Newark Schools Plan Program For American Education Week

Parents Urged To Visit School Buildings Of Newark District Next Week In National Observance; Special Programs, Exhibits Coordinated by Thomas A. Cobby

The Newark special school district will observe American Education Week, Nov. 5 to 11, with emphasis on parent participation in the schools during this week. Although parents are welcome to visit the schools during the entire week, the district schools have listed special visiting days for parents.

Brookside, Eden, and Jennie E. Smith elementary schools will send home special information to parents noting specific times and special events. Brookside and Central elementary schools have set next Tuesday as a special visitation day; Central Junior High has listed Nov. 10 as visiting day.

Homecoming Mothers of Christiana and West Park will conduct a special assembly for small children and parents who have baby-sitters to visit the schools. The assembly will be held at West Park and a coffee at the Gallagher.

Future Teachers of America will present a special assembly program as part of American Education Week observation at Central Junior High on Nov. 8, the theme "Time to Salute Teachers." A film will be shown about the teaching profession.

PTA members will present a special assembly to the high school faculty, and will supervise special showcases about the teaching profession.

Members of the NYS Future Teachers of America are President Pat Hicks; Secretary Flo Wagner; Recording Secretary Kathy Tem; Treasurer Jane Mandt; and Treasurer Louise Patonovic.

Central Junior High is being visited by a special committee of the Schools Education Association.

Foreign Students, UNICEF Official Feature UN Dinner

Soroptimist—Lions Clubs Hear Mrs. Grace H. Barbey In Joint Meeting At NCC

United Nations Day was celebrated by local Soroptimist and Lions clubs with a dinner meeting in the Newark Country Club last week. Special guests included 20 foreign students from the University of Delaware and two couples who have recently taken up residence in Newark.

Students from Venezuela, Peru, Brazil, Spain, India, Netherlands, Finland, Sweden, Norway, Germany, Jordan, Israel were introduced by Dorothy P. Parsons, president of the Soroptimist Club, and Mrs. Raj Iyengar performed native Indian dances and Dr. Iyengar played the flute.

Featured speaker of the evening was Mrs. Grace Holmes Barbey, UNICEF liaison officer to non-governmental agencies of the United Nations, who has visited throughout the world in connection with UNICEF.

Mrs. Barbey expressed regret "that so many people stress all the failures of the UN, and completely overlook the vast amount of good accomplished by these smaller units."

"Money spent by UNICEF from the United States and the many other nations accomplished so much more with small sums than millions spent in other forms of foreign aid," Mr. Barbey said. "A few cents will supply a child with daily milk, and inoculations against diseases prevalent in these underdeveloped countries," Mrs. Barbey continued.

"UNICEF does not believe in just giving to people. It believes in helping people to help themselves," Mrs. Barbey said.

One of her most rewarding experiences was to watch the development of a child health clinic from the time when few came for help from a professional worker to the present when this same clinic is crowded and the work is done by local people.

"It is necessary to approach this problem with great sympathy and understanding," Mrs. Barbey concluded, citing the American Indian, who said he "never criticized any one until he had walked in the other person's moccasins."

Newark people who contributed to UNICEF "tick or treat" conducted by young people of local churches can know that their money is being very well spent, the speaker stressed.

Juniors Plan Bake Sale For Disabled Vets' Group

Junior members of the Disabled American Veterans organization will conduct a bake sale this Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. at the supervision of Mrs. Adaline Ward.

Rosemary Bradham is Delaware state commander for the junior organization. Her father, Benjamin Bradham, 716 Susquehanna Circle, Newark, is state commander for the organization.

Newark is state commander for the organization which is sponsoring a "Forget-Me-Not Week" beginning next Monday.

Church Teacher

R. Melvin Henderson

A course on "Understanding the New Testament" will be presented in the Newark Methodist Church on Sunday evenings from 7:30 to 9 p.m. 5, 12, 19 and 26, by Prof. R. Melvin Henderson of Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa.

A graduate of Howard College and Southeastern Baptist Seminary, Professor Henderson is a candidate for his PhD at Princeton Theological Seminary.

This course is open to all interested persons. Registrations are being received and textbooks are available at the church.

Reese To Discuss Books At Smyth Center Luncheon

Next Wednesday's luncheon program at the Alice P. Smyth YWCA Center will feature Dr. William L. Reese, chairman of the department of philosophy at the University of Delaware, with his topic "Concerning Great Books and Bookies."

Dr. Reese joined the university in 1960 after serving as associate professor of philosophy at Grinnell College and as head of the philosophy department at Drake University. He received his AB from Drury College in 1942; his BD and PhD from the University of Chicago.

These luncheons are open to the public at no charge. Guests may bring a sandwich—beverage is provided, and a nursery is available for children.

Mrs. Jacob Brown is in charge of arrangements with Mrs. Ray Camp and Mrs. Brannard, hostesses.

Contributions To Keep 'em Rolling!

Fire-fighting equipment of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company is photographed in front of the Academy Street fire house, Newark's volunteer firemen will conduct a house-to-house campaign this Sunday for contributions toward a goal of $20,715 for annual provision of local fire protection.

Curriculum, Teaching Techniques Topic For Report To Public In School Series

"Curriculum Emphasis and Teaching Techniques" will be the topic of a special report to the public of the Newark special school district at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday in Newark Central Junior High School, the first in a series of three special reports sponsored by the Newark Council of PTA's with the cooperation of the Newark Board of Education and the school staff. All district residents are invited to attend.

The program is under the direction of Dr. Ramon C. Cobbs, administrative assistant in charge of curriculum and instruction in district schools. Dr. Cobbs will discuss curriculum emphasis, particularly in the elementary schools, with trends in teaching techniques.

A special feature of the program will be demonstration teaching in the areas of English composition, modern mathematics, and biology.

Mrs. Ruth Crawford, a member of the English Department at Central Junior High, will demonstrate English composition instruction.

Richard Musselman, a biology teacher at Newark High School, will demonstrate the teaching of advanced biology, and Earl K. Eshelman, of Oglethorpe Junior High School, will teach a demonstration lesson in modern mathematics using study group materials.

The program will include a demonstration of closed circuit television for instructional purposes.

Superintendent Wilmer E. Shue will summarize district curriculum emphasis, and application of newer teaching techniques.

Paul Dolan Named To Youth Services State Commission

Professor of political science at the University of Delaware, Dr. Paul Dolan has been appointed to the Youth Services Commission by Gov. Elbert N. Carver.

Dr. Dolan, known throughout the state for his talks on government and politics, will be serving for the first time on an administrative agency of the state government. He is a member of the Council on Administration of Justice and of the Newark Planning Commission.

A specialist in constitutional law and state administration, Dr. Dolan is the author of two books, "Organizational Administration in Delaware," and "Government and Administration in Delaware."

Free Chest X-Rays Slated With Mobile Unit In Area

Free chest X-rays will be offered by the Delaware State Board of Health and the Delaware Tuberculosis and Health Society with a mobile unit at the Newark Shopping Center next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and all over 15 are urged to take advantage of this free X-ray service. No dressing nor appointment is required.

A Forget-Me-Not For Mayor Durnall

Valerie Cusick, daughter of World War II veteran Herbie E. Cusick, and the Disabled American Veterans Forget-Me-Not Queen, Nov. 6-12, pins a symbolic Forget-Me-Not on Newark Mayor Frank M. Durnall as the mayor issued a proclamation for such city-wide observance.

Firemen To Return On Sunday For Donations To Fund Drive

Aetna Volunteer Firemen Seek $20,715 Goal To Meet Annual Budget For Protection In District; 119 Men To Call After Noon This Sunday In Canvass Of Homes

Eighty-three volunteer firemen of the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Company distributed folders at homes in the Newark fire district last Sunday—folders containing the 1962 budget and explaining the fund drive; pictures of Aetna's front-line fire-fighting equipment; gummed stickers with the two fire phone numbers, and business reply envelopes. Return calls will be made by uniformed volunteer Aetna-men this Sunday, to pick up envelopes with contributions and to answer questions residents may have concerning operation of the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Company.

"Funds are needed if Newark's volunteer fire department is to continue to provide adequate protection for life and property in this growing area," Aetna Treasurer Sam Gray said today.

"The $20,715 is sought to provide the major share of Aetna's projected 1962 budget of $34,925," Gray stated.

Aetna Apparatus

Aetna's equipment consists of 10 pieces of active apparatus including a rescue truck, four pumps, a tank truck, an aerial ladder engine, a brush fire truck, and two ambulances.

The Aetna fire district includes the City of Newark, Brookside, Chestnut Hill Estates, Delaplane Manor, Roseville Park, Milford Crossroads, Milford Meadows, Newkirk and Todd Estates, and other building developments.

Acknowledgments will be mailed for all contributions received, and Aetna Secretary Don Butterworth requests that names and addresses be included with all envelopes returned.

Fire Chief Clifford Knotts reports that 119 Newark volunteer firemen will make return calls this Sunday, beginning at noon.

Residents not at home or missed in the canvass are asked to mail their contributions during November.

Parent Conference In Reading Study To Begin Saturday

"The 12th annual reading conference for parents will open Saturday morning at the University of Delaware under sponsorship of the university's reading-study center.

C. Edmund Maag, president of the Delaware Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be chairman of the opening session in Wolf Hall auditorium at 9:30, and Sister Mary Caroline will speak on the conference topic "One More Look at Phonics."

Sectional meetings will be held from 10:30 to 11:45, with Eugene Sharkey, principal of field No. 1 Central Elementary School, chairman of the primary level meeting in Wolf Hall auditorium, and Dr. Russell Stauffer, director of the reading-study center, discussion leader.

Henry Brader, Jennie E. Smith School principal, will chair the intermediate level meeting in Room 216, Wolf Hall, with Edmund H. Henderson, supervisor of the university's reading laboratory school, leading the discussion.

Chairman for the junior-senior high session will be Dr. Frederick Kutz, Newark High School principal. The meeting will be in Brown Laboratory auditorium with Mrs. Elizabeth Eager, supervisor of the college reading program at the university, discussion leader.

Aetna Volunteers Quell Woods, Two Field Fires

Deputy Chief George W. Smith led 44 Aetna volunteers with two trucks in extinguishing a field fire at Park Drive near the Chrysler plant after a 2:30 p.m. alarm last Sunday.

Chief Clifford Knotts with 13 volunteer firemen and two engines, responded to a 3:01 p.m. alarm last Friday to quell a field fire off West Chestnut Hill Road, and Knotts with 28 men and a pair of trucks extinguished a fire in woods near the Binns tract after a 4:30 p.m. alarm last Thursday.

Judith Langkammerer Reigns At Homecoming

Judith Langkammerer was selected from among 10 candidates in voting by undergraduates on the Newark campus as Homecoming Queen.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin Langkammerer, Foulk Woods, she is a junior French major.

Attendants to the queen were Martha Jane Sarius, sponsored by Sharp Hall, and Alice Jane Baker, sponsored by Smyth Hall.

Dr. Harold Mosak To Speak On Problems of Children

Dr. Harold Mosak, who is associated with the Adler Institute in Chicago, and who taught "The Troubled and the Troublesome Child" at the university this summer, will speak at two public meetings this Friday and Saturday at the University of Delaware campus.

Former Resident

Albert L. Lewis

Dies In Florida

Conrad K. D. Lewis and son Conrad, Jr., have returned from Miami, Fla. where they attended the funeral of Mr. Lewis' brother, Albert Lum Lewis.

Al, as he was well-known in Newark, died Oct. 22, in Miami, where he has made his home since leaving Newark 22 years ago.

Mr. Lewis is survived by his wife, the former Agnes Davis; two sons, Charles Bradley, of Asheville, N.C., and Albert L. III, of Miami; two daughters, Mrs. Brinson Kinsey of Miami, and Gail, at home; three sisters, Mrs. Sherwin Keen, Mrs. Pierce Cropton and Miss Harriet Lewis, and six grandchildren.

Jackson, treasurer. Mrs. Derickson, home supply chairman reported 587 garments and 10 pairs of shoes given to 16 local needy families during the past year.

Mrs. Wallace White, president of the Wilmington branch; Mrs. Burton Pyle, president of Sunset Lake branch, and Mrs. James Russell, president of Hill-Todd-Park branch, were guests.

Guest speaker was Mrs. J. Linwood Morris, president of the Delaware division of the International Sunshine Society, who told of this organization's beginning in 1896. The first branch in Delaware was started in 1900. It aids all people.

Devotions were led by Hazel Johnston of the Women's Association of White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church. Mrs. W. Paul Peach was soloist, with Mrs. Donald Archibald, accompanist.

Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, Middle East regional chairman, reviewed the 1961 national convention at Valley Forge, Pa. Mrs. Bernice Sheldon and Mrs. Leroy Walbel were welcomed as new directors.

The branch will sponsor a "Lunch-on-is-Served" project in the grange hall on Nov. 6 at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Derickson, Mrs. Charles Woodward, Mrs. Elma Marshall, Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, and Mrs. Walter Gregg are the committee handling tickets and table arrangements.

Besides home supply, all clothing collected at this meeting was sent to the following charitable organizations: Florence Crittenton Home, Children's Bureau, Salvation Army, Riddle Deaconess Memorial Home, Family Service, Governor Bacon Health Center, School for Mentally Retarded at Stockley, and Emily P. Bissell Hospital.

Tuesday marked the final day for Mrs. Clara McVey Tull to serve in the Marshalltown branch of the Wilmington Post Office after 25 years with the Postal Department. She was appointed postmaster on June 20, 1963 of Marshalltown which was then a third class office. Her appointment as superintendent became effective Jan. 1, 1963.

James Davis succeeds her temporarily. This office has grown so rapidly in the past few years that from three employees, it now has 21 persons employed.

Lloyd Russell Jr., and Richard Chatfield have the honor of becoming the first Eagle Scouts in Troop 203 at Hockessin. They received their awards at a court of honor last week.

Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church

The youth held their annual drive for UNICEF, and a Halloween party was held Tuesday night by Boy Scout Troop 29.

Ruth Circle met last night with Sara Dennison at Yorklyn.

Mrs. Gifford Nowland, of Paper Mill Road, will entertain the Women's Fellowship next Wednesday evening for a meeting and a Sarah Coventry jewelry party.

HALLOWEEN HARMONY

Congratulations to the Mardi Gras committee headed by Art and Glenn Smoot; the Newark Recreation Association, YMCA, and other organizations and individuals who have staged Newark's annual parade and carnival. The parade prevented a large charge of mischief on Mischief Night, the happy relief of residents and businessmen—and provided a lot of fun for all.

Particular thanks are extended to the juvenile contingent for their good behavior in most cases, with a minimum of property damage and other annoyance.

The Newark police are to be commended for their efforts, but far from least, parents and professional teachers should share in community appreciation of the current, young generation of Halloweeners is improvement over its predecessors.

Mayor's Proclamation

FORGET-ME-NOT WEEK
WHEREAS, the Disabled American Veterans is one of the most honored of the Congressional chartered veterans' organizations in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the record of services rendered over a long period of time to service disabled and other veterans, their families, and/or survivors is an enviable one; and

WHEREAS, this service is rendered at absolutely no cost to those involved but through the initiative of members of the Disabled American Veterans; and

WHEREAS, it is appropriate to cite this effort and enable the organization to call attention during one week of each year to its many acts of charity;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Frank M. Durnall, Mayor of the City of Newark, do hereby set aside the week of Nov. 6 thru 12, 1961, and declare that it shall be observed in this community as

FORGET-ME-NOT WEEK
Since this event coincides with our annual Veterans Day observance on Nov. 11, I urge all of our citizens to wear the Forget-Me-Not during these days as a symbol of remembrance of the sacrifices made in time of peril by those eligible to claim membership in this valued organization.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and Seal of Office this 30th day of October, A.D. 1961.

To the Editor:
We, as students at the University of Delaware, are deeply concerned with the racial discrimination shown in some Newark restaurants.

A committee which has been formed on campus to work toward the solution of this problem has gained wide-spread support among students and faculty. We want to know that our fellow-students will not be embarrassed and discriminated against when they go out to eat just because they are Negroes. And we want to be sure that an African American student will not carry home a distorted view of American democracy by being refused service.

We, therefore, urge the residents of Newark and vicinity to acquaint themselves with the program of the Student Committee for the Abolishment of Discrimination, and lend their full support.

Artist's Sketch Of New Perlelope Building

Hamiltons Constructing New Building For Perlelope Manufacturing In Newark

Perlelope Manufacturing Company of Newark is constructing a new building on East Cleveland Avenue to meet increasing demand for the firm's products and services. The 10,000-sq. ft. headquarters will house general offices and manufacturing operations.

Situated on a 48,000-sq. ft. plot, the new building will be a single floor concrete and steel structure and will feature year-round humidity control for optimum manufacturing efficiency.

William S. Hamilton, III, president and general manager of Perlelope has stated that the firm and its 20 employees will begin moving into the new building on or about Dec. 1 of this year.

Perlelope is Delaware's only manufacturer of continuous business forms for office accounting machines and high speed electronic computers.

The company also is the only licensed manufacturer of the Perlelope continuous envelope which simplifies addressing and mailing of envelopes by allowing them to be processed through regular office accounting and high speed electronic printers. This process was developed and patented by William S. Hamilton, board chairman.

Formerly the Newark Printing Company, the firm was founded 31 years ago, and has expanded operations so that today Perlelope not only maintains a direct sales force of its own in the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Delaware Peninsula area, but is represented nationally by other manufacturers of related products and by business form distributors.

A special rush order of Perlelope continuous envelopes was requested by President Kennedy's headquarters during his campaign for nomination in 1960. According to Daniel V. Hamilton, vice-president and sales manager, Perlelope Manufacturing Company was the only firm that could process this select mailing for the President's kick-off campaign.

Green Bay, Giant Star Ken Keupper Addresses TD Club

Former quarterback for Coach Wally Butts' University of Georgia Bulldogs and teammate of All-American Frankie Sinkwich, Ken Keupper was the Newark Touchdown Club guest speaker at last Monday's luncheon meeting at the Newark Country Club.

Keupper, a safety engineer with the DuPont Company, cited lack of football playing experience among coaches and officials; loose rules; and inadequate protective equipment as major causes of football injuries.

"Many coaches and officials don't have the proper background," he said, "and many states don't follow the national code of rules."

"The young boys who make up the reserves get hand-me-down equipment—and get hurt because the gear often is ill-fitting," he added. The former pro stressed importance of pre-season conditioning; pointed out that 75 per cent of football fatalities occurred in the northeast where football has been emphasized; and said that the athlete who played hard was less apt to get hurt.

Tom Brookshier or Tommy McDonald of the Philadelphia Eagles will speak at a joint meeting of the Newark and Wilmington Touchdown clubs next Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the Newark Country Club.

Speaking of Money...

"How one family saved big money"

Speaking for the Wilmington Savings Fund Society vacation of their lives, Donohue put $280 in the boat fund.

Donohue always got a shoe shine on his way to work. He began shining his own, put 35 cents a day in a milk bottle. At lunch, Donohue always bought the regular three course lunch from the right hand side of the menu. Now he began to order a la carte. That way he put 40 cents a day in the milk bottle, ate less and felt better. Jimmy washed the car every Saturday, and they put $2.00 a week in the boat fund. Well, the list goes on and on, but they had fun saving this home-made depression. And they bought their boat in 13 months!

The project began to pay off so directly that they moved into larger areas of economizing. The two girls learned to make their own rain coats. When they did, Bill Donohue put $4 in the boat fund. Mrs. Donohue usually bought a lot of plants for the garden in the spring. This year she raised her own seedlings from seeds in a box in the basement. Donohue put $25 in the boat fund.

Vacation time, they passed up their annual trip to the lake, took daily excursions to the zoo, the historical sights, the coal unloading docks to watch the boats. They went out to dinner six nights and took in four local little theatre productions. After the best steps they took. Some big. Some small. First, they found out that they were buying duplicate newspapers in the family. They cut back to one. . . saved 60 cents a week. Second, Mrs. Donohue found that she was running to the store at least once a day, sometimes twice. Not only was she using extra gasoline, but she was passing up the price advantage to be gained by purchasing larger lots. She began to buy certain groceries by the case, and she consolidated her shopping trips. At the bank they opened a special savings account labeled "boat."

Next, the family was paying delivery charges on dry cleaning and so forth. They now picked up their own supplies.

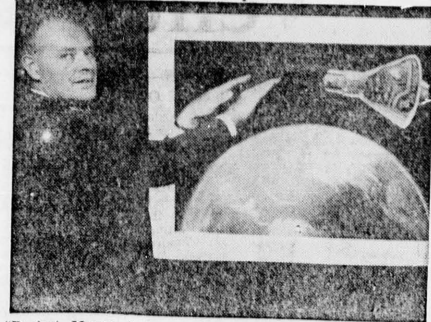

At dinner one night his teen-age daughter needed him . . . as charmingly as teen-age girls can . . . about the boat they had been going to buy for two years. Bill grinned right back and said, "You ate, drank and wore that boat before I could save the money for it. If your generation had any idea of the value of a dollar, we'd have had a boat last year."

Janet said, "I suppose you're going to tell us how tough things were back in the depression again, Dad?" Bill said, "No ma'am. You wouldn't understand it, and you never could have survived it."

"If you could, we could," she laughed. Bill got serious suddenly. He said, "I'll bet you a boat you can't."

Janet said, "You're on. How do we start?" Well . . . to shorten the story, the Donohue family staged a mock depression, and they had a lot of fun doing it. Here are some of Ritter will present a demonstration for Central Junior High students this Monday at a school assembly.

Telephone Official To Address Pupils On Space Projects

Walter L. Ritter, Diamond State Telephone Company official, will address students at Central Junior High School on Monday, with an assembly program featuring a variety of demonstrations, including how a telephone conversation can be projected into space, bounced off the orbiting satellite and back to earth again where it can be picked up.

Project Echo, the 10-story balloon satellite launched in 1960, is opening up a realm of possibilities for meeting communication needs of American people in years to come.

Ritter will tell of experimental telephone messages bounced off the surface of "Echo."

Recently, while at the school arranging the program, Ritter said that satellite communication is "much nearer than one might think."

Joe Hughes, Ted Atkinson Run For TD's, Saunders Scores Two On Sinclair Passes

Halfback and Co-Captain Joe Hughes broke loose for a 68-yard touchdown romp in the first play from scrimmage and Halfback Ted Atkinson followed up with an 89-yard scoring scamper to give Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjacket champions a 13-0 lead over the Blue Hen Conference co-champions of Brandywine in the first period of the football game at Newark last Saturday. End Arnold Saunders kicked the extra point—his first of three for the afternoon, as Newark went on to win 27-7.

The Yellowjackets face unbeaten Wilmington High School at home here this Saturday at 2 p.m. The Red Devils lead the conference with five victories.

Atkinson's 89-yard scoring sprint was runner-up to the 91-yard conference record set by Clarence Henry of P. S. du Pont in 1958.

Brandywine scored in the third quarter when Bulldog Brooks Warner ran a Newark fumble back for 78 yards, scoring two plays later from the three-yard line.

Saunders and Quarterback Mike Sinclair combined to break the Bulldogs' back in the fourth quarter.

with Newark's star end taking a pair of touchdown passes from Sinclair.

Arnie Saunders scored touchdowns on 23 and 25-yard pass plays with Sinclair pitching, and Saunders kicked both extra points to boost his season's total to 52 for the conference scoring leadership.

It was Saunders' biggest day. He caught six passes for 78 yards; recovered a fumble to stop an enemy drive on his own 32, and ran back an interception 46 yards to set up Newark's third touchdown.

The moon was shining over St. Michaels on Maryland's Eastern Shore Friday night a week ago to cheer a party of five fishermen into the wistful belief that weather predictions for the morrow would prove faulty. But the weather forecasters were right—the weather was all wrong—"the worst day we've had all season!" Capt. James B. Sperry, our host at a well-named Fisherman's Paradise cottage said later.

With Billy Richards and our own 13-year-old fisherman, the trio from Newark arrived at Jim Sperry's dock on a beautiful, wooded peninsula near St. Michaels at Long Hunt Cove just off the Miles River, at sunset. And while we became acquainted with Clark Lednum who pilots Sperry's 28-ft. cruiser "Gee" while Cap'n Jim handles his 45-ft. sport fisherman "My Decision," the two boys went to work on the yellow perch cruising the weedbeds beside the wharf in the blue crystal water.

Dad, and Brother Lew Waggaman from Baltimore joined us shortly afterward as we sat watching television in the guest cottage, and the party was complete. And so was the Sperry cottage—with two bedrooms, combination living and dining room, kitchen, bath, oil heat, and a refrigerator freshly stocked with a pound of bacon, a dozen eggs, a loaf of bread, butter, jelly, and fruit juice—Cap'n Sperry's very good idea of a very good breakfast.

In addition to the television set, the living room featured a pair of collectors' items—a handsome volume of American Big Game Fishing with color plates and black and white illustrations by Lynn Bogue Hunt, and photographs including a very young, black-haired, beardless Ernest Hemingway with his world record Atlantic sailfish; and a big, thick book on American birds with a profusion of historic color plates by Louis Agassiz Fuertes.

Rain rattled before a blast of wind against the cottage walls in the dark hours of very early morning to disturb one sleeper slightly, and

Last Second Kick Stops Hens 16-14 To Stun Delaware

The Delaware homecoming crowd could have heard a pin drop—if anyone had been able to move to drop a pin—as Ohio's Jim McKee kicked a 48-yard field goal with just one slim second left in the ball game, to beat Coach Dave Nelson's Fightin' Blue Hens 16-14 last Saturday.

Quarterback Ted Kempski completed three of six passes for 119 yards and two touchdowns, with End Ollie Baker on the receiving end for 28 and 67-yard scoring runs. The two stars were named the outstanding Delaware back and lineman by press box scribes.

Halfback Joe Slobjan again led his team in rushing, although the big Bobcat line held him to only 37 yards in 12 carries.

When a Delaware player ran onto the field in the first quarter wearing the number 13, even regulars among the fans reached for their scorecards. It turned out to be sophomore John Osborn, a Hen "secret weapon" making his first appearance. Osborn calmly kicked a 28-yard field goal for the game's first score.

There were other Hen stars, too, in the greatest of heartbreakers. Guard Jim Quirk won his first starting assignment.

Guard Ted Elder intercepted a Bobcat pass and ran it back 10 yards; Halfback Johnny Wallace, who missed the extra point attempt that would have meant a tie, broke up a two-point conversion pass late in the fourth quarter; and Punter Arnie Rosenthal, whose five mighty boots averaged 40 yards. One skyscraper went 67 and landed on the enemy eight-yard line.

Ohio quarterback Bob Babbitt completed nine passes for 114 yards and a touchdown; fullback Otis Wagner carried 13 times for 95 yards. But these and other fine Bobcat efforts would have gone for naught save for the right foot of Jim McKee, kicker of the most dramatic field goal in college football history. Delaware fans will remember him.

The statistics show Ohio out-rushed the Hens, 149 yards to 108. Delaware passers were edged, 127-125. The Bobcats moved for 16 first downs—Delaware for eight.

It was still raining and blowing at 6 o'clock when we were awakened by Cap'n Sperry's telephone call alarm.

"It's not raining much," the two Billys reported wetly after an exploratory tour of the dock as the three adults were polishing off the last of Jim Sperry's breakfast larder from the refrigerator, and the five of us went out into the rain and wind to join Clark Lednum aboard the "Gee" and follow Cap'n Sperry and another hardy party into the spindrift whipped from the white-toothed, gray seas rolling before a nasty northeaster over the Miles River.

Trolling four lines, we headed into the wind in comparative comfort toward the Miles' mouth, and Clark took us around a sandy point where rock were breaking amid the whitecaps over a shallow, grassy flat. It was encouraging to see fish in that welter of white water, but they wouldn't strike, and after several passes with the wind whipping into the stern as we reversed our course, Cap'n Clark Lednum whipped up the hundreds of horses in a pair of twin marines and crossed the Miles into what little lee there was in the Wye River.

On a slow turn beside an old duck blind, the reel on the port side rod trolling a Tony began to buzz, and Brother Lew hooked and boated the first and biggest rock of the day—a beautiful two-pound silver striper with dark green lateral lines—a fish that put a bow in the rod and heart into a party of chilled anglers.

Over the short wave radio, Cap'n Sperry announced that he was taking his party back to the dock, and other boat captains in the area and down into the Virginia Chesapeake commented unfavorably on the weather and the fishing. The wind velocity picked up, it got colder, and it rained harder.

CO-CHAMPIONS CLASH

Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjacket champions met Coach John Modica's champion Bulldogs of Brandywine last Saturday, and in this battle between co-titlists of the Blue Hen Conference, Newark High School displayed championship form to win 27-7.

The victory was a sweet one for our Newark athletes who have had three wins turned into defeats within the last minutes of play, and went into the Brandywine game with a 1-4 record. The one win was over Dickinson. Now, the Yellowjackets have the big one fled away on the black side of the ledger. Congratulations!

John Jackson Bags 400-Lb. Black Bear With Local Hunting Party On Maine Trip

John Jackson, proprietor of the Paint Pot at the Park 'n' Shop off Elkton Road in Newark, had planned a bear-hunting trip to the Northwest as a not-too-distant future, final fling at big game. But these plans were abandoned by Mr. Jackson after a recent deer-hunting safari to Camp Arcadia on Eagle Lake in Northeastern Maine on the Canadian border.

Navigating the Alagash River in a canoe, John Jackson suddenly saw a great black bear clanking for mussels in the shallows, and as John explains it—"before I had time to think—get scared or nervous"—he dropped the 400-lb. bruin in its tracks with two neck shots from a 30.06.

The bear weighed 350-lbs. dressed, and companion George Rinkerman, a professional butcher, provides a sound 400-lb. live weight estimate.

With Jackson and Rinkerman were Steve Megyes of Newark, Bill Carrow of Elkton, and Jim Davis of Christiana, who left Newark Oct. 14 to drive straight through to the Maine bush country where they hunted until their non-stop drive home again on Oct. 21.

"Not quite non-stop," John Jackson said. "Every policeman that we met between Canada and Maryland stopped us to check my driver's license—and then said he just

"You all don't have to stay out just because I'm here," Clark Lednum explained with a chatter of teeth on the lip of Lew's proffered cup of hot coffee.

We were heading back to the cottage by unanimous agreement when Mr. Lednum—and a harder working fisherman captain never lived—spotted birds working over fish in the shallows. All hands tumbled from the cabin, lines were put overboard, and we caught four more rock in trolling beside a dock on the edge of a sandbar where the water was yellow from waves beating on the beach.

Lew Waggaman caught what could be stretched into a keeper—Billy Richards caught two that couldn't, and the Newark adult caught and released what Clark termed "the smallest rock I ever saw."

Canada geese were honking over Long Haul Cove as we docked wet and cold at noon, and skeins of canvasback, black duck, and mallard were weaving beyond the trees over the misty Miles—an ideal waterfowl hunting day ahead of season, but a promise of things to come.

And 78-year-old William H. Waggaman, Sr., from Alexandria, Va., was the best young boy aboard—the only one who didn't turn blue.

Joe Gaglia Wins For NHS Harriers Of Ray Ciesinski

Yellowjackets Joe Gaglia, Gerry Meyers, Ed Kremer, Jonathan Owens, and Richard Hawthorne were the first five finishers for Coach Ray Ciesinski's cross country varsity as Newark defeated Dickinson last week, 18-44, but the Yellowjackets were stopped yesterday, 10-40, by the Brandywine Harriers at Rockford Park.

Gaglia finished fourth; Kremer and Meyers, sixth and seventh; and Hawthorne, Owens, and Tom Davies, 14th, 15th, and 16th against the powerful Brandywine runners.

Ciesinski's squad runs into the Blue Hen Conference Meet today, and both the Yellowjacket varsity and jayvees will compete in the state meet with 19 teams next Tuesday at Rockford Park.

Laxton's precision passing was wasted last Friday as the Delaware freshmen were beaten at Bordentown Military Institute, 27-13.

Laxton clicked on 12 of 17 passes, including two for touchdowns, but Scotty Duncan's Blue Chicks lost their second in three starts.

Bordentown had to come from behind in scoring its 22nd straight victory.

Delaware scored first, in the second quarter, when Laxton's 30-yard pass bounced off End Wes Frith into teammate Mike Price's hands.

The score was 7-7 at halftime, but Bordentown went ahead with two touchdowns in the third period.

The Chicks' other touchdown came on Laxton's 25-yard pass to Bill Hopkins in the third quarter. Delaware meets Bulls Prep at Newark this Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

Unbeaten Wes Stack, Hens Top JHU For Sixth Win

Wes Stack continued undefeated as Coach Ken Steer's Delaware cross-country team walloped Johns Hopkins here last Friday, 43-15. The Blue Hens, also undefeated, stretched their winning streak to six. Their next meet is at Upsala today.

Stack ran the 4.3 mile White Clay Creek course in 21:43, his best time there this year. The Hens also took the next four places with Roy Jernigan, Lee McMaster, Gerry Ragsdale and Jay Lutz.

Wegman Team Rolls 2.876 In Classic League Record

Wegman Brothers bowlers rolled a Newark Classic League record series 2.876 in a twin-win over Adams last Thursday, with Frank Porter rolling a 373; Frank Dunn, 371; Jim Alphin, 353, and Bill Grant, 349. Morrie Adams bowled a high 558 for the losers.

The Browns cut Wegman's league lead to four games with a sweep of Stimmler as Lou McCleary rolled a 397 and Bob Hopkins, 392. Wally Grant's 512 was high for the losers.

Owls Upset Hofstra, Face Hens Saturday At Delaware Stadium In Final Home

Temple pulled a major upset in Philadelphia last Saturday by turning back Hofstra 14-12—and they'll be primed for Delaware when the Owls meet the Hens here in Delaware Stadium this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the final home game at Newark.

Blue Hen coach Jimmy Flynn had predicted a Temple upset a few days before the game, and the Owls fulfilled their promise by neutralizing the vaunted Hofstra attack.

Their excellent rushing defense and vigilant pass tuggery held Hen nemesis Ron Zoia to an average quarterback performance. Zoia had put on a one-man scoring show in Hofstra's 14-0 defeat of Delaware earlier in the season.

Although the Owls' season mark is a mediocre 2-3-1, they have shown considerable improvement under sophomore head coach George Makris. They looked terrible in an opening 12-0 loss to King's Point, then dropped a heartbreaker to highly-favored Bucknell, 8-7.

Muhlenberg, weak this year, was walloped 36-12, then Lafayette tied the Owls, 12-12. Buffalo administered a 30-3 shellacking to Temple before the Philadelphians came through against Hofstra last week.

The Owls latest triumph points out the inaccuracy of judging comparative scores. Delaware had slaughtered Lafayette 34-0, and the Leopards tied the Owls, Delaware romped over Buffalo 36-12, before the Bulls trounced Temple.

And there'll be no trace of overconfidence in the Hen camp this week. The Nelsonmen are still blinking after the fantastic Ohio-Deleware game, and their performance at Delaware Stadium this Saturday against the Owls is an unknown quantity.

The Hens played very well against a bigger Ohio team in the 17-16 defeat, with a 48-yard Bobcat field goal in the last second of

Senior Class Play Casting Announced By Mrs. Goddin

Mrs. Avery Goddin, director of dramatics at Newark High School, has announced the cast for "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," this year's senior class play, scheduled for Nov. 16-17.

This play is the authorized version of one of Mark Twain's most beloved books.

Bob Richards is cast as Hank Bennett, with Kathy Conner as Marion, his sister; and Joyce Komar as Mrs. Bennett. Joan Reinhart plays
Sandy, Hank's girl friend.

Court characters include Jim
Murphy as King Arthur; Nancy Re-mage as the Queen; Eugene Cotton
as Merlin; Emile Schepers as Sir
Sagamore; and Frank Scott as Sir Lancelot.

Morgan Le Fay, the conniving femme fatale whose scheming adds vigor to the plot, is played by Bonnie Brice.

Jim Hernandez as Clarence, and Elaine Cole as Elaine round out the cast.

Mrs. Goddin will direct the play, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Shields, Joseph Talarowski, and Mrs. Donald Hynson.

Class Of 1961 Presents High School Liberty Bell

A "liberty bell"—long a dream of Newark High School students, was presented at Newark's first home football game on Oct. 7, a gift of the Class of 1961.

The bell is rung only after each touchdown by the home team, and at the end of any game in which the Yellowjackets win.

Cast in 1893 of silver and brass, it is considered something of an antique by bell-makers.

Susan Dearing Addresses NHS Assembly On AFS Student Experience In Germany

Susan Dearing, Newark High School senior who spent last summer as an American Field Service Exchange student in Germany, related her impressions in a recent assembly at the school.

"The students are not unlike us; it is the school system that is different," Susan said. She explained that teachers change classes, not students; that students attend school six days a week from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Susan is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Dearing of 114 Syphard Drive.

The text of Susan Dearing's speech follows:

"I was fortunate enough to spend this summer in Erlangen, Germany, as a participant in the American Field Service Americans Abroad program. Under this program some 700 American teen-agers live with European families for eight weeks, becoming adopted members of these families and taking part in their regular summer activities.

"I lived with the Woelkers, a family of six. The children at least were quite well-traveled themselves. Walter, the oldest boy, was an AFS'er six years ago. He, the only daughter, had spent several summers in France and Switzerland; and Sepp, my adopted brother, is now in Kalispell, Mont., as an AFS student. Besides all this, I found that I was the ninth exchange student this family had taken into their home.

"Since school in Germany does not close until mid-July, I was able to attend classes with my 'brother' four weeks. During this time, I was able to meet many more German teen-agers and get an impression of how their academic life compares with ours. In making this comparison, I found that the students themselves are not unlike us—it is the school system that is different. They go to school from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m.—but they go six days a week. They have much more free time in the afternoons, but do not have the free weekends we have.

"Another difference is that teachers, not students change classrooms between periods. This makes for much less congestion in the halls, but sometimes it is pretty difficult to sit in the same seat for hours on end.

"I found the system as a whole rather more relaxed than ours, but I felt that the teachers were requiring much more personal effort from their students than we are ever called upon to give.

"I have been asked to tell you what I thought I gained from this experience. Frankly—I think it was about 15 pounds. But seriously I did gain many other less tangible things. One of these was an increased understanding of a culture and language in many ways different from my own. The experience gave me a chance to see at close hand some of the problems facing Germany, the United States, and the world today—such problems as the ever-present effects of the last war, not the least of which is the immediate crisis in Berlin.

"A second reward not directly connected with my stay in Europe came from the 20 days spent on the ship. During this time, I was able to talk to many of the 700 students from all over the nation—that is, when I wasn't seasick or otherwise indisposed.

"A third reward was one that always accompanies the opportunity to travel—make new friends, and see exciting places. This could be called a broadening of one's horizon and as one of the aims of the AFS program, it goes hand in hand with any exchange of knowledge and experience.

"We AFS students believe that we were able to make some contributions to the program as well as to reap its benefits. We were given the chance to tell others about America; to clear up some misconceptions, and we hope, to erase at least a part of the portrait of the 'Ugly American' by our actions and words. These were our aims—coupled with our desire to have a good time.

"In conclusion, I would like to take this opportunity to emphasize the great worth of the AFS program, to thank all those who made it possible for me to participate in it, and to encourage everyone who can to apply for the chance to take advantage of this wonderful experience. Thank you."

Central Jr. High Has New Program For Girl Athletes

A new intramural program has been initiated by the girls' physical education department at Newark Central Junior High School.

The first event, a ninth grade hockey tournament, began Oct. 12, with four teams entered in elimination contests.

The program will include gymnastic meets, basketball, volleyball, badminton, table tennis, softball, track, and archery.

A point system will be used in which ninth grade girls may earn junior high school letters.

High scorers in each grade will receive cups.

The intramural program is conducted after school from 3 to 4 p.m., and the events are open to the public.

Mrs. Clara Raffensperger is director of the program.
