

Earl Leasure Wins State 4-H Contest

First In Beautification Of Home Program

A well-deserved honor went to Earl Leasure, 14, of Newark, who was named state winner of the 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds program.

Earnest planning, diligent study and hours of hard work went into the many improvements accomplished. In one year of this project Earl has transformed his home by cutting out and trimming coarse bushes, choosing the plants and planting of new flower beds, and helping to make a concrete walk. He also disposed of an unsightly rubbish pile, and put up a used gym set on which his younger sisters could play. Earl has also maintained a garden and grown all the vegetables for his sisters' canning projects. Earl's 17-jewel watch award was donated by Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen.

Beadle Elected To Board Of Trustees

New University Official Is duPont Vice-Pres.

Walter J. Beadle, vice-president, director and member of the Executive Committee of E. I. duPont de Nemours and Company, was elected a trustee of the University of Delaware at Saturday's meeting of the University's Board of Trustees. Mr. Beadle replaces the late Robert H. Richards. The announcement of his election was made by former-judge Hugh M. Morris, President of the board.

Mr. Beadle joined the duPont Company in 1929 as a technical investigator in the Development Department. He was born February 24, 1896, in Lima, N.Y., the son of Clifford J. and Elizabeth O. Beadle. He attended Genesee Wesleyan Seminary at Lima and was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a bachelor of science in mechanical engineering. Prior to his graduation from M.I.T., he worked in the engineering department of the Benzol Products Company, Marcus Hook, Pa., but left that work to join the U. S. Army during World War I.

After the war he completed his engineering course and in 1920 entered the engineering department of national Aniline & Chemical Company. In 1921, he joined the traffic department of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company as traffic engineer and later became transportation manager. In 1927, he became a transportation and traffic consultant with the Mitten Management Corporation.

Suggestion for delivering an important Christmas "package"

Holiday greetings by Long Distance, always a welcome "package" in the Christmas season, will be as popular as ever this year.

Most of these calls will go through promptly... but there will be some delays, particularly on calls to remote points.

We've made special arrangements to have an extra staff of operators at every switchboard. You can help them give you the service you want by making your calls before or after the peak hours on Christmas Eve and Christmas Morning. And whenever possible, give the operator the number of the telephone you want to reach. When you call by number your call will go through faster... often twice as fast!

The Waverly Club of Hockessin celebrated its 35th anniversary last Thursday with a luncheon at the Friends Meeting House. Mrs. Robert B. Walker welcomed the guests and stated the program theme was "Looking Forward" which must be pervaded with the spirit of friendliness and the great need to work for peace, and the great need to work for peace, and the great need to work for peace.

Today the fourth grade will visit the Richard Dairy in Newark following the regular school session.

State visitors last week were Miss Marian Hanby, physical education supervisor, Mrs. Eugenia Matz, music, Mrs. Florence Reese, psychologist; Miss Virginia Makon, human relations; Mr. Fred Marshall, custodian.

Four plays will be featured at the annual Christmas program next Wednesday night. Johnny Woolleyhan with some of his orchestra members, along with his students, will play on the program.

Pleasant Hill

Mrs. Edith Patterson spent the past week-end with the Rev. Dr. Oliver Collins and Mrs. Collins in Baltimore. The Collins were residents of this section when Mr. Collins was pastor at Ebenezer.

Ebenezer Methodist Church

The annual Christmas party and program for the children will be held Dec. 20 in charge of Mrs. Anna Cameron.

Thirty members enjoyed the annual Christmas meeting of the Fellowship last Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown. Ralph Kee was elected president; Robert Major, vice president; Mrs. R. P. Major, secretary; Mrs. Ralph Kee, treasurer. The MYF yule party last Friday attracted 20 young people. Games and gifts were enjoyed.

The entire cast of the drama "A King Is Given" will rehearse next Sunday at 2:30 p.m. The presentation of this Christmas story will be held Dec. 23 at 8 p.m.

Corner Ketch

Union Grange will hold its only meeting this month next Wednesday which will be a Christmas session. Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church The Missionary Society will meet today for a Christmas program. Mrs. Marvin Klair will have charge.

Next Sunday morning the Rev. George Jamieson, pastor, will speak on "The Approach of Christmas." The Youth Council will meet at 8 p.m.

The Jamiesons were recently presented with a TV set by an anonymous donor. Marvin Shakespeare was reelected president of the Men's League last Thursday night. John V. University Cow Completes Test

With 583 pounds of butterfat and 15168 pounds of milk testing 3.8% to her credit, U. of D. Tri-Chief Genifer, registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by University of Delaware, Newark, Delaware, has completed a 341-day production test in official Herd Improvement Registry.

She was milked 2 times daily and was 5 years 10 months of age when she began her testing period.

University Course Fees Consolidated

The trustees of the University of Delaware have directed by resolution the consolidation of student course fees at the university. This action was taken at the board meeting December 8.

By this consolidation the former 308 laboratory, shop and other fees of many kinds and amounts are to be brought together in one identical sum for all students attending the university. This has been done to fix charges for the convenience of students and their parents. The consolidated fee will not be effective until September 1952.

This action means that the cost of going to school will be the same for all students in all departments. It eliminates the possibility of a student being influenced in his choice of courses by one course being more or less costly than another. All former laboratory, shop, student activities fees and the like will, next September, be included in one General University Maintenance Fee. This of course, does not affect charges for board, lodging and books.

There are no OPS ceilings on the amount an auto dealer may allow on a car traded in.

Senior Honor Society

Peggy Woerner, a member of the Senior Honor Society, was elected president of the 1951-52 group at a meeting held last Tuesday at the school.

The newly elected officers are: Peggy Woerner, president; Annette Ely, vice-president; Ruth Mary Cooper, secretary and treasurer; Irene Klahr, publicity. The society has nineteen members, all of whom are seniors.

The Senior Honor Society has chosen several projects to take up in school this year. One of which is substitute teaching. The substitute teaching system is operated in such a fashion that if a teacher has to leave her class, at any time, a member of the society will take charge. Members will also tutor students who have trouble in certain subjects. Another job they will undertake is the scheduling of classes. In the spring of each year they help in the office to set up the schedule of each individual student.

The regular weekly assembly was opened with usual morning exercises, followed by an announcement made by Mr. Kutz. Television Interview

Coach Fred Spozata, accompanied by two of his players, Captain Dave George and Bunny Blancy, was interviewed recently by George Frick on "The Sporting Scene," the nightly sports review program on the local T.V. station in Wilmington.

They were honored by this interview because of the Newark team's tie-standing with Wilmington High as County Champs.

George Frick asked the boys who their toughest opponent was; both agreed that Wilmington High offered the greatest opposition. He also asked the boys about their future plans. Blancy plans to go to college but is undecided as to the college. Dave George plans to try for an appointment to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, in 1952.

Scientific Trickster To Appear At N.H.S. Tomorrow

Glenn L. Morris, a startling magician of science, will appear in the Newark School auditorium, Friday, December 14, 1951, at 2:30 p.m. as an Antrim Bureau presentation.

Glenn L. Morris brings to Newark High School a lecture-entertainment in which many new interesting factors of science are presented in a non-technical manner. His program consists of a series of startling, mysterious, unbelievable, and magical demonstrations. The stage will be covered with odd devices such as you have never seen before as well as handmade equipment which represents years of careful experimentation and skillful construction.

Mr. Morris is a specialist in putting things within reach of his audience. There is something doing every moment. For the adults in the audience the program serves as a summary of recent developments, or perhaps nothing more than magic, intensely interesting; for the students, the stunts create great curiosity, and a desire to investigate.

Gracie Brayman and Louise Macreary.

Skip Crawford Sparks Hens To 70-60 Win Over Temple Owls

High Scoring Sophomore Tallies 20 Points As Delaware Leads Throughout; Milkvy Held To 12 Points

An overflow crowd was on hand at Carpenter Field House Tuesday night to watch the University of Delaware basketball team hang up one of its most impressive wins in recent years when it defeated Temple University's Owls, 70-60.

Skip Crawford, sensational Blue Hen sophomore, gave the crowd, which had come expecting to see Temple's celebrated captain, Bill Milkvy, burn up the courts, an exhibition of how the game should be played as he continually broke through the Owl defense to tally eight field goals and four fouls for a game-high total of 20 points.

Captain Milkvy, who averaged over 28 points per game last year, is a changed man this season. The high-scoring Temple star played a sluggish game in which he continually passed up chances to shoot and instead passed the ball off to team mates. He took only 17 shots from the floor during the entire game and about half of these were during the last five minutes of the game when he scored over half of his 12 points.

It appeared that the Temple ace was either saving himself for the games that are to be televised or he was out to show his team mates that without his point-scoring ability they were just a so-so team. He didn't score a point during the entire first half, while taking only three shots.

Delaware coach Fred Emmerman had his boys at fever pitch for the contest and sparked by the great all-around play of Crawford, Kruzinski, White, Utt, and Goldberg the Blue Hens got off to a fast start and were never headed.

They led Temple 13-12 at the end of the first quarter, 38-24 at the half, 53-35 at the end of the third quarter, and stood off a last ditch rally by the Owls in the closing minutes to end up victors by a 70-60 score.

Despite the disappointing effort put on by Milkvy it was a thrilling game for the Hens to win and even though it was the third loss suffered by Temple in four games played to date, Delaware followers were mighty proud to see the Blue and Gold defeat a team which ranks with the better collegiate clubs year after year.

Blue Hens Defeat Lehigh, 30-62, As Crawford Gets 25

Sophomore Guard Takes Lead In Team Scoring With 68 Points

The University of Delaware basketball team won its second victory of the current campaign last Saturday when the Hens rebounded from the 89-87 defeat handed them by a strong Muhlenberg club earlier in the week to knock off Lehigh, 30-62.

Skip Crawford, high scoring guard, led the Blue and Gold scorers with 10 field goals and five fouls for a total of 25 points. With 19 points scored in the season opener against Washington College, 24 in the one-point loss to Muhlenberg, and the 25 against Lehigh, Crawford has notched a total of 68 points in the three games played to take over the lead in team scoring.

Leading, 16-15, at the end of the first period, Delaware lost the advantage to the Engineers until midway of the second quarter when Crawford sank a tying field goal, and Dick Goldberg put the Hens in front with a foul shot to give them a lead they never lost. At the half, Delaware led by a 40-32 score and continued to pull away.

Capt. Billy Utt, with five goals and five fouls for 15 points, and Lamkin, sophomore center, with seven field goals and one foul, tied for the runner-up spot in the scoring for the evening.

Delaware's Jayvees dropped a 62-59 decision to the Lehigh junior varsity with Pete Kelleher setting the scoring pace with 27 points racked up on 12 field goals and two fouls.

Mr. Paul Hutchison, Capitol Trail, was pleased to learn this month that a new grandmother, A. son was born on December 1st to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Middletown. Mr. Brown is the son of Mrs. Hutchison.

Little "Ranny" Eastburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Eastburn, Capitol Trail, was operated on this week for the removal of tonsils.

Rev. and Mrs. James H. Bishop, Capitol Trail, motored to Baltimore last Friday. Rev. Bishop represented the Wilmington Council of Churches at a committee meeting of the Maryland-Delaware Council.

Plans were drawn up for celebrating the publication of the "Revised Standard Version of the New Testament" in September, 1952. Rev. Bishop is serving as chairman of the committee for the Wilmington area. Mass meetings will be held throughout the nation in honor of the event. It is hoped that "Nat" Richards of Harmony Cross Roads will soon be relieved of the pain and discomfort caused by an unwelcome carbuncle.

Willard Johnston, Milford Cross Roads, enjoyed a well-earned respite from work last week while on vacation.

White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church

Memorial Window
The first stained-glass memorial window was installed at White Clay Church last week. This is the Claringbole Memorial Window, the gift of the late Thomas R. Claringbole. This beautiful window is the product of the Payne Studios of Patterson, New Jersey. The design in rich blues and reds depicts the open Bible for the whole world, surmounted by a flaming torch, representing the Christ light for the world.

This window is an example of the finest in modern stained-glass design. It has been placed on the west side of the church, facing the Claringbole homestead. The dedication will be a high point in the Christmas Sunday evening service, December 23.

New Law Provides Training Benefits For Wounded Vets

Previous Training Under GI Bill No Bar To Further Benefits

World War II veterans who have returned to active duty and who were disabled after the outbreak of Korean hostilities, may be eligible for vocational training under a recent law, even though they might have already been trained under the GI Bill or Public Law 16, Veterans Administration said today in answer to a number of queries.

The provision for additional training for World War II veterans was included in a law passed late in 1950 and amended in October, 1951, VA said. Under that law, veterans who received service-connected disabilities after June 27, 1950, may take training if they need it to overcome the handicap of those disabilities.

The fact that an eligible veteran had taken advantage of previous veterans' training programs is no bar to further training should this disability be such as to require it, the act continues.

In determining whether ex-GI Bill or Public Law 16 veteran-trainees need additional training under the new act, VA said it will adhere to the following procedures:

In the case of a veteran who interrupted Law 16 training to re-enter the armed forces, VA also will evaluate his past training record and present medical file, to learn whether he still is able to go ahead in the same employment objective.

Mentally Ill Vets Provided For Under New Public Law 239

VA Reviewing 9,000 Cases Of Vets Now Awaiting Such Treatment

Veterans Administration announced it is trying to solve the problem of providing hospitalization and outpatient treatment for several thousand veterans with mental illnesses who might qualify for such care under a new law.

The new law (Public Law 239, enacted October 30, 1951) provides that for the purpose of VA hospital and medical care, including outpatient treatment, World War II veterans and those with service since June 27, 1950 who develop an active psychosis within two years from the date of separation from active service shall be deemed to have incurred the disability in active service.

Before the law was passed, many such veterans were classified as non-service-connected cases and thus entitled to VA hospitalization only when a bed was available in a VA hospital, providing they signed a statement that they could not afford the treatment elsewhere. However, they were not entitled to outpatient treatment at VA expense.

VA is now faced with the task of reviewing the cases of approximately 9,000 WW II veterans awaiting which gives them a priority for hospitalization and makes them eligible for outpatient treatment.

Under the new law, World War II veterans and those with service in the Armed Forces since June 27, 1950, who have developed an active psychosis within two years after separation from service, may file applications for hospitalization or outpatient treatment as service-connected cases. Those now on waiting lists for hospitalization need not file new applications as their cases will be automatically reviewed.

Vaccine Promises More Mink Coats

Distemper Cure Will Also Reduce Cost

A promise of more mink coats for the women at a lesser cost was seen today when Lederle Laboratories announced a new vaccine to prevent distemper in mink, a disease which annually kills thousands of these valuable fur-bearing animals.

This country's mink crop is estimated at 3,500,000 annually, some of which are valued as high as $3,000. An outbreak of distemper among a herd of these delicate animals could cost a rancher tens of thousands of dollars, and remove many beautiful pelts which otherwise would reach the market.

Mink distemper is caused by a virus. The disease was recognized in dogs in 1901, but was discovered in mink only in 1932. The death rate among infected mink is about 60 percent in older animals, and close to 100 percent in young weaned mink. Survivors of distemper usually yield pelts of inferior quality.

A Lederle spokesman said the new vaccine is the first to provide solid immunity lasting one year, with a single injection. Mink are ready for the fur market at about eight months of age.

Previous methods of combating mink distemper required a series of injections, and gave immunity for only a short period. The new vaccine without hundreds of challenge doses of highly virulent distemper virus with no ill effects. Two-year challenge tests are now under way.

Nation To Be Told Of Delaware Chicken

Two state poultry groups, the State Poultry Commission, and the Delaware Chicken Festival, Inc., are carrying the story of Delaware chicken to consumers all over the nation.

The Delaware Chicken Festival, Inc., set up an exhibit at the 36th National Hotel Association meeting in New York City recently. It reached 40,000 people in one day only, during the three-day meet. It featured a model of the world's largest frying pan, and of "Della, the Delaware Chicken."

A smaller wing of the exhibit featured a rotisomat—an automatic chicken barbecue device, operated by electricity. Fresh young Delaware chickens were barbecued on this daily, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Otis Esham, Salisbury, Md., newly elected president of the festival, said, "The festival directors have been working towards promotional activities other than the annual festival. This is another tangible example of how these activities are being developed. The hotel people were an ideal group to contact, and we hope to use the exhibit to reach other large consumer groups."

The State Poultry Commission co-operated with the Delaware State Grange last week, in furnishing Delaware chickens for the Delaware Day luncheon at the national meeting in Atlantic City, N.J. Background material on Delaware chickens, and recipe leaflets, were also distributed.

University Confers On School Services

University of Delaware officials will confer on December 14, 1951, to develop plans for expanded services to schools in this state. The university is one of sixteen institutions in the Middle Atlantic Region which are collaborating in a national effort known as the Cooperative Program in Educational Administration.

Purposes of the program are to strengthen the training programs in education administration at the universities and to assist school executives in the field. It is supported in part by funds of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

Dr. William E. Arnold, a staff member of the regional headquarters in New York City, will meet with President John A. Perkins, William O. Penrose, Dean of the School of Education and Dr. Matthew J. Pillard, Associate Professor of Education at the University of Delaware. Professor Arnold is on leave from the University of Pennsylvania where he is director of the Educational Services Bureau.

The University of Delaware, the State Department of Public Instruction and the Delaware Association of School Administrators are jointly developing plans for a study program dealing with problems of educational leadership. It is expected that officials will consider ways to expedite services by the University to Delaware schools and to expand the program at the University in the training of school administrators.

Know Your Schools

By A. J. Thoroughgood

We have come a long way since the bell in our historic Main Street School peeled forth its daily calls. Our once-new-building on Academy Street, home of all school folks for some years, outgrew itself some years ago. Finally our little boys and girls overflowed into the modern Elementary Building, opened in the spring of 1950.

On November 16 of this year, one hundred and eighty-five grade four students moved again in our ever-expanding program. This time, the move took them into the newly renovated Main Street Building located between the Newark Trust Company and Sheaffer's paint store on our main business street.

Many of you, especially grandparents, will remember a bit of the history of this building. In 1833, in spite of considerable opposition the Main Street Building was authorized and subsequently erected for a public school. In 1884 it housed students from the one-room school located in back of what is now the Silco Store and from the two-room school on West Main Street, located at that time in the rear of Dr. Paul Musselman's home.

Thus with the recent 1951 renovations, a building long in service goes into use again as a part of our school system. It has been only partially used for agriculture and shop activities since 1923.

Moving day is eternally a great day for "kids." Sidewalk engineers of all ages move in to watch "This time our 'watchers' participated as well. Rain hampered the movers very little. Every grade four pupil was responsible for books and personal belongings. Numerous items were dropped in the mud but no harm was done. Miss Margaret Morrison's room numbering over thirty broke a record. All students in her group were moved and in their seats between 12:30 and 1:00 p.m.

Because you may have questions about just what has been done to an old building to make it fit for your youngster's school, I want to relate a number of improvements I noted as well as investigated on a recent tour through the structure during school hours.

There are six rooms in the building—three on each floor. Two very large rooms may be partitioned to make eight rooms as the need arises. All rooms have been extensively patched plastered and painted in soft pastel shades of green, blue, yellow or pink. The entire building has been firmly braced and underpinned. It has also been equipped with a new oil-burning unit with thermostatic heat control. Oak hardwood floors have been laid in all rooms. In addition new electric clocks and fireproof ventilation blinds are in every class room. New lights have been installed throughout, and completely new toilet facilities are located on the second floor of the building. All rooms are equipped with fire alarms; a fire escape has been attached to the rear wall of the school; doors to facilitate the use of the escape have been cut in the rear wall of the building.

Outside a walk around the building is under construction. Until recently the lot directly in the rear of the building has been used for town parking. All poles have been removed in its conversion to a playground area. Plans are underway to erect a fence and gate at the Delaware Avenue end of the lot, to provide protection for the youngsters at play. Temporarily cars may use the parking lot after school hours according to an agreement between the Board of Education and our Town Council.

If you should visit our newest Newark School, you would, doubtless, have surprise at the many changes I mentioned within. (By the way, every citizen of Newark is welcome to inspect this school as well as any Newark Public School.) In addition you would notice very new furniture. In one room you will see the 1020 student desk model. This model is a desk with adjusting mechanism; as a child sits in his seat, the rest of the desk adjusts to his size. The tops are also adjustable, may be placed at a slant to facilitate more comfortable reading.

Students from the Main Street Building still must go to the main school on Academy Street for cafeteria service and auditorium use. They must also meet their buses at the playground of the Elementary Building. Provisions have been made for inclement weather.

Miss Margaret Morrison is acting principal, Mrs. Laura Nichols, Miss Gertrude Baynard, Miss Hazel Johnston, Miss Gertrude Baynard, and Mr. Maurice Davis are the other teachers in the building.

You may be interested in a few comments on the new building made by the students of Miss Hazel Johnston's class:

"I like it here because there aren't any big fellows or little fellows to bother us."

"I like the walk to the cafeteria. It gets us out."

"We like the new paints and our new clocks."

As I concluded my visit about the building, I noticed the old blackboards. One teacher noticed my interest and remarked, "These are the 1884 blackboards."

Sixty-seven years is a long time—an age almost. It's history! It's change! Why not keep a bit of the old by making the old school bell ring again?

County-Wide Poultry Meet Held At Red Lion This Week

Edward H. Schabinger, county agricultural agent, acted as moderator in a panel discussion which was part of the program at a recent county-wide poultry meeting held in the Red Lion Community Hall.

Other members of the panel, who in addition to giving brief talks attempted to answer questions pertaining to the poultry industry, included Carroll W. Mumford, assistant in poultry and animal industry at the University of Delaware; Earl Crouse, agriculture extension engineer; T. D. Runnels, associate professor of animal and poultry husbandry at the university; A. E. Tomhave, professor of animal and poultry industry at the university, and Frank Gordy, extension poultryman.
