Telethon By VFW Auxiliaries Slated For Gifts To Vietnam

Special Gift Paces Offered Donors For Servicemen
In Vietnam With National VFW Auxiliary Telethon;
Dorothy Foster Of Thomas Cooper Unit, Co-Chairman

Auxiliaries of the National Veterans of Foreign Wars will conduct a Telethon for U.S. servicemen in Vietnam on Sunday Aug. 24, "to prove to our boys we do care and we are thinking of their great sacrifice for us and our country," Dorothy Foster of the Thomas Cooper Auxiliary at Newark announced today. The telethon will enable the public to send Gift Paces at a special rate. The contents alone cost $9, but one can send this Gift Pace for $6 including postage, or five paces for $25 on a five monthly basis, receiving a monthly bill for the remainder.

The name and address of the donor will be enclosed in every Gift Pace and returned as proof of receipt.

Paces consist of simple, everyday articles taken for granted in civilian life, yet difficult for servicemen to obtain when the PX is not near the fighting man. Contents have been recommended by the advisory group of Marine Combat Veterans. Use of the Wilmington office of Snelling & Snelling employment agency has been donated for the Sunday, Aug. 24, telethon from 2 to 8 p.m.

Telethon Leaders

Delaware Department President Emma Mazzetta of Gen. Atterbury Post 3420, Wilmington, has appointed Delaware Jr. Vice-President Edith DuBois of J. F. Spear Post 615, Wilmington as chairman of "Special Delivery Vietnam Gift Pace Day," and Dorothy Foster of Thomas Cooper Auxiliary, J. Allison O'Daniel Post 475, Newark, is co-chairman.

Auxiliary members will receive phone calls, taking pledges and information concerning Gift Paces to be delivered.

The Telethon will be introduced with spot announcements by the National Broadcasting Co., with 225 radio stations throughout the United States aiding in this VFW program.

Radio and TV

Chairmen DuBois and Foster urge all to tune in on Radio Station WNRK and WILM and Channel 12-TV on Sunday, Aug. 24, and to call the Wilmington office of Snelling & Snelling.

"If you receive a busy signal, please try again. Tell your friends and neighbors to remember our boys with a contribution," Mrs. Foster urges.

"If you have no name to submit, we will use one from our files — or if you prefer, your Gift Pace can be mailed to an 'Unnamed Veteran in Vietnam.'"

"Make a note of Sunday, Aug. 24, from 2 to 8 p.m. and Auxiliary girls will be ready for your calls. 'Many thanks to Mr. Schutzman, president of Wilmington's Snelling and Snelling employment agency, for all he is doing for this Delaware VFW program to give our fighting men morale support and to show that we really do care,'" Mrs. Foster concluded.

Bruce Mayers, 65 Dies In Trailer From Pistol Shot

Bruce Mayers, 65, was found dead in his trailer at Maple Square Trailer Park, Newark, on Monday afternoon.

New Castle County Police said he had been shot in the head, apparently by a revolver found near the body. They listed the death as a suicide.

Shortly after 1 p.m., police said, the New Castle County Fire Board received a telephone call from someone who identified himself as Mr. Mayers asking that an ambulance be sent to his trailer.

Before he hung up, he told the dispatcher he was going to shoot himself, police said.

Mr. Mayers lived alone in the trailer.

His wife died a year ago.

Rahns Meet Guy Lombardo After 'South Pacific'

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rahns of 47 East Park Place, Newark, were greeted by Guy Lombardo, orchestra leader of the Royal Canadians, at the Schaefer Brewing Co. Dance Tent after a recent performance of "South Pacific" at the Jones Beach Marine Theater on Long Island.

After the show, the Rahns were invited to an hour of dancing to the music of Guy Lombardo and the Royal Canadians.

Airman Roger M. Getty Assigned At Wilmington

Airman Roger M. Getty, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Getty of 916 Highway Drive, Newark, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the training course for U.S. Air Force computer operators.

Getty, a 1968 graduate of Newark High School, is being assigned to a Delaware Air National Guard unit at Wilmington.

Airman Getty attended Delaware Technical and Community College in Wilmington.

"Harvest Song" To Feature Theme Of Flower Show

University, Garden Club
Federation To Sponsor
Oct. 4-6 Show At Newark

The University of Delaware and the Delaware Federation of Garden Clubs will host the annual Delaware Flower Show, Oct. 4-6, at Carpenter Fieldhouse on the Newark campus.

Theme of the 1969 show "Harvest Song" will be observed with floral arrangements in four divisions.

The horticulture division, largest of the show, will include exhibitions in 20 categories including chrysanthemums, roses, perennials, biennials, fruits, vegetables and herbs, dried materials, specimen pot plants and cut specimens. The division will also feature special horticultural classes for professional gardeners.

Arrangements in the artistic design division, based on the James Whitcomb Riley poem "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin," will include designs using fresh, dried and treated plant materials and fresh fruit and vegetables.

Special divisions for junior and high school entrants will feature horticulture and arrangement categories. To assist youngsters in preparing their exhibits, the flower show committee has distributed chrysanthemum cuttings and seed packets, including sunflower, marigold, zinnia, pumpkin and ornamental gourd seeds, to several hundred young people.

Local garden clubs will also participate in a flower show training school for youngsters during September.

In addition to individual entrants, the Delaware Flower Show will feature floral displays by area garden clubs, nurserymen and by local rose and orchid societies.

Copies of the Delaware Flower Show schedule and entry categories are available from David V. Tannal, Agricultural Hall, Newark.

Any individual is eligible to exhibit with no entry fee, subject to rules and deadlines established by the flower show committee. Arrangement entries, however, will be accepted in limited numbers.

Sports Publicist John M. Morris Gets Two Awards

John M. Morris, sports publicist for the University of Delaware, received two awards at the annual meeting of the College Sports Information Directors Association of America in Chicago last week.

Morris won the citation for producing the best promotional brochure in the college division.

His publication was prepared for prospective football players.

Morris also won a citation for the best conference brochure in the college division. He doubles as publicist for the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Students To Visit Fashion Capitals, European Industry

A group of 26 students from the University of Delaware including Cecile Slinner of North Star, Newark, will leave Saturday for a month's tour of the fashion capitals and textile industries of Europe.

The tour will be led by Mrs. Dorothy V. Taylor, instructor of textiles and clothing in the college of home economics, and Mrs. Taylor's husband, who will accompany the group.

The itinerary includes visits to leading producers and designers in Scotland, England, France, Switzerland, Italy and Holland.

Special arrangements have been made for the students to visit the Parisian fashion houses of Christian Dior, Yves St. Laurent, Madame Gres and Guy LaRogue.

Students will receive three credits upon completion of the study tour.

State winners from Newark are Bessam Dawson and Susan Owen in clothing judging, and Richard Harrington, poultry.

Building Trades Strike Delays Opening Of Wilson School; Half-Days Scheduled

Half-day sessions for some 1,200 public school children scheduled to attend the R. Elisabeth Maclary and new E. J. Wilson elementary schools will be conducted at the Maclary School beginning next Sept. 3, because of delayed Wilson School construction with the recent building trades strike.

Dr. Frederick E. Williams, board of education vice-president, said that double sessions will end as soon as possible, but pupils will not be moved to the Wilson School until the building is completely ready to be occupied.

The construction strike, Williams said, but the building program so far behind that it was impossible for the contractor, Rupert Construction Co., to make up for the delay.

Frank Groseclose Has Comedy Lead In Festival Finale

Arnold Colbath Directs
Farce Opening Tonight
For Mitchell Hall Run

George Feydeau's hilarious farce "A Flea in Her Ear" will be given at 8:15 tonight thru Saturday, and Aug. 14-16 in Mitchell Hall on the University of Delaware campus, as the final offering in the University Summer Festival of the Performing Arts.

Directed by Arnold Colbath, the comedy's cast is headed by Frank Groseclose in the dual role of Chancelier and Poche.

Groseclose scored resoundingly in his comic portrayal of Joxer Daly in last week's production of "Juno and the Paycock."

Mark Gressle plays Camille, a young man with a speech impediment, and Joan Goodfellow has the role of Antoinette, a French maid.

Others in the cast are Jay Mahanna as the butler Etienne; J. William Rayne as Dr. Finache; Neena Davidoff, Judy and John Minsus, Sami Bandak, Janet Heron, Michael Walls, Val Nares, E. C. Mahanna and Susan Watson.

The comedy has been translated from French by Carol Johnson.

Henry Kurth, visiting from Case Western Reserve University, designed the setting and lighting. Reservations are being accepted at the box office.

Oliver, Reynolds Join UD To Teach Political Science

James K. Oliver and Henry T. Reynolds have joined the political science faculty at the University of Delaware as assistant professors.

Oliver is completing PhD requirements at the school of international service, American University, this summer.

He was a consultant to John W. Bowling, coordinator of political studies, Foreign Service Institute, U.S. State Dept.

Oliver received his BA and MA degrees from Florida State University.

In 1965-67 he was on the editorial staff of the "Journal of Politics." He worked for the State Department last summer, developing a one week introductory course in contemporary science for the Foreign Service Institute.

Reynolds completed undergraduate work at Dartmouth College in 1963, receiving a BA with distinction in government. For the next two years he was a Peace Corps volunteer in Morocco, Ivory Coast, Nigeria and Ghana.

As a graduate student at the University of North Carolina, Reynolds held a teaching assistantship. He received a National Mental Health traineeship in 1967-68 and a National Science Foundation fellowship and dissertation grant in 1968-69.

He became a full-time mechanical engineer at the Washington Works and advanced through several engineering and supervisory assignments until he became films production superintendent in 1966.

City Playground Activity Ends Saturday After Eight-Weeks For Area Youngsters

This last week of city playground activity will include a swim meet and box lunch at the Edgar C. Dickey Park, a cook-out at West Park, and a picnic at Rittenhouse Park, a family night for the Rittenhouse Park playground and other farewells events at New London, George Reed Village and Downes School. Playground programs for the year end Saturday at 7 p.m.

Young people of the Newark area have participated in eight weeks of planned programs including art, craft, music, sports, games, a train trip, drama, Rec-Olympics, swimming, tumbling and fun-type contests with bubble gum, water balloons, crazy hats, and watermelon.

"All in all, they had a good time, many new things were learned, and

The construction strike also will make it necessary for the district to rent kindergarten classroom space in area churches for the second year.

Sixteen new classrooms are under construction.

This will be the first time there have been double sessions in district schools since 1954, when there was a delay in the opening of Brookside Elementary School.

Double sessions will involve about 1,200 pupils in kindergarten through fifth grade.

Students scheduled to enter the Wilson School in Pike Creek Valley, will go instead to the Maclary School in Chapel Hill. About 650 students were to attend the Wilson School.

Plans call for Maclary School students to attend classes from 8 a.m. to noon and Wilson students from 12:30 to 4:30.

Kindergarten will be on the district's regular schedule, with morning sessions from 9 to 11:30 and afternoon sessions from 1 to 3:30.

Because of the shortened school day, the Maclary cafeteria will not be open until the Wilson School opens and the Maclary School returns to regular schedule.

Supt. C. H. Hudson At Pencader Plant Being Transferred

DuPont Plant At Newark
To Be Headed By W. Va.
Works' James B. Shafer

Clayton H. Hudson Jr., superintendent of the DuPont Pencader Plant at Newark, is transferring to Parkersburg, W. Va., as employee relations superintendent at Washington Works. He will be succeeded in Newark by James B. Shafer, who has been superintendent of filament production at the Washington Works.

Hudson has been superintendent of the Pencader plant since it was established in 1967.

He joined DuPont in 1946 as a chemical engineer at the Melle (W. Va.) plant, and advanced through production supervision and management positions at the Virginia (Tex.) plant and the Washington Works.

A native of Roanoke, Va., Hudson graduated from Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1941 with a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering.

After serving as an artillery officer in the Pacific during World War II, he returned to VPI for his master's degree in chemical engineering before joining DuPont.

Shafer, a native of Charleston, W. Va., worked at the DuPont Belle plant near Charleston while a student in mechanical engineering at West Virginia University where he graduated in 1949.

He became a full-time mechanical engineer at the Washington Works and advanced through several engineering and supervisory assignments until he became films production superintendent in 1966.

University Offers Farm & Home Day Events Next Week

Annual Field Day Program
Scheduled At Georgetown
Substation On Wednesday

Although no formal poultry program has been scheduled for University of Delaware's 1969 Farm and Home Field Day, visitors to the Aug. 13, event will have opportunity to discuss current poultry research efforts with university personnel.

Among projects underway at the Georgetown Substation are caged broiler studies, litter treatment research, and efforts aimed at controlling Marek's disease.

Caged broiler studies by poultry researchers George Chaloupka and Ray Lloyd, are designed to evaluate various types of cages and equipment in producing high quality, economically acceptable broilers.

A second study under Chaloupka's supervision is to determine effects of litter treatment on broiler performance.

Experimental data being gathered by researchers Bill Krauss, George Chaloupka and Roy Montgomery include average weight and feed conversion at eight weeks, mortality and cause factors and condemnation cause and percentage at processing.

Project leaders will be available to discuss preliminary experimental results and to answer questions throughout the Field Day program.

Other Field Day features include a sick plant clinic conducted by Dr. John Heuberger of Newark; and Demonstration Row, a 56-row plot of new crop varieties on the university's 310-acre experimental farm at Georgetown.

Field Day visitors are encouraged to bring ailing plant specimens to a special sick plant clinic where problems will be diagnosed by university agronomists, entomologists, pathology and horticulture specialists.

University of Delaware specialists staffing this year's plant clinic are Entomologists Frank Boyd and Dale Bray; Agronomists Leo Cotoir and Bill Michels; Pathologists Heuberger and R. Walker Miller; and Horticulturists Bob Stevens, Dave Tattall and Vernon Fisher.

Local Legion Post Seeking Donations For Benefit Sale

American Legion Post 10 at Newark will conduct a white elephant sale at the post home in George Reed Village, this Saturday, at 9 a.m.

Patrons who have any merchandise to donate to this fund raising effort for promotion of Legion Baseball and child welfare by the local post should contact Commander Charlie Carriero, Tom Mera, Peggy Vignola, Clara Coates, or Dave Oakes and arrange for pick-up of donated articles.

"Now is a good time to unload all those things you have around the house that you don't want but are too good to throw away," Elmer Saxton said.

"This sale is most certainly for a very worthy cause," Carriero added. "The public is cordially invited to come by and buy."

"Every assistance for getting your purchases home will be made at time of purchase — and we just might have the thing you are looking for."

"Come on over and browse around on Saturday," Carriero concluded.

Four ROTC Cadets Get Commissions As 2d Lieutenants

Four ROTC cadets from the University of Delaware, including two from Newark, have been commissioned second lieutenants after completing summer camp.

The four are Robert James Rouse and John Francis Holloway of Newark; Alexander Joseph Rose, Delaware City; and Michael Szymanski, Wilmington.

Rouse is a member of Alpha Zeta honorary fraternity and a dean's list student.

Cadets Holloway, Rose and Szymanski are members of Seaboard and Blade military fraternities.

E. Paul duPont Endowment Aids Correctional Study

The University of Delaware extension division will offer a certificate program in correctional service this fall for regularly employed institutional personnel in the Delaware Department of Correction and the Delaware Youth Services Commission.

The program is conducted without charge through auspices of the U.S. Office of Law Enforcement Assistance and the E. Paul duPont endowment for study of crime, delinquency and corrections.

Public Schools Sex Education Opposed By 11 of 16 Speakers

General Assembly Special Committee Conducts Public
Hearing At Student Center In Newark Before Audience
Of 350 County Residents; Parental Instruction Cited

Sex education in public schools was opposed by 11 of 16 speakers last Monday night in the University of Delaware Student Center, as the General Assembly special committee conducted its first public hearing on the controversial topic before some 350 New Castle County residents, parents, not youngsters, need some form of sex education, a speaker said.

Mrs. Ruth Graf of Clair Estates, one of two speakers posed to proposed public school courses on other than moral grounds, said she felt that sex education is not the answer to present youth problems and that parents rather than the young need to be offered some form of sex education.

For Those Who Want It

Mrs. Kathy Vari, also of Clair Estates, said she was willing to support sex education in public schools "for those children whose parents want it for them," but that "it's my child, my tax money, and give me the freedom of choice should I prefer to teach my own children at home."

Other speakers against sex education echoed presentations of two Baptist ministers.

The Rev. Ronald Hayden of Wilmington's Temple Baptist Church said his entire congregation is against sex education.

"It is a moral issue, and it belongs in the home and in the church," he said.

After School

Hayden said the only way he would approve sex education in public schools would be if it were to be taught after school by proven authorities on the subject and in the presence of parents.

The Rev. Leonard Chaves of the First Baptist Church of New Castle said, "If religion can only be taught in the home, then certainly sex also qualifies for the same treatment."

Five speakers favoring sex education leaned heavily on the "family unit" aspects of the program for the lower elementary grades.

Added Teaching

James Lindley of Newark said parents would still be free to teach morality at home even if the schools or teach sex education.

He attacked the second section of a bill sponsored by Sen. Anthony J. Cicione R-Essex, which would permit 25 per cent of the voters of a school district to block the teaching of sex education and called it "general assembly meddling" in local school board affairs.

Lindley said he agreed with the first two sections of the former bill, which allowed parents to view materials before they are used in the classroom and provide an option for parents who do not want their children to attend sex-education classes in school.

Unpopular

Dr. James R. McIlwain of Monterey Farms, vice-president of the Delaware Council of Parents and Teachers, was booed during his speech advocating "family life education" which he said could not be taught without some references to sex. His claim to be representing the feelings of 39,000 PTA members was questioned.

Dr. C. R. Donoho of Newark, representing the Delaware Medical Society, read a resolution advocating school teaching of sex education as a means of reinforcing parental teaching.

In questioning by the committee, Donoho said he had a good idea for school boards to consult with professional medical people before completing plans for a sex education program.

The committee headed by Sen. Dean C. Steele, R-Windsor Hills, will hold two more public hearings this week.

Comments present last Monday night included Sen. Sherman M. Holloway Sr., D-Wilmington; Rep. Joan C. Wright, D-Old Capitol Trail; Rep. John F. Kirk Jr., R-Delaware City; Rep. Marion L. Seibel, R-Brookside; Rep. John A. Dillman Jr., R-Lyndallia; Sen. Everett Hale, R-Fairfield Crest; Rep. Clifford B. Hoarn Jr., D-Wilmington; Cicione and Steele.

Hale is vice-chairman of the committee.

Corp. Wm. A. Reed, Jr. With Vietnam Marines

Marine Lance Corp. William A. Reed, Jr., of 117 Meadowood Drive, Newark, is serving in Vietnam with the 1st Marine Division.

The primary mission of Reed's 3rd Battalion is to conduct large scale operations against the enemy. When not engaged in major operations, Marines of the battalion participate in company and platoon size sweeps through the battalion's area of responsibility in search of enemy infiltrators.

Reed's unit also is engaged in a civic action program to assist the Vietnamese people in completing self-help projects — the building of wells, culverts, small bridges and schools.

All-Stars To Begin Drills At Newark On Aug. 13

Members of the Gold All-Star football squads will have their opening practice session the morning of Aug. 13, on the west field adjacent to Delaware Stadium at Newark. They will report to this field at 9:30.

The players, coaching and cheerleader squads, and Miss Delaware will be available for photographs and interviews at this session.

Also present will be the youngster who will represent the state's mental retarded children at this year's game, as well as a group of other mental retarded children, Wheeler O. Holmes advised.

Arts And Science Students Honored By Class Of 1962

Two students have been named by the college of arts and science at the University of Delaware as recipients of book awards presented annually by the Class of 1962.

Chosen by Dean Arnold L. Lipert are Martha Jean Hauser sophomore biology major, and Nancy Joan Schmidt, junior major in French.

The Class of 1962 book awards honor students who serve their classmates and the university through their activities.

Recipients may select a book of their choosing up to $15 in cost at the University Bookstore and their names are affixed to a commemorative plaque in the office of each of the undergraduate college deans.

Funds to support the awards are contributed each year by the Class of 1962 through the annual alumni fund.

Pass-Fail System Planned This Fall As Aid To Student

The University of Delaware in a move to encourage students to explore areas of learning outside their major field of study will institute the pass-fail system beginning next fall.

Under the pass/fail option a student each semester may register for one course outside his major field of study on a pass/fail basis.

A passing grade would give the student full credit toward degree requirement but would not affect cumulative grade index. A grade of F would be included in a student's cumulative index.

No more than 24 hours of free electives, courses not listed in requirements for the student's particular major, may be taken for the bachelor's degree.

Pass/fail courses will be considered as part of a student's regular course load.

SUNDAY SERMON

The subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches in Delaware this Sunday will be "Spirit." Morning service and Sunday School are at 11; Wednesday evening testimonial meetings at 8 o'clock, and everyone is welcome.

Blanche Doughten Dies At Age Of 82 After Long Illness

Mrs. Blanche Mae Doughten, 82, formerly of Sunset Road, Newark, died Sunday in Gov. Bacon Health Center, Delaware City, after a long illness.

Mrs. Doughten was a native of Newark and the widow of Frank C. Doughten, who died in 1952.

She is survived by a grandson and 11 great-grandchildren.

Services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Chandler Funeral Home, Wilmington, with interment in Gracelawn Memorial Park.

Chemical Weed Control Hindered By Guesswork

Guesswork is foolish when applying chemical controls for weeds, insects or diseases, according to John S. McDaniel, agricultural chemicals specialist at the University of Delaware.

Costs of improper pesticide application are much too high to risk on a guess, even on an educated guess. Too many farmers who think they know exactly how much pesticide they are using are in fact only guessing.

Prevent trouble before it begins. Know exactly how much material your equipment will deliver when properly calibrated and be sure to accurately measure the correct amount of pesticide and water before spraying.

Finally, always remember to read and follow label directions explicitly.

Seymour Yolles Directs Institute With NSF Grant

The University of Delaware has received a $15,652 grant from the National Science Foundation for an in-service chemistry institute for secondary school teachers.

Under the direction of Dr. Seymour Yolles, professor of chemistry, the program provides advanced work leading to a master's degree in education for secondary school teachers.

The institute is offered through university extension, evenings and Saturdays in Newark and Georgetown.

MRS. ANNA EASTBURN HONORED AT REUNION

Mrs. Anna Eastburn of Capitol Trail, Newark — widow of Thompson Eastburn — again was the oldest person at the third annual reunion of descendants of David and Elizabeth Jones Eastburn, last Sunday at the Louviers picnic ground. She will be 97 in December and received an orchid corsage.

There were 100 attending this family gathering.

Buffet dinner was served and a business session was conducted. Officers elected for the coming three years are Donald Eastburn, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Howard Hayes of Skyline Crest, recording secretary; and Emerson Eastburn of Mt. Cuba, treasurer.

The 1970 reunion was planned for Sept. 6, instead of the first Sunday in August.

Special prizes were wall plates inscribed in gold with "Eastburn Family Reunion, Aug. 3, 1969," presented by the president.

Ann Fullerton of Long Island, N.Y., traveled the greatest distance, and William and Susan Eastburn of Beachwood, N.J., were the most recently married couple, being wed four months ago.

Youngest present was seven-week-old Evelyn Frances Roth of Beachwood, N.J.

Mrs. Ferris Eastburn received the plate for a game, and Kathy Hayes of Skyline Crest came in the oldest car — a 1953 Chevy.

Games for children two to 12 were conducted by Mrs. George Eastburn of Faulkland Heights, and the teen-agers enjoyed records.

The first John Eastburn came from York, England in 1684. His son Robert had nine children, and their son Joseph married Mary

ELLEN BARBAS, BRIDE OF W. M. HETZLER III

Miss Ellen Marie Barbas and Walter Matthew Hetzler, III, were married on July 19, at St. John the Baptist Church in Newark by the Rev. Stephen Connell.

The 11 a.m. ceremony was followed by a reception at the Defiance Banquet Room in Wilmington.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Barbas of 14 Mercer Drive, Newark.

Mr. Hetzler is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth K. Hetzler of 2 Lehigh Road, Cooper Farm, and the late Walter M. Hetzler, Jr.

Maid of honor was Miss Marie Hetzler, sister of the bridegroom. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Edward Denston, Miss Terry Hickey and Miss Joyce Netta.

Marianne Netta was flower girl, and Daniel Kenney was ringbearer.

Best man was Edward T. Denston. Ushers were David Justison, Robert Barbas, Joseph Justison and Joseph Netta.

Following a wedding trip to Texas the couple will reside in Germany where Mr. Hetzler will be stationed in the Army.

JOAN KEIFER MARRIED TO A. BARNEY ROOT IV

Miss Joan Francine Keifer and Lawrence Augustin Root were married July 24, at a family ceremony performed by the Rev. Martin H. Hummel of Newark.

Attendants for the couple were sister and brother of the groom, Miss Deborah Louise Root and A. Barney Root IV.

Parents of the couple are Lt. Cdr. (ret.) and Mrs. Thomas H. Keifer and Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Root III of Newark.

The bride and groom graduated from Newark High School.

After mid-August they will reside in Boulder, Colo., where Mr. Root, technician second class, will study at the University of Colorado as a participant in the Navy's NESCP program.

KAREN KILPATRICK WED AT ST. THOMAS CHURCH

Karen Mary Kilpatrick and Todd Michael Frazier were married at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 2, in St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Newark, by the Rev. Marvin Hummel.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Kilpatrick, of 900 Bayview Drive, Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Todd M. Frazier of Wellesley, Mass., are parents of the groom.

Miss Joan T. Kilpatrick was maid of honor for her sister, and Miss Carol A. Kilpatrick, was bridesmaid. Wayne Stack, was best man, and ushers were Michael Seibert, Thomas Thompson, and Dean Kilpatrick, brother of the bride.

The bride graduated from the University of Maryland and is employed by the Montgomery County Board of Education.

Her husband attends the University of Maryland.

After a wedding trip to Virginia Beach, the couple will reside in Rockville, Md.

Wilson in 1753. From this marriage came David whose family numbered 14 children. All were Quakers and many have continued to be members of the Society of Friends.

Mill Creek Friends Burying Ground near Corner Ketch has numerous Eastburn names on the tombstones.

David and Elizabeth lived in Mill Creek Hundred, owning a farm property along Paper Mill Road, now the property of Dr. Irvine Finn.

Karen Vogelsang Honored By National Sorority

Karen Jane Vogelsang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl William Vogelsang, 14 South Dillwyn Road, Windy Hills, Newark, has been tapped to membership in Epsilon Pi chapter of Cwen, a national honorary sorority for sophomore women, at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa.

As a Cwen, Miss Vogelsang will serve as an advisor to incoming freshman women and will assist during orientation week in September.

Cut Provides Secret For Good Grilling Of Meat Outdoors

Grilling meat outdoors doesn't require any particular knack, according to Marguerite Krackhardt, extension foods and nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware.

The secret of tasty, juicy meat is primarily in the cut.

Steaks should be cut at least one-inch thick. Thick cuts will be juicier and more flavorful than thin cuts which usually dry too fast over charcoal heat.

Instead of individual thin steaks for each member of the family, choose fewer thick ones you can carve to feed two or more people.

Porterhouse, T-bone, club, sirloin, rib and rib eye steaks are perfect for a cookout.

Top round in USDA Prime can be broiled or grilled, but lower grades should be marinated for several hours or overnight before cooking.

Extension Course Offered In Plastics Technology

The division of extension at the University of Delaware is offering a certificate program in plastics technology in cooperation with the Philadelphia section of the Society of Plastics Engineers and the university division of technical services.

Certificates are awarded upon completion of four required courses and at least three electives, and the program may be completed in two years.

Silver Shower

The new bride can win praise for glamorous desserts as well as for her beautifully-set table when thoughtful friends treat her to a "Favorite Recipe" shower. The plan: each guest includes the recipe for her most treasured dessert, along with a small, related gift such as the right-sized cake pan, a set of measuring spoons or a fancy mold. The girls can also join forces to present a really special gift of sterling silver, such as the pie or cake server or cake breaker in the pattern of the bride's choice. Centerpiece and refreshment might be one of the desserts, such as this Almond-Orange Chiffon Cake:

ALMOND-ORANGE CHIFFON CAKE

2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
5 egg yolks
1/2 cup cooking oil
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 cup egg whites (7 or 8 medium whites)
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar

ORANGE FROSTING

1/2 cup soft butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
2 unbeaten egg yolks
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 tablespoons milk
Sifted almonds

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt together into a mixing bowl. Divide yolks and whites of 5 eggs; reserve whites. Make a well in the center of flour mixture and add cooking oil, egg yolks, water, milk and almond extract; beat until smooth. Add additional whites to reserved egg white mixture to measure 1 cup; pour into large bowl and add cream of tartar. Beat whites with wire whisk or electric beater until they form very stiff peaks (do not underbeat). Slowly pour egg-yolk mixture over whites, folding in mixture gently with rubber spatula or spoon (do not stir). Continue folding until yolk mixture is just blended. Pour batter into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake at 325° for 55 minutes; increase heat to 350° and bake 10 to 15 minutes longer, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Invert cake, in pan, until cool; remove cake from pan. To make frosting, cream butter with salt and 1 cup confectioners' sugar until light and fluffy. Stir in yolks and rind. Add remaining sugar and milk alternately, beating until very smooth. Frost cake and decorate sides with sifted almonds.

Hoot Mon! The Scots Are Coming!

By yon bonnie banks and by yon bonnie braes, the look of Scotland is marching back-to-school. Stronger than the magic of the Scottish bagpipes, the canny Scots know a thing or two about patterns.

And the brand-new news in little girl's fashions is the re-emergence of the Scottish influence—complete with all those smashing plaids, tartans and argyles that made this fair isle so famous.

Taken from the ancient plaids of the Scottish clans, little girls wear these colorful outfits as proudly as the bagpiper wears his kilt. The plaids for this season run the gamut from tartan to brilliantly-colored stain glass to realistic three-dimensional combinations.

As a counterpart to this riot of color, there's the new seotch mist—a soft mixture of heathery tones.

But the star this Fall is the new vivid argyle. Adopted from the pattern of the Campbell clan, it's styled into thrifty little dresses for the young fry. Pretty enough to charm the Loch Ness monster, Cinderella sees this pattern shaped into corduroy cotton dresses, belted in the same pattern for flair. Ribbed collar and cuffs and matching beret with fluffy pom-pom line up for a Cinderella look that's perfect for nippy weather.

Who says argyle's just for socks? Certainly not the Scots. And definitely not the young set this season—they'll all be marching back-to-school to the strong beat of the new Scotch patterns.

AN IMPORTANT REMINDER

Malcontents always make themselves heard although they rarely contribute anything constructive to the cause of enlightened dissent. On the contrary, so far as arousing public sympathy for legitimate problems of students, these troublemakers have led a lot of people to lose confidence in young people generally. If there is a Generation Gap, they have helped to make it. The only way to overcome it is to know more about what young people are doing — that is, the majority of them.

A late release of a large food processing company* tells how approximately 300,000 students in more than 1,200 high schools throughout the nation have taken part in a U.S. Marine Corps Youth Physical Fitness Program. The top-scoring student in the program will receive a $1,000 scholarship to the college or professional school of his choice. The scholarship is provided by the food company which also supports the Marine's Youth Fitness Program on a nationwide basis.

Here is a reminder that for every advocate of violence and dissension there are thousands of young persons who are going about the business of growing up as worthy citizens of the greatest nation in the world.

AND ANOTHER

Some time ago, a student editor at a state university wrote an editorial in the form of a letter to his father. Among other things, he said, "... Dad, believe me when I say that I am indebted to you for paternal love and protection, but believe me also when I say that my generation holds in contempt the colossal social, economic, and political blunders which you perpetuated. As we survey the worthless heritage of crime, war, poverty, and greed, we unite in shouting, 'We will have none of it. There must be a second Renaissance!'"

"Some time ago," in this case, was 1934. And the student who wrote it is now an associate professor of journalism at another large state university. Of his editorial of more than 30 years ago, the professor says, "... though players change, the central themes remain quite constant." Youth of today should and do question the merit of existing institutions in their search for something better. However, it should not be forgotten that their search will be in vain unless it is carried on within the framework of a political and economic system that encourages inquiry. The great menace today lies in the violent dissenters, who would oppress those who do not agree with them.

Nurses in reserve mean strength in reserve.

Heavy July Rains Pose State Threat For Farm Crops

Unusually heavy July rains have left many Kent and Sussex County crops particularly vulnerable to damage, reports University of Delaware Plant Pathologist R. Walker Miller. Excessive moisture and warm, humid weather have produced an environment conducive to fungus development, he explains.

A major threat to the state's bean, tomato and watermelon crop is anthracnose, a disease that thrives in warm, moist weather.

Snap beans, lima beans, cucumbers, tomatoes and cantaloupes also will be susceptible to a variety of fungus-caused root, stem and fruit rots.

Compounding the disease problem in many crops is a nutritional deficiency caused by a general leaching of sandy soils. Again, heavy rain is a major cause.

In addition, Delaware farmers harvesting sweet corn, potatoes and other crops have been driven from their fields by standing water. Machinery is simply inoperable in excess standing water.

Generally speaking, Delaware crops have not suffered any serious or widespread damage at this point, says Miller.

Frank Boys Cites Menace Of Cereal Leaf Beetle

Delaware farms may soon be plagued by another insect pest — the cereal leaf beetle, according to Frank E. Boys, extension entomologist at the University of Delaware.

The cereal leaf beetle — a relative newcomer to the United States — originated in Europe and Asia and was first observed in North America during the late 1950's.

Since that time, however, the pest has become common throughout the Midwest and has spread to Canada, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

The adult beetle, less than a quarter-inch long, has a metallic blue-black body with reddish-brown neck and legs.

While the beetle has not been observed in Delaware, we can assume with reasonable certainty that it is only a matter of time until the unwelcome pest arrives, says Boys.

Navy Seaman John Newell Bound To Mediterranean On Insecticide Strip Use

Seaman John E. Jewell, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Jewell, of 1117 Mayflower Drive, Newark, is serving aboard the USS Mountrail enroute to the Mediterranean.

The Mountrail is an amphibious transport ship capable of landing an entire battalion and its vehicles, equipment and supplies on a hostile beach, using its 17 landing craft.

While in the Mediterranean the Mountrail will operate as a unit of the 6th Fleet Amphibious Striking Force and will participate in fleet training and operational exercises.

John McDaniel Cautions On Insecticide Strip Use

Vapona insecticide strips, a popular means of controlling small flying insects, should not be used in rooms occupied by infants or by ill and aged adults, warns John S. McDaniel, agricultural chemical specialist at the University of Delaware.

Be sure to read all pesticide strip labels before buying, cautions McDaniel. Many insecticide strips available in area stores do carry the proper caution statement. Those marketed before February, however, do not.

In any case, the strips are perfectly safe for home use if the consumer is aware of this statement. WEAPON ABLE

AN UNUSUAL WEAPON, ABLE IS A HIGH-EXPLOSIVE ANTI-SUBMARINE ROCKET, PACKING INTO ITS 500 POUNDS MUCH MORE DESTRUCTIVE POWER THAN THE OLD TYPE DEPTH CHARGES. AIMED AND FIRED BY A SPECIAL DEVICE, WEAPON ABLE IS LAUNCHED FROM A TURRET THAT CAN BE TRAINED IN AN ALMOST COMPLETE CIRCLE. THIS MODERN WEAPON GIVES DESTROYERS MORE MANEUVERABILITY AND GREATER RANGE IN ATTACKING SUBMARINES.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

Upset Immortalized

Stakes winning horses are the elite among Thoroughbreds. Of the 43,715 horses that raced last year, only 729 were stakes winners. Of the nearly 50,000 races run only slightly over 2 per cent were stakes races. Outstanding horses frequently gain immortality of a sort by having a stakes race named for them. It was not until 1959, thirty-nine years after his retirement, that the New York Racing Association named a stakes race for Man o' War. Therefore, one suspects there was some smart thinking going on when in 1964 the NYRA created a new stakes race at Saratoga and named it the Jim Dandy.

Jim Dandy was by no means an outstanding horse, but he was an astounding one, and since 1930 had been the subject annually of a story which should have been devoted to the Travers Stakes, thus overshadowing a number of great past winners of the "Midsummer Derby." Since 1964 however, the Travers gets its due and the Jim Dandy story is recalled a week or so earlier.

Owned by a young California newspaper publisher named Chaffee Earl, Jim Dandy won but three races in 29 starts over two seasons. Two of these were stakes races at Saratoga. One should have been remembered; the other, a year later, will never be forgotten. The Travers that year appeared to be a match between Belair Stud's Triple Crown winner, Gallant Fox, and Harry Payne Whitney's Whirlaway, but on a muddy track Jim Dandy was a multi-length winner at 100 to 1. His previous victory, the year before, had been on a muddy track at Saratoga in the Grand Union Hotel Stakes at similar odds.

Brother Of Oriole Outfielder Dave May, Johnny To Play For Gold All-Star Team

Johnny May plans to make the "most of the Delaware All-Star High School Game as the halfback and linebacker from William Penn will play for the Golds against the Blue in the 14th annual game in Delaware Stadium on Saturday afternoon, August 23, to benefit the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children.

Johnny, younger brother of Baltimore Oriole Outfielder Dave May, won three letters in football and two in baseball.

"This could be my last football game," May said. "If it is, I want it to be my best one."

For that reason, May has been working out daily so that when he reports to the All-Star camp here on Aug. 12, he will be in excellent shape.

"There is a possibility I may be able to go to college after the All-Star Game on some sort of a scholarship," May said. "The Delaware State coach is supposed to talk to me, and there is a chance I may go to Brandwine College. Brandwine, of course, does not have football."

The 178-pound May is putting all his effort now into football, but his real ambition is to become a professional baseball player.

"I'd love to play in the majors," he said wistfully.

In 1967, Johnny batted 314 as an outfielder for Stahl Post in the American Legion World Series. He also played for Stahl last summer, but is now over-age.

"When we were in Memphis for the World Series, I had some baseball scouts talk to me," May said, "but I had two more years of school and there wasn't much I could do. Some say I have a future in baseball."

May has been playing mostly as a reserve outfielder for Schaefer in the Delaware Semi-Pro League.

An older brother, Scrapy, is Parkway's third baseman and one of the leading batters in the same league.

"I would like to play more than I have, but the race has been tight," said Johnny. "I'm looking forward to the playoffs."

Before the shutdown for the model changeover, Johnny worked on the assembly line at the Newark Chrysler plant. Now, he is working at Star Color Press in Wilmington.

Kathy Pembroke Swims To Backstroke Seconds

Kathy Pembroke of Newark, took two second places last weekend in the Eastern Swimming Championships at Lancaster, Pa.

Miss Pembroke was second in the 100-meter backstroke in 1:10.9 and finished No. 2 in the 200 meter backstroke in 2:30.3.

Newark Notes by GIBBY YOUNG

REHOBOTH PRO Ronnie Barrows, golf professional at the Rehoboth Country Club, was busy last Saturday afternoon over-seeing the Rehoboth G.O.I. Championship Tournament — but took time to warmly welcome a couple of Newark friends.

Ron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley H. Barrows of Newark, is doing a splendid job at Rehoboth as a relatively new golf pro — a splendid job for a veteran, for that matter — and the new 18-hole course beside Rehoboth Bay with the Sussex County pines as a beautiful backdrop, is in excellent shape.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Allowances Not Permissive

An Allowance Race is not the American version of the famed Pailio which has been run twice annually at Siena, Italy since 1659. The Pailio is an allowance event in the strictest sense of the word, and the riders, each representing a contrada, or ward of the city, outdo the famed Herb Fisher-Don Meade stretch performance in the Kentucky Derby of 1933 when Brokers Tip nosed out Head Play while their riders wrestled.

Nor does the term "allowance race" mean that any horse is eligible. The allowance applies to a deduction from the basic weight to be carried, based on what a particular horse has done in the past. A typical allowance race, as written by Racing Secretary Thomas

Jim Dolan Wins In NCC McSpadden Golf Tourney

Jim Dolan won the 36-hole McSpadden handicap tourney with a 67-69-136 last weekend at the Newark Country Club.

Art Mathews was second with a 67-70-137 while John Russo finished third with 70-68-138.

Former Club Champion Dick Bauer fired the low gross 75-76-151.

marlin man, had one on, and a silver-blue beauty tail-walked across the sea in a classic contest.

Mr. Heckman knew what to do with that rod and reel, and fought the white marlin up to the boat where Alabama Bob tagged and released the splendid spearfish with deceptive ease.

Although a long 55-miles at sea off the Maryland Coast, there were 24 sports fishing cruises visible in a quick count of the area — there may have been more later, but we were too occupied with marlin to trouble further with mathematics.

Bob Squier brought a hard-fighting, air-minded marlin to the boat for tagging and freedom, and although the Commodore had caught a marlin on another occasion, this one was something else. Mr. Squier's first marlin had been brought in with comparative ease, but this second specimen was a super-charged dynamo.

"Whew!" the Commodore commented with real respect in staggering back from a fighting chair to the cabin after it was all over.

Young David Pleasanton followed with his 42½-lb. marlin — it looked as though it weighed 100-lbs. — and no marlin ever received more careful attention — before and after it had been boated. David spent the day swabbing the sleek, satin beauty down with a ship's mop to preserve its lustre.

Art Holveck, a former Navy airplane pilot making his first start for marlin, boated two golden dolphins and fought and released a beautiful blue-white hillfish. Cap'n Gibby Young followed with another marlin and Charlie Carey caught his first marlin, while Mate Bob Armstrong was a busy boy, indeed, as he successfully avoided being skewered with release of these splashing, thrashing, dangerous fish beside the boat.

Curly Mahanna caught the seventh and final marlin of the day — a monster that drew a whistle for size from Cap'n Dick on the bridge — and a fast, powerful, torpedo-like brute loomed brown-baked deep in the water directly below the boat, a position from which Mr. Mahanna toiled mightily to raise the big fish for score and release.

Perhaps Conservationist Curly should have boated that particular marlin for the season's record book. But that marlin will be even bigger for someone the next time around.

Barbara Tucker, Don Johnson Top Swim Title Event

Barbara Tucker of Nottingham Green and Don Johnson of Fairfield Crest won Brookside Lions Club awards as outstanding performers in the Newark Suburban Swim League championship meet last Saturday at the North Star Swim Club.

Maple Valley won the team title. North Star was second, and Nottingham Green, third.

Age group award winners were eight-and-under — Joann Wolnock, Maple Valley and Johnson; 10-and-under — Karen Kush and Robert Edge, Maple Valley; 12-and-under — Vicki Friedman, North Star and Chris Hauty, Newark Country Club; 14-and-under — Andrea Moroz, Brookside and Tucker Robbins, North Star; 15-and-over — Barbara Tucker and Andy Hauty, Newark Country Club.

Weight Lifters Compete In Meet At Western "Y"

An unofficial power-lifting meet was held Saturday, July 26, at the Western Branch YMCA, where members of the newly-organized Western Weight Lifting Club participated.

David Davies and Steve Saunders competed in the 132-lb. class. Davies bench-pressed 100-lbs., squatted with 95, and dead-lifted 150-lbs.

Saunders bench-pressed 70-lbs., squatted with 95, and deadlifted 165-lbs.

Two unofficial state records were won by Jim Clemens in the 148-lb. class with a squat of 315 and deadlift of 425-lbs. Clemens also took Best Lifter Trophy.

In the 198-lb. class, Ken Norris made a 285-lb. bench-press, 355-lb. squat, a 455-lb. dead-lift.

Wm. du Pont, Jr. Handicap On Saturday To Wind Up 1969 Delaware Park Meeting

Stakes horses get their final fling of the 1969 Delaware Park thoroughbred race meeting this Saturday with the third running of the $50,000-added William du Pont, Jr. Handicap named to honor the memory of the man most responsible for the Stanton track's creation in 1937.

William du Pont, who died on the very last day of 1968 at 69, was an international sportsman who bred and raced stakes-winning thoroughbreds over a period of 40 years. He was a founder of Delaware Park, a leader in numerous modernization projects, and an expert in racetrack construction.

While Saturday's main event is a comparatively young stake, it has already contributed two of the most exciting features in track history. The 1967 inaugural of the mile and a sixteenth test provided what might be called one of the biggest upsets in racing annals.

The 1-5 favorite for that running was the famed Damascus, later voted best three-year-old of the year and American champion of all age. Only four supposedly inferior horses dared to tackle Damascus, among them a four-year-old, 12-1 shot named Exceedingly. Even the latter's trainer, Joe Considine, didn't think his horse really belonged in the same race with mighty Damascus. But Exceedingly, with a big pull in the weights, got out in front and held on amazingly well to starve off the prohibitive favorite by a nose.

Last year, Damascus was back in the stake, and under 134 pounds

NEWARK BABE RUTH NINE Wins Two In Tourney

Delaware's entry in the Babe Ruth 13-15 Regional Baseball Tournament, Newark won two games last weekend to remain unbeaten in the double elimination tourney at Phoenixville, Pa.

The Newark Delaware team tripped Ontario, Canada 2-1 in 10 innings Saturday and beat Virginia 2-1 Sunday.

Nubbs Dagg pitched the final five innings Saturday, yielding no runs to get the victory.

Darry DeStafano went all the way for Sunday's pitching triumph.
