Surgical Dressings
Are Made

Newark Red Cross production figures for December show that in spite of the busy holiday season 14,200 surgical dressings were made in 791 hours by 120 workers as compared with 13,060 dressings in 680 hours. The attendance per hour was largest at the evening sessions and Mrs. Walter Hultihen, local chairman, says that much credit is due the men and women who turn out after a full day's work elsewhere to spend tedious hours folding gauze and desperately needed surgical dressings. The attendance during daylight hours has fallen off, especially in the mornings.

When the great battle of Continental Europe and the Far East take on momentum, the need will be even greater. These at home must fill that need with even larger quotas of dressings. Newark citizens are being urged to turn out in increasing numbers for this urgent need.

This past month in sewing production 12 women spent 112 1-2 hrs. There are 8 sewing machines available and handwork must be done to complete many of the articles. Many more workers could be of great help each Tuesday.

The chairman of knitting, Mrs. George Dutton, reports that 67 knitted garments were turned in representing an estimated 1237 hours. These included 3 children's sweaters, 1 child's pants, 3 pairs children's socks, 36 sleeveless men's sweaters, 2 men's turtle-neck sweaters, 10 helmets, 2 mufflers, 1 pair gloves, 1 pair wristlets.

The total number of hours devoted to Red Cross work at the Newark branch, including all corps, was 2365 hours in the month of December.

PERIOD 3 FUEL OIL COUPONS NOW GOOD

Consumers May Also Use Fuel
Coupons For Second Period

The OPA has issued its regular report on fuel oil consumption designed to give householders a ready index for budgeting their rations.

The report shows that, as of Thursday, December 23, 1943, consumers in this area should not have used more than 34 percent of their total yearly fuel oil ration.

Period 1 coupons which went into effect last July 1 throughout the 33-state rationed area expire for use by consumers, Monday, January 3, 1944. On January 4, Period 3 coupons may be used in the east and far west. Last November 30, period 3 coupons in all other areas became valid for use. Consumers in all areas still may use their Period 2 coupons.

In addition to these "Period" or definite value coupons, which are assigned a gallonage value periodically on the basis of supplies available, this year's rationing plan provides definite value coupons good throughout the year. These coupons represent a sizable portion of the householders total ration.

Newark, Delaware, Thursday, December 30, 1943

TUBERCULOSIS IN DELAWARE

December marks the hundredth anniversary of the birth month of Robert Koch whose gift to humanity was the discovery and isolation of the tubercle bacillus, the cause of tuberculosis, and his contributions inaugurated a new era in medical research and public health practice. The experiments of Koch proved that tuberculosis is not an inherited disease but an infection that spreads from man to man, and that it can be controlled by isolating known cases and by developing a population fortified against the disease by sound health habits.

The State Board of Health is very active in working for the control of the disease which claimed 138 lives in Delaware last year, and maintains tuberculosis clinics at Brandywine Sanitarium, Marshallton, in Wilmington, Dover, Georgetown, Laurel, Newark, Middletown and Milford.

Fluoroscopes (a type of x-ray for examining the chest for signs of tuberculosis) are located at the first 5 places. The 3 machines located in the Board's downstate by the Delaware anti-tuberculosis Society clinics were provided through the sale of Christmas seals, so the purchase of these gay little seals is a real contribution to public health in the state. The x-raying of high school students is another public health project financed by the sale of the Society's seals.

To date this year there have been 144 cases of tuberculosis reported to the State Board of Health as compared to 192 cases reported in the same period last year. This, however, does not represent the entire number of cases in the state for there are, no doubt, many early unreported cases among those who have been in contact with persons having the disease.

The State Board of Health's Division of Public Health Nursing puts stress on the program of "TB" case-finding and control and the staff, last year, made a total of 2,975 home visits for these purposes. The former is to interest relatives or others living in a house with a tuberculous patient to come to a clinic for examination to determine whether or not they have become infected with the disease. The nurses explain that early examination and treatment greatly increases the person's chances for recovery. The nurses also make home visits for the purpose of showing some member of the household how to care for a tuberculous patient if he or she must remain in the home, and what precautions to take in order to minimize the chances of the contagion spreading to others.

Tuberculosis last year in Delaware took as many lives as pneumonia, (138 deaths), and was exceeded as a taker of life by only 5 other causes, namely, heart disease, nephritis, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage, and accidental deaths.

There were 2,170 persons attending the Board's 7 "TB" clinics in 1942, of which 1,057 persons were new cases examined because the doctor suspected that they might have the disease. Four hundred and forty-nine persons out of this group were retained on the clinic files for nurse's follow-up because they were thought to be infected with the disease.

In order to conquer tuberculosis the fight must be continuous.

EARLY FERTILIZER PURCHASE URGED

Feed Loan Applications Now Being Accepted

Pointing out the desirability of purchasing fertilizer and other supplies for 1944 crops well in advance of the planting season, Field Supervisor Fred W. Rickards of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Dover has announced that he is now accepting applications for crop and feed loans for spring planting.

"The War Food Administration is urging the early purchase and storage on farms of fertilizer required for 1944 crop production," Field Supervisor Rickards said. "Due to the tight labor situation, transportation difficulties, and limited storage facilities off the farm, considerable quantities of fertilizer must be purchased and delivered to farmers over a six months' period rather than the usual sixty day period."

"In order that farmers in this section may cooperate and purchase their fertilizer, seed, and other supplies at this time, the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office is prepared to make loans up to $400 to those farmers who are eligible," he continued. "Advances on these loans will be made as the money is needed."

Crop loans are secured by a first lien on the crops to be produced and feed loans by a chattel mortgage on the livestock to be fed. The interest rate is 4 percent per year. Farmers who wish to apply may communicate with Field Supervisor Rickards at Box 226, Dover, Delaware, who will arrange to accept their applications.

How About That!

By Ruth Safran

Alongside the gala, be-ribboned stack of Christmas cards on my dresser another stack has started—G. I. memories and hopes aroused by this year-sealing holiday.

From Italy, where Ralph and Paul are now covering the war, came two elaborately drawn cards respectively urging "Buon Natale" and "Buon Anno". The accompanying V-mail note summed up their early impressions of Italy: "This sunny Italy you've been reading in the papers about is very much to the taste of Ralph and Paul. Much more to our taste than North Africa ever was. There seems to be more life and living in this part of the world and the Italians make us happier than the Arabs ever did. There's a lot of beauty spots to look at and linger over and good Italian wine to sip slowly and the language sounds like nice music when they don't start jabbering it too rapidly."

"But there's a lot of dirt and filth and you don't have to look hard to find it. As for the market place . . . they make our East Side in NYC look like Waldorf Astoria. And when the Germans left, they left little behind that was worth anything. All the souvenirs that the soldiers are buying now are mostly five and ten cent store stuff which they're paying for in dollars."

"But this is sunny Italy and for every bad, there is a good and for every stink there is the cold fresh air and the wonderful view from the top of a high hill."

All of which will go very nicely with the chocolate candy you are sending us."

And in more restrained and cynical tone, comes this expression from Will, who has been "basking" in the Alaskan wilds:

"Things here are as usual. I listen avidly to the news but since they have summaries every hour and they repeat previous announcements frequently it sounds much better than it is. And it only aggravates my feeling that things are going at a snail's pace.

"I'd like to see the war over and no doubt about it—it's funny (not ha ha) at home (so I read) people expect to see a new world after the war but returned soldiers won't be any help for that. All they (and me too somewhat) want is a return to the old things they used to do before. They'll be a conservative bunch when they get back."

From Ted at Fort Knox came this: "Let's hope and pray that the next year gives us a bit of a break in battle, 'cause we need it."

The sailor I met on the train back from New York managed to spend Christmas at home only because his arm was broken in two places. "I spent last year in Scotland", he said. "They celebrated Christmas and were very nice to all of us. But I hope I never have to spend another Christmas away from home."

The seven AST soldiers I shared a ride with from Wilmington had had very satisfactory Christmas vacations. I gathered—ice-skating, dancing, admiring girl-friend's new coiffure, eating to capacity. They spent a moment sincerely regretting that the other boys who lived farther out had not been able to go home. From there, they launched into a discussion of the relative merits of Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra. Since the group was predominantly male, Sinatra won.

The moment the boys hit Newark, they were planning to head for a place to eat. Which surprises no one aware of their amazing capacity for eating.

A new AST anecdote I heard—probably inspired by Christmas cheer: The Lieutenant was lecturing. His eye froze when he saw the Private draping his long leg over the adjoining chair.

"Would you put your foot on chairs at home?" the Lieutenant asked coldly. Undaunted came the reply: "Chairs? No chairs in Brooklyn!"

WAIT!

Any reduction you can safely make in the use of electricity helps to Win the War!

... WHY?

If each consumer in the United States saved only one kilowatt hour of electricity, the total thus saved would be equivalent to MORE THAN 25,000 TONS OF COAL

RIGHT now there is an adequate supply of electricity to take care of all foreseeable needs. But conserving its use releases critical materials—fuel, transportation and manpower—for Vital War Needs. That's why our government has asked seven major industries—coal, petroleum, transportation, communications, gas, electricity and water to cooperate for wartime conservation. That's why every consumer is asked to support this program — that's why you help when you conserve electricity wherever possible.

CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

SHOTS

by
J. H. (Sureshot) Rumer

Tomorrow night will be New Year's Eve and at that time it is customary for everyone to make New Years Resolutions. Those resolutions are like all other laws. Most of them are made to be broken, and how. Every one you meet will be wishing you a Happy New Year.

The motoring public should be happy that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad have fixed the Main Street crossing. It is a fine job and now they should get to work on the North College Avenue crossing.

We will all be much happier when the war is over and those who are so dear to us return home. To all those men and boys in the service the Newark Post extends the best wishes of the season.

The Newark Varsity basketball team played the Alumni this week and despite the fact that Leon Ryan who was acting as timekeeper stopped the watch the older boys who also had several inches on the school team carried off the honors.

The game was supposed to be played with eight-minute quarters but it developed that the first quarter ran for thirteen minutes. The next two periods were of nine minute duration and in an effort to let the Varsity team catch up the final period ran close to twenty minutes. Both teams played a fine game.

Billy Ritchie, while he did not set the world on fire with a big score, played a nice game. Buddy Cataldi who led in the scoring for the school team only did what was expected of him. Buddy is good and knows it. Now that Bill Pie also showed up well at the forward spot and Bob McKenry outscored his brother Henry who played a fine game for the Alumni. Those Navy fellows on the Alumni were very good. Vinsinger, Detjen, Steedle played like the veterans they are. Jack Lewis, that handsome Aviation Cadet, proved to be the star of the game with eight goals.

Some humorous stories have come out of the closing of the local Warning Center. The best story is about Lowell Hendricks who, when he was told that the Center was closed, said that he was going to set his clock as usual and when the alarm went off he was going to turn on the light and give the old clock the horse-laugh and turn over and go back to sleep.

Tommy Ross, one of Newark's well-known contractors said, "That is too bad, where will I go now to make up my payroll. Tom spent his time at the Warning Center making up his payroll each week."

Dr. John Powell, a member of the history department at the University of Delaware when he was told that his services would no longer be needed, jumped up and down and shouted "Hip, Hip, Hurrah."

Dr. Jack Standen, another professor, excuse me, assistant plant pathologist, at the University, stated that now he would have to think up another good excuse to get out at nights.

Paul Jaquette, a former operator at the Center who had to quit for some reason or other, when he found that the Center was closed, called up Mr. Tomhave and offered to help out if there were any vacancies.

Jenk Sparks, manager of the meat department at the American Store (free advertising) said that now he would have time to count up all the ration points.

Abe Geist was off one time on account of sickness and it is reported that his partner Robert J. Davis said, "Abe can't do that to me!"

Frank Powell, who operates the real estate department at the Newark Trust (more free advertising) said that now he can stay at home every Saturday night and play bridge.

Mrs. Harvey Boyce still is the leader with the greatest number of hours of service of any one of the workers at the local Warning Center. Mrs. Boyce, along with her other duties, did not only fill her one shift WELL, she filled TWO shifts and certainly did a fine job.

YELLOWJACKETS DEFEATED BY ALUMNI BASKETBALL TEAM IN PRACTICE GAME

High School Basketball Team Loses Practice Game With Alumni Team On Monday Morning; Timekeeper Stops Clock To Let Younger Boys Catch Up Opposed by a much larger and more experienced team Coach Jackson's charges gave a good account of themselves in a practice game on Monday morning in the school gymnasium when an Alumni team topped the Varsity by one point.

The Alumni took the lead in the first period with Jack Lewis sinking the first basket on the opening play and Lewis followed with another basket and Buddy Cataldi scored Newark's first point with a foul shot. Lewis scored his third basket and Bill Ritchie scored a foul shot for the Varsity team with the quarter ending 6 to 2 in favor of the Alumni.

The Varsity outscored the Alumni in the second period 5 to 4 with Buddy Cataldi making two goals from action play and one from the foul stripe. Henshaw Steedle and Jack Lewis accounted for the Alumni's two goals.

Hennie Steedle accounted for two goals from action in the third period. Henry Vinsinger, Daniel Boone and E. J. Helmbeck each scored two points for the Alumni and Bill Pie, and Brandon Davis each got a basket for the Varsity with Buddy Cataldi scoring one point on a foul shot, bringing the score to 20 to 12.

The final period was packed with action as Bill Hamilton opened up with two points for the Varsity but the Alumni came right back with Helmbeck sinking a shot for the Alumni. Lewis scored, Cataldi sank one, Pie found the basket for another 2-pointer, Lewis sank two in succession, Cataldi scored again, Pie scored twice, Cataldi sank a foul shot, Bob McKenry scored, Lewis scored again and Cataldi brought Newark High's score to within one point of the Alumni. After another few minutes of play Davis scored from the floor to give the Varsity a one-point lead with the score 31 to 30. Using the correct time the final score was Alumni 30, Varsity 29.

The Varsity team which is composed of much smaller players gave a good account of themselves and played a fine ball game.

Four of the Alumni players are home from the armed forces. Jack Lewis is an Aviation Cadet; Henshaw Steedle, Edson Detjen and Henry Vinsinger are in the Navy.

Jack Lewis was the scoring star for the Varsity with eight goals from action and Buddy Cataldi led for the Varsity with four shots from action and four from the foul stripe for a total of 12 points.

EASTERN BEAGLE CLUB TO HOLD CLASS B FIELD TRIAL OVER LOCAL COURSE SUNDAY

Regular Monthly A.K.C. Sanctioned Field Trials Will Be Run Over Club Course And All Hounds Placing Will Receive Valuable Prizes

The Eastern Beagle Club will hold their regular monthly Class "B", American Kennel Club sanctioned trials over the club course on the estate of S. Hallock duPont near Milford Cross Road on Sunday.

J. COCHRAN IS ELECTED NEW BEAGLE CLUB HEAD

Eastern Federation To Run Trials In April

John W. Cochran of Capitol Trail near Newark was elected president of the Eastern Beagle Club at the regular monthly meeting held recently in the club house.

Other officers elected were Edgar Lawson of Newark to the office of vice-president; Raymond Vansant Buckingham of Newark as secretary; Charles Marlowe of Wilmington, treasurer.

Clarence W. Humphreys of Marshallton, was named chairman of the field trial committee and Harold Lund of Landenberg, Pa., was named chairman of the bench show committee. John W. Cochran of Newark was again named chairman of the grounds committee.

Charles Marlowe was elected delegate to both the American Kennel Club and the Eastern Federation of Beagle Clubs conventions.

It was stated that the Eastern Federation of Beagle Clubs which comprises sixteen member clubs will run their annual Derby trials over the Eastern Beagle Club's grounds in April. This trial is usually held in New Jersey.

Eight hounds from each of the sixteen member clubs will be eligible to compete in the Eastern Federation of Beagle Clubs Derby trials which will mean a class of 128 hounds running for the title of Eastern Federation Champion.

INSECTICIDE SUPPLY IS SUFFICIENT

Cooperation Of Consumers Necessary

If the program now planned can be carried out effectively, the total supply of agricultural insecticides and fungicides should be sufficient to protect both commercial and garden crops of important foods from serious injury in 1944, according to S. L. Hopperstead, associate plant pathologist for the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station.

However, it will be necessary again to use extenders, substitutes and alternate materials wherever possible. And full cooperation of consumers, dealers, and distributors will be necessary to make this program effectively, since problems of manpower, containers, and transportation hamper manufacture and distribution of these essential supplies.

Mr. Hopperstead advises consumers to follow these suggestions of the Agricultural Insecticide and Fungicide Association in order to insure their supplies:

Decide early on your minimum needs. Consult early with your local dealer, your distributor or your source of supply, so that he will be ready with the materials.

Get your order in early. Give your supply all possible leeway when and in what sort of containers he will deliver.

It is particularly important that growers get copper fungicides and sulfur compounds as soon as possible in order to prevent shortages of storage space, which would cramp manufacturing facilities, cause manpower bottlenecks in handling the materials, and overcrowd transportation facilities if the orders did come in late.

Drawings for braccimates will take place promptly at nine o'clock in the club house on Sunday morning and the running of the trials will start immediately following.

The entry fee for Sunday's trials will be $2 and 40 per cent of the proceeds will be divided 50-40-20-10 for the winners of the two classes.

There will be two classes on Sunday with 13 inch dogs and bitches running together and the 15 inch dogs and bitches running together.

Judges for the trials will be John Cochran and Edgar Lawson of Newark; William S. Martin of Salisbury, Md. and Clarence Burris of Wilmington.

All hounds placing in each class besides winning valuable prizes will be eligible to compete in the annual Memorial Championship stake which will be run over the club grounds in April.

Dinner will be served at noon on Sunday in the club house under the direction of Mrs. R. V. Buckingham.

Raymond Vansant Buckingham, secretary of the club has stated that game is very plentiful at the club grounds and with the grounds in most excellent shape the going at the trials on Sunday should be very good.

All persons who are lovers of the dogs whether they are members of the club or not are cordially invited to be present on Sunday to see these dog runs.

TRANSFER OF VEHICLE REGULATION

O.P.A. Issues Rules On Sale Of Autos

Effective January 1, 1944 a registered owner of a motor vehicle who is disposing of the vehicle by any method—sale to dealer, sale to consumer, sale to junker or otherwise—shall, prior to the completion of the sale, surrender this ration book or books to a War Price & Ration Board.

The Boards, after determining the all outstanding ration issues for the vehicle have been surrendered, will issue or mail a receipt in duplicate, OPA Form R-569, to the seller in exchange for the ration book surrendered. The seller must give both copies of the receipt OPA Form R-569 and his current Tire Inspection Record to the purchaser of the vehicle.

The buyer in turn must present the duplicate copy of the receipt and the Tire Inspection Record to his Local Board when applying for a new gasoline ration. The original copy of the receipt must be presented to the State Motor Vehicle Registrar when application is made for a registration certificate.

Local Boards will not issue a ration for any automobile, truck, bus, or motorcycle purchased after

MASTITIS CONTROL REQUIRES COOPERAT'N

Dairymen
Must Always Be Alert To Detect Signs

Control of mastitis in Delaware will require a lot of cooperation from the dairymen of the State," says Prof. T. A. Baker of the Department of Animal and Poultry Industry at the University of Delaware.

Announcement was made recently of the appointment of Dr. V. C. Lancaster as a fieldman and diagnostician for mastitis control. Funds for this campaign have been furnished by the Delaware State Board of Agriculture and the University of Delaware; the Hasell Research Foundation is furnishing laboratory facilities and expert counsel.

One man is to bear the chief burden of mastitis eradication in Delaware, he must have the earnest cooperation of the dairymen whom he is serving, according to Prof. Baker.

If mastitis exists in a herd, the dairyman himself should be the first to detect it. He must be continuously on the lookout for inflamed udders in his cows and heifers and should use a strip-cup frequently—even once a day is not too often for this checkup—to discover thickened milk. Early detection of mastitis has an important bearing on its treatment.

The local veterinarian has his part to play in the program. He should be called by the dairyman at the first evidence of mastitis. He can make valuable suggestions for herd management and his services will be necessary in taking samples and administering treatment.

Mastitis seriously reduces essential milk production—its control is worth the effort of every dairyman in co-operating.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

Increased Food
Output Program Formulated

A definite program to stimulate milk production and for the conservation of livestock in Delaware in order to increase the food output and save investments of time, labor, and materials was formulated at a recent meeting of the Delaware State Committee on Dairy Production and Livestock Conservation.

First action planned by the group is a series of meetings to be held in the three counties by County agricultural agents and vocational agriculture instructors between January 10 and 25, emphasizing three basic points of dairy herd conservation recommended by a subcommittee on dairying. These points are improved feeding, with better pastures and liming, good roughages, and conservation of protein by feeding rations of not more than 18 per cent protein; control of mastitis in herds; and control of Bang's disease.

Striving of calves out of high producing cows for herd replacements will be emphasized.

On general livestock conservation, two publications are to be distributed through the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service to farmers of the State. These publications are a folder on care and feeding of pigs and a short bulletin on feeding and management of livestock. Demonstrations on feeding and management are to be given whenever possible before farm groups by 4-H club members and vocational agricultural groups, and a movie on hog sanitation is to be presented at meetings. The subcommittee recommended better attention to quality of breeding stock.

Wherever practicable, meetings on dairy conservation and general livestock conservation will be combined. Other conservation measures will be added to the program as the work progresses.

Advances for country shippers who pack potatoes in containers of less than 50 pounds were reinstated by OPA. Premiums over ceiling prices of potatoes packed in 100-pound bags are allowed to take care of the cost of labor and packaging materials. Similar allowances had been permitted by OPA for the 1942 potato crop. They had not been included in the regulation covering potatoes for the 1943 crop pending study to determine proper price differentials.

The War Food Administration has taken steps to make available the limited supply of rotenone insecticides for agricultural use in a manner which will contribute most to the 1944 food production program. The revised order permits use of rotenone insecticides on a larger list of fruits and vegetables than had previously been authorized. On commercial crops, for control of pea weevil and pea aphid on peas; worms, aphids, flea beetles, and harlequin bug on cabbage and other cole crops; bean beetles on beans; asparagus beetles on cutting asparagus; European corn borer on sweet corn; Japanese beetle on peaches, grapes, and small fruits; spittle bug on strawberries; raspberry fruit worm on raspberries; and other brambles; gooseberry fruit worm on currants and gooseberries; fruit fly on cherries; and blueberry maggot on blueberries.

On non-commercial crops, rotenone may be used for control of any insect or mite attacking vegetables or small fruits in farm, home, or Victory Gardens. Control of cattle grubs and lice on cattle and sheep ticks on lambs is also permitted.

To purchase rotenone dusts the farmer is required to sign a certificate stating that the material will be used only for the purposes mentioned in the order. Farm, home, or Victory Gardens, however, may purchase five pounds or less when in the form of powder, or one pint or less when in the form of liquid without furnishing this certificate of use.

ASK PUBLIC TO REPORT BOOTLEGGERS

Illicit Stills Defraud Federal Tax Coffers

The United States Government is in need of Revenue in these perilous times. The Alcohol Tax Unit, Bureau of Internal Revenue, is desirous of having citizens report activities of liquor bootleggers.

Everyone knows that huge sums of Revenue are lost by the operation of an illicit distillery. Concoctions are placed on the market which are detrimental to the health of the persons who consume them.

As to fraud on the Revenue, recently there was an illicit alcohol distillery seized in New Jersey that defrauded the United States Government of $11,520.00 in taxes daily. This amount of money in the hands of the United States Treasury Department would purchase 330 rifles, 50 Thompson or 153 Reising machine guns, or buy food for a regiment of fighting troops daily.

Any persons having knowledge of any illicit liquor activities of the type mentioned should immediately get in touch with: Oliver Gettel, Investigator in Charge Alcohol Tax Unit, Room 544-1060 Broad Street, Newark, (2), New Jersey.

It is not necessary that reports be signed by the sender. All information so received will be held in strict confidence, and will be given prompt attention by Federal Officers. Rewards will be paid for information leading to seizures of illicit manufacturing plants.

20 FOOT TREE AT COLLEGE

Christmas Dinner For A.S.T.P. Boys

A special Christmas dinner was served the soldiers stationed at the University of Delaware on Christmas Day by the Howard Johnson Company who operate the Mess Hall.

A large Christmas tree about twenty foot tall was erected in the Commons of Old College which is being used as the mess hall. On the tree there was 300 yards of tinsel, 500 balls and ornaments and 250 electric Christmas tree lights. Each soldier was presented with a box of candy.

On Christmas Eve Col. Donald Ashbridge addressed the boys and the entire group sang Christmas Carols.

The Christmas menu consisted of fruit cup, roast turkey with filling and gravy, mashed white potatoes, candied sweet potatoes, corn, brussels sprouts, celery, cranberry sauce, hot rolls, mince pie and coffee. Mrs. Pearl Best, who is in charge of the dining room as a special consideration for Christmas, had table cloths on all the tables which were decorated with holly and candles.

Christmas night the boys were entertained at a buffet luncheon when there were huge quantities of home made cake, cookies and candy and all kinds of fruit for the boys.

IN REVIEW

25 Years Ago

Newark Youths Enter Naval Service Joseph A. Rhodes and Conrad K. D. Lewis, who enlisted in the Naval Reserves early in July have been notified to report in Philadelphia tomorrow. Paul Rhodes and Merrill Robinson were also called and will enter the Naval Service on Saturday.

Services at Presbyterian Church Special services in honor of the soldiers in the Industrial Training Camp will be held in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning next. The music will be furnished by a choir composed of soldiers, and the pastor, Rev. William J. Rowan will deliver an appropriate address. All are cordially invited to attend.

M. E. Church Welcomes Soldiers The first of a series of Sunday morning services arranged especially for soldiers was held in the Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday morning. A choir composed of 25 soldiers furnished the music, and a sermon embodying a hearty welcome to the young men and their officers, was preached by the pastor, Rev. Frank P. Herson. The evening service was especially well attended by the soldiers and townspeople. Rev. Herson's subject at this service was "The Ready Man."

Arrives Safely Overseas Mrs. Nathan Davis has received notice of the safe arrival overseas of her sons, Lt. J. Wilkins Davis and Charles A. Davis, who are both members of the 59th Pioneer Infantry.

Infirmity Under Government Control The Infirmary will be hereafter entirely under government control. Surgeons, dentists and all equipment necessary for the health of the student-soldiers will be provided by the military authorities.

Pioneers Arrive Safely in France According to cablegrams received recently the 59th Pioneer Infantry has arrived safely in France.

From now on our people will be particularly concerned in the doings of the Delaware troops. It will probably not be long before the Delaware soldiers are in the fighting. That they will give a good account of themselves goes without saying.

The training they have had in this country will make, probably, prolonged training in Europe unnecessary.

Del. Boys at Bliss Pleased with Work The Delaware Boys who were sent last month to the Bliss Electrical School in Washington, D. C., write that they are well-pleased with their work and with the living conditions there. They are receiving a course in electrical engineering at the expense of the government prior to assignment in the service.

Fountain to be Placed This Week The fountain provided for in the will of the late Harlow H. Curtis who died on January 20, 1917, and presented to the town of Newark to be placed somewhere near the Curtis home, has arrived in Newark and will be placed in position in a few days in front of the Academy building, a site chosen by the Academy trustees and approved by the Curtis family.

The fountain is of plain, substantial, rough-hewn granite and will form a lasting monument to the man whose sympathetic kindness to dumb animals and whose keen interest in the towns welfare was manifest in a series of good works.

Sailor Visits Friends Here Arthur Chillas, U. S. Navy, paid a visit to Newark friends last week. Mr. Chillas, formerly Scout Master here, is a second class Pharmacist Mate on board one of the large transports. Since completing his training at Columbia and the University of Pennsylvania, he has made three return trips. He left for his fourth voyage this week. He reports a number of thrilling experiences, among them the sinking of one of the ships in the convoy, within a hundred yards of the transport, on his second trip.

Newark Youth Will Give Dance Francis Brown has issued invitations to a dance to be given at the New Century Club on September 16. Mr. Brown will leave in the near future for Villanova where he has enlisted in the Student Training School similar to that instituted at Delaware College.

Personals Mr. Norman Battersby was a Philadelphia visitor last week. H. L. Bonham motored to Rehoboth Beach on Friday afternoon. He returned on Saturday with Mrs. Bonham and little Miss Barbara who have been spending the summer at Rehoboth.

BROILERS BECOMING IMPORTANT INDUSTRY

71 Percent of Income From State Poultry

Recent problems of the commercial broiler industry have focused state-wide attention on this group of agricultural producers, generally looked upon as a bright young industry—but small. Just to set the records straight, the Department of Animal and Poultry Industry at the University of Delaware checked up on a few figures to see just where this industry did rank in the State, and here are some of the things they found:

Of the State's total agricultural income of $58,876,000 in 1942, livestock and poultry brought in $48,081,000. Of this total, $42,054,000, or 71 per cent of the total, came from poultry and turkeys. And commercial broilers alone brought $36,828,000, or 62 per cent of the total agricultural income of the State, which was news to the average citizen as well as to many of the broiler producers.

Apples, peaches, and strawberries have long been considered crops of outstanding importance in Delaware. But the income from broilers was 37 times as much as that from apples, 86 times as much as from peaches, and 131 times as much as from strawberries in 1942. Truck crops, both for fresh use and for processing, also hold an important place in Delaware's agricultural picture. But broilers brought in 10 times as much income in 1942 as all truck crops for both uses.

The broiler industry is young — it has just sprung up within the past 15 years, beginning in Sussex County and spreading to other sections of Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia. But it is already the biggest industry in Delaware, essentially an agricultural state, and has brought Delaware to the Nation's lead in broiler production. In 1942, the total United States production of broilers was 214 million. Delaware alone produced 54 million, or 25 per cent, of this nation production.

The Delaware broiler capacity was expanded considerably during 1943, and were it not for the current feed shortages, would exceed its 1942 output by 22 million. So it isn't a small industry.

Retailers Must File Application For Tokens

All retailers are requested to file with banks, an application for a supply of tokens. The date for filing these applications has been extended to January 8, 1944.

A recent check in parts of this Region indicates that while the majority of the retailers have received a copy of the application from some trade organization, very few have filled it out and filed it with a bank.

This is imperative and should be attended to at once.
