Primary winners eye Nov. election

By JENNIFER L. RODGERS
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

After Saturday's primary election, the winning candidates and their opponents are bearing down for the final weeks on the campaign trail.

The hottest local race to watch was for the state Senate District 11 seat between democrats Paul G. Clark and Anthony J. DeLuca.

Democratic candidates for the seat were late coming to race, which opened up a few months ago when Sen. Roger A. Martin announced he will retire after serving 22 years in District 11.

Clark, who was endorsed by Sen. Martin and other high ranking democratic officials, lost to DeLuca, who was backed by the AFL-CIO and Sen. Thomas Sharp, by 61 votes.

DeLuca goes on to face Donna Reed (R) in the November election. In response to DeLuca's win, Reed said, "I think he's heavily tied to organized labor and it may be hard for him to be impartial."

DeLuca said he plans to "campaign on the issues and needs of the district."

The other area Democratic primary between New Castle County Councilman J. Christopher Roberts and David E. Lohoefer for the Bear/Glasgow area District 6 was not as close.

Roberts won with 72 percent of the votes. His opponent Erik Adams (R) said, "While I

Seven vie for school board seat

By TONJA CASTANEDA
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

SEVEN NEWARKERS have applied to fill school board seat C in the Christina School District.

The seat was vacated last month by Susan Mitchell, who decided to pursue teaching opportunities. Mitchell was hired by the Christina School District this year as an English teacher at Gauger Middle School.

Applicants for the board seat are Ja net' W. Crouse, Ellen H. Fanjoy, Christopher G. Long, Dr. Paul N. Richardson, Terry Schooley, Edwin D. Stowell and Dr. Andrew W. Zimmerman.

The six current Christina School Board members will select - after an interview process - an applicant to fill the vacant seat. The person selected will have to run for re-election May 6, 1995.

Crouse, 52, said she wants to be on the Christina School Board because as an elected member from 1987-93 she felt she made a contribution. "I feel I would be an informed school board member," said Crouse, who was defeated by Mitchell in her 1993 re-election bid.

She is active with the National PTA and has worked at the state PTA level monitoring educational issues in Delaware.

Crouse teaches history at the University of Delaware. She has a daughter who is a senior at Newark High School and another daughter who graduated from Newark High.

Crouse said issues facing the school district include educational reforms. "We need to take a serious look at the way we educate children," she said. She said also an issue is the changing demographics of the family structure and the need for parents and families to become partners in the Newark ready for 23rd annual Community Day

Over 20,000 expected to attend

By TONJA CASTANEDA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

More than 20,000 people are expected to turn out at Newark's 23rd annual Community Day.

Community Day will be held Sept. 18 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the University of Delaware mall area on Delaware Avenue.

"It's grown and grown every year," said Carol Houck, Community Day organizer with the Newark Department of Parks and Recreation Department.

Houck said the event is geared toward Newark residents and is a fall celebration festival. "We hope to have wonderful weather, like we've had the last couple of years," she said.

The day brings together the University of Delaware and City of Newark residents. The University of Delaware allows the event to take place on university property, provides electricity and grounds security. Also student groups take part in the event including the Indian and Chinese student organizations, university radio station WVUD 91.3 FM and the University of Delaware police who will be fingerprinting children for identification cards.

Community Day will have children's and family activities, politicians and community organizations handing out informational literature, a flea market and craft bazaar, dance, exercise and karate demonstrations, a fine art exhibition and music stages with bands playing a variety of music throughout the day. More than 50 craft vendors will have handcrafts including hand-made teddy bears, stained glass and wood crafts for sale. About 50 flea market vendors will be selling items such as baseball cards, clothing, plants and furniture. The Friends of the Bear Library will hold a used books sale to raise funds for the proposed library.

Houck said the largest area is the community information booths with church groups, civic groups and community organizations such as the Newark Library, Planned Parenthood, Foster Parents of Delaware and the Hudson state Service Center handing out information and recruiting members and volunteers.

The Christina School

District will be represented at five booths. Newark police will have a booth with historical displays, crime prevention and animal control information. Also a police car, motorcycle and bicycle will be on display. Aetna Hose Hook and Ladder Fire Co., will have a fire truck on display and the New Castle County Department of Elections van will be there to register voters. The Newark Post will hand out free balloons and newspapers at its booth.

Other events include a Civil War reenactment, animal petting area and scarecrow making, which costs $4.

The children's area will include

Civic leaders feel 'stonewalled' by county

By JENNIFER L. RODGERS
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

The president of the Bear/Glasgow Council of Civic Organizations, Stephanie Hansen, urged those attending a Monday evening meeting to call New Castle County's Executive, Dennis Greenhouse, and push for the county to release their part of an instructional pamphlet for maintenance associations.

Referring to the county's promises to release legal guidelines for maintenance associations, Hansen said, "I'm concerned it's being stonewalled."

Hansen said county officials have promised the information would be ready since the "beginning of July."

Sean Garvin, a spokesperson for Greenhouse, said, "There has been a delay, but it hasn't been an intended stalling, it takes a little longer for things like that to be crafted out of the law department."

"Their reasonable time table and our reasonable time table isn't always the same."

Maintenance associations are responsible for taking care of open space throughout housing developments. When a development is 50 to 75 percent complete, the builder can hand over responsibility for

Police beat

Pa. man stabbed in fight

A 23-year-old Norristown, Pa. man was hospitalized in Christiana Hospital after being stabbed Sept. 11 by an acquaintance during a fight which took place in the 100 block of East Cleveland Avenue, police said. Police said the man sustained a punctured lung and could not talk to police for an investigation interview. Police have a suspect and are investigating the assault.

Man exposes himself

A 21-year-old University of Delaware female student was flashed Sept. 8 by a man who jumped out of the bushes naked at the Newark Train Station. Police said the man asked the woman what time the train was arriving and fled. Police describe the man as white, with dark hair, in his 20s, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, with a thin build. To report information to Newark police, call 366-7111.

Two B.B. gun shootings

Police report, in separate incidents last week, two people were shot by a B.B. gun. According to police, a 35-year-old Newark man was shot in the back Sept. 9 while he was standing outside his house in Cleveland Heights. The man sustained a small puncture wound but refused medical treatment, police said. Also, a 16-year-old Elkton (Md.) girl was shot in the neck Sept. 7 while walking down East Main Street near Haines Street. Police said the woman did not seek medical treatment.

Resident foils break-in Police are looking for a man who broke a cellar window and entered a house in the unit block of Firethorn Court Sept. 12. Police said the man did not steal anything and fled when he confronted a person in the house. Police describe the man as white, a teenager, about 5 feet 4 inches tall, with a medium build. To report information to Newark police, call 366-7111.

Police break up party

Newark police arrested four residents of a house in the 300 block of South College Avenue following a party where hundreds of guests jammed the front yard, blocking the street so traffic could not drive through.

Police charged Yvonne Lee, 21, Taryn Morrow, 21, Casey Weiner, 20, and Kristen Glover, 21, all of 394 South College Avenue with disorderly premise and issued them criminal summons to appear in court at a later date. Police report the residents said they held the party, but it got out of control when people they did not know showed up.

Student arrested at Hodgson

A 16-year-old Newark student was arrested at Hodgson Vocational Technical School Sept. 12 for assaulting a Delaware State police officer.

Police said Bonnie M. Kinsler, 16, of Marlboro Road in Newark was arrested and charged with assault second degree, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct.

Police report that Delaware State Police trooper Philip Pitt, 33, who working security at Hodgson, answered a call that a student was leaving school without permission.

When Kinsler saw police she first locked herself in her car, then fled the school on foot. Kinsler was caught by Officer Pitt but resisted arrest calling the officer racial slurs, scratching him and spitting in his face.

POLITICAL COVERAGE

Whitsel-Piechocki to challenge Venezky for County Council seat

By JENNIFER L. RODGERS
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

What once appeared to be an uncontested race for the Fifth District New Castle County Council seat is now a different ball game.

Political newcomer, Carlene Whitsel-Piechocki (R) will challenge councilwoman Karen Venezky Nov. 8.

As far as the major issues facing the fifth district, Whitsel-Piechocki said the lack of unity amongst council members, fiscal responsibility, and the sequence in which issues are prioritized top her list of problems to tackle.

"My priority would be crime," said Whitsel-Piechocki. "We need to enhance the police staff and give them what they need to deal with problems in the community...we can do this by providing money through the budget."

Venezky said crime prevention is one of the major problems she sees in the district as well.

"We've had a serial rapist, and an increase in car thefts and it's because we're in that corridor from New York to Washington, so the need for policing has grown," Venezky said. "I have worked on increasing the budget by $3 million, enabling us—with money from Federal Crime Bill—to add 24 new police officers and eight will be in the Brookside Shopping Center Police sub station."

Whitsel-Piechocki questioned the location of the sub station, saying the University of Delaware and Newark police are so close that the location might be better somewhere else.

"I think there should be more studying done and we should work with the sixth district for the best location," said Whitsel-Piechocki.

Venezky said, "We looked at the most densely populated area, where the majority of people live, outside of City of Newark, and Brookside is in the center."

Fiscal issues Whitsel-Piechocki said she would work to improve include the budget.

"The tax increases in the county average out to be a 5 percent increase every 20 months," said Whitsel-Piechocki.

The incumbent said, "Yes I voted for a 4.6 percent tax increase and for the average home of the unincorporated part of county it was a $12 increase, for the City of Newark it was roughly a $4 increase...Police got the biggest amount of money—$3 million, and we gave $1 million to the libraries, but if we had not looked everywhere we could not trim the fat, we would have had to raise it eight percent."

Library service is a key issue for Venezky and said she has worked to provide funding necessary to automate the Newark library and build a new facility in Bear.

Fast paced development was another issue important to both candidates.

"The City of Newark is not a concern, but in the surrounding area, what the county does in terms of land use impacts very heavily," said Venezky. "I support sustainable development, which is saying we don't want a moratorium on development. We have to have growth to provide jobs for people."

Whitsel-Piechocki said she would work with developers and the community to ensure compromises agreeable to all parties could be negotiated.

"Developers seem to be perceived as the enemy, but I don't think that's true," said Whitsel-Piechocki. "People always want to move up, to more land and a bigger house and they (developers) provide this...we need to pace development in an orderly fashion."

Some projects Venezky said she would like to continue, if reelected, include a tree ordinance to be used when considering a development plan.

"Right now, the developer shows us his plans and we don't have any ordinances to make them save trees," said Venezky. "We have to say, 'you better do your best to save the trees' and they agree, but sometimes they don't do it."

congratulate Chris on the outcome of the primary, the fact remains that his most difficult challenge has yet to come...to win."

Roberts said he plans to continue his campaign which is based on "grass roots support, good organization and people who know about the real issues of development and land."

The state Senate District 10 Republican primary was carried by state Representative Steve Amick who collected 71 percent of the vote against Nancy S. Kelsch.

The District 10 seat opened up last fall when Sen. James P. Neal announced he would retire after 21 years of service.

Amick's opponent, Paul Lesniak (D), said he "wasn't surprised" by the results and plans to continue a strong campaign that will focus on a new approach in the legislature by stressing the differences between himself and Amick.

Amick said he will continue to campaign on the issue of his experience as a representative and the "backing gained after eight years in the house."

The Pike Creek area state Representative race for the District 21 Republican was between newcomers to politics. Pam Maier won with 69 percent of the vote against Vincent G. Checchi.

Maier's opponent is another newcomer, Regina Robb (D). Robb said she is looking forward to a positive campaign and will "focus" her campaign on her "experience as a health care professional where she has had a listening ear for 28

Reed said she will "aim to solidify the Republican party and seek support of the Democrats and Independents to get a victory."

The community should enjoy its day

COMMUNITY DAY — that uniquely Newark event — is scheduled for Sunday.

Community Day, held annually on a September Sunday, is a one-day festival where Newark residents and University of Delaware students alike can enjoy a beautiful late summer day in a wonderful setting on the University of Delaware Mall.

It's a day when families can enjoy — as long as one doesn't terribly mind being assaulted by political candidates and their paraphernalia — a day together.

There are always dozens of fun and informational booths that show off the wonderful talents of people in our community. There are even more booths serving some kind of tempting food.

We, of course, will be out in full force Sunday, in the form of the Newark Post booth, with free newspapers and balloons.

We encourage everyone to come to Community Day — especially if you've never been. If you have been, it shouldn't be hard to get you back for at least a little while Sunday.

While you're there, please stop by our booth. We all look forward to meeting you.

Change isn't always a bad thing

By HEATHER HARTRIM

CHANGE. Why do people cringe when they hear that word especially when it has to do with friends and family?

I came home for the summer from my freshman year at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill. and I was apprehensive about the reunion I would have with my high school friends and even my boyfriend.

Being so far from home and alone, I had the opportunity to do a lot of soul searching. I learned that my person had been defined by my parents' ideas and I really had no concrete knowledge about what I believed in.

It took me two-thirds of the year, and some difficult debates and great friends, to become comfortable with myself and confident about my ideas. Thus, I was preparing to come home a different person than the one who left.

Alas, the day came when my parents and I made the 15-hour voyage back to Newark. The next day I broke up with my boyfriend. He was my high school sweetheart and my support system through my first year at college. Although we had a long-distance relationship, we were convinced that we could conquer everything. Everything but change, that is.

Then, I went out with my best friend. Guess what we talked about? High school. While my boyfriend and I admitted that I changed, my friend and I suppressed our change.

I'm not throwing myself a pity party here because despite these floundering friendships, I've gained a more mature relationship with my parents.

They've been willing to hear me out and my dad is always asking my opinion about issues, because he knows I'll have one.

But I've noticed that as much as

Hartrim

I've changed, Newark, in my eyes, has too.

I came home in expectation of rediscovering my boring hometown, but I found that Newark is a happening place.

I would have rolled my eyes at you if you said that to me three months ago, but because of my experience as office manager/editorial assistant/ intern at the Newark Post, I have taken on a different perspective.

The Newark Post has been like a backstage pass for me. I was the voice of the public, which was an experience in itself, but I was most intrigued by the politics of our community.

Double majoring in journalism and political science led me to following reporters Jennifer Rodgers and Tonja Castaneda to cover a couple City Council meetings and a board of education meeting.

City Council was interesting because of the ease in which it can adopt new laws. I covered the noise ordinance that passed earlier this summer. I had hoped after my first article for some opposition at the second reading and public hearing from kids who like to play their stereo loud, but the only opposition came from Councilman Jerry Grant, and he wasn't opposed to the ordinance, only the wording.

I was disappointed in the youth in Newark. I'm only 18 and while I was the youngest person in attendance at the two City Council meetings I covered I understood everything that went on. I guess being away from home changed me into being more aggressive in public settings because there was no other choice.

Another place where there were no youths was the board of education meeting and the district's community task force meeting.

To be honest, I never knew that

Blue Hen backs: The best ever?

By ELBERT CHANCE

NEWARK POST CONTRIBUTING WRITER

THE DAYS are getting shorter, there's a snap in the air, the Newark Touchdown Club has held its first meeting of the season, and the Yellowjackets already have engineered the first major upset in Delaware high school football.

Yes, another gridiron season is upon us and some startling predictions already have been made by coaches and sportswriters. The one that caught my eye suggested that the 1994 backfield may be the most productive in the storied history of Delaware's Fighting Blue Hens. Wow!

Even the possibility of such a unit put my brain cells in turmoil and eventually sent me scurrying to old Press Books, for as I once told my good friend and loyal Delaware alumnus Bill Gerow, "Diligent research inevitably proves more reliable than the best of memories."

To pinpoint the finest backfields to appear on the Delaware Stadium gridiron, I selected those teams that either were undefeated or those that had won 10 or more games in one season. These high standards eliminated a host of popular and successful teams as well as formidable individual stars, but certainly spotlighted well-balanced backfields with capable reserve support. As you review these outstanding combinations from years past, remember that we are concerned only with the quality of the running game—not overall offensive balance. Furthermore, please note that what we perhaps should be evaluating is the quality of the offensive linemen who opened the holes for the backs with whom the statistics are associated.

But, fair or not, football fans remember with affection these formidable backfields of the past.

Dave Nelson's undefeated 1963 team featured QB Chuck Zolak and running backs Mike Brown, John Wallace and Mike McCrann, supported by Neil McAneny, Chuck Spangler, Bill Hopkins and Joe Slobojan. They scored 290 points in an 8-0 campaign.

The 1971 team (10-1) rushed for 4,377 yards and scored 494 points with QB Sam Neff handing off to Billy Armstrong, Gardy Kahoe, Glenn Covin and Roger Mason.

The 1972 team (10-0) rushed for 2,879 yards and put 355 points on the scoreboard. The key runners were QB Scotty Reihm and running backs Vernon Roberts, Blair Caviness and Roger Mason.

QB Bill Zwaan led the 1974 team to a 12-2 mark with backfield mates Roberts, Tommy James and Nate Beasley and backups Gregg Perry, Bob Sabol and Larry Wagner scoring 439 points while gaining 4,014 yards on the ground.

Enrollment in public schools is now 550

The work of the public schools is progressing splendidly. The total enrollment in all of the grades now is approximately 550. A great many who were unable for legitimate reasons to enroll in the beginning are enrolling now. There are now 53 in the second grade and Miss Wilson has been advised by Superintendent Morris to divide the classes and put the children on part time until some more satisfactory arrangement can be made. The first grade now numbers sixty and it will probably be necessary to divide this class of beginners in the same way.

Save the valley or dam it? Forces tangle at Trail Club debate

The pros and cons of building a dam and reservoir complex near Newark on the White Clay Creek were debated Thursday night before a meeting of the Wilmington Trail Club at the Western Branch of the YMCA.

About fifty hikers and newsmen heard Dennis Neuzil, President of the Sierra Club, Delaware Chapter, and Assistant Professor of Civil Engineering at the University of Delaware, speak against the project. The valley would be flooded by the waters by the waters of the reservoir if the dam is built.

Newark's traffic snarl under "TOPICS" study

The Delaware State Highway Department has signed an agreement with Alan M. Voorhees & Associates, transportation and planning consultants of McLean, Va., for a "Topics Planning Proposal for the City of Newark." This is the first such planning study to be conducted in the State of Delaware.

TOPICS is an acronym for Traffic Operations Program for Increasing Capacity and Safety. It is an action program for improvement of a city's street system with emphasis on the downtown street system and streets leading to downtown.

Lyme disease strikes Newarkers

It begins simply with a tick bite, but the effects of Lyme disease can be complicated and long lasting.

The Delaware Department of Health and Social Services has received six reports of the illness this year, all in the northern part of the state and four from Newark.

State epidemiologist, Paul Silverman, says the six reports are more than double the amount of reported cases in past years. But Silverman is not surprised by this. "It's my belief that there are a lot more cases in the community not yet reported. This is just the tip of the iceberg," he says.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To: The editor:
From: Dick Koch
President, Cooch's
BridgeCivic Association

Your September 2 issue discussed the old concept of the Newark bypass. It cited a 22-hour count of 310 trucks passing through Cleveland Avenue and West Main Street in 1988 and 364 such vehicles in 1991. The need to replaster homes, safety issues, and the need for air filters (for noise) were cited as resulting from vibrations from tractor trailers.

Another residential area on South College Avenue, across from Glasgow High School, zoned R-1-B and second only to R-1-A zoning in the county, has similar but far worse problems. A local resident, Robert Boyer, has similarly counted such vehicles at various times of the day with a resulting count of 160 to 180 vehicles per hour, ten times the frequency cited in town. There are periods of strings of tractor trailers, four or more in a row. Imagine the vibrations, noise and safety issues when this traffic is mixed with local traffic and school buses to two schools!

Other than the increased severity of the issue, there is a second difference. While Newark and its legislators seek a feasible solution, the solution for the problem on South College Avenue has been readily evident for 35 years. The Route 301 connector from the Glasgow bypass to the unbuilt Exit 2 on I-95 near the rest stop, with little social impact until homes were recently permitted to be constructed in the path, has been a known solution since Summit Bridge was built.

When such a problem is obvious and a solution is obvious with no response, what can be expected for the problem in the city?

To: The editor:
From: Fabian Spadaccini

I disagree with those in favor of federalized crime legislation. The reasoning behind my dissent is based on common sense and logic.

Anyone who believes crime can be prevented by offering arts and crafts is not being very rational. People commit crimes in light of permissiveness. The more rights we get, the less our regard for others become. Am I a "law and order" kind of guy? No, I am a rights and responsibility type. We are crying for more of the former without the fortitude to exercise the latter, fully expecting to be propped up in the event of our failure. This is not a realistic approach to life.

What good will getting more cops be, when society will not allow the ones we do have perform their duties?

My solution to the crime problem is based on the fundamentals of economics, that is providing incentives for people not to commit crimes. When people are incarcerated they must be given a choice between school or work. What better motivation then knowing you will have to work and learn. They will either attend classes to learn a trade or they will work within the community the crime was committed in doing jobs that particular community is having difficulty doing.

We are responsible for our societal decay. Government alone cannot be blamed, for even though we know these folks are making monkeys out of all of us, we keep right on electing them. Our government is only a reflection of our own lack of will. Until we can muster the courage to exercise common sense and apply logic to our problems, our devolution will only continue to spiral out of control.

QB Jeff Komlo guided the 10-4 squad that boasted an excellent corps of running backs that included Tom Ciccone, Ivory Sully, Gary Gumbs, Bo Dennis, Lou Mariani, Ed Wood and Hugh Dougherty. They scored 446 points and gained 3,637 yards rushing.

Many of the same runners—Dennis, Mariani, Dougherty,

Wood and Gino Olivieri—ran for 3,777 yards and the team scored 546 points while taking handoffs from QB Scott Brunner in winning the Division II NCAA Championship.

In 1982, fans were treated to a 12-2 season directed by QB Rick Scully. He used running backs Dan Reeder, Kevin Phelan, Cliff Clement, Rick Titus and John Merklinger to post totals of 3,465 yards and 425 points.

Nine years elapsed before QB Billy Vergantino and running backs Daryl Brown, Lanue Johnson, Jim Lazarski, Marcus Lewis and Anthony Ventresca gained 3,310 rushing yards and score 393 points in a 10-2 1991 season.

The same cast of backfield teammates improved on that performance in 1992 by rushing for 3,753 yards and scoring 503 points for an 11-3 record.

The 1994 team features record-setting FB Daryl Brown, Norman Coleman, Pat Williams, Kai Hebron, Jerry Boggs and Marvel Scott. The quarterback duties are currently being shared by Leo Hamlett and Keith Langan. Can this talented crew make us forget the winners of the past? We'll know in November when the final statistics are compiled for, to modify an old saying, the proof is not in the pudding, but in performance.

Change leads to deeper thoughts

the Christina School District was under court ordered desegregation. I thought busing was normal; I thought everyone did it.

After several conversations with district officials, I figured out what unitary status is and how it will impact the district, or at least some ideas on its impact.

I wonder if students presently in the district understand because there were none at the meetings. I wonder if its because of ignorance to the issues or because of a shoulder-shrugging apathy.

I'm a product of the Christina School District as I was told several times this summer and had no clue about the number of restructuring efforts being made and the reasons behind the efforts.

If I was still in the district I would want to be involved. It's the students' future. Maybe that's another way that I've changed.

It really hit me hard that as much as I may be changing, Newark is growing and changing more. The controversial demolition of Daugherty Hall is a perfect example. The neat row of Main St. stores will now be urbanized by a parking garage. There was also the demolition of the Deer Park farmhouse and the pending Christiana By-pass issue. And these are just a few examples.

I make you this promise, however. Just as Newark continues to mature and change, I will too.

Bear video store scene of armed robbery

Delaware State police are investigating an armed robbery at the Five Star Video rental store on U.S. Route 40 in Bear.

Police said a man entered the store about 9:45 p.m. Sept. 10, displayed a handgun and demanded money from the clerk. Police report the man took an undisclosed amount of cash and fled the store.

Police describe the man as white, with short blond hair, about 35 years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall and weighing about 185 pounds. To report information to Delaware State police, call 323-4411.

Green Valley party leads to arrests

New Castle County police arrested a 22-year-old Newark man for providing minors with alcohol at a party held at his house, police said.

Police report William Vavale, 22, of the 600 block of Fifth Avenue in Green Valley, was arrested Sept. 11 when police responded to his house after receiving a noise complaint. He was charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Police found 12 people under age 21 drinking at the party. Vavale, police said, was the only one at the party of legal age to drink alcohol.

The minors, ranging in age from 18-20, were arrested, charged with underage consumption of alcohol and released pending a hearing in court at a later date.

Vavale was issued a summons to appear in court at a later date.

Police seek assault suspect

Newark police are looking for Kodell Eggar Grinnage, a 17-year-old, black male, who is wanted in connection with an assault in the first degree that occurred July 29, at a party on Holton Place in Newark.

Police say Grinnage is 6 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 220 pounds. He recently escaped from the Ferris School. His nickname is "Pappy" and has been known to use his brother's name, Danny Grinnage, who is 18 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 200 pounds, according to police.

The suspect's last known address was 815 W. 7th St., in Wilmington and police said an arrest warrant has been issued.

Police advice "caution" be used when dealing with Grinnage and ask anyone with further information, call 366-7111.

maintaining open space to the residents.

Homeowners are then bound by deed restrictions, to collect fees and arrange for maintenance. In some cases, if fees are not paid, a lien can be put on a homeowner's property.

This responsibility often comes to homeowners in a new development without guidance. Lack of information can cause resentment between neighbors who pay their dues and those who do not.

A maintenance association seminar held earlier this summer to educate homeowners about maintenance associations included much county and resident input.

As a result, a pamphlet outlining a how-to approach for maintenance associations is planned. All that remains to be done is the county's chapter on homeowners' legal obligations, according to Hansen.

"Each day that passes is just another day those of you that run maintenance associations don't have the information," said Hansen. "The county makes the rules, but they are not playing by them."

New Castle County Councilman, J. Christopher Roberts, was at the meeting and promised to push the issue from the council end.

Hansen is chairperson of the Maintenance Association Task Force—recently set up by county officials—that is scheduled to meet in the near future.

schools and the education of their children.

Long, 28, said as the father of two young children—one starting Kindergarten next year—he feels it is important to get involved in the educational process.

He said working for a non-profit organization, as the vice-president of Intercollegiate Studies Institute Program in Bryn Mawr, Pa., he has experience with mentoring programs for college students and training teachers to teach about the nation's founding documents.

"One important issue is for public schools to provide a high caliber education in light of financial limitations," said Long.

Schooley, 46, said she wants to serve on the board because she has a strong interest in the quality of public education. "My children had a very positive experience in the Christina School District," said Schooley, "and I want to make sure all children receive quality education."

Schooley said her children went through the public school system both graduating from Newark High School.

She said she has been active in the school district, volunteering with the band boosters, PTA, in elementary schools and starting the first After Prom for Newark High School.

Her profession, she said, as the director of development and public affairs of Planned Parenthood of Delaware gives her a unique understanding the political system, governmental affairs, fiscal affairs and public relations.

She said important issues facing the district include the desegregation issue and how it's settled in the coming years, violence in the schools and educational reform.

Stowell, 67, said he wants to be on the board because as a retired teacher from the district—teaching physics at Christiana High School—and as a headmaster for a school in East Africa, he has insight for both teachers and administrators. He said he has also served on financial committees.

Stowell, a member of the American Association of Retired Persons, said he wants to represent those people living on a fixed income.

He said his four children have all graduated from Christiana and Newark high schools.

His educational concerns are the educational reforms needed. "I want to continue and improve the excellent teaching in the Christina School District," Stowell said.

Zimmerman, 43, wants to insure quality education to all students from all backgrounds. He teaches human services at Delaware Technical and Community College.

"As a college educator at a community college, I have a lot of interaction with students who come from public schools," Zimmerman said. "Many come with educational disadvantages and I'm concerned about what can be done to improve the quality of education."

He has two children attending schools in the Christina School District and a third child age 3.

Fanjoy, who is a library consultant, and Richardson, a retired DuPont chemist in the plastics division, were unavailable for comment.

The Christina School Board has narrowed the selection down to four candidates but have not revealed their names. Member James Kent said the four selected will be interviewed in the coming weeks and selection of the new board member will be made and announced at the Oct. 11 school board meeting to be held at Christiana-Salem Elementary School.

New this year at the event, a Food Court will be located at the corner of Delaware Avenue and South College Avenue.

"All the food will be in one area instead of spread along the mall," said Houck. She said seating will be available on bales on hay provided by Agway.

Food items available include hamburgers, hot dogs, Mexican, Chinese, Indian, Greek and German cuisine, crab cakes, pizza, cheese fries, ice cream, caramel apples, funnel cakes and snow cones.

Free parking is available at Newark Parking Authority lots and most University of Delaware parking lots.

There is no admission charge for the event. The rain date will be Sept. 25.

This weekend's 'early' Oktoberfest a Newark tradition

By TONJA CASTANEDA
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Where can you find 200 gallons of sauerkraut, shoe-slapping dancers and lots of imported beer to drink?

At the Delaware Saegerbund's 15th annual Oktoberfest being held this weekend Sept. 16, 17 and 18.

The Oktoberfest is an authentic re-creation of the annual 16-day Munich festival which started as a royal wedding in 1810. As part of the wedding ceremony, a horse race was staged for enthusiasts from Bavaria while 40,000 looked on.

Since 1880 after several years of bad weather, Oktoberfest celebrations have been held in September in hopes of milder weather.

This theory did not hold true last year when heavy rain plagued the weekend of the local event but, according to Cliff Weber of the Saegerbund, attendance was not affected by the bad weather.

He said, with a huge waterproof tent erected on the club's grounds, people did not seem to mind the rain.

Weber said this year event organizers are hoping for a crowd of 17,000 to 18,000. He said in past years 20,000 people have attended.

The Oktoberfest opening ceremony will take place at 7 p.m. Sept. 16 with the entrance of the Munich Child, a symbol of Bavaria's capital city.

The event includes German music for dancing, entertainment by a Bavarian Folk Dance Group, German-style food and beverages, imported clothing for sale, free carnival rides and an International beer pavilion featuring beers from around the world, including Australia and Japan.

Beer on tap will be Beck's Beer from Germany, Michelob and Bud Light.

The ladies of the Delaware Saegerbund prepare the extensive amounts of food served for good eating at the Oktoberfest.

Oktoberfest food includes more than 2,500 pounds of sausages ranging from bratwurst (pork) and weiswurst (veal) to German franks, hot dogs, hot sausage and baurenwurst (similar to Polish sausage).

The German potato salad is made from 3,500 pounds of potatoes and 125 pounds of bacon. Other foods on the menu are chicken breasts, pickled herring, ham and cheese sandwiches and soft pretzels.

Oktoberfest dancers wearing authentic costumes perform folk dances popular in Germany. The Delaware Saegerbund's Oktoberfest will be held Sept. 16-18 in Newark. The event will include food, dancing, music, beer and carnival rides. Cost is $4 for adults and $2 for children under 12.

The club's own Enzian Volkstanzgruppe perform Bavarian folk dances, including the schuhplattler (shoe-slapping) first seen in the Alpine regions centuries ago. There are only about 50 such groups in the country. They perform folk dances while wearing authentic, imported, custom-made costumes which cost more than $1,250 per couple.

The Hank Haller Bavarian Ensemble from Cleveland will perform their authentic alpine dance and show, including German vocals and an occasional yodel. Friday night, Saturday and Sunday afternoons. German-American Band Jacob Titz and his Alpine Band from Philadelphia will play

Saturday night.

Oktoberfest begins Sept. 16 from 6 p.m. to midnight, continues Sept. 17 from noon to midnight and winds down Sept. 18 from noon to 6 p.m.

The Delaware Saegerbund is located at 49 Salem Church Road in Newark. Admission is $5 for adults and $4 for children under 12 when accompanied by an adult.

Parking is free on club grounds. Additional parking is available for a fee nearby.

For more information, call Cliff Weber at (302) 366-8868.

Saxton wheels cheer, hot meals to shut-in elderly

By TONJA CASTANEDA
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Newarker John Saxton starts each day by getting a cup of coffee at the Newark Senior Center. He hangs out at the center, not just for the camaraderie, but to help shut-in residents.

Saxton volunteers daily to deliver Meals-On-Wheels and has been doing so for seven months. He said he arrives at the senior center each day before lunch to ask the program director if drivers are needed.

He said even if he's not needed, he waits to see that all scheduled drivers show up.

"I've memorized four or five different routes," Saxton said. "The Senior Center uses me to deliver meals about three days a week, sometimes four or five times."

Meals Coordinator Bernice Moller said John is wonderful. "He comes to the center everyday to see if I need him to make a run," she said. "He's very dedicated."

He began doing Meals-On-Wheels when his wife, Phyllis, of 47 years died in 1993. He said he needed something to do to keep busy and meet people.

Refinery in Delaware City, Saxton at age 72 delivers food and cheer to some people who are younger than him.

"I'm doing a necessary service," Saxton said. "These people have to be fed. Someone has to do it."

He drives to residents' homes and delivers hot food, usually to people eagerly awaiting his arrival.

Most food receivers, he said, can't cook or afford food and live alone. "I have to see everybody to see that they're all right," Saxton said. "That's part of the service."

Saxton said some home situations, with the people being alone and disabled, brings tears to his eyes.

He said as a Meal-On-Wheels volunteer he enjoys talking to the people and just being friendly. The job, he said, also makes him feel lucky to be in good health.

He said everything about the job is rewarding. "I'm doing a public service," he said. "It just makes me feel good all over."

Saxton's family includes grandchildren Larry and Christopher Willoughby, Theresa Coburn and her husband Scott.

YOU ASKED

A feature devoted to discovering the answers to curious questions about people and places in Greater Newark.

BY NANCY TURNER

Which rules of the road should people on roller blades follow: those for pedestrians or those for bicycles?

Whether they are rapidly weaving through crowds on sidewalks or through vehicles on busy streets, roller bladers frighten anyone who has ever bandaged a child's skinned knee or worried about young ones wandering into traffic.

According to Newark Police Chief William Hogan, the City of Newark really doesn't have adequate codes to cover roller bladers at this time. He said it's a new trend that is giving street safety experts a lot to think about.

"I guess for now, we will put roller bladers in the same category as pedestrians," said Hogan. "Unlike bicycles and skateboards, they cannot get off of their wheels. This is not to say that they can fly across pedestrian cross walks with no warning and expect motor vehicles to stop for them. They have to use a little common sense."

Hogan added that roller bladers should travel facing traffic and be careful not to use more speed than they can effectively control. And as always, wheels of any kind and stereo head sets are a deadly combination.

Whether you have a question about people or places in Greater Newark or are just plain curious about something, staff writer Nancy Turner might just be able to find an answer for you. Send your question to Nancy, in care of the Newark Post, 153 East Chestnut Hill Road, Newark DE 19713. Be sure to include a daytime telephone number where you can be reached.

Managing two incomes: yours, mine, ours

NEWARK OUTLOOK

FROM THE STAFF OF THE COOPERATIVE EXTENSION OFFICE AT UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE

Successfully meshing two styles of handling money doesn't magically happen just because two people love each other. It's something you have to keep working on as the years go by.

Every day there are dozens of little decisions to be made about money, such as whether or not to pay cash, write a check, use a credit card, or pay a bill, not to mention the bigger decisions involving savings and investments, tax planning, ownership rights, insurance coverage and other matters with long-term consequences.

The Delaware Cooperative Extension is offering a program to help families learn about their finances. A seven-part financial management workshop series will be held in two locations this fall.

The Women's Financial Information Program will be held at the Newark Senior Center, on Wednesdays from 2 to 4:30 p.m. A second workshop will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the New Castle United Methodist Church. The cost is $20 per person or $27 for a couple.

Each session focuses on a different topic and will include budgeting, insurance, credit, estate planning, investing, tax planning and social security. During each meeting you'll hear from an expert in the field and then have the opportunity to work in small groups using the workbook provided.

Two-paycheck families may face communication challenges with the added dollars they earn and this program will help better your dialogue. As a preview here are some ideas about managing dual incomes.

Whether you started married life under the assumption that both would work, or you changed from a single to a dual income couple, you have had to come to a decision about what to do with the second paycheck. "That's easy," you say, "it will help pay the bills," or "more money means more enjoyment for the whole family." In day-to-day living, however, it often isn't quite so simple. Although there are only two basic types of accounts (single and joint), there are many ways to put them together. Three models have been developed that depict the different ways dual-income families combine their earnings. Which of the following models describes you?

Equal Share Couples put an equal amount of their respective salaries into joint checking and saving accounts (to cover the basic household expenses). The remainder can be saved or spent as each sees fit. The advantages is that each spouse contributes to both daily expenses and long-term expenses and each has some money to call his/her own.

Proportional share couples each contributes a percentage of his/her income to cover household expenses and joint savings. The remainder is his/hers to do with as each pleases. The advantage is that both spouses are contributing to household expenses, while retaining some independence of funds.

Pooler Couples combine all their income to use for both household and personal expenses. The money is usually held in joint accounts. One advantage is that the work of each spouse is valued equally, regardless of income earned. Both spouses may feel obligated to discuss all purchases with each other, which could be an advantage or disadvantage. Financial advisors suggest that pooler couples retain an independent "allowance" of a set amount. This helps them retain the feeling that all income is shared, while letting each spouse make some purchases which are not accountable to the other. This also simplifies household record keeping.

Financial management doesn't have to be stressful. Having good solid skills, knowing where and how to get complete information and being able to talk about it with your spouse can put some merri-ment into how you manage your money.

For financial workshop registration information, call 831-1239.

Grand Opera House has grand series planned

Isn't our "attention span" interesting? Just a short time ago we were focused on the shore, the beaches or the mountains. The kids were home and the summer was king. How quickly that has changed. Our attention is now clearly focused on what is ahead for the fine and performing arts in our great institutions. Maybe time isn't rushing by for you, but it sure is for me. Well, at least those of us with an interest in the arts are never bored!

I am very excited about the Grand Opera House's 1994-95 season. It has so much to offer and, while three of their wonderful series do remain, this year you may build your own series — and get discounts for your series just as you once did for series the Grand planned for you.

Today, I want to share with you information about one of the remaining "planned" series, but remind you that you can select one or two programs from it to build into your own series. It is another one of the series I really enjoy, the International Artist Series.

On Friday evening, October 14, at 8, the International Artist Series will bow with a concert program to whet the appetite of lovers of many periods of music and concert artists to thrill any audience. The series opener is a combination of one of the finest young string quartets playing anywhere in the world today and the finest crossover clarinetist in the world today and a for several years in the past. The Tokyo String

THE ARTS

By PHIL TOMAN

Quartet will be in town with Richard Stoltzman.

If your CD collection is keeping up to date in the world of great music, it probably has more than one disc with these artists. The both record for RCA Victor. Richard Stoltzman is just as much at home with jazz as he is with a symphony orchestra, or, in this case, a world renowned string quartet. The men of the quartet have delighted audiences in concerts and in recordings. There is a vigor and feeling hard to replicate.

The program the Grand's PR person, Mike Schuster, told me about will be a tour de force for the quartet and for Stoltzman. The first half of the program will feature Richard Stoltzman performing Robert Schuman's "Fantasietuke" for clarinet and piano, Alban Berg's "Vier Stucke" and Johannes Brahms' Sonata in E flat Major. How's that for a range of musical styles and periods? Following the intermission, the Tokyo String Quartet will join Stoltzman in another work by Brahms, the Clarinet Quintet in B minor.

The works of Johannes Brahms will also be featured prominently in the second concert of the International Artist Series on Saturday, November 12. On that evening to world acclaimed pianists will share the stage of Delaware's Center for the Performing Arts. They are Emanuel Ax and Peter Serkin. The concert begins at 8 p.m.

This program will be one to be savored by all lovers of the piano. These two men, each a concert star in his own right, coming together will present an evening or piano artistry and sound not soon to be forgotten. The first half of the program will include Brahms' Variation on a Theme by Haydn for two pianos and Arnold Schoenberg's Chamber Symphony No. 2. The pianists will conclude the evening with Brahms' Sonata in F minor.

The final offering of the series will be on the stage of the Grand Wednesday evening, April 26, at 8. The International Artist Series will conclude with the Orpheus Chamber Orchestra. True to the history of the chamber orchestra of times long gone, the orchestra performs without benefit of a conductor. A concert by them is like traveling back in time. With the ambience of the 19th century Grand Opera House, the illusion will be perfect.

On that April evening, the Orpheus Chamber Orchestra will perform the Ballet Music from Mozart's opera "Idomeneo," Mendelssohn's Italian Symphony, Davidovsky's Concerto for Violin and Chamber Orchestra and Rodrigo's "Concerto de Aranjuez." If you are not familiar with this group, a trip to your CD store will show you a discography of more than 30 recordings.

A ticket for each concert costs $39, $35 or $29. If you take the series, you may deduct $2 from the cost of each ticket. You may also take just one or two, mix with other offerings and "Create Your Own" series with a discount allowed. Our Grand Opera House is doing everything it can to make great music accessible to the widest possible audience. You may call the Grand at 302-652-5577 for more information or to order tickets. If you are in Wilmington you may stop by the box office located in front of the house at 818 The Market Street Mall.

This would be a great year for you to become a patron of the Grand. My family loves the old house and, given a chance, yours would too.

Emmaus House has 10th anniversary

Emmaus House, a homeless shelter in Newark, is celebrating their 10th anniversary on Sept. 16 at 6 p.m. with a dinner and art auction at the Newark Country Club. Tickets cost $35 of which $15 is a donation and tax deductible. The art preview begins at 6 p.m., dinner is at 7 p.m. and the art action is at 8 p.m. For more information, call 737-2241.

Chapel Street Players celebrate 60th anniversary

By TONJA CASTANEDA
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

The Newark Historical Society and the Chapel Street Players came together Sept. 11 to celebrate Chapel Street Player's 60th anniversary.

About 20 people turned out on a Sunday afternoon at the Chapel Street Playhouse for a wine and cheese reception, followed by a presentation given by Dick Mullin, historian for the Chapel Street Players, of the history of the production company.

According to Mullin the Chapel Street Players began as a university drama group, formed by professors at the University of Delaware to put on performances in Mitchell Hall for themselves in 1934.

Mullin said the organization put a show on in the spring of 1935 and deemed it such a success that the next year it put on a production for the student body and the public.

This was the beginning of Newark community involvement in the players, because in 1936 Newark residents, not affiliated with the university, were invited to round out the cast.

Much later in 1969, due to scheduling problems with the university drama group in Mitchell Hall, Chapel Street Players moved to where they currently perform — The Chapel Street Playhouse on Chapel Street.

Mullin said the group began as a social organization with about 25 members. The players currently have more than 200 members.

The Chapel Street Player's next production will be The Cemetery Club Sept. 23, 24, 30 and Oct. 1, 2, 7, 8.

The play is a comedy about how three women celebrate life in their golden years.

For ticket information, call 368-2248.

Hens try to rebound versus Villanova

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST SPORTS EDITOR

Preseason concerns over the state of the University of Delaware football team turned out to be warranted.

The Hens fell 31-7 to William & Mary in their season opener as the Tribe posted 21 unanswered, second-half points to secure the victory.

The quarterback position, which had been a question mark since last December, is still a problem now. Starting QB Leo Hamlett completed just of 3-of-11 passes for 27 yards and one interception. Hamlett's performance opens the door for junior Keith Langan to start this weekend's game against neighborhood rival Villanova (Saturday, 1 p.m. at Villanova Stadium).

The Wildcats, picked to finish last in the Yankee Conference's preseason media poll, have won their first two games (23-7 over Fordham and 16-13 over Liberty) and are feeling pretty good about themselves.

"No question about it," said Villanova Coach Andy Talley, who is just 1-5 versus Delaware including last season's 19-7 loss in Newark. "We're a much better team than last year. It's not even close. We weren't even competitive last year."

Offensively Villanova has been led by a strong ground attack. Last year, the Defense plays superbly in Jackets' 12-10 win

By JOHN HOLOWKA

What Salesianum saw fit to give, Newark High saw fit to take.

The Yellowjackets capitalized on a pair of turnovers in the first half and rocked defending state champion Sallies 12-10 at Hoffman Stadium Friday night in both teams nonconference football opener.

"I thought we played great defense; we thought we'd be more physical and we were," said Newark Coach Butch Simpson, after Newark's first win over Sallies since 1986. "We played better in the defensive backfield that we have in a long time."

"I feel right now we have 11 solid defensive players and we were tough up front (Friday). It was a great defensive game. I think both offenses had some difficulty and I think that's a credit to the defense. I'm just really happy for the kids because I'd like to believe we can get better. But we'll take this without any doubt."

Newark held Salesianum to 178 total yards and didn't let the Sals into Yellowjacket territory in the second half until the final seconds, when Sallies attempted a pair of desperation passes with seconds remaining. Matt Nelson led Sallies 96 yards on 14 carries.

Butch Patrick set up Newark's first touchdown in the opening quarter after an interception on Newark's 43. Six plays later Patrick charged over from the one at 5:13 and capped a drive punctuated by Jeff Strengari's two passes for 48 yards.

Salesianum answered early in the second period with a 36-yard field goal by Randy Tink, but the Yellowjackets responded with a 14-yard touchdown pass from Strengari to Lutes, who made a ranging one-handed grab to give the 'Jackets a 12-3 lead with 4:59 until halftime.

"It was a designed play," said Lutes, a 6-foot-1, 174-pound senior halfback. "We practiced it all week. I was in the setback position, I hit the middle, was wide open and Strengari got it right to me."

"This is a great night; none of the seniors will ever get another chance to beat Salesianum. We had a lot of fans. Our defense was outstanding and we stepped it up the second half. This is a great team; I think it might be a state tournament team. We could go all the way."

The Yellowjackets let Sallies back into the game in the waning seconds of the half. Newark punted to the Salesianum 3, but Nelson's 37-yard run and 33-yard pass reception along with a Newark pass interference penalty put the ball on Newark's 12. On the next play French found Tony Orga on a 12-yard TD pass. The point after made it 12-10.

Newark gained 112 yards total offense with all 96 passing yards coming in the first half, as Strengari finished six of nine with a touchdown and an interception. Newark had opportunities to score late in the game, but a fumble stalled one drive on Sallies' 14 and following Parker's interception to the Sals 15, penalties and yardage losses stalled that one also.

"We did enough offensively; we should have done a whole lot more," Simpson said. "I think we got excited. We were in the game and we knew we had a shot at winning. At halftime some of the coaches made it very clear that

Glasgow gridders open season with 16-14 win over Milford

By BRETT LOVELACE

SPECIAL TO THE NEWARK POST

Glasgow senior Tyjuan Lewis registered 237 all-purpose yards to spark host Glasgow past Milford 16-14 Friday in the season opener.

Lewis, a second team all-state quarterback selection last season, has been hampered by a wrist injury sustained in a scrimmage last week. The injury has slowed Lewis' workouts and appeared to hinder his performance during the first quarter that included an interception.

"My wrist was really sore during the first few series," said Lewis. "I was trying to rush some of my passes and that hurt my accuracy."

Milford, coming off an 4-6 season in 1993, jumped ahead early in the first quarter when linebacker Charles Spahr intercepted a Lewis screen pass and ran 20 yards for a touchdown.

Glasgow rebounded with a 57-yard drive late in the first quarter, only to be shut down by Milford on the three yard line. Milford quarterback Bryan Clark pulled the Bucs from deep in their own territory with a 20-yard completion to senior tight end K.C. Carter. Milford continued to move the ball until Glasgow defensive back Lewis snagged his first of three interceptions on the 35 yard line.

"Tyjuan is the kind of player who is good enough to excel on both sides" said Glasgow coach Dave Scott.

Milford continued to dominate during the second quarter when Michael Burris exploded down the right sideline for a 55 yard gain. The run set up Milford's next score after Glasgow was penalized with a pass interference call on the five. Clark pushed Milford ahead 14-0 with a five-yard run. Clark hit Carter in the end zone for the two-point conversion.

"Our team confidence was non-existent during the first half," said Scott. "Milford came out early and picked up on our mistakes."

Glasgow rallied around running back Jon Hackett for a 60 yard drive that ended in another Lewis interception. The Dragons wasted no time in the third quarter, when they pulled off perhaps the play of the game. Lewis rolled out of the pocket to throw to Corey Watson near the Glasgow sideline but Watson tipped the pass into the hands of Rob Quigley who burst 70 yards for a touchdown. Quigley capped the effort by adding the conversion to cut the Milford lead to 14-10.

"That play would make anyone's highlight film," said Scott. "It illustrated how concentrated we were after halftime."

Milford fumbled on their next possession to give Glasgow the ball inside the 20. Lewis scrambled to find Quigley again for a 15 yard completion. John Adams rushed in the game winner from inside the five to put Glasgow up for good 16-14.

"Both teams played good enough to win tonight," said Scott. "Milford never gave up and neither did we."

"I was trying to do to many things early in the game instead of reacting naturally," said Lewis.

The Dragon defense notched the team's first score when Milford punter Aaron Holleger bobbled the snap into the end zone for a safety.

Glasgow appeared to have pulled off a

Newark sets tone for football season

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST SPORTS EDITOR

LAST FRIDAY night was a perfect example of why high school sports are so wonderful to watch.

The football season kicked off and hardly anything went according to what the prognosticators forecasted. Christiana, among everybody's top three teams in the state before the season, was beaten handily by Caesar Rodney. Milford, who hasn't beaten a Division I opponent in several years, almost knocked off Glasgow and Newark upset always-powerful Salesianum.

Anything can happen in high school football and that's what makes it so intriguing.

The Yellowjackets' victory was, obviously, a big one for everyone involved in the Newark football program. Newark certainly hasn't been bad over the past couple of years, going 6-4 last season. The Jackets, though, have had a tough time against the state's big boys over the past several years. Yes I know they beat a powerful Christiana squad last year, but they were also waxed 51-7 by Glasgow. Most of the time, however, the team would play tough for a half, get worn down and then beaten in the second half.

Many of the key players on this year's team have been part of those previous Newark teams. Many of those players came up with big plays in Friday's 12-10 win over Sallies.

Senior Mark Lutes, who was a punt returner as a freshman, made an incredible one-hand leaping grab of a Jeff Strengari (also a senior who has been at quarterback for two years) pass for a touchdown. Junior Sean McCullough, who has seen playing time each of the last two years had a big game, with tackles and fumble recoveries at linebacker and running and catching the ball on offense. Senior Michael Parker had a big interception and on and on. They're just a few of the Newark players to come up big during the game.

"We had a discipline and toughness out there tonight," said a happy Butch Simpson following the game. "A lot of these guys played on our 3-7 and 6-4 teams. They have really matured and it showed."

Simpson, though acknowledging the victory as being one of the biggest in the last five years, wasn't ready to say his team should be considered among

Newark volleyball rolls over Christiana in Flight A opener

By JOHN HOLOWKA

NEWARK POST SPORTS WRITER

Newark High swept Christiana Tuesday night in both team's Blue Hen Conference volleyball season opener.

The Yellowjackets won the first game 15-6 but had to rally for a 15-11 win in the clincher after the Vikings had tied the game 8-8 behind four straight points.

"It's not what I expected at all," said Newark coach B.J. Apichella, who has coached the Yellowjackets to six state titles, the last one coming in 1990. "I expected our team to play better than this."

"There's a little sluggishness that I wish to see disappear," Apichella said. "It's not our first match but it's our first regular match at home and I guess people are still starting to feel their way in the lineup."

Newark jumped to a 6-0 lead in the opening game behind Michelle Hoosty's two points and points each by Jessica Phipps and Ursula Cornish. The Vikings took advantage of three Newark errors but Cornish's spike and Lori Wagner's block gave Newark a 9-3 cushion.

Newark scored five straight points on out-of-bounds and into-the-net calls to lead 14-3 and put the game out of reach. The Vikings managed three more points on Newark miscues, but Phipps' ace ended the game.

Christiana led for the only time against Newark starting the second game, but the Yellowjackets cashed in on five straight Viking errors to forge a 5-1 lead. The Vikes battled back and tied the game 8-8 with points from Sharma Gray and Val Rodriguez and then again 9-9 on Jenn Thompson's ace.

"We had a little chat in the huddle about (Christiana tying the game)," Apichella said. "Because you have to keep your intensity going and they let their intensity falter. 'You can't do that against any team. You do that and the other team catches you. And sometimes they catch you and they beat you.'"

Cori James served Newark to four consecutive four points and and a 13-9 margin. Two Yellowjacket errors made the score 13-11, but Heather Lloyd aces her first serve and forced a Christiana error on her second for the match victory.

"I told the team 'you have to create your own intensity, you have to create your own enthusi-

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

TYJUAN LEWIS - GLASGOW HIGH

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST SPORTS EDITOR

Down 14-0 early in last Friday night's game against Milford, Glasgow's Tyjuan Lewis decided that he would have to be the one to lead the Dragons back.

Lewis, who played the game with a badly injured wrist, amassed 237 yards running and throwing, intercepted three passes (including two game saving ones in the fourth quarter) and also returned punts to lead Glasgow to the opening night victory.

"Tyjuan is the kind of player who is good enough to excel on both sides," said Glasgow Coach Dave Scott. "With all the time we spent working with him on offense during the preseason, it's very impressive for him to come up with three interceptions."

Lewis realized that his team was in trouble.

"I couldn't believe what was going on," said Lewis, who is being recruited by Rutgers, Syracuse, West Virginia and Illinois. "Things we're going so bad it was unbelievable. We couldn't get anything to go right. We have a really young team and for us to come back and get that win is very important to this group."

The win catapulted the Dragons into Friday's matchup at Caesar Rodney. Lewis feels if Glasgow can beat the Riders, it will be in good position for the rest of the year.

"We went down there two years ago and surprised [CR]," he said. "We're looking to do that again."

Kirkwood Power win opener

The Kirkwood Power, 1994 state champions, won their first game of the fall season, defeating Bustleton 5-0 in a Delco Soccer League match at the Kirkwood Complex. Goals were scored by Dan DiGiacobbe (two), Jason Dzielak, Chris Haynes and Greg Nusz. Ryan Dixon and Dzielak were in goal for the Power.

POST PICKS OF THE WEEK

It was a less than auspicious beginning to the season as far as predictions go. As far as action, however, it was a great way to start the year.

We won just three of five games last week as Christiana was beaten by Caesar Rodney while Newark upset Salesianum. We did correctly pick Hodgson over Caravel, Glasgow over Milford (barely) and St. Mark's over Concord.

All six teams were in action during last week's five games. Five schools will play five more games this week. St. Mark's has the week off before jumping back into the fray against Elkton next week.

NEWARK (1-0) VS. POLYTECH (1-0) - Friday night at Polytech, 7:30. Newark is coming off its big 12-10 victory over Salesianum while Polytech downed Woodbridge 28-6 in its opener. The Jackets must avoid any kind of a letdown this week. Polytech is a good football team and could knock off Newark if it is caught still celebrating. Newark, though, looked as good as it has at any time over the last five seasons. They are a veteran squad with a new toughness. The defense was superb against Sallies. It's hard to imagine that Polytech would be any better than the Sals. The Pick: Newark 20, Polytech 6.

GLASGOW (1-0) VS. CAESAR RODNEY (1-0) - Friday night at Caesar Rodney, 7:30. The Dragons slipped by Milford 16-14 last week, coming from 14 points down to get the win. CR, on the other hand, ripped Christiana 20-6 to open its season. Tyjuan Lewis had a good game in the opener. He's the player Glasgow needs to perform well to be competitive with the good teams. If his wrist, which was injured last week, is healthy, the Dragons could give the Riders fits. Caesar Rodney, though, appears to have a very good team. Two backs rushed for over 100 yards against what was supposed to be a good Christiana defense. The Pick: Caesar Rodney 27, Glasgow 16.

CARAVEL (0-1) VS. NORTH EAST (Md.) (1-0) - Friday night at Caravel's Peoples Stadium, 7:30. The Bucs are coming off a tough 34-0 loss at the hands of Hodgson while North East stomped Friends 28-0. Caravel is very young this season and it may take a few weeks for the team to get used to playing varsity football. Friends is probably team that Caravel could be very competitive with. Based on last week's results, we'll have to look at North East. The Pick: North East 20, Caravel 6.

CHRISTIANA (0-1) VS. SEAFORD (1-0) - Saturday afternoon at Christiana's Coder Field. The Vikings lost last week to a very good Caesar Rodney team while Seaford beat Northampton (Md.) 26-20 in overtime. Christiana could probably find numerous other teams to get better against than the Blue Jays. Seaford knocked off the Vikings in last year's Division I state tournament semifinals. Seaford is now in Division II but is certainly not a typical Division II team. Expect Christiana Coach Bill Muehleisen to have the Vikings ready to roll Saturday. The Vikings may not be the best team in the state at this time, but they are still a very good football team. Expect them to bounce back. The Pick: Christiana 22, Seaford 20.

HODGSON (1-0) VS. ACADEMY-NEW CHURCH (Pa.) - Saturday afternoon at Hodgson, 1:30. The Silver Eagles certainly were impressive in their first game under Coach Larry Cyle. Hodgson ripped Caravel 34-0 in the season opener. We don't know much about Academy New Church but we do feel that Hodgson should be good enough to win the game. If Hodgson can win this week, it will have a good chance of being 3-0 going into conference play. The Pick: Hodgson 20, Academy New Church 12.

Sherman rejoins Blue Hen baseball program

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST SPORTS EDITOR

Who says you can't go home again?

That's certainly not the case for former University of Delaware baseball star Jim Sherman. Sherman, who has spent the last seven years as head baseball coach and athletic director at Wilmington College, has returned to Delaware as coordinator of the new Baseball Throwing Academy and assistant baseball coach.

"It's always nice to go home," Sherman said in a Tuesday press conference. "A lot of people expected this to happen and I feel very fortunate. I'm a local kid; I went to William Penn, went to Delaware and have been able to coach in the area. That's pretty odd for this business."

Sherman, a 1982 graduate of Delaware, played outfield for the Hens from 1979-82, leading the Hens to three NCAA Tournament appearances. He has 347 and remains Delaware's all-time leader in home runs (46), total bases (489) and extra base-hits (120).

"I think that with the addition of Jimmy, we probably have as good a college baseball coaching staff as there is in the region," said head coach Bob Hannah.

The former Hens' standout was a 14th round draft pick of the Houston Astros, rising to the AAA level before retiring in 1986.

At Wilmington, Sherman recorded a 215-125 record in seven years that included six District 19 title, two Regional championships and two trips to the NAIA World Series (1992, 1994).

The announcement of Sherman's return immediately fueled speculation that he would also be the successor to Delaware Coach Bob Hannah.

"I can't say that specifically," said Hannah, who has racked up an 804-373-6 record in 30 seasons at Delaware. "But Jim has been a very important part of the program. I don't have any timetable [for retiring as coach] but the job does get more difficult with age."

In the meantime, Sherman will work with the outfielders and serve as hitting and third base coach. He will also coordinate the Throwing Academy.

"It was really a brainstorm of Coach Hannah's," Sherman said of the Academy. "And with the support of the athletic department we're going to get it started."

The academy will provide instruction and rehabilitation. The instruction will be for players of all positions from ages 10-18. The rehab, coordinated with physicians and physical therapists, could possibly benefit every level of players up to the major leagues.

Langan to replace Hamlett at quarterback

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST SPORTS EDITOR

The University of Delaware football team will have a different quarterback to start Saturday's game at Villanova.

Following Delaware's 31-7 setback at the hands of William & Mary in the opener, Coach Tubby Raymond decided to give junior Keith Langan a start this week after sophomore starter Leo Hamlett completed just 3-of-11 passes for 27 yards and an interception and gained just 35 yards on the ground.

"The game prompted us to make serious changes," said Delaware Coach Tubby Raymond. "The most obvious is to look at Langan as starting at quarterback."

"It's something we've thought about. We don't want everyone to start thinking that if you don't immediately play well you'll be yanked but Langan played well in the preseason and deserves a chance to be looked at."

Raymond, though, was quick to add that Hamlett's performance wasn't the sole reason for last week's defeat.

"In no way is Leo responsible for us losing the game," Raymond said. "We're not going to discard Leo. We're going to need him - we may even need him [against Villanova]."

Langan, filling in for injured Dale Fry, started six of the Hens' last seven games last season, completing 37-of-79 passes for 756 yards. The 6-foot, 3-inch junior threw seven touchdowns and six interceptions. He also rushed for 363 yards (4.5 yards per carry) and five touchdowns.

Langan's best passing performance came in Delaware's 48-10 over Richmond last Nov. 13. He completed 8-of-12 passes for 241 yards and three touchdowns.

Nova next for Hens

► HENS from 1B

Wildcats finished last in the conference in rushing. This year, though, Nova has gained 170 yards against Fordham and, more impressively, 214 against a good Liberty team.

Sophomore quarterback Erik Pearson has also been impressive, completing 38-of-64 passes (59%) with two touchdowns and one interception.

"He's a good quarterback," Talley said of his signal-caller. "He has a great arm and at 6-foot, 3-inch and 215 pounds, he's a good runner."

"We probably should've played him more last year but we went with the senior (Brad Parpan). [Pearson] is showing a lot of poise this year. He's a good player and a quality young man."

Defensively, Villanova has been buoyed by Delaware native and Penn State transfer A.J. Burawski. The junior inside linebacker has picked up an interception in each of the first two games.

Burawski has also led a solid defense against the run. The Wildcats have given up just 132 yards on the ground in the first two games combined.

"They're still a lot of questions to be answered about Villanova football," Talley said of his 2-0 start. "Fordham was in a different league. The Yankee Conference teams are much better than that. Liberty, though, is a good football team. They are probably mid-to-upper level Yankee Conference team."

"It's a totally different league now. We have to play Delaware and Boston University back-to-back. We'll find out pretty quickly."

Talley isn't thinking any less of Delaware based on the first-game loss to William & Mary.

"I was really surprised at the score," he said. "Delaware looked like it dominated the game - especially in the first half. But then some big plays killed them in the second half."

"I like their team speed. Both quarterbacks played well last year against us and both played great in the playoffs. And I know they'll come in here looking for a very strong performance."

NOTES - Delaware will be playing its sixth straight game on the road...Delaware has won the last four games against Villanova and eight of the last nine...The Hens have won four straight games at Villanova...Seven of the last 12 meetings have been decided by four points or less...Nine of the top 20 teams in the Sports Network I-AA poll lost last weekend.

GIFT
CERTIFICATE
AT ANY

PARTICIPATING MERCHANT

1. Read carefully all of the ads on this Football Contest page. Games will be found in the ads. Write the name of the team you think will win in each of the 15 games on the Entry Blank provided. You may predict a TIE game by writing the word "TIE" opposite the games you think will end in a TIE. Xerox copies and facsimiles will be disqualified. No purchase necessary.

2. "TIE BREAKERS": Guess the total score of game No. 15. Score will be used to determine the winner if more than 1 person guesses the most winning teams.

3. Fill in your name, address and phone number at the bottom of the entry blank. Only one entry per person. Chesapeake Publishing employees and immediate families are not eligible.

4. Mail your entry to: FOOTBALL CONTEST, Newark Post, 153 E. Chestnut Hill Rd., Newark, DE. 19713 or bring to The Newark Post.

5. All entries must be received by 5 p.m. (closing time) Friday prior to game dates.

6. A $50 Gift Certificate, redeemable at any participating Newark Post FOOTBALL CONTEST merchant will be given to the winner of each week's contest. In the event of a "TIE" for winners, the $50 Gift Certificate will be divided among those persons typing. Winner will be announced in edition following the games.

WRITING An Ad

- Start your ad with what you are selling.
- Be descriptive. List your item's best features.
- Avoid abbreviations. Too many abbreviations can confuse the reader.
- Always state the price of an item. If you are flexible on price, include "negotiable" or "best offer".
- Complete your ad with a phone number and the hours in which you will receive calls.
- Including the word "please" in your ad increases responses.

Ad changes and policies

Please check your ad the first day to see that all information is correct. This will ensure your ad is exactly what you want readers to see. Call us the very first day your ad appears to make any changes or corrections. By doing this we can credit you for the first day if an error occurred. The newspaper's financial responsibility, if any, for errors of any kind is limited to the charge for the space for one day.

The publisher wants to do everything possible within the confines of good taste and legal constraints to help you advertise your products or services to your best advantage. The newspaper does reserve the right to edit or reject any copy or illustration that does not meet the newspaper's standards of acceptance. We make every effort to ensure that our advertisers are reputable. However, we welcome your comments and suggestions concerning any of our advertisers. Call Classified and ask for the manager.

How To Save Money On Your Family's Clothing

- Buy color-coordinated clothing which can be mixed and matched.
- Buy all-season styles, fabrics and colors when possible.
- Buy clothes of a design that will stay in style
- Look for quality fabric and good construction in clothing.
- Choose clothes with simple trim that is of good quality and requires the same care as the rest of garment.
- Before buying a garment, check fabric labels and care instructions. Is it wash-and-wear? Can it be dried in the dryer? Avoid clothing that requires special care such as dry cleaning.
- Read and follow care instructions to make clothes last longer.
- Dress up or modify an outfit you already own. Accessories can add a new look to last year's wardrobe for a minimal cost.
- Store clothes properly to protect from sun, moths, mildew and stretching.

Just For You

SENIOR CITIZEN SERVICE DIRECTORY

KEEPING YOUR COOL IN THE HEAT

KEEP COOL. Spend as much time as you can in cooler surroundings, such as a cooler room in your home, an air conditioned shopping mall, senior center, public library or movie.

AIR CONDITIONING can provide lifesaving relief from heat stress, especially if you have a medical condition like heart disease.

COOLING WITH FANS. Fans can draw cool air into your home at night or help to provide good indoor air circulation during the day. Air movement reduces heat stress by helping to remove extra body heat. (When it is extremely hot, a fan may cause you to gain body heat by blowing very hot air over your body.)

BATHS AND SHOWERS. Cool baths or showers (with water temperature around 75°F) provide amazing relief from the heat. Cool water removes extra body heat 25 times faster than cool air.

CLOTHING. Wear as little as possible when you are at home. Lightweight, light colored, loose fitting clothing is more comfortable in hot weather. Cotton is very comfortable. Wear a hat or use a parasol or umbrella to protect your head and neck when you are outdoors.

DRINK OFTEN. In hot weather, your body needs more water. Don't wait until you are thirsty, because your body needs more fluid than thirst will indicate. By the time you feel thirsty you may already be dangerously low on water.

- Drink often and in reasonable amounts. Don't try to drink a lot of coffee or tea. They are all right in moderation, but water is your best bet.
- If you have a disease, a medical condition, or a problem with body water balance, check with your doctor for advice on how much water you should drink in hot weather.

SLOW DOWN. Take it easy, especially at the start of hot weather when your body is less prepared for the heat. Physical activity produces body heat.

WATCH WHAT YOU EAT. Avoid hot foods and heavy meals. They add heat to your body. Try using your stove less. Cook your meals during the cooler part of the day.

WATCH SALT USE. Check with your doctor before you increase the amount of salt or potassium in your diet. Do not take "salt tablets" without your doctor's permission.

AVOID ALCOHOL. Alcohol interferes with your body's fight against heat stress. It can put a strain on your heart.

PUBLIC NOTICE
CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM
PUBLIC PARTICIPATION MEETINGS

The Council on Transportation and the Metropolitan Planning Organizations (MPO's) for New Castle and Kent Counties are jointly sponsoring three meetings to solicit public input in the preparation of DelDOT's Capital Improvement Program (CIP) beginning with Fiscal Year 1996. Interested citizens are encouraged to attend any of the meetings and to provide their suggestions on shaping Delaware's future transportation program. This series of meetings will provide a variety of opportunities to discuss the existing Capital Improvement Program, the MPO's preliminary draft Transportation Improvement Program as well as bicycle and pedestrian issues, transit services, roadway/bridge improvements and the statewide long-range transportation plan. COT and MPO representatives, along with DelDOT support staff, will be available to listen to comments and discuss proposed plans and projects.

Each meeting will have an informal workshop session at the start, followed by an auditorium session. A court reporter will be available during both sessions to record formal comments. Interested persons are also invited to submit written comments during the public meeting process and these also will be included in the formal record of the CIP meetings. Another series of meetings will be scheduled in early 1995 at which time draft CIP and the MPO's TIP documents will be prepared for review and comment.

The meetings will be held in:

- * Sussex County at Del Tech's Georgetown Campus Auditorium on Thursday, September 15, 1994. Workshop session - 5:30 p.m., Auditorium session - 7:00 p.m.
- * Kent County at Central Middle School - Dover on Wednesday, September 21, 1994. Workshop session - 5:30 p.m., Auditorium session - 7:00 p.m.
- * New Castle County at Del Tech's Stanton Campus Auditorium on Thursday, September 29, 1994. Workshop session - 5:30 p.m., Auditorium session - 7:00 p.m.

The Council on Transportation is composed of citizen representatives from every county in the state. The members are appointed by the Governor. The MPO's are composed of representatives from state, county and local governments, and citizen and technical representatives. Mandated by Subsection 8409, Chapter 84, Title 29 of the Delaware Code, the meetings are designed to ensure that the public has ample opportunity to participate in the planning process.

If requested in advance, DelDOT will make available the services of an interpreter for the hearing impaired. If an interpreter is desired, please make the request by phone or mail to DelDOT.

Questions, comments or written material can be submitted to: Michele C. Ackles, Manager, Public Relations, Department of Transportation, P.O. Box 778, Dover, Delaware 19903, or call 1-800-652-5600.
