Brookside Church Pastor Begins New Educational Plans

"Fireside Fellowship" Plan
Inaugurated for Christian
Education of Adult Groups

The first step in a new program of adult Christian education was taken last week under the auspices of Kingswood-of-Brookside Methodist Church.

Meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace, 1917 Marrows Road, Brookside, young adults of the new community inaugurated the "Fireside Fellowship."

This first program will tend to establish the pattern for succeeding meetings. Informality will be the keynote, according to the Rev. Milton H. Keene, pastor, who directed discussion for the evening.

The meeting will be held in the homes and on the lawns of Brookside families. Informal dress is urged.

The program is designed, said Mr. Keene, to eliminate "muscle" of the stiffness which unfortunately has attached itself to religious undertakings.

It is anticipated that during long several groups similar to the one starting Wednesday evening will be meeting in various sections throughout Brookside.

Industrial Site

The state development department also has been aided by the Delaware Chamber of Commerce's industrial division.

Highways bound three sides of the site, and the railroad branch line goes through it. Water, sewer, and power already are available, it was said. Trucks can be run to various plant sites.

A large shipping and receiving warehouse is planned for the tract. In his first announcement, Mr. Lehman pointed out: "The fact that Delaware is the fifth fastest growing state with labor also available from adjoining Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey seems to provide every phase of industrial need at this strategic site."

Plans for developing the tract have been in the making for three years, according to Merle Taylor, member of the Delaware firm. "It will be a completely integrated industrial development," he said. "In the center, we plan a firehouse, recreation and cafeteria facilities. There also will be banking services."

Miller, Berns, Principal Conference Talkers Today

Ward I. Miller, superintendent of schools in Wilmington, and Karl H. Berns, assistant secretary for field operations of the National Education Association, were the principal speakers at today's general session of the National Classroom Teachers Conference now in progress at the University of Delaware.

Dr. Miller discussed the topic, "Do Four Walls Make a Classroom?" and Dr. Berns' theme was "Digging Deep."

As assistant secretary of the NEA, Dr. Berns directs two major programs. He is responsible for the NEA field service program and is in charge of the $5 million building fund campaign of the association.

Don't I. Miller, principal of the school, said that the reason he is here is to observe safety rules.

Ag Agent Cautions Farmers To Drive Safely With Care

E. H. Schabinger Urges
Drivers of Farm Vehicles
To Observe Safety Rules

At the wheel of a truck, your life and lives of others always are at stake, warns E. H. Schabinger, county agricultural agent. The heavy farm work season means peak service for farm trucks with increased exposure and likelihood for an accident.

Council's records show that more farm people lose their lives in motor vehicle mishaps than any other class of accident.

The cost and penalties for traffic accidents run too high to gamble hands, warns the county agent. Every truck driver must know and follow the rules of the road. Trucks must also be kept in a safe mechanical condition.

Don't gamble with poor lights, defective brakes or steering, and poor windshield wipers, Mr. Schabinger urges.

Be sure you know the meaning of traffic signs, and always obey them. Come to a full stop when entering the main highway and at regular stop signs, and do not proceed until it is safe to do so.

When you are on the road, be alert and courteous. Avoid aggressive driving on the wrong side of the road. Slow down for turns, and use proper hand signals. Always be on the lookout for pedestrians, and never drive while sleepy or under the influence of liquor, Mr. Schabinger adds.

Civil Service Examiners Announce Job Openings

The Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners has announced examinations for positions of engineer, $5,000 to $5,940 at the College Air Force, Middletown, Penna.; and positions as navigation specialist, $4,205 to $5,060, and landscape architect, paying from $4,205 to $10,000 annually, in Washington, D.C.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from W. W. Singles at the Newark Post Office.

"We want small firms as tenants so that we will get a diversified industrial setup that will help stabilize the economy in this area," he said.

He said the tract could accommodate 20 to 25 small firms, employing 100 to 500 persons.

Similar industrial developments have been established successfully in New Jersey, Texas and California, he said.

City Council

The Mayor was not present at Tuesday night's meeting, but the matter was brought up by Councilman Diehl, who presided and who said the mayor had asked him to explain that the order had been issued under authority granted by the City Charter. Mr. Diehl said that before issuing the order the mayor had approval obtained of the town committee.

Councilman Coverdale, who said he had never heard of an executive order by the mayor, asked why the entire Council had not been consulted, especially in view of the fact that at its previous meeting the Council had refused to take action on closing the office because, among other things, the move was considered unfair to the police department which would continue to work regular hours.

City Office Strike?
Mr. Coverdale said he had gone to the office last Saturday morning to check on some matters and had been surprised to find the doors closed. He said he had heard a rumor that the office force had threatened to go on strike "if the office was not closed." He asked Mr. Diehl if that were true.

Mr. Diehl said he didn't know because he had not discussed that with the Mayor. Councilman MacLary asked if, when the Mayor got his okay from the town committee, which Mr. Diehl heads, the reason for the executive order had not been discussed. Mr. Diehl said he had been in favor of closing the office all along and had not asked the mayor specifically why he wanted to issue the executive order. The matter was dropped there, and the question as to whether or not a strike loomed in the town office was left a mystery.

Zoning Amendments
On the recommendation of the city planning commission, Council directed City Solicitor John P. Sinclair to draft a zoning amendment that would change from the classification "park" to business, property owned by the Aetna Hose Hook and Ladder Company adjacent to the firehouse. It was disclosed that the firemen plan to build an addition to the engine house.

The solicitor also was ordered to prepare a zoning amendment that would change from residential to business a corner lot owned by the Dennison Motor Company at Haines Street and Delaware Avenue. The property now is a used car lot.

HISTORICAL REVIEWS OF THE NEWARK AREA

By ETHEL M. HILL

It may be because my father was a carpenter that I find my love for old houses—houses built to last through the years—taking me into strange places, and I am amazed that persons now forget so quickly the fine old features built into these old houses.

I cannot forget the English beauty of line of the old Rittenhouse home and I am told the inside beauty of stairways, chair rails and moldings matched the general scheme. The name seems almost forgotten now.

Wm. Penn appointed Wm. Keith from 1717 until 1726, Governor of Pennsylvania and Delaware. Gov. Keith bought land of the James who were Welsh Tract settlers and built a furnace and forge on the Christiansburg. He lived in the neighborhood and I wonder if his house could have been Ivy Hall? It is on the ground he bought.

Colonization West
Wm. Penn was anxious to have the western part of the Delaware Bay, occupied and held by English settlers to discourage the claims of the Calvert.

Spiritual Thought For The Week

FINISHED . . . OR NOT
By Gladys Pfeiffer
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Recently we heard of a woman—Mrs. Sarah L. Winchester of San Jose, California—who was afraid to die. Her husband died when they were both very young, leaving a vast fortune for his widow to spend as she chose.

Mrs. Winchester became a spirit medium, and during a seance was informed that the reason her husband died was because she was afraid to die. She immediately determined to begin a project that would never come to an end, and thus she assured herself she would never die!

Within a few days she bought property and began erecting what is now called the Winchester Mystery House. She did not employ an architect, and hired workmen only by the day. She personally planned and supervised the building, which became a bewildering maze of rooms, winding halls and blind stairways. Today the house is a jumble of more than 193 rooms, with five separate heating systems. There are forty-seven fireplaces, many of them marvelous in workmanship. There are thousands of windows in the floors and in the roof as well as in the walls, many of them of Tiffany art glass inlaid with gold, silver and moonstones. One stairway has forty-two steps, each two inches high, with ten turns and an ascent of only ten feet. One chimney ascends through four stories, but does not penetrate the roof, and therefore can never be used.

Thirty-six years after starting this weird project, and long before she intended it to be finished, Mrs. Winchester died. Up to the day before her death, she maintained that she could not die before her work was finished—that as long as the hammers were busy her life would continue. Here was a strange faith, and a powerful one. But how foolish to think that God's decrees can be set aside. Finished or not, Mrs. Winchester died at God's appointed time.

"For it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment" (Hebrews 9:27). How wonderful that we need not be afraid of death, for God's Word tells us of everlasting life.

settlers from the Baltimore region. There are several fine old brick houses in this locality.

Just up the road from Welsh Tract school is the McCaughy place. In the tenant house of brick is seen the date 1790. In this house have lived and farmed four generations of McCaughys. The large brick house was built with the idea of turning it into a fort if necessary. Small windows, the size for a cannon's pointing out, were built into it—made for beauty but in case it might be useful.

Chapel St. Landmark
Another house on Chapel street has withstood the storms of many years. In it have lived the Medlows, a large, prominent family, and the Strouds, whose descendants still occupy places of business here.

This farm is now a part of the agricultural property of the university.

The fine old house was built by Alexander Beard in 1775 of bricks brought in his own vessel from England to New Castle and carried by pack mules to the location.

It is not known whether Alexander and Duncan Beard were brothers, but Duncan Beard bought only one acre of land and erected in Appoquinimink Hundred a workshop and a small cottage where he lived and made clocks. His clocks were of fine make and some of them are still preserved.

Duncan Beard was of the same neighborhood as Major Robert Kirkwood, who fought in the Revolutionary War.

One house which has always seemed the most beautifully proportioned, is on the road to Christiansburg or rather, Christians. It is on the right, just before entering the village. A brick house—modest, unassuming but really beautiful—it has just been sold.

Local Rotary Club Scholarship Plan Begins Fifth Year

First Recipient Graduate
Of Delaware Class of '54;
Chairman Reviews History

With the first Newark Rotary Club scholarship winner now a college graduate and the fifth one planning to enter the nursing school of The Memorial Hospital in Wilmington, the club's scholarship committee has reported on results of the award program to date.

William Hamilton, chairman of the committee for the club year that ended last week, recalled that the first $300 award went to Miss Gertrude Tierney in 1950 and that she was in last month's graduating class at the University of Delaware. She received a bachelor of science degree in the School of Arts and Science.

Other winners of the $300 have been: Miss Mary Kathleen Kington in 1951, Miss Margaret Woerner in 1952, John T. Craig, Jr., last year, and Miss Violet M. Gray, this year. The first three went to the University of Delaware, Craig picked the University of Virginia, and Miss Gray plans a nursing career.

Members of Mr. Hamilton's committee are Kenneth Steers, Samuel Handloff, Herbert Doorn, and Howard Reed.

The annual award goes to the committee's choice from among three seniors, recommended by Newark High School Principal Frederick B. Kutz, who plan to go to college, business school or a vocational school. The recommendation is based on character, participation in extra-curricular activities, leadership, scholarship, and need.

The committee interviews all three nominees before making its choice. Half the scholarship is paid to the recipient at the start of the freshman year and half when the second semester begins, provided a satisfactory record has been kept up the first semester.

The club also maintains a revolving student loan fund to aid worthy students in an accredited college, university, trade school, business school, or nursing school.

To qualify for a loan at 4 per cent interest starting three months after graduation or leaving school, the student must have a satisfactory scholastic record, be recommended by the school's administrators, be willing to work for his own educational funds, be interviewed by the club's board, and sign a note endorsed by his parents.

For those of you who were away over the holiday week end, we hope you had a pleasant time and a safe one.

Those of us who stayed home enjoyed a grand evening in the swimming and wading pools opened July 5.

The dedication was held in the rain but that didn't hinder the Boy Scouts when it came time for the initial dive into the pool. By evening the weather cleared and many attended and thoroughly enjoyed the beautiful pools.

According to Irv Spiro, who spoke in the absence of Mr. Burkland, the clubhouse is due to be completed by next week end, weather permitting.

If you haven't gotten your season pass to the pool you may do so, at the pool, any time.

A belated but sincere happy birthday to Roger Almer who celebrated his eighth birthday on June 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm C. Barr spent the week end in Pittsburgh. Pa. Lee and Tommy returned with their parents after spending some time with their grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. France, Marrows Rd., entertained Mr. and Mrs. Warren Manker and children Beth and Jimmy of Chicago, Ill., for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Cooke, Carlin Land, are entertaining Mr. Cooke's mother, Mrs. Harry P. Cooke and Dorothea and Marion Cooke of Scranton, Pa., for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Kelley Jr. took their daughter, Judy to New York for a few day's sight-seeing.

Another holiday week end has come and gone with its full quota of fun and frolic, picnics and outings, family reunions, watermelons, sunburn and poison ivy.

A few flags fluttered here and there to remind us of the real reason for it all—that we were supposed to be rejoicing in the fact that we have a free and independent nation.

Freedom from foreign domination. Perhaps freedom from loss of life and limb from fire-crackers. Remember those noisy Fourth's? But when we look at that highway death toll for the holiday week end we wonder if we haven't substituted one type of hazard for another.

While in a patriotic mood let us Americans do some sober thinking about the meaning of liberty and freedom. Perhaps the greatest threat to both is not the enemy outside our borders but the enemy within—our selfishness, our lack of respect for the rights of others, our crass materialism and utter disregard of religion as basic for life.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Springer and son Eddie, of Lumbrook, have returned from a very enjoyable motor trip through New England, spending some time in Bar Harbor, Maine and Providence, R.I.

Barbara Nichols of Newport was the guest of her cousin, Audrey Butternorth, Kirkwood Highway, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Brown left on Tuesday for El Paso, Texas where Mr. Brown will be associated with RCA as electronic instructor at Ft. Bliss. Mrs. Brown is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. James H. Bishop, Kirkwood Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Richards, Harmony Crossroads, enjoyed a trip to Atlantic City last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Eastburn, Old Capitol Trail, spent the week end of the Fourth in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Harold Stanley, "Pat", Stephen and George of Delaplane Manor have returned from a vacation at their cottage in Bethany Beach.

Roseville Park
The first of seven weekly instruction periods in Arts and Crafts was held on "the point" at the entrance to the park, last Tuesday from 2 to 4 o'clock.

The boys and girls who participate receive an activity card entitling them to a discount at the Hobby Shop in Newark.

These instruction periods are sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association, under the supervision of Eugene Kelechava, elementary arts instructor. There will be a different project each week, such as woodworking, pie plate novelties, tempera painting, macramé jewelry, finger-painting, leatherwork, braiding, linoleum block printing, jar-painting.

This program is planned for children from 4 to 12 years.

A pet show was held last Tuesday at the home of June Bass, 23 Laurel Avenue, Roseville Park.

First prize in dogs was awarded to "Rugby", entered by Joyce Weaver. Second prize went to Carol Finger's "Lucky" and third prize to Larry Welden's "Tiny".

First prize in cats was won by Raymond Welden's "Spot", and second prize went to June Bass' "Tabby".

Automatic winners were Gail Weaver's two turtles.

White Clay Creek
Presbyterian Church
A large group of pupils, parents and teachers enjoyed a picnic together on the church lawn last Saturday following the close of the vacation school.

Among the interesting projects carried out by the school was the making of an international clock by the juniors and a scale model plan for remodeling the chancel and choir loft, made by the junior high department.

It was announced at the closing session that $22.50 had been contributed by pupils for the purchase of handwork materials for children in India in the area served by the Rev. Gordon Ruff.

The following committee went with Mrs. David Anderson, Jr., on Thursday to do the purchasing: Gwen Anderson, kindergarten; Gail Weaver, primary; Beverly Pope, junior; Joyce Weaver, junior high.

Last Sunday was observed as Missionary Sunday in the school, with the junior high class of the vacation school in charge of worship. Members of the junior class sang "Good News" which was written by a missionary and sung to a Librarian folk-tune.

The July meeting of the Afternoon Circle will be held in the main Sunday school room immediately following church service next Sunday.

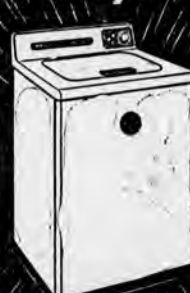

There will be a joint meeting of the session and the committee on Christian education next Wednesday, July 14, at 8 p.m. at church.

Safety Reflectors To Be Distributed To State Farmers

4-H Clubs, FFA, to Aid
Delaware Safety Council
"Light a Farm" Campaign

Some 1,000 members of 4-H clubs and Future Farmers of America will be asked to distribute thousands of safety reflectors to state farmers this month in a "Light a Farm" campaign.

The idea is part of a program worked out by the Delaware Safety Council to help eliminate farm hazards. Plans for carrying it out were formulated at a meeting of council representatives and leaders of the two farm organizations in the offices of Prof. George M. Worrlow, dean of the school of agriculture at the University of Delaware.

The reflectors, which will be placed on the tractors, trucks and other equipment used by the farmers, produce a red glow when the headlights of an automobile strike them.

Directing the distribution will be Samuel Gwinn, state 4-H leader, Lyle Mowlds of Future Farmers, Francis J. Jamison, assistant manager of the Safety Council; Irwin F. LeKites, and Professor Worrlow, vice president for farm safety in the council.

County Construction Cost Exceeds Past Year Record

The dollar value of construction for which New Castle County permits were issued in the fiscal year that ended last week, is slightly higher than for the previous fiscal year, County Building Inspector John F. Tidwell reported today.

June construction jumped 30 per cent above May and 36 per cent above June a year ago.

Fiscal year totals are $27,421,811 up to June 30, 1954, and $27,163,643 for the preceding year, or a gain of not quite one per cent.

Measures in Worm Control Offered Raisers of Pork

There's no market for worms, so why raise them? The feed they eat should be going into more pork, says Dr. Ernest F. Waller, chairman of the department of animal and poultry industry at the University of Delaware.

Wormy pigs don't have to look runty. If your pigs aren't gaining so well as they should, they may have worms. If so, it may take an extra month and cost you three to four more bushels of corn to bring them to market weight.

Taxpayers Suggest County Attorneys Revise Assessment

TPA Requests Levy Court To Have Lawyers Prepare Revisions Before Meeting

The Taxpayers' Protective Association has told the New Castle County Levy Court that it feels county attorneys should draw up tax and assessment law revisions for later deliberation by the association.

The suggestion was an answer to an invitation from the Levy Court for a TPA committee to confer with county attorneys on revision of the county tax and assessment laws.

In a letter addressed to Ellwood S. Leach, president of the Levy Court, the association took the stand that its members are not attorneys and that the initial steps towards revisions in the laws should be taken by the lawyers.

The letter proposed that a conference be arranged after the proposed revisions have been prepared and the association has had time to examine them. It also suggested "Public educational meetings" at which both the court and members of the association would make themselves "available for questioning."

Among the suggested tax and assessment law changes recommended earlier to the Levy Court by the association were proposals for a general reassessment of property in New Castle County every 10 years and elimination of the capitation tax.

High Feed Cost, Low Egg Prices Worry Poultrymen

High feed prices and low egg prices have New Castle county poultrymen worried, according to Ralph Barwick, assistant county agricultural agent.

With a narrow margin of profit, it is more important than ever to cull out and sell the poor producers, he emphasizes. As fast as hens stop laying they should be culled out and sold. This saves feed cost, and the birds bring a higher price if sold while still in good condition.

A catching hook and small crate on the feed carrier make it easy to catch culled birds at feeding time. Birds can be culled at night with a flashlight. Put the culled birds in the "broody coop" or a small building to await the poultry dealer.

Washington Snapshots

Big labor bosses and affiliated New Deal propaganda groups have embarked on a campaign to wreck the Eisenhower economy budget.

Their first move was to try to persuade Congress to adopt high spending programs "to combat unemployment" — even though unemployment is decreasing. They need a self-styled "Full Employment" conference here, and hundreds of professional "bleeding hearts" filled the halls of Congress with their lobbying.

They began by plumping for boosting the personal income tax exemption from the present $300 to at least $500. Then they went on to demand an increase in the minimum wage from 75 cents to $1.25 an hour; a general increase in all wages; more liberal unemployment compensation payments; an expanded Federal Housing Program; and $3 billion more for public works construction.

Their program would entail expenditures of tax losses totaling at least $19 billion.

Under the Administration's present fiscal-tax programs, the deficit next year is expected to be around $2.9 billion. The Big Labor-New Deal program would boost the deficit to around $12 billion. It would wreck completely President Eisenhower's successful efforts to stabilize the dollar, arrest inflation, and curtail government spending so that there can be even more tax reduction than the approximately $7.5 billion already voted or pending in Congress.

Control Measures Against Evergreen Parasites Offered

In response to reports that red mites are attacking evergreens, County Agent Edward Schabinger informs that mites can be checked by spraying the tree from top to bottom with water from a garden hose. This should be done at weekly intervals for best results.

A spray containing two pounds of 15 per cent Aramite wettable powder, or two pounds of 50 per cent Ovotran wettable powder to 100 gallons of water usually is satisfactory. Mr. Schabinger says, in controlling infestations, the Aramite application should be repeated in seven to 10 days. For small sprays, use two tablespoons of Aramite or 2½ tablespoons of Ovotran to one gallon of water.

The first evidence of red mites on evergreens is small gray or yellowish spots on the foliage. Later the foliage becomes bronzed in color. All stages of this pest can be found on the foliage during the summer.

Jonathan Williams Given Promotion With Haskell Lab

DuPont Appoints Chemist As Assistant Director For Near Newark Plant

Dr. Jonathan W. Williams has been appointed assistant director of the DuPont Company's Haskell Laboratory for Toxicology and Industrial Medicine, near Newark.

Haskell laboratory, a unit of DuPont's medical division, carries out research designed to protect workers and consumers from any hazards associated with company products and processes. Housed in new, enlarged quarters near Newark, it is equipped to conduct investigations in the biochemical, toxicological, pathological, and physiological fields.

Dr. Williams joined DuPont in 1946 as a chemist in the Grasselli Department at the Experimental Station. He was made a group leader in 1948 and, two years later, manager of the biochemical research section. For the past year he has been manager of the division's chemical research section.

A native of Olmsted Falls, Ohio, he received his B.S. degree in chemistry from Baldwin-Wallace College in 1935 and then attended Northwestern University, receiving his M.S. degree in organic chemistry in 1932 and his Ph.D. degree in 1933.

He was an instructor in organic chemistry for two years at the University of Maryland, and, from 1939-1941, assistant professor in organic chemistry at the University of North Carolina. He then headed a chemical laboratory group at the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D.C. and from 1942 until joining DuPont, he was senior technical aide, Division of Chemistry, National Defense Research Committee, in Washington.

Citizens' Corner

Conducted by The League of Women Voters

Beginning next week, the Newark League of Women Voters will conduct in this space a column of factual information for the residents of the Newark area.

The Newark League is a unit of the League of Women Voters of the United States, whose purpose is "to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government." (All quotations are from League By-laws.)

We believe that the privilege of citizenship carries responsibilities with it. The unique purpose of the League is to help the individual citizen meet these responsibilities; to help him understand and act on the issues that confront him; and to show him that his opinion about them really counts.

Anyone who supports the principles and policies of the League is eligible to join it. Our cross-section membership—representing as it does all social, educational, economic, political, and religious groups—is our best assurance that positions taken by the League on governmental issues are in the interest of the community as a whole, and not in the interest of any one set of people.

The League of Women Voters "shall not support or oppose any political party or candidate." At the same time, the League believes that the party system is an integral part of our form of government and urges its members to work, as individuals, in the party of their choice (provided that such party not be in conflict with the basic principles of the United States Government and therefore with the purpose and policy of the League).

It is hoped that residents of the Newark area will use this column freely to obtain answers on questions having to do with government. Only questions signed with complete name and address can be answered, although names will not be used in the column.

Address questions to the Citizens' Corner, c/o Newark Post, or telephone 8-1015.

from the tree. The entire tree will lose its vigor and have an unhealthy appearance.

Mites are extremely small and hard to detect with the naked eye. They vary in color from reddish-brown to pale green. The mites spin fine, silken threads over the needles. All stages of this pest can be found on the foliage during the summer.

INVEST IN AMERICA!

A TIMELY PHRASE

It's a happy and stirring phrase—"Invest in America." It's a timely phrase, when there are people of little faith who would sell our country short.

It's a call for faith—faith in ourselves, and faith in our country's future.

An increasing flow of venture capital, of the savings or individual citizens, into the nation's business enterprises will create an assurance of continued prosperity and job security.

But prosperity, job security and ever higher living standards begin with capital formation—and it begins with the savings of individuals and of business enterprises, possible only under an economy-minded government and an equitable system of taxation.

NEWARK IN REVIEW

Twenty-five Years Ago

Bootleg Liquor
A 16-year-old Newark boy was arrested in the city court this morning, charged with driving a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was fined $200, which was paid by his father.

The boy was arrested in a car with two companions on South Academy street by Town Officer Wm. Cunningham after complaints had been received of fighting in the vicinity of Park Place and Orchard Road.

Aetna To Parade
Forty members of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company, with the Stutz engine and the ambulance, will participate in the Wilmington parade of the ninth annual convention of the State Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Thirty-six companies, with 5,000 men are scheduled for the parade line-up, and after the parade the Aetnians will entertain their Coatsville friends at a buffet luncheon at the Wilmington Elks Club.

School Bus Schedules
Newark public school officials are working on transportation lists to be submitted to the State Board of Education, so that contracts can be arranged for the provision of bus transportation for pupils in outlying districts.

Pupils requiring transportation during the coming school year are requested to make application at once at the local school offices. Last year the Newark schools furnished bus transportation for 200 pupils in 17 zones surrounding the Newark special district.

Transportation is granted all pupils from grades one to six whose homes are two miles or more from the school, and to all pupils in grades seven to 12 who live more than three miles from school.

All transportation is paid by the state from a special fund appropriated for such purpose.

Doctor Honored
Dr. F. Hyman Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, formerly of Newark, has been appointed head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Virginia School of Medicine. His father is editor of the Wilmington Evening Journal.

Dr. Carter is a 1929 graduate of the University of Delaware where he won a Rhodes scholarship. At Oxford he received his bachelor's and master's degrees in the Honors School of Physiology in 1933, after which he returned to the United States and completed his medical course at Johns Hopkins.

He was a three letter man in football, basketball and baseball at the University of Delaware, and at Oxford he won his blue as heavyweight boxing champion; and was named a member of the All-Maryland football team while winning another series of letters at Hopkins.

Life-Saving Appliances
The Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company has just purchased life-saving equipment consisting of an inhalator and two gas masks.

The gas masks are designed for use by the firemen in any atmosphere and cannot be penetrated by any known gas, while the inhalator will be used as part of the ambulance equipment, in cases requiring artificial respiration.

Arden Players' Pinafare
The postponed production of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "Pinafare" will be presented by the Arden Players for university summer school students and the public on the campus in front of Wolf Hall at 7:30 Tuesday night.

The students will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre S. duPont at Longwood tomorrow afternoon, an annual entertainment feature regarded as the climax of the social program. Buses will be provided to Longwood Gardens and supper will be served in the conservatory.

Car Inspection Safety
While the state-wide Save-A-Life campaign for inspection of motor vehicle safety devices is not a legally compulsory affair, it may be extremely inconvenient for motorists to be caught driving unsafe vehicles after July 13.

Any car that does not bear the official certificate of safety, sponsored by the Delaware Safety Council, may be stopped by State Police and inspected on the spot. If the car does not pass the immediate safety inspection, the owner will be prosecuted.

Fire Destroys Barn
The barn of Joseph Mills, near Milford Cross Roads, was destroyed by fire on Monday night. Five loads of new hay had just been stored in the barn and it is believed that spontaneous combustion caused the damage.

Mr. Mills was in the adjoining house, asleep, when the blaze began. The fire was inside the barn and had gained great headway before it was discovered.

All the barn contents, including farm machinery and some poultry were destroyed. The loss was valued at near $3,000, part of which was covered by insurance.

The Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company and the Christiana Fire Companies responded to the alarm.

$25,000 Judgment Awarded Injured Chrysler Employee

Crushed By Tank In May Of 1953, Father of Three Upheld By District Court

A former Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant employee, the 27-year old father of three children, was awarded judgment in the amount of $25,000 against the United States government for injuries received last May at the Newark plant. The decision was pronounced by Judge Richard S. Rodney in the U.S. District Court in Wilmington last Thursday.

Alexander J. Fillipone, Jr., plaintiff in the case, brought suit against the United States government for alleged permanent injuries suffered when he was crushed between an M-48 Patton Tank and a steel work bench at the Chrysler Tank Plant in Newark May 8, 1953.

Judge Rodney's decision which contained findings of fact and conclusions of law, states that the tank which struck and ran down the plaintiff, Fillipone, was being operated at the time by Charles Ullary, an inspector and employee of the Department of the Army, Philadelphia Ordnance District.

Ullary was, at the time, according to Judge Rodney's findings, acting within the scope of his employment and in the course of his regular duties as such an inspector.

Tank Repairman
Fillipone was a tank repairman at the time of the accident, and according to the court's findings of fact, "also acted as a signal man to drivers of tanks in directing the movements of tanks."

When a signal was given to Ullary, operator of the tank involved in the incident, to move to the rear, it, instead of moving to the rear, "made a lurch forward and Fillipone was crushed between the impact of the tank and a steel work bench," the findings of fact state.

The injuries sustained in the accident are such that Fillipone since that date, "has not been able to perform any labor and was permanently injured to some extent and will suffer a partial permanent disability," the court's findings of fact state.

It is also stated in the findings of fact that the young man "has no source of income other than his personal earnings," and that "for an extended period plaintiff will be unable to engage in a gainful occupation even of a sedentary nature. He will be permanently unable to perform all the activities of daily life which he had been accustomed to perform prior to the accident."

Hospitalization
Fillipone, it is also stated, has already spent a total of $2,100 for hospital, medical and Wilmington Curative Workshop treatment since his accident. At the time of the trial of his suit, Fillipone's rate of wages "would have been approximately $33.60 per week," the court's findings of fact state.

In the conclusion of law, Judge Rodney states, among other things, "The accident happened by reason of the negligent operation of the tank by an employee of the defendant (United States of America) acting within the scope of his employment."

"There was no evidence of contributory negligence or assumption of risk on the part of the plaintiff (Fillipone)."

"Judgment should be entered for the plaintiff in the sum of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) with such costs as may be allowed."

Tame Swans

In addition to being dictatorial and irascible, the swans are vain. Let anyone, even a stranger, speak kindly to them and they immediately begin to show off, fluffing up their wings and gliding grandly about the pond. If they really want to impress people, they flip a leg over their backs and zip ludicrously about like paddle-wheel steamers gone berserk.

One pleasant thing about European Mute Swans is that they don't gossip. In fact, they are unable to make any noise except a low whistle.

But the swans do have their softer moods. Occasionally, they are affectionate—but only with each other. During the mating season, they become quite tender, entwining their long necks and carrying out a formal courting ritual. With them, necking can get very involved.

Last year, they even built a huge nest and prepared to have a family, but at the last moment the mother swan decided she couldn't go through with it. She didn't lay any eggs. This year the pair did not even bother to build a nest.

Mrs. Willis thinks the swans are reluctant to set up housekeeping because the pond is so exposed. "They want privacy and a secure place for their nest," she says.

But, even so, the swans are not looking for new quarters. The Willis' bought them over a year and a half ago, so they are old residents now. The mallard ducks, although their social position on the pond has its drawbacks, also appear to be quite content. "They are wild fowl. Their wings haven't been clipped, but they never want to fly off," Mr. Willis says.

That's because they have a good husband. Since the death of her husband, Mrs. Willis has been living in Newark but she goes every day to her Capitol Trail home to feed the ducks and swans.

Publication Of New Book Announced at University

Publication of a new book has been announced by Dr. Arthur H. Daney, chairman of the faculty publications committee of the University of Delaware.

The new volume is Alexandra Gripenberg's "A Half Year in the New World," miscellaneous sketches of travel in the Americas in the year 1883, which has been translated and edited by Dr. Ernest J. Moyné of the English Department.

"Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 2678, an award of reasonable attorney fees in this case should be made to David B. Cox, Jr., attorney for the plaintiff, of 20 per cent of the amount of the award, to be paid out of, but not in addition to the amount of the judgment recovered."
