include hidden pictures in which the students would try to find objects not readily apparent; short but incomplete stories to produce curiosity about the rest of the story and to test retention or the parts told; and appraisal of students' curiosity by teachers, by classmates, and by the students themselves.

Specific target of the study was to find ways to measure curiosity. But first they had to define curiosity. From reviews of existing literature, this was their definition:

"Curiosity is demonstrated when an elementary school child reacts positively to new or mysterious elements in environment by moving toward, exploring, or by manipulating them; exhibits a desire to know more about himself and environment; scans surroundings seeking new experiences; and persists in examining and exploring stimuli in order to know more about them."

During their reading of existing research about curiosity, the Maw couple noticed "the dearth of studies on this topic dealing with school children." They also found that much of the information was based on studies with animals, with more emphasis in recent years on research with human objects.

Jean Rindlaub Addresses Food Conference At U.D.

Consumers don't need to have their appetites whetted for new food products — the temptation to buy is already there. What they do need are manufacturers who present new ideas and tell consumers how to use these new products. Mrs. Jean Rindlaub, retired advertising executive, told businessmen attending the recent conference on food distribution at the University of Delaware.

"Supermarkets have 8,000 products to choose from and haven't bored their customers yet. At least half of these products did not exist before 1959 — and half of them may not be here by 1970," she said.

The Maws see their work as a spur to future investigation into curiosity and its role in today's society. They list 14 potential areas of study which might grow from their original work.

Before the presses had started running on their 300-page study, they were already at work on two other studies, one due this summer and another this winter.

The first of these studies Wallace Maw said, "looks more deeply at underlying personal and social variables which differentiate high and low curiosity school children."

The second is an expansion on the definition of curiosity, delving into its various dimensions.
