HAGNER URGES ELECTION OF J. G. TOWNSEND

Broadcasts Record Of War-time Governor, Telling Of Constructive Work For Roads And Schools
NEEDED IN SENATE

As a part of the Republican radio program, last night, at 7:30, Leonard G. Hagner, Deputy Attorney General, broadcast a speech from Station WDEL, Wilmington, telling of the constructive administration John G. Townsend, Jr., had given the State of Delaware during his incumbency as Governor during the trying War period. Mr. Hagner concluded by urging that ex-Governor Townsend be sent to the United States Senate, where he would have the opportunity to further constructively serve the State of Delaware.

Mr. Hagner spoke as follows: "As the Presidential campaign nears a conclusion, and it becomes more and more apparent that Delaware is safe for Hoover, citizens of this State may well be reminded of the importance of electing upon the State ticket men whose character, experience and ability will best serve our commonwealth.

"I should like, in this connection, to discuss the whole Republican State ticket, but as this is obviously impossible in the few minutes allotted to me, I shall confine my remarks to the head of the ticket, John G. Townsend, Jr., Republican candidate for United States Senator.

"For many years a resident of Sussex County, he is no stranger to Delaware (Continued on Page 11.)

The Hill Billies, recording artists for the Brunswick Phonograph and also WJZ artists, will give two benefit performances at the Newark School, Saturday, November 3rd, at 2:30 and at 8:15. The performance is being held under the auspices of the General Association of the Newark School and the proceeds will be used for school activities and needs for which public school funds are not provided and which are essential for the growth and the life of the school.

The Hill Billies are still fresh in the memories of Newark people, as they gave two performances last spring for the benefit of the Aetna House, Hook and Ladder Company. There act is one of the most unusual and unique in American vaudeville.

Membership in the Association calls for constant attention to growth in all those fundamental elements for which a school exists. It also provides (Continued on Page 4.)

YOUTH DIES IN CYCLE CRASH

William Thorpe Found Dead Hours After Accident Near Christiana; Motorcycle Skidded At Road Curve

William Thorpe, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thorpe, of Christiana, was killed late Sunday night or early Monday morning when he was thrown from his motorcycle, near the bridge spanning the Christiana River, at Christiana. His body was found at 6:30 Monday morning by John Smith, of Christiana, but the accident occurred, probably about midnight.

The body and motorcycle were found lying in the gutter along the road a few feet apart. The boy's skull was badly crushed and death had undoubtedly been instantaneous. It is thought that the motorcycle skidded when he was rounding the curve at that point in the road, throwing him headlong on the concrete surface. Young Thorpe had been working as a carpenter and lived with his sister, Mrs. Clara Hutchison, near Christiana. He had been seen by friends going through Bear a little after 11 Sunday night, and it is believed that he rode to his death a few minutes later. His body was taken in charge by Robert T. Jones, deputy coroner, and brought to his Funeral Home in Newark. (Continued on Page 4.)

BELOVED DOCTOR DIED YESTERDAY

Dr. Henry G. M. Kollock Expires In 78th Year; Oldest Member of University Trustees; Funeral Friday

Yesterday afternoon when Dr. Henry G. M. Kollock quietly passed away, Newark lost one of its most faithful public servants, and one of its most beloved and prominent citizens. Death was not unexpected, as Dr. Kollock had been in a semi-conscious condition for several days, and for a number of years has been in very poor health. However, he has called on his remarkable vitality to rally from sinking spells, which seemed critical and from which he has suffered frequently during the past few years, and it was a shock to the community to hear of his death. Dr. Kollock would have celebrated his 78th birthday if he had lived until December 27.

Dr. Kollock was born in Millsboro, Delaware, the son of the late Joseph A. and Sarah Kollock. His only surviving near relative, a brother, Joseph, lives in Millsboro.

Dr. Kollock started to practice in Philadelphia on March 9, 1872, and came to Newark two years later, where he has made his home ever since. His first place of residence here was in a house that stood about on the site of the former home of the late Dr. Walter H. Steel. Later he moved to what is now Parnell Hall, University of Delaware. He moved to his present home, nearly opposite the Washington House, on Main street, in 1880. Dr. Kollock's practice was not confined to the town, but he guarded the health of many persons in the rural districts and could be seen at any hour of the day or night, making his way to the bedside of some country patient; first with a faithful horse and buggy, and later in an automobile. Besides looking after his many calls to the sick, Dr. Kollock was active in business and civic interests, and was physician for both the B. & O. and P. B. & W. railroads.

As a boy he attended a private school in Milford and later the Newark Academy, one of the oldest schools in the country. From the Newark (Continued on Page 4.)

Instructions To Voters

Polling Places

The polling places for the three local districts will be: first district, the Deer Park Hotel; second district, the Washington House; third district, Currinder's Store, Christiana. The polls are scheduled to open between 8 and 9 a. m., and to close at 6 p. m. However, the polls in districts one and two will probably open at 8 o'clock.

How To Obtain Ballots and Envelopes

When the voter enters the polling place he or she announces his or her name to the election officer and will receive an envelope containing a ballot. The voter will then take the ballot into a booth and mark it, place it in the envelope and give it to the election officer. If the voter has a marked ballot, it can be placed in the envelope and voted. Any voter who enters the polls and receives an envelope must vote or return the envelope to the election officer before he or she leaves the polls. As soon as the voter has voted he or she must leave the polls.

How To Mark Ballot

Ballots should be marked with a soft pencil or crayon. The voter will note that at the head of each party ticket is the party emblem enclosed in a box. Under it are listed in a column the names of the party candidates. At the side of each candidate's name is a small box.

If the voter wishes to vote a

Spoiled Ballots

Should a voter spoil a ballot or envelope, he or she may receive another by taking the spoiled envelope or ballot to the election officer and convincing him that the mutilation was unintentional.

MARK A BALLOT AT HOME IF POSSIBLE AND VOTE EARLY

Local Men On Tickets

Three prominent Newark men appear on the Republican and Democratic tickets. Harvey Hoeffcker is Republican candidate for re-election as Prothonotary. H. Warner McNeal is the Democratic candidate for Levy Court Commissioner for the fifth district, New Castle County. Wayne C. Brewer is Republican candidate for Representative in the General Assembly in the ninth representative district, New Castle County.

PARIS BUILDING STORY FALSE

Dr. Hullahen Corrects News Stories That du Ponts Will Give U. of D. Paris Building; Site To Be Presented To Bienvenue Francaise

Last week newspapers, including the three Wilmington dailies and the Delaware College Review, published a story regarding a new building to be erected in Paris as a memorial to the du Pont family, and to be used as a headquarters for the Delaware Foreign Study Group. The stories were written around a statement made by Dr. Joseph H. Odell on the eve of his sailing for France, last Saturday.

This week a representative of The Post interviewed Dr. Walter Hullahen, president of the University of Delaware, asking him for further details about the proposed building. Dr. Hullahen stated that the stories reporting a proposed new building were entirely erroneous, and that as far as he knew no plans had even been considered for a new building to house the Foreign Study Offices in Paris.

Dr. Hullahen explained that the Foreign Study Plan rents quarters in a building in Paris that is occupied by the Bienvenue Francaise, an organization which makes it its function to welcome foreign visitors to France. This organization has been particularly cordial to the Delaware Group and to representatives of the University of Delaware who have visited France. The lease on the site of this building is about to expire, and money has been raised from members of the du Pont family to buy the site and present it to the Bienvenue Francaise. One of Dr. Odell's missions on his trip is to clear the title to this site. The only connection which the affair has to the University of Delaware is that its Paris offices are rented from the Bienvenue Francaise.

Dr. Odell stated that Julian Ortiz had collected $80,000 from members of the du Pont family to purchase the site, and that it would be given as a memorial to the first Pierre S. du Pont de Nemours, who at the request of President Thomas Jefferson, of the United States, wrote an important book on a system of public education for the United States. This statement was stretched to include a new building for the University of Delaware.

Another erroneous statement appearing in the news stories relating to this memorial was that Dr. Odell was going to France as a substitute for Dr. Hullahen, who cancelled a trip several weeks ago on account of the serious illness of his mother. Dr. Hullahen stated that it would be imperatively necessary for him to go abroad later in the term on business connected with the Foreign Study Plan.

LECTURE ON MUSIC

Our readers are reminded of the lecture to be given on Tuesday evening, November 13, under the auspices of the Newark Music Society. The speaker will be Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, of New York City. The place will be the "Hilarium" in Residence Hall, Women's College. The hour, 8.00 p. m.

Dr. Spaeth's subject will be "The Common Sense of Music" which he will treat humorously as well as seriously, with abundant illustrations on the piano, of which he is entirely the master.

ACCIDENT

On Sunday cars driven by Charles P. Blest, of near Newark, and Eber H. Alexander, of Wilmington, collided in Wilmington. Both cars were slightly damaged and Alexander was held by the Wilmington police on a charge of reckless driving.

FINED $5

Philip Smith, colored, was arrested last Thursday by Chief of Police James Keeley, and fined $5 by Magistrate Thompson on a charge of misdemeanor.

WORKERS ENTER HOME STRETCH CLOSELY BUNCHED AND FIGHTING HARD FOR COVETED POSITIONS

Several Leaders are Almost in a Tie For First Honors With Several Others Within Striking Distance of the Buick and Durant Automobiles

$430.00 A DAY NOW TO WINNER

Indications Point to a Close Finish With Winners to be Determined by Work During Next 72 Hours

Six weeks of effort, suspense and feverish activity will end Saturday night when promptly at nine o'clock the Newark Post's "Help Yourself Travel Club" Campaign will sweep to a triumphant close. Interest is keen throughout the community during these last few days, while the enterprising men, women and young people, who have taken part in the campaign, are making final desperate effort to capture the Silver Anniversary Buick Sedan, which lures them as first prize. Besides the Buick there is a wonderful new Durant Sedan and other valuable awards, so that everybody is assured of a liberal reward for their work.

Last Report Tonight

So far as this office is concerned the campaign will close Wednesday night, October 31st, when the last report will be made to the campaign manager. After that the ballot box will be locked and placed in the Farmers Trust Company where the workers themselves will place their subscriptions until the close, Saturday night. No one can possibly know the voting strength of any worker as nobody can know what goes into the box after it is locked Thursday morning.

Close Promptly at Nine

The ballot box will be closed promptly at nine o'clock Saturday night, and under no conditions will subscriptions be admitted after that time, and candidates are warned against last minute deposits.

Judges to Count

When the box is closed at nine o'clock the Advisory Board, which was announced at the beginning of the campaign will make the count of all subscriptions in the box. The total credits in the ballot box for each worker will be added to his or her credit total as furnished by the campaign manager at the close of the office Wednesday night, and the judges will award the prizes on the basis of results.

Check Your Credits

Candidates are urged by the campaign manager to bring any records they have to the campaign office Thursday afternoon or Friday morning and check with the records of the campaign manager. If no complaint is made before noon Friday the records of the campaign manager will be accepted as correct.

Ballot Box

Each club member will place all subscriptions secured after Wednesday night in a sealed envelope bearing his or her name, and containing the necessary amount of cash, in the ballot box at the Farmers Trust Co. Payment must be in CASH, CERTIFIED OR CASHIERS CHECK. Personal checks not acceptable in the ballot box.

Expresses Thanks

The management of the Post, and the campaign manager, wish to express to the workers their appreciation of the splendid work done during the campaign, and to the public for the liberal support given the workers. The campaign has been in charge of the Capital Circulation Service of Washington, D. C., and as been conducted throughout with the most scrupulous fairness.

We wish that it were possible for every one of the workers to win a Buick automobile, but that is impossible. However, somebody is going to win one, and the others will receive other valuable awards. We have no special interest in any worker and no favoritism will be shown, our only interest being that absolute fairness shall prevail. The winners must be determined by the workers themselves.

SEVENTY-TWO HOURS TO GO

With only three more days to work, and with several of the workers closely bunched for first place, the next seventy-two hours will be hours of hard work and supreme effort on the part of those club members who expect to win. Any one of the twelve still has an opportunity to win, and five of them have almost an equal opportunity. So close is the race that one subscription may decide the winner, and no one knows who will own the Buick and Durant Automobiles.

The only advice we can give the workers is to work, fight, hustle until the ballot box closes at nine o'clock Saturday night. You cannot have too many credits, and credits alone will decide the winners.

Christiana

There were no services in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, on account of the all-day service at White Clay Creek Church, of which Rev. Mr. Irvine is the pastor. There was a preaching service at 10:30 and again at 2:30, with music by the Junior Choir connected with the church. The ladies of the church served lunch during the midday recess.

The supper served last Wednesday evening by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church was a success, judging by the large number of people served, the goodly amount of money taken in, and the favorable comments heard on all sides. Mrs. Thomas Appleby was general chairman in charge of arrangements, and her assistants were Mrs. Frank Moody and Mrs. Raymond Lynam. Miss Florence M. Appleby presided over the cake-and-candy table, assisted by Mrs. Lynam and Mrs. Harry Dayett. Mrs. Wm. H. McCoy was chairman of the fancy table, with Mrs. Irvine, Mrs. George Appleby, Mrs. Oliver Rothwell and Mrs. I. N. Morrison as aids; Mr. H. A. Phelps and Mr. Charles M. Everybody had a jolly good time at the Halloween party given the younger pupils of the school by their teacher, Mrs. Kennard, last Friday afternoon. All the children were masked, games were played, and refreshments appropriate to the occasion were served—ginger-snaps, cider and home-made candies. The older children, with their teacher, Mrs. Hill, gave the little folks a pleasant surprise by appearing in masquerade costumes, and joining in their games.

Last Saturday evening a largely attended masquerade party was given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Christiana Fire Company. The affair was held in the firehouse, and after the unmasking dancing was enjoyed till midnight, with music by Vincent's orchestra of Wilmington. Among the prize-winners were Mrs. George Butler and her little grandson, Marvin Butler, Mrs. Jennie Chesney, Miss Frances McDowell and Miss Madeline Canane.

It is reported on good authority that the laying of the concrete on the Christiana-Bare's Corner Road will be completed today (Wednesday), though of course it will be three weeks or more before it is all uncovered. A portion of the road, at the Christiana end, has already been scraped—sufficient to give people an idea of the wonderful improvement it will be when the whole road is open to traffic.

A fresh supply of books has recently been brought to our little branch library. The frequency with which the supply has to be replenished is proof of the continued popularity of the library. In fact, the community would sadly miss it now, should it ever be discontinued.

Miss Margaret Moor, of State Road, was the overnight guest last Wednesday of Miss Anna Moody. Miss Moor is a member of the sophomore class at the Women's College.

Miss Mary Titter, of Brandywine Hundred, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. James Appleby, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Birch and children, Raymond and Velda, of Wilmington, visited Mr. and Mrs. Olan J. Cleaver on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barrett, of Edgemoor, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Barrett's mother, Mrs. Amy Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ward and son, Richard, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lowth.

Messrs. Robert Sapp and James Campbell spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant at their home in Wilmington.

Mr. Robert K. Ward visited his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walker, of Newport, during the week-end.

Several cases of mumps among the school children have been reported lately, though the disease has by no means become epidemic.

Mrs. Sue Currinder, who has been quite ill, has so far improved as to be able to be down-stairs and about the house.

Mrs. Sara Kilvington is also considerably improved, though not able to be out much yet. Through an error, it was stated in this column last week that Mrs. Kilvington had been ill for "six weeks". It should have read "six weeks."

The recently organized Girl Reserves held their weekly meeting in the school-house last evening. Miss Martha Good and Miss Ruth Kemp, state officials from Dover, were present. The girls made plans for a Box Social to be held Friday, November 16. Home-made candy will be on sale, and a free entertainment will be given.

The whole community was shocked to learn of the sudden death, early Monday morning, of William Thorpe, eighteen-year-old son of Mr. Lewis Thorpe, Sr. His body was found lying in the ditch not far from the end of the bridge across Christiana Creek, with his wrecked motorcycle close by. The gruesome discovery was made by John Smith, of this place, while on his way to work. Young Thorpe had been coming towards Christiana from Bear, and was evidently going at such a high rate of speed that it was impossible for him to make the curve just before reaching the bridge, as shown by the fact that his speedometer was locked at sixty-eight miles. Funeral services will be held at the home of his parents, Thursday afternoon, at two o'clock, followed by interment in White Clay Creek Cemetery.

MASQUERADE AND MEASURING SOCIAL

On Thursday evening, November 8, a masquerade and measuring social will be held at Ott Chapel. All who fail to mask will have to pay a fine, 10 cents for adults and 5 cents for children. Novelties, pie and candy will be for sale. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. All friends of the Chapel are urged to attend, and an interesting evening is promised for all.

He errs disastrously and utterly who does not realize that now, as never before, the will of mankind is firm for peace.—James L. Garvin.

NEW FORD FINANCE PLAN

Mr. A. F. Fader of the Fader Motor Company, Newark Ford dealers, returned yesterday from Chester, where he received details of the new Ford finance plan.

The new finance plan will be operated by the Universal Credit Company, an affiliated specialized organization controlled by the Ford Motor Company and operating solely for the benefit of purchasers of Ford products on a "time" basis. The branch office serving this territory is located at Philadelphia, 8th floor, Lewis Building, 15th and Locust streets.

This is of special interest to prospective purchasers of Ford products on a "time" basis. Under this authorized finance plan, Ford customers will have a finance service available which is sound and in keeping with Ford policies and standards. The plan is nationwide in scope and for the exclusive use of Ford dealers.

It is another step of the Ford organization in reducing costs by controlling operations from the mine to the consumer. The cost of this service will be lower than any heretofore available to Ford customers on a national basis, and automatically reduces the price of Ford cars purchased on a "time" payment basis.

The plan also contemplates the purchase by Universal Credit Company of sound and adequate fire and theft insurance, protecting the joint interests of the purchaser, the dealer and the company in the car.

The purchaser receives a policy of standard form of insurance protection for one year. Such policies are issued by the Home Insurance Co. of New York, the largest fire insurance company in the United States. The policies provide for settlement based on the actual cash value of the car at time of loss.

The Universal Credit Company and the Ford dealer will work together in making this new economical Ford service available to all purchasers of Ford products on a "time" basis. The Fader Motor Company, local Ford dealers, will be glad to explain all the details of the plan, which applies to both new and used cars purchased from Ford dealers.

vides for a very careful checking of results and formation of policies on the part of the school.

Last May the Newark School was notified that it was placed on the Accredited List of Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Middle States and Maryland. Doctor McClelland, secretary of the Association, has just notified the Newark School that it has been elected to membership in the Association with the right and privilege of sending delegates to the annual convention and the conference of the Association which meets in Atlantic City the two days following Thanksgiving Day.

Hallowe'en Parties

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" was carried into action during the past week when opportunity was given all boys and girls in the Newark School to have parties in the spirit of the Hallowe'en season. The primary grades held parties in their own rooms last Friday afternoon, under the direction of the several teachers. The third floor of the Delaware avenue building, with its uncovered rafters and unplastered walls and with its touch of Hallowe'en decorations gave a very realistic atmosphere to the present day idea of Hallowe'en, which of course has deviated somewhat from the original spirit of the day. As a definite part of pupil participation in the life of the school, pupil committees helped to plan and carry on the extra curricular work. The Junior-Senior High School arranged their party in the New School Auditorium, which was very pleasantly decorated. The evening was given over to games of the season and competitive and original stunts. Prizes were awarded to the tenth grade for the best and most original stunts and to Mrs. Marion T. Whitney for the most original costume, and Maralee Kennard for the most elaborate costume. The Newark school orchestra assisted by Mr. Robert Davis and Mr. Paul Steele, furnished the music.

State Teachers Meeting

All the buildings of the Newark School will be used by the Delaware State Teachers when they meet here November 15 and 16. Demonstration lessons will be taught during the convention in those class rooms in which the grade usually meets so as to have as nearly as possible the regular class room environment.

The corridors of the Newark Building on both floors will be given over to exhibiting the work of the Delaware schools. Superintendent Brinser of the Newark Schools, has been appointed by President Wagner of the Association to have general supervision of the exhibit. He has asked a committee to assist in making the Educational Exhibit serve the purposes for which the association has planned that it should. The members of the committee are Mr. William K. Gillespie, chairman, Miss Anna Galaher, Mr. David McMenamin, Miss Greta McKinsey, Miss Sarah Glass, Miss Madeline Johnston, Miss Harriet Wilson and Miss Mary Vaughan.

Beloved Doctor Died Yesterday

by this organization in cooperation with the Delaware State Board of Agriculture and the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Delaware. This two-day event started in New Castle County on Thursday at 9:30 a. m. and closed with a banquet and lecture at Milford, Sussex Academy he entered Jefferson Medical School, Philadelphia, graduating in 1872 when 21 years of age, and practiced two years in Philadelphia before coming to Newark.

Dr. Kollock had been a widower for many years. His wife, who was Miss Annie Evans, sister of Charles B. Evans, attorney, died 23 years ago. His sister, Miss Elizabeth Kollock, lived with him many years. She was killed in an automobile accident in front of their residence eight years ago.

In point of service, Dr. Kollock was the oldest member of the Board of Trustees of the University of Delaware. He was appointed to the board of what was then Delaware College in 1882, forty-six years ago and had served on the board ever since. For several years he was chairman of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds.

He was a member of the Delaware State Medical Society and also the New Castle County Medical Society, and had served as president of both organizations. He served as president of the trustees of the Newark Academy and was a vice-president and director of the Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Company. He had been a member of Hiram Lodge, A. F. and A. M. for many years and was a former Worshipful Master of that lodge. Several years ago, Dr. Kollock served as president of the Town Council and has served several terms on the local Board of Health. He was a member of the commission that had charge of building the first town sewer system. He had always been interested in baseball, and if he had a "hobby" it was probably fishing.

In respect to Dr. Kollock, the University flags have been lowered half mast. In commenting on Dr. Kollock's death, this morning, Dr. Hulihan, president of the University of Delaware, noted that Dr. Kollock had a seniority of 12 years in terms of service on the University Board of Trustees. Dr. Hulihan spoke of Dr. Kollock's great charity and his interest in every worthy cause throughout the State, and particularly his interest in the University of Delaware, which he kept alive and active even in the last years of his illness.

Funeral services will be held at his late home, Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The Reverend R. B. Mathews, rector of St. Thomas Church, will conduct the service. Burial will be in the Evans family mausoleum, in the Head of Christiana Cemetery.

Poultry Tour Attracts Many

County on the evening of the second day.

Much interest was evidenced by the poultrymen at the Mason Alfalfa Plant, seven miles south of Wilmington on the du Pont Highway. This was the starting place of the tour. Dr. H. E. Kiefer, Vice-President of the Mason Alfalfa Process Co., then told how fresh cut alfalfa hay is cured by artificial heat and made into alfalfa meal suitable for poultry and other feeds.

At the Burrows and Phillips Poultry Farm, one mile west of Christiana, the visitors inspected a large flock of turkeys grown by artificial brooding and on restricted range.

Probably the most important stop of the first day was made next at the University of Delaware Poultry Plant. Hot coffee was served to the guests of the day during the lunch period. With the cold wind which was blowing, this helped warm some of the physical laggards of the trip. Enthusiasm was not lacking any time during the tour. The complete poultry unit of the University Experimental Farm was gone over and explained very thoroughly to the visitors by Carol W. Mumford, in charge of the plant.

Mrs. Helen M. Baker, noted turkey raiser from Chestertown, Maryland, gave a talk at this place on "Modern Methods of Growing Turkeys." Mrs. Baker has been raising turkeys under restricted range, etc., for eight years.

Around 125 poultrymen attended the annual banquet and meeting held on Friday evening in the Milford Grange Hall. Dr. Maurice Hall, Chief of the Zoological Division, Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., gave an interesting talk on "Treating Poultry for Internal Parasites."

Following the banquet the members of the Delaware State Poultry Association held their regular annual meeting and elected their officers for the year 1929. The following poultrymen were elected as officers: President, W. C. Newton, Bridgeville; vice-president, Gus Swanson, Milford; treasurer, H. R. Lemex, Milford; secretary, H. S. Palmer, Newark. The following men were elected as Executive Committee members-at-large: Denny Pleasanton, Dover; M. C. Vaughn, W. V. Steen, Dagsboro. The four officers and the three Executive members-at-large constitute an Executive Committee of seven.

The speakers of the evening were A. McCue, Dean of the Agricultural College, University of Delaware; M. C. Vaughn, Former County Agent in Sussex County; and Dr. Maurice C. Hall, Chief of the Zoological Division, Bureau of Animal Industry, Washington, D. C.

On Friday Harold Buckingham was arrested by State Highway Officer Boyer for driving a truck without a rear-view mirror. He was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate Thompson.

Private Boyer arrested James H. Howell, on October 27, and arranged him before Magistrate Thompson on a charge of driving an overloaded truck. The fine was $10 and costs.

On October 27, State Highway Officer Jewell arrested Leon Samet and M. E. Young. Both were charged with reckless driving and found guilty. Magistrate Thompson assessed fines of $25 and costs.

On October 23, a town officer arrested Ida Wilson, colored, for driving without a license. The fine was $25 and costs.

MINSTREL SHOW

The same Odd Fellows Minstrels, who were such a resounding hit here last year, will play Newark again next Wednesday evening, November 7, at the Newark Opera House. The production will be under the auspices of the Tri-State Poultry Association. While the Odd Fellows have added new members to their troupe since last year, as well as new numbers, two of the old favorites, Ed Phillips and Bill Gardener, are featured. Last week the minstrels played to two packed houses in Elkton.

Vote Early

Due to the unprecedented registration this year there will be more than the usual congestion at the local polling places, and voters are urged to vote as early in the day as possible. The polls are to open between 8 and 9 a. m., and will close at 6 p. m. However, the first and second district polls will probably open at 8 o'clock sharp. The congestion in the first two districts will be particularly acute, as nearly 1,000 have registered in the first and nearly 1,200 in the second. This will make it necessary to vote about two a minute during the open hours of the polls.

Ballots will be available about Friday night or Saturday, and will be in the hands of the various party workers for distribution. It is suggested that as many persons as can secure ballots, mark them at home, and take them to the polls marked. This will save the time consumed in studying and marking the ballots. Party workers will probably have numerous machines running to take voters to the polls.

P. T. A. ORGAN CHANGES FORM

The official publication of the Delaware Parent-Teacher Association will appear this year under new title and in new form. The National Association has asked that each state make its title and size uniform, and Delaware has accepted the standard form. The title will be the Delaware Parent-Teacher, and it will be in magazine size, 6 1/4 x 10 1/2. It will publish Parent-Teacher news exclusively. The Delaware Parent-Teacher Association is the publisher, and Miss Etta Wilson, of Newark, the editor. There will be six issues each year.

This important question will soon be decided by the American voters. But whether the White House is inhabited for the next four years by President Coolidge's great Secretary of Commerce, or by the "Happy Warrior" from New York means little to the twelve workers in the Newark Post's "Help Yourself Travel Club" campaign.

The most important question for the consideration of these workers this week is

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Lamb Croquettes

6 tablespoons butter or margarine, 6 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 2 cups minced lamb, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning, salt, pepper, 1 cup mashed potato, flour, egg, crumbs.

Melt the butter, add flour and blend thoroughly. Add the milk gradually and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add lamb, onion and seasonings and cool slightly. Then add mashed potato, spread on a shallow dish and chill. Form into croquettes, roll in flour, slightly beaten egg and sifted crumbs. Fry in deep fat. Serve with Celery and Olive Sauce.

Time in cooking, 3 minutes. Temperature, 360 degrees.

Recipe makes 8 servings.

Celery and Olive Sauce

1 1/2 cups stock, 1/4 cup chopped celery, 3 tablespoons chopped onions, 1 tablespoon chopped olive, 3 tablespoons chopped pimiento, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

To the stock, add the celery, onion, olives, pimiento and seasonings, using salt and pepper to taste. Cook ten minutes, then thicken with the butter and flour rubbed together and add the lemon juice.

Pork Chops Baked with Pineapple

Sprinkle the pork chops with salt and pepper, dip in beaten egg and then in sifted bread crumbs. Place in a baking pan with enough fat to keep from sticking. Also put slices of pineapple in the pan, allowing one for each chop. Bake for thirty minutes in a moderately hot oven. Then arrange on each chop a ring of pimiento, fill the center of each ring with seedless raisins, and bake thirty minutes longer, basting often with the fat in the pan.

Time in cooking, 1 hour. Temperature, 375 degrees.

Oyster Pie, White House Style

1 pint oysters, salt, pepper, celery salt, 1 pint rich cream sauce, 1 cup diced cooked celery, dash of nutmeg, pastry.

Heat the oysters in their liquor until the edges curl; add seasonings. Make a rich cream sauce or thicken thin cream with a roux of flour and butter. Drain liquor from oysters and add them to the cream sauce together with the celery, which has been cooked in boiling salted water until tender. Season to taste. The English usually add a dash of nutmeg. A little onion may be added to the cream sauce. Line a baking dish from which the pie may be served, with good puff paste, fill with dry rice or beans, bake in a hot oven, remove the rice and fill shell with the creamed oyster mixture. Add the top crust cut with openings in leaf shape, and bake a golden brown. Flaked codfish combined with the oysters makes the codfish and oyster pie, so popular in the sixties.

Temperature, 425 degrees.

Recipe makes 8 servings.

Peanut Butter Gravy for Ham

2 tablespoons peanut butter, 1/2 tablespoon flour, 1 cup milk.

To the juices left in the pan after frying or baking the ham, add the peanut butter, flour and milk, stirring constantly so that it will not lump.

Salmon Loaf

1 No. 2 can salmon, 12 stuffed olives, 1 small onion, 1 sweet pickle, 1 green pepper, 3 eggs, 1 cup evaporated milk, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 tablespoon gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 2 hard-boiled eggs.

Flake salmon, then chop olives, onion, pickle and green pepper, and mix together. Beat the eggs, add milk and seasonings and cook in a double boiler until thick, stirring constantly. Add gelatin, softened in cold water, and lemon juice. Garnish a mold with small sweet pickles and slices of hard-boiled egg. Arrange the salmon mixture and slices of egg in alternate layers and pour the sauce over. Chill, unmold and serve with Cucumber Sauce.

Recipe makes 8 servings.

Cherry Stone Clams

Serve the clams, usually six to a serving, in their shells on a deep plate filled with cracked ice. Pass relishes, including Tabasco sauce, horseradish, and quartered portions of lemon.

Potage Lincoln. Croutons

1 quart chicken or veal stock, 1 1/2 cups cold mashed squash, 2 tablespoons pearl tapioca, salt and white pepper, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 cup scalded thin cream, croutons.

Heat the stock in a double boiler and stir in the squash. Soak the tapioca in cold water, and cook in boiling water until transparent. Season stock with salt and white pepper, thicken with a roux of flour and butter, then strain and add cream and tapioca. Just before serving, add croutons of diced toasted bread, sautéed in a little melted butter. A tablespoon of whipped cream, salted and dusted with paprika, may be substituted for the croutons.

Recipe makes 8 servings.

Corn and Pepper Pudding

8 green peppers, 8 eggs, 2 teaspoons salt, 12 No. 2 cans corn, 4 cups milk. Beat the egg yolks, add the chopped peppers, salt, milk and corn. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Put in buttered baking dish and bake in moderate oven.

Tomato Aspic Salad

is delicious and is economical. It is made with:

8 cups tomatoes (juice and pulp from 2 No. 3 cans), 6 cloves, 4 bay leaves, 2 medium onions (sliced), 4 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 6 peppercorns, 4 tablespoons vinegar, 4 bouillon cubes, 6 tablespoons gelatin, 1 cup cold water.

Stew together the tomatoes, cloves, bay leaves, onions, salt, sugar, peppercorns, and vinegar, for fifteen minutes, then force through a sieve. Add the bouillon cubes. Add, while hot, to the gelatin which has soaked for five minutes in the cold water. Stir until dissolved. Cool, pour into individual molds and chill. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves. Serve as a separate course with a toasted cracker and a ball of cream cheese for each serving. It is individual enough for this.

Pineapple Ginger Sherbet is excellent as a dessert for this rather hearty "supper." If you want something with more calories, choose the ice cream with the spiced peach sauce from the Second Menu, but the ginger sherbet is a good digestant as it contains both pineapple and ginger.

Pineapple Ginger Sherbet

8 1/2 quarts water, 14 cups sugar, 4 1/2 cups lemon juice, 14 ounces candied ginger, 14 No. 2 cans crushed pineapple.

Cut the ginger in small pieces, add water and sugar, and boil fifteen minutes. Cool. Add pineapple and lemon juice and freeze. This should serve fifty, liberally.

Red Cherry Sponge

1/4 cup gelatin, 1 cup cold water, 7 No. 2 cans red, pitted cherries, 14 eggs.

Soak the gelatin in cold water five minutes. Drain juice from cherries, and bring to boiling point. Pour over gelatin, and when dissolved add the cherries. Allow to cool and when just beginning to thicken, fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Mold in individual dishes and chill. Serve unmolded, with a yellow or soft custard made from the fourteen egg yolks.

Hot Biscuits

5 quarts flour, 1 cup baking powder, 3 tablespoons salt, 10 ounces shortening, 10 cups milk and water.

Mix the flour with baking powder and salt and sift twice. Work in the shortening and add enough milk and water, in equal parts, to mix to a soft dough. A little more or less than ten cups of liquid may be needed, depending upon the flour used. Toss on a floured board, pat and roll lightly to one-half inch in thickness. Shape with a biscuit cutter. Place on greased baking pans and bake in a hot oven (420° F.) ten to twelve minutes. If baked in too slow an oven the biscuits will not rise well.

The Second Menu is the menu of cold foods with hot coffee, which is needed at times when there are more to serve than can be comfortably accommodated with hot foods.

Chicken Salad

5 quarts cold cooked chicken, 5 bunches celery, 1 cup French dressing, 1 quart mayonnaise.

For the necessary amount of chicken thirty-five to forty pound of fowl as purchased, or ten one-pound cans boneless chicken will be required. Cut it in cubes and marinate with the French dressing. Cut the celery in small pieces and crisp in ice water. Just before serving, mix with the chicken. Add mayonnaise to hold the ingredients together, using a little more than a quart if necessary.

Arrange lettuce in a border on a platter, and mound the salad in the center. Top with additional mayonnaise dressing and a dash of paprika. Or serve in individual salads if you prefer. Canned veal may be substituted in part for the chicken, if you wish to reduce the cost. If individual plate service is used the salad portions may be put in fluted paper containers, on the same plate with the sandwiches, olives and cup of coffee. Use the coffee cup without its saucer.

The Wages Uncle Sam Paid In Republic's Early Days

Cabinet Officers in 1793 Got $3,500 Yearly and Brigadier Generals $104 Monthly

Uncle Sam was poor when he started out in life and he found it necessary to economize. For a time he was in the position known occasionally to householders and other individuals of today—"with everything going out and nothing coming in." Possibly it was this state of affairs that caused him to pay such modest salaries at the start to the public servants who carried on his business. They were, not much better when Federal affairs became excellently established, and they are small even in those days when our Government is the richest in the world and less prosperous peoples are far more generously compensating their officials.

President Washington was, of course, a rich man, so his salary of $25,000 annually need not awaken commiseration. The Vice-President received $5,000, the Chief Justice $4,000 and five Associate Judges $3,500 each. Even these figures appear rather adequate when compared with others on the list. For instance, sixteen district Federal Jurists—one in each State—drew compensation on a sliding scale beginning at $800 a year and rising in two instances, for the districts of Virginia and South Carolina, to $1,800 each. The Attorney General's allowance was $1,900 annually.

The Speaker of the House was rewarded with $12 a day for actual time served, 119 days' work thus affording him total pay of $1,428. Members of Congress drew $6 a day for the same length of time. Cabinet officers fared a little better. The Secretaries of State and Treasury received $3,500 each annually, the Secretary of War getting $500 less. The Governor of the Western Territory—west of Pennsylvania and New York and north of the Ohio River—was paid $2,000 a year. For the "overhead" of Congress, and the executive censors named, the appropriation was $6,552 for the year. This includes rent on some buildings, stationery, printing of certain books and "fire-wood for fuel."

As for the military, Uncle Sam provided $166 monthly for one Major General, $104 monthly for each four Brigadier Generals and $55 monthly for each of two Majors—one of artillery and the other of dragoons. Fourteen Captains drew $40 a month each. The standing army of the United States, consisting of 1,016 men, received $3 a month per soldier.

The Treasurer of the Republic in those days must have been much harried in paying off small as well as great bills. One day, it is noted by his report in the audit of his office by Congress, he not only drew a $1,000 warrant for Tobias Lear, private secretary to Mr. Washington, as a fortnight's Presidential pay, but also settled for $13.84 worth of wood "for the household of the late President of the Senate," and let Secretary of State T. Jefferson have $302.75 to meet the expenses of a French interpreter. On another date Mr. Meredith recorded issuing a warrant to "John Jay for his salary as Chief Justice of the United States to 30th September, $54.79."

Claims for war pensions had to be met and settled by Uncle Sam from the very beginning of his establishing national housekeeping. However, the amounts paid were quite as small as though the soldier had instead been a Federal Jurist, Territorial Governor or diplomat.—N. Y. Times.

HOME AND HOUSE

The cottage was thatched, a plum tree climbed its walls, and a clump of sweet honeysuckle grew near the gate. At the door stood the occupant, of whom the Passer-By inquired the time of day. He pulled out a silver watch appended to a very heavy silver chain, and replied with exactitude.

"You have a lovely home here," the Passer-By said, and was startled by the response.

"Do you mean a lovely house or a lovely home?" The Passer-By admitted the discrimination was a just one. And then he was surprised again, as the old man smilingly quoted a stanza of Victor Hugo's: "A house is built of brick and stone. Of tiles and posts and piers, But a home is built of loving deeds That stand a thousand years."

He nodded pleasurable agreement with the sentiment, but the old gentleman plunged still deeper.

"What do you think I cherish best about this place? Not the loveliness of scene that you see stretching out before you. No! no! Not the picture of the house and its material environment. I first saw the light in this cottage, my ancestors have lived here for over three hundred years. The things I recall best are the dear faces of those who loved me and whom I loved. Not loving deeds alone, but the atmosphere, the loving associations of this home distinguish it from every spot on earth to me. I planted yon damson tree. Pretty to look at, isn't it? I've never gone far afield. I'm one of the rolling stones that's gathered no moss." And the old man chuckled.

"You appear to have gathered something else," the Passer-By ejaculated.

"Well, yes, in my three-quarters of a century I've learned a few things, one of which is this: A man can give a woman a house but it is she who transforms it into a home. This is home. We don't reside here; we live here—don't we, Mary?"

This to his wife who had just emerged from the doorway. She was as neat as ninepence, and as sweet as the honeysuckle that shed its fragrance all around. She pressed upon the Passer-By a glass of milk. And at the bend in the road he turned for a last look at them framed in their exquisite home surroundings.—Christian Science Monitor.

TON OF COAL FREE WITH EACH USED CAR

Starting last Monday and continuing until Saturday, the Hammond Motors Company, Oldsmobile dealers, at Thirty-seventh and Market streets, Wilmington, "where the lights begin," will give away one ton of coal with each used car purchased. About fifty choice machines, most of them closed models, will be offered in this sale. The awarding of the coal is made possible because the salesman employed by the company have voluntarily offered to do away with their commissions on used car sales during this period.

Terms of sale will be no different than in making a purchase at any other time. Used cars will be accepted as trade-ins, terms arranged, and regular used-car guarantee given. This idea in conducting a sale has been used very successfully in the western part of the country, but is comparatively unheard of here. It is being applied here by R. A. Bucher, general manager of the Hammond Motors Company.

The salesmen for this concern participating in the sale are Boyd Rutan, T. W. Hawk, Frank Sharpless, A. P. Anderson, J. E. Cheffins and Stewart White.

DEL. MORTGAGE COMPANY OPENS BOND DEPARTMENT

The Delaware Mortgage Investment Company, of 10th and Orange streets, Wilmington, announces the opening of a Bond Department in connection with their regular mortgage business.

The mortgage business of this corporation has reached such flourishing proportions during the past two years that it was decided at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors that it was timely to issue bonds backed by mortgages and give the general public, now, an opportunity of participating in the attractive bonds they are in a position to offer which are safeguarded as an investment in every particular.

In order to give everybody an incentive to save regardless of age or means the following types of bonds have been thoroughly worked out:

First a 5 1/2 per cent bond compounded annually which matures in ten years and may be purchased on an exceptional basis. Seventy-four dollars per year paid in advance purchases a thousand dollar bond. At the end of ten years the purchaser of this bond has paid seven hundred and forty dollars at which time he receives one thousand dollars in cash.

Another bond, the purchaser pays five hundred and eighty-six dollars cash and at the termination of ten years collects one thousand dollars in cash.

There is also a 5 1/2 per cent coupon bond being issued from which the holder clips a coupon every six months on which he receives the interest on presentation at the office of the Company. At the end of ten years the principle of this bond, one thousand dollars, is paid in full to the purchaser.

It is felt that the State of Delaware offers a large field for this type of investment where the safety is assured and an investor is protected every moment by collateral every man knows to be the foundation of all values, namely, a mortgage on real estate.

Every single wage earner senses the importance of saving something for an emergency, and thrift should be encouraged as the fashion of the hour in every home. The dimes and nickels wisely conserved soon reach proportions that enable the owner to establish an estate.

Only twenty-one cents per day now buys a bond from the Delaware Mortgage Investment Company which pays the holder one thousand dollars in cash at the end of term of ten years. Mr. Albert Bernstein formerly with Griffith Mortgage Corporation is manager of the Bond Department.

RHINOCEROS IS STUPID

How stupid he is! But it is lucky for us that he is so, for if the rhinoceros had the intelligence of the elephant, Africa might long ago have ceased to be a place where human beings could live; it might be a Rhino Republic in which every citizen was President and army combined.

The rhinoceros is no household pet; it charges with intent to kill on the slightest provocation. The buffalo, unlike the common bull, charges with its head up and its eyes open, looking for its enemy.

An elephant will not only search for one who has done it an injury, says Nature Magazine, but will remember for long after any other animal would have forgotten, and is quite capable of revenging himself after many years.

The rhinoceros however sees very little out of its piggy eyes and depends for its safety more on its sense of smell than its vision. It charges with its head down and the huge horns forward in the direction of the smell, and if the hunter happens to be the smell and cannot speedily escape himself or go away from there, it is a hard case.

Head on there is almost no place to shoot a rhinoceros without making him laugh. The bullet will glance off the thick, bumpy head as readily as from the horns on his nose. Five thousand pounds of unintelligent ferocity galloping towards you almost as fast as a horse can go is a matter for quick thinking and decisive action. It might well be described as a predicament.

If you can jump quickly to one side, it is more than possible that the rhino will charge past you without noticing that you have moved. He may even continue for a couple of miles at the top of his speed unless it happens to hit something.

If at the end of his charge he still remembers what it was that got on his nerves—his olfactory or nose-senses, to be exact—he may possibly stop at his head down and charge just as hard in some other direction from which he catches a whiff of oppopanax, tobacco smoke, or anything else his sensitive nose disapproves of.

Whatever sensibility he has in a nose... there are people like that! But generally he forgets and is consequently far less dangerous than an enraged buffalo or elephant.

RIFFEL TOWER TRIP SCENIC

A trip to the top of the Eiffel tower in Paris is slow but interesting. The seven elevators, four of which run to the first level, two to the second and one to the highest level, are always crowded and move with a minimum of speed at regular intervals. Where there are two or three elevators half of the number are at the same time in opposite directions. Each elevator operator blows a differently sounding whistle to announce his departure. One car sounds its whistle, the other answers at both levels.

In all it takes approximately half an hour to reach the top from the bottom and vice versa and costs 8 francs for the round trip.

"There are many paths to knowledge, but all pass through the grim valley of disillusion."

REAL SECRET OF GOOD COFFEE

WHEN HUBBY KICKS ABOUT THE COFFEE

"Coffee—what's the matter with the coffee this morning—can't you get good coffee?"

How often is this heard in thousands of homes at the breakfast table. A man's cup of coffee in the morning means really dollars to his home, for he is either started right or wrong, and the effect is present with him all day.

It has been determined by laboratory tests that the real secret in making a cup of coffee is to use fresh ground coffee. Of course, the better the grade of coffee bean the better the flavor. It means that you should always see that the coffee you buy is fresh ground, and then keep it in a good tight fitting container, for as the hours and days pass so will the real flavor leave the ground coffee.

Mr. Mansley of the Heroy Tea Stores at 721 Market street, Wilmington, says that these reasons are why he always states in his advertising: "Roasted while you wait, money back if not satisfactory." He knows that if he starts you off with fresh roasted and fresh ground coffee you are sure to get the most for your money and in fact real coffee satisfaction.

Laboratory tests have proven that the relative loss of gas, which is the flavor of the coffee, will lose its goodness in ten or twelve days. Of course, it starts to lose this gas as soon as it is roasted and ground, and you must have a good container to help save the flavor.

Remember! Quality of coffee is quite a different thing from freshness in ten or twelve days. Of course, it starts to lose this gas as soon as it is roasted and ground, and you must have a good container to help save the flavor.

Some families like the heavy bodied coffees, like Java, Maracato, and Bogota, while others like the smaller bean coffees like Mocha and Santos. In some families the preference is for a blending of the different coffees.

When you come to think of it, coffee plays a great place in our lives and it is the wise wife who sees and attends to the coffee tastes of her family. When you are next in town, stop in and try Heroy's fresh roasted and ground coffee. Tell Mr. Mansley which kind of coffee that you want for your family, that is, describe it to him and he will be able to tell you just what mixing and blends to use. Let him give your family coffee satisfaction!

CHANDLER '75' FINDS FAVOR AMONG WOMEN

"According to a survey just completed by the Chandler factory among its entire dealer organization, the new Royal '75' Eight closed models, announced a short time ago, are finding wide buying interest with women," according to a statement issued by the Drake Motor Company, 115 Concord avenue, Wilmington dealers.

"To a large extent, the advantages of being able to secure the extra power and performance of an eight-cylinder automobile at the low price of $1,295 f. o. b. factory, for the Brougham, $1,395 for a Sedan, and $1,295 for the Coupe no doubt, contribute to the popularity of this line with women, but still one finds upon close study," states Sid Black, vice-president of the company, "that there are other motives influencing the feminine mind.

"Fundamentally women like to drive a motor car which provides an aristocratic appearance, a minimum of attention and is easy to handle and maintain. In this new series, Chandler engineers have anticipated these essentials with the result that this '75' line incorporates a style trend in body design that is refreshing, and a strict departure from commonplace standards. Appointments throughout are noted for their convenience and utility value. This series also provides a wide range of body color choices; and what woman is not as particular about the color of her car as she is about her new gown.

"Then, there is the matter of easy handling. A new ball bearing steering mechanism enables any woman to drive and park any one of these new Eights with a minimum of effort. According to Chandler officials, tests have been conducted where the car has been steered with just two fingers. What's more it is an everyday occurrence with drivers.

"From the standpoint of lubrication, any woman can lubricate the Royal '75' chassis by just pressing a plunger. The notable one shot oiling system forces oil under pressure to every vital bearing point, without making it necessary to even get out of the driver's seat. This is not only a convenience feature, but a big factor toward efficiency and longevity.

"It will be admitted," further comments Mr. Drake, "that women like to drive a car that assures a minimum of driving effort. With this series incorporating Westinghouse vacuum brakes, which operate at a touch of the toe on the brake pedal, with one-third less effort than is required to operate the average brake, but three times the braking effect, it is only reasonable to assume that this feature alone has been a big factor with women showing a keen preference for the Royal Eight '75' Chandler."

SUPPLY 150,000 BRICKS
FOR G. M. O. BUILDING

Several large contracts were received during the past week by the Oberly Brick Company. The largest was for 150,000 brick for the new General Motors building, at Thirty-second and Market streets, Wilmington, being erected by the Paul Cantara Company. Oberly Brick Company will also supply its products for the new wing being added to the Home for the Little Sisters of the Poor, at Fourth street and Grant avenue, under construction by John E. Healy and Sons. The company has also started shipment of Colonial brick to be used on the new fraternity house for the Sigma Nu fraternity, at the University of Delaware.

PORK SAUSAGE SALES

Although the present fall weather has been warm and considered unseasonable, there has been a wide demand for the all-pork sausage manufactured by the Beste Provision Company, at the foot of Liberty street, Wilmington. Until a few years ago, such sales were comparatively few, but officials of the company feel that its product, made right and properly handled, is just as appetizing in warm weather as during the winter months. In view of the present market, the Beste Provision Company is expecting to break all records in this food delicacy sales this season.

The fall has brought a return of quite a few of those who think that this season of the year is the best.

So many city people always looked on the summer time as meaning the country. However, the perfection of the automobile has taught a large number of the glories of the autumn season.

Hallowe'en is only the beginning.

"AGITATOR" ABUSES
FORD RADIATOR IN TEST

In the Highland Park plant of the Ford Motor Company, at Detroit, there is a machine which tries with all the efficient fierceness of an engine of destruction, to shake the life out of a Ford automobile radiator in the shortest possible time.

Ten hours is the time allotted to this machine, known as an "agitator," to do all within its power to ruin a water-filled Ford radiator. At the end of that period the much abused radiator is taken off the machine and examined by experts for any signs of damage and a brand new Ford radiator, also filled with water, is put on for another ten hours of torment.

This agitator device is part of the testing equipment for radiators that are being built for the new Model "A" Ford car. When you watch it jiggling and jolting and shaking the gurgling radiator, you have a feeling that no automobile driver could drive a car over roads and at a speed which would give it such a severe shaking up and still hold on to his wheel and his seat. Then the factory foreman tells you that within the period of ten hours this agitator gives the new radiator more and severer jars and jolts than the average Ford car will get in its whole lifetime of service.

And he tells you also that the great majority of radiators tested on this agitator come through the ordeal without a sign of injury. Those that spring even the smallest leaks are rare indeed.

Then the foreman takes you through the radiator factory and shows you why this is so. He shows you that every part of the radiator which is touched by water is made of either copper or brass, which will not rust and which will resist corrosion to a high degree. He shows you also that the construction of the entire radiator is rugged and strong—parts welded and soldered together in such a manner that engine vibration and road jars cannot shake them apart.

To make sure that the finished radiator is free from leaks or potential leaks, as soon as it comes off the assembly line it is given a severe compressed air test. Filled with air under high pressure and sealed, the radiator is submerged in a tank of water. If there is the slightest sign of bubbles, due to escaping air, the radiator is thrown out as faulty.

The foreman points out to you also the features of this new Ford radiator which make it an unusually efficient unit of the cooling system. The upper and lower tanks are large. The openings through which the water flows from the tanks into the radiator tubes are bell-shaped, thus providing faster flow and faster circulation of the water. The tubes of copper and the flow of brass permit very rapid radiation of the heat and therefore quicker cooling.

Throughout the radiator of the new Ford car has been built in keeping with the greater power, speed and durability of the Model "A" Ford.

NEWARK TRIMS DUPONT, 13-0

Avenges Previous Defeat By Outplaying du Pont From Whistle To Whistle

Last Friday afternoon an improved Newark High School team decisively avenged a defeat the week before at the hands of the du Pont High School. Newark played du Pont on the du Pont field, Friday, and won with ease, 13 to 0. The score gives small indication of Newark's superiority, as it only allowed du Pont three first downs, and should have scored at least four touchdowns. The previous Saturday, du Pont had defeated Newark, at Newark, 18 to 12. This puts du Pont and Newark in a tied position in the Northern D. I. A. A., and if Newark wins from Dover, at Dover, this Friday, the championship will probably be decided in a third game between du Pont and Newark.

Newark won the toss and elected to receive. Using straight line bucking tactics Newark advanced the ball steadily to du Pont's 4-yard line, where Newark tried two trick plays which failed to click, and lost the ball on downs. du Pont kicked out of danger. The second period opened with the ball in du Pont's possession, and they advanced it a short distance into Newark's territory. However, the rally was quickly checked and Newark took the ball and again pushed it steadily up to du Pont's 4-yard line, where the local boys lost it on a fumble.

The first half was featured by Newark's diversified attack. Carelessness lost Newark two touchdowns, which it should have had. During the half, their intricate passes were completed. Smith to Edmondson.

During the third period, "Rip" Smith, Newark's triple threat quarterback, ran the ends ragged, while Frank Mayer tore ragged holes in the du Pont line. With the ball on du Pont's 25-yard line, Smith circled right end and took it over for the first score. Holloway missed the kick for extra point.

In the last period Newark kept possession of the ball almost entirely, and Frank Mayer smashed through the left side of du Pont's line for ten yards and the second touchdown. The extra point was made with a pass, Smith to "Winnie" Mayer.

"Rip" Smith and Frank Mayer did most of the offensive execution, and worked together beautifully. Holloway paved the way for many a gain through the line by opening up ahead of the ball carrier. The line play was featured by the defensive work of Captain "Winnie" Mayer, and Barrow at center. Mr. Gillespie, who had been ill, was back last week and had his team groomed for some very smooth football. Lineup:

Newark du Pont
V. Mayer right end Betty
Holloway right tackle Maible
Schwartz right guard Lee
Barrow center Geary
Gallagher right guard Goodwin
Milliken right guard Ball
Smith quarterback Cleland

U. OF D. FIGHTS GREAT BATTLE

Outgames Rutgers In First Half, But Finally Crum-
ples To Lose 34-0

The University of Delaware football team suffered its fourth straight defeat, Saturday, when it went to New Brunswick to meet the annual football deficit. Financially Delaware scored, for 6900 people paid to watch a heavier and better conditioned Rutgers team pound and buffet a slight but gallant Blue and Gold line, until it crumpled in the last quarter. Rutgers scored in the first period, the result of a Delaware fumble; scored again in the third, and pushed over three touchdowns in the final quarter. The final score was 34 to 0.

Delaware kicked off to Rutgers to open the game and then held its ponderous opponents for downs, forcing a kick. After an exchange of punts, Delaware had the ball on its 10-yard line. On the first play diJoseph fumbled and Rutgers recovered. Cronin, Rutgers' fullback, took the ball over in two smashes at the line. With blood drawn against them, the Blue and Gold eleven flew into the big Rutgers' team and outplayed and outplayed it for the remainder of the first half. During the second period, Delaware uncorked a surprising offensive that gained several first downs. Warren and Hubert bore the brunt of the carrying task and knifed the Rutgers line for repeated gains. In addition to this Hubert gained ground for Delaware in exchanging punts. Kane, potent Delaware ground for Delaware in exchanging gains. In addition to this Hubert gained ground for Delaware in exchanging punts. Kane, potent Delaware ware tackle, was injured in the second period and was removed from the game. This weakened the right side of the Delaware line.

Delaware appeared somewhat weakened in the third quarter by the continued hammering of the left Scarlet forwards, but still fought valiantly. Greenberg, who had replaced Cronin at fullback for Rutgers, ran the ends ragged and accounted for another score.

In the last period the Blue and Gold line finally succumbed, but went down fighting. Rutgers paraded through for three touchdowns.

Couch Rothrock made many substitutions in the last half, which, while they undoubtedly saved exhausted men from injury, hurt the morale of the team which shoulder to shoulder had been putting up such a game fight.

This Saturday, Delaware meets its traditional rival, Swarthmore, at Swarthmore, and hopes to break its record of not having scored this season. Lineup:

"Don't you think these eggs are rather small?" commented the young housewife critically.

"Perhaps," answered the grocer, "but that's the kind the farmers sent me this morning."

"I understand," said the shopper. "That's just the trouble with some farmers. They're so eager to get the eggs to market that they take them off the nest too soon."—Epworth Herald.

CHORAL SOCIETY PARTY
VERY GAY AFFAIR

The costume dance and concert, given by the Choral Society of the Newark New Century Club, last evening, was a very successful affair. The decorations were very appropriate to the Halloween season.

The judges for the prizes for costumes, the ex-presidents of the Century in attendance last evening, were Mrs. A. T. Neale, Mrs. R. W. Heim, Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson, Miss Frances Hurd, Mrs. W. E. Holton, and Mrs. E. B. Wright. Mr. James Hastings made the announcements, in a very witty manner. The costumes were all so beautiful that the judges experienced difficulty in making the final decisions. Mrs. J. M. Barnes, representing "Day," received the prize for the best costume for women; Mrs. Lester Scotten, a very attractive Pierrette, was voted the prettiest costume; the funniest, Mrs. C. W. Dunlevy. Of the men, Prof. H. L. Dozier, as a Spanish Bull-fighter, won the prize for the best costume, and Dr. C. W. Dunlevy, the funniest.

The concert, as are all the Choral Society offerings, was very good; Dr. Ryden, with his solo parts, especially pleasing all. Confetti and streamers added to the merriment of the evening; the dancing seemed to be particularly enjoyable to all. Mrs. J. O. G. Duffy was chairman of the affair, and supervised all the arrangements.

CHURCH NIGHT

Church Night was held Monday night at the Newark Presbyterian Church in the new Sunday school building. Music was furnished by the Newark High School Band. A. D. Cobb sang several selections, accompanied by Miss Nell Wilson. The Rev. R. B. Mathews and the Rev. Harvey W. Ewing, both of Newark, addressed the congregation, and several out of town speakers were present. Among these were: the Rev. Irving Wagner, of Elkton; the Rev. Charles Blake, of Red Clay Creek; Dr. W. E. Smith, of Olivet, Wilmington; Moderator of the Presbytery, and Mr. Earl Dawson of the Methodist Church, who took the place of the Rev. Disston W. Jacobs, who was unable to be present.

This meeting was held as a means of bringing all of the local and surrounding churches closer together. After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed at which ice cream and cake were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the church.

POULTRY CALENDARS

The poultry calendars for 1929 are being distributed this week from the office of County Agent Ed Willim, Jr., of Newark. Any one wanting one of the calendars can have one by applying to Mr. Willim for one.

These calendars have been prepared by Mr. H. S. Palmer, Poultry Specialist. They contain a cardboard sheet for each month of the year. On each page are found suggestions on feeding, housing and other management problems incident to that month. Also on the front of each monthly page is a ruled space for each day's egg receipts. On the back of each page ruled spaces are found where the poultryman may keep records of feed and other expenses.

The poultryman receiving the calendar is asked to send in to Mr. Palmer his monthly egg report. These reports are summarized and results sent to each one possessing a calendar.

Last year about 35 poultrymen in New Castle County had these calendars and it is hoped that any one who wants one this year will get in touch with the county agent at Newark and secure his copy.

ware politics. As war-time Governor from 1917 to 1921 his administration was marked by more constructive legislation than that of any recent Governor. It stands as a veritable turning point in Delaware's progress. This fact may readily be appreciated through a consideration of a few of the outstanding legislative accomplishments of his administration.

"When Governor Townsend took the oath of office, there were nineteen miles of concrete highway in the State, situated in Sussex County. Realizing the need of good roads the Governor in his inaugural address recommended the creation of a state-wide system of hard-surface highways, which recommendation was carried out by the Legislature in the enactment in 1917 of a law creating the State Highway Commission of Delaware, a statute which has served as a model for states throughout the country. Governor Townsend appointed Coleman du Pont a member of the first Highway Commission, thereby obtaining the interest and ability of one of the country's most noted engineers.

From this beginning Delaware's highway system has increased until today we have over 700 miles of hard-surface roads. All centers of population in the State are connected by broad straight highways which are the pride of Delawareans and the admiration of visitors. These highways have been of incalculable benefit in eliminating rural isolation, in facilitating the marketing of farm products, and in adding to the ease and pleasure of all who have occasion to use them. Our State Highway system is a splendid accomplishment, and it seems fitting to recall at this time that it had its inception during the administration of the man who is now the Republican nominee for United States Senator.

"In 1927 Delaware was among the most backward States in the Union in rural education. In his inaugural address Governor Townsend stressed the need for a new State system of education and better pay for teachers, and during the first year of his administration approved an act creating a school commission to study, revise and unify the school laws and to work out an efficient system of public instruction for the State. The following year the Legislature passed a bill creating a new school code for the State in accordance with the recommendations of that commission. This legislation marked the beginning of a new era in rural education in Delaware. The little red school house, but a memory in this State. Its place has been taken by modern fireproof schools built to conform to the educational thought in the country, and staffed by competent well-paid instructors. Governor Townsend vigorously championed the legislation which has brought Delaware to the forefront in the educational world.

"Governor Townsend, at the beginning of his administration, called attention to the need for the placing of state finances upon a sounder basis and recommended the adoption of a budget system. His recommendation was accepted by the Legislature in the first year of his administration through the passage of an act creating a budget system for the appropriation of State money. Some idea of the improvement in the finances of the State may be had from the fact that when Governor Townsend took office the cash balance of the State was in round numbers $210,000.00 as compared with a balance of $1,785,000.00 at the end of his administration despite large emergency expenses due to the world war. This balance has since grown under Republican administration until it is now approximately $6,700,000.

"During Governor Townsend's administration, more laws and more effective laws in the interests of women and children were put on the statute books of Delaware than in all previous history. In 1918 the Governor called a special session of the Legislature to create a council of defense to cooperate with the National Government in the conduct of war work. The effectiveness of the work done under this legislation was recognized by the late Secretary of the Interior, Franklin K. Lane, who publicly and personally complimented Governor Townsend and his Secretary of State for the highest distinction of state work.

"There is no better way of judging the future than by the past. John G. Townsend has served the State with ability and distinction and he may be relied upon to so serve the State and nation in the United States Senate. His record he merits the support of every well-thinking citizen of Delaware."

WHITEMAN'S BAND CHANGES

The Greatest Orchestra Leader in the Country Joins New Organization

Paul Whiteman, the jazz king of the world, is now a director in the Columbia Phonograph Company. This means another great scoop for the Columbia records, as from now on, he will be heard on the Columbia records.

The MacAbee Piano Company of 21st and Seventh streets, Wilmington, the Columbia agency for this section, reports that the public are expressing assurance in being able to secure Paul Whiteman on Columbia records.

Mr. Thomas, Mr. MacAbee and his wife, Mrs. Margaret J. MacAbee, have had over eleven years of experience in the phonograph business. They have seen the phonograph come from the old horn and music box to the perfection now offered by Columbia-Kolster Vivatone, electric reproducing phonograph. The change when looking back over it, is really marvelous.

During this period, the MacAbee Piano Company steadily progressed. In the past three years they have more than doubled their business. One wonders just what caused this. Was it the location? Perhaps this accounts for some of it. The store is just around the corner from Market street, and again just around the corner from King street, and the country people sure do like music. But the real reason for this growth is accounted for by the pleasant atmosphere and the courteous treatment everyone receives that enters the store, plus the high merchandise and service. Mr. MacAbee is always ready to give his personal attention to any trouble which a customer may encounter, whether on a radio, piano, or phonograph.

The MacAbee Piano Company carries a full line of Kolster Radios, the New Columbia Vivatone talking machines, Columbia records, and a complete stock of all needed repair parts. They also have mechanics that have had years of experience in making repairs on all instruments.

They recommend the following as being the latest records:

1. The Sidewalks of New York; Old Time Waltzes.
2. Roses of Yesterday; Blue Night.
3. It Goes Like This (That Funny Melody); Half-Way to Heaven.
4. For Old Times' Sake; You're the One (I've Seen in My Dreams).
5. Dirty Hands! Dirty Face!; The Little Brown Shoe.

HOME AGENT OFFERS HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS

Mrs. Daugherty Gives Hints for the Homemaker's Use in the Kitchen

Mrs. Kate Henley Daugherty, County Home Demonstration Agent of New Castle County, offers the following helpful suggestions to the homemakers.

Magic Pastry sets that sell for 85 cents is a wonderful aid in making good biscuit or pastry, but a good substitute, and one that is much less expensive can be had by removing the feet from a child's white ribbed stockings, the kind you can buy in the ten-cent store, and slip one of the legs over the rolling pin. This prevents the sticking of the moist dough. For the same reason use art canvas for a rolling board, the kind that sells for from 29 to 34 cents a yard. One yard makes two boards. They are easily laundered, but can be used a long time without laundering. After using them they can be folded in half and rolled around the rolling pin and put away. They require practically no storage space. By making the pastry sets yourself, the total cost of two sets should not exceed 50 cents and the extra set can be given to some friend for a Christmas gift.

Try rubbing your cheese through a wire sieve instead of grating it. It takes but little time if a substantial spoon assists. The cheese comes through the wire mesh in charming yellow shreds. Mounds of these are much more appealing as a garnish than the customary cheese balls and no hand touches the shreds.

Add a few drops of lemon juice to your pastry and see if it will not be more crisp and flaky.

To prevent under crust of custard or pumpkin pie from becoming soggy, brush a little egg white over the pastry after it has been fitted into the pie pan, chill for several hours, then pour the filling in and bake.

Too much water makes pastry tough. This is why the flour and fat should be mixed with only enough ice water to make a dough that will roll.

Pastry should cook so rapidly that the flour has no chance to become oily. In heating canned foods the flavor is best retained when the unopened can is heated in boiling water.

Instead of greasing your cake pans, cut plain wrapped paper to fit the bottom of the pan. After the cake is done loosen this a bit around the edges and it comes out beautifully, whether the cake is hot or cold. With regular oiled paper one finds it almost impossible to remove once the cake is cooled.

Cake that is cooled on a cake cooler or wire cooling rack will not have a soggy bottom. To keep the cake from sticking to the rack, allow it to stand five minutes before removing from the pan.

To prevent meringue from becoming tough and beads of syrup from forming on top, bake in a slow oven.

It is always well to remember that the more eggs one uses in any food the lower the temperature should be in baking.

When creaming shortening it will be a much easier task to first put it through the potato ricer especially if the shortening is very hard.

To keep the stove clean when frying fish or meat that should not be covered, place an inverted colander over the skillet. This will prevent the spattering of grease and yet allow the steam to escape.

NEW OFFICERS FOR ANCHOR LODGE

Grand Officers Visit Local A. O. U. W. Thursday Night

Installation of officers for the next term attracted a large crowd of members to the meeting of Anchor Lodge, No. 4, Ancient Order of United Workmen, last Thursday evening. The lodge room on the second floor of Fraternal hall was filled to overflowing, and much interest was manifested in the rapid growth of this order in Newark.

The opening exercises were presided over by Master Workman Mrs. Marguerite Balling. A short recess was taken before the installation ceremonies, which were open to admit a number of visitors. A party of Grand Lodge officers, headed by Grand Master Workman Howard F. McCall, was present. The Grand Master appointed Grand Recorder Charles B. Prettyman chief installation officer, and he was assisted by other Grand Lodge officers.

The officers installed were: Past Master Workman, Mrs. Marguerite Frazer; Foreman, Miss Edith Jackson; Overseer, Miss Elizabeth Lindell; Overseer, Miss Elizabeth Lindell; Guide, Miss Alice Fell; Recorder and Financier, Robert J. Crow; Treasurer, Mrs. Jane Devonshire; Inside Watch, Lewis Fell; Outside Watch, George Graynor.

After the installation, a number of short addresses were made. Grand Recorder Prettyman, Grand Past Master Workman H. S. Lawton, and Grand Field Manager Joseph T. Smith talked very interestingly of their recent trip to the sessions of the Supreme Lodge, at Fargo, N. D.

Master Workman McCall, in his address, invited Anchor Lodge to a banquet to be given November 15, in Wilmington, as part of the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the A. O. U. W. Grand Guide E. C. Clark also spoke. Others in the Grand Lodge party were Mrs. Joseph T. Smith and Miss Mabel Mayhew.

Deputy Field Manager Price Jackson, of this place, was congratulated upon the recent addition of about fifteen members to Anchor Lodge. He announced that he had many more prospects.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Lodge Notes

K. OF P.

Oscola Lodge, No. 5, Knights of Pythias, opened their winter activities on Monday evening with a get-together meeting at which the Pythian Sisters were invited and a large crowd was on hand. Brother A. T. Abernathy, of Cherry Hill, Md., made the principal address of the evening, after which a social time was spent in playing "Beano." The lady's prize was won by Miss Sara Marham, and the gentleman's by Frank H. Balling. At a late hour refreshments were served.

PYTHIAN SISTERS

On last Friday evening Friendship Temple No. 6 held their annual supper which was attended by a large crowd, and the ladies are very grateful for the support given by their friends.

Next Friday evening Captain Ramsey expects all members of the degree team to be on hand, so as to get in shape for the coming months, when it is expected a large number of candidates will be taken in.

K. G. E.

Ivy Castle, No. 23, K. G. E., will initiate a large class of candidates Saturday night, making the second initiation within the past few weeks. This is the result of a new membership drive that has attracted many of the young men of the community who have become eager to partake of the social attractions offered by the order. One of the social features is a quait tournament which is in progress now. The newly organized degree team of Ivy Castle will conduct Saturday's initiation for which they have been drilling zealously.
