Christiana Calling

Sylvia P. Jones, Correspondent
Phone: EA 8-7418

Women of the Christiana Fire Department Auxiliary will sponsor a bazaar to be held at the Christiana School on Saturday, Oct. 24, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in front of the Newark Post building. Anyone wishing to make donations or purchases may call Mrs. Elizabeth Takach, 1000 N. 1st St., for details.

Children of the fifth and sixth grades of the Christiana School are conducting their annual magazine subscription campaign. All national and popular magazines are available and sales benefit the school as well as the children. When a salesman rings your door, welcome him!

Members of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades have been given the opportunity of instruction in playing musical instruments, through the department of the Newark school district. Instruction is free of charge when parents supply the instruments. Mrs. Gorrell, music teacher, has already started lessons with clarinet, saxophone, and trumpet.

A record of over 100 parents and teachers attended the first PTA meeting of the year last Wednesday evening in the school. Mrs. Olga Graden, president, introduced principals Sidney McClain of Christiana and Thomas Colby of the new Galaher school, who presented members of their faculties.

A vote of the membership confirmed the executive committee's decision to meet on the second Wednesday of each month to avoid conflict with the Oglethorpe Junior High School PTA. Cedric Marsh of the A. I. duPont school district and Sigurd Andersen of the Newark PTA Council were guest speakers.

Mrs. Unger's first grade room was awarded the attendance pennant for having the highest percentage of parents at the PTA meeting.

Mrs. Olan Cleaver, general chairman, has announced committees for the turkey supper to be held in the Hall Memorial Building on Oct. 31 for the benefit of the Christiana Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Rachel Morrison will be in charge of the cake table; Mrs. Janet McClain, variety table; Albert Jones, tickets; dining room, Mrs. Irene Anderson and Rachel Morrison; packing diners, Mrs. Elsie Thorpe and Mrs. Helen Vlasveld; kitchen, Mrs. Ella Cleaver, Sue Morgan, Helen Lynnam, Ruth Phelps, Mrs. Marion Kee, Mrs. Harold Vallier.

The United Presbyterian Women of Christiana elected officers last Thursday, with the slate as proposed by the nominating committee, with President Mrs. Ethel Holsten; Vice-President and Program Chairman, Ruth Phelps; Secretary Mrs. Ella Cleaver; Fellowship Chairman, Rachel Morrison; World Service, Mrs. Doris Marcone; Spiritual Life and Stewardship, Mrs. Janet McClain; Literature Secretary, Mrs. Sylvia Jones; and Nominating Committee, Mrs. Mae Sims.

Helen Lynnam and Mrs. Doris Marcone were hostesses, and Mrs. Carolyn Bennett led devotions.

Five members represented the Christiana group at the fall Presbyterian in Brookside—Mrs. Robert Coon, Mrs. William Cross, Mrs. Mildred Davis, Mrs. Arthur Bennett, and Mrs. Ralph Kee.

A family night covered dish supper has been planned for Nov. 10 in the Hall Building. Dr. Sidney Venable, general presbyter, will show slides and describe his recent trip to Korea.

The Rev. Robert Coon and Elder John Hill attended a meeting of the board of representatives, New Castle Council on Churches, Monday in Wilmington.

Dick Whittington is the new president of the Greenleaf 4-H Club, following annual election of officers at a meeting last Tuesday evening at the home of Debbie Kee, Bear Road. Other officers are Gene Biddle, vice-president; Dottie Whittington, secretary; and Jackie Jones, treasurer. New members included Connie Loose, David Townley, Paul Stoddard, John Sweetman, Paul Sweetman, and Guy Walker.

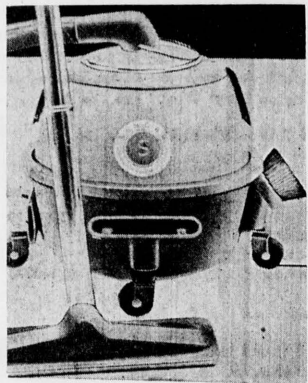

A family dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Bennett, Greenbriar Estates, last Sunday in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary on Oct. 20.

Sympathy is extended to the family of William A. Smith, 13 West Main Street, Christiana, who collapsed and died suddenly in Wilmington.

Cover Crop Weed Control Cited For Home Gardens

Agricultural Extension Horticulturist Robert F. Stevens with the University of Delaware, has a suggestion that will keep the weeds down in your garden.

He says to work up your vegetable beds right now, as the plants stop producing with the frost. Turn it over to a depth of three inches or so. But don't leave the soil bare. Plant a dense cover crop of ryegrass or rye on next year's garden bed. Not only will this keep the annual weeds from going to seed, but it will also turn up the underground parts of perennial weeds.

A cover crop will also hold the soil against fall and spring rains, Stevens said.

Mayor Proclaims Patriot Education Week For C.A.R.

The national society, Children of the American Revolution, has declared the week of Oct. 19-25 as CAR Patriotic Education Week and Mayor Frank M. Durnall has issued a proclamation asking that all observe Patriotic Education Week in Newark.

Patriotic Education Week is sponsored by the CAR, an organization interested in the dissemination of patriotic, historical and education material pertaining to the founding and growth of our nation, and in its 65th year, has over 20,000 members.

The Delaware CAR has 149 and the Robert Kirkwood Society of Newark has a membership of 38.

A meeting of the Robert Kirkwood Society devoted to the patriotic education theme was held at the home of Mary Louise A. Newlin on Oct. 10, when plans were made for a window display.

At a pageant to be given by CAR members, Frazier Jones, regional vice-president and member of Robert Kirkwood Society, will enact the part of Thomas McKean, president of the Continental Congress, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and a student at the New Ark Academy.

Good used clothing to be sent to St. Mary's and Kate Duncan Smith Schools was collected at the meeting and over 1,800 coupons turned in for Tamassee School.

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:

$500,000,000 LOSS TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads—pay for work not done or not needed—is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman—even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

FOOLING OURSELVES!

Americans are a nation in love with analgesia. Aspirin is the national symbol. We swallow it by the barrelful. We keep doing things that cause headaches without giving about the headaches that follow. This penchant for enjoying the cause and trying to dodge effects spreads over into the fine art of camouflage. There are ugly facts you don't want to face? Paint it pink. Taxes bother you? Accommodating congressmen have hundreds, and Uncle Sam will deduct the others before you get your pay check. Forget them—and negotiate with the for more take-home pay. Your area would like a new dam, sewage plant or hospital but doesn't have the ready cash? Ask Uncle Sam to finance it. He's giving money away free. Or is he?

There's a similarity between communities rushing to "easy" federal money to solve local problems and the Sunday football hero who dopes himself with pain-killers, keeps running on a broken ankle. He doesn't feel much pain. Tomorrow he discovers the trick he played was on himself. And the joke is pretty grim.

Dear Sir:
I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for sending the Newark Post to me.

I was certainly surprised when I found the Oct. 1st issue waiting for me in the mail room this morning. Of course the first thing I headed for was the sports page to see how NHS and the U. of D. are doing in football.

Receiving the Post makes me feel close to 'ye ole' home town. I appreciate your kind consideration. Without taking too much liberty, I thank you not only for myself, but for all the fellows in the service getting the Newark Post.
Sincerely

What can you do with apples? Just about anything, according to Mrs. Marjorie Whittaker, University of Delaware. A raw apple is a fine low-calorie snack for all members of the family and won't hurt appetites as much as sweets. They are fine for hungry youngsters home from school.

State Crop Kings Honored For Work With Agriculture

Worrior, Phillips Laud
Guests Of Valiant Firm
At Testimonial Luncheon

At a luncheon recently given in Dover, by Valiant Fertilizer Company, Levy Court Commissioner John G. Tarburton of Dover, and Elwood T. Fox, Jr. formerly of Bear—customers of the Valiant Company for years—were presented engraved gold watches in recognition of their contributions to Delaware agriculture.

Tarburton, the 1958 Corn King of Delaware, grew the largest recorded yield of corn in Delaware history when he produced 175.86 bushels of corn per acre.

Fox was Delaware Soybean King in 1958, producing a yield of 51.8 bushels per acre. Both Tarburton and Fox stressed the importance of using good seed, plenty of lime, heavy applications of plant food, and high plant population. They indicated optimism in opportunities to raise food production, and both plan to exceed their former records through the use of best known agricultural practices—and hard work.

Dr. George M. Worrior, dean of the school of agriculture and director of agricultural extension at the University of Delaware, congratulated Mr. Tarburton and Mr. Fox. Dr. Worrior stressed the importance of growing high yields of corn and soybeans to cut production cost and increase profits per acre, and cited the importance of efficient marketing of Delaware crops.

Professor Claude Phillips, chairman of the U. D. department of agronomy, and initiator of the 100 Bushel Corn Club, the 40 Bushel Soybean Club, and the Green Pastures Contest in Delaware, expressed pleasure at the "fine progress Delaware agriculture is making," pointing out that last year Delaware farmers averaged over 65 bushels of corn per acre, the highest average corn yield per acre in Delaware history.

Local Girl Wins Music Scholarship At Hood College

Emily Woodhouse, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Woodhouse of Newark, was recently awarded the Freshman Music Scholarship at Hood College, Frederick, Md.

Miss Woodhouse, a promising pianist, plans to continue her piano study. A 1959 graduate of Newark High School, Miss Woodhouse studied piano with Mrs. Eileen Bruman of Newark, and was a member of her high school choir before entering Hood this fall.

Margaret Manning, Guest At Newark BPW Meeting

Mrs. Margaret Manning, state representative from Mill Creek Hundred, was the guest speaker for the Newark Business and Professional Women's Club at a dinner meeting, Monday, Oct. 12, at the Glasgow Arms.

fresh new beauty
from the only car with Wide-Track wheels!

A car is a living thing.
And all living things must change.
This is why the creative car builders of Pontiac took the proved principle of Wide-Track Wheel Design and surrounded it with fresh, exhilarating, totally new beauty for 1960.
The prow is styled for excitement.
The horizontal bars bear the artistry of the classical.
The perfect profile comes from just-right proportion, unity, rhythm.
The clean, graceful back contributes character where other cars seem only to reflect confusion.

With the widest track of any car, Pontiac's width is on the road—where it gives you better stability. Wide-Track widens the stance, not the car.

Its effect upon your attitude toward driving and owning cars can be quite radical.
For you cannot possess this automobile and be anything less than lighthearted. You cannot control it and be anything less than sportive about driving. You cannot be seen in it and be anything less than buoyantly proud.

Halfback Maynard Conkey Scores 3 TD's In First Half As Newark Defeats Dover

Yellowjacket Halfback Maynard Conkey scored three touchdowns in the first half—the first one, a thrilling, 70-yard sprint into the Senators' end zone with Co-Captain Carl Rice's first quarter scoring pass—as Coach Bob Hoffman's defending champions of the Blue Hen Conference defeated Dover here at home last Saturday, 27-6.

The Newark High School champions play away this Saturday at New Castle with Coach Billy Cole's always dangerous Colonials in a return to conference competition. Kickoff is scheduled for 2 p.m.

William Penn has a 2-1 conference record, while Newark is 1-1. The Colonials rebounded after an initial setback at the hands of the Red Devils from Wilmington High to stop Conard and P. S. du Pont—the Dynasts, by a 27-14 count last weekend for back-to-back conference victories.

The Yellowjackets beat P. S. du Pont 21-6, and lost to Coach Wayne Pollari's conference-leading Mt. Pleasant squad in a home game, 7-0.

With a 3-1 record for the season, Coach Hoffman's Yellowjackets have scored non-conference victories over Elkton and now, Dover.

Quarterback and Co-Captain Carl Rice fired a forward pass to Conkey in the first period for a scoring play covering a long 70 yards to put the Yellowjackets out in front, and Halfback Maynard Conkey swept around end for seven yards and a second touchdown in the same quarter, with Guard Art Carney kicking both extra points for a 14-0 Newark lead.

In the second period Conkey rang up his third touchdown of the afternoon when Guy Cage, taking over at the quarterback slot for Rice, passed to Maynard from 25 yards out, and the Yellowjackets held a 20-0 halftime advantage.

Yellowjacket Co-Captain Monty Jackson at guard had the pleasure rarely experienced by a lineman, of scoring a touchdown when he recovered Fullback Frank Subach's fumble in the Dover end zone for Newark's final bit of scoring in the third quarter.

Dover's Jim Kendall rang up six points for the Senators with a five-yard quarterback sneak in the third period, and both squads played scoreless ball throughout the final period.

Plagued with injuries, Coach Bob Hoffman has starting end Les Money out for the season with a broken wrist; Halfback Charlie Word injured his hand in a saw; and Carl Rice is nursing an injured knee and a strained leg muscle sustained in the Dover game.

The tentative starting line-up for the Yellowjackets when they face William Penn on Saturday includes Ronnie Fyle and Merle Taylor, ends; Rodney Wilson and Don Frank, tackles; Bill Mowll and Co-Captain Monty Jackson, guards; Center Alan Beldyk; Rice or Cage at quarterback; Marshall Saunders and Maynard Conkey, halfbacks; and Bob Burton at fullback.

The golden light from the setting sun had retreated from the woods, far across the pasture to gild the farm buildings to the east, when a lone dove whistled by, high and crossing in front of us last Monday evening near Newark with the last few remaining moments of legal shooting time.

"There's one, shoot!" the father said, and without waiting for his 11-year-old son to fire at the fast-moving, final target of a short afternoon's slim flight, touched off a shot at the rocketing dove.

A split second later—with the feathered express still driving fast down the skyway, an unexpected blast from the 20-gauge gun in the hands of the 11-year-old son standing close by, stopped the dove in its full power of flight and the bird, pinwheeling out of the air, dead, to tumbled into the adjacent cornfield some 40-yds. out.

It was Billy's second shot at any game in an 11-year-old life. The first had been fired some 15 minutes previously at one of a pair of mourning doves flashing in front of us as we stood on the edge of the woodland.

That first shot was a miss, but the second wasn't. It was as neat and clean a kill as ever made—and at one of the most difficult targets offered the shotgunning sportsman.

Honest!

At the risk of shaking a small boy's firm faith in his father's prowess, the parent honestly and with conviction announced that it was the second shot—the lighter, 20-gauge load—that had dropped the dove.

And that announcement—the shot—and the bird—will be long remembered by a certain young sportsman. He dove as hard hit as that one doesn't keep flying a split second after the gun goes off. And the bird was racing with the throttle wide open until that split second later when that second shot stopped it like a concrete slab.

"I couldn't have gotten him, Dad," Little Bill said in excited amazement, and with hopeful disbelief. But he did, and he was at last convinced.

To end the evening happily for all but one dove, we climbed a barbed wire fence and walked into the standing fodder of the cornfield, right to the bird. And to find a dove among the gray corn husks and brush of a field in falling light is largely a matter of luck.

While we were fishing with Little Bill, Damon Tomlinson and his two young sons, Tommy and Danny, last Sunday in the surf at Coin Road, a memorial service was being conducted—unknownst to us—for swashbuckling surferman "Baltimore Louie" on the rocks of the Indian River Inlet jetties just to the south of us.

"Baltimore Louie" Louis T. Herman—better known as "Baltimore Louie" by his host of friends at the Inlet—was a familiar figure with his storm suit, surf rod and gear, as he parked his special jeep almost every weekend on the sand at the south jetty, and clambered his cleated way out over the treacherous rocks to cast bucktails, spoons, and squid into the welter of water at the end of the jetty from spring through fall.

Lou was one of the best, and the strippers, bluefish, and trout that he caught the hard way—battling weather and water from the end of the rockpile—were legion. He caught 'em when nobody else could.

We first met Baltimore Louie one July evening three years ago when a deep, mellow, friendly voice behind us on the rocks where we were fighting a good blue in the roaring tide said: "Well now, you've got a nice little old bluefish!"

Jack Turner Tops Delaware Offense After 5th Victory

Hen Halfback Nears Mark Set By Jim Zaiser With Total 1,628 Yards Gained

Jarrin' Jack Turner, Delaware's powerful senior halfback has taken over the lead in total offense and scoring for the undefeated Blue Hen football team.

Turner, who needs only 140 more yards to break Delaware's three-season career record of 1,628 held by Jim Zaiser, had his best day last Saturday as the Hens whipped New Hampshire, retaining unanimous first-place ranking in the Lambert Cup poll.

Turner piled up 121 yards on the ground against the Wildcats to bring his total rushing yardage to 351, just nine below the mark of 360 held by John Bowman who still leads in that department.

Turner, however, took over the lead from Bowman in total offense, 397 to 384, and in scoring, passed Tony Suravitch by tallying two touchdowns and a bonus conversion to bring his season total to 20 points.

Gary Hebert, the Hens' star sophomore halfback, passed his way to within one yard of the team leader, Quarterback Gampy Pellegrini, by throwing for 46 yards, a touchdown and a conversion.

Hebert has completed four of six passes for 100 yards, while Pellegrini has racked up 101 yards with eight completions in 13 tries.

Sophomore quarterback Barry Fetterman is not far behind with 85 yards on five of 16 attempts.

Team-wise, the powerful Blue Hen offense has ground out 1,189 yards while the defense has held the opposition to 514.

While the Hens have attempted few passes, they've made them account for 356 yards. Delaware has completed 21 of 41 attempts.

Turning, we saw a mighty man who may well have stepped from the bridge of a fighting galleon on the Spanish Main—a handsome, bull-necked giant with tremendous shoulders, and a shock of curly, blond hair above a pair of smiling blue eyes in a tanned face like weathered leather. That was "Baltimore Louie."

Louis T. Herman was last seen quidding the thundering white water from his favorite spot on the end of the south jetty, a year ago last Sunday. And last Sunday, the sportsman who fished with him over the years, sponsored a memorial service for his friend, with the Rev. Elmer P. Baker of Millsboro, officiating, as flowers were tossed onto the racing tide of the Indian River Inlet where the mightiest surferman of them all was drowned.

His body was never found, but Baltimore Louie may have preferred it that way—to be with the sea that he loved.

Dave Nelson Tops Bill Murray's Record As Winning Coach In Delaware Football

David M. Nelson, coach of the University of Delaware's undefeated Blue Hen football team, has added another distinction to an already colorful career by becoming the "winningest" coach in Delaware's 68-year gridiron history.

With the close of Saturday's 50-12 destruction of a previously unbeaten New Hampshire eleven, Nelson's record at Delaware showed 50 victories against 20 losses and a single tie in eight and one-half seasons of action.

His overall record for 12 seasons as head coach at Delaware, Hillsdale and Maine is 71-26-5.

Prior to Saturday's game, Nelson's victory total had equaled that of Delaware coaching great William D. Murray, now head coach at Duke University.

Murray's record for eight seasons of competition between 1940 and 1950 was 49-16-2. Delaware had no formal schedule during the war years, 1943-45.

Only one other coach in the university's football history approached the victory totals of the two most recent mentors.

William J. McAvoy, head coach for 12 seasons, 1908-1916 and 1922-1924, posted 42 victories. But he also was on the short end of the score 43 times and saw his team tied in 13 games.

Nelson's record is much more impressive than that of any previous Delaware coach. His teams have played consistently challenging schedules against such powerful Middle Atlantic Conference opponents as Rutgers, Lehigh, Lafayette and Bucknell and have met the best of other conferences—Connecticut, New Hampshire and Massachusetts from the Yankee Conference and Service in Wilmington, was the guest speaker for the Newark Touchdown Club luncheon meeting last Monday at the Newark Country Club.

An umpire for 14 years, Sargisson related some of his experiences as a football official, and outlined the duties of the referee, umpire, and field judge.

Selected as umpire for the Orange Bowl game in Miami last January, Sargisson said it was one of the easiest games to work.

"The better teams rarely incur penalties," Sargisson said.

As umpire, his officiating is concentrated in the line, and in working the West Virginia-Pitt game the Saturday before, he cited West Virginia's aggressive line play as the deciding factor.

Sargisson emphasized that officials seek to prevent penalties, rather than to exact toll for infraction of the rules. When trouble is brewing, his admonition to the player is "Don't do anything for which you'll be sorry for the rest of your life."

He cited the new two-point scoring rule as a "good thing," increasing the element of chance and adding zest to the game.

Bayard Perry presided, and LeRoy Hill was program chairman.

It was the first of four Delaware touchdowns in a wild third period. For the Cats, it was a nightmarish experience as they were called down six times on personal fouls and had five players tossed out of the game.

The Hens took advantage of a bad pass from center on a Wildcat punt attempt, to set up their next scoring drive at the New Hampshire 24.

Turner had what would have been his third straight touchdown called back by a holding penalty after he had driven in from the six.

Quarterback Barry Fetterman on the next play fired a 23 yard pass to End Mickey Heinecken for the score, and Halfback Gary Hebert tossed to Heinecken for the conversion.

Delaware's alert defensive line again rushed a New Hampshire punt, as Dave Beinert grabbed off the spiral kicked from deep in New Hampshire territory and brought it back to the Wildcat 19.

Quarterback Gampy Pellegrini dove in on a quarterback sneak from the one after four plays, and Turner ran for the conversion.

Vernon Welch, in his debut as a ball-carrier, provided the most spectacular play of the second-half as he ran up the middle for 30 yards

Umpire For Orange Bowl Discusses Experiences, Duties Of Grid Officials

George Sargisson, Orange Bowl and major college game football official, former grid star with the NYU Violets, and director of Recreation Promotion and Service in Wilmington, was the guest speaker for the Newark Touchdown Club luncheon meeting last Monday at the Newark Country Club.

An umpire for 14 years, Sargisson related some of his experiences as a football official, and outlined the duties of the referee, umpire, and field judge.

Selected as umpire for the Orange Bowl game in Miami last January, Sargisson said it was one of the easiest games to work.

"The better teams rarely incur penalties," Sargisson said.

As umpire, his officiating is concentrated in the line, and in working the West Virginia-Pitt game the Saturday before, he cited West Virginia's aggressive line play as the deciding factor.

Sargisson emphasized that officials seek to prevent penalties, rather than to exact toll for infraction of the rules. When trouble is brewing, his admonition to the player is "Don't do anything for which you'll be sorry for the rest of your life."

He cited the new two-point scoring rule as a "good thing," increasing the element of chance and adding zest to the game.

Bayard Perry presided, and LeRoy Hill was program chairman.

It was the first of four Delaware touchdowns in a wild third period. For the Cats, it was a nightmarish experience as they were called down six times on personal fouls and had five players tossed out of the game.

The Hens took advantage of a bad pass from center on a Wildcat punt attempt, to set up their next scoring drive at the New Hampshire 24.

Turner had what would have been his third straight touchdown called back by a holding penalty after he had driven in from the six.

Quarterback Barry Fetterman on the next play fired a 23 yard pass to End Mickey Heinecken for the score, and Halfback Gary Hebert tossed to Heinecken for the conversion.

Delaware's alert defensive line again rushed a New Hampshire punt, as Dave Beinert grabbed off the spiral kicked from deep in New Hampshire territory and brought it back to the Wildcat 19.

Quarterback Gampy Pellegrini dove in on a quarterback sneak from the one after four plays, and Turner ran for the conversion.

Vernon Welch, in his debut as a ball-carrier, provided the most spectacular play of the second-half as he ran up the middle for 30 yards

Big Green Of Marshall College To Fight Blue Hens In Saturday Clash

The University of Delaware football season will feature an invasion of a new opponent this Saturday at Delaware Stadium when the Blue Hens meet Marshall College, from Huntington, W. Va. at 2 p.m.

Established in 1837, Marshall is a non-sectarian, state-supported school with an enrollment of 4,080. Its football team, the Big Green, plays in the Mid-American Conference of which Bowling Green and another Blue Hen opponent, are members.

Since football was established at Marshall in 1890, the Big Green has won 223, lost 201 and tied 100 games. Through the years, Marshall has fielded numerous winning teams, although the one year—1919—did the team lose all its games.

In 1947, the Big Green met the Hens in the Tangerine Bowl, during the game 7-0.

Marshall's last good season was 1957, when it won six and lost four. Last year the Big Green won one game and they have won only one game so far this season.

Marshall's schedule is loaded with tough opposition—Virginia Tech, Bowling Green, Western Kentucky, Toledo, Kent State, Louisiana State, and University of Buffalo.

Charlie Snyder is in his first year as coach of the green and white team. Snyder, a 1948 Marshall graduate, is making his coaching debut after a successful career at the high school level. He has installed the Delaware Wildcat offense in an attempt to bring the level of football at the West Virginia school.

Ken Schroek went over from the four for the final Delaware touchdown.

Bob Dickson finally got the much-publicized Wildcat passing attack in motion, and in the dying minutes of the game threw successive scoring aerials to Bob Lamothe and Ed Facey in a gallant attempt to save face with New Hampshire's first defeat of the season after two wins and a tie.

State White House Conference Planned At Dover, Nov. 7, For Child Potential

On Saturday, Nov. 7, an estimated 1,000 Delawareans—representing a nearly equal number of the state's many private organizations and public agencies—will meet in Dover to ponder the problems of preparing today's children for life in tomorrow's world.

It is not a school conference and it is not a conference about juvenile delinquency, although both are among the subjects that will come up for consideration. This conference concerns the urgent across-the-board needs of all our children—from infancy through the school years and whoever and wherever they may be in Delaware.

Objective of the conference is to find new, better, and more ways to improve opportunities for each child to reach his full potential for a satisfying and creative life. The name of this undertaking is the 1960 Delaware White House Conference on Children and Youth. Behind the name is a story that goes back 50 years.

The early part of this century saw an awakening among people everywhere to the problems of other people—and a feeling of responsibility to do something about those problems. One instance of this was a 1908 series of articles in The Delinquent, a woman's magazine devoted for 20 years but then at the height of its readership.

Subject of the articles was the plight of orphaned children, and the magazine editor and author was Theodore Dreiser—better known among today's adults for his two-volume novel "An American Tragedy" (movie version).

The article series in problems of homeless children provoked much discussion and many letters to the editor. About such things, however, a magazine is limited in what it can do. People can do anything.

Mr. Dreiser called on President Theodore Roosevelt to plead the editor. About such things, however, a magazine is limited in what it can do. People can do anything.

Each decade since, a White House Conference on Children and Youth has been called by Presidents Wilson, Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Truman, and now by President Eisenhower.

Each conference has focused on needs affecting the well-being of the next generation, and each has brought some measure of progress—both nationally and locally—in meeting these changing needs.

Delaware's conference is preliminary to the week-long Sixth White House Conference which begins next March 27 in Washington. The state conference, however, is a complete project in itself, planned with the specific needs of Delaware's children in mind.

So, as Delaware moves ahead in preparation for two White House Conferences—one state and one national—progress is anticipated on four fronts:

Sharper insight into the needs of today's children and youth; a "new day in Delaware" in services to children and youth; pinpointing of overall youth needs in the nation; and learning how other states meet their problems.

Bucknell, rated a dark horse before the season, moved into a tie for the lead in the Middle Atlantic Conference's university division by upsetting previously unbeaten Rutgers, 15-3, last Saturday.

In defeating the defending champion, Bucknell matched Delaware's 2-0 conference record. The leaders will not face each other until the final game of the season on Nov. 21.

Rutgers, although 3-1-0 for the season, stands sixth in the league since the Bucknell game is its only MAC contest thus far.

In the only other university division game last weekend, Lafayette trounced Temple, 52-20, to move from fourth to third.

Canvass of Congregation Planned At St. Andrew's

The every-member canvass at St. Andrew's Church in Brookside will begin next Tuesday with a worker's conference, and on Sunday, Nov. 1, all the homes in St. Andrew's congregation will be visited.

A dinner will be held in the church on Thursday, Nov. 5, stressing stewardship, and pledges will be returned at Sunday services on Nov. 8, Loyalty Day.

Canvass chairman is Robert Ham-mill, Brookside.

Host and hostess for the ball will be Walt and Dina Pickrell.

MOUSE CONTROL

Delaware fruit growers should start an orchard mouse control program as soon as harvesting is completed, according to Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware. The use of endrin for ground sprays will do a good job, Stevens said.

Junior Lamb Show Scheduled Nov. 7 For Youth Groups

Twenty-eight 4-H and FFA members will bring their 56 lambs to the Harrington Fairgrounds on Nov. 7 for the Delaware Junior Lamb Show and Sale.

John H. Shropshire, extension livestock specialist with the University of Delaware, reports that youngsters are to bring their lambs in at 9:30 Saturday morning to be weighed and assigned pens. The showing will begin at 1 and the sale at 3 p.m.

Professor Donald Kniffen, Rutgers University, N. J., will be the judge and Harry Rudnick and Sons will provide the auctioneer.

The Delaware Sheep and Wool Producers Association and the Agricultural Extension Service are sponsoring the event.

All lambs are grain fed and this is an "excellent opportunity for people to buy a freezer lamb," Shropshire said. The Sheep and Wool Producers Association will arrange for processing for anyone who wishes it. The owner of the grand champion lamb will be an honored guest at the association banquet in Dover on Nov. 17.

The lambs were placed in the hands of the youngsters in early August and will run about 100 pounds on the hoof or 40-50 pounds dressed, Shropshire said.

New Castle County 4-H and FFA members who will participate in the show are Beverly Butler, Bud Butler, Bob Cahall, Eddie Foster, Ruth Gilbert, Helen McQuill, Phillip Patterson and Leo Tammi.

1959 Farm Census Planned For Area Beginning Nov. 4

One of your neighbors may be knocking at your door along about Nov. 4 in his role as farm census taker, says County Agricultural Agent Edward Schabinger.

This count of crops, acres, and equipment is taken every five years. Every one of the nation's 5,000,000 farms and ranches will be visited by one of the 30,000 census takers now being lined up for this job.

Each enumerator will be a local resident and each will be required to take a qualifying test for the job. He or she will also get 12 hours of special training and swear to keep all census information confidential.

About two weeks before the farm census gets underway the post office will distribute questionnaires to each household on rural routes and in rural post offices. Farmers will be asked to fill out the forms and give them to the local census taker when he calls.

Prompt Winter Planting Advised For Good Starts

Get your winter cover or grain crop in as soon as you can get the soybeans or corn off, Frank B. Springer, University of Delaware agronomist says.

Every day lost in planting means less chance of a stand getting through the winter.

Some farmers plant early into November, provided the early winter is mild, but any planting after this week is risky, Springer said.

The crop won't stand up against wind and water erosion unless it can get an early start, nor will it come through with strength enough to make forage or grain in the spring.

Mrs. Charles Schultheiss Heads Medill Card Party

Mrs. Charles Schultheiss has been named general chairman of the Medill PTA card party to be held in the school cafeteria on Nov. 17. Mrs. Schultheiss will be assisted by Barbara D'Angelo and Pauline Shesher, in charge of prizes; Carolyn Moore, tickets; Olive Savers, posters; and Mrs. William Dickey, refreshments.

Nearly all types of cards will be played, and guests may come singly or in table parties. Both cards and tables will be supplied by the PTA and there will be both table and door prizes.

He will leave for Fort Knox, Ky., some time in November to undergo eight weeks of basic training, following which he will be assigned to a service school or a regular unit to complete his six month tour of active duty.

After Frost Alfalfa Cut Advised For Final Crop

If you're short of hay and want to make another cut from your alfalfa, wait until we have had a killing frost. Agronomist William Mitchell at the University of Delaware says.

After frost you can harvest by cutting or by pasturing alfalfa; either way you stretch the hay supply. The reason for waiting until after the frost is to keep the plant from using too much of its food reserves in regrowth afterwards.
