DELAWARE WINS AND LOSES

TAKES FIRST BATTLE FROM DREXEL 35-20 BUT DROPS SECOND TO MORAVIAN IN EXTRA PERIOD GAME 27-26

The Delaware College Basketball team won and lost in the cage game last week. On last Wednesday evening the Blue and Gold defeated Drexel Institute by a 35-20 score. The game was close during the first half, the score at the end being 13-11. But in the second half the team "got going" and made a number of baskets in quick succession and this established a comfortable lead.

The feature of Delaware's game was the close guarding. All of Drexel's field goals were scored from the middle of the floor. Carter, Marston and Lord, all showed up well in this respect. Barnard and Alexander were particularly good with their shots under the basket. Taylor of Drexel did most of their scoring by his clever shots from the middle of the floor. In a preliminary game between the combined Senior-Junior Scrubs and Sophomore-Freshman Scrubs the latter was victorious in a one-sided game by the score of 33-11. The feature for the Junior-Senior game was the close guarding of Mackie, while Aiken and J. Wilson excelled for the under classmen. The line-up:

Drexel Positions Delaware
 Radcliff..... f. Horsey
 Taylor..... f. Ritz
 Osmun..... c. Barnard
 Bonner..... g. Lord
 Hartman..... g. Carter
 Substitutions: Alexander for Horsey, Marton for Lord, Craig for Barnard, Calhoun for Osmun, Borches for Calhoun. Field goals:

Delaware Professor To Lecture School Children

Dr. E. V. Vaughn, Prof. C. E. Short, and Dr. K. R. Greenfield, are engaged upon a tour of the entire state delivering talks and lectures at the various High Schools. The principal object of this tour is to arouse a great interest in college education throughout the state. It is a well-known fact that there will be a dearth of students in the colleges next year. Many will have to go to college to fill up the places of those who have felt the college ranks and who have gone to fill up the ranks of the nation. It is an excellent idea to start so early before the next session and get the High School students interested in college preparedness. The results of the work being done by these gentlemen will be evident next fall when the new class of 1922 matriculates. Prof. Short has been assigned to Sussex County, Dr. Vaughn to Kent County, and Dr. Greenfield to New Castle. This work is a part of the great work of education which Delaware College has been so instrumental in diffusing throughout the state, and as time passes the college will be brought closer and closer to the minds of every one in Delaware.

Freshman Becomes A Benedict

It became known here Tuesday that T. S. Downes '21, and Miss Dorothy Jones were married in Allentown Monday.

PRESIDENT'S SON TO WED NEW YORK GIRL

Engagement Recently Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Taylor Gates announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Grace Lucile, to Lieutenant Morris Randolph Mitchell of the 315th Machine Gun Battalion, Camp Lee, Va. Morris is the son of President Mitchell of Delaware, and a member of the class of 1918. He was graduated from the Reserve Officer's Training Camp at Fort Meyer, Va., last July, and was assigned as an instructor to the Camp at Petersburg, Va. From there, he was sent to the Infantry School of Arms, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, to specialize in machine gun instruction. Morris has completed the course at Fort Sill, and has returned to his company at Camp Lee.

LT. J. A. O'DANIEL VISITS COLLEGE

Students Welcome Former Member Of 1918 Class

Lieutenant J. A. O'Daniel is home on a week's furlough. He has just been graduated from the School of Military Aeronautics, at Austin, Texas. Lieutenant O'Daniel is studying to be an observer in the aviation corps. Only commissioned officers are eligible for this work. O'Daniel has just finished the course at the ground school in Texas on January twelfth, and is now on his way to take up the flying course, at Garden City, near New York. "Al" was a member of the class of 1918, and his career is followed eagerly by his friends here at college. He was with Company E of Newark on the Border, and went with them to Aniston, Alabama as a Second Lieutenant. From Company E, he was transferred to the cavalry and a little later he entered the aviation service.

Blue Hen Progresses

Since the report concerning the progress of the 1919 Blue Hen was made in the last issue of the Review, much more work has been done toward the publication of the annual. Some of the sections are already being turned out by the printer and more are expected within a short time. Only a few cuts are remaining to be sent to the engraver and these will probably be shipped sometime within the coming week. Word was received last week that work on the engravings is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily and all of this should be completed by the middle of this month.

With the exception of a few articles the editorial copy is practically ready to turn over to the printer and will undoubtedly be in shape by the time the completed engravings are received.

Just when the book will be completed and ready for sale is difficult to say. Barring the unavoidable, such as fuel and transportation difficulties, the book will be published and salable sometime during the month of March. G. R. Cantwell and H. B. Mitchell are busy canvassing the student body for subscriptions, and already many copies have been reserved.

RADIO SCHOOLS ACTIVE

Operators Being Trained For Government

The schools for the instruction of wireless telegraph operators for the army service are very busy just now. These schools were established recently by Dean A. R. Culimore, and a number of the college students are regular attending the radio classes. The men are trained to receive or send messages at the rate of twenty words per minute, and when they reach this degree of proficiency they are qualified to enter either the army or navy service as radio-operators. One man has graduated from the Wilmington school up to the present time and several of the other men expect to complete their course very soon. At the Newark school similar progress is being made. Two of the college students, Levey and Anderson, have already finished the work. The balance of the students are divided into two sections, one of which, a beginners' section, was organized about a month ago.

Glee Club Meets

Owing to the frigidity of the west wing of O. C. H., the Glee Club held its regular meeting in the Lounging Room. A blazing fire was going and the boys were in a good mood. The songs were rendered with beautiful sweetness. Mr. Carpenter commended the boys on their improvement. A new Russian chant was executed with great enthusiasm. Several of the "old reliables" were sung with the assistance of a few recruits.

JUDGE GEORGE GRAY DENOUNCES GERMAN IDEALS

At Annual Banquet Held At City Club

With bitter accusations and indictments against the German war lords Judge George Gray laid before the Delaware College Alumni on the evening of January 26th, the meaning of the present war as the nation must look upon it.

The occasion was the annual banquet of the Alumni, held at the City Club at which Judge Gray was the chief speaker. The other speakers of the evening were Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell, president of Delaware College, Henry B. Thompson, president of the Board of Trustees, and John S. McMaster. At the speaker's table were the Hon. Judge Gray, J. Harvey Whiteman, of the class of '85, who acted as toastmaster; John S. McMaster, Dr. Mitchell, Chancellor Charles M. Curtis, Judge Victor B. Wooley, George Morgan and Henry B. Thompson.

Purposeful preparation and thought toward the present strife was proved to be prevalent in Germany prior to 1914 by the statements made by the Kaiser and the German intellectuals. "The German people," said Judge Gray, "have been indoctrinated with a false philosophy that the 'will to power' justifies all that is done to achieve its object." That their doctrine of "might makes right" must be quelled was pointed out.

Judge Gray after his speech denunciations compared the pur-

TAFT TO SPEAK AT DELAWARE

Former President Will Deliver Commencement Address

Delaware College is to have the very good fortune of having former president William Howard Taft to deliver the commencement address to the graduates of the Class of 1918. It is certainly in keeping with recent upward progress which the College has made to obtain such a prominent and distinguished speaker as the well-known ex-president. His geniality, his excellent statesmanship, and his executive ability have made everyone his friend and partisan. The people of Delaware have a great treat in store for them when they have this splendid opportunity to hear one of the foremost men in the United States of today. It is also fortunate to note that U. S. Senator Josiah O. Wolcott will speak before the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday morning of Commencement Week. With two such great events to happen there promises to be the best June week that Delaware College has ever had.

THE JUNIOR PROM

Annual Event Held In O. C. H.

On next Friday the Junior "Prom" will be held in Old College Hall under the direction of the Class of 1919. Vice-president Marston of the Junior Class reports "things going smoothly." All but ten of the reservations have been made to date. The affair which will be a full-dress one bids fair to be a success. With the announcement that the coal bins have been replenished an ominous difficulty has been erased. Buy your tickets now, ye Freshmen and Alumni, before it is too late.

FRESHMEN LEARN TO SHOVEL

Clean Off Pavement For College

Last Tuesday the Freshmen were able to help their alma mater in a material way and at the same time to get a very useful lesson in shovelling. In answer to Dr. Mitchell's call for volunteer shovellers for duty on North College Avenue, the Freshmen offered their services and in a short time they had the sidewalk thoroughly cleaned. The Sophomore class president acted as foreman.

Honor System A Success

With the close of examinations last Saturday week, the Honor System once more showed that it was capable of bearing the test. Not only did it bear the test but it bore it well. The examinations this year were conducted in a more business-like, orderly way than they have been at any time since the adoption of the Honor System. The students assumed a more serious attitude toward their work; shouldered the added responsibility in a cheerful, yet dignified spirit. It is true that all the minor details of the Honor System may not have been carried out strictly, but it is hardly to be expected that all things will be perfect in such a short period of experimentation. The principle thing to consider is the ideal of honor. Once this is deeply rooted into the hearts of the students the smaller matters will quickly adjust themselves, but not until an Esprit de Corps is established will there be a successful honor system. The results of the examinations just completed emphatically indicate that such a spirit prevails among most students at Delaware and that others are fast cultivating it.

Several times this year the Honor System has been put to supreme tests. Once it failed. Rather, it should be said, that the students failed—failed to recognize and abide by the rules which they themselves adopted. This failure can in a large measure be attributed to the fact that many students considered their own advantages rather than the well being of every one concerned. However, this mistake is a thing of the past. Nothing can be gained by constantly keeping it in mind, but much can be accomplished by letting it serve as a guide to the future. Only through mistakes is success achieved, and the mistakes of the students in the past undoubtedly strengthened the Honor System in the recent examinations.

It is a noteworthy fact that few complaints have been made against the Honor System relative to its effectiveness in examinations.

Practically all are of the opinion that it has brought about a desired and decided improvement. Since the prime object of the founders of the Honor System at Delaware was to abolish the unfair tactics practiced in examinations, it is readily seen that the Honor System has satisfied the prime purpose for which it was intended.

The task which confronts all Delaware men now is to expand the scope of the Honor System in order that it may meet all problems in which the students have a part. To have a successful Honor System the students must first realize that Honor does not apply only to examinations, but to all things. The Honor System must be put first in all things before it will succeed. Now that it has been successful in some ways our object should be to make it successful in all.

1918 Farmer Board Elected

At a meeting of the "Ag" Club Tuesday evening January 30, the following officers were elected to positions on the 1918 staff of the "Delaware Farmer":

Editor-in-chief, F. B. Martenis; Assistant Editor, L. B. Daly; Business Manager, G. S. Cullen; Assistant Business Manager, F. R. Pool; Circulation Manager, T. H. Meredith; Assistant Circulation Managers, H. Jones and G. A. Ely; Advertising Manager, G. M. Longland; Assistant Advertising Manager, F. P. McCordell; Animal Husbandry, F. C. Penneel; Horticulture, F. L. O'Rourke; Agronomy, C. F. Myers; P. H., R. E. Dickey; Questions and Answers, J. A. Barnard.

Dean Hayward entered during the course of the meeting. After the elections were completed he complimented the men on their choice of executives. He expressed his interest in all the activities of the Club and said, in effect, "No one wishes the Board more success than I. We are going to get back of the board and help it through all its work. I have some suggestions to make which may prove of value to the board. Use as many crisp, newsworthy items as possible. Those short items concerning sales and prize winnings and so on always attract the reader. Publish short, four-line bits; omit as far as possible, the long prosy articles. Timely suggestions as to pruning and spraying are in order now. The editors in the past have not been sufficiently familiar with current agricultural news. Read all the current Ag. news. Don't confine yourselves to the news either; read the advertisements—this will have a broadening influence on the 'Farmer.' I again extend to you my most cordial wish for success."

COLD RADIATORS

College Heat Supply Temporarily Cut Off

Students at Delaware, in common with all the rest of this part of the world, have lately been working under difficulties rivaling those that must have confronted college boys in the Glacial Period. For several days during last week chapel periods were eliminated and class hours were shortened. Students attended class in Recitation Hall with overcoats for a day or so.

But like heatless Mondays and March snows—the time of cold raidators seems to have passed. Dr. Mitchell explained the matter in chapel the other day by stating that the heat shortage was only temporary, and the cause was this: the heating plant had to burn poor coal to keep up any heat at all; the poor coal clogged the boiler tubes and made it necessary to clean them in mid-winter. Two car-loads of good coal have been expected for several days, and perhaps by the time they come the cold days will have been forgotten.

"Let's hold the class on the campus, it's only twenty there," "sit together and concentrate the hot air," and a multitude of similar expressions have been circulating briefly around the college for the past few days in the absence of the much desired and long promised heat. Many interesting experiments relative to the cold are also being carried on. For example, one professor put a snow ball on the radiator in his class room the early part of the week and it remained intact till three days later when a warm sun melted it. We are told by the firemen that the trouble is not only due to the scarcity of coal, but also to the abundance of slag, with which the coal is mixed, and which unfortunately our furnaces do not seem to be able to burn satisfactorily. However, we should have little cause for fear now for we have promises that good coal will be here in another day. Although these promises are not appreciated near as much now as they were a few days ago there is cause for some consolation in the fact that the coal has actually gotten as far as Wilmington, and it is rumored that if the Government or the Wilmington people do not need it, possibly by the barest of chances it might be sent here. In the meantime it is suggested that the military department requisition all oil stoves in town and have them distributed as equally as possible in the various class rooms.

DELAWARE COLLEGE REVIEW

DELAWARE RECEIVES NOTICE OF PENN RELAYS

Special Events To Feature This Year's Program

Pennsylvania's 34th Annual Relay Race carnival which will be held on April 26th and 27th this year should be one of the most interesting sets of games ever held in this country. Already assurances have been received from Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Chicago, and many other colleges that they will be represented. The meeting will be especially interesting this year because of the loss of so many star athletes through the war. The coaches have unearthed many new "phenoms," and these men are working hard to excel the records of the former stars.

The Friday program will have as its special attractions, the sprint distance, and distance medley races, and the Pentathlon Championship. The medley races are expected to be very popular this year. On Saturday, the one, two, and four mile college relay championships of America, the Freshman one mile relay, the high and preparatory school relays and the special events will be the main features. Penn's management also plan to put on various Service relays between the Army and Navy camps that should prove most interesting.

The general program for Friday and Saturday is, in part, as follows:

Friday, April 26th
Track Events
440 yard hurdle, heats.
200 meters, Pentathlon.
Sprint Medley College Relay championship of America.
440 yard hurdle, final.
1500 meters, Pentathlon.
Distance Medley College Relay championship of America.

Field Events
Running broad jump, Pentathlon.
Throwing 56-lb. weight for distance.
Throwing the javelin, Pentathlon.
Throwing the hammer.
Throwing the discus.

Saturday, April 27th
120 yard hurdles.
100 yards, heats.
College relay races.
Service relay race.
Two mile college relay Championship of America.
120 yard hurdle, final.
100 yards, final.
One mile college relay championship of America.
Four mile college relay championship of America.

Field Events
Pole vault; high jump; javelin throw; shot put; broad jump; discus throw.

poses of our government and the German government in the war, using the phrases "Humanity Over All," and "Deutschland Uber Alles" as his text.

Dr. Mitchell followed with a brief address dealing with the development of the college, and John S. McMasters and Henry B. Thompson also made appropriate remarks.

Previous to the speechmaking of the evening a delicious dinner was served. The menu follows:

Oysters on the half shell
Celery Olives
Cream of Tomato Saltines
Pommes de Terre Saratoga

Raspberry Punch
Roast Delaware Turkey
Cranberry Sauce
Potatoes au Gratin, Asparagus Tips
Vanilla Ice Cream
Cocoanut Layer Cake
Philadelphia Cream Cheese

While the gathering was partaking of the dinner, entertainers gave musical selections and were pointed by the Alumni in making it a delightful evening.

Those in the military service who attended were: Captain Julian C. Smith, captain, Marine Corps, Marine Barracks, Navy Yard, Philadelphia, of the class of 1907; Captain A. F. E. Horn of the Coast Artillery Reserve Corps and Lieutenant William C. Cann, of the Pioneer Regiment of Infantry at Camp Dix.

ward, came thru with a pretty shot making another two-point lead for Moravian. Another foul goul by Lord, made the score 27-26. Another foul was called on Moravian and "Fred" had a chance to tie it up again but the ball rolled off the basket. The time-keeper's whistle blew and the game was over, with the Blue and Gold on the short end of the score.

Moravian's team had the advantage over the Delaware quintet in height. This showed up so noticeably because they intercepted so many of Delaware's passes. The foul shooting was still poor on Delaware's part, Lord making 4 out of 11.

For Delaware, Barnard at center and Maston at guard excelled. Barnard, altho slow on the tip-off, played a good floor game and made four baskets. Maston was in every play and held the Moravian forwards down.

It was a good, clean exciting game of basketball and an awful hard one to lose.

In a preliminary game the Scrubs defeated the All-Scholastics by the score of 29-9. The Seniors have now wen three games to date. Line-up:

INTERCOLLEGiate NEWS

Austin Hall, formerly used by the Harvard Law School, will shortly be opened for class work of the Radio School. A large operating room, seating 500 men and equipped with the most modern wireless instruments, is to be one of the features of the building. It is expected that the enrollment of the school will be gradually increased until a total of 2,500 men are registered at all times.

Frat House Nearly Ruined

A lighted bomb was thrown into the second story window of the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity house at the University of Wisconsin last week, early in the morning, but was put out before any damage could result. An investigation was held and the police declared there was enough explosive in the bomb to wreck the house. The bomb consisted of several sticks of dynamite and a bottle of acid.

Feeling that the old system of electing cheer leaders has proved inadequate, Penn State has adopted a new method whereby three cheer leaders, all seniors, are elected in the spring and these men in turn choose junior candidates in the fall and propose them for popular election. Desiring consistency, which was previously lacking, the leaders will be costumed in a regulation uniform.

Flowers, favors and taxicabs at all fraternity events have been abolished by a joint war resolution at the University of Indiana. Programs, decorations and refreshments will be inexpensive and the use of more than five pieces in an orchestra is prohibited.

Without a dissenting vote the Inter-fraternity Association at Cornell University determined last Thursday that Junior Week should be abolished this year. This is Cornell's historic social season, having occurred annually without interruption since 1882.

The University of Iowa is planning to help reclaim maimed soldiers. When the soldier's injuries prevent his return to war or to the vocation which he followed before the war, the plan is to make it the duty of the University to determine, through tests, for what kind of work he could be fitted.

The faculty of Syracuse rejected the petition of the student body to introduce the honor system into all examinations at Syracuse. The faculty felt that the honor system would not materially improve conditions, and that at the present time it should not be adopted.—Ex.

New Degree to be Conferred
President Hopkins, of Dartmouth, has suggested that a degree of Bachelor of Military Science should be conferred upon those students who leave college to go to war.—Student Life.

Vacations at Cornell have been materially shortened to allow the term to end May 22 instead of June 19. The faculty voted to cut down each vacation this year several days so that men can be released for service early in the spring.—Daily Kansan.

Cigarettes have been banned at the University of Louisiana. The school is run on a military basis, and all Junior and Senior battalion officers were put on their honor to report all violations of the order. Pipes and cigars are permissible.—Indiana Daily Student.

Deaths and frequent injuries due to the college hazing in the form of a Freshman-Sophomore rush caused the faculty of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., to pass a rule making this sport a "before the war" remembrance.—Student Life.

A French Room has recently been opened at Harvard University for the instruction of R. O. T. C. cadets. This will give the men an opportunity to supplement and increase their knowledge of French preparatory to service abroad as French periodicals will be supplied and instructors will always be present to converse in French with the students.

The majority of the students of Rutgers College petitioned the faculty to cut the Christmas vacation to one week, leave out Easter week, and abolish mid-year examinations. This will make the term three weeks shorter and enable the students to give material aid to the country.

Seniors at Stevens Institute have just recently adopted a "war schedule" which if it works out successfully, will enable the members of the class to be graduated late in March. In order to accomplish this, an extra hour is added to each day's work and regular class exercises will be held on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Instead of having the customary star arrangement on its service flag the emblem at Carnegie Tech. is decorated with the number 524, which number is indicative of the loyal sons gone from the Institute into the nation's service.

Princeton has exceeded by about $70,000 the quota of $500,000 which was assigned to it in the Second Liberty Loan Campaign.

Due to the decrease of receipts in tuition and fees, Cornell University faces a deficit of approximately $100,000 in running expenses this year. The total normal registration has been cut one-third this season.

College Students And The War

According to statistics compiled by the Connecticut State Council of Defense, out of the 20,000 students enrolled in New England colleges when the United States entered the war, 5,249 rallied to the colors immediately and nearly 3,000 others took up some form of indirect war work.

College To Close Early To Aid Farms

To release students for farm and factory work and to relieve the shortage in all lines of labor, the Pennsylvania State College will terminate the college year April 23. This action by the council of administration shortens the term by seven weeks. Commencement exercises will be held for the class of 1918 on April 24, instead of the second week in June, as formerly.

The usual Easter vacation period will be omitted and final examinations for both semesters have been abolished, so that the students may have as much time as possible for classroom and laboratory work before college closes. This arrangement reduces the actual shortening of the term to less than three weeks.

No credit studies will be allowed any students withdrawing before the close of the second semester, unless they enter military service and send back to the college authorities a certificate to that effect. Military drills will be continued until the number of hours required by the government is completed. Students subject to inspection trips or summer employment for college credit are to be held responsible for this work after the close of college. —Harrisburg Patriot.

FREE AUTOMOBILE DELIVERY TO NEWARK

For the purpose of fitting young men to take positions of responsibility in the business world and to fill them intelligently and efficiently, Delaware College has established a course in Business Administration as a part of the work of the Arts and Science Department. The course is conducted by Dr. Fred Clark, who came to Delaware this year from the University of Michigan, where he has been an instructor for several years. In addition to taking subjects which are designed to give a broad cultural training, the students in the new course will have work in economic problems and in the problems and practice of actual business.
