NEWARK TRUST HIGH BIDDER

Bid Of $67,800 For School Bond Issue Accepted

The Newark Trust Company's bid of $67,800 for the entire issue of school bonds open for purchase at a special meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday evening, proved the highest and has been accepted by the board.

Bids for the purchase of $60,000 in bonds voted for a new elementary school building here were opened at the meeting.

Uncertainty of wartime conditions make it impossible, say officials, to determine when actual construction on the new building can be started.

The issuance of the bonds at this time was necessary to secure the matching fund, totalling $65,322, to be provided by the state.

Despite wartime building restrictions, however, the pressing need for the new plant in Newark, due to the influx of new families, many with children in the lower grade age groups, will permit construction to begin before long, officials feel.

USO CENTER FOR WOMEN WORKERS TO OPEN HERE

73 E. Main St. Named Site Of Headquarters For Recreation Plan

A U.S.O. center for women Defense workers living in Newark will be opened in the former Western Auto Company building at 73 East Main Street as soon as sufficient funds for maintenance are secured, it was decided this week at a meeting of the sponsoring committee in the New Century Club building.

With several church and civic organizations already agreeing to contribute monthly sums and others expected to follow suit shortly, the center is expected to open in the near future. The room will be the headquarters for the recreational activities program, now being planned for Newark women Defense workers.

Additional funds are assured through the cooperation of the E 52 Players of the University of Delaware, who have agreed to donate the proceeds above expenses of their opening play this season, Maxwell Anderson's "Eve of St. Mark," scheduled for the latter part of October.

Difficulty of securing funds through regular USO channels was explained by Father E. J. Kraemer, chairman of the finance committee, who said local community organizations would be expected to undertake financing the center at least until USO aid can be obtained.

"Newark Community Service" was the title selected for the maintenance fund, of which Robert J. Boyd was appointed chairman. Contributions are being sought from organizations sponsoring the plan, as well as other business.

FUND FOR SOLDIERS' YULE GIFTS

Mayor's Committee Sets Up Deposit Boxes In Stores

The Mayor's Committee is seeking funds for its plan to provide Christmas packages to all Newark men in the armed services or the merchant marine.

Containers into which the public is asked to drop contributions were set up on Monday in most of the retail establishments about town, announced Alfred Deck, chairman of the finance committee.

According to officials any checks contributed should be made payable to Alfred Deck, of Newark, who will see the funds are placed at the disposal of the committee.

The Mayor's committee is also endeavoring to draw up its Christmas mailing list. Parents, relatives, and friends of Newark boys in any branch of service are asked to give their addresses to Mrs. Leon Case, phone 2-0681 or Mrs. Paul D. Lovett, phone 3881.

The committee is anxious to complete its list as soon as possible since postal authorities stress the fact that Christmas packages to service men, particularly those abroad, must be mailed early in October for delivery by Christmas.

PUPILS TO GIVE SCRAP

One-Week School Drive

The student scrap campaign at the Newark public school will get underway Monday and continue throughout the week, said superintendent C. E. Douglass yesterday.

Pupils in all departments are being urged to insure the success of the one-week drive by bringing in all types of scrap metal, rubber, or clean rags.

Details of the campaign were presented to students at a special assembly meeting yesterday in the school auditorium, during a program which also included the singing of a number of patriotic songs.

Disposal dump for the drive will be the garage on the school grounds between the school buildings. Students are expected to contribute at least a pound of scrap, with no payment being made.

UNIVERSITY DRAMA HEAD RECEIVES ARMY CALL

Dr. C. R. Kase Left Yesterday For Ft. Meade; Now A Captain

Receiving his army call with unexpected suddenness, Dr. C. Robert Kase, head of the drama department of the University of Delaware, left for Fort Meade, Md., yesterday to begin training.

He has been commissioned a captain in the Army Specialist Corps, and will act as a theatrical advisor.

Captain Kase, who raised little theatre work in the state to its present high standards, will be sorely missed at the University, where as an experienced director he produced plays for the University drama group.

Suddenness of the call left University authorities no time to select a successor. However, pending an appointment, work on rehearsals for the E-52 Players forthcoming play, Maxwell Anderson's "The Eve of St. Mark," scheduled for the last week in October, will be taken over by Captain Kase's wife, Elizabeth.

One of a dozen or more theatre experts called by the Army to aid in its entertainment activities, Captain Kase's duties will be of an advisory nature.

University officials, recognizing the importance of his work at the University for the past ten years, plan to carry on the program which has made Newark the leader in little theatre circles in the state.

Well known nationally in little theatre work, Captain Kase has brought some of the leading little theatre performers of the country here and was mainly responsible for developing the semi-annual drama conferences and one-act play tournaments at the University.

He was also an official of the National Theatre Conference.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Hannah Bradley

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Hannah E. Bradley, widow of William H. Bradley, at the R. T. Jones funeral parlors.

Mrs. Bradley, who was 85 years old, is survived by two daughters, Miss Isadora Bradley, with whom she made her home, and Mrs. Grace Wilson, of Glasgow.

Interment was at Barratt's Chapel Cemetery.

Dusk to Midnight Blackout Here Pronounced A Success

Newark's participation in the statewide dusk to midnight blackout last night was carried out successfully with all elements of the Civilian Defense organization functioning in good order.

Promptly at 7:30, defense volunteers cut down traffic to 15 MPH and checked on light violations. Although street and traffic illumination, as well as dimmed vehicular lights were permitted, lights in residences, non-defense commercial establishments and signs were completely blacked out for over four hours.

Both the National Vulcanized and Continental Fibre Companies were granted exemptions as being war plants.

FOOD BANK DONATIONS TO START ON MONDAY

Residents Asked To Bring Canned Foods To Century Club After 10:30

"Every person in the Newark vicinity will be given an opportunity to contribute to the Emergency Food Banks which will be established at evacuation centers in Delaware," states Mrs. Kate Henley Daugherty, who is Co-Chairman with Mrs. Irving Warner of Wilmington for the Emergency Food Banks in New Castle County.

"The Emergency Food Banks will be established," continues Mrs. Daugherty, "through the joint efforts of the Evacuation and Disaster Canteen Committee of the Red Cross, the Women's Division of the State Council of Defense, the American Women's Voluntary Services, the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Delaware, and the State Victory Garden Program.

Proposed food banks will be located in several parts of the County where evacuation centers are to be situated. A Chairman and her assistants will be in charge of selecting a suitable storage place in each center for storing, not only emergency rations, but large enough to accommodate the food collected and allocated to the bank by the State or County Committees.

Protection against overheating, freezing, theft, and sabotage, and ready accessibility are factors to be given special consideration in the selection of food banks at evacuation centers.

Working in Newark on the food bank collection from local people are Mrs. Thomas Mylrea, Chairman of Defense for the Newark New Century Club and her entire Committee, Mrs. Allyn F. Cooch, Jr., Chairman of the Newark Office of Civilian Defense, and Mrs. R. O. Bausman, Local Chairman of Canteen for Red Cross and Co-chairman with Mrs. A. J. Dorden for Emergency Food and Housing.

CONCERT DRIVE IS UNDERWAY

Good Response Grooms Opening Of 1-Week Drive

Excellent response marked the opening of the drive for membership subscription being carried on this week by the Newark Community Concert Association, said officials yesterday.

The one-week campaign opened with a dinner for volunteer workers Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian church.

Urging those interested to purchase their membership before the Saturday deadline, officials in charge point out that the number and quality of programs offered this year will depend on the amount of subscriptions received to finance the project. As the association will select its artists for the forthcoming season on Saturday night, all subscriptions must be in before that date.

No memberships will be sold after the conclusion of the drive and no ticket sale will be conducted at the box office in Mitchell Hall, officials stress.

Since the Wilmington association has already concluded its membership drive, almost the sole opportunity for music lovers in this vicinity to enjoy concerts this season is by joining the Newark project.

The Newark Association selects its artist from the Columbia Concert Bureau and brings here the leading performers of the Metropolitan Opera and Stage.

ST. THOMAS TO OBSERVE CENTENARY ON SUNDAY

Services Honoring 100th Anniversary Of Parish Founding Begin At 11:00 A. M.

The one-hundredth anniversary of the founding of St. Thomas Episcopal parish will be celebrated on Sunday, when the Right Rev. Arthur R. McKinstry, D.D., Bishop of Delaware, will deliver the centennial sermon. The observance will open with Holy Communion service at 11:00 o'clock, the celebrant being the Rev. A. W. Mayer, rector.

The service will include the dedication of the new altar and chancel hangings, the dedication of a service flag of 13 stars representing parishioners serving in the armed forces, and the rededication of the organ rebuilt early this year, the expenses for which were met through successful completion of the centennial fund raised by members of the parish. Dr. Walter Hüllihen, Junior Warden, will give a welcoming address and announce the final amount reached by the Centennial fund.

Much interest at the church service will center on a record book, containing various relics and articles, which will be sealed and deposited in the church for opening on the parish's two hundredth anniversary in 2042.

Following the services in the church, the choir and congregation will make a pilgrimage to the church yard, where ceremonies in memory of early families of the parish buried there will be conducted.

Contained in the record book, to be deposited in the church, will be a history of the parish written for the celebration by Dr. Francis H. Squire, of the Department of History of the University of Delaware, and Miss Harriet T. Bailey, M.A., director of Fine and Applied Art at the Women's College. Also sealed in the book will be parish records, copies of current newspapers, letters from clergy and parishioners, and signatures of the rector.

EXTRA GAS RENEWAL BLANKS TO BE MAILED

Applicants For Supplemental Gas Should Not Apply In Person At Board

It is not necessary for those who now hold B or C supplemental ration books to appear in person at the board office or to call or write the board office for the purpose of having these supplementals renewed before or after they expire, announced James Luke, State Director. To do any of these things will only cause inconvenience and confusion for all concerned. The announcement does not apply to holders of only "A" books.

The eleven ration boards throughout the State are preparing to mail to present holders of B or C supplemental rations the necessary material which will be used in applying for renewals. This material will be enclosed in a large envelope which will contain:

First, a smaller white envelope, return addressed by the board, for use by the applicant in returning his completed renewal application blank and the post card; secondly,

A post card on which the applicant will write his own home address. This will be used later by the board in notifying the applicant—when and where to call for his ration renewal or when and where to appear for an interview. And finally, the envelope will contain an application renewal blank to be filled in completely by the applicant and returned to the board.

Present holders of supplemental rations must understand that both the application blank and the self-addressed post card are to be placed in the smaller white envelope and mailed back to the board. It must also be made clear to the applicant that he is to write nothing else on the post card but his own home address.

"It is necessary," said Mr. Luke, "for applicants who wish to have their supplemental rations renewed to comply with these detailed instructions. Applicants who fail to do so will have to wait until those who comply have all been taken care of. We urge your cooperation in following our instructions in order that we may give you prompt and efficient service. Please do not appear in person or call the boards. Simply fill out your form and return it—with the self-addressed envelope—as soon as possible."

No additional rations will be granted to those now holding B or C books until the first three month period has expired.

'A' Card Holders Get Reduced Insurance Rates

A 20 per cent reduction in automobile bodily injury insurance rates for holders of "A" gasoline ration cards in 12 Eastern states effective Oct. 1 was announced today by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. The reduction was ordered as an emergency measure as a result of the gasoline rationing system.

At the same time, the bureau said it had recommended a similar reduction to the state supervising authorities in four other states, New York, New Hampshire, Virginia and North Carolina. Massachusetts is not involved because the insurance rates in the Bay State are fixed according to statutory requirements. The reduction will be made retroactive to all policies dated after July 22.

The 20 per cent cut applies to holders of "A" cards only. For holders of "B" and "C" ration cards the reduction will be only 10 per cent.

BLUE STAMP FOOD LIST IS ISSUED

Same As Last Month With Pears Removed

Blue Stamp foods for October comprise the same listing as that for September, with the exception of fresh pears, which have been removed from the current list, it was announced by Clifford W. Shedd, local representative of the Agricultural Marketing Administration, in charge of stamp program operations here.

Removal of pears from the blue food stamp list is in accordance with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's war-time program, designed to make best use of the nation's food supply by encouraging, where needed, the market support of seasonal over-supplies of perishable crops.

The complete blue stamp food list issued by the Agricultural Marketing Administration for the month of October in all stamp program areas is as follows: Fresh apples, all fresh vegetables including Irish and sweet potatoes, shell eggs, corn meal, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self-rising flour, enriched self-rising flour, and whole wheat (graham) flour.

Faculty To Dine Board of Education

WPB LIMITS NUMBER OF FERTILIZERS

New Ruling Cuts Number of Grades 23 Instead of 50

The fertilizer conservation order released on September 12 by the War Production Board, greatly reduces the number of grades of fertilizer mixtures on the market. This order limits to 23, the number of fertilizer grades which may be offered for sale in Delaware.

In the past, about 50 different grades of mixed fertilizers have been offered in Delaware. Many of those grades were quite similar as far as their value as plant food was concerned, states Claude E. Phillips, forage crop specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Now that we're at war, farm leaders, crop specialists, and fertilizer men got together in meetings over the country and drew up lists of the grades of fertilizer which, during the emergency, will meet the various crops and soil conditions in each State. These grades are based on years of experiments and practical farm experiences.

Reducing the number of fertilizer grades aids farmers and helps to further the war effort.

Phillips explains that reducing the number of grades cuts the cost of manufacturing, and so in the long run saves farmers money; for farmers actually pay the cost of manufacturing. It saves materials and labor used in making different kinds of bags that can be used to much better advantage in other things. And with only a few standard fertilizer mixtures for each State, farmers will find it much easier to select the ones best suited to their crops and soils.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Fire Prevention Week will be observed October 4th to 10th, as it has each year for more than a generation. And never in our history has fire prevention been of greater importance to this nation. For fire is responsible for the complete destruction of vast quantities of materials which are needed for war.

W. E. Mallalieu, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, recently listed a few of the serious fires that have occurred within the recent past. One fire destroyed a tremendous tonnage of natural rubber. Another destroyed a plant making magnesium powder. Another destroyed the great liner Normandie at a time when it was being converted for Navy use. Another stopped production for a time in the largest refinery of aviation gasoline in the world. Others struck at factories making machines, parts for airplane propellers, aluminum castings for airplane motors, and arms.

Speaking of these disasters, Mr. Mallalieu said: "In most instances fire could have been prevented, or at least the destruction reduced, if adequate precautions had been taken in time. Instead, the country was confronted by finished warplanes held at other factories for lack of propellers at a time when men were dying in battle and armies suffering defeat because there was insufficient air protection. It becomes increasingly evident that fire defense aids war offense."

Before Fire Prevention Week, during Fire Prevention Week, and after Fire Prevention Week, all citizens must voluntarily cooperate in a nation-wide campaign to outlaw fire. Every executive, foreman, worker, homeowner, should learn and apply the fundamentals of fire protection. This is one vital phase of the war effort in which all can collaborate. Each fire prevented aids the cause of the democracies.

Centennial committee. The history will also carry a list of subscribers to the Centennial fund.

Much historical data, including early documents of the parish, which are remarkably complete and in excellent condition, have been gathered by the committee.

Included in the exhibit will be the original notes of the first organization meeting which founded the parish on August 1, 1842; the old journal and letters of the Rev. W. E. Franklin, first rector of the parish who was installed Jan. 19, 1845, as well as the mallet used by Bishop Alfred Lee, the first bishop of Delaware, at the church corner stone laying on August 24, 1843.

CENTENARY DINNER THURSDAY

Honoring Anniversary Of St. Thomas

In connection with the centenary celebration of the founding of St. Thomas parish, formal observance of which will take place in the church on Sunday, a centennial dinner will be held next Thursday.

Due to the fact that the parish house has been turned into a sector dressing station for the duration, scene of the dinner will be the Newark Methodist Church dining hall, use of which has been granted the centennial committee by the Methodist Church authorities.

Another opportunity to inspect the relics and original documents connected with the parish history, which will be exhibited previously in the parish house on Sunday, will be given at the dinner. Dr. Walter Hüllihen, junior warden, will read extracts from the church records.

Members on the committee in charge of the dinner are: Mrs. J. F. Daugherty, Mrs. R. O. Bausman, and Mrs. C. Frank Powell.

Food Bank

bring their contributions of canned foods to the Newark New Century Club, on Monday morning, October 5 anytime between 10:30 and 2 o'clock p. m. The Committees request that the products be labeled with the name of the person giving it. The quota requested from each person is not less than two cans, and these can be canned fruits or vegetables, fruit juices, canned milk, vacuum packed coffee, or any foods packed in glass or tin that will keep a year or more.

Mrs. Daugherty says, "It is very prudent that we should prepare for the worst that might happen. State wide plans have been carefully laid to protect the people of Delaware against action by the enemy. These preparations will not be complete, however, unless some provision is made at once to feed those who might become homeless and dependent on others in the event of an emergency evacuation."

The problem of establishing food banks at properly located points is of major importance to every man, woman and child. The donation of food for this purpose is a precaution that every family should make as its own self-defense measure.

The importance of food banks is indicated by the fact that this movement combines the indorsement and efforts of all the units that are acting on behalf of civilian defense in the State.

The Lamp In The Window

You don't see them very frequently these days, but once they were in every drugstore window, symbolic of the pharmacist's ability to serve.

The lamp in the window, filled with its colored solution, was a beacon to the distressed and afflicted.

Perhaps you've noticed the traditional lamp still hanging in our window, a sign that despite modern improvements, the principles of pharmaceutical ethics have not changed.

True to our calling, we still recognize service to the sick as our most important function.

A PAMPHLET PUBLISHED REcently outlines a system by which the reader can find a new and full life by dramatizing the little things.

The writer, a selfless soul seeking to improve humanity's lot five cents a line, advocates finding adventure in trivialities and glamour in the everyday.

Elaborating on his theory a trifle, we've developed a system, whereby even a trip to the corner store for the evening paper can become a thrill-packed adventure.

ACCORDING TO OUR METHOD,
which we anticipate will take the country by storm, everyday sidewalk incidents become scenes of high drama.
Look at things with new eyes and you get something as follows:

FIRE RAGED FOR TEN SECONDS
on Main Street completely demolishing a match tossed aside by a pedestrian after lighting a cigarette. The damage, reliable sources say, was negligible.

Scores of passersby, narrowly escaped being struck this afternoon, when two leaves fell on Main Street today, tumbling some 20 feet from a limb, where, it is reported, they had been suspended since last spring. According to an eye-witness the first leaf fell before the second.

Two fast trains, probably racing toward their destination, narrowly missed colliding last night on the B & O tracks here. Only thing preventing the accident was the fact that they were on different tracks.

AN UNIDENTIFIED STRANGER
broke in and rifled a pack of cigarettes after taking them from his pocket on a downtown street late today. It is believed in authoritative circles the cigarettes were Chesterfields.

One of the world's mightiest power plants was forced into a temporary shutdown, shortly after noon yesterday, when a small cloud passed before the sun. The action, say competent observers, was not the work of saboteurs, but merely the result of chance.

A dark stranger, clad only in a full suit of clothes, entered five houses in rapid succession on Main Street this afternoon. It is reported he was later identified as the ice man.

A SLIGHT MYSTERY DEVELOPED
here this morning, when over a dozen persons were noticed to gather on a central street corner. No reason for their action has been disclosed other than the fact they were waiting for a bus.

An elderly woman escaped without injuries today when she hurled herself off a curbstone, her body plummeting to the street, as she strove to cross before the light changed.

It is obvious what this new system will do for those burdened with routine. Life is revitalized; drama lurks at every hand. One's only problem is how to find courage enough to face the day's adventure.

SPECIALIST OFFERS TIPS ON STORING OF CLOTHES

Proper Winter
Storage Methods
Outlined By Home
Specialist

Be sure you do a good job of putting away your summer clothes for their annual "rest" this season. For careful putting away keeps them in better condition, lengthens their life span.

Miss Louise R. Whitcomb, home management specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, gives the following tips on how to store your summer clothes.

Check your dresses, coats, and jackets. Mend them if they need repair.
Try to remove any stains from washable garments before laundering. Tub washable dresses, and iron if you wish.
Put these frocks away in boxes or on hangers in protective bags. See that non-washable dresses are clean, and hang them in garment bags that will keep out the dust.

Launder washable coats or jackets before you store them. If soiled, nonwashable types need dry-cleaning. Put the garments on hangers, padded if possible, and store in protective bags.

If the garment is wool, or partly of wool, safeguard it against clothes moths and carpet beetles by putting paradichlorobenzene crystals, balls, or flakes in the pockets and a bag of these preventives over the neck of the garment.
Then seal or fold the edges of the bag so moths or beetles cannot get in.
Hang the bag in a cool closet.

If you have some wool or part-wool garments that are not soiled enough for dry-cleaning or laundering, brush them thoroughly both inside and out and air them well before storing. Store as described above.

Wash your bathing suit in warm suds, rinse and dry thoroughly, and store in a box. If it is wool or partly of wool, put moth crystals, balls, or flakes with it and either wrap the box well or seal
it. Wash and dry your bathing cap and put a little talcum powder or cornstarch inside it before storing. Put it away in a dark cool place.

CIVIL SERVICE WORKERS WANTED

Shipbuilding,
Clerical And
Printing Jobs
Now Open

The United States Civil Service Commission continues to seek inspectors of Ship Construction and Rate Clerks, and announces new examinations for Senior Bookkeeping Machine Operator and Press Assistant.

To recruit urgently needed ship inspectors, the Commission has amended Announcement 82. Under liberalized requirements, men with 4 to 6 years of appropriate electrical, mechanical, or shipbuilding experience, but without inspection experience, may qualify for assignment to the Navy Department as Senior Inspectors, $2,600 a year, Inspectors, $2,300 a year, and Associate Inspectors, $2,000 a year. No written test is given. There are no specific educational requirements, although engineering courses from recognized colleges and suitable war training courses may be substituted for part of the required experience.

Because of the continuing demand for Freight and Passenger Rate Clerks, at $2,300 and $2,600 a year, the Commission is permitting applicants to substitute resident courses in transportation from traffic schools for part of the 3-year experience requirement.
Hitherto, only courses from recognized colleges were acceptable. There is no written test.

Prospects of a stepped-up Treasury tax program have caused the Civil Service Commission to reannounce an examination for Senior Bookkeeping Machine Operator, $1,620 a year. Operators of typewriter-style bookkeeping machines who have had 1 year of suitable experience and can pass the general test may be rated eligible for numerous positions in Washington, D. C., and elsewhere. Particularly needed are Elliott Fisher flat-bed and Burroughs bookkeeping - typewriting machine operators.

Press Assistants are needed in the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., and interested applicants should file with the Commission's Washington Office not later than October 12. Press Assistants get 84 cents an hour, and may be promoted to cylinder pressmen when vacancies occur.
There is no written test; applicants with 1 year of appropriate experience may qualify.

There is no maximum age limit for any of these positions. Except in the case of Press Assistant, applications will be received until the needs of the service have been met, and must be filed with the Washington office of the Civil Service Commission. Applications are not desired from war workers unless higher skills would be utilized in a change of position. In keeping with War Manpower Commission policy, individuals engaged in production and maintenance occupations in non-ferrous metal mining and processing, and in lumbering industries in Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming, cannot be appointed in the Federal Government unless a certificate of separation from the U. S. Employment Service has been obtained by the Civil Service Commission.

Full information as to requirements,
and application forms, may be obtained from Ralph B. Kee, Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at the post office or customhouse in this city, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners
at first- and second-class post offices.

An expected attack by rebels on the Dominican Republic caused U. S. Marines to be landed there on May 26, 1916.

U. S. Marines participated in the seizure of French vessels which were carrying on belligerent operations in American waters in 1798.

Although the Yellow Jackets have taken both previous contests with Brown in their two year rivalry, the odds will be against Newark this year.
Fielding one of the lightest teams in recent school history, Coach Gillespie holds serious doubts regarding the Jackets' chances against a heavy above-par Brown team.

In their two game series, Newark took the 1940 fracas by a 13-7 score and last year scuttled Brown 6-0.

With only four veterans returning this year, many of the jacket gridders will be seeing front-line action for the first time. The squad polished off their drills this week mainly with heavy scrimmage sessions.

When the whistle sounds on Saturday, Newark's first string line will shape up with two veterans, Clifford Lee and Eugene Robinson holding down the terminal posts. Another veteran, Andrew Walp, will fill the center slot, while the only other letterman on the team is Harold Hill at right guard. Remainder of the forward wall will be manned by Lynn George and Ted Trompy, tackles; and Richard Buckingham in the other guard post.

In the backfield will be Earl Henderson at quarter, James Davis and Wayne Pollari, halfbacks, and Walter Martin, fullback.

A second team, ready for duty, will consist of: Donald Houston and Harry Morrow, or William Grey, Ends; Carl
Nelson and Oliver Suddard, tackles;
Joseph Tallucci, center; John Rothrock and Henry Hammond, guards, William Miller, Vernon Connell, Paul Teller, Robert Castell, and David Ferry, backs.
Officials will be: Huber - Penn
State; Reitzes - Delaware; and Ware - Leigh.

DATA ON RATIONING OF FARM MACHINERY

Farmers Urged To Get Information
On The County
Rationing Plan

Delaware farmers should not delay in informing themselves as to the details of the county rationing plan for farm machinery. Machinery and equipment in either Group A or Group B, must be actually delivered to the purchaser on or before midnight, October 31, 1942.

Farmers who must have new machinery and can make no other provisions to meet their production goals, are advised to contact their county Triple-A chairman or their county agricultural agent immediately for complete details.

Group A includes combines, corn pickers, disk harrows, feed grinders, grain drills, hay balers, potato diggers, lime and manure spreaders, milk coolers, milking machines, pickup balers, shredders and tractors.

Group B includes items somewhat less scarce and may only be sold upon certification by the farmer that it is especially needed to meet current agricultural needs.

The Delaware Agricultural Extension Service also advises farmers to place their farm equipment now on hand in good shape. Make it a point this year to check your machinery during the fall or early winter, and order all needed parts.

Many farmers know by the end of the season some of the damage their machines have undergone. However, a mere check-up is not enough. Every machine part, carefully inspected, the condition noted, and the need for repair or replacement determined will go a long way in prolonging the life of the machine. In many cases the machine repaired last year will have to undergo another check-up to see what is needed in the way of repair for next season's work.

The conditioning work should proceed in a systematic manner. To insure timeliness the machines should be repaired in the order that they are required for field use. In ordering parts, give make and model or year of machine, the name or description of the part and part number.

New Air Raid Siren Used In Black-Out Alarm

The seven and one-half horse-power siren purchased by Town Council, to be used as an air raid alarm, was installed this week on Dallow Road, near the water tower at the top of Quality Hill. Tests conducted after the installation were not completely satisfactory but, officials think, the difficulties will be overcome by placing a metal sounding board at the base of the siren.

Such a sounding board would tend to reflect the reverberations and increase the volume of sound considerably.
Installed on a 40 foot pole by Town Electrician Joshua Wood, the siren was used in the dusk to midnight alarm last evening in conjunction with local mill whistles.

The siren is manually operated at the present although remote controls have been purchased. The remote system will be installed just as soon as telephone engineers are available for this service.

Price Ceilings Known
In Revolutionary Era

Price ceilings, considered an innovation of the present war, were in effect before the Revolutionary War.

Henry B. Weaver, retired pharmacist, was searching through some old family papers when he came across a card bearing notes taken by an ancestor at a provincial convention held in Philadelphia on Jan. 23, 1775.

The notes, apparently the report of legislation introduced at the convention, read:

"That if the manufacturer or vender of goods or merchandise in this province shall take advantage of the necessities of his country, by selling his goods or merchandise at an unusual and excessive price, he shall be considered an enemy to his country and shall be advised as such by the committee of the place where such offender dwells."

field County Hunt Club were open this week to defense workers.

For a nominal fee, defense workers in the nearby war center at Bridgeport were invited to visit the club and ride available.

Chester Laroche, millionaire president of the hunt club whose members pay annual dues of $1,000 each, said:
"We feel it's the patriotic thing to do."

Betting Commissioner James J. Con-

In other words, the Yankees are approximately 2 to 1 favorites.

On the first game, the price was Ernie Bonham on the mound and 5 against the Cardinals winning with Mort Cooper pitching.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE ANNOUNCED

Miss Emily P. Bissell, the originator of the first Christmas Seal sale in 1907 and president of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society will be chairman of the thirty-sixth annual seal sale for tuberculosis funds in Delaware. Miss Bissell will be assisted by G. Taggart Evans, Executive Secretary of the Society. The campaign will get under way on Monday, November 23, and continue until Christmas.

"Every effort must be made to have the coming Seal Sale the most successful ever held in Delaware," continued Miss Bissell. "The Society will need additional funds during 1943 in order to carry out the expanded program now planned to keep tuberculosis under control during wartime."

Anti-Tuberculosis activities which are supported in Delaware by purchasers of Christmas Seals each year include—Tuberculin Testing, X-rays, Fluoroscopies, Health Education, Rehabilitation, Medical Research, Nursing Service for indigent patients, and the maintenance of Sunnybrook Cottage which is Delaware's preventorium for children from tuberculous homes.

Sheriff Elias E. Othson

The taxpayers of New Castle County at this time need capable and fearless members of the Levy Court.

The Levy Court has in its hands the duty of fixing the yearly tax rate and has exclusive charge of the expenditure of the taxpayer's money, paid by them with the exception that the same will be expended for the good of the entire county and not for a few favored communities.

Elias E. Othson of Mill Creek Hundred, is a candidate for Levy Court Commissioner on the Democratic ticket and he is pledged, if elected, to do his utmost to have the business of the Levy Court conducted in a business-like way. He is well suited for the office, has been a successful farmer and is now ending his term as Sheriff of this county, which office he has filled with ability and to the satisfaction of the public.

How To Rear... BETTER BROILERS

1. Get stock that has been bred for livability, quick growth and good feathering.
2. Have roomy, well-ventilated houses and keep them clean.
3. Feed a good feed rich in the nutrients that promote health, quick growth and good color.

MANY million broilers have been produced profitably on Southern States mash. Commercial growers get best results with new Southern States Broiler Mash which produces the golden skin and shank color required by the top price markets. When broilers are produced as a sideline, Southern States Starting and Growing Mash does a fine job until the cockerels are separated from the pullets. Then birds should be switched to New Broiler Mash. Drop in and get a supply of these better feeds.
