Student Govt. and Class Office Petitions For Nominees To Be Submitted By Apr. 17

New Ed. Specialists Added to Faculty

Dean William Penrose of the School of Education had announced that three specialists in the field of education have been added to the summer school faculty. They will conduct new courses for undergraduates and for graduate teachers who desire remedial courses in education.

During the first term Mr. Medill Bair, regional superintendent of the Pennsylvania Schools, Fallsington, Pa., will teach a laboratory course in elementary school problems. The course will be based on problems suggested by Delaware teachers on the basis of classroom experience. Only experienced teachers may enroll.

Dr. Forbes H. Norris, superintendent of schools in Winchester, Mass., will teach "Supervision Principles and Practices," and "Curriculum Problems I" which will be co-ordinated with the states new curriculum program. These courses will be among the six Education Courses given during the second summer term.

During both summer terms John S. Charlton, director of Delaware's Child Development and Guidance, and academic extension lecturer will instruct in Principles and Practices of Guidance and in Occupational and Educational Information, during the first term, and Special Guidance Problems during the second term.

APO Group Holds Initiation Ritual

Zeta Sigma Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity will hold its initiation banquet and ceremony April 11, with Dr. James A. Newpher, vice-dean of admissions at the University of Pennsylvania, as the principal speaker.

The initiation ceremony will be held in Old College Lounge for Dean Francis H. Squire and Charles W. Bush, director of admissions, honorary members; Dr. Frederick B. Parker, advisor; James Bice, Taylor Simpson, Douglas Haller, Louis Shannon, John Broujos, and Lloyd Fox, pledges. The ceremony will be followed by a film on the 1947 International Scout Jamboree.

Alpha Phi Omega is an organization of campus men who are, or have been, connected with the Boy Scout movement as scouts or scouters. Its purpose is service to the campus, community and nation. Now in its silver anniversary year, the fraternity has become the largest in the country, having 205 chapters.

Zeta Sigma Chapter operates a student used book exchange, where students may sell their used text books. As a community project, members have aided the Del-Mar-Va Council, Boy Scouts of America, in the camp improvement program at the Rodney Scout Camps in North-east, Md. Campus campaigns for the Red Cross March of Dimes, and other charities have been conducted. The fraternity has participated in numerous other programs.

Ann Kuhn, to Be Queen of May

Miss Ann Kuhn, a senior from Salisbury, Md., will reign as queen of the 1950 May Court to be held May 13 on the Newark campus.

Miss Kuhn was elected May Queen by vote of the entire student body in balloting last week. The results were announced by Miss Laura Lange and Miss Margaret Phillips, co-chairmen of May Day arrangements.

Other members of the May Court, including maid-of-honor to the queen, and a duchess and two attendants for each of the four classes, will be announced later.

Miss Kuhn, a graduate of Wilcomico High School in Salisbury, also attended Bradford Junior College. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kuhn of 1101 Camden Avenue, Salisbury, she is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary society in education.

Committee chairmen aiding the May Day arrangements include: Miss Thelma Thompson, publicity; Miss Mary Lou Kelley, costumes; Miss Mary Frances Gordy, May Pole dance; Miss Elizabeth Dawson, art and posters; Miss Jeanne Von Uffel, programs and ushers; Miss Barbara Bowers, music; Miss Judith R. Koller, dance; Miss Jean Jamieson, writing; Miss Jane Hoch, business. Miss Beatrice P. Hartshorn is advisor.

Professor Randall Named Play Judge

Prof. Paul Randall, director of the theatre at Temple University, has been named as the critic-judge for the eighth Delaware Play Festival, which will be held April 28 and 29 at Mitchell Hall, Newark.

Announcement of the selection of Professor Randall was made by Miss Mabel Wright, chairman of the festival committee for the two sponsoring organizations, the Delaware Dramatic Association and the University Dramatic Center.

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University as a major in speech, Professor Randall holds the degree of Master of Fine Arts from the Yale Drama School. He has been at Temple University since 1931, and is one of the nation's best.

Art Mooney Plays This Sat. Nite For April Frolic Dance

On Saturday evening, April 15, the Freshman and Sophomore Classes will present their dance to be entitled the "April Frolic." This is the second event to be staged by these two classes, the first being the Freshman-Sophomore field day, which was a big success. This year the two classes have voted to have their dances combined rather than having single dances.

The various committees have been at work planning the big event and it promises to be one of the best dances of the year. Many of you students will remember Art Mooney from his sterling performance last year at the Junior Prom. We have been fortunate in obtaining him again and we are sure that he will be as good as he was last year.

The dance will be held in the Field House which we promise to decorate elaborately according to our theme of April Frolic. The Frolic will be an open dance, from 8 to 12 p. m., semi-formal and non-corsage. The price of admission will be only $2.80. Just imagine, only $2.80 to hear "The Gentle Irish Gentleman," who has one of the most outstanding bands in the land.

Everyone remembers the ever popular "Four Leaf Clover" which Art Mooney revived and sold over a million waxings of, and which also was proved as being the "Most Played Record on Juke Boxes" by actual survey. Also his recording of "Mahzel" sold over one-half million copies. Recently he has recorded such hits as "Cry of the Wild Goose," "If I Knew You Were Comin', I'd Ha' Baked a Cake," "Bluebird of Happiness," which sold over 200,000 copies in two days, and many other hits. Mooney skillfully blends entertainment with sweet danceable music. He has a great variety of entertainment to break the monotony of sweet music by playing novelties and presenting his choral and voice presentations. Art has appeared at many outstanding spots throughout the country including The Click in Philadelphia; The Roxy in New York; Meadow Brook in New Jersey; The Palace Theatre in Cleveland; The Rustic Cabin in Englewood; The Book Cadillac Hotel in Detroit; and the Palladium Ballroom in Hollywood.

43 Receive Honors Of Phi Kappa Phi

Forty-three students have been elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary society which recognizes academic achievement. In addition, Dr. R. O. Bausman, professor of agricultural economics, was elected as a faculty member.

The 43 represent the highest bracket of the Class of '50 academically. They will be initiated during Honors Day ceremonies in May.

Nine of the group are women students, including two sisters from Newark, Roberta and Barbara Carothers. Nineteen are Wilmington residents.

The newly-elected student members are: Joseph Alexander, 222 West Fourteenth Street, Wilmington; Stanley Budner, 4706 Washington Boulevard, Wilmington; Margaret Ann Brosius, West Grove, Pa.; Paul C. Capodanno, 111 North Lincoln Street, Wilmington; Barbara A. Carothers, Newark; Roberta L. Carothers, Newark; Mrs. Shirley M. Clifford, Chicago; Joseph A. Connell, 336 Marsh Lane, Wilmington; Everett W. Cranmer, Beach Haven, N. J.; Edward J. Davis, Newark; Ernest A. DiPasquantonio, 1114 East Twelfth Street, Wilmington; James N. Edmondson, Smyrna; Jane W. Forman, Deerhurst; Berwyn Fragner, 3246 Kingsbridge Avenue, Bronx, N. Y.; Arnold Freedman, 507 West Third Street, Wilmington; Jack Friedlander, 219 West Twenty-eighth Street, Wilmington; James M. Goldey, 919 Bancroft Street, Wilmington.

Education Meeting Scheduled April 29

The annual state educational conference at the University of Delaware has been called for Saturday, April 29, with the theme of "Developing Lay Participation in the Local School Program."

Announcement of the conference was made today by Paul M. Hodgson, director of academic extension who is in charge of general arrangements.

Mr. Hodgson said that invitations are being sent by Dean William O. Penrose of the School of Education to superintendents, principals, teachers, school board members and other interested persons, to participate in the conference. The program has been planned in cooperation with representatives of the State Department of Education, public school teachers and administrators, officials of the Delaware State Educational Association, and lay groups in the field of education.

The program will begin with a general session in Wolf Hall auditorium at 9:45 a.m. with the presentation of the topic by a guest speaker, followed by a panel discussion based on personal experiences relating to lay participation. After the general session, there will be three sectional meetings. The personnel of the various meetings now is being arranged.

A luncheon meeting at Kent Hall will close the conference. Reservations for the luncheon are to be sent to Mr. Hodgson by April 15.

April 29 also is the second day of the Delaware Play Festival. This coincidence of dates is expected to facilitate the attendance of numerous persons in various parts of the state.

Nomination petitions for S. G. A. and Class Officers must be submitted by 1 p. m., Monday, April 17. According to the constitution of the Student Government Association governing membership the membership shall be composed of:

1. The President, who shall be a man elected from the Senior Class. . .
2. The Vice-President, who shall be a woman elected from the Senior Class, shall act as presiding officer in the absence of the President. . .
3. The Secretary shall be a woman elected from the Senior or Junior Class. . .
4. The Treasurer shall be a man elected from the Senior or Junior Class. . .
5. Chairman of the Men's Affairs shall be elected from the Senior Class. . .
6. The Chairman of Women's Affairs shall be elected from the Senior Class. . .
7. The Chairman of the Social Committee shall be elected from the student body at large. . .
8. Each of the three upper classes of the University shall be represented by one member elected from the respective classes.
9. Each of the Schools of the University shall be represented by one member elected from the School with the exception of the School of Arts and Sciences which shall be represented by two members.

The following are eligibility rules for the nominees:

1. The class for all candidates nominated under this Constitution shall be determined as follows:
  - a. A student nominated for any Senior office shall have completed, by the end of the first semester of his Junior year, the number of credit hours required by the school in which he is registered.
  - b. A student nominated for any Junior office shall have completed by the end of the first semester of his Sophomore year, the number of credit hours required by the school in which he is registered.
  - c. A student nominated for any Sophomore office shall have completed, by the end of the first semester of his Freshman year, the number of credit hours required by the School in which he is registered.

2. A student may be a candidate for only one office at any election.
3. All candidates for office under this Constitution shall have a cumulative scholastic index of 2.00.
4. The eligibility of all candidates shall be certified by the Chairman of the Elections Committee of the Student Government Association and the Dean of Men, for men students, or the Dean of Women, for women students.

Nominations for all Student Government Association and class officers shall be by petition carrying twenty-five signatures of the members of the group represented by the nominee, presented to the Chairman of the Elections Committee at the time and place designated by the Student Government Association.

Petitions are to be turned in to the Student Elections Committee via the SGA mailbox. The deadline for the petitions will be April 17th. List of candidates and sample ballot will be published in next week's Review.

Nominations . . .

It has been announced by the Student Government Association that petitions nominating candidates for election to SGA and class offices for the year 1950-51 must be submitted by Monday, April 17. The list of offices to be filled and the requirements governing nominations and qualifications will be found on page 1 of this issue.

Last year, several positions on the ballot were left unfilled because petitions were not submitted. Other offices were uncontested; only one candidate was nominated. At that time, an editorial appeared in the Review pointing out that the fact that these offices were unfilled pointed toward a general apathy on the part of the Delaware student toward the University.

That apathy, during this past year, seems to have lifted from the Delaware campus. We should like to give credit for the change to the incumbent SGA representatives and officers. They have certainly done an excellent job from the standpoint of administration. Above all, they have awakened the Delaware student to his University and himself as a part of the University.

This year's EGA is going to be a difficult one to succeed. The work it has done is, in great part, a foundation for further work, the work of the SGA's of future years.

Only by our intelligent choice of candidates to replace these retiring officers and representatives can we insure the carrying through of the jobs begun this year. No position on the SGA is minor. The SGA contains a relatively small number of representatives; every vote is important. If a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the University of Delaware Student Body is ratified at referendum this spring, the presidents of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes will also become voting members of the governing body.

It is important, therefore, to our continued growth and development as a self-governing student body, that we elect capable, sincere men and women to these positions. And our first step must be the nomination of suitable candidates.

. . . And Elections

Elsewhere on this page will be found a letter from a Delaware coed regarding her having been deprived of her vote in the recent May Court elections. We feel sure that her case is an isolated one, and that it was by error that her name was crossed off the voters' list.

Such an error should not, however, have occurred. The implication of it having occurred is a serious one. If this could have happened — if Miss Walls' name could have been crossed off the list before she voted, it is obvious that ballot boxes might easily be stuffed in the future by one person's voting several times under several names. This is definitely very serious.

Some way, there must be insurance against another such occurrence, against the possibility, even, of such an error. We repeat — we do not mean to infer that the May Court elections were irregular; but we insist that future elections and referendums could be.

We refer the matter to the SGA for the most serious consideration. In some way, there must be a more foolproof check, in future, than a checklist of names.

Letters To The Editor

CONCERNING MAY-COURT ELECTIONS

Dear Mr. Editor:

I am not complaining about the outcome of the election of the May Court; any choice would have suited me, since all the girls are very attractive. However, I think it should be the privilege of every individual who is eligible to vote to cast his own vote.

Upon presenting my ballot, I was informed that my name had already been crossed off the list of voters. Perhaps my name was crossed off by mistake—I hope so.

Although the election of the May Court was not of great consequence, depriving someone of a privilege which rightfully belongs to him is dishonest. I hope no other persons were confronted with this same situation upon attempting to cast their vote.

ESTHER WALLS

A LETTER OF THANKS

The last Thursday night before Spring Vacation more than 2000 students and faculty said good-bye to Dr. and Mrs. Carlson. Those there know of its success and those who missed the dance certainly have heard of it. Therefore as chairman of "Carlson's Campus Sendoff," I would like to make known the names of those who made the dance what it was.

During a meeting of SGA officers, President Carlson casually mentioned that of the dances he had attended at the University the one that he had enjoyed most was last fall's Square Dance. He went on to say that were he to remain at Delaware he would like to attend another. This interest was noted by SGA Social Chairman, Wayne Pollari, and with his guidance resulted the Campus' largest dance.

Charley Benzel and Dick MacIver, Co-Chairmen of the Arrangements Committee, worked out the many details necessary for the dance, with the help of Milt Roberts, Dean Rextrew, Harry Bidlake, and Coach Murray. Refreshment Chairman, Judd Stewart, got Coach Murray's permission to use the Baseball locker-room and hall for Coke dispensing booths. This enabled his crew of Tom Walker, Manny Richardson, Lucy Flinn, Less Riggs, and Ed Gove to serve quickly the free do-nuts and Cokes ordered by Mary Sagan, with the help of Tom Livizos in the Student Union. Roger Browning arranged for the music of the Delmelodians under the direction of Bob Harris, and for Pop Johnson's Smoky Mountain Boys. The "Party Line" combo was made complete with Alan Stewart's singing of Bruce Laird's songs. The surprise of the night came when Frank Buck introduced Bob Eberly. An interesting sidelight is that Bruce and Alan returned the favor of Eberly where he was making nightly appearances, and stole the show! The Campus PA system was manned by Milt Roberts and the mailbox circulars were designed by Dick MacIver and distributed by Ed Gove, Charley Benzel, and Betty Keats. The main support however, came from the Review with articles written by Neal Robbins and Dick Burton, along with sincere plugging by Don Miller. The Blue and Gold streamers that were ordered and called for by Johnnie Fiorino and Clark MacWright were hung by a group of girls under the direction of Franny Birch. Elvira Craig, Lucy Flinn, and Manny Richardson cut the streamers while Knoll decorators, Barbara Smith, Nancy Ruos, Diantha Bartlett and Dolores Adams did the stapling. Needless to mention, Spoff Beadle did the lighting, while Bill Hearn and Frank Buck set up the sound system. The Blue and White sign over the bandstand was lettered by Bill Burnett; the spirit of which was engraved upon the silver pitcher, purchased in Wilmington by Barbara Schaffer, and presented to Dr. and Mrs. Carlson by Ray MacCarthy. The best publicity we've ever had for a dance was a result of the active interest of the Women's Dorms and the IFC.

Unfortunately I have forgotten some who helped on the Send-Off and to those I apologize. However, there is for them as well as those that I have mentioned, the satisfaction of being a part of the student body that organized and presented the most successful dance of the year. To all of you I would like to express my sincere thanks for your cooperation.

AL GRAVES

Dear Sir:

In its last issue The Review printed a letter by Bob Wilcox objecting to the present manner in which the class elections are conducted. I wish to express my feelings about the same situation.

The freshman election was held several weeks ago with little or no fanfare. Petitions for nominations were called for, and turned in the following week. An announcement appeared in The Review one week before the election, and on Thursday, February 23, the freshmen voted. That was all. It seemed as if the election was a depressing duty that had to be performed, rather than a privilege of selecting leaders to promote better class organization and unity. It was so little publicized that, had I not read The Review the week before, I wouldn't have known there was an election.

When I saw the list of candidates, I recognized about half the names presented there, but the rest left me in the dark. Even then, I did not know a great deal about the persons whose names I did recognize. To become personally acquainted with over five hundred people in the short period of one term is a man-sized job, and I doubt if many freshmen got to know all their classmates during that time. Yet, after the list was announced, no effort was made to acquaint the

Somewhere In the Woods

By DON MILLER

Prologue:

A present for a boy's delight on Easter morn. In answer to many questions of what to give the one and only when the blossoms are budding, we said nothing to no one but kept a very close eye on the campus love-pairs.

Our patience was rewarded. Neatly packaged, tied with beautiful ribbons, there arrived in the hands of Dick Grossman a wonderful surprise. Awed by the propensity of the gift, delighted with its smooth appearance, entranced by the soft touch of the yellow exterior, little Richard, a moist-eyed, well-pleased lad, turned speechless and bewildered to show what thoughtful Jane had presented him with. Sighs arose from the small group of onlookers, envy reached out its little green wand and touched many of those present. Dick, noticing that those there would snatch his treasure, clutched his precious prize close to him and fled. Later in his room he proudly set the little yellow woolly bunnies on his desk and just stared into delightful dreamland.

Only one act this week:

Reasons—Some went to Florida, Larry Gillespie, Buck Thompson, Bill Colonna, Joe "the Body" Miller, Bill Gorman. Incidentally, Bill Gorman has a terrific story about a date with a slick chic from Michigan State. Ask him about it. Representing the lower end of the campus in the sunny climes was Imogene Strikol. Some went to Havertown, Pa.—and then stayed and some went to New York. Shirley King made Bop City her headquarters; Joe Sherwood, Norm Glassman, Gary Carpenter and his only reason for living, Nan Lerch. Incidentally if you intend to leave your car in Bellefonte all the time, put Delaware plates on it. Connie Hooven joined the Ivy League again with Yale and Princeton as her targets for the week. Joan McCain really loves the brass, "Flying Home" as played by Lionel Hampton gave her beaucoup. By the way, Joannie, how do you think the tall blonde made out?

Dr. Rees Appointed Grad. School Dean

The first dean of the School of Graduate Studies was named when Dr. William S. Carlson, retiring president, announced that Dr. Carl J. Rees has been appointed to the deanship.

Dr. Rees has been director of the graduate division for the past four years. The Board of Trustees authorized the division's expansion into the sixth of the University's academic schools in December. The position of full-time dean was established at that time, when Dr. Carlson called the creation of the graduate school "the next logical step in the University's program of growth."

He will become dean when the Graduate School formally succeeds the existing division, next July 1. Some 500 persons are now working for advanced degrees at the University, and the total for the year is expected to be more than 600. About 200 are full-time graduate students, and the others study part-time in regular session, extension or summer school. A record 100 master's and doctor's degrees will be awarded in 1950, compared with 176 in the three past years and a total of 65 in the previous 10 years. When the present graduate division was established in 1936, there were only three students, all part-time, and the total of graduate students from then until 1946 was only slightly larger than the number enrolled at the present time.

Among the 52 land-grant institutions, Delaware stands twenty-second in its graduate enrollment. This enrollment is the largest in any land-grant institution which does not have a full-fledged graduate school or college. All but three of the University's major fields of study now are available for graduate work. Fourteen areas have freshmen with the candidates for office, their capabilities, or previous experience. To hold a class office is not only an honor and a privilege, but also a responsibility, and requires a responsible person.

How can a person vote for a responsible person if he knows nothing about the candidates?

In order that responsible persons can be voted into office, they must first be nominated; but, as was stated in the letter before only one person was nominated for the office of treasurer. Naturally he was elected with the first ballot. This failure to provide additional competition indicates little interest on the part of the class as a whole.

I feel that the blame rests upon not one, but all of the parties concerned: the SGA, sponsor of the freshman election; the candidates, who did not give the voters an opportunity to "look them over"; and the freshman class itself, who showed very little interest in who was elected or even if there was an election at all.

I would like, therefore, to make a few suggestions that might improve future elections. First, the SGA should publicize the election with more than just an inconspicuous announcement in The Review, but they should also have it boosted on the public address system, and, possibly, by mailbox notices. Second, the SGA, especially in the case of the freshman class, should arrange for a class meeting sometime before the election, so that the students may see the candidates and find out their outstanding qualifications for office. Third, the class and candidates should cooperate in seeing that the above acts are carried out successfully. And last, all the individual students should vote on election day for the candidate best suited for the office.

Sincerely,
DONALD PHILLIPS

Epilogue:

How tired can you get? Easter Sunday arrived, the girls donned their Spring finery complete with flowers, we hope. Fred Hartmann put his father on a plane for Switzerland. We enjoyed Easter dinner away from home through the courtesy of Mrs. Holzapfel—delicious. Dot Harty recovered fully from her trips to Penn Hospital. We missed you in New York, Dottie. Beverly Bamberger received a ring in Carolina. Mary Agnes McCarville tried to hide her ring but we saw it. In the same family, Barbie Shafer's left hand is sparkling, too. "Lucky" Miller, they call him. And at last we can print that Bill Cole gave a diamond to Kendall McDowell. Congratulations, all you lucky guys, we envy every one of you.

Six weeks of school left, the bucket of bolts is still running and the flying bug has hit some of us again.

See all of you at the Spring Frolic.

ROTC Notes

1. Selection of students for enrollment in the Advanced ROTC Course is now in progress. All sophomore ROTC Students and male veterans interested in the Advanced Course are invited to get full information concerning the course, summer camp, pay, reserve commissions, etc; from the Military Department in Old College as soon as possible.

2. Professor James I. Clower, Chairman of Mechanical Engineering addressed the Junior class members of the Advanced ROTC on Wednesday, 22 March, on Ammunition, Research Problems and Developments. Professor Clower stressed the development of a new Armor Piercing Projectiles and displayed several new types which utilize a core of titanium carbide. Professor Clower, a Major in the Ordnance Reserve, has participated in such development projects at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

3. The Military Department, University of Delaware, was inspected April 13, by Donald Masser, Superintendent of Grounds, LaSalle College, Philadelphia, Pa. The University of Delaware ROTC was selected by Hqs 2nd Army as a top level model unit to be viewed in the planning phase of the installation of an ROTC unit at LaSalle College.

4. The ROTC Drill and Ceremony on April 11 was reviewed by Col. Adam E. Potts, U. S. Army (Ret.). Col. Potts was Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the University of Minnesota in 1938-39 and commanded an Anti-Aircraft Regt. in Hawaii when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor. At the time of his retirement in 1949 he was Executive Officer of the CAC School, Presidio, San Francisco, California. Col. Potts stated he was impressed with the precise drill of the cadets and the advanced status of training.

Veterans Invited To Join Adv. ROTC

The Military Department invites all male veterans who will be sophomores or juniors next year to come to the Military Office in 308 Old College and receive information relative to the Advanced ROTC Course.

Those students with previous service in the Armed Forces who successfully complete the Advanced ROTC Course are commissioned 2nd Lieutenants in the ORC. The Military Department wishes to point out that any student enrolled in the Advanced ROTC Course is not subject to selective service should that law be re-enacted.

The Advanced Course consists of 5 hours instruction per week for four semesters and attendance at a ROTC Summer Camp for six weeks during the summer between the junior and senior years. Instruction in the Advanced Course includes tactics, gunnery and leadership training. Enrollment in this course is purely voluntary. Credit is given as an elective on the basis of 3 credit hours per semester. The Advanced ROTC student receives a monetary allowance of $27.00 per month during the entire period of enrollment except for the six weeks period of summer camp.

While at camp the cadet receives $75.00 per month, board, uniforms, medical attention and is furnished transportation to and from camp.

Those members of the Advanced Course who demonstrate outstanding qualities of military aptitude and leadership may be designated as Distinguished Military Graduates and may apply for a commission as 2nd Lieutenant in the Regular Army.

Livingston to Talk On New Advances

Larry F. Livingston, manager of the duPont Company's Extension Division, will give a lecture demonstration on "Progress in Better Living," at a public meeting sponsored by the men's faculty club, at 8 p. m., Friday, April 14, in the auditorium of the chemistry building.

Mr. Livingston, widely known as an authority and speaker on industrial progress in chemical developments, will tell the story of how the products of modern industrial chemistry were created and what made them possible. He will exhibit some of the newest developments in chemical research.

Honor System

This past week, members of the Honor System Committee of the SGA have visited a campus dorm and a fraternity house to discuss the honor system in an informal manner in smaller groups.

This committee will be around to your dorm or house soon. Please do attend these meetings to voice your opinions and ask pertinent questions. Think about it, read the Constitution in the Review (published several weeks ago) if you haven't already, and have your questions ready. The committee wants to help you understand the Constitution and how it would affect the classes and exams here next year.

A big all-campus meeting will also be held in the near future. Voting will take place soon after. Be sure you are clear on all the issues.

Newman Club

On April 18 there will be a regular discussion meeting in 220 University Hall for Newman Club members and their friends. On April 28-29-30 is the Middle Atlantic Province Convention at Bedford, Pa. A large delegation from the Delaware chapter is attending the convention. The club is in charge of publicity for entire convention.

The spring picnic will be on Sunday, May 7. It will be free of charge for paid members and $1.00 for those who have not paid.

Aaron Copland Guest Talker

Aaron Copland, one of America's outstanding composers of modern classical music, will be guest commentator at the Conference on Contemporary American music to be held at the University of Delaware on Saturday, April 22, at 3:00 p. m. Mr. Copland will deliver an address, "Music in the Contemporary Scene" at luncheon, and at 3:00 p. m. in Mitchell Hall he will comment informally on certain selections, some his own compositions, which will be played by the Delaware Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Jay Blackton.

The program, arranged by Mr. Blackton, will contain: "Sinfonietta" by Walter Piston; "Adagio for Strings" by Samuel Barber; "Romeo and Juliet" by David Diamond; and Copland's own "Appalachian Spring" and "Celebration Dance" from Billy and Kid. Local professional musicians make up the Delaware Philharmonic.

Aaron Copland received the Pulitzer prize in music for Appalachian Spring in 1945, and the same year received the Music Critics Circle award for outstanding theatrical composition. Twice a recipient of the Guggenheim Music Fellowship, he has been identified with musical scores for many motion pictures, including "The Heiress" for which he won an Academy Award this spring. He has written several books on music.

A native of Brooklyn, Copland studied in Paris with Nadia Boulanger.

He was the first composer to receive the Guggenheim Fellowship, is a member of the faculty at Tanglewood, Mass., summer conservatory, and is the founder of the annual American Festivals of Contemporary Music at Saratoga Springs, N. Y. A prolific composer, he has written for radio, film, ballet and concert, and is in addition a noted (Continued on Page 5)

Munroe, Blandy To Speak at Dinner

Dr. John A. Munroe and Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, now president of the Health Information Foundation, will be the principal speakers at the spring dinner meeting of the New York Club of the U. of D.'s alumni association, Wednesday night (April 12).

The meeting will be held in the Fairfield Room of the Longchamps restaurant at 19 West Fifty-seventh street, New York City, beginning at 6:30 p. m. Admiral Blandy, until recently the commander of the Atlantic Fleet, is a Delaware alumnus in the class of 1910. Dr. Munroe is associate professor of history and assistant to the dean of arts and science. Richard D. Groo, alumni secretary, also will speak.

NOTICE

Students wishing to take the Graduate Record Examination on 5-6 May are advised that the final date for application is April 21. According to Dr. Weitz, Director of the Psychological Services Center, application forms and information bulletins may be secured at the Center at any time. The applications must reach the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, New Jersey by April 21, so it is imperative that they be mailed before that date.

Theta Chi Tops In Boxing, Wrestling

"Carpenter Square Garden" was the scene of the Intramural Boxing and Wrestling Championships on the Wednesday evening preceding spring vacation. Although no team was proclaimed winner of the competition, Theta Chi came through with the most victories, winning 5 of the 16 matches. Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Sigma Nu, and Kappa Alpha each had 2 wins, Sigma Phi Epsilon had one win, and Ross Dempsey and Norm Wilcox, competing as independents, also won their respective bouts.

In the feature match of the evening, the heavyweight wrestling, Bill Murray, representing Theta Chi, pinned Jim Kruzinski of Kappa Alpha in the first period.

The summaries:

BOXING

128 lb.: Shannon, PKA, defeated Short, PKA, by forfeit.
136 lb.: Monahan, TC, defeated Gordon, KA, by decision.

Hen Tankers Plan Honorary Society

Plans are under way for the formation of a local chapter of Phi Beta Pi, The National Honorary Swimming Fraternity, here on the campus on the University of Delaware. Phi Beta Pi is popularly known as "The Porpoise Fraternity."

The purpose of Phi Beta Pi is to sponsor and encourage swimming, diving, water safety, and water sports of all kinds on and off campus. Membership in it interferes in no way with membership in any other social or honorary fraternity. Membership is limited to those who can pass a series of twelve swimming and diving tests.

If enough interest is found at Delaware, meetings will begin soon. Interested persons should contact Tom Clements, Box 211, Campus Mail. A note addressed to Tom with the following information will be sufficient: name, Newark address, Newark phone, University Mail box number, and the most convenient time for meetings. Notice will be given through the REVIEW, and through the mail of the first meeting.

Hen Lacrosse Team Wins Two on Trip

The lacrosse team returned to classes after a jaunt into the sunny southland where they played four games and wound up with a .500 average.

Coach Milt Roberts' Hens dropped their first contest to a strong Virginia ten by the score of 15-9. Don Swan started his scoring spree by racking up five goals, the highest total ever to be scored against Virginia. Then the Blue and Gold went on to win over V.M.I. and North Carolina by the scores of 11-6 and 14-3, with a 22-5 loss to Duke in between. Virginia and Duke are rated among the top teams in the south and are certainly the toughest on the Hen schedule.

Don Swan was the big cog in the attack as he rolled up 20 scores in the four games, with six of them coming in the North Carolina game. He was ably assisted by Gordie Blerman who had 10 points. Dick Murray, Leo Mullin and Willie Kuhn were the mainstays of the defense and Paul (Fussy) Catts took over the "cheese" very ably. The team was handicapped by the fact that only 15 men made the trip. Next week the squad should be strengthened by the addition of some football players including Cy Kapiowitz, Milt Keene, Frank Gutheridge, and Phil Gentner.

Marathon

Have you swum yet for your team? W. A. A.'s swimming marathon has begun, and the winning meet will be the one with the most lengths to its credit. Minimum eligibility requirements enjoin that beginners execute four widths of the pool, while other swimmers must swim four lengths of the pool at two different times.

Swimmers, other than beginners, will be considered as advanced unless classified otherwise by a rating board for that purpose.

The marathon will be followed up in the near future by a swimming meet to determine final team winners.

See manager "Fuss" Gordy, at Warner for further details, and watch the W. A. A. bulletin board.

Spring Sports

W. A. A. president, Laura Lange, has announced that all spring sports will begin Tuesday, April 18 at 4:00 p. m. Tennis blanks will be provided in the gym for sign ups for singles and doubles. Outdoor lacrosse practice will begin immediately. Games will not be competitive to the point of choosing a winner, but will be played mostly to develop the techniques and skills which will be taught since lacrosse is a comparatively new sport down on lower campus.

Softball lovers will also meet at 4:00 p. m. on Tuesday to sign up and begin their first practice. A definite softball schedule has not been set up because of the lack of interest shown in this sport in previous years. However, a good turn out is expected this year and will possibly result in an evening tournament.

Aquatic Show

Outstanding among our coming attractions is the super aquatic show to be given by the Aquatic Club for three big days—April 25, 26, and 27. Due to the large crowd expected, tickets without cost will be issued to those coming to the show in order that they may be sure of a seat on a specific night. A more complete account of the show will appear in the REVIEW next week.

Badminton Tourney

Let's make Thursday night badminton night! Four courts will be open on Thursdays from 6:30 to 9:30 for those unable to play off their games at other times.

This week finds the tournament at the end of the third round. Managed by Betty Boyce, the tourney got off to a good start with 48 singles entries and 23 doubles.

W. A. A. Banquet

Pat Gilbert has been appointed as chairman of the W. A. A. banquet to be given May 4 at 6:30 in Kent Hall. All active members of W. A. A. are urged to keep that date open. At that time all girls with the required number of points will be awarded their W. A. A. pins. Also, officers for next year will be announced. A good guest speaker has been obtained for the occasion.

Delaware Play Day

Delaware's High School Play Day turned out to be a big success last March 25. Forty-eight girls from Delaware high schools came out to represent P. S. duPont, A. I. duPont, William Penn, Georgetown, and Milford. The program began with registration at 9:30 and ended after a recreational swim at 2:30. During the morning, girls from the various schools mixed to form color teams to compete against each other in basketball, tumbling, table tennis, ring tennis, and darts. In the afternoon there were badminton shuffle board, and

FOND FAREWELL

Mid-terms have taken their toll. After lengthy and intelligent consideration, Fred Hartman of Chalk Talk fame has decided to hang up his typewriter for a while. And so, with tears in our eyes we must swallow the lump in our throat and bid a fond farewell to that tender, touching, tantalizing journalistic gem, Chalk Talk. History books are expected to call it "A great contribution to sports writing." The student body is expected to mourn en masse. Al Cartwright is expected to bellow, "Good riddance!"

Word is going to the effect that President Carlson's final decision to head north was made with the statement, "If Chalk Talk goes, then I go."

Well, Hartman, Chalk Talk, and Carlson have all gone. If you see a new guy resembling old friend Freddy, and even calling himself "F. Basil Hartman," it is the new Hartman, the scholar, the bookworm, the "I'll work those conditions off, or else!" Hartman.

INTRODUCING THE SUCCESSOR

Henceforth, Side Lines will garnish the sports page of your favorite weekly. The author is a novice at feature writing, but aims to match the old regime, scoop for scoop. A summary of sports department policy will be presented in a later issue. For the present, let it suffice to say that the only change in the page is the name of the columnist.

MISCELLANEA

The Delaware varsity basketball team, alias the Blue Chicks, came within a point of winning the Delaware State Senior Basketball Tournament championship for the second straight year. They were beaten in the finals by a team named "Worth Steel." Earl Voss, playing for Worth, dropped three points in the last 15 seconds, making the final score 55-54. Tough Luck. Frank Albera, next year's basketball captain, was named the outstanding player of the tourney, and, along with Jim Kruzinski, was chosen on the all-tourney team.

The same Earl Voss that dumped the Chicks is supposed to go to Kings College next year. He's now a Soph at West Chester State Teachers College and has played two years of varsity basketball there. . . . Rollins College has given up football. . . . As for the Blue Hen baseball team, we must be tolerant. After all, somebody has to lose. Shack Martin's men open their home schedule on Friday afternoon on Frazer Field against Ithaca College. Welcome home Diane!

Terry Schall is the State of Delaware's first ping pong king. In the recently concluded Delaware State Table Tennis Tournament, Terry won the unlimited men's singles championship, the intermediate men's singles championship, and teamed with Amir Hossein Dowlatabadi to win the intermediate men's doubles title. Ed Clark and Dowlatabadi teamed up in the unlimited doubles competition and won that. All three play on the informal table tennis team organized here on campus. Schall was able to execute the twin win trick because, by the tournament regulations, he could qualify as both intermediate and unlimited, having turned 19 in March. Dorothy Potts reached the finals in the unlimited girls competition but lost in that match. A fine showing by the college paddlers!

APRIL FOOL?

At least two people were severely jolted on April 1 when the Journal-Every Now and Then announced that their star sports editor, the fabulous Al Cartwright, was named the nation's best sports columnist. One was F. Basil Hartmann, erstwhile sports editor of the REVIEW. It seemed that some word eating was in order. The other was "The taciturn Cartwright, author of the highly popular column . . . A La Carte." Cartwright was at the Wilmington Blue Rocks spring training camp at Kingstree, S. C. when the news broke up in the big city.

The selection was made by the Headliners Club of Atlantic City, N. J. Cartwright succeeds W. W. (Red) Smith of the New York Herald Tribune as the number one sports columnist in the U.S., according to the Headliners.

Hartmann has two consolations. The announcement was released on April Fool's Day ("Appropriate," says Freddie), and it is rumored that Chalk Talk ran a close second in the selections. The latter is unconfirmed.

Del. Rifle Squad To Take on Collegiate Competition in '51

As the team completed its last week of familiarization firing April, 1950, team aspirants showed vast improvement. The squad is composed primarily of freshmen and sophomores. The team members are approaching scores which will enable them to win rifle matches in the next year, when the University is expected to enter a rifle team in intercollegiate competition.

Joseph Cann, a freshman, from Johnstown, Pa., has entered the NRA small bore "expert" class with a score of 276 out of a possible 300. Bill Cherry, a junior, from Rising Sun, Md., Larry Lipstein, a sophomore from Wilmington, Del., and Ed Cunningham, a freshman from Hempstead, L. I., are consistently shooting high "sharpshooter" scores and they will be ready for college competition next year.

Three freshmen, Ralph Siegrist, Youngstown, Ohio; John Eipper, Wilmington, Del., and Mathew Mitten, Dover, Del., are showing excellent form and are expected to break into the "sharpshooter" class next year.

Others showing consistent improvement and who will become valuable team members with a little more seasoning include: Roland Walls, Wilbur Johnson, James Burri, Edwin Hoffman, Paul Cochran, Sanford Ackerman, Harvey Wadman, Milt Adams, William Simpson, Arthur Gorman and Joseph Lank.

Southern hospitality didn't live up to its name last week as the University of Delaware baseball team made its annual swing through the South. The Blue and Gold squad dropped five out of six games played during the Spring Vacation against tough college and service competition.

After having been rained out at the Naval Academy, the squad traveled to the Quantico Marine Base to meet the Leathernecks. The Marines took little time to decide the issue as they teed off with six runs in the first inning against the starting and losing pitcher, Doc Green, and then coasted to a 13-5 victory.

Frank Frezza and Dave Petros led the Marines as they collected seven of the twelve hits gathered by their team off Blue Hen pitchers Green, Pete Carlson, and Joe Pennock. Frezza had two home runs and a single while Petros had four singles for five times at the plate. Joe Lank, George Frederick, and George Schaen were the only Hens to hit safely. The game was called after eight innings because of darkness.

The University of Maryland was the second team to set down the invaders from the North. Dan Wagner, the Terp moundsman, struck out fourteen batters and held the Hens to only one hit while his teammates were collecting ten runs and twelve hits off Doc Green. The loss was the second in as many days for Green, whose single prevented Wagner from pitching a no-hit game.

Lynchburg College outscored the Blue and Gold 5-1 behind the six-hit pitching of Wendel Overstreet, who was making his first start on the mound for the Lynchburg varsity. Overstreet helped his own cause as he rapped out a single and a double in three trips to the plate. The Hens were led by Bob Brodey who scored their only run. Starting pitcher Jim Middleton was charged with the loss, the third straight for the Hens.

Sophomore Pete Carlson blanked the University of Virginia nine for five innings before the Cavaliers broke up the ball game with one run in the sixth inning, three in the seventh, and two in the eighth, to win 6-0. George Frederick, Joe Lank and Joe Heim led the Hens' seven hit attack with two hits apiece. Bob Brodey gathered the only other hit for the Hens. Don Alcholz, sophomore leftfielder, led the Cavaliers with a single and a two run homer.

The Norfolk Naval Training Center nine handed the Blue Hen team its fifth straight loss by a 10-7 score. The Sailors broke a 3-3 tie in the bottom of the fifth inning with a seven run outburst. A three run Hen rally fell short of the mark as the game was called after seven innings because of a local curfew. Paul Thompson was the losing pitcher. Joe Higgins led the Hen attack with three singles.

Victory came at last to Coach Shack Martin and his Delaware nine. An abbreviated seven inning contest found the Hens leading 8-5 at the end. Bill Bodnaruk paced the Blue and Gold drive with three singles and a home run for four times at bat. This was the first roundtripper of the year for the team. Joe Pennock was given credit for this first win of the season for the Delaware squad, after having been relieved in the sixth inning by Doc Green. The lineups:

Alpha Epsilon Pi

Vacation notes . . .

Those two Southern Gentlemen, Bob "Hack" Herold and Don Cheer came back from their Southern trips with the baseball and lacrosse teams respectively in fine shape and speaking in a very slow drawl.

Saturday night a party for the fraternity was held at the home of Garry Greenstein in Wilmington.

George Chamlin brought down the house and walked off with top honors singing a few Latin-American numbers at the beautiful Anchor Room of the Lakeside Park Hotel in Asbury Park, N. J. New York papers please note. Bo Lacowitz, his business manager, has just announced that he will be available for night club dates in the future.

First place among fraternities in the scholarship department again goes to Alpha Epsilon Pi; this was revealed in figures recently released by Dean Daugherty's office.

Our congratulations go to the Varsity Club for a really great show. We also wish to congratulate Hugh Dougherty for his part in the farewell banquet for Dr. Carlson.

Alpha Tau Omega

Something new has been added to the ATO house. Jack Williams presented us with his wonderful dog, "Kerry." We are very happy to have a mascot and in this short time all the boys have taken "Kerry" in as a real Brother. (Only yesterday did we really find out that it was a female!)

During the vacation, three ATO's surrendered their pins. John Fiorino pinned his "Oatsie", who, in reality, is Miss Margaret Hauser of Matawan, New Jersey. Other pins went from Colvin "Little Tex" Franklin to Miss Betty LaMothe of Wilmington, Delaware, and Earl Walker to Miss Mandy Abbott of Washington, D. C. Congratulations Brothers, may they wear them always.

This Saturday, the Freshman and Sophomore classes are sponsoring the "April Frolic" with Art Mooney and his orchestra. After the wonderful impression Mooney left on the students last year, the dance should go over very well. Let's all get out and back up two of our classes.

Delta Tau Delta

At the last meeting before Spring Vacation a general election of Chapter Officers took place with the following brothers being elected: President, Arthur G. Diver; Vice President, James C. Morris; Recording Secretary, Frank S. Locke; Corresponding Secretary, Howard G. Harper, and Treasurer, William M. Dickerson.

We wish to thank the outgoing officers and committees for a job well done, and we are looking forward to another successful year under our new officers.

Returning to our studies after the short but pleasant recess we welcomed back our traveling brothers: Jeff Weekley from Nassau, and Jim Morris and Jim Russel from Miami. All are wearing healthy suntans and have numerous amusing incidents to relate.

With the Delt Week-End only two weeks away preparations for this event, as well as the Playbill, and other important social events are well under way, but still require a great deal of time and effort.

Phi Kappa Tau

Everybody seems glad to be back on campus after the short vacation. As usual, no one did any work. Now commences the rat race to catch up on back work while getting behind on the new work, so we'll be just as far behind the eight ball as ever when exams start.

The Phi Tau's held their annual election of officers just before vacation and the administration has already taken over. Earl Tull succeeds Frank Wasik (who did a fine job) as our new president. Frank Springer was elected vice-president and the other officers are Carl Sauter, treasurer; John Burpulis, assistant treasurer; Sam Workman, recording secretary; Bob Clere, corresponding secretary; Frank Silvapledgemaster; Bob Hirt, rushing chairman and editor; Bob Lytle, sergeant-at-arms; Nick Vitale, steward; Harry Menser, chaplain; Jack Scott, house manager; Bud Williams, IFC alternate. Hank Hammond is our IFC delegate and he will become the new IFC president next month.

The spring vacation is over and the home stretch lies ahead in the next 51 days. Over the holidays Brothers Gordy Bierman, Paul Catts and Dixie Foster did their part in helping the lacrosse team have a successful trip. Brothers Joe Higgins, Vic Beiriger and Joe Lank were active participants on the southern baseball trip.

We would like to thank all of those people who helped make the "Carlson Send Off" a big success. Also congratulations are in order for the new May Queen Ann Kuhn and her May Court—mighty pretty.

Here in the house, the week will be highlighted with pledge training. The pledges have been working hard for the last two months and are now approaching the climax of their training under the leadership of Brother "Geratch" McFaul. Thanks go to Brother Jim Thomas for the swell party he threw for the Brothers during the vacation. Brothers "Arch" Ayars and "Manzios" Murphy provided the entertainment.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Spring is taking a heavy toll. Three pins were transferred as Brothers Beadle, Browning and Fosset pinned co-eds Conny Logan of Bryn Mawr, and Ida May Ladd and Ginny Rhodes of Delaware.

Joe Bradley and Don Huston took advantage of the spring vacation and visited the Sig Ep Iota house in Florida.

The house is in line for a new flagpole. It will come from the shop of Jack Lingo's father where brethren Lingo and Stoeffel have been working on it.

SPE placed several contenders in the intramural boxing and wrestling from which pledge Don Dare emerged as the titleholder in the 136-pound wrestling class.

Pledge captain Franny Albera was elected to head next year's basketball team. His performance on the court this season speaks for itself.

That shiner on brother MacIver came as a result of being on the wrong end of a horse's leg. As he crossed the finish line in a point-to-point race last week Mac and his mount dissolved partnership.

Theta Chi

Heartiest congratulations to the 1950 Queen of the May, Ann Kuhn, and the members of her court. Ann, you will remember, was elected Alpha Xi's Sweetheart of 1949 and her election marks the second straight time that a Theta Chi Sweetheart has been selected to preside at the May Day festivities. Joanne Marshall, last year's queen, was Alpha Xi's Sweetheart of 1947. Congratulations everyone — you made a fine choice for '50.

Several of the brothers took off for sunnier climes as soon as the last bell rang starting the spring vacation and they all report a great time in Palm Beach. Joe Miller, Jerry Colonna, and Stan Hughes drove down and met Buck Thompson and Bob Downing at the beach. Brother Downing graduated last year and is working in West Palm Beach. Brothers Gillespie and Gorman drove down and although the boys painted the town red the two groups couldn't seem to get together all week.

been added in the past four years, and the first doctor of philosophy degrees have been earned, in chemistry and chemical engineering. Meanwhile, standards of admission for graduate study have been raised.

Dr. Rees, a member of the faculty since 1920, has directed graduate study there for the past four years. However, his teaching specialty is mathematics, and he is professor and department chairman in that field. A graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, he holds advanced degrees from the University of Chicago and University of Pennsylvania. A World War I officer, he served as an operations analyst in the second World War with the 14th Air Force in England and China.

He is secretary of the Graduate Council of Land Grant Colleges, and is chairman of the Council's committee for requirements for the doctor's degree. Recently he spoke on "Requirements for the Doctor's Degree" at the Midwest Conference on Graduate Study and Research.

THE DU PONT DIGEST

With the development of Neoprene Type W
Science Again Outpoints Nature

Motor mountings, wire and cable, sponge, gaskets, swim caps are among possible uses for Du Pont's new Neoprene Type W.

NEOPRENE — the chloroprene rubber produced by Du Pont research — has long outpointed natural rubber on many counts. Because of its greater resistance to chemicals, flame, heat, sunlight, weathering, oxidation, oils, grease and abrasion, it is widely used in such products as industrial hose, conveyor and transmission belts, insulated wire and cable, hospital sheeting, gloves and automotive parts.

Until recently, however, certain natural rubber compositions couldn't be beaten when it came to "permanent set" characteristics. Released from the pressure of prolonged deformation, they returned more nearly to their original shape.

This recovery factor is important to some manufacturers, particularly the people who make gaskets, seals, diaphragms, sheet packing, soft rolls and vibration-dampening devices.

NEW PRODUCT NEEDED

Much as they wanted to use neoprene because of its other superiorities, they often needed more resistance to permanent deformation than it afforded. So they used natural rubber, but were never quite satisfied with the way it resisted deterioration in severe service.

Du Pont scientists went to work to solve the problem. Skilled research chemists, physicists, engineers and others pooled their efforts. The result was a new polymer named Neoprene Type W.

NEOPRENE TYPE W INTRODUCED
Chemically, the new neoprene is quite similar to previous types. But its molecular structure has been changed so that the mechanical properties of its compositions are more nearly like those of rubber. With Neoprene Type W, it is possible to produce vibration-dampening devices that are not only highly resistant to oils, heat, grease and sunlight, but recover better than rubber from prolonged pressure.

Neoprene Type W also provides the basis for compositions that have a low modulus of elasticity — are easy to stretch. More attractive colors are possible. Soon it may appear in such articles as swim caps, where bright colors and head comfort are important. The brighter-colored compositions should also appeal to makers of appliance cords, coasters, sink mats, stove mats and toys.

In developing the uses of Neoprene Type W, Du Pont is working with hundreds of manufacturers and distributors. Once again a "partnership" of big and small businesses will cooperate to give Americans the benefits of an advance in science.
