Annual Scout Conference To Be Held At Dover School

Dr. B. P. Fowler
Chairman Of Arrangements

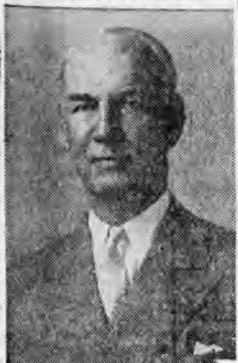

The annual conference for scouts of the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula will be held next Thursday at the Dover High School. It will begin with registration of delegates at 3:15 p.m., and a general assembly at 3:45 o'clock to be followed by discussion forums at 4:15.

Motion pictures of the 1939 activities of Scouts of the Council will be shown at 5:30 in the recreation room, and a testimonial dinner to all scoutmasters will be held at seven o'clock. Dr. George J. Fisher, deputy chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, will speak at the general assembly and again at the dinner.

Dr. Burton P. Fowler, principal of the Tower Hill School, Wilmington, is chairman of the program committee, and Arthur G. Livingston, of Dover, district scout commissioner, is in charge of the dinner. The invitation committee includes: J. Wallace Woodford, Dover; Wallace Williams, Elkton; Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, Chestertown; John W. Noble, Preston; Emerson C. Harrington, Jr., Cambridge; Col. William B. Tighman, Jr., Salisbury; Ralph A. Ross, Pocomoke City; R. Clarke Hill, Rehoboth. There will be six afternoon discussion groups: Advancement, camping, cubbing, district administration, leadership training, and sea scouting.

Ladies will be invited this year for the first time, and a special program is planned for them in the afternoon.

CANVASS FOR TOYS FRIDAY

Second Appeal For Discarded Toys Made

Search the basement, ransack the attic, look in the corners or any place where there might be a discarded toy or old doll.

Local Boy Scout troop No. 55 will make a house-to-house canvass Friday morning for discarded toys and dolls with which to brighten the hearts of less fortunate children at Christmas time.

Most every household has toys or dolls of this nature about somewhere—articles which are no longer valuable but which can be repaired, repainted and made over for usefulness.

Local scouts are now working nights in the Scout Room, playing at Santa Claus, remodeling used articles of this type which will be distributed among the needy children.

Search your home diligently—gather the unused toys and dolls and give them to the Boy Scouts when they call at your home. Or, better still, bring them to the Town Council office where they will be taken care of by Scoutmaster Vernon Steele.

This project has become an annual affair with scout troop No. 55 and is one indeed worthy of cooperation. Toys which have long ago served their purpose may bring cheer to needy little hearts at a time the rest of the world is rejoicing and joy to places where it might otherwise be absent.

F. A. COOCH IS CENSUS HEAD

Local Man Is Appointed From Group Of Three

F. Allyn Cooch, Jr., 248 W. Main Street, has been appointed area manager for Delaware for the 1940 federal census. It was announced this week by Director William L. Austin in Washington. The appointment was made by Austin.

Selection of the local man followed an intensive six weeks training in the complex work. Others who took this training were Bankson T. Holcomb, of Frederica, former state WPA administrator, and William F. Cann, former state deputy WPA administrator. These three were chosen from a large group of applicants.

Mr. Cooch plans to open his office in Wilmington early in December and about 250 enumerators will be appointed in addition to a few clerks. All enumerators will be required to attend a census school to acquaint themselves with the Federal setup.

Mr. Cooch is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Cooch, and a nephew of Lt.-Gov. Edward W. Cooch. For a year and a half prior to last September, he was manager of the Wilmington office of the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

He graduated from Peabody Military Academy in 1917 and entered (Please Turn To Page 8)

Engineering Society Honors Three At Meeting Saturday

Banquet Staged At Old College By Tau Beta Pi

Dr. C. M. A. Stine, a vice-president of the duPont Company, was one of three who were made honorary members of the Tau Beta Pi honorary engineering society, at a meeting of the University of Delaware chapter of the society on Saturday in Old College.

Dr. Stine received the coveted Perkins medal of the Society of Chemical Engineers for 1939. The other two made honorary members of the society were: Milton L. Draper, president of the Alumni Association of Delaware College, and Jay Robinson, who is connected with the National Vulcanized Fibre Company, both alumni of the university.

Eight student candidates were initiated at the session. They are: Clifton Sutton, James Kieras, Edward Lynch, Vincent Boyce, Joseph Plotts, Alexander Timme, Edward Samuel, and James Warren.

Phillip Singleton, president of the Yale Law School, was the speaker at the session.

RESPONSE ASSURES SUCCESS IN DRIVE

Cash Donations Reach $370; More Expected This Week

Numerous organizations, manufacturing concerns and individuals have responded to the Donation Day appeal made recently for the benefit of the Flower Hospital, according to a report from D. A. McClintock, treasurer of the committee, Tuesday night.

With a total of $320 already reported by Mr. McClintock and the Flower Hospital, the success of the campaign is practically assured as several sizable donations are expected from local concerns and civic clubs.

Both the Rotary and Lions clubs, which met early this week, are expected to contribute. Other business houses in town have indicated that their donations will be forthcoming.

Aside from monetary contributions other useful items such as a ton of coal, canned goods, pillow cases, fruits, etc., were received.

The contribution box located in the Town Council office has not yet been opened. It is planned to leave it for several days in hopes some further donations will come in.

While the campaign for funds officially closed Saturday it is hoped that individuals, organizations and firms who have not yet done so will help the cause along and send their contributions to either Mr. McClintock, the Town Council or the Newark Post.

Mr. McClintock, treasurer of the committee appointed by the Town Council to promote the Donation Day, announced Tuesday that he had received $270.00 in cash. The Flower Hospital reported receiving $60.00 in cash which brings the total to date to $320.00 which is below expectations but not disappointing in view of other expected contributions.

The committee, headed by C. C. Hubert, consists of Mrs. E. L. Richards, secretary, A. E. Tomhave, and Dr. John R. Downes in addition to Mr. McClintock, treasurer.

Cash contributors to the fund thus far are as follows: Town Council, $50; Continental-Diamond Fibre Company, $50; National Vulcanized Fibre Company, $50; Farmers Trust Company, $25; Chamber of Commerce, $25; Mr. and Mrs. J. Pearce Cann, $25; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Richards, $15; J. Allison O'Daniel American Legion Post, $10; Oriental Lodge, $5; individual contributions made to the committee, $15; Contributions reported by Flower Hospital, $50.

All cash received will be deposited in a special account, said Mr. McClintock, to await the disposition of the committee which will likely meet sometime next week.

NAVY YOUTH ON LEAVE

Warren Howard Smyth, who enlisted in the U. S. Navy at the Wilmington Recruiting Office, on December 8, 1938, is spending a nine day leave with his father, A. H. Smyth, 49 N. Chapel Street.

Upon enlisting young Smyth was transferred to the Naval Training Station, Newport, Rhode Island, for his recruit training. While at Newport he took advantage of the Trade Training offered by the Navy and in a competitive examination was selected for training in the Ordnance School, maintained at the Naval Training Station, Hampton Roads, Va., where he was graduated November 16, 1939. While visiting the local recruiters he expressed himself as pleased with his choice of the Navy and the progress he was making.

When Smyth's leave expires he will return to the station at Hampton Roads, after which he expects to be transferred to the Navy Yard at Philadelphia for duty in recommissioning destroyers.

Forty Members Of Tribe March In Wilmington

Forty members of Minnehaha Tribe No. 23, I.O.R.M., marched in the parade held last week in Wilmington in commemoration of the bi-centennial celebration of the granting of a charter to that city.

The degree team, under the leadership of Vaughn Heavell, assisted by Orville Sidwell and James Scarborough, is expected to have a full schedule this winter.

A delegation of past sashmen of Minnehaha Tribe attended a banquet of the Past Sashmen's Association of Delaware in Wilmington Monday evening.

Puppets Club Presents Annual Play Tournament

Bud, Miss O'Daniels and Miss Hastings are residents of Newark who have appeared in several dramatic productions at the University.

The Freshman play directed by Helen Kaiser, is "Saved by J. W. Rogers, Jr." The following people are taking part in it: Alice Bradley, Helen Chahy, June Lynam, Helen Dawson, Norma Hollis, and Virginia Elliott.

The production staff for the Tournament is as follows: Production manager, Peg Smith; Stage Manager, Dave Parviz; Publicity, Marie Connolly. Members of committees are the following: Properties, Jeanne Remington, Anne Kline, Helen Pierson, Sara Short, Edith Kusner, Marie Connolly, and Helen Willson; Make-up, Thelma West, Peg McDermott, Marion Stiles, and Barbara Rothrock; Costumes, June Groves, Betty Hutton, Loretta Schaefer, Mildred Davis, Betty Volard, Vivian Schla; Scenery, Peg Smith, and Peg McDermott.

The president of the Puppets Club is Jane Trent; secretary and treasurer is Thelma West.

DELIVER BASKETS TO NEEDY

25 Families To Receive Foodstuffs

About twenty-five Newark families will be brought Thanksgiving cheer today by the annual distribution of Thanksgiving baskets made possible through the cooperation of the Newark High School and local Boy Scout troop No. 55.

Tasty, nutritious and traditional Thanksgiving foodstuffs are prepared into baskets by Miss Thomas, Home Economics teacher, who sees that each family receives a sufficient amount properly proportioned.

Baskets are delivered to needy families Wednesday afternoon by members of the local scout troop.

This annual custom has for years brought comfort and plenty to less fortunate families in our midst at Thanksgiving time. Last year thirty-three baskets were delivered. There will be fewer baskets this year, however, due to less unemployment and need in our community.

INSPECT NEW HOME

Nearly four hundred people visited and inspected Forest Edge House, latest addition to Nottingham Manor, on Sunday according to developer Leon Ryan.

Continuous streams of visitors arrived and departed from the beginning of the Open House at ten o'clock and kept up steadily until dark.

Inspection of the new home brought many admiring comments from the visitors. They were deeply impressed with the modern features and ideal floor-plan incorporated in the dwelling as well as the beauty and conveniences afforded homesites in Nottingham Manor.

The large number of local home seekers present was enhanced by throngs of Wilmington visitors including many employees of the Hercules, Atlas and duPont companies.

D. A. R. To Meet With Mrs. Harvey B. Steele

Cooch's Bridge Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, will meet on Saturday, December 2nd at 2 P.M. at the home of Mrs. Harvey B. Steele, 31 Amstel Avenue.

Mrs. J. Irvin Dayett, Regent, will preside at the business meeting of the Chapter.

Tea will be served by the following hostesses: Mrs. Harvey B. Steele, Mrs. Glenn S. Skinner and Mrs. Arthur B. Eselman.

Mrs. Alex Cobb has been elected as Radio Chairman for the Chapter. Mrs. Harry C. Boden has been appointed Chapter Historian.

Mrs. Ruth A. McKinney will receive the annual donations for Ellis Island at this meeting.

Lesson-Sermon To Be Held Sunday Morning

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alms Monism and Hypnotism, Demanded" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon to be delivered Sunday at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Park Place and Van Buren Street, Wilmington. The morning service will be given at 11 o'clock while an evening meeting will also be held at eight.

Thanksgiving

(An editorial written by the late Everett C. Johnson, founder of The Newark Post, and published in the November 25, 1914 issue.)

Thanksgiving is not only a day; it is a condition of the mind. Official Proclamations do not inspire; they only better the opportunity. National observance, it is in very truth, individual in attitude of reverence. An interesting thought, too, Thanksgiving Day is an American day. Saints of Thought, Heroes of History, Events drenched in Truths, have their anniversary all over the world—but Thanksgiving is ours. Other peoples, other nations, have, of course, the same spirit, but as a day set aside—the recognized sentiment of a nation—it is distinctive, an American institution.

Conceived during the hardships of the New England colonists, it has grown to the heart beat of a people. Beautiful among these memories, stands the official proclamation of Lincoln. Bowed with the critical responsibility of History, a house divided against itself, the life of a Nation threatened, a Country, Christian and brothers, drenched in blood—that master man asked a nation to kneel with him before the God of Battles and Prince of Peace. Since then, Thanksgiving, has been honored in undivided and national observance.

Strange, yet strikingly human, Thanksgiving is more truly observed in times of stress than in times of blessing. In these days of the complexities of our hurried work-a-day world, we are prone to forget. But this, today, Thanksgiving 1914—what reason have we for the peace and plenty of our Nation? While in sections of our country, our wants and needs may not be supplied with a bounteous plenty, yet in comparison, our Nation is sublimely blessed. With the greatest war of History waged by foremost nations of the world, these states of ours have major reason for thanks. He who guides the Destiny of Nations has wonderfully rewarded our thought and actions. But in reverent recognition of our fortune, let us not forget the responsibility. Never in history was a people presented with the opportunity or faced with the responsibility as we are today. With manifold occasion for Thanksgiving, let it be by the hand as well as with the heart. Sitting at the feast of our harvest tomorrow, give it to us in sense in some practical way, the distress of our sister nations. Misdirected energy, false ideas of loyalty, ill-conceived dreams of duty, have laid waste to homes and harvests across the seas. By catching a glimpse of the scene we can the better serve, and give thanks, worthy of form and name.

In pews, by the fireside, wandering afield in God's open—according to the thought of your better selves, may this Day be your best with better yet to come.

Rotarians Attend Wilmington Meeting

The Newark Rotary Club met with the Wilmington Club Monday night in the duPont Hotel. This was the 25th anniversary of the Wilmington Rotary Club. Mr. Walter D. Head, of Montclair, N. J., president of Rotary International, was guest speaker. He was introduced by William Matthews, Smyrna, president of the 14th District.

Newark Rotary members who were present were: the Rev. O. A. Bartley, Messrs. Richard S. Snyder, Allen Jones, F. Allyn Cooch, Samuel Handloff, George Jackson, William Hamilton, James Thompson, Samuel E. Dameron, C. P. Donovan, Hernon Wollaston, George Mix and Fred Marten.

Miss Elizabeth Pierson, associated with the Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, spent Sunday at her home on Elkton Road.

TO ELECT BOARD

In order to elect a junior board and to consider matters pertaining to the advancement of the cooperative program in the Marshfield community, members of the advisory and junior boards for Southern States Cooperative's local agency will hold a supper conference at Deer Park hotel, Newark, Tuesday evening, November 28, Paul Mullin, district manager, announced today.

The group will review the organization's operations from July 1 to September 30. The purposes and functions of the junior board will be outlined at this time.

Members of the advisory board are: Irvin G. Klair, chairman, and Harvey Ball, James Derrickson, and Frank F. Yearley, Marshallton, and Archie Armstrong, Hockessin. The junior board is composed of Calvin Ball, Marshallton; Murray Nickodemus and Robert Woodward, Hockessin, and Edwin Pearson and Franklin McVaugh, Newark.

Annual Thanksgiving Banquet At University

Three hundred and fifty students, members of the faculty and friends attended the annual Thanksgiving banquet staged at the University of Delaware Tuesday night.

Among the guests were: Dean and Mrs. R. L. Spencer, Mrs. Walter Hultihen, Miss Martha Whitcraft, president of the Women's Self-Government Association; Dean and Mrs. George E. Dutton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Grubb, former Judge and Mrs. Hugh M. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cann, Dean Marjorie S. Golder, Albert Meek, and the Rev. H. Everett Hallman. John C. Schwind acted as toastmaster.

CONTINUE THURSDAY CLOSING

Local Grocers Agree To Retain Half Holiday

"Local grocery stores will continue their policy of closing on Thursday afternoons," George M. Haney, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced Monday following a conference with officials of a concern which had indicated a desire to discontinue the practice.

"Due to a misunderstanding," Mr. Haney added, "the concern in question was under the false impression that local independent merchants were breaking an agreement made two years ago. As soon as this had been straightened out, there was no further question about the policy remaining in practice."

Outside of two establishments which never joined the movement, no violations have ever been noted here, chamber officials stated. In order to prove that independent grocers are still anxious to continue the policy, a petition was signed by nine proprietors last week as a gesture of good faith.

Signers of the petition were: R. B. Davis, Jarman and Moore, John F. Richards, S. L. Corning, Community Stores, Inc., Shorty Tweed, Raughley's Market, Wollaston's, and American Stores Company.

ALARMS ANSWERED BY AETNA

Newark Fire Company Had Busy Week

Local fire ladders were kept busy last week answering minor alarms. One of what appeared to be a serious nature was a grass fire directly behind the Town Council office that gained momentum until it scared fences and threatened dwellings adjacent to the council building.

No actual damage was done and the fire was soon extinguished by means of hand extinguishers and wire ladders. The configuration started behind the Industrial Arts building from a small incinerator which ignited nearby dry grass and leaves.

Other grass fire alarms were answered on Academy street, Benay street, South College Avenue, Paper Mill road and Ogletown.

The local department made a run to Anders, Md., to answer an alarm but the fire, a dwelling had made too much headway to be brought under control.

WaWa Tribe To Sponsor Cousin Lee And His Boys

Cousin Lee and his boys will appear at Corner Ketch on Tuesday under the sponsorship of WaWa Tribe No. 45 I.O.R.M. The program is scheduled to start at eight o'clock.

Mrs. H. W. Helm was hostess to the Newark Garden Club Monday.

County Wide Campaign On Rats Opens December 7th

"Do your rat killing early" was the advice given New Castle County farmers today by County Agricultural Agent G. M. Worrlow, of Newark, in announcing the seasonal rat killing campaign.

This year's County Wide Campaign will be in the form of a pre-Christmas dinner for rats on December 7. The menu will be a tasty poisoned bait prepared by the U. S. Biological Survey of the Federal Government. The new package of rat bait contains two cans of bait—one meat, and the other fish—each mixed with Red Squill. These baits are more likely to be eaten by rats than baits made with any other foods—the results of years of testing. One package will make about 60 small baits, sufficient for the average infestation. Red Squill is the rat destroyer which is relatively harmless to humans, livestock, pets and poultry.

How many rats are there in the United States? Obviously, no one could answer such a question with any real accuracy. The best surveys indicate that in cities there is one rat for each two people; in towns, one rat per citizen; on farms, there are probably two rats per person; so the total rat population of the United States is somewhere in the neighborhood of 130,000,000.

Each of these rodents consumes 50 pounds of food a year and destroys about $200 worth of property. This makes an Annual National Rat Bill of $200,000,000. The Annual Rat Bill of Rural New Castle County is conservative estimated at $70,000.00. In addition to being the most destructive animal pest on earth, rats are blamed for the spread of eight human diseases that take heavy death toll. Research men on the subject declare rats have been responsible for more human deaths than all mankind wars.

Farmers participating in last fall's One-Night County Wide Campaign were quite satisfied with the results and recognize it as one of the most effective steps in eradicating this pest. Rats move freely from farm to farm so individual control is ineffective. United effort will insure permanent results.

Farmers are urged to check up on their rat damage. A post card to the County Agricultural Agent will reserve your cooperative rat bait for the night of December 7.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for November 19

Lesson subject and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

WARNINGS AND PROMISES

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 7:1-14. GOLDEN TEXT—And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them. (Matthew—Luke 6:31.)

"How to Win Friends and Influence People" may be worthwhile to study, unless it is done from a purely selfish desire to be popular so that one may make more money and get on in the world. Everyone should desire to make more friends and better friends, and the Christian in making friends should make them for his Lord as well as for himself. Actually the best of the rules and suggestions offered on this subject are already an integral part of Christian conduct as revealed in the Word of God.

I. Avoid Judgment (vv. 1-5)

By not judging others censoriously we escape such judgment of ourselves both by God and by our fellow man. The admonition, "Judge not," obviously does not mean that we are not to exercise our God-given ability to discern between good and evil, nor does it mean that we are to stand silent in the presence of wrongdoing. Verse 6 in this very chapter calls for the use of judgment (see also I Thess. 5:21).

In all such judgment we are to avoid an unkind spirit and the hypocrisy described in verses 3 to 5. We are to be certain that our own lives are above reproach regarding that which we condemn (v. 5). The more common exercises of correcting our own faults will serve a salutary twofold purpose of improving ourselves and of making us too busy to find fault with others.

II. Be Reverent (v. 6)

While we are not to judge others, we are not to go to the opposite extreme of being so lenient in our attitude that we permit ungodly men to profane and trample down sacred things. This does not mean, as some would have us believe, that we are not to present the gospel to the low, out of sinners; for example, to a drunkard. Only thus can such an individual be saved. But it does mean that in dealing with holy things we are not only to be reverent ourselves, but we are to be careful that we do not permit wicked men to misuse and to profane the holy things of God.

III. Pray in Faith (vv. 7-11)

Here is a straightforward promise from the lips of our Lord Himself, assuring us that prayer will be answered. It seems that He must have foreknown that some would feel that the promise was too good to be true, so He stated it in three-fold form and repeated it twice. Why not believe it, act on it, and receive the answer?

Observe that there is to be no opportunity in prayer, we are to seek if we would find. "Our Lord does not guarantee us anything at first asking. God does not open His treasury to a passing bugle-call or the tap of a careless hand which just touches the door and then passes on. Prayer is not a momentary wish or a transitory whim. It is the utterance of a confirmed and persistent and unwavering longing. If you want a prayer answered, you must go on praying" (J. G. Greenough). We have included the so-called Golden Rule under this section because the word "therefore" links it with that which goes before. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan aptly says, "If we omit the 'therefore,' we cannot obey the verse. If we retain the 'therefore,' and are driven to ask to seek, to knock, and to know that the Listener to the asking, to the seeking, to the knocking, is our Father, then the rule is golden with heaven's own light, but in no other way."

The Golden Rule is really the fulfillment of the law and the prophets, but in the light of Christ's glory it is also a great principle of Christian love and consideration.

IV. Walk in the Narrow Way (vv. 13, 14)

The road to heaven is a narrow way because it is built to carry us through the quicksands of this world to a glorious consummation. It is not a dismal road, for it is lighted by God's glory; and it is not a lonely road, for Jesus walks with us.

The road to destruction is broad. The entrance is easy; there is much company, but one soon finds that the company is distasteful—just fellow sinners. Jesus is not going that way. The best people, God's people, are going the other way. The road leads into all kinds of by-ways where pitfalls abound. The earthly pleasures one thought to enjoy have, as MacLaren puts it, "a strange knack of losing their charm and at the same time increasing their hold."

Full of Grace

I will neither be content with what measure of grace I have, nor impatient of God's delay; but every day I will endeavor to have one drop added to the rest; so my last day shall fill up my vessel to the brim.—Joseph Hall.

At W. C. D. with Mary Lee

To Say The Least—

"Our Town" was a grand production by the E52 Players. Last Thursday a very enthusiastic audience was presented at the society's initial performance for this year. Several members of the cast gave superb performances. Phyllis Wood and Ellen Simon, Wilmington, and Jane Trent, Dover, were the three outstanding players from W. C. D. The play was a very unusual one and the audience enjoyed every minute of it. All we can say is that we're sorry if you weren't there because you missed one of the best, if not the best, Mitchell Hall presentations. To Director C. R. Kuse and assistant, Mina Press, and the cast—congratulations.

Dramatics—

The W. C. D., competitive play directors have complete their castings. The plays will be given in Mitchell Hall on Nov. 28. Blanche Lee, senior class director, who was director of last year's junior class victory-winning play, has announced that the seniors will present the first act of "The Women." In the cast will be: Ginny Rupert, Thelma West, Betty Hellen, Jean Motherall, Ellen Simon, Peg Smith, Jane Trent, and Mickey McCoy. Sophomore play director, Phyllis Wood, has in her cast Ann O'Daniel, Emily Budd, and Jane Hastings.

Tea For Seniors—

Miss Amy Rextrew of the home economics department entertained the senior class at a tea last Friday.

EXPECTING TOO MUCH

LAURA GRAY

Two friends who had been separated for years were having an intimate talk in a restaurant.

"What line is your son going to follow?" asked Jones. "He's about fifteen, isn't he?"

Disappointed in Son

"Fourteen; and—!" The father implied with a wave of his hands that this topic was a hopeless affair. After a few moments he continued, "I'm frankly disappointed in John. He doesn't concentrate. He has plenty of enthusiasm, but no stick-to-itiveness. I can't understand it. For a while he showed keen interest in radio construction, and he was really clever at it, too. I spared no money in buying materials and books, and he was to have had training in that line as soon as he was through school. But now he hasn't really touched his radio for weeks. He tries to keep up his interest, to please me, but it seems as if he just can't. His head's been full of cowboy stuff, ever since we spent the holidays on the ranch. He thinks of nothing else; he seems possessed. And that's the way he's always been about everything he takes up. I'm afraid he'll be a drifter, a ne'er-do-well, like his uncle Tom!" The father sighed.

Expect Too Much

"Nonsense, Brown—not with a father like you. I'm not a father, but I've taught all my life and know youngsters. And sometimes I think we expect too much of them. I was telling my wife this the other day. She's taken one of those foster children from the Home to help in the house, a fourteen-year-old girl. My wife was horrified when the girl cut bread and pushed the bread—crumbs and all—into the drawer.

The youngsters sing the latest jazz about the house and was caught doing a dance with the dry mop in front of the mirror, scattering dust all around. My wife thought she had better send the girl back to the Home as 'unfit,' until I explained."

"You think then that my John may gain stability as he grows up?" "Of course. When he's an adult he'll set like one. If radio really means much to him he'll come back to it when the cowboy craze dies and be enriched by his interest in radioing."

Wouldn't Be Children

"Maybe you're right," brightening. "I guess if boys and girls were serious, stable and all that, they wouldn't be children, but grown-ups."

"Yes. So long as your boy is greatly interested in anything, working at it wholeheartedly, you needn't fear. He's learning and developing. Then again, the days are past for the man with but one job. Life demands more today. You can never know when this knowledge of ranching may prove useful."

The father rose. "I believe I'll suggest to John that he put away his radio materials for the present and concentrate on ranching. Perhaps he'll take an interest in the radio again when his cousin comes to visit us. This cousin's a radio fan; I don't know much about the mechanism myself."

"Maybe childhood is especially designed for the purpose of trying out many things before settling down to one."

"Maybe," agreed the friend, warmly grasping the father's hand.

VEGETABLE SHOW IS PLANNED

Affair To Be Sponsored By Diamond Grange

By Miss Emma S. Maclary

Stanton, Nov. 22.—Beginning Sunday evening, there will be a week of Thanksgiving and evangelistic services in the Stanton M. E. Church. Song services will be led by the Rev. Frank A. Baker, of Dagsboro, Md., father of the Rev. David W. Baker of Stanton, and visiting ministers of nearby communities will bring the message each evening.

Diamond State Grange, of Stanton, at its meeting Wednesday evening conducted a fall vegetable show, and members had on display exhibits of their farm products. Women members displayed samples of their handwork. Members of Rose Hill Grange were guests at the meeting, and brought greetings from their group. The next meeting of the Grange will be held on Wednesday evening, Dec. 6th, and the annual election of officers will be held.

On Nov. 30th, the Parish Aid of St. James P. E. Church, Stanton, will serve its annual chicken patte supper in the parish house, 5 to 7:30 o'clock.

The Stanton School will be closed Thursday and Friday, due to the Thanksgiving holidays.

The Stanton School P.-T. A. held its monthly business meeting Thursday evening in the school, with Mrs. Charles W. Wilson, President, in charge. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $83.72 on hand, and he ways and means committee reported net receipts of $37.72 from a recent doughnut sales.

William Rineer, a member of the faculty of the Stanton school, was named chairman of safety work at the school.

Mrs. Helen Wright, chairman of the library committee, reported that the school had ordered books, funds for which had been allotted them by the State Board of Education.

Health Topics will be discussed at the next meeting, with Miss Lora Little, principal of the school, and chairman of health committee, leading the discussion. The local P.-T. A. voted to take care of two tonsil operations of school children.

The December meeting will be dispensed with due to the holidays. In January, the library committee will be in charge, and Miss Nellie Morton will talk on "Library Work," and Mrs. Robert P. Robinson, Sr., will show motion pictures and speak on "The Book in the Home and School."

The Young Women's Class of the Stanton M. E. Church will hold its annual Christmas party on Monday evening, Dec. 4th, and will serve a supper in the church on Dec. 7th.

Mrs. Sarah Delano Roosevelt is one of only six women in our history to see her son elected President of the United States. The other five were the mothers of Washington, Polk, Grant, Garfield and McKinley. The mother of Cleveland died a few months before his election in 1884.

BOOK SHELF

The hotel business, like many others, has a language all its own. William Stewart Cornyn has been keeping his ears open around the hotels in Los Angeles and reports on the speech of the natives there in the new issue of AMERICAN SPEECH. A chamber maid is known as an admiral. Need we tell you that it is because she is in charge of the vessels? If you are a hotel guest and duck into a bathroom to avoid tipping the bellboy you'll be known as bathroom Charlie. Your room is a cave. If you walk up the stairs you'll be climbing the cleats, whereas if you had taken the elevator, the operator would have been an indoor aviator. Don't order the usual pitcher of ice. Ask for a scuttle of clinkers. If the hired help thinks you're an unpleasant guest to have around you'll be known as a gonoff. Finally, don't join the loaders among the potted palms. Then you're among the lobby-lies. We'll have to take gas to get away from it all. The dentist's memoir book we proposed is still haunting us. This week it is B. W. Heubach of the Viking Press who wants us to call the tooth-yanker's autobiography Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth. Open wider, please.

Speaking of puns—as we promised not to—we wonder if Hitler is keeping in mind what happened to Napoleon when the latter decided he needed more Elbaroom?

Mr. James Farley, head of the post office, and Mr. Joseph Villari, head of our shipping room, both had something to say this past week about the forthcoming series of stamps in honor of famous Americans. Mr. Farley says the stamps will be ready "soon" and announces where the various adhesives will first go on sale. Mr. Villari has some suggestions for Mr. Farley regarding the denominations in which the stamps—especially those honoring authors—should be issued. Since the new book rate of one and a half cents a pound brings this fraction of a cent into the picture so often, Mr. Villari wants to know why it wouldn't be appropriate to have these stamps in denominations of 7 1-2c, 10 1-2c, 13 1-2c, 16 1-2c, 19 1-2c, and 22 1-2c. He says he is "quite sure he (Farley) will get the blessings of all the shipping clerks in America that ship books." With 1940 coming along, Mr. Farley may be interested in winning friends and influencing postage stamp lick-

We have just found out what finally became of Susan, the ideological bovine, now immortalized in Tindall's D. H. LAWRENCE AND SUSAN HIS COW. The Honorable Dorothy Brett (author of J. B. Lipincott's Lawrence and Brett) told us Susan had been "canned." Did she mean that literally, we asked? Yes, she replied, "Susan was chopped up and put in a row of tins." Maybe your Professor who has written this book ate her, quite angel. But I must admit to a feeling of joyous revenge, she deserved it, she got it. A most pernicious cow, that is if you had to chase her around day after day as we did, but there she is, in a can or a tin, which ever you like to call it. Susan may have been a symbol to Lawrence, but now her heart belongs to the beef trust.

There have been a good many books on the strength and weakness, the military and economic situation of Germany written by non-Germans. It comes, therefore, as a welcome change to have a book about England's strength and weakness written by a German. Such a volume is How Strong Is Britain, by C. E. Count Puckler, and published by one of the youngest publishing houses, the Veritas Press.

Most interesting to us is the stress Count Puckler lays on England's moral advantages and disadvantages. He says: "No country in the world has anything to fear from her, no matter how strong she may be, providing its own foreign policy is as strictly ethical as Great Britain's is compelled by circumstances to be. In fact if the foreign policy of any other country is even more moral than the world will observe the spectacle of Great Britain's famed diplomacy derived of its most powerful weapon and condemned to impotence. . . . Great Britain desires and must pursue a morally justifiable foreign policy. The country whose policy is more moral than hers will therefore defeat her without even crossing swords—unless she has already become its friend."

MOTORISTS:

The headless rider of Sleepy Hollow has a modern counter-part on America's highways these days. The Delaware Safety Council says that Washington Irving's famous character lives on in the form of the drinking driver.

"Had been Drinking" . . . these words are written across reports of 25 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents. Motorists, liquor destroys your perception, your judgment, your reaction to danger . . . in fact, everything your mind is good for.

A drinking driver is today's headless rider of Sleepy Hollow!

ANNUAL
AT EASTONFruit and Truck
Growers to Attend
Meeting

Expert advice on problems facing Delaware and Eastern Short horticulturists and an exhibit of the best fruits and vegetables produced on the Delmarva peninsula will attract several hundred fruit and truck growers to the annual meeting and exhibit of the Peninsula Horticultural Society at Easton, Md., December 13, 14, and 15.

According to Dr. T. F. Manns, secretary of the organization, and head of the Plant Pathology Department at the University of Delaware, the meeting this year is being arranged to include talks and discussions of the more serious problems confronting the fruit and vegetable producers in the area.

The tentative program, as arranged by Dr. Manns, includes as subjects for discussion: The Codling Moth; New Freezing Processes; New Varieties of Peaches for the Peninsula; Fall Applications of Fertilizer for Strawberries; Rodent Control in Orchards; Improving Marketing Conditions, Especially in Philadelphia; Fertilizer Efficiency in Orchards and the Need for the New Eastern Regional Laboratory of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Part Science is Playing in Furthering New Markets.

In addition to the three-day meeting, the top-notch products of peninsula orchards and truck farms will be displayed and judged, according to Dr. Manns. He reported that 650 premium lists had been mailed to prospective exhibitors and that a better than usual exhibit was expected.

New features of the annual exhibit will be exhibit classes for fruits and vegetables canned by 4-H Club members and vocational students as well as an examination contest for young people which will give them an opportunity to test their knowledge of fruits and vegetables.

Beggars Protest
Beggars of Buenos Aires recently held a meeting in a vacant lot in an outlying district and voted to ask the press to help them in their campaign against the Argentine Government's plan to again place 2-cent pieces in circulation. "Blind Tom" and "One-Armed Charlie" declared that the small coins would cut the beggar's revenue to almost a non-existence point.

SPECIAL CHURCH
SERVICESMemorials
Dedicated
At Hockessin

By Mildred Gebhart

Hockessin, Nov. 22—Special services marking the presentation, reception and dedication of the memorials in the new chancel were held in the Hockessin Methodist Church on Sunday morning. The Rev. Richard M. Green, pastor, was in charge of the service, and delivered a dedication sermon.

Donors Announced
All the names of the donors of these memorials, which have been a secret this summer were announced.

Memorial gifts in the chancel which were presented to the church and donors are as follows: Communion table by Mr. Fred E. Gebhart in behalf of the Sunday-school; in honor of Miss Annie Cook, a former beginner's teacher; retablo, by Mrs. Raymond Fulton, in behalf of the members and friends of the church; pulpit chair by Miss Dorothy Baldwin, in behalf of the Young Peoples Society; lecture, by Mrs. John Jackson, on behalf of the Bible class, in honor of Rev. Richard M. Green, its teacher; pulpit by William Cook; pulpit light by Harold Hagerty, on behalf of the Young Men's Class, in honor of Mrs. Richard M. Green, its teacher in the Sunday-school; Bible marker, one by Miss Margaret Baldwin, in behalf of Mrs. Fred Osborne, Misses Dorothy and Margaret Baldwin, in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Parker Baldwin; the other by an anonymous giver; Christian flag by Mrs. Benjamin Lloyd, in honor of the Thomas Pierson family; American flag by Mrs. Fred E. Gebhart, in honor of her husband, Fred E. Gebhart, who served 29 years as superintendent of the Sunday school; hymn board by Mrs. Lewis Ravillous, in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ravillous, in honor of their daughter, Alice; hymn board by Mrs. M. Fred Rorer, in behalf of the Henry Rorer family, in honor of Mrs. Carrie D. Nutter, a former minister's wife; flower vase by Chandler Walker, in memory of his father, Freeman Walker; flower vase by Miss Jean Hannum, on behalf of the Hannum family, in honor of her father, Curtis Hannum; communion cloth by Carl Roehm, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roehm; the cross, by Fred Osborne, in honor of his family; collection plates.

in honor of Mrs. Nettie Roser McVaugh; communion set by George Smith, in behalf of the Official Board of the church, in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, who served many years as communion steward; choir rail and curtain, by Katharine Walker, in behalf of the classes taught by Mrs. Chandler Walker and Carl Roehm; dossal by the Rev. Green, in behalf of Rev. and Mrs. Green, in memory of William G. Collins and Mrs. James Polk, who died during the year, and in honor of James Polk and Mrs. William G. Collins; canopy, given by many members and friends of the church.

The total cost of these improvements amounted to $625.00. Most of this has been contributed.

Labor was contributed by the following: LeRoy Stephenson, Irvin Sagers, Fred Osborne, Clarence Chambers, and Mrs. Carl Roehm. Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Walker, George Crowford, and D. M. Buckenham.

The trustees paid the cost of changing improvements at the front of the church, and the painting.

Paul C. Roehm, of Collingswood, N. J., will show moving pictures of the various trips he has taken in the Hockessin Methodist church on Sunday evening at six o'clock. Following this service the regular meeting of the Young Peoples Society will be held. The leader will be Miss Dorothy Baldwin, who will have a Thanksgiving program. Mrs. Edward Holloran presided at the community club meeting on Tuesday afternoon, held in the Lamborn Library Building.

To Serve Luncheon

On November 28, a covered dish luncheon will be served, preceding the business meeting. Miss Helen Thompson is chairman.

Mrs. Harry Wirt and Mrs. John Macadam were received as members.

In observance of book week, Mrs. Earl Pepper gave a book review of "Grapes of Wrath."

Students of the seventh grade of Hockessin Consolidated School elected new officers last week. They were: President, Edward Cox; vice-president, Marie Chambers; secretary, Edna Good; treasurer, Mary Hocking.

Mrs. Estella Crossan entertained the members of the card club, and other guests on Friday afternoon at her home. Those present were: Madames William Cook, Clarence Collins, Harvey Woodward, H. B. McVaugh, Charles Wetzel, F. E. Hitchens, Reginald Jackson, T. Leslie Woodward, Frank McVaugh, Ernest Crossan, S. S. Denison, and Crossan.

Children Entertained

A large basket of fruit and vegetables was given to the boys and girls of Sunnybrook Cottage, at the Brandywine Sanatorium, for Thanksgiving, from the Beginners' Department of the Hockessin Sunday school, taught by Miss Dorothy Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Osborne are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter born November 14, in the Homeopathic Hospital, Wilmington. The baby has been named Virginia Louise.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Matthews of Newark, were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Gebhart on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Frank Elmer had as a weekend guest, Miss Helix Wilkins, of Middletown.

Italy Rapidly Extending Electric Power System

Italy is rapidly extending her electric power system. Official figures issued at Rome show that last year 200 more miles of railway were electrified, bringing the total up to nearly 2,500 miles. The new power development in the harnessing of the Italian lakes, whose beauty will not be impaired despite the fact that their waters will be utilized for both industry and agriculture.

Whenever a big dam is built in the mountains the water used to develop electricity is conducted to the plains for irrigation.

Stuffed Bird to Stuff a Boy

"Oh, gee, mom! Can I have some now?" Tommy's ready for turkey with his favorite stuffing.

Thanksgiving's just around the corner . . . and, of course, everybody's getting ready for the feast. Youngsters and grownups agree that turkey's the bird. But there's a point for you to settle . . . what shall the stuffing be?

Here are four brand-new recipes . . . each one kitchen-tested.

Oyster Stuffing
8 cups cracker crumbs 1 pint oysters
1/2 cup melted butter 1/2 cup onion
1 teaspoon sage 1/2 cup celery

Combine cracker crumbs, melted butter and sage, tossing thoroughly together. Drain liquor from oysters and add milk to make 1 1/2 cups. Moisten crumb mixture with the liquid, add oysters, and mix together lightly but thoroughly.

Skillet Frankfurter Stuffing
1 loaf white bread 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup dried celery 1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup butter 1/2 cup celery

Use day-old, unsliced bread. Crumble bread into fine crumbs, discarding hard crusts (these should be 8 1/2 cups). Soak the celery and dried frankfurters in the butter in a large skillet, for 5 minutes. (If frankfurters other than skinless are used, be sure to remove the casing). Add bread crumbs and stir over low heat until crumbs are coated with butter. Add poultry seasoning and salt. Pack loosely into turkey.

Sausage Stuffing
2 loaves (1 1/2 lb. each) 2 teaspoons salt
white bread 1/2 cup onion
2 lbs. fresh pork 1/2 teaspoon sage
1 cup dried celery 1/2 cup butter

Use day-old sliced bread. Remove crusts and cut bread in cubes. Put sausage in hot skillet, add onions, and stir over heat about 5 minutes, until sausage is cooked. Add salt and sage, and mix thoroughly. Pack lightly into turkey. (A convenient way to buy sausage is in Patties—fresh sausage packed in cellophane-like casings.)

Skillet Frankfurter and Rice Stuffing
1 lb. (1 1/2 lb. each) 8 cups cooked rice
1/2 cup butter 1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup dried celery 1/2 cup celery
2 tablespoons 1/2 teaspoon pepper chopped onion 1/2 teaspoon sage

Cut frankfurters in halves lengthwise, then cut crosswise into thin slices. Melt butter in skillet, add celery, onions and frankfurters, and cook about 5 minutes, stirring frequently, until celery is moderately soft. Mix with rice, add salt, pepper and sage and mix thoroughly. Pack loosely into turkey.

THE song is right. Monel won't rust now, and it never will, because it can't. Water from a Ruud Automatic Gas Water Heater with a Monel tank stays clean, throughout the years. The tank itself is guaranteed in writing against leaks and failures from corrosion for 20 YEARS.

Clear, clean hot water comes from the Monel tank. The Ruud Water Heater itself is up-to-the-minute, automatic, efficient. You can be proud of its appearance in your home. And it burns GAS, the modern, economical fuel.

Combine a Monel tank for cleanliness, with gas for heating, and Ruud for design, and you have the answer to your hot water problem for years to come. The annual cost is surprisingly low. Stop in at our show rooms, or phone us to have a representative call and discuss your hot water problem. No obligation, of course.

GOLD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT

We pause to pay tribute to the day of Thanksgiving. Not because we have so much of worldly goods to be thankful for but rather for the smaller things of life which mean so much to us.

As should be, our hearts are fullest at Thanksgiving time. Then it is that our blessings are brought home to us and we take time out to count them one by one. We're not wealthy—not by a long shot, not that is, by the yardstick that wealth is measured nowadays.

But, we're wealthy in our humble minds. We have our health. We have a fine family. We have a job. We live in one of the best communities on the face of the globe and we have a wealth of friends that we wouldn't trade for all the gold in the world.

Our community abound with people such as ourselves. People who have so much to be thankful for but still are prone to grumble that they are less fortunate than others.

We trust that this day may bring home to others, as it has us, just how well off we are—just how fortunate we are to be living in this age of modern achievement.

Money, 'tis said, may not be everything but it will just about buy everything. To which we acquiesce insofar as worldly goods are concerned. But, it won't buy such things as happiness, friendship, loyalty and love and it is those things for which we are today most thankful.

SHOP IN NEWARK FIRST

Forging always ahead with civic improvement their goal the local Chamber of Commerce makes an appeal to citizens of Newark to do their Christmas Shopping early and in Newark, this year.

This timely suggestion is in the form of a paid advertisement elsewhere in this issue of the Newark Post. It portrays a spirit of fair play and cooperation for which the Chamber of Commerce should be commended.

Newark Merchants have on display brilliant new arrays of new, seasonal merchandise. They have ample clerks to care for shoppers' needs. Their merchandise is of good quality and their prices fair. They are deserving of local patronage.

Do your Christmas Shopping in Newark. Do it early while stocks are complete and avoid the last minute rush.

PARTNERS IN PROGRESS

America is and has been a nation of pioneers—pioneers who were willing to take a long chance in the hope of gain. Railroads were strung across barren wastes, settlers migrated westward, men gambled with billions on the strength of a dream. They dreamed that the country they were building would some day become the greatest nation on earth. It was the American dream, and it came true.

A silent partner in that achievement was the local bank. Every undertaking of any size must have the aid of an established banking house. Not a railroad could have been built, not a community founded, had not the banks first blazed a financial trail.

Accompanying the rapid progress which has taken place in this country, there have been failures, industrial, individual, civic. They were inevitable. For where there is utter safety there is no progress.

The banking system reflects the temper and character of the people and the nation they build. In the early days, the banks in some measure had to take chances the same as the scout with a six-gun at his hip. Time has proven, however, that the pioneer spirit in banking brought rich returns in community and national development.

Today the banks still accurately reflect the character of their community. We have grown more conservative. The banks have done likewise. But just as in the old days, the banks are inseparable from the community and the demands of the community. When a community prospers, the bank prospers. When a community fails, the bank may also fail. The community and its financial ally progress or decline together.

Weekly Sermon

Thanksgiving Meditations

By Rev. Elgin S. Moyer, Th. D.,
Librarian, Moody Bible
Institute, Chicago

Text—Bless Jehovah, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits—
Psalm 103:2.

The annual return of Thanksgiving Day challenges anew our sense of gratitude to God for His manifold blessings. Although every day should be a day of thanksgiving, we find ourselves so prone to wait for the stimulus of a special occasion to voice our gratitude to the Father. This being the case, may we not this Thanksgiving Day as never before pour out our souls in gratitude and praise to Him for His great love and grace.

The psalmist long ago suggested several excellent reasons why the people of God should be supremely grateful. In Psalm 103:3-5, we note five of these:

1. Forgiveness of our sins. No worse calamity can befall mankind than the terrible blight of sin. Paul says that all have sinned and come short of the glory of God. No man can free himself either from its power or its consequences. Sin is the machination of the devil, and he holds away over us until some greater power delivers us from his grip. It is God only—God through Jesus Christ who died on the cross for us—that can and must redeem us. Praise His name, the work is done. As disciples of Christ we have been redeemed from sin. God has forgiven us our iniquities. We can now walk in His righteousness and holiness, free from the old blights and free from the dominion of the devil. Yes, we will praise Him for His abounding grace!

2. Healing of our bodies. Only God who made them can heal our minds and bodies. We are His children and our bodies as well as our souls belong to Him. Our bodies being the temples of the Holy Spirit, certainly demand His tender care. Let us not neglect to put our trust implicitly in Him. Though the physician may prescribe the antidote, the surgeon may set the broken bone, the nurse may care for the convalescing body, we ourselves may carefully follow rules of health, or we may look to God direct for healing—whatever the method we follow, it is always and only God who can give the healing touch. He healeth all our diseases.

3. Protection and guidance. "He knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust." The Scriptures are full of promises concerning God's protection and guidance of His people into paths of safety. Life is not a chance or an accident. God has a purpose for every one, and if we will let Him, He will guide us into the center of His will. He leads us daily along the narrow way that leads into life eternally. Praise Him for His guiding hand!

4. His loving care and tender mercy. We have the consciousness of the presence of Christ. To have Him in our lives is our most precious possession. To have Christ in us assures us that we are abiding in Him. When we know that Christ fully rules our hearts, we know that love is the controlling motive and passion of our lives. The presence of Christ with us is the fullest assurance and sublimest expression of God's loving-kindness and tender mercy toward us.

5. Divine providence. God bountifully provides for His own. He has created a wonderful world for us to live in. In ordinary ways and through special channels He marvelously provides. He supplies our material and spiritual needs. No good thing does He withhold from His people. Paul's thought harmonizes with that of the psalmist, "My God shall supply every need of yours according to His riches in glory in Christ Jesus. Now unto our God and Father be the glory forever and ever."

As Thanksgiving Day approaches let us again read Psalm 103, and sing over and over, "Bless Jehovah, O my soul; and all that is within me, Bless his holy name."

25 YEARS AGO IN REVIEW

November 25, 1914

OBITUARY

MYRA R. ALLEN

Miss Myra R. Allen, aged 18 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Allen of near Newark, died last Friday after a brief illness of pneumonia. Funeral services were held on Sunday. Interment Bethel Cemetery.

ADA R. BUCKINGHAM

Ada R. Buckingham, wife of Frank H. Buckingham, died on November 24, aged 41 years. Funeral services from the residence of her husband, Frank H. Buckingham, Pleasant Hill, Sunday, November 25. Services at Ebenezer Church at eleven o'clock. Interment Ebenezer Cemetery. Two children, Warren and Clifford Buckingham, survive.

Parents Entertained

Children of the Fourth Grade, Newark Public School, played host to the mothers this afternoon, when an entertainment was given in their school room. Chorus by the school, including Whittier's Corn Song, Thanksgiving Day, and America, were rendered by the school. Mrs. Lee Cough exhibited relics of colonial days and gave an interesting talk. The event of the afternoon in the minds of the children, however, was the play, "The First Thanksgiving," in which the well-known characters of Miles Standish, John Alden, and Priscilla, figured. The soldiers and the Indians of historical fame were all at the feast, the parts being cleverly portrayed by the little folk who had been carefully trained by their teachers, Miss Pennington, assisted by Prof. Mann and Prof. Rich.

Following the entertainment a Parent-Teacher Association movement was next discussed and steps taken looking toward such a local organization.

Social Notes

Miss Ann Hughes is the guest of the Misses Pilling.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Evans are spending Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. George G. Henry, Brooklyn.

Mrs. J. M. Conner and son, James, are the guests of G. Fader and family.

Mrs. E. B. Frazer, Misses Martha Strahorn, Lillian West, Anna Danzabaker, MaBelle Pennock, and Minnie Armstrong spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Strahorn, Annapolis, Md.

Miss Jean Longfellow visited Miss Anna Zebly at Moorestown, N. J., on Sunday.

Miss Edith Spencer spent the week-end in Newark.

Mrs. H. S. Goldey of Wilmington is the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. A. Short.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cann of Middletown spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. Pearce Cann.

Mrs. Charles Hermann of Baltimore is spending Thanksgiving with her son, Lieutenant Hermann.

Mrs. Alfred Woodrow of Wilmington, spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. I. E. Hill.

Miss Elizabeth Wright gave a bowling party last Saturday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Margaret Smith, of Salisbury, Md.

Among those present were Misses Ethel Green, Isabel Stoots, Elizabeth Fiebert, Ruth Clendaniel, Margaret Postles, Emily Frazer, Edith Spencer, Cornelia Pilling, Eleanor Pilling, Messrs. Gieves, Cann, Taylor, Salevan, Sumwalt, Synherd, Brewer, T. Wilson, K. Mitchell.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Hermann will play hosts to a party of friends at the Army and Navy football game, to be played on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, next Saturday. Among the members of the party will be Mrs. Fisher of Baltimore, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Pearce Cann, Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bonham will give a dance on Friday evening of a party of young folk this evening this week.

Dr. W. O. Synherd will entertain at the home of Dr. W. H. Steel. Informal dancing will be the program for the evening.

The Sigma Nu Fraternity has issued invitations for the fifth annual dance to be given in the Newark Opera House on Friday evening, December 11. The dance will be one of the social events of the season at Delaware.

Invitations have been issued by Dean Robinson, the faculty, and students of the Women's College for an informal dance to be held in Residence Hall on the evening of December 19.

Although all the money is not in to date, the treasurer reported today about $275 cleared from the supper given by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church last Tuesday evening.

SCHOOL TO STAGE MINSTREL

Affair To Be Held On December 1

Christiana, Nov. 23.—The Christiana School will hold a minstrel show in the school house on Dec. 1. The parents and young people of Christiana are taking part. Rehearsals are being held on Tuesday and Thursday evening. Allen Jones, principal, of the Christiana School is the director.

The 1st and 2nd grades of the school are studying about Holland. Joan Ford, a second grade student who has a large collection of dolls brought dolls from that country for the children to see.

The 3rd and 4th grades are working on a play called, "The Proud Princess." Delena Amoroso is coaching it. The school children have agreed to bring five cents each to help pay for the new song books recently purchased. The 3rd and 4th grades have organized a club. The officers are as follows: President, William Reush; vice-president, Delena Amoroso; secretary, Loretta Draper and treasurer, Raymond Thron.

The following members of 5th and 6th grades presented an assembly program on the subject "Delaware": Robert Abrams, Cora Baker, George Barrett, Jack Cunningham, Burke Cleaver, Ira Coover, Francis Davis, Louise Marousek, Renda Lane, Elva Edwards, Jimmie Crosby, Clarence Sheets, Jack Smith, Robert Thorp, John Takach, Dolores Crosby, Virginia Murray, Layton Thorp, Herbert Cleaves, Anna Burge.

Club Organized

The 5th grade students have organized a very successful club. They elected bus monitors, hall monitors, grass monitors and each week a new waitress is elected to help serve soup in the kitchen. This club brings in students who do wrong about the school and either talk to them or punish them. Presidents are changed every two weeks.

Tongue Twisters For New Recruits

Tongue twisters used in the Army as the common slang of military life may cause the new recruit in the ranks to feel as though he were visiting a foreign country. As a guide to some of the more common expressions used in daily conversations between soldiers, Colonel L. B. Magruder, Second Corps Area recruiting officer, 39 Whitehall St., Manhattan, issued a list of the more popular words as an aid in helping the recruit to adjust himself and avoid any undue shock of bewilderment.

"Battin' the breeze," a conversation which usually ends with an argument as to who won the Civil War. "Buck private," a private without any specialist's rating. "Bunk fatigue," reclining on a bed during a full in drills, or on an afternoon off. "Cabbage," American money. "chow," meals. "chow-hound," a soldier overly fond of eating. "circus water," feed drinks with meals. "clivies," civilian clothing. "gold-brick," a lazy person. "goldfish," salmon. "good off," to make a mistake. "hash heater," the cook. "slam burner," still another fond name for the cook. "diving suit," long-legged drawers. "Java and sidearms," coffee, milk and sugar. "jawbone," the equivalent of the civilian's "put it on the cuff." "Jawbone corporal," an acting corporal. "mitt-flopper," a hand-shaker. "O. D.," woolen uniform. "Old Man," the commanding officer. "Shanghaied," to be transferred to another organization without requesting it. "Top-kick," a second lieutenant. "Top-kick," the First Sergeant. "wind-jammer," the bugler.
