

responsibilities in the future, the General Assembly, all of you, must be a full partner. We've now created an important blueprint, but it will be left largely to all of you in our legislature to study it, to improve it, and to make its priorities a reality.

One area of smart growth where the legislature has already made its mark is investing in open space and preserving farmland. During this Administration alone, over a quarter-billion dollars have been earmarked for these two important programs. Next week, I'll propose investing an additional $10 million for farmland preservation and for open space programs. The results can already be seen throughout our state. Delaware has the highest rate of agland preservation on a per capita basis of any state in America. One of our latest open space acquisitions -- the largest in state history -- will preserve over 8,500 acres of land in the Nanticoke River Watershed. This natural treasure is an extraordinary gift for the ages. It also provides an important environmental buffer for the pristine Nanticoke. On behalf of future generations, I want to stop for a moment and thank everyone here and outside of this place who worked so hard to make this purchase, this gift, a reality. Thank you.

One of the great environmental challenges that awaits the next Administration and frankly the next General Assembly is the full implementation of the Clean Water Act. In my proposed budget for next year, I will recommend $10 million, on top of the $50 million that you and I have allocated over the past 5 years, to help replenish the water and wastewater fund. Doing so will enable communities to continue working to meet the stringent requirements of this federal law and, more importantly, to better ensure the availability of clean water for our people as this Century unfolds.

The other big water issue facing our state can be addressed even more quickly. During two of the past five summers, Delaware has been hit with prolonged drought. The drought of 1999, as I mentioned earlier, was even called the Drought of the Century.

During both of these droughts, some parts of our state, particularly in northern Delaware, faced water shortages that resulted in drought emergencies and mandatory conservation. Some water providers simply couldn't keep up with the water demand during these long dry periods, largely because they rely too heavily on surface waters -- on rivers and streams - to supply their customers.

To guard against future water drought emergencies, I'll propose legislation that will give the Public Service Commission new regulatory authority. The PSC would require water providers who want to maintain or expand their services to clearly demonstrate that they have the adequate capacity to meet -- even without a prolonged drought -- and without waiving environmental protection or water quality standards.

Well, ladies and gentlemen -- so there you've got it. Well, you've always got it. A cleaner environment, plentiful water, agland and open space better preserved, smarter land-use policies, an improving transportation system, safer neighborhoods, record levels of homeownership, expanded healthcare, effective management of taxpayers' dollars, and a job for just about everyone who wants and needs one. Together, they represent a legacy that all of us have worked diligently to build and will continue to build as this year unfolds.

But we're not done yet. Finishing our work on improving Delaware's schools is the most important task before us, as you've heard me say many times. And how well we do in this particular area may have more to do with the quality of life of our children and our grandchildren than everything else that we're doing combined.

At the dawn of the last Century, the ability of many Delawareans to find work depended largely on the strength of their backs. At the dawn of this Century, that ability will rely largely on the strength of our minds. When Governor Castle and Lt. Governor Wolf handed over the reins of leadership to Lt. Governor Minner and me, some seven years ago, Delaware was preparing to take a new course in the education of our children. It was one which recognized that if our children are to lead successful, productive lives in the future, then we must dramatically improve the quality of the education they receive in our schools today.

That revelation also has occurred in many other states across America. Seven years ago, no state had adopted rigorous academic standards of what students were expected to know in subjects like math, science, English and social studies. Today, 45 states have adopted such standards and, by the end of the year, four more will.

Seven years ago, no states were administering tests to measure student progress against their academic standards. Today, half of all states administer such tests.

And seven years ago, no state had put in place systems attempting to hold parents, politicians, students in schools and school districts accountable for improving student performance. Today, one-third of the states have put such systems in place.

Delaware is doing all of these things, and with the passage of SB260, we will have put in place one of the most comprehensive, promising and fairest education systems in America.

You may recall that Delaware adopted its own academic standards in 1995. The State School Board said then we urge Delaware's schools and school districts to begin modifying their curriculum and their lesson plans to reflect our new academic standards. Well, some schools did, they went to work, and some schools did not. We began testing in 1998, as you know. The initial results were largely disappointing.

More encouraging, though, was that from 1998 to 1999, third and fifth graders began showing improvement. And I'm confident that this spring's tests will reveal even more improvement.

As the day of real consequences for students approaches in Delaware and in other states across America, the call has been heard to delay those consequences, to lower academic standards, or even to abandon them altogether. On this point, let me be clear. The states that lower or abandon their standards do so at their own peril. They put at risk their economic future and the future of their children. States that take either of those steps effectively abandon many of the young people to lives of unfulfilled promise, while assuring their employers a workforce that will not enable them to effectively compete in the 21st Century. And while it's acceptable to pull back a bit on the throttle in the months ahead, and we will, we must not turn from the course we undertook over seven years ago, and I am confident we will not.

Our real goal in setting high standards, measuring progress, holding everyone accountable is to make sure that all Delaware students, all Delaware students have a real chance of meeting those standards. Because children can absorb vast amounts of information when they're quite young, it's important that we begin their education at the beginning of their lives. In Delaware, we do. The key to a child getting off to a good start is making sure that their parents, their parents are prepared to be an effective first teacher for their young children.

No state is doing more than Delaware to prepare parents to meet their responsibilities. Home visits for first time parents. This "Growing Together" national portfolio. A continuum of parenting training that's mandatory for those on welfare and available to inmate parents in every Delaware prison. Parents as Teachers in every Delaware county. Child care assistance for families with income up to 200 percent of poverty. Head Start for every 4-year-old living in poverty.

And that's not all. The investments in the future of our children continue through their school careers. We've lowered, you've lowered, class sizes in kindergarten through third grade, we've capped class sizes for core academic subjects at those grade levels too. We provide an extra 20 instructional days for a third of all kids K-12. Every public school classroom in our state is wired for access to the Internet. We're the first in the nation that did that. Delaware has the lowest ratio of students to computers in America. We invest generously in the professional development of our teachers. Disruption prevention programs are in every public school. Some 10,000 volunteers mentor in our schools every week. A higher percentage of families exercise public school choice here than in any other state. Charter schools operate in each county and more are on the way.

Next week, I'll propose investing nearly $100 million in new money for school construction to help bring our schools into the 21st Century. We're doing all of these things, we're doing all of these things to ensure that our kids have every opportunity to succeed in school and be prepared to lead productive lives when they leave those schools.

Last year, I proposed one final piece of this legacy to help our children succeed in this new Century -- educator accountability -- to go along with the accountability measures that you and I have already put in place for parents, for politicians, for students, schools, and school districts. I did that last year because no part of either a teacher's or an administrator's annual evaluation in Delaware reflects whether students are making academic progress - measured - in a classroom objectively - in a classroom or a school from the beginning of the year to the end of the year. It's not just Delaware, folks. The same situation exists in almost every other state.

Under SB260, that will change in Delaware. This proposal, the product of months of deliberations and debate, is fair to educators and it gives them a real choice in the future of their profession.

Most of all, the legislation will help kids learn by helping the professionals who teach them. And we know, you and I know, that besides their parents, the people who have the biggest impact on our children's education are their teachers. I'm proud of Delaware's teachers. I know you are too. I'm especially proud that this year, this year saw 21 Delaware teachers become nationally-certified -- the most in state history and the most, listen to this, the most of any state in our region. One of Delaware's 39 nationally-certified teachers is with us today, one-time Delaware Teacher of the Year, Milford High's Mercedes Ferrari. Please join me in welcoming Mercedes and in saluting the many Delaware teachers who share her commitment to excellence and to children. Mercedes, how are you? Welcome.

The compromise that's been reached on SB260, both on educator and student accountability, did not come easily. Then again, these aren't easy issues. While this compromise may not completely please everyone, and, frankly, it doesn't completely please me either, it does make clear that this General Assembly is serious about continuing to improve our education system in ways that are fair to our children, to our parents, to educators and to taxpayers.

I want to congratulate our legislative leaders for their hard work in helping to forge this compromise. I want to congratulate, as well, our state's teachers, the business community, the PTA, our State Board of Education, and many others who have not wavered in their commitment to raising student achievement.

Now that the Senate has done its duty and passed this important legislation unanimously, I ask the House to do the same, and to do it soon. The rancor and uncertainty that's gripped our education system has gotta end. And, it's time for this governor and the General Assembly, along with teachers and administrators, including our state's 19 superintendents, to come together again to move our public schools forward. I hope you agree. Now, let's do and get this job done.

Well, folks, today, I have described to you many of our shared accomplishments over the past seven years, and quite a list of things that are still to be done.

But before I close out this State of the State address, I want to acknowledge once more the enduring partnership that this Administration has held with this General Assembly and the three that preceded it.

We have had our share of differences over the years, but frankly I'm told that so have some other Governors and General Assemblies, but we have never lost sight of our common goal – and that's to do what's best for Delaware. Whether its improving our schools, or any of the dozens of challenges that come with each year, we have never let our differences keep us divided for long.

In the end, as Bert Carvel over there can tell you, that's what makes this state work so well. And it is this same uncommon tradition to do what's right for Delaware that now allows us to embrace a new Century strong and confident of our future.

One hundred years from now a new generation of legislators and Delawareans will sit where you sit today and a new Governor will stand here, right here at this podium. Very likely, they will marvel at the changes to Delaware which the 21st Century will have brought about. But as they gather here at the turn of the next Century, what will they say of us? What will they say of us?

I believe they'll say we laid the foundation which enabled Delaware to achieve a quality of life and a nobility of purpose for which future generations were grateful.

I believe they'll say we often set the standard against which other states would be measured. And I believe they'll say our commitment to excellence and to opportunity served as a lasting inspiration to those who followed us.

But, if they don't say those things, I hope that Bert Carvel, and Tina Fallon and Charlie West will be here to set them straight!

And in this new millennium, may God continue to bless both Delaware and the people who make it great. Thank you very, very much!

Res: 00-004

Wilmington, Delaware

January 6, 2000

#1224

Sponsors: Council President Baker

Council Members Brady and K. Kelly

WHEREAS, a proposal has been made to change the designations of the Interstate Highway System so that the interstate route nearest downtown Wilmington would be designated I-495, and the I-95 designation would be applied to the interstate by-pass route east of the city's built-up area; and

WHEREAS, such a change would confuse motorists from outside the area, who are accustomed to two-digit designations being used for by-pass routes around central cities; and

WHEREAS, two-digit designations on interstate by-pass segments usually indicate that there is no continuous interstate segment through the nearby central city; and

WHEREAS, there is no evidence that such a change would produce any appreciable changes in traffic volume on the center-city segment, which connects directly and conveniently with other highways that attract and distribute a significant portion of interstate trips to the Wilmington area; and

WHEREAS, in reliance on the prevailing system that designates the basic interstate system through central cities with two-digit route numbers, the northern Delaware tourism and hospitality industry has made a huge investment in advising the public of such locations in relation to present interstate route designations.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WILMINGTON, that Council objects strongly to any change in the present designation of the Interstate Highway System segments that serve the Wilmington area, and respectfully, but strongly, urges the Delaware Department of Transportation to drop proposals for such a change, in that such a change has no reasonable assurance that it would result in more efficient traffic flow through or around the City of Wilmington.

An Open Letter –

To: SANDRA K. McKINNEY, Clerk of the House

Legislature of the State of South Carolina

Today, February 12, 2000, we celebrate the birthday of Abraham Lincoln and I wonder what Abe would have to say if he were participating in today's debate over South Carolina flying the Confederate flag atop the Capitol Building. First off, I think he would point out that a flag is just a flap of cloth that is much like paper money: It has no more value than what we see in it. And as to 'seeing' – that depends on one's experiences and education. A Southern patriot would see the Confederate flag as a symbol of the State's right of self-determination. And anyone who had lived an experience of being denied his freedom by a government, would vehemently reject any flag that symbolized that government, no matter what the flag symbols were. There is no way of legislating what one may feel about symbols, so we must legislate on the meaning of symbols to In-form our minds and hopefully help Re-form our feelings.

The prominent symbol in the Confederate flag's design is the saltire (X) cross-bars studded with 13 stars. The 13 stars can represent the 13 Confederate States or, as in the case of Mississippi's state law, they commemorate the original 13 states of the Union. That cross-bar saltire design found its way here from Scotland by way of Nova Scotia. Traditionally it is referred to as "The Cross of Saint Andrew", a patron Saint of Scotland, because legend says the Apostle Andrew was crucified on that style of cross. Scotsmen migrated from Nova Scotia down into the southern states and brought with them their reverence for Andrew and all that he stood for. Legend says Andrew lasted for three days on his X-shaped cross, preaching his "gospel" right up to his final breath. For those who know the story, the cross of Andrew symbolizes his determination to hold strong and fast to his convictions. The passionate conviction of people in the Southern States was, and still is, that authority flows from the individual citizen to the state to the nation. This has always been the constitutional structure of America. The Civil War was not fought over this issue, it was fought over the issue of human rights. America has always placed human rights above the state's rights. The problem that ignited the Civil War was that, in the South slaves were not seen as being human and therefore had no rights at all to conflict with the state.

It is indeed unfortunate that the revered symbol of Saint Andrew was caught in the crossfire of the Civil War and has been stigmatized ever since with the uniformed ignorance and hatred left over from that war. The Cross-of-Saint Andrew still remains what it always has been: The symbol of the individual's need to stand firm on the ground of informed belief. It is the core and fountain of democracy, symbolized in the Confederate flag and as such should occupy a place of respect and prominence on the grounds not only of the South Carolina Capitol, but of every State Capitol in the Union. By copy of this writing to every State Legislature, I am urging consideration of its thesis and action as a step toward curbing the growing ill-founded hatred in this nation.

Montpelier, Vermont
Joint Senate Resolution

By Senators Morrissey, Sears, Ankeney, Bloomer, Brownell, Canns, Chard, Crowley, Cummings, Doyle, Greenwood, Ide, Leddy, MacDonald, Maynard, Mazza, McCormack, Munt, Ptashnik, Riehle, Rivers and Shumlin.

J.R.S. 78. Joint resolution relating to the need for national leadership to address the high cost of medically necessary prescription drugs.

Whereas, medically necessary prescription drugs are unaffordable for many Americans, especially seniors, the disabled, and the uninsured, and

Whereas, prescription drugs are a major factor in escalating health care cost inflation trends for private and public health insurance plans, and state Medicaid programs, and

Whereas, the United States stands virtually alone among the major economies of the world in recognizing and protecting the legitimate patent rights of companies that discover new prescription drugs, but in placing no reciprocal obligations on such companies to provide reasonable and affordable access to those patented drugs, and

Whereas, the United States Congress has enacted legislation protecting its financial interests in connection with prescription drug costs, such as through the Medicaid rebate program and through the Federal Supply Schedule for the veterans' health benefit plan, but has refused to grant similar powers to the states to allow them to protect their interests and the health and welfare of their citizens, and

Whereas, while states are aggressively pursuing promising strategies to lower prescription drug prices, the federal government can address the problem of high prescription drug costs more easily than the states because of the multistate and international nature of the pharmaceutical industry, and the complex marketplace for prescription drugs, and

Whereas, the problem of high prescription drug costs is a national problem calling for leadership at the national level, now therefore be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

That the State of Vermont hereby calls upon the United States Congress and the President to lead the nation, and immediately address the problem of high prescription drug costs for all Americans, and be it further Resolved: That the Secretary of State is directed to send a copy of this resolution to the House and the Senate of each state, with a request that a similar resolution be adopted in each of the 50 states no later than July 1, 2000, and with notification that Vermont will undertake to deliver on July 4, 2000, a copy of all resolutions to the United States Congress, the President of the United States, and the Congressional Delegation of each of the states that have adopted the resolution.

WHEREAS, the State of Delaware was struck during the day of Tuesday, March 21, 2000, by a coastal "nor'easter" storm of unusual strength and intensity; and

WHEREAS, the Delaware State dredge, the "DIAMOND STATE" was anchored, without personnel aboard, approximately one-half mile off the coast of Broadkill Beach in the lower bay, where it was being used to carry out a beach and duneline reconstruction project; and

WHEREAS, as the storm began to intensify Tuesday afternoon, an anchor cable broke, causing the DIAMOND STATE to swing freely in the waves and to begin taking on water; and

WHEREAS, in an effort to keep the vessel from foundering, a three-man team consisting of William Daisey, field operation chief for the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control, dredge operator Orlando King and marine mechanic Gerald Wingate were taken out to the vessel by charter launch with two pumps; and

WHEREAS, when the two pumps proved unable to keep up with the flooding, the charter launch was sent to obtain heavier equipment, but, in its absence, the storm intensified greatly; and

WHEREAS, when the launch returned conditions had deteriorated to the point where it was unable to approach the dredge safely, forcing it to back away from the DIAMOND STATE and leaving the three men stranded aboard the dredge; and

WHEREAS, state officials then made an emergency call to the U.S. Coast Guard which responded promptly, despite the by-now harrowing conditions, by dispatching an HH-65 Dolphin helicopter from Coast Guard Air Station Atlantic City, NJ; and

WHEREAS, the helicopter was under the command of LT Pete Mingo, and included in its crew LT Dave Cooper, co-pilot, AMT3 Manuel Bravo, Flight Mechanic, and AST2 Jeff Danner, Rescue Swimmer; and

WHEREAS, when the helicopter approached the DIAMOND STATE at 9:25 p.m. Tuesday evening, the deck of the dredge was awash, waves were breaking on and over the pilot house and the dredge was sinking in 45 knot winds, seas of five to eight feet and water temperatures of 44 degrees; and

WHEREAS, the three men aboard the dredge were by now clinging to the roof of the four-by-six foot pilot house and the Coast Guard crew began the rescue by attempting to hoist them to the helicopter in a basket; and

WHEREAS, Gerald Wingate was successfully rescued by being taken to a point near the shore and lowered into the bay waters where he was helped to dry land by AST2 Danner, the rescue swimmer; and

WHEREAS, the basket was damaged during Orlando King's rescue, resulting in the failure of repeated attempts by William Daisey to use the basket for his own rescue, whereupon AST2 Danner was lowered to the vessel in a harness and helped Mr. Daisey reach the helicopter safely; and

WHEREAS, circumstances were such that the three men were in imminent peril and may have lost their lives, had it not been for the heroic efforts of the Coast Guard helicopter crew, which was operating in conditions of great danger to themselves and their aircraft;

NOW, THEREFORE:

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the 140th General Assembly of the State of Delaware, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the members of the Delaware General Assembly do hereby extend the heartfelt and sincere thanks of all Delawareans to LT Pete Mingo, LT Dave Cooper, AMT3 Manuel Bravo, AST2 Jeff Danner and all the personnel of Coast Guard Air Station Atlantic City, NJ, who participated in the heroic rescue of the Delaware state personnel aboard the DIAMOND STATE.

March 30, 2000

The Honorable Wayne A. Smith

Majority Leader

House of Representatives

Legislative Hall

Dover, Delaware 19901

Dear Representative Smith:

As the prime sponsor of the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Holiday in Delaware, and a longtime admirer of Dr. King, I am writing to respectfully request that you join the effort in the Delaware State Senate to postpone consideration of House Bill 300 during the week of April 4, 2000.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was assassinated on April 4, 1968, in Memphis, Tennessee, while continuing his nonviolent struggle for racial and economic equality. As you know, many people regard House Bill 300 as a controversial attempt to resegregate public education in New Castle County. It is my belief that to allow the consideration of HB 300 on the day and during the week of the anniversary of Dr. King's death would desecrate his memory.

The symbolism embodied in considering HB 300 on April 4 is profoundly disturbing to me and to many others. It is my belief that full passage and enactment of this legislation, in its current form, will cause far-reaching and irrevocable harm.

I would also hope that members of the General Assembly who honor Dr. King every January would look themselves in the mirror and ask themselves if they can, in good conscience, turn their backs on Dr. King's legacy.

Perhaps we can use the week of April 4 as a time of introspection to promote farsighted and enlightened leadership on this issue. On the eve of his assassination, Dr. King spoke at the Mason Temple, a church in Memphis. He seemed aware of his own impending mortality as he exclaimed that the Lord has allowed him to go up to the mountain. And Dr. King said, "And I've looked over. And I've seen the Promised Land. I may not get there with you. But I want you to know tonight, that we, as a people, will get to the promised land."

I am asking for your help in using the week of April 4 to decide that we, as people of conscience, will determine whether House Bill 300 helps people to reach the promised land or whether it contributes to the extinguishing of Dr. King's dream.

Sincerely,
Al O. Plant, Sr.
State Representative
2nd District

c/Governor Thomas R. Carper
Mayor James H. Sills, Jr.

March 28, 2000

The Honorable Terry Spence

Speaker of the House of Representatives

Legislative Hall

Dover, DE 19901

Dear Mr. Spence and members of the House of Representatives:

The Central Delaware Economic Development Council is Kent County's agency charged with bringing in new jobs and capital investment. The CDEDC has worked very hard over the last 20 years to achieve this goal and we continue to seek opportunities to attract new employers and industries to diversify our local employment base.

We are in full support of the House Amendment to SB 280 to exclude Kent County from the bill. The amendment, if passed, would give us the opportunity to attract several companies and create 100 + new jobs. These companies would make capital investments of $50-70 million, generating income for the local school district as well as property tax income for the municipality and the county. In addition, the companies will purchase local goods and services, further increasing the impact on the local economy.

We urge you to support this amendment.

Sincerely,

LeRoy Klein

Chairman

City of Wilmington

Louis L. Redding – City/County Building
800 French Street
Wilmington, Delaware 19801-3537
Ms. Debra Campafnari Martin
RE: Wilmington Job Corps Center
Building Design Development
Ms. Martin,

Thank you for your efforts in assembling and consolidating the public and community response to our proposed construction of the Wilmington Job Corps Center on Vandever Avenue. Your efforts in assisting with Section 106 process have been much appreciated. The list of public concerns and requests that you provided has been thoroughly reviewed, and each item has been considered.

After careful consideration and professional evaluations, the U.S. Department of Labor, in conjunction with the State of Delaware, has determined that it will not be possible to retain/reuse the existing Wiltex building. The primary reason for this decision is that the existing facility could not conform to the programmatic and operational needs of the Job Corps program, and any retention of the three-story brick "spine" would not have been appropriate for an educational building. Also, a professional engineering evaluation of the Wiltex building questioned the structural integrity of several key components. When the full extent of structural repairs to the facility were considered and assessing what to do with the other parts of the building not intending to be reused, it was no longer economically feasible to plan to reuse the existing building or the boiler house. However, we will preserve the brick smokestack as it will continue to be used as a landmark for the surrounding neighborhood. We also will insure that our demolition contractor will fully protect the one truly historical structure, the Brandywine Academy.

The new construction will be of materials (brick), and will be in character with the surrounding community. The requests in the list you provided for green space, street level doors and windows, lighting and signage, will be part of the new facility. As such, we will have our architectural firm coordinate with the GBVR, especially on any outdoor signage. It is the Department of Labor's intention to ensure that the Wilmington Job Corps Center in no way detracts from the historic integrity of the neighboring Brandywine Historic District.

Finally, while safety and security are always areas of concern in such a well-defined neighborhood, it is the intention of the Job Corps program to design and construct a facility that is associated with education and community development, and totally avoiding all negative connotations that may be perceived by the surrounding neighbors.

A schematic design presentation is being planned, which you and all interested parties are welcome to attend on April 18th at 7:00 p.m. The place is being arranged by Mr. Sam Harbison and an announcement will be published in the local newspapers very soon. At that meeting a suggested plan and several elevations of the new facility will be presented, along with our design and construction schedule.

A letter, under a separate cover, which you will be copied on, is being prepared for the Delaware State Historic Preservation Office. This letter will contain the Department of Labor's conclusion that this undertaking will not produce an adverse effect on this property nor eligibility for inclusion to the National Register of Historic Places. Thank you once again for your assistance and participation in the continuing Section 106 process.

Sincerely,

Michael O'Malley, Architect

National Office of Job Corps

Federal Historic Preservation officer for the Department of Labor

WHEREAS, in civilian life Steve Richter is employed in the Bridge Design Division of the Delaware Department of Transportation; and

WHEREAS, Steve Richter of Bridge Design recently returned home after 7 months of military duty in Bosnia. Multi-National forces went to Bosnia in 1996 to stop the Civil War there and now remain to provide a safe and secure environment and promote the country's transition to a peaceful democratic society; and

WHEREAS, Steve was stationed at Eagle Base outside of Tuzla, and worked in the Civil Military Cooperation (CIMIC) Battalion. His job was to assess community infrastructure needs and coordinate nomination of projects for construction by the United States Agency for International Development, which included roads, bridges, power grids, water systems and health clinics. Projects were selected to encourage ethnic minorities to return to their pre-war home and re-create a multi-ethnic society in Bosnia; and

WHEREAS, in Bosnia, Steve worked with many international organizations including the UN. His own unit was staffed by members of eight different countries including the US, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Slovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, and Greece. All of the Americans in the CIMIC Battalion were reservists called to active duty. Steve says that the situation in Bosnia right now is pretty calm but the military is always ready. HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 32

(By Delegates Boggs, McGraw, Thompson, Mahan, C. White, Prunty, Hutchins, Varner, Martin, Shelton, Tucker, Pino, Proudfoot, Johnson, Wright, Yeager, Fletcher, Wills, Pettit, Ennis, Givens, Hines, Davis, Spencer, Dalton, Louisos, Butcher, Manuel, Hubbard, Smirl, Caputo, Coleman, Paxton, Hatfield, Michael, Compton, Flanigan, Trump, Rowe, Capito, Laird, Fleischauer, Warner, Manchin, Douglas, Linch, Ross, Angotti, H. Urging the passage of national legislation to increase benefits to surviving spouses under the Railroad Retirement Act of 1974.

WHEREAS, For years many in the railroad industry have argued that annuities paid widows and widowers under the Railroad Retirement Act of 1974 are grossly inadequate; and

WHEREAS, Under current law, during the lifetime of a railroad employee and his or her spouse, the employee and the spouse receive a full annuity.

WHEREAS, After the employee's death, only a widow's or widower's annuity is payable in an amount the widow or widower received as a spouse in the month before the employee's death; and

WHEREAS, the widow's or widower's annuity is inadequate and often leaves the survivor with less than the amount of income needed to meet ordinary and necessary living expenses; and

WHEREAS, To remedy this inequity, no outside contributions from the American taxpayer are needed; and

WHEREAS, Any changes in law will be paid for from within the railroad industry itself; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia:

That all parties of the railroad community, including labor, management and retirement organizations, actively support legislation to guarantee widow's or widower's annuities at amounts no less than that which the employee was receiving in the month before his or her death, irrespective of any other railroad retirement issue; and be it

Further Resolved, That the Congress of the United States enact annuity legislation that recognizes the concern of many that the widow's or widower's annuity under current law is inadequate to meet ordinary and necessary living expenses; and be it

Further Resolved, That all other States join in this effort of support for modification of the guaranteed minimum benefit for widows and widowers whose annuities are converted from spousal annuity to a widow's or widower's annuity; and, be it

Further Resolved, That the Clerk of the House of Delegates is directed to provide a copy of this resolution to the State's Congressional Delegation, and the respective Legislatures of the remaining forty-nine states.

I, GREGORY M. GRAY, Clerk of the House of Delegates, and as such Clerk, Keeper of the Rolls of the Legislature of West Virginia, hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of House Concurrent Resolution 32, which was adopted by the Legislature on the 8th day of March 2000.
