NATIONAL HEAD INSTALLS VETS POST AUXILIARY

Hankin Lauds Foreign War Veterans; 3 National Officers Attend Exercises, Highest Honor Paid Any Post This Year

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Last Saturday night, with a ritual, impressive in its patriotic simplicity, the Cooper Women's Auxiliary of the J. Allison O'Daniel Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was installed and its officers installed by Mrs. Hankin, national president of the order. Newark was particularly distinguished in that this was the first year in which Mrs. Hankin has installed this year, although 25 new posts have been added to the order since the first of September. Mrs. Hankin, who is from Boston, was assisted in her ceremony by Mrs. Dora Rafferty, of Harrisburg, Pa., junior national vice-president, and Mrs. Anna Hyde, of Annapolis, Md., national treasurer. Mrs. Hankin said that Newark was probably the first post to be installed in the order this year, which would have three national officers to attend the exercises. The meeting was held in Odd Fellows' hall and was attended by the members of the Auxiliary, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and guests. Before the open meeting and installation of the post, Mrs. Hankin held a meeting with the 24 members of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Hankin took part of the open meeting, with Mrs. Mesinger presenting the officers and guests. Commander William J. of the Newark Veterans, was presented and escorted to a seat Mrs. Hankin's right. Then Mrs. Hankin, Mrs. Cresswell, the only Gold Mother in the Newark Auxiliary, escorted to a seat of honor on Hankin's left. She was presented with a white carnation. The officers of the Auxiliary were then presented and installed.

Colonel S. J. Smith, for 16 years national Chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and present chaplain of the Newark Post, was affectionately greeted by Mrs. Hankin, who presented him with a handsome book marker, on which was engraved the verses of "The Star Spangled Banner." Colonel Smith returned a salute from both posts. In his speech instituting the new year, Mrs. Hankin acclaimed the Veterans of Foreign Wars as the most patriotic organization in the world, and gave four reasons for the state's support of the organization: (1) The Veterans have cared for every one of its members in hospital and community work. All this money has been spent within the organization. (2) The Veterans maintain a headquarters in Washington, D. C., to help all (Continued on Page 11.)

Note Change of Dating

This issue of The Post is dated and issued Thursday instead of Wednesday, the day on which The Post has always been published. Last week in order to give our advertisers maximum emergency service on their Christmas copy, we extended the "deadline" for receiving copy. As a consequence we found ourselves unable to reach the post-office before closing time.

We believe that our advertising columns represent equal interest and value to both subscriber and advertiser, so we are publishing one day later in order that the mid-week selections of our merchant clients may be brought before the Christmas trade in their entirety.

The news collecting and reporting has also been arranged to include all news available up to press time Thursday.

ELKTON BANKER IN NEW OFFICE

Irvin Kepler Made Executive V. P. of Sunbury Bank

Irvin T. Kepler, for the past 15 years secretary and treasurer of the Elkton Banking and Trust Company, tendered his resignation to the board of directors Tuesday, which was accepted to take effect about the first of February.

Mr. Kepler has accepted the position as executive vice-president of the First National Bank at Sunbury, Pa. A native of Lewistown, Pa., Mr. Kepler has always taken an active interest in the affairs of Elkton, being the organizer and served as its first president of the Elkton Rotary Club. He was a former president of the Chamber of Commerce of Elkton and vice-president of the Cecil County Building and Loan Association. For the past six years he served as superintendent of the M. E. Church Sunday School, Elkton.

There will be no change in the personnel of the trust company. Dr. S. Claude Sykes, executive vice-president, will assume the active management succeeding Mr. Kepler, with C. Warren Kennard as secretary and treasurer, who has been connected with the company for the past three years.

TOWN SETTLES SUIT FOR $2,650

$25,000 Damage Action Result Of Car Striking Tree Outside Curb

After asking a continuance from Superior Court, Monday afternoon, the Town of Newark went out of court and settled a $25,000 damage suit for $2,650. The suit was brought against the town by four individuals as the result of an automobile accident, which occurred on East Main street, Newark, on the night of March 11.

The plaintiffs in the litigation were John L. McKinney and Ernest Jarrell, of Baltimore, and Vera Brown and Doris Hudson, of Sparrows Point, Maryland. All four were injured when the car in which they were riding struck a tree which stood outside the curb line on the north side of Main street, just east of the Newark Center Station. The Town was charged with negligence in allowing the tree to stand outside of the curb line.

McKinney, who was driving at the time of the accident, testified that the party was returning from Philadelphia to Maryland, that it was a Sunday night with heavy traffic, and that he was driving close to the curb to avoid north-bound cars.

The plaintiffs were represented by Herbert H. Ward, Jr., Clarence A. Southerland and William S. Potter. Counsel for the Town was composed of Charles B. Evans, the Town attorney, Charles F. Curley and George L. Townsend, Jr.

The tree in question, together with other trees standing outside the curb near the place of the accident, were removed by the Town after the accident.

TO VISIT NEWARK

Mr. Francis, of the Harry Yerger's store in Wilmington, will be at the Deer Park Hotel all day Friday to take orders for Christmas delivery. This gives all a chance to make someone happy by having that picture framed. Mr. Francis will be glad to give prices on all kinds of frames, also on the resilvering of mirrors, etc.

MAKE LAST PAYMENT

The Town of Newark this week made the final payment on the contract for the street resurfacing program. This included everything but the extension of Park Place.

CHRISTMAS IN NEWARK SCHOOL

Parties Planned For Next Week; Survey Test; Special Appropriation

The primary grades of the Newark School will hold their annual Christmas entertainment in the New School Auditorium next Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. The elementary grades will hold their entertainment on Thursday afternoon at two in the New School Auditorium. The junior-senior school will hold their Christmas assembly Friday, December 21, at 11:30. A special program will be given under the direction of Mrs. Whitney, who is chairman of assemblies for the week of December 17. The public is cordially invited to these activities of the Newark School.

A Christmas playlet, "A Search for Santa Claus," will be presented in the New School Auditorium Thursday evening, December 20, at eight o'clock. The participants of this play will be selected from all grades of the school. In order to defray the expenses of costumes and music an admission charge will be made.

Testing Survey of Results

In order that the results of instruction may be tested, and pupils' difficulties as well as their excellencies may be more definitely ascertained so that the instruction may be made more specifically individual, the Newark School is conducting a general survey in reading, arithmetic, computation, arithmetic reasoning, language usage and spelling. The tests are being given in a number of representative cities of the United States at this time, which makes the results especially valuable for the comparison afforded. Pupils in different sections of the country may be compared for age and grade for grade in that which they have actually learned and can apply. . . . The testing is being done by the Newark School Faculty, assisted by Miss Van Devort's class in Educational Measurements from the University. . . .

Physical Improvements

The Board of Education has authorized the extending of the gas lines to the home economics laboratory and also to the public school office. From the fact that the school office is used considerably for official business at times other than school hours, the expense of heat from the central heating plant is almost prohibitive. In order to overcome this, a gas heater has been placed in the office, which reduces the cost of heating more than two hundred per cent.

Special Appropriation from the State Board

The Newark Board of Education has this week been notified of a special appropriation for the equalization of white and colored teachers. This appropriation is the result of a bill passed at the last session of the Legislature which provides that white and colored teachers shall receive the same salary, provided the qualifications, rating and experience are the same. Newark's share for this purpose is $350.00, one of the lowest in the state. This is accounted for by the fact that the Newark Board of Education has for a number of years made a part of their administrative policy the principle which is enumerated in the law of 1927.

Upon invitation, Mr. William K. Gillispie, coach of football and basketball and instructor in the sciences in the Newark School, has designed the landscape plans for the Memorial Park of the Borough of Clifside Park, New Jersey. Mr. Gillispie's plans have been selected from a number which have been submitted.

BANQUET FOR MINISTER

A banquet was given in Odd Fellows Hall last Friday night in honor of the Reverend Thomas C. Jones, of Odenton, Md. Mr. Jones was active in the recent political campaign, giving a series of lectures on Herbert Hoover.

MOTHER, CHILD DIE TRAGICALLY

Mrs. Viola Saunders and 3 Year Old Daughter Killed When Car Plunges Over Bank; Injured Husband And Brother Held In Cell

A young mother and her 3-year-old daughter met tragic death Saturday night when the automobile in which they were riding skidded on the slippery surface of Penny Hill, Wilmington, and plunged 40 feet down an embankment to the rocky bottom of Shellpot Creek. The young woman was Mrs. Viola Saunders, 23 years old, of Trainer, Pa. Her baby's name was Margaret E. Saunders. Mrs. Saunders was the daughter of Joseph Crockett, who lives outside of Newark, just over the Maryland line, and is one of the staff at Kells. Injured in the accident were John Saunders, 30 years old, the dead woman's husband, and her 17-year-old brother, Clarence Crockett. The party was on the way to visit Mrs. Saunders' father, when the accident happened.

The two men were in the front seat with Saunders driving, and were thrown clear as the car plunged down the bank into the creek. Saunders suffered a fractured rib, lacerations and from exposure, while young Crockett had his back sprained and suffered from exposure. They were both dazed, but made frantic efforts to extricate the young wife and baby from the wreckage. A passing bus driver heard their cries and the driver and passengers went to the rescue. The child was taken from the wreckage and rushed to the Delaware Hospital in the arms of a woman passenger of the bus. It was dead, however, when it arrived there. Mrs. Saunders was put into a car, and also rushed to the same hospital, but died shortly after she was admitted. On Sunday night the two bodies were removed by Robert T. Jones to his funeral home in Newark.

Saunders was arrested by the State Police and a technical charge of manslaughter placed against him. Crockett was held as a material witness. Both men were taken to the police station. Soaking wet, painfully injured, frantic with grief and anxiety, they were held in a cell for five hours, and then sent to the hospital for treatment.

Mother and baby were buried, side by side, yesterday afternoon, in the Head of Christiana Cemetery. Services were held at 1 o'clock, at 3504 West Fourth street, Trainer, her late home. Further services were held in the Head of Christiana Church at 3. The Reverend Diston W. Jacobs conducted the second services.

Besides her husband, father, and brother, who was in the accident, Mrs. Saunders is survived by five brothers, Alfred, James, Benjamin, John, Norman; and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Murphy.

GREAT GREAT UNCLE CHRISTENS BOYS

Mrs. Angie Brooks Perkins entertained at dinner on Sunday, December 9, her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Brooks, her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Claude G. Brooks, and their four sons. During the afternoon the four boys, Claude Melvin, Norman Perkins, Henry Winter, and William Thomas, were christened by Mr. Alfred Brooks, who is their great, great uncle.

DR. BENNER TO SPEAK

Dr. Claude L. Benner, formerly head of the Department of Economics, University of Delaware, and now on leave with the Continental Insurance Company, will speak tonight at the monthly meeting of St. Thomas' Men's Club. His subject will be "My Journey Through the West." The meeting will be in the Parish House at 7:45.

DR. SYPHER SPEAKS

Dr. W. Owen Sypher will be the speaker tonight at an open house meeting of the Wilmington University Club. Dr. Sypher will give an account of his experiences abroad last year, particularly dealing with his work in European libraries.

Rubbish Collection

Today and tomorrow are the bi-monthly rubbish collection days. Today the Town will be serviced from the extreme west end as far as North and South College avenues. The remainder of the Town will be covered tomorrow. Have your rubbish on the curb early in the morning. Collectors will not go inside fences or hedges to collect, nor will they take newspapers.

Santa Claus Letters

Santa Claus has engaged his box at The Newark Post again this year, and the good Saint is eagerly waiting mail from his little friends in and around Newark. He calls promptly for his mail every day, and makes careful note of all the things his children ask for in their letters. He is particularly interested in reports on their conduct. So address your letters to Santa Claus, care of The Newark Post. Tell him what you want most for Christmas, and just how good a little boy or girl you have been. Printed below is the first letter Santa received this year.

Newark, Delaware.

Dear Santa Claus:

Please bring me a box of airplanes, a little truck, a bank with George Washington on the side of it, a loop the loop, a digger, box of paints, a story-book about Peter Rabbit, some A B C blocks and a drawing set.

I shall be glad to have these things and I hope you can give all the other children the things they want.

Thank you for the things you brought me last year.

DEL AUTO ASS'N ANNUAL MEETING

Favors Driver Examination; W. J. Lackey Re-elected President

On Monday evening the Delaware Automobile Association held their annual meeting in the New Century Club at Wilmington. Although the roads were slippery, there was a large attendance of the down-the-state members of the association. Members being present as far south as Laurel.

The feature of the evening was an address by J. Borton Weeks, president of the National Motorist Association and also president of the Keystone Automobile Club. Mr. Weeks explained, in detail, the advantages that have been secured by the State of Pennsylvania after passing a law requiring that the operators of motor vehicles must pass an examination. The passage of this law in the State of Pennsylvania took the right of driving motor vehicles away from hundreds of people, but it also has clearly demonstrated that this is of extreme value to every motorist or pedestrian on account of the decrease in accidents. For instance, it was found that people were driving whose sight was not even sufficient to pass the examination, and in one instance, a man had been driving a car who had two artificial legs, and in another instance a man had been driving a car who had both hands cut off.

Some people seem to fear the possibility of an examination and others object to driver's examination, claiming that it takes certain rights away (Continued on Page 8.)

PHI KAPPA TAU DANCE

The Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity of the University of Delaware held an informal dance in Old College Saturday night. Kelly's orchestra provided the music. The patronesses were: Mrs. Thomas F. Manns, Miss Beatrice Hartshorn, Miss Elizabeth Kelly, Mrs. C. A. McCue, and Mrs. Hubert Wright.

M. E. MISSIONARY MEETING

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will meet on Thursday afternoon, December 13, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. T. F. Manns. Cars will be at the church at 2:15 o'clock to take anyone who has no other way of getting to the meeting.

Christmas Donations for Newark's Needy

Welfare Committee is Having Its Second Annual Donation Day, December 22; Cash May Be Sent to Newark Post

Christmas is coming. There are many parents in our midst who can not make Christmas a joyful time for their children without aid. There are also some elderly people who would deeply appreciate being thought of at this Christmas season.

The Welfare Committee of the New Century Club has looked after these families throughout the year and is desirous of making this a very happy time for them.

Last year the people of Newark were very generous and the committee feels sure this generosity will be

GOV. ROBINSON GRANGE MASTER FOR THIRD TERM

Re-elected Yesterday; State Grange Holding Annual Session At University Favors State Highway Control

OFFICERS

At the biennial election of officers of the State Grange, held yesterday afternoon, Robert P. Robinson, Governor of the State of Delaware, was re-elected State Master for a third term. With one exception all other State officers were re-elected. This election was a part of the State Grange annual meeting, which is being held at the University of Delaware, on invitation of Dr. Hullihen. The session convened Tuesday morning and will close this afternoon. Memorial services were held this morning for departed grangers.

Yesterday, the Grange went on record as favoring gradual elimination of all county highway departments, and the legislative committee was instructed to draft a bill to be presented to the next General Assembly.

Governor Robinson, in his recommendation for centralization of road control in Delaware, contended that with the construction and maintenance of the entire highway system of the commonwealth vested in one body, not only would the building of roads throughout the State be more efficiently coordinated and receive the benefit of State funds, insuring more rapid progress in their construction when needed, but taxation would be reduced through the taking over of the work of three county highway departments by a single State Highway Department.

The Governor was careful to point out that he would consider it unfeasible for the State to take over the control of every county road at one time, but that provisions should be made for the gradual assumption of control by the State Highway Department as circumstances surrounding the present operation of the county roads permit. Details will be worked out in due time, it was asserted.

Less expensive material than that now employed in the construction of secondary lateral roads was declared by the Governor as a way to materially reduce the cost of road building, releasing funds for the use of more frequented highways.

Tuesday night there was an interesting open meeting held in Wolf Hall, which is one of the social features of the annual session. A. Bailey Thomas, State lecturer, had arranged an interesting program for this meeting, which was presided over by Miss Emily Mitchell, of Hockessin, lady assistant steward of the State Grange.

DR. AND MRS. EDGAR JONES INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

A letter, received yesterday by Mrs. William Dean, told of injuries received, last Wednesday, by Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Jones, of Oakmont, Pa. Dr. Jones was formerly rector of St. Thomas Church, in Newark, and is now rector of St. Thomas Memorial Church, Oakmont.

Dr. Jones wrote that the car in which he and Mrs. Jones were riding turned turtle, when joy-riders forced them from the road and up an embankment. He said their injuries were painful, but not permanent. Dr. Jones was injured internally, while Mrs. Jones was bruised and lacerated about the head. Both are suffering from shock.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hubert announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elsie Jackson Hubert, to Charles B. Jacobs, Jr. The couple were married in Chestertown, Maryland, on September 1.

P.-T. A. News

Centre Grove

A very pleasant evening was spent when the Centre Grove P.-T. A. held their first meeting in the school building on Wednesday evening, November 28. At this meeting plans were made for what is expected a 100 per cent membership drive.

The president presented "The Modern School," the November topic, and the members discussed the modern aims and methods of teaching.

A fifth and sixth grade reading lesson was demonstrated, the aim being to select and summarize worthwhile facts from the printed page and to gain knowledge to answer a given question.

The school room displayed many pieces of the children's work.

Mr. Grandhomme rendered several accordion selections.

R. C. Horn,
Publicity Chairman.

Marshallton

"Building Health Habits for the Future" was discussed by Miss Brady at the December meeting of Marshallton P.-T. A. Civic Club. The sixth grade pupils demonstrated their health work by presenting "The Carpenter Union," a character sketch and health action songs.

The parents enjoyed observing health posters and booklets made by the pupils, and other work done since September.

The association discussed having an adult night school, but final arrangements are pending.

Harriet G. Gatchell,
Publicity Chairman.

North Star

A very interesting meeting of North Star Community Club was held on Tuesday evening, November 27. A splendid report of the P.-T. A. Institute held in Wilmington, October 27, was heard by all present.

The November topic, "The Modern School," was very effectively discussed.

The association is aiming to raise funds by staging a play, "The House of a Thousand Thrills," in Odd Fellows' Hall, Hockessin, Del., Saturday evening, December 8, 8 p. m.

The meeting adjourned until December 18, at which time the Christmas party will be enjoyed.

Mrs. Samuel Eastburn,
Publicity Chairman.

Edge Moor

"The Modern School" was quite splendidly discussed at the November meeting of Edge Moor P.-T. A., Tuesday evening, November 27. Mrs. Maguigan, president, compared the schools twenty years ago with those of today.

Thirty-one members were present at the meeting. The association desires every member at every meeting. The entertainment committee presented a pleasing program pertaining to Thanksgiving.

Edith Batten,
Publicity Chairman.

Port Penn (Colored)

The November theme, "The Modern School," was very well illustrated by a reading demonstration, applying the newer methods of teaching, at the November meeting of Port Penn P.-T. A., November 22.

The children's work, such as geography, art and health booklets, were on exhibit in order that the parents might know what is being accomplished.

All present enjoyed a social hour, which consisted of light refreshments.

Pauline Williams,
Publicity Chairman.

Mt. Pleasant (Colored)

The November meeting of Mt. Pleasant P.-T. A. was held on November 27. Plans were made to continue the collection for funds to paint the interior of the school and to mend the broken places in the plastering. Four new members were added to the roll, making the total nineteen. Looking forward to "Thanksgiving Day," the meeting closed with the quotation, "Think and Thank," suggested to each one present.

Anna C. Russum,
Publicity Chairman.

Lee's Chapel (Colored)

The P.-T. A. of Lee's Chapel School held its second meeting November 27. The county chairman being present, was called upon to speak. She emphasized the importance of the association and pointed out the urgent need for hearty cooperation.

Refreshments were served by the social committee, after which the meeting adjourned.

Mrs. Hattie J. Hill,
Publicity Chairman.

82 BILLS IN CONGRESS FOR HIGHWAY AID

A total of 82 bills in the House and 28 in the Senate, involving nearly three billion dollars of expenditures in behalf of the Federal-aid highway construction program of the United States, will be considered by the present Congress which convened last week, according to a legislative survey made by the American Motorists' Association, the National body of the Delaware Automobile Association. These are highway bills which were introduced at the last session of the present Congress and which were not disposed of before adjournment.

The Association's summary shows that there are nineteen appropriation bills which would authorize a total of $2,193,841,145 immediately as expenditures in furtherance of the Federal Government's highway construction program during the next three years.

Of that number the largest is the Browne-Watson bill, designed to create a special highway fund of $407,000,000 from the proceeds of the sale of surplus highway equipment and war materials sold to France following the war. The bonds, in payment of this equipment, are now in the U. S. Treasury and mature next August. The measure has received the endorsement of the American Motorists' and other motoring and allied associations.

Many of the nineteen Federal-aid appropriation bills now pending provide for special funds ranging from 50 to 100 million dollars a year for the fiscal years of 1929, 1930 and 1931, to be expended on highway construction, in addition to the regular annual $75,000,000 Federal-aid highway authorization.

There are three flood relief bills, authorizing a total of $14,545,994 for repairing highways damaged in eight states by last year's flood. They are: Oklahoma, New Hampshire, Missouri, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Kentucky and Vermont.

Of the total number of pending bills, eighteen are for the construction of new highways between certain points, three of these being Lincoln Memorial Highways, three for the construction of highways in Yellowstone Park and highways in the states of California, Oregon, Washington and Florida.

Special assistance in the construction of highways in states having a large percentage of public lands is provided for under the terms of thirteen bills similar to the Colton-Oddie bill authorizing $3,500,000 annually to be spent in linking up the Federal-aid highway system in states having more than five per cent of public owned land.

The construction of a Pan-American highway is provided for under the terms of eight bills, the ultimate object of which is the completion of a highway running from Canada through Mexico, Central and South America. Eight bills are purely regulatory, dealing with interstate traffic, routes, highway signs, research, and kindred phases of highway construction.

"Many of the bills, now pending before Congress, are duplicates of similar measures providing special Federal-aid," J. Borton Weeks, President of the Association points out. "The authors of these various measures, of course, do not expect each bill to become law. The large number introduced, however, marks a fair indication that members of Congress are becoming more and more cognizant of the fact that added impetus should be given to the Federal-aid program during the next three years," Mr. Weeks declares.

At the present time a total of $73,125,000 has been authorized for highway construction for the fiscal year of 1929.

THE K. G. E. PARADE

'Twas a cold night in November,
K. G. E. was not afraid
To turn out and show her colors
In a great big street parade.

Right up Main street they paraded
Hidden in this Town of Dreams,
And the air was cold and chilly
But they kept on with their skeem.

In the front the Band was playing
And the music sure was fine;
Well, I know it helped us Brothers
As we marched right up in line.

Eagles' wings are not easy broken,
They can stand the chilly air.
Men and women on the sidewalk
Were cheering everywhere.

Oh, it tickled little children,
And they really had a treat
When they saw our Billy Goat
Come a struttin' up the street.

Flags were on his forehead,
K. G. E. was on his side.
We want more to join our Order,
That's why we advertise.

Miss Alice Brooks, of Wilmington, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brooks.

Mr. Wm. Mahan, Mrs. Emma Mahan and Mrs. Edward Wilson spent Saturday in Wilmington.

Mrs. Claude C. Brooks and Mrs. W. C. Brooks spent Friday in Wilmington.

Mr. H. L. Dayett, Sr., Mrs. Harry Dayett, Jr., Misses Mary and Florence Dayett and Harry Dayett, 3rd, all spent Saturday in Wilmington.

Fire destroyed the summer kitchen of Charles Laws, on the Thomas Devine Farm, on Thursday morning, about one o'clock, destroying the building, about 125 lbs. lard, new lard press and other things. Newark and Middletown Fire Companies were called and saved the house, which was very close, and several other buildings. The building and contents were partly covered by insurance.

Plans are being made for the Christmas entertainments, which will be held at the school on Wednesday evening, December 18, and the Presbyterian Sunday School, Saturday, December 22.

Quite a few cases of whooping cough in the neighborhood. So far they have been in a very mild form.

The Bible Class of the M. E. Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Biddle, Mt. Vernon Place, on Tuesday evening. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. J. Leslie Ford, in the absence of the president, by singing "America," prayer by the pastor, Rev. Vaughn Collins; Scripture reading, St. Luke 6, 17-35, by Mrs. Amanda Johnson; minutes read and roll call by the secretary, Mrs. George Duling, each member answered with word "Trust." There being no business. The next meeting will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Philom Sheets. Devotions, Mrs. Delaware Wright; refreshments, cake and coffee; roll call answer word, "Trust." Closed meeting by singing "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," after which the Recreation Committee gave a limeric called "The Turkey Tale," also "The Motor Romance," and several others; sandwiches and coffee were served. Everyone having spent an enjoyable evening.

The Home Demonstration Club was held at the home of Mrs. Kate Daugherty on Wednesday afternoon. She gave a demonstration on Christmas candies and cookies, which was very beneficial to all present. The January meeting, the first Tuesday in the month, will be held at the home of Mrs. Richard Brown, when election of new officers will be appointed. Recreation, Mrs. Richard Brown and Mrs. Harry Wilson.

Mr. Thompson Brown, of Wilmington, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown.

Mermaid

Harmony Grange met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Pennington, on Monday. A very good meeting was had. During the business hour reports were made from the New Castle County Pomona meeting at Hockessin. The Master gave the program for the State Grange meeting in Newark, and urged all members to be present. One resolution, asking for a Federal Law forcing manufacturers of farming implements to stamp name on machinery was passed and sent on to the State Grange.

The date of the Christmas party, previously reported to be held on December 28, will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrington, Thursday evening, December 27. The program of the evening was in charge of Miss Evelyn Hitchens. It consisted of singing by the Grange, jokes by Mrs. Lillian Dennison, reading, "The Wreck of the Hesperus," by Miss Evelyn Hitchens, a reading by Miss Ruth Ball, and closed with singing by the Grange. The meeting adjourned to meet next Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Eastburn.

Mrs. Wm. P. Peach returned on Saturday evening, after spending two weeks visiting in New York State. Mrs. Heckman, of Brack-Ex, spent the week-end at the Peach home. Mrs. Pearl Harrington was a guest on Sunday.

Howard Pierson, of Wilmington, spent Sunday at the Mermaid with his son, John Pierson.

Mrs. Harry Brackin, who has been suffering from a badly infected finger, is now much improved.

Elkton and Neighboring Towns

Karl M. Currier, of Cecil Post No. 15, of Elkton, was elected general chairman of the Tri-State Perry Point Committee of the American Legion, on Sunday at their meeting in the du Pont building, Wilmington. About 40 representatives of Posts and auxiliaries in Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland were present. The object of the organization is to provide entertainment for World War veterans at the Perry Point Hospital. Those who attended from Cecil County were Karl M. Currier and Mrs. Currier, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Williams, Carrie A. Kilarch, Margaret Young, Mrs. Lee R. Payne, Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Leslie. The committee is planning some form of amusement each Sunday during the coming year.

Despite the protests of Sheriff Logan, of Elkton, Governor Ritchie has recommended a parole for Earl Suter, who was convicted and sentenced at the September term of Circuit Court for Cecil county, on a charge of running a disorderly house and selling liquor, at a place called the Red Onion, near Port Deposit. He was sentenced to serve three months, had served two months and, according to a letter from Governor Ritchie to Sheriff Logan, the parole was granted to Suter on account of reliable representations made with regard to the condition of his family's plight. Sheriff Logan protested to the Governor, saying, "We found this man running a very disorderly place, with an open bar and two girls of tender years in attendance, in a vacant house near a Negro settlement. After this man was sentenced, and before we could transfer him to the House of Correction, he broke jail with two other men, and if we had not been fortunately notified that the jail delivery was on, there would have been a general delivery. We honestly believe that Suter was one of the ring leaders, so we think that instead of his being pardoned, he should have his time extended."

The Singery Fire Company of Elkton, was summoned early Friday morning to the residence of H. B. Craig, near Union, to fight a fire which broke out near the fireplace. The family was in bed at the time and the crackling noise awakened one of the members. The flames were quenched before much damage was done.

Elkton's annual Christmas tree will be sponsored this year by the American Legion Post, No. 15. Last year a 22-foot cedar was planted in the Court House lawn, which since has spread out and will be used this year. Christmas exercises will be held on Christmas Eve, after which some 700 or 800 children will be given candy, oranges and presents by Santa Claus. The following were named to have charge of the affair: John K. Burkley, chairman; Edmund Crothers, Dr. W. D. Cawley, Roy Eder, Sterling Dunbar, Calvin Fox and Warren W. Boulden.

The Women of Chesapeake City have organized a club to assist in the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and have elected Mrs. E. M. Wiley its president; Mrs. Charles C. Carty, vice president; Mrs. Grover Everett and Miss Florence B. Locke, secretaries, and Mrs. John M. Reed, Jr., publicity chairman.

At the annual meeting of Cecil Post, No. 15, American Legion, the election of officers resulted as follows: Commander, John J. Maloney; first vice-commander, Lynn Biddle Gillespie; second vice-commander, David J. Randolph; adjutant, Wallace Williams; finance officer, Philip N. King; sergeant-at-arms, Wilbur Nickle; chaplain, David L. Quinn; historian, Thomas H. Bartilson. The retiring commander is Carroll Kershaw Eder, of Elkton, who has done much to promote the interests of the Post.

NEGRO SHOT TO DEATH IN CRAP GAME CLIMAX

One Negro is dead and another was held in Elkton jail as his slayer as the result of a shooting affray that abruptly ended an argument over a crap game at a road house near Conowingo Sunday night.

The dead man, Thomas Wesley, 40, of Conowingo, was not involved in the argument, witnesses said. They declared that the bullets which shattered Wesley's right hip and caused instant death, were intended for James Lee, another Negro. They named William (Stetson) Rodgers, 40, of Conowingo as the man who aimed and fired the gun after an argument with Lee.

Sheriff Logan and Deputy Short, of Elkton, captured the alleged slayer near the scene of the crime. They said that he was attempting to make a getaway. His shotgun had been discarded, they said.

James Thompson, alleged owner of the road house, Walter Moore and Lee, all of whom are said to have been principals in the game, are being held as witnesses. All are Negroes.

Marshallton

The supper given by members of M. E. Church in the social hall on Saturday, was not a great success, due to the inclement weather. As preparations had been made for a large crowd a quantity of food was left over, but was sold later.

There are a number of sick persons in the town at the present time. Charles Schneckenger, is in a serious condition in the St. Francis Hospital suffering from pleurisy and pneumonia. William Seal, a representative to the Legislature at its next session, has been confined to his bed, but is now said to be improving. Mrs. Orville Doughten was removed to a Wilmington hospital from her home on Sunday. It is believed that she is suffering from appendicitis. Little Esther Gregg, who was for some time in a Wilmington hospital and recently returned to her home in Cranston Heights, is said to be much improved. Mrs. Earl Allison is ill at her home. She has been suffering from a severe cold and it is believed she is now threatened with pneumonia.

Mrs. Mary Crouch and Mrs. Walter Fanning went to Conshohocken, Pa., on Sunday, where Mrs. Crouch's brother is said to be critically ill.

Miss Roberta Foard entertained several friends at her home on Saturday evening.

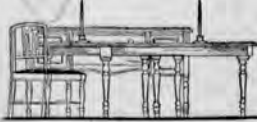

The men and boys of St. Barnabas' P. E. Church will go out on Saturday afternoon to gather laurel to decorate the church for the Christmas season. The annual gathering for tying the laurel will be held in the church social rooms the week prior to Christmas.

Miss Mary Clark, of Philadelphia, will spend the coming week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Speakman.

Prior to the Boy Scout meeting this Friday evening, the members will participate in a cross country race. This race promises to be of much interest and the boys of the community are anxiously awaiting the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Seal recently announced the marriage of their daughter, Zelda R. Seal to Dorsey B. Coates, of the Cedars. The ceremony was performed in Chestertown, Md., by the Rev. W. F. Cockran, on December 1. The young couple will reside in Marshallton.

Henry Smith and James Caulk returned to their home last week, after spending some time in St. Michael's, Maryland.

Summit Bridge

Miss Grace Murray, of Wilmington, was a recent visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Murray.

Miss Dorothy May Dawson, of Newark, was a week-end guest of Miss Marylyn Van Seiver.

The following pupils of Mt. Pleasant School District No. 99, are on the honor roll for the month of November: Walter Atwell, Francis Nelson, George Thornton, Bennie Pleasanton, Miller Wilson, Louise Nabbs, Virginia Buckworth, Pauline Dixon, Alberta Trainer.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Daniels, Sr., entertained at a family dinner, Sunday, at their home near Summit Bridge, the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Howard V. Crossland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Daniels, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Albert

Daniels, Mrs. M. J. Alexander, Mrs. Francis Crossland, Ruth Allen, Marian and Betty Daniels and George and Howard Crossland.

Mr. and Mrs. George Edmonds, of Chesapeake City, Md., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Schork.

Mr. Harry Murray was a Tuesday caller with his father, Mr. William Murray.

Mrs. William Schork is spending a few days this week with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Deputy, of near Milford, Delaware.

Miss Florence Calhoun was a week-end visitor with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Kirk, of Kirkwood.

Mr. McCoy Yearsley, of Port Penn, spent Tuesday with friends in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Deputy, of Mt. Pleasant, spent Tuesday with Mr. Charles Crompton.

Mrs. Harry Salmons and children, Harry and Jean, spent Monday in Elkton, Md., guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Heavelow.

Mrs. Isaac Roberts was a visitor in Wilmington, Saturday.

A meat house on the farm tenanted by Julian Laus, near Glasgow, was totally destroyed by fire at one o'clock Wednesday morning. Fortunately Mr. Laus had not butchered his hogs and there was no meat in the building. The Volunteer Fire Co. responded to the alarm and devoted their time in preventing the flames from igniting other buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson were Saturday visitors in Wilmington.

Miss Anna Golt was a Sunday visitor with Miss Katherine Kane.

DECEMBER 13, 1928

Newark's Needy

The Welfare Committee of the Newark New Century Club has sounded its annual Christmas call for aid for the needy in the community. Food, clothing, toys are wanted, but mostly money is needed. Unless coal, wood, food is provided there will be families that will spend a cold, hungry and entirely cheerless Christmas. Some members of these families are people too old and feeble to work, in others the support has been lost through illness. In quite a number of them, little children will know no Santa Claus unless the Welfare Committee can provide the illusion. The ladies of the committee are familiar with the circumstances in all these cases, as they have been giving them help throughout the year.

Saturday, December 22, is Donation Day when donations of food and groceries will be received at the clubhouse from 10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M. Money may be sent to The Newark Post or given to any member of the committee. Mrs. William R. Wilson is chairman, and Mrs. F. A. Wheeler is secretary and treasurer. The Boy Scouts have offered their services to call for new toys, or old toys which may be repaired. If you have toys to give, call Vernon Steele, 21-J, and he will send a Scout to your home to get them. Even the smallest donation will bring the utmost happiness into one of these destitute homes, and your Christmas will be that much brighter for having made it.

The Distinction

On Saturday night a car skidded on an icy road and plunged down an embankment, killing a young mother and her 3-year-old baby. The young woman's husband was driving, and riding on the front seat with him was his wife's brother. Both men were painfully injured and their clothing wet through. The husband was arrested and charged with manslaughter, the brother held as a material witness. They were kept 5 hours in a police cell, and then finally sent to the hospital for treatment. In the meantime the wife and sister died alone in the hospital, her baby dead when it arrived there.

On Monday a man with a long and colorful criminal record was arraigned in court, charged with driving a car after his license had been revoked. Being connected with a highly lucrative, if illegal enterprise, he cheerfully paid a fine, and blithely went his way. This same man, a few months ago, blind drunk, drove at full speed into a Newark school bus. The bus was crowded at the time, and the accident happened at a busy school corner. He paid practically minimum fines on charges of driving drunk and driving recklessly. Previously he had been convicted on a charge of stealing a car, and on charges of violating the Prohibition amendment.

We wonder at the distinction. Two young men of excellent reputation and clean record meet dire tragedy by pure and unavoidable accident, and are accorded callous treatment, almost inhuman neglect at the hands of the police. An established criminal, who is nothing but a menace to society, is shown every courtesy, and suffers but the slightest inconvenience during his contact with the law. The criminal class is responsible for the bread and butter of the police, which probably engenders a fraternal feeling for its individual members.

Grade Crossings

The United States Supreme Court has just rendered a decision, holding that a State has authority to compel railroads not only to build over-head highway crossings, but to build them according to specifications and with due regard to the safety of vehicular traffic. The Court declared that the railroad cannot prevent the exercise of a State's police power by the excuse that a change from grade crossings to over-head crossings would interfere with interstate commerce or lead to the bankruptcy of the railroad. This broadens and gives unappealable authority to other similar decisions rendered by Federal courts.

This is important news to the Town of Newark, which, through Mayor Frazer and the Town Council, recently won the first round in a fight with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company to make it provide adequate safety precautions at the grade crossings in this town. Mayor Frazer has stated that he will be finally satisfied with nothing but a complete elimination of grade crossings, and this Supreme Court decision will give him a potent weapon with which to enforce his request.

The information regarding this decision comes to us through the Delaware Automobile Association, which had it from the legal department of its parent body, the American Motorists Association.—Ed.

DEL. HOLSTEIN ASSOCIATION TO MEET FRIDAY

The winter meeting of the Delaware Holstein Friesian Association is to be held at the farm of M. E. Moffett near Smyrna on Friday, December 14th. This announcement was made recently by J. R. Danks, Secretary of the Association.

Mr. Danks promises a most interesting and instructive meeting to which every member of the organization is urged to attend. Mr. Moffett's farm is located on the concrete road between Smyrna and Clayton.

At 11:00 a. m. the Holstein herd belonging to Mr. Moffett will be inspected by the visitors after which, at 12:00, noon, lunch will be served.

Dr. C. C. Palmer of the University of Delaware will talk on "Abortion Free Accredited Herds in Delaware," as the first feature of the afternoon's program. He will be followed by Dr. J. C. McDowell of the Bureau of Dairy Industry, Washington, D. C., who will discuss the problem of "Building Better Dairy Herds."

"Raising Heifers on Farms Where Whole Milk is Sold" will be the topic on which Professor A. E. Tomhave, Animal Husbandman of the University of Delaware will talk as the last part of the program.

WHEN PROFESSORS DISAGREE

Prof. Maurice Hutton's championship of the classics for the educational agenda is based on their cultural and disciplinary values, so when he takes issue with the statement of Principal Taylor of Queen's that Latin, like Greek, is virtually doomed to a state of obsolescence in the university curriculum, he bespeaks faith in the ultimate triumph of the idealistic over the materialistic. Like the principal emeritus of University College, Principal Taylor is ready to extol the virtues of the classics, but foresees the domination of the utilitarian. "The arguments in favor of the maintenance of Latin," he writes in Queen's Quarterly, "are as valid as ever. It is one of the main sources of the language we speak and write, and the correct use of words depends upon a knowledge of the history of words. It is the open door to a great literature, and to the understanding of a civilization which permeates our constitutional and legal life today."—Toronto Globe.

Women's College Notes

The Butler sale of Christmas goods was held in the Hilarium on Thursday evening. Many gift suggestions, such as books, stationery, diaries, cards, pictures, and other useful and lovely articles were on display. This sale is sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and is an annual event. Carrie Atkinson, assistant to the finance chairman, was in charge of arrangements for the sale. Edith Passmore, Kathryn Kesselring, Charlotte Rambo, and Adeline Downes were her committee.

The Press Club is busy preparing material for the first edition of the magazine, which is to be a Christmas number. Numerous meetings have been held to determine such matters as the name, arrangements of contents, and the cover design. The name "Pambo" has been selected, the meaning of which will be explained in an editorial in the first issue. The cover will be green with gold letters.

The Social Committee is very busy making final arrangements for the Christmas dance, which will be held in Old College on Saturday, December 15, from 8 until 12 o'clock. Music will be furnished by Kelly's Orchestra. The committee on decorations plans to give a colorful, holiday atmosphere to the hall. Those in the receiving line will be: Miss Gillespie, Miss Hartshorn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Reed, Helen Morton, and Mr. George Paine.

A tea dance for the entire student body will be given in the Hilarium on Saturday afternoon from 3 till 6 o'clock. Roselle Covey, in charge of the music, has engaged the Parolians.

The Y. W. C. A. is holding a Christmas bazaar on Thursday afternoon and evening. Phoebe Steel is in charge of arrangements. Her committee will assist her at the sale. Toys, fancy aprons, writing materials, Christmas stickers, Japanese light shades, and all sorts of articles appropriate for Christmas gifts will be on sale. Each student has been asked to donate one article to be sold.

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Council, it was voted to organize a soccer team. Formerly there have been no outdoor sports at Women's College in the winter immediately following the hockey season. Mary Tomlinson has been appointed temporary head of soccer. Many girls are interested in this sport, new to the W. C. D. campus, and while it is impossible to organize class teams at this late date, some interesting games are promised for next season.

The birthday dance given by the Junior Class on Friday evening, was voted a success by all who attended. Each person paid admission with a penny for each year of her age. Radio music was furnished for the dancers. Those who did not care to dance played cards. Ann Nutter, with her assistants, Helen Baker, Esther Pearson, and Adeline Downes, planned the affair.

There will be a meeting of the Forum in the Hilarium on Thursday afternoon. Members of the faculty and of the student body are invited. The speaker will review some of the new books of interest to everyone.

The Y. W. C. A. is going to present a play on the evening of the annual Christmas dinner next week. An adaptation of "Why the Chimes Rang" by Elizabeth Athorp McFadden, has been chosen, with the cast as follows:

Holgar, a peasant lad—Dorothy Baylis
Holgar's Younger Brother—Rebecca Williams
Uncle Bertel—Barbara King
Steen—Mary de Han
Priest—Myrtle McNeil
Angel—Lillian Steele

Those who bring gifts to the cathedral altar are Mary Vinson, Martha Stone, Agnes Thoms, Camilla Downings, Florence Lang, Margaret Shallcross, and Ann Walker. Blanche Malcom is in charge of scenery, Helen Elliott, lights; Marian Pugh, properties, and Ann Barclay, music. Adeline Downes is coaching the play.

The Dramatic Club will give a tea in the Hilarium on Friday, to which the faculty and the entire student body are invited. Mary de Han will furnish the entertainment.

Eleanor Edge, president of the Student Government Association, and Ann Barclay, third vice-president, left on Monday, December 10th, to attend the convention of the National Student Federation of America to be held at the University of Missouri at Columbia, Mo. They will return next Monday.

The French Club is making plans for the annual Christmas dinner of that organization to be held sometime next week.

John Cowper Powys, English novelist, poet and essayist, was the speaker at the College Hour held this morning at Wolf Hall. His subject was "The Art of Self-Culture."

The Orpheus Club concert, sponsored by the Sophomore Class, which was to have been given in Wolf Hall last evening, will not be given this year. Money has been refunded on the tickets which were already sold.

Kathryn Kesselring entertained her sister, Ida, from Dover, over the week-end.

REVIVAL CONTINUES AT STANTON CHURCH

Mrs. Pfantz, Noted Soloist, Sings At Services

MRS. C. W. PFANTZ

The revival being conducted by the Stanton Methodist Church will close next Sunday. The revival is being conducted by the Reverend C. W. Pfantz, evangelist, assisted by his wife, a noted singer evangelist. Services Sunday will continue throughout the day, beginning with Sunday School at 10. Mr. William M. Garvin, in charge. At 11 the Reverend Pfantz will preach on "What It Means To Be A Christian." At 3:00 the Reverend R. High Adams will preach, and the Marshall Quartette, of Philadelphia, will take part in the musical program. Epworth League, at 7, will have a program from the Marshall Quartette, and at 7:45, Mrs. Pfantz will conduct the last service, closing with an old-fashioned Methodist walk-around.

Ethel Merritt attended a meeting of the Tri-State College Christian Association held in Baltimore over the week-end. Plans were made for the mid-winter conference to be held sometime during February.

Mary Tomlinson, with her guest, Martha Stone, spent the week-end at her home in North East, Maryland.

Roselle Covey and her sister, Evelyn, of Hood College, spent the week-end in Philadelphia.

Marjorie Thompson spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Hillcrest.

Nellie Moore and Elsie Baker were in Philadelphia on Friday.

Lillian Steele was a Wilmington visitor on Sunday.

Elberta Lynch, Edna Mae Rayne, and Dorothy Williams attended the Beacom-Selbyville basketball game played in the Y. W. C. A. building in Wilmington on Friday evening.

Elizabeth Waller spent Friday in Philadelphia.

Louise Calloway of Laurel was the guest of Elizabeth Waller over the week-end. On Saturday evening, she attended the Phi Kappa Tau Informal.

Katherine Murphy, of Lewes, was the guest of Margaret Vessels at College on Saturday and Sunday.

FASHIONS IN OLD VIRGINIA

At this time there were few "saddle clothes" to be seen in the Colony. Ships . . . brought back from the Mother-country the rich stuffs then in use, and the newest fashions. Before the middle of the century a law had been passed restricting the importing of so much finery, but it was either repealed, or treated with contempt; silk stockings, beaver hats, green scarfs, gold lace, red slippers were as common in Virginia as in England itself. The streets of Jamestown were full of shifting colors. Sir William Berkeley—the Governor—rolling by in his sumptuous coach (the only one of its kind) was a familiar figure in his red plush coat and high boots with their frilled tops. he had many imitators. On occasions men strutted about in coats with sleeves ending in elaborate "Turkey-work," their trousers made of costly broad-cloth. They wore muslin or green satin; bonnets and petticoats trimmed with silver lace; beaded scarfs, crimson tulle, and silk hoods, lace and galleons, and gold stomachers, jeweled chains, rings, fans—the list is long as long as Homer's catalogue of Ships. And the children of the folk dressed just as the children in England at that date. Boys wore "coats" till they were seven, then put on breeches and strutsed like their fathers in miniature. The girls, even when very young, dressed like the women, their gowns by (this seemed the approved material) petticoats reaching to the knees of their red galleons, shoes were adorned with shining buckles; they also wore satin bodices with collars, and small lace caps on their heads. For very little children—boys and girls—"hanging about" were always part of their dress—loosely-tied silken hoods—like Clark, in "Old Days and Old Ways."

CORP. ELDERKIN LOSES

Corporal Roger P. Elderkin, of State Highway Police, who was injured on December 2, when his cycle collided with an automobile on the Glasgow road, had his left leg amputated at the Delaware Hospital Monday. The bones in the leg had been broken in four places and foot badly crushed. A previous operation was made to save the leg, but not prove successful.

PEACE

One schoolhouse is better assurance for the future than a dozen regiments, and a tractor is better than a battery.—Los Angeles Times.

MANY FARMERS TREATED WHEAT

34,760 Of Seed Dusted In County This Season; Test Plots Show Results

Treating wheat for smut has been done by approximately 63 per cent of the farmers sowing this grain in New Castle County this season. These results have been checked by County Agent, Ed Willis, Jr., and show that approximately 34,760 bushels of seed wheat were treated this fall.

For several years the treatment of seed wheat to prevent and control smut in wheat has been advised by the Extension Department at the University of Delaware. The formaldehyde treatment was advised in this work for quite a number of years; with the advent of copper dust the Extension people changed their policies and advised the use of this more modern treatment. In 1925 the first year which this dust treatment was advised in New Castle County, approximately 800 bushels of seed wheat were treated. This increased to 3200 bushels in 1926 and to 16,000 bushels for the year 1927. The increase this year to 34,760 indicates that approximately 18,760 more bushels were treated this year over the previous highest year.

Two result demonstrations conducted this year, showed that the dust disinfectant treatment is effective in controlling the smut. On the farm of A. M. Zachies, of Port Penn, 6.9 per cent infection was found on an untreated field with a trace of infection on the treated section.

On the farm near State Road of Governor-elect C. D. Buck, a 2.8 per cent infection was discovered on an untreated area with 100 per cent on the treated plot.

During the season two treating stations were in operation in the wheat sections of the county. One of these was operated by Julius Kirk, of Middletown and the other by Crothers Brothers, Mt. Pleasant. The latter treating station is largely responsible for part of the greater number of bushels treated this year.

In getting the results of this work the County Agent visited all of the seed dealers in the county and secured from them the amounts of dust for treating which they sold or number of bushels treated with the dust by their treating outfits.

PRESIDENTIAL DISHES

When each President leaves the White House, he leaves behind as a memento of his time, a complete set of dishes which are known as the President's dishes. Colonel Roosevelt's dishes are white and gold with the President's crest in colors. Instead of buying a new set of dishes, Mr. Taft replaced the dishes that had been broken, leaving odd sets and unmatched pieces. President Wilson decided to use home-made china instead of importing foreign porcelain. His service was ordered from Trenton, N. J. The Wilson dishes are probably the most beautiful in the collection. The china is deep cream in color with the President's crest in gold and a gold border around the edge.

"ACE" TAYLOR GRID CAPTAIN

Backfield Star Elected After
Close Contest; Dr. Hullahen
Gives Football Dinner

At a football dinner given to the University of Delaware football team last Friday night, Irwin "Ace" Taylor was elected captain for 1929. There was a close contest for the honor, Taylor winning by one vote over "Scoop" Barton, star end.

Taylor, a junior, had never played football until last year, when he made the varsity and developed into a backfield star of the first magnitude. This year "Ace" was the Blue and Gold's most potent triple threat back, and was largely responsible for the Haverford victory, about the only bright spot in Delaware's season.

Charles Middleton was elected manager of football and William Morgan, assistant manager. Announcement was also made of the election of Charles Collins, as captain of soccer for next year, Marcus J. Torelli, manager, and Marston Fox, assistant manager.

The dinner was held at the "Knoll" and consisted of wild duck, which had been shot by Dr. Hullahen. The guests included Professor Howard K. Preston, J. Pearce Cann, J. Alex. Crothers and Prof. C. R. Rees, members of the Athletic Council; Coach Joe Rothrock, Graduate Manager "Doc" Doherty, Manager William E. Evans, Jr., Manager-elect Charles Middleton, Emerson Wilson, editor of The Review, and the following players: Captain Glasser, Captain-elect Taylor, Barton, Reese, Benson, Draper, Hopkins, Hill, Staats, Kane, DiJoseph, Riley, Rose and Squillace.

JUNIORS WIN TITLE

The junior boys of the Newark High School were crowned undisputed champions of the school, Tuesday night, when they beat the faculty team 26 to 12. Previously they had won from the seniors, 26 to 5, and from the sophomores, 6 to 4. The sophomores had defeated the freshmen, 7 to 6. The junior team was composed of I. Smith, F. Mayer, C. Cole, D. Whitman and J. Edmonson. The faculty team was made up of Gillespie, Meloy, Malin, McMennamin, Keller and Barker.

The other class teams lined up as follows: Seniors—V. Mayer, A. Jaquette, J. Holloway, H. Draper, R. Walton, C. Potts; Sophomores—R. Benson, R. Johnson, C. Pie, W. Dean, J. Collins; Freshmen—R. Jackson, V. Willis, L. Fell, W. Barrow, D. Coverdale.

The junior girls also won the interclass championship by defeating the sophomores, 18 to 6, in the final. The juniors disposed of seniors, 6 to 2, in a preliminary game, 6 to 2, while the sophomores won from the freshmen, 21 to 3.

DELAWARE FIVE OPENS TUESDAY

Baltimore First Opponent;
Council Approves Schedules, Awards Letters

The University of Delaware basketball season will open next Tuesday night in Newark, with the University of Baltimore as the versus. A basketball schedule of 15 games, all but 4 to be played at home, was approved at a meeting of the Athletic Council, held Tuesday night. The rest of the schedule follows:

January 10, Moravian College, at home; January 12, Pratt Institute, at home; January 15, Drexel, away; January 19, St. Mary's, at home; January 23, Army, away; February 9, Swarthmore, at home; February 12, P. M. C., away; February 15, Susquehanna, at home; February 18, Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, at home; February 21, Ursinus, at home; February 23, Brooklyn Polytechnic, at home; February 27, Haverford, away; March 2, Franklin and Marshall, at home; March 5, St. Joseph's College, at home.

Coach Rothrock has held several long scrimmages, and the material is rounding into fine form and performance. At present the first squad consists of Hill and Barton as forwards, Lecarpentier and Hugh Holt, guards, and Captain Jaquette, jumping center.

The Council approved the schedules of the fencing and swimming teams, although several of the swimming dates were tentative. The schedules follow:

Swimming—January 5, Lehigh, at home; January 10, Catholic University (tentative), at home; February 16, Lafayette, at home; February 21, University of Virginia (tentative), away; February 23, Williams and Mary (tentative), away; March 3, Franklin and Marshall, at home; March 19, Temple, at home.

Fencing—January 12, Lafayette, away; February 16, Lehigh, at home; February 23, Lehigh, away; March 8, Princeton Freshmen (tentative), away; March 9, Rutgers, away.

Letters for football and soccer were awarded as follows: Football—Captain Glasser, Captain-elect Taylor, Barton, Benson, Kane, Rose, DiJoseph, Draper, Hill, Riley, Staats, Reese, Reitzes, Hopkins, Hubert, Squillace and Manager W. E. Hayes, Jr. The election of Irvin Taylor, halfback, as captain, Charles Middleton, as manager, and H. L. Morgan, as assistant manager of football for next year was ratified.

Soccer—Captain Long, Captain-elect Collins, Ryan, Bringham, Powell, Jackson, Potts, Strazella, J. H. Smith, Ford, Weldon, Lee, Caulk and Manager Morocco. The election of F. Collins, captain, Marcus J. Torelli, as manager, and William M. Fox, as assistant manager of soccer for 1929, were ratified by the Council.

The Council ratified the appointment of Horace Wier, of Philadelphia, as swimming coach for one season.

Coach Rothrock suggested that he be given permission to have a squad out for spring football practice, especially freshmen and sophomore's for two or three weeks next spring, which the Council approved.

Graduate Manager "Doc" Doherty was given authority to attend the meeting of the Eastern Association for the selection of football officials in New York on Saturday of this week.

NEWARK QUINTET WINS FIRST TWO GAMES

The Newark basketball team, under the canny management of Ottey Gregg, has started the season auspiciously by winning its first two games. On November 27 it won, 41 to 30, from the Krebs team in a game played in the Wilmington High School gymnasium, and on December 2 took Battery H, of New Castle, into camp, 20 to 11, in a game played in the New Castle Armory. Further games are being scheduled with strong teams. Scores:

THE MODERN CHRISTMAS GIFT

JEWELRY REFLECTS THE EXACT SENTIMENT

For the modern girl, the man of action, "old reliable dad," the best gift that carries a full and lasting measure of your affection. It is mainly for that reason that the Sachs Brothers in the Equitable Building in Wilmington say "plan to give the gift that means the most."

You cannot realize how easy it is to give the gift of jewelry until you have used the Sachs Boys plan of weekly, or semi-monthly payments. This plan gives to every one of good

Dr. I. S. Tassman, head of the refraction department, was appointed by the hospital authorities to cooperate with the Association in its efforts to bring about safer driving, and he has covered the subject of eye strain as seen by a specialist.

"In confronting a very brilliant illumination," said Doctor Tassman, "there takes place in the eye first a simultaneous contraction or narrowing of the pupil. When very excessive or oft repeated in the presence of intense light, this may result in ocular fatigue, pain or even an inflammatory condition of the eye more or less constant, because of the strain on the delicate self-adjusting mechanism from being called on to function in the presence of severe contrasts to which it must adapt itself."

"The sudden flood of brilliant light also causes a marked disturbance in the very sensitive retina or inner coat of the eye where the image is cast. The light being here diffused in excessive amount, produces a sensation of dazzling. This dazzling is abnormal and indicates a disturbance of the visual substances. Sudden withdrawal from the light again produces a sharp contrast, which is immediately followed by a brief blind period familiar to all. A blind area occurs in the vision, the duration of which depends on the period of exposure and the intensity of the light, and it represents an area in the retina of the eye which has been rendered under-sensitive. The result is practically the same as that which occurs in the eye after looking at an eclipse of the sun without smoked glasses."

PHOTOSTATS

Newark now can be sure of service on photostats, multigraphing and mimeographing. Dawson-Gormley Company, of 609 Industrial Trust Building, Wilmington, give 24-hour service on this work. Copy can be left at 156 West Main street and the finished job will be delivered to you the following morning. The prices will compare favorably with any you have at present and the service will be 24 hours or better. This firm also can render service on addressing, compiling of mailing lists, etc.

YOUR BREAKFAST

Mr. Beste, of the Beste Provision Company, is one man that is responsible for thousands upon thousands of good breakfasts these cold mornings. His firm has an ideal up-to-date plant, in fact, it is the best equipped plant in this section. When you are hungry and think of hot cakes and sausage with the proper amount of seasoning, this means Beste Brand. Mr. Beste takes great pride in his sausage and scrapple and the sale of thousands upon thousands of pounds each year testify to the goodness of his product.

TIME DECIDES

In talking with Mr. Warren Single, of the Newark Trust Company, the question of time as applying to money was brought out.

Most people are familiar with the accumulation of money when put out at compound interest. However, where time alone decides, is the establishment of a living or voluntary trust. Under this plan you can anticipate any financial contingency. A trust fund can be made for any purpose that you may decide.

You can have it to operate under your personal supervision, the trust can be either revocable or irrevocable. The plan is a simple plan of arrangement, it forms a complete safeguard for the future.

A trust fund may be started with any amount, you simply deposit money or securities to cover your plan and sign the trust agreement. The agreement covers your instructions for carrying out of your purpose. This plan works out well as a fund for children's education, the establishing of a future income, the care of dependents, a fund for future business expansion, a building fund, etc. Mr. Single would be glad to talk to anyone about such plan.

INTENTIONS

How many times have you heard your husband or your son say, "I had a filing cabinet. Many times I wish for a cabinet, a desk, a many only want a small one, a desk cabinet. It keeps all my papers and files in an orderly manner. Mr. Lake, of Shilling & Lake, at 9th and West streets, in Wilmington, has just what you desire, regardless of size, perhaps its only the special size for say the use of a professional man, what you want and at a good price, will be awaiting your selection.

A SUGGESTIVE GIFT

You all have friends who you would like to hear from regularly, you would what to give them for a Christmas gift. The K. A. Horner Company, 815 Shipley street, offers the solution to this problem. Give your friend a box of Hamme mill writing paper, of 250 sheets, writing paper and 250 envelopes, a match, all in a special box. This gift with monogram initial or name printed only costs $4.00.

This represents a gift that will bring joy to your friends, and in return a cherry message to you.

ASK TARIFF PROTECTION ON TOMATO PRODUCTS
In accordance with the official action taken at the recent meeting of the Executive Committee, Vice-Presidents and Governors, the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association is pleading before each Congressman and United States Senator representing the Peninsula, an urgent request that they use their office and influence towards securing a material increase in the tariff levied on tomatoes and tomato products from Italy or other foreign countries.
Mr. Landreth L. Layton, of Georgetown, who asked for this action at the meeting of the Association's official board, stated that all influence possible should be brought to bear to secure this increase, for the protection of tomato growers throughout the entire country.
Because of the large tomato industry on the Peninsula, the Association is extending every effort toward securing the increased tariff. The Congressmen and Senators are urged to place the Association's request before the President and to make every other endeavor to obtain the advanced rate.

DEL. AUTO ARS'N
ANNUAL MEETING

from the individual to which they are entitled.

Examination in Pennsylvania is very simple. You are examined by one of the state highway police, who asks you questions on driving regulations that should be known by every one who operates a motor vehicle. For the examination of hearing, to pass, one only has to have 2 per cent. of normal hearing, for instance, an individual stands a foot and a half behind an applicant, speaking in an ordinary tone, the conversation should be understood by the applicant.

The Pennsylvania law calls for 20 per cent normal eyesight, the qualifications of which are, the ability to distinguish ordinary objects, for instance, a man or an automobile in an ordinary light at a distance of about 150 feet. Maryland and Pennsylvania both require examinations and it looks very much as if the next State Legislature will be asked to pass a bill requiring an examination in this state.

Senator Louis A. Drexler was present and brought out the work being done by the Delaware Safety Council to prevent the loss of life and injury in the industries, in the home, and on the highway. The Delaware Safety Council asked for the cooperation of the Delaware Automobile Association which cooperation was very quickly and freely given.

Senator Drexler said that in 1927, (here were 68 fatalities in the State, and this number has been increased this year by two, making a total of 70. The Senator gave further statistics to show that during 1927, there were 68 fatalities in the homes throughout the State by gas, falling down stairs and in other ways, and to prevent such accidents, asked the women members present for their cooperation with safety measures in every possible way.

Senator W. A. Simonton gave a very interesting lecture and showed a film that he had taken on his recent trip around the world. He showed views of India. These films were one of the best features of the evening. Then followed entertainment by high class vaudeville artists.

The officers and directors elected were as follows: William J. Lackey, president; Charles J. Girvin, Wilmington, first vice-president; Lieutenant-Governor J. Hall Anderson, Dover, second vice-president; Edward R. Messick, Lewes, fourth vice-president; William S. Jourdan, Wilmington, secretary and treasurer.

Directors elected were: Andrew Eliason, New Castle; J. P. Grooms, Newport; Howard H. Oberly, Thomas S. Taylor, Dr. W. O. La Motte, Enoch Moore, Jr., Victor D. Washburn, Willard Springer, Jr., and Charles E. Grubb, of Wilmington.

Linnaeus Hoopes remains to continue his good work as executive secretary of the association. "Reds" Kenton and Fred Burton, the patrolmen, were present and welcomed a large number of their down-state friends.

GOV. ROBINSON
FOR THIRD TERM

Dr. Walter Hollihen, president of the University, extended cordial greetings to the visitors and an equally interesting response was made by Governor Robert P. Robinson.

During the meeting Mrs. Robinson, wife of the Governor, gave a talk on the recent meeting of the National Grange held in Washington, D. C. There was also an address by Dr. C. L. Benner, of the Continental Insurance Company, and formerly a member of the University faculty, on "Observations of farming in the Western corn belt."

In addition to these talks there were several fine musical numbers. Miss Lillian Steel gave a piano solo; violin solo by Alfred Willey, of West Brandywine Grange, and baritone solos, "Rolling Down to Rio" and "On the Road to Mandalay," by Dr. George H. Ryden, of the University of Delaware faculty.

After serving continuously for nearly a half century as secretary of the Grange in this State, Professor Wesley Webb, of Dover, declined re-nomination, but through a special act was named honorary secretary with full salary in compliment to his long and efficient service. He was replaced as worthy secretary by Mrs. W. C. Carpenter, of Centre Grange.

In addition to the Governor the official personnel re-elected comprises: worthy overseer, N. W. Taylor, Dover; worthy lecturer, A. Bailey Thomas, Wyoming; worthy steward, E. W. Palmer, Delmar; worthy chaplain, W. D. Wilson, Delmar; worthy treasurer, F. C. Bancroft, Wyoming; worthy gatekeeper, Harlan E. Phillips, Delmar; worthy Pomona, Mrs. N. W. Taylor, Dover; worthy Flora, Mrs. Robert P. Robinson; worthy Ceres, Mrs. H. E. Phillips; and worthy lady assistant steward, Miss Emily Mitchell, Hockessin.

H. R. Lemmex, of Milford, was elected a member of the executive committee as the representative of Sussex County, for a term of three years. E. H. Woodward, of Marshallton, for New Castle County, and J. Frank Rice, of Felton, for Kent County, are the hold-over members of the committee. Governor Robinson, as State master, and Mrs. Carpenter, as secretary, are members ex-officio.

Obituary

David Boulden

David Boulden, aged 90 years, died Tuesday, at his home in New Castle, after an illness of several months. Although in declining health, Mr. Boulden had been able to attend to business up until the past two weeks. Mr. Boulden's wife died about 4 years ago.

Funeral services will be held Friday, at 1, at his late home, Fourth and Delaware streets, New Castle. Further services will be held at 2 o'clock in the Glasgow Presbyterian Church. Interment will be in the adjoining cemetery. The Reverend William Gibson will conduct both services.

Mr. Boulden was born and reared on a farm near Glasgow, which he owned at the time of his death, and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Boulden. When he was nineteen years old, he went to New Castle and entered the employ of James Cleland, who owned and operated the store owned by Mr. Boulden in the Strand at the time of his death. About sixty years ago he purchased the store and business and since that time has been in active business there. He was said to be the oldest active business man in New Castle County. He was a charter member of Friendship Lodge, No. 3, Ancient Order of United Workmen.

Both his store and home were built in Colonial days.

Mr. Boulden is survived by one daughter, Miss Agnes Boulden, two sisters, Mrs. Olivia Cann, of Kirkwood, and Mrs. Louisa B. Ellison, New Castle, and one brother, George Boulden, living in Philadelphia.

Dr. John Oliphant

Dr. John Oliphant, who was supply rector at St. Thomas Church prior to Dr. Edgar Jones' rectorship, was buried in Harrisburg, Pa., Tuesday, December 4.

THE MOLASSES ERA
IN NEW ENGLAND

Molasses has played its part in the history and development of New England coastal States. Years ago shiploads of it were brought from the West Indies and distributed inland from every seaport to be distilled into rum and used for sweetening. Delving into those early practices, H. E. Lamb of Calais, Me., has recorded many facts about the use of molasses.

"When a man married," says he, "among the indispensable things was the molasses jug, while the molasses pitcher was on every table. With it the settler sweetened his tea and covered his fritters. His wife used it in the beans and to make brown bread and Johnny cake or to sweeten the pork-apple pie. One of the favorite dishes was pork fried in molasses and called 'scraggly'."

"The baby was kept busy picking a molasses-covered feather from one hand to the other. Lunch for the children was bread and molasses. In the Fall the settler's cough syrup was rum and molasses. In the Spring the whole family took sulphur and molasses for 'that tired feeling.'

"The first sugar came in actual large loaves, and in some society a piece would be broken off and held in the mouth while the tea was sipped through it. It sold here in Calais for nine pence a pound. Molasses in 1790 brought two shillings and sixpence a gallon and rum a shilling more."

AN UNWORLDLY GRACE

Guilelessness is the grace for suspicious people. And the possession of it is the great secret of personal influence. You will find, if you think for a moment, that the people who influence you are people who believe in you. In an atmosphere of suspicion men shrivel up; but in that atmosphere they expand, and find encouragement and educative fellowship. . . . This is the great unworldliness.—Henry Drummond, in "The Greatest Thing in the World."

CHRISTMAS COOKERY

BY KATE HENLEY DAUGHERTY, COUNTY HOME
DEMONSTRATION AGENT

There are so many demands upon the homemakers' time as the Christmas season approaches that only those who plan their work well are able to meet the needs of their family and community. It does give one such a comfortable feeling to know that all of the shopping and as much of the cooking as possible is finished and out of the way before the thrilling last-minute tasks are begun. Of course in the culinary preparations there are many things which simply can't be done in advance, but there are others which are all the better for a period of waiting after they are baked or steamed, and Christmas cookies, at least many of the delightful types which are given you here, are among them. Fruit cakes and plum puddings are always better cooked a month or so in advance, and properly stored can be kept indefinitely.

Christmas is the one season of the year that is celebrated by all Christian nations of the world, and for that reason we have included here some interesting as well as delicious recipes from other nations.

Holiday baking can be a real joy when the work is carefully planned so that it does not intrude on daily tasks. Thoughtful preparation and attention to details assure success. Study the selected recipes. Check all ingredients. Have all materials on hand. Collect utensils, having bowls of varied sizes, baking sheets, cutters and presses or molds. Prepare fruit and nuts and put into convenient jars. Make fillings, for these will keep well in a cool place in a covered jar.

It is well to get the fruit cakes or plum puddings out of the way first, then one can make the short-bread, springerle and other cookies that keep well. Mix several kinds, then set aside to chill. This causes the flour to swell so that the dough may be handled easily and if covered and kept in a cool place may stand for two days.

Save time and oven heat by rolling cookies and placing them on wax paper, having many ready before beginning the baking.

After the baking store away in stone jars, covered cans or boxes to ripen and mellow, keeping crisp varieties separate from the moist ones.

Following are some interesting Christmas recipes:

Scotch Short Bread

1 lb. butter, 1 lb. sugar, 2 egg yolks, 1 1/2 lbs. pastry flour, 1 tablespoonful vanilla, 1 tablespoonful baking powder, 1 teaspoonful salt. Cream butter and sugar. Add yolks well beaten and vanilla. Blend well and gradually add flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Mix well and chill. Roll small portion of dough about 1/4 inch, cut with small round cutter and press design with wooden stamp. Bake about 25 minutes in moderate oven about 300 degrees. Many fancy shapes can be made from this dough and decorated with fancy icing, fruits and nuts.

Springerle German Cookies

Springerle are those engaging little cakes with the real Christmas aroma that one sees in some of the shops at holiday time. The ingredients are few and simple.

2 eggs, 1 cupful powdered sugar, 3 or 4 drops anise oil, 1 1/2 cupfuls flour, pinch salt. The true German cook beats this mixture for exactly one hour. Start by beating the egg whites until just frothy, and continue the beating while very gradually sifting in three-quarters of the sugar. Add the remainder of the sugar in the same way to the well-beaten egg yolks, then combine the two mixtures and beat for the remaining part of the hour. Add the flavoring and fold in the flour, sifting it on lightly a little at a time. Next roll it out about one-quarter of an inch thick, and press the springerle board well into it or a rolling pin on which forms are marked, and leave them to dry overnight. In the morning cut the cookies apart and bake in a moderate oven, 325 degrees F., about 20 minutes. Springerle are very hard when first made, but grow tender as they ripen.

Anise Platzchen

This is a seed cookie of which the German Hausfrau has no end of tempting recipes.

1 cupful powdered sugar, 4 eggs, 1/2 tablespoonful anise seed, 1/4 teaspoonful salt, 2 cupfuls flour. Beat the eggs and sugar together in the top of the double boiler over boiling water until light and quite warm. Add the flour, sifted with the salt and anise seed, drop by spoonfuls on a greased pan one inch apart, and leave to dry three hours, or until a crust forms. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F., for 15 minutes.

Swedish Macaroons

1 pound almonds, grated rind of 2 oranges, 1 cupful pastry flour, 1 pound sugar, 2 eggs. Blanch almonds and shred one-half, grind one-half. Sift flour and sugar two times, add nuts and rind, then eggs beaten together. Mix well. Butter hands and roll into small balls, place on paper and flatten slightly. Dredge with sugar. Bake in very slow oven, 250 to 275 degrees F. This makes a chewy confection. Vary by using filberts instead of almonds.

Butterscotch Cookies

Cream one cupful of shortening with two cupfuls of brown sugar, add two well-beaten eggs. Sift the following dry ingredients twice; four cupfuls pastry flour, one teaspoonful soda, one teaspoonful cream of tartar, and add part to first mixture until too stiff to beat. Then add one teaspoonful vanilla and one cupful of chopped nuts. Knead in the remainder of dry ingredients, shape dough into two loaves and chill in ice box for two hours. Cut in thin slices and bake in a moderate oven about 10 minutes.

Rocks

1 cup shortening, 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoonful soda, 3 cups flour, 1 cup raisins, 1/4 cup nut meats, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful cinnamon.

Cream shortening and add sugar gradually, then add well beaten eggs. To this mixture add the sifted flour, soda, salt and cinnamon, nut meats and raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on greased tin and bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees F.

Dark Fruit Cake

The recipe is a large one and makes about fifteen pounds of cake.

1 1/2 lbs. brown sugar, 1 lb. shortening, 1 1/2 lbs. flour, 1 cup molasses, 1 lb. citron, 1 lb. candied cherries, 2 oranges, pulp and all finely chopped, 1 cup strong coffee, 1 cup jelly, 2 teaspoonfuls soda, 1 lb. blanched chopped almonds, 1 doz. eggs, 1 teaspoonful cinnamon, 1 teaspoonful nutmeg, 1 teaspoonful cloves, 3 pounds currants, 4 pounds raisins, 1 cup flour for dredging fruit.

Mixing a cake of this size is quite difficult, but the following method is most satisfactory. Cream the shortening (use a wooden potato masher and your largest dish pan) and add the sugar gradually. Beat until light.

Add beaten egg yolks and molasses, then jelly and coffee and chopped oranges. Now add the flour, spices and soda sifted together. Next add the fruit and the citron and almonds finely cut. Before adding to mixture, dredge fruit and citron with cup of flour. Mix thoroughly and lastly, add the beaten whites. Put the mixture in buttered tins of the desired shape and size and cover tops with heavy wrapping paper, and steam three hours. For the steaming process, use a large cold pack boiler and place cakes one on top of the other on the fruit rack of the boiler. Remove the cakes from the steamer and bake in a slow oven for one hour. Remove from oven and cool and pack in large stone jars to ripen until ready for use.

Christmas Plum Pudding
(Makes about 6 lbs.)

1 pound raisins, 1 pound currants, 1 pound suet, 1/2 pound citron, nuts if desired, 1 pound bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon each of cinnamon, cloves, and allspice, 1/2 nutmeg, grated, 1/2 cup fruit juice, 1 pound sugar, 1/2 cup flour for dredging.

Clean raisins and currants and chop suet, citron and nuts. Mix ingredients. Fill greased tins two-thirds full. For family size allow about 1 pound to a tin; for individual molds allow 3 ounces. Steam 4 hours, cool, wrap as for fruit cake and keep in a cool place. This pudding, if stored properly, will keep almost indefinitely. Serve with hard sauce.

Hard Sauce

Cream 1/2 cup of butter until soft and stir into this enough powdered sugar to make a stiff batter, flavor with vanilla or a brandy extract, and serve on hot plum pudding.

Cinnamon Apples

If there is to be roast goose or duck, you may want to garnish them with these cinnamon apples which are as good as they are decorative. Closely pare medium sized apples, without removing stems or cores. Simmer until tender, turning gently from time to time, in a thin sirup made in the proportion of 1 cupful of sugar to 2 cupfuls of water. Add some grated lemon rind to the sirup and enough cinnamon drops to color it.

Divinity Fudge

2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup corn sirup, 1/2 cup water, 1 egg white, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup walnut meats. Cook sugar, sirup and water to 240 degrees F., stirring occasionally. Add the sirup to beaten egg white, pouring slowly and beating constantly. When it begins to thicken, add chopped nut meats. Finely cut cherries or pine-apple are delicious addition. Little red cinnamon drops pressed into the candy before finely set are decorative and good in Christmas boxes.

Comfort Frosting

2 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup light corn sirup, 1/2 cup water, 2 egg whites, 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla.

Cook together the sugar, sirup and water, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking without stirring until a temperature of 242 degrees F. is reached. (The sirup then forms a soft ball in cold water). Remove from the fire and pour one-third of the sirup over the beaten egg whites, beating during this addition. Return the remainder of the sirup to the fire and cook to 246 degrees F. (The sirup then forms a firm ball in cold water). Remove from the fire and beat into the mixture of egg white and sirup. Continue beating until the frosting is cool, when it will hold its shape and can be spread on a cake.

UNCLE CHARLEY'S CLOCKS

Along the walls, behind the show-cases, ran shelves with many clocks upon them. These clocks, silently, persistently, day in and day out, asserted each one for himself a different hour. It was most confusing to try to have anything to do with them. It shook one's faith in the stability of the universe. Were things, after all, so lawless? So purely arbitrary in arrangement? Even when Uncle Charley wound the clocks up and they broke forth into ticking, matters were not much mended; for as soon as one, in a grave, deep tone that wrought conviction, had announced the hour, "One, two, three, four," another would proclaim in silvery accents of entire confidence, "One, two, three, four, five, six, seven"; and before the listener—being perhaps dazzled into prejudice by the light of full moon—could decide at all between these two, another still, across the room, would snap out a short correction of the previous assertions by "One, two." What, then, was a helpless listener to do when she wanted to know whether or not she must go and have her hair brushed for dinner? Only at one period of the day was this confusion of hour beneficial. When, after supper, the Niece's mother called "Come, dear, it is time to go to bed," the Niece would make haste to reply, "Oh, no mamma!—see, it is only half-past five!" And then, when her mother persisted, she would turn for comfort to the clock that said quarter past ten, and would go off to be undressed with a positive feeling of dissipation.—From "Uncle Charley," by Zephine Humphrey.

DRAWING FROM NATURE

The class had been told to bring things to school for drawing lesson, and just as the lesson was about to begin, a small boy was found standing tearfully at his teacher's desk.

"I've swallowed my object," he explained.

"What was it?" asked the teacher anxiously.

"A banana," replied the would-be artist.—Pearson's Weekly.

The menu for the animals of the London Zoo last year included the following:

PERFECT ATTENDANCE

OF THE NEWARK SCHOOLS FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER

The percentage of attendance for the Newark school for the month of November was 93.5, while the net enrollment for the month of November was 1032. There was an average daily attendance through the month of November of 936. Out of the entire school there were 617 pupils who did not miss a single day. The causes of absence included: illness, work, out of town, missed the bus, miscellaneous, and no excuse. In all of these causes there was a decrease excepting missed the bus, which showed an increase of 28 per cent. In illness there was a decrease of 78 per cent, work 53 per cent, out of town 8 per cent, miscellaneous 20 per cent.

There were 289 tardiness out of a possible 33,024, which shows a punctuality of 99.009 per cent.

FRUIT RECIPES

Orange Ice Box Cake

2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon gelatine, 2 tablespoons cold water, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 dozen lady fingers.

Heat milk in double boiler. Add sugar and cornstarch. Cook ten minutes, stirring until thickened. Add beaten eggs, cook three minutes, stirring constantly. Add gelatine, soaked in cold water, orange juice and rind. Line spring form with lady fingers. Fill with alternate layers of orange mixture and lady fingers, having lady fingers on top. Set in ice box for several hours.

Orange Stuffing for Duck

3 cups dry bread crumbs, 1 cup diced apple, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 4 tablespoons sugar, 2/3 cup orange juice, 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine, salt and pepper.

Mix ingredients in order given and season to taste with salt and pepper. A little more or less liquid may be needed, depending on the dryness of the crumbs. Garnish the duck with watercress or parsley and with sections of orange dipped in a thick sugar syrup. Serve with the duck an orange sauce made by adding one half cup of strained orange juice to two cups of gravy.

Grapefruit Tarts

2 cups milk, 1/4 cup sugar, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1/2 cup grapefruit juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, tart shells.

Heat milk in double boiler, add sugar, cornstarch and salt, and cook for ten minutes, stirring until thickened. Add beaten egg yolks and cook three minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, add butter and fruit juices. Cool and fill tart shells. Cover with meringue and brown.

Orange Coffee Cake

2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 3 tablespoons shortening, 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind, 6 tablespoons sugar.

Mix and sift dry ingredients, cut in the shortening, and add the beaten egg and milk. Mix well, spread in a shallow pan and cover top with the orange juice, grated rind and sugar, mixed together. Bake in a hot oven. Time in baking, 20 minutes. Temperature, 425 degrees. Recipe makes a cake 8 by 12 inches.

CAKES

California Sunkissed Cake

4 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, milk, 1 1/2 cups cake or pastry flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon lemon extract.

Cream shortening and sugar. Break the eggs into a cup and fill with milk. Add this to the first mixture and beat well. Then add the flour, baking powder and salt sifted together, and the lemon extract. Beat well and turn into layer cake pans. Bake in a moderately hot oven. Time in cooking, 25 minutes. Temperature, 375 degrees. Recipe makes 2 layers 8 inches in diameter.

Frosting

1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons strained orange juice, 1 egg white, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind.

Put the sugar, orange juice and unbeaten egg white into top part of double boiler, cook over boiling water, beating constantly with a rotary beater until frosting is thick. Remove from fire, add orange rind and beat until right consistency to spread. Spread half of frosting on the bottom layer of cake. Slice a peeled orange very thin, cut lices in quarters and put on top of frosting. Put the top layer in place and spread with remaining frosting.

French Cake

1 cup shortening, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup milk, 3 1/2 cups cake or pastry flour, 5 teaspoons baking powder, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 9 egg whites.

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually. Add milk alternately with flour and baking powder which have been sifted together. If unsalted shortening is used add one-quarter teaspoon salt. Add vanilla and beat well. Then fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in three layers in a moderately hot oven. Time in baking, 25 minutes. Temperature, 375 degrees. Recipe makes 3 10-inch layers.

Filling

9 egg yolks, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup butter, 1 1/2 cups raisins, 1 1/2 cups walnuts, 1 cup crushed pineapple.

Beat the egg yolks until creamy, add sugar and one-quarter cup of the butter. Place in double boiler over boiling water, stir constantly and add butter, one tablespoon at a time, until all is used. By the time all the butter is used the mixture should be thick. Remove from fire and add the chopped raisins and walnuts and the pineapple, which has been drained. Cool and spread between layers of cake.

Frosting

2 cups confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, cream.

Cream the sugar and butter and add cream to make the right consistency to spread. Cover the cake smoothly with this frosting and decorate with nut meats, or in any other way desired.

GELATINE DAINTIES

Jellied Apple Sauce

2 cups strained apple sauce, 1/4 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cinnamon drops, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 tablespoon gelatine, 2 tablespoons cold water, 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Heat apple sauce to the boiling point. Then add the sugar, cinnamon drops, nutmeg and gelatine, softened in cold water. Stir until the cinnamon drops are dissolved. Cool, and add the lemon juice. Turn into wet molds and let stand in a cold place until firm. Delicious served with cold meats. It goes especially well with cold pork. Cinnamon drops are small, bright red cinnamon candies, which may be purchased at most confectioners. If they cannot be obtained, cook stick cinnamon with apples and color pink with food coloring. Recipe makes 6 servings.

Orange Banana Whip

1 cup boiling water, 2/3 cup sugar, 4 teaspoons gelatine, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1 1/2 cups mashed banana, 1 egg white, orange sections.

To the boiling water, add the sugar and gelatine, softened in cold water. Stir until dissolved. When cold and partially thickened, add the lemon juice, the banana which has been carefully mashed, and the stiffly beaten egg white. Pour into molds lined with orange sections. Set in a cold place until it is firm. Unmold, surround with whipped cream and garnish with sections of orange, freed from membrane. Custard sauce may be used in place of the whipped cream, if desired. This dessert may be made in a large mold, well-lined with orange sections, but it is more attractive in individual molds. Recipe makes 6 servings.

Raspberry Supreme

1 cup raspberry juice, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 cup raspberries.

Heat raspberry juice (drained from canned berries) to boiling point. Add sugar and gelatine, softened in cold water, and stir until dissolved. Cool mixture until it begins to stiffen and add raspberries. Fill large or individual molds half full of this mixture and, when firm, fill with Spanish Cream. If fresh raspberries are used, obtain the cup of juice by heating two cups of berries to the boiling point with enough water to keep from sticking, and straining through a jelly bag. Add uncooked berries to jelly. More sugar will be needed with fresh raspberries than with canned. This dessert is especially attractive in a ring mold. Serve with cream. Recipe makes 8 servings.

Indiana Salad

2 cups canned or stewed tomato, 2 tablespoons sugar, 3 cloves, 1 bay leaf, 1 stock celery, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 can asparagus tips.

Add the sugar, cloves, bay leaf, celery, and salt to the tomato and let it simmer gently for ten minutes. Strain and add the gelatine that has been softened in a teaspoon of cold water. Cool. Stand four or five asparagus tips around the inside of individual molds, and fill the molds with the tomato mixture. Chill and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing. Canned tomato soup, diluted according to directions, may be substituted for the seasoned stewed tomato, if desired. This salad may be made with fresh asparagus, but the canned is equally delicious. Recipe makes 6 servings.

Spanish Cream

12/3 cups milk, 2 eggs, 1/3 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Make a custard of the milk, eggs and egg yolks. Add the softened gelatine. Let this cool but not thick. Add the vanilla and fold in the beaten egg whites. Recipe makes 4 servings. (Continued on Page 15.)

Better Get Wet Than Get Hit!

Fall rains mean umbrellas—and umbrellas suggest an extra hazard for the pedestrian in this day and age of mass production of automobiles. The National Safety Council cautions pedestrians on the danger of carrying umbrellas while crossing streets. Each year many accident reports come in to the Safety Council headquarters in Chicago, reflecting tragic stories of pedestrians who turned their umbrellas against the rain and wind, and in so doing, turned them against oncoming traffic. Keep your umbrella up high enough so that it will not impair your vision while crossing streets. It is much better to get wet than to get hit.

veterans, we have claims on the government. (3) The Veterans maintains legislative and an Americanization bureau in New York City. This bureau is now working on a bill to be presented to Congress, which provides that the "Star Spangled Banner" be declared the National anthem by act of legislation. (4) The Veterans is the only patriotic organization, today, which maintains a home for the widows and orphans of its members. This home at Eton Falls, Michigan, now has ten eight-room cottages and more are being added. The Veterans provides the cottages, and the auxiliary furnishes them. This year the auxiliary is raising $30,000 to build a hospital in connection with the Eton Falls community, and all this money will come from members of the auxiliary. $5,000 is already collected, and the remainder will be collected through the medium of dime banks which will be sent to all members. This hospital will be completely modern in every way.

Mrs. Hankin said that she was the first National President who had been eligible through the World War, and that she was proud of it. She spoke of the part which the women had played during the war and after it, and said that this was a close bond between the Veterans and its Auxiliary. Mrs. Hankin closed her address with a moving plea for all veterans to write their Congressmen demanding support for the Bill providing compensation for all ex-soldiers in hospitals.

Mrs. Raffensperger then lauded Mrs. Hankin, saying it had been the greatest pleasure to work with her. Mrs. Raffensperger has seen ten years service in the national organization, nine years as treasurer, and this year is junior vice-president.

Mrs. Hyde, national treasurer, stated that it was her duty to install and foster 100 new auxiliaries this year, and that she was at the service of posts at all times.

Commander William Rupp, of the Newark Veterans, spoke of the unusual distinction which Newark had in having three national officers present at the institution of its auxiliary. He stated that the Newark organization was further patriotically distinguished by having its meeting rooms in the Newark Academy building, where two signers of the Declaration of Independence had been educated. He said that the Trustees of the Academy had provided a room for the auxiliary. He said that the Veterans were an organization made up of only one kind, those who had offered everything in support of the tenets of the order and of the Constitution of their country. This he said had been amply demonstrated, when 71,000 comrades were left behind on the battle fields of France.

A member of the Chester, Pa., Auxiliary spoke a few words telling of the success of the post.

Commander Charles N. Macklin, of the Wilmington Veterans, spoke, saying that the meeting had given him enormous enthusiasm toward organizing an auxiliary in Wilmington.

The officers of the Thomas Cooper Women's Auxiliary, J. Allison O'Daniel Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are:

President, Mrs. Florence Rupp; secretary, Mrs. Clara McCormick; treasurer, Mrs. Rena Harrington; conductress, Mrs. Helen Tweed; chaplain, Mrs. Elsie Pierce; guard, Mrs. Bessie Cataldi; patriotic instructress, Mrs. Edith Morrison; historian, Mrs. Ida Gerholdt; trustees, Mrs. Mary Chambers, Mrs. Bertha Tweed, Mrs. Nettie Connor; color bearers, Mrs. Frances Edmondson, Mrs. Lillian Morrison, Mrs. Bessie Cataldi, Mrs. Elizabeth Tweed.

A Gift of Good Furniture is a Good Gift

If you want to make Christmas mean something more than a mere exchange of trifles, give furniture this year. For furniture is a good gift, always. How proudly you can present a piece of good furniture—and what lasting joy you bestow with it. The cost need not appall you. Lovely things are here at prices the most limited budget can well consider. And you can always find a mutual friend to share the giving with you. The Budget Plan, too, helps you give the finest pieces without undue strain on your purse. So you see there is no reason at all why you should not present "heirloom" gifts this year—fine furniture to be treasured, perhaps, for generations to come! Come let us help you choose appropriate pieces for everyone on your list—you will not be urged to buy.

A New Living-Room Suite

would be greatly appreciated in many a home. It's a pleasant thought that one day's remembrance will bring comfort and happiness for years to come. All the family can join in making this gift.

Two and three-piece suites in denim, damask, mohair, etc., the Karpen and Valentine Seaver grades—$225.00 to $650.00.

Three-piece suites in Jacquard Velours—$150.00 to $300.00.

New Dining-Room Suites

In rich mahogany and genuine American walnut veneers. Get rid of that old suite that has already given you twenty-five to thirty years of service—and replace it with a new, modern design—make yourself a Christmas gift.

You'll be surprised to find how cheaply you can buy a high-grade, serviceable suite of ten pieces here.

Dinner Sets

Of Domestic and Imported China

Imported dinner sets, all open-stock patterns—Haviland, Noritake and Bavaria.

100-piece set, pink spray decoration—$68.00 set.
100-piece set, dark blue and gray decoration, bird center—$73.50.

100-piece set, blue border with pink flowers—$85.00.
100-piece set, French gray border, with bird center—$90.00.

100-piece set, gold and white decoration with ivory border—$93.00.

Cedar Chests

Make most acceptable gifts. There ought to be several of them in every home, as they are a real protection against moth damage.

Red Cedar Chests with flat moulded rim lids, $15.00, $22.00, $26.00 and $27.00 each.

Red Cedar Chests with removable trays, trunk lid designs, $31.00, $42.00 and $48.00 each.

Cedar Chests, plain and window seat designs, finished in walnut, $25.00, $30.00, $35.00, $38.00 and $40.00 each.

100-piece sets in Domestic porcelain, different decoration—$37.85 to $47.00 set.

Butterfly Table and Windsor Chair

Warm, mellow maple is used in this quaint little butterfly table, also in the Windsor Chair shown. This attractive little group would make an appealing corner in a Colonial home.

Table $24, Arm Chair $21

For the Children

Children's High Chairs, in ivory, green, oak and mahogany, very attractive patterns in Windsor designs. Priced from $5.50 to $18.00 each.

Children's Windsor Chairs and Rockers with wood and rush seats, $8.50 to $15.00 each.

Nursery Chairs, in ivory, green and orchid, decorated. Priced, $4.00, $5.50 and $6.00 each.

Doll Go-Carts of the better grade, of finely woven fibre, upholstered in corduroy, fawn, gray and cafe colors, with adjustable running gear. Priced, $10.00 to $19.00 each.

MANY WAYS OF KEEPING CHRISTMAS CARDS

The problem of what to do with beautiful Christmas cards that one receives, is going to solve itself to some extent this year. The 1928 styles are such that many of the cards that will go from one friend to another next month will be gifts in themselves, suitable for framing, for use as decorations on wastebaskets, boxes or lampshades, or even for making into scrapbooks for the children.

More and more do Christmas cards emphasize the picture value of their design, and less and less the importance of saying "Merry Christmas" all across the front of the card. Folders are more popular than cards these days, with the message and the name of the sender appearing inside the fold, leaving the front free for picturization. And these pictures may be anything from a cunning puppy to a snowy street scene, leaving the time-honored Christmas symbols out of the design entirely, and making the card appropriate for all-year-round use in some clever way.

Etchings and the beautiful madonnas reproduced on some of the best cards are specially suitable for framing. Good taste sponsors the uncolored etchings, but the beautiful colors obtained by the new process of hand-work, and the use of parchment, which lends itself well to rich color effects, have made the colored etchings very lovely and very popular this season.

With the growing vogue for boudoir boxes of all kinds, comes another use for small decorative prints such as are often found on Christmas cards. Heavy cardboard boxes may be saved from the Christmas mails, partitions inserted, the whole lined and covered with chintz or the new fancy papers, which are pliant and strong, and the card decorations pasted on cover and sides. Colorless varnish may be brushed over the completed job to give a lasting finish, and a sturdy effect. Such boxes may be used to fit into bureau drawers to hold handkerchiefs, gloves, and stockings. They are also useful as desk accessories to hold writing paper, stamps and the like. Or, in larger sizes and made of wood, they are useful to hold shoes and slippers.

Many of the Christmas designs are suitable also for lampshades and waste-baskets. Quaint prints and map effects of early New York and New England are found among the new Christmas cards this year. The old English scenes, too, are suitable for use. For lampshades, mount them on plain parchment or varnish them, frame them in gimp, and make them the center of attraction on silk or georgette shades.

So many of the 1928 designs in Christmas cards appeal to children—animated toys, animals, joyous representations of Santa and his reindeer, and lively hunting scenes or views of holiday merry making—that a cloth scrapbook could well be made up. Use linen or unbleached muslin, have the pages double thickness, and stitch the cards on by rows of machine stitching up and down and across before the pages are doubled over and bound by more machine stitching. This will delight a child the whole year through. More pages can be added later in the year, too, as birthday cards, Valentines, Easter cards, and other holiday cards are received and saved.

NEW CENTURY CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newark New Century Club was held on Monday afternoon. Mrs. R. O. Bausman was hostess. The program of the afternoon consisted of a short talk on Symbols by Mrs. J. O. G. Duffy, as the introduction to a play, "The Lamp Went Out," presented in the form of stage pictures. Mrs. A. D. Cobb read the play beautifully, and the characters were very cleverly taken as follows: Evelyn Devere, Mrs. Lester Scott; Mrs. Devere (mother), Mrs. Ernest Frazer; Herbert Vanderslice (villain), Mrs. H. L. Dozier; Ralph Grayson (hero), Mrs. Emerson Johnson; propertyman, Louise Mathews. Mrs. Thomas B. Malin, director in charge, received much praise for the success of the production. Mrs. Samuel Smith sang two solos. The meeting was closed with a Tea and Exhibition of some articles left over from the Sale on Saturday afternoon.

There will be no meeting until the New Year's Party, on Monday night, December 31st, when there will be a program, dancing, cards and seeing the New Year in.

QUEEN THEATRE OPENS WITH VAUDEVILLE

Starting on Monday, December 10, the Queen Theatre, Wilmington, returned to its policy of vaudeville and photoplays. The Queen is the only theatre between Philadelphia and Baltimore with vaudeville and draws its patrons from the city of Wilmington, the vicinity and the entire Delaware Peninsula.

The new policy to be pursued by the Queen calls for six acts of Keith Vaudeville, and feature Stanley photoplays. The performance will be continuous from one o'clock and on Saturday from 12.30. This latter is a decided change in the schedule followed last season. Under the new arrangement patrons may enter the theatre and enjoy the performance at any hour from one o'clock until eleven at night.

Fair And Warmer

And there was a Scotchman who bought a two-pants suit.

"How do you like your new suit, Jack?" asked a friend.

National Corn Husking Championship Boasts All The "Fixins" Of Golf

Fowler, Ind.—Husking corn at a breath-taking clip in a sunny November field, Walter Olson, a young Illinois farmer, raced his way to the national championship before thousands of spectators here. In 80 minutes he husked 26.62 bushels of yellow ears picked from standing stalks.

It was an "all star" performance in the Indiana cornfield. The 13 contestants had proved themselves the best "shuckers" in the corn belt in earlier state contests and among them was Elmer Williams, holder of "the world record." He came in second to Mr. Olson.

As far as possible the contest followed actual farm practice. Each contestant was allotted a strip of land with 12 rows of standing corn. The strips were separated by wide swaths cut to make way for the husking wagon which accompanied each shucker. For in corn belt farms, the husker picks his ear from the standing stalk and throws it, clean of husks, into the wagon in a single operation.

Explosions of Activity

The starter's pistol released 13 explosions of activity. Down each row the yellow ears flew from the hand of the shucker to hit the well named "hump-board" of the wagon and tumble in.

Except for the steady fire of the corn against the board, an occasional whinny of a horse and the crushing of stalks under foot, there were no sounds. No cheering. Farm folk are not given to noisy outbursts. But old timers perched on a straw stack, took out their watches, counted the number of ears to the minute, and hoped.

Fifty-four neighbors of Mr. Olson, who came with him from Rio, Ill., watched him earnestly. And there was no lack of practical support. When the horses of one husking wagon became skittish and threatened to set back the contestant, a dozen men stepped up and displaced the horses at the wagon tongue.

In 80 minutes it was all over but the scoring. Hot and happy, the agricultural athletes ducked away from cameramen to get into the usual business clothes that the modern farmer wears when not in the field. Scoring, however, takes time. Corn must be weighed and deductions made for faulty technique, such as ears skipped and husks left on.

Slowly the returns trickled in. "Fans" got busy with pencils and score cards. Then at last cheers burst out as the new national champion's score was chalked on the blackboard. He had won by a bushel.

The new champion learned his shucking "just working," he said, and although now national champion, he will go back to his fields. No vaudeville or "movie" contracts attend this championship.

However, for a day, each of the expert corn huskers tasted publicity in the modern style. Although staged in a field eight miles from a railroad, motion picture cameras clicked and a throng followed close on the heels of the shuckers. For a few hours one of the hardest jobs on the farm was exciting sport—with a gallery. Amplifiers in different parts of the farm yard made announcements interspersed with radio music that carried far out into the field, blending with the rustle of dry corn leaves.—Christian Science Monitor.

OPTICS, PUNS, RADISHES

Solemnity need not necessarily be associated with learning, as was proved at recent meetings of the Optical Society of America. Prof. A. A. Michelson, Nobel prize winner, for instance, paused in an explanation of his recent and extraordinary experiments at Mt. Wilson, California, to refer to the relativity theory as that "Frankenstein monster"—showing, apparently, that a pun is not beneath even the measurer of the speed of light.

At other times the slightly rarefied air of the students of optics was lifted almost to hilarity by the traffic signal which Irwin G. Priest, president of the society, had mounted at the rear of the hall to check the speakers when their allotted time expired. Mr. Priest insisted that a sense of pride in the achievements of the Optical Society was responsible for this novel arrangement. The Acoustical Society, he asserted, had stooped to the crude device of an alarm clock to halt speakers, merely to illustrate in practical fashion the simpler benefits of sound waves. It behooved the Optical Society, he said, to show a more suave and subtle illustration of the advantages of its own medium; and with this explanation he carried the society with him, save when, now and then, some overardent speaker grew lost in a haze of sines and cosines, and inadvertently pressed the switch that suddenly bathed the hall in lurid light.

Another human touch, which did not fail to bring response from the erudite society, was the report of how the Boyce Thompson Institute had been working certain vegetables overtime. Various plants had been kept up to all hours of the night by use of artificial lamps after sunset. Some of these plants, notably the radish, responded favorably to the stimulus of night life. Slides showing pictures of radish, lettuce and tomato were thrown on the screen, presenting their growth after periods of normal twelve, eighteen, and twenty-four hour days. Apparently, the radish was prepared to stay up half the evening and show no ill effect, while the lettuce seemed none the worse when it did not go to bed at all. But ah, the difference exhibited by the tomato! A layman, watching the response of the learned society, was pleased to catch something very much like a cheer at the tomato's vindication of simple life and regular habits. This honest vegetable had, in fact, gone on strike at the laboratory's unwarranted interruption of its private existence, and while it put up rather grumpily with an extra hour's work or so, needed no other proof than its frail and etiolated stalk to tell how much it disapproved of further overtime and dissipation.

"Men are like vegetables," observed President Priest, in conclusion. "Each type is a rule unto itself. Some people thrive amidst the bright lights, like the radish. For myself, I must say I am a tomato."—Christian Science Monitor.

RAYON'S RARE RECORD

Growth of the rayon industry has been so great during the recent years that the future of the industry is involved and some manufacturers fear the expansion has been so great that an unhealthy condition has been developed. If production for the present year is continued at the present speed there will be 100,000,000 pounds produced this year. Last year the product was 95,000,000. Rayon has ousted from use 95,000,000 pounds of cotton and silk, but today cotton and silk manufacturers are using a combination of these materials for manufacturing women's wear, and it is selling rapidly. Rayon manufacturers claim they will develop the lace-making field as much as they have other fields. Rayon has had its name less than six years, but it has made a runaway record, having caught the fancy of women as no other new material ever has done.—The Ohio State Journal.

PRaise OF THE COLLIE

Probably the most intelligent dog in the world is the real Scotch collie. He is not the long-nosed, brown-and-white type popular in America, but of a sturdier build, black and white in color and with a head resembling that of a St. Bernard or a fine setter.

What can he do? Almost anything except talk, keep books, and wash the dishes. Read, for instance, this description in the Farm Journal of an exhibition of sheep herding given by four prize dogs of James Scott, famous Highland trainer:

"First, eight white-faced ewes were turned loose at one end of the field. One dog was released at the other end. He went the length of the field and brought the ewes back to the point he started from."

"The dog didn't stop at that. He took the ewes back to the end of the field where they were first released, then to the center of the field, and penned them."

"Again the ewes were released and ten black-faced ewes were mixed with them. The dog separated blacks and whites and penned each bunch in the center of the field."

"Once more the blacks and whites were mixed, and the dog was called upon to cut one sheep and keep it from joining the flock—a tough job for a dog. But the dog did it without trouble."

"Then Scott called upon three dogs to drive the flock—a fourth dog crept in front to set the pace for the ewes. "Not once did a dog bark during the trial. And not once did Scott yell at a dog. When directions were necessary, he would whistle, or wave his hand, or make a sort of hissing noise."—Atlanta Journal.

Christian Science Churches

"God the only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 9.

Golden text: "Thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel. Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine." (Isaiah 43:1.)

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "I am the Lord, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King." (Isaiah 43:15.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God."

The Oldest Horses in the World

By WALTER RALEIGH IN OUR DUMB ANIMALS

Horses, horses, the best and fleetest and most intelligent horses are wanted.

Some may think this a day of the gasoline engine or the electric motor, and undoubtedly such mechanical contrivances do play a large part in our scheme of things, but still the horse as the friend, the companion and the intelligent assistant of man maintains its place in our modern world.

Now while there are horses of various colors and weight and size, there is but one horse in the eyes of the men and women who look for the best and search for the ideal in horseflesh. There is a standard among horses unlike any other animal standard in the world.

The horse sought by sportsmen, by the cavalry of the armies of the world, and by those who seek to breed the horse for travel under every trying condition is the Arabian. This is because through centuries the Arabian horse has maintained a good character, that has made it the ideal of horse lovers.

The earliest history of this high-spirited intelligent creature is shrouded in the veil of antiquity. For many centuries horses have been raised on the Arabian desert, and long ago their fame spread into Asia and Europe, and thence throughout the world. Digging about in ruins, scientists have recently discovered that wise King Solomon had great stables which he maintained for his pure-blooded Arabian horses specially secured for him.

It seems certain that the Libyan tribes of Northern Africa first cherished this horse. By long and careful breeding this superior type of Arabian horse has been maintained for more than three thousand, five hundred years.

There is an old tradition in the East about the origin of the five leading families of Arabians so much sought after by army men and by sportsmen and those who love to ride horses. It is a Mohammedan legend. The story is that Mohammed, anxious to secure the mounts that would stand up under the rigors of his campaigns, kept a hundred mares penned up in sight of a sparkling stream, but without water, for four days.

Finally released, the frantic animals dashed for the stream. Just as they were within a few yards of it, Mohammed caused his harem to sound the call to halt. Five horses obeyed—but others continued their mad dash for water. These five, at the first notes of the bugle, aligned themselves in perfect cavalry formation—thus proving their blood. Ever since they have been known as the "Prophet's Mares." These have been the progenitors of the five leading families of Arabian horses even to the present day.

The story is a story, but the fact remains, as witnessed by travelers and explorers, that the pure, desert-bred Arabian has always been noted for courage, intelligence and endurance. Accustomed to subsisting on scant water and forage, subjected to the burning heat of the desert, he is capable, nevertheless, of carrying heavy loads for good distances. Powerful and swift—raised almost as a member of the family by the desert tribes—he is invariably gentle, affectionate and tractable.

For these many qualities the Arabian has been prized by every horse-loving age, and Arabian blood has been sought by breeders all over the world. But it has never been easy to obtain. For one thing, the desert owners are true lovers of horses. They are seldom willing to part with their beloved friends. Especially is this true of mares, against the selling of which there is a deep-seated aversion.

Now and then some fortunate traveler has been able to secure a blooded Arabian horse, and in the obtaining he has been considered fortunate and his prize has been his delight and the pleasure of all who enjoy raising horses. As a slight evidence of the fleetness and endurance of the Arabian it is said that for one hundred and seventy-seven years the famous English Derby winner has descended from an Arabian.

George Washington rode an Arabian horse throughout the war of independence. Napoleon Bonaparte pinned his faith to the white Arab, "Marengo," that carried him through his campaigns in Egypt and his freezing retreat from Russia. His stuffed skin is still preserved in Paris. Lord Wellington would trust himself to nothing but an Arab horse. Kitchener and Field Marshal Lord Roberts would ride no other kind of horse. Lord Roberts' horse, "Vonolel," which he rode at the head of Queen Victoria's great jubilee procession, wore on his breast two medals presented to the horse by the Queen, one for service in Afghanistan and another for service in Africa. At that time the horse was twenty-seven years old and had carried the noted general for twenty-two consecutive years, covering fifty thousand miles but had never been once lame or sick.

There is in sunny California an Arabian horse ranch where it is the purpose to make these horses thoroughly at home for the benefit of American horse lovers. By the help of large sums of money famous Arab horses are being brought there, making it possible to secure a family of famous horses for future generations. A famous old Algerian chieftain, Abd-el-Kader, a true son of the desert in his love of his horses, once said:

"If in the course of your life you alight upon a horse of noble origin, with large, lively eyes, wide apart, and black, broad nostrils, close together; whose neck, shoulders, haunches, and buttocks are long, while his forehead, loins, flank, and limbs are broad; with the back, the thin-bones, the pasterns and the dock short; the whole accompanied by soft skin, fine, flexible hair, powerful respiratory organs, and good feet, with heels well off the ground—hasten to secure him if you can induce the owner to sell him, and return thanks morning and night for having sent a blessing."

It is thus no wonder that horse-lovers seek the Arabian. They want a creature they can chum with, one that is a trustworthy pal, that adapts himself to their moods and whims, and because of centuries of desert service the Arab horse will do all this. It can then be appreciated why these horses are so much prized. "Pure-blooded" becomes just another term for "good character."

MILFORD CROSS ROADS SCHOOL

It is 12 o'clock—lunch time at Milford Cross Roads School. Take a glimpse inside the school room. Each youngster takes his lunch box upon his desk, making a table as it were. Then what is that we hear—a gentle rattle of dishes and spoons? A minute more, and lunch, hot lunch, is being served to help out with the lunch from home. The menu, you ask? Well, it varies. One day there will be real vegetable soup, another day perhaps we'll find hot cocoa, still other days there will be old fashioned tomato soup with dumplings, lima bean soup, corn field bean soup and so on. The charge? None at all—each child contributes to the family store from time to time, what he is able. There is always plenty for everyone. The food is prepared by the teacher and the pupils before school calls. The cooking costs nothing extra. A large bucket contains that hot lunch, and that bucket is placed on the regular heating stove before 9 a. m. By noon the cooking is done.

Quarantine

Some of our P. T. A. friends have heard it noised abroad that our school has been under quarantine for scarlet fever. That report is false. We did have one case of scarlet fever, but that case developed at home on a Friday, three weeks ago. The school was thoroughly fumigated, aired, and scrubbed. Regular classes were held on Monday. No new cases have developed. We are glad to report that Raymond Gray, our little sick friend, is almost well. Don't hesitate to come to our P. T. A. next Wednesday evening, December 19.

P. T. A.

The December meeting of the Milford Cross Roads School will be held in the school room next Wednesday evening, December 19, at 8 o'clock. The children are working every spare moment—no classes are left out—to make the Christmas program the best that they have ever had. The little first graders say their recitations very nicely. There's "Enough for All" by Norman Reed; "Kathleen's Stocking," by Kathleen Starkey; "Envy," by Charles Nelson; "A Present for Mama," by Paul Ayars, and "The Best Day," by Grayson Greer.

Then there will be a play, "A Healthy Christmas." Sara Dunsmore will take the part of Mrs. Smith; George Reed will be her husband, Mr. Smith; Carolyn Guthrie makes a cute little Emmy, and Paul Nelson is a sturdy looking Neddy.

"A Christmas Song" by Delaware Reed; "A Christmas Eve Thought" by Anna Mills; "A Possibility," by Charles Greer, and "Hanging Father's Socks," by Edward Kennedy all reflect the Christmas spirit.

Of course there will be plenty of music, the Christmas Carols will be sung by the school and the audience. Other selections will be played by the orchestra.

Agnes Kwiatkowski will recite "A Riddle"; Paul Davis, "I Wonder"; Carolyn Guthrie, "A Gift to Santa";

Evelyn Jester, "Dolly's Christmas Gifts."

Anna Mills will delight everyone with a song, "Jolly Old St. Nicholas," then Hazel Johnston will sing a beautiful "Lullaby," after which there will be a dramatic reading, "Me and Jim," by John Wooleyhan. "Two Christ mas Stockings," by Ruth Reed; "Mr. mas Claus Man" by Edwin Guthrie; "Queer Christmas Gifts," by Betty Hollingsworth.

The first graders will sing "Little Jack Horner" to show the audience how their music is coming along.

A sure enough play, "The Strike in Santa Claus Land," will be given. Esther Greer and Mildred Reed make the best "Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus." The part of "Dr. Currem Quickly" just suits Edwin Guthrie. Hazel Johnston makes a cute "Fairy Young-heart." Evelyn Jester couldn't be any better as the "Little Girl." Then Santa has the best helpers: "Jack Frost," Delaware Reed; "Brownie Good-Cheer," Paul Davis; "Brownie Help-a-Long," Edward Kennedy; Fairy "Kind-Thoughts," Anna Mills; Fairy "Good-Will," Charles Greer, and "Spirit of Christmas Joy," Ruth Reed.

You can't help enjoying "The Brave Little Tree," by Mary Kwiatkowski; "Santa Claus and the Mouse," by Hazel Johnston; "Mr. Sandman's Visit," by Helen Kwiatkowski; "The Little Stockings," by Esther Greer; "When Santa Claus Comes," by Mildred Reed; "Mrs. Santa Claus," by Mary Kwiatkowski, and "A Best for Santa Claus," by Marion Kwiatkowski.

Don't forget, now, that the Milford Cross Roads School P. T. A. meeting will be Wednesday evening, December 19, at 8 o'clock.

For the Housewife

Fruited Orange Sponge

2 cups boiling water, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water, 1/4 cup orange juice, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1/2 cup cherries, 1/2 cup dates, 2 egg whites.

To the boiling water add sugar and gelatine, softened in cold water. Stir until dissolved. Cool and add orange and lemon juice. Let stand until it begins to harden, then add the chopped cherries and dates, and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into individual molds, chill and serve with custard sauce. Recipe makes 8 servings.

Maple Pie

1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup maple syrup, 2 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon gelatine, 2 tablespoons cold water, 1 cup cream, 3 cup chopped nuts, baked pie shell. Heat milk and maple syrup in double boiler. Pour over beaten egg yolks and continue cooking until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from stove and add gelatine, softened in cold water. Stir until dissolved. Let stand until it begins to thicken then add in the whipped cream and chopped nuts. Turn into baked pie shell. Recipe makes 1 pie.

Vegetable Salad in Ham Molds

2 cups chopped, cooked ham; 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, salt and pepper.

Combine these ingredients. Line individual molds with the mixture. Use one-fourth cup in each mold, spreading it out so that it completely covers the inside of the mold. Set in refrigerator to chill. Make the following salad:

1/2 cups boiling water, 1/3 cup sugar, 5 teaspoons gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water, 1/4 cup vinegar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 cup chopped pepper, 1 cucumber (diced) 1/2 cup grated carrot, 1/4 cup diced celery.

To the boiling water add sugar and gelatine, softened in cold water. Stir until dissolved. Add the vinegar and lemon juice and let stand until it begins to thicken, then add vegetables. Fill the molds that have been lined with ham. Let stand until firm, unmold and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise or French dressing. Recipe makes 8 servings.

Cheese and Spinach Soup

3 cups milk, 1 cup grated cheese, 1 cup spinach pulp, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper, 1 teaspoon grated onion.

Heat the milk, add the cheese and spinach pulp. Thicken with flour and butter, and season with salt, pepper and grated onion. Serve hot with crackers or bread sticks. Recipe makes 6 servings.

Pineapple Cheese Fritters

1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup milk, 1 egg, 1/2 cup crushed pineapple (drained) 1/2 cup grated cheese.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients, add the milk gradually and the egg, well beaten, pineapple and cheese. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Cook until well browned, and drain on absorbent paper. Serve with sauce made with the pineapple juice. Time in cooking, 3 minutes each. Temperature, 380 degrees. Recipe makes 8 servings.

Pimiento Cheese Salad

2 green peppers, 1/4 cup pimiento cream cheese, 1/4 cup crushed pineapple, 2 tablespoons chopped pecan nut meats, 1 teaspoon gelatine, 2 teaspoons cold water.

Remove the stem and seeds from green peppers. To the pimiento cream cheese add the nut meats, pineapple, and gelatine that has been softened in cold water and melted over hot water. Fill pepper shells with cheese mixture; place in refrigerator until firm. Cut in thin slices, arrange on lettuce and serve with French dressing. Recipe makes 6 servings.

Cabbage and Sausages, Sautéed

6 sausages, 3 cups minced cabbage, salt and pepper.

Sauté the sausages until brown and crisp. Take from the frying pan and pour off all but three tablespoons of the fat. Place the minced cabbage in the pan, cover, and allow to cook until tender. Add pepper and salt if necessary. Serve on a platter surrounded by the sausages and mashed potato.

Time in cooking, 20 minutes. Recipe makes 6 servings.

CABBAGE

Cabbage with Noodles

Shred cabbage and boil in salted water with an equal amount of egg noodles. Cook until nearly done. Place three tablespoons of bacon fat in a frying pan and allow to melt. Add the cabbage and noodles. Toss to mix in the fat, and allow to cook ten minutes. Grated cheese may be served with this.

Rice and Cabbage

1 small head cabbage, 1/2 cup rice, salt, pepper, butter, 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg, grated cheese.

Shred the cabbage and cook with the rice in boiling, salted water until both are done, twenty to twenty-five minutes. Drain, add salt, pepper and butter to taste and the grated nutmeg. Place over a low fire and allow to steam for ten minutes—do not brown. Serve hot with grated cheese. Recipe makes 8 servings.

Browned Cabbage

One medium-sized cabbage, 1 tablespoon cooking fat, 1 teaspoon sugar, vinegar, salt.

Shred cabbage. Put cooking fat and sugar into a hot frying pan and brown the cabbage in it. Then add a little water, sprinkle lightly with vinegar, add salt and let simmer until tender.

Time in cooking, 1 hour. Recipe makes six servings.

Baked Cabbage

Three pounds cabbage, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, dish cayenne pepper, 1/2 cup water, thin slices of bacon.

Chop the cabbage, and stir into it the flour, salt, mustard, butter, pepper and water. Put mixture into a buttered casserole and over it lay the slices of bacon, and put on the cover. Bake in a moderate oven.

Time in cooking, 45 minutes. Temperature, 350 degrees. Recipe makes eight servings.
