

Kenneth C. Lambert Reelected As Chairman of Welfare Group

Newark Area Welfare Committee Reelects All Officers With Mrs. Frances Cray, Mrs. Jane Groo, A.E. Tomhave, Group To Again Sponsor Christmas Gift Basket Project

Officers for the Newark Area Welfare Committee were reelected last week, with Kenneth C. Lambert, chairman; Mrs. Frances Cray, vice-chairman; Mrs. Jane Groo, secretary; and Arthur E. Tomhave, treasurer. Reports on emergency welfare provided by the group throughout the year, were presented by Mrs. Etta Wilson, Mrs. Agnes Rahn, and Mrs. Anna Coates.

"After a very considerable discussion of the Christmas basket project," Chairman Lambert said, "the Newark Area Welfare Committee is going to sponsor the project in 1969."

With closing of the Thrift Shop and its sale of used clothing as a major source of income for the Newark Area Welfare Committee, and without the annual $1,000 city appropriation of funds to assist committee activities, the Christmas basket project was officially abandoned by the group last year. The municipal appropriation was withheld because of Newark Area Welfare Committee activity extending beyond the city limits.

Perpetuation
However, Mrs. Etta Wilson perpetuated the committee custom of providing Christmas gift baskets of food, clothing and toys for needy families in the area, by coordinating community effort to fill 81 Christmas baskets for distribution.

The Christmas gift basket project had been headed by the late Mrs. Harvey Dickey, for whom the Edna C. Dickey Park is named, over a 30-year period.

Clarence A. Bader, former Newark resident now residing in Wilmington, and Benjamin Ramey, will head the Christmas gift basket project for the Newark Area Welfare Committee in 1969, with Ramey coordinating efforts by Boy Scouts in collecting contributions of canned food.

Annual Tag Day, Lambert announced, will be scheduled for mid-November, with Mrs. John H. Fassnacht heading this fund-raising program.

Medical Training For Technologists In Full Operation

Wilmington Medical Center Jointly Sponsor Program University Of Delaware

A joint Wilmington Medical Center-University of Delaware program for training medical technologists began full operation June 9. The new arrangement, according to Dr. Joseph V. Casella, director of the Medical Center department of pathology, and W. Robert Bailey, director of health science programs at the university, represents a strengthening in the training of senior medical technologists.

The school here is one of the few in the country to be established on this joint basis, and officials expect it to be a pioneer on the East Coast and part of a national trend. The Wilmington Medical Center school of medical technology has been affiliated with the university for several years.

Training of medical technologists began at Memorial and Wilmington General hospitals in 1947, and at Delaware Hospital in 1949, with students from the University of Delaware having free choice among the three schools.

During the period from their recognition as AMA-approved schools through the end of 1967, national requirements consisted of two years of college training and one year of internship.

In 1962, requirements were increased nationally to three years of college and one year of internship, and medical technologists began receiving bachelor of science degrees. However, the University of Delaware has always offered a full bachelor degree to medical technologists.

Also in 1962, the three schools began a combined lecture program and thus were in a position to effect a full merger in February, 1966, shortly after the merger that created the Wilmington Medical Center. That June, the combined school began operation with headquarters in Delaware Division.

The beautification project is under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Foster, and landscape design was drawn by Bob Bern, local architect.

New Appointment Of Administrators Listed At Newark

Kramedas, Bab Appointed To Administrative Posts In Local School District

New administrative appointments in the Newark school district include William Kramedas as supervisor of adult and community programs, and Hellmut F. Bab as principal of the Wilmer E. Shue School. William Kramedas will fill a new position in the Newark district as principal of the James H. Groves Adult High School, adult evening school, the adult basic education program, summer school, and will be in charge of community use of school buildings after the regular school day.

Kramedas earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Delaware in 1955 and his master's in school administration in 1965. He has been a social studies teacher in Harrington, and leaves a position as deputy director of the Delaware Commission for the Aging.

The State of Delaware will pay half of Kramedas' salary. Bab replaces H. Nelson Freidly, Jr., who leaves the Shue School to become principal of the Newark High School on July 1. Bab was selected from 30 applicants by a screening committee of Shue teachers and central administrative staff officers.

Bab earned his bachelor of science degree from New York University in 1951 and his master of arts in 1954.

From 1952 through 1966 he was a junior high school teacher in New York City, and from 1966, was an assistant middle school principal in New York.

Tennis instruction at the Newark High School courts is being offered beginners and intermediates from 9 to noon, and to adults on Monday and Wednesday from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Chrysler Builds 3,198 Special Cars At Newark Plant

Model Year 1969 Output Includes Specialty Autos For Seven Eastern States

During the 1969 model year, Chrysler's Newark assembly plant built 3,198 special order Plymouth cars for police and other public agencies in seven Eastern Seaboard states including Delaware.

Of Delaware's 56 cars, 31 were delivered to the state police and 25 to the highway department as general purpose vehicles.

Plant Manager C. E. Fowble, Jr., said that the largest purchaser of special order 1969 Plymouth cars was Maryland with a total of 875, including 576 vehicles with special equipment for state police.

Orders from four other states were each for more than 300 units, according to Fowble. These orders consisted of 673 for New Jersey, including 200 special equipment police pursuit cars; 625 for Pennsylvania; 197 police cars for the State of New York; and 338 for various governmental agencies in Virginia.

The seventh state in the total 3,198-car order was North Carolina. The 134 current model Plymouths for that state brought to 1,136 the number of Newark-built vehicles ordered by North Carolina state authorities in a period of 13 months.

In addition to the Fury cars purchased by these seven states, the Chrysler plant in Newark built 1,045 taxicabs during the 1969 model year.

Coast Guard Officer

A graduate of the University of Delaware, Ens. Jackson entered the service last February.

Make Favorable Impression On Employer Mary Keller Advises Summer Job Hunter

School's out! Is this going to be just another lazy summer in the sun or are you going job hunting? Competition in the summer job market is keen; the impression you make on the job interview will probably determine whether or not you are hired, says Mrs. Mary Keller, extension family life specialist at the University of Delaware.

Remember, the employer wants to know how you can handle the job; his opinion of you will depend on your poise and appearance just as much as on your training and references.

"Bring along a personal data sheet; include your name, address, telephone number, educational background, work experience, hobbies, occupational goals and references. Have your Social Security number with you."

Your appearance counts, emphasizes Mrs. Keller. Dress to please an adult—not your school crowd. Even though mini-minis and patterned bell-bottoms with beads set the contemporary style scene, your prospective employer will probably not be impressed—at least, not the way you want him to be.

If you're a girl, wear a simply styled dress at a conservative length, preferably with sleeves. Keep jewelry to a minimum; avoid jangling bracelets and dangling earrings. Wear nylons and sedate well polished shoes. Heels should be a medium height and not run over.

Keep your hands and hair well-groomed and neat; go easy on the makeup. Most businessmen still believe heavy eye-makeup is out for the office—not "way-out," just out, period.

Mrs. Keller says should wear a conservative suit or slacks with a sports jacket that comes close to matching.

White is still the most acceptable color for a shirt; no turtle-necks, please.

Wear polished business-type shoes—no moccasins and certainly not sneakers.

Boy's long hair is a sore point with most employers, unless they're hiring a pop music combo. In fact, you may have to decide between that summer job and those lovely locks.

Naturally, you'll be nervous at the interview—but don't show it. Sit still; don't fidget; don't chew gum and don't bite your fingernails.

Wood To Succeed Mosher As Chief In UD Chemistry

Department Head For 17 Years, Mosher To Devote Time To Teach, Research

Dr. Robert Wood, has been named to head the chemistry department at the University of Delaware next fall. Wood succeeds Dr. William A. Mosher, department chairman for 17 years, who will devote more time to research and teaching.

Dr. Wood received his BS from California Institute of Technology in 1953, where he was top man in his graduating class. In 1957 he received a PhD in chemistry from the University of California at Berkeley.

Joining the University of Delaware faculty in 1957, he was an instructor in chemistry until 1961 and an assistant professor until 1963 when he was promoted to his present position of associate professor.

Since 1965, Wood has been doing research in saline solutions. One of the objects of his research is to find economical ways to convert salt water to drinking water.

Author of more than a dozen articles in scientific journals, he is listed in American Men of Science.

Mosher joined the Delaware faculty in 1945 as professor and chairman of the chemistry department. He received his BA from Villanova University in 1935; his MS from Oregon State in 1936; and his PhD in organic chemistry from Pennsylvania State in 1940.

Before coming to the university, Mosher served as assistant to the director of research of Hercules, Inc. in 1952-53. He was a Fulbright lecturer in Austria.

He was elected a Fellow of the New York Academy of Sciences in 1959, an award conferred upon a limited number for outstanding work in advancement of science.

Graduating in secondary education from Temple University, Mr. Handloff has taken graduate work and extension courses at Temple and at the University of Delaware.

She has held offices in the Parent Teacher Association, American Cancer Society, Federated Women's Clubs, League of Women Voters, Delaware Education TV Association, and is a past president of the Newark AAUW.

Elected mayor of Newark in April, 1966, she was reelected last April.

Mrs. Handloff, mother of two married daughters, is a director of Channel 12 WHTV-TV, vice-chairman of the Regional Conference of Elected Officials, vice-president of the Delaware League of Local Governments, and a member of the policy and executive committees, New Castle County.

Local Scout Leader

Max C. Thomas Thomas promoted As Scout Executive In Hazleton, Pa.

Capitol Trail District Scout Executive Max C. Thomas has been promoted to Scout executive of the Anthracite Council in Hazleton, Pa. effective July 1.

After a career in the U.S. Air Force and as a volunteer Scout, Thomas entered professional Scouting.

He has served the Capitol Trail District for the past four years, and in this time the district has more than doubled in size, membership, units and volunteers.

Assistant District Scout Executive Victor A. Poirier, will conduct district activities until Thomas' successor is named.

Thomas is the holder of the Silver Beaver Award for distinguished service to boyhood, and a deputy camp chief in the Wood Badge program.

He resides with his family on Chestnut Hill Road, Newark.

City Petitioned To Discontinue Hillside Road Extension Plans

Residents Of Area Cite Extension No Longer Needed With Improvement To Other Roads; Councilmen Voice Backlog Of Problems Deferred With Recent Meetings

A petition to abandon plans for the extension of Hillside Roads as no longer necessary with improvements to Elkton, Casho Mill and Barksdale roads; a water shortage in the Lumbrook area on May 28; a state-funded police pension program; and the need for additional recreation facilities in the growing first district, were cited last Tuesday night as councilmen devoted a major portion of the meeting to convened after the previous week's recess, to the backlog of unscheduled items deferred in recent weeks with the press of other business.

Councilman Arthur P. Mayer said that residents of lower Oaklands have petitioned that the Hillside Road extension be abandoned as no longer necessary, and that the extension would create a dangerous traffic condition, particularly for children using the Oaklands swimming pool.

Councilman Olan R. Thomas requested investigation of the May 28, water shortage in the Lumbrook area, citing the "tank on Windy Hills, completely empty" at the time. "I have heard no explanation as to what happened," Thomas added.

State Aid
Councilman William M. Coverdale repeated his prior proposal to introduce legislation to provide a statewide police pension program or for the state to return a portion of the money collected from taxes on the sale of alcoholic beverages for local police pension funds.

Councilman Frank J. Osborne, Jr., pointed out need for additional recreation facilities at the Downes School playground with an expanding population, and Recreation Director James F. Hall is to review adequacy of parkland area in the first district.

Thomas reported complaints of "snakes and rats" from Elliott Heights residents; the need for improving the surface of Cleveland Avenue from New London Avenue to North Chapel Street; requested review of assessments for the extension of Woodland Avenue; and concerning the status of Donald Avenue from Rose Street to New London Road, said "residents don't want it paved."

Councilman Thomas urged that the deadline for sidewalk inspection repair letters be extended one month, and Coverdale said he was "not satisfied with the letters . . . which should explain what is required — that people 'don't have to rip up an entire sidewalk' for minor construction faults."

City Manager Edward R. Stiff said that persons were "being personally notified" of what is required with sidewalk repairs.

Coverdale asked for a report on police patrol inspections for weed control; for an accounting of municipal funds appropriated for the Newark Parking Authority; and for a resume of the Phoenix Center case.

Sue Auletto Wins Physical Therapy Post For Summer

Sue Auletto, a Newark High School student, is one of 17 Delaware high school pupils selected from 100 applicants to participate in a summer health careers program conducted by the Coordinating Council for the Handicapped Child of Delaware, and the Association of Delaware Hospitals, Inc.

Miss Auletto will be engaged in physical therapy at the Delaware Curative Workshop in Wilmington. This project, utilizing a gift of Mr. Alfred I. duPont, provides selected secondary school students opportunity to explore careers in the physical and occupational therapy, speech pathology and audiology, medical social work and special education.

The program will be five days a week from July 7 to Aug. 1, and the student will serve as an aide with specific tasks outlined by a professional supervisor.

TAKE A NEW LOOK AT BLINDNESS

How does a person react when blindness strikes? Where can he go for competent assistance?

Actually, each person reacts differently, according to M. Robert Barnett, executive director of the American Foundation for the Blind. The key factor in adjusting is professional counseling, which is available through local agencies for the blind all over the country.

Unfortunately, blindness for centuries has been linked with helplessness, and today many people still think and speak of "the blind" as a class apart from our normal society. The fact is that there are more than 30,000 blind college graduates in the United States.

There are blind teachers in public schools, blind college professors, blind executives in business and government, blind computer programmers, and blind scientists in many fields. There are blind children attending school with their sighted peers.

This progress is largely the result of the assistance and guidance of hundreds of community agencies for the blind. Helen Keller was the inspiration for much of the work which has enabled blind people to win independence and a place in our sighted society.

Miss Keller, who triumphed over deafness as well as blindness, was associated with the American Foundation for the Blind from 1924 until her death just a year ago. The Foundation is carrying on her work, cooperating with other agencies throughout the country, and urging all Americans to dedicate themselves to the spirit and service of Helen Keller.

If you are not acquainted with the agency for the blind in your community, the Foundation suggests that you get to know it, to learn about its services and its needs.

If you do not know the name or address of your local agency, or if you know a blind or visually handicapped person who does not know where to go for professional assistance, write to the American Foundation for the Blind, Box 111, New York, New York 10011.

Two Local Students Win Ohio Wesleyan Degrees

Two Newark students received degrees as graduates last Sunday with the 125th annual commencement at Ohio Wesleyan University. Catherine L. Carter received her degree as a bachelor of arts, and Carolyn J. Thomas, a bachelor of fine arts degree.

Richards Barto, Cox Win Allentown College Degrees

Two Newark students received baccalaureate degrees during first commencement exercises held at Allentown College of St. Francis de Sales on May 25.

Richard T. Barto, 434 Paper Mill Road, and Richard Cox, an Oblate seminarian, 414 Paper Mill Road, were among the graduates.

Eggs Provide Real Bargain In Nutrition Department

A dozen eggs in your shopping cart can add up to a bargain in good nutrition.

Eggs are economical, protein-packed convenience foods. Also, they contain substantial amounts of vitamin A and iron, riboflavin and thiamine, according to Marguerite Krackhardt, nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware.

They can star as meat substitutes, serve as an early morning eye-opener, and add glamor to the desert course.

Demonstrations were given by Jeffrey Schumann, a strawberry project; Billy Harris, diseases of a dog; Michael Moore, preparation for a feeder-pig; Jay Dempsey, how to prepare a pig for the fair; Diane Godwin, development of clothing styles through the years; John Lowe, proper diet for chickens; Arlette Lowe, collecting and mounting butterflies and how to read a dress pattern; and Gary Dempsey, repairing a carburetor.

Virginia Gibson and Donna Connell instructed the group in preparation and assembling project books. Barbara Barry of Orlando, Fla., was an overnight guest of Mrs. Sara P. Evans last Saturday. Miss Barry is musical director this week and next at Delaware State 4-H Camp.

H. E. Kingman, Jr., D.V.M.

A statement which reads "before the drug was approved for use in man, experimental tests in rabbits, rats and dogs showed that the compound appears in similar form in the text of nearly all scientific articles describing the development of new pharmacological products for the treatment of disease in man."

The public is vaguely aware of the need to test new drugs but probably does not appreciate the vast importance of animal experimentation in testing or the wide variety of tests needed.

For example: a new product that shows considerable promise for the treatment of arthritis was tested in rabbits, rats and dogs to determine if it had any teratogenic effects—the ability to cause defects in developing embryos.

In addition the drug was given for long periods of time at high dosage levels to rats and dogs to see if gastrointestinal or other abnormalities would develop indicating toxicity.

Since anti-arthritis compounds are expected to relieve pain and reduce inflammation, their relative effectiveness must be measured, and this testing is usually performed on rats, comparing the new drug with standard results known to be produced by another drug such as aspirin.

Tests on animals are time consuming and expensive since large numbers and several species must be used, and the tests are conducted over periods of time lasting as long as two or three years. But animal tests are essential before clinical tests can be tried on humans—even in arthritic patients, many of whom would gladly take substantial risks in the hope of gaining some relief.

Alfalfa Weevil Control Offered In New Bulletin

Alfalfa weevil is one of the most troublesome insect pests in Delaware, observes University of Delaware Entomologist Dale F. Bray.

In a newly published bulletin outlining control methods, Bray and extension entomologist Frank Boys point out that the alfalfa weevil is a major problem in alfalfa production.

To receive "Delaware's 1969 Recommendations for Alfalfa Weevil Control," contact the extension office in Newark or write to the Mailing Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware.

MARY ANNE HOCUTT WEDS IN VIRGINIA

Mrs. Charles Leroy Beale, Mr. and Mrs. Beale will reside in Charlotte, N.C.

CAROL ANNE GRUBER BRIDE AT ST. PAUL'S

Miss Carol Anne Gruber and Martin Henry Smith were married Saturday, June 14, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Newark by the Rev. David Blackwelder and the Rev. Edward Fisher. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride on Old Oak Road.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gruber of Newark, and her husband is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Norman Smith of Salisbury, Md.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Gretchen Gruber, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Jill Mackey, Newtown Square, Pa., Miss Pamela Meek, Mt. Holly, N.J., and Miss Deborah Smith, sister of the groom.

William Smith, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and ushers were Frederick Newman, John Thomas and Leo Treadway.

Mark Gruber, the bride's brother, was acolyte at the wedding.

After a wedding trip through Pennsylvania, the couple will reside in Newark.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith gave a rehearsal dinner on Friday evening, June 13, at Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge in Newark.

GRAY LOMAXES HAILED ON 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Gray O. Lomax of 111 Jackson Hall Road, Newark, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on June 15, with a family dinner party at their home.

They were married June 15, 1914, in Glasgow Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Smith. Mrs. Lomax is the former Reba Whiteman.

Both have been lifetime residents of the Newark area, and are members of Ebenezer United Methodist Church.

Mr. Lomax retired from Eastern States Farmer Exchange (now Agway) in 1954.

They have four children — Ernest S. of Corner Ketch; Clifford W. and Graham O. of Newark, and Mrs. Norris Greenplate of Delaware Manor. There are five grandchildren.

Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lomax, Anne Lomax, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lomax, Russell and Glenn Lomax, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Greenplate, Suelien Greenplate, Graham Lomax, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whiteman, Mr. and Mrs. Kinsey Whiteman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Whiteman, Alan Whiteman, Mrs. Ethel Morris and Mrs. E. J. Lomax.

PLAYMATES

Children learn from each other, that's why it's important for them to have other children to play with as they grow up, says Mrs. Mary Keller, extension home economics agent for New Castle county. From childhood playmates, a youngster develops ideas of justice, loyalties, heroes and ideals.

BRIDE-TO-BE

Miss Alice Marie Gray

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Emory Gray of Oxford, Pa., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Marie Gray, to the Rev. David W. Kennedy of Newark.

The Rev. Kennedy, a minister with the World Church of God, received his bachelor of divinity degree last December from Felix Adler Memorial University, N.C. Prior to entering the ministry, Mr. Kennedy was a professional folk singer.

FRANK K. SCOTT, JR. WEDS VICKIE IRWIN

Miss Vickie Allene Irwin became the bride of Frank Kahler Scott, Jr., on Sunday, June 8, in a 2 o'clock ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Cody, Wyo.

The Rev. R. N. Buswell officiated at the double ring ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the church social hall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wallace Irwin of Cody, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Barbara Bonham Scott and Mr. Frank Scott of Newark.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza appliqued with daisies of Venetian lace, and a detachable chapel train with matching lace. A crown of Venetian lace daisies trimmed with seed pearls held a shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion. She carried a bouquet of white Phalaenopsis orchids.

Sherrie Lee of Frannie, Wyo., attended her cousin as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Scott, sister of the groom, Newark; Miss Cheryl Wheeland of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Marvin Allerheiligen of Cody.

Randall Smith of Laramie, Wyo., was best man.

Ushers were Terry Bottorff and Douglas Ford of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Alan Irwin, the bride's brother, of Cody. Ram Allerheiligen was ring-bearer.

Mrs. Scott, a graduate of the University of Wyoming, is teaching in Cheyenne.

Mr. Scott, who graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University, is stationed at the Francis E. Warren Air Force Base.

After a wedding trip in the Caribbean, Mr. and Mrs. Scott will reside in Cheyenne.

Technologists

The new staff consists of the program coordinator, Vinna Ferrell, appointed by the Medical Center and university.

The three instructors — Mrs. Anne Clark, Mrs. Joan Youse, and Mrs. Jane Hager, — are appointed as instructors on the university faculty with permanent assignment to the school of medical technology.

Under the new program, students in the school will receive six months of classroom-laboratory instruction and six months in clinical rotation in the laboratories of all three divisions of the Medical Center.

The new facility will be located on the first floor of the building formerly occupied by the Delaware Hospital school of nursing, and which now also serves as headquarters for the Wilmington Medical Center.

Open house is planned in August.

While this new program is jointly sponsored by the Medical Center and the University of Delaware and university students receive first preference, it will be possible, beginning next spring, for students from other schools to be accepted for their final year of medical technology training.

Further information may be obtained from the Wilmington Medical Center school of medical technology, P.O. Box 1668.

Potential Poultry Princesses For Chicken Festival

Twenty-one towns on the Delmarva Peninsula have representatives at Seaford this week to compete for the 1969 Delmarva Poultry Princess title. Judging will be based on personality and charm, poise, grooming, beauty of face and figure, and talent at the Delmarva Poultry Princess Pageant tonight at 7:30 in the Seaford High School auditorium as part of the 22nd annual Delmarva Chicken Festival.

PATRICIA BALL FETED WITH BRIDAL SHOWERS

Mrs. Willard D. Ball and Mrs. William H. Narvel entertained at a surprise bridal shower for their niece Patricia Ball at the Ball home, 420 Limestone Road.

Miss Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin H. Ball of 4005 Linden Hill Road, will be married to Charles Clayton Dimeler of New Castle on June 20, in Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Dimeler is the son of Mrs. Woodford Moore of Forrest Hills Apartment, New Castle and the late Charles Dimeler.

Guests at the shower included Mrs. Calvin H. Ball, Vicki Ball, Mrs. William H. Naudain, Mrs. W. Moore, Mrs. David Bambo, Mrs. Richard Porter, Mrs. William Porter, Mrs. Perry Torrance, Ruth Ball, Frances Ball, Mrs. W. Steel Atwell, Vivian Ball, Mrs. Thomas Dennison, Mrs. Leroy Parker, Mrs. Sara P. Evans, Sallie Evans, Mrs. J. W. Pennington, Mrs. Warner W. Naudain, Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, Mrs. Edward Naudain, Mrs. Einar Stotland, Christine Stotland, Mrs. Paul W. Mitchell, Mrs. Webb C. Blevins, and Mrs. Eugene D. Anderson.

A surprise variety shower was given for Patricia Ball last Wednesday by her bridal attendants — Vicki, her sister; Cindy Bueffe, and Vivian Ball, her cousin — at the bride's future home in Dunlinden Acres.

Other guests included Jane Hayman, Marcy Merriman, Mrs. E. Bueffe, and Mrs. Calvin Ball.

FRIENDSHIP TEMPLE TO MEET THIS FRIDAY

Pythian Sisters Friendship Temple No. 6 will meet this Friday at 8 p.m. in Red Men's Hall on Benny Street.

This will be the final meeting until September.

When the new facility is completely equipped and fully operative, the former chemistry and dietary laboratories house this facility.

The new facility is geared to handle 24 students at a time. Miss Ferrell said that in August, 1970, the facility will concurrently offer medical technology and medical laboratory technician programs, the latter leading to an associate degree.

While this new program is jointly sponsored by the Medical Center and the University of Delaware and university students receive first preference, it will be possible, beginning next spring, for students from other schools to be accepted for their final year of medical technology training.

Further information may be obtained from the Wilmington Medical Center school of medical technology, P.O. Box 1668.

Lazy Spring Suppers Star Beans 'n Beef

Susceptible to serious bouts with spring fever? ...

Use any of the four kinds of beans to toss together a quick casserole or skillet supper. Or, create an exciting stroganoff dish with beans 'n beef. Simply heat the beans with sautéed onion rings, sliced mushrooms, and thyme blending in sour cream and parsley for oomph. Precede the Beans 'n Beef Stroganoff with Chicken Soup Paprika (condensed cream of chicken soup made with milk and garnished with green pepper ring and a spattering of paprika). Accompany the bean stroganoff with a crisp green salad dressed with oil & vinegar. Keep dessert simple, too ...

BEANS 'N BEEF STROGANOFF
1 can (2 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
1/2 cup sliced onion
1/4 teaspoon thyme, crushed
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (16 ounces) beans 'n beef in tomato sauce
2 tablespoons sour cream
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

In saucepan, cook mushrooms, onion, and thyme in butter until onion is tender. Add remaining ingredients. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

WONDERFUL WELFARE WORKERS

Providing emergency welfare assistance in the Newark area throughout the year — when and where the need is dire and any delay with red tape requirements for less personal and informal assistance may be catastrophic — the Newark Area Welfare Committee, thank goodness, continues to function although its Thrift Shop and $1,000 grant from the city have been terminated.

The Thrift Shop with its sale of used clothing, was a major source of income for local welfare activity. But with space at a premium in the Academy Building, new quarters for the Thrift Shop were required — and other adequate facilities were not obtained.

Council in good conscience but with poor judgment, withdrew its financial support because of municipal tax money being used with welfare activity beyond the city limits — a restriction which Councilman William M. Coverdale pointed out last Tuesday night, has not applied to funds appropriated for Newark's volunteer firemen of the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Co.

"I was reelected because they couldn't find anyone to take the job," Kenneth C. Lambert disclaimed modestly after being named again to head the Newark Area Welfare Committee.

Certainly, few want the tremendous work and responsibility involved in heading Newark's volunteer, emergency welfare program, but Mr. Lambert was reelected because of his splendid performance with dedicated devotion in a very tough job of helping people who really need help.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

We would like to commend the Newark Police for their generous help to the people of Newark. Many people from this vicinity and from other states have approached us to extend their appreciation to the Newark Police. Police Appreciation Week is past, but the men still are on their jobs. We have always tried to teach
