Annual Ambulance Campaign Planned to Start In April

The Newark Community Ambulance Association will conduct its annual membership and fund drive in April and May. The association, which is a branch of the Aetna Fire Co., chairman of the ambulance association, was again elected fund chairman.

The association was formed last year to enable families in the Newark area to insure themselves against the use of the Aetna ambulance for year by paying the $3 annual membership fee.

Operating an ambulance has been a part of Aetna's service to the community for more than 20 years, Mr. Hughes pointed out.

Last year the vehicle made 440 trips, most to and from hospitals in Wilmington. In 1953 the total number of runs was 363.

Final registration for voting eligibility in the April 12 municipal election, to choose three councilmen representatives of the three electoral districts in the City of Newark, will be conducted tomorrow and Saturday in the Academy Building from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Newcomers and all residents of the area who have moved from one area to another since their last municipal registration, must register at the council office in order to vote in April.

New City Manager To Address Newark C. of C. Meeting

Orville Over To Speak
At Special Meeting Of
Chamber Of Commerce

All members and prospective members of the Newark Chamber of Commerce have been urged by President Hugh F. Gallagher, Jr., to attend a meeting next Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Central elementary school on Academy Street, when Orville F. Over, Newark city manager, will speak concerning the city's present and future operations.

"We feel that every member of our business and industrial community will certainly want to be present," Mr. Gallagher said, "to get acquainted with Mr. Over and hear his views and plans concerning our city administration."

"Provisions have been made to include a question and answer period in the evening's program for members to discuss with Mr. Over such important matters as the annual city budget, future local tax requirements, possible merchants' licenses or fees, the role of the city manager in Newark's government and how the Newark Chamber of Commerce can assist in the growth and development of our city."

Mr. Gallagher pointed out that Monday's meeting will be the first of four quarterly meetings for the entire membership of the Newark chamber. It was felt, he stated, that such meetings would afford members a desirable opportunity to meet and discuss mutual problems and ideas.

He pointed out that in the past the chamber has held only one general meeting annually, and due to lack of time, there was little opportunity for discussion of matters affecting the business community.

Other meetings are tentatively scheduled for June, October and January.

Three Councilmen Seek Reelection With April Ballot

Downes Opposes Priestley,
Soule; Diehl Faces Aiken;
Maclary, Lone Candidate

Councilmen John R. Downes, Samuel L. Diehl, Jr., and Harry W. Maclary—western, middle, and eastern district incumbents whose terms expire next month—filed before the noon deadline last Saturday for reelection on April 12, along with western district council candidates Albion M. Soule, Jr., of 82 West Park Place and Albert S. Priestley, 225 Beverly Road; and middle district council candidate Albert M. Aiken, of 18 Haines Street.

In the eastern district, there is no opponent for Harry W. Maclary, 211 Capitol Trail, who was elected for the first time last year to a one-year term caused by a vacancy.

All offices, at stake this year are full two-year terms.

It is an off-year for the mayor, Dr. Wallace M. Johnson, a hold-over who will serve until April, 1956.

Other holdovers on council are Frank K. Scott, western district; George M. Neighbors, middle, and William M. Coverdale, eastern district.

Under Newark's charter, there are elective posts other than mayor and councilman. The assessor, secretary-treasurer, and other aides are appointed by council at the first meeting after the election—in this case April 19.

Newark residents who have not already registered to vote may do so tomorrow and Saturday at the city hall between 7:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Changes of address must also be recorded then, but for those who have not moved, the voting list is a permanent one.

Harty spoke of the outstanding record of detection centers operated in New Castle County by the Delaware Division of the American Cancer Society, where more than 16,000 examinations have been made as part of a program aimed at early detection of the disease. ## Special Matinee Offered Children By E-52 Players

"Mrs. McThing" To Open
Tonight At Mitchell Hall;
Friday Matinee Scheduled

A special children's matinee of Mary Chase's hilarious comedy, "Mrs. McThing," will be presented tomorrow in Mitchell Hall at 3 p.m. by the E-52 University Theatre. Other performances will be held tonight, tomorrow and Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

Three Newark children are guest actors in the production. Richard Reed, son of Dr. Howard Reed, portrays the dual role of snobbish Howay Larue and mobster of the same name. Gayle Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion G. Wood, and Janet Zimmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zimmer, play the role of Mr. Larue's daughter.

Mary Chase who is also the author of "Harvey," wrote this play primarily for children. Her aim was to write a full-length play for the professional theatre, which would be the attention of children between the ages of 7 and 14.

When the show opened in New York with Helen Hayes and Brandon de Wilde, both children and adults—and professional critics—enjoyed the hilarious comedy. The show was scheduled to run two weeks, but the show was still running 350 performances later.

Tickets are available for all performances at the box office which will be open tomorrow from 2:30 to 5 and tonight and tomorrow from 7 to 8:15 p.m. The box office will also be open tomorrow from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Reservations can be made by phoning Newark 8-8511, extension 380. ## Increase In Short Term Loan Limitation Sought By Newark

Amendment To Charter Extending Borrowing Power
On Short Term Loans From $100,000 To $250,000 To Be Prepared For Submission And Approval At Legislature

The final and most important item on the agenda for last Tuesday night's city council meeting was very nearly postponed with a move for adjournment at the approach of midnight, but City Manager Orville Over did some fast talking to beat the clock and jolt council with the information that the City of Newark must obtain additional borrowing power to meet immediate operational expenses. Restricted by the city charter to an indebtedness of $100,000 in short term bank loans, the City has already borrowed money to this extent, and operating capital is necessary to pay current bills.

City Solicitor John Sinclair was instructed to prepare an amendment to the city charter for immediate presentation at Dover for approval by the General Assembly, increasing the city borrowing power from $100,000 to $250,000, or one percent of the city assessed valuation, to meet contingencies until additional revenue is received and the City of Newark is operating on a more sound financial basis.

The treasurer's report disclosed a deficit of $97,758.86 at the end of February.

Beverly Road District

Councilman Harry Maclary presented a recommendation from the water committee that the city install a water line for property owners building homes in the Beverly Road area, with the provision that such property owners be governed by any provisions for assessment by subsequent city ordinance. It was further recommended that the city manager prepare recommendations for future policy regarding the responsibility for provision of water lines, sewer, streets and curbing by developers and individuals alike.

Councilman Wm. Coverdale stated that the Beverly Road area was a portion of the Greater Newark Development Community, by the very name, the area should be considered as a reality development—and that inasmuch as other developers had assumed similar construction expense, he felt that this area should be no exception. He cited a case where an individual had offered to pay the entire expense for city installation of a water line, and that construction of such facilities had not begun.

Sufficient Warning
Mr. Coverdale said that council had previously recommended prospective residents of this area be informed at the time of application for building permits, that arrangements must be made with council for city water.

Councilman John R. Downes commented that since the building permit had been issued to a petitioner in the audience without such notification, the city was obligated to provide water for the home now nearing completion.

A report of the street committee, submitted by Councilman George Neighbors, recommended that the city provide adequate surfacing on Beverly Road. In view of the fact, the street is reported to be impassable.

Elizabeth Gates, hospitality chairman, will be in charge of refreshments.

Sharrah Sewing Center Selected As Franchised Hotpoint Dealer

In conjunction with the 50th anniversary of the Hotpoint Company's entry into the electric appliance industry, Sharrah Appliance and Sewing Center, at 136 East Main Street, Newark, has been selected as the authorized dealer with the Hotpoint franchise for the Newark area, and the Hotpoint Company has introduced the fastest surface heating unit ever developed by any gas or electric kitchen range manufacturer.

Proprietors Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sharrah reside in Newark at the Academy Apartments, and have an 11-year old son who attends the Central elementary school.

A former employee at the DuPont Wilmington Shops, Mr. Sharrah has for the past several years been self-employed in sales promotion of a frozen food plan. He obtained his merchandising experience in Washington with Lansburgh's.

Perfect after years of experimental work and research, the new 2900 watt unit is designed to give the homemaker instant flexible heat for any cooking operation at the touch of a button. Small diameter combined with greater coil length gives greater utensil contact, longer life, and a marked increase in speed.

Advanced production methods developed by Hotpoint make this speed possible without sacrificing quality or unit life. This is in sharp contrast with other "fast" units now available that actually short circuit 220 volts of electricity through fragile 110 volt coils to get "flash" heat.

Until electronic cooking or some other radical form of food preparation can be perfected, Hotpoint officials believe the long-fought battle between gas and electric appliance manufacturers for faster cooking speeds is over. They point out that even a new gas range operating on maximum rich natural gas is still over 20 per cent slower than the new "Super Speed Calrod" unit.

Style leader of the company's five new Golden Anniversary, 30-inch ranges is a double-oven model (RD-23) equipped with lighted pushbuttons, automatic timer controls, small appliances outlets and a 170 square inch plug-in surface griddle that will cook up to 12 hamburgers, six large pancakes or bacon and eggs for six persons at one time.

An optional plug-in deep fat french fryer converts the valuable thrift cooker into a safe, spillproof fryer in which sea food, poultry, donuts, etc. can be prepared with no flavor interchange.

Ready today for tomorrow's PROGRESS

THE PROGRESS and growth of any community depends to a large extent upon the availability of an adequate, dependable supply of electricity . . . ready and waiting before the actual need arises.

Anticipating your future electrical needs . . . planning and building ahead of your demands . . . is our way of assuring you that there will always be available, an ample supply of electricity to meet the ever-increasing needs of the Delmarva Peninsula . . . aiding its growth and progress.

Toward this end $123,049,499.35 have been spent from 1946 through 1954 building our new generating, transmission and distribution facilities throughout the Peninsula. Continuing this expansion program, $9,500,000 additional has been authorized to be spent in 1955 to further assure the constantly increasing number of homes, farms, stores and industrial plants of the future that there will always be a plentiful supply of power to meet their every need.

Methodist Pastor Author Of National Magazine Article

Dr. John J. Bunting, Jr., minister of the Newark Methodist Church, is author of an 11-page article entitled "Religion Among the Novelists" in the current issue of "Religion in Life," a national publication of the Abingdon Press.

Taking issue with the opinion frequently expressed in Christian circles that the 20th century novelist has little to offer in terms of religious and ethical insights, Dr. Bunting points out that, although often by negative means, modern American fiction offers much in human insight and in support of the Christian viewpoint.

The topical headings of the article are "God—the Great Absentee," "Men—Truncated Dignity," and "Christ—Remote Redeemer."

Writers referred to and quoted in substantiation of the position taken in the article include Hemingway, Faulkner, Marquand, Robert Penn Warren, and James Jones.

Dr. Bunting has written earlier articles for this and other periodicals.

Visually, all 1955 ranges produced by the company's Golden Anniversary Jubilee, will be highlighted by accents of spice gold and silver chrome.

A completely new use-value feature, incorporated in the master oven of the deluxe RD-23 range for families who like barbecue-broiled foods, is a giant rotisserie.

This plug-in unit automatically turns large turkeys, big roasts and skewer meats ready to serve. In addition to the giant rotisserie, two other broiler conveniences are included as standard equipment. A raisable broiler rack, operated by a small crank, lets the housewife raise chops or steaks up close to the heat to sear in juices and then lower meat to any desired cooking distance. A double grill with handles hooks to the back of the broiler pan so six chops or a heavy steak can be turned over without puncturing the meat with a fork. All ovens on the company's 39 and 30-inch ranges have removable bake and broiler units that give improved baking results, greater oven capacity and easier cleaning. Single oven model of the top deluxe RD-23 range, without the giant rotisserie, is the RC-23. All deluxe features for timing and automatic cooking are standard equipment, including lighted pushbuttons, broiler rack and grill and raisable broiler. The plug-in surface griddle and french fryer are available as optional accessories on all 1955, 39-inch Hotpoint ranges except the low-cost RB-63 model.

The low-cost RB-63 range has one oven with removable bake and broil units, four surface units, storage drawer on nylon rollers, rotary switches and standard pushbuttons for baking and broiling.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton
Consumer Information Specialist

Meats and Poultry
Stretching the meat dollar requires that we learn as much as possible about the 150 meat items available in Delaware stores. The ranges in price and quality are wider than for any other food. Even though wholesale meat prices dropped another 3 percent last week, it is important to know about some of the economics in buying if a genuine savings is to be realized.

Selection of lean steaks and roasts often is false economy. A uniform covering of fat and lean which is "marbled" with fat indicates high quality. This fat also prevents excessive shrinkage in cooking and adds must of the flavor.

Save money by buying often those cuts that are in small demand. Most of this can be served in a variety of ways. Ground meats, for example, provide inexpensive meat loaves, patties and casseroles dishes in combination with spaghetti, vegetables or macaroni. Brisket makes excellent soup. Cuts of beef chuck make low-cost pot roasts. Variety meats such as liver, heart and tongue are highly nutritious and very favorably priced.

Pork prices this week have continued to slide. Even though loins, butts, shoulders and shank ends of ham offer the greatest savings, prices are dropping slightly on some of the expensive cuts such as chops and bacon.

Beef prices are steady with the best values on chuck, liver, hamburger, stew meat and flank steers. Seafood

Lowest priced fresh fish include shad, cod, haddock and pollock. Rock is featured at comparable low prices in a few stores. Economical frozen fish include whiting, perch, smelts and cod. At moderate prices are oysters, scallops, shrimp, salmon steaks and halibut steaks. Canned tuna, salmon and sardines are at "special" prices in most stores.

Fruits and Vegetables
Prices on apples from nearby states are attractive this week and quite low prices appear on apples which show "scald," a storage disorder which makes one side of the apple look burned or scalded. Under the skin remains firm. Slightly scalded apples sometimes are an excellent buy for cooking purposes.

The Florida Valencia oranges are increasing in supply and soon will replace the Pineapple variety which has been coming from Florida. Citrus prices are slightly stronger but still reasonable.

Carrots are a very good buy this week in terms of price as well as nutritive value. Other outstanding values in vegetables include mushrooms, onions, potatoes, beets, escarole, cabbage, Florida squash and spinach.

Heuberger Speaks Before Wilmington Garden Club

Dr. John W. Heuberger, head of the department of plant pathology at the University of Delaware, addressed a meeting of the Wilmington branch, National Association of Gardeners, last week.

Lecture on diseases of apple trees and roses. The meeting was held on the estate of Mrs. Lamont Dupont, 3001 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Capitol Trail News

Marjorie M. Bishop, Corres.
Kirkwood Highway
Phone 8-6318

The report of a recent attempted robbery at the Red Mill Nursery on Capitol Trail gives us all pause for thought. Daily reports of crimes and thefts of all sorts makes us wonder what has happened to the moral fibre of the American people. In all our mad rush for material things have we forgotten the fundamentals that are basic to our democracy—truth and honesty and respect for the rights of others? In other words, have we forgotten God?

A very delightful shower was given last Thursday by Mrs. Rodney Eastburn, Old Capitol Trail. Mrs. James T. Brown, Capitol Trail and Mrs. John Trivits, Newark, were the guests of honor. Mrs. W. Floyd Jackson of Polly Drummond Hill, soloist, sang a group of appropriate lullabies and Irish songs and Mrs. Franklin Springer of Newark was accompanist.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Goff and daughters, Janet and Bonnie, of Polly Drummond Road, enjoyed a weekend trip to Martinsburg, W.Va.

Mr. and Mrs. John Winters and family of Staten Island, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Furness, Capitol Trail, remaining for a birthday dinner on Monday given in honor of Mr. Furness.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Brown, of Capitol Trail, are spending this week with William and John Peach, Stanton, while Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peach are in California.

Pat Stanley, Delaplaine avenue returned to school this week after a bout with scarletina.

The Roseville Park library is located at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymond, Laurel Ave. It is open to the public on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to noon.

Millcreek Hundred Association of Churches

The executive committee of the Millcreek Hundred Association of Churches met last Sunday at the Hockessin Methodist Church. Plans were made for the annual union Good Friday service to be held on Friday, April 9 at the Stanton Methodist Church with the Rev. George Jamieson, pastor of Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church, as the speaker.

Individuals and church groups were urged to send letters to their state senator and representative in Dover, expressing opposition to legalized gambling.

Member churches were asked to send news items to Norman Ziegler, news letter chairman.

It was announced that an Easter sunrise service will again be held at Ebenezer Methodist Church, with Red Clay and White Clay churches cooperating.

A cooperative picnic will be sponsored by the association at Camp Mattahoon, during the week of June 13.

Medill Elementary School

The following reports have been received from the room reporters:

Miss Beyerlein's first grade has made kites and written an original poem about flying them, while Mrs. Sickman's second grade reports: "Early this morning we heard a bird singing. We looked out and saw it perched on a telephone wire. We were not sure what kind it was, but decided it must be a mother robin because its breast was a dull red. When she sang she was up to cheer us. It did cheer us up because now we are sure spring will soon be here."

Mrs. Arnold's room made kites for spring and have started work on a spring table.

Mrs. Clayton's room is working on an Easter egg tree and are forming a committee to make projects about Holland.

Miss Richie's third grade will be in charge of next week's assembly program with a play, "A Swiss Spring Carnival."

Mrs. Cole's room is arranging a show case scene on Holland and have planted tulips.

Mrs. Grey's fourth grade was in charge of the assembly program this week, and are discovering that making notebooks can be fun, especially when the material put into them is interesting.

Parents' Pictures

Miss Johnston's fourth grade is making pictures for their parents for Easter—flower prints. The penmanship contest was won by Ruth Hawes, Theo Swan and Eric Lindstrom.

Mrs. Rasmussen's fourth grade is planning a solar system in miniature, using Christmas tree bulbs of various sizes for planets, a balloon for the sun and beads for moons and asteroids.

Mrs. Schoyen's fourth grade is making notebook covers in art class and Mrs. McGranigan's fifth grade made posters of the mid-Atlantic states. One reading group gave a radio play over the school "intercom" system.

Mrs. Smith's fifth grade has been making safety posters in the art club, for use in the hall and bus waiting room and Mr. Sharkey's sixth grade has eight pupils working on projects to enter in the 1955 Science Fair, at Tower Hill School. Pupils planning to enter projects are Bobby Bell, Lynn Moroz, Jean Sanderson, Joe Fisona, Lois Hoffman, Diann Farny, Riekey Grant.

Mrs. Hubener's sixth grade is making booklets on China and plan to study electricity and power. Yesterday, they took a trip to Dover to visit the Delaware State Museum and the State Legislature.

White Clay Creek

A committee from the evening circle spent last Friday morning cleaning the church kitchen, and voted $10 toward the school summer camp and conference fund.

The afternoon circle voted $5 to the church Easter flower fund, and $10 toward the association's sewing assignment for national and foreign missions.

The Evening Circle is inviting the Afternoon Circle to be their guests at their next meeting, April 19, at 8 p.m., when a film strip on Pakistan will be shown.

Sunday, March 20 at the 11 a.m. church service, the Lenten series on "The Hands of Jesus" will be continued.

After discussion of ways to complete the Brookside Elementary School—16 classrooms of which are now under construction—it was decided to authorize Architect E. William Martin to prepare plans for bringing it up to the largest desirable size for a single elementary school—20 classrooms with art and music room. This could be done more economically while the builders are still there, it was explained, but it would have to be done largely with building funds yet to be allotted by the state for the coming biennium.
