

Model World Conference Places Still Open For All Applicants

Urge Immediate Enrollment Of All Delaware College Men Interested

Dr. J. S. Gould, head of the Economics Department, has announced that the Model World Economic Conference will be held in Mitchell Hall on May 9. The purpose of the Conference is the stimulation of student interest in, and knowledge of, world affairs. It will also acquaint with the machinery of international conventions.

All places are now open to students of both colleges. Students who wish to be delegates or publicity agents for the conference are urged to see Dr. Gould or Mr. Weirs, or to sign up on the lists posted in Recitation Hall. All students taking part in the Conference will be excused from classes for that day.

A joint meeting of Men's College and Women's College students will be held on Monday for all those interested. Three delegates will be selected for each nation and a chairman will be chosen to preside over the entire meeting. There will be two commissions to study Monetary and Financial Reconstruction and International Trade Barriers. The chairman of the Conference will appoint a preparatory committee consisting of the chairman, a secretary-general, the chairman of the two committees, and the faculty advisors.

The Conference procedure will be as follows:

At 9.00 a. m. there will be a meeting of the Preparatory Committee. Each commission will meet from 10.00 to 11.40. A public meeting will be held in Mitchell Hall at 11.40 to which all students are invited. Here the delegates will discuss the questions raised by the first commission. Delegates will sit in the center seats of the orchestra and the various nations will be indicated by placards. Outsiders will sit in the balcony and aisle seats. The chairman will open the Conference with an address in English and translate in French, as is done in all international conferences, because these are the two official languages.

George Thompson, 'Eva' Mannsberger New Class Heads

Junior And Sophomore Classes
Choose Presidents For Next School Year

George Thompson was chosen next president of the Class of 1934 in an apathetic election on Monday, April 17. Thompson is a varsity football and baseball player and has also been prominent in all other activities on the campus. The election was decided on the second ballot, after all candidates except Alvin Handloff and Henry Brady had been eliminated.

On the other hand, the election for president of next year's Junior class was fraught with excitement. After trailing Solomon Jasper through the earlier balloting, Walter "Eva" Mannsberger emerged the winner by a large majority on the fourth ballot. "Eva" has been a football and basketball man and a member of the Student Council.

College Hr. Speaker Says War On June 4

H. C. Jaquith Gives Date As Set
In Various Balkan Nations
For War

"The Balkans and World Peace" was the topic of an address given at College Hour, April 18, by Mr. Jaquith, Executive Director of the Near East Foundation.

Mr. Jaquith said that the people in the Balkans believe that another war will break out June 4, between Yugoslavia and Albania. He continued to state that Yugoslavia is backed by France and Albania is supported, both economically and politically, by Italy. If war breaks out between these two, both France and Italy will be drawn in.

In understanding the Balkans, people must realize that they were a part of the Ottoman empire until a few decades ago. By this time the people were so accustomed to war that they continued on from a force of habit. Since the time of the Balkan independence the large countries of Europe have looked upon them as pawns in the game of diplomacy. The people of the Balkans are beginning to realize this and have started a Balkan Conference and have already held three meetings.

Kay Kayser's Band At Spring Frolic

Versatile Recording Artists To Be Feature Of Annual Dance

Get happy, people, and forget the depression because Kay Kayser is coming to town to play at the Spring Frolic, April 28.

This highly versatile orchestra has enjoyed a long and successful career, being fondly regarded as the "Pride of the South." At present they are fulfilling a season's engagement at the New Kenmore Hotel, Albany, New York. They are heard nightly over station WGY and twice weekly over a large network of NBC stations.

A Southern band, offering many unusual and diversified novelties, Kay Kayser was featured at the exclusive Tar Heel Club at North Carolina. Following a long engagement there they were called to the discriminating Hotel New Yorker, replacing Bernie Cummins and his orchestra. Last year Kay was featured for an entire season at the Penn Harris Hotel in Harrisburg.

Chairman of orchestras, Allan Kemski has had the personal guarantee of the NBC Artists' Agency that Kay Kayser's original band and best supporting artists will appear at the Spring Frolic, which is to be held at the Newark Armory.

Tickets will go on sale April 20 and may be purchased from any member of the Student Council. The admission price will be $2.25 (tax included).

Student Council To Sponsor New Idea--Fathers' Day

Experienced Actors In 'Doll's House' Cast

Able Cast For E-52 Vehicle To Feature Many Who Have Made Marks

On Thursday evening, May 4th, the E-52 Players, under the direction of Professor C. R. Kase, will close the college dramatic season by presenting Henrik Ibsen's "A Doll's House," on the Mitchell Hall stage.

Campus theater goers who remember "Liliom" will be glad to hear that Miss Catherine Broad is to play the leading part of Nora. Miss Broad's exquisite characterization of Julie, though now relegated to the "past" of last year's performances, is still remembered and commented upon with pleasure, but the cast and crew of "A Doll's House" feel that Miss Broad's Nora will gloriously top her dramatic experiences during the four years she has played to a delighted audience on this campus.

Mr. Harvey Maguigan, who read the lines of the Poet so splendidly in "The Cradle Song"—(in fact a stranger in town, utterly convinced that so much fervor could come only from the author himself, congratulated Mr. Maguigan on his abilities as a playwright)—is to play opposite Miss Broad, in the role of Torvald. Mr. Maguigan is perfectly at home on the platform whether in the interests of recitation, dramatics, or forensics. He represented Wilmington High School as an accomplished debater in Delaware and outside the State on the debating team, and has represented the University on the platform. One has reason to feel that he will offer a very finished piece of acting in the role of Torvald.

Mr. T. Willy Keithly is cast as the kindly but cynical Dr. Rank. Mr. Keithly began his dramatic work on this campus as a competent stage-hand, but having been cast in "The Importance of Being Earnest," which the E-52 Players broadcasted through station WDEL some years ago, Mr. Keithly showed such ability as an actor that for "A Doll's House" he has been chosen to fill an important place in the cast.

The part of Nils Krogstad, the technical villain, is filled by Mr. Thomas Hanaway. Opposite him, Miss Deiser, the Sister Joanna of the "Cradle Song," is cast in the part of Mrs. Linde, Nora's childhood friend and confidante. Miss Harrington will play the part of the Nurse, and Miss Viola Phillips is cast as the Maid. Thomas Dowling, upon whose able shoulders the practical responsibilities of many a play have rested, will be the Porter.

This cast, carefully directed by Mr. Kase, has not only been at work on lines and stage business, but also, seated in a circle on the Mitchell Hall stage, in the late afternoons, has been seriously studying the play itself in an effort to offer the public the very best interpretation of Ibsen that is possible.

Also Announce That Non-Frat S.
C. Members To Supervise
New Elections

The man who makes it possible for each individual on this campus to enjoy the comforts of the "frat" house, to partake of the character-building knocks of the athletic fields, and to occasionally treat to a famous De Luxe coca-cola the most captivating W. C. D. representative available, while incidentally absorbing the culture of a college education has at last come into his own.

Fathers! Your sons want to reward you. They want to show their appreciation for the patient and kind manner in which you have guided them, since the first time they were able to wail out the word "Da-da."

This week the student body decided to celebrate a Fathers' Day, in honor of the fathers of all the students at Delaware College. We shall devote this day entirely to showing our fathers that their efforts to make worthwhile men of us all are heartily appreciated. This is one day, pop, when we're going to treat you royally. No whining for a buck to go to the movies on that day; no complaining about the grudge which these teachers down here seem to hold against your darling son; on Fathers' Day, all our troubles are to be forgotten. Never mind how we're making out, we want to be sure that you are happy. It is our turn to be the entertainers now.

Come on down! We'll have a baseball game, if your arm hasn't become too rusty; a swimming meet, perhaps, or any other kind of sporting event in which you think

"GETTING IN PART"

The Players were rehearsing "A Doll's House," chez Mr. Kase the other evening. They started on page one and got to page four when the Professor said:

"Go back, Nora, you can't throw your voice properly sitting on a low couch."

Nora reluctantly moved to a straight back chair.

They began again.

"Go back," said the Professor. "Torvald . . ." and various directions were given.

Mrs. Linde, still waiting to enter on page eight, sighed.

The rehearsal went on, with minute attention to facial expression and gesture. Page eight was reached, and Nora said "How do you do" to an unresponsive Mrs. Linde.

"Mrs. Linde!" shouted director and cast, and Mrs. Linde blinked, yawned and grabbed a book.

"Mrs. Linde," said the Professor severely, "why should this very interesting play put you to sleep?"

"It didn't," said Mrs. Linde calmly. "The stage directions say that Mrs. Linde looks tired and worn out. I was just trying to get in part."

"Mrs. Linde," admonished the director, "a good actress never overdoes her part!"

SEDITION

Our "enlightened" legislature gave another example of its extremely reactionary tendencies last week, when the lower House passed Representative McCabe's Oath Bill. This is the same "Sedition" Bill that was under considerable discussion at the last session of the Legislature and was vetoed by Governor Buck. Among the details of the bill are a special oath for all teachers and professors in state-supported and state-aided institutions and also a sentence of one thousand dollars fine, a year in jail, and dismissal from the position held, for a violation of this oath.

The learned gentlemen of the Legislature spoke of a Communist plot to overthrow the United States government. We would like to suggest to the Legislature that more harm is done the United States by such unnecessary and vicious acts than by any of the so-called "propaganda" feared by Representative Hamilton Fish of New York and his cohorts, who cry "Wolf! Wolf!" upon the slightest provocation. The reason is that sensible people disregard the ravings of radicals, but are enraged by the treatment of matters affecting our intellectual freedom.

We have a heritage of freedom in the matters of thought. America and her predecessors had always looked with disdain upon any attempts to stifle the press or free thinking. Milton's Areopagitica is an immortal plea for freedom of the press. How much more important and vital is freedom of mind! Even before the Revolution, the American colonies were roused by Andrew Hamilton's stirring plea for freedom of the press and of freedom of the mind. The Sedition Law of John Adam's Administration helped to mark the death knell of the anywise ill-fated Federal Party.

Had such action been taken by our Solons in time of some great emergency or crisis, it may have been pardonable. But to cold-bloodedly clamp a muzzle on Academic Freedom with no justification, except the figment of a sensationalist's imagination is unjustifiable. More than that it is unpardonable and essentially un-American!

EXAMINATIONS AND THE HONOR SYSTEM

Warm weather is a harbinger of varied tidings. With spring breezes, also draw near thoughts of June and examinations. Examinations—the bane of the existence of undergraduate and professor alike. Examinations—the reason why our Honor System is not the success we would like it to be. When combatting a disease, one must fight not only the disease itself, but also the environment that causes the disease. The Honor System is not an unqualified success, not because it is the innate nature of students to cheat, but because there is too much at stake to expect the average man not to cheat.

Why must a three hour examination on a sticky, hot day in June count for practically the entire grade of a student? In the case of an Engineering student, a failure in one such examination means, of necessity, the spending of another year in college. Is this just? Is such an examination just? No—a three hour examination can in only very exceptional cases test a knowledge of the entire course—it requires in most cases a knowledge of the professor rather than of the course. It places a premium on the fine art of "cramming" and cheating. Practically every professor could make out his list of grades before the final examination and not be unfair to the student. A series of tests during the semester would do far more to bring out a student's knowledge of a course than a three hour "grind" when he is under great pressure.

Then again, a system of exemptions would rebound greatly to the benefit of student and professor. There would be some incentive to do extra work if a student knew that an "85" or "90" average would release him from the inquisition of a final examination. The professor would find less apathy in class and we venture to predict that there would be an astonishing improvement in scholastic standings at the University.

To make ourselves clear, we repeat—we do not necessarily advocate the abolition of examinations, but we would like to see them relegated to their proper proportion of a student's grade and not made two-thirds or three-fourths of it. A third should be the maximum proportion of an examination in the final mark.

"If this be treason, make the most of it."

Model World Conference Places Still Open

In the afternoon, at 2.00, the delegates on the second commission will meet and prepare their discussion until 4.30, when the meeting will again be thrown open to the public.

It is hoped that an outside speaker will close the Conference with a public address in the evening.

Similar conferences have been held with great success at other colleges, including Dartmouth, Cornell, Rutgers, and Lehigh. It is necessary to have the cooperation of a large number of students and all interested are urged to sign up at once.

Student Council To Sponsor New Idea

you can still give us some pointers.

Note to Students:—Nothing definite has been arranged yet. Fathers' Day will probably be held on some convenient Saturday. If any student has any suggestions regarding activities on that day address them to C. H. Rice, president of the Student Council.

The Student Council would like to remind those students who are not members of any fraternity that elections will soon be held for Student Council representatives from the non-fraternity group from the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes.

James Hoopes, Francis Lambert and Max Mayer will be in charge of these elections. Notice of the date available will soon be posted.

Gleanings

Freshman rules and customs have been abolished for one year at Franklin and Marshall College because there seemed to be no way of enforcing them. It is thought in campus circles that the action taken will arouse the college next year to the realization of a need for Frosh customs.

Notes From Other Colleges

New York (IP)—Teaching is still the favorite profession of American girls, according to a poll taken recently by the Girl Scouts.

Of 10,575 girls between the ages of 11 and 18 interviewed by the organization, 9,962 said they expected to support themselves. Sixty-four per cent of them wanted professional careers, and the majority planned to become teachers. Nursing came second in popularity in a list which included writing, dancing, window dressing, interior decorating, newspaper work and acting in the movies.

Princeton, N. J. (IP)—

"And from ye race of Poes,

Good Lord, deliver us."

Thus ended a bit of satirical verse written some years ago by a Princeton poet representing a Yale man in prayer.

The Yale man had good reason thus to pray. For two decades the six Poe brothers had brought fame to Princeton and destruction to her enemies on the football field.

On a November afternoon in 1882 S. Johnson Poe scored a touchdown for Princeton against Columbia and thus opened a page in football history that is almost without parallel.

He was the first of the Poe brothers. Last week he died in Washington. Now there are only four of the brothers left. John Prentice Poe died in France in 1915 as he was going over the top.

It is called Numero, and it's a sort of mathematical form of anagrams, with figures instead of letters. The results are mathematical equations instead of words.

Figures are printed on white cardboard on only one side and are drawn from the "pool" as letters are in anagrams.

Signs like plus and minus, however, are printed on another color and on both sides, so that the player can choose which one he wants.

Here is the kind of equation that might result in the game:

Ann Arbor, Mich (IP)—What is it that gives you that extra bit of energy for split-second action in time of emergency?

According to Dr. Jacob Sacks of the department of pharmacology at the University of Michigan, it comes from the quick chemical break-down of so-called animal starch stored in the muscles.

This fast break-down, he says, is similar to the choking of an automobile to give it that quick response before the vacuum tank and carburetor—the lungs and heart in man—buckle down to their job.

Normally, he says, the muscles do their work by burning lactic acid with the oxygen in the blood stream.

But occasionally the body must move very quickly during a short period of time, requiring energy faster than oxygen can be carried to the muscle tissues. In these emergencies, Dr. Sacks says, glycogen, or animal starch stored in the muscles, undergoes two quick chemical break-downs.

One gives lactic acid in large amounts. Another gives hexosephosphate, a glycogen and phosphorus compound, he says. Energy sufficient for short but violent exertion is the by-product of both processes. But if the extra stress keeps up, the heart has time to increase its rate of beating and to pump more oxygen-charged blood to the muscles so that they can keep on with the work imposed on them.

Johns Hopkins Defeats University Of Delaware Track And Field Team

Carey And Cavalli Star For Losers

Johns Hopkins University defeated the University of Delaware track and field team last Saturday in Baltimore, 68 1-3 to 57 2-3. This marked the opening of the Blue Hen track campaign and the results of the meet show great possibilities for Rogers' squad this year.

Bill Carey and Ralph Cavalli won five of the six first places garnered by the Blue and Gold track team, while "Stretch" Pohl and "Charlie" Knight tied for first in the pole vault.

Carey won three first places for the home squad by copping the shotput, javelin, and discus events. He set a new Delaware record in the shotput when he heard the shot 40 ft. and 10 in.

Cavalli again seems to be the Blue Hen dash ace. He won both the 100 and 220-yard dash events in exceptionally fast times for this early in the season.

"Stretch" Pohl and "Charlie" Knight tied for first place in the pole vault. These points aided greatly in keeping Delaware in the running as the meet progressed. Lambert garnered a 2nd and a 3rd in the two dash events.

The next competition for the team participate in the Penn track meet will be April 28-29, when they participate in the Penna. relays.

Summaries:
120-yard high hurdles—Won by Brian, Hopkins; second, Coburn, Hopkins; third, Jones, Delaware. Time, 17 1-5 seconds.

Baseball Team Faces Washington College

Play Saturday Afternoon At Chestertown

Saturday afternoon "Doc" Doherty will take his team to Chestertown to face the strong Washington College nine. This will mark the first game played by the Blue Hen nine since their return from the South. The game scheduled with Osteopathy College of Philadelphia, was cancelled due to rain and will be played May 4.

"Lefty" Riley will probably get the pitching assignment against the Marylanders. Riley pitched two games on the southern trip, having only 3 runs scored against his delivery. "Big Ed" Thompson will handle Riley's slants. George Thompson at first, Captain Pikes at second, Tony Hudson at short, and Bill Barrow at third will handle the infield assignments while the outfield will be picked from Minner, Ford, O'Connell, Brady, and Mayer.

Due to weather conditions and the inter-class games the varsity has had little chance for practice since the Easter holidays but Doc hopes to get in some hard practice during the latter part of this week.

J. V.'s Meet Beacom Tomorrow Afternoon

The University of Delaware J. V. baseball team will play Johnny Naylor's Beacom combine tomorrow afternoon on Frazer Field. This will be the opening game of the season for both teams. The starting batteries have not as yet been announced.

THIS AND THAT

R. C. M.

Bill Carey proved that his reputation as a star track performer was unfounded. Last Saturday in Baltimore, Carey earned 15 points toward the Blue Hen cause. Although competing under bad conditions he succeeded in breaking the shot put record in his first meet. Due to a driving wind, his distance in the javelin was not very good, but in practice this week he has been hurling the spear well over 180 feet. The Delaware record in this event is 176 feet set by Dave Benson in 1925. It seems almost certain that this record will be erased before the present campaign is over.

Coach Jones' tennis aspirants are still being held up due to the condition of the courts. As the first meet is scheduled against Haverford on April 29, this condition is frowned on with dismay by Coach Jones. Five letter men will probably answer the first call for tennis candidates the latter part of this week. Those men who are eligible for tennis competition this year and who have earned their varsity letters are Capt. Heppie, "Jimmie" Brown, "Joe" Walsh, "Bill" Babcock, and "Jim" Hollis. Several new men have issued statements to the effect that these men must work hard to retain their positions on the team.

Who won the inter-class basketball championship? Who won the inter-class baseball championship. The same answer will take care of both questions. The Sophs! Yes, the Sophs. The O'Connell coached squad again showed their athletic superiority when they defeated the Junior baseball nine yesterday afternoon. A move is abroad to eliminate the Sophs and O'Connell from inter-class competition so the other three classes could have some fun. After all it is not much fun to have one class win everything.

The intra-mural swimming championships have been called off by Ed Bardo due to lack of interest. What's the matter—afraid of the water? ? ?

"Big Ed" Thompson, seeking his third varsity letter, "Billie" Barrow, and "Tony" Hudson have proved to "Doc" Doherty that their positions on the baseball team are well taken care of. Each of these three Freshmen played heads-up ball on the Southern baseball trip and barring accident should retain their positions for the next four years.

Ask "Tony" Hudson who his pal is and about that curve ball "Winnie" Mayer told him about? ? ?

Sophs Win Baseball Title From Juniors

Again the Class of 1935 proved their superiority over the other three classes when they defeated the Class of 1934 for the inter-class baseball crown by the score of 8-4. The Juniors had previously earned the right to play the Sophs by downing the Seniors while the second year men had thoroughly trounced the Freshmen.

Hurley, starting pitcher for the Juniors, was given poor support by his teammates and was therefore constantly in trouble. He was replaced in the fifth inning by Carlton who was given better support and consequently fared a little better.

"Bill" Garbutt had little trouble in setting the Juniors down at will. In the first inning he fanned all three men who faced him. "Charley" Caulk led the Soph batters, while Pohl and Burke hit well for the Juniors. "Smoky" Davis provided the fielding feature of the clash when he made a diving catch of a liner from the bat of Compton, the Sophs' shortstop.

Blue And Gold Golfers Down Swarthmore 4-2

Benton Cards Low Metal With 78

The University of Delaware golf team scored their second straight victory of the 1933 season when they defeated the Swarthmore College linksmen last Friday afternoon on the Rolling Green Country Club course by the score of 4-2.

Captain Benton and "Sadie" Tipka scored well for the Delaware linksmen turning in cards of 78 and 79 respectively. This is the second straight match in which Tipka has played his rounds under 80.

Tipka, Benton, and Charlie Pié of Delaware scored wins over Lewine, Finley, and Persons of Swarthmore. Each one of these matches were close throughout and the margin of victory in each was very slight. "Teddy" Wilson lost a tough battle to Donohower of Swarthmore. This was the only victory scored by the Garnetmen in the single matches.

In the doubles, Tipka teamed with Capt. Benton to nose out Lewine and Finley, 1 up. The other double match was won by Swarthmore when Persons and Donohower defeated Pié and Wilson, 3 and 1.

Classes in Courtship

Salt Lake City, Utah (IP)—Dr. E. E. Erickson, professor of philosophy at the University of Utah, has proposed the introduction of classes in courtship in all senior high schools in Utah.

"On the stage," he says, "love is the favorite butt of ribald jokes. In current superficial fiction it is handled lightly to make best sellers. The total result of this bungling manner of treating the deepest emotion of the human race is a vast ignorance and confusion."

Dr. Erickson's scientific courtship course would have three stages of approach:

1. Extensive acquaintanceship brought about through wholesome gatherings in schools and churches.

2. Intensive acquaintanceship during which young lovers develop a real interest in each other.

3. The stage between engagement and marriage which is "rich with emotions and during which there is a real intimacy between the two."

"It is unfair," Dr. Erickson continued, "to permit adolescent youth to encounter social situations with which he is utterly unable to cope. To throw him into dangers which nothing in his experience has taught him to recognize or avoid is the height of folly."

"Such situations conclude either with illicit relations or with ill-advised matrimony—marriages that are physically and temperamentally inharmonious and which terminate in divorce."

Princeton, N. J. (IP)—It was quite an experience while it lasted, and not a few on the Princeton Campus are really sorry to see it over with; but all things considered it appears to be better that Prince Prasob Nom Chow Sukhavati of Siam is no longer an undergraduate at Princeton University.

His royal highness quietly resigned from the university last week, which is about the best way the university authorities could put it.

He had cut rather a wide swath while here, what with having named the King of Siam as the person who would pay all his debts, and as Dean Christian Gauss diplomatically related:

"The prince was an oriental. He did not understand. No disciplinary action was taken. He was told he was not doing well here, he was not doing himself any good, and he resigned."

The most immediate result of the prince's departure will be the re-opening of the Campus Club, of which he had been an active member, under more subdued management.

The people who cry up war, the people who think we can go on without radical changes in our economic order for the sake of all the community, are not deliberately unrighteous, but they are stupid.—Harry Emerson Fosdick.

MILLS PROPOSES TO ABOLISH DISTINCTION BETWEEN CLASSES

Mills College, Calif. (NSFA)—The Associated Students of Mills College recently submitted a plan to the student body for the abolition of class designations, and the entire reorganization of campus social and government distinctions.

The new plan provides for a proportionate distribution of the four classes among the residence halls, the two lower classes to be known as the junior college and the two upper as the senior college. Students would be referred to in their graduating year as the Cap and Gown Class. Under this system the residence hall would be the unit of student government, and halls instead of classes would be identified by certain songs and colors. The plan is far reaching in its effect upon social regulations and undergraduate elections.

In commenting on the idea, Mrs. Victoria F. Allen, chairman of the residence council, said: "I believe entirely that the general trend toward making the halls a center of campus life is a move in the right directions. . . . Mills in its serious consideration of the plan is making a progressive step."

The recent student elections at St. Lawrence University were invalidated because, although only 465 ballots were handed out, 485 votes were cast.—Hill News.

N. S. F. A. DEBATE TEAM TO TOUR ENGLAND IN MAY

New York, N. Y. (NSFA)—Under the auspices of the National Student Federation, a two-man debate team will sail the last of April for a five weeks' tour of the English colleges and universities.

The members of the team are Frederic S. Anderson, a graduate of the University of Kansas, who received his law degree in 1932 from the University of Oklahoma, and Will C. Morris, who will receive his degree from the Texas University Law School in August. The questions they will debate deal with capitalism, the independence of India, communism in Russia and prohibition.

The trip is part of the annual debate program of the National Student Federation, which every Fall invites foreign teams to tour this country under its auspices. Among the English universities inviting the United States to send a team are Oxford, Cambridge, Bedford, King's, Birmingham, Aberystwyth, Nottingham, Sheffield, Leeds, Manchester, Durham, Armstrong and Reading. The debaters will receive hospitality from the colleges, and, over week-ends, in private homes.

Creighton University has a flourishing class for the training of radio announcers and speakers.—Creightonian.

Gleanings

Aroused by a bill recently brought before the North Carolina Legislature to reduce the state educational appropriation, the Daily Tar Heel is urging that students wire their parents to bring pressure to bear upon their senators so that the bill may be defeated.

Unemployed college graduates in New York have formed an organization to present their problems to government officials in an effort to create jobs for their members. Sponsors of the plan, according to the statement of the Executive Committee, include John Dewey, Norman Thomas, and Reinhold Niebuhr.—Colgate Maroon.

Ever smoke "whittle" tobacco?

Well... here it is... already whittled FOR you. Granger Rough Cut is tobacco whittled right... that's one reason why it burns so slow and cool.

WHEN we started to make Granger Rough Cut we knew that fine tobacco burnt hot because it burnt so fast. It kept your pipe hot. You could hardly hold your pipe in your hand, it got so hot at times.

Then we remembered that some folks back yonder used to "whittle" their tobacco. So we made GRANGER just like "whittle" tobacco — "Rough Cut." It smokes cooler and lasts a lot longer. And also, you'll find it never gums the pipe.

So far, so good. Now we wanted to sell this tobacco for 10c. Good tobacco—right process—cut right. It was a question of how to do it for the price.

So we put GRANGER in a sensible soft foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke a package. We gave smokers this good GRANGER tobacco in a common-sense pouch for 10c.

GRANGER has not been on sale very long, but it has grown to be a popular smoke. And there is this much about it—we have yet to know of a man who started to smoke it, who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.

H. Albert Young, Lawyer, To Be S. T. F. Speaker

H. Albert Young, '26, attorney of Wilmington, will give an informal talk on the practice of law and relate some of his experiences at 8.15 o'clock Wednesday night at the Sigma Tau Phi House. All students interested are cordially invited to attend.

The talk will be given under the auspices of the Delaware Alumnae Club of Sigma Tau Phi, composed of alumni members of the local chapter. Mr. Young was graduated from the University of Delaware in 1926 and from the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1929. He has been practicing in Wilmington since.

Mr. Young has participated in several important criminal trials and has advanced rapidly to the forefront of Wilmington lawyers. He is a past president of the Footlights Club and is a charter member of the Sigma Tau Phi Fraternity.

This will be the first of a series of talks to be given by alumni members describing their experiences in their respective fields of endeavor. Isadore Bleiberg, '26, is chairman of the speakers' committee. It is planned to have another speaker address the students the early part of May.

Ibsen's 'Ghosts' To Be Given at Wilmington

Students interested in drama may be glad to know that The Wilmington Theatre Guild, under the direction of Miss Ruth Goddard, will present "Ghosts," by Henrik Ibsen, at the New Century Club in Wilmington on Friday night, the 5th of May. The cast consists of: Mrs. Alving, Ruth Goddard; Oswald Alving, Edmund Fuller; Engstrand, Alfred Child; Manders, Alfred Hirzel; and Regina Engstrand, Helen Jones. Tickets will be $.50 and will be available next week.

This announcement is of particular interest, in view of the fact that the E-52 Players are presenting Ibsen's "Doll's House" on the preceding evening.

College Hour Speaker Says War on June 4

"The real way to understand a people is by their humor." Mr. Jaquith then told several stories of Turkish humor, all of which centered around a character by the name of Nayrajahoyah.

The meeting was adjourned by Prof. Case, after giving a vote of thanks to Mr. Jaquith.

Woman is the revolutionary animal; man the conservative.—S. K. Ratcliffe, British editor.

"Students interested in Babson Institute, the school that gives an intensive training in the fundamental laws of business, may meet Mr. W. R. Mattson, Assistant to the President, on Saturday and Sunday, April 22 and 23, by appointment at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania."

ILLUSION:

The stage is all set for target practice. The magician lifts his bow and aims an arrow at the bull's-eye. His lovely assistant then steps in front of the target and he shoots the arrow—apparently through her—and it fixes itself in the very center of the bull's-eye! And she smiles through it all while the audience gasps.

EXPLANATION:

The arrow which the marksman "shoots through" his assistant simply folds up into the crossbow! The arrow which is actually embedded in the target is shot by the girl herself from a belt concealed under her dress. She releases a little spring, the arrow unfolds, and shoots straight into the bull's-eye! It is all done in a flash! So quickly the eye cannot detect the girl's movements! To heighten the impression that the arrow has gone right through, the girl releases a ribbon from the front of her dress—the continuation, apparently, of the ribbon attached to the arrow in the target.

It's fun to be fooled — ...it's more fun to KNOW

Like to see through tricks? Then let's look at another... the illusion in cigarette advertising called "Cigarettes and Your Throat."

The audience is told that by certain magic processes tobacco can be made as soothing as cough medicine.

EXPLANATION: The easiest cigarette on your throat is the cigarette that is made from the choicest ripe tobaccos. Cheap, raw tobaccos are, as you would naturally expect, harsh in their effects upon the throat.

If you have to consider your throat, the quality of the tobacco in your cigarette is important.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

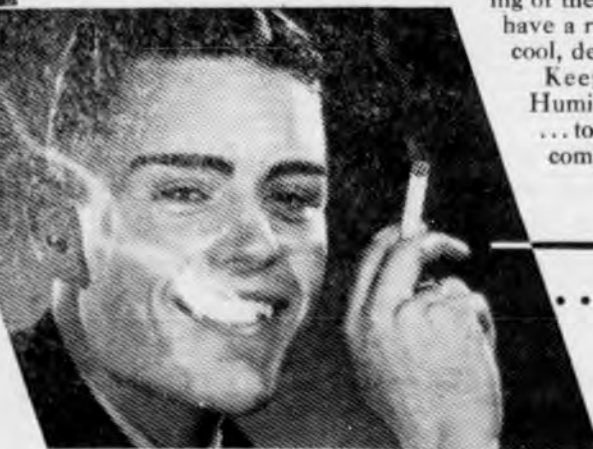

Camels are as non-irritating as a cigarette can be because Camels use choice, ripe, tobaccos.

And because of the matchless blending of these costlier tobaccos Camels have a rich bouquet and aroma... a cool, delicious flavor.

Keep the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack on your Camels... to assure yourself and your companions a fresh, cool smoke.
