New Dorm, Education Building Honor Dickinson, Judge Hall

University of Delaware Trustees Name New Complex, Education Building For Hero Of Revolutionary War; Judge and Father Of Delaware Public School System

Trustees of the University of Delaware in their semi-annual meeting last Saturday, named two of the new buildings on campus; agreed to continue with construction of another residence complex, and confirmed a number of new degree programs approved by the faculty.

The new west campus dormitory complex, known as the 1968-69 Dorms, was named for John Dickinson, hero of the American Revolution, and the new education building was named for Judge Willard E. Hall, known as the father of the public school system in Delaware.

Official names for the two structures will be the John Dickinson Residence Hall Complex and the Willard E. Hall Education Building. The education building also houses the college of nursing.

Penman Of Revolution
Dickinson, a citizen of Delaware, was known as "The Penman of the Revolution." A delegate to the Continental Congress of 1776, his brilliant legal mind and eloquence were an outstanding contribution to the establishment of the American nation. After the Constitution was drawn up, he wrote letters and pamphlets campaigning adoption by the states.

Hall, a lawyer and Congressman and judge of the U.S. District Court for 48 years, was active for support of education in Delaware. All of his adult life. He conducted county educational conventions, served as superintendent of schools in New Castle County, organized the schools of Wilmington and headed the city board of education from 1852 to 1870.

Trustees also authorized the university to proceed with construction of the $11-million 1970 residence hall complex on the north campus.

New Degree Programs
In the academic area, trustees approved programs leading to a bachelor of music degree, a bachelor of science degree in graphic and advertising design, and a doctor of philosophy degrees in plant and animal science.

Trustees voted to permit students receiving financial aid through the university to reside in housing of university-recognized social fraternities.

Three From State Win 4-H Congress Honors In Chicago

Laura DeHoff, Elizabeth Smith Of Hockessin, Named Alternate Winners

Three Delaware 4-H members have achieved recognition at the 47th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, according to State 4-H Leader James O. Baker.

Eighteen-year-old Lee Mesley of Houston, has been named one of six national winners in the 4-H poultry program.

For his national effort, Lee will receive a $500 educational scholarship donated by Heislert and Nelson Farms, Inc.

Laura DeHoff, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George DeHoff, Hockessin, has been named alternate winner in the national dress review program.

Miss DeHoff, active in 4-H for eight years, modeled a deep blue velvet full-length dress with contrasting ice blue satin sash.

A freshman at the University of Delaware, she received state honors in clothing judging in 1966 and 1967; serves as a junior 4-H leader and is former secretary of the New Castle County 4-H Junior Council.

Her trip to the National Congress is sponsored by Simplicity Pattern Co.

Seventeen-year-old Elizabeth Allison Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Newark, has been named alternate safety winner.

Miss Smith is a six-year 4-H member and has projects in food, home beautification, food preservation, clothing, safety, health and leadership. She also won county medals in safety, demonstration and Reddy Foods and has participated in county foods judging and in the state Reddy Foods Contest.

Miss Smith's trip to the National Congress is sponsored by the General Motors Corp.

Regional Art Exhibition
The 8th Regional Art Exhibition will be held at the University of Delaware, Jan. 12-19, in the Student Center Rodney Room.

The exhibition is a juried show of paintings, drawings, pastels, and sculpture submitted by artists of Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, and Delaware.

Martin Luther King Preschool Teacher Sought At Newark

Cooperative Nursery School Operated Here Since Oct. 1 Interviewing Applicants

The Martin Luther King Cooperative Preschool formed last summer, is interviewing for a qualified preschool teacher.

Operated since last Oct. 1, with Betsy Granda, one of the parents and a qualified teacher, volunteer, her services until the program is functional, the preschool plans to hire a teacher to start in January for the balance of the school year.

All persons interested in the job should call Kay Ruark, for details. The cooperative nursery school for three- and four-year-olds has a class of 15 and a waiting list.

A small group of mothers, led by Kay Ruark, met last week from 9 to 10 a.m. at St. John's AUMC church on New London Road and Cleveland Avenue.

Intent of the school is to balance enrollment between white and Negro and all levels of economic backgrounds, with graduated tuition rates.

In addition to being a cooperative preschool where parents assist with operation, contributing memberships in the cooperative are available to anyone interested in supporting this effort.

The idea for the Martin Luther King Preschool was catalyzed by the death of Dr. King.

A small group of mothers felt that some positive action had to be taken to offset increasing racial tension. The prime purpose of the preschool is to bring white and Negro parents and children together in an activity that benefits both and enables each to better understand the other.

As the preschool develops, programs are being planned for adults as well as children.

Prior to the monthly business meetings where preschool needs are discussed, time will be made available for speakers and films on subjects related to the educational activities.

At the November meeting Dr. Mary Jane Strasser from the University of Delaware discussed "How a Child Develops His Self-Concept."

Any person interested in supporting this organization can do so by contributing money, acting as a helping mother with the children, or assisting with other activities of the preschool.

Interested persons should call Corvella Hornberger of Nancy Neal.

Public School Yule Reces To Begin After Dec. 20

Dr. George V. Kirk, superintendent of the Newark special school district, has announced that the Christmas recess for all students will begin at the close of the school day on Friday, Dec. 20.

Kirk emphasized that Dec. 20 is scheduled as a full day of school in compliance with State Department of Public Instruction regulations.

Schools will reopen at their usual time on Thursday, Jan. 2.

The Administration Building at 83 East Main Street will be open throughout the Christmas recess from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. with the exception of Christmas and New Year's days.

Albert H. Jones

Jones Announces Change Of Time In Board Meeting

President of the Newark Board of Education, Albert H. Jones has announced that the monthly board meeting will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Administration Building at 83 East Main Street.

Jones noted that the 8 p.m. start time is a change from the usual practice of beginning school board meetings at 7:30.

The time change is because the building commission will receive bids at 7:30 for 16-classrooms to be added to Newark elementary schools.

Mother Of Five, Mrs. Kathleen Carter Acquires 80 New Sons At KA Fraternity

"When she's around, we act like gentlemen," say the 80 brothers of Kappa Alpha fraternity at the University of Delaware. "She" is Mrs. Kathleen Carter, mother of five, the first housemother ever for KA, and a remarkable woman who was 13 years young last Monday.

Mrs. Carter became the lady in residence at 19 Ansel Avenue four years ago. The fraternity had just been enlarged to include a dining area and kitchen, and Mrs. Carter stepped in as housemother to plan meals, supervise domestic help, and set up social events.

She makes her home at the KA in a first floor apartment which includes a living room, bedroom and bath. The brothers look to her for the ins and outs of table manners, emergency repairs with needle and thread, conversations on any number of topics, and plenty of warmth and affection.

Following the death of her husband she went to work for the nursing home of the Delaware Hospital in Wilmington. As a result of a collaboration between her son, Edward and University of Delaware assistant director of admissions Bill Baldi, Mrs. Carter was persuaded to come to the university as housemother for KA.

In one swift move, she inherited 80 — now 82 new sons within Delaware's Beta Epsilon chapter.

She arrived on campus to find the KA's remodeling program still underway. The first few months were, to say the least, challenging. The fraternity brothers adjusted to having a housemother — and Mrs. Carter found a new and larger family to care for.

No one expected her to be so dynamically active. During her tenure she has made several airplane flights with a brother who earned his pilot's license.

When the cook left and a replacement wasn't immediately available, she prepared meals for the entire fraternity.

She teaches a one-week course in etiquette to new pledges; the evening meal begins when she is properly seated in the dining room and, somehow, despite the traffic of some 80 busy undergraduate men, the KA's first floor remains wonderfully in order as a reception area for guests of the house.

This year's fraternity president Bill Fisher, describes Mrs. Carter as someone who "does a lot of guys a lot of good."

Bill Baldi, the man who brought her to the university in the first place, says she is "cultured, refined, gracious and lovely-looking."

For Kathleen Carter, who started a new family at 70; who attends football games in the rain; who rides in parades and flies in airplanes; there's too much to do to think about retiring.

Norman Dempsey Elected Master For State Grange

Past-Master Of Harmony, Corner Ketch Dairy Farmer Elected To Top State Post

Norman T. Dempsey of Corner Ketch was elected last week as master of Delaware State Grange, succeeding Wallace G. Caulk for a two-year term.

Past master of Harmony Grange on Limestone Road and a past New Castle County deputy, he has been a granger since 1934, and is a seventh degree member.

A dairy farmer, he resides on a farm at Corner Ketch.

Dempsey is a trustee of the University of Delaware, a second national committee for Agrway, a board member for Southern States Cooperative and the milk marketing committee for Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative, a 4-H Club Link member; a former member of the home advisory committee of Delaware, and a member of Ebenezer United Methodist Church.

Born on a farm along Pike Creek, he has lived at Corner Ketch since five years of age.

He is the eldest son of Mrs. Louise H. Dempsey of Corner Ketch and the late George W. Dempsey. A graduate of Newark High School, he attended Goldey Beacom College.

His wife is the former Dorothy Eastburn and they have two sons, N. Thomas, Jr., associated with Spitz Laboratories, and Rodney L. master of Harmony Grange.

Mrs. Dempsey was elected State Flora; Mrs. Edward R. Holter, lecturer; and Paul W. Mitchell was re-elected a member of the executive committee. All are Harmony members.

Harmony Grange has had four state masters — Harvey Walker, Paul W. Mitchell, W. H. Naudain, and Dempsey.

Collegiate Press Rates UD Review As "First Class"

The Review, the University of Delaware student newspaper, has received a first class rating by the Associated Collegiate Press in its biannual rating of college and university newspapers and magazines.

The Review was rated among the nation's collegiate papers published during the 1968 spring semester.

Guiding lights for the paper were Raymond S. Goldbacher of Claymont, now at Columbia University graduate school of journalism; and Shaun D. Mullen of Wilmington.

Goldbacher was editor-in-chief and Mullen was last year's managing editor.

Mullen, a senior, is serving the Review as editorial director and is on the staff of the Wilmington News-Journal.

The Review was rated second class for last year's first semester when the paper went from a weekly to a semi-weekly.

The Review fell 110 points short of the All American rating, receiving 3,990 out of a possible 4,000 points.

Nutcracker Ballet Slated As Benefit For Arts Council

The Academy of the Dance in Wilmington will present three performances of Tchaikovsky's ballet "The Nutcracker" as a special benefit for the Arts Council of Delaware at 8:00 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 20, and at 2 and 5:30 p.m. Dec. 21, in the Playhouse.

James Jamieson has done choreography after the original of Petipa and Ivanov.

Dr. Thomas S. Watson, chairman of the Arts Council said that "this benefit will finally give the Arts Council its first financial base."

Formed as a conscience organization following denial of the state committee a year ago, the council has been functioning mainly as a force for support of the arts in the state.

VFW Auxiliary Provides Needy With Thanksgiving Food Gifts

Dorothy Foster, Heads Project Providing Thanksgiving Dinners, Extra Food For Seven Needy, Local Families; Cites "Generosity Of People Of The City Of Newark"

Dorothy Foster, community service chairman for the Thomas Cooper Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars J. Allison O'Daniel Post 475, Newark, headed a project that provided Thanksgiving dinners for seven needy, local families, including 10 adults and 24 children.

"As I told the girls," Mrs. Foster said, "we always read about folks getting help at Christmas, so why don't we remember them on Thanksgiving Day?"

Ladies of Thomas Cooper Auxiliary did just that, and each of the seven families received a basket, a box and a shopping bag full of food in addition to a complete turkey dinner with pumpkin pie.

Given Go-Ahead
With the blessing of Mayor Norma B. Handloff, Kenneth A. Lambert of the Newark Area Welfare Committee, the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce, and Chief Arthur S. Hauser of the Newark Police Department, Mrs. Foster and Donna Vivod of the Auxiliary collected funds for the project from 9 in the morning until 3:30 in the afternoon several days before Thanksgiving.

"Marge Charnick and Doris Robinson helped me do all the shopping — it took us two days," Dorothy Foster said, "and Donna, Marge, and I did the packing on my living room floor."

Extra Food, Too
"They all have enough food for many days besides just Thanksgiving," Mrs. Foster continued, "and our families who received the gift baskets, cartons, and shopping bags, and we could have given more families Thanksgiving dinners. But we decided to give them food for other days."

Mrs. Foster called the churches in Newark for names of families in need, and wrote each family a letter explaining that "it was only through the generosity of the people of the City of Newark that we could make this all happen."

Schools To Offer Christmas Events Prior To Holidays

Public schools in the Newark district have scheduled Christmas programs during the next week and a half, and Hayley S. Hastings, supervisor of music, has announced the program schedule.

On Friday at 2 o'clock, the Christmas program of the Joseph M. McVey Elementary School will be held. This Sunday, two Christmas programs will be offered.

The Ogletown Junior High program featuring the show, band, and ballet, will be presented in the school auditorium at 2 p.m. and at 3 p.m. the annual Christmas program will be presented at Newark High School.

On Monday, in the cafeteria, the John R. Downes program will be presented at 9:15 a.m., and on Tuesday, the Robert S. Gallaher Elementary School will have its Christmas program at 9:30.

Three programs are scheduled for next Wednesday — at Christiansa-Salem at 9:15; and at 7:30, the Christiansa Junior High and Wilmer E. Shoe school programs will be presented.

Next Thursday at 2 p.m., the Eden School will present its program, and on Friday, Dec. 20, at 8:45 a.m., the Christiansa High School Band will present its Christmas program.

Hastings stressed that children will appreciate parents' interest, and said "Remember, in Newark you don't have to wait until American Education Week to visit your schools."

Local Witnesses Volunteer Aides With Convention

Lois Ecklin, presiding minister of Newark's Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced that many from the local congregation have been assigned positions of responsibility in the semi-annual three-day convention to be held Dec. 13-15 at Christiansa High School.

All departments are manned with volunteer workers from the Witnesses who serve as ushers, cooks, sound and stage technicians, refreshment help, cleaning and dismantling workers, painters, plumbers, electricians and convention administrators.

Some 1,800 ministers from Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey are expected and all meetings are free and open to the public.

The convention climax will be on Sunday at 3 p.m. when J. W. Pilon, district supervisor for the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society, delivers the talk "God's Way Is Love."

Wm. J. Bruchl To Speak On "Theatre In Japan"

Dr. William J. Bruchl, assistant professor of English and drama at the University of Delaware, will lead the first in a series of intramural English colloquia at 4 p.m. next Thursday in the Kirkbridge Room of the Student Center.

His topic will be "Theatre In Japan." Bruchl spent last summer in Japan on a grant from the university.

He will accompany his lecture with slides of the Japanese Kabuki Theatre.

The meetings are open to faculty and students.

11th, 12th Graders Invited On Dec. 14 To Day At College

"A Day At The University" For College-Bound Youth With Parents To Be Offered

President E. A. Trahant will welcome 11th and 12th grade high school students and their parents to the University of Delaware campus for a full day of activities this Saturday.

Sponsored by the University of Delaware, high school guidance counselors, and the Delaware Congress of Parents and Teachers, "A Day at the University" is for parents and their 11th and 12th graders who are planning to go to college or who are capable of college work but have not yet decided to go for financial or other reasons.

The objective of the day is to transmit the philosophy and general policies of the university in terms of parent and student interest.

Questions on admission requirements, student services, expenses and financial aid, and campus life will be discussed.

Special interest sessions will be held in engineering, science, business and economics, agriculture, elementary and secondary education, the humanities, home economics, the social studies, and nursing.

Visitors will have lunch in one of the dining hall cafeterias and will tour campus facilities.

Last year's day brought some 1,500 high school students to the campus. Descriptive brochures have been mailed to high school guidance counselors in all Delaware high schools, prep schools, and nearby out-of-state high schools.

A nominal registration fee covers cost of materials, morning coffee, and luncheon.

PROBABLY THE OLDEST CHILDREN'S TOY IS THE RATTLE. ONCE, AN ANCIENT GREEK PHILOSOPHER, ARCHYTA'S TOOK THE TIME TO PRAISE THEM AS AN ADMIRABLE INVENTION TO KEEP CHILDREN FROM BREAKING THINGS.

PRESIDENT THEODORE ROOSEVELT ONCE REPLIED TO THE INVENTOR OF A STUFFED BEAR THAT HE DIDN'T THINK HIS NAME WAS WORTH MUCH IN THE BEAR BUSINESS, BUT HE WAS WELCOME TO USE IT, ANYWAY... TODAY, OVER 150 MILLION 'TEDDY BEARS' HAVE BEEN SOLD!

TODAY, THE LATEST DELIGHT OF CHILDREN IS A NEW CRAYON THAT IS SPECKLED AND SPOTTED. ONE STROKE OF MILTON BRADLEY'S 'CHUNK-O' CRAYON DRAWS A LINE AS VIBRANT AS A RAINBOW.

New Technology Improving Foot Care

Foot surgery is being selected by more and more podiatrists and medical doctors for the correction of deformities such as bunions and hammer toes. Recent technological improvements have virtually eliminated the recurrences that once proved troublesome in this type of surgery.

Recently developed soft plastic foot make post-operative patients more comfortable, speed healing and enable the patient to return to wearing shoes earlier.

These plastic retainers position the corrected toes and also help eliminate much of the swelling which sometimes follows foot surgery.

The retainer, since it is capable of holding the toe in place following surgery, prevents recurrences. They are worn for periods varying from one to four months following surgery.

New drugs, particularly capsaicin, are also helping patients recover promptly from foot surgery. Enzymes help "remove the bruise" following surgery and speed return to comfortable walking.

Improved local anesthetics make it possible to perform virtually all types of foot surgery without the necessity of using general anesthetics. This is particularly important to older patients who sometimes develop complications as the result of general anesthetics.

Podiatrists today feel it is particularly important to seek the care of the bunion joint. The big toe, in these instances, is usually crowded into the second toe and the longer the bunion is present, the more the second toe and all of the small toes will be pushed toward the outer border of the shoe.

If not corrected, the big toe with the bunion deformity, may result in hammer toes and dislocations of all the smaller toes. Corns and calluses are then commonplace on the joints of these deformed toes.

Early surgery on bunion joints may prevent the necessity for later surgery on all of the smaller toes.

For additional information, write The American Podiatric Association, 3301 Sixteenth Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20016.

In Our Time

WILLIAM PENN., A YOUNG ENGLISH NOBLEMAN, TURNED QUAKER. REQUESTED OF CHARLES II THAT A 40,000 ACRE TRACT BE PAID IN THE FORM OF A LAND GRANT IN THE NEW WORLD...

THE KING WILLINGLY SIGNED A CHARTER ON MARCH 4, 1681, GRANTING THE REGION WEST OF THE DELAWARE AND ACROSS CO. PENNSYLVANIA AS FAR AS PLANTABLE, PROVIDED IT BE CALLED PENNSYLVANIA.

ON THE SHORES OF THE DELAWARE, ON JUNE 25, 1683, PENN AND FOLLOWERS FORMED A TREATY OF COMMON RESPECT WITH THE INDIANS KNOWN AS THE ONLY TREATY NEVER BROKEN... NEAR THE SITE PHILADELPHIA GREW TO BECOME THE CITY OF BROTHERLY LOVE WHERE TOLERANCE SERVED AS THE INITIATIVE FOR ITS COMMUNITY LIFE.

SO SYMBOLIC DID PENN'S EXAMPLE FOR FAIR TRADE BECOME IN AMERICAN LIFE THAT HIS FEATURES ARE STILL BEING EMBOSSED ON CIGAR BOXES OFFERING THE QUALITY OF MANLY RESPECT DESIRED IN THE EXCHANGE OF GIFTS DURING THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

Wm. R. Law Assigned Post At Local Delaware Trust

William R. Law has been named assistant branch office manager by Delaware Trust Co., and will move from Wilmington Manor to the bank's Newark location.

wore an A-line princess gown of satin with lace bell sleeves, and carried a cascade of baby carnations and roses.

Mrs. Shirley Cantrell of Louisville, Ky., sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor.

The bride, a graduate of McKean High School and the Computer Programming Institute of Delaware, is employed by Halloway Bros. Tools.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Gunning Bedford High School, is attending Goldey Beacom Junior College and is employed by Avison Corp.

Ask Dr. QUIZMEE

Dr. Quizmee, our information specialist, answers questions in this column. Complete, illustrated, 25-volume sets of Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia go this week to:

Mark Greiner who asked: "What is the world's longest mountain range?"

On land, it is the Himalaya-Karakoram which extends about 1,600 miles from the Indus River to the Brahmaputra River. Below the ocean, it is the mid-Atlantic range which extends 7,000 miles.

David Sander, for asking: "Where does the name 'Adam's Apple' come from?"

From the superstition that a piece of the forbidden fruit, picked by Eve in the Garden of Eden, stuck in Adam's throat, leaving a lump there.

Kevin Hall, whose question is: "Ostriches really bury their heads in sand when frightened?"

No, this is strictly a myth. An ostrich can run as fast as 25 miles per hour and has very powerful legs which he uses to defend himself. With that kind of equipment, who needs to hide his head?

The underdeveloped nation are in a race with time. While they struggle to catch up with modern progress, mankind's oldest enemies do their damage now.

Hunger and malnutrition kill 10,000 persons a day, maim children for life—stunt their bodies, weaken their minds. Needless diseases cripple and weaken many more. Lack of education and training doom young people and adults to a hopeless cycle of poverty.

America would not be America if we closed our hearts to human agony at home or abroad. CARE is a way to reach the needy in countries whose resources are far less than our own.

Married In Double Ring Ceremony

Mrs. Richard H. Daulton

The marriage of Miss Marian Elizabeth Lynch and Richard H. Daulton took place Saturday, Nov. 23, at 2 p.m. in Newark United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Walter Beckwith assisted by the Rev. James C. Stevens of Bear, officiating at the double ring ceremony followed by a reception at the Horseshoe Carriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Lynch, 131 Haines Street, Newark, and the bridegroom is the son of Col. and Mrs. James O. Daulton of Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Recorded by her father, the bride wore an Empire A-line gown of silk and peau-d'ange lace with jeweled neckline, short sleeves and a full detachable chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil of silk tulle was held by a cluster of matching silk and pearls, and she carried a cascade of white roses and lily.

Miss Cara Leith of Newark was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Anna Lynch and Mrs. Nancy Mahanna, sisters of the bride.

Understand Your Husband's Career Change

Business executives and workmen differ in more respects than the color of their collars. Yet at some time in their working lives both know what it's like to change jobs. And each man's wife learns how to live with—and through—her husband's career change.

For a wife it can be a catastrophic and challenging time. She can be her husband's best friend, according to Frederick Chaud, a leading executive career advisor, or, because she is so close to her husband, she can also hinder him when it comes to making a decision about his work.

Why? Because a wife is perceptive, loving and involved... a bulwark in his time of uncertainty and anxiety. For exactly the same reasons a wife is never the best person to guide a man in his career choice or change. She is simply too wrapped up in him to be able to make an unbiased decision.

Chaud should know. In the past 11 years, his company has worked with more than 35,000 men who have needed guidance in their business careers, and he knows how important it is for a wife to understand her husband's needs in his work.

When the wife comes from a home where her father stayed with his employer for many years, it is often very difficult for her to understand why her husband feels the need for change in his career.

But in today's competitive business world, change is the rule rather than the exception. And, according to Frederick Chaud, it may be time for a businessman to consider a change when:

1. He has been at a company for some four years without being promoted or given greater responsibilities and salary increases.
2. He doesn't really know why he is dissatisfied but knows he wants something better, more interesting or more challenging.

3. He has reached a situation where his promotion or progress is blocked—either by personality or seniority problems.

4. He is in conflict with his superiors or associates and unlikely to have these conflicts resolved in the near future.

5. He has made three or more job changes but still does not really feel he's found "the right track."

6. He has an opportunity for a more challenging position, with greater monetary rewards, benefits and status—providing, of course, that this opportunity exists on a realistic (as opposed to hopeful) basis.

As a wife, you'll better understand your husband's career change if you recognize that a man who is happy in his career is likely to be happier in his home life. Hence he is normally a more successful father and husband, as well as a more successful executive and businessman.

"Souper" Way to a Man's Heart

HOW TO KEEP A MAN?
This is one of the most challenging games wives play—and the oldest tried and true method is the pauper approach. This may be used at all times of the day, but the very best hour, psychologically speaking is at HIS homecoming. Make this a high spot in his day; help him put tensions behind and let him feel he is really "king of the castle and the most important guy in the world."

Help him unwind the easy chair, slipper way if you wish, but go the extra mile and plan a quick, tasty snack to have at his elbow while dinner preparations are under way. This is guaranteed to relax and soothe, and give him a positive outlook toward the evening ahead.

Furthermore, it can be whipped together in minutes—especially if you take advantage of the newest quick, pick-up idea. The "Souper-Snack." With the bounty of the canned condensed soups at your disposal, you can fit your snack right into the dinner menu plans.

Preface a hearty dinner with a light, appetizing stimulating Frisky Soup of beef broth, brightened with a slice of lemon or orange. For the lighter evening meal complement it with one of the heartier varieties—any green pea with a grating of cheese on top, or shreds of boiled ham. Or your man may take to black bean—it's just naturally virile—and especially tasty when served with a dollop of sour cream. Then there's clam chowder, happily not limited to coast dwellers; the zesty brew is available to the most land-locked American, thanks to canned soups.

For the meat-and-potatoes man, why not dish up a steaming bowl of cream of potato soup, garnished with salted curls or chips. Whatever the variety, be imaginative in how you serve it. Use attractive pottery bowls, or, must, colorful napkins, and accompany with interesting nibblers. You'll have a husband whose HOME is his SOUPER-HAVEN.

FRISKY SOUP
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed beef broth
1 can water
2 to 3 tablespoons orange or lemon juice
1/2 cup chives
In container with leak-proof lid, combine ingredients. Cover and shake well. Serve in chilled glasses. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

BEAUTY AND THE POLE

Since wood is one of the most workable design materials, it was only a matter of time before the old "cross-trees" look gave way to some high wire happenings!

Noted industrial designer Henry Dreyfuss came up with the "Sunburst" pole design, popular in Southern California—the top spars that carry the wires flare out like the sun's rays.

In the Detroit area, a new line of riser-two laminated wood members aesthetically separated to provide a "see-through" effect—digging in is a favorite.

Streamlined poles in colors that blend best with natural or residential landscapes have found a warm reception in Florida.

Round or square, more and more utility poles will be carrying their 90% share of the nation's electricity through new high-capacity wires that cut down on pole-top clutter. By 1975, it is estimated that half of the nation's millions of utility poles will be delivering high-power in high-style!

HAVE YOUR FORESTS AND USE THEM TOO

Scientific forest management enables the lumber industry to aid conservation and supply the nation's wood needs. Chemical preservation of wood utility poles, supporting wires on which trillions of kilowatt hours of electricity travel yearly, also helps preserve our forests. American Wood Preservers Institute members follow rigid quality standards for treating wood poles with preservatives.

These poles last 35 years—five times longer than they would otherwise. If the same 6 million poles produced annually weren't treated, replacing them seven times during this period would require 36 million additional trees. A tree takes 30 years to grow tall enough for use as utility pole. With chemical preservation, by the time this year's poles are replaced, the new trees will be more than ready.

BLUE HEN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

Undeclared in 33 straight games, Coach Bob Hoffman's Newark High School Yellowjackets won the Blue Hen Conference A-Flight championship again this year, thanks to a dedicated football coach and his staff; a courageous, hard-working, inspired group of boys; and the support of parents, school administrators, and Newark sports fans.

Few jobs exact more from a man than that of head football coach for a high school. Far more so than a pro or college mentor, he is close to the public and subject to harassment by second guessers and proud, putting parents, and he puts in long, long hours on the practice field after a normal day's work is done.

His job requires an expert exponent of discipline, inspirational leadership, tirelessness, a wealth of football knowledge and how to impart it; warmth, humor and a very great love of the game and its development of fine young men.

Bob Hoffman is eminently qualified as a great football coach, and Newark is fortunate to have him.

Those championships and 33 wins were attained the hard way with each team pointing for the Yellowjackets!

And Newark may well be proud of those many boys — from All-State Gary Hayman, Pedro Swann and Bob Tucker, down to the small sophomores who labor long and hard with little glory during the late afternoons in scrimmages from August until near December — for their courage, determination, sportsmanship and manliness.

It's so much easier not to coach or play football.

Letters to Santa Claus

On their way to Santa Claus, some few of the many letters written by Newark's little folks to their Christmas friend, are routed through the Newark Post by Acting Postmaster Ott W. Wildgoose and Santa's other aides at the U.S. Post Office in Newark. And here are a few samples of what Santa's young friends are writing.

Dear Santa Claus: I would like to have a 5-speed bike and hot wheels and a film projector, midget toys, crane digger game, baseball and football suit with the football and Green Ghost. And that's all.

Easy maintenance and repair. Greater economy. Improved street safety and more neighborhood security.

These are just some of the benefits a community gains by having an overhead power system. Because wires are carried on poles, they are easily reached in case of a power emergency. Replacement of utility poles with an underground electrical system could raise electric bill by fifty percent.

A recent survey by Princeton University showed that the public is most concerned with cutting down juvenile delinquency — and it's a well-known fact that by adding street lights to neighborhood utility poles, delinquency and other forms of crime are substantially reduced.

Unsurprisingly, the survey showed that the vast majority of the people surveyed did not object to overhead electricity delivery — and besides, by 1975 half of the nation's power poles will feature new decorator designs.

While some members of The Jockey Club may have ridden point-to-point, or steeplechase races, they don't qualify as jockeys. Members are elected to this exclusive 76-man group on the basis of their overall contribution to Thoroughbred racing and breeding.

By the same token, not just anyone can become a member of Thoroughbred Racing Association, which is holding its 27th annual meeting in New York this week. As a matter of fact, no one can join TRA. This, equally exclusive, 55-member organization is made up not of individuals, but of race tracks. And, even assuming you own a race track, one can't just up and join. While membership is not dependent on size, beauty of architecture and grounds, pure distribution of parimutuel sales, prospective members undergo a rigorous screening; not all have been acceptable.

From TRA's youngest member, Northampton, Massachusetts's Hampshire-Franklin-Hampden Agricultural Society, (the country's oldest agricultural fair) to racing's granddame, Belmont Park, all tracks share in common a strong sense of responsibility to the sport which is today a big business. Thoroughbred racing is a self-imposed Code of Standards and backed by joint financing of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, TRA's own national investigative organization, organized and headed by Charles J. March of Dimes Gives 'Total Care' To Help Child Walk, Talk and Learn

John C. Burr of suburban Cleveland, Ohio, was understandably rattled that day five years ago when his wife, Caroline, announced, 2½ months before their first child was due, "Honey, I'm ready."

Like most men, the 29-year-old chemist had never delivered a baby. But there wasn't time to get to the hospital in St. Paul, Minn., where they were then living, so he phoned the police for help.

He also phoned the obstetrician who offered some well-chosen words of instruction just in time for John to deliver the baby, who arrived in a breech position.

For a beginner, John did an admirable job. The three-and-a-half pound baby girl, who was born with the umbilical cord wrapped around her neck, was rushed to her hospital where doctors kept her alive with the help of blood transfusions and supplemental oxygen.

Ten weeks passed before John and Caroline were able to take little Elizabeth home. For about a year, everything seemed just fine.

But the young couple began to notice that their daughter was not moving or talking like other one-year-olds. They later learned that Elizabeth had been born with a crippling birth defect.

No one knows what caused it, but the pretty, intelligent little blonde has no control over her leg muscles and has serious speech difficulties.

"Although physical therapy was prescribed for Elizabeth at 18 months," says Mrs. Burr, "it was not until she was three years old, when we moved to Cleveland, that her condition was properly diagnosed and she began to receive the kind of total care she needs."

Elizabeth was taken to the March of Dimes-financed Birth Defects Center at Cleveland Metropolitan General Hospital. There a team of medical experts began a continuing program of physical and occupational therapy, fitted the little girl with leg braces and began a program to correct her speech difficulties.

Elizabeth visits the hospital three mornings a week. There she is learning to sit straight, pronounce words properly and walk. As they do with other patients, the doctors observe Elizabeth's ability to learn and try to determine how she can best be educated.

"Many patients may have a great deal more potential for learning and achievement than is generally recognized," says Dr. Irwin A. Schaffer, director of the Birth Defects Center. "If assessment is inadequate, these children could be functionally handicapped all their lives and become a burden on the community."

In our comprehensive care program, these children can be adequately assessed. Our staff can look at these children neurologically, medically and psychologically over extended periods of time and recommend the kind of educational programs they will need."

Lucy Reynolds, 62 Dies At Residence After Long Illness

Mrs. Lucy Cecilia Dodds Reynolds, 62, of 801 Salem Church Road, Newark, died last Thursday at her home after a long illness. She was the widow of Robert Hoderick Reynolds, who died in April.

Mrs. Reynolds, a native of Chester Pa., was a member of Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church in Wilmington Manor.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mary L. Gould of Kirkwood and Mrs. Anna D. Wallace of Glendale; a son, Robert H. Reynolds of Rambleton Acres; a stepson, Robert K. Reynolds of Newark; six grandchildren; two brothers, Charles and Joseph Dodds, both of Chester; and four sisters, Mrs. Isabella Godshalk of Elmer, N.J., and Mrs. Jennie Winn, Mrs. Louisa Jardine and Mrs. Mary O'Neill, all of Chester.

Requiem mass was offered Monday morning in Our Lady of Fatima Church.

Interment was in Gracelawn Memorial Park.

CAR CARE

TODAY'S CARS HAVE MORE POWER-AND MORE PARTS (COME 15,000)-THAN EVER BEFORE.

FOR PROPER PERFORMANCE, REGULAR MAINTENANCE IS A MUST—MOST SERVICE STATIONS ARE NOW ELIGIBLE TO DO WORK REQUIRED BY MANUFACTURER'S WARRANTIES.

DO YOUR CAR—AND YOURSELF—A FAVOR: FOR SAFETY AND TOP PERFORMANCE, HAVE AN AUTO CHECKUP REGULARLY.

It's In The Cards!

The first paper money ever issued in America consisted of IOU notes written on the backs of playing cards in 1685 by Jacques de Meulles, French governor in Quebec.

The center pip on the spade ace is always much larger than the other three aces. This dates back to 1615 in England when the tax collector indicated the tax on a pack had been paid by drawing swirls on the simple spade design.

This increased its size to what it is today.

Twenty-One or Black Jack was first played during the California gold rush. During World War I, the game was so popular in the trenches it won the now famous title "the old Army game."

YOUNG MEN, HAVE YOU HEARD?

THE U.S. MARINE CORPS HAS NEW ENLISTMENT TERMS

The Marine Corps has modified its length of enlistments to meet an authorized 30,000 increase in personnel strength. This new expansion makes possible a two-year active duty assignment for a limited number of volunteers.

Now you can be an "active-duty Reservist." It works this way: you volunteer as a Reservist, serve only two years on active duty and then revert to an inactive Reserve status. Three and four year enlistments are also available.

Maybe you've thought you couldn't "make the grade" as a Marine. Well, 95 percent of the men who enlist do make it because they respond to the fine training and the exceptional spirit of the Corps.

You'll be proud to say: "I am a Marine."

Joseph McGee, 92 Dies At Newark Nursing Home

Joseph McGee, 92, of Elkton died Dec. 4, at Newark Manor Nursing Home after a long illness.

Born in Ireland, he moved to this country 30 years ago. His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth McGee died in 1942.

Mr. McGee was a 32d degree Mason and a member of DuPont Lodge 25, AF&AM.

He retired in 1963 as a gardener. He is survived by two grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. Services were conducted Saturday morning at the Robert T. Jones & Son Funeral Home, Newark, with interment in Riverview Cemetery, Wilmington.

Gerald Brunner, Delegate At West Point Conference

Gerald F. Brunner, son of H. Richard Brunner of 719 Harvard Lane, Newark, was one of the delegates participating in the 20th Annual Student Conference on United States Affairs at the U.S. Military Academy, Dec. 4-7.

The academy has sponsored the conference since 1949 to foster understanding among potential civilian and military leaders.

Brunner, 21, a senior at the University of Delaware, participated in panel and round table discussions on the "Challenges of Change," topic of this year's conference.

Jay Dee Contractors, Inc. Get Indian River Contract

The State Park Commission has awarded a $150,000 contract for a sewage treatment plant scheduled for completion about May 1 at Indian River Inlet.

The contract went to Jay Dee Contractors, Inc., of Newark, low bidder with $168,157 in five bids received.

The commission lowered the price to $149,950 by deleting certain equipment and water lines which can be added.

The plant will be on the south side of the inlet, serving a beach bathhouse and a 250-bed campground in addition to other state park facilities south of the inlet.

Mail your question to Dr. Quizmee in care of this newspaper.

This week, the encyclopedia sets were won by Mrs. Kenneth Canavan whose son, Timothy, wants to know:

"What is a gamma ray?"

Gamma rays are one of the components of radioactive radiation. Unlike the alpha particles, which are positively charged, and the beta particles, which are negatively charged, gamma rays are uncharged. Gamma rays consist of electromagnetic radiation, similar to X-rays but of considerably greater energy.

Will Collins, for asking:

"What is the oldest known breed of dog?"

There's evidence that men kept dogs in prehistoric times. The oldest known breed is the saluki or Arabian gazelle hound which has been pure-bred for 4,000 years. Salukis have been clocked at speeds up to 45 miles per hour.

Roberta Black, who is curious about:

"What are the lowest and highest zip code numbers?"

The lowest is 00601, assigned to Adjuntas, San Juan, Puerto Rico. The highest is 99950, assigned to Ketchikan, Alaska.

EPILEPSY, ETV TOPIC

"If there's one God, why are there so many religions?"

That's a question that has plagued thoughtful people for centuries. Religions often have seemed to divide men rather than join them—which could hardly be God's will. In our time, so full of wonders, we're witnessing what may be the greatest wonder of all: the growing force of inter-faith understanding. It seems to promise a fuller flowering of God's hopes for man. You and me. Great new things are happening in churches and synagogues these days. But find out for yourself. This week. Then take your strengthened faith out into the world—and put it to work.

Oklahomans Nominate 'Favorite Son' As National March of Dimes Child

Tracy Greenwood, March of Dimes Foster Child for 1969, sounds much like any other 5-year-old boy. He puts on a cowboy hat when he climbs up on his father's tractor at their home in Oklahoma. He wrestles with his older brother, Jamie, and takes care of his menagerie of pets.

None of this is easy for Tracy. Born with an open spine and hydrocephalus (water on the brain), the handsome, impish youngster is encumbered by full leg braces and wooden crutches. Yet, as any visitor to the Greenwood's neat home in Vinita can see, Tracy has conquered the heavy equipment with humor, determination and the constant encouragement of his family.

Doctors were pessimistic about his chances for survival when Tracy was born. They feared permanent brain damage if he lived and doubted whether he would walk at all. At 3 months, he was taken to Children's Memorial Hospital in Oklahoma City where the March of Dimes supports a Birth Defects Center, and has undergone major surgery five times.

For Tracy, the March of Dimes program of comprehensive care consists of regular checkups by an orthopedist, neurologist, urologist, and physical therapist. His mother helps him with daily exercises at home.

Today, he is a symbol of the quarter of a million babies born every year in the United States with birth defects. As National Foster Child, he will represent them in cities and towns across the country during January for the annual fund-raising appeal by the March of Dimes.

The voluntary health agency is now in its second decade of leading the fight to prevent birth defects. In this period, it has established a nationwide network of 103 birth defects centers where outstanding teams of medical professionals search for the causes of these tragedies and provide the most modern treatment and rehabilitation.

Tracy Greenwood is an example of the progress they are making. His pretty young mother, Betty, says, "We wouldn't have Tracy today if it weren't for March of Dimes research. They came up with the answers needed for our son and children like him."

GETTING IN SHAPE for his January travels as 1969 March of Dimes Foster Child, Tracy Greenwood, 5, of Vinita, Okla., exercises legs crippled by a birth defect. Supervising is physical therapist Don Schneider, March of Dimes Birth Defects Center, Children's Memorial Hospital, Oklahoma City.

Although he has been singled out for national attention, he is still called "Hound Dog" at home. Bright, happy and well-adjusted, his full day begins at 7 a.m. He spends as much time as possible playing outdoors with his brother, Jamie, who is 7 and in normal health.

Tracy is developing extra strength in his upper body as a result of his exercises. He puts this advantage to work during wrestling matches with Jamie and proudly announces the news when he "gets" his brother.

Tracy is an avid television fan whose tastes run to cartoons. His favorite books are animal stories and he lavishes attention on his rabbits, Hoppy and Freckles, his cat, Prissy, a Welsh Terrier named Susie, and Puff, a German Shepherd. The Greenwoods drew the notice of fellow "Sooners" after local news stories appeared about the tragedies they had faced and overcome. Mr. Greenwood suffered near-fatal injuries three years ago when the gasoline truck he was driving exploded. Betty Greenwood carried on courageously and has been rewarded by the excellent progress that both her husband and son are making.

As a result, the March of Dimes was bombarded with petitions on Tracy's behalf from thousands of Oklahomans, including U. S. Congressman Carl Albert (D, Okla.), House Majority Leader.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley

HYGIENE FOR YOUR EYES
It is very important that the eyes be kept free of objects or diseases that can cause infections. Nature has provided us with a built-in safeguard, in this regard, by the manufacture of tears. Because of them, and their excellent antiseptic qualities, we do not have as many infections as one would think.

Tears are the product of many glands. There are tear glands at the upper, outer corner of the eye underneath the eyelids. These glands lead to the surface. There are also tear glands in the upper and lower eyelids. The tears of the eye are a combined effort of all these glands. And yet, only about a teaspoon a day is manufactured and dispersed onto the surface of the eye.

Besides helping to prevent eye infections tears prevent the eye from drying. Tears are sticky and viscous and this keeps them from flowing over the lid.

As well as observing the rules of strict cleanliness of the eyes, the National Eye Research Foundation urges us to follow other basic, common sense practices in relation to the eye. Avoid dangerous games with arrows and darts. If you are employed where safety goggles are used, don't take chances—use them. Since eyes give us no warning, as a rule, that something is wrong, it is a good idea to have them examined every six months.

CLAUS-TROPHOBIA

What is Claus-trophobia? It's the special weary feeling that affects dedicated gift-buyers (Santa Clauses)... right in the middle of their Christmas shopping. Symptoms: very, very tired feet—the result of over-burdening. Suggested remedy: do some of your shopping by phone. Take a load off those feet.

AND SPEAKING OF SANTA... here's a Santa-type suggestion: an extension phone, in color, to please some nice person in your family. A step-saver, a time-saver... a sure-fire hit-maker. Try it, Kris Kringle. Just call our Business Office or ask any telephone man.

LITTLE MISTAKES... A little mistake can connect you with Los Angeles instead of New York. The area code to New York is 212, while the area code to L.A. is 213. If you make a mistake like this, or for any reason get a wrong number while calling Long Distance, please call your operator right away. She'll see that the charge doesn't appear on your bill. Incidentally, before you make an out-of-town call, it's a good idea to check the Pink Pages of your telephone book. You'll find helpful information on how to reach any place you wish to call.

FAMILY SPECIAL... now you have bonus rates for Long Distance calls every weekend, so he who has yen for a Christmas telephone visit with family or friends can save yen...without getting caught in a last minute rush. (Old telephone proverb.)

Dobroski, Hayman, Swann, Tucker Named 1st Team All-Staters; S. Stengari, 2nd

End Gary Hayman, Halfback Pedro Swann and Quarterback Bob Tucker from Coach Bob Hoffman's undefeated 1968 Yellowjackets with a 33-game winning streak, have been named to the 21st annual Delaware All-State Scholastic Football team selected by the Wilmington Sports Writers and Broadcasters Association, and Center Steve Stengari was named to the second All-State eleven.

Swann and Tucker were first team All-Staters last year, while Hayman was named to the second team in 1967.

Another Newark area boy, Chuck Dobroski of Brookside, was named as first team All-State back from Salesianum.

Dobroski, Capt. Kevin Heilly, and Center Charley Marioni and Mike Webb, earned All-State honors for Salesianum, raising that school's all-time All-State roster to 47, tops in the state.

Newark has the longest football winning streak in Delaware — 32 games. The Yellowjackets, who have placed 31 players on the all-time All-State roster, have won the last four Blue Hen Conference Flight A titles.

Along with Tucker and Swann, the other regular from the 1967 team is Middletown Guard Al Stoklos. Like Hayman, Salter back Webb made the second unit last season.

ALL-STATE REPEATER
Certainly End Gary Hayman and Halfback Pedro Swann deserve the Newark Touchdown Club and Mayor's Brothers trophies as players contributing most to team morale and as most valuable for the Yellowjackets at last week's Touchdown Club.

But there should have been a special trophy for All-State Quarterback Bob Tucker, a repeater on this year's team selected by the WSBA, and a star athlete well qualified for either of the trophies received by his teammates.

Congratulations to all three of Newark's All-Staters, and to Steve Stengari as second team All-State center.

Bob Tucker Named State's Top Star At Annual Banquet

Quarterback Bob Tucker was named the outstanding scholastic football player in the state — radio station WNRK version — and Steve Stengari was named most improved senior at last Monday night's annual awards banquet for Newark High School's Yellowjackets.

More than 200 persons attended the affair sponsored by the Newark High Booster Club in the Aetna Fire Hall on Ogletown road.

Dan Casey, WNRK sportscaster, presented the award for All-State Tucker to Principal Frederick B. Kutz.

Casey explained that 22 coaches throughout the state participated in the voting and that the award which he initiated two years ago, would be conducted by a state-wide organization commencing next year.

Coach Bob Hoffman, whose Yellowjackets extended their winning streak to 33 this season, awarded Tucker letters to 19 seniors, seven juniors and two sophomores.

Receiving special recognition were Newark's tri-captain — all seniors and all first-team All-State selections — Tucker, Halfback Pedro Swann and End Gary Hayman. Sports writer Matt "Big Z" Zabitzki of the News-Journal was a guest speaker, and Jerry Webb, University of Delaware, was toastmaster.

Hayman, Kelley With 8 Blue Hens On All-MAC Team

Newark High School athletes Conway Hayman and Dick Kelley, a pair of sophomores on this year's Delaware Middle Atlantic Conference champion and Lambert Cup winning team, are among eight Blue Hens named to the 26-man All-MAC university division football squad selected by conference coaches.

Hayman, a guard, and Kelley, a halfback, along with Tackle Yancy Phillips, Guard Hank Vollendorf, and Fullback Chuck Hall, were named to the All-MAC offensive unit, while on the defensive team, End Pete Capellus, interior line-man, End Jim Seebach and Linebacker John Favero.

Tackle Joe Stetler and Joe Purzycki, back, received honorable mention for offense and defense, respectively.

Bucknell Quarterback Sam Havrilak was named the most valuable player in the Middle Atlantic Conference for the second straight year. Champion Delaware, which swept through five conference games with out a loss, led the way with eight players on the first team offensively or defensively. Lafayette was second with six.

Havrilak and Delaware Guard Hank Vollendorf were the only repeaters from last year.

Globetrotters 6-1 Average Per Man Play Here Monday

A nine-player squad averaging 6-4 to the man will represent the Harlem Globetrotters in their 6 o'clock basketball stand with the Washington Generals at the University of Delaware's Fieldhouse next Monday night.

Four novelty acts will comprise the variety floor show presented at intermission.

Shortest man on the Trotters' is new player-coach Leon Hillard, a veteran forward and a dribbling and ball-handling specialist.

Next in line is Fred Neal, 6'1" veteran forward, who will alternate with Hillard in dribbling and ball-handling showmanship.

Skyscraper of the lot is Frank Stephens, 6'10 center, while Ernest Brock, a 6'4 center and newcomer, also stands tall.

Other kind-sized Globetrotters are Mel Davis, 6-5 and forward; Nate Branch, 6-4 forward; Bob Hunter, 6-4 pivot man; Bobby Joe Mason, 6-3 forward; and Meadowlark Lemon, 6-2 pivot man and his team's Clown Prince.

All seats for the pre-holiday spectacular are reserved and on sale at the Student Center.

NHS Athlete Joe Brothers Gets College Faculty Post

Joseph A. Brothers, former star athlete at Newark High, has been appointed to the faculty of Delaware Technical and Community College, northern branch, in the mathematics department with special responsibility for business technical math.

Brothers received a bachelor of science degree from Lehigh in 1967, and is enrolled in the master's degree program in business administration at the University of Delaware.

He taught last year in the Wilmington public school system and resides in Newark at 85 East Park Place.

Meadowlark — Real First Name — Lemon Clown Prince For Harlem Globetrotters

Merry Meadowlark Lemon, versatile 6-2 pivot man with the fantastic 32-in. arm-spread, remains the official Clown Prince of the Harlem Globetrotters.

Meadowlark — and that's actually his first name — will be a key man of the Trotters' nine-man squad when they oppose the Washington Generals in the 8 o'clock basketball end of a sports and entertainment doubleheader at the University of Delaware's Fieldhouse next Monday night.

Lemon, now in his 14th consecutive season with the Globetrotters, is both a scoring and rebounding sensation whose tremendous reach enables him to outjump taller opponents.

He stops the show with his comedy capers as the game's score permits and often surprises his teammates as he ad libs many of his routines.

"He's the greatest showman of them all and he's getting better all the time," says Leon Hillard the Trotters' new player-coach.

"Meadow has thrilled millions of eye-witnesses and television viewers with his comedy, and his skills and is internationally famed as a competitor and entertainer."

Billy's Matmen Score Four Pins To Win Opener

Coach Paul Billy's Delaware matmen collected four pins and two decisions to defeat Haverford 3-0 Saturday in the opening wrestling match for both schools at Delaware's Fieldhouse.

Marty Weikert, defending Middle Atlantic Conference heavyweight champion, pinned Spencer Hint in 3:36 while Jim Burns put Phil Taylor down at 4:30 of their 145-pound match.

Tom Leonard stopped Ed Runkel in 4:01 at 160 and Dick Morris pinned Chris Colvin in 4:24 at 167.

The Hens host Bucknell in Saturday and freshmen matches this Saturday beginning at 1 p.m., and Billy's battlers conclude their wrestling until after Christmas when they vary faces Glasboro next Tuesday, away at 6:30 p.m.

Mare Samonisky Elected Delaware Captain Of Soccer

Mare Samonisky, who missed most of the 1968 soccer season because of an injury, has been elected captain of the Delaware Souters for 1969.

Samonisky, a junior fullback from Wilmington, suffered a compound dislocation of the right ankle in the Hens' fifth game of the year and missed the rest of the season.

"Mare was an inspiration to the rest of the players on the team," Blue Hen coach Loren Kline says. "He kept coming to practice and didn't miss a game after his injury. He was typical of the spirit that enabled us to have such a fine season."

The Blue Hens rolled to the first season in Delaware history with a 10-1 record and second place in the Middle Atlantic Conference Southern Division.

Delaware also earned a spot in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament, losing to Temple in the fourth overtime period of a first round game.

Kline's kickers set a bundle of new school records along the way. Goalie John Dusewicz, one of this year's co-captains, set a record with nine shutouts and sophomore center forward Mike Biggs set an individual scoring mark with 17 goals.

The Blue Hens also set team records for most shutouts, nine; most victories, 10; and most goals scored, 34.

Kline takes pride in the fact that most of the key men on his record-breaking team are products of Delaware high schools. Ten of 14 lettermen are from New Castle County.

"It is important to note that we have been able to win with Delaware players," Kline says. "It is apparent that Delaware soccer has come a long way."

All-State Soccer Honors Awarded Cerroni, Starhein

Co-Capt. Chris Cerroni, halfback, and Per Starhein, a forward for Coach Tom Comer's Yellowjacket soccer varsity this season, have been named to the All-State squad announced at the Delaware Soccer Officials' Association banquet last Monday night at the local Howard Johnson Motor Lodge.

Starhein is a 17-year-old exchange student from Norway, was the league scorer for Comer's Yellowjackets.

Forward Ken O'Donnell and Fullback Ken Pyle of Coach Isaac Mapp's Christiana Vikings were named to the All-State second team, and Newark's Bill Webber received honorable mention.

Hong Kong Flu, Penn Defeat Hens After Three Wins

After three straight wins over West Chester, Lafayette and Lehigh, Delaware's Flight B Blue Hens were flattened in succession by the Hong Kong Flu and the University of Pennsylvania.

With top scorers Steve Jackson and Loren Pratt out of action because of illness, Coach Dan Peterson tried slowdown basketball strategy last night at the Palestra in an effort to upset hale and hearty Penn.

It didn't work and Penn jumped off to a 24-12 lead before Delaware made its first field goal — and the Quakers romped to a 58-39 triumph, before 1,500.

"We were playing to the perfect shot," Peterson said. "Not just any shot from close in, but a perfect shot that would have given us a lead at the start. Who knows what would have happened then."

Peterson scrapped his "work-for-the-goal-shot" plan. It just wasn't working out.

"I told the boys to go back to their normal offense," Peterson said. "I've second-guessing myself now for not starting off the game easy. Once we started to shoot again we did all right."

Jim Couch, who was supposed to be bedded down with the Hong Kong plague, came into the lineup and it was Couch who hit the first Hen field goal with a jumper at the 4:33 mark. He added another before intermission and nine points in the second half as Delaware's top scorer with 13.

Peterson's passers lost Rutgers this Saturday, with Coach Don Harnum's Chicks meeting the Scarlet from 6 p.m., and Delaware plays at Bucknell next Wednesday night at 6:15.

Dennis Carey Sets Freestyle Record As Hens Win 2nd

Philadelphia — Delaware's Dennis Carey set a school record in the 1,000-yard freestyle as Coach Harry Rawstrom's Blue Hens won their second swimming meet here last Tuesday night by defeating 30 Joplin's 67-45.

Carey was timed in 11:39.3, breaking the mark of 12:05 set by Geoff Coleman last year. Ironically, Coleman was third in his Delaware record-setting.

The 1,000 freestyle was one of two victories for Carey. He also took the 500 freestyle in 3:41.6.

Carey's double winners for unbeaten Delaware were David Bent, who took both diving events, and Jack McDermott, who won the 50 freestyle in 52.5.

Delaware's next meet will be this Saturday at Carpenter Sports Building against Bucknell with the frosh swimming at 2 p.m.

Next Wednesday, the Hens face West Chester away.

Coach John Favero Named To ECAC Team For Hens

Delaware Junior John Favero is the center on the Eastern College Athletic Conference's 13-man Division II football team and Blue Hen Fullback Chuck Hall was named sophomore of the year.

Favero of Paramus, N.J., was one of three Juniors named to the team.

Hall, from Solers, Pa., was the Middle Atlantic Conference's leading rusher.

A bobcat didn't stand a chance against a flier, and the marten — smaller cousin of the fisher but larger than a mink — can catch a squirrel in the treetops while flashing from limb to limb like a tongue of fire. The fisher can catch a marten. Pointed for pound, he's as tough and able as they come.

The fisher leaped on John Jackson's back, did so at a swift, a slight move by the hunter well concealed in the brush.

But John was too tough, even for a fisher.

Coach Harold Raymond's MAC Champions Face Indiana (Pa.) In Boardwalk Bowl

When the 9-0 Big Indian football team of Indiana University of Pennsylvania tackles the University of Delaware in the first Boardwalk Bowl in Atlantic City, this Saturday at 2 p.m., it will be playing a team which enjoys a rightful reputation as a small college power.

Indiana's public relations concede, although standing in with a final record of 7-3 compared to Indiana's undefeated status, Delaware completed this record against a season schedule rivaled by few other small college teams.

Victories came over Hofstra, 35-0; the University of Massachusetts by 28-25; West Chester State, 26-0; Temple 50-27; Lehigh, 37-13; Boston University, 41-13, and Bucknell, 38-12.

Winning five of their past six contests, Delaware won the Middle Atlantic Conference and Lambert Cup. Indiana will be hoping to administer a fourth loss to those dealt Delaware by Villanova, 16-0; Buffalo, 20-17, and Rutgers, 25-14. None of these three losses are what can be regarded as decisive, Indiana advises.

Their Middle Atlantic Conference championship is Delaware's fifth. Winning the Lambert Cup, emblematic of superiority among middle sized colleges in the East, makes the fourth time the Hens have acquired this honor.

Individual leaders for Delaware are Junior Quarterback Tom DiMuzio, who leads in total offense with 1596 yards, and sophomore Fullback Chuck Hall, 1019 rushing yards. Both figures stand as team records.

Not all that far behind Hall in rushing are Halfback Dick Kelley at 4419 yards on 636 plays, a 441.9 average.

Sophomore fullback Chuck Hall, who gained 1619 yards for Delaware, placed 14th nationally in individual rushing.
