McCain Vs. Hearn for S.G.A. Presidency

WILLIAM S. HEARN

Bill Hearn is a junior, majoring in Business Administration. Before coming to college he attended St. Andrew's School in Middletown, Delaware, from which he graduated in 1945. After graduation he enlisted in the U. S. Navy and served three years. Since coming to Delaware, Bill has participated in many extracurricular activities. He is at present Secretary of the Theta Chi Fraternity, a member of the Rally Committee (originator of "Wear Your Colors Day"), Vice-President of the Canterbury Club, and a member of the E-52 Players. Bill was the Co-Chairman of the Decorations Committee for the Junior Prom, and past treasurer of the Canterbury Club.

First Time Woman Eligible For Office Of SGA President

By ROGER D. BROWNING

Elections for S.G.A. and class offices will be held on Thursday and Friday, March 29 and 30, in Mitchell Hall.

A new electoral system is being used, which was approved by a student vote last spring and is now a constitutional amendment. It makes women eligible for the office of President of the S.G.A. and eliminates competition for the office of Vice-president. Under this system, the candidate receiving the second highest number of votes for President becomes Vice-president. The new system also makes men and women alike eligible for all class offices. William S. Hearn and Joan McCain are candidates for the office of President of the S.G.A.

The following voting system will be used. All undergraduates may vote for the offices of President, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, Treasurer, and Social Chairman of the S.G.A. Only men may vote for Chairman of Men's Affairs and only women may vote for Chairman of Women's Affairs. Each class votes for its own class officers and representative to the S.G.A. Each school votes for its Representatives to the S.G.A. Arts and Science students, who will elect two representatives, may cast two votes.

No candidates will be listed on the ballot for treasurer of the Senior Class and Representative from the Senior Class. These offices will be filled by write-in candidates. Technically, candidates may be put up for all offices as write-in nominations.

The results of the elections will be released in the Wilmington papers, Saturday morning, March 31.

JOAN MCCAIN

CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT OF THE S.G.A.

Joan McCain, a 1948 graduate of Northfield School for Girls, Northfield, Mass., comes from Hockessin, Delaware. She is an Elementary Education major and a member of the class of 1952. Joan is Recording Secretary for the S. G. A. and also serves on the Economics Services Committee and Student-Faculty Committee. Her other activities include membership in the E-52 Players and Rally Committee. Joan was Co-Chairman of her Freshman class and Program Chairman for the Junior Prom.

Newman Club Meets

The Newman Club held its St. Patrick's Day Party on Tuesday, March 13, in Old College Lounge. At the next meeting on March 27, elections will take place. At the following meeting on April 10, Father O'Neill will explain the Eastern Rite Catholic Mass. This is preparation for the Communion Breakfast on April 22, when Father Myran Plecon of the Eastern Catholic Rite will say the Mass and be guest speaker at the Communion Breakfast.

Schechinger and McCarthy to M. C. Variety Show Mon. and Tues.

By LOUIS SHANNON

Dave Hoyer and his Delmeidians will furnish the music for the second annual Varsity Club Show to be presented in Mitchell Hall on Monday and Tuesday, March 26 and 27, at 8:15 p. m. The admission will be $.40, and the proceeds will go to the Wilmington Day School for Handicapped Children.

In contrast with last year's show, which had no specific theme but was a series of unrelated vaudeville acts, the current production has an historical motif. The theme will be "The Rise and Fall of the University of Delaware." Life is depicted on the Delaware campus as it was in the past, as it is now, and as it will be in the future. This is accomplished by means of music, skits, comedy, and various specialty acts. Following tradition, the show will furnish the audience with good music and plenty of laughs. Talent will come largely from the Varsity Club itself with the exception of a few volunteer acts. Numerous surprises are in store for the audience—these surprises will not be revealed until opening night.

Familiar scenes such as South Campus, Old College, the Student Union, and the Men's Gymnasium will figure in the program. Such celebrities as the Andrews Sisters, Amos and Andy, and "Pop" Roberts are slated to appear. The Kappa Alpha Kats will provide Dixieland music during that part of the program that relives the "Roaring Twenties." Included in this band are: Jim McNeal, Judge McWhorter, Lancy Boyce, Bob Baynard, Jim Kruzinski, Don Reath and George Hearn. Two well-known campus personalities, Bob Schechinger and Dev. McCarthy, will alternate as Masters of Ceremony.

The chorus, calculated to make the Rockettes green with envy, includes such beauties as: Bill Butler, Fred Schenck, Emil Milner, Ray Wright, Al Brodhag, Don Swan, Joe Kwiatkowski, Milt Keepe, Tom Bonelli, John Buechele, Archie Rapposelli, John Meccariello, and Seymour Kaplowitz.

The entire production is under the direction of Dick Foster, with Don Boorse as stage manager.

Ace Hoffstein brought the needs of the Wilmington Day School for Handicapped Children to the attention of the Varsity Club. A former Varsity Club member, Hoffstein is now engaged as an instructor at the Wilmington school. The Varsity Club has brought many of these children to various athletic functions held at Delaware.

FFA To Attend Contest

Members of the Future Farmers of America, from 19 high schools throughout the state, are expected to attend the annual judging contest of the Delaware F. F. A. Association on April 12, at the University's Forum. The judging will begin at 2:00 p.m.

The F. F. A., a national organization, is made up of boys who are studying vocational agriculture. Mr. Lyle Mowlds of Dover, supervisor of the program of vocational agriculture, is state advisor to the F. F. A.

New Castle, Boletus Cop Playbill Honors Women's Weekend

By HELEN LILLEY

Congratulations are in order for New Castle and Boletus for winning the Carlson Cup at the annual Women's Playbill last Friday night at Mitchell Hall. Honorable mention was given to Warner for its music, to Sussex for its play and to Topsy and Turvy for over all excellence. While the judges, Dean Rextrew, Mr. Peg of the dramatic department and Miss Crook, of the music department, were deliberating, the audience joined in a group sing, led by the Playbill co-chairmen Sue Conway and Alice Jane Matthews. The cup formerly held by Sussex was awarded by Dean Rextrew to Sue Brown, New Castle Head of House.

New Castle, in co-operation with Boletus, presented forty minutes of entertainment which included Thornton Wilder's ever popular "The Happy Journey". The play, directed by Bobby Baker, had a cast consisting of Janet Vansant, Joyce Taylor, Margaret Seavy, Rae Priestly, Ellen McQuaid and Ruth Geister. The prize winning chorus, directed by Alice Jane Matthews sang "Old King Cole", "All the Things You Are", and "You'll Never Walk Alone".

Warner Hall's play was directed by Jill Myers and their chorus by Mary Lou Bowen. Sussex's play, by Jean Wilson and chorus by Ruth Purdy. The Knoll and Mosher's play, by Diane Brodsky and chorus by Lois Alava. Hanover's play, by Doris Ann Boys and chorus by Grace Bossard, and last on the program of a full evening of entertainment was Topsy and Turvy's play, directed by Pat Emmott and Marilyn Haley and chorus by Carolyn Clift.

Credit and thanks also go to Jim Berry, who did such a fine job with the lighting for all the plays, and to Dr. Kase for his assistance.

The playbill was only a portion of Women's Weekend. The St. Patrick's Day Dance Saturday night drew a substantial crowd of well over 300 couples.

Sunday, the festivities ended with a round of dorm parties. Warner sponsored a scavenger hunt; New Castle, a treasure hunt. Sussex girls entertained at an open house. The Freshmen Dorms, Topsy, Turvy and Hanover, held a joint picnic.

All in all, the first Women's Weekend, thanks to a display of co-operative spirit from all the girls.

"Bulletin Boards" — Roberts

Coordinator of Student Affairs, Mr. "Milt" Roberts has issued a list of suggestions which offer a possible solution to the flagrant condition of the Bulletin Board in the basement of the Library. Mr. Roberts feels that the board can be improved in four major departments:

1) Size—held to a minimum of 8" x 11" and to a maximum of 8" x 17". This step alone will help to clear the situation.

2) Limit time of ordinary notices to ten days. Notices of applications for scholarships, etc., should be posted one month previous and removed on the last day.

3) Decorations for special events, excluding posters, should be approved by the Coordinator of Student Affairs.

4) Complete elimination of classified articles. It was suggested that a classified column in the Review would take care of articles of this type.

Therefore all articles and posters would have to be approved officially by Mr. Roberts' office before being posted.

Attention All Students!

The University of Delaware 1951 BLUE HEN is now on sale and will continue to be sold through Wednesday, March 28th, in the BLUE HEN office—Library Basement—from 9-4:00. Have you ordered your Blue Hen? This is your last opportunity to find yourself in the pictorial account of the "1950-51 University of Delaware Story."

Why do YOU go home on week-ends? Do you realize that much of the spirit and vitality of our college is being drawn away by the mass week-end exodus? When you're packing your bag next week-end, stop and consider what would happen if everyone in the college were doing the same thing. In order to get the most out of a college career it has to be a full time, devoted, seven days a week affair. Surely, we're old enough to exist seven days without mamma and pappa's sustaining hand. Week-ends should be high spots on campus instead of times of morgue-like inactivity. They are the time to relax and enjoy the intellectual and social facilities our school has to offer. The south campus demonstrated those week-end potentialities last week-end with some enthusiastic people around. Let's destroy the unpleasant title Delaware has justifiably earned of a "commuter's college." If you're lucky enough to have a room on campus, make the most of that advantage. You may regret it later if you don't. Remember there are a lot of daily commuters who would welcome the chance to trade places with you.

Ballots and Bullets

On March 29 and 30, the students will go to the polls for the S.G.A. and the class representative elections. At least, they will be going theoretically. If elections of the past are any valid indication of student reaction in the future, then less than half of you will vote.

It must be getting on your nerves by this time to have people telling you, year after year, that your qualities are as follows: apathetic, irresponsible, unconcerned, and just plain lazy.

During the national and state elections great advertising campaigns are booming the ideas of "Your vote counts", "Get out and vote", "Exercise your democratic right", and "It doesn't matter whom you vote for as long as you vote".

Unless you have direct contact with one of our men in Korea it is difficult to realize that once again American blood is being shed to protect our democratic rights. It is difficult to sit in the Student Union smoking and laughing, and still remember that somewhere in the world someone is dying for you and the American ideals. Regardless of the difficulty and the distance, it is happening and voting is one of the principles at stake.

How many students would turn out to vote if they held elections at Russian Universities?

Locksmith Needed.....

It wasn't in your mailbox last week was it?

If you want it there in the future, then you'd better get in gear and do something about it. The problem is yours and the final decision will come from you.

Two weeks ago, an unprecedented post-office reform took place and the lock on the door was changed. The circulation staff of the REVIEW had a key to the old lock, and because of this was able to place your REVIEW in the mailboxes on Thursday nights. We agree that perhaps this was not the best system in the world. If the circulation manager happened to be a light-fingered individual, the post-office

'Neath the Arches'

By DICK BURTON—with TOM O'DONNELL

The special spotlight shone brightly on the Lower Campus last week as the first Inter-Dorm-Weekend came off with narry a hitch. From the opening curtain on Friday to the watchman's warning on Sunday night there were activities galore to excite the fancy of any clean-cut American boy.

In regards to the Playbill, congratulations are in order to Newcastle and Boletus for carrying off the coveted trophy. You girls really gave a superb performance. But in our humble opinion all the dorms who participated can feel proud of the part they played.

Included in the appreciative audience at the Playbill were Jack Runkle and Robbie Stevens "chaperoned" by Capt. and Mrs. Stevens. Others taking in the eye-filling spectacle were: "Pop" Hewlett and Carolyn Dickerson, Leo Zuckerman and "Tutty" Outten, and Giff "the smiling Athenian" Nowland with Ginny McQuaid, Bill McWilliams and Gracie Schulze, and Al "I don't have the mumps" Graves with Nancy Brooks.

After the last curtain descended many of the troops headed for numerous congenial gatherings. Down at Ye Olde Frenchtown the following non-entities were engaged in playing "Indians." Jim Morris and Mary Coleman, Greg "last round" Gause and Pat Reybold, Walt "Laroy" Keithly and A. J. Brandon, and lastly Wayne Warner. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wadsworth were also on hand to heighten the festivities.

Meanwhile out at the Truck-Center another group of "first-niters" were assembled. Surveying the menu were Hank Hammond and Jean Wilson, while sipping a coke thru two straws were Ace Hoffstein and Jay Jacobson, Bill "I beat the tab" Craver and Mary Ann Biter were also included in this genteel entourage. Thus the first third of the weekend was history.

The following evening found Carpenter Field House resembling the Emerald Isle. "Sure, an' by golly, it was St. Patty's Day," and the crowd at the dance was in a festive mood.

Crowding around the "Blarney Stone" in the middle of the floor were: Roger Browning and Ida May Ladd, Shirley Cannon and Dean Toda, Harry Loose and Eleanor Williams, and Dale Harrison with Ruthie Webb. Incidentally, the Delmelodians were on hand to dispense with some smooth melodies and fox-trots.

The green streamers were under constant pressure all evening and finally came down in a shapeless heap on the dancefloor. Among the souvenir hunters were: Ed Milligan and Janet "four ryes" Batters, Leo Dannehower and Bob Wilcox, Art Diver and Alice Martin, Jim Gibbs and Yvonne West, and John Pugh with Jean Sloman.

After the dance were several parties that deserve mention—Up in Wilmington, at A. J. Brandon's home, an all-star cast was on hand to brighten things up; starring were Lois Deiss, Ed Davidheiser, Claude Tease, Mary Lou Bowen, Pat Waters, George Conner, Jane Wood, and Andy Anderson; at Maggle Pyle's Chateau the following crowd was in attendance: Ray Salamone and Anna Mae Ryon, Duck Carmichael "hustling" Ann Marie Dumas, and Jack Kinter with Anne Hartshorne.

Up in Philadelphia, a convivial band of KA's crashed an Alpha Sigma Rho party at Penn and made off with a Confederate Flag, while down at the Nation's Capitol a contingent of ATO's were attending a fraternity conference.

On Sunday just about everyone was beat from the jolly ordeal. However several of the dorms staged an "open-house" affair. Sussex had a "Coke" and Bridge Party. Newcastle had a Scavenger Hunt, and Hannover, Topsy and Turvy combined to throw a picnic. Taking in the wonders of nature were Joe "I'm a wee widdle wabbit" Lank and Shirley Thomas, Jerry Buxton and Joan "this can't be love" Archer, George Nagy and Pat Phillips, and Doug Haller with Bobbi Murray.

Therefore, as anyone can surmise, this was a really fast-moving few days, and the idea of Women's Weekend is probably here to stay.

might very well have been gone one morning when everyone came down to collect his correspondence.

Someone must have seen some merit in this method of distribution because it was in use even when the mailboxes were located in University Hall. Now, rather than call a meeting of the REVIEW staff, the Post-Office and the Business Office, a couple of people put their heads together and decided it would be fiendishly clever to change the lock on the post-office door and only have five keys made, which would be locked in a safe. The sterling integrity of the postal system would gain a lasting coat of polish, but did they take the REVIEW into consideration or, most important, the students? NO!!

Just remember one thing—they are here to serve you, and if you want your REVIEW put into your mailbox, then it is up to you to see that it is!

If you sit on your derriere and wait for the next guy to do this, you can look for your paper outside of the REVIEW office or stacked in the Student Union from now on!

May Queen Bids Due March 26

Voting for the University of Delaware May Queen will take place on Wednesday, March 28th, in the lobby of University Hall. Petitions for candidates must be turned into Patricia Reybold, Box 1189, by 4:30 p. m. on Monday, March 26th.

The May Court consists of a May Queen, a maid of honor, and three attendants from each class. The senior candidates' petitions must be signed by twenty-five female university students. The petitions for the class representatives must be signed by twenty-five members from the class of the candidate. A university female student may sign two petitions, one for a senior and one for a representative of her class.

This year May Day, which is a traditional affair at Delaware, will be held on May 12th. The theme for May Day will be "Songs My Mother Taught Me".

THE FEMALE OF THE SPECIES

If she looks young, she is camouflaged.
If she looks old, she is young but dissipated.
If she looks innocent, she is fooling you.
If she looks shocked, she is acting.
If she looks languishing, she is hungry.
If she looks sad, she is angling.
If she looks back, follow her.

REMARK OF THE WEEK:

The fellow who leads his dates to all the unlighted parts of the campus explains his obsession with the dark by saying, "I'm sorry, honey, but I freckle easily."

There was a young lady named

Tess,
Whose necking was rather a mess;
But in less than a week,
She acquired a technique.
And now, she's a social success.

CONFUCIUS SAY:

Modern young man is less interested in a girl's family tree, than the shape of the limbs on it.

A dean of women in a large co-ed college recently began an important announcement to the student body as follows: "The president of the college and I have decided to stop necking on campus."

A SIGN OF SPRING:

A farmer's wife objected to her husband's parrot. To keep peace in the family, he decided to get rid of the feathered beast. The next time he took a crate of chickens to town he also loaded the parrot on the wagon.

About half way there, he heard his chickens squawking and the parrot screeching. Finally, he looked back and saw the chickens walking in the road behind the wagon and the parrot marching back and forth on the tail board, screaming in frustrated anger: "Any of you girls changed your minds yet?"

Letters To The Editor

Gentlemen:

In the last issue of The Review, on glancing at the S. G. A. Ballot, I was amazed to find that in 14 out of 27 cases, there was only one person "running" for the office. Furthermore, in 11 out of 14 cases, the candidate was a male fraternity man. While I'm willing to admit that most of the outstanding men on campus are fraternity men and therefore, would no doubt be suited for the job, why is it that there is only one fraternity man running for each position? In five other offices, having two people running for the identical position, one is a fraternity man, the other an independent.

No, I'm not crusading for the independents, merely expressing regret that we haven't any choice in voting between different fraternity men. As you can see, there is no conspiracy down on South Campus as to who will be nominated for most of the women's offices. Why must the fraternities engage in such obviously undemocratic policies? With due respect for all the unopposed candidates, why should such politics be a product of our "progressive" college system?

Sincerely yours,

Ida May Ladd

Theatre Review

By GIL KOFFLER

Gramercy Ghost underlines the old adage "there's nothing new under the sun." It also emphasizes a fact well-known to theatre-goers—that a play doesn't have to employ new or unique ideas and techniques to be successful. To be sure, new gimmicks are desirable, but the combination of a competent cast, good acting, and a swiftly-paced organized plot far outweighs any ingenious novelties in producing a successful show; Gramercy Ghost has that combination.

When a young career woman (Sarah Churchill, daughter of Winston Churchill) inherits the ghost of a Revolutionary War soldier which only she can see, the stage is set for the type of clowning found in Harvey, Blithe Spirit, and other shows employing invisible or supernatural beings. However, playwright John Cecil Holm (Three Men on a Horse) doesn't make the mistake of over-indulging in the usual cavortings, but resolves the play into a struggle between the ghost's efforts to remain attached to Miss Churchill (and who can

Hen Nine Shaping Up In Practice Season Hinges on Pitching Corps

By JOE GLICK

"We have more natural baseball talent this spring than ever before," states Coach "Shack" Martin, grooming his varsity squad for a scheduled twenty-four game season. "The question mark," says the Blue Hen coach, "is whether the pitchers can carry the load . . . and we have some good pitching material."

On March 27, the official season commences with a Hofstra home game, while the whole Hen schedule consists of eight home contests and sixteen games on the road.

Spring practice began February 12 for the varsity squad, now numbering twenty-one men, of whom eight are returning 1950 lettermen.

The Blue Hen diamondmen are captained by letterman Joe Higgins, second baseman, whose leadership will be counted on very strongly to maintain the team's proper morale and hustle.

In the hurling department, Pete Carlson is the only veteran of last season. The tall, blond Connecticut kid has plenty on his fast and curve balls. Bill Shockley, who pitched freshman ball but did not play last year, should prove an asset to the pitching staff. Hurlers Larry Dalton and sole southpaw Lew Wright completes the tall, rangy element of the Blue Hen pitchers. Infielders turned pitchers, Ken Reith and Henson "Duke" Evans round out the moundsmen.

At first base there is currently a hot race between Dick Evans and Joe Santanello, Evans being on the inside track. Captain Joe Higgins is a fixture at second, while Joe Lank has the shortstop position sewn up. Sophomore Dick Berl is being primed for Higgins' duties at the keystone sack.

At present, John Allen has third base, and at the same time promising infielders Charlie Abrams and Jim Money maker should be pushing the veterans hard. Journeyman Al Prodhag is number one catcher, seconded by Ted Michael. Versatile Don Carmichael, though labeled for the outfield, will be able to fill in behind the plate.

Dick Goldberg, who occupied left field last year, will probably see a shift to center, on his speed and general fielding ability. Letterman outfielder Larry O'Toole will play in right field if he beats out vet Joe Helm, who will then be heading left field competition. Left hand hitter and good hunter, Jim Ford, who came in as an infielder, is being seriously considered for outfield play.

Moleskins Out As Gridders Vie In Spring Practice

By VINCE STALLONE

Starting spring practice with the new head coach, David Nelson, the varsity football squad is getting into condition very rapidly. Although no spring games have been scheduled as yet, it is very probable that there will be two or three, if the team progresses satisfactorily.

According to Coach Nelson, the Hens will use the T-formation again this year since they are used to it, but they may switch to the single-wing if the occasion demands. Giving Nelson assistance are "Marty" Pierson, coaching the ends; and Joe Brunansky the line. Coach Nelson stated that he was inspired by the enthusiasm of the team and the way they have responded. He said also that he thought the men had made adequate progress for the amount of practicing they've done.

Fifty-one men have reported to practice. Twenty-one of them are returning veterans who saw at least some action last year. The rest of the team is composed, for the most part, of men from last fall's freshman squad. Practice is being held on Frazer Field every afternoon at 4:00 p. m. These drills are held in full uniform in order to get the squad used to wearing their gear, and also for protection against injuries caused by scrim-

Coach Shack Martin is forced to pull away from the outside pitch delivered by one of his hurlers. The boy making like Roy Campanella is Chuck Abrams. Nonchalantly watching the pill sail by is little Dickie Berl, who is in contention for a second sacker berth this year.

Snakes Lead Race For Intramural Cup; Theta Chi Second

By JOHN CONWAY

On Monday, March 12, the intramural volleyball season opened. Two leagues, the American and the National, have been organized. Games are scheduled Monday through Thursday; Friday being held open for makeup games.

In games played thus far this season, in the American League, Sig. Ep. defeated A.E.Pi; A.E.Pi defeated the Ag. Club; Sigma Nu was victorious over Theta Chi, K. A. and A.T.O.; Theta Chi fell to A.T.O.

In the National League, the Panthers fell to the Snaklets; the Confederates defeated the Snaklets. Southside All Stars, and Theta Chi; the Goobers took the measure of the Ramblers and Theta Chi; the

The Intramural Individual Championship Trophy was won in 1949 by Stanley Bazela, Kappa Alpha; 1950 by Lyle Carney, Kappa Alpha.

For 1951 — the leading contenders are: (as of March 12, 1951)

1. Bill Monahan—Theta Chi—85.
2. Hal Schmittinger—Theta Chi—80.
3. Tom Baylis—Sig. Ep.—77.
4. Jack Kinter—Sigma Nu—72.
5. Tom Walker—Sig. Ep.—69.

10. Richard Williams—P. K. T.—56.
11. Jim Jones—Sigma Nu—52 (less football).
12. Joe Higgins—Sigma Nu—48 (less football).

maging. However, even with these protective precautions, several of the squad are side-lined with minor injuries — a common occurrence among all teams when they first begin practice.

Coach Steer's Thinclads Start Workouts; Informal Meet Held With Towson State

Albright, Temple Booked Unofficially To Prime Squad For Strenuous Card

By TOM BAYLIS

Delaware's track team informally opened its season March 14 with a practice meet with Towson Teachers College. There were only four running events and no field events. Delaware won the meet even though there was no official score kept. The team made a clean sweep of the mile and half mile, took first and second in the 440, and then failed to place in the 50 yd. dash.

Roger Fouracre, a freshman, showed his heels to all contestants in both the mile and half-mile events. Roger is a graduate of Newark High School where he ran the mile and half mile last year. Coming in close behind Fouracre in the mile were Stan Hughes and Don Vane to make it a clean sweep for Delaware.

In the half-mile, Jack Loose, another freshman, trailed Fouracre, and Bill Bottom came in third. Tom Baylis and Bill Evans took first and second place respectively in the 440 with a Towson man taking third place.

The 50 yd. dash proved to be Delaware's weak spot. Towson took all three places. Jack Tebo was fourth in a very close finish but fourth place doesn't count.

Saturday, March 24, the thin-clads will play host to the Temple team on the indoor track in Carpenter Field House. There will be a large assortment of events in order to give everyone a chance to participate. Due to the sharp curves of the track only about two or three men can run the shorter races at one time. There will be a 50, 440, 660, 880, 1000, and a two mile, and a mile relay. There will also be all the field events except the javelin and discus.

Last year Temple brought a team down and were the first school to compete against Delaware in the new field house. Their star high-jumper, Dick Lyster, put on quite a show last year clearing over 6 feet. This year he is back again, and after competing in the big indoor meets all winter, he should be hard to beat.

Also the team has a meet with

Albright on the 27th of March, in the field house. The meet will probably consist of the same events as in the Temple meet.

Coach Steers has scheduled these practice meets to get the boys in shape for the outdoor schedule this year, which starts April 14. There are five dual meets scheduled, the Penn Relays, and the Middle Atlantic. Also Coach Steers is planning to take a mile relay to the Carolina Relays on April 7, if he can get four boys who will produce around a 3:28 mile.

The team shows signs of being strong in the middle distance and much depth in the sprints. Jack Tebo and Bill Evans look like they will be running the show in the sprints. In the 440 and 880 Tom Baylis and Jim Jones are back from last year, and a newcomer, Jack Jester, has been looking good in time trials. The one and two mile events will find Stan Hughes, Tom Fouracre, Don Vane, Bill Bolt, George Bradley, and George Lehman fighting out for positions. Harry Loose and Dick Wells will be doing most of the hurdling.

In the pole vault we find this year's captain, Curt Turner, and Bill McWilliams. Last year Curt broke the pole vault record in the Middle Atlantic meet and Coach Steers is looking for even greater heights this year.

Bill Fisher, Don Boorse, Harry Loose and Charlie Smith will be doing the broad-jumping. Delaware has been weak in this event for the last couple years, but judging from the material for this year it should be one of the teams strongest events. So far Bill Thompson is the only one showing any interest in the high jump. The weight men are Joe Lank, Bill Dick, Charlie Litz, and Ed Cunningham. Although there isn't much depth here, these men should contribute their share of the points.

There are still openings in practically all events. This year the team is out to better last year's record of 3 wins 2 losses. One of the biggest factors in winning meets is having depth. Any one interested in track should contact Coach Steers as soon as possible.

Chicken' Chat

Last fall, South Campus was attacked by an invasion of flying sticks. Although you probably breathed a sigh of relief when the active hockey players hibernated for the winter, we're warning you that you haven't seen anything yet! W.A.A. moves outside again after Easter with a new spring schedule of activities, bigger than ever before. On the hockey field Ann Catts and Julie Richardson will be managing Lacrosse practice. Shirley Burns will be leading the "home-run-hitters" on the softball diamond and Beverly Sharpless will be setting the pace on the tennis courts. A general warning has been issued to Warner Hall suggesting that they comb the attic for their arrow-proof screens. Archery has been added to the spring sport's agenda for the first time, and manager Joanna Newton is urging every precaution.

At the last W.A.A. executive meeting the subject of co-educational recreational activities and sports for Delaware's fellows and girls was again brought up. Several good suggestions are being considered for the near future. However, the time element is the biggest factor to be combated at this time of the year.

This week should be a decisive one as many games of W.A.A.'s basketball tourney draw to a close. The Clowns-Dribbles game will either put the Dribbles at the top of the open tourney or else will leave them both tied for first place. In the dorm tourney Mosher, the Basket Sweepers and Catts' Kittens are vying for the top spot.

Don't miss the aquatic Water Circus coming to the Women's Gym next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, March 27th, 28th and 29th.

GIRL SWIMMERS

The lissome lovelies pictured above are but a few of the attractions to be presented at this year's Water Circus. Sexy sea-maidens will be the order of the day when the Aquatic Club gives its marine masterpiece, March 27, 28 and 29 at the Women's Pool.

Aquatic Spectacle To Be Held At Women's Pool March 27-29

By SUE CONWAY

Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! Step right up to see the tremendous Water Circus. The greatest beauties of the campus. They kick. They dive. They slither under water like sharks. Acrobats! Elephants! Bare-back riders! Just once a year, and the crowd is flocking. Hurry! Hurry! Hurry!

The circus will come to town when the Aquatic Club of the Women's Athletic Association will present their third annual Water Ballet in the swimming pool, Women's Gymnasium, at 8:00 p. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, March 27, 28, and 29. Admission is free and the public is invited. Dolphins from lower campus will masquerade as penguins, vendors and even merry-go-rounds.

Organized by the girls, and under the direction of Miss Maryann Waltz and Mrs. Barbara Rothacker, the Aquatic Club presented last spring the aqua-rainbow, "Water Colors". In 1949, the girls swam "Round the Aqua Clock". Though the club gives but one show per year, members practice weekly, developing swimming skills, devising stunts, and perfecting the difficult synchronized swimming.

The best of the swimmers from South Campus are represented in this year's Aquatic Club. They are: Alison Buckley, Adele Feldman, Sue Ferver, G. A. Goodrich, Doris Goodley, Ida May Ladd, Joan Leahy, Nancy Nicoll, Nancy Russell, Ann Schultz, Jeannie VonUffel, Joan Wallis, Virginia Wells, Eleanor Williams, Isabel Brown, Dot Fry, Evelyn Klahr, Lucy Lashar, Presh Lamb, Julie Richardson, and Natalie Roos.

Your only chance to see members of the 1951 Aquatic Club perform will be at the "Aqua Circus" on March 27, 28, and 29th.

Work up that circus spirit. So step right up and Hurry, Hurry, Hurry!

Marksman Close Season; Last Fray With Utah State

By JOE LANK

The University ROTC Rifle Team closes its shooting season next week with a postal match against Utah State College. Although few are aware of the existence of this group, the team has been engaged in competition and practice since the middle of January. The team is under the able guidance and coaching of Sgt. Gaines Wickers of the university military department.

So far this season, the varsity squad has had three forms of competition, a Second Army Intercollegiate match, a shoulder-to-shoulder match with Pennsylvania Military College, and a postal match with the University of Arizona. The freshmen have had two postal matches, one with Norwich University and one with Pittsburgh University. The teams have not been victorious as yet, but considering that this is only the second year the squads have been organized, the first year in competition, the scores are not too bad. As a matter of fact, steady improvement has been shown in all the scores. Just the past week two members of the "hawkeyes" have broken the National Rifle Association's qualifications for expert riflemen. They are Ed Cunningham of the varsity and Jim Talley of the freshmen. Cunningham drew a nice score of 280, firing from the three required positions, prone, kneeling, and standing. Talley fired a 276 to top the NRA requirement of 275 for the course. These two additions to the rank of expert brings our number to three in this category. Joe Cann, a consistent shooter, attained the distinction last year.

Other members of the varsity team are Art Gormann, Jack Elper, Sanford Ackermann, Paul Cochran, Bob Rudrow, Gene Semar, Art Rickel, and Joe Lank.

The Freshmen team consists of Dick Peoples, Herb Heyl, Bob Fisher, Stan Czerwinski, Bill McKinney, Ralph Spotts, and Ed Lowicki.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 16...THE HARLEQUIN DUCK

"I may be a clown—but I'm no fool!"

He might be the merry-andrew of the marshlands, but lately he's been downright glum about these trick cigarette mildness tests. Never one to duck facts, he holds nothing much can be proved by a sniff of one brand or a quick puff from another. Snap judgments can't take the place of regular, day-to-day smoking. That's why so many smokers are turning to...

The sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why...

ROTC Summer Camp Will Be Held at Ft. Bliss, Texas

Sixty-three advanced ROTC students of the University of Delaware will attend summer camp this summer. Forty-nine of the students will attend the Antiaircraft Artillery ROTC Camp at Ft. Bliss, Texas and the other fourteen students, who are specializing in the Chemical Corps, will attend the Chemical Corps ROTC Camp at Army Chemical Center, Maryland. Both camps will begin on June 16 and end on July 27, 1951.

Ft. Bliss, Texas, the home of the Antiaircraft and Guided Missiles School, will have approximately 1400 Antiaircraft Artillery ROTC students from the entire United States attending this one camp. During the six weeks period the Delaware students will receive a practical and intensive course in Antiaircraft Artillery, to include firing of the 40 mm. and .50 calibre automatic weapon and the 90 mm. and 120 mm. heavy guns at the various desert firing ranges. The firing period for weapons has been increased from one to three weeks this summer.

The fourteen Chemical Corps students will receive intensive courses in the study and investigation of toxicological warfare, including chemical and biological warfare and radiological defense and also the study of the development, manufacture, and procurement of equipment pertaining to these types of warfare. The students will also fire the 4.2 inch chemical mortar using both high explosive and chemical shells.

The government furnishes all students with transportation to and from camp and the students receive the pay of a seventh grade enlisted man during the six weeks camp.

Alpha Zeta To Throw Dinner-Dance Saturday

Roast turkey will be featured Saturday night when Alpha Zeta, the honorary agriculture fraternity, holds its annual Dinner-Dance. The affair will start at 7 p.m. at Schaeffer's Restaurant in Chesapeake City. Dancing to the music of the Delmolodions will follow until midnight.

Last Monday night, Alpha Zeta initiated the following men into the fraternity: Daniel Cappel, Samuel Talucci, Orlin Seim Anderson, Frank J. Silva, William Hufford, Joseph Cann, and Charles Allmond. These men all possessed the necessary requirements and had successfully undergone their week of pledging, which included wearing the key and corn at all times.

Barrell Achieves Military Honors

Edgar A. Barrell, a junior majoring in business administration at the University, has been selected as a "distinguished military student" in the ROTC cadet officer corps.

Barrell lives with his wife and son at 601 West Twenty-third Street, Wilmington. He is a cadet major in the ROTC unit and is battalion executive of the First Battalion.

A veteran of the Army service, Barrell has been a member of the Economics Club and of the cheerleader's squad.

Only a few of the cadet officers in the ROTC are selected as distinguished military students. Selection is based on outstanding qualities of military leadership, aptitude for military service, high moral character, and either academic or extra-curricular distinction. Cadets appointed as distinguished military students may apply for a commission as second lieutenants in the Regular Army and join the ranks of the Officer Corps of the Army, along with graduates of West Point.

Alpha Epsilon Pi

We know it's cold, but hats off to Brother Neal Rothman upon his acceptance into national honorary scholastic fraternity Phi Kappa Phi, and Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity. (BIG man.) In the orchids department, congrats to Henry Galperin upon his engagement to Miss Ruth Keller.

From among the "fortunates" Bob Kugler, Coop Cooperman, Gary Greenstein, Neal Rothman, Jerry Eisenman, George Flam, Don Cherr, Leo Zuckerman and Dave Goodman, comes word that Inter-Dorm Weekend was definitely a success.

It was but a realized whim, relate the Saturday-night pilgrims-to-Baltimore... after flat tires, chaos, and mass hysteria... Mark Rappaport-from-newport, George "She-was-so-young-too" Chamlin, Stance "This-looks-familiar" Gross, Len "Action!" Rosenbaum, Carl "Nothing" Goldenberg, Marty "She-wasn't there" Cooper, Hank Bertusch, and Wally.

If a few weeks ago Favel Chavin was in the purple depths of despair... now he may be seen among the joyous depths of Mount Olympus. (I was carried away.) Congratulations Favel on your admittance to Temple Medical School.

Brothers Alf "Birdie" Isaacs and Ray "91" Brett are talking about the afternoon of golf as guests of Jerry and Doc Eisenman... really real.

The SS AEPI will finally dock Saturday Night for the Buccaneers' Brawl... the house is "bristling" with anticipation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Last week-end many of the brothers were lucky enough to attend the Women's Weekend. From all reports it sounded like a great affair. It seems that Ralph Gesell and Jack Jester escorted a very chic girl from Laurel on Friday and Saturday respectively, and both seem very much interested in her. Don't fight, boys.

The brothers with the lesser sex appeal had to be contented to visit the local beverage establishment. "Athletic Ozzie" Grier was practicing baseball with a case of barley malt at Frenchtown and caught it right in the mouth. There is now one out and maybe two to go.

Congratulations are in order for Joanne DiSabatino and Wayne Polari who recently announced their engagement.

Sigma Nu

Sigma Nu's volley ball team, which hasn't had much luck in past years, seems to be on the right road this time. With the season almost half gone, the squad has racked up three straight victories and already has a grip on the trophy.

The house's Fraternity League football champions will be forced into spring practice very shortly in order to be ready for the Intramural Championship contest. The game postponed last fall by title playoffs and inclement weather, must be played off before the end of the semester.

Last Sunday, the members of the Sigma Nu Polar Bear Club journeyed to Ocean City, N. J. in order to get the water prepared for the coming of the expected masses. The old Atlantic didn't prove too cooperative, however, for it was as cold, as was to be expected, and kept the brothers at a safe distance.

Perhaps the first record of births in the house came about last week when room 26 was blessed with the arrival of seven bouncing baby guppies. The mother and children are doing nicely.

Alpha Tau Omega

All of the Brothers wish to congratulate Brother Bob Hopkins for his recent pinning of Ruth Ann Stevenson. Best wishes, Stevie and Bob!

Of course, the talk of the campus has pertained to the Women's Week-end, and all comments have been so favorable that the women should be highly commended for a superb job. The women rarely have a chance to be in the "limelight" but every time they are, they really shine. The dance was one that will go down in the ATO books as one of the best on campus for a long time.

Congratulations to New Castle Hall, the winners of the Carlson Trophy presented to the girls' dormitory in the Inter-Dorm Playbill and Songfest. Hats off to A. J. Matthews and Bobby Baker the two directors of New Castle's presentations. It was quite obvious that much time had been spent on rehearsals to give the appearance of that "professional touch".

Last Wednesday, Epsilon Rho was proud to welcome "Luke" Broadway as an active Brother in ATO. Congratulations, "Luke", may your years as an active Brother be prosperous ones.

Thirty eight ATO's traveled to Washington, D. C., over the week-end to the Biennial Conclave. Delaware's basketball representatives—Mills and Pollitt were high scorers in the Inter Province All Star game.

Delta Tau Delta

We are happy to announce the pledging of three new men. Don Godfrey, Don Green, and Bill Masters joined the ranks this week. Congratulations, men!

A group of the brothers were off again for South Campus to serenade Jane Wood, who was pinned by Brother Andy Anderson. The choir sang "If You Wanna Be a Tau Delt", "Delta Queen", and "Sweetheart of Delta Tau."

Many of the brothers were "wearers of the green" at the Inter-Dorm Dance on Saturday night, and attended the various picnics and house parties on Sunday. It was a swell weekend and we hope the event will become a Delaware tradition. Congratulations also to New Castle for winning the Carlson Cup, and to the runners-up. All of you did a terrific job. After the dance A. J. Brandon threw a party up at her house in Wilmington. Among those present were Daddy Morris and Mary Coleman, George Conner with Pat Waters, Andy Anderson and Jane Wood, and of course, Walt.

Delt pin men won the bowling match with A.E.Pi and Dave Johnson, that red hot fencer, was selected captain of the fencing team for the coming year.

Phi Kappa Tau

The Phi Taus really enjoyed Womens Weekend—it should be continued we think. Congratulations to New Castle for winning the Playbill and to all the other dorms for providing an enjoyable evening.

Our annual Founder's Day Banquet was held last Thursday night in the Coffee Shop of the DiSabatino Building. We had a good alumni turnout and President Earl Tull summed up the progress of the chapter during the past year in a very fine speech.

Millionaire George McGee turned up Saturday with a spanking new Ford. Anyone want to buy his old '37 Willys coupe? Good car, sez George.

Brothers Silva, Carn, and Huffard have been looking this week with their overalls and corn beads. They're Alpha Zeta pledges.

Pledge Jim Michael spent the weekend at F. & M. "Mike" entered the Middle Atlantic Wrestling Tournament and gave a good account of himself.

Kappa Alpha

There was not much activity at the KA residence this past week-end; most of the brothers were being entertained by the girls from campus who were holding their Inter-Dorm Weekend. As far as weekends go the past one was completely lost for Brother Greg Gause. Brother Gause has now been officially christened the Earl of York. Brother Doug Haller has the title of Duke.

Congratulations to the girls of New Castle on their victory and fine performance in the Inter-Dorm Playbill. Other congratulations to be extended is to brother Bill "Hotsie" Utt who has been elected captain of next year's varsity basketball team. Brothers Bob Davis, Bob Wright, and Bill Draper have been elected numbers I, II, III respectively and will soon officially take office. Last but not least in line for congratulations is Brother Dick Vernon who will be married Saturday, March 24, to Jeanne Monteith.

The KA Rebels will enter a team in the annual Delaware state tournament and should come out with a creditable showing.

Pi Kappa Alpha

The queens of the campus are worthy of hearty congratulations on their successful weekend with laurels to New Castle and Boletus for winning the playbill. We hope the girls will deem their success worthy of making this an annual affair.

Among the girls present at the dance Sat. night with Pike dates were: Rusty Badertscher, Nancy Gast, Marie Hutchinson, Nancy King, Teel Dunn, Frannie Stevenson, Joyce Trout, Charlotte Whaley, Barbara Batton, and Margie Lockerman. Many of the fellows would like to know more about the blond with Frank Lane and also the basis for a remark made by Janie Reigart concerning her victory over Chuck Cantera in a wrestling bout.

Athletically speaking the Pikes bowling team had three points, won from Sigma Nu last week, nullified by dropping three Monday night to a strong, league-leading ATO quintet. After two contests our volley ball team has a .500 average and high hopes for the future.

Another Pike pin has found its way to a prominent place on petite and blond Shirley "Shorts" Boulden. Congratulations, Tucker, for adding her to the ranks of our dream girls.

Theta Chi

The girls of Delaware certainly showed the men they know something about throwing a week end. We'd like to congratulate New Castle on their cup-winning performance, and all the other dorms who helped make it a great women's week end.

The present pledge class has elected Rap Schull their pledge captain

Med. Tech Society Has First Meeting; Dr. Howard Speaks

Dr. John W. Howard, pathologist of the Delaware Hospital, was the first guest speaker, on Thursday, March 15, for the newly formed Society of Medical Technologists.

He gave a brief sketch of the scientific discoveries which led up to the importance of pathological work in the hospital and the need of medical technicians to carry on this work.

The hospitals need thoroughly trained technicians, but low financial standards have made it sometimes impossible to employ several technicians at the salary expected of a college graduate.

The lectures sponsored by the Society of Medical Technologists are open to all students. Notices of the lectures will be posted.

for the following months of arduous training. One of the added features of the pledge conditioning is that each meeting a different brother gives a short lecture, telling the pledges the part he plays, as an individual, in the brotherhood.

Saturday night will feature the pledges, as they are coming forth with a house party for the brothers... brothers Hartmann, McCarthy, and Perine are always looking for new talent!

Theta Chi intramural volleyball and bowling teams are getting off to a slow start, but they have great promise in making fast finishes. Included on the teams are such sensations as Claude Tease, Dick Grossman, Bill Hearn, Andy Schmidt, and many others, who usually give any competition a long run for their money.

blame him?) and her efforts to free herself, which she eventually does. Although this plot sounds dull, it is so enriched with lively character acting and snappy dialogue, interspersed with moments of intense, serious feeling, that the play could hardly have been better if the "ghost" idea had never been used before.

Three pasty-faced "spirits" provide the laughs and the pathos, but the play's crowning asset is Sarah Churchill. Whether touching her toes or tossing off a couple of quick shots of rye (both of which she does), Miss Churchill commands the stage.

Also deserving of plaudits is the main "ghost" (Richard Waring). His acting is so effective that there is a noticeable audience reaction whenever he enters the stage.

Gramercy Ghost opens in New York soon.

News! Our nylon blouses at $6 by Glenwear with shirred shirt front, round collar and set-in sleeves are in! Quantity limited—so rush.

This excerpt from a letter from the Wilmington City Panhellenic Association pleased us so much—"So many of our members came to me afterward (the Fashion Show on March 10th) to say they thought it was so beautifully managed. Perhaps the most pleasing thought was that most of us could afford to buy some of the outfits. The down-to-earth prices were encouraging, and several of the members plan a visit to your shop soon." Thanks, so much. We're doing our best to meet today's challenge.

Don't forget your Easter poses! Ours are as natural as natural—and as fragrant as Spring's first blossoms. Needless to say you can wear them all summer! Priced from 65c to $4.

Calling all wise shoppers... our Spring Suits of fine all wool are the talk of this area—navy, checks, combinations and plenty of grey! And remember, our suits are perfect—not rejects with imperfections in the fabric or fit.

We've so many intriguing new things to see... may we suggest you put a nickel instead of a penny in the meter when you come a-shopping. You'll enjoy shopping leisurely!

Our Versatiler is here—with new tucked back and convenient pockets. Made of Burlington's tazelized linen spun, in favorite town colors and pastels. Sizes 10 to 20. Only $12.

Spread the news, please—our prints and sheers in size 12 to 20, and half-sizes at $9 to $15 are making lots of new customers for us. They're just right for business, neighborly visits and club work!

For Easter gifts, we suggest: scarfs, nylon or batiste blouses, lingerie, or some of our new scatter pins and chalk white jewelry. And always our flowers!

U. of D. Graduates Chosen Judges For Writing Contest

March 24 Deadline For Fiction, Drama, Non Fictional Prose

Judges for the sixth annual creative writing contest, sponsored by the University's English Department, for all undergraduates were announced today by Mrs. Sara B. Rogers, chairman.

The contest, which closes March 24, offers prizes in four fields: fiction, nonfictional prose, poetry, and drama. The first prize in each category, consisting of a book with suitably inscribed book plates bearing the seal of the University, will be presented on Honors Day, May 10.

The judges are Miss Jane Gaffney, assistant manager of publicity, of the Publicity Division of the Hercules Powder Company; Mrs. Mina Press Brown, director of the Materials Center of the Wilmington Board of Education; and Mr. Joseph Dannenberg, editor of the Atlas Family, the news magazine of the Atlas Powder Company. All the judges are graduates of the University.

Miss Gaffney, who has been engaged in editorial work since her graduation from college, was employed by the News-Journal Company before joining the Hercules Advertising Department in 1942. From May, 1944 to August, 1945, she edited a weekly newspaper for employees of the Volunteer Ordnance Works, operated by the Hercules Company, in Chattanooga, Tennessee, before returning to publicity division duties in Wilmington. Miss Gaffney also edits a monthly newsletter for the Catholic Broadcasters Association and writes radio scripts for the Catholic Forum of the Air, a Wilmington radio program.

Mrs. Brown, who was president of the Student Government Association while in college, has divided her time since graduation between teaching and editorial positions. For a period of five years she taught English at the Caesar Rodney High School, Wyoming, Delaware, and before assuming her duties with the Wilmington Board of Education in February of this year, she served as executive secretary of the Alumnae Association of the University. As part of her duties in this position, Mrs. Brown was co-editor of the University News, the University Alumnae Alumni magazine.

Mr. Dannenberg was associate editor of the Review and a contributor to the Cauldron and has had extensive writing experience. While serving overseas in the U. S. Army, he won first prizes two consecutive years for the Armed Forces Playwriting Contest, sponsored by Western Reserve University. The plays' titles were "Banked Curve" and "Inquest". Since that time Mr. Dannenberg has been employed as a reporter by the American Observer, The Sunday Star, and the Journal-Every Evening. He has been editor of the Atlas Family for over four years.

Crisis Should Not Hamper Education

"The assumption that the international crisis is of such a character that the processes of higher education should be slowed down or stopped entirely," was attacked here by Grinnell College President Samuel N. Stevens.

He declared that "there appear to be educators of great distinction who are willing to jettison our entire cultural tradition in the name of a national emergency and to change the entire current of American life in a moment of hysteria."

President Stevens continued: "We must assume, whatever the nature of a possible conflict, that there will be an on-going life for this nation afterward. Therefore, it seems utterly folly to suppose that the social, economic, and political problems of peace following another holocaust will be so simple of solution that we will be able to solve them without the aid of the most highly trained and highly educated people that we can produce."

Illinois Professor Claws Education Colleges, Teachers

Professor Harry J. Fuller of the botany department of Illinois University recently gave education colleges a barbed and heavily adjectived going over. He challenged the ideas of professional educators on four counts:

1. Falsity of the basic assumptions from which they proceed in their anti-intellectual activities;
2. Deterioration in the contemporary training of students, particularly in the high schools;
3. Substitution of "socially significant" subjects for sound education in the humanities, arts, and sciences; and
4. Confusions and inconsistencies which dominate the thinking, utterances, and activities of many education professors.

"I believe that certain social service courses have a valuable function in the education of young people," Professor Fuller declared, "but not when the effect is to emasculate and vitiate the humanities on the assumption they are empty, moribund, and irrelevant relics of the past, and the sciences that they are simply incidental to our contemporary invention of mechanical gadgets, jet-planes, and atom bombs."

"I do not believe all education professors and their courses and activities to be hopelessly idiotic. Some are gentlemen and scholars. At the base of much educational rumbulo-jumbo is sometimes a solid subsoil of sound and helpful educational practice and psychology."

"Too often, however, this remains invisible under a cloud of dust

Faculty's Display To Be Continued Through Next Week

The exhibit of faculty publications will stay open throughout this week. Although it has been impossible to exhibit all the published works of our faculty, it may be worth the time of every member of the student body to become acquainted with those works that space allowed to display. The following members of the faculty are represented:

President Perkins and former President Sypherd.

In Agriculture: Profs. G. I. Baker, T. A. Baker, Bausman, Detjen, Tomhave, Woodmansee.

Ancient Languages: Profs. Clift, Fletcher.

Art: Prof. Gardner.

raised by the hot winds from the numerous educational opportunists and carpetbaggers who too often dominate our colleges of education and public schools.

"I am for restoration of the humanities, arts, and sciences to their properly dominant position in our educational system and elimination from our schools of the silly fads, tawdry tricks, superficial subject matter, and cheaply utilitarian educational philosophy forced upon them by some education professors."

He charged the educators with believing that "the American home and family life are virtually extinct, and as a consequence, the earnest, young mimeograph-equipped neophytes of our colleges of education must become wet-nurses, instructors in sex education, medical advisors, consultants to the levelorn, umpires in the battle of the vertical versus the horizontal stroke in tooth-brushing, and professors of motor-vehicle operation."

Lacrosse Team Prepares For Season; Don Swan Back

By DORRANCE BARRELL

The Blue Hen Lacrosse team under Coach Milt Roberts is about ready to leave on its annual southern tour shortly after vacation starts. This is the beginning of a rugged thirteen game schedule.

During the winter season, the players kept in shape by playing several box lacrosse games. The two contests with Swarthmore and the single engagement with Princeton proved a great help in this direction. The outlook for the coming season is fairly bright, since Roberts lost only four players from last year's squad and veterans of 1950 will be bolstered by last year Frosh team.

Table Tennis Club Ends Season, 4-5

The Table Tennis Club has ended its playing schedule for this term. Four matches were won by the team, and five were lost. The team played representative teams from Universities on the Eastern coast.

Although the Delaware team had its slight set on the National Intercollegiate Title, the loss of Terry Schall, Delaware State Singles Champion, to the U. S. Air Force made a big hole in the team. The team attended the Inter-collegiate at Syracuse, New York, but the title of Intercollegiate Champions went to the members of the Wayne University team.

Two exhibitions were given by the club. The first was held at the Walnut Street Y.M.C.A. in Wilmington, and the second was given for the benefit of the Century Club teenagers of Newark.

The program for next year will involve small groups which will meet in the available places on campus. Competition will be held among the individuals in the various groups. The accent will be on getting acquainted in order that a more flexible and informal type of program can be followed.

Noted Painter's Work On Exhibit In Art Gallery

An exhibition of 56 paintings and drawings by the American artist Charles Demuth will be on view at the Art Gallery through March 30. These works present Demuth's flower and still-life studies, his post-cubist architectural paintings, his vaudeville and night club scenes, and his illustrations of books by Henry James and Zola.

Demuth was born in Lancaster, Pa.; he was sent to art schools in Philadelphia and Paris, and became a member of the circle around Stieglitz. When he died in 1935, Demuth had become one of the masters of American watercolor painting.

Dr. Perkins Among Ag Club Guests Father-Son Night

The Ag Club Father and Son Banquet was well attended last Saturday in Kent Hall.

Dean George Schuster, President Perkins, and George Worrlow, Director of the Experimental Station, gave short talks.

Ag Club President Frank Springer introduced the other special guests: Dean J. Fenton Dougherty, Dean David L. Arm, Dean William O. Penrose, Dr. Perkins and son, Jim, and Frank B. Springer, Sr.

A get-acquainted session for fathers, faculty and deans followed the speeches and introductions.

Navy Enlistment Possible After Draft Deferment

"The Navy Recruiting Service has been authorized to accept applications for enlistment within quota in the Navy from those students who are deferred from induction pending completion of the current academic school year, provided they are physically and otherwise qualified," Commander Jay T. Palmer, U. S. Navy, Officer-in-Charge of the Philadelphia Navy Recruiting Station has announced.

Commander Palmer further said, "This change in Navy policy resulted from the Selective Service Director's announcement which gave the local selective service boards authority to postpone the induction of all high school and college students who are presently on a statutory postponement until the end of the current academic year, for an additional thirty day period so that they may enlist in the branch of the Armed Forces they prefer."

Those affected by the above change in Navy enlistment policy are: (1) Those secondary school graduates who have received prior to graduation, their notice to report for pre-induction physical and mental examination, but who have not yet received their orders to report for induction. (2) Those secondary school graduates who have received their orders to report for induction and who have had these orders cancelled for the purpose of enlisting in the service of their choice. (3) At the end of the current academic year, those college students or graduates who have received, prior to the end of the current academic year, their notice to report for pre-induction physical or mental examination, but who have not received their orders to report for induction. (4) At the end of the current academic year, those college students or graduates who have received their orders to report for induction and who have had these orders cancelled for the purpose of enlisting in the service of their choice.

It was further pointed out that applicants not coming under one of the four categories outlined above are still prohibited from enlisting in the Navy if they have received notice to report for pre-induction physical.

Students under educational deferment upon applying for enlistment in the Navy must show that they have had their orders for induction cancelled. This is accomplished by individual request to their local selective service board.

Under this new policy students may submit their applications for enlistment in the Navy now, and if found fully qualified will have their names placed on a waiting list; actual enlistment must be within the Navy's allowed quota and will not be effected until after the end of the school year.

The Navy has taken this action to encourage students to remain in school and afford them an opportunity to volunteer for the service of their choice prior to the expiration of their induction postponement.

Full information on the above may be obtained at the Navy Recruiting Station, 13 South 13th Street, Philadelphia, or at any local Navy Recruiting Station.

Tassel, Women's Honor Society Had Dessert-Bridge

On March 17, Tassel, the senior women's honor society at the University, sponsored a dessert-bridge in Warner Hall. A prize was given for each table, and door prizes were given to several of the guests. The bridge was given for the benefit of the society to raise funds for future functions. In a few years the society plans to petition for membership in Mortarboard, the national women's honorary society. Part of the money donated will be set aside as the contribution of this year's group to the initiation fee required to join Mortarboard.

Early in January, a Sunday afternoon tea was held for the members of Mortarboard from the surrounding area who helped the society become established last May.

The purpose of Tassel is to give recognition to women of scholarship, outstanding leadership, and service to the University. This spring women from the junior class will be selected to join Tassel. A formal tapping service and initiation will be held as well as an early morning breakfast and initiation dinner.

The major project of Tassel is the developing of a point system, such as once existed in the Women's College, to give more objective recognition to students active in extra-curricular activities and simplify the task of selecting junior women who are eligible to join Tassel.

At present there are five senior members of the society: Jean Jamieson, President; Nancy Nicoll, Lois Strelthof, Janet Fisher, and Lois Delss. Dean Irma Ayers is the faculty adviser and Dean Amy Rextrew and Mrs. Frederick Parker are honorary members.

Alumnae To Award Prize To Senior

The Alumnae Association will award the Emalea Pusay Warner Memorial Prize on Honors Day, May 10th, to the Senior Woman who has: 1) a cumulative index of at least 3.0 and 2) has best demonstrated good citizenship, leadership and modesty of thought.

Nominations for this year's winner will be made by Dean Rextrew, Dean Squire, Mrs. T. Muncy Keith, and Mr. Richard Groo. Members of the Senior Class, however, may make suggestions to the committee as to possible nominees. These suggestions should be made not later than April 10th.
