PRICE SEVEN CENTS

Death For 81 Aboard Jetliner
Due To December LightningCivil Aeronautics Board Rules Wing Tank Fuel Fire
Caused By Lightning In Rare December Storm; Cause
First Attributed In History Of U. S. Air Disasters

The U. S. Government's Civil Aeronautics Board announced yesterday that the crash of the Pan American World Airways jetliner near Newark on Dec. 8, 1963, in which all 81 persons aboard were killed, was due to lightning which struck the plane and ignited fuel in a wing tank. Never before, has lightning been ruled the cause for a United States air disaster, and the lightning bolt blamed for the fatal crash between Newark and Elton occurred during a rare Delaware December thunderstorm.

Seventy-three of the victims were passengers returning from a vacation in Puerto Rico.

The plane, enroute to Philadelphia, stopped in Baltimore mere minutes before the fatal accident, to discharge passengers and to add fuel. Fourteen of the victims were from Delaware, nearby Pennsylvania and the Salem, N. J. area.

Ignition By Lightning
Ignition by lightning of the air-fuel mixture in the reserve tank at the end of the left wing of the big Boeing 707 aircraft was declared by the CAB to be the probable cause of the crash, with the fuel explosion spreading to other tanks and setting the aircraft afire.

The CAB, which has issued a "probable cause" in about 98 per cent of its major accident investigations, said the "exact mechanics of ignition" remains a mystery despite one of the most intensive research efforts in its history.

Safety Measures
All Federal Aviation Agency lightning-protection requirements were met by the craft, the CAB said. It concluded the bolt must have found its way through an unknown loophole.

The board's frustration was summarized with "It is felt that the current state of the art does not permit an extension of test results to unqualified conclusions of all aspects of natural lightning effects. The need for additional research is recognized, and additional programming is planned."

"Midnight Menace"
Theme Of Shows
By Aquatic ClubGirl Swimmers At UD
To Present Two Shows
Each Eve Thru Saturday

The Women's Aquatic Club at the University of Delaware will present its annual synchronized swimming show this Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in the women's gymnasium pool at the corner of East Park Place and Academy Street on the Newark campus.

Shows presented at 7 and 8:15 p.m. are open to the public and no admission is charged.

Titled "Midnight Madness," this year's show will feature synchronized swimmers in a story of what goes on in a toy shop after midnight.

Former Delaware State Diving Champion Dorie Tanzella will perform.

The Aquatic Club is a voluntary and student-run activity of the Women's Aquatic Association, and members include most of the better women swimmers on campus.

The show directed by Mrs. Jacqueline Houck, has been presented to capacity audiences.

"This show has been so popular that many people have been disappointed to find doors closed," Mrs. Houck said. "For this reason, the swimmers will give two shows each evening, with each show lasting about 40 minutes."

"The show is very much the creation of club members," Mrs. Houck notes. "The club makes no effort to be professional in the sense of a long and elaborately costumed performance."

Among the swimmers will be President Jean Robinson, Vice-President Edie Otterbein, Secretary Sally Nickles and Treasurer Fran Garthwaite of the Aquatic Club.

Others participating in this year's show are Lillian Burris, Karen Bachelder, Sue Campbell, Carol Cornell, Julie Cross, Susan DuRoss, Betty Heacock, Carol Hagan, Eleanor Hopper, Kay Lyman, Connie Marshall, Jean MacAlister, Liz Sinclair, Nancy Sobolewski, Lyn Smith and Dorie Tanzella.

Membership in the club is by tryout, and members practice regularly throughout the year.

Professional Entertainers
To Sing At Jewish Temple

The Sisterhood of Temple Beth El of Newark will have a public meeting next Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Temple on Amstel Avenue, with Mrs. Peter Eskin, vice-president, introducing a group of professional entertainers from Baltimore.

The time estimate was made by Harry B. Roberts, Jr., president of the New Castle County Levy Court, when asked why plans were not submitted for approval at last week's meeting of the Delaware River Basin Commission in Philadelphia. An earlier report had indicated they would be.

John I. Cahalan, assistant county engineer, said all the land has not been acquired.

Acquire estimates range from 1,200 to 1,400 acres, the exact acreage to be inundated has not been determined.

The area will be about half in Delaware and half in Pennsylvania.

Severer damage was prevented after an oil burner backfire at 30 Madison Avenue, and a fire in Harrington Hall at the university on Tuesday.

A trainman extinguished a field fire on Red Mill Road at the B&O Railroad on Wednesday.

After Trial RunsDelaware Coach Co. Cites
28 To 40 Passengers Each
Way, Newark—Wilmington

The Delaware Coach Co. will continue the semi-express run between Wilmington and Newark started on a trial basis in January.

General Manager Charles W. Croft said the route was tested to see whether it could attract passengers to support itself.

Under the semi-express schedule, the Delaware Coach bus leaving Newark at 7:15 a.m. for Wilmington makes regular stops as far as Price's Corner, then is express into Wilmington.

The 5 p.m. bus from Wilmington to Newark makes its first stop at Price's Corner.

Croft said the Newark to Wilmington run is averaging between 25 to 28 passengers a day and the Wilmington to Newark trip, between 35 to 40.

Express buses are in addition to the regular schedule, and no runs have been dropped.

The Newark Planning Commission has asked the prospective developer of a sub-division to revise and resubmit his preliminary plan, after a discussion of the new proposal last Monday night.

Representatives of John W. Benson & John W. Benson, Jr., of Upper Darby, Pa., are to resubmit the proposal for the development of 246 lots in Timber Creek at a special meeting of the commission on March 15.

Finance Chairman

Henry R. Folsom, Jr., is chairman of the municipal finance committee.

The $2.5-million budget for fiscal 1965 will be discussed next Thursday at 8 p.m.; but the plan for emergency housing may remain pending until after the April 13 referendum.

Requests for clarification and minor changes delayed budget approval. The proposed consolidated general fund and municipal street aid fund calls for expenditures of $2,532,273, an increase of 22 per cent over the 1964 figure.

The budget forecasts revenues of $2.3 million for the fiscal year and a deficit of $232,273. The deficit would be made up from current surplus.

The housing recommendation was debated for 50 minutes by councilmen and the audience.

Report No. 6 of the committee on housing, recommended that the City of Newark buy existing private houses and rent them to families displaced by enforcement of the city's minimum housing code.

Councilman Henry Folsom said council could not know how much city-sponsored public housing Newark will need until the question of federal public housing is settled.

Property Owners Oppose Plans
For Center City Parking MallPlanning Director John Griesbaum Explains Proposal
Originally Presented By Newark C. of C. At Public
Meeting; Concerned Property Owners Voice Objections

Opposition to the proposed parking mall between East Main Street and Delaware Avenue, from the university campus to Chapel Street, was expressed last Thursday night at a public meeting in the council office of the Academy Building. The plan for paved parking facilities for some 1,500 cars with a landscaped avenue to be financed by the city at an estimated cost of $134,500, was proposed by the Newark Chamber of Commerce some years ago, and has been studied by a special committee originally appointed by Ex-Mayor Carl S. Rankin. The proposal was based on the hope that Main Street property owners would permit such use of their lands to stimulate business in the area.

Objection was registered by Grover Surratt, real estate agent and property owner in the area of the proposed mall, who stated "I speak against the plan as herein presented and ask that council stop and desist any further pursuit by it or the city's administrative employees."

Vital Area
Surratt said that "Newark has a very small area of land zoned Business C—especially in this compact, central area—and cannot afford to contemplate the use of such land for only parking."

Citing the "left-footedness" of the program, Surratt termed it "almost impossible of its process of implementation."

"The object is to get some 100 property owners to enter into some form of voluntary agreement with the city to allow the use of a portion of each property," Surratt said. "And to have these same property owners pay out-of-pocket cash for the improvement, not only of their own properties, but also of every other property in the community."

"Who among you seriously believes that 'that' is a realistic solution?" he asked.

Surratt urged consideration of a parking authority building to be financed and operated by the city, and suggested that the University of Delaware might be willing to cooperate in this undertaking by providing land on the southwest corner of Academy Street and Delaware Avenue.

Methodist Church Plan
Garland L. Truitt, president of the Newark Methodist Church board of trustees, cited the church need for expansion with property it owns from East Main Street to Delaware Avenue in expansion that would be prevented with mall construction.

"As a long time member of the Newark community, the Newark Methodist Church naturally is sympathetic to consideration of proposals which are expected to further the best interests of the community. We have, however, made commitments over the years which make our position in this matter somewhat unique," Truitt said.

"Along with the growth of Newark, our church has steadily increased its membership to today's number in excess of 1,800. We have reached the point where three services are required each Sunday to accommodate our people. We have already found it necessary to increase our educational building facilities by the addition of which has just been completed," Truitt continued.

Anticipated Growth
"As early as 1953, in anticipation of the time when our sanctuary space would be inadequate for our congregation... we began purchasing additional land to accommodate a new church building when the circumstances became demanding and appropriate. We now own property for such a building between our existing structure and Delaware Avenue."

"The Newark Methodist Church is strategically located to serve the needs of both the citizens of Newark and the students in the University of Delaware... Any other location would significantly reduce the service we can render the community and the students in the university. Consequently, the only reasonable expansion of the Newark Methodist Church, when such becomes necessary, is at its present location."

"We own no property to the west of our present church building and only an inadequate amount to the east. We must, therefore, avoid any action affecting our property extending to Delaware Avenue which will prevent us from using it for expansion of church facilities when the need arises," Truitt said.

'GIMME'

Something dangerous has happened to this country—spread of the cowardly idea that the world owes you and me a living just because we're here.

Socialists love to mouth the Declaration "Life, Liberty and Happiness," but they omit the most important word—"Pursuit."

Pursuit takes energy and intestinal fortitude which beatniks and rabble rousers and their rabble haven't got and haven't the courage to acquire.

"Automation took my job of carriage driver (or ice-man or whatever) so you owe me relief." Get out and drive yourself, and if you haven't got a skill, be the best floor sweeper or day laborer in town—and you'll get along.

If you dropped out of school or won't go to night school because it's too hard, whose fault is it but yours that you haven't got a job or a salable skill?

This once-great nation was built on self-respect, not self-pity. "Gimme" can wreck it.

CHILD SAFETY

Accidents rather than diseases, pose the greatest threat to health of children, said Mrs. William N. Cann, vice-president for home safety, Delaware Safety Council. Every year some 17-million children in this country are injured accidentally, she said, and nearly 12,000 children under 15 years of age are fatally injured.

Woman's Beauty Cited Dependent Upon Inner Self

"A man feels older looking at a faded, aging face than he does when he looks into the mirror and sees his own thinning hair and increasing waistline," a former Mrs. Delawar told women at the recent Farm and Home Week program at the University of Delaware.

Mrs. Jo Adair Hamilton of Wilmington—Mrs. Delawar of 1963—pointed out that a woman owes it to her family and herself to look as attractive as possible.

But, she cautioned, beauty on the outside alone soon becomes only an empty shell.

"Feminine loveliness really begins down deep in the heart of a woman," Mrs. Hamilton advised.

A woman does not have to have a beautiful face or a perfect figure to be attractive, Mrs. Hamilton stressed.

"Beauty grows on you," she said. "Many people who do not seem pretty when we first meet them seem to become more attractive the longer we know them. This is a good example of the affects of inner beauty," Mrs. Hamilton said. "The face really doesn't change, but the personality supplies attractiveness."

The reverse effect is also true, she pointed out. "We often admire a woman who, from a distance, is really beautiful. But if the woman doesn't have anything but a beautiful outer appearance, we find she really isn't very attractive after all."

Needlecraft News

AGLOW WITH COLOR... WARM AS A HEARTH... GAY AS A SPRING DAY... are these bright cozy afghans! You can choose between the traditional favorite—Granny's Heirloom and the lovely contemporary Roman Stripe. However, if you're at all like me, you'll want them both and you can have them since they're both worked to completion quite quickly.

DECORATOR TOUCH OF CHARM
The very modern striped afghan is worked in strips which are then sewn together. We've done the one shown here in a soft combination of taupe, tile and yellow but the knitting worked used comes in such a wide color range, you can custom-blend this pompom-trimmed design to compliment any room in your home.

Granny's Heirloom, also done with knitting worked, is worked in 6 inch squares which are then sewn together forming a 48 by 72 inch afghan. The background is black and color interest is added with a variegated yarn blending soft shades of green. This yarn is also available in many other blends including oranges, roses, blues and pastels.

STRIKING COMFORT
These designs are excellent examples of how bright and eye-catching such warm necessities as afghans can be. Free instructions are available for doing both by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet B 27.

THE GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scout Week—March 7-13—celebrates the founding in Savannah, Ga., on March 12, 1912.

Girl Scouts of today will be the wives, mothers, homemakers and career women of tomorrow. And the moral, spiritual and practical values that come from Scouting will serve them well all their lives.

It's interesting to note that Girl Scout experience refutes those critics who say that the modern girl is losing her taste for domesticity.

In the past year, nearly one million Scouts—juniors and cadettes—chose to work on badges for demonstrated skills in homemaking.

The largest number of juniors—ages 9 to 11—picked the "cook" badge out of 47 badges offered in a wide variety of subjects. The cadettes—12 to 14 years old—can choose from some 60 badges, but more "hostess" badges were earned than any other.

Woman's role in the world has broadened enormously over the generations, but the traditional feminine interests and aptitudes remain. The Girl Scouts are a major force in developing and perfecting them.

Proper Pruning Advised For Conditioning Shrubs

The condition and appearance of a homeowner's shrubs depend to a large extent on how well he prunes them, points out Dave Tattall, assistant agent in ornamental horticulture.

Three important reasons for pruning shrubs are to promote their health and vigor; develop and maintain their natural shape; and to encourage their flowering.

To improve the health and vigor of shrubs, all dead, diseased and broken wood should be removed. Growth that is weak or old also should be cut out. On some shrubs, faded flower clusters should be trimmed off to conserve plant energy.

European Lectures By Charles Bohner Tie In With Book

A University of Delaware English professor lecturing at universities in Europe on a U. S. State Department grant, is the author of a critical study of the works of an American author.

Dr. Charles Bohner's book "Robert Penn Warren," is part of Twayne Publishers' U. S. Authors Series, which includes more than 65 titles. The series is designed to promote understanding of the American literary heritage—much the same as Dr. Bohner's mission in Europe where he is lecturing on contemporary American literature and culture.

His travels of some 8,000 miles with his wife and two-year-old daughter, have taken him to nine universities in Germany and two in Yugoslavia.

Included in his itinerary will be lectures in Poland where he will lecture at universities in six cities.

Then he travels north to the universities of Oslo, Helsinki, and finally to the National University at Dublin. Dr. Bohner joined the University of Delaware faculty in 1955 and has been director of the American Studies program since 1958. A graduate of Syracuse University, he earned his master's and doctor's degrees at the University of Pennsylvania.

His "Gentlemen from Baltimore," a biography of 18th Century author-politician John Pendleton Kennedy, was published by Johns Hopkins University Press in 1961.

Dr. Bohner is chairman of graduate study in English at Delaware.

Dunkart Announces McDonald Change To Fish On Menu

The first menu change in the history of the McDonald's chain of hamburger restaurants is being introduced in Newark, Manager Leonard Dunkart reports.

Fish sandwiches are being added to the limited McDonald's menu, which up to now has been restricted to hamburgers, cheeseburgers, French fries, and drinks to go with them.

The addition represents a response to the big demand from the Newark public for fish sandwiches—as well as a major departure for McDonald's.

The new addition—called McDonald's Fillet-o-Fish sandwich—is breaded, seasoned, deep-fried and served with tartar sauce and cheese on a bun, hamburger-style.

And in its more than nine years, the McDonald's chain has sold more than a billion hamburgers—enough to keep everybody in the Newark area happily in hamburgers for a long time to come.

Increased Management Skill, Operation, Secrets For Farming Success In 1970's

The successful farmer in the 1970's will be one who increases his management ability along with his farming operation, according to Dr. William E. McDaniel, head of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Delaware.

McDaniel believes farmers must increase their management ability since they will be operating larger, higher investment farms; will handle more money, and make more complicated management decisions.

For these farmers, McDaniel says the outlook is good.

"Competent managers who can correctly apply their management knowledge and the other factors involved in production and marketing will be successful," he says.

The economist said the trend toward expanded farming operations will continue. Farmers will attempt to spread their costs over more units and more acres, and this will mean fewer farms in the 1970's.

If history is any indication, this trend will be rapid and broad in scope. There are 18 per cent fewer farms in the United States than in 1959, but only two per cent less land.

Zeroing in on Delaware conditions, McDaniel thinks production per farm, and total agricultural output, will be greater in the decade ahead than ever before. Income per farm

Truckers To Help In Good Turn Day Clothing Campaign

Good Turn Day, the Boy Scout annual clothing drive for Goodwill Industries, is to get assistance from local truckers according to John Martin, general chairman.

Local truck owners and drivers will contribute 17 pieces of equipment and 153 man hours on Saturday, April 3, to make Good Turn Day possible. Martin estimated the value of these services at $1,513.

"Good Turn Day is a joint effort, involving every segment of our community," Martin stated. "This involves the kind of practical philanthropy which has made America great."

Douglas S. Wallace, director, added that handicapped workers at Goodwill, with this kind of cooperation, were able this past year to be an asset to our community.

"In addition to producing useful and needed goods, they paid nearly $28,000 in wage taxes."

"For people unemployable in industry because of their handicaps this is a notable accomplishment," Wallace concluded.

OLD DOVER DAYS

Old Dover Days visitors will be able to tour 25 of the state capital's historic homes and buildings during the annual event on Saturday and Sunday, May 1-2, according to Mrs. Oliver W. Farrow, general chairman.

Safety Council President

James T. Ferri

What would you do if fire struck your home or apartment tonight? What escape route would you take? Suppose it was blocked—what then? These are questions people rarely think to ask themselves, according to Delaware Safety Council President James T. Ferri.

"Your life and the life of your loved ones may well depend on how you have prepared—in advance—for fire. Ignorance and panic have cost thousands of lives in home fires," Ferri warned.

Spruce Wardrobes With Correct Use Of Dye For Fabric
You can spice up old items in your wardrobe and create better color coordination by the correct use of dyes, according to Mrs. Suzanne Tattal, New Castle County home economics extension agent.

Consider the type of fabric. "All purpose" dyes are suitable on cottons, wools, linens, rayons including acetates, nylons and other synthetics, and blends of natural and man-made fibers, with the exception of glass or mineral fibers and some acrylics and polyesters.

Remember a fabric must be washable to be dyeable. Obviously, some problems can occur in dyeing wools. If the care instructions on wool fabric or garments state, "dry clean only," do not attempt dyeing.

Wools should be dyed by hand, not in the washing machine, since shrinkage of the washer might cause shrinkage.

Consider the finishes on fabrics. At present, wash-and-wear finishes and crease-resistant finishes seem to present no dyeing problems.

Some fabrics absorb dye more quickly and more satisfactorily than others. Old, well-washed materials sometimes dye more quickly than new materials.

Synthetics Orlon and Dacron do not absorb dye as well as cotton. For this reason, experiment with a small sample of the synthetic material first so you will know what results can be expected.

Dyed garments should always be washed separately.

Late Visit With Chickens Offers Poultrymen Profit
A trip to the chicken house before retiring may be the most valuable time spent in the day, says Edward H. Schabinger, county agricultural agent.

This trip when birds are quiet, gives the poultryman a opportunity to listen for coughs, sneezes, snickers or other evidence of respiratory problems.

Temperature and ventilation should be checked at the same time, Schabinger says.

Don't neglect this trip, he says, as its value returns more per hour than any daytime work.

Loretta George was chairman of the book sale.

Student Loan Pay At U. of D. Tops National Average

Delinquent student loans which are proving a problem on many college campuses, are almost nonexistent at the University of Delaware, according to Asst. Dean of Students Robert C. Sales, who said that less than one per cent of Delaware's borrowers are delinquent in their payments—far better than the national average.

"As of Jan. 1, we had only five delinquent accounts among those of 857 students who have borrowed $32,817," Sales said. "We are confident that at least three of the five will meet their obligations."

National Defense Education Act loans available since 1959, enable deserving students to borrow up to $1,000 annually with a maximum of $5,000 during undergraduate years. The federal government contributes 90 per cent and the school puts up 10 per cent of the loan money.

Students are expected to repay in 10 annual installments at 3 per cent interest, beginning one year after graduation.

National Egg Cooking Test Offers $1,000 Bond Prize
If you have a favorite way of preparing breakfast eggs, an omelet or souffle—a custard dessert—or any of the dozens of other egg dishes, now is the time to get out the recipe. It may be worth a valuable prize in the National Egg Cooking Contest.

The contest conducted on a statewide basis, is open now, according to Harris K. Swann, president of the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association, which sponsors the state contest.

Entry blanks which must be submitted by March 15, are available from the county extension office in Newark.

Student Council Committee Studies School Problems
In an effort to present student recommendations about such problems as smoking on school premises, a special student council committee at Newark High School has been functioning to find out what other schools are doing.

Chairman Ricky Cronin has contacted Christina, De La Warr, Mt. Pleasant, Brandywine, Wilmington, and William Penn high schools, and according to response he has received, other schools are plagued by the same problems.

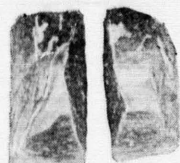

A complete report will be presented, Cronin said.

Capt. Norris Saunders Scores 26 Points To Pace Yellowjacket Win Over Vikings

Co-Captain Norris Saunders led the Yellowjackets to their fifth victory of the season last Tuesday night, scoring with 26 points as Newark defeated Coach Bill Fessenden's Vikings 92-59 at Christiana High School.

Newark's Ricky Hicks and Co-Capt. Steve Mitchell contributed 19 and 18 points to the Yellowjackets cause as Christiana dropped its 17th straight game in a winless season.

Tom Chidester led the Viking scorers with 11 successful foul shots, and a pair of field goals.

Fulghum's cagers moved out in front by 27-12 in the first period, and held a 56-29 advantage at the half. With Newark's bench in action during the third and fourth periods, Christiana was but seven points off the second-half scoring pace.

Christiana and Newark conclude the basketball season this Friday, with the Vikings playing at Wilmington High School and the Yellowjackets entertaining Conrad after 6:30 p.m. jayvee games.

Conrad is 3-13 for the season, and the Yellowjackets defeated the Redskins 56-47 on Feb. 2.

Brandywine and P. S. du Pont share the Blue Hen Conference lead with 16-1 records, and Newark is tied with 5-12 William Penn for sixth place.

Last Friday night, Wilmington defeated the Yellowjackets 67-58 at Newark, and Christiana lost 69-50 at William Penn.

Mickey Huff paced the Newark scorers against the Red Devils, accounting for 18 points with eight field goals and converting two out of three from the foul line. Saunders was runner-up in the scoring department with 14.

The Yellowjackets were ahead 10-9 at the end of the first period, but trailed 24-21 at the half, and fell further behind with the Wilmington rally in a 20-11 third quarter. Newark outscored the Devils 26-23 in the final period.

John Sterrett paced the Vikings with 12 points, and Co-Capt. Keith Hicks with 10.

Handing was runner-up with 10, as Christiana lost to the Colonials in New Castle.

Trailing 34-18 at halftime, the Vikings outscored their hosts 13-12 in the third period, and were shaded 23-19 in the final quarter.

Gun Bow Gets Top Weight For Campbell At Bowie

Gedney Farm's Gun Bow has been assigned 133-lbs. highweight for the $100,000 John B. Campbell, Maryland's richest handicapper, which will have its 12th running at Bowie this Saturday.

Handicapper John Turner, Jr., rated Gun Bow, last year's leading money winning horse with earnings of $580,000, at top of the 32 eligibles for the mile and a sixteenth test.

Last year, Gun Bow dropped a heart-breaking nose photo to Mongio in the Campbell when the two handicappers shared 126 topweight.

Moore, Richards Win Gym Events For Yellowjackets

Geoff Moore won two events, and Billy Richards was the winner in one, as Coach Ray Ciesinski's Yellowjacket gymnasts lost a 55½-44½ dual meet to the Lions at DeLaWarr last Friday.

Moore won first on the side and long horse, and took third place on the high bar.

Richards won first in the free exercise competition, and second on the long horse.

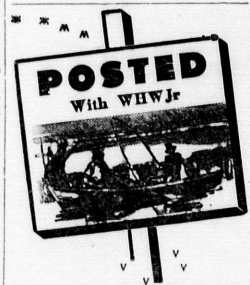

Jack Hecutt tied for third in free exercise, and was fourth in the vault.

Mike Roberts won second place in vaulting; Dick Moody and Lee Kinnamon finished fourth and fifth on the parallel bars; Craig Wilson was third, and Chris Ward, fifth, on the high bar.

Other Yellowjackets participating in the gymnastics meet were Pete Lautz and Sam Fassig, side horse; Bob Ross, rings; and Jim Wallace, free exercise.

Tony DiGenakis, Barry McMinn, and Micky Stearns missed the meet because of scholastic tests or illness.

The Yellowjackets conclude the dual meet season this Friday against DeLaWarr in the Newark gym after a 4 p.m. starting time.

What a way to hunt deer.

Doctor of Motors Pete Dukewicz declared concerning a recent encounter a mutual friend experienced with a darting deer on a highway through the coastal Carolina country.

The occupants of the car were more fortunate than the deer. The collision cost the owner of the vehicle some $800 for repairs — and cost the doe its life.

Driving from Norfolk toward Elizabeth City on Route 17 late one night last October with Col. Tombo Callagy of Fort Monroe, a 16-year-old young son and contemporary Harry Hogshead, we passed a herd of some half-dozen deer standing close to the road shoulder at the edge of a wooded bit of swampland. And it was good fortune rather than good driving that prevented an accident.

These deer stayed on the road — but they too often do not. And when a whitetail suddenly bolts from the invisibility and brush beside a road and into the path of a car moving at even moderate speed, there is little the driver can do but brace himself.

Another friend of ours hit a deer with a car last fall on Maryland's Eastern Shore during some goose-hunting travel, and here again, the occupants of the vehicle were lucky to escape injury. Which is more than can be said for the deer and for the automobile.

Deer have increased with hunting pressure, thanks to sound conservation measures provided by such dedicated professional wildlife administrators as Big Bill Wideman, Norman Wilder, Bob Beck, and Henry Cofer in Delaware, and the Diamond State had no venison to shout or shoot about until some 10 years ago when the first open hunting season in a century or more was instituted.

"I never saw a deer," Charles "Bus" Humphreys said concerning a boyhood of intensive hunting on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. And if this eagle-eyed outdoorsman didn't see 'em — there were few deer, indeed.

Last Saturday afternoon beyond Galena on our way to Rock Hall with Gibby Young, we saw a herd of some 30 deer in 20 standing in a field some 400-yards to the right of the road. As we stopped and walked over to a snow fence for closer observation, the herd lifted their white flags and bounded across the pastureland to resemble movies of antelope moving over the African veldt. And these 20 deer joined another dozen that we had not seen at first, standing beside a timber tract at the edge of the field.

This was last week — more than 30 deer in open, heavily cultivated farmland, with some six or seven houses visible in the area, and with less than an hour's drive from Newark.

And the deer were still standing in a tightly bunched herd at the edge of the woods as we drove on to Rock Hall.

Later, as we talked with John and Mrs. Hersch in their dining lounge at Fisherman's Wharf in Rock Hall with the Chesapeake Bay bleak and gray and windy just beyond the

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day "New & Improved" Swindles

Madison Avenue's vendors of detergents are not the only ones who appeal to the layman's awe of scientific jargon to make their pitch. The direct mail touting business offers "new" and "improved" promises to the weary and the gullible.

One up-to-date con man, for a $250 fee, offered "the latest space-age breakthrough to a lifetime income from racing." The same man, according to the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, had previously been associated with a touting operation known as "The American Signatur Co.," a name which implied the latest thing in winner-picking computers.

Hens Conclude 3-17 Basketball Campaign With 85-69 Loss To Bisons At Bucknell

Delaware lost 85-69 at Bucknell last Tuesday night to end the basketball season with a 3-17 record, the poorest for a Delaware team in nearly 40 years. The 1925-26 Blue Hen quintet won only once in 13 games.

The current Hens set a Delaware record with 14 consecutive losses between a season-opening victory over Johns Hopkins and an 82-61 rout of Franklin and Marshall.

Delaware's only other victory was a stunning 87-78 overtime upset over a good Rutgers team.

Tuesday's triumph was the 11th in 24 games for Bucknell, a team that stopped Delaware 81-65 earlier in the season at State College.

The Hens played one of their best games of the season in the first half last Tuesday and left the court at intermission trailing 37-36.

Less than two minutes before that, Delaware had taken its last lead of the night, 36-35, when Capt. John Himes hit on a jumper.

The Bisons, who scored 53 per cent from the field, quickly pulled away from the struggling Hens in the second half.

building breakthrough, we saw other examples of sound wildlife conservation measures.

White, wild whistling swan swam close inshore, their flute-like calling providing a magic melody — a stirring symphony from the past when wildfowl were legion, into the present with reassurance for the future.

And against the pale yellow sunset over the bay, skeins of canvasback — fast-driving diving ducks prized by market hunter, battery-shooting sportsman, and gourmet alike, of another era — etched their thrilling, tantalizing tracery across the sky.

After several closed seasons, canvasback and redhead have come back to where some shooting was permitted during the past campaign.

Far from the cold Chesapeake and colder cod banks of the North Atlantic where he fished as a New England doryman, Newark's Albert S. Priestley recently luxuriated in the sun while fishing out of Key West, Fla.

"I went out on a headboat, which I don't like to do," Al Priestley said somewhat apologetically, but with the limited time available, bottom fishing from a headboat was the alternative to no fishing at all. And Mr. Priestley didn't hesitate at this decision.

Fishing with shrimp and tuna for bait — pretty high class fish food, Mr. Priestley — the Newark sportsman caught grouper up to 12-lbs. and lesser angelfish, yellowtail, and triggerfish.

And that night while standing on a bridge over a pass of phosphorescent Caribbean tidal torrent, Mr. Priestley was drenched with dampness in the air rolling off the Spanish Main, and thrilled by the surface surging stook and tarpon bathed in liquid fire below.

Coach Paul Billy's Blue Hens Finish 7-2-1 Mat Season

Coach Paul Billy's Fightin' Blue Hens concluded a 7-2-1 dual meet wrestling season last Saturday with a 25-5 loss to the Temple Owls in Philadelphia.

Delaware's Russ Meredith at 167 lbs. scored all five Hen points by pinning Temple's Sam Davis in 7:33.

Former Newark High School wrestling stars Jon Heuberger and Mike McGlinchey lost 11-1 and 3-2 decisions to the Owls at 137 and 157-lbs.

Bill Greenplate Sets 2-Mi. Mark In Delaware Win

Bill Greenplate led the way with a record-breaking two-mile run as Delaware's indoor track team swamped Connecticut 73-49 at Storrs last Saturday.

Greenplate lowered both the fieldhouse and Delaware marks with a clocking of 9:52.8.

Don Krister, former Newark athlete, tied the fieldhouse pole vault of 12-6.

Mike Lyon and Bob Kinsler were double winners for Coach Jimmy Flynn's Blue Hens who took nine of the 14 events.

Freestyle Record By Kelsey Brown Marks Hen Finale

Delaware set two swimming records Saturday at Taylor Pool but it wasn't enough to stave off a 52-43 victory by Lafayette.

Kelsey Brown established a 500-yard freestyle mark of 5:36.6 and the 400-yard medley relay team of Fenton Carey, Rob Wilson, Eddie Johnson and Aubrey Clemons set the other with a 4:02.4 clocking.

Delaware closed its regular season with a 7-5 record. Lafayette is 7-6.

BOWLING WITH THE STARS by Tommy Tuttle AMF Staff of Champions

Many bowlers continually ask how to pick up spares. As a basic rule, for spares on the right, stand to the left; for spares on the left, stand to the right. How often have you seen a person try to make a ten pin by rolling the ball down the right side of the lane? Actually, they should stand on the opposite side of the lane and angle the ball toward the ten pin.

In covering spares on the right, the bowler should approach this spare from the left side of the lane. Now rather than walk straight down to-

Rowan Perkins Wins 180-Lb. BHC Title; Steve Kubico, Joe Hollon Attain Finals

Rowan Perkins won the Blue Hen Conference wrestling championship at 180-lbs. in the tournament at Brandywine last Saturday night — and Perkins won it the hard way in a storybook fashion — pinning his opponent in 58 seconds of an overtime period after six minutes of regulation even-even wrestling.

The lone champion among seven varsity wrestlers from Christiana and Newark high schools who gained the semi-finals. Perkins pinned DeLaWarr's Tom Moyer for the 180-lb. title.

Coach Andy Marcantoni had two other finalists from his Newark Yellowjacket varsity.

Steve Kubico finished second in the conference at 120-lbs. when he lost a 7-2 decision to P. S. du Pont's Bill Donovan, and Newark Co-Capt. Joe Hollon took second place at 154-lbs. when he was edged 2-0 by Conference Champion John Henry Anderson of Conrad.

In the semi-finals, Christiana's David Cross lost a 5-4 thriller to Frank Wright of William Penn at 95-lbs., and the Vikings' Kenny Reed lost 8-0 to DeLaWarr Champion Woody Thomas at 103.

Kubico won his semi-final match over DeLaWarr's Bob Longo with an impressive 8-0 decision, and Christiana's Glenn Hall lost a 5-1 decision to William Penn Champion Vic Coulbourn at 133.

Newark's Dick Kelley was defeated 8-0 by DeLaWarr Champion Floyd Thomas, and Hollon stopped Russ Jendell of DeLaWarr 8-2.

Perkins defeated Brandywine's Dan Lyons 5-3 in the semi-finals after suffering a surprise pin at the hands of the same Lyons in a dual meet at Newark the preceding Saturday.

In consolation rounds on Saturday, third place finishers in the conference classes were determined when Coach Ken Klinek's Cross pinned DeLaWarr's Norm Moyer in 5-41 at 95-lbs., and Reed defeated William Penn's Ken Gill 1-0 at 103.

Hall stopped Rick Faulkner of Dickinson by 5-4 in the 133-lb. event, and Kelley was pinned by Mt. Pleasant's Bruce White in 47 seconds of the 138-lb. class.

In last Thursday's initial events, Newark's John Dolins lost a 5-1 decision to Gregg Dix of P. S. du Pont in the 95-lb. conference class; Allen Hart defeated Wilmington's 165-pounder 8-3; and Heavyweight Stan Guibeson dropped a 5-1 decision to Christiana's Pat Roby.
