Prefatory Note

This is the fifth annual issue of Delaware Notes. It is counted as of 1927, but its publication has been delayed by conditions over which the editor had no control.

The present issue of Delaware Notes is made up of articles in the field which may be called that of humanistic interest. The interest in the volumes already issued has been favorable and these editions are nearly exhausted. We may believe therefore that this venture in publication is fulfilling the purpose intended by those interested in it.

Editor.
