Coverdale Defeats Foster in Lone Fight in City Election

Councilman From Eastern District Wins Battle
For Reelection 265 to 230; Johnson,
Durnall, Rankin In

By a majority of 35 votes, William Coverdale retained his position of city councilman from the eastern district in the only contest in Newark municipal election, held Tuesday.

Coverdale was elected by a vote of 265 to 230 in his second term over Thomas Foster, official of the National Vulcanized Fibre Company and vice-president of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, who was seeking his first local municipal office.

Mayor Wallace M. Johnson, Frank Durnall and Carl Rankin, councilmen from the middle and western districts, respectively were unopposed in their bid for reelection.

Although no contest prevailed in the middle and western districts, Durnall received 40 votes, while Rankin was named on 48 ballots. Mayor Johnson received a total of 444 votes in the three districts.

Due to the fact that no office was at stake except in the one district, a general lack of interest had prevailed throughout the city concerning the election. The main point of interest concerning the balloting was at the time of filing for the offices when Coverdale threatened legal action regarding the qualifications of two of the candidates. It was Coverdale's opinion that Foster and Rankin were not acceptable candidates for office since they had not registered to vote prior to filing.

The Newark Election Board, however, ruled that since the two candidates did register on the final day designated, then they were qualified. When the mayor, at a subsequent meeting of city council, failed to allow Coverdale to discuss the matter, the councilmen from the eastern district threatened to take the matter to court so far nothing has developed in the matter.

Scrap Metal Collection Will Finish Week-Long Campaign To Clean Up, Paint Up City

A scrap metal drive on Saturday by the Boy Scouts of Troop 53 and 56 will conclude the week-long clean up—paint up—fix up campaign here.

Residents are requested to place all scrap metal along the curbs and are urged not to include tin cans as they are not usable as scrap metal.

Mrs. T. L. Cairns, chairman of the campaign sponsored by the Newark Branch, American Association of University Women, announced this week that the community is indebted to several local merchants and organizations for their aid in this drive.

Newark Lumber Company and Farrier Motor Company have contributed trucks to be used to augment the city trucks in picking up the scrap. The Newark Century Club contributed $15 to be used to print flyers which were distributed to all homes in the area. Boy Scout Troops 55, 56, and 70 have taken an active part in the drive along with Girl Scouts of Newark.

'Fun For All' Theme Of Gala PTA Fair

Prizes and Surprises Listed
For April 25

Come right this way, folks! This is it. Step closer for the Hall of Horrors. Of course it's full of thrills. If you are an expert shot, stop by the popcorn range. If you are an ardent plunger, come to the pool table. If you are a true-to-life top player in this part of the country in an exhibition match, perhaps your game is plying pennies. That's all there for you, too. Then if you are a former Newark High School basketball star, you may wish to show your kids how you drop a few in.

If you are a class act, you may wish to try your can on fishing in the tank. Or a few bean bags. If you are a tiny tot there will be a place for you to play with little friends and enjoy suckers, of course.

Try guessing your girl's weight. But this is only the very start of a long list of games of skill, fun and excitement which you will find packed into the hours, 7 to 10 on April 25 at the Newark PTA Fun Fair which will be held in the main school building on Academy Street.

There will be all sorts of prizes and surprises for all the family from Joey to grandpop. Proceeds from this gala affair will go to the PTA account for next year. The real purpose of the Fair is, of course, not FUNDS but FUN.

Bible Presbyterian Church Sponsors Sunrise Service

There will be an Easter Sunrise service again this year at the High School athletic field. The time is 6:30 A.M.

For the past two years the Bible Presbyterian Church of Newark has sponsored this Easter Morning service. Now once more it is offered as a community service that all may enjoy the Easter hymns and hear the Easter Message of Christ's resurrection from the dead.

Special music will be offered by the choir. The message will be given by the pastor of the Bible Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Hayes T. Henry.

The public is invited to attend.

City Solicitor John P. Sinclair announced this week that a claim by the Danita Hosiery Company against the city of Newark for a refund on electric power consumed from June 1947 to December 1949 had been settled for $11,000.

The local company presented the claim against the city back in October, claiming that a defective meter located at the plant on S. Chapel Street had caused the overcharge in electric rates.

At that time an investigation was made by city officials and Councilman Carl Rankin admitted that the meter had been found to be defective, but stated that his calculations had placed the overcharge at approximately $3,000. City council then authorized the city solicitor to negotiate with the company in an attempt to compromise on an agreeable settlement.

It was also announced at the last meeting of city council that the city of Newark and the State Highway Commission had reached and signed an agreement regarding the permanent maintenance of various thoroughfares in Newark. Under the terms of this agreement the state will take over the upkeep of such thoroughfares as Main Street, North Chapel Street, New London Avenue, and South College Avenue. This latest agreement states that in addition to minor repairs, the state will, when necessary, resurface or rebuild these streets.

There has been no further development in the matter of the proposed extension of the dual highway to Wilmington to connect with E. Main Street. A delegation recently visited Dover to register a protest over this proposed extension. As an alternative, it was suggested that the state consider construction, at this time, of a part of the proposed beltway around the city. The matter is being considered by the State Highway Commission.

India's New Ambassador Will Attend Conference On Campus

India's new ambassador to the United States, Binay Ranjan Sen, will arrive some of the problems that have made his country prey of Communism at the Third Delaware Conference on World Economic Development.

The talks, sponsored by the Institute for Inter-American Study and Research of the University of Delaware, will be given on the Newark campus April 24 and 25. The public is invited to attend all sessions of the two day conference.

The ambassador, who succeeds Mme. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit in Washington, is no stranger to the United States. He first came to this country in 1947—the year India won her independence from Great Britain—as embassy minister.

At the same time, he represented the Calcutta Government in several United Nations agencies and became known in official circles as "The Midnight Minister" because he always took the midnight train between New York and Washington "to save time."

The youthful looking ambassador, who is 54, has been in government service for 30 years. He held various administrative and secretariat positions under the Bengal Government, including that of revenue secretary. In 1943 he became director-general of food in the government of India; in 1945 he was appointed secretary to the Department of Agriculture.

After serving as India's minister to Washington and delegate to the United Nations from 1947 to 1950, the six-foot, 175-pound officer was named ambassador to Italy, a position he filled until his present assignment.

Sen has maintained keen interest in this nation's democratic institutions and affairs. He revealed that he finds American frankness "quite characteristic."

"In other countries," he said, "one finds social inhibitions which have prevailed for centuries."

Commenting on the present tax investigations by both the Congress and the Executive branch of the government, the ambassador declared, "It is a sign of a healthy country when one can question the activities of government officials."

But, he advised in quoting Mahatma Gandhi, "If you meet any evil don't condemn the man, condemn the evil." Sen is married and has three children, the eldest of whom is a student at Hood College, Frederick, Maryland.

Driver Education Called Way To Decrease Traffic Deaths

More than 300,000 years of life were wiped out by traffic accidents that claimed victims between the ages of 15 and 25 years last year, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies declared today in urging driver education for every high school student in the nation as a major step toward reducing the constantly increasing toll of death and injury in automobile accidents.

Pointing out that the vast majority of more than 6,500 youths in the 15 to 24 age group killed in 1950 were either drivers or passengers and included only several hundred pedestrians, the Association's accident prevention department called for prompt and effective efforts to extend the benefits of driver education to every high school student. At present about 44 percent of all students eligible for such training, or less than five in every 10, are enrolled in such classes, according to the Association, and only about 38 percent of the nation's schools now offer courses in driver education.

"The average life span of the youthful victims of automobile accidents in 1950 was 46 years," said Merrill C. Yost, the Association's director of education. "Relatively few of these victims were pedestrians, perhaps from five to 10 percent. Nearly all of the young men and women killed were either driving or riding in automobiles that were wrecked on the streets and highways."

The aggregate life expectancy of this group of more than 6,500 young men and women between 15 and 25 years of age killed in automobile accidents last year was more than 300,000 years—nearly a third of a million years of useful life as American citizens wiped out in one year by inexperience and careless driving."

Mr. Yost said a study of traffic accidents by age of drivers, made in 1949 and based on reports of 28 state traffic authorities, clearly shows the high incidence of serious accidents among drivers under 25. Drivers of this age group comprised 28 percent of the 37,000 drivers of all ages involved in fatal accidents and 26 percent of those in non-fatal accidents in the 28 states studied," he said. As drivers under 25 comprise about 14 percent of the total driving population, it is evident that their record in both fatal and non-fatal accidents is nearly twice as bad as it should be in relation to the group's percentage of all drivers. Through driver education courses a determined effort is being made to improve the tragic accident record of younger drivers."

Terming high school driver education one of the most significant long-range highway safety programs undertaken in recent years," Mr. Yost said such education offers one of the most encouraging answers to the growing problem of traffic accidents. When students are given the opportunity to become safe drivers through formal courses in high schools, he declared, their chances of avoiding fatal or serious accident are usually three times better than those of boys and girls who are not school-trained drivers.

"When parents and a community pour thousands of dollars into the education of each student, it makes sense to insist that the safe operation of a motor vehicle is one of the lessons each student learns," said Mr. Yost. "In modern America the average youngster is destined to spend much of his or her later life behind the wheel of a car and there is an even chance of becoming involved in an accident before he or she dies. Driver education is not an educational 'frill' as some uninformed persons believe. It saves lives and prevents injuries."

"If the schools in your community give driver education courses, be sure that your children enroll and thus help to safeguard their future against a tragic automobile accident. If your schools do not, find out why and demand that they do. It costs very little and its rewards are very great."

In 1951, 662,370 students completed driver education courses in American high schools, an increase of 100,000 over 1950. However, the 1951 driver training graduates comprised only about one percent of the nation's total driving population. Driver education can make its greatest contribution to highway safety, Mr. Yost said, when all high school students receive it.

'Pinocchio' Selected As Children's Play

Will Be Performed Here For Newark Children

The Children's Theatre Play "Pinocchio" has been selected by the E 32 Players of the University of Delaware for their fifth annual tour of Delaware communities.

The show will open on April 23 and 24 with performances in Mitchell Hall at the University for the benefit of the Children's Program of the Recreation Department in Washington, D.C. under the sponsorship of the Soroptimists Club. Beginning April 30, the tour of the downstate towns will begin with performances at Middletown, Dover, Caesar Rodney, Bridgeville, Georgetown, Lewes, Seaford, and Easton, Maryland. Last year's performances played to 7,000 children and an even greater audience is anticipated this year.

With Alfalfa Seed...

YIELD COUNTS NOT COSTS!

It is not the price you pay per pound of alfalfa seed that really counts, but the yield per acre at harvest time. Often you can purchase unadapted seed at 5c to 10c per pound less than Southern States adapted, known-origin alfalfa seed. But this $1.00 to $2.00 per acre saving means nothing if you lose a single cutting on your entire crop.

So for bigger yields, and sure yields... use Southern States adapted, known-origin Alfalfa Seed. You're certain of a profitable crop when you sow Southern States!

Sweet Corn Planted Now Ready July 4

New Early Hybrids Best For Home Garden

If you plant sweet corn on April 15, you can have corn on the cob by July 4th.

Sweet corn variety tests at the University of Delaware Agricultural Experimental Station in 1951 found that two new yellow hybrids are earlier than any tested so far. They are Gold Mine and Sun-Up. Their ears are small, but still good size for the extra-early varieties. E. M. Rahn, associate professor, recommends Gold Mine and Sun-Up for home and small scale market garden plantings in 1952.

Varieties that follow these early types by about five days are: North Star, Seneca Dawn, and Golden Rocket. They are more vigorous and produce larger ears. Carmelcross, Gold Rush, and Golden Jewel mature about five days later. Then come two good new varieties: Hoosier Gold and Pilgrim.

Good late varieties are Golden Cross Bantam, Seneca Chief, Tendermost, Illinois Golden No. 21, and Golden Bounty. Good late varieties with less quality but greater vigor, are: Lochief, loans, Aristogold Bantam Evergreen, Goldenrain, Erie Golden Security, Victory Golden, and Flagship.

A summary of the variety tests conducted at the Delaware Agricultural Experimental Station will be available from county agricultural agents soon. Tomatoes, potatoes, snapbeans, sweet corn, cantaloupes, cucumbers, and watermelons are included in the report.

That history repeats itself has surely proven true in the Lewis W. Colmery Sr. family with regard to offices in the Knights of the Golden Eagle. Last Saturday Wallace L. Colmery was elected Grand Chief of the Grand Castle of Delaware and he is the third generation in line to have this honor. His father Laurence B. Colmery was elected to this office on the exact same date just 23 years ago. His grandfather, Lewis W. Colmery Sr. served in that capacity prior to that time. Mr. L. W. Colmery is at present a national officer being supreme keeper of exchequer while L. B. Colmery will assist his son as master of records. The Colmerys Sr. have lived in this section for many years. Mr. L. B. Colmery now resides at Richardson Park and his son at Stanton.

Miss Margaret Woodward of Limestone Road, a student at the University of Delaware, spent the past week-end with a classmate in Westfield, N. J.

Little courtesies, like carrying your classmates' schoolbooks, help make life happier.

Consideration for the other fellow is the basis of good party-line telephone service, too. If you are always courteous on the telephone, you're sure to find your party-line neighbors the same. Remember the three R's of party-line courtesy — Relinquish the line as soon as possible when you hear others try to use it; Replace the receiver gently when you find the line in use; Regulate your calls so that others may use the line in-between.

YELLOWJACKET HIGHLIGHTS

By the Journalism Class
Editor, Arthur Boulden

By Peter Mahanna

Dolores Lloyd, a junior honor student at Newark High School, has recently been given a special recognition for her achievements in raising poultry. An award was made to her as a representative of 4-H by the Delaware State Poultry Improvement Association.

When interviewed recently by members of the journalism class, Dolores talked freely of her interest in raising chickens.

She told the group that she has never lived on a farm but is a typical city girl. She dated her interest in poultry with her joining a local 4-H Club three years ago.

Last year she was the winner of the country poultry improvement award. In her three years in 4-H Dolores has raised New Hampshire Reds, Cornish Hens and Barrd Rocks. In addition to her recent honors, Dolores has exhibited successfully at the Harrington Fair and participated in judging contests at the University and throughout the county.

Dolores plans to enter the University of Delaware upon graduation from Newark High School. Her interest is in following a course in home economics.

Girls' Softball Team Starts Practice

Girls' 1952 softball practice started last week, coached by Miss Ann Wooten and Miss Ellen Fitts. Twenty-nine girls came out for the first practice. Because of rain the girls remained in the auditorium to talk over plans. Two teams were chosen, led by two veterans of last year's team. They are Bev Haman and Nancy Trivitts.

Veterans remaining from last year's team are Laura Reed, Helen Starkey, Peggy Lockard, June Moore, Nancy Trivitts, Bev Haman, Johanna Miller, Marcia Warwick and Nancy Lewis.

New girls out for the team this year are Nancy Hopkins, Carol Thorp, Edith Streets, Cissie Murphy, Jill Holmiste, Carol Meade, Carolyn Jones, Norma Gray, Nancy Penneck, Stephanie Klahr, Peggy Cuane, and Phyllis Harrison.

Six Newark Students Hear Dewey at Forum

Six students from Newark High School's newspaper, the "Yellow Jacket Buzz", attended the "Herald Tribune Forum" on March 22, held in the Hotel Astor in New York City. The topic discussed was "The World We Want," Governor Thomas E. Dewey made the guest address.

The students selected from the "Yellow Jacket Buzz" to attend were as follows: Faye Meredith, former editor; Margaret Frye, present editor; Amy Lovett, associate editor; reporters, Jane Walton, James Seydell, and Percival Roberts; Miss Jeannette Thoroughgood and Miss Dorothy Markert accompanied the group in the capacity of chaperones.

Delegates from sixteen foreign countries were represented at the forum. These delegates were from Asia and the Middle East. The New York City Board of Education TWA and Pan American Airways made it possible for these students to attend the forum.

Seniors Receive Name Cards

1952 seniors of Newark High School have received their name cards from several sources such as Baltimore, Elkton, and Wilmington this week, and have exchanged them with members of their class and also given them to other students who enjoy collecting them.

The purpose of the name cards is to help the students remember their classmates. In addition cards may be put in graduation invitations and announcements.

This issue of the News comes to you shortly before Easter, a high point in the year for all of us. To some it means an opportunity to cast off the dull, drab winter wardrobe and don new apparel. (Wonderful what a lift a new hat does give to a woman!)

To many, the Easter season, with the revival of life in nature, brings deeper faith and hope of life eternal. Visits to Washington are always a pleasure at this time of year, to see the beautiful Japanese Cherry blossoms.

Among those who plan to be in Washington this week is Mrs. David Eastburn of Red Mill Road, Mrs. Eastburn is attending the Annual Assembly of American Colonists being held at the Mayflower Hotel on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. She is a Delegate from the Delaware State Society.

Mrs. Thomas Davis and children, Tommy and Bobby, of Hillendale Farm are visiting Mrs. Davis' sisters in West Orange, New Jersey, this week-end.

Many residents of the Lumbrook area are pleased that their neighborhood is to continue to be a restricted residential zone.

Newark City Council last week turned down a request for the establishment of a used-car lot and package liquor store on the property of the Rector Hotel.

This action of Council resulted from the protests of some 40 Lumbrook residents some of whom declared that their property would be offered for sale at once if the request were granted.

Community Good Friday Service

Ministers, members and friends of the Protestant churches in the area near Newark are joining in a beautiful candle-light dramatic service to be held at White Clay Church on Friday at 8:00 p.m.

Wilbert Smith, Executive Secretary of the Wilmington Council of Churches will bring the message.

"Midget Press" Arrives Again

It seems that our elementary grade pupils (Grade 6—Mrs. Marshall's Class) are quite progressive with their mimeographed newspaper. The latest issue has just come over our desk. It represents various phases of journalism including feature writing, news writing, interviewing. Their latest issue has come a long way since it began life last fall.

In the newest edition there are articles about human relations, increase in number of school absences, class studies, movie reviews, puzzles, poems and jokes. The staff of the paper is composed of the following members of grade 6: Rose Ann McMullen, Editor; Barney Field, Associate Editor; Danny Lanning, News Editor; Joe Hitchens, Sports Editor; Lois Hyre, Art Editor.

Student of the Week

Nancy F. Thorp

Nancy, one of the cutest juniors in N.H.S., came to us in her freshman year from Christiana, where she attended school for the first eight years. She seems to like Newark much better than Christiana even though she hasn't spent many years here.

She is majoring in the scientific course and selects chemistry as her favorite subject; she also finds time to participate in a couple of activities such as driver's course, and girls leaders clubs.

Nancy is an active member of 4-H and she chooses sewing as a hobby.

For sport there is nothing like swimming for Nancy. Clothing for school should be casual she comments. "Going steady is simply fine," replied Nancy with a big smile. Ask Elwood; he should know after three years.

Nancy was born June 10, 1935, in Wilmington, Delaware. She stands 5 feet 5½ inches tall has poppy brown eyes and chestnut hair. She can usually be seen in our school halls with Barbara Thuresson and Audrey Tweed.

After completing her high school education Nancy plans to enter business college.

Homeowners Asked To Select Shrubs With Extreme Care

Many Plants Have Little To Offer After Blooming Period

A decorative shrub sometimes changes from flowering beauty to ugly duckling in the short span of a week. That's why it is best to consider the overall beauty and utility of flowering shrubs and trees. Most have a comparatively short blooming season.

The temptation is great, when considering the beautiful illustrations in the catalogues, to give major attention to the blooming qualities. Not that the blossoms don't have a valuable place on the home grounds, according to L. L. Swanger, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Company. They do, but only in locations where dense foliage is not a requisite.

Major consideration should be given to foliage values, form and texture. The shrub so attractive in flower for a week or ten days in the spring may be a landscape detriment for the remainder of the year, adds Mr. Swanger. Some plants do combine foliage and color value. Notable are hybrid rhododendrons. On the other hand, some highly recommended plants, French lilacs for example, have little to offer beyond gorgeous blossoms.

Selecting flowering shrubs or trees entails so many factors, it is advisable to consult your nurseryman or landscape architect. For instance, the ever popular flowering crabapple comes in a wide assortment, ranging from shrubs to trees of considerable size. Some must be classed as strictly decorative, while others reach tree proportions and may eventually provide shade for terrace or grounds.

As in everything else, it is best to consider the complete picture. Size, color and quality of bloom may be incidental to your year-around landscape needs.

State Reports 600 Accidents Since New Responsibility Law

$347,484 Damages Reported Along With 17 Deaths Since Jan. 1

There were about 600 motor vehicle accidents in Delaware between January 1 and March 15, according to a report filed with Motor Vehicle Commissioner Harold H. Keller by Harry P. Jones, Director of the Financial Responsibility Division of the Vehicle Department.

The present financial responsibility law in Delaware became effective on January 1st after being enacted by the 1951 session of the Legislature and the report just filed by Mr. Jones is the first one under this law.

According to the report 360 motor vehicles figuring in the accidents were out of state cars. Resulting from the total number of accidents were 17 fatalities, 249 persons injured and property damage amounting to $347,484.

The accident reports compiled by Mr. Jones involved only those where damage amounted to more than $100 or where there was personal injury or death.

Mr. Jones estimates that from the reports received thus far from 17 to 20 percent of the motor vehicles involved in the accidents were not covered by liability insurance.

In accordance with the provisions of the law concerning suspension of registration and operator's licenses, Mr. Jones reported that thus far two have been suspended because of failure to report on accidents while at the present time 17 others have received their final fifteen day notice on suspension because of failure to settle accident claims.

Nitrogen Increases Corn Yield Per Acre

Want to grow more corn to the acre? You can do it by putting on a nitrogen sidedressing.

Tests at the University of Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station show that corn yields can be almost doubled by sidedressing with either ammonium nitrate or anhydrous ammonia. The anhydrous material is relatively new, and shows promise as a time and money saver.

The experiments were conducted at the Georgetown Substation, under the supervision of Richard Lindsey and Burton Collins, University soil scientists. In the research plots he plowed down soybeans in the summer of 1950, and a barley cover crop in the spring of 1951. Then 200 pounds per acre of 0-20-20 fertilizer was drilled into the field just before planting, and another 200 pounds of 4-12-8 was applied in the planter.

What are some of the problems that Negro children might face in entering a white school?

How would the elimination of segregation affect the taxpayer?

Questions not covered in the prepared program will be accepted from the audience.

The meeting is scheduled to be held at the New London Avenue School at 6:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

Interesting Women Of Our Community

From time to time there will appear in these pages articles calling the attention of readers to the variety of jobs done in our community by women. Some of them will be familiar to many, while others, alone with their various occupations, are known to only a few. The purpose of these articles is to bring the little-known ones to the attention of the community.

The idea comes from a committee of the Newark Branch, American Association of University Women. This committee, called the Status of Women Committee, has interviewed several women who in its opinion are doing interesting jobs. The committee realized that there are probably many more who would qualify in this category, and if you will contact the group, the committee will consider them for inclusion in this series.

Here in the midst of this growing industrial community, farming, as it did in the past years, still provides a livelihood for some. One of those who make their living from the soil hereabout is Anna Beyerlein Cameron.

Since the death of her husband, Ambrose Cameron, in 1931, Anna Cameron has worked harder than most women, and many men, while supporting herself on a 3-acre tract near Milford Cross Roads.

Mrs. Anna Beyerlein Cameron

Chickens, eggs, and the products of a large garden have provided her with a comfortable living. Each year she starts some 200 chicks in early March, another group in May, and still another in October. Each Friday for years, she has delivered the products of her labor to her customers, often selling 60 dozen eggs a week. In addition to the eggs, she raises and sells asparagus, raspberries and vegetables from her garden.

Delaware Tops Michigan Nine 10-9 For Third Win of Season

Six Run Rally in Seventh Inning, Single Tally in Eighth Enable Blue Hens To Overcome Wolverine Nine

In weather more suitable for football rather than baseball the University of Delaware Blue Hens scored six big runs in the seventh inning and one in the eighth to overcome a strong Michigan baseball team on Friday, Field Monday evening, 10 to 9. It was the third win of the season for the charges of Shack Martin, who have dropped two and tied one previous contest.

Dick Goldberg, second center fielder, supplied the big blow in the seventh inning rally when he blasted out a six-run outburst by the winners. Delaware scored the winning run in the eighth when Jim Monymaker scored on a wild throw to first by Michigan's Sabucko on a grounder by Don Carmichael.

Pete Carlson, second Hen moundman, who allowed six hits during his four innings on the mound was the winning pitcher. Stan Wisniewski, who had the Hen batters well in control until the big seventh inning, was the loser.

Dick Goldberg, with a home run and two singles, and Jim Monymaker, with three singles, led the Delaware batting attack.

Delaware's next game is scheduled for Saturday afternoon on the home diamond when the Blue Hens will play host to Drexel.

In the short space of a week, two thoroughbreds at the Laurel Race Course died. In itself, there is nothing so phenomenal about the deaths but in this case the victims were half-brothers bred by Harold H. Polk of Alexandria, Va.

Late last week, a three-year-old gelding by Piping Rock-Baymella named Oliver's Dream, a member of Polk's stable trained by Eddie Yowell, broke his right front ankle and had to be destroyed following a workout.

Early this morning, a four-year-old gelding named Pal's Dream, by Jimmy-Baymella, owned by the Kay-Gee Stables and trained by William O. Hicks, died of pneumonia.

Gustave S. Smith's Teddy, narrowly beaten by Brookmeade Stable's Sky Ship in the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park, arrived this morning from Florida to keep his engagement in the $20,000 Chesapeake Stakes here on April 12. The chestnut colt is trained by Karl Horvath, a former rider.

William Jennings, veteran Maryland racing official, worked throughout Saturday's program in his role of paddock judge with a broken shoulder suffered before the first race when a horse knocked him against a stall partition. His place was taken by Vince Mara, Jr.

Mrs. E. duPont Weir's Star of Persia arrived from Camden, S. C. to join the horses trained by Charlie Shaw. The latter also received Williamsburg and Inni sFree from Jim Ryan's Pennsylvania farm.

Montpelier's Pintor, winner of an overnight race here and then second to Cinda in last Saturday's Cherry Blossom Stakes, will be a starter in the Experimental Handicap No. 2 at Jamaica on Saturday, April 12, according to Trainer Dion K. Kerr, Jr.

Eisenhower, Taft In Ten Horse Field At Laurel On April 17

Presidential Sweepstakes Will Find Noted Politicians On The Run

A ten horse field including a horse named for today's Number One political question, "Truman's Choice," were entered today in the first running of the Presidential Sweepstakes at Laurel Race Course.

Scheduled to be held on Thursday, April 17, for the benefit of the United Cerebral Palsy Fund, the race has drawn a good field comprised of every announced and unannounced candidate for the presidential nomination from both major parties.

In addition to "Truman's Choice," the candidates who will compete in the special event on which the public will not be allowed to wager are: Taft, Eisenhower, Warren, Stassen, MacArthur, Kefauver, Russell, Kerr and a tenth horse called, simply, Dark Horse.

"Because President Truman has announced that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself," Mrs. Henry Rowland, regional director of the United Cerebral Palsy Fund announced, "it was something of a task to find all the announced and unannounced candidates for the Presidency and fit the leading names into a race limited to ten or eleven horses."

"After much discussion, the committee felt that the most prominently mentioned ones in political circles. Since President Truman has yet to designate his personal choice for the job, the committee felt that it would be only fitting to name one entry 'Truman's Choice.' We also added a horse called 'Dark Horse,' just to take care of all the rest of the political field."

Charles McLennan, racing secretary here, reports the arrival of a filly foal by My Request-Chinnella at his Cowpens Farm in Baltimore County. Chinnella is owned by Mrs. McLennan, the former Mary Hirsch.

All mile races on the main track will be limited to ten starters, stakes excepted, for the remainder of the meeting. The move was made as a safety precaution for jockeys and horses.

Montpelier's Pintor, winner of an overnight race here and then second to Cinda in last Saturday's Cherry Blossom Stakes, will be a starter in the Experimental Handicap No. 2 at Jamaica on Saturday, April 12, according to Trainer Dion K. Kerr, Jr.
