

WORKSHOP TALKS WILL MARK P.T.A. MEET THURS.

Four Informal Panels Planned To Air School Problems, Plans

Informal workshop discussions between parents and teachers on problems of mutual interests will mark the January meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association next Thursday at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The workshop talks, which have proved highly successful here in the past and are being organized again by popular demand, will be divided into four groups, with parents and teachers of the primary, intermediate, junior high and senior high students meeting separately.

To enable as many as possible to attend, a nursery room to care for children 3 to 8 years while their parents take in the meeting will be organized under competent supervisors in room 122.

In urging public attendance, officials pointed out that the session will give individuals an opportunity to discuss their problems with other parents as well as teachers. It will also offer first hand information on the operation of the school and proposed plans for education here. Those who attend will also have a valued chance to become better acquainted with the faculty and administrators of the schools in which their children are educated.

Following the workshop, refreshments will be served by the parents of the fifth grade children under the direction of Mrs. Field.

6 OPENINGS REMAIN IN BATTERY C

Guard Unit Enrollment Now 82 Men

Enrollment of five new recruits the past week left only six openings in local Battery C, 736 Gun Battalion, Delaware National Guard, according to Capt. Joseph Balbach, commander.

A report circulated in this area last week that anyone who joined before the end of January could escape selective service was incorrect, according to Sgt. Pat Atkinson, clerk of the unit. Only youths 17 and 18 and a half can avoid the draft by joining the guard.

This week's five recruits brings the total Battery enrollment to 82 men and officers, six short of the full complement. New men are: Layton P. Zimmer, 17, 219 West Main Street, Arden; P. Johnson, 17, R. D. 1; Francis Moore, 15 North Chapel Street; John Hunter, 20, 441 Hodgson Street, Oxford, Pa.; and Robert C. McDowell, 18, North Broad Street, Middletown.

An artillery park for two of the battery's three big 90 mm anti-aircraft guns has been completed on the University campus off Academy Street, according to Capt. Balbach. A radar power unit and electronic direction will also be stored in the area.

Jaycees Again Offer To Equip Local Bikes With Safety Tape, Date Is Set

Another free offer to equip local bicycles with reflecting safety tape is planned by the Newark Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"Scotchlite" tape will be placed on all bikes brought to the Jaycee room in the Old Academy Building, on Saturday, January 22, between 1 and 3 p. m. The tape will be applied indoors so that cold weather will not discourage applicants.

About 80 bicycles were "Scotchlit" when the Jaycees made their offer in December, and the results proved encouraging. The tape reflects auto headlights brightly and is an excellent safety measure for night driving.

Jaycees have also gone on record as favoring a study of the problem to treat town water with a solu-

Ellison Named Fire Chief For 24th Time

Elmer J. Ellison

Elmer J. Ellison, who joined the local volunteers 54 years ago in 1894, was reelected fire chief for the 24th term in the annual election of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company last Friday. Daniel Stoll was reelected president, John C. Cunningham, first assistant chief, Clifford Moore, second assistant chief, and Irvin N. Chalmers, chief engineer. Charles E. Moore was reelected to his 14th term as fire recorder.

Chief Ellison, who like the rest was unopposed in the election, has seen 37 years service as an officer of the company. He was assistant chief from 1911 to 1925 and has been chief since 1926. Clifton Knotts was elected to his second year as chief pipeman, with the following assistants: Andrew Walp, Albert Bell, Olan Thomas, Paul Robinson, Woodrow Wilson Beck, Henry Bierman, C. H. Buckingham, Howard Lloyd, Walter Wassmer, Rudolph Johnson, John W. Tweed, Leslie G. Braune, John Johnson and George W. Price.

In addition to Mr. Stoll, officers reelected were Charles W. Colmery, secretary, and William J. Warwick, assistant secretary. Mr. Colmery, Mr. Warwick and George M. Neighbors were elected for a three year term as directors.

The firemen also announced plans for a fund raising campaign for the Camp Barney police recreation project for underprivileged youths.

The volunteers also expressed public thanks this week to the people of Newark and vicinity for their donations to the firemen for their annual Christmas dinner.

CARSWELL SERVICES YESTERDAY

Retired Army Col. Stricken Here Sunday

Military rites marked the interment yesterday of Col. Stuart Randall Carswell, 57, retired Army officer and resident here. Services were held at the Jones Funeral Home, and interment was in Silverbrook Cemetery, Wilmington, where a firing squad from the Veterans of Foreign Wars was in attendance at the graveside. The Rev. Theodore Ludlow of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, officiated.

Col. Carswell, who had a long military record beginning with service on the Mexican Border with the Delaware National Guard and continuing in the regular Army through World Wars I and II, died Sunday night at the Delaware Hospital after being stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage earlier at his home, 102 Briar Lane, Newark.

Retired from the Army since 1945 on a physical disability, Colonel Carswell was last stationed at Albany, N. Please turn to Page-2

CHURCH TO HOLD YEARLY SESSION ON JANUARY 12

Annual First Presbyterian Congregation Meet Planned

The annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian Church will open with a dinner next Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in the church hall. All members of the church and congregation are invited.

Reports from all departments of the church will be heard. Miss Anna E. Frazer is general chairman for the dinner, and reservations should be made with her before Monday. No tickets will be sold. The dining room service will be in charge of Mrs. Edith B. Tiffany.

At the regular meeting of the Auxiliary on January 4, a new constitution calling for an enlarged and integrated program of education, service and fellowship was read and unanimously accepted.

The Rev. H. Everett Hallman, pastor of the church, led the devotional service, using as his theme "Faith for the New Year," and he gave the prayer of consecration as the eight new group leaders drew the names for membership in their respective groups.

Mrs. Virgil B. Sease, of Wilmington, delegate from the United Lutheran Board to the Federal Council of Church Women in Cincinnati, was the speaker. She told the thrilling story of Dr. Frank Laubach in his "Each One Teach One" crusade for literacy in all countries of the world.

Announcement was made at the session of the complete slate of officers, group leaders and chairmen of departments and committees for the Auxiliary as follows:

EDITORS ARE ELECTED BY 'BUZZ' STAFF

Betty Menges To Head NHS Paper In 1949

Betty Menges was elected editor of the Yellowjacket Buzz, student newspaper at the Newark High School, in the annual staff election recently. She succeeds Donald Phillips.

Barbara Bryant was named assistant editor, and Cissie Murray news editor. The officers are elected for a year's term every January by the entire staff. The retiring officers act as a nominating committee, carefully investigating the qualifications of each nominee. Members of the staff must be capable of finding and writing the most interesting and worthwhile news of the school.

The entire student body follows the paper closely and interest in the election runs high.

Annual March Of Dimes To Open Here Tomorrow

Coin Cards To Be Distributed Here Saturday

Newark's phase of the country-wide March of Dimes, seeking funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, will open tomorrow and continue through January 31, according to an announcement by Samuel Handloff, general chairman.

Coin cards will be distributed to all homes in the community on Saturday and collected the following Saturday, January 22, J. S. Steinhauer, scoutmaster of Troop 55, will direct this phase, aided by Michael Kubicek.

Morris T. Ewing and Prof. Thomas S. Smith will canvass the local industrial plants and direct the collections at the State Theatre. William S. Martin will be in charge of the university campaign, and George M. Wilson will head the drive in the New London Avenue area.

The rural areas will receive coin boxes by mail with a request to return them to the Newark headquarters. Silas W. Pettit will again act as treasurer for the campaign, with Mrs. Francis H. Squire publicity representative. Dr. J. R. Downes and Mrs. George M. Haney complete the committee.

Last year Newark made an excellent record in the campaign, contributing $1,825 in approximately two weeks. Chairman Handloff reports that Newark had a 66 per cent increase in polio cases in 1948, with five cases reported as compared with three in 1947. With this in mind, the committee is determined to make the current campaign even more impressive in its results than last year's.

All contributors are reminded again that in the March of Dimes campaign, 50 per cent of the money collected is retained for the local area, while the other half goes to the National Foundation. A portion of the latter fund is always set aside for research on the dread disease.

Plot To "Spike" Water Laid To Post; Plan For Fluorine Treatment Pushed

The panic caused by the Post's story last week outlining a dastardly plot by a local dentist to spike the town drinking water with common table salt (sodium chloride) has simmered down, but those blood-red sunsets the past week haven't been sunsets at all, just the Post's staff blushing in unison.

The article should have read Sodium Fluoride, which is tasteless and colorless and does aid in preventing tooth decay in young children. All we can say is that when the Post bends to the task it can make a mistake on a grand scale.

Dr. P. K. Musselman, who proposed the plan for treating the town water with Fluorine and who took the Post's garbled account with remarkable calm, said this week that there are few new developments on the plan.

He has approached Col. Layton Zimmer, president of the P-T. A., and is making arrangements to bring a representative from Newark, N. Y., before that group. Newark is using the chemical in its water supply with remarkable success. Tooth decay in children there has decreased 60 per cent since 1945 as compared with nearby Kingston, N. Y., where the chemical is not used, according to Dr. Musselman.

A Newark official is willing to come here to outline the problems connected with the project, but his expenses plus a fee must be paid. Col. Zimmer, who says the P-T. A. has already discussed the plan and appears to favor it, hopes to raise funds to bring the Newark representative here in the near future.

The Newark Junior Chamber of Commerce also went on record this week as favoring study of the plan.

Two Of Newark's Oldest Residents Mark Birthdays

Two of Newark's oldest residents celebrated birthdays this week.

They are Robert Motheral, who was 91 yesterday, and George Laws, 89 on Tuesday.

Both are residents at the Flower Hospital, West Main Street. They are lifelong residents of Newark.

NHS Teachers On New York Tour

Miss Doris Dean and Mrs. Margaret Borgmuller, home economics instructors at the Newark High School, will join other home economics teachers in Delaware in a 3-day tour of New York City starting tomorrow.

The group, which is seeking material on "family living activities," will inspect textile mills, food processing plants and other establishments connected in any way with clothing, food handling or child care.

45 Fires In Town Past Year Cause Estimated $2,680 Property Loss

There were 45 fires in Newark last year, causing property damage estimated at $2,680, according to the annual report of Charles E. Moore, fire recorder for the Aetna Company.

The local volunteers responded to 45 additional alarms in the district for fires resulting in losses of $101,925. Twelve calls were handled outside the district, for a total of 102 alarms during the year.

The ambulance made 320 mercy runs in 1948 and traveled 9,627 miles.

Mr. Moore also reported four fire calls in town during December. The loss was kept to about $50. Three calls causing $300 in property losses were answered in the district and one outside. The ambulance made 28 runs covering 872 miles.

URGES CODE ON PLUMBING

John Conoway, master plumber, discussed details of his craft, in a talk at the Newark Rotary Club on Monday night. He was introduced by Roland McCloskey, program chairman.

Good plumbing is a protection to public health and a safety measure in any home. Mr. Conoway stressed. He added it was probably the most important feature in the construction of any building.

He also emphasized the need for a plumbing code in every community as a protection to property owners and residents. Under such a code, strictly enforced under regulations of the State Department of Health, all plumbers would be bidding on the same type work, which would be a protection to all concerned.

Materials For New School Start To Arrive Here

The first concrete evidence that construction of the new 26-room elementary school here is about to begin came this week when a shipment of materials arrived at the Academy Street site.

Simple ground breaking ceremonies are being planned to inaugurate the construction, according to Supt. Wilmer E. Shue.

Former Resident Dies On Monday

Mrs. Fern Galyen, formerly of Newark, died Monday at her home in Galax, Virginia. She had been ill for some time. She was a resident here until about 1943, when she moved to Galax.

She is survived by her husband, Carl Galyen, three sons and one daughter, Bruce, of Galax; Claude, of Newark; Zane, of Philadelphia; and Mrs. James McKnight, of Galax.

Report By NHS Cafeteria Lists $868 In Credits

Financial condition of the cafeteria at the Newark Schools was reported sound toward the end of business in December. The treasury boasted a cash reserve of $221.33. In addition, two federal subsidies, totaling $235.08 and $229.60 respectively, were also due.

Operations of the lunch room, which offers hot, diet balanced meals to students at non-profit prices, was helped the past year by sizeable donations of non-perishable foods from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The list included 44 bags of potatoes, 20 baskets of sweet potatoes, 140 cases of apple sauce, 10 cases of honey, 52 cases of tomatoes, 17 cases of cheese, and 11 cases of powdered milk.

Enthusiastic Response Greets Start Of Adult Courses At NHS; 95 Enroll

An overwhelming response greeted Newark High School's first venture into adult education on Monday night, when 95 persons turned up to register for the sewing and shop courses being introduced.

Sixty-five applied for the sewing classes and 30 for the shop work. This far exceeded the expectation of Supt. Wilmer E. Shue, who had been doubtful as to whether the 10-person minimum for each course would register.

Monday night's session was merely an organizational meeting, and the classes will formally get underway next week. According to the schedule announced by Mr. Shue, the shop group will meet Monday nights in the Main Street building from 7:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. The beginners' sewing class will

PUBLIC MEET ON CHARTER SLATED FOR TUES. NIGHT

Printed Draft Now Available Contains Many New Features

The public will get its last chance to express its views on the proposed new charter at a hearing next Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium. Printed copies of the draft are available at the Town Council offices. Following the meeting, Council will probably make last minute revisions to the bill before seeking its submission to the General Assembly.

The hearing will open with a brief talk by Councilman F. A. Wheelless outlining points of major interest in the current draft.

Dr. George R. Rhodes, state senator, and John P. Sinclair, state representative, have been invited to give talks on the procedure the draft will follow once it is submitted to the state legislature.

The revised draft, printed this week, contains a number of interesting features. It provides for $300 per year to Council members, who under the current charter serve without pay. The new draft also permits the President of Council a vote at Council meetings, contrary to present practice. It calls for an annual independent audit, a detailed annual town budget, raises the tax revenue limit from $10,000 to $100,000, sets the bond limit at 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of town real estate, and outlines new assessment procedures.

These are but a few of the points that will be of interest at the hearing. The charter draft, as it now stands, is the result of a year's work by a revision committee headed by Mr. Wheelless. The members are: Miss Edna Campbell, Business Women's Club; Mrs. Harold Sheaffer, Navy Mother's Club; T. D. Smith, Lions; Russell Silk, Rotary, later succeeded by W. S. Hamilton; Ford McBerty, J. A. O'Daniel Post, No. 10, later succeeded by W. B. Swan; Samuel Handloff, Chamber of Commerce; Grover Surraff, Junior Chamber of Commerce; John P. Sinclair, P-T. A.; Joel Williams, Isaac Watson Post; Mrs. R. O. Bausman, New Century Club; Abraham Hoffman, VFW; George Neighbors, Aetna Fire Company; and Mrs. Elizabeth Hayman, Community Center.

PLAN VARIED PROGRAM AT FARM WEEK

To Offer Topics Of Interest To Rural Families

Every day will be "Farm Family Day" during Farmers' Week, which will be held Feb. 8-11, at the University of Delaware. A wide range of topics to attract farmers and homemakers will be offered, it was disclosed recently by John E. H. Lafferty, chairman of the program committee.

Separate sessions for farmers and homemakers will take place during mornings, while a combined session of general interest with noted speakers and entertainment will fill the afternoon bill.

A number of Delaware farmers will appear as speakers and in discussions of various agricultural subjects.

For poultrymen, a program on egg production will include a panel on efficient feeding practices and talks on disease control recommendations and ways to reduce labor costs. The broiler production program features a comparison of heating systems for brooding, high energy feeds, and problems in marketing Delaware broilers. Turkey growers will have discussions on new developments in this industry and on progress being made in the control of blackhead.

Two programs on dairying will have talks and panel discussions on conservation of nutrients and feeding values of hay and silage, feeding high quality hay, breeding efficiency, and sterility and delayed breeding in dairy cattle.

Vegetable and fruit growers will learn of the newest varieties, labor saving and management practices. The gardening session will be of interest to both men and women, with talks on annual and perennial flowers for the home grounds, fruit and vegetable varieties for the home and market gardeners, and preparation of fresh fruits and vegetables for the retail market.

In the agronomy field, there will be a program on soil fertility, dealing with soil tests, how to recognize plant starvation signs, and radio-active material for increasing yields. A grain production session includes such topics as new wheat and barley varieties, winter oats in Delaware, and lodging of grain. Thursday morning's session will be devoted to the topic of farm credit—the economic outlook and its effect on 1949 agriculture, a bank service program for farmers, and yardsticks for sound farm operating and mortgage loans.

Special for the homemakers will be a forum on the family and the community, a demonstration on color in home furnishings, exhibit of new floor coverings and a look behind the scenes in the pattern industry.

In the afternoons, noted agricultural speakers will highlight the program. At this time also, winners in the Delaware Ten-Ton Tomato Club and Food Preservation Contests will be announced. Two 4-H club members who attended the National Club Congress in Chicago last November will speak on the wide scope of 4-H club work.

As in previous years, exhibits on the latest farming and homemaking advancements will line the halls of the main floor of Wolf Hall. Visitors will have ample opportunity to view these exhibits between the meetings.

The complete program which lists speakers, topics, times and places will soon be issued by the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Delaware, Newark, and is available to anyone desiring a copy.

Y. where he was commanding officer of District No. 2, Second Service Command, Army Air Forces.

A native of Elmore, Colonel Carswell received his early education in Wilmington public schools, was graduated from the University of Delaware in 1913, and earned a degree from Leland Stanford University in 1922.

Colonel Carswell saw action on the Mexican Border with the Delaware National Guard before he entered the regular Army in 1917, when the United States entered World War I. He was wounded at Chateau Thierry, where he served as captain of the Third Machine Gun Unit of the Third Division.

In the late 1920s he was instructor of military science at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. At that time he still held the rank of captain. In 1932 he was assigned to four years of staff duty as historical secretary of the U. S. War College in Washington, D. C., meanwhile having been promoted to major. Later he was stationed at Schofield Barracks, in Hawaii.

At the outbreak of World War II, Colonel Carswell was detailed as a member of the General Staff Corps, U. S. Army, in Washington, D. C. Just prior to that he was stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. From Washington, he went to Albany where he was retired as a full colonel. He retained his membership in the Delaware National Guard.

While a student at the University of Delaware, Colonel Carswell was a member of the varsity football team for four years. At the time of his death he was serving as chairman of the University's Alumni Association, having been elected to that post last year. He was

"COMMON SENSE....IMAGINATION....AND OUR NEW CARS AT CHRYSLER CORPORATION"

BY K. T. KELLER
PRESIDENT, CHRYSLER CORPORATION

As we see it, we shoulder great responsibility to the public when we introduce new cars.

We try to be the first to see the basic needs of the car buyer . . . and to meet them with imagination in research and engineering, and, at the same time, with common sense.

It began a generation ago when we introduced all-steel car bodies. It continued in 1924 when we pioneered hydraulic four-wheel brakes and the high compression engine. Our basic advances such as Light Weight Pistons in 1929 that made possible the high speed motor . . . sensational Floating Power in 1932 followed by . . . Fluid Drive, safety-rim wheels, super-cushion tires . . . these and many others were great forward steps in automobile safety, comfort and performance.

Our engineers had the creative imagination to develop these advances . . . and the common sense to know that they were needed.

Within the next few weeks, we will introduce still further basic automobile advances in our beautiful new Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler cars.

Again, as in our models past and present, you will find the improvements that are needed, the advances that call for imagination in engineering and research. And you will also find plenty of good common sense, and good taste!

Again, you'll be able to see over the hoods, and out of the rear windows. You'll get in and out with ease. Again there'll be room for your hat. Seats will be wider—yet the cars will fit into your garage. Fender dents won't cost a fortune to fix. You'll be able to change a tire, or put on a set of chains. Again, our cars will be easier to drive and park.

They'll start faster, they'll stop more quickly.

They'll have more performance than any cars we ever engineered—and they'll look it.

We're holding on to the good things that built our reputation with you. Again we've built from the inside out—first engineering cars that are safe, comfortable, convenient, and wonderful to drive . . . then creating beauty that reflects the good qualities underneath.

Already materials and parts for our new cars are arriving at our manufacturing plants:

On behalf of the superb team that created our beautiful well-bred new Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler cars, I cordially invite you to see them at your dealers when they are announced.

They're the finest that engineering, imagination and common sense ever built . . . and they look it.

HEALTH FILM AT THEATRE

Allays Fear Of Heart Disease

Manager Herman Handloff of the State Theater, in cooperation with local Health Officer Dr. John R. Downes, will show a timely short called "Be Your Age" on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 17-18. The picture, presented by the American Heart Association and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, had its initial showing at the Music Hall in Radio City, New York, N. Y., and now is being shown in leading theatres throughout the country.

In commenting on this picture, Dr. Downes remarked enthusiastically: "Ten minutes spent in viewing this picture should help many to overcome the widespread fear of heart disease. This fear is frequently based on ignorance. The film will give a better understanding of the human heart and how to protect it. It teaches individuals with heart disease that if they keep within such physical limitations as their conditions may impose, they live fuller, richer and more useful lives."

"The fight against heart disease is only beginning," Dr. Downes continued. "An increasing number of investigators are studying fundamental problems regarding the prevention and treatment of the diseases of the heart and arteries, notably those aided by foundations, governmental agencies and the life insurance companies. These studies should result in new methods of prevention and treatment."

be done in every community in organizing adequate facilities and services for treatment and rehabilitating patients with heart disease. This effort, calling for increased resources for such agencies as the American Heart Association and its state and local affiliates, deserves the earnest support of physicians and public spirited citizens everywhere."

Dr. Downes said in conclusion: "We appreciate fully the cooperation of the management of the State Theater in arranging to show our townspeople 'Be Your Age,' an up-to-the-minute subject for the whole family."

DELAWARE FARM FRONT

Poultryman Lists Advice

Frank Gordy, extension poultryman for the University of Delaware, comes up with two 1949 resolutions for poultry producers. First, to lower the mortality rate by:

Starting with only high quality stock. Culling continuously. Keeping visitors out of houses and all ranges. Calling a qualified pathologist promptly if disease occurs, and following his instructions, and burning or burying all dead birds. The second resolution is to increase feed efficiency. This may be done by: Using a high quality feed. Feeding for maximum production. Storing feed properly. Filling troughs no more than 2/3 full. Controlling rats. Cutting out loafers, and keeping down losses.

Supplies of superphosphate, a major plant food, now are in abundant supply for the first time since 1941 and indications are that farmers will have about 2,100,000 tons for the 1948-49 season, or more than enough to satisfy their demands. This was announced recently by Clifton A. Woodrum, president of the American Plant Food Council.

It's the woman who holds the financial reins, as proved by statistics that reveal that the fair sex controls 70 to 80 per cent of the nation's wealth. Women own 50 per cent of the stock in corporations; 57 per cent of savings bonds deposits and make 42 per cent of all income tax returns; they are 35 per cent of the buying for the home and family, and directly influence other 15 per cent.

Ott's Chapel Launches Regular Church Service

A regular church service was inaugurated at Ott's Chapel last Sunday beginning at 1 p. m. It is hoped the new series will meet with much success.

The leaders of the group are the Rev. Mueller, of the Wilmington Lutheran Concordia Church; the superintendent, Mrs. Florence Savin, along with Sunday School teachers and officers.

The turnout was large for the first service, and the congregation enjoyed the sermon on the "Light of the World."

Regular Sunday School services will be continued at the usual hour of 10 a. m.

The Youth Meeting, previously scheduled for the fourth Sunday night of every month, has been changed to the fourth Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m. Continuation of the new schedule will depend upon the response.

Plan County Dairy School, Jan. 19-20

Another To Be Held For Lower County in February

The County Agricultural Agent, Edward H. Schabinger, has announced that two dairy feeding and management schools will be held during January and February in New Castle County. The first school will be held for all dairymen from the northern area at the Harmony Grange Hall, Limestone Road, on January 19 and 20th. The second school for dairymen in the lower part of the county will be announced at a later date.

Extension specialists, along with other qualified speakers, will discuss fundamentals of dairy herd operation, producing home-grown feeds and dairy farm management.

The program will start each day at 10 o'clock with the following subjects to be discussed: "Economic Factors that Effect the Cost of Milk Production," Considering such items as level milk production, efficiency in operation and size of herd will be reviewed by Delmar J. Young, Extension Dairyman. The need of economic production of home-grown feeds will be emphasized during the first-day session by Claude E. Phillips, Extension Agronomist. The afternoon of the first day will be centered around selecting feeds for the dairy ration and balancing a ration for lower feed costs.

The second day will begin with a discussion of "Facilities for Efficient Use of Labor for Lower Production Costs." Mr. E. S. Biddle, Bacteriologist, Mastitis Diagnostic Laboratory, here, will discuss the problem of Mastitis on the dairy farm. As herd health is an important factor that effects the costs of milk production, a representative of the Bureau of Animal Industry, will discuss Brucellosis of dairy cattle.

The afternoon of the second day will be highlighted by a barn tour, demonstrating in a dairy barn points that were emphasized during the discussion periods. As a conclusion of the barn tour there will be a 4-H dairy demonstration of a method of clipping cows for sanitation.

Open discussion on various problems will be led each day by County Agent Schabinger. All dairymen are invited to attend the entire school for any particular phases they may desire.

Slight Error

The guest at a fashionable hotel was paying his bill. He asked the cashier what it was she had around her neck. "A ribbon, of course," she answered. "Why do you ask?" "Well," he said, "everything else is so high around here that I thought perhaps it was your garter."

Comment on Current News

"A young California lawyer has been going barefoot for the past two years," says a press report. It is to be wondered if he's eccentric or honest. . . . "The Republicans were good losers," declares an editor. They ought to be; they have had a lot of practice in the last 16 years. . . .

"An alligator may live to be 800 years old, but he had no soul, and death ends all," says a minister. It's a long time to wait for a trip to nowhere.

Aimed to Please

"You act like a monkey when you're around me." "That's right, honey. I want to be an ideal companion for you."

CIRCULATING CASH DROPS

Federal Reserve Balances Increase

You probably never noticed, but money in circulation dropped $174,000,000 in the week ending January 8, according to a report from the Federal Reserve Board.

The decline, second in as many weeks, left a total of circulating currency $28,151,000,000—$507,000,000 less than a year ago.

Following is the text of the Federal Reserve statement:

"During the week ended Jan. 5 member bank reserve balances increased $137,000,000. Additions to member bank reserves resulted from decreases of $332,000,000 in Treasury deposits with Federal Reserve banks, $174,000,000 in money in circulation and $7,000,000 in Treasury cash an increase of $13,000,000 in gold stock offset in part by a decrease of $386,000,000 in reserve bank credit and an increase of $5,000,000 in non-member deposits and other Federal Reserve accounts.

"Excess reserves of member banks on Jan. 5 were estimated to be approximately $1,050,000,000.

"Holdings of loans, discounts and advances decreased $26,000,000 and holdings of U. S. Government securities decreased $428,000,000. The decrease in holdings of U. S. Government securities reflects decreases of $270,000,000 each in bills and notes and of $94,000,000 in bonds and an increase of $206,000,000 in certificates.

CLUBWOMEN HEAR TALK ON CHARTER

Business Meet Also Held At Century Club

Mr. Fred A. Wheelless, member of the Newark Town Council and chairman of the local Charter Committee, discussed the proposed new charter before Monday's meeting of the Newark New Century Club.

Mr. Wheelless pointed out significant differences between the 85-year-old present charter and the proposed new one and invited all club members to attend the public meeting to be held in the High School auditorium on January 18. Copies of the charter draft will be available at the Council office after January 12. Mr. Wheelless was introduced by Mrs. Emmett Kaufmann.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. J. Pearce Cann, president. A motion was carried empowering Mrs. Cann to appoint a committee to decide upon a contribution to the Newark War Memorial Fund. Mrs. R. O. Bausman reported for the rental and house-keeping committees on rentals and the purchase of new furnishings for the club. Mrs. Olaf Bergelin has been appointed program chairman in the absence of Mrs. T. D. Mylrea.

Mrs. Allan Colburn, welfare chairman, announced that Dr. Henry Welch will speak on social work in Delaware at the January 24 meeting.

A collection of dolls gathered in the course of her foreign travels was exhibited by Mrs. Charles B. Evans and received the enthusiastic attention of the members. Antiques will be displayed on January 24, and each member is invited to bring something old and cherished. Mrs. William Ruth and Mrs. Kenneth Steers are in charge of the art displays for the month of January.

Mrs. Charles E. Grubb was tea hostess, assisted by Mrs. R. J. McLaughlin, Mrs. M. D. McMullen, Mrs. Harry McKenry, and Mrs. Clarence Ocheltree.

Citrus Fruits Top List Of Plentifuls

Citrus fruits, both fresh and processed, will be among the best fruit buys for Delaware homemakers in January. M. Katharine Jones, home demonstration agent said this week in releasing the monthly U. S. Department of Agriculture plentiful foods list.

Dried beans and peas are also high on the January list. "This is the first time in year," Miss Jones said, "that these two items have been in the plentiful class." Production of dried beans and peas this year is estimated at more than two million bags (of 100 pounds each) greater than in 1947. Both beans and peas are generous sources of food energy, protein, phosphorus, and some of the vitamins.

Fresh spinach, mostly from Virginia, Texas, and California, will be anew comer on the list of plentifuls as will canned corn.

In addition, the home agent said, January markets will offer plentiful supplies of such varied items as cabbage, carrots, Irish potatoes, cranberries, winter pears, dried fruits, canned peas, honey, cheese, peanut butter, and fish.

Corn and oat crops are both heavy this year, and shoppers can count on abundant supplies of corn and oat products of all sorts, she added.

Moreover, Miss Jones said, the pecan crop this year has set a record—about one-seventh larger than the previous record. With such heavy production, retail markets will continue to offer bountiful supplies for the next few months.

RUG CARE

Use a vacuum cleaner or carpet sweeper daily to pick up dirt from rayon and wool rugs. Do not shake or beat them as fibers may be weakened and hems and binding loosened. Occasionally turn the rug over and vacuum or brush the underside.

October Sets Mark In Building Material Output

More building materials were produced in October than ever before, the Commerce Department said recently.

The department's production index for selected construction materials reached 64 per cent above the 1939 average during October, topping the previous peak of 63.8 per cent for August.

The October mark represented a 2.6 per cent gain over September.

Of the 20 materials included in the index 17 were produced in greater quantity during October than in September. Among them were lumber, brick, cement, nails, soil pipe, plywood and gypsum board.

The three materials showing declines were hardwood flooring, structural steel and mechanical stokers.

Seventy-four-year-old Miss J. Millen is going to the Austrian alps to ski and ice-skate.

"It is really nothing," she said. "I am going to continue until I am 95. My only regret is that everyone has to give up something and I have now stopped cycling."

Humans Can Live For 200 Years, Biologist Says

Dr. Maurice Ernest, a biologist of Esher, England, who has studied longevity for 46 years, said recently people ought to live to be 200 years old. He aims to do it. He has 123 years to go.

Five times as many women as men want to live to be 100 or older, he said, arguing that "most men believe in a short life and a merry one."

His recipe for attaining old age is "moderation in everything and a placid temperament."

You can eat meat, take a drink, or smoke—if you do it in moderation. Also, "you have to keep an eye on every one of the vital organs: heart, brain, nerves, lungs, liver and glands."

The Military Department of the University of Delaware has been transferred from control of Headquarters First Army Governors Island to Headquarters Second Army at Baltimore, Md.

This involves a reassignment of all personnel and transfer of all property and equipment. The reason for the transfer was the geographical proximity of this unit to the Second Army Headquarters.

Very complimentary letters were received from Headquarters First Army with their regrets at losing this unit.

Headquarters Second Army is commanded by Lt. General Leonard T. Gerow. Courtesy calls as well as inspections will now be in order although little actual change in operating routine of the unit is expected.

FILLIN' IN

For some time we kept a wary eye on that small group of citizens that lurks at the bottom of every national poll. We mean the "No Opinion" or "Don't Know" bloc. We wondered what sort of people make up this group. They struck us as a suspicious bunch, always there at the bottom of the list. Sometimes they looked defiant, at others merely sulky.

Then, about a week ago, we finally got the low-down on them. We regret to say our worst fears were realized. The "No Opinion" bloc is organized and on the march.

We got this directly from an official representative of the group, who dropped in to solicit our membership. He was a lean, intense man, who mused no words. "Opinions are the opium of the people," was his clarion greeting.

We pressed him for particulars, and he informed us, not without pride, that his opinion had been scientifically sampled by a leading poll no less than eight times and that he regarded himself as the Father of the No-Opinion Movement.

This latter honor, he explained modestly, came about somewhat by accident. The first time his opinion was sampled, he said, he was feeling sort of low (bad cold) and was rather curt with the poll interviewer. The latter became miffed and put him down in the "No Opinion" group out of spite.

"Been there ever since," our visitor boasted, "Got so I felt at home there. Always favored the underdog anyway."

Later he became friendly with the interviewer, who grew to depend on him as a "regular" whenever he needed to fill in the "No Opinion" slot. Finally, our man became curious about his anonymous colleagues in the "No Opinion" bracket, and he got in touch with some through the help of the interviewer. All proved to be "regulars" like himself, and, naturally, it was but a step from there to formal organization. The "regulars" formed a central cell and began branching out on a national scale. "What the heck," said our visitor in explaining the underlying philosophy of the new group, "Everybody's doing it."

We asked what the party's chief aim was.

"Well," he said, "First of all, we've got to jack up our rating in the polls. Get out of the cellar, that's what I keep hammering at the guys. Build up the old percentage. We've got to have more prestige on the national scene."

We agreed that this was a sound policy but pointed out that a mass anti-opinion movement would wreak havoc with the opinion polls. No opinions would mean no opinion sampling, however scientific.

"Hah!" he snapped, "That's what we're after. Crush the polls under the opinionless bandwagon. Polls are the Pollution of the People!"

We were inclined to echo these sentiments but hinted that he was in danger of broaching an opinion on the poll issue, thus losing status in the "No-Opinion" group. We further suggested that he might find it difficult to keep the members of the "No Opinion" party in line, especially in these days when opinions are made so generously available on all sides by informed quarters, reliable circles and authoritative spokesmen. We also opined that the age was geared to faith in the expert and the analyst even though they make mistakes that would have gotten a tribal witch doctor or a court wizard thrown out on his ear in less credulous, bygone times.

Our visitor pook-pooked all this and said the party would keep its members too busy for opinions. "Once we get the prestige, we can move on to more essential things, like official party buttons, salutes, flags, and fancy colored shirts. I've been thinking already about the party emblem, a big ear, probably, in a blue field with a pink ear-stopper in it. Closed to opinions that pollute, see! Once we can offer the members this sort of stuff we won't have to worry about their getting opinions."

He then whipped out a membership card and thrust it at us. "Become one of us. Get in on the ground floor and be one of the party elite."

We declined politely, pointing out that we had never been much of a button and badge man and that, besides, we thought we could already see seeds of decay in the "No-Opinion" party. It struck us as too opinionated.

Our visitor stiffened and looked dark. "Talk like that will get you into trouble some day, when we take over." He backed off still eyeing us hostilely. "Mark my words," was his parting message, "Heads will roll, when the Opinionless Masses rise in their might and march on to a Frank Admission of Ignorance."

We never saw or heard from him again, but we're still keeping a sharp eye on the cellar position of the opinion polls and an ear cocked for distant mutterings of the new revolution.

JACKETS SPLIT IN GAMES PAST WEEK; FACE BROWN TOMORROW; CONRAD TUES.

Newark Five Rebounds From 46-22 Setback At P. S. duPont On Friday To Defeat Claymont, 39-30, Tues.; Now Boasts 2 Wins and 1 Defeat

The Jacket courtmen revived quickly from their overwhelming setback by P. S. duPont last Friday to take over Claymont in handy style, 39-30, on the latter's court Tuesday.

With their books still in the black at two wins and one loss, Newark continues to range enemy territory next week, meeting Brown Vocational tomorrow and Conrad High on Tuesday in away games.

The victory over Claymont proved the Jackets can stand up under pressure. The teams matched point for point the first half and were deadlocked, 25-25, at the whistle. The third quarter told the story, however, with the Jackets returning from their locker room briefing by Coach Morrison to stage a whirlwind 13-point outburst, while the Indians sank only four. The teams again went into a see-saw battle in the final stanza, each netting 11.

Ed Harrison was the Jacket's scoring gun for the evening, accounting for almost 50 per cent of the victory total. He dropped six from the field and 7 from the penalty stripe for a 19-point contribution. His nearest competitor among the Jackets was Bill Records with five.

Last Friday at P. S., the Jackets failed to get going, dropping behind in the first quarter and trailing throughout. They still appeared in the running at half-time when they trailed, 18-14. The third quarter proved the game-icer, through, with P. S. stepping out with a spirit crushing 17-point burst, while the Jackets, lost in amazement, failed to ripple the cords.

Tom Murphy's eight points was tops for the Jackets, while Frank White of the duPonters took game honors with 18.

NHS Nets $395 For 1949 Grid Campaign Gate Grosses $3,195

Expenses Amounted to $2,799; Conrad Ticket Sales 4 Times That For Any Other Tilt

The Newark High School earned $395.64 through the 1948 football campaign, according to a financial report this week from Walter Matt, athletic director.

Gate returns for the season grossed $3,195.11, but expenses drained off $2,799.47.

Ticket sales for the Conrad game here on Thanksgiving Day easily set the season's mark for a single contest, with $1,880 being netted at the gates. Of this $716 went to the visitors as their share in the game, and another $447.92 covered fees for officials, rent for Frazer Field and federal taxes. The latter came to $300.92 for the contest.

Second most lucrative game was the season's opener here with Brown Vocational which drew $465.35.

Besides gate shares and taxes, major items of expense for the campaign were $79.90 for cheer leader uniforms, a $136.03 laundry bill, $228 in athletic insurance and $706 for equipment.

HEN CAGERS TO INVADE WASHINGTON COLLEGE SAT.; PMC HERE WEDNESDAY NITE

Delaware Due For Mid-Year Lay-Off After Cadet Contest; Defeats Past Week By Temple And Swarthmore Are Year's 5th And 6th; Matmen To Open

The Blue Hen cagers of the University of Delaware will be in quest of their second victory of the season when they go up against Washington College at Chestertown, Md., Saturday night. They had lost six before downing Ursinus, 49-48, last night.

On the same afternoon Delaware's swimming team will meet the Gettysburg tankmen in the Battleground pool, after having won three meets and lost none, and the Hen tumbler will open their season in the Fieldhouse here against a spectacular Navy gymnastics team.

After a basketball game against P. M. C. at Chester, Pa., Jan. 19, the Delawareans will settle down to mid-term studies and examinations, resuming their sports contests in February.

Saturday night the Hen cagers led the Garnet of Swarthmore until the final four minutes, on the Pennsylvania court, when the Little Quakers sunk three fast ones to win the game by 56-52. Delaware's Blue Chicks defeated the Garnet Jayvees, 45-37, for their second win to no losses. They previously beat Franklin and Marshall.

Delaware's varsity has lost to F. and M. and Gettysburg, before the holidays, and to Toledo University and undefeated Lawrence Tech on a year-end trip, then dropped a recent couple to Temple here and Swarthmore. But the Hens have faced most of their toughest foes of the season in their first six games.

Delaware's wrestling team lost to Bucknell at Lewisburg Saturday afternoon, when the Bisons drew falls or decisions in the lighter weights for a 21-11 score. The Hen tankmen scored an overwhelming victory against a confident University of Virginia team, 52 to 23, and the Delaware freshmen won, the preliminary meet over Trenton, N. J., High, 41-34, to make the week-end total score three victories against two defeats for the Hen athletes.

Coach Harry Rawstrom's swimmers broke three records to mark up their victory over the Cavaliers, Bandy Grier upset his own team and pool record when he passed the 100 mark in diving points—he scored 103.9. Delaware's medley relay team, Murray Campbell, Jim Baird and Co-Capt. Frank Craig knocked two seconds off the former team mark. All the Hen scorers were from Wilmington. The former medley mark was set by Jack Dougherty, Bob Cofer and Bob Bush in 1943.

Leading scorers of the meet were Hugh Dougherty, Jack's brother, with firsts in the 220- and 440-yard free style events, in both of which Co-Capt. Jack Smith took second.

The Cavaliers got off to a slow start with an early score of 13-1 against them, and took only one first place during the meet—the 400-yard relay last contest on the

Garden Seed Helps Countries Abroad

Ready - Packed Assortments Available For Mailing

While food harvests have improved in Europe, the high cost of living will continue to make adequate nutrition difficult for millions of families.

Home vegetable gardens, which have covered every foot of available vacant land, will continue to be cultivated, to supplement official rations, and for reasons of economy.

The Delaware Agricultural Extension Service announces that for those who wish to send garden seed to friends abroad, an assortment approved by U. S. Department of Agriculture experts will be made available throughout the country. Orders may be placed with mail stores, pledged to meet all government requirements, for official assistance to be delivered to individuals in any of twenty-three countries, or to any recognized charitable organization in the United States, for distribution to European needy.

The official assortment is known as: STA European Garden Seed Assortment. The shipping weight packed for export, will be slightly less than two pounds. Since this quantity of seed is sufficient to produce five tons of vegetables abroad, the saving in transport made by this kind of relief is impressive.

The assortment will contain adequate quantities of pea, bean, beet, carrot, onion, radish, spinach, turnip, rutabaga, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, cucumber, endive, kale, lettuce, leek, parsley, squash and tomato seeds.

To arrange to send an official assortment, inquiry should be made of a mail handling seeds, most of which will accept orders and attend to all details.

The assortment has been planned to permit several sowings of short season crops, and an abundant supply for next winter's storage of all suitable crops. It will provide a wonderful opportunity to help Europeans to help themselves.

The countries to which assortments addressed to individuals may be shipped include: Albania, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, British Isles, Greece, Hungary, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, Yugoslavia.

Early shipment is advised so that mailing can be done at the earliest date, which in southern Europe can be soon after the New Year.

Delaware To Mark National Security Week, Feb. 12-22

22nd Annual Observance By Reserve Officers

Plans for this States observance of National Security Week were announced recently by Col. W. A. McWilliams, president of the Delaware Department of the Reserve Officers Association, sponsors of the traditional observance.

Col. McWilliams said the local observance, along with that throughout the nation and its territories would be held February 12-22, including both of those historically significant dates. "For obvious reasons," said Col. McWilliams, "the matter of our nation's security under current world conditions is vastly more important than it ever has been before in peacetime. We hope that every organization in the State and every individual citizen will make their plans now to join with us in this traditional observance."

Col. McWilliams pointed out that the National Security Week aims have been expanded to meet the demands of current conditions and is in general in keeping with the non-partisan aims of national leaders. The R. O. A., he pointed out, stands for:

"An Army, Navy and Air Force second to no other nation, composed of efficient but small regular forces and strong civilian components trained and ready to meet any emergency and equipped in accordance with adequate continuous scientific development; a defense plan keyed to the demands of the day and continually revised; a strong, healthy, free and informed civilian population."

"There will be a place in National Security Week of 1949 for every citizen," he said, "just as there is a responsibility every citizen has, particularly in this age, for the security of our nation and her traditional liberties."

The R. O. A. has observed National Security Week, beginning with Lincoln's birthday and closing with Washington's birthday, each year since the passage of the National Defense Act in 1920. This will be the 22nd annual observance, there having been no observances during the war years, 1941-45.

SERVICE FOR OVERSTREET

Army Officer Was Well Known Here

Services for Capt. J. H. Overstreet, 44, who died in Germany on December 14, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Jones Funeral Home. Capt. Overstreet is well-known here, having served as a sergeant for 10 years with the staff of the University of Delaware R. O. T. C.

The Rev. A. J. Jackson, of the Newark Methodist Church, will officiate at the services. Interment will be in the Methodist Cemetery here.

A veteran of 16 years with the Army, Capt. Overstreet died of a heart attack at the 319th Station Hospital, Bremerhaven, Germany. His wife, the former Wilhelmina McKinney, of Newark, was with him at the time and accompanied his body home on the transport.

Since last July Captain Overstreet had been chief agent of the Sixth Criminal Investigation Detachment at Bremen. Mrs. Overstreet and their children, James H. Overstreet, Jr., and Mary Virginia Overstreet, had been in Germany since August, 1947.

He went overseas in April, 1945, served with the Criminal Investigation Department in France and later in Germany.

In addition to his wife, children, and father, Captain Overstreet is survived by two brothers, Thomas P. Overstreet in Newark, and Arthur Overstreet of Phoenix, Va., and several sisters in Virginia and North Carolina. His wife is staying with a sister, Mrs. Willard G. E. Wilson at Perryville, Md.

SEEK YOUTH CAMP FUNDS

Local Police Are Taking Donations

Contributions are now being sought for Camp Barnes, the recreation center near Frankford, Delaware, which offers a two-week summer vacation to underprivileged youth of the state.

Last year, when the camp was first opened, 278 boys from all parts of the state spent two exciting weeks there. The Delaware Association Chiefs of Police, which organized and sponsors the projects, is now seeking to expand the facilities of the camp in order to accommodate even more boys next summer.

Contributions, which are an investment in the future good citizenship of Delaware youth, may be sent to Sgt. Leroy C. Hill, member of the Newark police and director of the camp, or to Chief William Cunningham of the local force.

Donations may also be mailed to Captain C. H. Schetter, Delaware State Police, Troop No. 2, State Road, Delaware.

In a statement this week drive officials said: "Every dollar that you give will serve to help some deserving boy who has never had a chance to rehabilitate himself and to learn what good sportsmanship and good citizenship really mean. Obey that impulse... send a contribution now."
