COUNCIL APPROVES EMERGENCY PROJECTS

Move Made To Meet Unemployment Problem; Two New Ordinances Pass

Taking immediate steps to relieve the local unemployment situation, the Council of Newark at its January meeting Monday night approved two projects of an anticipated cost of $1,000 for labor alone. The projects will be worked out on a prolonged schedule in an effort to provide employment for the greatest possible length of time. Preliminary work for the curbing and guttering of East Park Place, from Manual to South Chapel Street, was the first project approved. The elimination of old trees and scrub growth on Daffam Road, near Old Oak Road, was also approved. Work started this week. Plans were discussed for improving East Park Place from Manual to South Chapel Street. If money is available, consideration will be given to the paving of the unimproved section of the street, the erection of a new bridge to replace a wooden structure now in use, and completion of the curb and gutter work.

Excavation Necessary
Price will superintend the excavation of some 600 cubic yards of dirt necessary for the curb and gutter preliminaries. A street light will also be provided at the present bridge.

Unanimous approval was given to the reading of two ordinances providing rates charged for light and water. All light bills will be reduced by five per cent at the minimum payment within fifteen days from any due date. The new scale of retail rates will further increase savings based on increased consumption of electrical energy. The new scale for lighting rates for current used in excess of minimum is as follows:
First 10 KWH $.10 KWH
Next 10 KWH06 KWH
Next 10 KWH05 KWH
All over 100 KWH .04½ KWH
Power rates under the new scale are as follows:
First 200 KWH $.04½ KWH
All over 200 KWH03½ KWH
Minimum—Domestic $3.00
Minimum—Industrial $1.00
Per HP installed

New Water Rates
Water charges beginning January 1 were generally reduced, under the new ordinance adopted Monday. A new scale, based on meter sizes, has been worked out by Engineer Price similar to the plan used in Wilmington and other larger communities. On top of the 1,800 cubic feet allowed per quarter, an increase over the 1937 cubic feet quarterly, which became effective in October, ranged from $3.75 to $5.00 for lines of six to eight inches in diameter. The new ordinance stipulates rates and allowances for ten sizes of lines ranging from five-eighths of an inch to eight inches in diameter.

Members attending the meeting were Mayor Frank Collins, Councilmen Charles C. Hubert, George E. Emerson, Emerson Johnson, John Richards, and George F. Ferguson. C. Vernon Steele, secretary, and Engineer Price were also present.

Clean-Up Days Named
Mayor Collins designated clean-up days for January 19 and 20. Outstanding taxes are at the low figure in 15 years, Mr. Steele reported. The cash balance on hand at the treasury January 1 was $10,000, he said.

Letters from the Newark Trust Company and the Farmers Trust Company, holders of demand notes which permitted the town to retire bonds last year, requested that $10,000 be paid yearly to each bank to retire the loans. The matter was discussed and Mayor Collins was requested to reply that payments, if made, would be made as requested.

Arrests reported by Chief Police William H. Cunningham December netted the town $167. Magistrate Daniel Thompson collected $32, while Magistrate Eubanks collections amounted to $135.

Renovated Fire Engine

Above is the newest fire-fighting equipment added to the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company's fleet. The engine is a Stutz pumper, rebuilt at a cost of $5,730. It has a 200-horsepower engine with five speeds ahead and two reverse speeds which make it particularly efficient for emergency work. Included in the equipment is a 35-foot triple extension ladder made of aluminum, a 750-gallon pump with a 100-gallon booster tank, which may be attached to any make hose of any thread. Photo by Rumer.

PAPERS IN OPPOSITION

C. I. O. Spurred In National Poll Of Publishers

Returns from a questionnaire on labor sent to 12,585 publishers of weekly newspapers in the United States by the Industrial News Review show decided opposition to John L. Lewis' CIO of unionizing. Craft unions typified by the American Federation of Labor are favored to the extent of 79.28 per cent of the publishers replying to the questionnaire, while a total of 21.72 per cent of the same publishers voted against the Committee on Industrial Organization.

Publishers voted against the National Relations Act (Wagner Act) by a percentage of 63.90, while approving an amendment to correct alleged injustices contained in the act by a percentage of 36.10.

Open Shop Favored
A big percentage of votes, 89.51, went in favor of the open shop, where it is possible to give employment to both union and non-union workmen without prejudice to either.

The closed shop, where contract agreements between company and union officials bar non-union workmen, is looked upon with disfavor by a percentage of 88.04 of the publishers voting. It is almost unanimously agreed, 97.48 per cent, that there is no need for a political labor party such as reported planned by the CIO and which has always been opposed by the AFL.

Student Engineers To Hold January Session

W. J. Mayer, commercial research engineer for the Reading Iron Company, will be the guest speaker at the January meeting of the Student Chapter of A. S. C. E. University of Delaware engineering society, on Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock, in Evans Hall.

Mr. Mayer will speak on the subject of "The Metal of the Ages," accompanied by a film showing the history and development of cast iron.

Anyone interested in this subject is invited to attend the session.

Grange Groups Revive Programs Following Holiday Celebrations

By Robert M. Yearsley
Lecturer, Delaware State Grange
During the last two weeks, Granges in the county have been devoting full schedules to holiday activities. It has been a successful year for Grange work in the county and state. A great year in Grange history has been passed. Growth in membership and usefulness were outstanding.

More national legislative triumphs were scored in 1937 than in any year for a lengthy period. Best of all, the national session at Harrisburg was harmonious and enthusiastic.

The national goal is one million members by November, 1938. America is fortunate because of the character and loyalty of its citizenship. Doubt and unrest shake the world.

Despite falling prices and increasing unemployment, the re-

LOSSES BY FIRE SHOW DECREASE

Blaze Loss Is Cut, According To C. E. Moore

A total of 63 calls was answered by members of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company during the year, 1937, according to the report released this week by Charles E. Moore, fire recorder. This number included 26 in town, 31 within the Newark district and 6 beyond the district. The loss by fire within the town for the year was reported at $900, as compared to $6,070 during 1936.

The estimated damage by fire within the Newark district this year was $48,220 while a loss of $19,800 was reported from the out-of-district responses. The total loss for the year which amounted to $68,020 showed a marked decrease over that of 1936 when total damages were estimated at $82,935.

Faulty chimneys again led as the chief source of blazes with the company's being called to 21 homes on this account. Other types of fires were: grass and woods, 11; automobiles, 8; miscellaneous, 8; dwellings, 5; and barns, 5. Five false alarms were turned in.

Traveled 386 Miles
A total of 386 miles was traveled by the outfit which required 44 hours and fifteen minutes of service. Supplies used were as follows: 2,300 feet of 2.5-inch hose used; 100 feet of 1.5-inch hose; 510 feet of ladder; 51,075 gallons of water; 19 five-gallon tanks; 735-gallon chemical tanks; and 12 2.5-gallon chemical tanks.

According to the report, the hours between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. proved to be the busiest, requiring a total of 28 calls. Twenty-four alarms were turned in between 4 p.m. and midnight and 11 between midnight and 8 a.m.

A total of 697 volunteers responded to the 63 calls made during 1937. Of the 386 miles run in response to blazes, 44 miles were for town calls, 238 miles for district summonses and 84 miles for out-of-district fires. According to Mr. Moore's report for the month of December, one call in Newark was answered which resulted in no loss; 3 district calls at a loss of $900 and 1 out-of-district call with a loss of $3,000.

CROP SHOW NOW BEING CONDUCTED

Old College Is Scene Of Annual Farm Display

Old College, University of Delaware, will be the scene of the thirty-first annual show of the Delaware Crop Improvement Association which starts today and will continue tomorrow and Saturday.

An extensive premium list this year offers many awards and ribbons for winners. County class entries for corn consists of ten ear samples of either white or yellow dent and anyone who has not won a county championship in the past is eligible to enter.

Honorary Class

For former winners, there is an honorary class in which all ex-champions may compete. An interstate class is to be opened from the neighboring states of Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and New Jersey in which ten ear samples of white and yellow dent corn will be submitted by competitors.

Classes will also be provided for ten ear samples of Lancaster Sure Crop, white cap and calico varieties. Single ear classes will be open to any exhibitor wishing to enter. Championship ribbons will be awarded for the best ten and single ears.

A class for boys and girls has also been provided for youths of Delaware. This consists of yellow and white dent ear samples, with competition by counties. Ribbons will be awarded for state and county honors.

Prizes will also be given for entries of peck samples of wheat, rye, barley, soybeans, cowpeas, alfalfa, crimson clover, alsike clover and vetch.

PREPARES PAYMENTS

George M. Worrlow
County Agricultural Agent

1937 SOIL PAYMENTS DELAYED

County Farmers To Receive About $102,000

New Castle County farmers participating in the 1937 agricultural conservation program will receive approximately $102,000 in payments for complying with the land utilization practice phases of the program.

Payments have been delayed this year, due to the detailed work involved in the supervision of compliance with the aerial photographs. This work has now been completed, and applications for payments are being prepared in the office of County Agricultural Agent G. M. Worrlow, who is secretary of the county association.

It is expected that applications will be ready for the farmers' signatures within a short time, and immediately following, they will be forwarded through State Executive Officer R. O. Stelzer, to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Washington, where payment checks will be computed and issued through the county office.

Concentrate On Details
Efforts have been concentrated on details of the 1938 agricultural latter part of August, so that the individual farmers may know in plenty of time, to what they may comply with the program.

In outlining the 1938 program, County Agent Worrlow emphasizes three main points which he says every farmer needs to know.

The first is that a single total payment, representing the amount that a farmer can earn, will be calculated at the beginning of the year. He will know just what he has to do to earn this payment. In general, he will need to bring his farming into line with approved good farming methods, and the 1938 program will measure this good farming by establishing two "goals" for each farm.

Goals For Each Farm

The second is the total soil-depleting crop goal, along with a goal for potatoes, if he is a commercial grower of that crop. These represent the farmer's share of a national goal for soil-depleting crops. This national goal is the acreage that is calculated will produce an abundance of farm products, but not so large that it will bring surplus and low prices and losses to farmers.

Third, and in addition to the soil-depleting crop goal, each farmer will have a soil-building goal established for his farm. This soil-building goal represents a total of soil-conserving practices for the farm. The farmer will be able to use the same practices to reach this soil-building goal as were included in the 1937 program, but they will be counted on an acreage basis toward achieving the goal and not at any specific rate of payment.

Variety Of Methods

The thing for the farmer to do will be to reach this soil-building goal, using a variety of methods to do it. If he reaches his soil-building goal, and if he does not exceed his soil-depleting crop goal, he will be entitled to the full payment calculated for his farm, less the local costs of administration. His total payment will be reduced if he has more acres in soil-depleting

ARRESTS FOR 1937 TOTAL 157

77 Violators Of Motor Laws Apprehended

A total number of 157 arrests, 77 of which were violations of motor vehicle laws, was made by the Newark police force, consisting of Chief William H. Cunningham, and Officers LeRoy C. Hill, Sr., James E. Morrison and Samuel Tibbitt, during 1937.

Reckless Driving At Top
Of the 77 apprehensions made for motor law violations, 31 were made for reckless driving to top the list of arrests. Assault and battery cases numbered 24 while 12 arrests each were made for: drunk and disorderly conduct; drunkenness; and operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license. Nine arrests were made for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

Accidents for the year totaled 26 with one fatality. Five accidental deaths were recorded, two of which were attributed to heart attack. Nine runaway boys were apprehended and returned to their respective homes while one escaped inmate from the State Hospital at Farnhurst was also taken back.

Three stolen cars and one bicycle, reported by departments outside of the local jurisdiction, were recovered. A total of 845 telephone calls were received by the department during the year and overnight lodging was provided for 297 transients.

Other Arrests
Other charges and the number of arrests were as follows: operating an over-loaded truck on the highway, 6; larceny of auto, 5; double parking, 5; vagrancy, 3; operating an unregistered vehicle on the public highway, 3; failure to stop at a traffic signal, 3; operating a motor vehicle without proper brakes, 3; maintaining and operating a gambling house, 3; trespassing, 4; non-support, 4; operating a motor vehicle without a mirror, 2; sale of merchandise without a town license, 2; larceny as a bailee, 2; larceny 2; breaking parole, 1; operating a motor vehicle without a registration certificate, 1; attempted larceny, 1; obstructing a public sidewalk, 1; operating a motor vehicle with greater height than specified by law, 1; issuing a worthless check, 1; knowingly permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle, 1; making unnecessary noise, 1.

Beekeepers Association To Stage Annual Meeting

The Delaware State Beekeepers Association, founded last year by Dr. Paul L. Rice, then connected with the University of Delaware, will stage the first annual meeting at Caesar Rodney High School, Camden, on January 15 at two o'clock.

A program has been built around requests for information concerning methods of disease control made by members during the initial year of the organization.

Dr. L. A. Stearns, head of the entomology department, University of Delaware, is secretary-treasurer and general head of the association. County vice presidents are: John L. Phillips, Newark; for New Castle; Charles A. Teet, Frederica; for Kent; and Asa Reynolds, Georgetown, for Sussex. Elwood Nuckols, Cheswold, is state president.

Stockholders To Meet At Country Club

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Newark Country Club will be held at the clubhouse next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Officers and directors will be named for the ensuing year.

State Asks Bids On New Road Between Newark And Glasgow

Long awaited improvements on the Newark-to-Glasgow road are in prospect for an early start. The State Highway Department is asking for bids on a 20-foot wide, concrete road extending 4.411 miles to replace the narrow, winding road that connects Newark and Glasgow at the present time.

Sealed proposals will be received by the department at the State headquarters in Dover on February 2. Work is to be started ten days after the contract is let.

The project will come under the regular Federal Highway Act of 1935 and Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of the same year. The United States Employment Service, 209 Walnut Street, Wilmington, will furnish all labor for the job.

Complete plans and specifications for the project will be obtainable at the highway department headquarters after Monday.

LEADS CELEBRATION

Rev. Andrew W. Mayer

CHURCH TO CELEBRATE

St. Thomas' To Mark Retirement Of Debts

A full day's program has been arranged for Sunday at the St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal Church when "Parish Day" will be celebrated by the congregation.

Arranged by the Rev. Andrew W. Mayer, rector of the church, the occasion will mark the retiring of all debts, some of which have been standing for a period of 25 years. Through these debts, these debts have been settled and enough money is in excess to pay for renovating and repairing the church.

Drive Successful
A committee, headed by Dr. Walter Hultin, consisting of Dr. J. Fenton Daugherty, treasurer, M. M. Daugherty and J. P. Wright, was in charge of the drive for funds which was highly successful.

Holy Communion at eight o'clock will be followed by the regular eleven o'clock service at which time, the Rev. Mayer will deliver a special message to the congregation. The retired bonds will be placed upon the altar as a part of the program.

Immediately following the morning service, tea will be served in the Parish House and at 4:30 o'clock, the church will be the scene of an Epiphany recessional in which all members of the congregation will take part. Miss Elizabeth McNeal will play selections at the organ.

Missionary Society To Meet Next Thursday

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Newark M. E. Church, will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon, January 13 at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. George Schuster, W. Park Place.

Stockholders To Meet At Country Club

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Newark Country Club will be held at the clubhouse next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Officers and directors will be named for the ensuing year.

Survey Completed

A survey completed in October calls for the new road to run in almost a straight line from the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge at the foot of South College Avenue to Glasgow.

Estimates by the State place the cost of the project at about $237,000. The road, it was tentatively decided at the October meeting of the highway commissioners, will pass over Iron Hill and will cross the orchard on the property of Lieut. Gov. Edward W. Cooch at Cooch's Bridge. The two sharp turns at Cooch's Bridge will be eliminated, according to the survey. Recommended for improvement by Chief Engineer W. W. Mack in his annual report of a year ago, the idea was furthered by the efforts of A. Franklin Fader, local member of the commission who was appointed last spring.

COLORED WOMAN CONFESSES TO POLICE

New-Born Baby Found Dead By Workman; Early Arrest Made

Charlotte Miller, 22-year-old Negro, of 87 New London Avenue, confessed last night to having disposed of the body of her recently born male child on the town dump off North Street Tuesday night.

Arrested for questioning by Chief of Police William H. Cunningham and Officer LeRoy Hill yesterday afternoon, the woman finally confessed when police pressed their queries. State Detective Claude Atkinson figured in the investigation.

Admitting she has given birth to five children out of wedlock in five years (three are living), the somewhat slight woman, little more than a girl, unfolded a gruesome story in response to questions aimed at her by police.

Found By Workman

The dead baby's body was discovered Wednesday morning by John Morgan, colored laborer, of Ray Street. In his testimony, Morgan stated he was passing the dump when his attention was drawn by a box laying part way down an embankment. Upon investigation he was startled to discover the baby's remains.

Clyde Robinson, truck driver for the University of Delaware, arrived on the scene shortly after Morgan's discovery. Robinson reported the matter to the police, and took the body to the J. S. Shepherd funeral home on W. Main Street.

Combining the Negro section for information, Chief Cunningham and Officer Hill, working in plain clothes, arrested the Miller woman as a suspect.

Shields Father

In her confession, she stated the infant was born between 8 and 9 o'clock on the morning of December 27. Because it made no sound at the time of birth, she said, she believed it dead. Wrapping the body in a piece of burlap, she claims to have hidden it in the attic of the house at 87 New London Avenue, where she lived with her parents.

Thoroughly frightened but calm in relating her story, the Negroess told of taking the body from the attic Tuesday night, carrying it to the dump and tossing it over the embankment.

When asked to reveal the identity of the child's father, she refused to name the man. She admitted, however, that various men had fathered her children, but remained adamant in refusing to reveal the identity of any of them. The Negroess is light colored and the dead baby is almost white. Early reports to the police stated it was a white infant that had been found.

Trouble At Home

Claiming the baby had been born without anyone in her household knowing it, the woman absolved everyone but herself, when police asked her if she had been aided in disposing of the body. "I done it," she said, "and nobody had any connection with it."

In her story, she told of being denied the privilege of having masculine company call at her home. "I had to have some fun," she said, "so I met men on the streets. I always got in trouble."

Working on the belief that the child could not have been as old as the woman claimed, police had her examined by Dr. E. Hughes Nutter. His verdict has been withheld pending examinations by other physicians.

Coroner William Smith, Jr., ordered an autopsy on the remains in an effort to aid police in placing charges against the woman.

Arraigned before Magistrate Benjamin Eubanks, the Miller woman is being held pending investigations by the town police, coroner and state officials.

Dr. C. Robert Kase To Present English Reading

Dr. C. Robert Kase, of the English department, University of Delaware, will give the next department reading next Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the Hilarium of Women's College.

Dr. Kase's topic will be the "Early Fiction of William Makepeace Thackeray." The public is invited to attend the reading.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for January 9
PREPARING FOR A LIFE OF SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Prepare ye the way of the Lord.—Mark 1:3.
PRIMARY TOPIC—When Jesus Was Baptized.
JUNIOR TOPIC—When Jesus Was Baptized.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Getting Ready to Serve.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Dedicating Our Lives to Service.

"The beginning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ"—what an interesting expression! Did it not begin back before the foundation of the world? Yes, for the death of Christ was no more afterthought in God's plan. But now we have the coming into the world of the One who was the Lamb slain from before the world's founding. Jesus Christ is about to appear to begin his ministry which was to culminate at Calvary's cross.

Before Jesus comes the one sent to proclaim his appearing, to herald the coming of the Servant of God. Mark begins his account with the ministry of John the Baptist and makes no reference to the birth and genealogy of Jesus. Now appropriate that is, for after all the important thing about a servant is not that he came from a certain family or was born in a particular place. The point is that he is here now and able and ready to do his work.

I. The Herald of Christ (vs. 1-13).

The prophets had pointed forward to the coming of Christ. John the Baptist, of whom our Lord said that there was not a greater among the prophets, now appears to proclaim his presence and prepare the way for him. Of him Joseph Parker beautifully says that he "was all but a transparent veil: they could almost see the coming God through him. . . . If he stood aside for a moment to be the One who was to come."

John was a unique personality, admirably fitted to proclaim a stern message of repentance to a decadent age. Let us not put aside or ridicule strangely clad and unusual folk who have a word for us from God.

"Repent"—that was his message from the Lord. America needs that message today. The Christian doctrine of repentance has been set aside by some because they dislike its convicting power, and by others through theological readjustment. It needs re-affirmation.

John's greatest message, however, was the coming of the One who was to baptize not with water but with the Holy Ghost. Like every true witness he humbles himself and points to the Saviour. We need the message, "repent," but we need even more to recall to our preaching and our churches the Holy Ghost power of the Son of God.

II. The Baptism of Christ (vs. 9-11).

The account in Mark is brief but it brings before us the fact that the sinless Son of God thus identified his holy self with sinful humanity which he had come to save. What infinite love and condescension! God the Father gives his approval. "Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased" (v. 11).

Let us learn the lesson that obedience to the divine will, a willingness to humble ourselves to do the work whereunto God has sent us, are prerequisites to the filling of the Holy Spirit with power and grace for life and service.

III. The Temptation of Christ (vs. 12, 13).

As a final preparation for and an intimation of what would be met in his ministry the Holy Spirit led our Lord into the wilderness to be tempted of Satan. Around him were the wild beasts, before him was Satan, and in it all "the angels ministered unto him."

We recall as we consider the temptation of Jesus, that he was without sin, that there was no fallen nature in him to which Satan could appeal. The temptation or testing of Jesus was therefore along Messianic lines, but the principles both of temptation and victory are similar to those of our own experience. Consider the parallel passages in Matthew 4 and Luke 4.

The Devil has only three real temptations to present, "the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life" (I John 2:16). These he used with Jesus as he tempted him to make food for his hungry body, to look at the kingdoms of this earth and attain them by a wrong method, and to presume on God's grace by throwing himself from the pinnacle of the temple. He uses the same three types of temptation with us, varying the "dress" in which he presents them. Let us be on guard.

Victory came through the use of God's Word. We need to learn that lesson and not attempt to defeat Satan with any man-made weapons of will-power, logic, or culture. Jesus was certain of victory. He is our victory. Learn to know him as Saviour and Lord. Study God's Word and learn how to use it in spiritual conflict. Yield to the Holy Spirit. Victory lies that way, and nowhere else.

A few bruises were the only injuries little Billie Barbee of Charlotte, N. C., received when he tumbled through an open door on the second floor of his home and fell to the ground outside.

Two stolen cars were recovered, five automobile accidents investigated and 51 transients housed by the police in December.

5 New Water Services

Engineer Price reported five new water services installed, three new sanitary sewer connections, a new street light installed on New London Avenue and another on Creek Road in December. Slightly more than 12,000,000 gallons of water were pumped.

Notification was given the Delaware Bus Company to have its vehicles stop only at spaces provided along Main Street. The present stop near Rhodes Drug Store will be moved to Main and South College Avenue.

The Main Street parking experiment will be continued for an indefinite period, with the one-hour limit being in effect from eight o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock at night within the specified zone. Sundays are excepted under the experiment.

A second request was sent to Charles Grubb, business manager of the University of Delaware, asking that the work on sidewalks, recently ordered built by the institution's trustees, be started immediately.

Mr. Grubb had asked permission to build the walks in the spring, when, as he termed it, more favorable weather will exist. Council, however, is asking cooperation now as an added means of combatting the local unemployment problem.

Saturday Night in Japan

"Come on in, the water's fine." Bathing in Japan is on a different plane from ours as these two American gentlemen can tell you. Tubs are perpendicular there, instead of horizontal, and you stand in the water up to your neck. But we shouldn't laugh at this somewhat primitive scene, according to Consumers Information, which points out that only a hundred years ago, there were only 1,500 bathtubs in the United States, all of them in Philadelphia, where they had a city water system and taxed each tub $3.00. President Fillmore installed the first tub in the White House in 1850. Advertising of the advantages of convenient and sanitary bathing started 31 years later, has continued increasingly ever since, and has made the United States the cleanest nation on earth. Even the most advanced European nations are far behind us in this respect, and the possession of a bathtub in most countries is a sign not only of opulence but of civilization. The United States is among the few countries generally educated to the knowledge that health and cleanliness go together.

Dr. Charles J. Keppel Reinstated As Tome's Headmaster By Trustees

A two-day student strike at Tome Institute, Port Deposit, Md., by 180 boys last month in protest against the dismissal of Dr. Charles J. Keppel, headmaster, resulted Monday in a complete student victory.

The announcement was made by Ralph S. Williams, New York business man and member of the board of trustees, who stated, following a special meeting of the board that Headmaster Keppel's ouster had been unanimously rescinded. In addition, the board endorsed his administration and pledged its "full continued and whole-hearted cooperation in the further conduct of the school."

"Harmonious Atmosphere"

Mr. Williams also stated that no effort would be spared to see that the students, on their return from the holidays, "find themselves in a completely harmonious atmosphere," and that the headmaster "may proceed at once on all constructive steps" as to enrollment for next year.

According to the announcement, the board would also vote immediately the appropriation necessary for "a competent survey" of "every phase of the present school status."

Tome's students struck on December 7 after the trustees had informed Dr. Keppel his contract would not be renewed at the end of the present school year. Two days later, at his request, they returned to classes. The holidays began on December 10 and ended yesterday.

Special Meeting Called

Agitation from the strike continued through the holidays and culminated last Sunday in a meeting in New York of parents, alumni, citizens of Port Deposit and four trustees.

Committees representing each group coordinated a survey made individually of conditions causing the strike, Williams' statement said, and so the special board meeting was summoned Tuesday which resulted in Dr. Keppel's reinstatement.

Formerly assistant headmaster and dean of boys at Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., Dr. Keppel has been headmaster at Tome since 1935.

W. C. CLARK RE-ELECTED FIRE HEAD

Other Officers Chosen At Meeting, Monday

By Miss Emma S. Maclary
Newport, Jan. 5—William C. Clark of Newport was re-elected president of the Minquas Fire Company at their election of officers on Monday evening. Other officers elected were as follows: vice-president, Ralph Carpenter; secretary, C. C. Collingswood; asst. secretary, Ralph Draper; treasurer, Arthur Craig; fire chief, Earl Cunningham; 1st assistant chief, Ralph Draper; 2d assistant chief, William Stuart; engineer, William Stuart; 1st assistant engineer, William Hendrickson.

Trustees Named

Trustees named were: E. E. Lucas, William Hanna, George Celine, H. P. Steward and Leslie Mahan.

Drivers named were: Earl Cunningham, William Hendrickson, Anthony Maida, Arthur Craig, Ralph Draper, William Stuart.

The Ladies Auxiliary association of the Minquas Fire Company held its nomination of officers at their meeting on Tuesday evening.

The choir of the Newport M. E. Church repeated its Christmas cantata at the evening service on Sunday. The cantata was entitled "The Holy Child." Solo parts were taken by Mrs. Mary Hayden, Mrs. Blemma J. Tatman, Mrs. George Kipe, Mrs. Ella Morris, George F. Jones, George Whitenack, Everett Swanson and J. D. Genet. There were also selections by a male quartet. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed at the service on Sunday morning.

The Newport Woman's Club held a business meeting Tuesday afternoon in club headquarters. The club will hold a bake sale on January 15.

Sessions of the Krebs School were resumed here on Monday. While many children in the district have been ill with colds during the holidays, the percentage in attendance on Monday was very good.

The executive board of the Krebs P.T.A., will meet on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Blank, president. Program of work for the P.T.A., during the winter months will be outlined at this time. The meeting schedule has been changed to the third Thursday of the month in the future. A membership drive will be conducted during January.

$35,000 Wing To Be Built By Miller Brothers

Addition By Wilmington Concern To Provide 10,000 Feet Of Space

An addition and alterations to the Miller Bros. Co. furniture store at Ninth and King Streets, Wilmington, which will cost about $35,000 and provide nearly 10,000 additional square feet of floor space, has been announced by Nathan Miller, president.

The addition will be 23 by 48 feet and will be in the rear of 904 King Street. The present first floor and basement will be torn out and remodeled. The portion of the store at 904 King will be dropped about three feet to the level of the main floor.

One Large Room

The partitions will also be removed so there will be one large showroom occupying all the first floor, with a frontage of 69 feet on King Street.

Contract has been awarded to Stephen R. Jackson and Company, 810 Orange Street, Wilmington. Work will start as soon as stock can be moved to permit construction to get under way. It is to be completed before March 1.

The stairway on the first floor will be shifted to the northern end of the building. Business offices will be located in part of the new wing. The building will be fireproofed throughout. Some of the beams in the present showroom are to be replaced with steel.

Mr. Miller said that the growth of the business has necessitated expansion.

Beckled

The new assistant at the seed shop was having a harassing time. Someone had ordered a packet of potato seed, and he had spent two hours looking for them, without success. At last he asked the boss about them.

"What?" roared the boss. "Potatoes are not grown from seed. You've been having your leg pulled."

Ten minutes later a customer entered the shop and asked for some bird seed. To his surprise the assistant wagged his finger at him.

"Go on," he said. "I can't be told twice. Birds are hatched from eggs, not seed."

HOLIDAYS ENDS AT CHRISTIANA

Rev. R. M. Green
Invited To Return To Church

By Edna A. Dickey
Christiana, Jan. 5.—The Christiana-Salem Consolidated School resumed on Monday following the Christmas holidays. There will be no assembly program at the school this week. The next one will be presented on Friday, January 14, by the first and second grades under the direction of their teacher, Miss Nellie Appleby.

The regular monthly meeting of the Christiana Improvement Association was held on Tuesday evening. A Christmas party was held in conjunction with this meeting; the committee in charge being, Mesdames Norbert Cashell, Ida Walker, Harry Cleaves, Jesse DeWitt, and Elsie Stradley. A play, "Station Xmas" was presented and Betty Hutchison recited "Tuckin' 'Em In."

Ninth Year For Green
The Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Christiana charge was held at the parsonage on Friday evening. Trustees, stewards and all standing committees were confirmed. Rev. Richard M. Green was unanimously elected to return for his ninth year. All phases of the church's activities showed remarkable progress during the past year. Substantial advances were reported by the members of the various organizations of the church and all financial obligations will be met in full by the end of the conference year.

The January meeting of the Christiana W. C. T. U. met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Edna A. Dickey. Mrs. Mary McDowell was leader of devotions. The Christiana Presbyterian Ladies Aid will hold a covered dish supper next Wednesday evening, January 12 at State Road Chapel. The regular business meeting will also be held.

The Christiana M. E. Social will hold its regular meeting and covered dish supper in the basement of the church on Friday evening, January 21.

Dedication Service
A dedication service, dedicating the communion table, cross, pulpit and Christian flag, will be held at the M. E. Church on Sunday, January 23.

A candlelight communion service will be held at the M. E. Church on Sunday evening, February 6. Rev. R. M. Green will administer the communion.

Salem Young People will hold its annual Christmas Party at the parsonage on Friday evening, January 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cleaves are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son at the Wilmington General Hospital on Sunday, December 28. Mrs. Cleaves was formerly Miss Alice Cornell, of Newark.

Mrs. Maud Howell, who has been confined to her bed for the past six months, is able to be up again.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Price and son, of Euston, Md., spent Sunday with Mrs. Price's mother, Mrs. Anna Cannon.

Miss Carol Vincent, of Richardson Park, spent the week-end with her grandfather, A. H. Vincent.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Green spent New Year's Day with Mrs. Green's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hussey, of Rockland.

FIVE CENTS A DAY

Gertrude Bogard tries out unique bicycle

RIDING a bicycle for sport is one thing, but if a girl had to earn her living that way and was paid for the amount of electric power she produced with the pedals, she wouldn't live very luxuriously, as Gertrude Bogard, musical belle, discovered. Gertrude, one of the youngest members of Phil Spitalny's all-girl band, plays the chimes and guitar on the "Hour of Charm" Monday nights over NBC at 9:30 EST.

The rear wheel of this bicycle is attached to an electric generator, and the amount of energy produced by its rider is recorded on the panel at the rear. If Gertrude rode at top speed all day without stopping she would generate about five cents' worth of electricity, so she has decided to stay with the band where the pay is a little better.

General Electric's engineering laboratory built the bicycle to demonstrate just how much electric power a nickel buys—in terms of human effort.

Xmas Marked By Children At Delaware Colony

374 Pounds Of Turkey,
Toys And Money Given
By Friends Of School

According to the announcement made by the superintendent of the State Training School, Delaware Colony, 417 girls and boys at the institution were amply provided for at Christmas through the generosity of friends and relatives throughout the state.

Three hundred and seventy-four pounds of turkey in addition to other things, made up the Christmas day dinner; 389 boxes were received from 132 clubs and individuals, also boxes containing toys and toilet articles for general distribution, sufficient to provide for the remaining children.

Committee In Charge
In addition, $33 in money was donated for lights and decorations. The committee consisted of: William B. Truitt, chairman, Bridgeville; Atwood F. Lynch, vice-chairman, Frankford; L. Lee Layton, Jr., secretary, Dover; James S. Grant, treasurer, Wilmington; Mrs. Lydia H. Toadvine, Milford; Dr. B. B. G. Blackstone, Wilmington; Dr. T. H. Davies, Wilmington; John B. Tutton, Dover; Dr. Joseph S. McDaniel, Dover.

This custom was started in 1921 by the Board of Lady Visitors, when the school was first opened. Since that time, every year, no child at the Colony has failed to receive a box containing gifts during the Yule season.

to the party about the faults of her flock, and promised dire punishment when their father should hear of the episode, but Mrs. Clark made little comment.

Too "Easy Going"
"I want to make my children remember that they must obey," said Mrs. Collins, emphatically. "You are entirely too 'easy going,' Mrs. Clark."

"I think it is a good thing to punish children in such a way that they will remember to keep promises," replied Mrs. Clark quietly.

"I am hoping the disappointment of this afternoon will remain with them so they will see that it does not pay to be untrustworthy."

"I believe in impressing it on them with my hand; they can see that and feel it, too," answered Mrs. Collins.

But the very next day the Collins children were rounded up again for some infraction of rules, but the Clark children remained on their lawn in spite of all coaxing to go to the corner to see where the fire was.

The "easy going" Mrs. Clark had accomplished her purpose, and without making a spectacle of herself. Instead of doing that, she had shown her children a good example of self control.

Money Found

Shortly before Christmas, a girl, about 10 or 12 years of age, applied to Miss Catherine Steel, teller at the Newark Trust Company, with a plea that she had lost a dollar. If she begged, anyone should happen to find the dollar and turn it in at the bank would Miss Steel please keep it for her?

The unbelievable happened. Someone found a dollar in front of the bank and turned it into Miss Steel. She has been holding it ever since, because the child never returned after the one visit.

Announcements have been made before all classes in Newark schools, but the youngster has not been found. Miss Steel, meanwhile, continues to keep the money, hoping the girl, who looked like she could ill afford to lose anything, will put in her claim.

TWO WAYS OF PUNISHING

HILDA RICHMOND

Mrs. Clark her very close neighbor, Mrs. Collins, with their children had been invited to a garden party in a town some twenty miles away, and the chattering youngsters, dressed in appropriate and immaculate summer garments, had been bidden to stay on the porch and watch for the bus while their mothers got dressed. All might have gone well, if a sudden storm a few miles away had not turned the dry bed of the small stream that flowed at the foot of the Clark garden into a raging, foaming yellow torrent right under a clear blue sky. Occasionally that happened, and it was always a source of interest and delight to the children.

"Isn't it wonderful!"
"It will only take a minute to run down and back!"
"Our mothers will never miss us. Come on!"

Mothers Unconscious

A short time later the two mothers appeared, unconscious of what had been going on. They were not long in finding out. Mrs. Collins seized her bedraggled children, spanking each one soundly and hustling them back to the house to hurry them into clean garments before the arrival of the bus. "You naughty children! You've spoiled my whole afternoon! You promised not to leave the porch and now see what you've done to your clothes! You never can be trusted at all," said the angry mother.

As she herded them along, she said a great many more things, but it was evident that the Collins children were used to such outbursts, for they merely cried a little louder and ran a little faster to escape the switch their mother had picked up.

Children Stood Looking

The Clark children stood looking at their mother wishing she would break the silence. They were as muddy and rumpled as their playmates.

"Well, children," said Mrs. Clark at last, "I am much disappointed to have to go to the garden party without you, but you forgot your promise, it seems. Katy Smith will be here to look after you this afternoon."

A loud wail arose from the disappointed Clark children. "O, Mother,

FARM BOOKKEEPING

Farmers are beginning to observe the methods of the businessman. They are showing intense interest in cost accounting, which experts declare is a hopeful sign for agriculture.

Particularly is this true among livestock feeders. They have been greatly aided by the department of agriculture and the agricultural colleges. They seize upon reports of experimental which lights the way to larger profits.

New interest is being shown at farm meetings in the studies on soybeans which are forging to the front in the feed field. State experiment stations are bringing to light their special advantage as a high protein supplement in the daily ration. In the current issue of a leading feed journal, C. H. Kick, of the Ohio Station, declares

"The proteins of the legume seeds vary to a surprising degree in nutritive value. Soybean protein is about the best protein of vegetable origin known and soybean oil meal is an excellent protein to supplement a ration made up otherwise of cereal grains."

In a recent study the Canadian Central Experimental Farm went on record strongly in favor of soybean meal for its digestible protein and its more total digestible nutrients. Tests made by the various colleges with soybean oil meal supplements have proved uniformly favorable.

This is but one of many phases of experimental work on feeding which has opened the eyes of farmers to the importance of cost accounting.

WHAT'S WRONG AT HOME?

After hearing a lot about the waywardness of children of the present, it occurred to Rev. Clinton D. Cox, of Chicago, to get the viewpoint of the youngsters themselves, which he did through asking 175 boys to write freely their ideas on "What's wrong with the home?"

Among the answers given by these boys, who ranged from 14 to 16 years of age, were the following:

"A boy wants a mother who can keep a secret and not tell the neighbors everything about him."

"The girl's word is always taken and the boy's word is always doubted."

"Home is a court room and every member in the family tries to take a hand in raising the boy."

"Parents never admit it when they are wrong."

"People who led the wildest life before they were married are the strictest parents."

"Mothers try to hold other boys up as models too much."

These are only a few of the answers, but they indicate that boys believe there are a good many faults on the parents' side of the case, and doubtless that is true.

Young persons will usually acknowledge their shortcomings and accept reproof without resentment if they feel that the parent is right and fair. But it is often difficult for parent and child to see things from the same angle.

To deal with children firmly when necessary, yet without apparent harshness, is not always easy.

A MODERN PROBLEM

Will the machine age eventually crush the individual—will the individual overthrow or avoid a machine existence—or will he adapt himself so as to live comfortably and effectively at peace with the mighty forces that now surround him?

Dr. W. E. Dixon, of Cambridge University, one of the world's greatest therapists, says: "Our life has changed from a struggle for existence to a struggle for social precedence. The advance of science has limited the need for manual labor and made natural outdoor life of man rarer and indoor mental life commoner. The changes in natural life constitute some of the causes which lead to neurosis; but the universal and regular consumption stimulants is another cause. There is little doubt that their inordinate use over many years predisposes to irritability and instability, which are characteristics of a neurotic person."

He believes that the desire for artificial relaxation is also responsible for the resorting of the hard-pressed individual to alcohol and larger quantities of tobacco, which agents temporarily relieve fatigue and depression in the central nervous system.

But normal play, sport and physical exercise also relieve the higher brain centers, and might well be substituted for coffee, alcohol and tobacco with benefit to the individual, according to Dr. Dixon.

Complaining that her husband made no effort to find her when she was a refugee during the flood, Mrs. Marjorie Mae Peake of Louisville, Ky., obtained a divorce from Robert Foster Peake.

As a birthday present for his 4-year-old triplet grandsons, Joseph McGee of Kansas City, gave them three baseball bats, three balls, and three insurance policies covering possible damages to neighbors' windows.

When Commissioner H. B. Blakely of Los Angeles asked prospective jurymen Perry Wilden if he had ever been arrested, Wilden's reply was: "Yes, for speeding on a bicycle in 1906."

As a hobby, Keith Stewart, of Bradish, Neb., has collected 631 different varieties of grasshoppers.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS FOR SCREEN STARS

The things our Hollywood stars resolve not to do in 1938 would fill a good-sized book. So, with malice toward none and a Happy New Year toward all, we will tell you a few of the outstanding pitfalls the movie gals and boys will try to avoid this coming season. First of all Mae West resolves never again to broadcast with Charlie McCarthy, not even to speak to anyone by the name of Mike. Joan Crawford will keep away from brides that wear red. Greta Garbo resolves to tell the truth about her love affair with Stokowski. David Selznick, the producer, holds up his right hand and gives solemn word that he will nominate a Scarlett O'Hare before 1938 is much older. Charlie McCarthy will never open his mouth unless Edgar Bergen is by his side, while Bergan promises to limit Charlie's drinking to wood alcohol. Mary Pickford promises to look as young at the end of 1938 as she does today. Hal Roach will let the other fellow try picture making in Italy. Walter Winchell and Ben Bernie agree to drop that feud and start something new to interest the public. Lots of other resolutions should be made in Hollywood, but we don't want to burden your brain too much so close to the morning after the night before.

STATE THEATRE HOUSE NOTES

Friday and Saturday
Based on the highly successful play by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, "Stage Door," the long-awaited RKO Radio picture which teams for the first time Katharine Hepburn and Ginger Rogers, plays this theatre these two days. The two glamorous stars add new laurels to note-worthy careers by their superb performances in the remarkably compelling drama and share top honors with Adolphe Menjou, who, in the role of a Broadway producer, recalls his outstanding performance in Miss Hepburn's Academy award picture, "Morning Glory," in which he played a similar part. Other players who win distinct recognition are Gail Patrick, Constance Collier, Andrea Leeds, Samuel B. Hinds, Lucille Ball, and a score of youngsters, many of whom are newcomers to the screen.

The gripping story is laid principally in a theatrical boarding house in New York and deals with the topsy-turvy careers of a group of stage-turvy young ladies who have migrated from all sections of the country. A vivid cross-section of life is reflected in the turbulent strivings of these ambitious youngsters. Katharine Hepburn plays a society beauty allured by the desire to be a great dramatic actress, despite parental objections, while Ginger Rogers is seen as a happy-go-lucky, wise-cracking night club entertainer with an eye on the musical comedy stage.

The powerful climax of the story arises when Miss Hepburn is called upon to make her dramatic debut directly after the suicide of a frustrated girl friend, played by Andrea Leeds, an assignment which calls upon her vast emotional reserve, but which catapults her to sensational success. Deftly directed by Gregory La Cava, "Stage Door" will leave a lasting imprint on the memory of those who enjoy brilliant dialogue, tense drama and genuine, human characterization. Pandora S. Berman produced the film for RKO Radio.

Monday and Tuesday
Each recent year has brought to the screen a finer type of musical picture. "The Firefly," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's impressive adaptation of Rudolf Friml's memorable operetta with Jeanette MacDonald in her 17th musical triumph, is Hollywood's new offering at the State Theatre.

Allan Jones and Jeanette MacDonald as the star's leading men delighted the audience. "The Firefly" presents a powerful story of dramatic romance, as well as a vehicle for remarkable music. M-G-M has gone the limit in its settings and in the artistry of presentation.

Hunt Stromberg and Robert Z. Leonard produced and directed, respectively, and in the opinion of this reporter the combination surpassed its Academy Award winning collaboration a year ago with "The Great Ziegfeld."

Lavish scenes in the High Sierras and other made on thirty massive sets present the sweeping drama of Old Spain in the period when Napoleon was defeated by Wellington at Vittoria.

Seven thrilling musical numbers, five of them from the original Friml operetta, feature the picture. Two other were written by Friml especially for the film. Miss MacDonald dances beautifully and sings "Love Is Like a Firefly," "He Who Loves and Runs Away" and "When a Maid Comes Knocking at Your Heart" in perfect voice.

Allan Jones sings "A Woman's Kiss" and "The Donkey Serenade," and they sing in duet, "Glennia Mia" and "Symphony" with charming effect.

Wednesday and Thursday
EDWARD G. ROBINSON is at his best in "The Last Gangster," in thrill-packed, heart-rending, wall-punching prison drama. Of added interest is the first appearance in this picture of Rose Stradner, the beautiful Viennese actress, who was imported by M-G-M and who, in the role of Robinson's wife proves herself to be an actress of unusual distinction.

Robinson gives everything he has got, and that is plenty, to the role of Joe Krocak, who thinks he can fool the federal government as he has fooled his fellow crooks and even his wife who learns only after she has borne his child that he has never had her husband's love. But in the end he is sent to prison and loses his wife and child to another man. When he comes out of prison it is with revenge in his heart and it is not until a turn of events shows him what kind of man he really is that he gives up his child and walks into a rain of bullets from the gun of an avenging gangster.

Although Robinson is always dominant in the title role, the performance of both Miss Stradner as his wife and James Stewart as the other man, are the kind they gave awards for. Others who stand out in a noteworthy cast are Lionel Stander's grim henchman who eventually turns on him, little Douglas Scott as the son, John Carradine and Sidney Blackmer. Edward Ludwig has done an effective job of directing, and the spectacular prison scenes and back-draws are up to the usual M-G-M standard.

"The Last Gangster" is one of the most fascinating and colorful dramas of an American public enemy ever brought to the screen. It is at all times a thrilling and pulse-stirring entertainment.

MISCELLANEOUS MEASURES—
The regional planning bill and the Government reorganization bill are to be taken up at the regular session and both face strong opposition. Relief appropriation, revision of the food and drug laws, and anti-trust laws, strengthening of the Maritime Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission and Federal Trade Commission are other subjects due for consideration.

FARMERS TO PROSPER—In

1938 there will be more than a billion dollars headed to the direction of farmers. The billion dollars will be in form of subsidies, and in addition, there will be money spent for price-fixing loans and for WPA funds to build farm-to-market roads to aid the farmer. Then there is the regular expenditure from the Department of Agriculture, and the amount spent yearly by the Surplus Commodities Corporation to buy farm products for distribution to unemployed.

NEW WAGE AND HOUR BILL—

At the regular session a new wage and hour bill will probably be introduced. The measure will limit working hours and abolish child labor. Wage standards will also be included but not emphasized as much as the other two points. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace feels that farm area representatives should support the bill with industrial groups, as they (labor representatives) supported the farm bill.

REARMAMENT—The United

States may venture into a field of rearmament, her navy may be made the second largest, and the army completely modernized. Many are in favor of such a program of spending for the Government, as it would not only take effect soon after approval but would put thousands of people back to work, help industries, and above all place this country on a safer basis in regard to world conflicts by helping her assume world leadership.

HOUSE—Prices of the better grades of slaughter cattle are expected to decline more than seasonally in the first half of 1938 as a result of increased marketing of such cattle compared with those of a year earlier and some further marketing in consumer demand for meats. Although slaughter of both cattle and calves in 1938 is expected to be smaller than in 1937, a much larger number of well-finished cattle will be marketed. Recent reports indicate that the number of cattle to be fed in the current feeding season will be much larger than last.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE

By SYLVIA PHELPS

Return For Rest

As far as we can see, most of the girls consider their return to college a real rest after the strenuous holidays. At any rate, the dreamy vacation mood was quickly changed by practical professors at eight o'clock on Monday morning. By now the regular school schedule again seems quite natural; new clothes, new "hair-do's," and new dance steps are the only visible remains of two glorious weeks of freedom.

WCD

While the college buildings were unoccupied, drastic changes were made in the arrangement of the first floor of Science Hall. A new office has been made for Miss Long, assistant to the business administrator, by changing the position of the postoffice boxes in the central hall. Miss Long's former office is now used by Miss Sturgess, assistant to the dean, while Miss McCauley, secretary to the dean, falls heir to Miss Sturgess's former office. This complicated change of offices and their owners results in some free space; the extra room will be made suitable for faculty members to use when they wish to refer to official records.

Timely Speaker
No one should miss the timely University Hour lecture to be given in Mitchell Hall this Thursday evening. The speaker will be Robert H. Berkov, a biographer of the Chinese general, Chiang Kai Shek, and a former manager of the Shanghai bureau of the United Press Association. His topic will be "The Sino-Japanese Situation," a subject of current international interest.

To "Swing" Friday
The college Mathematics Club met yesterday, January 5, at 4:10 P. M. Dr. J. Fenton Daugherty, professor of physics, was the speaker. On Friday evening, January 7, the Junior Promenade will be held in the Gold Ball Room of the Hotel Du Pont. With Alex Bartha and his orchestra furnishing the "swing," many W. C. D. upperclassmen and their escorts will be dancing from 9 until 1.

Youth, Injured By Truck, Ready To Leave Hospital

Seriously injured when he ran into a Newark Lumber Company truck, two days before Christmas, Richard T. Ware, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Ware, Center Street, is reported to be in a much improved condition and about ready to leave the Homeopathic Hospital, Wilmington, where he has been confined since the accident.

According to observers, the boy dashed between two parked cars and ran into the side of the vehicle which was operated by Eugene Coleman, of near Newark. In a coma for five days, his condition was regarded as dangerous, but the youth has made a speedy recovery, despite the extent of his injuries.

X-ray pictures revealed a broken pelvis bone, but no fracture of the skull which was, at first, feared. The boy's face was badly cut and marked.

Programs Mapped Out For Adult Education Courses

Mrs. Carl Rankin, chairman of the Adult Education Group, has announced the new courses for the second term. The physical education class will start Thursday night, January 13 at 7:30 in the Newark High School gymnasium with Miss Ethel Johnson as instructor.

A course in garment-making will start Wednesday night, January 12 at 7:30. Mrs. Guy Hancock will be the instructor. The Red Cross course will continue.

Aetna Hose, Hook And Laddermen To Celebrate

Washington's Birthday has been set for the 50th anniversary banquet to celebrate the founding of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company, it was announced this week. A commemorative affair is being planned for Old College, University of Delaware. Edwin L. Shakespeare, Charles Eisner and Ira C. Shellenbarger form the committee on arrangements.

The annual election of officers will take place at the fire house Friday night of this week.

OYSTERS EN CASSEROLE

OYSTERS en casserole, a sizzling hot oyster stew, and pan-fried oysters on buttered toast are favored dishes at this season. Fresh oysters combined with milk, cream and butter always provide appealing and substantial main dishes.

Oysters en Casserole

1 pint oysters
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
Dash white pepper
1/2 cup coffee cream
2 cups coarsely chopped celery
4 tablespoons butter
1 quart stale bread cubes, toasted or crackers
1/4 cup bread crumbs, moistened with 2 tablespoons melted butter

Drain and clean oysters, saving the liquid which should amount to 1/2 cup. Make a white sauce with the 2 tablespoons butter, flour, salt, pepper, cream and oyster liquor. Add oysters and heat over hot water for about 2 minutes. Sauté celery in 4 tablespoons butter until slightly softened and yellow but not scorched. Arrange a layer of hot celery in a shallow baking dish, then a layer of toasted bread cubes, then one of creamed oysters. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) until crumbs are brown and oysters have just begun to curl. Serve immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

With crackers and butter, a fresh

Oyster Stew

1 pint oysters with liquor
4 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 quart rich milk
Dash of paprika

Heat milk in double boiler. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Add clean oysters and liquor, heat until edges of oysters gently curl. Quickly add hot milk, extra butter, and seasonings. Half cream and half milk may be used. Yield: 6 servings.

Panned Oysters on Buttered Toast

1 quart oysters
4 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 cup thin cream
Toast
Butter

Melt butter in frying pan. Add clean, drained oysters, onion, and seasonings. Cook five minutes or until oysters curl on edges. Add cream, parsley and serve on hot buttered toast. Yield: 6 servings.

Everyman Has a Yen for a Den

DEEP in the heart of every male, there is ample space remaining for the breadwinner's paradise, and a recreation room if he so wills. Wouldn't you, as a householder, jump at the chance to remodel your basement into a den as attractive as that shown above? The heating and winter air conditioning unit at the left is installed in a modern metal cabinet of simple lines in harmony with the modern furnishings that complete the room.

Such equipment is automatic and requires no attention: it is silent, without mechanical noises; it is clean, free from dirt, soot, smoke and odor, and besides, keeps the basement atmosphere as fresh as the outside air.

Lights In Wrong Yard

When a Post scout toured Newark streets last week for a list of homes having Christmas decorations on the exterior, he became confused when riding along one of the quiet residential boulevards.

The residence of Mrs. Jennie Campbell, 25 Amstel Avenue, was inadvertently omitted from the list, while Mrs. Florence Strahorn's home at 27 Amstel Avenue was included through the error.

In begging forgiveness of both ladies, the editor wishes to add his regrets for the blunder. And a blunder it was, since he lived at 27 Amstel Avenue for more than a year.

Mr. David Eastburn, of Red Mills, was given a surprise party Monday night. Among the guests were Mrs. Florence Strahorn, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Worrall, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Cloud, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lamborn, and Miss Dorothy Cloud.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Bausman, 91 W. Park Place, entertained friends on New Year's Eve.

Major and Mrs. R. W. Argo, 163 W. Main St., entertained at dinner Tuesday evening. Among the guests were Colonel and Mrs. Ashbridge, Dr. and Mrs. Musselman, Captain and Mrs. Nichols, Captain and Mrs. Cunningham, Captain and Mrs. Waters, Mrs. Boll, Mr. and Mrs. Waples.

Mr. Wm. Moore, Jr., entertained the Misses Doris and Myra Smith, Miss Doris Johnson, of Wilmington; Mr. John King, of Massachusetts; "Bud" Wilson and Mr. Dick Roberts on New Year's Eve.

Miss Martha Strahorn has returned to Wilmington, after vacationing with Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Strahorn, E. Main St.

Miss Isabel Ashbridge spent Monday with her parents, Col. and Mrs. D. A. Ashbridge, S. College Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Baker, 240 Orchard Rd., had a reception on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Ethel Campbell, Amstel Ave., entertained her card club on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Fred Strickland, Elkton Rd., who will be remembered for his luck in recent nation-wide contests, has recently been awarded a fur coat, valued at $850.00, from a Lava soap contest.

Miss Dorothy Holton has resumed her studies at Randolph-Macon, after vacationing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Holton, S. College Ave. and Kentway.

Miss Ethel Hauber, Capitol Trail, returned on Monday to Sweetbriar College.

Miss Elsie Wright, Orchard Rd., entertained many Newark friends at a musical on Sunday evening.

Miss Mary Gaffney, Miss Dorothy Townsend, Mr. Collins Seitz, Mr. David Moore, all of Wilmington, Mr. William Fletcher and Mr. David Sloan were guests at a New Year's Eve party given by Miss Louise Steel.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Shakespeare, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jarmon, Miss Mildred Jarmon and Mr. Rees Jarmon spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. William Holloway, of Newark, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holloway, Jr., spent the week-end with friends in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Davidson, of State Rd., were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stafford on New Year's Day.

Miss Albert Johnson spent the week-end with Miss Kathryn Stafford.

Announcement was made recently by Mr. and Mrs. Peter de Wilde, of Preston, Md., of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Cornelia de Wilde, to Dr. Harold B. Plummer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Plummer, of Wilmington, Dr. Plummer formerly resided in Newark. The wedding date has not been set.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Weaver, of Landenberg, Pa., entertained at a New Year's Day dinner at their home. The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Rank Morris and Miss Arlene Weaver, of Hockessin; Mr. and Mrs. Hockessin; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Weaver and children, Mr. John Lund and Mrs. Charles Connor and children, of Landenberg; and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Weaver and daughter, of Newark.

Dr. Walter Hüllihen Invited To Ceremonies

Dr. Walter Hüllihen, president of the University of Delaware, is one of 400 representatives invited to attend the formal inauguration of Dr. Oliver C. Carmichael as chancellor of Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee, on February 5.

During 62 years of its existence, Vanderbilt University has had only two chancellors. The inauguration of Dr. Carmichael as the third will stand as a milestone in higher education in the South. Dr. Carmichael was elected early in 1937 and took over the duties July 1, relieving Chancellor James H. Kirkland, dean of American university heads, who is now serving as chancellor emeritus.

All Except One Student At F. I. S. Return After Leave

All students of the Ferris Industrial School on holiday leaves to their homes returned promptly to the institution except one, the Rev. Ralph L. Minker, superintendent, reported. The missing student was captured in Virginia.

The one exception, Superintendent Minker said, would not warrant any change in the plan of granting holiday leaves.

Mullin Appointed To Athletic Commission

MacSummer Mullin, 35 years old, of Wilmington, was appointed a member of the State Athletic Commission for a three-year term by Gov. Richard C. McMullen. He succeeds James L. Luke, commission chairman, whose term has expired.

Mr. Mullin is secretary of James T. Mullin & Sons, Inc., Wilmington clothing store. Other commissioned members are Fagan H. Simonton, whose term will expire January 1, 1939, and J. Edward Schell, whose term expires January 1, 1940.

"Simple" Definition Of Love Is Found

After ages of research and investigation, a simple definition of love has been found. Dr. C. C. Reed, of Rochester, N. Y., states it thus: "Love is a physis hypermetamorphosis leading to hypercathexis and megalomania resulting in an angipathic neurosthenia."

"Calamity Recipe" Is Cure For Everything

The following "calamity recipe" is going the rounds: "One stewed prune, one pickled peach, one date. See that prune and peach are well saturated with brandy or gin, then place in seat of one high-powered coupe and leave on road about 30 minutes. Garnish with bits of broken glass and serve cold on a stretcher. Also is extremely attractive with flowers in light-colored box with silver trimmings."

The Sewing Corner

The needle arts have come into wide popularity. This series of 12 articles offers ingenious tips and instructions on various items which women will find both economical and fashionable.

VI—A Coat Lining Ceases To Function Normally

DIAGNOSIS: The normal inconspicuous but useful function of a coat lining becomes impaired by weak threads causing a general letdown of the inner portion of the wrap. Case requires deft handling of needle so no stitches will show.

Prescription: 1 spool Sewing Silk matching coat rather than lining. 1 Needle No. 6.

Method of Treatment: Pin lining in place with pins at right angles to edge. Slip the needle along in the fold edge of lining about 1/4 inch. Bring it through. Take a tiny stitch of not more than two threads of the coat material. Bring the needle through and slip it along again in the fold edge of the lining. Continue in this way until lining is neatly sewed in place.

Safety Director Is Sued For Driving

Three damage suits were filed against W. J. Guilbert, of Buffalo, who was alleged to have been guilty of driving "carelessly, negligently and at a dangerous rate of speed." All that makes the story unusual is that Mr. Guilbert is safety director of the city's chamber of commerce.

Roamin' with Rutledge

For An Early Start

It seems somewhat ridiculous to speak about baseball in the middle of the winter, when even big leaguers haven't cast their optics in the direction of Florida training camps as yet, but the story about the early bird still holds good.

Local baseball fans passed through one of the most miserable summers in history last year. Plenty of diamond talent abounded, but Newark teams, playing in independent roles, found it difficult to line up opposition. Week end after week end passed and fans found nothing to do but twiddle their thumbs.

Among the resolutions, therefore, we'd suggest an early start for the organization of a Newark team that won't finish second to any club in its class, and we'd further suggest that steps be taken to reform the Bi-State League, or some similar circuit.

Towns like Newark, Oxford, Kennett Square, Perryville, Havre de Grace, Aberdeen, Elkton and the like are foolish for not taking advantage of the geography that tossed them in one pile, so to speak.

RWR
A Door Opener
As a means of creating interest here and in adjoining sections of Maryland and Pennsylvania, a baseball clinic could be held in-well, for example—Wolf Hall.

The American League has provided a sound motion picture, "Batter Up," which is being shown in this section without charge to responsible organizations by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Johnny Quinn, popular American League umpire, accompanies the picture, so by lecturing and answering questions pertaining to baseball and big league players. The whole idea is to stimulate interest in the summer diamond sport, whether it be the big league variety or sandlot.

Newark, having all the facilities necessary, could stage such a clinic as a "feeler" for the re-organization of a strong independent league. And it's not too early to get started.

RWR
Back To School
Little time has been lost between the start of the New Year and the re-opening of schools. Hardly had the tumult and shouting of New Year's eve died, ere youngsters were picking up their books and marching back to classes, or so it seemed.

Former Newark High School lads, now attending preparatory schools and colleges in various parts of the country, had a big time during the holidays. "Claggy" Butts, a plebe at P.M.C., along with Bob and Paul Skillman, from Fishburne Military School, made it tough for home-town shiks by sticking to their natty uniforms for social occasions. And Newark lassies, like gals everywhere, "went" for the uniforms in a big way.

Leroy Hill, Jr., minus a uniform because they don't wear them at Perkiomen, held an edge in post-season football arguments with the lads from Fishburne, however. Perkiomen defeated the Delaware Jayvees, 32-0. The Jayvees, in turn, stopped Jack Hodgson's Shenandoah Cadets, who turned it on Fishburne. Hence Hill's claims to all sorts of laurels for Pennsylvania, Delaware and Virginia.

Bob Jones, Bill Crater and George Anderson, the Tome School trio, argued lustily on behalf of the Blue and White contingent, but comparisons were not available.

RWR
Crossing The Bar

As 1937 passed into 1938 (while a lot of people were "passing out") we were wont to think of many things. For instance, we'll bet Lyle Clark wishes he had an uncle like Dick Harlow who could snatch him off the spot he's on at Harvard and give him a grave job at the Newark Public Works Department.

The latter's personality, plus Uncle Dick's prestige, could do much for a struggling young coach. We wondered, too, what Frank R. Kent and Henry L. Mencken, Baltimore's two most rabid and vitriolic anti-New Dealers, said to each other after reading the January issue of THE AMERICAN MERCURY? Kent, in a lengthy article entitled "No Third Term For Roosevelt," tells why the New Deal champion can't be re-elected even if he seeks another term, while Mencken, in the same issue of the magazine, states: "My guess is that the right hon. gentleman (Roosevelt) will be re-elected triumphantly in 1940, and maybe again in 1944."

Some sport, these learned writers have and they collect plenty of cologne for their crowning. A bet on the side with Red Harris—we'll wager those losses amounted to something closer to $40,000 than the seven grand you claim.

Bill Fletcher

ON SATURDAY, FOLLOWING A THREE-WEEKS' layoff, Coach Lyle Clark's University of Delaware cage quintet will commence a series of three away games that may do a swell job of knocking that .666 mark all to smithereens.

Sporting two victories and a lone defeat to-date, the Hens have stepped off to a good start but West Chester State Teachers' College, Swarthmore and Pennsylvania Military College are the looming barriers to be hurdled on foreign courts.

Lack of conditioning may prove to be the Blue and Gold's paramount handicap throughout the balance of the schedule, for the varsity team's workouts are limited to a couple of shore scrimmages each night, thus preventing them from developing the stamina necessary for the games played away on larger courts.

Due to the limited facilities in Taylor Gymnasium and the problem of giving the junior varsity its turn at getting into shape, the members of the big team find themselves on the sidelines throughout most of the workouts and you can't do away with your little team because therein lies the bulk of your interest and the only thing that Coach Clark has to scrimmage against the varsity club.

And so there it is again!—a new gymnasium with three or four basketball courts, etc., might serve to eliminate just such a problem as this.

BUT SPEAKING OF PROBLEMS, there's one coming over the horizon that has already started to cast a gloomy atmosphere around the athletic department of the state university—mid-year examinations.

Last year, it was the swimming team that took the beating from this monster, this year, who knows?

A few hours of forgetfulness on the part of Delaware's sport representatives and Ed Bardo's hopes for an improved swimming mark over the 1936 season may fall by the wayside. Lyle Clark's freshman football line may fall apart or a star hurler or slugger may be dropped from the baseball ranks.

It's a tense period at its best and while alarmed students attempt to invade marks from the aloof instructors, the masterminds give that same stereotyped reply—"Grades will be released from the dean's office," or words to that effect—heartless wretches!

THE ANSWER TO THE query, "Why Men Leave Home?" would be completely answered for posterity if someone could catch up with and snare the elusive "Boozer" who departed for parts unknown.

For your enlightenment, "Boozer" is a bull, a gentle bull, according to

Three Games For Hens Before Tests

Newark Entries Fail To Score In Eastern Club's Field Trials

CLARKMEN TO INVADE FOREIGN COURTS

Two Victories In Three Starts Chalked Up Thus Far; Ed Bardo's Mermen To Face Trio Of Invaders Prior To Mid-Year's

Three foes will face the University of Delaware's basketball and swimming teams before the Blue and Gold sport representatives face their semi-annual enemy—mid-year examinations.

While the Blue Hen cagers are slated to meet three opponents on foreign courts, the Delaware tankmen will play hosts to the same number of schools who will invade the local pool.

Strong Teams
The trio of entertaining court teams all boast of strong teams which will make powerful bids to place the Delaware team on the short end of the final scores and the Hen representatives will find it tough going on the strange floors.

West Chester Teachers' College will open hostilities following the Christmas recess on the West Chester Court on Saturday; Swarthmore will follow up on Wednesday and Pennsylvania Military College will wind up the Hens' activities prior to the mid-season tests, on Friday.

Sporting two wins in three starts, to-date, Coach Lyle Clark's men are anxious to come out on the winning side of the ledger in this trio of pre-exam tilts.

Victories have been scored over Philadelphia Textile School and Hampden-Sydney while the lone defeat has been at the hands of Rutgers University.

Tank Teams Invade
Coach Ed Bardo's tankmen will likewise find the going difficult before their second layoff with St. Joseph's College, Lehigh, and Lafayette scheduled to invade Taylor Pool.

Sporting a victory over West Chester State Teachers' College in their only start thus far this season, Delaware's opportunity for an improved season over the 1936 showing is predicted if the Hen swimmers can stand the gaff of the mid-year exams.

After being slapped around by Rutgers University in the opening tilt, Clark's courtmen met their two invading foes prior to the Christmas holidays with a barrage of baskets as they racked up counters from every angle of the court to score victories.

Philadelphia Textile was the first victim to fall before the Blue and Gold's big guns as a zone defense kept the visitors well bottled up and the Delaware representatives piled up score after score to win going away by a 47-26 count.

Foul Work Wreak
It was Captain Lew Carey who showed the way to the Hens' second conquest, another landslide over Hampden-Sydney whose cagers found it impossible to keep pace with the locals' shooting eyes. Carey racked up 18 points to lead in the 52-33 victory.

The Hens' captain, who has amassed a total of 34 points in the three games to-date, leads the Delaware scoring by a large margin. He is followed by Earl Sheats, a poor second with 18 markers, while Bruce Lindsay holds down a close third with 15 points.

Plenty of work is needed from the foul line for the wearers of the Blue and Gold have been able to convert only 31 out of 57 shots from the charity mark; 12 out of 22 against Rutgers; 13 of 17 against Philadelphia Textile and only six out of 18 against Hampden-Sydney.

A wire fence, as strong as the famous Wall of China used to be, proved no obstacle to the fleeing animal as he took one look at his herd of big-brown-eyed sweeties and then walked right through it in easy fashion.

IN HIS TRAVELS, "Boozer" crossed the farm of Claude P. Hearn, knocked off a couple of holes of golf on the Newark Country Club course and then galloped cheerfully around the fields until he reached the vicinity of Fair Hill, where he was, at the latest reports, still grazing—or should we say raising double—e-I-I.

"Boozer" still maintains that "Boozer" is a gentle bull, but we might ask the question, "How nice does a bull have to be to be termed 'gentle' and is his sweetness judged by a comparison with other members of his clan?"

That's all, and anyway, we'll take vanilla.

Baseball Motion Picture Now Ready For Release
"Better Up," the American League's new baseball movie, is now ready for release to organizations desiring to show it. A copy of the film, made by Lew Fonseca, former pilot of the Chicago White Sox, under the auspices of organized baseball for purposes of instruction and entertainment, has arrived at the offices of the Philadelphia Athletics and will be loaned without charge to organizations writing Vice President Roy Mack and requesting its use.

The film shows such stars as DiMaggio, Feller, Gomez, Ruffing, Cochran, York, Kuhel, Cliff, Appling, Moses, Lyons, Gehring, and others illustrating details of play at their positions.

Joe McCarthy and Connie Mack outline a manager's work. Action from the 1937 All-Star and World Series is included.

Correction In Score
Through a mistake in division the secretary of the Tri-County League in the averages recently published, gave Rufus Roberts of the Newark team a batting percentage of 118, when his correct average is 290. This correction moves Roberts from last to third on the Newark club in batting.

The Sick and Convalescent
Miss Marion Brown, daughter of Postmaster J. W. Brown, is seriously ill with typhoid fever.
Mrs. Charles B. Evans who has been undergoing treatment in Philadelphia, is much improved and expects to return to her home in a few days.

Mrs. A. T. Neale and Mrs. A. A. Curtis, who have both been quite ill, are convalescent.
Mr. T. O. Smith former B. & O. agent here, now traveling auditor of the Company, is recovering from an operation for appendicitis in Baltimore.

Friends of George Spence who was injured some weeks ago in a runaway accident, will be glad to know that he is recovering at his home near Cherry Hill.

Gives Dinner At Bellevue
Miss Mary Vanneman gave a dinner at the Bellevue Stratford last evening. The guests included: Mrs. Paul A. Vanneman, Miss Virginia Durham, Miss Rosalie Hoban, Miss Jane Lafferty, Miss Marie Lafferty, Mr. John Embury, Mr. Francis Walsh, Mr. Regis McNamee, Mr. J. J. Garland and Mr. W. J. McAvoy.

The above guests aided Miss Vanneman in receiving at a dance given at the New Century Club. The decorations were of Yuletide variety—evergreens, holly, poinsettias. There were about a hundred guests present.

Dance At Elktion
Young men of Elktion gave a delightful and largely attended New Year's dance in Mechanics Hall last Tuesday evening. Jacob's Orchestra furnished the music, and the large hall was brilliantly lighted and attractively decorated.

Among those present were Miss Miller of Lewisville, and the Misses Emily Worrall and Elizabeth Wright and Mr. Raymond McNeil of Newark.

The patronesses were: Mrs. D. J. Ayrest, Mrs. W. D. Cawley, Mrs. Hester Lewis, Mrs. M. R. Gilpin, Mrs. H. D. Garrett, Mrs. R. R. Oldham and Mrs. George W. Boulden.

New Century Club

In the absence of the president of the New Century Club, the vice-president, Mrs. Wm. H. Evans, presided, and introduced Miss Frances Hurd, who had charge of the program for the afternoon.

An hour of music and song followed, rendered in a very original manner, which showed much study had been spent on its preparation. One of the most pleasing numbers of the program was the reciting and dancing of "The Minuet" by Miss Cornelia Pilling, accompanied by Miss Elsie Wright. The delightful manner in which the stately little dame went through the movements of the dance was a joy to all who witnessed it. Her costume which consisted of high heeled slippers, a full flounced skirt, and kerchief held by a large miniature brooch, with powdered hair fastened high with an immense tortoiseshell comb, and a ravishing curl cascading one pink cheek, has reposed in a certain grandmother's garret of this town for more than fifty years, and probably was danced to the stately minuet of "long ago."

Others who took part in the program were: Miss Nellie Wilson, Miss Elsie Wright, Miss Myrtle Stehl, Mrs. Carl Christopher, Miss Frances Hurd and Mrs. Herman Tyson.

In closing the program, Miss Hurd invited her guests to take part in a musical contest, wherein she played an Operatic Medley, containing passages from ten of the standard operas. The winner, Miss Eleanor Harter, who recognized all of the operas, was presented with a box of bonbons.

MANY OF SWEDENBORG'S VIEWS ARE CURRENTLY ACCEPTED TODAY

Though 250 Years Have Passed Since His Birth, His Influence Still Pervades Religion and Psychology — A Birthday Commemoration is Planned

THE 250th anniversary of the birth of Emanuel Swedenborg, statesman, scientist and theologian, falls on January 29, 1938. Various groups interested in his achievements are utilizing this event to remind the general public of his important contributions to many currently accepted views on religious and psychological subjects.

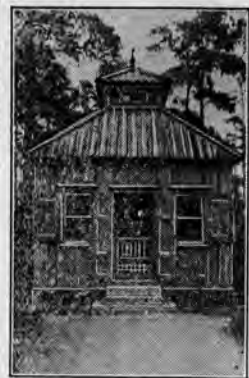

Among his works totalling 237, many treat of mining, metallurgy, physiology, mathematics, and psychology. The early part of his career was devoted to such subjects. At the age of 55 he began to write theological works, and produced in all 83 volumes of these before his death in 1772. He lived a life of prodigious intellectual activity.

The religion of Swedenborg's day was characterized by an artificiality which is difficult for people of today to understand. Swedenborg's contribution to theological thought by his insistence upon what is called "the doctrine of uses," is one which has in the last 200 years permeated all religious activity, and indeed affected mankind's thinking in many realms of knowledge.

The belief that faith and charity must be expressed in personal behavior was a new concept of religious thinking expounded by Swedenborg. His writings were affirmed by Swedenborg to be direct revelations to him of things seen and heard in the spiritual world to which his earthly senses were opened by divine providence. He disclosed that the scriptures were written according to the law of correspondences, through which all material things may be interpreted to have a spiritual meaning. Thus the inner sense of the Bible is divinely inspired. According to the law of correspondences, there are three degrees of being, corresponding to the three degrees of being in God. They are—the Celestial, those in the good of love; the Spiritual, those in the truth of wisdom; and the Natural, those in the good of use—thus, end, cause and effect, or soul, body, and the outgoing action. The Trinity in one God is, the Divine Love the Father, the Divine Wisdom the Son, and the Holy Spirit the Outgoing Love.

The old theory of predestination or redemption of the elect was replaced with another new concept. Man, he claimed, is an immortal spirit, having a physical and spiritual body. The physical is discarded after death for the spiritual, which awakens to consciousness in the spiritual world. Then, according to his earthly life, man makes his home either in heaven or hell. Heaven is composed of many societies of angels, the whole composing "The Grand Man." This idea of the grand man may be compared to an image of physical man. As he consists in the whole of members, organs, and viscera, and in part of series of fibres, nerves and blood vessels, of members within members and parts within parts, nevertheless when he acts, he acts as one man. Everything in him contributes to the common good and performs its proper use—the whole to its parts and the parts to the whole. So the societies of heaven are connected as parts in the image of the Grand Man according to their capacity of performing uses. The division goes on further—each society and finally each angel is in the form of a man.

Cabin in Swedenborg's Garden

These are a few of the less widely known tenets of Swedenborg. His doctrine of life is almost universally accepted today: religion has relation to life.

The Swedenborg Foundation, New York City, will supply information without cost on various phases of Swedenborg's life and achievements.

A New Member of Bathroom Ensemble

THE effectiveness with which the modern electric water heater may be fitted into the modern bathroom ensemble, in homes which such an installation is desired, is illustrated in the photograph above. The electric water heater, styled in gleaming white, with contrasting black base, forms a smart decorative note in keeping with the other fixtures of the room. Silent in operation and requiring no attention after it is switched on, it supplies an even, constant supply of healthful hot water, day and night. Many modern homes are adopting upstairs installation of electric water heaters, either in the bath or kitchen, rather than basement installation.

BIRTH OF A SONG

FROM Boston with his fiddle under his arm and high hopes of a musical career—to a Colorado honky-tonk.

Restlessly moving from town to town, Billy organized one of his first jazz bands in the West. His music was appreciated when the round-up began.

Billy Hill, watching the cowboys at their hard task, decided that music was still his forte—and left to seek his fortune anew in New York but the plains were in his blood.

Greeted by canyons of brick and steel, Billy looked in vain for the heart of the city.

In Greenwich Village where artists create and stars, Billy wrote the "Last Round-Up" to pay his gas bill, butcher and his landlord.

No publisher would buy a song about "dogies," even at twenty-five dollars. Billy, however, finally found a sympathetic firm, which bought the song for a cash advance against Success followed immediately, and Billy's hit song became a vogue. He was elected to the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, and took his place as an American folk song writer.

Potato Contest
Sweet and white potato growers will enter twenty samples in each class with the former vegetable divided into two groups, moist and dry varieties.

A judging contest will be staged by members of 4-H corn clubs, Saturday morning. All members are eligible for the event which will consist of judging ten ear samples of white and yellow dent corn and single ears of the same variety.

According to the announcement made recently by the association's president, Vincent C. Mayer, of Newark, the contest is sponsored by the group and as a reward to each county winner, a free scholarship to the junior short course at the University of Delaware will be given.

Premium lists can be obtained through offices of county agricultural agents.

crops than he should have, or if he is short on his soil-building goal.

It is believed that the 1938 program can help raise and keep up farm income by indirectly influencing the volume and therefore the prices of farm products; by encouraging more extensive use of efficient farming operations; by providing conservation payments to farmers; and, by making land able to produce more, when and if needed. It encourages soil conservation by providing part of the cash cost of putting certain approved practices into effect.

Single Texas Cotton Row 413 Miles Long

What is undoubtedly the world's longest row of cotton grows on the farm of M. T. Daniel, of Wofford, Tex. It is planted in a spiral around a small lake in a big field, and is estimated to be 413 miles long.
