Marble Champ Loses In National Tourney At Akron

Marty Hall, Bear, Stops
Champions From 3 States;
Loses To Pennsylvania Boy

Marty Hall, the Delaware Veterans of Foreign Wars marble champion didn't win the national tournament in Akron, O., but he defeated boys from Louisiana, Michigan, and Missouri before bowing to a Pennsylvania boy, according to word from Joseph Bernardo, VFW state junior activities chairman, his escort.

Marty, who lives in Bear and is a student at Newark Junior High School, was sponsored in the state tournament by the J. Allison O'Daniel Post in Newark and made the trip to Akron in the Veterans of Foreign Wars' official department automobile.

Marty drew a bye in the first round, then came up against Frank Gaudell, the Nebraska mibs champion, who went on to win the national title. He won the first game 7-2 but dropped the next two 6-7, 6-7, in a nip and tuck go all the way.

Friday he defeated the Louisiana boy 7-1, 3-7, 7-1, and disposed of Jack Winger from the VFW National Home, Eaton Rapids, Mich., 7-2 and 7-6. He continued his winning streak Saturday by bumping the Missouri champion, 7-5, 6-7, 7-6, but met his nemesis in the Pennsylvania contender, who put him out of the running in two straight games, 7-5 and 7-6.

Tale of Tortuous Town Travel Told In Newark Trust Booklet

The Newark Trust Company has taken to publishing, as a service to the public, little pamphlets containing essays on local history.

One, entitled "A City Is Born," points out that Newark began as a market town in 1738. King George II of England granted a charter to the little colonial crossroads, permitting annual fairs and weekly market days.

The trust company's article goes on to mention that Newark was never "laid out" or planned as were other colonial cities but "like Topsy" just grew.

This explains, among other things, why, down to this day, Newarkers who live on Cleveland Avenue must travel half a mile east or west to go a block south to Main Street.

Indeed, it is said that some Cleveland Avenue live and die without bothering to make an expedition to Main Street.

It also explains why, for instance, there are no alleys serving Main Street stores and why Main Street itself is the only east-west thoroughfare in town, and so cannot be resurfaced until another street is opened up in order that traffic will have somewhere to go.

It further helps us to understand why a resident of South Chapel Street could not hope to visit a neighbor a block away on Tyre Avenue without either striking out

City Water Usage Increase Reported By City Engineer

Increase Of 160,000
Gallons Per Day Over
Usage Two Years Ago

Newark people now are consuming 830,000 gallons of water a day, a 160,000-gallon increase over two years ago, Francis Neide, city engineer, reported this week.

Despite the added demand, the city's water supply remains adequate for the present, Mr. Neide said. The current dry spell, he added, has put no noticeable strain on the system.

Currently, Newark gets its water both from a city-owned artesian well field and from the Delaware Water Company. At present, the well pumps work 16 hours a day. To keep the city reservoir filled, water also is being drawn from the Delaware Water Company.

If we wanted to work the well pump 24 hours a day, we would not need to draw on the water company, Mr. Neide said.

Despite the present satisfactory supply, the city has been searching for some months now for new sources of underground water.

Test wells will be sunk this summer, Mr. Neide said, on what looks promising new well fields on property owned by the Continental Distilling Company off South Chapel Street.

The city has an option on five acres there, and if the test wells prove satisfactory, the land may be purchased.

A survey of the area by Johan Gruel, state geologist, indicates that the land may be water-bearing.

Korean Vet Returns Home After 17 Months Abroad

Sgt. R. Tucker Ware, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Ware, of Tanglewood Lane, Newark, returned home last week and after 17 months with the 151st U.S. Army Engineer Combat Battalion in Korea.

An unscheduled collision with a Chinese ship and attendant repairs, delayed Tucker's return in time to attend Sister Sue's graduation from Newark High School and he stepped off the train a week too late.

Sgt. Ware entered military service in June, 1952, at Ft. Meade, Md. and was discharged at the Maryland base after completing a 24 month tour of army duty.

Four cases of kidney disease and one case of diabetes were attended in 11 and eight visits, respectively.

A total of 32 visits were paid 16 miscellaneous cases and Miss Leak administered 35 medical treatments to local patients within the month.

Promoted To Lieutenant Colonel

Promoted to lieutenant colonel at Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington, D.C., Joseph W. Cooch, Jr., of Newark, receives the silver leaf of his new rank from Colonel Charles H. Woodley, director of preventive medicine division of the Army Medical Service graduate school at the hospital. Colonel Cooch, son of Mrs. Francis A. Cooch, 212 West Main Street, Newark, is a medical officer at the hospital. He is a 1930 graduate of the University of Delaware.

Civil Defense Forces Acquire Office Donated At Linden Hall

By FRANK N. MEGARGE

Newark's homeless Civil Defense forces, which for some time have been looking for a place to meet, finally have found a kindly landlord willing to donate their office space.

The CD organization will set up administrative offices soon in Linden Hall on South College Avenue, Wallace G. Johnson, Newark's CD director, announced yesterday.

The former mansion, located just below the Pennsylvania Railroad overpass, now is the headquarters for the Newark Recreation Association, which was granted use of the property by the Chrysler Corporation, owners of the building.

One good turn deserves another. NRA officials have agreed to donate office space to the orphaned CD personnel, Mr. Johnson said.

"To date," he explained, "we have been operating out of our homes with privileges to use a typewriter and store literature at the police station."

The CD organization, still very much in the process of building, is operating on a non-existent budget at present, although the City Council is being asked to appropriate $3,000 for CD operations during the next fiscal year.

At the moment, Mr. Johnson is concentrating on getting men to fill key volunteer posts. A rescue team also is being organized.

Chrysler Explains Tank Modification At Newark Plant

Installation Of Latest
Tank Developments May
Extend Work Into 1955

Since last September when Defense Department officials announced that remaining Patton 48 medium tank contracts had been awarded to General Motors Corporation, the tank "modification program" has played an important part in all references to the future of the huge Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant at Newark.

With the cooperation of tank plant officials this account of current operations at the Newark defense establishment is presented in an effort to explain exactly what modification is and the possible effect it may have on the jobs of hundreds of tank plant employees. The modification program, tank officials pointed out, is the process by which the latest engineering changes and improvements are installed on previously completed tanks. It is a plan for continued improvement and modification which has led Army Ordnance officials to describe the Patton 48 medium and T-43 heavy tanks as living vehicles—ones which will be constantly improved in line with needs and recommendations of field troops.

While many of these desirable engineering changes were incorporated into the tank assembly line as quickly as they were received by Chrysler engineers and production personnel, it meant that all previously completed tanks would have to be brought again through the assembly line.

Born in Newark, he attended local schools and graduated from Newark High School in 1933. After a course at Beacom Business College, he entered the University of Delaware. In addition to being captain of the football team he was captain of the 1937-38 basketball team and a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Following his graduation in 1939 he played professional baseball with the Cambridge club, champions of the Eastern Shore League and that same year was appointed athletic coach at Conrad where he remained until he took his position with the rehabilitation division.

Local Artist To Paint Mural Depicting Newark Development

Leo Laskaris, Newark artist, has been commissioned by officials of the Newark Trust Company to paint a huge mural depicting the growth and development of Newark and vicinity of the bank's new quarters now under construction, it was announced today by J. Irvin Dayett, president and a director of the Newark institution.

The mural, consisting of two panels each 6x12-ft., will occupy a prominent position in the bank lobby and according to Mr. Laskaris will depict the economic, social and cultural development of the city. Bank officials expressed the hope that the mural would be completed in time to be unveiled as part of ceremonies planned for the official opening of the bank's new quarters early this fall.

At the present time, Mr. Dayett said, the bank is rapidly concluding a $200,000 building expansion program which will more than double previous facilities. Present indications are, he said, that the program will be completed about the middle of September.

"It is most appropriate," the president stated, "that this work connected with the development of the city be done by a native son. We are extremely pleased to have been able to secure the services of Mr. Laskaris for this important work. It will increase the interest of all residents in the project."

According to the artist, one of the panels will depict the social and cultural development of the city while the other will portray the agricultural and industrial growth with particular emphasis on the local industries which have played important roles in the area's history. Mr. Laskaris also said that across the entire top and bottom of the mural there would be his rendition of Newark's Main Street as it appears today.

A native of Newark, Mr. Laskaris was graduated from the University of Delaware in 1938, when he was elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholarship fraternity. He attended the Chicago Art Institute and, after serving in the Army during World War II, studied for several years under Amadeo Omenant, one of the leading teachers of modern painting in America.

City Assessment Survey Data Expected For Council, July 6

Increased New Castle County Assessment Figures Delay
Preparation Of Newark Report Due May 1; City Assessor
Begins Survey For Presentation At Next Council Meeting

The annual city assessment survey got underway two weeks ago and should be completed in time to present the new valuation figures on taxable property to City Council at its July 6 meeting, Charles D. Long, city secretary and assessor, said yesterday.

Actually, under terms of the city charter, the assessment should have been completed by May 1, but it was held up this year by two factors:

City Budget Plan To Exceed Current Expenses By 35%

Council Approval To Be Requested At July 6th
Meeting To Set Tax Rate

The forthcoming city budget request, being worked up by a special committee, will average 35 percent more than the city's expenses during the current fiscal year, which totaled around $300,000, Councilman Samuel Diehl, chairman of the town committee, reported this week.

He said that the long delayed budget request definitely will be ready for submission to City Council at its next meeting on July 6.

He expects that the request, based on estimated expenses of various city departments for the coming fiscal year, will be considerably whittled down by Council before it gets final approval.

The budget is finally okayed will be the determining factor in setting a city tax rate for the coming fiscal year.

The special committee, which has been working nights on the proposed budget, includes: Frank Durnall, ex-councilman and accountant; Charles Cole, accountant with the DuPont Company; and Charles D. Long, city assessor.

Helping the committee are representatives of the city's auditing firm.

4-H Essay Contest Winners Selected By Safety Council

Judith Lane, of Newark,
One Of Four Youngsters
To Win 4-H Scholarships

Results were announced this week in a 4-H essay contest designed to stop accidents due to falls in the home. The winning essays were written by Judith Lane of Newark; John Benson of Houston; Jean Jaquette of Milford; and Virginia Waters of Greenwood.

The essays were judged by the staff of the Delaware Safety Council. Prizes will be awarded in the form of scholarships to state 4-H camp or 4-H short course.

This was the first time that such a 4-H essay contest took place in Delaware. Active in arrangements and operations of the contest were Louise R. Whitcomb, Extension home management supervisor who handles farm and home safety projects, and Samuel M. Gwinn, state 4-H leader, both from the University of Delaware.

The essays were judged on how well the story of accident prevention was told, as well as important were the number of accident hazards corrected by the contestants in their own, plus the number of club members and friends they helped to correct fall hazards.

The winners are members of the following 4-H club: Judith Lane, Green Meadows; John Benson, Houston Cardinals; Jean Jaquette, Handy Hands; and Virginia Waters, Helping Hand.

TODAY'S HOST

The Department of Sociology at the University of Delaware will act as host today for a group of foreign census technicians who will visit the state from June 24-26.

Members of the Newark electrical repair crew and Councilman Samuel Diehl will hardly agree with Joyce Kilmer's observations concerning trees after an all-night session Saturday with a power failure that blacked out the western section of the city.

A tree on Winslow Road short circuited a power line that hampered the operation of a dairy and a frozen food plant, among others. An emergency crew from the Delaware Power and Light Company was summoned and after a lapse in power from 9:30 Saturday night until very early Sunday morning, the source of the trouble—the tree—was determined.

"A lost week end," commented the trouble-shooting councilman who accompanied the repair crew.

National Safety Council Cautions July 4th Drivers

"Think Twice, Once For Yourself, Once For The Other Guy" For Safety

One or both of the drivers are at fault in about 75 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents. So the best advice for avoiding a traffic accident during the Fourth of July holiday, the National Safety Council says, is to think twice—once for yourself and once for the other guy.

With 40 million vehicles—and drivers—jamming the nation's highways during the three-day week end, the chance for driver mistakes will be multiplied many times over the normal accident risk, warned Ned H. Dearborn, council president. Traffic accidents don't just happen—they are caused, he said. They are caused by human indifference, ignorance, recklessness, or plain lack of courteous and decent behavior.

"A car does not go out of control until the driver loses his control over it." In an effort to reduce the holiday toll, the council is coordinating a nationwide campaign in which 160 national organizations are participating. The campaign is designed to increase public awareness of the extra holiday hazards on the highways and the extra caution needed to overcome them. It also seeks to help officials, traffic officers and safety leaders in their efforts to reduce traffic accidents over the Fourth.

The council suggests five points for the Fourth to help balance the extra holiday hazards:

1. Don't drink and drive—even a little.
2. Cut your usual cruising speed 10 miles an hour.
3. Double check before passing or changing lanes.
4. Don't follow the car ahead too closely.
5. Don't compete in traffic—let the other guy go first.

Hospital, Medical Payments Increase During Past Month

Care For 10,916 Members Of Group Hospital Plan In May Totals $470,154

During the month of May, payments to hospitals and doctors for the care of 10,916 Delaware members of Group Hospital Service, Inc. amounted to $470,154, according to H. V. Mayhew, managing director of Delaware hospitals. The number of members receiving benefits and the amount of money required to pay for their care has continued to curve steadily upward in a record-breaking trend. In the first five months of 1954, payments totalling $2,143,944 were made to hospitals and doctors for services to 49,440 members of the plan. Of this amount, $1,118,351 went to nine member hospitals of the Delaware Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plan, the four general hospitals in Wilmington and those in Lewes, Dover, Milford, Seaford, and Salem, N.J.

The amounts received from Group Hospital Service by member hospitals of the Delaware plan for the first five months of 1954 were as follows: The Delaware Hospital, $426,623; The Memorial Hospital, $322,693; The St. Francis Hospital, $266,426; The Wilmington General Hospital, $195,798; The Beebe Hospital, $42,180; The Kent General Hospital, $40,700; The Milford Memorial Hospital, $34,469; The Nantuxco Memorial Hospital, $30,491; Payments to the Salem County Memorial Hospital, Salem, New Jersey amounted to $13,001, for the first five months of 1954.

A total of $864,695 was used for surgical-medical expenses of members.

Library Offers Welding Literature For Readers

The University of Delaware has accumulated a considerable collection of literature on welding which is available not only to students, but to interested individuals or organizations in this area.

Most of the books and pamphlets in this collection are gifts of the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation of Cleveland, Ohio.

Although under the care of the University's Memorial Library, these technical publications are housed in the office of J. Linton Coyle, director of shop practice, in Evans Hall. Detailed information about the collection may be secured from William D. Lewis, librarian.

Civil Defense Seeks Block Wardens For Local Service

Wanted: Some level-headed people to serve as Civil Defense block wardens. Apply to Sergeant Leroy Hill at the police station, Academy Street.

Biggest need is a man to serve as Newark's chief warden, reports Sgt. Hill, Newark's deputy CD director.

Wardens are the key men in any CD organization. They must know their neighborhoods intimately. They must be able to advise their neighbors on all matters of home defense.

All recruits will undergo a training program.

Pushmobile

But I sincerely believe that the drive for funds to help defray some of the cost should receive that support of all communities, towns and cities of Delaware, regardless of size or location.

"In addition to urging my fellow citizens of Newark to join the push by subscribing to 'Push-a-Buck,' I urge them to recommend that our neighbors join in this worthwhile effort which will benefit so many."

"A contribution of one dollar by every resident of Delaware, on a voluntary basis will, I think, be significant in that it will reflect the true spirit of Delawareans anxious to have a share in such a magnificent youth project."

"I appreciate this opportunity to endorse 'Push-a-Buck' but in concluding I want to again express my heartfelt appreciation to S. Hallock duPont, president of the corporation building this track, and to his associates in this cause."

Mayor Johnson added his support by enlisting all members of his family in "Push-a-Buck." A $3 donation was presented to Mr. duPont in behalf of Mrs. Johnson, Wallace G. Johnson, Wallace M. Johnson, II, Jacqueline D. Johnson, the mayor, Mr. duPont, presented the "Push-a-Buck" donor stickers to them.

Meanwhile John G. Leach, general chairman of the drive for funds to be used to pay a portion of the costs of building the state's first permanent Pushmobile Derby track near Newark, said that the early returns have not yet been calculated, but an announcement of the total collected will be shortly forthcoming.

Mr. duPont, president of the corporation, and J. Henry Topkins, secretary-treasurer, agreed that the first returns, for which donors have already been sent their windshield stickers, have been "wonderful."

Mr. Topkins said complete reports on collections will be made bi-weekly.

Mr. duPont emphasized that "since our corporation is being aided in this campaign by volunteer office help and no paid workers, it must necessarily follow since these people must do the detail work in their spare time, we can not expect to adhere to a strict time schedule in tabulations."

Mr. Leach asked that donors send their dollars to Pushmobile Track, Inc., c/o Henry Topkins, secretary-treasurer, P.O. Box 121, Wilmington, Delaware. Each donor will receive the sticker for an automobile windshield.

Scoutmaster Bill Peoples with assistant scoutmasters Vernon Wilkinson, Ralph Wilson and Charles Eastman attended.

There was the problem of getting a fire started with wet wood and the scouts were going to try and start one until a father beat them to it. He brought dry wood from home. Then everyone really ate—hot dogs, rolls, marshmallows, donuts and pop.

The Squirrel Patrol presented the skit they gave at the recent district camporee and that was like giving the other patrols a shot in the arm. They all wanted to give skits.

Camp Rodney songs were sung by the scouts and the fathers challenged them to a duel in music. Troop 53 goes to Camp Rodney July 4-18.

The following scouts were present: Wayne Crissman, Richard Feeny, Thomas Ferguson, John Huebner, Bayard Martin, J. Michael Murphy, Robert Stockton, Robert Wilkinson, R. Rodney Wilson, Jr., Donald Woodmansee, Robert Woodruff, Ronald Morrison, James Wharry and Eugene Coleman.

Among the fathers were Mr. Crissman, Harold Feeny, Thomas Ferguson, William Huebner, John Murphy, Vernon Wilkinson, Ralph Wilson, Robert Woodruff, Jr., John Wharry.

Curative Workshop Praised In Public Interest Broadcast

Dr. Flinn, Miss Bader
Speak In Delaware Park
Saturday Radio Feature

The Delaware Curative Workshop in Wilmington provided treatments for almost 90 patients each day last week, pointing up the need for expansion of its present building designed to accommodate between 55 and 65 patients daily.

During the first two weeks of June, 45 new patients were treated, and it is estimated that the month's total will exceed 100. These are in addition to the 224 patients "carried over" from May into June for continued treatments.

This and other information on the non-profit treatment center was told on the fourth of Delaware Park's Saturday half-hour "In The Public Interest" programs on Saturday. The guest speakers on the non-commercial, community service broadcast this week were Dr. Flinn, M. Flinn, Jr., chairman of the workshop's medical advisory committee, and Miss Eleanor J. Bader, the workshop's executive director.

Bryan Field, vice president and general manager of the Stanton track again described the race features, with Bob Kelley and Jack Lee handling the color and winners' circle interviews.

Dr. Flinn and Miss Bader told how the workshop's program, utilizing physical agents and functional activities, coordinates physical and occupational therapy for men, women, and children referred by medical doctors. Treatments provide relief of physical symptoms and the rehabilitation and restoration of patients with bone, joint, nerve, and muscular diseases, injuries, and involvements.

Disabilities treated range from simple joint sprains and muscular strains, fractured bones and lacerations to extensive muscular paralysis and amputations of one or more limbs.

Poultrymen Plan New Jersey Tour Of Chicken Farms

A poultry tour to Ocean County, N.J., on Monday, June 28 has been planned by the New Castle County Delaware Poultry Improvement Association.

The itinerary for the tour has been set up by Richard Hartman, county agricultural agent for Ocean County in cooperation with the University of Delaware extension service.

The group will meet at Har's Corner, Junction of Routes 273 and 13, at 8 a.m. and proceed by automobile over the Delaware Memorial Bridge to Tom's River, N.J. Mr. Hartman will meet the group at Tom's River and conduct the tour through the county.

Ocean County with about 1,000 commercial poultry farms with a total of three and a quarter million laying birds is an outstanding poultry county.

Lunch has been arranged at Peterson's Sunset Cabin and three farms will be visited in the afternoon. One of the afternoon stops will be the Lakewood Egg Farm which has a capacity of 25,000 birds along with a hatchery and breeding farm.

The group plans to be back in Delaware between 5:00 and 5:30 p.m. Ralph P. Barwick, assistant agricultural agent of New Castle County, urges all poultrymen to plan for this tour.

Applications For Wheat Allotments Due June 30

Farmers with land on which no wheat was seeded for grain during 1952, 1953, and 1954 may apply for a 1955 wheat acreage allotment, according to John A. Redding, Sr., chairman of the New Castle County Delaware agricultural stabilization and conservation committee.

To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by June 30.

Blank application forms are available at the county ASC office for use in filing requests for allotments.

HISTORICAL REVIEWS OF THE NEWARK AREA

BY ETHEL M. HILL

At the corner of South Orange Avenue and South Orange Avenue, a brick structure, spoke of a day when the town was much more to the place. The house is brick—the lines and proportions perfect. A beautiful example of the early days of the town. The house is in good shape. The bricks have been painted white, but they cannot take anything from the lines of the house.

We walked down a path under century old trees, the banks covered with May apple, jack-in-the-pulpit and Solomon's seal, to where we saw the remains of the headquarters of the town. We had been following the big stone wall, which was the town line, to Rittenhouse Park.

A man was in charge to prevent accidents as some boys caught a long rope suspended from a tall tree, swung over the pool and slipped then swam back for another splash.

The sandy bank, picnic tables and the shade surrounding the place makes it perfect and Rittenhouse Park sounds much better than Recreation Center.

Newark Lumber Begins Reconstruction Program

The Newark Lumber Company's reconstruction program started yesterday with preliminary work on a new nursery building to be erected in the northeast corner of the yard. The main office, which was gutted in the recent fire when a pilotless aircraft plunged into the yard, also will be rebuilt as soon as details of insurance coverage are ironed out.

The firm's extensive hardware department, which was knocked out completely by the fire, will be installed temporarily in the new structure to be erected in the yard's northeast corner.

At the moment, the company is operating on a "business as usual" basis. Most of the lumber stock lost in the disaster has been replaced, and hardware orders are being filled through other companies.

The only way to make the mass of mankind see the beauty of justice, is by showing them, in pretty plain terms, the consequence of injustice. — Sydney Smith.

Firemen Praised In Sunday Sermon For Volunteer Aid

The fire-fighting efforts of the Acton Hose, Hook and Ladder Company of Newark were praised by the Rev. Dr. John J. Bunting, pastor of the Newark Methodist Church, in his sermon on Sunday.

The recent fire, caused when an Air Force C-54 training plane crashed and exploded in the Newark Lumber Company, was the major incident referred to by Dr. Bunting as he praised the work of firemen in protecting the remainder of the community.

The minister called for support and encouragement of the fire company's program, noting that the church budget for insurance includes such assistance, "recognizing that this is perhaps one of the better forms of insurance."

Seven Certificate Extension Division Programs Offered

College Level Courses Offered Pupils Unable To Attend University

The Extension Division of the University of Delaware is now distributing copies of a new bulletin describing seven certificate programs in specialized fields of study which will be available during the 1954-55 school year.

According to Gordon C. Godbey, associate director of the extension division, a certificate in one of these areas affords official evidence of carefully planned study in a particular field, and serves as a formal recognition of achievement.

Certificate programs have already been developed by the School of Arts and Science in the fields of Accounting, General Arts and Science, Biological Sciences, General Business, Chemistry, Secretarial Studies, and by the School of Engineering for Technical Aides. Other programs are under consideration and students are invited to inform the office of University Extension of courses and programs in which they are interested.

The courses in the certificate programs are on the college level and are similar to regular campus offerings except for the time and place of meeting. For courses requiring laboratory work, provision is made for laboratory time on the campus, using the regular departmental equipment.

The program offered to students unable to pursue full time study is equivalent to that of the regular university and comparable to the best junior college course of study. Nearly all of these study programs, which will be offered in Wilmington and Newark, have a valuable vocational aspect which will aid the student in his job activities.

Students who wish to enroll in a certificate program should write to the Director of Admissions of the University (not to the Extension Office) requesting an application form for admission to a certificate program.

BIG DEAL

A visitor with "advanced" ideas once chided Andrew Carnegie for having so much money, and proposed that he divide it up.

Calling his secretary, Carnegie asked for a statement of his holdings and the population of the world. Receiving the facts, he figured for a moment, then instructed the secretary, "Give this man 16 cents. That's his share of my wealth!"

Cooch's Bridge and Glasgow

Mildred Ludwig, Correspondent

Phone: Newark 8-8496

Joseph Garvey, O.S.F.S., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Garvey, of Pleasant and Valley Road. Joseph has finished another scholastic year at Lewiston, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCommons of Newark had their five months old daughter, Barbara Lynn, christened at the Glasgow M.E. church last Sunday.

Put Meade of Cooch's Bridge has completed her junior year at the University of Delaware and has entered a year's internship as medical technician at the Delaware hospital.

Mrs. William Graden, chairman of the Christiana-Salem PTA June Jambooree reports a net profit of $28.67. She wishes to thank her committee and all who participated for their cooperation. Some 40 merchants and stores of the area donated all the food and prizes, including Baldwin's and Cleveland's stores in Christiana and Trivitts, Richard's Dairy, Powell's and Buck's service Stations in Newark.

Some modifications require extensive operations. The number of tanks involved varies in accordance with the time that the change was made in the manufacturing program.

In addition, it is highly probable that some engineering changes could be recommended for all tanks previously completed at the Newark plant and not yet shipped.

While it was previously announced by tank plant officials that production and modification work would assure operation of the Newark tank plant through 1954, they now feel that expected increases in the extent of the modification program will extend operations into 1955.

In addition to negotiations now being carried on with Army Ordnance officials relative to this increased modification work, plant officials pointed out that they are constantly making every effort to secure additional appropriate defense contracts.

Plant officials also reported that production work on T-43 heavy tanks and other Ordnance vehicles still has several months to go.

OH, BABY!

THE CHALLENGE

Our country continues to grow at a record rate. Births are so far in excess of deaths that the population increases 7,000 every 24 hours.

Their needs are great, beginning with layettes and cribs; they will grow up to even greater needs. Our expanding business and industry happily will supply these needs—right up to the ultimate need of employment.

The labor force, now about 66 million, may total 88 million by 1975. It takes a private business investment of $12,000 for each job in manufacturing—22 million new jobs mean business and industry must find some $264 billion in the 21 years ahead.

This is a challenge to Americans to "invest in America," and to Congress to foster the kind of economical, efficient government that will make it possible.

NEWARK IN REVIEW

Twenty-five Years Ago

A White Rock, Pa. man was sentenced to 30 days in the Workhouse as the result of an automobile collision at Main and Chapel Streets. The driver, after running into another car, jumped from his machine and ran, pursued by a crowd of bystanders. Police Chief Reedy placed the fugitive under arrest and he was booked on the charge of operating a motor vehicle without a license. A blackjack and a bottle of wine were found in the vehicle, but no registration card.

Foreign Study Group
Forty different colleges and universities will be represented in the University of Delaware foreign study group of 66 students who sail for France in July for a year abroad. Of this number, two students will attend from the University of Delaware—Wm. Emerson Wilson, of Wilmington, and Wm. W. Kirk, of Kirkwood.

The plan was inaugurated here several years ago and is now approved by most institutions throughout the country.

Town Backs Bond Issue
By a vote of 8,474 to 46, the people of Newark authorized their Council to borrow $65,000 by issuance of 4 1/2 per cent bonds, retiring the outstanding $45,000 in 1954 bonds with a savings of $450 annually.

The vote was polled in a special election required by the State Legislature which passed the bill authorizing the bond issue.

One vote was allowed each citizen for every dollar paid in local taxes. Only two individuals voted against the issue.

The additional $20,000 will be used for a local street improvement program.

New Teaching Assignment
Earl R. Keller of the Newark Junior high school faculty has been appointed supervising principal of the Oak Grove School at Elsmere, succeeding Christian C. Sanderson.

Mr. Keller, who holds a first grade Delaware certificate, goes to Elsmere with the highest recommendations from the Newark and State Boards of Education.

Obligations Settled
A bonding company attorney came to Newark yesterday and settled all current claims against the contractor in charge of the new post office building construction.

The contracting firm suffered a business failure while in the midst of work on the building and the bonding company is finishing the structure.

The framework has been erected and brickwork began today. J. L. Oberwager, government supervising engineer, promises completion of the building by October 1.

Initiation ceremonies were held in the lounge of Old College for the six girls in last year's junior class, who were tapped on Honors Day for membership in Tassel.

Following the initiation, a banquet was given for the present members of Tassel, the initiates.

Letters To The Editor

June 14, 1954

Gentlemen:
The following may be of interest to your readers. It was taken from the June issue of the "American Journal of Public Health."

Fluoridation and Chronic Illness
At its fifth annual meeting in March, the Commission on Chronic Illness urged that "American communities adopt fluoridation as a positive step in the prevention of the chronic disease, dental caries." This action was taken on the basis of a review and evaluation of the available evidence by a committee of distinguished scientists as to the possible detrimental effects of fluoridation, particularly to the aged and chronically ill.

This committee reported that "extensive research into the toxicology of fluorine compounds has revealed no definite evidence that the continued consumption of drinking water containing fluorides at a level of about 1 p.p.m. is in any way harmful to the health of adults or those suffering from chronic illness of any kind." If a risk exists at all it is so minimal and inconspicuous that it has not been revealed in many years of investigation.

Big Auto Safety Drive Opens Here

Public concern over the rising national auto accident death and injury toll has resulted in an "Operation Safety" Campaign. New Castle County Official Safety Stations appointments have already been made here, with more to follow. The Safety Stations are being selected by Mr. J. B. Brinton, Regional Director for the Automotive Safety Association. The ASA is a national organization dedicated to prevention of auto accident deaths and injuries.

Each Safety Station will begin immediately free safety checks of all cars whose owners request the service. All parts which might cause an accident are included in the free check.

All Safety Stations will also be authorized to stock and install official ASA Safety Belts. Crash Experts point out that safety belts don't prevent accidents—but they do prevent injuries and deaths. Crash injury research done by Cornell University Medical College working with the Indiana State Police has proven that 3 out of 4 deaths-by-collision can definitely be prevented by the use of safety belts. In other words, well over one-half million American lives could have been saved if safety belts had been placed in general use at the beginning of the automobile era.

A Safety belt holds the car occupant safely in place so he does not become a projectile. Without belts, drivers and passengers are as defenseless as eggs in a wheel, or windblown by an open window, through an open or weakened door or pavement.

Drivers are urged to put their "Operation Safety" in having their cars checked immediately at the nearest Safety Station, and if possible, safety belts installed.

Spiritual Thought For The Week

by Dr. Martha M. Elliot, Chief, Children's Bureau

The human touch is still one of the best medicines. This statement, made by one of its officials, is the key to the philosophy of the Adolescent Unit of the Children's Medical Center in Boston. A unique addition to hospital service, the unit is evidently filling a real need. And it is meeting the need with new techniques that may well have wide impact on a large number of the young people of the country.

The adolescent, no longer a child, but not yet adult, is subject to most of the ills of both children and adults, and has many troubles peculiar to his own age. He has not had as much attention from the medical world as other age groups have had.

At the unit, boys and girls between the ages of 12 to 21 go to their own Out-Patient Clinic, where each has his own doctor for treatment of whatever ailment he may have, whether the need is surgical, medical, or emotional.

The adolescent makes a point of treating "the whole patient." No matter what the youngster's trouble, the physicians—all of them especially selected for their knowledge of and interest in this age group—take into account his personality as well as his physical aches and pains when treating him.

A boy with heart disease, for instance, may be examined for his progress in school, how he feels about sports, his relations with his family and his fellows, his plans for the future. Failure in school, these specialists feel, is as important to watch out for as infected tonsils.

Headaches may be due to lack of adjustment as well as to sinusitis. Some handicaps have to be lived with, and a youngster sometimes has to learn how.

Staff of the Adolescent Unit hope the unit will focus attention of researchers upon adolescents' problems and provide training opportunities for physicians in the special medical and emotional problems of teen-agers.

The fact that the Adolescent Unit is filling a real need is shown by the rapidly increasing demand for

The Facts Ma'am

I JUST WANT THE FACTS. I'm the only one. The one that, ma'am! The only refrigerator with automatic defrosting that gives safe food temperatures and defrosts without using heat. Why, ma'am! 'Cause it doesn't make sense to spend money to make refrigerators cold, then spend more money to melt the frost. I see Ma'am. What are the other facts? Well, I'm actually a Food Freezer and Refrigerator combination. I have full "Roll-to-you" shelves and am powered by "Meter-Miser," the refrigerating mechanism that HAS NEVER WORN OUT. Your name ma'am? Frigidaire Cyclamatic. Address? Oh, you can always find me at Newark Electric, 180 E. Main Street. Thank you, ma'am. —Advt.

Ray Ott Defeats Frank Wright In President's Trophy Finals

Victor Cards 79 To Cop President's Tourney; Joe Aneda Equals Dave Douglas-Gibby Young Newark Record of 63; Qualifying Begins for Club, Senior Men Championships

Ray Ott's sharp putting was the difference in the 18-hole final round for the President's Trophy in the Newark Country Club tournament last Sunday as the veteran wildfowler from Elkton defeated Frank Wright 1-up. Ott scored a 38 on the first nine and checked in with a final total of 79.

Semi-finalists were Sank Richards, who lost to Ott on the 19th, and Whitey Wester who fell before Wright, 1-up.

Newark's golf professional Joe Aneda, playing with Ray Treck last week, matched the course record of 63 shared by touring Dave Douglas and realtor Gibby Young. Aneda opened up with a blazing 31 on the front nine and nearly duplicated the feat in coming home. Six birds and an eagle resulted in the eight-under-par performance.

Leading the qualifiers for the Newark Country Club Championship Tournament is Dick Bauer who carded a 39-36-73. Stan Rapis fired an 80; Harvey Ewing checked in with an 81 and Tom Blanton shot an 82.

George Horn, defending champion, leads the qualifiers for the Senior Men's Tournament with 41-38-79. Other qualifiers are Ray Ott, 79; Dr. Gasper, 81; Len Fessett, 82; Frank Anderson, 85; and Harry Caldwell, 88.

Qualifying for the Club Championship and Senior Men's tourneys ends this Saturday.

George Anderson, who won the Delaware State Amateur title playing out of the Newark Country Club in 1946, wrapped up his second state championship Saturday by defeating Rock Manor's Vic Catalano, 5 and 3.

Defending champion Ellis Taylor, formerly of Newark, and now representing Rock Manor, was upset in the first round, while Newark's former state champion Al Dollins was eliminated by Anderson, 2 and 1 in second round play.

American Little League

To be played.

Rain and the unfinished second field limited last week's Little American League competition to a pair of games as the defeated Cubs and Browns stopped Jackson's Cubs, 9-5, and the Phillies moved closer to second place by taking the same Cubs for their second defeat of the week.

In the first contest the Cubs took a first half, first inning three-run lead, but the Browns batted off the bottom half of the fifth inning when the Browns unloaded five big runs to preserve their unbeaten streak.

Hummel, Ludlow, Tulley and Dalton shared in the Cubs' hurling chores, while Cagle, Jackson, and Dunn served stints on the mound for the Browns.

The Cubs collected five hits to the victors' four, with first-baseman Lackman hammering out two hits in two trips to lead the Browns' batting offense, while Stout and Hummel collected two hits each in three and four plate appearances.

Against the Phillies, the Cubs took a first half, first inning three-run lead, but the Phillies checked in with four runs in the bottom half of the first frame for the advantage, and were not headed thereafter.

Mathewson, for the Phillies, and Stout for the Cubs, hurled three-hit ball all the way.

Hummel led the Cubs' hitters with two hits in three official times at bat, while Wilson's one hit in one trip registered 1,000 for the Phillies.

NEWARK JR. LEGION Nine Stopped 15-5 By Roberts' Post

Humm Leads Local Hitters With 2-for-3 Offensive; Visitors Score 4 In 1st

Newark's Junior American Legion baseball team scored five runs in eight hits off the deliveries of Laurence Roberts' Deery, as Danny Hamilton's local charges dropped a 15-5 decision to the Wilmington visitors on Tuesday night.

Mark Humm, catcher, led the Newark hit parade with a 2-for-3 performance at the plate, while Hall, at third base, batted at a .500 clip with a pair of hits.

The Robertsons piled up a commanding lead in the first four innings, opening with a four-run scoring spree; added a pair in the second; three more in the third, two in the fourth and four in the fifth.

Newark failed to score until the fourth inning when they tallied twice; came up with two more in the fifth, and scored their final run in the last of the sixth inning.

Slammin' Sam Sneed, in winning the Masters' golf tourney this spring, remarked that "the sun don't shine on one dog all the time." And so tomorrow, after a long period relatively free from molestation by the angling contingent, Delaware's black bass become legal prey once again as the fresh water fishermen cast off.

Bass can evince all the indifference of a chalk horse at Delaware Park to the offerings of human enthusiasts, but without recently experiencing this indifference from bass, our sympathies are with the old bronzeback of the weedbeds tomorrow. His will be a harrowing adventure—even if he keeps that big mouth shut.

Flying Saucers
Flying saucers that provide the press with copy from time to time will be a mild phenomenon from a bass' point of view after witnessing the assorted array of metal, wood, plastic, haired and feathered gang-hooked flappings that splash into and through every pond from Sunset Lake to Red Mill when the season opens Friday morning. A Delaware black bass stands a better chance of being accidentally snagged by a hooked lure in passing, even if the fish is attending strictly to his own business.

But despite the feverish fishing featured on opening day, there are more disappointed sportsmen than fish when it's all over. And a fish can be highly disappointed at chomping down on a hunk of hook instead of what had appeared to be a silver mail coach.

Post opening days of the black bass season have been largely featured in a personal way by an unpleasant conflict with the workday routine. And tomorrow will be no exception. Last year, we had almost forgotten about the whole thing until Dick Beldy and Herman Klahr reported in front of the POST with an eye-opening string of still fragrant, dripping, living green-gold silver "bass" being taken from Lum's Pond. Any work that followed the inspection of those fish was unavoidable.

After some cold weather enthusiasm from Rip Smith's White Clay and Pike Creek creeks, the black bass of the fly-guided ponds are troutmen like Skipper Wetzel—grupper grappers like Herman Handoff—and sucker and fallfish snappers like Rip Smith—but the black bass of the fly-guided ponds provides more people with more pleasure and more action than any fish in fresh or salt water.

To Paul Public, the calm lake at dawn with the mist and fish rising and the bustling bulge of a black bass on the surface—that's it.

They Are Biting
But others have been catching fish. Damon "Tom" Tomlinson took a turn down Rehoboth way recently and from a stand on the Cotton Patch beach, stacked a silvery array of kingfish, trout and perch on the sand to revive his flagging interest in surf fishing.

On Tombo's first start a couple of years ago at Cape May, we saw him catch his first fish, a hit and a surf—a seven pound trout or weakfish—and that pretty well sold him on the whole business at the beginning.

But even a man who has caught a seven pounder can lose a hit and a surf after two years of near fishless casting. The Cotton Patch trip re-stoked the old boiler.

Trout and Hardheads
Lanky Lloyd Teitworth exchanged his camera for a fishing rod on a recent day out of the Indian River Inlet, and with a party of Elkton fishermen, found an abundance of trout and hardheads in the quiet water just offshore. They took 100 croakers and trout fishing with squid on the sandy bottom of the ocean, just out of surf casting range from the beach patrol, and later, hauled in a couple of tubfuls of porgies from the blue water coral banks.

A pair of fathers—Fred Kutz and Anthony Louis—with sons Ricky and Leonard, made a recent exploratory fishing expedition in the North East river and wound up with data that indicated a complete lack of fish in the area.

Capt. Frank White Loses 4th Round Title Tennis

Delaware's Frank White bowed out of the Eastern Interscholastic Tennis Championships at West Point last week when he lost a fourth-round match to Jack Vradell of Western Michigan, 6-4, 6-4. White had eliminated Bob Casler, Kalamazoo, 6-3, 6-2.

Frankie Scheider Cops 25-Lap Event In Sunday Feature

Wilmington's Lou Johnson gave way to former national champion Frankie Scheider in the stretch on Sunday night and the Baltimore stock car ace went on to take the feature 25-lap event at Wilmington Speedway in a close finish before a crowd of 2,624 fans.

The main event, featured by the torrid driving duel between Johnson and Scheider, had to be stopped in the 22nd lap after a wreck demolished the car driven by Tommy Elliott of Boynton Beach, Fla. Elliott's stock model was a total loss but the Floridian escaped injury.

Earlier in the windup, Erv Streets of Wilmington turned over but escaped with a bad scare and came on to finish seventh behind Scheider, Johnson, Jack Choquette, Ed Adams, Johnny Roberts, and Charlie Dyer.

"We tried the weedbeds, the channels, the shorelines, flats, and every place that looked productive—along with many areas that didn't," Fred Kutz related wistfully, "and we caught exactly nothing."

And that's been done before, too. Leonard Ludwig and family took off today for Lewes and whatever the baywater around the icebreakers may hold. Last season's venison, which Leonard procured on the hoof close to Newark, has gone the way of all flesh and a supply of fish for the family freezer is the order of the day.

But getting back to the opening of the bass season, tomorrow is the big day of the year for Delaware fresh watermen. Many game fish have been taken since the season opened last year, but the most famous of the season is the Delaware black bass, which is a troutmen like Skipper Wetzel—grupper grappers like Herman Handoff—and sucker and fallfish snappers like Rip Smith—but the black bass of the fly-guided ponds provides more people with more pleasure and more action than any fish in fresh or salt water.

To Paul Public, the calm lake at dawn with the mist and fish rising and the bustling bulge of a black bass on the surface—that's it.

Title Challengers To Box 12-Rounder In Friday TV Bout

Percy Bassett To Meet Lulu Perez In Top Rank Featherweight Match

Two of the top featherweights, Percy Bassett and Lulu Perez, will meet in a scheduled 12-round bout as the regular Friday evening presentation of the Cavalcade of Sports. These two boys are considered to be on a par by boxing experts and there's great interest to see who gets the first shot at Sandy Saddler's title, taken out of the deep freeze since the champ returned from a military to civilian status.

Starting at 10 p.m. boxing fans coast-to-coast can be in on the action by tuning their local NBC television or ABC radio station.

Percy Bassett's Parisian victory over Ray Farnoch earned for him the title of interim champ during the 1953 tour of duty, with the Armed Forces. The perpetual-motion style of Bassett has made him a great crowd-pleaser and helped him to score 38 kayos in 60 professional appearances since July 1947. Wins over headliners, Jimmy Carter, "Red" Top Davis, Charley Riley and Orlando Zulueta, have led to Percy's rating as the number two man in his class.

Lulu Perez, carrying an amateur record of 30 wins in 33 appearances, joined the money ranks in June 1951. Lulu's success in 27 of 29 professional appearances in a relatively short period of time has caused his meteoric rise to the world's number three spot. The Perez combination style of landing damaging blows and ability to shake off hard leather have proved too much for such contenders as Bill Bessie, Glen Flanagan and Dave Gallardo.

Jimmy Powers, Don Dunphy and Bill Corum will be at Madison Square Garden to describe the efforts of these outstanding featherweights as each strives to become challenger for world honors.

After this match, the regular boxing presentations will be terminated for the summer, returning on September 3. During July and August, the popular Cavalcade of Sports review of the top events of the week will be seen on TV at the regular time.

Delaware Oaks' 16th Renovation To Feature Week's Race

Saturday Stakes Expected To Gross $10,000 Purse Of $35,000 For Winning 3-Yr. Old Mile And A Furlong Course; "Cherokee Rose"

The Delaware Oaks, which is expected to have a value of at least $46,000 and net the winner $35,000, is the big attraction at Delaware Park this Saturday. The finest fields of three-year-old fillies brought together in a year is anticipated for the mile and a furlong race which will be run for the 16th time.

Another important stake is scheduled for the Stanton oval. This is the $10,000 added Georgetown Steeplechase Handicap, to be decided on the stakes course at a distance of about two miles. Among the notable Georgetown eligibles are The Maid, Mrs. J. R. H. Thouron's champion of the 1953 jumpers, Mrs. V. G. Cardy's Sun Shower and James P. McHugh's Sundowner, to name a few. Only two steeplechase events are run on the stakes course each year—the Georgetown, and the later, longer Indian River. All the other jumping contests are staged on the "inside course."

The field for the Oaks will come from the 59 fillies that remained eligible after the third and final payment, last April 15, necessary to keep the nominees engaged in the fixture. This early-closing stake, like the Leonard Richards for sophomore colts and geldings along with the fillies, called for original nominations closing on May 1, 1953. A second eligibility payment had to be made last October 1.

The possible favorite for the Oaks is the Cain Hoy Stable's Cherokee Rose, a stout-hearted, lassie who proved her class and route-running ability in winning the mile and three furlong Coaching Club American Oaks at Belmont Park on May 29. Trainer Eddie Hayward, who saddled the same stable's Dark Star to capture the 1953 Kentucky Derby at the direct expense of the great Native Dancer, also is pointing Cherokee Rose for Delaware's $100,000 added, mile and a quarter New Castle Handicap, world's richest race for fillies and mares. That classic will be offered on July 5, closing day of the Stanton meeting.

Among other stars that may race in the Oaks are Open Seams, Devil's Delight, Cherokee Rose's stablemate, Fayfran or Pardo from Foxcatcher Farm; Rain, Greek Lady, O'Alison, Indian Legend, June Fete, On Your Own, Riverina, Fuscinator, Incidentally, Small Favor, Level Rippey and Fanny Dyer. Entries are due Friday.

No games were played in the Little National a lot of baseball games, temporary ball in action.

Courtesy of the C. C. Club Tigers, has completed average better than the 12 hits in 12 times at bat, an eye-opening 92.2.

On the jockey side, the Avon Yankos has run game in one big race for the hardest opponent.

On top of half a year, Yankos are closely rated Chrysler Tigers with the while the Arlet T. Pirates are last on pace.

All three top teams from last year's total of the win-loss CIO Games, are making money.

Delaware Families Step Up Insurance Plans For Record

Delaware families owned $43,000,000 life insurance policies providing $1,032,000,000 of protection at the start of this year, a new high record, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

This compares with $934,000,000 owned in this state a year before and $480,000,000 at the start of 1946. The years since the end of World War II have seen a tremendous expansion of life insurance ownership, as more and more American families have set up planned programs of financial security, and also have endeavored to bring their insurance in line with the higher levels of living costs. Holgar J. Johnson, Institute president, commented: "In this state, the eight-year rise in life insurance ownership has been 117 percent. That represents an important gain in the family financial security of the people of this state."

Of the total life insurance owned January 1, in Delaware, $376,000,000 was in 233,000 ordinary life insurance policies. Purchases of new insurance of this type in this state amounted to $74,000,000 in 1953, exclusive of credit life insurance.

An addition of $139,000,000 of life insurance protection was owned at the start of the year in this state in 400,000 industrial policies, the type generally bought at the door in small units.

Another $337,000,000 was in group life insurance under 210,000 individual certificates.

High School Seniors Hail From Diverse Birthplaces

Members of the Newark High School senior class of 1954 represent an expansive bit of geography, from Newark, Delaware to the Ukraine.

One student each was born in Poland, Germany, France, and the Ukraine. And in case you, too, didn't know where the Ukraine is, it's in "east central Europe, north of the Black sea, a constituent rep. of the U.S.S.R."

One senior was born in Arkansas, another in Connecticut; one in Michigan; one in Indiana; one in New Jersey; and two each from New York City, Brooklyn, and West Virginia.

Four are—or were—Virginians: 17 came from Pennsylvania—and only two from neighboring Maryland. Fifty-six are native Delawareans—one from Lewes, 18 from Wilmington, and 37 from right here at home in Newark.

Never marry but for love; but see that thou lovest what is lovely. — William Penn.

OPEN WAY

"Government actions aimed at halting inflation and giving business more elbow room have removed the 'old road blocks' to business expansion and America's rapidly growing population creates vast opportunities for a high level of economic activity." — H. C. McClellan, President, NAM.

The larger the income, the harder it is to live within it. — Richard Whately.

"Hot arguments have a way of producing cold shoulders!"
