120 Kent Countians X-Rayed Second Time in State Survey

Re-Takes So Cause For Alarm Cautions Dean Penrose;
Second X-Ray Exposures Occasioned by Faulty 1st Prints
Or Need For Further Study; 32,429 Cooperate In Survey

Some 120 Kent Countians will have had second large X-ray by the day's end tomorrow, Friday, October 2, according to Dean William D. Penrose, president of the Delaware County Chest X-Ray Survey.

This second large X-ray which measures 14x17 inches, is a more detailed than the original 2 1/2 x 2 1/2 inch X-ray. Those who get their second X-ray, Dean Penrose explains, have been asked to get a second X-ray because the first X-ray was not clear enough to make a diagnosis. Some of the X-rays were not clear enough to make a diagnosis.

X-Ray Committee Chairmen Named For Newark Area

Public Invited To Attend
Tuesday Night Meeting
In Elementary School

Plans for the participation of residents in the Newark, Glasgow, Christiansburg, Brookside and other suburban areas in the Statewide Chest X-Ray Survey were completed Tuesday night according to Dr. C. R. Donohoe, general chairman for the planning committee in these areas.

Dr. Donohoe announced the appointment of chairmen of various committees as follows: Business, Mrs. J. C. Weinberg; Locations, Mrs. J. C. Hill; Brookside, Section C, Mrs. Marc Case and Mrs. Joseph Zappo; Brookside, Section D, Dr. Clifton R. Brooks and Dr. S. A. Grossman; Hostesses, Mrs. Albert L. Lockwood; Industry, Mrs. Tracy Schools; Wilmer Street, Volunteer Telephone Communications, Ella Mae MacLary.

Three mobile X-ray units have been assigned to local areas for a period of five days, beginning Wednesday, October 14. Definite locations will be announced at another meeting of the general planning committee to be held Tuesday night, October 6, in the Newark Elementary School. Dr. Donohoe stated, as he issued a general invitation to those interested in the survey to attend this meeting.

In addition to the chairmen, the planning committee has named a general committee: Harvey W. Bruce, Thomas A. Foster, Donald Huston, Miss M. Katherine Jones, Dr. John R. Downes, Capt. John Downes, Dr. Edward Reed, Mrs. Marie A. LeVoyne, Dr. Edwin F. Glusko, Miss Bessie Collins, Dr. Gordon Koppel, John T. Webster, Miss Beatrice Hartshorn, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Saunders, Col. Donald L. Dutton, Mrs. M. Roy, Miss Eleanor Irvin, and Mrs. Howard Green.

Taggart Evans, Executive Secretary of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society is serving as survey advisor to the general committee.

Col. Donald E. Dutton, of the Newark, Delaware, Army, was last week appointed chief of operations for the New Castle County Civil Defense program.

Col. Dutton has been senior Army instructor for the Delaware National Guard, professor of military science and tactics at the University of Delaware, and a winner of the Conspicuous Service Cross of Delaware.

The new chief of operations was relieved from the Army, March 1, 1953, after overseas duty in both World Wars. He received the rank of Major General in the United States Army from June 1951 until July of this year when the staff was reduced for lack of funds.

Army Approves Local Stretch-Out of Tank Production
At Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant Through Next Year;
$3,000,000 Tank Depot To Be Completed For Storage

Plans for a stretch-out of tank production at the Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant, assuring continued operation of the plant through 1954, were announced today by R. T. Keller, Chrysler vice-president and general manager of the Newark establishment.

The plans, drawn up by Chrysler officials, were approved by Army Ordnance in Detroit late yesterday.

Under the new program the $3,000,000 tank modification depot, now under construction in Newark by Chrysler for the Army, will be completed and used for storage of suppliers' machine tools. Processing and modification of tanks, previously planned for the depot, will be carried on in the tank plant in conjunction with the stretch-out of tank production.

Earlier plans had called for a complete close-out of tank production at the plant by April, 1954.

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, announced September 12, that Chrysler had lost the contract for production of M-48 Patton medium tanks and that General Motors had been awarded the contract as a result of the competitive bidding.

Some 3,000 persons, 600 of them residents of the Newark area, are employed at the tank plant.

The plant, which is a million sq. ft. of floor space, was constructed for the production of medium and heavy tanks for the Army, with the Patton M-48 medium tank as the primary product.

The first shipment of Patton M-48's from the Newark plant to troops in the field was made this past June, one year after formal dedication ceremony was held for the first tanks to roll off the local assembly line.

Mrs. George W. Patton, widow of the late General Patton for whom the medium tank was named, was guest of honor at the ceremonies. Mrs. Patton was killed in a hunting accident yesterday.

High School Pupils Plan Enrollment For CD Training

Col. Geo. Dunn Outlines
Warden Training Courses
To Begin On Wednesday

Students at Newark High School are anxious to enroll for classes in the County Civil Defense training. Col. George W. Dunn, New Castle County CD Director, declared last night.

Colonel Dunn, elated by this response said the students, members of the School Fire and Civil Defense Control, informed Frederick B. Kutz, principal, of their willingness and availability. Mr. Kutz, in turn, relayed the information to County CD headquarters.

The new training, consisting of classes once a week for seven weeks, gets underway next Wednesday. Classes are scheduled for each Wednesday through November 18 at six locations, simultaneously. Courses will be given in fire fighting, police work, rescue operations, sanitation, evacuation, records, communications and first aid.

Martin J. Kelly, Chief of the Warden Branch of the County Civil Defense system, who conceived and organized the training program, said that a few changes have been made in the faculty and classroom locations.

He said various county officials have consented to instruct their specialty. Charles Honey of the Brandywine Hundred Fire Company will lead off on October 14, followed by Chief J. S. Benton, of New Castle, on the 21st.

In other changes, Mr. Kelly said that he and Miss Elizabeth Townsend, Chief of the Welfare Branch, instruct on evacuation and identification and records.

Three switches in classrooms have been made. At Holly Oak, the training will be given in the Silverdale Road School rather than in the Community Center; at Elmside, at the Oak Grove School, not the first house; at Newark, in the High School and not the Armory.

The first night's instruction at all six centers will consist of orientation on the county's civil defense organization.

Classes will be handled by Mr. Kelly; Harold W. Smith, Jr., county CD field representative; Col. D. I. Dutton, county chief of operations; W. Dale Payer, a member of the warden division of the state CD agency; Robert Meli, county deputy director; and James Richardson, chief of the warden division of the State Department of Civil Defense.

Voters To Decide $824,000 Bond Issue Fate, Saturday

Special Referendum To Be Conducted at High School
For Approval Of Bonds To Match $1,236,000 State
Fund For Added Newark School District Facilities

A special referendum will be held this Saturday at the High School Building on South Academy Street to obtain public approval for a proposed bond issue of $824,000 to provide increased public school facilities in the Newark Special School District.

The proposed bond issue will be matched with $1,236,000 in state funds to provide for an addition to the West Park School building; the construction of a new, 12-classroom elementary school building at Brookside; to build a new Senior High School; to finance a temporary elementary school at Brookside and to cover the cost of site improvement and equipment for the new buildings.

The polls will be open at 1 p.m. and remain open until 8 o'clock Saturday night.

Mayor Wallace M. Johnson, in a statement advocating approval of the referendum, said: "We need the schools, and the very fine effort that the Board of Education is making to provide adequate school facilities for Newark, should receive our whole-hearted support."

"School enrollment has greatly increased," the Mayor continued. "And additional facilities must be provided to meet our requirements."

Any resident of the Newark Special School District who has resided within the district for 30 days, has been a resident of New Castle County for 90 days and has lived within the state for at least one year, is eligible to vote.

The Board of Education has estimated that the maximum increase in local school tax by passage of the proposed $824,000 bond issue will be 10 cents per $100 assessment. The current rate of 40 cents is low compared with other districts of similar size.

The present high school building, which was planned for a student body of 750, now houses 900 junior and senior high school pupils, and school authorities estimate a high school enrollment of more than 1200 by September, 1955, the earliest possible date at which a new high school building can be completed.

The School Board plans to use the present high school building for junior high school students when a new senior high school building is available.

As a result of a greatly increased enrollment within the Newark District, all elementary school children in the first five grades are attending school on half-day sessions, and school authorities disclose that a survey of pre-school children indicates a tremendous increase in first grade pupils during the next few years.

Local Schools Plan
National Education
Week Observance

"Good Schools are Your Responsibility," the national theme for all Americans during American Education Week from November 8-14, will be emphasized in the local schools according to Mrs. Jean Groszup, faculty chairman of the planning committee.

Highlights of the week will include several special assemblies, a TV program, open house gatherings of parents, friends, students and teachers, and a movie trailer at the State Theater.

Other members of the school planning committee are Irma Jaquette, Mary Keppeler, Margaret Morrison, Elizabeth MacLary, Theresa McCormick, Elizabeth Robbins, Cora Saunders, Ellsworth Hoffman and Neil Osburn.

This year will mark the 33rd annual observance of American Education Week as a national level. Sponsors for the recognition of schools all over the country are the National Education Association, American Legion, U.S. Office of Education, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The number of accidents on our highways is a cause of deep concern to all of us. Within the past week two deaths have occurred on the stretch of road near Easttown Heights. Increased vigilance on the part of State Police, we hope, will help to discourage the reckless driving which causes so much tragedy.

Sympathy is expressed to Mr. and Mrs. George B. Foraker, Roseville
Park, whose 14 month old son, Steven, died after an illness of four weeks.

The Rev. Robert Dieffenbacher, formerly on the field staff of the Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., was the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. James H.
Bishop, Kirkwood Highway, last Tuesday.

The Rev. Robert Russell, pastor of the Elmore Presbyterian Church, visited Rev. and Mrs. Bishop, on Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Manlove McMullen,
Kirkwood Highway, returned last Tuesday from Atlanta, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Manlove Mc-Mullen, Jr., and their new grandson, Gary Stewart.

Gary had the distinction of being born on his grandparents' wedding anniversary.

Mrs. McMullen visited her sister,
Mrs. Gordon Linn in Pittman, N.J.,
last Sunday. She assisted at a tea given by her sister for the faculty of New Jersey State College at Gloucester. Mrs. Linn also entertained the Sororist Club of Gloucester County, N.J.

U.D. Engineering School Adds Two Faculty Members

Joseph S. diRende and Meredith Munns have joined the faculty of the School of Engineering at the University of Delaware. The announcement was made this week by David L. Arni, dean of engineering.

Dr. diRende was a project engineer at the Aero Division of Curtiss-Wright before assuming his teaching duties at the university where he holds the rank of associate professor of mechanical engineering.

He has taught previously at Yale and at the New Haven Y.M.C.A.
Junior College.

Dr. diRende and his wife and their four children are residing at 28
West Main Street, Newark.

Mr. Munns joins the staff of the university as an instructor in electric engineering. He is a native of West Chester and is a graduate of Pennsylvania State College.

He served in the army signal corp from 1941 through 1946 and holds the rank of captain.

Mr. Munns came to the University of Delaware from a position as development engineer with the Westinghouse Electric Company in Philadelphia.

Does
Money slip thru your Fingers?

Or, are you that one-in-a-thousand thrifty individual who always has spare cash on hand from pay-day to pay-day? Chances are that you're no different from the rest of us who always run short toward the end of the regular pay period and have to scrimp to make ends meet before the next pay check comes around.

Money has a habit of slipping through fingers... burning holes in pockets and otherwise going mighty fast when on the loose. Ever Notice how quick a dollar goes, once it's broken? It happens every time and first thing you know, you're wondering 'wha happen' to that bill you had changed only a short time ago.

If you're smart and future-minded, you'll wise up and capture your cash before it gets a chance to escape through your slippery fingers.
Stow a fair sized chunk of your pay check in the bank regularly every pay day. Make it a MUST, first thing you do when you cash your check.

Then you'll know where at least a good part of it is... always safely in the bank, where you can get it easily, when the need arises. And, doubly important, it's also working for you, piling up interest every day you leave it on savings deposit.

Methodist Church To Hold First Fall Fellowship Fete

The first Sunday Evening Fellowship meeting of the Fall will be held at the Newark Methodist Church, October 4. Designated as "Parents' Night," the event will begin with a covered-dish supper at 5:30 p.m. for all church families.

The adult program will include showing of the film "For Every Child, Faith in God," and a panel discussion with Frank E. Rush as moderator.

An installation service of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will precede the film after which the youth will present their study of "The Art of Friendship," under the direction of Miss Kathy Lanning. There will be separate activities for the children.

World-Wide Communion will be observed at the 11 a.m. Sunday service and 18 communion bread plates contributed by various members and groups in the church, will be dedicated and used for the first time. The church school will convene at 9:45 a.m.

Brookside Reflections

by
Mrs. Mark Case
Phone 7276

The most important event of the week for Brookside and all other communities in the Newark School District is the school referendum to be voted on this Saturday.

The $824,000 bond issue is to be matched by $1,236,000 in state funds in order to furnish the district with the needed school facilities to properly educate our children.

Two new schools are proposed—the Brookside Elementary School and a Senior High School.

The money will also improve the present school sites and equipment and complete the West Park Place School.

The present schools are already crowded and the survey shows an even greater need in the next few years.

This is important to all of us and we must see that this referendum is voted in.

To vote, you must have lived in the district for 30 days; in New Castle County for 90 days; and in the State for one year.

Come on and do your part. Go to the Academy Street Building on Saturday and vote.

Some of our neighbors have requested that I bring to your attention the damage being done to the shrubs and plants in many yards.

Look around and notice the brown bushes and small trees ruined by dogs.

There are occasions when a dog will get loose and is difficult to get under leash, but some dogs are allowed to run at large most of the time. Please try to keep your dog tied. This is the season when we are all trying so hard to plant and seed.

Mrs. John Harvey and Mrs. R. O. Manker attended the two workshop days for refinishing furniture, sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs at the U. D. Agriculture Building. Each person brought a small piece of furniture to refinish, and each club was invited to send a member or two so they might take the instruction back to the club. According to reports it was a most successful class and lots of fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Southam of Carlin Lane, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arner, Mrs. Laura Albertson and Mrs. Frank Templeton all of Tamaqua, Penna., last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kessler had as their guests last week Dr. and Mrs. Milton Stern of Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sauer, Knickerbocker Dr., spent last weekend in Manasquan, N.J.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schneider, of Copperfield Lane, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Herman Greenstone and children Lanny and Rena from Perkasie, Penna., over the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beatty from Ann Arbor, Mich., spent the week with their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Althouse of Chancery Dr. During the weekend the Beattys and the Althouses spent the week-end in Washington, D.C., visiting other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fugee of Kullen Dr. announce the birth of a son last week, their first child.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everhart, Carlisle Rd., entertained Mrs. Everhart's mother, Mrs. Earl McHenry, of Berwick, Penna., last week.

Miss Frances Manker just returned from the Delaware Hospital where she was a patient for a few days. She is recovering nicely and will soon be as good as new.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eller of Chaucer Dr. announce the birth of a son, John Michael, Sept. 26, at the Wilmington General Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Eller have two other children, Bucky and Judy.

SERMON OF THE WEEK

SILENT VIOLINS
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

An old Italian, known for his great love of violins, although he did not play, was found dead one morning with scarcely a comfort in his home, but with 246 exquisite fiddles, which he had been collecting all his life, crammed into an attic room. In his very devotion to the violins he had robbed the world of all the music that might have been played on them during the years he had treasured them in his collection.

Others before him had done the same, so that when the very best one of all... a priceless Stradivarius... was finally played again, it had had 147 silent years behind it.

The unused violins were worth many hundreds of thousands of dollars. Yet the average American family has something even more valuable in their possession... and many of them use it as little as Luigi Taristo used his violins. That valuable possession is the Bible.

A recent poll showed that 10 out of every 20 American families own at least one Bible, but that only six of the 20 were able to tell the questioner where their Bibles were located at the moment. Of those six who did know where their Bibles were, all except one had to admit that they had not used them during the past year.

The result tells us the Bible is "more to be desired than gold, yea, than much fine gold; sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb." Moreover by it God's people are warned; and in keeping of its statutes there is great reward (Psalm 19:10 and 11).

Do you know where your Bible is today? How long has it been since you have read the Word of God? This is a treasure that ought not to be neglected, for it contains the invaluable messages of salvation and eternal life.

BROILER OUTLOOK
The outlook for broilermen is good for the next four to six months, but with slowly declining broiler prices. Placements are up about 1 million per week nationally; production costs should be steady to slightly lower. Watch for a narrowing of profit margin.

Public School Teacher

Mrs. Annabelle P. Wollaston

Instructor in Elementary Physical Education, Mrs. Wollaston has been teaching in the Newark Special School District since September, 1952.

Holding a Bachelor's degree from the University of Delaware, she was an instructor in the Physical Education Department at the university from 1947 to 1949.

Mrs. Wollaston and her husband, Robert F., recently moved into their new home on Indian Road, a house which they themselves built in a minimum amount of spare time. The Wollastons have one daughter, Linda, four.

A native of Georgetown, Delaware, Mrs. Wollaston is a member of the D.A.R. and of the Methodist Church.

Slow At Sundown Slogan Stressed By Safety Council

Night-Driving Motorists Urged To Reduce Speeds In Ratio To Visibility

"Slow down at Sundown!"

Repeating the slogan that has become the watchword of the Delaware Safety Council's night traffic hazards program, J. James Ashton, manager, warns Delaware motorists that speed and darkness are a deadly combination. The program is being conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

"By speed, I don't mean 50 or 60 miles per hour—or even 40," Mr. Ashton explained, "I mean a speed that's too fast for driving conditions. And dusk or darkness are conditions that call for traveling at a much lower speed than you would travel on the same road in daylight."

Mr. Ashton warned that many motorists are taken unaware by the earlier dusk of October and the changeover from daylight saving to standard time. These motorists drive by the clock and do not slacken their speed as darkness creeps up.

"Obviously," Ashton said, "a car going at a low speed can stop in a shorter distance than one going faster. This is a vital point in the night driving picture. In dusk or darkness a driver can't see as far ahead as he can in daylight. In fact, on a very dark road he can see only the length of his headlight beam. For safety's sake, then, he should travel at a speed that will make it possible for him to stop within the distance covered by this beam."

Mr. Ashton also advised motorists to have their cars checked regularly, since split-second response is a must for night driving. "And, of course," he said, "alertness is doubly important at night. Pedestrians, cyclists and other motorists are all more difficult to see at night. If the motorist is on the look-out he's more likely to see them in time to avoid an accident."

"It'd also like to say a word about wearing sun glasses when driving at night. That word is 'Don't.' Sun glasses cut down on visibility and that's bad."

Newark Methodist Men Schedule Fall Banquet

The men of the Newark Methodist Church will begin their fall program with a banquet at the church next Thursday, October 8, at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. John N. Link, new superintendent of the Wilmington District, will be the guest speaker and Dr. Russell Hyre, president of the group, will preside.

Other officers of the organization are: E. M. Rahn, vice-president; Frank E. Rush, secretary; and David

With daylight saving time over the days described in Helen Hunt Jackson's poem "October's Bright Blue Weather" are almost here. The goldenrod, the purple asters, and the milk weed by the roadside, as well as the colorful foliage, add to the beauty of this season.

The White Oak 4-H Club at its monthly meeting last Thursday evening made a tape recording which will be given Oct. 10 on the 4-H Club review radio program on WDEL. George Van Horn, editorial director of the University Extension Department, had charge of this recording.

The members presented a Columbus Day skit and the following took part: Miles Dorothy, Pierson, Janet Pierson, Kathy Schulz, Lora Samendinger, Dilworth Pierson, Bruce Macadam, Sallie Evans, Barry Norton, Joan Brown, Ronald Woodard, Lois Moe, Mary Lou Derickson, Jane Walton, Le Roy Brown, Joseph Mitchell, Billy Naudin, Emily Pennington, Billy Blehn, James Derickson, and William Dill.

Reports of summer activities were given and the members won their prizes at the annual achievement day program at Newark last Saturday.

Miss Alice Mary Denison of Yorklyn Road, member of the Yorklyn 4-H Club, won the honor of dress review queen at the achievement program last Saturday.

Daughters and their wives from New Castle County, Cecil County, Md., and Chester County, Pa., gathered in Harmony Grange Hall for their annual dinner meeting planned by the Wilmington Marketing Committee of the Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative last Thursday evening. There were 265 present.

The group heard O. H. Hoffman, Jr., general manager of the cooperative, tell of today's market, emphasizing the great amount of surplus in dairy products. He felt a more extensive advertising program might ease the situation in the future.

John Coverdale of Middletown, and B. Walter Johnson of Bear were Delaware's members to the advisory board, and William A. Lair of Landenberg, the member chosen for Pennsylvania.

Vaughn Fox gave an illustrated talk of India, contrasting farming and dairying there with this country. Fox went to India last year as Delaware's farm youth-exchange.

The students staged an original play "Nothing Stronger Than Grape Juice" on Monday afternoon to observe Frances E. Willard Day. The skit was arranged by Shirley Ann Davidson and Robert Cannon.

The life of Frances Willard was reviewed by Sophie Springer and two hymns, "Come Thou Almighty King" and "Faith of Our Fathers" were sung.

This afternoon, during art period, the students will hold a flower show.

On Oct. 7, at 2:30 p.m., Dr. Edward G. Ghiva, will be at the school to give complete physical examinations to the pupils in the fourth grade whose parents are present to discuss with him any defects which may show up. Dr. Ghiva will also give diphtheria booster shots to the children in the first, second, and third grades.

Mermaid
Harmony Juvenile Grange will meet tomorrow at 7 p.m. and not on Saturday as previously planned.

Booster night at Harmony Grange attracted a good crowd. The program featured the presentation of gram features to Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Walker who have been members continuously for the past 25 years.

The fifth degree was presented last evening at the grange hall by officers of the New Castle Pomona Grange. Members from the nine units participated. Worthy Master John R. Butler led the ritualistic work.

About 100 men had the privilege of hearing Gov. McKeldin of Maryland talk on the life of George Washington last Thursday evening at the first bi-monthly men's dinner.

The governor enumerated five notable qualities of Washington—his religion, his love for his mother, his religion, his love for his mother, his religion, his love for his mother.

A choice of two salads is presented daily, with cottage cheese and peach salad Monday; cole slaw and apricot, Tuesday; potato and peas; stuffed cabbage and mince; and tomato and lettuce, and mixed fruit Wednesday through Friday.

More than 27,000,000 Americans moved to new homes during 1952, according to a commercial survey.

World-Wide Communion will be celebrated Sunday at 11 a.m. The youth choir has grown to a membership of 25. Nelson Payne of Newark, is the director and the choir expects to sing at the homecoming services, Oct. 25.

The MYAF made further plans for the building of a pavilion at the site of the former Belmont Whitehall and Norman Dempsey were named to investigate the project. Mrs. Alex Botlik was named to arrange for a baked goods sale next month in Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nelson will be the hosts in October and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Unger entertained the group last Sunday evening.

Reports of summer activities were given and the members won their prizes at the annual achievement day program at Newark last Saturday.

Miss Alice Mary Denison of Yorklyn Road, member of the Yorklyn 4-H Club, won the honor of dress review queen at the achievement program last Saturday.

Daughters and their wives from New Castle County, Cecil County, Md., and Chester County, Pa., gathered in Harmony Grange Hall for their annual dinner meeting planned by the Wilmington Marketing Committee of the Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative last Thursday evening. There were 265 present.

The group heard O. H. Hoffman, Jr., general manager of the cooperative, tell of today's market, emphasizing the great amount of surplus in dairy products. He felt a more extensive advertising program might ease the situation in the future.

John Coverdale of Middletown, and B. Walter Johnson of Bear were Delaware's members to the advisory board, and William A. Lair of Landenberg, the member chosen for Pennsylvania.

Vaughn Fox gave an illustrated talk of India, contrasting farming and dairying there with this country. Fox went to India last year as Delaware's farm youth-exchange.

The students staged an original play "Nothing Stronger Than Grape Juice" on Monday afternoon to observe Frances E. Willard Day. The skit was arranged by Shirley Ann Davidson and Robert Cannon.

The life of Frances Willard was reviewed by Sophie Springer and two hymns, "Come Thou Almighty King" and "Faith of Our Fathers" were sung.

This afternoon, during art period, the students will hold a flower show.

Department Warns Against Dumping of Trash

By the Journalism Class

Janice Evans, New NHS Senior—“Love it and everybody's friend!” were the words of our newest senior, Janice Evans, when asked what she thinks of Newark High. Janice, a five-foot, seven-inch tall, blonde with blue eyes and brown hair, was born in Lynwood, Pa., on February 26, 1937. At Boothwyn High School she served as feature editor on the school paper, Chilli-News, and had a part in the junior play.

Janice enjoys watching and playing tennis. Her favorite food is boiled cubed steak. She thinks sport clothes are suitable for school, and does not think girls should go steady in high school. Janice's favorite movie star is Rock Hudson and favorite movie is “Salome”. She is taking the commercial course now with the hope of becoming a secretary.

Cooch's Bridge and Glasgow

Mildred Ludwig, Correspondent
Phone Newark 6-1534

The Women of Christiana Methodist Church will hold their annual Turkey and oyster supper Wednesday, Oct. 21. Salem Church will hold their supper Wednesday, Oct. 7, with the first table at 5 p.m. Larry Vernon, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bradley Vernon, celebrated his fifth birthday last Friday with a luncheon party. Among the little guests were Kerry Vendetti of Boxwood Road, Wilmington, Cathy Palmer of Collins Park, Margo Ewing of Manor Park, Charles Golt of Glasgow, Jimmy and Joan McCormick of Newark, Ann and John Frame, Mark and Steve Plinick, Shirley Morgan, and Eric Ludwig, also of Newark.

Historic old Welsh Tract Baptist Church below Silverbrook will be the scene of the first fall meeting at 2 p.m. this Saturday of the Cooch's Bridge Chapter of the D.A.R. Mrs. Edward Cooch is one of the hostesses for the gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCloskey and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Correll returned Sunday from a motor trip thru Ohio and Michigan, Canada and the Finger Lakes region. They visited the new Henry Ford museum in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Reed are visiting family and friends in Williamstown, Vt.

Volunteer 4-H club leaders participating in last Saturday's New Castle 4-H Achievement Day in this area were: Mrs. W. L. McElwee, Miss Sylvia Walther, Mrs. Edward Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. John Redding, and Mrs. Wilmer Aist.

Local women elected to the New Castle County home demonstration council last week are: Secretary, Mrs. W. E. Morgan, Jr., of the Town & Country Club; treasurer, Mrs. Steven Barczewski, Glasgow Club; delegate at large, Mrs. Stephen Kucharsky, Pleasant Valley Club; and alternate, Mrs. Burton Pyle, Salem Club.

Get out and vote on the school referendum Saturday. Remember, day's schools educate tomorrow's citizens!

Coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress; working together is success.—Henry Ford.

America is great because she is good, and if America ever ceases to be good, America will cease to be great.—President Eisenhower.

Trees, Like Folks, Change Wardrobes To Suit The Site

At this time of year, prospective tree owners often pick out an arboreal pet because of its brilliant foliage. But the color may be lost in moving the tree. Leaf shades are determined by a combination of soils, moisture, sunshine and temperature. A change in any of these factors often causes changes in leaf coloring.

Under different soil and moisture conditions, for instance, the foliage may take on subdued or different hues; color changes sometimes occur when a tree is moved only a few yards.

With the majority of tree owners, vivid red autumn foliage, such as offered by many oaks and maples, is most popular with the bright yellow and gold tints, typical of birches, hickories and others, following a close second.

The degree of color is often a matter of soil. Pin oaks, for example, which have been liberally fed with fertilizers high in nitrogen, will have a much deeper color than those grown in poor soil without the help of such tree foods.

Delaware Takes Gettysburg For First Win of Campaign

Jimmy Flynn Breaks 7-7 Fourth Period Deadlock With 22-Yd. Sideline Scamper For Second Touchdown; Carzo Plunges For Final Score As Hens Register 19-7 Victory

Coach Dave Nelson and the University of Delaware varsity gridders shared a number of anxious moments against the invading Bullets of Gettysburg last Saturday at the new Delaware Stadium, but all's well that ends that way, and the Blue Hens romped off the field at the final whistle, enjoying the long end of a 19-7 opening game score.

Capt. John Borresen, Delaware tackle, lacked less than one minute for a 90 minute mark performance, and was a featured fixture in the Hens' forward wall. Borresen, with center Frank Gyetvan, tackle Steve Butcher, guard Bob Trivette, and lanky end Frank Serpico played a lot of line for Delaware, and Serpico unfolded six of quarterback Don Miller's passes for a total gain of 48 yards.

Delaware stabbed Gettysburg in the vulnerable end zone for the first score, early in the second quarter. Halfback Jimmy Flynn took a nose yard pass from pitcher Jim Zaleser for a touchdown, and Serpico placed-kicked the Blue Hens' only extra point.

But Gettysburg struck back by taking the following kickoff-off for 60 yards and a touchdown as Yost sprinted 46 yards to the Delaware 13, Paluszewski went around the end for ten more, and quarterback Frank Gagliardi sneaked through the Hens' defense to score. Ublak's kick was good, and the game was deadlocked at the half.

In the final quarter, Delaware ran roughshod over Gettysburg as Flynn scampered for 22 yards down the southeast sidelines for the second Hen touchdown, and fullback Rocky Carzo cashed a 32-yard Delaware drive for a final six points by driving into the end zone from the two.

Lenny Williams, sophomore reserve center from Howard High, became the first Negro to play on a Delaware grid varsity when he relieved Gyetvan.

Delaware takes on a second Middle Six Conference opponent in the Lehigh Engineers at the local stadium on Saturday.

Lehigh, ranked by scouting end coach Wilz Wisniewski as "better than last year" comes to Newark after losing a 14-7 Saturday struggle with the Columbia Lions.

Blue Chicks Prep For October 10th Bainbridge Game

Albie Sparks, Joe Thorp Named As Top Prospects By Coach Jimmy Sullivan

Thirty-three freshman Blue Chicks are all that remain of a group of more than 50 candidates for the University of Delaware football squad which opens the season on October 10 against Bainbridge Naval Prep.

The team is drilling hard on Frasier Field under the direction of head coach Jimmy Sullivan and his two assistants, line coach Charles Sullivan and backfield coach Johnny Allen.

Sullivan, the former University of Maine captain and stellar line-backer, led last year's team to a 3-1 record and also assisted in coaching the varsity.

Charles Sullivan and Allen are former Blue Hen stars, whose playing has been limited because of injuries.

Allen, a fullback, may join the Delaware varsity later in the season if an injured knee responds to treatment. In the meantime, he is putting his knowledge of Delaware coaching techniques to good use with the yearling squad.

Charles Sullivan, former line-backer star of Delaware teams, has been advised to limit his playing activity because of a brain concussion sustained last season.

In the backfield, halfbacks Carmen Cella, and Pat Frieolo, have looked particularly good, displaying speed and shifty running abilities. Frieolo, an able defensive player, is a probable starter in the Chicks' opening game.

Two good quarterbacks are battling for the starting assignment—Ken Lutz, and Bart Wornick. Wornick is developing into a clever ball-handler and is the better passer; Lutz is an excellent team leader and diagnoses the strategy of opposing teams quickly.

Billy Michaels, 160-pound fullback from Swoyersville, Pa., is powerful, but needs additional experience on offense.

In the line, Sullivan regards guards Albie Sparks and Tommie Thomas of Seaford as top-notch college prospects and another guard, Curtis Combs "the best on the field all around."

At center, James Shelton, Franklin, N.J., and Jerry Weiss, South River, N.J., are turning in sound jobs.

Ends Dave Colombe and Ed Malinowski, are receiving stiff competition from Dick Ross, and Ethan Stenger.

Other top prospects are: Mike Kravitz; Seaford's Bob Money-maker; Pete Mulligan; John Obeg; Walt Collins; Leves; Ray Elzak; and Newark's Joe Thorp.

will be seen later on Delaware's schedule.

The Eagles took a licking from the 49ers of San Francisco in the opening game and will try to get in the win column Friday night at the expense of the Washington Redskins. It must have been a long ride back to Philly.

Baseball Traders
 Look for a lot of trading to take place during the Series. All of the also-rans are trying to strengthen, so quite a few boys are on the block. Eddie Waitkus' suspension did not help his chances of staying in Philly and he might be the bait to bring another starting pitcher to the club. It is also understood that waivers have been asked on Jones and Konstanty.

In the American League lots of faces have been promised. Quite a lot has been written about Lopez and what address he will use next year. One story had him going to Cincy with Cleveland to bring in Birdie Tebbets from their farm at Indianapolis. But generally, manager Greenberg says that he will talk to Lopez during the series and Al can stay if he wants. But Greenberg has not offered the Senor a contract as yet.

Browns?
 And where is Bill Veeck to finally move his Browns? It could be Baltimore and it could be one of the Canadian cities, both mentioned. If Canadian cities, both mentioned. If Canadian cities, both mentioned. If Canadian cities, both mentioned.

The success of the Braves this year has the big wigs of the junior circuit doing some deep thinking on Mr. Veeck, and where to put him. One thing is certain. The Browns will not be in St. Louis for the 1954 season.

This baseball year saw a rookie in his first big league game pitch a no-hitter, and before the All Star game, he was in the minors. Another rookie, Harvey Kuenn of Detroit, made the most hits in either league. The Rookie of the Year award is really going to be a race, what with Gillette of the Dodgers, Kuenn, Spencer of the Giants, Jablonsky and Repulski of the Cards, Janowicz of the Pirates, Bill Bruton of the Braves, and Marion Eyrano of the A's to mention just a few. The Most Valuable Award should be between Reynolds of the Yanks and Rosen of Cleveland in their league, and Erskine and Campanella could be the leading candidates in the National.

FAVORITE SPOT
 One of the favorite spots of horsemen at Delaware Park is a flat-topped hill, about 20 feet high, that overlooks both the paddock and tree-shaded walking ring. Known as the "horsemen's mound," the hill provides an unobstructed view and every yard of a race can be seen from it. This was modeled after the hill overlooking the paddock at Aintree, England, and was constructed under the supervision of William duPont, Jr., when he built the Stanton track 17 years ago.

Thoroughbred Tom Fool

One of the turf's champions, Tom Fool will run before Baltimore race fans during Pimlico's 12 day meeting which opens Monday, October 12. Tom Fool is eligible for the $50,000 Pimlico Special, scheduled for Saturday, October 24.

A six pound large mouthed black bass in Delaware is most often a rare and handsome three or four pounder quite understandably described as a fish of much greater value than its size.

Albert Hammond recently caught a six and three-quarter pound black bass within a few miles of Newark when the big tackle tester took a live minnow tossed into the dark waters of Sunset Lake, close to the spillway.

As a consequence, Mr. Hammond is anxious to defend the sterling game qualities of over-size bass against those cynics who would have you believe that an impressive bait line detracts from a bronzer's fighting ability.

If this particular big fellow had fought any harder — well that's not possible, the man says. Sunset Lake is privately owned and is not open to public fishing. Like Hoopes Reservoir, it is a desirable but inadvisable place for one and all to fish.

The quest about Hoopes, the better, but our experience has been on Sunset Lake has convinced us that Mr. Hammond's six pounder, even from a private lake, is something considerably out of the ordinary.

After some intensive fishing there with Dick Ware, we were unable to interest any fish in excess of six ounces.

Extraordinary, too, are three pound weakfish in the Delaware surf, and particularly, three pound trout that are hooked, lost, hooked again, and eventually beached.

Last Saturday night, while a fine, miserable drizzle of rain based on the hot list of a gasoline lantern in an all-night stand, we witnessed just such a long shot chance.

At Dewey Beach, and it was all of that Saturday night and Sunday, Mac McCarty opened his attractive ice house door to disclose an unbelievable slab of green-striped, silver rockfish along with a staggering number of husky blues, all fresh taken from the inlet and from the white water along the beach front.

"They've been running good all week," Mac said. "And for once, Waggaman, you've come down at the right time."

That was very nice, indeed, to hear, but the latter part of Mr. McCarty's statement was unfortunately predicated upon future developments. The fishing, which had been so good, quickly deteriorated with our arrival and that of an incessant rain and an increasing wind out of the southeast.

But to get back to that twice-hooked three pound trout, with Joe Marousek, of Bear, we

Newark Phils Lose Second Semi-Final Playoff Tilt, 9-2

Local Susquehanna Entry Eliminated From Playoff For League Championship

The Newark Phillies were eliminated from the Susquehanna League playoffs when Hickory hammered the local nine, 9-2, behind durable Don Belton, at Elkton, Sunday.

Newark dropped the opener of the two-out-of-three playoff semi-final series to the Hickory sluggers and to hurler Don Belton, 6-0.

Joe DeNest, who started for Newark, was charged with the loss, as Bill DiPace and Hy Miller came in as firemen.

Harry Anderson, Newark first baseman, led the Phils' offense with three singles.

The Wilmington Parkers will meet the successful Hickories for the Susquehanna League Playoff Championship in the first of a three game series on Sunday, at Hickory. Wilmington eliminated the Canons, 4-1, at Aberdeen last Sunday.

Pimlico Fall Meet To Open Oct. 12th For 12 Day Stand

Preparations are going rapidly forward at Pimlico for the opening of the fall meeting of 12 days on Monday, October 12. This will be the start of a 48-day autumn season in Maryland, a season which is expected to attract the top performers in all divisions of the thoroughbred sport.

The Maryland Jockey Club's meeting, although short, will get the season off to a flying start since five important stakes are to be decided during this brief period.

Headed the list of features is the $50,000 Pimlico Special, which is by invitation only.

The richest Pimlico Futurity in history is listed for October 17th; the $15,000 Gallinette Stakes will be run October 21; the $10,000 Marguerite for juvenile fillies on October 14th, and the opening attraction will be the $7,500 Pimlico Breeders Stakes. The Special will be off on Sunday, October 24th, closing day of the meeting.

Nineteen horses have earned invitations to the Special including Tom Fool, Royal Vale, Crafty Admiral, Oil Capital, Alerted, Sickle's Image, Grosvenor Queen, Canadiana and Atalanta.

A gray, leaden dawn followed a long, grim, wet night; the lone trout and a single skate.

With the dawn, Joe came up with a nice kingfish, but only one, while we managed to beach a small bluefish and a big sea robin. Later in the morning, as the wind and rain increased in volume, Joe caught a flounder from the surf in a last ditch stand.

It just wasn't our night or day. On the way home we stopped off at Red Mill Pond where the usually cooperative pickers were off their feed, too. We got one small pike—and one enormous backlash when a back cast picked up Marousek's trolling rod.

Nobody is too young to catch TB. Get your free chest x-ray when the mobile units visit your neighborhood.

Newark Defeats Brown, 13-0 Jackets Face Dover Tomorrow

Truskey, Hiddleston Score First Half Touchdown As Yellowjackets Register First Win Of Season; Paul Smith Lost To Squad Thru Scrimmage Injury

The Newark Yellowjackets rebounded from an early block thrown by Elkton across the road to an underdog season, and handed the Brown Vocational High School a 13-0 defeat on Saturday night at Wilmington Park.

In a sustained ground offensive, Newark drove to the end zone from the five yard marker Irving Truskey.

Middleweights Vie In TV 10-Rounder At St. Nick's Arena

Vince Martinez, a smashing two-handed beller from Paterson, N.J., runs up against rugged Vinny D'Andrea from the sidewalk of New York in a ten-round middleweight match to be nationally televised and broadcast from St. Nicholas Arena tomorrow night on the Cavalcade of Sports.

The bout, which promises to be a lively scrap, goes on the air at 10 p.m. New York time.

Martinez, always aggressive, throws punches equally well with either hand. His record shows 27 wins, only 2 losses and 16 knockouts. Among his victims are Red DeFazio, Tough Tony Feltone, Sammy Giuliani and Don Williams.

D'Andrea, with fewer fights, nearly all of them in the welterweight division, has won 19 lost 5 and scored 9 knockouts. He has beaten Joey Atira, Tony Amato and Phil Bizzo. For his bout he is moving up a weight class.

California Vs. Ohio State Slated TV 'Game Of Week'

National football prestige will be at stake Saturday afternoon when the Golden Bears of California play host to Ohio State's Buckeyes in the TV Game of the Week.

With Coach Lynn Waldorf's gridiron battling to retain the mantle of Pacific Coast champions, and the Buckeyes of Coach Woody Hayes rated among the favorites in the Big Ten conference race, Saturday's game truly will be the "Game Of The Week."

Saturday's game will give the nation's football fans an idea of what to expect when the Pacific Coast Big Ten representatives class in the 1954 Rose Bowl Game next Jan. 1, as both teams are contenders for the Rose Bowl bid.

Members of the Newark High School Band will be guests of the University of Delaware at the Lehigh game to be played Saturday at the stadium.

Last week, at the Delaware Gettysburg football game, the Newark High School Band was the guest of the university, and officials of the university athletic department express their appreciation for the music, enthusiasm, and color provided by the Newark band.

Mrs. Clara E. Butler, 52, widow of Harry C. Butler, of Christiansburg, died September 22, in the Memorial Hospital, where she had been a patient for 12 weeks. She had been ill since December. Her husband died nine years ago.
Born at Glasgow, Mrs. Butler had lived at Christiansburg most of her life. She was a daughter of John and Clara Kendall Sweetman. Mrs. Butler was a member of the Christiana Methodist Church, of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, and of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Christiana Fire Company.
Surviving are three children, Mrs. Mary Laws, Miss Arlene Butler, and John Butler, all of Christiansburg; seven brothers, William, John, Harry, Edward and Charles Sweetman, all of Newark; and Walter and Clarence Sweetman, both of Bear, and three grandchildren.
The Rev. A. B. Golden, pastor of the Christiana Methodist Church, officiated at private funeral services at her home Saturday. Interment was in the Presbyterian Cemetery at Christiansburg.

A girls' instead of a boys' cottage at Gov. Bacon Health Center will be sponsored this year by Pencader Grange. The first visit to the girls' group, with entertainment and refreshments, was made Wednesday evening, with Mrs. and Mr. Charles Welden and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Golden in charge of arrangements. Silver and his wife, as well as Mrs. Walter Carpenter, state home economics chairman, were guests at Monday night's meeting in Pencader Hall and spoke briefly on Grange work.

C. C. Brooks will be general chairman of the card party, to be held Friday, October 3, at 8 p.m., in Pencader Hall, and Booster Night is scheduled for Oct. 5, with lecturer Henry W. Brooks in charge.

Mrs. J. Leslie Ford, Bear, underwent surgery at the Memorial Hospital, on Tuesday. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Ray, Wilkins, Brookside, spent several days last week with Master Wayne Burge.

Mrs. Annie Harrington spent Friday with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Slaughter, Smyrna.

Randall Slaughter, Smyrna, spent the week-end with his grandmother, Mrs. Annie Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. George Messick, Philadelphia, spent Saturday evening with her sister, Mrs. Annie Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burge and son, Wayne, are spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burge, Christiansburg, were given a house warming by their relatives on Saturday evening. A very beautiful corner table bathroom after using, clean shoes present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Burge, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sweetman, Wayne Burge, Miss Beverly Sweetman, Charles Burge, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stafford, Ernest Stafford, Miss Sue Vandyske, Mr. and Mrs. Rachel Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stafford, Miss Peggy Stafford, Miss Sara Stafford, Mrs. Mildred Davidson, Miss Evelyn Davidson, Mrs. Charles Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harry Harrington and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynch.

HISTORICAL REVIEWS OF THE NEWARK AREA

by Ethel M. Hill

From time to time, Mrs. Hill's articles concerning Newark's interesting historical background will appear in the pages of the Post. Your comments and suggestions will be appreciated by the writer.

After the panic of 1937, the people of the United States were no longer satisfied with having money enough to live on and there came a time of speculation in western lands, increasing one's credit, and getting houses built at that time are Belmont, where Dr. Perkins lives, 1844; the house where Mrs. Norris Wright lives, 1848; Tweed's house, up White Clay Creek and Hopkins house, at Hop yards on White Clay.

The house where Mrs. N. Wright lives, she has told me, has a most interesting cellar. Sounds as though it must have been a part of the underground railway.

It is strongly arched with heavy walls—a very large place down several steps from the main house, with a well and a large loft over the cellar. It is not connected with the main house.

But then many houses had vaults, sometimes tunneled, for the keeping of food. In the country, farms had ice houses where ice was harvested in winter and stored in straw for summer use.

The row of boxwood along the eastern lawn of the Wright house tells something of its age.

On New London Road some of the names on this old map are Dannel Metur, Lansdale Armstrong and Wilson, and on West Main St. are Crawford, Rambo, Garrett, Prendergast, Kennedy and Whann. These are all names of old Newark residents.

Out North College Avenue, up Creek Road, just over the Pomeroy R.R. track, all on the left side of the road was woodland.

At the place now occupied by the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. N. Russell, was the picnic ground.

There was a splendid spring of water and school children always expected at least one annual picnic invitation reading "Ladies and Gents fruit." The invitations would be given out at least a week before the picnic to allow the boys a week to save for the fruit—two lemons at least.

Lemon Shortage
Lemons were not so plentiful in those days. Nor were oranges. Every child had an orange in the toe of his stocking at Christmas with a package of clear candy animals, engines, etc., but orange juice for breakfast was not yet heard of.

One girl was always sure of an invitation because they knew she could bring a big shiny tin bucket in which to make the lemonade.

Most of the mothers were willing to bake a cake.

Games
Among the games played at the picnic were "There was an old miller and he lived by himself." The turning of the wheel was the gaining of his wealth. One hand in the hepper the other in the sack—the ladies go forward—the penta turn back—and the boy would watch his chance in the march around to select his favorite partner.

Then there was "Old Dan Tucker" and "Needles eye that doth supply. The thread that runs so truly. Many a bean have I let go. But now I've got my jewelry. We will throw off thrice worldly cares."

And room today in bliss So come with me my dearest dear And have a right scorable kiss." These games all consisted of marching around and selecting a partner in the end.

The picnics were spoiled when the grown-ups built a dance platform there.

Later, a man named Vandevier, a friend of the noted balloonist Richard, who reported his findings to the U.S. government, built a house there and balloons were spread out to dry all over the place.

Finally, Elmer Morgan's father bought the hill and built the house that stands there now.

I know that many of you are interested in Polly Goller's Studio of the Dance and that some of you have already visited the studio at 79 Madison Drive. It will open to the public on October 1, with classes in tap, ballet, and aerobics. Classes in other types of dancing can be organized if they are requested.

The new address of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. McKenry is 86 Madison Drive. The McKenrys were just recently married.

Mr. and Mrs. George McBride of Willow Run visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bedwell of 4 Madison Drive.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mackiewicz at 11 Lincoln Drive were Mr. Mackiewicz's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mackiewicz and sons, Gary and Anthony of Wilmington and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Travagline and daughter, Annette, also of Wilmington.

Misses Eleanor Hoagland and Lucille Johnston, of Wilmington and Miss Carrie Atkinson of New Castle visited on Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Irwin of Lincoln Drive.

Please keep in mind that the x-ray units will be coming around very soon. Here is your chance to get a free chest x-ray which will reassure you concerning your health or any illness in checking tuberculosis in the early stages. The exact dates will be given as soon as they are available.

Mrs. Martha Rebecca Guhl Dies Suddenly at Her Home
Mrs. Martha Rebecca Guhl, 46, wife of Monroe J. Guhl, died suddenly at her home on Barksdale Road, on Sunday, September 29.

Mrs. Guhl was the daughter of the late Summerton and Johanna Howell.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Guhl is survived by a daughter, Mrs. George B. Frazer, of Fair Hill, a son, James Leroy, of Augustine Cut Off, Wilmington; four grandchildren, and two sisters — Mrs. Edward Moore, of Newark, and Mrs. Mary Cox, of Nottingham, Pa., one step-brother, of Newark Square, Pa., eight nieces and five nephews.

Funeral services were held September 23, at the Newark Funeral Home, with Rev. Bunting, of the Newark Methodist Church, and Rev. Harold Davis, of Elkton, officiating. Interment was at Head of Christiana Cemetery.

he came to the parish five years ago. He expressed belief that members of the parish are so conscious of the extreme need for new facilities for the Church School that they will be united and enthusiastic in responding when the appeal for funds for the new building is made.

He commented further that the new Parish House will make possible a much more adequate program for the youth of the parish. The Rector expressed the feeling that the new Parish House, which will be located across the street from the University of Delaware, will provide opportunity for a more full program for Episcopal students of the University who are members of the Canterbury Club.

Chairman Clark stated that his committee opened a campaign office in the present Parish House on West Delaware Avenue at the corner of Elkton Road. The office will be open daily for campaign business until the effort is completed.

Clark said that he expects to recruit the top leadership for the campaign this week. He pointed out that the effort to raise $75,000 for the new Parish House is the first call upon the members of this generation for capital funds. He believes that members of the parish appreciate that they have been enjoying the privileges provided by their forefathers, and will respond generously to this opportunity to build for present and future needs.

Senior warden, Dr. William C. Kay, expressed the feeling that while raising $75,000 is a big job in a parish the size of St. Thomas, the need is so urgent that members of the parish will make it possible to attain the objective.

The Rev. Lane W. Barton, Bishop of East Oregon, will be the guest speaker at a Parish Dinner Rally, to be held Thursday, October 8, at 6:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple, where plans for raising the building fund for the new parish house will be explained.

Adult Education Classes To Start 1st Week In Nov.

Registrants Requested To Indicate Selection Of Subjects, Class Day

Adult education classes will be conducted at the Newark High School beginning with the first week in November, school authorities have announced.

Mrs. Mary Belle Pellegrine, high school commercial course instructor, will coordinate the program. The subjects to be offered will be determined by the participating adults, but it is expected that classes in typing, driver-training, and aircraft will be held again this year.

If demand is indicated, a new course in shorthand may be made available, and the aircraft class may be subdivided into specialty courses.

Interested adults are requested to fill out and mail the following coupon, indicating their selections.

Worth Repeating

One Woman Tells Another: "I do my banking with Farmers Trust Office of Wilmington. But my husband works in Wilmington. So he often goes to the banking office at Tenth and Market."

"We both use the same joint personal checking account. But there's not one penny of extra charge for the double service we get from two offices."

That's right! Extra service without extra cost. And this plan is so convenient. Ask the bank about it.
