Tuesday, approved the purchase of a 46-acre site for a

in 1963.

The tract is located on the southeast corner of Salem and Chopin roads, seven-tenths of a mile south of the downtown-Salem Church Road intersection.

Three House Fires Occupy Volunteers In Early Morning

Aetnamers Receive Alarms
Within First Five Hours
Of Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week began inauspiciously for Newark's volunteer firemen as an alarm was received within the first minute of last Sunday morning—the first of three house fire alarms to be turned in within the next 5½ hours.

Three engines with 44 Aetnamers led by Chief Clifton Knotts responded at 12:01 a.m. when the fire was reported in the residence of Mrs. Nancy Plaman, 24 Merion
Road, Chestnut Hill Estates.

The house was filled with smoke from a smoldering sofa believed to have been set afire by a cigarette, with damages estimated at $250.

Less than half an hour later while the firemen were controlling the first blaze, another house fire was reported at 40 Thompson Circle.

Three engines—one dispatched from the scene of the first fire—extinguished the blaze with damages to a first floor closet and furniture
estimated at $400.

At 5:30 that same Sunday morning, 36 Aetnamers with three engines extinguished a fire—another sofa—in the recreation room of S.
J. Moon's residence at 135 Brennen Drive, Todd Estates. Damage was estimated at $275.

The evening before—at 7:30 Saturday—Deputy Chief Olan Thomas led 32 volunteers with four trucks
in extinguishing a fire at the 97
Rose Street residence of Henry Hall, where a chimney set fire to wall and roof with damages estimated at $150.

Armory Converted By UD To Offices, Extra Classrooms

National Guard Building
Renovated By University
For Expanded Facilities

The Newark Armory at the corner of Academy Street and Delaware Avenue has been converted to house the University of Delaware departments of philosophy and political science.

In addition to offices for 11 faculty members, the building provides two large classrooms for 60 persons;
a smaller classroom for 20 students;
a small seminar room, and a lecture hall which will seat 250.

The City of Newark, along with the University of Delaware, sought to obtain use of the armory when it was vacated by the Delaware National Guard. The city planned to use the facility as police headquarters, and for community recreation.

To make the armory useful as an educational building, the leaky basement was repaired; tunnels on the building were removed, and new walls and rest rooms were installed.

The inside walls were covered with a new plaster-like material which serves a three-fold purpose of insulation, decoration and soundproofing. Fans and a ventilating system were installed with a suspended, acoustical ceiling.

All planning and labor was provided by university personnel.

President John A. Perkins, commenting on conversion of the building, said, "Although the National Guard no longer uses the armory,
it is by no means an overstatement
to say that the building still serves a military purpose.

"The education of capable young men and women is recognized by Americans everywhere as the backbone of our national defense program."

Coverdale Urges Local Police Promotions From Within Force

Eastern District Councilman Loses Motion For 6-Month
Trial Of Ranking Police Officers For Advanced Posts;
National Vulcanized Fibre Cleared Of Burning Charge

Eastern District Councilman William M. Coverdale urged that Chief William H. Cunningham's successor be appointed from within the Newark police department; it was reported that the Newark fire marshal and building inspector had toured the local plant of the National Vulcanized Fibre Company and had found no basis for a recent complaint of open dump—or any—burning on the plant site; and an ordinance establishing a $25 per month raise in pay to cover increased living costs was approved at the regular meeting of Newark City Council
last Tuesday night.

In urging council consideration of promotional appointments from within the police department with the imminent retirement of Chief Cunningham, Coverdale said "Experience will show that a good, sound and successful police department usually stems from skillful and fair treatment for all employees.
Such treatment results in high morale, productivity, and a willing group."

next fall, Dr. Bruce Partridge said today, by completion of a six-buildof $2,500,000.

Of modern architecture, with a core building containing a large lounges and apartments, the five surrounding buildings will be joined with slightly-peaked roofs. The roof of the main building will be multi-gabled.

Dormitory rooms will be z-shaped,

Speaking of Money...

"Allowances"

Speaking for the Wilmington Savings Fund Society

Today I want to talk about allowances. Both for children and parents. Right off the bat I'm going to get the kids on my side by saying... I'm in favor of allowances... even think they're necessary. Allowances help to establish sensible financial patterns... can even provide the first steppingstone to independence. They teach, by experience, how to live the complex financial game... with nickel stakes.

Kindergarten is the best time to start a regular allowance. Give your child enough money to pay for his luncheon milk, plus a few pennies extra. Encourage him to save part of the "extra", but don't expect him to bank all of it. With some money of his own to spend, he'll soon find out the difference between the words "need" and "want".

Until he's eight, issue the allowance daily. This age doesn't yet understand about time measured in weeks. Kids from 8 to 12 develop interest in personal care and hobbies. Raise allowances accordingly. At this age, it's still pretty much a rule of thumb... fifty to seventy-five cents a week will cover the essentials and still allow some extra money. Change the daily pay-day to a one-week period. Guide him in delegating money for savings.

Age twelve and up, we get into "high finance". And arguments. Sit down with your youngster and go over his monetary needs with him. Establish what he will pay for out of his allowance... lunches, bus fare, school supplies, and so on. And... allowance shouldn't be conditional on behavior. Don't use it for discipline.

The Welfare and Health Council of New York estimates that the personal care costs of a child over twelve years come to fifty cents a week. This covers lipstick, pocket combs, hand lotions, hair-cuts. The same Council recommends a recreation budget of eighty-seven cents per week for a twelve to fourteen-year-old... one dollar and thirty-eight cents over age fifteen. This includes everything necessary to keep Johnny from being a dull boy.

Now—add these items. Depending on what essentials you expect your child to pay for, and his age, the allowance may run anywhere from two dollars to ten dollars per week. If you balk at these figures, join your youngster at the nearest soda fountain. You'll find that the nickel soda went out with the nickel cigar.

Be fair in the amount, but don't give your youngster more than he needs just because your neighbor does. This is the most painless age to learn to live within a family's economic means.

Your children will ask for extra money occasionally. Don't forget... your household or company budget doesn't always balance. Judge his needs accordingly.

Now to Mom and Pop. A good starting point is to discount the items you can buy at the store. Concentrate on recreation. Every penny needs in his pocket some just plain love. This is money that Mom and Dad can give without answering to nobody, nobody, nobody.

Allowances for the entire family curb spending on luxury items and give peace of mind. Therefore... start them early... keep them.

At the Savings Fund our business is to help people save regularly. Why not use our savings program with us and make the Savings Fund, too. Your money will earn interest at the current rate of 3.5% in a Special Purpose account. You open an account with as little as $1.00, with full passbook privilege and office regardless of the one at which you opened your account. You can cash comfortably at home and bank mail you wish. Won't you drop in soon?

THE REPUBLICAN TEAM

These candidates are dedicated to a common set of principles that assure strong representation to you and to all citizens of Delaware. They are determined to preserve the freedoms and opportunities you enjoy. This Republican team has absolute confidence in America's destiny—but clearly recognizes the challenges that must be boldly met to insure progress, prosperity and harmony.

FIRES ARE NOT ACCIDENTS

The record of approximately 600,000 fires and 6,000 fire deaths each year in U. S. and Canadian homes is a sorry story. Most tragic of all is to know that the greater part of this damage and destruction is avoidable.

There is nothing mysterious and complicated about the causes of most home fires. A cigarette is carelessly left to smolder in an overstuffed chair, a portable oil heater is recharged while still burning, electrical circuits are overloaded; matches are not cleared out and become fuel for fire.

Fire deaths in homes result from failure to follow the rules of fire safety—from smoking in bed; leaving children alone in the house; or letting youngsters play with matches.

Most families are utterly unprepared to act in a fire emergency. No thought has been given to plan all possible escape routes from every room in the house, and seldom is a drill held to make sure that both adults and children can act quickly and without panic.

For as long as fires and fire deaths are regarded as horrible accidents, progress will be slow. When people everywhere correctly recognize them as the consequences of neglect and carelessness, the rules of fire safety will be learned and followed.

Our Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company volunteer members of Newark respond at all hours of the day and night, day in and year out, to help save our lives and property. Let's give the Aethnians some help by practicing fire prevention all the way—beginning right now, here at home.

Delaware To Meet Wildcats At Durham After Homecoming Defeat By Lafayette

With three successive setbacks by Lehigh, Amherst, and Lafayette, Coach Dave Nelson's Fighting Blue Hens invade Durham this weekend for a 2 p.m. kick-off with the New Hampshire Wildcats as Delaware's defending champions of the Middle Atlantic Conference again try for their first win of a rough season. The Hens have beaten the Wildcats in seven seasons.

Last Saturday's 3-0 loss to the Leopards of Lafayette was the first homecoming reverse suffered by Delaware since the stadium was inaugurated in 1952, and it was the second time in Nelson's coaching career that his team was blanked.

A 30-yd. field goal by the visitors' Walt Dolezal with two minutes left in the first half held up as the winning margin. It came on a fourth down and six situation after the Hens had stopped the Leopards on the 11.

Neither team penetrated past the 20-yd. lines all afternoon, except for the one Lafayette drive to the 11. The defensive battle was sparked by the punting of Delaware's Pape Lusk, who averaged 44 yards on five kicks.

Lusk was the defensive hero for the Blue Hens. As Delaware was deep in its own territory, he boomed a 52-yd. kick to get the Hens out of the hole in the first period. Then, as defensive linebacker, he knocked down a third down Lafayette pass to force the Leopards to kick, and he made key tackles all afternoon.

Fourteen archers from the Newark area took their bows and arrows—and appetites—into the Pennsylvania wilderness near Galeton for a week of deer hunting as the season opened Oct. 1, and as Big Jim Tyler puts it, "it would have been a skinny lot of Indians if it hadn't been for the supermarket at Galeton."

Although additional and varied sustenance was obtained from civilization's retail outlet, the bowman did right well at that in the venison department.

Roger Fellows bagged a 145-lb. spike buck, and Tom Craig killed a 135-lb. doe.

Tyler reports that the deer harvested by bow hunters in Pennsylvania average one to every 70 hunters. The local bowmen turned in a record 10 times better than the Keystone State average!

In addition to the successful archers and Reporter Jim Tyler, local bowmen included Duke Tyler, Mancil Smith, Irvin "Buck" Crowe, Frank Skiller, Joe Kibler, Paul Phillips, Bob England, Ted Dzienis, Bob Slack, Dick Wilson, and Ed Hinton.

Ocean-Front Camping
The Rehoboth Beach Chamber of Commerce is protesting planned expansion of the public camping area between Rehoboth and the Indian River Inlet. And we're with the Rehoboth group, all the way. The unsightly tent city behind the dunes is big enough—in fact, too big for Delaware's very limited but still largely public ocean-front.

Our neighboring states have little unspoiled, public beach remaining, but Delaware still offers a priceless heritage of panoramic sand, sea, sky and sun.

But let the Rehoboth spokesmen take it from here.
"This camping area was originally intended to give Delawareans who were financially unable to vacation at the seashore resorts, a chance to do so at low cost. This is a worthy aim but the fact is that approximately 70 per cent of the people using the public camping area come from outside the state."

"The camping area is operated at a substantial loss, supported by the taxpayers of Delaware. Local taxpayers are, in effect, subsidizing a competing business. It has been rumored that more than a few out-of-state campers keep tents at the site for weeks at a time, renting these tents to friends and neighbors from their home states—operating a profitable business at the expense of the State of Delaware—and defeating the original purpose of the campsite."

"We wholeheartedly subscribe to the theory that our limited coastline should be preserved for the use of the general public; however,

Sophomore Karl Lorenz also stood out defensively for the Blue Hens. He knocked down two Lafayette passes, in the first and third periods. Offensively, the Soph halfback took in two passes for 17 yds. and ran back a Lafayette kick for 27 yds.

Delaware had two good drives thwarted in the first half. The Hens moved to the Lafayette 27 before a penalty stopped the drive, on a 32-yd. pass from Quarterback Gary Hebert to Sophomore End Dave Ennis; a 12-yd. pass from Hebert to Sophomore End Ollie Baker, and short runs up the middle by Halfback Ken Schroek.

With time running out in the first half, Delaware drove to the Lafayette 22. Hebert hit Lorenz and Tom Skidmore, a sophomore end, with passes, and kept for a nine-yard advance, but a pass interception on the 15 halted the drive just before the whistle blew.

Tom Michaels, and Ron McCoy, both sophomore halfbacks, led a Delaware penetration in the third quarter from the Hen 20 to the Lafayette 26. Taking turns in carrying the ball, this pair rang up four first downs in eight plays, but the Lafayette defenses stiffened and the Hens lost the ball on downs.

Mike Boyd, sophomore tackle, pounced on a Lafayette fumble as the fourth quarter opened, and Hebert engineered the Hens to the Leopard 30-yd. line, but two passes went awry and Lafayette took over.

Delaware had one more chance to score when Schroek took a hand-off from Hebert and streaked down the right sideline for 33-yds., and lateraled to Hebert who went for another seven to the Leopard 40. The Hens drove to the 26, but again lost the ball on downs.

We feel that these areas should remain insofar as possible in their natural state, unmarred by tenting areas and other man-made conveniences which are dirty, unsightly, and distasteful to the people of Delaware.

"We feel that the following recommendations would go far toward correcting a situation detrimental to the public welfare in Delaware. The public camping area on the ocean between Rehoboth Beach and Indian River Inlet should be limited to its current size."

"Non-resident rates should be increased drastically not only to reduce the current operating loss now passed along to Delaware taxpayers but to re-emphasize the original purpose of the project as a facility for Delawareans."

"We firmly believe that these recommendations are in the best interests of the people of Delaware and, if carried out, will make our coast an attractive haven for those who appreciate the beauties of nature unspoiled by our modern civilization and rapidly increasing population."

Amen!

St. Michael's KC Plans Get-Together Event at Brookside

St. Michael's Council, Knights of Columbus at Newark, has set Oct. 15, for the get-together and dance at the Brookside Community Building, and as part of the entertainment, Leo Steslow and his committee have arranged to issue play money at the door to be used on games throughout the evening and for the auction of prizes at the end of the dance.

A BB gun shoot for children of members and their friends is scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 30, on the Holy Angels grounds, and Chairman Leo Roy has announced prizes will be awarded and proper safety precautions will be taken.

Speakers have been announced with Attorney John Sargent to address the council on "The Advantages of a Will" on Oct. 26, and George Reece will speak on "Building Trust Funds" at the Nov. 9 meeting.

The managing director of the Blood Bank of Delaware addressed the council at its September meeting. Blood bank applications have been mailed to all members unable to attend this meeting. F. A. Szulbelek reports.

City Council

Council is to meet with the Planning Commission next Monday night to consider a request from A. H. Dalto, builder, to rezone residential property at Wedgewood off New London Road, from RD to RA, for construction of semi-detached instead of duplex homes.

Mayor Frank Durnall said that he would announce his three appointments to the six-man board of the newly created Newark Housing Authority within the next 10 days. The governor appoints the other three. "I had them all picked," Durnall declared, "until I found that equal representation of the two major political parties is required. And one of my selections was registered as an independent voter."

Proposed ordinances governing city sidewalk installation, traffic yield signs, and criminal registration received first readings; city installation of sidewalk at 179 and 181 Elkton Road at a cost of $870 was authorized; and Neide is to contact the State Highway Department again with a request for a traffic stop light on Capitol Trail for the safety of Lumbrook and Windy Hills residents, and at the intersection of North Chapel and Cleveland Avenue. Diehl urged that a blinker light be installed at the Cleveland-New London Avenue intersection.

Councilman George Wilson's proposal that local firms be permitted to dump up to 1½ yds. of rubbish on the sanitary landfill without charge, was approved, and Wilson publicly commended Building Inspector Bader for maintaining a stand on condemned property in face of private, legal complaint concern-
