

Women Commence To Foot Prices As 'Turn-About' Weekend Begins

Well, girls, tonight's the night! After all the hustle and bustle of preparation, Women's Week-end is finally here.

From 9 p. m. to 1 a. m., Jack Dougherty's orchestra will play for the week end's semi-formal dance, to be held in the Carpenter Field House. "Underwater Paradise" will be the theme of this year's dance. Tickets cost $2.75 per couple and have been on sale in the basement of the library since Monday, with each women's dorm taking charge of the sale for one day.

Tomorrow the Women's Week-end festivities will continue with individual entertainment provided by the girls' dorms. Some of the dorms will co-operate for the occasion. Sussex and New Castle Halls will team up together for a party in the Old College Commons. Warner will incorporate with Cannon for Saturday evening's entertainment in Warner Hall.

The theme of the party given by the Women Commuters will be "A Shamrock Paradise." The party will be held in the recreation room of Brown Hall. Sunday activities for the commuters and their dates include a weiner roast at Port Herman.

A unit of Chuck Laskin's orchestra will be the featured entertainment at Smyth's dorm party from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight.

The girls of Topsy and Turvey will favor their dates by treating them to a show in Philadelphia on Saturday afternoon. After that, they will have dinner at the Pub, in Camden, and put the final touches on the week-end by staging a party at the duPont Country Club.

Johnston House is planning a "coketail" party before the dance on Friday night. Their plans for Saturday night include dinner and a dorm party.

Pres. Perkins Points To HS Weaknesses Through 'Post' Story

"The modern high school has become a community center concerned with mental and physical health, also community projects and adult education and recreation," writes Dr. John A. Perkins, President of the university, in the March 17 issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

"The doors are open from eight in the morning until ten or later at night, at least five days a week. This change followed upon the extracurricular movement and its valid premise: learning by doing. Still, what began as education has sometimes become mere entertainment. This fusion of school and community has its virtues, but the preparation of pupils for college entrance has not benefited.

"Not everyone has been made happy by these developments," Dr. Perkins explains. "The parent who wants college for his child, often charges that college preparation is a neglected aspect of the high-school curriculum. Some older teachers, devoted to academic subjects, are also disgruntled. Nor have the colleges fully appreciated the enlarged responsibility of the high school. Their faculties believe that the new-style 'comprehensive' school often prepares students less well than the old-style academic school. When young folk go off to an

Les Elgart To Supply Music For Spring Dance On April 6

Les Elgart and his "Band with the Dancing Sound," featuring vocalist Don Forbes, will supply the music for the New Spring Dance to be held on April 6 from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. in the Field House.

The final announcement was made this week by Jack Mealey, social chairman of the SGA, after the contract signed last month had passed the thirty-day cancellation deadline.

Elgart first formed his band in 1947 and met with instant public approval, being immediately booked at the Hotel New Yorker. The recording ban in that same year brought a halt to the Elgart band until 1953 when it was reorganized. Since that time the organization was voted the most promising swing band by the National Ballroom Operator's Association Poll, and "the most likely to succeed" by Mademoiselle magazine.

Following a spectacular engagement at the Astor Roof of the Astor Hotel, the band is currently on a national tour. Elgart has reflected the tastes of young dancing America in its music. The current tour has taken them to Duquesne University, Trinity College, Boston University, Fordham, Ohio University and the University of Connecticut.

With arrangements by Charles Albertine, Elgart has created a new country and has made his band the nation's top dance group.

Columbia Records, for the first time in many years, became interested in a band and has recorded two long playing albums as well as several single records by the Elgart group. His first album is perhaps his most well-known, "Sophisticated Swing."

The sound of the Elgart band is unmistakable. Brother Larry Elgart, recognized as one of the country's finest alto saxophonists, leads the sax section with its unusually wide range of dynamic and color.

Tickets for the affair will be on sale in the basement of the library beginning next week for $3.50. At the door, sales will be $4.00. Being held in connection with the Campus Chest drive, one dollar of each ticket will go toward the support of the drive.

The dance will be informal and spring clothes will be the order of the night, according to Mealey.

University To Enfold Expansion Program On New East Campus

Billiards and table tennis, a student lounge, a reading room, a snack bar, a craft shop, offices for the SGA and student publication — all this will be available to Delaware students when the new student center-dining hall is built.

An ambitious $4,092,000 expansion program for the construction of additional living, dining and recreational facilities has been announced by Dr. John A. Perkins, President of the university. Proposed plans call for completion of four new dormitories and a combined dining hall-student center by 1958.

In addition to the recreational features mentioned above, the student center will include meeting rooms, a faculty dining room, a cafeteria large enough to serve 1,100 persons per meal and the necessary food preparation and storage areas. The cafeteria is being planned so that it will serve the university's needs for at least five more years.

One of the new dormitories will adjoin Brown Hall and complete the north end of the campus according to the master plan. Another dorm is to be built on the site of present "temporary" dorms of Topsy, Turvey and Boletus adjoining Sussex Hall.

Nineteen acres of unimproved land have been purchased from the Franklin Institute on Academy Street across from Smyth Hall and next to the Biochemical Research Building. This new "East Campus" will be the site of the student center and of one men's and one women's dormitory. A mall will intersect "East Campus" and meet the main campus somewhere between Robinson Hall and the Memorial Library. These two dorms will accommodate 162 students each.

President Perkins cited the

May Day Petitions To Be Due Monday

Petitions for May Court candidates must be given to Shirley Tibbitt (post office box 1286) by March 19. All petitions must be accompanied by a photograph of the candidate.

Members of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes may sign no more than two petitions, while members of the senior class may sign no more than three petitions.

Graduate Receives Award For Writing

Judith B. Kase, a graduate drama student and the daughter of Dr. C. Robert Kase of the university's drama department, was awarded a $100 check by the president of Western Reserve University for an original teleplay script.

Miss Kase wrote her prize-winning script, "The Adventures of Fairyfoot" while she was a student here. The play was presented locally by the University Drama Group.

Capturing second honors was Bill Brown's play entitled "A Sense of Duty" which was set in a Czechoslovakian Communist police headquarters. The show had for its theme the Communist attitude that personal feelings should be subordinate to one's duty to the party. An original composition by Len Geissel supplied the background music for the production. Heading the Delta Tau Delta play was Bob Wilson, Jim Sabo and Bill Brown.

In third place was Theta Chi's pantomime skit, "Here It Is," written by Joe Talarowski. The difficulties in trying to run away from a nagging wife was the plot of the skit. Leading parts were taken by Jim Shelton, Tony Toto, Ethan Stenger

'Miss Delaware' Blossom Princess Crowns To Grace Statuesque Coed Janice Olson

Janice Olson, a junior here, won the coveted Miss Delaware crown at the annual Miss Delaware Pageant held in the Wilmington Playhouse last Saturday.

Miss Olson, first runner-up last year, was crowned by Sharon Kay Ritchie, the current Miss America.

The five foot eight and one-half, 130 pound coed will not only represent the Diamond State in the Miss America contest in the fall, but also in the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D. C., as Delaware's Cherry Blossom Princess.

For the talent quarter of the contest, this 21 year old brunette sang an operatic aria by Verdi entitled, "Pace Mio Dio" from "La Forza del Destino." She wore an ice blue evening gown for both this and the gown portion of the show. The other two qualities (besides talent and gowns,) the girls were judged on were personality and bathing suit appearance.

A $1,000 scholarship, which is good for further education for the next five years, was one of the many prizes the queen received. Other gifts included a crown, a silver trophy, a wrist watch, a fur cape and an evening gown.

Statuesque Miss Olson, thought to be the tallest Miss Delaware ever selected, has almost perfect measurements—35, 24, 35.

"Tension certainly builds up near the end of the Pageant," commented the queen. "All except three finalists had been eliminated, then the second runner-up was named and only two of us remained. That is definitely the longest minute of all."

This week is the beginning of a whirlwind six months in

Plans Roll On For Fund Drive

Two weeks of fund raising activity will highlight the 1956 Campus Chest Drive, running from April 2 to April 14.

Alpha Phi Omega and SGA have combined to sponsor this charity drive of the year, which will be directed toward raising money for national and world wide student organizations.

Program for the two weeks will include the campus queen contest and the campus fair to be held the first week, and the individual dorm and fraternity activities to be held the second week.

The voting for campus queen will take place from April 2 to April 6, with the fair and the crowning of the queen to be held the evening of April 6 in conjunction with the Spring Dance.

Each dorm and fraternity will sponsor a booth featuring games, contests and prizes at the carnival. The crowning of the queen will take place on the fair grounds in the field house during one of the intermissions of the dance. Booths will be registered with APO to insure variety and to prevent the duplication of concessions.

Petitions from fraternities, dorms and the commuters for the queen have been submitted and the candidates will be announced in next week's Review.

The group activities will be held from April 9 to April 14 and are now being planned by the living units. Each group will be assigned a time during which it will present its fund raising project.

Net proceeds from all projects, along with a percentage of the dance receipts will be donated to the fund.

Bell's Fond Dreams Realized In Intricate UD Phone System

By Doris Wild

"Oh, why doesn't that telephone ring for me?"

This statement is not uncommon among many of the students here at the university. Yet, when the phone does ring, few, if any, of us ever realize what is behind those familiar rings.

The University of Delaware has its own telephone exchange system which is located in Room 307 in Hullahen Hall. In this room can be found the mechanisms for the two phases of the system. In the ante room are located the instruments for the complicated workings of the automatic dial system which is used for campus and local calls.

The main switchboard for long distance calls is in a tiny room to the right of the equipment. It is connected by eight tie lines to a similar system found in the agriculture building. Many smaller lines extend from these two branches. As of now, there are 194 "primary" phones and 177 "secondary" phones or extensions radiating from them.

The exchange also maintains 17 trunk lines for outside calls. These trunk lines serve to link the university switchboard to the central switchboards located in both Newark and Wilmington.

The switchboard employs two full time operators, Mrs. Lucy West, supervisor of the telephone exchange, and Mrs. Nancy R. Smith. They are assisted by Mrs. Corrine P. Downes, who works part time. The operators work from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on weekdays and from 8 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturdays and handle an average of 2000 toll calls per month.

Visitors are allowed in the telephone office only with the permission of Mr. Richard M. Blakeman, Purchasing Agent of the university, whose office is 117 Hullahen Hall.

William O. Penrose Receives Coveted Democracy Citation

Dean William O. Penrose, Dean of the School of Education, has received the B'nai B'rith Americanism Award for outstanding contributions to the principles of democracy.

Specifically, Dean Penrose was cited for "speaking out in behalf of sound community planning for integrated schools, well in advance of the Supreme Court's final decision for defending the right of any citizen to speak freely, so long as overthrow of the United States government was not advocated," for the "lucid distinguishing between fact and prejudice" and for "sticking his neck out when it would have been safer to do nothing."

Beyond the requirements of his professional post, the citation stated that Dean Penrose gave wise counsel and guidance to countless parent, student and community organizations, worked long hours in such diverse fields of public service as the mental health association, recreational planning for Newark, adult citizenship conferences, and as chairman of the statewide Chest X-ray survey, in addition to national as well as local professional standards-setting organizations. The citation also stressed that the dean's is a "mind that not only believes but practices its own words."

Dean Penrose stated that "it's a fearful and frightening thing to accept an award in the name of Americanism. I regard this year's award as one not given for achievement, but for trying."

Judges for the 1956 award include Miss Mary E. Power (last year's recipient), the Rev. F. Raymond Baker, Wilmet R. Jones, I. B. Finkelstein, Mrs. Evelyn Dickey, Chancellor Collins J. Seitz and William P. Frank.

Spirit, Work Create Modern Dance Show With American Theme

The history and development of the United States of America was the theme of the concert presented by the Modern Dance Club the past Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The program showed what is meant by school spirit, since work and co-operation were evident throughout. Scenery was designed and executed by Wynona Dawson and her committee of Isabelle Fisch, Joan Homan and Nancy Trivits.

Costumes and lighting were in the hands of Lee Lee Hanold and Mr. Thomas Watson respectively. Mr. Watson had previously had experience with dramatic effects while he was with the Connecticut School of Dance. Carmen Cella, James Flynn and Joe Evan starred in the male roles of the program.

One of the two vocal parts was sung by Alice Matuszeski. The other vocalist was Janice Olson, who recently was honored by being chosen Miss Delaware.

Nutrition Scholar To Visit Campus

Dr. Miriam Lowenberg, head of the Department of Foods and Nutrition of Pennsylvania State University, will be at Delaware March 21 and 22.

Dr. Lowenberg, the Home Economics Department's first visiting scholar, will be the guest speaker at the Ellen H. Richards banquet, sponsored by the Home Economics Club, March 21. Her topic will be: "A Child Learns to Eat."

During her stay at Delaware, Dr. Lowenberg will visit some Home Economics classes. She will also hold a conference with parents of Nursery School children, concerning trends in feeding children.

Commuters Sponsor Co-Recreation Night, Aim: Campus Unity

Shirley Riley, president of the Women Commuters, has announced that Joan Osowski has been chosen as general chairman of Co-Rec Night to be held on April 20 in the Women's Gym.

Miss Riley, when asked in a recent interview just exactly what her ideas were for Co-rec Night, stated that the campus needed more activities which were open to all and not just restricted to a few persons.

She felt that this type of recreation would enable the commuters, who are generally not regarded as a real part of campus life, to do something for the campus.

The hope was also expressed that some other organization might sponsor the affair, since the great success of the Co-rec Night last December would give impetus for a sponsoring organization. However, since no organization has all the facilities as yet for such an undertaking, the Women Commuters are again sponsoring an evening of recreation.

Tentative plans for the evening include recreational games such as swimming, badminton and basketball from 7:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. Dancing will begin after the games and last until midnight.

Longwood Gardens Give Grant To Dr. Bruce Pollock For Job

Longwood Gardens has given a grant to Dr. Bruce Pollock of the biology department, to work on a project involving the preservation of flowers in plastic.

This very delicate work, when perfected, will be of tremendous value to high school and college botany courses. In this way, flowers, leaves or other plant material will be available to students during all seasons, and rare or foreign species will be accessible to anyone who is interested.

Longwood Gardens is especially interested in this project as a means of preserving their better species of orchids and other flowers of rare varieties. From flowers preserved in plastic, one could learn seasonal coloration, types of pigments present, different leaf types and many other characteristics. The problem is getting water out of flowers, and keeping the color and form. Through this, many people could be brought to a better understanding and appreciation of plant life.

There is a need for persons to fill available positions in this research work. Anyone interested should contact Dr. Pollock, professor of plant physiology.

This, of course, is not the only research work carried on by Dr. Pollock. The growth of cherry seeds is another important and interesting study, and the problem here is to find out why cherry seeds, like many others, require a rest period at a colder temperature before they can grow. In these experiments, micro-methods must be used because of the smallness of embryonic shoots. Our laboratory is among a very few which are set up for such precise experimentation. All of this equipment has actually been made in the department. Jim Marvel, a sophomore biology major and Mr. Olney, a graduate student, are helping Dr. Pollock in this work.

Reverend Bunting Suggests Meditation For Lenten Season

By John J. Bunting, Jr., Pastor of the Newark Methodist Church

Christians are now in the season called Lent. The word "lent" comes from an Anglo-Saxon word, "lencten," which means the lengthening of days. It is during this season that the days grow longer by the sun.

This is a good season for both Christians and Hebrews to engage in the lengthening of thought. The forty days of Lent are based upon the forty days Jesus spent in quiet meditation before the beginning of his career. It was for Him a time of deep thought and great decision.

The purpose of a university is to lengthen thought, to stretch the brain cells, to widen horizons. It is an ideal atmosphere in which to do the same thing in the realm of the spirit.

This is a good season also for the deepening of conviction. It is not so much what we think, as what we believe, that really matters. It is a mark of maturity when a person not only thinks, but also believes, and has reasons for his beliefs.

Communism has swept around the world because its adherents have believed while the rest of us were only thinking. We as Hebrews and Christians have before us now the crucial question.

William Starkey Assumes Post As Prexy Of Sigma Phi Epsilon

In the recent election of officers for this year, William Starkey was elected the new president of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Starkey has been active in fraternity and campus activities and is best known as the business manager of the Blue Hen and assistant comptroller of his fraternity.

Other officers elected were: Dick McKelvey, vice-president; Pete Laman, secretary; David Griffin, comptroller and Dick Brady, historian. Congratulations are in order for the new officers and for the old ones, who did such a fine job this past year.

Dr. Dolan Presents Preview Of Pertinent Political Issues

By Ann Sutherland

In conjunction with the highly publicized and greatly discussed issues of this year's political campaign, Dr. Paul Dolan, chairman of the Department of Political Science, briefly previews some points of interest to everyone.

Dr. Dolan thinks that in this year's elections the parties will tend to soft pedal the basic issues. The foreign policy question perhaps will share in the general debate but will be concerned with the criticism of individual administrative actions involved in the execution of policy rather than with a full-scale review of the policy itself.

The President's Health

The tenor of the election will depend upon whether President Eisenhower's health holds during the campaign. Any further disease on the President's part would probably place the Republican Party in grave difficulty. The choice of the vice-presidential candidate will be an important factor in the Republican campaign. At this point it looks as if some Republicans are ready to disregard Mr. Nixon, while others think he is the man to run. The Democrats probably hope that Nixon is renominated. Dr. Dolan further believes that Mr. Stevenson will have no real trouble in gaining the Democratic nomination. He thinks a southerner will be named as his running mate, but not Kefauver. Mr. Stevenson will make a serious thrust at the Administration on the question of "associate presidents" and the "team concept."

Dr. Dolan feels that the American Presidency is a unique political institution and that under this scheme of government the Presidency must be made the responsibility of one man, not of a group as in Cabinet Government. Dr. Dolan thinks that Stevenson will make the question of personal responsibility of the President his chief point of attack.

"One of the big questions to be decided in the coming campaign is whether the Democratic Party can effect the coalition of labor and agriculture as it did in 1948." If it does, then Dr. Dolan feels that the Republicans will have an uphill fight even though Eisenhower does run.

Southern Influence

The question of deviation on the part of the South is to be a factor in the fortunes of the Democratic ticket. Dr. Dolan thinks that the South will not pull out of the Democratic fold, but will support the party's nominee. This will be possible through the moderate techniques of Mr. Stevenson, which are everywhere in evidence.

Dr. Dolan concludes by saying that the Senate will probably go Democratic regardless of which party win the Presidency; hence, if the Republicans win, the country is in for divided rule within the political branches of the Government.

High School Students Invade Campus Again For Drama Festival

High School dramatic students will flock to the University of Delaware campus on Monday and Wednesday for the 14th Annual Delaware Play Festival.

The two-day festival on the Mitchell Hall stage will feature performances by twelve schools and seven community theatres, with criticisms of the productions by a prominent critic judge and recognition of top performances at the end of the festival.

The critic judge will be Dr. Delevin B. Dusenburg, director of radio and television drama productions at Temple University. He will judge the series of one-act productions by the twelve high school dramatic groups and seven community theatres.

Following each session in the high school division, Dr. Dusenburg will give a critique of the individual production. At the close of the community theatre session, he will give a critique and will rank the competing plays according to their relative value.

Dr. Dusenburg was former director of theatre at the University of Florida and has had an extensive background in dramatic and radio work. He worked for four years as actor and producer for Station WCCO in Minneapolis. Recently he has appeared as an actor in the WFIL-TV "Benjamin Franklin" series.

The high school theatrical groups which will be present are Smyrna, Brown Vocational, P.S. duPont, Mt. Pleasant, Dover, Saturday night the pledges of Kappa Alpha put on a Dog-patch costume party, one of the best pledge parties ever had at the Kastle. All the brothers thoroughly enjoyed not having to do any of the preparations as the pledges did a bang up job. Many thanks to all the behind the scenes men like Bill Burroughs, Ted Pilewicz, Jack Hildreth, Wright Poffenberger, Carl Borrer and all the committee heads. The combo livened things up with two choruses of "Dixie" and Jack Webb proved his worth on the drums, much to everyone's pleasure. Brother Crawford's wife ended a good entertainment with some hula dances. The party costumes went from Rock Hudson's old tux to Pledge Dick Holdens sheepskin jacket. The added feature was our home-made still-too bad we're not in Kentucky!

This past week the pledges had their elections in which Bill Donnalley was elected president; Dick Schaffer, vice-president and Carl Borrer, secretary. The pledges are busy around the house getting a lot of work done that has been left undone for a while.

With Kappa Alpha's victory over Phi Kappa Tau last Tuesday we won the intramural basketball crown. This has been a great semester for the rebels. We played five men on the all star team that did very well against the faculty last week and are going after the volleyball and badminton titles now. Brothers Crawford, Thompson and Bingham along with Pledge Marvin Thompson will represent Kappa Alpha in the badminton tournament.

Congratulations to Ed Ruos and Adrian Donovan who were recently initiated into the realms of Brotherhood.

Delta Tau Delta

The Delts were on the move this past week-end: Brother Buretz led a delegation to the annual Founder's Day at Penn. and received thunderous applause when he gave out with the chapter report. Meanwhile Brother Brown was off to the North checking up on the health, welfare and sobriety of the Penn State Chapter. Everyone managed to return in time for a rather unusual house party on Saturday night—everyone seemed to be busy with their own private projects—but there was still time out for Cinderella Davidson to try again, for the 150th time. Just when things had settled down for the new week, the Wild One, alias Marlon Brando Moore buzzed in like a Patton tank on his soup-ed up motor-cycle. The neighbors seem to be on the war-path!

Congratulations are in order for the officers of the Delt pledge class: Pres., Butch Pierce; Vice-Pres., Jack Terres; Secretary, Ben Payne; Sergeant-at-arms, Dave Keifer (who, by the way, deserves congrats as our latest pledge).

This week-end the women take over the campus if only they would do this more often. After draining the male finances for 364 days, the gals finally come through—God bless them all! Practically all of the Delt house will be seen at the South campus festivities—but that's just because everyone knows the Delts are the best available males on campus—give and take a little (like that warmed-over fellow, L. P. Lorre).

Pi Kappa Alpha

The big doings this week-end revolved around the house party held Saturday night. The Pikes raised their voices (?) in song to serenade Brother Eason's newly pinned sweetheart. I won't comment on how it sounded, but I understand the Newark Civil Defense Units spent half the night looking for that damn low flying jet.

It pays to watch your thoughts while at Pike's Peak. Rae Hagy found herself hypnotized while standing at the bar. At least two brothers are experts at this art, so you have to be on your toes every minute.

Sue Chasteen sat on the bar all night (an occupational disease?). Claims she was polishing the bar. That's the cutest polisher I've seen all term. Two brothers from West Virginia stopped in to visit us and immediately ordered six for their own chapter house. Assorted colors, of course.

Pete Steele is a bug for cleanliness. He must be since he slept in the shower room of the dorm all night. Those stairs get steeper and steeper. To get serious for a moment, congratulations to our new brothers, Buck Klair and Dave Krause.

Ken Cashell

Phi Kappa Tau

Last week the pledges committed two flagrant acts by making night raids on the house. Painting the door a wicked shade of yellow didn't attract too much attention, but half-tearing a wall down, in an unsuccessful attempt to trap the brothers in the sleeping deck, caused a little commotion. After order was restored, everyone devoted his attention to rehearsing for the minstrel show which was presented in the fraternity playbill. The squawks of the amateur Al Jolson were recorded and played back, unfortunately, on Deet's new hi-fi tape recorder.

The basketball team made two fine showings last week with an upset win over last year's champs and a near victory against this year's league leaders. Brother Stewart concluded his successful collegiate swimming career at the Eastern Collegiate meets at New York last weekend. The crunching sound of lacrosse sticks meeting heads has been heard as the modern-day Indians in the house began to try their hands at catching that elusive rubber ball.

Congratulations to our new pledges, Clyde Draper and Walter Kohler, who entered the fold soon after the main part of the class.

borrowing for cash or not eating for three days, this week. This weekend is free and we have our choice of what to do and where to go.

It seems as if the bridge craze has hit hard up at the "Snake Pit." The only sensible thing anyone can make out of the new fad, though, are the words, "you're the dummy."

It was almost apparent last week that Halloween had started all over again. Scenes of green paint and missing trackmen were familiar to every one on Saturday morning. One consolation though, the windows were cleaned for the first time this spring, thanks to the "worms."

Congratulations to Brother Tom Duff in placing fourth in the Eastern Inter Collegiate Swimming meet last week.

Also, congratulations to Miss Marge Behling and Commander Bill Lotter on their recent engagement last Friday night.

Theta Chi

Last Saturday we had one of the greatest parties that Theta Chi has ever had. It was really a Bowery Ball and there were more different costumes than we have ever seen. Brother Stenger came in striped pajamas while Pledge Skip deRapp came as a sheriff to maintain law and order. There were all kinds of bums wandering around; costumes, not brothers. Many thanks to the pledges, particularly Clint Deitz and Bud Lynch, for doing a tremendous job on the illustrations for the walls of the bowery.

Sunday morning all the beards were gone but one. Hernando de La Cuesta is still hiding behind his mutton chops. By the way, the winner of this year's beard man contests is Wilbur Tilldon Bullock.

The beards caused quite a commotion at the diner last week when Clint Deitz got into a beard pulling contest with a certain young lady. She won.

Brother Al Tomczyk has just invented a new mousetrap. It is made out of a vacuum cleaner. He was demonstrating his idea last week to the brothers, who all agree that it is novel. The only thing wrong with it is that you can't get the mouse out of the bag.

Congratulations to Brothers Messick, Trimmer and Kwaitowski for a fine job on the basketball team.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Last Saturday night the big "Sig Ep" shipwreck party went off right on schedule with a real bang. In the opinion of this lowly scribe, it was the biggest and best house party we've had for a long time. Everybody tore up the floor dancing to the "solid" music of the "Four Snaps," a real crazy combo with a style very seldom seen in combos of that size. The pledges and the brothers combined for a little entertainment in which Brothers Matthes, Ranieri and yours truly were put to a test in which we had to put on some women's apparel. Hey guys! I still think I should have gotten a booby prize. "Barnacle Bill" Barlow, "King Neptune" McKelvey, and "Gone with the Wind" Gohn were among the celebrities on hand as the "Sig Ep" ship went down at about twelve midnight. One question I would like to ask of the majority of the girls who attended the party, and that is, "How did you keep those costumes on all night girls?" There wasn't much to them was there Charlotte and "Marill?"

On Wednesday evening, "Sig Ep" presented its entry in the inter-fraternity playbill and would like to extend, on behalf of all the house, a load of thanks to all the brothers and pledges who made our minstrel show presentation possible this year. Just remember, if better shows are made, we'll make 'em. Isn't that right Mr. Jones?

At the party on Saturday night, there was a serenade for Dick Woerner and his girl, Betty Hendricks. Dick is a "Sig Ep" from RPI and he and Betty had never been serenaded before, so it was felt by all that they should be so honored. Congratulations Dick and Betty!

The weekend has come and gone, and the Apes have spent the past week recuperating from the after effects. Brother Sloan flew down from his interview at Tufts Dental School, sans airplane, after his acceptance at Tufts. The brothers at the house extend to Chuck the warmest congratulations. Congratulations are also due to Brother Goodman who, last Friday, stuck his head out of the Cage for the first time in three days. The weekend itself was a success, as the Apes danced their way through Friday and Saturday nights to the strains of Clyde Bessik's and Manny Klein's bands, here at the house and down at Ag Hall. Many thanks are due to the ATO's who helped us out at the basketball game and at the dance.

This weekend is the women's choice and will end the social schedule here at the house until after spring vacation. The next regularly scheduled event will be the annual Buccaneer's Brawl which will be the weekend after vacation.

Question of the week: Will AEPI pledge Deacon?

Education Statistics Reveal US Students In Foreign Schools

(ACP) — A survey by the Institute of International Education in New York reveals that over 9,000 U. S. students studied abroad during 1954-55.

Initial reports set the exact figure at 9,262. The American citizens studied in 47 foreign countries and political areas. The survey was limited to students having both U. S. citizenship and permanent residence in the United States.

Almost 59 per cent of the group were enrolled in European schools. Fifteen per cent were in Mexico and 14.8 per cent in Canada. Four countries reported over 1,000 U. S. citizens in their institutions of higher learning. They were: Mexico, 1,395; Canada, 1,374; Italy, 1,084, and the United Kingdom, 1,009.

for consideration: 1) If the writer had his facts correct, what had he to fear? 2) If he had his facts correct and he still had some things to fear, why should this be?

Both of the above incidents, while they are certainly not the whole problem, are indicative of a feeling towards the Dean of Student's Office, that is — define it however you wish — definitely not conducive to friendly relations and a spirit of cooperation between students and the Administration.

To delve further into this problem would take much more space than we have at our disposal and more than you would be willing to wade through. Certainly this problem has facets worthy of consideration and now that we have presented a problem as we see it, perhaps there will be an opportunity for further discussion of it in this column and, perhaps, an opportunity for discussion in the same vein by all interested students.

SPOTLIGHT ON SPORTS

By SCOTTY WILSON

When a sport, basketball for instance, reaches the closing point in its season, the uniforms are checked in and that last bit of publicity appears in the local chronicles, it's often interesting to look in retrospect at the success or failure of the favorite club and to evaluate its chances for "next year." Let's take a gander at the Hens.

It is certain that this year's basketballers were not the best (8-15 record). The Hens had their tail feathers plucked enough times; however, they did provide the fans with a couple of good shows during the season, namely, against PMC and Temple. Against PMC, the Hens amassed their efforts for their greatest scoring punch of the season — 103 points. This mark, along with Jack Waddington's 13 consecutive fouls scored, set two new Carpenter Field House records.

Against Temple it had to be sure doom. The Owls had so much class that Delaware looked like the proverbial downstater come to town with the egg money. That is, until the game started. The Hens grabbed an early lead in the contest and held it for ten minutes until Temple pulled up and pulled away. The final score: Temple, 108; Delaware, 81.

Enough of what's in the books. What about the future?

The outlook for next year seems considerably brighter. Delaware will suffer the loss of Jack Waddington through graduation, but there will be a host of potential talent available that Coach Irv. Wisniewski can set his eyes on.

On top of the list is Raymond "Skip" Crawford. Before leaving this university because of academic troubles, Crawford was a main cog in the Hen cager machine of 1952-53. That was the season Delaware took the Middle Atlantic Conference championship with such notables as Captain Dick Evans, Matt Lamkin, Frank White and Johnny Loomis. Though "Skip" played only a year and a half of ball here, he holds the all-time Delaware career scoring record with 766 points. He is 6'2" and weighs 195.

Next in line is Jimmy Smith. The red headed forward from Wilmington bucketed 482 points during the now defunct season to lead the team in scoring. He shot a per-game average of 20.9. "Smitty" has one year of basketball eligibility left, though he is a second-semester sophomore.

Frank Wickes, stalwart of the Chicks this past season, should move up into a starting varsity slot. The 6'8" forward from Ocean City, New Jersey was the subject of quite a bit of publicity after his 50-point effort against PMC's jayvees. It appears, however, that Wickes is going to have to tangle with Dick McKelvey if he wants to lock a position on the first five.

And of course, Captain Clyde Louth. At 5'8" he'll probably be the shortest man on the squad, but his ball-handling, playmaking and set-shooting easily outweigh his short stature. Louth succeeds Bob Messick as captain of the Hens.

A relatively unknown ballplayer on the Delaware campus is Bernie Schneider. A member of the 1954-55 Delaware All-State scholastic quintet, Schneider (along with Don Hutton, also a member of the Delaware squad) paced Salesianum High School to a New Castle County mythical championship during his senior year there. After graduating he went to the University of Pennsylvania, where he played freshman basketball. He was slated to move up to the varsity this season but withdrew to follow his academic studies at this university. Like Louth, he stands at a mere 5'8", but he possesses an extensive repertoire of shots with an uncanny accuracy in all of 'em. He is fast and can be made into an excellent playmaker.

So there it is: a starting team that has height in Wickes and Crawford, speed in Louth and Schneider and a scoring punch in "Smitty," Crawford and Wickes.

But all this is speculation. Looks like we'll have to "wait 'til next year."

Dante Marini Breaks Record But Captures Fourth In Race

Despite a record-breaking performance in the two-mile, Delaware's Dante Marini managed to secure only a fourth place in the South Atlantic AAU Indoor Track Championships last Friday night in Baltimore, Maryland.

Georgetown's Frank Pflagline won the event and broke his own record of last year by shaving 21.9 seconds off his previous meet mark. His time in the event was 9:35.2. Georgetown's Bob Lippmaier was second, Penn A. C.'s Browning Ross was third. Marini's time was 9:51.1.

A world mark was tied and three meet marks were broken by the competitors as the Blue Hens were unable to gain a victory against a talent-packed field. Delaware came through, however, with a third place finish in the mile relay and a fourth in the two-mile relay.

Running in the mile relay for Delaware were Cliff Browning, Charley Skinner, Perce Ness and Neal Keough. The two-mile relay consisted of Skillern, Skinner, Ness and Quigg.

Vic Zvolak, the Salesianum School athlete who runs for Shanahan C. C. of Philadelphia, ran a strong first-leg of the two-mile relay, but Georgetown's crack combine came on to win in a new meet-record time of 7:46.7. New York University was second; Morgan third and Shanahan fourth.

Lee Calhoun of North Carolina College proved to be the big wheel of the meet as he breezed over the 60-yard high hurdles in 7.1 seconds.

Hen Courtmen Pick Five Top Opponents For Recent Season

Delaware's varsity court squad has selected the five best players they faced all season. The final results were released last Monday.

In a balloting for the 1955-56 All-Opponent team, the Blue Hen courtmen nominated 22 men including trios from St. Joseph's, Muhlenberg and Lafayette. Two Hofstra stars made the Delaware "All-Team" as did duos from Temple, Villanova and Drexel. Navy, Haverford, Bucknell, Pennsylvania Military College and Iona each placed one man on the list.

The team consists of Hal Lear and Guy Rodgers of Temple, Gill Thieben of Hofstra, Bill Lynch of St. Joseph's and Jim Radcliffe of Lafayette.

Diamond Candidates Struggle For Berths As 1956 Hen Baseball Opener Approaches

Raymond Juggles Lineups In Search For Top Nine; Varsity To Tour Southland

With only eight days left before the start of another season, there is still a wild scramble for starting posts on the Delaware baseball team. Coach Tubby Raymond is juggling and experimenting, in an effort to field his best nine ballplayers.

Gene Watson and Greer McMaster are fighting for the first base job, with Watson holding the upper hand. At second base Carmen Cella and Jimmy Smith are the chief contenders. Coach Raymond says that both boys will see action this season, but the one who can execute the double play best will remain on second. The other boys will then join Bob Hooper, Lou Romagnoli and "Tiger" Walls in the struggle for third base.

Infield Presents Problem

Dick Hoffman looms as the starting shortstop, but if he fails, Romagnoli can return to his former position. The outfield sees Captain Jim Zaiser, John Walsh and the losers from the infield battle fighting for the three starting positions. Behind the plate there is a three way struggle for the number one post between Earl Alger, Dave Colcombe and Joe Thorp.

The pitching staff is also undecided at the moment. The competition here is between Gerry Backer, Tony DeLucas, Pete Green, Bob Hooper, Dick McKelvey and Lou Romagnoli.

Open Next Saturday

Varsity baseball will begin after the spring vacation. The team will make a six-game tour starting next Saturday when they play North Carolina at Chapel Hill. They will play four more games on the southern tour before heading home to take on Michigan.

Freshman baseball will also start after spring vacation. The team will play a six-game schedule. Several frosh pitchers have been working out with the varsity. These include Jim Akerman, Jim Hughes, Frank Savalko and Frank Wickes.

Duff Takes Fourth In Meet To Give Hens Lone Point In Eastern Championships

Delaware's Tommy Duff placed fourth in the 200-yard butterfly event to give his team its lone point in opening-day competition of the Eastern Collegiate Swimming Association championships at New York on March 9.

Defending champion Pittsburgh is well on its way to a fifth straight team title with a commanding lead of 61 points. Lehigh is second with 36, followed by Rutgers, 20; Lafayette, 11; NYU, 8; Kings Point, 7, with Delaware and CCNY next with three points each, and Manhattan last, with 2.

Duff is one of three Delaware swimmers in the meet. Jack Ryder, diver, and Bruce Stewart, backstroke, are the others.

Pitt won four titles, bowing only in the 200-yard butterfly, won by Rutgers' Dick D'Acardi in 2:37.1, and the one-meter dive, which Ronald Keenhold of Lehigh easily captured with 138.58 points.

The Pitt triumphs came in the 50-yard free style (Lou Durbin), the 200-yard backstroke (Skip Monseini), the 220-yard freestyle (Jim Zurchin) and the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Nelson Supplied With Backs; Problem Is - - - - Who Starts?

By Frank Garosi

"Our number one problem is at quarterback—that is, who to play there." The "who" referred to by head football coach Dave Nelson in the preceding statement are Tony DeLucas and Larry Catuzzi. Quarterback is probably the only position on the team for which there is no discernible leading candidate—both Catuzzi and DeLucas saw limited, but about equal action last fall.

The W.A.A. Picture

By Eileen Dalton and NESTA WARFIELD

Our hats off in recognition of the wonderful performance of the Modern Dance Club in their annual concert on Monday and Tuesday nights. South Campus culture, combined with masculine talent, seems to be the formula for a job well done. Not to forget the people behind the scenes, for without their help the concert could not have been successful, we say thanks. Miss McNaughton proved her ability not only as a director, but also as a fine performer.

This week the fourth round of competition in basketball took place. The fifth and final round will be held March 20. To this date, Warner (plug) is the only undefeated team with three straight wins. The hearty freshmen of Smyth are close behind with two wins and one loss. Good luck to all of you in the closing games of the tournament.

See ya next week.

Jack Waddington Honored By Philly Sports Scribes

Senior Jack Waddington has been selected to the Philadelphia Sportswriters' Basketball Association's first all-small-college district team.

Bob Buckley, Drexel; Phil D'Arrigo, Haverford; Chick Barnes, Textile; and Frank Tryka, South Jersey are among the other members of the team.

Waddington and his teammates were honored at the Association's 10th Annual Banquet, which was held last night at the Sylvania Hotel.

Experimentation has been the theme for spring football practice so far. A big gap left at center by the graduation of Lenny Williams and Reds Reagan, is being plugged experimentally by Duke Shelton and Jerry Weis, a couple of first-string guards from last year's team. Ed Malinowski has been shifted to right tackle, and Joe Harvanik has moved up as the top contender for his old left tackle slot. Bill Green, a former quarterback, has been moved to end to help alleviate Coach "Whiz" Wisniewski's perennial problem.

Coach "Tubby" Raymond has good reason to be satisfied with the fullback situation. No less than five players—Johnny Oberg, Tony Toto, Johnny Walsh, Greg Kramedas, and Pete O'Halloran—are heatedly contending for this spot. Nelson rates Toto as one of the best backs on the team; freshman Kramedas was described as "a real good fullback, strong and agile." Walsh impressed many fans last fall with his bull-like rushes; Oberg is a quick-starting hard runner who has played extensively at full; and O'Halloran has looked pretty good in practice sessions.

KA Leads 'A' League At Close Of Season; Badminton Race Open

By "Pete" Green

With the last week of intra-mural basketball approaching, Kappa Alpha is still in the lead and seems to be in quite a good position to take the trophy. Their unbeaten record of 6-0 is far above their nearest competitor Phi Kappa Tau or Sigma Phi Epsilon with 4-2 records.

The standings are as follows:

1 K.A.	6 0
2 PKT	4 2
3 SPE	4 2
4 SN	3 3
5 OK	3 3
6 ATO	3 3
7 AEP	1 5
8 DTD	0 6

In the "B" league there is still a close race between Stash's Boys and the Cool Cats, both having records of 6-1. The standings of the "B" league are as follows:

1 Stash's Boys	7 D.P.A.C.
2 Cool Cats	6 Portables
3 Sharp Hall	5 SPE "B"
4 Aristocrats	10 SN "B"
5 Spinners	11 KA "B"
6 Eagles	12 Steamrollers

A playoff for the campus champion will be played as soon

Spring Practice

Jimmy Roe, provide a strong backfield nucleus.

Tommy Thomas, Walt Handel and freshman Bob Jones are among the top candidates for guard positions, although Coach Nelson is experimenting with a large assortment of players at these vital spots.

Practice briefs: Frosh Bowman recovering well from operation for chronic shoulder dislocation. Bill Walston, top frosh engineering student with a 3.8 index, total of 51 players participating in spring session. Three-fourths of 1955's starting backfield, Andy Wagner, Bob Moneymaker, and Jim Zaiser, made Dean's List last semester.

as the regular schedule of games has been completed.

Turning now to our next sport, badminton first round matches will be played this week. Second and third rounds will be played during the weeks of March 21 and April 4 with the semi-finals and finals coming during the week of April 7 and 9. The playoff between the "A" and "B" champion will be on April 10.

University Debators To Appear Against Princeton Wednesday

Old College Lounge will be the scene of the first public debate held on campus by the University Debating Teams. William K. Brown and Richard L. Sutton will represent the university on March 21, at 4 p.m., against debaters from Princeton University.

The topic, which is the national debate question, will be "Resolved: Non-Agricultural Industries Should Guarantee Employees An Annual Wage." Brown and Sutton, who defeated a Princeton University team earlier this school year, have been designated as the affirmative team.

For Bill Brown, the debating team's president, this encounter marks his last debate on campus. Both Brown, who is a senior and Sutton, a junior, have been active on the team since its reactivation three years ago. Under their leadership the debating team has posted a 7-4 won-lost record in '55-'56. This includes a 4-2 debate record in the Hofstra Tourney which gained for Delaware a third place position.

John Maybee, A&S '57, a member of the debating team, received the Parliamentary Speech Award for outstanding participation in the Debating Team Congress last Friday. The Congress, which met at Penn State, discussed Job Security and Juvenile Delinquency. Maybee drafted the final bill on the former topic and was awarded one of the four highest Congress honors. Bill Brown accompanied Maybee as the other Delaware representative.

On March 23 and 24, Brown and Sutton will travel to the University of Virginia for the District Seven elimination debates.

Conjurers Of Magic To Appear At YMCA

Is the hand quicker than the eye? Magicians representing the Delaware Knights of Magic, a local magic club, will attempt to prove that it is on May 2 in the Wilmington YMCA during their annual show.

Free tickets are being offered to all interested Delaware students desiring an evening of magical entertainment by Ed Myers, vice president of the club. He may be contacted at P.O. Box 933.

The Delaware Knights of Magic has its headquarters at Baker's Studio of Magic in Wilmington. At the club's last meeting, Jack Chonin, world famous magician, was the guest. He gave a lecture and demonstration on the "Art of Misdirection."

state appropriation of $1,500,000 combined with $1,354,000 from the sale of university issued revenue bonds. The student center will be paid for by $738,000 from university endowment funds and an additional $500,000 from the sale of revenue bonds. Of the total funds for this construction the State of Delaware is providing approximately thirty-five per cent.

John E. Hocutt Main Speaker At ATO Founders Day Dinner

Dean of Students, John E. Hocutt, delivered the key address at the Annual Founders' Day Dinner of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, which was held at the New Century Club last Sunday.

Speaking to the alumni and active brothers of ATO about the need for fraternities to show a strong offensive attitude toward the administration, Dean Hocutt pointed out the recent university drive to improve scholarship, and stated that fraternities should strive to set themselves as good examples to the administration and other students.

Worthy Master, William Krebes, outlined ATO activities of the past year, citing the purchase of the new house. Other speakers included J. Robert King, assistant professor of music; A. Dean Steele, past Worthy Master; and Paul D. Lovett, advisor to the fraternity, who presented the Silver Circle Award for 25 years of service to the fraternity.

Bob Hopkins and Russ Myers were chosen president of the Delaware Epsilon Rho Corporation and the Alumni Association, respectively.

Artist Series Goes Hear Known Pianist

Robert Goldsand, pianist, appeared in Mitchell Hall last night at the fourth in this year's series of Artist Series presentations.

For part of his program, Mr. Goldsand played Bach's "Italian Concerto," a modern American work.

After an intermission, some of Chopin's lighter pieces—"Impromptu in F Sharp Major," "Valse in A Flat Minor" and two "Etudes" were played.

The concert ended with Ravel's "Ondine" from "Gaspard de la Nuit" and two preludes by Rachmaninoff.

accredited college and fail, their hometown people are dismayed and sometimes angered. Some lose confidence in their high school. Others think the college unreasonable in its academic standards.

"There is no one especially to be blamed, unless it be our society as reflected by our home communities," Dr. Perkins writes. "The high school has seen its large job and has tried to do it. Almost any high-school administrator will admit, at least to friendly critics, that the secondary school's job has not been done perfectly. On the other hand, the universities and colleges have not always moved as rapidly as they might in the circumstances. The boy or girl leaving the new-type high school to enter an institution of higher learning has trouble adjusting to a place where students are treated as men and women devoted to intellectual growth. Many freshmen benefit from college-supervised dormitories and counseling services, aided by better testing of intelligence, aptitude and social adaptability, but these advances have come all too recently.

"Out of our civilization has grown the problem that besets us," the president concludes. "How to heal the breach between high schools and colleges? There is no convenient whipping boy. The problem has not been deliberately created by trouble-makers or the misinformed, nor is it without solution. However, like most problems, it will not be solved by emotional response. Honest thinking and courageous action are called for, lest we spoil the child."

Captain E.H. Utley Of Marine Corps To Offer Positions

Captain E. H. Utley, the Marine Corps Officer Procurement Officer, will be at the university on March 21 and 22, to discuss opportunities for students to earn a commission as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Captain Utley will be located in the basement of the Memorial Library during his visit between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

There are two officer training programs which the Marine Corps offers students who are not in the advanced ROTC and do not intend to enter the advanced ROTC. Seniors may be eligible for the Officer Candidate Course program and freshmen, sophomores and juniors may be eligible for the Platoon Leaders Class program. Both of these programs offer opportunities as ground officers or pilots.

Lawrence, Laughton To Be Shown At Wolf In 'Rembrandt' Film

"Rembrandt," an 81 minute film, will be presented in Wolf Hall auditorium, on March 18 at 3:15 and again in the evening at 8:15.

Produced by Alexander Korda, starring Charles Laughton, Gertrude Lawrence and Elsa Lanchester, this is a subtle and well-shaded portrait of a genius in a world which failed to understand him. It is enriched by the color of several fine characterizations: Laughton as the painter, Gertrude Lawrence as Geertje, his housekeeper and Elsa Lanchester as Hendrickje Stofels, his affectionate model.

tion. "What do we really believe?" There is no better question to ask during this sacred season.

This is also a good time for the broadening of sympathy. February was Brotherhood Month. With the problem of integration erupting around us, every month needs to be brotherhood month and every day brotherhood day.

The church and synagogue especially need to look at our own standards of compassion and brotherhood, which to our shame are not measuring up to the crisis of this hour. In true religion the lengthening of thought and the deepening of conviction always flow out into the broadening of sympathy.

The result of all this can be a religion, not of one dimension, but three; not a narrow, anemic religion, but a well-rounded, vigorous one. As the writer to Ephesians put it, we shall then "be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge that ye might be filled with all the fullness of God."

Larry Lore Wins Campus Sponsored Luckies' Contest

The contest craze which is sweeping the country has not passed the Delaware campus unheeded. Dick Sutton, campus representative for the American Tobacco Company, has recently announced the winners of a basketball contest he sponsored.

Larry Lore won the first prize of four cartons of Lucky Strikes by accurately predicting the record and the high scorer and by missing the total points scored by only 2 points — guessing 1637 while the total was 1639.

Second prize of two cartons of "Luckies" went to Ronald Ritoch and the third prize of one carton was awarded to Ciro Poppiti.

The contest involved guessing the final won-lost record of the Hen basketball team, excluding the Hofstra Tournament, the team's high scorer and the cagers' total point production, again excluding the Hofstra trip.

Miss Olson began this year attending classes both at the university and at the Philadelphia Academy of Vocal Arts from which she has since graduated. Although a French major, she is well-versed in German and Italian.

Miss Olson is the first university student to receive this honor since 1953 when Lois Alava won.

Nancy Jane Cathcart, a senior at P. S. duPont High School, was first runner-up while Joan Elliott Fisher, a Goldey Beacom student, took third place.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young engineer works on new ways to remove heat from atomic reactors

An atomic reactor running at full efficiency creates a tremendous amount of heat in its core. By removing this heat and putting it to work boiling water to make steam, atom-made electricity is produced.

One of the men responsible for designing new, more efficient ways to remove heat from atomic reactors is 29-year-old Doctor Salomon Levy — Design Analysis supervisor in the Atomic Power Equipment Department's Reactor Engineering Unit.

Levy's Work Interesting, Vital

To study this problem of heat transfer, G.E. recently constructed a heat-transfer system. By electrically simulating the heat produced in a reactor, it is possible to determine the maximum rate at which heat can be removed from a reactor to make steam.

Dr. Levy conceived the idea of building this complex system, designed it and supervised its construction. At present, Levy works with this system to study new problems of heat transfer and fluid flow encountered in atomic power plants.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Salomon Levy came to General Electric in 1953, he already knew the kind of work he wanted to do. Like each of our 25,000 college-graduate employees, he was given his chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: Whenever fresh young minds are given the freedom to make progress, everybody benefits — the individual, the company, and the country.

Educational Relations, General Electric Company, Schenectady 5, New York

DR. SALOMON LEVY joined G.E. in 1953 after receiving his B.S. in M.E. from the Univ. of Calif. in 1949. In 1951 he received his M.S., and in 1953 his Ph.D. From '49-'50 he was teaching assistant at U. of C., and '50-'53 he was Junior Research Engineer at the Institution of Engineering Research.

Berguido Stars In Production Of Children's Theatre Fantasy

Rehearsals for the E-52 University Theatre's ninth annual Children's Theatre production, "The Sleeping Beauty," began this week. The show will open in Mitchell Hall, April 19, and also be presented at a matinee the following day.

Gretchen Berguido, a freshman drama major and a recent candidate in the Miss Delaware contest, has the title role of the princess. In Miss Catherine Ellis-Wilkinson's clever script, the court jester, to be played by Kathy Jordan, is a very important part of the action.

Other characters are King

Henry, Richard Stewart; Queen Hildegard, Elaine Labour; Lord Archibald, Thomas Waters; Lady Agatha, Connie Goodman; the cook, Daniel Robertson; Dearinda (the good fairy godmother), Suzanne Kozak; Fearinda (the bad fairy godmother), Mary Minkiewicz, and Prince Godwin, George Cavey.

Dr. C. Robert Kase, chairman of the department of dramatic arts and speech, is directing the show again this year. He has added special scenes which will make the action continuous, in order to hold the children's attention. The action is not confined to the stage as the actors wander through the auditorium talking with the children.

After the opening performances in Mitchell Hall, two performances will be offered in the Wilmington Playhouse on April 21. On April 25, the company will begin a four day tour of Kent and Sussex Counties and part of Maryland.

University Art Gallery Presents Sculptures In Wood By Barela

An unusual exhibition of sculpture in wood by the noted New Mexico wood carver, Patricio Barela, is now being displayed in the Art Gallery of the Memorial Library at the University of Delaware. The exhibition, sponsored by the Art Department and the University Cultural Activities Committee, is free to the public during the period of the showing, which will continue through April 2, 1956.

The exhibition in the University Gallery shows some of Barela's best work. The well known "Death Looks for Good Men," a hungry Gothic monster with searching eyes leaning upon a staff, is a triumph of the macabre and a powerful statement of Barela's life-view. "Horse and Rider," in which the figure of the steed flows from the bent of the wood, is a second magnificent piece. A careful inspection by the visitor of the pieces on the floor will show many in which a difficult crotch or knot of seemingly unworkable wood was evidently taken by Barela as a challenge to be worked out into some unique form by ingenuity and persistence.

Scrounge Caters To Unusual Tastes

Most students take the that time.
Scrounge for granted.

They track through Delaware's Student Union three or four times daily buy a midday snack and stop to chat, but are actually oblivious of what goes on behind the scenes.

Coffee seems to be the chief commodity sold to the customers, with an average of seventy gallons made each day. Cokes run a close second. In the food department, hamburgers and hot dogs are the most popular; about ten pounds of the former and six pounds of the latter are sold daily. Only about twenty-five gallons of ice cream are sold per week, which may surprise some people.

The Scrounge, when filled to seating capacity, accommodates about 125 persons. This is very small considering that 1700 customers are waited on in an average day. Ten o'clock, not noon time as may be expected, is the busiest time of the day. Not only students, but office force and maintenance catch a break at

According to Mrs. Josephine Hewes, manager, many unusual combinations are requested in the sandwich department. These include an egg on a cheeseburger, peanut butter on everything (including cheeseburgers), salad dressing on one slice of bread in a sandwich and butter on the other slice, a grilled bun with an abundance of pickles and certain flavors of ice cream on the bottom with another specific one on top (and it's no good the other way).

Once a girl complained bitterly about the stain on the coffee cups, then proceeded to take a nickel out of her mouth to pay the cashier. And then there was the guy on a diet who had plenty of bread and mayonnaise, but watching his calories, he wanted only lettuce on the sandwich. There are some people who don't seem to know how to make out checks. One lady handed in a stub, expecting her money and never did realize she had thrown away the wrong part.

The student union, run under the auspices of the SGA, was opened in the fall of 1949. Previous to this, the room had been used as a lounge, with wicker chairs and only a coke machine. Ice cream, such as Dixie cups, had to be gotten in Robinson Hall. When opened, the 'snack lounge' had everything behind the soda fountain; this included a coffee silex and sandwich counter. This left all the space where the sandwich center is now for tables and chairs.

During Christmas vacation of that year, however, major renovations were made. Among other changes, the present booths, coffee urns and sandwich counter plus the grill were installed. A number of students worked part time at the beginning. As the hourly changes didn't always work out too satisfactorily, this practice was discontinued and now only three undergraduates have jobs.
