O'DANIEL NAMED BRIGADIER GENERAL

World War I Hero Now Fighting In Africa

Col. John W. O'Daniel, commander of the forces which captured Fort Lamperous and later occupied the city of Algiers in the African Campaign has been nominated by President Roosevelt as a brigadier-general.

An alumnus of the University of Delaware, where he was a star athlete, O'Daniel was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross and the Croix de Guerre for extraordinary heroism during World War I while serving as a second lieutenant, 11th Infantry, 5th Division, A.E.F.

Promoted to rank of captain he commanded one of the companies known as "Pershing's Own." Returning to Newark in 1919, Col. O'Daniel decided to remain in the Army and was assigned to the Army Post in Arizona.

Col. O'Daniel, who was born in Newark, graduated from the Oxford High School and attended the University of Delaware. He was awarded a B.S. degree by the university in 1940.

The local American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts are named in honor of his brother, Lieut. J. Allison O'Daniel who was killed in France during the last World War.

Colonel O'Daniel's family is now living in Washington. Up until two months ago, however, Mrs. O'Daniel, the former Ruth Bowman of Nogales, Arizona, a son John W., and a daughter Anne, made their home with the Misses Nellie B. and Etta J. Wilson at the Wilson homestead, East Main Street.

The daughter, Anne, graduated from the Women's College, and is now employed with the OWI in Washington. The son, John W., who graduated from the Newark High School in June is preparing for West Point at the Sullivan School, Washington.

GAS STAMPS MUST BE IDENTIFIED

Rationing of Coffee Begins November 29

Effective November 22 all gasoline stamps, including A, B, C, D, and S must carry their state and license number of the vehicle, except in fleets which must carry the fleet number, on the back of the coupon.

All farm machinery must turn in all tires not on the equipment to the Railway Express Agency. This includes lawn mowers, bulldozers, road scrapers, tractors, etc. Except when licensed with ODT all bulk coupons must carry their users name or company name on the back of their bulk coupons.

December 1 is the last day on which deliveries of fuel oil may be made to customers on an I.O.U. receipt basis. After this date deliveries of oil may be made only in return for coupons equivalent to the amount of the delivery.

Consumers of fuel oil are reminded that they are held responsible for copying the serial number from the coupon sheet on to each and every coupon of that sheet. Dealers and distributors are reminded that they may not accept fuel ration coupons on which the serial number has not been written. Mr. Luke wishes to remind small dealers and distributors who sell kerosene and other fuel oils that they are included under this regulation.

Stamp No. 27 in War Ration Book No. 1 will become valid at 12:01 o'clock, November 29, for the purchase of 1 pound of coffee per person for all those who are over 15 years of age. All retailers selling coffee should check the data on the face of War Ration Book No. 1 to see to it that those who seek to buy coffee are of the prescribed age limit of 15. Stamp No. 27 will be valid for a five week period, at a value of 1 pound of coffee per person.

Retail Coffee Sales Frozen Until Nov. 29

All retail sales of coffee stopped by Government decree at 12:01 a. m. (EDT) Sunday preparatory to institution on November 29 of nationwide rationing under which consumers will be limited to about one cup of the beverage a day.

Rationing Board Works Saturday and Sunday

In order to take care of the fuel oil applications, many volunteers worked over the week-end. Leon H. Ryan, Chairman of the local rationing board, appointed Mrs. C. Harvey Boyce, of Kells Avenue, as Chairman of the volunteer workers to tailor the fuel oil applications.

Due to the number of applications for home heating, cooking, and other uses, it was necessary to keep the local board office open all day Saturday, Sunday, and Monday evening. Because of the efforts of the volunteers in giving their services over the week-end, Mr. Ryan states that all applicants whose applications have been received at the local board prior to Wednesday, November 25th, will receive their fuel oil and kerosene coupons before the December 1 deadline. Those who have not already filed their applications will probably be unable to obtain fuel oil by December 1.

The volunteer workers assisting Mrs. Boyce on the fuel oil applications at present are: Mrs. George A. Harnischfeger, Mrs. Wayne C. Brewer, Mrs. Andrew J. Fischer, Mrs. A. L. Osterhof, Mrs. Middleton W. Hanson, and Mrs. William B. Swan.

Mrs. Boyce stated that others are being added daily.

The possibility of putting out a chapter newspaper was discussed.

The chapter decided to make awards each year to a boy for the best project carried on in each enterprise such as best corn project, best dairy project, etc. A committee consisting of Andrew Ford, Harry Weaver and William Murray were appointed to have charge of the awards.

A state-wide air raid test in which the accent will be placed on mobilization of medical and hospital units is planned for Sunday afternoon. It has been disclosed by Harry L. Bonham, chairman of the Newark Civilian Defense Council. Evacuation and transportation facilities will also be tested.

It has been stated that the actual test will be short and that incidents planned beforehand, will start during the drill and continue afterward until the incident has been completed. C. M. Palmer, liaison officer, of the local defense council stated that at times when incidents were planned, various groups had returned home as soon as the all-clear sounded without completing the incident.

RENTS FROZEN

Major Changes Justify Increases

In general, all rents in New Castle County went back, November 21, to what they were on March 1, 1942, under maximum rent regulations effective in the Wilmington Defense-Rental Area, Joseph Donald Craven, Area Rent Director, said this week.

"Unless the dwelling in which a tenant lives was built or substantially altered by a major change since March 1, 1942, the general rule for the tenant to follow in paying today's rent bill is—Do not pay more than the rent paid in March 1, 1942," Mr. Craven said. "In other words, if no major change materially altering the character of the living quarters has been made since March 1, the tenant pays only the amount of rent paid on March 1. The tenant does not have to get permission from his landlord to make this adjustment. The adjustment is automatic.

"In the event there has been a major change since March 1, 1942, the tenant pays the first rent charged after the alterations were completed."

UNIVERSITY TO BECOME "LITTLE WEST POINT"

Students Will Receive Army Pay; Subject To Call For Duty

The training of officers and skilled enlisted men will be the primary function of the University of Delaware under plans set up by the War Department it was disclosed by Dr. Walter Hullahen, president of the University, who stated that all physically fit men students at the University of Delaware will be enlisted men in the Army by the Spring of 1943.

Thus the university will become one of the nation's "little West Points" since its primary function will be to train officers and skilled enlisted men.

While it has been "definitely determined" that the policy will be adopted, Dr. Hullahen said that full details of the enlistment program can not be made known yet. Exactly how the problems of all the 500 men now in Delaware College will be handled is not settled.

After the men are enlisted, they will be subject to immediate active duty, Dr. Hullahen explained. They will receive Army pay and their expenses at the college will be paid. It is believed unlikely, Dr. Hullahen said, that the Army would call upperclassmen who are students in good standing.

LANDLORD MAY SET FIRST RENT

Move Made To Encourage Home Owners

To encourage landlords to place property on the rental market and to enlarge present units into multiple-dwelling houses, landlords may set the first rent without consulting the Area Rent Office, Joseph Donald Craven, Area Rent Director, said today.

Notification by the landlord to the Area Rent Office regarding the rental charge on property which has been changed resulting in an increase or decrease in the number of rental units does not have to be made before setting an equitable rental charge.

The landlord can set the first rent without consulting the Area Rent Office but he must register the property within 30 days after renting and the first rent charged may be ordered decreased if it is out of line with the rents charged in the area for comparable accommodations.

This procedure will expedite conversion of property into rental units, said Area Rent Director Joseph Donald Craven, and that is one of the important needs in Defense-Rental Area.

To provide more rental housing units is one of the objectives of the Area Rent Office and conversion of large existing properties into rental accommodations will alleviate the scarcity of living quarters in this area. Properties which are either standing idle or are partially occupied should be placed in a suitable condition to accommodate a maximum number of occupants.

FUEL OIL USERS MUST FILE DATA ACCURATELY

O.P.A. Stresses
Care in Filing
Complete
Information

In order that persons making application for fuel oil may receive their rations promptly it will be necessary for them to fill in their application blank completely and accurately.

Such items as date, capacity of fuel tank, actual usage, etc., are important factors to the board in determining the rations. Therefore, it is urged that all users of fuel oil read their application blank over carefully before sending it to their local War Price & Rationing Board. If assistance is needed in filling out these applications, local firemen are on duty throughout the state, for this purpose.

Retailers and wholesalers may replace sugar actually lost in repackaging up to a maximum of one percent of the sugar repackaged, the OPA announced today. Such loss occurs in transferring sugar from large containers into smaller ones.

Applications to local boards for certificates to replace the lost sugar are to be made only for 6 month periods, ending October 31 and April 30. They must be made in the month following the close of the period. The first period to which the amendment is applicable is the period from May 1 through Oct. 31.

One per cent was found by experience to be a fair maximum amount to allow for such losses.

A man or woman entering the military service must turn in his war ration book to his local War Price & Rationing Board.

Regulations require that the ration books be returned to the boards not only in the case of persons entering the armed services, but also by civilians, such as Red Cross workers, or representatives of government agencies, or others, who leave the U. S. for more than 30 days. The ration books of persons who have died also must be returned to local boards.

This reminder is issued in the belief that many have neglected their duty through ignorance of the regulation. Use of these war ration books by others is a violation of the regulations, it was stated.

INJURED FARMER SAME AS CASUALTY

Schuster
Urges Safety
Precautions

A farmer injured on the farm, like a casualty on the battlefield, is a loss to America's war effort, states G. L. Schuster, director for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Farm accidents and fires in the United States claim a substantial part of farm income and more than 4,200 human lives each year. More than 300,000 farm people were seriously injured by accidents in 1939, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

"Farm with safety, and produce for freedom" might be a slogan for American farm families during the war. Every time a farmer is injured on the farm, America must fight for freedom with one man less in its ranks.

At a time when the Nation needs every pound of food produced, every quart of milk, every bit of farm production, it is necessary that the farmer be able to take care of every emergency. This can best be done by being careful on the farm. This is the way to prevent hundreds of thousands of mishaps that are so costly to the individual, the Nation, and the national war effort.

Every farmer may guard against costly accidents by making sure that safety rules are enforced by members of his family and those working for him. Safety rules obeyed by everyone on the farm will aid in defeating the Axis and help win the fight for freedom.

Winning the war comes first!

So, for now, GUNS it is, America!

In the meantime save the money for a better-than-ever, improved modern appliance that research developments will bring forth after this war. Buy U. S. War Bonds. Your new appliance is working for victory... put your money to the same task.

BUY MORE WAR BONDS!

There is a great deal of talk at this time concerning proposals for enforced purchasing of War Bonds. Some such plan as this may become inevitable under any circumstances. And it is certain to be adopted in the relatively near future unless the people substantially increase their voluntary purchasing of Bonds and Stamps.

The Treasury some time ago established a goal of $1,000,000,000 worth of Bond and Stamp sales monthly. That goal has not been reached. It must be reached and passed if the war is to be properly financed, and if excess purchasing power, the creator of inflation, is to be reduced.

American business has responded superbly to the War Savings challenge. The banks, for example, long ago started stressing War Bonds in their advertising and in displays. They have done everything in their power to encourage the public to buy, and they have paid out of their own pockets the heavy promotion costs.

A similar work on a nation-wide scale is being done by retailers. The chains were the pioneers, and thousands of independent stores have joined in. Retailers are making special efforts to increase the sales of Stamps as well as Bonds, and they have been notably successful. A very high percentage of all War Savings are made through stores today. In their case, as with the banks, the participating stores are paying all the expenses, and they are promoting Stamps and Bonds in every possible way.

The public has responded fairly well to these drives—but not well enough. In these days, when wages are at record levels and almost any man or woman can quickly obtain a good job, all of us can afford to take all or part of our change in Stamps when we shop in stores. All of us can afford to buy one or more Bonds each pay day. Certainly, giving up some luxuries is a mighty small price to pay to help the war effort along. The duty of every American is plain—to cut his personal expenditures severely, and to put the money into War Savings. Remember that next time you go to a bank or to a retail store featuring Bonds and Stamps.

RUBBER OR ELSE!!

The nation-wide gasoline rationing program is to be imposed as a means of preserving rubber. In the opinion of some experts, it would have been possible to provide an adequate supply of rubber for civilian use by now if the government had got down to cases when the rubber problem first appeared. That, of course, is water over the dam—but the kind of political vacillation that has characterized the handling of the rubber situation in the past must not be allowed to continue in the future.

The wise course to pursue at this time is obvious. The government must give maximum cooperation to secure the swiftest and largest possible production of artificial rubber from any practical source. Some kinds of rubber are made from oil. Others are made from coal. Others still are made from grain alcohol. All of the processes have merit—and all of them should be developed without further bickering and delay.

This country has been largely built on automobile travel. Unless rubber for civilian tires is made available within a short time, we will be faced with a catastrophic national "slow down." American industry and American chemists must be given the "go" signal on rubber—and they must be freed from political barriers to progress.

SPARE YOUR DOCTOR

War's drain on the nation's doctors continues to grow rapidly. In time, it is likely that all physically fit younger doctors, and many older doctors, will be called to military service. And so, the burden of work on the doctors who remain at home will be doubled and redoubled.

Many authorities are now advising the public as to how it may help these doctors perform their job with maximum efficiency under difficult conditions. First, don't ask your doctor to make a house call if you are able to go to his office. Second, don't call him at inconvenient times unless there is an emergency. Third, when you do see him, don't waste his time in gossip and idle talk. It may be all right to "visit" with the doctor in normal times—it is definitely a bad practice now.

The standards of American medical care are the highest in the world. During the war, with millions of people working at arduous labor, every possible means of guarding and maintaining these standards must be used. And you can be certain that the doctors will do their part. They will willingly work longer and harder. They won't spare themselves. They know better than anyone else that the preservation of civilian health is absolutely vital to the war effort.

The patient who wastes a doctor's time may, unwittingly, be depriving a person who desperately needs it, of medical attention. Spare your doctor!

FARM PRICES—AND WAGES

When Congress approves the restrictions on farm prices recommended by the President, it should at the same time enforce equally strict ceilings on wages.

The principal farm organizations of this country, such as the marketing cooperatives, have never blindly opposed equitable controls over farm prices. They have, however, pointed to the obvious fact that the cost of living cannot be held down unless wages are held down. In short, the worker can't have his cake and eat it too.

Increasing prices can be controlled only by placing ceilings over costs that enter into the operation of business, farm and home. There can be no exceptions, and no favorites.

5 Jalopies Contributed To Legion Campaign

James MacKenzie and Fred Strickland of Elkton Road, Newark, yesterday turned in five old automobiles, believed to be the first contributed for the American Legion jalopy salvage campaign.

The cars will be credited to the scrap work of J. Allison O'Daniel Post, No. 10, American Legion of Newark. W. Floyd Jackson, chairman of the jalopy salvage campaign in New Castle County, said.

Four of the cars were 10 or more years old. They had been stripped of tires and lacked upholstery.

R. M. Dial, Wilmington, who will haul them to Wilmington this week, accepted the cars. Several other dealers are expected to turn in old cars soon, Mr. Jackson said.

SURE SHOT

A certain well known bowler went gunning for bunnies recently and while he can roll a bowling ball with accuracy, he is not so hot with a shot gun. It was claimed he fired twelve shots at the same number of rabbits and MISSED 'EM ALL. It was stated that James L. Cage, a retired railroad foreman shot at a rabbit and when the smoke blew away the rabbit was running and a dead blackbird was on the ground. (Information obtained from a friend-?)

J. S. Morrison bagged two rabbits; George Ganzman was lucky with three bunnies and two cock birds.

Slim Everett claims to have shot at three and killed two rabbits. He also CLAIMS to have shot and killed two ducks with one shot at Rehoboth.

Fire Chief Elmer Ellison is reported to be spending his vacation gunning. We wish the Fire Chief plenty of luck and good shooting.

The Newark Police Force is good in more ways than one. Aside from being a good bunch of cops it is reported that they are good shots? Officers Robinson, Smith and Wassmer went gunning and each bagged two bunnies. The chief had no such luck, it was stated. Reports circulated say that the Chief, who is the holder of a very fine plaque for pistol shooting did not get a chance to test his shotgun ability. He never saw a bunny.

Some local gunners are afraid to be quoted as to how many rabbits they have bagged. They must be afraid Bill Wideman will read this column. Bill Barrow and his dad Ralph have had a very successful week of gunning. Paul Whitman went with them and did well. Lefty Smith, who also accompanied the Barrows found that they were harder to hit than he thought. The only thing he brought home was a pair of sore feet.

Shorty and Bill Chalmers, both good gunners also bagged the legal limit. Good shooting boys.

Sports Shots

Playing their last game for the University of Delaware last week were nine seniors: Tri-captains, Walt Paul, Hugh Bogovich, Al Newcomb and the following members of the squad: Bill Laurelli, Bob Furman, George Barlow, Ed Curullo, Barney Hancock and Lee Baer. Paul Hart is also reported to have played his final game for the Hens. The big powerful plunger from Folsom, Pa., has enlisted in the Naval Air Corps and is awaiting a call to duty.

Many of these boys will soon be fighting for Uncle Sam and it is trusted and believed that they will fight as hard in the service as they did for Old Delaware.

The Newark High School squad looks bad for next season with the loss this year of eighteen members of the senior class, but Coach "Bill" always does the old Houdini stunt and pulls another good team out of the hat when fall comes around.

Members of the Yellowjacket squad who will graduate this year are Captain Harold Hill, Red Henderson, Cliff Lee, Dick Robinson, Wayne Pollari, Don Huston, Andy Walp, Norbert Cashell, John Rothrock, Ted Trempey, Richard Buckingham, Bill Gray, Paul Teller, Donald Frey, Harry Morrow, Vernon Connell, E. J. Helmbeck and Carl Nelson.

Full credit for Delaware's record breaking season goes to Coach Bill Murray and his assistants Emory Adkins and Bill Martin, and to the players, veterans, and subs alike, for the most brilliant campaign ever made in the history of football at the University of Delaware.

Thanksgiving is probably our oldest traditional American holiday. From the days of the pilgrims, long before we had a flag of our own, a Constitution, or a United States of America, Americans have celebrated this festival, saying how grateful we are to have this free and abundant land.

"Thanksgiving this year can mean a 'thank you' to the farmers of America," states G. L. Schuster, dean and director of the School of Agriculture of the University of Delaware, "for the achievement in food production in 1942." All farmers, big and little, in Delaware, and in every state in the Union, have pitched in to meet the food production goals this year. No other nation in the world has ever achieved such a high farm output as American farmers produced in an hour of great crisis for free men.

State Farmers To Receive Certificates of Recognition

Delaware farm families who have done an outstanding job in the Home Food Production and Conservation Program sponsored this year by the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service will receive certificates of recognition for their contributions to the nation's food production effort.

To the farm families who have cooperated in the program the County Agricultural Extension offices have sent letters requesting that cooperators report to their County Extension Office the food production and conservation goals which they have reached this year.

All families who have participated in this program are urged to send in the card enclosed with their letter listing their achievements as soon as possible.

WINTER SPORTS PROGRAM LAUNCHED, HENS PREPARE FOR WINTER CAMPAIGNS

Delaware Cagers Will Dedicate New Field House In Curtain Raiser With Rutgers Here On January 6th; Eight Home Games Are Scheduled

With an undefeated grid eleven making football history (and what history) at the University of Delaware, other teams will have a high standard at which to shoot in their winter sports campaign.

NATION TO REMEMBER JAP ATTACK ANNIVERSARY

Office of War Information Sponsors Two-Day Observance

A two-day nation-wide observance of the anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor will be sponsored by the Office of War Information. Joining in the observance will be the War and Navy Departments, all other war agencies, war plants, labor, schools, colleges and numerous other organizations.

The anniversary will be observed Sunday, December 6 and Monday, December 7, wherever they are Americans around the world. The inclusion of Sunday is doubly fortunate, both because the original attack fell on a Sunday and because the tone and religious ceremonies of the Sabbath are in keeping with the spirit of re-dedication to a high purpose which will characterize this anniversary.

The OWI proposes that the nation, under the cry of "Remember Pearl Harbor—Work . . . Fight . . . Sacrifice!" will:

Honor and remember the men and women who have already given their lives in this struggle.

Give thanks to God for the nation's survival of the unprovoked attack of ruthless enemies.

Clear-headedly assess what has been done in one year of war, and what lies ahead to be done in terms of "Work . . . Fight . . . Sacrifice!"

Rededicate the nation's strength, its time, its wealth and its very life to preserving a concept of life more precious than individual life itself; to work, fight, sacrifice for all that is contained in the Bill of Rights and the Constitution of the United States of America.

The OWI proposes that Sunday be dedicated to solemn memorial for those who died at Pearl Harbor and those who have died since, to thanksgiving for our survival during the first critical year of the war, and to re-dedication of all our resources to the spiritual values which are at stake in this war.

It is proposed that the rallying cry, "Work . . . Fight . . . Sacrifice!" be sounded on Monday and that national re-dedication be in that key. These words must surely bring to every man and woman a realization that this is a war that touches all of us, personally and intimately. It is a part of the observance of the anniversary of Pearl Harbor that all of us should take stock, both of the material achievements and shortcomings of our war effort during the past year and of our spiritual attitude toward the essential values of national and international life.

The hour of the Pearl Harbor attack (2:20 P. M., E.W.T.) December 7, will be specially marked, but no ceremony should delay war production.

Model Boat Show At Primary School

One safety pin was the price of admission to the model boat show staged by Miss Rose Leary's class at the primary school on Tuesday afternoon. The children brought close to one hundred boats of all kinds that they had made or bought to the show which was judged by Sgt. Samuel H. Tibbitt of the local police force and M. James Parsons, assistant superintendent of Newark Schools.

Pupils of the other seven rooms visited the show throughout the day after paying the required safety pin for a ticket. In the display there were miniature canoes, barges, row boats, tug boats, sail boats of all varieties, all kinds of war ships and air craft carriers.

The feature of the show was a model of a sail boat such as is used by the natives of Bob Cat Island which had been sent home to his son by Captain William B. Derriekson who is stationed there with the 108th.

The basketball, swimming and wrestling squads are turning out this week and are beginning serious practice for launching their winter sports program. This week will be given over to drills, fundamentals and conditioning exercises it was stated by the coaches.

While about forty candidates are out this week for basketball the official call for candidates had been issued for November 30. E. Emory Adkins will again direct the activities of the Hens cagers and will be assisted by Ed Prince, business manager of athletics at the university. Last year's lettermen expected back this year are Legates, Runcie, Barlow, Reed and Crescenzi.

While only tentative dates have been announced it is believed that the Hens will open their cage season as a dedication game in the new field house against the strong Rutgers University team, on January 6.

"The extremely urgent need for these men at Pearl Harbor cannot be stressed too much," stated C. D. Hertzog, Director of the Third United States Civil Service Region.

Numerous positions are vacant, but those men must needed are: Electricians (Ship and Shop), $1.35 an hour; Machinists, $1.34 an hour; Helper, Machinist, $.95 an hour; Classified Laborers, $.70 an hour.

Time and a half is paid for all overtime.

Suitable experience is required to qualify for these positions, and applications will be approved by the U. S. Civil Service Commission according to requirements already established. Four years of experience in the trade is the usual requirement for Journeyman positions, six months for helpers; and for laborers, six months experience above the class of mere laborer or four years of common school education.

The Government will provide free railroad and Pullman accommodations from the applicant's home to the point of embarkation on the mainland. The appointee will have to pay the cost of his meals while travelling by railroad but will be reimbursed for same upon presentation of a claim after arrival at Pearl Harbor. Salary begins upon leaving the point of embarkation at the rate of eighty hours a day.

SAFETY BRIEFS

From The Delaware Safety Council

After a few narrow escapes, some of us may begin to feel that the youngsters who jump out into the street from behind parked cars, causing us to jam on our brakes and spin the steering wheel in trying to avoid them, could give the army lessons in striking from ambush.

The trouble is that we're the ones who may be doing the striking—and after all, they're just kids who try to be careful, but we can't always expect them to remember, the Delaware Safety Council reminds us.

The only defense against such accidents is to drive past every parked car as though it might contain an ambush.

A recent survey by a big war production plant showed that accidents at home and on the highway kept nearly twice as many of its workers off the job as did accidents at work.

The experience of this plant is typical of many others, according to the Delaware Safety Council. When working conditions are safe, and where safe working methods are enforced, accidents can be greatly reduced.

We can all help to speed victory, in this time when every working hour is needed, by driving—and walking—and doing odd jobs around the house—as though a safety engineer were looking over our shoulder. Accidents must be reduced, and the job is up to every one of us.

WHITEFISH ARE FACING EXTINCTION

Use of The Deep Trap Net Removes Fish Faster Than Nature Can Replace

The famous whitefish of Lake Huron, highly prized food fish, is rapidly on the way to disappearance from the markets, according to an analysis of the commercial fishery records by biologists of the Fish and Wildlife Service, United States Department of the Interior.

Recently compiled figures show that the 1941 catch dropped to the lowest level in the history of the fishery, totalling only 114,000 pounds, or 2.8 percent of the record 1931 yield of 4,140,000 pounds.

The continuous decline of the whitefish catch since 1932 is attributed by the Fish and Wildlife Service to the widespread use of the so-called deep trap net. An impounding net highly efficient for the capture of whitefish, the deep trap net was introduced into Lake Huron in 1928 in the vicinity of Alpena and rapidly spread into other sections of the lake. By 1933 the net was in operation in all United States waters of Lake Huron, removing the whitefish more rapidly than nature could replace them.

Investigations of the deep-trap-net fishery begun in 1931 by the Michigan Department of Conservation and the former United States Bureau of Fisheries revealed the net as a serious menace to the stocks of whitefish. At the close of the 1935 season it was outlawed in the Michigan and Wisconsin waters of Lake Michigan, and the following year was banned in Indiana and the Michigan waters of Lake Superior. Deep trap nets may now be operated only in the Michigan waters of Lake Huron and in Lake Ontario.

Rapid removal of the fish by trap nets, which operate in deep water where large numbers of whitefish congregate, at first sent production skyrocketing from a normal level of about 1.2 million pounds to a peak of more than 4 million pounds in 1931 and 1932.

In spite of continued heavy fishing, the catches of whitefish have since declined steadily, and in areas where trap-nets are used most extensively they have virtually ceased. By 1938 the total catch had dropped to 558,000 pounds; by 1939 to 255,000 pounds. The following year the 1939 figure was cut almost in half, and the 1941 catch was even smaller. In central and southern Lake Huron the yield of whitefish in 1941 was only 15,000 pounds, as compared with 3,309,000 pounds in 1932.

MOULTING HENS NEED MORE FEED

Egg Production Maintained By Balanced Feed

Laying hens will make better Food-Freedom egg producers if they are fed adequate quantities of a well-balanced feed, particularly during the moulting season, according to W. C. Skoglund, extension poultry specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

"Egg production slacks off sharply when the hens moult," Mr. Skoglund said. "Since every egg that can be produced between now and the end of 1942 is going to be needed, and most of the production must come from farm flocks of laying hens, adequate feeding was never more important than it is now. Plenty of balanced feed will help maintain egg production during the moulting season and bring hens back into full production more quickly than if feeding is neglected at this time."

Laying hens require feed for two purposes, first for maintenance, and second for egg production. Mr. Skoglund points out. Hens tend to produce eggs in a direct ratio to the quantities of balanced feed they get above maintenance requirements.

The United States needs about 1 1-2 billion dozen eggs during the remainder of the year to fulfill the 1942 requirements of 4 1-2 billion dozen. Uncle Sam is counting heavily on the hens in production now to help meet that goal and it's going to take plenty of the right kind of feed in the last stretch to do the job. Suggestions on poultry feeding are contained in Delaware Extension Bulletin No. 33, entitled "Poultry Feeds and Feeding." Delaware poultrymen may obtain a copy of this bulletin from their county agricultural extension agent, or from the Extension Service at the University of Delaware.

Students in engineering and similar essential curricula likewise may be able to stay in school under the new accelerated year-round course of study, in order to prepare for work in their fields for the Army upon graduation.

In addition, the Army probably will detail to the university some soldiers who have outstanding records but who lack college training.

Many factors are expected to enter into the Army's decision as to continuing or interrupting a student's college studies, Dr. Hullahen said. His past record at the university, and examinations to be given are likely to be used as a guide in determining whether a student is to enter service immediately or to stay at the college.

George S. Simpser, 16, of Chestnut Hill, near here, was found guilty on a charge of second degree murder and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Court of Oyer and Terminer on Tuesday afternoon by Chief Justice Daniel J. Layton.

Simpers was convicted of shooting Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, 42, also of Chestnut Hill, on Sept. 23. The slaying followed an argument during which Simpser said that Mrs. Hollister had made critical remarks about his mother and father.

The jury deliberated about 50 minutes.

Appeal To The Women of Newark

An urgent appeal for workers is going out from the surgical dressing unit of the local Red Cross. The production must not lag! Our soldiers, sailors, and marines are going into action all over the world and with them must go food, ammunition, and Surgical Dressings.

The War Department furnishes the materials and depends on the women of America to make the dressings. There is no other way to get them. Are we going to let our boys down?

The workroom will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, but this week will be open on Friday instead, from 10 to 4, so that we do not lose a day.

No. 3 Gasoline Stamp Good For 3 Gallons

"A" book gasoline rationing stamp No. 3 became valid for three gallons of gasoline on Monday morning, James L. Luke, Jr., OPA administrator, has announced. Coupons in B and C books remain good for four gallons each.

Each gasoline stamp used now must bear the license number of the car and name of the state where the car is registered. Motorists are urged to write this information on the back of all stamps in their books in order to save time and confusion when they go to purchase gas.

Grant Extension On Fuel Oil

Users of fuel oil have been granted a breathing spell with the announcement by OPA Administrator James L. Luke, Jr., that "credit" purchases have been extended until Monday, December 1.

Many small users of fuel oil were relieved, for they had reported they could not secure the necessary blanks to file rationing information. After a telephone conversation with Sylvan Joseph, regional OPA administrator, Mr. Luke announced the extension.
