“...STATELY TREES
AND CAMPUS FAIR...”

From the west side of the campus looking north down the elm lined classroom and dormitory buildings, Science and Residence Halls.

From the south of the campus looking north passed the twin buildings of New Castle and Sussex that face the center of campus.

“...IVY CLIMBING
O’ER THY WALLS...”

FORWARD

*We have had our entrance to Women's College, and we are soon to have our exit. After we leave, may the BLUE AND GOLD serve as a key to unlock the doors that are now closing
on the vista of our college experience.*

DEDICATION

Dean Golder came to Women's College in the summer of 1938 and has presided successfully for two years over the faculty and student body. She has acclimated herself to the traditions of Women's College even though she has instituted worthwhile changes. During her deanship the University has undergone consolidating processes as well as expansion. Her first years represent progress—and the Class of Nineteen-Forty and the Class of Nineteen Forty-One dedicate this book to her in appreciation of her careful administration and guidance and in anticipation of her continued success as Dean of the Women's College.
