COUNCIL HOLDS MONTHLY SESSION

Town Debt Liquidated; Pension System Discussed

The Newark Town Council held their regular monthly meeting in the Council rooms on Monday night with Mayor Frank Collins presiding. Councilmen at the meeting were: Charles C. Hubert, Norris N. Wright, Herman Wollaston and George E. Ramsey.

The treasurer's report showed a cash balance on hand as of November 30 of $16,571.50; receipts for the month of December were: $14,765.98; disbursements for the month of December totaled $14,483.51, leaving a cash balance on hand December 31 of $16,853.97.

Electric receipts for the month amounted to $7315.20; power receipts were $4463.79 and water rent collections were $1473.83. Property taxes amounted to $398.96.

George E. Ramsey, town supervisor reported that due to bad weather conditions during the month of December not much construction work had been done. Sanitary sewer on Ashley Street was 60 percent complete.

North Chapel Street has been repaved at Cleveland Avenue and Pennsylvania Railroad and also to the Papermill Bridge.

The town has collected two truckloads of flattened tin cans which have been dumped on Mayor Collins' lot awaiting removal to Wilmington.

Sanitary and storm sewers which have been stopped up due to heavy rains were opened up. Electricity has been supplied to George Read Village.

Four truck loads of cinders were purchased for the streets and 30 tons of sand for sanitary sewer beds.

During the month of December 15,460,000 gallons of water were pumped or a daily average of 500,000 gallons. This is an increase of 3 percent over 1942.

COUNCIL PAYS OFF TOWN DEBT

$291,500 Debt Paid In 13 Years

Mayor Frank Collins at the regular monthly meeting of the town council held on Monday night announced that the town of Newark had made the final payment on the town's notes and bonded indebtedness.

Mr. Collins stated that in 1927 an act was passed by the state legislature permitting the town to extend the corporate limits of the town and the extension of streets, water systems and lighting facilities caused so great expenditure that on March 1, 1928, the town had a bonded debt of $271,629.97. The town's annual report showed that the indebtedness had increased to $290,178.78 for the fiscal year ending March 1, 1929.

Mayor Collins was elected to office in April, 1929, and the debt increased to $291,500 for the year ending March 1, 1930. The town report for the year ending March 1, 1931 showed that the debt had been reduced to $280,000. In 1932 it was $259,000; the 1933 report showed a reduction to $246,300 and in 1934 it was further reduced to $231,600.

Figures for 1935 show a debt of $198,800; in 1936 it was cut to $158,300; in 1937 the figure showed $128,000; the 1938 figure was $110,000.

During 1939 all bonds were called in and cancelled and the two local banks jointly loaned the town $90,000 on promissory notes at 3 1/2 percent. The bonds had been paying 4, 4 1/2 and 5 percent. This made a great saving for the town in interest. In 1940 the notes were reduced to $60,000 and in 1941 to $36,000. During 1942 this figure was cut to $36,000 and the report at the first meeting of January this year finds the town clear of debt and with more than $16,000 cash balance on hand.

The above years find the town growing both in size and population and many improvements have been made. Taxes have been reduced and the minimum rate for electric current has been reduced from 8 cents per kilowatt hour to between 3 and 4 cents. It must be remembered that the mayor and members of the town council who have made this town free of debt, devote many hours of their time to serving their community with no remuneration. The only thing they receive is the satisfaction of a good job well done.

War Relief Chest Outlined At Meeting

The local committee of the Delaware War Relief Chest met at the home of Mrs. Harry L. Bonham, Amstel Avenue on Wednesday night and formulated plans for raising Newark's share of the $100,000 quota assigned to Delaware.

Frederick J. Hanley, director and Frederick Chestnut, assistant director of the campaign were the speakers at the meeting and they said that America was the only country that had been spared the "Scorched Earth". Mr. Hanley said that out of 214 organizations in the United States that had been soliciting funds there were only 12 that were permitted to do so at this time.

Mr. Hanley stated that already more than $49,000 had been received from special gifts and that the money raised was to be used for medical supplies that other agencies did not supply for those people in Russia, Britain, China, and Greece.

OFFICIALS URGE TIRE INSPECTION

January 31 Is Deadline For Approval

Tire inspection stations will run into a serious jam unless motorists cooperate by acting immediately to have their tires inspected, Leon H. Ryan, Chairman of the Newark War Price and Rationing Board, asserted yesterday. He warned that after January 31st it will be illegal for motorists to operate automobiles not approved for continuous operation.

In the four weeks since the tire inspection plan went into effect on December 1st, only a small percentage of passenger automobiles have been inspected, Mr. Ryan said. Four weeks remain and there is likely to be congestion at tire inspection stations in the last few days before the Jan. 31st deadline unless motorists begin now to cooperate.

Tire inspection stations have official OPA placards and they inspect tires under a schedule of ceiling prices based on 25 cents a car for simple inspection which does not require removal of the tires.

It was concluded that the workings of the present rationing system was not as satisfactory as it might be but as good as could be expected under the present setup.

Greater production and a better system of distribution was given as the solution to the present crisis.

FARMERS MOBILIZE JANUARY 12

Drive To Enlist Farmers In 1943 Food Program

On January 12, Farm Mobilization Day, as proclaimed by President Roosevelt, will mark the beginning of a nation-wide drive to enlist all farmers in the 1943 food production program.

Highlighting the day will be an all-net work half-hour broadcast featuring internationally known leaders of the United Nations. This broadcast scheduled for 4 p. m., will inaugurate the most intensive food drive in history.

C. E. Ocheltree, chairman of the Delaware U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board, urges Delaware farmers to join other farmers throughout the nation in enlisting all their resources for the job ahead.

Following Farm Mobilization Day, farmers of the State will be asked to cooperate in developing plans for their farms to indicate what they plan to do and how the agriculture agencies may assist them with their food production program.

The Delaware USDA War Board met Monday of this week with representatives of general public groups and agricultural agencies and organizations of the State to discuss the 1943 food production program together with the significance of the farm mobilization drive.

"The War Board hopes," said Ocheltree, "that all groups will help in any way that they can to focus attention on Farm Mobilization Day and its significance. To succeed in their job of producing the food that is needed, farmers must have the sympathetic understanding and support of all Americans."

ENGINES OF WAR!

Lined up here, in smart military formation, is a "squad" of the mighty locomotives that work night and day for Uncle Sam.

Passenger engines, their specific job is to move troops. And, with the aid of other locomotives, they are doing this at a rate of over a million troops a month!

To the right are their comrades-in-arms, freight locomotives. Their job is to haul war materials. And they are moving 1,250,000 tons of freight a mile every minute of a 24-hour day!

Of course, to keep up a war pace like this requires the railroads to give right-of-way and a very large part of their passenger and freight equipment continuously to the war effort.

Naturally, under the circumstances, service to the public cannot be all that either you or we would like it to be. Trains may be late. Accommodations and seats may be hard to get. But—with the cooperation of travelers and shippers, the Office of Defense Transportation, the Army, the Navy and Government agencies—the railroads are doing, and will continue to do, everything within their power to provide the best service possible to the public in the midst of the greatest war civilization has ever known.

Today's freight locomotives can haul much heavier loads than the engines that served the nation in the last war.

STANDARDS FOR TOMATO PLANTS SET

State Growers Pleased With Standardization

Delaware tomato growers welcome word that U. S. standards for tomato plants to provide producers and buyers with definite quality measurements have been set up by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Eugene P. Brasher, truck crops specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, says. Standards have been issued for most farm products, but it is the first time that they have been formulated for plants for transplanting. With graded plants available, growers will be better able to produce this crop vital to the war effort, states Brasher.

The standards, which became effective December 10, established only one grade, U. S. No. 1, which can be used as a basis for buying and selling these plants, particularly in commercial transactions between southern producers and northern buyers. The wide variation in the quality of tomato plants shipped in the past resulted in the demand for such a grade. Plants that are not No. 1 may grade above or below.

Growers of canning tomatoes in Delaware and other Northern States in this region obtain most of their plants from growers in Southern States where the plants can be grown in the field. Georgia, the principal producing State, alone raised more than 700 million plants last year.

The standards were formulated by the Agricultural Marketing Administration after 2 years of study, and have been approved by industry representatives. Copies of the standards may be obtained from the Fruit and Vegetable Branch, AMA, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

THE FINAL TEST

The people of this country are face to face with the most critical of all tests that can be exacted of our form of government—inflation. It is more difficult to understand than war. It is intangible.

Dr. Paul F. Cadman, leading economist, has pointed out that it will take a lot more than laws to fight inflation. The present policy of one group blaming another group in seeking a scapegoat for the rising cost of living, will prove disastrously futile. If continued, it will offset all tax measures, forced savings, price regulations, wage stabilization, rationing, and credit control.

Inflation is a challenge to the individual. As Dr. Cadman observed: "This is one of the real occasions when the American people have a chance to demonstrate the moral fiber of the nation in their willingness to be obedient to the unenforceable. For, of a truth, inflation cannot be controlled by either legislation or compulsion."

Most of us have occasionally been guilty of unconsidered attacks on industry, labor, or politics, as if each group was a separate entity. We need all three groups and the sooner we realize it, just so much sooner will leaders of each group moderate their policies.

It is a mortal certainty that if the irrelevant disputes don't cease, we might as well abandon the hypocrisy of waving the American flag and consoling ourselves in our discontent with brass bands. It is inconceivable that we cannot live up to the ideals of freedom and opportunity that made this nation. However, the test is before us, final and irrevocable. Everything heretofore has been preliminary, with plenty of cribbing. Not so now. You cannot crib in a test in which natural law is the judge.

Only production, thrift, economy and honesty in public and private life can stem the tide of inflation now.

WHITE HOPE OF MANKIND

War on the scale that it is being fought today, involving civilian and military forces alike, has caused forebodings of the gloomiest character. It has been predicted that civilization could easily crack under the strain, dragging us all to doom along with the dictators we are fighting.

The most hopeful sign that this will not happen lies in the progress that has been made in the field of scientific medical research and in the wide application of the results of that research. Such death-dealing diseases as smallpox, typhoid, tuberculosis, pneumonia and others too numerous to mention have either been eradicated or largely controlled. Most of this miraculous progress has taken place right here in our own country in a comparatively few years. Our medical men have been able to work in unique freedom. No social dogmas or political oppression in any form hampered their work. In addition to their own research, they were able to utilize to the fullest extent the scientific knowledge painfully accumulated by medical martyrs amid disease, death and tyranny the world over.

The surest guarantees for the future health of soldiers and civilians alike, are our efficient medical officers and private physicians who can bring into play the scientific resources of centuries to protect and save life.

Without this safeguard for our physical welfare, our spiritual foundations could be sadly shaken. And though the pioneering work of medicine will never be completed, it has advanced sufficiently to be the white hope of mankind in the present horror.

THE WAYS OF WAR

The lives and habits of millions of people are under the control of Donald M. Nelson as Chairman of the War Production Board; Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, Leon Henderson, Price Administrator; James F. Byrnes, Harold Ickes, William Jeffers and James M. Landis.

Labor stability is "unstable," just as it has been ever since the war began, and for a half a dozen years before that time, so Paul McNutt is added to the above list, and made Czar over Manpower.

The War Labor Board has delegated to the Secretary of War the power to rule upon all wage and salary adjustments of more than 1,000,000 civilian employees; and the War Labor Board has issued an order allowing employers to make wage and salary adjustments for millions of women workers. At the same time the Department of Labor denies the charge that the nation's workers have been winning so many wage increases as to increase the danger of inflation.

The President passes over absolute control of all the unsettled problems of workers to Czar McNutt, which may seem easy enough, except for the fact that the workers have very little to say about their employment in war production. Some 10 million of these workers have been herded into labor unions with the aid of various Administration agencies. Less than a half dozen "Czars" of union labor help William Green and Philip Murray pull the strings. John L. Lewis is not recognized as a factor in the AF of L and CIO peace movement.

Winchell reports that a new fad among the alleged smart set is for divorcees to celebrate the granting of the decree with a party at which a "divorce cake" is served. The cake is a double affair, half angel food and half devil food.

In a big home-coming celebration for Dr. F. L. McCormick at Drakesville, Mo., staged by rural women's clubs of the vicinity, an interesting feature was a parade of "babies" brought into the world with the doctor's aid—the oldest 37 years and the youngest less than one month old.

NEWS in the WORLD of RELIGION

By W. W. Reid

NEWS in WORLD of RELIGION

Francis B. Sayre, former High Commissioner of the Philippines, and noted Presbyterian layman, said recently: "We are in a desperate fight today to defend human freedom against the determined attack of ruthless barbarians who, with utter contempt for humanity, would establish themselves as lords of the earth. . . . For the defense of human freedom, no price can be too great. Freedom for the souls of men far outweighs any possible material cost. . . . In such a struggle, the forces of religion have a momentous stake. Whatever concerns mankind is of vital interest to religion."

More than one thousand communities in some 500 counties across the United States are "critical defense areas" and one of the major problems in these places is the care of the children, especially those whose mothers are forced to leave them somewhere all day while at work. Many churches are concerned with this situation and are endeavoring to meet the needs of the children. . . . The rural village of Windham, Ohio, is being expanded into a small city by war industries. The Congregational and Methodist churches of Windham have united their efforts in maintaining a nursery and medical center for the children. . . . In Baltimore, Mrs. Charles Wade, a Negro Methodist mission worker, carries on an interdenominational work among Negro children, including a day nursery supported by Negroes and served by volunteer Negro physicians and nurses. . . . Hundreds of other communities, however, are still without such church supervision for the children.

According to a recent hospital survey made in the fifteen provinces of Free China, which has now some 150,000,000 civilian inhabitants, there are only 130 hospitals to care for the wounded, the victims of air raids, the victims of epidemics, and the general illnesses of this vast population. Of these hospitals, 113 are conducted by Protestant or Catholic missionaries, representing churches in America and in Europe—the latter now supported mainly from America. In order to help maintain these civilian hospitals through this war period, the Church Committee for China Relief (supported by American churches) is paying for free beds for destitute patients, furnishing medicines for the poor, and granting subsidies of rice for Chinese doctors and nurses.

One hundred years ago, in the city of Stavanger, Norway, the Norwegian Missionary Society was formed—the union of some sixty small mission groups. War conditions will not permit a centennial anniversary in Norway this year, but the work and the results of the work of the century still go on in Madagascar, the Sudan, in central China, and in South Africa. The 185 missionaries of this Society have been "orphaned" by the war, being unable to secure funds for their work from the homeland. But the missions are being supported by friends in the United States and Great Britain.

"Agriculture and theology mix well with the Zulus in South Africa," says the Rev. Henry A. Stick, missionary in Natal. He says that when the Zulu students who are in training for the Christian ministry at the Adams Mission Station, Natal, were asked what they wanted for Christmas, they unanimously asked for hoes. "They each depend upon their hoe for their living," he says.

When Union Theological Seminary in Mexico City, Mexico, recently began to realize that its program of studies was largely for urban communities while more than 80% of the country's evangelicals live in small villages and attend rural churches, it added a new department to its organization—that of "The Rural Church." The department will have five sections, each under an instructor qualified in his particular field: evangelism, religious education, health, home improvement, and improvement in agriculture. Dr. Ralph A. Felton, rural expert of Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J., was instrumental in having this Rural Church Department established.

"God has made this earth rich enough for everybody's need, but not rich enough for anybody's greed," according to Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, New York clergyman. If this is a war for the rights of the common man, then we must bridle the greed of men as well as bring dictators to judgment. And the time to stifle these selfish interests is now. It would be unspeakable tragedy if the sacrifices of the men at the front are undone by the selfishness of those at home. . . . The church of Christ must love the world enough to defy its ways. We must go the second mile on the road of sacrifice.

Air Force Student Declines Army Pay

When pay day rolled around the other day at the Army Air Forces technical training command school, Private Mathias Brantner, a Link trainer student, didn't show up for his money.

Officers questioned Brantner, a former lumberman and stunt flier from Portland, Ore. He explained that the Army clothed and fed him, he didn't drink smoke or gamble—so what did he want with money?

At the officers' suggestion, he purchased war bonds with his accumulated $100 in pay and allotted almost his entire future pay also to war bonds.

Acid Plant Burns

The most serious fire that has threatened Newark for years occurred last Friday morning about 2:30 when flames broke out in the salicylic acid plant of the E. I. duPont de Nemours and Company, located on Cleveland Avenue. One man was burned to death, a second seriously injured, and two adjoining dwellings completely burned. Only a blanket of snow, conservative observers declare, saved the greater part of the town from destruction. Whole burning shingles were found as far distant as Main Street, east of the Center Depot.

Five men were in the plant at the time the flames originated, two of whom were working on the second floor of the building. The fire is supposed to have followed an explosion of the super-heater of the sublimator and chemical mixer. The explosion put out the lights of the building. The two men on the upper floor, William Crowe and Harvey Fulton, groped their way to the elevator shaft, where they fell, one to his death, and the other sustained serious injuries. The charred body of Crowe was found at the bottom of the shaft by firemen; Fulton was able to crawl on his hands and knees beyond the reach of the flames. The men on the first floor escaped through the windows.

Music Night Postponed

On account of the heating difficulties, the "Community Singing" night at the new Century Club was not observed as announced in last week's Post. The program has been postponed until some time in January.

Women Students Give Dance

On Saturday evening the first Junior Prom was held—a dance given in honor of the Seniors by the Junior Class. The Junior Class as a whole formed a committee, of which Miss Helen Stewart was chairman. This committee was divided into sub-committees, the chairmen of which were as follows: Decoration Committee, Miss Gladys Walton and Lilly Ferguson; Refreshment Committee, Miss Helen Mackey; Music Committee, Miss Mary Jane Mason; Program Committee, Miss Mary Dennison.

Money for Equipment Provided

At a meeting of the finance committee of Delaware College held last week, five hundred dollars was appropriated for equipment to be used by Senior Students of the Women's College, in teacher training work in the Newark schools. It was also decided at the meeting to purchase 50 copies of the Blue Hen, a copy to be placed in every four year high school on the Delmarva Peninsula.

Initial Number Issued

The first edition of the Women's College Reporter which appeared last Friday has created much favorable comment. The paper is to be published fortnightly, and in addition to college news, will report activities of the various women's organizations in Delaware.

Recommended For Promotion

In a dispatch from General Pershing, announced by the War Department at Washington today, W. S. Corkran has been recommended as captain of engineers. The appointment will likely be confirmed at an early date.

Lieut. Corkran is a graduate of the Civil Engineering department of Delaware College, and received his diploma in 1910.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The sixteen-inch coast gun is the most powerful of all American guns and costs about $2,000,000 each. It will throw a shell weighing up to a ton many miles. The Coast Guard also has an eight-inch mobile railway gun which will hurl a heavy projectile about 18 miles.

For defense of our homes, the Coast Guard needs many of these powerful weapons. You can do your part to help pay for them by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds and Stamps every payday. U. S. Treasury Department

Service Flag at College

Conspicuous to students returning to Delaware College, to resume their studies on Thursday of this week, is the large service flag placed today between the pillars on the portico—the entrance to Old College Hall. The flag bears one hundred and thirty-eight stars, representing the alumni of the institution who are in the active service of Uncle Sam.

The banner will float from the portico for several days, where the men will pass under its folds, in coming and going from The Commons. It will later stream beneath the Star Spangled Banner, from the pole on Frazer Field.

COURSES IN MACHINERY REPAIR ARE AVAILABLE

Farm Training Program For Communities Where Needed

Immediately after the first of the year farm machinery repair courses for adult farmers will start in all of those communities where a need for such training has been indicated. This training program is being made available by federal funds provided through the vocational division of public schools of the State. R. W. Helm is director of this program. Courses may be started where ever there are at least ten farmers who want to come together at a definite time and place to repair their farm machinery.

Paul M. Hodgson, supervisor of this rural war production training program, stated that for such a group space may be rented, tools provided, and the best farm machinery repairman available in that community hired to instruct the farmers. With a shortage of new machinery and a definite shortage of labor, Mr. Hodgson pointed out that farmers should take advantage of the opportunity provided by these courses, and look over their farm machinery now and bring in any equipment that needs repair. Then under the guidance of the local repairman put the machinery in shape for spring work. Courses are being started in school shops, garages, warehouses, and where ever suitable space is available.

There is no cost to any individual. The only thing necessary is that he give his time and buy any new repair parts which are used. Meetings of local advisory committees have been held in nearly all communities in the State to consider the local needs and to work out local plans for meeting these needs. Any one interested in repairing his own farm machinery under the guidance of a capable farm machinery mechanic should get in touch with his local school authorities or write directly to the State Supervisor of Rural War Production Training, State Department of Public Instruction, Dover, Delaware.

FOOD for THOUGHT

Charlotte Spencer Hurley

"Keep Children With Colds At Home"

Children with colds should be kept home from school, out of contact with others, says the State Board of Health, for the common cold is especially infectious in the early stages and is readily confused with the early symptoms of many other contagious diseases, such as measles, pneumonia, and light cases of scarlet fever.

Though colds are not, ordinarily, considered serious, there are four reasons why children with acute colds should not be sent to school:

1. A child with an acute cold is too ill to learn much if he is in school.
2. There is the great danger of his infecting others with the cold.
3. He lengthens the time of his own recovery because of fatigue and exposure.

4. The cold may develop into more serious illness such as "flu", pneumonia, chronic sinus infection, or tonsillitis. In order to speed this recovery, children who are kept home from school should remain in bed and away from other children, even those in their own family, and especially away from babies, as babies are particularly apt to catch colds and develop complications.

Rest in bed allows the child to build up his resistance and increases the chance for early recovery, while neglected colds are likely to string out all winter. It is no help to the child himself if he is kept home from school and then allowed to play around in the house, even though it does prevent infection to children not in the family. Nor is there any point in keeping him out of school and then allowing him to run around the streets or out-of-doors, particularly with other children who may catch his cold.

The most infectious stages of a cold are during the first 2 or 3 days and children kept in bed during that time, are very apt to recover quickly. Only simple, easily digested foods should be served to them along with plenty of water and fruit juice. Encourage as much sleep as possible.

Mothers with young children would do well to assemble a box of simple toys that may be kept just for "in bed" days, things that will keep a child amused, yet resting quietly while she goes about her household tasks. Peg boards, small blocks, cut-outs, a small doll, coloring book and crayons or other inexpensive toys of this type are among the possibilities. They may prevent many a restless, fussy hour and prove of much more value than the small cost involved. They should however, be of the type that can either be sterilized or burned at the end of an illness.

4-H LEADERS TO MEET

Scheduled At St. Georges School

Announcement is made by Laura B. Rutherford, New Castle County 4-H Club Agent, that on Thursday night, January 7, at 8:00 o'clock, two important meetings concerned with 4-H Club work of New Castle County, will be held in the school (Commodore McDonough) at St. Georges, Delaware—namely, the Junior 4-H Council and the County Leader's Association.

Consent to use the school for these meetings has been given by Mrs. McCarty, Principal of the School, because it is more nearly equidistant to all parts of the County.

Last minute information relative to war emergencies and how they will affect 4-H Club work will be discussed with and by these groups. After the discussion, policies and plans for conducting 4-H during 1943 will be decided and passed upon by both groups.

It is very important that all leaders and Club officers attend these meetings—since 4-H plans for the entire year will be formulated. It may not be possible to hold a second meeting later on.

A wall switch has been invented to control the three-light intensity of electric lamps installed anywhere in the room.

"Don't Kid Yourself! We could lose this War!"

MISTER, if you think this war's a cinch, better read your paper or listen to the radio. You'll change your mind—quick.

If you think we're going to march to Berlin and Tokio just because we're right—forget it!

People just as clean and decent as we are—just as righteous—just as patriotic, have been ground to the dust under the hobnailed boots of other people trained and toughened for one purpose—war.

Choose now. Either we give our boys the planes, tanks, guns, and ships they've got to have to win—or we're letting them march to their defeat and our destruction. Planes cost money. Tanks don't grow on trees. And the storks don't bring sub-chasers.

We've got to pay for them. "We" means all of us—including you.

How? By buying WAR BONDS. By putting 10 percent of every dollar we earn into the Pay-Roll Savings Plan. A dime out of every dollar—a dollar out of every ten—every payday. And every time our savings amount to $18.75 we get a Bond, worth $25 in 10 years. That's $4 back for every $3 we put in. Isn't that the least we who stay at home can do to help win the war? Stop and think about it—

next time you're tempted to buy something you don't really need. Remember the President's words—"We cannot have all we want if our soldiers and sailors are to have all they need."

And if, every payday, we don't set aside every nickel, dime, or dollar we can possibly scrape together for War Bonds, we're letting our boys down. That's the truth, every word of it—and we know it!

DO YOU KNOW?

When you buy WAR BONDS, you're saving, not giving! Series E WAR BONDS are worth 33 1/3 percent more in 10 years! You get back $4 for every $3 you invest! These BONDS, when held to maturity (10 years), yield 2.9 percent per year on your investment, compounded semi-annually!

Joining a Pay-Roll Savings Plan makes saving easy! Joining your bank's Victory Club (it works like any Thrift or Christmas Club) is a convenient way to save for War Bonds for those who aren't members of a Pay-Roll Savings Plan.

You can have enough money to do a lot of things you'd like to do, and to buy the many things you'll need after the war is over, if you save enough in War Bonds every payday NOW!

You can start buying WAR BONDS by buying War Stamps for as little as 10 cents.

GOVERNOR PROPOSES EMERGENCY TAXATION

Legislature Meets Tuesday And Effects Organization

Governor Walter W. Bacon proposed an emergency tax of one percent on gross incomes in excess of $500 for 1943 and 1944 and a cigarette tax as a means of raising an additional $2,400,000 needed during the next two years to offset the loss of approximately $3,000,000 facing the State of Delaware, at the joint session of Legislature, in Dover, Tuesday.

Stressing the fact that such taxes should be considered strictly as emergency measures, the Governor also asked the Legislature to provide that ex-service men be eligible to receive $18 a week following their demobilization, and until finding employment, for a period of twenty weeks.

Both the House of Representatives and Senate met Tuesday afternoon and completed their organization with the selection of forty-one attaches—seven under the maximum number of forty-eight previously agreed upon. Twenty-one attaches were named in the House and seventeen in the Senate, with former Representative Robt. H. Richards, Jr., named as Senate Attorney. Melvin Hopkins and Caleb M. Wright were named attorneys for both houses.

Former Judge John F. Flynn, of Wilmington, was chosen chief clerk of the House. Other House attaches named are:

Harry V. Thaw, speaker's clerk; the Rev. Robert G. Conner, chaplain; Robert S. Gallagher, reading clerk; Jane A. Hargrove, assistant reading clerk; Calvin Ball, assistant document clerk; Elsie R. Banta, bill clerk; William Storey and Charles W. McNatt, assistant sergeants-at-arms; Millard E. Thompson, mail clerk; Paul Weigle, assistant mail clerk; Isaac W. Wright, telephone messenger; J. Gilbert Seller, cloak room attendant; Jennings Clark, janitor; Rose Greenberg, Helen M. Clark and Margaret McCaughan, stenographers; Layton Bennett, document clerk; Taylor Dickerson, assistant bill clerk; Benjamin W. Conway, sergeant-at-arms, and Dorsey E. Johnson, messenger.
