The Season of 1907

THE College Football Team of this scholastic year was the most unsuccessful that has represented the school during the past ten years. This fact appears the more striking when we contrast it with the good work of last year's team. The team of '06 went through the entire season with but one defeat, and that was in the last game; and furthermore, up until that time their goal line had not been crossed. Of that team we lost just eight out of the eleven regular players,—namely, Wyatt, left end; Lawson, left tackle; Stine, left guard; Messick, right guard; Voss, right tackle; Cann, right end; Wright, quarter back, and Taylor, half back. We had Papperman, center, Baldwin, half back, and Kelly, full back, as a nucleus around which to build this year's team. The men who made the Varsity for the first time this year were: Rothrock, end, who scarcely weighed enough to keep himself firmly on the ground; Adkins, sub-tackle on last year's team; Bratton, whose bulk alone justified his holding a job; Edwards, a Freshman, who had played four years on Wilmington High; Robin, sub, from last year; and Bratton, '11, who knew enough to hold his job no matter where he learned it.

The one respect in which we were strong was in the matter of coaches. I may safely say that no other college in the country of the same size as Delaware was so well equipped with expert assistance. Our head coach, E. Pratt King, is a good football player and did great work considering the material he had to work with. Mr. King played four years at Mercersburg, one year at Chicago, three years at Purdue, and one season at Massillon, Ohio, as a professional. Lucien Green represented the Alumni in the coaching corps, and Lieut. Stayer represented the Faculty.

The schedule as arranged by Manager Newman was the heaviest we have had in years, but its strenuousness was materially decreased by the fact that several teams cancelled, and that frequently so late that we could not substitute another team.

The first call for players was well answered, and for the first few evenings of practice we had from thirty-five to forty-five men in uniform; but this enthusiasm did not survive the hard work which Coach King mapped out for the candidates, and as the days went by the squad gradually decreased in size until it was with difficulty that a scrub team could be made up to oppose the Varsity. Several times both Coaches, King and Green, went before the student body and gave them short talks, hoping to get out the best material in college; but their efforts seemed to result merely in getting out enough men for a few days, at the end of which time the same thing had to be repeated. The Williamson game was our first and it showed how hopelessly weak we were. We lost on a fluke, but most of the students formed their estimate of the team from this game and held it throughout the season. Williamson was the lightest team on our schedule and we should have beaten them despite the fact that they outweighed us. This game caused the blowing up of several of our high school "phenoms" and took the heart out of both the players and the student body.

Our next game, at Haverford, brought about a complete reversal in our form, it was the second best exhibition the team made during the season. Haverford was as strong as Rutgers or Western Maryland. The fact that our boys played great ball in this contest is witnessed by the number of crippled men they brought back. Several new men were tried out in this game, and two, Stewart and Lyndall, made very creditable showings. Stewart had three ribs fractured, and this injury laid him up for the remainder of the season; and Lyndall had a little trouble with the powers that be, and he came out no more.

After this game our hopes, which had been deadened by the Williamson contest, again took a boost and started to soar. As is usually the case the higher you fly the harder the drop. This proved to be the case in this particular instance. Western Maryland was out next opponent, and the way those fellows treated us was shameful, to say the least. The boys started out well and for a short time it looked as if it would be an interesting contest, but as soon as Delaware lost the ball the team seemed to go up. Western Maryland trotted through the line and around the ends and outplayed Delaware during the remainder of the contest. The team did not recover from the effects of this defeat until the last game, and during the week previous to the Rutgers game they practiced in a mechanical way despite the efforts of the coaches. The Rutgers game was a repetition of that at Western Maryland, only we were defeated by a larger score. Rutgers was out for vengeance, as we had beaten them on their own grounds the previous season. If revenge is sweet, the boys from New Brunswick certainly took away their share of it. Delaware received the ball on the kick-off and started down the field in their old-time style. They carried the ball to within Rutgers' five-yard line. Here Rutgers held and took the ball. Their first play was a forward pass and it worked well. In two more line-ups they carried the ball across the line, and after that it was only a question as to how large the score would be.

Our next game was with F. & M., and this time we made a somewhat better showing. Several new men were tried out by Coach King and two of these showed up finely. They were Stewart and Lyndall, but misfortune again camped on our trail, for Stewart had three ribs fractured and was put out for the remainder of the season, and Lyndall withdrew from the squad the following week. The following Saturday we played Johns Hopkins at Baltimore and made the best showing of the season. The score was 0 to 0, but that does not show how near Delaware came to winning, as we lost the ball three separate times inside our opponents' five-yard line.

On Thanksgiving Day we were to have played Washington College on our field, but they, like Stevens, cancelled at such a late date that we could not secure another team. As a whole the football season was a failure; but the outlook for next season is of the brightest character and we can therefore hope to retrieve our lost reputation.

The Haverford-Delaware Game.

(Wilmington Star.)

Yesterday the boys from Delaware State journeyed to Haverford to try conclusions with the team representing Haverford College. The football squad under Coach King and accompanied by quite a number of rooters from among the student body occupied a special car on No. 34. The game was marked by the great frequency with which the forward pass and onside kick were attempted, and it served to emphasize the necessity of thorough drill along these lines. Haverford outweighed Delaware fifteen pounds per man as they came upon the field, but owing to Delaware's speed this added weight did not give the Quakers as much advantage as might be expected. Delaware won the toss and Captain Baldwin elected to defend the south goal with the wind at his back. Haverford had the kick-off. Edwards, for Haverford, booted the ball out of bounds at Delaware's 15 yard line on the first attempt and he received a second trial. This time he kicked to Kelley, who was downed on his own 20 yard line, having advanced the ball from the goal line. On the first scrimmage Delaware lost possession of the ball through a fumble by Berry. Haverford tried Bard around right end for a long run but Robin downed him for a loss of two yards. Bard was again called upon and he carried the ball around Edwards for a gain of five yards. Haverford then tried a goal from placement which was blocked by Papperman, Rothrock falling on the pigskin. At this stage of the game Delaware took a decided spurt and it seemed for a moment as if they could not be stopped. Kelley gained twelve yards on two tries through center. Lyndall circled left end for a fifteen yard gain. Doane gained eight yards on two trials through the left side of the line. Captain Baldwin was thrown for a loss of five yards on the next play, but Kelley by a twelve yard plunge through the opposing line regained it. A forward pass was then pulled off by Robin, Kelley recovering the ball on Haverford's forty yard line. Lyndall and Kelley made the distance in two plays and an on-side kick was attempted. The pass was poor and Baldwin attempted to run it out and was thrown for a loss of eight yards. From here until the end of the game Delaware's work was entirely defensive. Haverford scored two touchdowns, both of which came in the second half, one after Baldwin's try at a field goal had been blocked, and another on a fumbled kick. The Blue and Gold team put up one of their strongest games but seemed to be laboring under an attack of stage fright or some similar disease, because their attack lacked that vigor and dash requisite for successful team work. Line-up:

Johns Hopkins, 0; Delaware, 0.

(Baltimore Sun.)

One of the most closely contested games of football seen in this vicinity for several seasons was pulled off at Oriole Park yesterday afternoon when Johns Hopkins and Delaware State played for fifty minutes without crossing each other's goal line. These two teams have met annually for the last twenty years and at present they are tied in the number of games won. Seven out of the twenty contests have been tied, so this shows how closely matched the teams have been. Last year Delaware won by a score of 5 to 0, but Hopkins expected an easy victory over the light team sent down to represent the Gold and Blue this season. The field was in poor condition, as the rains of the last few days had made it soggy and very slippery. This fact favored Hopkins, as they had a slightly heavier team.

The game was called at 3 o'clock, and Captain Baldwin took the kick-off. Ward kicked to Bradbury on Hopkins' three yard line and the big full back carried the ball fifteen yards before he was downed by Rothrock. Hallman then made the distance in two tries around right end. Thompson tried a forward pass but Josephs secured the ball. Delaware tried on the second scrimmage the old style on-side kick but lost the ball. This time Hopkins started up the field in earnest and by a series of end runs, line bucks and short, quick forward passes carried the ball to Delaware's twenty yard line. Here they were held and Jones dropped back for a try at a field goal. He failed and Ward punted from Delaware's twenty-five yard line. Bradbury received the kick and carried the ball to the middle of the field before being downed by Baldwin. Bradbury tried a line plunge but was down for a loss by Papperman, who broke through the line and caught him before his interference had formed. Hopkins kicked on the next down and Baldwin by fine dodging and running carried the pigskin to the center of the field. Here Delaware tried their first forward pass, Robin to Kelly, and they made thirty yards. By straight football the Blue and Gold carried the ball to Hopkins' five yard line. Here Josephs fumbled and Hartley fell on the ball for Hopkins. The home boys kicked on the first scrimmage but Kelley blocked. Rothrock missed a flying dive for the ball behind the Red and Black's goal line and Ziegler recovered it for Hopkins. Bradbury then punted from the twenty-five yard line to Kelley, who was downed on his own fifty yard line. After several scrimmages time was called. The first half was over and neither team had scored.

Second half. Bradbury kicked to Josephs who was downed by Hartley without a gain. Kelley was given the ball on a delayed pass and ran through the whole Hopkins team for a sixty yard gain, but the ball was brought back to the middle of the field, as he had stepped outside the boundary in dodging Thompson. Here Josephs fumbled on the second down and Zeigler fell on the ball. Hopkins made the distance twice in succession and carried the ball to Delaware's thirty-five yard line when the Blue and Gold held them for downs. Delaware then started down the field and by steady playing, using the old style and a few forward passes, carried the ball to Hopkins' one yard line. Here Baldwin was thrown for a loss and on the next play Josephs passed badly and Hopkins secured the ball. Bradbury immediately punted out of danger and after this the ball moved back and forward near the center of the field, both teams being unable to gain consistently. Line-up:

Review of the Season

IT was with real honest pride that the students watched the progress of the baseball team. Before the season started we heard great talk of what would happen as soon as the sun should come out warm and the field should dry. We heard promises of great success on the Southern trip—and we waited. The sun did not come out and the field would not dry off, and it was but a week before Easter holidays that our team could get any practice whatsoever. The talk of repeated victories on the Southern trip became fainter and fainter, and doubts and fears instead were circulating from mouth to mouth. Then the boys went South. They played well and our hopes went up. They came home and great was the praise of them and the appreciation of their work. Through the athletic column of the daily papers we had followed the teams of Cornell, Lafayette and other colleges down South. We noticed that North Carolina A. & M. was the winning college in the South. They defeated Cornell, they defeated Lafayette, and we defeated them. University of North Carolina defeated Cornell, and we defeated University of North Carolina. Have we not a right to feel proud? On our return home our first game was with Rock Hill College whom we defeated by a score of 4 to 1. On the following Friday (April 19) we left to play two games; one with Western Maryland, and one with Mount St. Mary's, both of which we won with ease. Next we lost to Maryland Agricultural College, followed by a fifteen inning tie game with Albright. Several of our men were injured in the last two games and we were defeated by Lebanon Valley by a score of 10 to 7.

The remainder of the season proved to us that our team was of the right sort. We defeated Maryland Agricultural College 7 to 0, and lost to Villa Nova, the strongest college team in the country, by a score of 5 to 6.

The remainder of the season proved to us that our team was of the right sort. We defeated Maryland Agricultural College 7 to 0, and lost to Villa Nova, the strongest college team in the country, by a score of 5 to 6.

The outlook for the season of 1908 is exceptionally bright and we hope that it will be an improvement even on last year's season. The candidates are showing up finely under Coach Vic Willis of the Pittsburg Nationals and we expect to be extraordinarily strong in the pitching department this season. The team is practically the same as last year, Cullen, the first baseman, being the only man who did not return to college.

Before this publication went to press we had defeated the Wilmington team of the Tri-State League by a score of 6 to 5, which speaks well indeed, for the Tri-State is one of the fastest minor leagues in the country. Our team outplayed the Wilmington club at nearly every stage of the game, runs being "put across the slate" with a regularity that caused the Tri-State aggregation to "sit up and take notice."

Review of the Season

CONSIDERING the entire season from an impartial viewpoint one must admit that we have had a successful season. Although there was no lack of candidates for the team, there was to a certain extent a scarcity of good material. After the first six or seven men were selected the remainder were fair but not up to the standard. The schedule, though not long, was the hardest in the history of the college and the manner in which the team performed will confirm the first statement in this review. The first game with Maryland showed us that our team was fast, but lacked endurance, although the Maryland team was away below par and was not fit to test thoroughly the capabilities of our team. The Swarthmore game was where the lack of endurance again came into evidence, but nevertheless the Quakers realized that they had a tough proposition and played their very best. The game at Rutgers, which was played on Friday evening of the week of the mid-year's, was our first real triumph. The team was fatigued mentally and physically when it arrived at New Brunswick; but remembering how Rutgers had "put it on us" in foot ball, they proceeded to play as if they meant business, and in a few minutes had defeated the New Jersey collegians. The game with Millersville proved an easy victory; but at Swarthmore the team lost their nerve in the second half and allowed themselves to be run away with. Pennsylvania State came along with the toughest proposition of the year and though we lost we feel that we died hard, for they had a team that would be hard to beat. Rutgers on our floor proved a pudding and Delaware scored almost at will. When the team left for a short trip into Pennsylvania Captain Newman was left behind and Hagner was suffering from a dislocated thumb. The first game with Millersville was a defeat for us. This was followed by another from Pennsylvania State which was of the worst kind. The best showing made by the team on the trip was against Bucknell's strong team; but alas, those giants defeated us. The work of all the men was excellent, that of Captain Newman and Hagner the Freshman being especially good, as they never lacked the staying qualities. However, considering that we had neither trainer nor coach we succeeded as well as any one could hope for.

Penn State, 26; Delaware, 19.

(From the "Review.")

On February 13th we lost to Penn State in one of the most bitterly contested games ever seen on the local floor. Penn State is usually considered on a par with the "Big Five," and the way our boys showed up against them was certainly a welcome sight. The game opened up in a lively manner and in a few minutes State had netted three goals. Right here they stopped for a time, and Delaware started in. Our team-work at this stage of the game was of the finest order and in a few minutes we had piled up ten points. During the remainder of the half it was nip and tuck, with the score at the end of the half 13—12, in favor of Delaware. State entered the second half with two new men in their line-up, and the freshness of the latter, coupled with the better physical condition of the State boys, gave them the victory. They knew, however, that they were playing basket-ball at all stages of the contest, and had we been as fortunate in having able substitutes to replace our tired players, results, perchance, might have been different.

Delaware, 63; Rutgers, 27.

On the evening of February 15, just two days after the gruelling contest with Penn State, we took a fall out of Rutgers. The boys from New Brunswick came down here with their best and despite the fact that we had defeated them in their own back yard earlier in the season, we were confident that they would give us a dose of our own medicine. The contest, however, was too one-sided to be interesting and although both teams played fast, their efforts were marred by too much fouling. Delaware seemed dead for the first few minutes of play, and Rutgers piled up seven points before we started. When we did get going it did not take us long to catch up and we were soon in the lead with a safe margin. The first half was a nice contest, with Delaware just a little bit to the good, both in shooting and floor work, and when the whistle blew the score stood, Delaware, 28; Rutgers, 16. In the second half Delaware plainly showed her superiority over the boys from New Brunswick, and literally ran away from them. The Rutgers team, towards the close of the half, went completely up in the air and never came down until after the whistle blew. The final score would no doubt have been larger but Captain Newman sent in several of the subs in order not to overwork the regulars, as they had had a hard week of it. Line-up:

Review of the Season

ALTHOUGH the Relay Team of 1907 was unfortunate in the Pennsylvania meet, due chiefly to bad training rather than to the inability of the runners, we cannot help but regard the season of 1907 as a marked success. Because of the small interest taken in track work it is hard to tell what possibilities lie undeveloped in many of our students. We are generally forced to review our season, if we may call it such, from a standpoint of relay team work rather from that of track work in its broader sense. In 1907, however, we were glad to find a new interest in the track work, which found expression in the Inter-class Meet, June 22d. Because of unfortunate and unavoidable circumstances there was no such meet in 1906. Therefore the interest in 1907 was greatly increased over that of previous years.

The track men of the four classes got down to hard training and steady work. The result was that no less than six college records were broken. On the day of the meet coming during commencement week, a large crowd was gathered to see the sports, and from the way that records were tumbled about we believe that the spectators could not have been disappointed.

Aside from the good work done at the meet, possibly the greatest result of it was the enthusiasm which was awakened among the students. While as yet we have not attempted dual track work with other colleges, yet we believe that this will soon come and only a year or two will elapse, we hope, before "track" will begin to gain the interest of the students as strongly as have base ball, foot ball and basket ball.

Even now we can note a change in the general feeling and indications point toward a very successful season in 1908. Delaware will, of course, enter a team in the Pennsylvania meet, and June 16th is the date set for our inter-class sports.
