OFFICIALS TO CONSIDER METER ISSUE MONDAY NITE

Decision On Question Is Expected At Council Meet

A final decision as to whether or not Newark will have parking meters at this time will probably be made at the annual meeting of the Town Council, scheduled for next Monday night in the Council offices.

The highly controversial issue will undoubtedly come up for discussion, own officials said this week.

Although several petitions against the ordinance are known to be circulating about the town, none have been formally submitted to the Council as yet it was said. However, it is probable that all written protests and complaints will probably be forthcoming before Monday's session in order that Council members may give full consideration to the problem. There was no indication this week as to what Council's final decision would be.

The controversy over the meters was pushed off here last month, when Council authorized purchase of 125 penny-nickel machines for installation along Main Street and portions of Academy Street. Public discussion raged so strong that Council ordered delivery of the meters delayed until members could sound out public opinion more fully on the question.

Those opposing the meters claim that the present one hour parking law and the free town parking lot are sufficient to handle the town's problem. They point to the little used lot as proof that the overflow of parking is not great. Those favoring the meters say that neither the parking laws or the lot have improved the congestion and claim that the meters are the only fair way of handling the problem.

GIVE XMAS BASKETS TO NEEDY HERE

Collections Sponsored By Legion Post

Needy families in the community were insured a bright and happy Christmas last week through the contributions of their more fortunate neighbors here.

In the spirit of the season, local residents responded generously to a collection of food, money and toys for Christmas baskets, which was held last Monday by the J. A. O'Daniel Post, American Legion.

The collection was carried out by Newark Boy Scout Troops 55 and 56 and by the Sea Scouts of Ship 56 under the direction of Scoutmasters J. S. Reinouer, Avery Goddin and John H. Ronin.

The baskets were assembled with the help of the local Auxiliary, assisted by the post's service officer, C. Vernon Steele.

The collection was arranged when visiting Nurse, Miss Alice Leak, and hers, furnished service officer Steele with the names of families here deserving the help of the community. The O'Daniel Post donated several baskets.

YULE PARTY AT ROTARY

Fifty Guests Attend Fete

A highly enjoyable evening was had at the Newark Rotary Club session last Monday evening, when about fifty members and their wives gathered for the club's annual Ladies' Night and Christmas Party.

Each guest was presented with a Christmas present on behalf of the club. Allyn Cooch acted as Santa Claus. Following the dinner, the group joined in singing a number of Christmas songs. Program chairman was Newt Rose.

Announcement was made previously that beginning with the January 6 meeting, the club will hold its regular Monday night dinner session in the newly opened community banquet hall of the Academy Restaurant.

Over 1,300,000 New Car Registrations In 1946

New passenger car registration in the United States for the first 10 months of 1946 will total in excess of 1,300,000 when final tabulations are made, according to R. L. Polk & Co., statisticians for the automotive industry.

Figures previously announced by the Automobile Manufacturers' Association disclosed that the assembly plants produced 1,611,931 passenger vehicles during the first 10 months of this year. Of these 103,625 went to foreign markets.

Polk predicted a sharp upsurge in registrations for the final months of the year, reflecting higher production and fast absorption through dealer organizations by purchasers.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX AIDES HERE FOR 5 DAYS

Assistance Offered Local Taxpayers On Filling Forms

Local taxpayers will have an opportunity to secure aid in preparing income tax returns this week and next when representatives of the Internal Revenue Bureau visit here.

The tax advisors will sit at the Newark Trust Company today and tomorrow, January 2 and 3, and at the Farmers Trust Company on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

The Revenue Bureau representatives will visit 25 Delaware towns during the first two weeks in January. It was announced recently by Norman Collison, collector of internal revenue in the Federal Building, Wilmington.

Mr. Collison emphasized that the service was especially intended to aid farmers in preparing their returns.

The schedule of visits for New Castle County is as follows:

Newark: Jan. 2, 3, Newark Trust Co.; Jan. 6, 7 and 8, Farmers Trust Co.; Middletown: Jan. 9, 10 and 13, Delaware Trust Co.; New Castle: Jan. 14, New Castle Trust Co.; Delaware City: Jan. 15, Delaware City National Bank; Odessa: Jan. 9, New Castle County National Bank; St. Georges: Jan. 10, oPost Office.

VET YULE PROGRAM

Staged By Legion Post

Five hundred disabled veterans at the hospital at Perry Point, Md., enjoyed a program of Christmas music, sponsored jointly by the local J. Allison O'Daniel Post, No. 10, American Legion, and by the Tri-State entertainment committee of the American Legion, in the hospital auditorium, on Sunday, December 22.

W. Floyd Jackson, member of the post and past department commander of the American Legion, had charge of the program.

Members of the church choir of the Ebenezer Methodist Church who participated were: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whiteman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Major, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nelson, Mrs. Carl Nelson, Carl Nelson, Jr., Miss Peggy Lauer, and Mr. Lindsay Greenplate.

The choir was led by Mrs. Floyd Jackson and accompanied by Miss Dorothy Hollingsworth. Duets by the Harmony Sisters, Helen and Virginia Morgan of Newark, were particularly appreciated, as were also several violin solos by Valentino Nardo of the O'Daniel Post.

State Dairy Incomes Tops 5 Million Mark

Delaware has 38,000 cows which yearly produce 83,000,000 quarts of milk and bring dairy farmers $5,932,000 in income, a new survey by the Milk Industry Foundation reveals.

Milk production per cow is above pre-war averages and demand for milk and dairy products is strong. As an economical food containing vital components of the diet, the ever-widening use of milk seems destined to bring about an increased scale of milk production on Delaware farms, the foundation says.

Department of Agriculture records for 1945 showed Delaware cows were third in the nation in average production of butterfat.

ADDITIONS TO NEWARK TRUST ARE COMPLETED

Most Modern Equipment Is Installed In 2-Story Annex

The new, two-story addition to the Newark Trust Company is now complete and will be occupied by the bank's Time Sales and Personal Loan Departments, this month. E. F. Matthews, treasurer, announced this week.

Silas W. Pettit, assistant vice-president, is in charge of the department.

The new offices are equipped with the most modern furnishings and lighting. Sound proof rooms and glass bricks are also features of the addition.

Mr. Matthews announces that the new facilities will enable the bank to handle its growing volume of installment loan and Time Sales business more efficiently.

The institution's total resources now exceed $5,000,000, with a capital structure of more than one half million, and it is looking forward to handling the ever-increasing volume of business in this fast growing area of New Castle County and Delaware.

Last year, the Newark Trust Company celebrated its 40th anniversary.

DR. RHODES' SERVICE TO STATE CITED

First To Hold Two Top Posts In Legislature

So far as is known, Dr. George W. Rhodes, of Newark, will be the first member of the State Legislature to have served as Speaker of the House and President Pro-Tem of the Senate, when he assumes the latter post at the opening of the 114th session of the General Assembly on January 7.

The occasion will also mark the beginning of Dr. Rhodes' second consecutive term in the State Senate. The popular Newark resident was chosen President Pro-Tem at a meeting of Republican majority members of the Legislature recently in Wilmington.

During the 1941 session of the Legislature, Dr. Rhodes served as speaker of the House of Representatives of which he was a member and won high praise from the members of both political parties for the manner in which he conducted the affairs of the House during that session.

At the 1943 session of the Legislature he began serving his first term in the State Senate and was reelected for another four year term at the election last month.

SEEK POEMS FOR STATE ANTHOLOGY

Deadline Is January 13 On Entries

The deadline for entries in the eighth annual anthology "Delaware Poets, 1947" is January 13, it was announced this week.

The anthology will be published by the Wilmington Poetry Society. Poems and requests for information should be addressed to the editors of the society at 5 Hillcrest Avenue.

Any Delaware poet is eligible to submit not less than three nor more than seven poems. Previously published work is acceptable. The maximum length for any single composition is 40 lines. Further information may be obtained from David Hudson, 911 Vandever Avenue.

Special prizes, the Wilhelmina Syfrit awards, the authors whose poems have the most universal interest, have been announced. First prize went to Viola Bailey Smith for her poem, "A Prayer to St. Peter." Other awards were made to Doris Inacho, "Revelation," second place; Lydia W. Slocomb, "An Allegory," third place; Helen Humann Geizer, "Parallels," honorable mention.

DELAWARE'S PER CAPITA TAX RETURN TOPS NATION

Average In State Is More Than $1404 Per Person In Year

Delaware leads the nation in the per capita amount of federal internal revenue taxes paid during 1945-46 fiscal year, according to an analysis of federal returns in the state.

While the average per capita total internal revenue collections for the country was $307.03, Delaware, with a population of 266,832, showed an average collection per person of $1,404.94 for the fiscal year ending June 30. Next in line among the states was New York, with a 12,584,912 population, where the per capita amount was $644.79.

John W. Nowland, director of the tax research bureau, Chamber of Commerce, received the statement of federal internal revenue tax returns from Norman Collison, collector for Delaware, and worked out the per capita payments of the states.

Not only did Delaware pay the greatest per capita amount in total internal revenue collections, but was first in the per capita corporation income taxes with $351.36. The second highest was New York with only $85.12 per capita.

Delaware led also in the per capita individual income tax payments, including withholding taxes, with $403.58. The District of Columbia was second with $396.03 and the second state was New York with $291.58.

In the miscellaneous internal revenue tax collections, including excess profits taxes, Delaware was in the lead again with $908.59 per capita, with New York second, with $231.95.

Delaware led in employment taxes paid also with $1.11, with New York second with $20.14.

The total amount of internal revenue collections in Delaware was $402,981,778.91. The bureau collected 99.03 per cent of the total collections, approximately one per cent, in Delaware. Delaware was the twenty-second state in total internal revenue collections.

UNIVERSITY MAY AWARD NEW DEGREES

Plan Doctorates In Chemistry And Chem. Engineering

A recommendation for the establishment at the University of Delaware of a program leading to doctorate degrees in the Departments of Chemical Engineering and Chemistry was presented recently by President William S. Carlson to the University Board of Trustees. This recommendation was based on a report submitted to the president by Dr. Carl J. Rees, chairman of the Committee on Graduate Study and already has faculty approval.

Satisfactory evidence as to the qualifications of these departments for the conduct of doctorate programs has been submitted to the committee, the report stated.

"Although there is no official accrediting agency for doctor's programs," the committee report stated, "members of the visiting committee which accredited the undergraduate program in chemical engineering, as well as other leading chemical engineers, were consulted and have recommended it. Chairmen of Departments of Chemistry in leading colleges have been consulted and they have recommended the step."

"The instructional staffs in these departments, augmented by special lecturers and visiting professors, are found to be of high quality. Regular courses and additional ones offered in extension, to which students have access, compare favorably with those of other colleges. Supporting courses in related departments are amply provided at the university. The library in Chemistry and Chemical Engineering is adequate, and research equipment and resources available for research are for above the average," it was also pointed out in the report.

The proposal to offer instruction in Chemistry and Chemical Engineering at the doctorate level is considered by members of the Committee on Graduate Study as affording an opportunity for the University of Delaware to provide another service to industry and the citizens of the state.

Services On Saturday For Lieut. John Fraser

Lieut. John Fraser, 92, of 79 East Cleveland Avenue, Newark, a member of the regular Army for 45 years, died Christmas Eve at his home. A veteran of the Spanish-American War and World War I, Lieutenant Fraser was connected with the military department of the University of Delaware for 12 years.

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon at the R. T. Jones Funeral Parlor, Dr. A. J. Jackson of Newark Methodist Church, officiated and interment was in White Clay Creek Cemetery.

Lieutenant Fraser is survived by his wife, two son, William J. Fraser, of Newark, and Col. Donald W. Fraser, of West Lynn, Mass.; a daughter, Mrs. Anna Harrison, of Newark, and three grandchildren.

NEW CASTLE HOMEMAKER CLUBS PLAN '47 PROGRAM

Schedule Of Demonstrations For Year Given By County Head

Plans for the 1947 home demonstration program were outlined recently by Mrs. Charles Z. Dulkes, Townsend, president of the New Castle Home Demonstration Council. The program lists subjects which will be demonstrated by Miss Nancy A. Kelly, county home agent at the regular weekly meetings.

The schedule includes January: "Homemakers Outlook for 1947," February: "Hot Bread"; March: "Home Lighting"; April: "Better Business Methods"; May: "Home Freezing Methods"; June: "Use and Care of Sewing Equipment"; and "Pressing"; July: "Color and Accessories for the Home"; September: "The Basic Dress"; October: "Food for Over Forty"; November: "Rug Making."

Also included in the 1947 program are special features which will be participated in by those club members who are interested. There will be a "Farmers' Week" some time in January, during which there will be a "Homemakers Day." In February, Miss Adeline Hoffman is planning clothing schools for beginners in sewing, and in March she plans to hold project schools on making handbags.

In April, Miss Kelly will have pressure cooker clinics so that homemakers may have their pressure cookers gauges tested for accuracy. Also in April the Homemakers Council will hold the Annual Spring Meeting at Newark, May and June promise to be busy months with National Home Demonstration Week to be observed and Short Course and a Kitchen Tour on schedule. Achievement Day, planned for October next year, will climax the year's program. In August the homemakers plan to take time out for picnics and in December they will again hold their annual Christmas parties.

New Home Demonstration Club officers for 1947 are Townsend, president, Mrs. C. M. Gove; vice-president, Mrs. W. L. Robinson; secretary, Mrs. Willard Reed, and treasurer, Mrs. C. N. Pinder. Middletown, president, Mrs. Douglas Earnest; vice-president, Mrs. E. C. Whittington; secretary, Mrs. Herman Allen; treasurer, Mrs. T. Arthur. (Please turn to page 8)

GUARD UNIT RECOGNIZED

New Battalion Headquarters

Lieut. Col. J. James Ashton announced recently that federal recognition for the Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, 736th A. A. Gun Battalion, Delaware National Guard, has been received.

Newark will have a unit in the Battalion when it is fully activated.

Colonel Ashton, who commands the 736th, said the recognition certificate was signed by Col. L. B. Weeks, assistant chief of the National Guard Bureau. The Headquarters Battery of the battalion is headed by Capt. Samuel Grayson.

First Lieut. W. W. Pierce of Wilmington joined the battalion recently. Lieut. Pierce was a platoon leader in Company F, 30th Division, and saw action on the European fronts during World War II. Another newcomer was Donald E. Wilhelm of Holloway Terrace, who enlisted in the headquarters battery.

REVIEW OF WEEKLY EVENTS IN 1946 GIVEN

Record Of Year As Described In Past Issues

The New Year begins on a more sombre note than did 1946. Twelve months ago, the dominant mood was a mingling of thanksgiving over the recent victory, hope for a quick and permanent peace, and bright anticipation of a happy and prosperous "post-war world."

Now, a year later, our mood of thanksgiving has paled somewhat before the constant talk of the "next war," a phrase which once again has become a conversational cliché. Also, our hope for a happy post-war world has gradually faded, following the series of shortages, blackmarkets, inflation scares and production tangles. The phrase "post-war world" has already taken on an ironical connotation, and blame, as is customary in public failures, is tossed back and forth among the various factions and pressure groups which divide the country.

Despite their disillusionment, however, Americans during 1946 seemed scarcely on the verge of poverty, and it was commonly observed that those who complained most of meat "famines," clothing shortages and general hardship seldom seemed ill fed, poorly clothed, or bowed with suffering. Perhaps the one genuine, as distinguished from "headline," hardship Americans as a whole had to endure was the housing shortage.

Still, in the face of the very real hunger and privation suffered by much of the remainder of the world, America's discontent seemed a little out of place—like the complaints of a spoiled rich child, crying because its silver spoon hadn't turned to gold.

Only ripples of this national discontent seemed to disturb the local scene during the year. The shortages were felt; electricity was curtailed once or twice, and young men still left town to join the services, but it was mostly through the headlines and radio that the town identified itself with the rest of the world during one of the most troubled years in the history of mankind.

Local issues were almost as keenly felt as national ones. Perhaps the most important was the referendum proposing funds for a new elementary school building, which was finally approved by the voters. Plans for the structure later had to be tabled due to shortages.

Another question which aroused much public discussion was the proposal for a new town zoning law. The issue still hangs fire. Steps were also taken towards adopting a new town charter, with officials now hoping to have a final draft ready this month. Latest question to stir the town was Town Council's recent move authorizing purchase of 125 parking meters. Public opposition proved so strong that Council has since held up the order temporarily.

Most noteworthy civic project was the summer recreation program carried out by the Newark Recreation Association, a fledgling group formed in 1946, which already boasts an enviable record of community service under its able president Ned McCully.

Signs of business expansion were unmistakable here during the year, with many bright new store fronts blossoming on Main Street. The Newark Lumber Company opened a large new office building. Other establishments which underwent complete remodeling were: Newark Farm and Home Supply, Theo. S. Jones, Len Walbridge and the George L. Martin building. Also large scale additions to the Newark Department Store are now nearing completion, and Peggy Cronin's Victory Shop is being fully renovated. The Newark Trust Company also takes over its new two-story annex this month.

A chronological list of events here during 1946 as they were described in the Post follows:

January

3—Rev. Francis J. Tierney sings first solemn high mass. Elwood wins corn producing honors.

10—T. D. Mylrea honored for war work on rocket testing range. Clothing Drive opened. Geo. Ramsey resigned as Town Engineer. Vernon Steele and Cleaver Price assume posts.

17—Bible Presbyterians open new church. H. D. Harrington installed as V. F. W. commander.

24—P.-T. A. suggests referendum on new school and higher teacher salary proposals. School board approves plans for $300,000 school plant.

31—Dr. J. R. Downes named chairman for Red Cross drive. Urges erection. (Please turn to page 8)

The Sage of Concord had the right idea, good people. Let's set out to make this New Year of 1947 the best one yet, and every day thereafter the best we can make it.

RED CROSS PLANS FOOD PARLEY FOR JANUARY 13

Conference For Public To Open Nutrition Service Plan

Mrs. Edith M. Barber, widely known writer, columnist and consultant on food and nutrition will be the speaker at a public conference to be sponsored by the Delaware Chapter, American Red Cross on Monday, January 13, in the Wilmington Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

The parley will open an extension program of the nutrition service of the Delaware Chapter, aimed at bringing to the people of the state the latest in nutrition developments.

The first in a series of conferences which will enlarge the field of nutrition to include public information as well as teaching, has been announced by Mrs. Morton E. Bleich, director of nutrition at the Delaware Chapter.

Special effort is being made to invite all dietitians, and nutritionists of the state, but the program has been designed primarily for the public, Mrs. Bleich said.

Miss Barber will discuss the topic, "An Interpretation of Nutrition—1947 Style." Author of several books, Miss Barber is co-author of the standard work, "Nutrition in Health and Disease." In 1938 she was awarded the New York Newspaper Women's Club prize for the best women's page feature of the year in New York newspaper. Each summer she gives a course on the "History of Cookery," at Teachers College, Columbia University.

The speaker is a graduate of Drexel Institute and Columbia University and has taught cookery in Philadelphia high schools. During World War II she was a member of the New York City Food Administration Committee.

Miss Barber is president of the New York Newspaper Women's Club and a former president of the Greater New York Home Economics Association and the New York Home Economics Women in Business.

Football-minded fans will enjoy a gala revue of their favorite sport on New Year's Day when nearly a dozen attractions will bid for spectator and radio interest throughout the nation with most any section of the country you like participating.

Naturally, most interest in and around Newark will likely center on our favorite Blue Hens first sectional meeting with the Rollins College Tars, in the Cigar Bowl inaugural, at Tampa, Florida, although the Rose Bowl, annually the number one attraction on New Year's Day, and the Sugar Bowl, regarded as number two, will undoubtedly be followed avidly by all dial-tweeters.

Personally, we will be keenly interested in the Tennessee Volunteers battle with formidable Rice—in the Orange Bowl, at Miami. Outside of these four games, we haven't much personal interest and whichever team wins will be O. K. with us.

But, just to make it interesting . . . and to see how nearly our predictions coincide with your own—and the final outcome of the games to be played, we'll venture opinions on the winners of the eleven foremost conflicts scheduled for Wednesday.

Figuring that it'll be tough enough to pick an eleven team parlay, we'll forego the usual practice of predicting the scores and be satisfied with the winners at any score.

For the benefit of the wagering fraternity, we don't believe in these selections strongly enough to gamble (much) on them . . . they're published only as our personal choices and we have no illusions about our sports forecasting ability. In the order of their national importance the Bowl games and selections are:

Rose Bowl—Big Ten champions, Illinois versus the University of California at Los Angeles. We'll take the UCLAs over the injured riddled Illinois.

Sugar Bowl—Georgia versus North Carolina. Our choice is Georgia in the best game of the day. Trippi & Co. are just too tough for the Tarheels even with Mr. Justice.

Orange Bowl—We like Tennessee very much and will be pulling for them but really believe that Rice will tumble the Volunteers, putting judgement ahead of sentiment.

Cotton Bowl—Louisiana State versus Arkansas. We like L. S. U., which, we think, has one of the best teams in the South this year.

Oil Bowl—Georgia Tech versus St. Mary's. The Atlanta engineers will make rambling wrecks out of the Gaels.

Sun Bowl—Cincinnati versus Virginia Polytechnical Institute. Here's a toss-up in our opinion but we'll string along with Cincinnati purely on the basis of their early season victory over Indiana and V. P. I.'s rather poor season.

Cigar Bowl—University of Delaware versus Rollins College. The Blue Hens will coast to victory over a mediocre opponent.

Alamo Bowl—Hardin - Simmons versus Denver. Hardin-Simmons is the team our Blue Hens would have met, to their sorrow, had the yeesepted the proffered bid to the Alamo Bowl. Denver is not good enough to stop Hardin-Simmons.

Alligator Bowl—Oklahoma versus North Carolina State. Here's another bang up meeting of two well matched eleveners. But, we'll take Oklahoma by a slim margin.

Tangerine Bowl—Catawba versus Maryville. A tangerine is a small orange and this game is small potatoes but Catawba will prove too much for Maryville.

Weather prediction for New Year's Eve revelers—"Rough weather ahead, followed by enveloping fog with clearing and more stable conditions prevailing the latter part of the week."

Whoever it was that wrote the night(mare) before Christmas knew what he was talking about when he said: "November runs into December, December runs into Christmas . . . and Christmas runs into money."

Taking advantage of a balmy Saturday afternoon, several local golfers were on the local course—some breaking in new gift clubs. But, we couldn't even break a hundred. The nineteenth hole was the most popular one on the course.

We didn't say it but thought it was cute when we read it: "Santa didn't give a thing to Hedy because she had so much already." That's poetry, son.

Gus and Constantine Slavos' cocktail bar, and service of stimulating beverages, now available to patrons of the popular Glasgow Arms, located on Route 40, at Glasgow.

As 1946 draws to a close, it's interesting to compare some predictions contained in the Roger W. Babson 1946 Almanac, published more than a year ago. Among some of the forecasts which time has proven true are these paragraphs: "The inflation era will be very evident in 1946. The purchasing power of the dollar will continue to decline," and "Both wage and price controls will gradually be removed during 1946 until the Government throws up its hands and let nature take its course."

We buy, borrow and read a lot of popular novels and find that they all have one thing in common . . . which often spoils an otherwise clean, interesting and wholesome story, for a lot of readers. Maybe that's what prompted the quip, "A train of thought is no stronger than its weakest link."

Stop us if you've heard this one before, but we really do wish YOU a Happy New Year.

PLAY OFFICIALS HOPE TO LAUNCH TOWN BASKETBALL LOOP HERE ON JANUARY 9

Association Expects To Have Schedule Prepared And Teams Organized By That Date; Plans Outlined For Girls Basketball

The community basketball league, now being organized as a part of the winter program of the Newark Recreation Association, is scheduled to get underway on Thursday, January 9, it was announced this week. Officials hope to have all the teams lined up and a schedule worked out by that date.

Meanwhile, team managers are requested to forward a list of the names and ages of their players not later than January 1 to Ned McCully, association president.

It was further announced that Coach Walter Matt, physical education director at the Newark High school, will supervise the activities of the league.

DCPA PLANS 3-DAY FARM SHOW JAN. 9

Annual Session At Georgetown

The fortieth anniversary meeting of the Delaware Crop Improvement Association and three-day exhibit of farm crops will be held January 9, 10 and 11 in the Georgetown High School.

C. E. Phillips, extension agronomist and secretary of the association reveals that this past year there were approximately 240,000 acres of Delaware farm lands used for growing grain, hay and potatoes—crops which will be featured in this year's exhibit. The purpose of the exhibit is to provide Delaware farmers the opportunity to show to other farmers and the people of the State the products of their efforts during the year. To encourage the production of better crops in the state the State Legislature annually provides funds to the association for special premiums and awards.

In addition to classes for farmers, one feature of this year's show will be a corn exhibit for boys and girls. Any boy or girl in the state is eligible provided they have helped to produce the corn.

On Friday night, January 10, there will be a special banquet for members of the association and their friends in the Georgetown Grange Hall; and highlight of the banquet program will include a talk by Carlton S. Garrison, extension agronomist, Rutgers University. Garrison is a native of Smyrna, Delaware, and is a graduate of the University of Delaware.

At the banquet trophies and awards will also be presented to the winners of the five-acre barley and corn yield contests sponsored by the association this past season. Officers of the association are: President, Victor P. Kohl, Middletown; vice-presidents, V. L. Mayer, Newark; Isaac Thomas, Maryland; A. S. Hopkins, Jr., Lewes; treasurer, J. Oliver Goelg, Newark.

REPORT 6 LYNCHINGS DURING 1946

Higher Than In 3 Former Years

According to a report released recently by the Department of Records and Research of Tuskegee Institute there were six persons lynched in 1946.

This is five more than for 1945; four more than in 1944; three more than in 1943; one more than in 1942.

There are four borderline cases which are not included in the total number of lynchings for 1946 because to date sufficient evidence concerning them has not been obtained.

There were at least 17 instances in which lynchings were prevented. Fourteen of these were by officers of the law and three were by persons not connected with law enforcement groups. Sixteen of these instances were in the Southern States. A total of 22 persons, 21 Negroes and one white person, were thus saved from death at the hands of mobs.

All of the six persons lynched were Negroes. The offenses charged were: stealing a saddle, 1 (two other persons later confessed this crime); stabbing a man, 1; no charge, 3 (were in automobile with one of the victims); attempting to break into a house, 1 (jailed, but later released).

The States in which lynchings occurred and the number in each State are as follows: Mississippi, 1; Georgia, 4; Louisiana, 1.

State Highway Traffic Shows 36 Per Cent Jump

Traffic on state highways increased 36.78 per cent last month over November, 1945, but a 0.44 per cent increase over November, 1941, according to a traffic bulletin of W. B. McKendrick, Jr., assistant chief engineer of the State Highway Department.

The increases over November, 1945, as shown by the automatic traffic counters, were: U. S. 202, north of Talleyville, 28.79 per cent; State Route 2, east of Newark, 29.23 per cent; U. S. 113, north of Milford, 42.64 per cent; U. S. 13, South of Greenwood, 38.59 per cent; State Route 36, southeast of Milford, 11.22 per cent.

MOTORISTS CAUTIONED

Safety Group Lists Resolves

The Delaware Safety Council suggests that every motor vehicle operator check up on his driving ability and seriously consider making a few New Year resolutions in order to improve his driving. The following resolutions are suggested by the council:

1. I will not park within 15 feet of a fire hydrant.
2. I will not leave my car with the engine running or the handbrake off.
3. I will not back into an intersection from a parking space.
4. I will not park on a highway—but will pull off the road completely. This "goes double" on turns and hills.
5. I will not pass on curves or hills.
6. I will not take unnecessary chances on wet or icy roads.
7. I will not jump traffic lights.
8. I will drive more slowly at night and also lower the headlight beam for the benefit of oncoming traffic.
9. I will not drive when sleepy.
10. I will not drive under the influence of alcohol or narcotics.
11. I will keep my car in good running condition, including periodical check ups on lights, brakes, horn, windshield wiper, etc.
12. I will watch carefully for bicyclists and pedestrians, especially at night.
13. I will not hog the road.
14. I will be courteous.

NEWARK HIGH QUINTET TO MAKE BOW HERE ON FRIDAY NIGHT AGAINST SALESIANUM

Game Is Scheduled For Local Gym At 7:30 O'Clock; Jackets Rated As Underdogs; Conduct Final Drills Here This Week

Local court fans are expected to turn out in force when the 1947 Newark High School basketball team makes its debut here in a game with Salesianum on Friday night. The opening will sound at 7:30 o'clock in the high school gym.

Although they rate as underdogs for the tilt, the Jackets are banking on speed and fast-breaking plays to keep them in the running against the Sallies. Despite the holidays, Newark went through final tune-up drills this week.

The starting line-up was not available when the Post went to press, but at least four experienced players are almost certain to be in the call. They are: Tony Cosetti, Ed Martin, Joe Saccone and Bob Gray.

Estimate 500,000 In U. S. Have Tuberculosis

Experts estimate that about 500,000 persons in the United States have tuberculosis at this time, according to officials of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society.

In 1944, the latest year for complete national figures, about 55,000 persons died from tuberculosis. The average daily census in the tuberculosis hospitals and sanatoria were 80,000 persons. About 110,000 persons were admitted to tuberculosis hospitals and sanatoria.

In Delaware last year, 102 persons died from the disease.

FARMS USE MORE POWER IN DELAWARE

Tops Yearly Record, State REA Reports

Larger supplies of electrical energy are needed to meet rising consumption on the electrified farms of Delaware according to the manager of the State's REA financed rural electric system.

Reports to the Rural Electrification Administration indicate that the REA-financed system in the state distributed more kilowatt hours of power during the 1946 fiscal year (ended June 30) than in any previous 12-month period. More than 4,535,000 kilowatt hours was distributed to consumers on REA-financed lines during the 1946 fiscal year as compared with only 1,459,000 kilowatt hours in fiscal 1941. The increase in consumers served by the system from 2,400 in 1941 to 3,400 in 1946 accounts for part of the rise but an even greater factor is the tremendously increased use of electrical farm production equipment by farmers of Delaware.

As more equipment becomes available and new farm production per rural consumer is expected.

Many rural families living on the estimated 2,500 unelectrified farms in Delaware have been waiting for service since the early days of the war.

The REA-financed systems in the state are rushing work on their distribution lines in an effort to serve these consumers as rapidly as possible. Even though their building program was handicapped by an acute shortage of line construction material, the REA-financed systems in Delaware connected more than 295 new consumers during the 1946 fiscal year. The system has plans completed for the construction of new lines to serve approximately 2,900 new consumers.

PLAN TO IMPROVE STATE ACP

Farm Practices Need Revising, Expert Claims

Getting the most conservation possible for every dollar spent by farmers and Uncle Sam for soil-building practices is a double-barreled proposition, according to C. E. Ocheltree, State Director of the Production and Marketing Administration.

"First of all," he states, "we need suggestions from individual farmers for specific changes and improvements in practices carried out on their farms. And the next step is for county and community farmer-committees to do all they can to put those suggestions into action."

Under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), the U. S. Department of Agriculture and farmers share the cost of measures to build and protect Delaware land and to conserve its water and plant food. Mr. Ocheltree says that changes in operating procedure of ACP will in 1947 should help get an even better job done than in the past.

"About Feb. 1 farmers and farmer-committees will begin getting together to work out their 1947 conservation plans for each farm in the county. Besides reviewing these plans in the county office, we'll check them carefully to see if there's anything special we can do to help the farmer get his practices carried out."

After 1947 farm plans are studied, the farmer will be sent a so-called "Prior Approval" notice. This notice will inform him what practices are approved for his farm, and how to get best results from them. Also, what share of the cost will be paid out of county ACP funds.

With this notice at hand, the farmer has a good advance picture of his conservation plan. If he sees ways of improving it, or has suggestions, he is invited to take them up with the county office or his farmer-committee man.

Study Plan To Wipe Out Leprosy In U. S.

A plan to wipe out leprosy in the United States is under study by public health service officials.

Dr. R. C. Williams, chief of the Bureau of Medical Service, said the special health service advisory committee on leprosy has decided the disease can be eradicated if:

1. It can be detected in its early stages.

2. Modern medical practices are applied, principally the use of the new drug, promin, and others of the sulfa family which have been found effective.

There are fewer than 400 cases in the U. S. Leprosarium at Carville, La., but Dr. Williams said "it is a matter of medical knowledge" that more than 1,000 other cases are unreported.

STATE URGES DIPHTHERIA PREVENTION

Eighteen cases and two deaths from diphtheria so far this year—a number of them during the past few weeks—brings a warning from Dr. Edwin Cameron, executive secretary of the State Board of Health, that all babies and young children should have the protection of diphtheria immunization, since they are the ones most apt to die from this dangerous and "catching" disease.

Diphtheria is, essentially, a disease of early childhood, and those under the age of 5 years are most defenseless against it. The diphtheria germ grows in the nose and throat and pours out a powerful toxin or poison into the blood stream. This poison may attack the heart muscle and damage it severely or it may inflame the nerves and cause a type of paralysis.

Diphtheria, the health official stated, is a disease that is largely the result of neglect for, if all parents would take their children to the family doctor or the clinic and have them given the protective substance called "toxoid," few children would have this disease.

Since diphtheria kills more babies than it does older children, the Board advises that the first injection of toxoid be given at about six months of age, with two other injections to follow at intervals recommended by the physician.

It was two decades ago, in 1926, that an intensive diphtheria campaign was begun in Delaware by the State Board of Health, and since that time more than 125,000 immunizations have been given to infants and young children by Board personnel, with over 37,000 of them having been given since 1940. In addition, of course, many thousands have had the protective measures given them by their family physicians. In the year 1925, before the program began, there were 204 cases of diphtheria in Delaware with 30 deaths. Dr. Cameron warned, however, that parents must not make the mistake of thinking, because the death rate from diphtheria has been markedly reduced, that their babies are safe without immunization. Only when all babies and young children are protected will be the disease be conquered.

All of the State Board of Health's Well Child Conferences, held in 30 different locations in the state, offer diphtheria immunization as well as small-pox vaccination to the public. Persons not having family physicians may have their children immunized at the Well Child Conference (baby clinic) in their area.
