MEMORIAL LIBRARY DEDICATION MAY 23

Famous Speakers Will Be In Attendance At Exercises

Many well known persons including Dr. Josiah H. Penniman, Major General Robert L. Bullard and Mr. James A. Drane will speak at the dedication of the Memorial Library, Saturday, May 23.

Dr. Hullihen will preside at the memorial exercises which will be held on the campus near the library. One book is to be published in which one page will be devoted to a sketch of each of the 241 men and women of Delaware in the various branches of the service who made the supreme sacrifice during the war. This book which is to have a prominent place in the library will be presented at the exercises by former Secretary of State Everett C. Johnson.

It is proposed to make the dedication of this library one of the most memorable affairs, not only in the history of the University, but of the State of Delaware, as it is a state-wide project. The library is a memorial to the service men and women of Delaware and thousands of citizens of the state contributed to the fund with which it has been built. Each contributor will be invited to attend the exercises.

The book containing a sketch of the 241 citizens who made the supreme sacrifice will be three feet wide and 19 inches deep with each page 18 inches wide. A large table or stand of massive wood is being built for this book and will be placed in the centre of Memorial Hall which is the main entrance to the library. The top of the stand will be hollowed out so that the book open can lie flat on the stand and it will be covered by a glass top through which the book can be seen and the pages read. ## Charming Hawaiian Play Given by W. C. D. Glee Club

The Glee Club of the Women's College presented "The Ghosts of Milio," a Hawaiian operetta, last evening at Wolf Hall. The operetta was under the entire charge of Miss Dora Wilcox who deserves much praise for this production. The solo parts which were taken by Polly Krueger, Reta Tatman and Mildred Tolson, were admirably sung. Of added attraction were the Hawaiian dances performed by Bertha Staats and Katherine Krauss.

In addition to this work, the choruses gave very pleasing renditions. The background of Hawaii and the authentic costuming added a new and pleasing zest to the program. (Continued on Page 3.)

Ag Club Elections

At a meeting of the Ag Club, held in the Lounge of Old College, Monday, April 27, the annual election of officers took place. The officers who were elected for the ensuing year are: J. W. Marshall, President; Paul Hodgson, Vice-President; W. N. Cannon, Secretary; and Earle Meredith, Treasurer. Following the election of officers, Dr. T. F. Manns, in an instructive talk, stressed the importance of the possible value of using peat as a fertilizer on sand soils.

CONSTITUTION OF W. C. D. MATH. CLUB APPROVED

Plans for First Annual Banquet of This Club Well Under Way

The Academic Council of the Women's College recently passed favorably upon the Constitution of the Ibis Club. This club, which was organized, with the aid of Professor C. J. Rees, in December, has for its purpose the promoting of interest in Mathematics. The club has met regularly every two weeks, and at these meetings some special topic has been discussed and some recreation presented. The general subject for the year 1924-1925 is "The History of Mathematics."

The Ibis Club now has thirty-one members. Recently a year book, designed by Leslie Blackwell, was printed. This book contains the constitution of the club, its history, a calendar for the year, and a list of the names of the members. At present M. Louise Marvel, '26, is President; Virginia Chipman, '26, Vice-President; Geraldine Messick, '27, Secretary and Treasurer. At the last meeting of this club, on May 21, the officers for next year will be elected, and on May 8 the first Annual Banquet will be held.

At the banquet there will be fifteen guests who are members of the faculty of Delaware College or of the Women's College, besides the thirty-one members of the club. Professor Rees has arranged for a speaker from Swarthmore to be present. Poole's Orchestra will furnish music for dancing after the banquet.

Field Day Promises To Be Gala Affair

Saturday, May 2, will be a big day at the Women's College. The annual field day and inter-class meet will begin at one o'clock on the Women's College campus. The following competitive events will be held with members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes taking part: High Jump, Standing Broad Jump, Running Broad Jump, One Hundred Yard Dash, Basket Ball Throw, and Base Ball Throw. The Wand Drill will also be competitive. Several events have been arranged which are not competitive but will be given for the entertainment of the people present.

A novelty relay, a shuttle relay between Freshman and Sophomore members, a rooster fight, a Dutch couple dance by the Freshmen girls, and a Hus-

DICKENS RECITAL CAPTURES AUDIENCE

Professor Irwin Edman of Columbia Univ. Will Be Here Tues.

The pompous Mr. Pickwick, the simpering Mrs. Bardell, the irrepressible Sam Weller, the garrulous Mrs. Saunders, the hapless Mr. Winkler, eloquent lawyers full of "chops and tomato sauce," and other Dickensian delineations were transferred from the pages of "The Pickwick Papers" to the stage of Wolf Hall as living and laugh-creating personalities in the person of the versatile Mr. Frank Speaight, of London, at College Hour last Tuesday. Before a most appreciative audience Mr. Speaight gave an artistic impersonation of various Pickwickian characters that served to illustrate, as no amount of reading could have done, the genius and humanness of Charles Dickens as a portrayer of characters.

Before he rendered his impersonation Mr. Speaight gave a brief outline of Charles Dickens' life, emphasizing the hardships he was obliged to overcome, his reading of good literature which served as a helpful background, and the fact that most of his works were written before he was twenty-four.

"Because he strikes at the heart more than the head, Dickens will be remembered," said Mr. Speaight. "Dickens bases his genius on the delineation of character, not plot. The stronger the plot, the less a book will live. In a book based on plot, you read it twice because you have forgotten the plot; in a book based on character, you read it twice (Continued on Page 2.)

FRESHMEN FIRST IN COMPETITIVE PLAYS

£12 Look Judged Best of the Women's College Class
Plays

The honors for the Annual Competitive Plays of the Women's College were taken by the Freshman Class. The youngest class gave a very choice and amusing rendering of Sir James Barries' "Twelve Pound Look." Every one who viewed the production agreed with the judges for the competitive plays that the characters were played with admirable spirit.

The performance of Frances Eckberdt as "Kate" was exceedingly well done. Her voice and enunciation was most gratifying and pleasing. "Sir Harry Sims" was pompously and well (Continued on Page 4.)

Outlaw Dance At Hotel Du Pont Tomorrow Night

The Outlaw Dance to be given by the Women's College is scheduled to take place Saturday night, May 2, in the Gold Ball Room of the Hotel Du Pont. It is expected that the dance will be a delightful affair, and it is known that it will be well attended. Miss Nora Bean Keely and Mr. C. J. Rees will represent the University in the receiving line. George Madden and his orchestra have been engaged for the occasion. Due to the change in Wilmington time, the dance will begin promptly at 6:30 o'clock, Standard Time.

KAPPA ALPHA FORMAL TENNIS FILMS TO BE BRILLIANT SUCCESS SHOWN AT HANARK

Dinner In Old College Pre-Reel Opportunity To See
cedes Dance In Famous Champions
Armory

Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Alpha Fraternity held its twenty-first annual dinner and dance on last Friday night. Dinner was served in Old College. The dance was held in the Armory.

The hall was decorated in green and white, and the design was unique and attractively carried out. The hall was converted into a large outdoor garden. Large tulips and other flowers grew up alongside the walls, and perched in conspicuous places were butterflies and other fauna. Two large toadstools stood out conspicuously among the decorations, and many of the dancers, becoming fatigued, rested under the protecting shade of the leaves. But the crowning achievement of the decorations was a large spider which hung from its web in the center of the room and spread out until it covered the whole ceiling and all of the windows. Both the flowers and the insects were greatly enlarged, and in comparison, the dancers took on the appearance of midgets. It was this effect that the designers of the decorations wished to bring out. About 125 couples were in attendance. Madden's orchestra furnished the music, and in the opinion of those present, could not have been improved upon.

The patronesses were as follows: Mrs. G. E. Dutton, Mrs. W. H. Steele, Mrs. J. S. Shaw, Mrs. N. W. Wright, Mrs. J. C. (Continued on Page 3.)

Freshman Debating Team Match With St. Joseph's

The Freshman Debating Team of Delaware College will debate with the Freshman Team from St. Joseph's College on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in Wolf Hall. Delaware will defend the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: that the Japanese exclusion clause of the immigration law of 1924 was the best policy."

The members of the team who will represent Delaware in this debate are Joseph Craven, Philip Cohen, and Leslie Moore. The judges will be the Hon. Caleb Burchenal, and James H. Hughes, prominent members of the New Castle County Bar; and the Hon. M. Channing Wagner, Principal of the Wilmington High School.

Coach W. J. McAvoy To Go To Univ. of Vt

William J. McAvoy at present head coach of athletics at the University of Delaware, is reported to have been appointed head coach of football and basketball at the University of Vermont.

The report has been confirmed by the coach; he will succeed J. Thomas Keady. Coach McAvoy has been coach of athletics at Delaware for thirteen years; his period of coaching here at the University was broken by the World War. Following the war, Coach McAvoy coached a year at Drexel and then returned to Delaware. Coach McAvoy will report to the University of Vermont in time to start football practice this coming fall.

BASEBALL

Delaware-Dickinson
TOMORROW - 2:30

The University of Delaware tennis team is supervising the showing of five reels of slow and fast motion tennis pictures at the Hanark Theatre, Monday evening, May 4, at seven o'clock.

The set consists of one reel of William T. Tilden, 2d, one reel of William M. Johnston, one combined reel of R. Norris Williams, 2d, and Vincent Richards; one combined reel of Gerald L. Patterson, Pat O'Hara, Norman Brookes, of Australia, and Manuel Alonso, of Spain. These films, which consist of five 1,000 foot reels, show the above stars making all forms of service and volley strokes. The motion is so retarded and repeated that it is possible for the observer to see, on the screen, exactly how these players execute their strokes.

There is no better way of stating the real value of these films than by quoting from some of the leading dailies of the United States. The New York Evening Post: "Those who have the good fortune to see the pictures, which will be leased in installments to tennis clubs, will learn more about tennis than they would have if they had seen every championship match ever played." The New York Times: "It was the unanimous opinion of those who attended the exhibition that the films are the finest ever taken by the U. S. L. T. A. and that their educational value in instructing the general playing public on the proper way to make the various strokes in the game is very great."

In addition to the showing of the tennis films, there will be a comedy shown. The management of the Hanark Theatre has kindly consented to show the tennis films free of charge to the Athletic Council of the University. Admission of twenty-five cents must be charged to cover the cost of rental of the film.

Comment On Recent R. O. T. C. Inspection

In commenting upon the recent military inspection, Major A. R. Underwood said, "Considering the short amount of time that the battalion drilled during the winter, the unit did fairly well; but there was much that could be improved upon. On the whole, the students did somewhat better in the classrooms than on the field."

The inspecting officers asked the same questions in the classrooms at Delaware College as they asked at the other institutions in order that the colleges be judged on a fair basis of comparison.

Gets Jump Record

With the bar set at 5 feet 11 inches, Paul Baxter, a Senior at the University here, threw himself over without brushing the tin staff at the Penn Relays on Friday, thereby setting a new high jump record at Delaware.

Baxter's splendid showing at the big meet won him third place in his favorite event. His jumping has been consistently improving since taking up serious training at Delaware, and he has on several past occasions shaded the existing record of 5:10 and a fraction in practice.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF POLICY

The incoming staff feels called upon to announce its conception of the aims and the requirements of a college paper.

A college paper is the organ of expression of a student body. As such it watches with jealous eye over the welfare of those whom it represents, and in turn merits their support and respect. If it becomes a weapon for the furtherance of personal or partisan motives, its usefulness is impaired or destroyed.

Where reform is needed the paper focuses a lime-light of criticism to stir up attention and to instigate remedies. It must be bold and insistent in justifiable demands; but it must not accuse without provocation. It does irreparable damage if it attacks wantonly without intently considering all phases of a question.

The news columns of the journal should cover all items of local interest, and, at the same time, should record the most outstanding news and interests of other colleges. Colleges are, after all, quite isolated from one another mainly through weight of tradition. They exist as self-satisfying units content to struggle laboriously through problems similar to those which have been solved in nearby institutions. It is a vital function then of the college paper to serve as a connecting link and to inform the local college of all significant movements wherever they may occur.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

What has become of the Women's College Rifle Team? This question has been asked many times this year by the classes that remembered its beginning in 1922. It will be recalled that during that year the Rifle Club was supported enthusiastically by every one who was eligible to become a member. Plenty of good material made it possible for the heads of the rifle team to pick a team of good marks-women.

The year of 1923 started out exceedingly well for the club. The schedule for the first year was no simple one. The club shot with older and more experienced teams and made a worth while record for the school. This year, a schedule was announced but outside of this, there has been no other news of the club.

What does a thing like this mean? The only answer is, that there is an apparent lack of enthusiasm for college activities among the students of the Women's College. The Rifle Club with its contact with other schools had a chance to create that thing which is inanely called college spirit. If more support would be given to making our college organizations worth while, there would be no time left to be spent in bewailing the lack of so-called college spirit.

It is certainly a pitiable state of affairs that, when a chance really arises to do something for the school, even the girls who are capable of doing well let the chance slide by without protest. The Rifle Club is only one example of this slack method of doing things which has been adopted by the Women's College. Isn't it about time we displayed a little backbone and ability?

Signed: W. C. D.

Second Tennis Match

Lost To F. and M.

The University Tennis Team lost a poorly played match in Wilmington to Franklin and Marshall College last Friday by the score of 5 - 2. The courts in Newark were considered in such poor condition that the match was taken to Wilmington—a policy which will probably be followed the rest of the season unless the Women's College Courts can be seured for the home games.

The match, which was scheduled for 2.30 p. m., did not begin until 4.45 p. m. because the F. and M. men were delayed. The Delaware players had given up hope of playing the match and were practicing when the visitors arrived.

Franklin and Marshall brought down a good team. Their first man, Captain Le Feuvre displayed ability despite the awkward way in which he covered the court. His match with Captain Malloy was exciting and the winner could not be decided upon until the match was finished. Fred Creamer won his second singles match of this season by dint of perseverance. Although his opponent seemed to have more tennis ability, Fred was successful by simply wearing his man out. Turner and Meredith were easy victims of their opponents, being unable to master the swift service. Jones won his match for Delaware, though with considerable effort. Turner and Jones played their doubles match long after dark, and hitting the ball was a mere matter of chance. Malloy and Creamer forced their match to extra sets but lost the toss-up for the deciding set which could not be played on account of darkness.

Scores:
La Feuvre (F. and M.) defeated Malloy (Del.) 6-3, 1-6, 6-4.
Creamer (Del.) defeated Rush (F. and M.) 7-5, 6-2.
Stein (F. and M.) defeated Turner (Del.) 6-1, 6-2.
Jones (Del.) defeated Faeglyn (F. and M.) 9-7, 2-6, 6-2.
Weingler (F. and M.) defeated Meredith (Del.) 6-2, 6-1.

La Feuvre and Weingler defeated Malloy and Creamer, 7-5, 5-7, 1-2 (defaulted). Rush and Stein defeated Turner and Jones, 6-1, 6-2.

DICKENS RECITAL CAPTURES AUDIENCE

not because you have forgotten the plot, but because you remember the characters."

The speaker stressed the importance of reading good literature, giving as his definition of a classic "a book that the intelligent few tell the unintelligent multitude is a good book."

The scene wherein the unfortunate Mr. Pickwick is placed in a compromising position by the amorous Mrs. Bardell throwing herself in his arms was enacted realistically with Mr. Speaight taking the part of all the characters most capably. This was followed by scenes showing the result of Mr. Pickwick's being discovered, the subsequent breach of promise of marriage suit, the journey of his servant to pay the rent, the fruitless visit to the lawyers, the unfortunate and comic attempts of Mr. Pickwick and his companions to handle two horses, and the trial and sentence of Mr. Pickwick to pay 750 pounds damages.

Mr. Speaight concluded his recital by recommending the reading of the classics instead of the "literary garbage" that is being published today. "Fifteen minutes reading a day of good literature would furnish an excellent background for the intelligent person," he said.

Mr. Speaight is now on his fourteenth tour of the United States and is considered England's greatest interpreter of Dickens' works.

The next speaker at College Hour will be Professor Irwin Edman, of Columbia University, whose subject will be "Idealisms Old and New." Professor Edman is the author of the Richard Kane stories which have been appearing in the Century Magazine.

A terrible error has been committed. In last week's Review it was reported that Willy—the mystery man of the lower campus—had in very decided tones demanded an explanation of the disappearance of his rake. Later this week, when he was questioned by the Sussex plumber, as to the truth of this statement he made a flat denial of such publicity. Although he was grieved at such false publicity the only statement which he would make was:

"I ain't lost no rake."

Because of this distinction, Pickus was promoted to the rank of Captain.

In recognition of their energetic service, both Jackson and Pickus will be awarded sabres. The sabres, which were donated by friends of the University, will be presented to the men as soon as their names have been engraved on the blades.

JUST listen to this instance. E. I. Hiscox, of East Patchogue, Long Island, is a college man who worked for years in a New York office.

Always he chafed at being tied down to a desk.

Always he wanted to be free to do things that meant sunshine and flowers; health and happiness.

He saw men with seemingly little money build a greenhouse.

He saw one house grow to many.

He saw their owners always strong and well, and getting an abundance of wholesome joy out of life.

So he mortgaged his home, borrowed all he could, and built his first house 40 ft. x 150 ft.

Didn't know a thing about greenhouse growing.

But he found out, and made that first house pay the first year.

He has three now. Three of our finest iron frame houses, growing carnations.

If you like flowers and are not afraid to get some dirt on your hands, here's a contentment-filled, money-making business for you.

Let's get acquainted. Let's start by your writing us asking the questions that right now are popping into your mind.

Here may be the answer to what to do after graduation, to make money and have your share of life's pleasures.

And he has lived to see it

Back in 1885, Thomas A. Edison succeeded in transmitting electricity at 220 volts for one mile—an achievement and a promise.

The promise was fulfilled a few months ago, when electricity at 220,000 volts was transmitted two hundred and forty miles to supply Los Angeles with light and power.

Now five billion dollars are invested in electric power plants. A stupendous figure that testifies to the alertness of thousands of college-trained men who have been leaders in the production and use of electric power.

The electrical era has only dawned. Each year some new machine or discovery makes it possible to apply electricity in unexpected ways. The graduate of today will find electricity directly or indirectly a means for even greater accomplishments, no matter what his calling in life may be.

In 1885 Edison shipped to the Paris Exposition his "Jumbo" dynamo—eighth wonder of the world. It could light 1000 lamps. Now there are G-E generators large enough to supply current for over a million lamps, each with four times the candle-power of the lamp of 1881.

The General Electric Company produces other electrical apparatus which makes it possible to transmit power over great distances. It has put electricity in seven-league boots. In its laboratories, scientists are now experimenting with voltages ten times as great as the highest now in use.

LAFAYETTE TROUNCES DEL. NINE AT EASTON

Abundance of Errors Loses
Spiritless Games For
Del. Twirlers

The Blue and Gold nine went down to decisive defeat in a baseball game played with Lafayette College, at Easton, April 29. The score was 24-4.

Delaware made a good start in the first inning when Pryor held the Maroon men scoreless, but in the second inning Lafayette scored nine runs. Judging from the fact that the Blue and Gold made eight errors, and the Maroon none, the game was very poorly played on Delaware's part. The score follows:

New York Visitors Inspect the Library

Headed by two instructors, about fifty students of the New York State Library School at Albany, spent part of Tuesday on a visit of inspection to the new Memorial Library on the University campus here.

Fraternity News

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity will hold a reunion at their house on the campus tomorrow night. Many Alumni are expected back for the reunion. A dinner will be served at the house and after the dinner the rest of the evening will be spent in various entertainments.

The Kappa Alpha Fraternity have just had their house newly painted both on the outside and inside. The floors have been varnished and all necessary repairs made to make the house more attractive.

Harold Clift, Steve McClure, and Harold Crooks were visitors at the Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity during the previous week. Darrel Long was a visitor to Baltimore over the last week-end where he visited friends and relatives.

MEMORIAL LIBRARY DEDICATION MAY 23

(Continued from Page 1.) bedded in the cover of the book will be a medal identical with those that were presented by the state to each Delaware service man at the close of the war. Provision for this was made in a joint resolution adopted by the recent Legislature at the suggestion of Everett C. Johnson. Under another joint resolution, also suggested by Mr. Johnson, the Legislature provided for an enlarged medal of the same design to be the State's gift in memory of those Delawareans who lost their lives in the war and this will also be placed in Memorial Hall.

The students of this school take what they term a "Southern trip" each spring, stopping off at libraries in the course of their journeys. Just prior to their visit to Newark, the group stopped off in Wilmington. Their next stop was Washington, D. C.

A big parade made up of the University R. O. T. C. unit, the state militia, and various civic and educational organizations is planned in conjunction with the dedication.

FRESHMEN FIRST IN COMPETITIVE PLAYS

played by Frances Goldstein. The court dress of the colorless "Lady Sims" done by Dorothea Pierson, was a priceless piece of imitation of Lucille's creation. It is hardly necessary to mention the solemn butler, Tombes, played by Ethel Stangle whose appearance was a signal for a burst of applause.

The second place was given to the Sophomore class which presented "Overtures," by Alice Gerstenburg. This play was very well staged and acted. The Junior play won the third place in its presentation of "Op O' Me Thumb" by Frederick Fenn.

This closes the second year of competitive dramatization between the classes. It is certain that such competition will now become a traditional affair, for the new tone and talent which was brought forth this year proves that an interest has been aroused to make these things worth while.

The judges who selected the winning play were Dr. Sypherd, Dr. Foster, Mr. Van Keuren, Miss Nora Keely, Dean Robinson, Miss Louise Jackson and Miss Sally Sharp. Miss Sharp made the announcement of the award to the Freshman class.

OUTFITTING THE GOLFER

A man's individuality is expressed by what he wears on the golf course—not his income. It is a mistaken belief that just because an article is approved it must be expensive. Here costumes for the game may be selected from authoritative stocks at moderate outlay.
