Rural New Castle Goes Dry in Special Election

Wilmington Remains "Wet" After Hotly Contested Fight at Polls

At the special license election held in New Castle County and Wilmington on Tuesday, the "Wets" and "Drys" split fifty-fifty, Rural New Castle going "dry" by a majority of 928 and Wilmington rolling up a "wet" majority of 2250.

In rural New Castle County, however, it was practically a landslide for the "drys" as they won every hundred in the county with the exception of New Castle. In New Castle it was also practically a victory for the "drys" as the "wets" had counted on rolling up a majority of from 400 to 500 there because of the large number of munition workers. Their calculations, however, in this respect miscarried, as the hundred gave but 74 "wet."

White Clay Creek hundred was placed in the "dry" column by a majority of 10, and Pencader went "dry" by 38. The vote in White Clay Creek was a great surprise to the license forces as this hundred gave a substantial majority for the "wets" eight years ago.

There was very little disorder or trouble around the polls in any place throughout the county. The "drys" owe their victory largely to the excellent organization that they perfected during the past few months. About 7900 votes were cast in rural New Castle.

The vote by hundreds follows:

COUNCIL TRANSACTS ROUTINE BUSINESS

Disturbance of Silent Policemen To Be Prosecuted

To stop the practice of automobilists running over and destroying the silent policemen placed at the various intersections along Main street some weeks ago, Council at its meeting on Monday night decided to prosecute all such cases. Within the last few days several of the standards have been practically demolished in this way and in some instances the offense looked to be deliberate.

Council on motion of Mr. Wilson instructed Secretary Herdman to notify the trustees of Delaware College to remove the flagstone laid along Main street in front of the new college dormitory at once and replace it with a concrete pavement. This stone was laid some months ago in violation of a town ordinance which provides that only concrete pavement can be laid along Main street. The matter has been up for discussion several times and Council has now decided to insist that the college correct the error at once.

On motion of Councilman Thompson the treasurer was instructed to draw a warrant for interest on the bonded indebtedness of the town due on December 1 and amounting to $843.75.

The monthly report of Treasurer Herdman follows:

Lt. W. F. Cann Promoted

Lieutenant W. F. (Billy) Cann, who went to Camp McClellan, Annapolis, Alabama, with the Delaware Regiment as first lieutenant in Company M has received two promotions since he arrived at camp. After the Delaware regiment was reorganized Lieutenant Cann was sent to the headquarters company and now word has been received by his relatives that he has been selected from 150 officers as an aide to a General at Camp McClellan. This General has three such aides, one being his son who is a graduate of U. of P., a young New York millionaire, and Lieutenant Cann, who with his adjutant make up his staff. In military circles this appointment is looked on as a great honor and speaks much for the high esteem in which the Delaware boy is held as an officer.

Lieutenant Cann is a graduate of Delaware College of the class of 1915 and is a brother of J. Pearce Cann. He was with the Delaware troops at the Mexican border and was adjutant of the battalion while on the border.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING IN THE COUNTRY

State Leader, Howard T. Ruhl, Explains Work

State Leader of Junior Extension Work, Howard T. Ruhl, in an interesting statement, explains the work of the Boys and Girls Club work in Delaware, as follows:

Boys and Girls Club Work is an attempt to place better methods of agriculture within the grasp of the young people of the country; it desires to make the country attractive to the young people in it—the place they are needed the most. It is an endeavor to help the boys and girls become better producers, to give them a better knowledge of agriculture; to arouse in them an interest for and a love of the country, their home; to afford them opportunities to get together in wholesome companionship and recreation; it is an attempt to take the drudgery out of work by arousing in them an intelligent interest in the work itself, to make them see the principles underlying it and the reasons for the things they do. In short, it is vocational education for the boy and girl in the country—a thing the boy and girl in the city have enjoyed for some time.

Club work is no longer an experiment—it is an organized educational work now being carried on in every State in the Union. It is educational, inspirational and instructive. It is an extension of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Delaware College to the farm life of the boy or girl.

Since this work is educational it can best be carried on through and in the schools; it is an effort on the part of the two departments cooperating to bring the school and home close together. For its best success, then, it must have the cooperation of the teachers and parents and the support of the community.

Club work acquaints the boy and girl with the best agricultural practices of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Delaware Agricultural College. It is carried on by means of the local leaders, county agents, county leaders, home economics workers and specialists of the department.

Projects

Projects have for their aim the successful raising of and care for a crop, an animal, etc., to enable the boy or girl to get an appreciation of the proper principles governing their production. Procedure: The boy or girl must choose a project which is satisfactory to his parents and local leader. It is not intended that these projects shall be a burden on the boy or girl or on the home; it is intended that the project be definite and concrete and as close to conditions as found in the best practices in actual life as it can be made. In all this work it is necessary for its best success that as much of the work as possible be done by the pupil personally. This request is made that the interest of the boys and girls may not lag, but be kept at its highest pitch; it is not intended to restrict any interest the parents may show but is to develop responsibility for the ultimate outcome of the project on the part of the pupil.

There is one thing important to note in the project work. Practices or methods used on the individual farms are not to be employed in carrying on project work. Only those practices and methods advocated by the local leader are to be followed. Should there be a desire to deviate from this course it would be well to separate the project from the home practices of farming and conduct a comparative project.

Club Hears Executive Board Report

Delightful Social Hour Features First Meeting

The meeting of the Newark New Century Club held last Monday afternoon, was largely attended. Many pleasant surprises awaited the members after their long holiday, which together with the sociability that prevailed, made the occasion a pleasant one indeed. Mrs. E. S. Armstrong, the new president, presided. Mrs. J. P. Cann, auditor of the State Federation, and representative of the Newark Club at the Federation meeting held in Rehoboth last May, gave an interesting report of the May meeting and also of the quarterly executive board meeting of the Federation held at the home of Mrs. Emery, of Seaford, on October 25. At the last mentioned meeting interesting reports, setting forth the latest news in club circles, were submitted by the State chairmen of the various activities of club work. One of the most interesting of these reported by Mrs. Cann, was that of Miss Bissell, chairman of the social service committee, who dwelt upon Red Cross work. In her report Miss Bissell made the announcement that anyone who is knitting or sewing for the Red Cross can have the article forwarded to any soldier or sailor by writing plainly the name and address of the sender, and leaving the package at City Hall, Wilmington, or with their local chairman. Miss Bissell also announced that any soldier who hasn't a comfort kit, by making the fact known, can have one (Continued on Page 4)

Hoover Pledges Forwarded To Headquarters

As a result of the Hoover Pledge Card campaign last week, pledges representing 150 families, who have signified their willingness to exert a special effort in saving food, for the period covering the war, have been forwarded to headquarters by Principal Koehler. Owing to the fact that pledges were circulated by several other organizations, however, the above figure does not represent the total from Newark.

Newark Branch Sends Xmas Packages

These will be packed at the local headquarters not later than Thursday and forwarded to Wilmington, for immediate shipment. Individuals wishing to send these packages may leave them with Mrs. C. B. Evans up to Thursday of this week.

FIRE AT JEDELL'S ON MONDAY

Local Firemen Control The Flames

Fire was discovered about noon on Monday in the sparkler shed of the A. Jedell Company, the cause of it is believed, being spontaneous combustion. A call was sent in to the Etna Fire Company, who by their prompt response and efficient service confined the flames to the interior of the building. The building is constructed of asbestos shingles, and the firemen fought the fire with water and chemicals by means of an opening in the roof. The manager of the plant, in speaking of the fire today, commended the local company, and the personal work of Mr. W. R. Powell, and declared the loss nominal.

NEW RESIDENTIAL SECTION OPENED IN WILMINGTON

Work On Five Hundred New Houses Begun

Actual work has been recently begun on five hundred houses, as the first step in a campaign to provide comfortable sanitary homes for the working men of Wilmington. Mayor Lawson turned the first spadeful of earth in the new section of Wilmington, known as Eden Park, which is being developed by the New York-Delaware Realty and Construction Company.

Eden Park, as planned by the company, will provide homes for 2,000 working men, in a city where wealth is increasing more rapidly than in any other city in the country. The population of Wilmington has increased from 87,000 in 1911, to 110,000 in 1917 with 22,000 houses in the city, the Chamber of Commerce declares there is not one to rent.

Owing to this condition Mayor Lawson and the Chamber of Commerce have unqualifiedly endorsed the plans of the New York-Delaware Realty Co. which will put attractive, modern homes, in a convenient locality, within the reach of thousands of the working men of Wilmington.

Eden Park lies within easy walking distance of several of the largest industrial plants of the city, and adjoins the proposed Port Terminal as planned by Mr. John Meigs, and is, in reality, a part of the residential district laid out by Mr. Meigs to accompany the harbor improvement.

Students March In Parade

Sunday afternoon, students and faculty from the Women's College showed their desire for a "Dry" town by marching in the temperance parade. Faithfully throughout the course the girls carried their banners "Vote Dry," glad to throw influence on the side of right.

Church Organizations Parade On Sunday

With a parade in the afternoon and a large meeting in the Opera House at night, the White Clay Creek Hundred "dry" practically closed their campaign last Sunday. Under the leadership of Representative Truxton Royce, of Stanton, Senator Harvey Hoffecker, of Newark, and Professor Thos. F. Manns of Delaware College, the "drys" have made a hard and active fight in every section of the hundred for the "dry" ticket.

The parade on Sunday, perhaps the first ever seen on other than a week-day, in this community, emphasized the earnestness with which the dry workers have entered upon the campaign. Children from the Protestant Sunday Schools, members of church organizations, the W. C. T. U., representatives of several negro organizations, and supporters of the "dry" cause, including many of the leading citizens of the community, were in line. There were also many automobiles in the parade.

The demonstration ended with an open air address at the Opera House corner, by Mrs. Rhoda Neal, of West Virginia, who also addressed a Newark audience in The Armory on Monday evening.

Dean Harry Hayward presided at the meeting held in the Opera House Sunday night when Jas. H. Hughes, of Dover, was the speaker. In his introductory remarks Dean Hayward stated that to his mind it would be a calamity for rural New Castle to go "dry" if Wilmington goes "wet."

Mr. Hughes stated that if he had any doubt as to the benefits of dry conditions in a community he would not be speaking. He talked mostly of conditions in Kent County since that section voted "dry" ten years ago. He claimed that the County has been greatly benefited in every way. He pointed out that the total assessment has increased while there has been no increase in the tax rate. He also stated that Kent County would be additionally benefited should rural New Castle and Wilmington go dry. The speaker also quoted figures to show that the bank balances throughout the County have greatly increased during the past ten years.

Caleb E. Burchenal made a strong appeal in support of the "dry" movement in an address at the Newark Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

MISS LODGE APPLICANT FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENCY

CLUB WOMEN REMONSTRATE AGAINST DISCRIMINATION

Miss Mabel Lodge has made application for the office of Superintendent of Schools of Kent county. The opposition to her which has developed in certain quarters has raised a clear-cut issue—experience, training, and special fitness to be ignored because their possessor is a woman?

The provision of the constitution which has been cited against Miss Lodge (Section XI of Article III) is that "no person shall be elected or appointed to any office within a county who shall not have the right to vote for a Representative in the General Assembly," etc. The vital question is whether the office of superintendent of schools of Kent county is an "office within a county" within the meaning of the constitution.

The offices of superintendents of schools for the several counties are State and not County offices. They are a part of a system of public school education which is a state system and not a county one. The fact that they are styled county superintendents and given jurisdiction over the schools of the particular county does not affect the situation. For example, take the county agricultural agent. He is called a county agent and he has special jurisdiction over agriculture in a particular county. Nevertheless he is a Federal official. Another example is in a member of our legislature. He comes from a particular representative district, is elected by the voters of that district, and is called the representative of that district. Nevertheless, he is a State officer.

The superintendents of schools are paid from the State treasury. They are assistants of the State Board of Education and of the State Commissioner of Education. Their duties are to assist in the administration of the public school system of the State. There is a very strong decision from the Courts from a sister State supporting this position.

The distinction between the superintendents of schools and real county officials will be seen when we take the case of an admitted county officer such as the Register of Wills or the Recorder of Deeds. These two officials receive their salaries from the County treasury; make their reports to the County Levy Court; have no part in any State system.

There is no doubt whatever that a woman is eligible to every school office in Delaware whether a teacher, a member of the Local Board of Education or a Superintendent.

Our Courts would not give the narrow and technical construction which has been raised against Miss Lodge.

Miss Lodge was born and has lived in Delaware, until she went to College. She knows Delaware people and conditions. She is familiar with rural schools and rural conditions both in this State and in the middle west. She has natural ability to an unusual degree. She is broad minded, conscientious, and energetic. Her appointment would mean an immeasurable gain to the public schools not only in Kent county, but throughout the entire State. Every man and woman who has an interest in the Delaware public schools should do everything possible to secure Miss Lodge's appointment. There is nothing that would give such an impetus to public school education in Delaware. Her appointment may be secured only by the active support of those who are genuinely interested in our schools.

The first extract following from The Delaware State News of October 25th and the second from The Index, Dover, of November 2, sets forth Miss Lodge's qualifications.

Miss Mabel Lodge is Applicant For Vacancy.

The application of Miss Mabel Lodge for the appointment of Superintendent of Public Schools in Kent county is exciting a great deal of interest in view of the fact that the place has always been filled by a man.

Miss Lodge's scholastic training and experience as an educator have been unusual. She was graduated with the highest honors of her class from both the Dover High School and the Conference Academy. She has received the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the University of Chicago with honors conferred upon her in two departments and scholarships from three departments. She has a Master of Arts degree from Columbia University with all the honors that that school confers.

Her experience as an educator eminently fits her for administrative work in education in this State. She has taught in Delaware in a country school, grade school and as assistant principal in the Dover High School. She has also taught five years in college in the Middle West, being connected with the Iowa State Teachers College which has an enrollment of 3000 teachers in training and has trained practically all the 99 county superintendents in that State.

Miss Lodge's Qualifications For County Superintendency.

Miss Mabel Lodge, who is an applicant for the office of Superintendent of Public Schools in Kent county, is so well equipped to exercise the duties of that office that it is scarcely possible to state too strongly her qualifications. Leaving aside her unusual mental equipment, her personal qualities are exactly what are needed in educational administration in this county. We are indebted to our valued correspondent, Mrs. Annie E. Faulkner, of Magnolia, near which town Miss Lodge resides on a farm, for the information that she holds a Sunday school teacher's normal diploma. Also, that while a student at the University of Chicago, she used her free time to investigate cases for the Associated Charities and that for a year she resided, with other charity workers, in the poorest district of Des Moines in order to help private wholesome amusement for the young girls of the neighborhood. A scientific interest in community improvement is exactly what is needed in the Superintendent's office, and certainly Miss Lodge has it in abundance.

Without question a new era in education has begun in Delaware under the administration of Governor Townsend. The legislation passed by the last session of the General Assembly was such as to attract attention outside of the State. Congress also is offering to the States Federal aid for vocational work in the public schools. There is no opportunity in the application of Miss Lodge for the County Superintendency to make that office a skillful instrument to carry out the plans which are already under way, and other new ideas which are sure to be introduced.

The teachers of Kent county have shown the right spirit in taking advantage of the unusual opportunities provided for them, by a generous administration at Delaware College this summer. We have in this county a corps of teachers equal to any. It is only fair to them that their superintendent should be a person of unusual attainments. Miss Lodge is such a one. We think that her only rival could be a woman brought in from the West, where women are filling practically all of the Superintendencies. For a man as well qualified as she would seek and obtain a more responsible position in educational work.

Miss Lodge is a native Kent county, Delawarean. We see no reason for filling the office with any one from outside the State, nor with any one less qualified than she.

Notice To Growers of Soy Beans

Last spring the Department of Agronomy of the Delaware Experiment Station sent a small quantity of soy beans for planting to gardeners and farmers of the State. If those who received seed will send their names and addresses to this department they will receive several recipes for cooking soy beans. These directions for utilizing soy beans in the home have been prepared by the Domestic Science Department of the College and have been thoroughly tested. The grower is asked to report the number of pounds of seed he produced from the pint of seed sent out, if possible.

Glorious France

Making every allowance for the fine work of the British and Italians in the world conflict, this is in a very special sense France's war. It is France at which the Kaiser aims his most savage and smashing blows. It is France he is seeking to ruin by killing her men, sending her women to untimely graves, starving her children, looting her factories and destroying her orchards.

And amid all this wreck and ruin there stands that glorious country returning blow for blow—the marvel of an admiring world.

She stopped the Huns at the Marne. Almost alone, she sustained the attacks on the Somme. By herself she repelled the barbarians at Verdun. She is still holding 350 miles of the 450 miles front. Her troops are repelling attacks along the Alsne. They are co-operating with the British in the latest thrust in Flanders.

At Salonica the best troops are French. The routed troops of Rumania were reorganized by French officers. Belgians and Serbs and Greeks have been equipped and retrained by the French. The arsenals of France have furnished the big guns and the ammunition, not only for the splendid French armies but for some of the Allies. France has spent eighteen and a half billion dollars for war purposes of which only one and one-fifth billions were borrowed, and she loaned one billion to friendly nations.

And this magnificent record has been achieved, despite the fact that some of the best of her iron, coal, agricultural and industrial districts have been in the hands of the brutal invader.

Those Delawareans and other Americans who, before the war, were wont to talk glibly of a decadent France, now owe to the Land of the Lily a just apology and ardent admiration.—Evening Journal.

DELAWARE MAN SUCCESSFUL IN BUFFALO

Friends of George W. Sawin, Delaware College, class of 1912, will be interested to hear of Mr. Sawin's success in Buffalo, N. Y., as assistant manager of the B. F. Goodrich Co. concerning his work a Buffalo newspaper comments as follows:

"One of the most popular men in Buffalo tire circles is George W. Sawin, assistant manager of the local branch of the B. F. Goodrich company. Although a newcomer to this city, he has already gained a large circle of friends. Mr. Sawin has been with the Goodrich company for a number of years, having joined this corporation at the home plant in Akron in 1912. He resumed a position with the training school on January 1, 1916, and on March 17 of the same year was appointed assistant manager of the educational department.

"Proving unusually successful in this line of work, Mr. Sawin has been given charge of pneumatic and solid tire sales in Virginia which he held for over three years, greatly developing this territory with the result that sales showed a big increase in both states.

"On March 1, 1916, Mr. Sawin was transferred to the Philadelphia branch in charge of an important territory adjacent to the city of Brotherly Love. His work was noticed by Frank E. Titus, former manager of the local branch, who asked that he be transferred to Buffalo as assistant manager. Mr. Sawin came to Buffalo on August 24, 1916, and during his stay here has been one of the most popular of local rubber goods officials.

"The Goodrich territory covered by the Buffalo branch comprises 41 counties in New York and Pennsylvania and stores in Rochester, Syracuse, Utica and Erie are controlled from the local store. Mr. Sawin is a graduate of Delaware State College, holding the degree of B. S., civil engineering. He is also a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity."

SAVE THE WHEAT

Get The "Eat More Corn" Habit—Recipe For Corn Pancakes

Order a "stack of corn" or a "stack of kaffir" instead of a "stack of wheat" cakes at the hotel or restaurant. Pancakes made of corn or kaffir corn or one of these grains with a little wheat flour are fully as palatable and nutritious as cakes made of wheat only, say food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Millions of wheat cakes are consumed at the American breakfast table every morning. Get the "stack of corn" habit and save the wheat.

The department is urging restaurants and hotel proprietors to instruct their chefs to prepare and have ready for use batter for corn cakes each morning so that patrons may order corn cakes instead of wheat cakes. Corn cakes have always been popular on the family table. By featuring the "stack of corn" cakes on their menus it is believed patrons will be glad to form the "eat more corn" habit at breakfast time.

Corn cakes with sirup are appetizing and satisfying. The following recipe is recommended:

Corn-Meal Pancakes.

1 cup corn meal. 1 cup flour (wheat). 2 teaspoons baking powder. 1 teaspoon salt. 1-2 tablespoon sugar. 1 tablespoon melted butter. 1 egg. 1 cup milk.

Mix the dry ingredients, add melted butter, well-beaten egg, and milk. Bake like ordinary griddle cakes.

To Be Published By Putnams

In a volume entitled "St. Nicholas: His Legend and His Role in the Christmas Celebration and Other Popular Customs," Geo. H. McKnight has brought together the elements in the life story of this popular saint. The kindly acts recorded of him have lived in popular memory and have flowered into some of the most generally cherished of popular customs. Probably the life history of no other person, save that of the Founder of Christianity Himself, has been so intimately woven about human custom and human life as that of St. Nicholas or Santa Claus. Mr. McKnight gives an intimate picture of the life and personality of the saint and has supplied by way of illustration reproductions of a splendid series of pictures by the old masters. The volume will be published by the Putnams early in November.

Women's College

The Y. W. C. A. of the Woman's College of Delaware held its weekly meeting on Sunday night, November 4. The meeting was led by Miss Margaret Gray, who chose as the subject for discussion, "The Service of Giving." "Giving" was considered from four standpoints, first, the giving of money which was discussed by Miss Elizabeth M. Jones; second, the giving of time, which Miss Helen Mackey considered; third, the giving of self by Miss Fowler. Miss Gray closed the discussion with a talk on the giving of joy. The subject of the next meeting, which comes on November 11, is Service. Miss Ruth Messick will be the leader of this meeting.

at once. All the Delaware men have been listed by Miss Bissell's committee, and all, so far as they know, have received comfort bags.

All the preserves that Middletown and Wilmington furnished in the summer, Miss Bissell said, have been sent to Camp Dix, in a motor truck, furnished by Mrs. Pierre duPont. The principal work of the committee this winter will be taking care of the tubercular soldiers and the needy families of drafted men.

Two soldiers who contracted tuberculosis on the Mexican border, have recently died at Hope Farm. Miss Bissell urged the young women of the State to prepare for Civil Service examinations to be ready to take up the necessary government positions and asked that everyone forward all her finished reading matter to some soldier. If you haven't anyone in particular to whom you wish to send it, she said, "put a stamp on it and the postmaster will know what to do with it."

Mrs. William Evans reported that four applications had been made for assistance through the student's loan fund. Mrs. Deemer reported that the Feeble Minded Commission had about decided where the new building is to be, and requested each club to donate any article of furnishing they could spare. The State Board asked each club to contribute $5 for the War Camp Recreation Fund, and the Newark treasurer was instructed to forward the amount at once. It was also advised by the State Board that clubs should study during the winter, American history, democratic ideals, and the laws of Delaware.

Miss Wilson read a communication from the State Chairman of Music, urging club women to take up the work of assisting in the providing of music for the recreation centers in the camps. Pianos are greatly needed in the two hundred Y. M. C. A. centers, and smaller musical instruments as well. Anyone owning mandolins, guitars, or others which they no longer use, will be performing a patriotic act by forwarding such gifts to the Y. M. C. A. at any camp.

The same statement applies to Victrola records of which you have tired, but which are still in good condition. The purpose of the appeal is not to make musicians, Miss Wilson said, but to provide for the men the elevating and refining influence which is peculiarly music's own.

After the more formal meeting a social hour followed. Mrs. Blake, the club hostess, presiding. A beautiful rug presented by Mrs. S. J. Wright, and curtains from the same donor, completely transformed the appearance of the reception room, where a large table decorated with great yellow chrysanthemums, was spread, and from which refreshments were served.

Next Monday Professor Conover of Delaware College will address the club.

St. Thomas Guild Has Social Evening

That the Guild of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church is becoming a more important factor in the affairs of the Church was demonstrated Monday night when more than fifty members attended the monthly meeting held in the parish house. One of the features of the evening was the social which followed the business session. There was singing and dancing after which refreshments consisting of suetknot, hot frankfurters, mashed potatoes, rolls and coffee. The hostesses were Mrs. Dobson, Mrs. Getty and Mrs. Spruagel.

President David C. Rose presided at the business meeting and interesting reports were received from the heads of the various church organizations. Plans were made for an apron sale to be held early in December and everyone present promised an apron. It was also decided to hold a special social once each month for the young people of the parish.

Rectifying Napoleon's Error

James M. Beck, formerly assistant attorney general of the United States, recalls in Harper's for September a saying of the banished Bonaparte, uttered while the ex-emperor was in a reminiscent mood, Napoleon declared: "I made the mistake of my career when I had the opportunity that I did not remove the Hohenzollerns from the throne of Prussia. As long as this house reigns, and until the red cap of liberty is erected in Germany, there will be no peace in Europe."

Bonaparte knew a good deal about the Hohenzollerns. He had studied them, their history and their temper. Furthermore, he was familiar with the evils and fruits of despotic rule as the devil is familiar with the evils of sin and its fruits. Being through with his life so far as anything worth while in it was concerned, he was in an eminently good position to see clearly and prophesy accurately. As a retired despot he was an expert. How much of an expert we can judge by remembering that just a century after he made what he termed the mistake of his career, the whole world is trying to rectify that error and uproot the evil he allowed to persist.—Detroit Free Press.

Newark Boy In France

Mrs. H. R. Collison, of Cleveland Avenue, Newark, has received a letter from her son, D. R. Mercer, dated October 11th. On Active Service, with the American Expeditionary Forces in France. The writer is sergeant in the 76th Company, Sixth Regiment. The stationery bears the red triangular imprint of the American Red Cross, and reads as follows:

My dear Mother:
I am very well and happy and wonder if you all are the same. Please write to me for I am feeling worried now and must hear from you soon. * * * I will send you something nice if I can find any place to buy. If Major Jacobs leaves for here please let me know so I may look him up over here. I will tell you some interesting stories when I return. There is nothing I want unless you can send me some Piedmont cigarettes which would go good. * * * I will send a box for the boys Xmas if I can. I await a letter from you and wish you all much happiness. May God bless you all.

Mr. Carpenter Organizes Singing Class

An interesting new feature at the Women's College is the introduction of chorus singing. The need for this has long been felt, and the students and enthusiastic over the arrangements made. Mr. Leslie T. Carpenter, of Wilmington, began a series of lessons on Wednesday last, and each Wednesday hereafter the student body will have a lesson held in the chapel.

PEOPLES' COLUMN

Gifts and Prayers For The Soldiers of Mercy

Wilmington, Del.
My Dear Miss Wilson:
In the Literary Digest for October 29, 1917, page 28, is an article on Red Cross Nurses, concluding with the "soliloquy of a war nurse."

It is too long for me to quote in full but the gist of it is that "no one speaks of offering prayers for nurses, yet the mortality among nurses is not low, they tell me. Personally, I would love to think of prayers going up for me while I am on the sea in a transport and while I am in the field hospitals."

"The papers are filled with stories of comfort kits and tobacco funds and woolen sweaters and socks—it's fine, yet I wonder if people are going to think of us over there? Think of us as in need of woolen garments and prayerful thoughts and other things that soldiers of mercy—for that is what we are—need as well as soldiers who are bearing rifles.

"People haven't thought of this, I suppose. It's a new idea to me, frankly. I've been wondering about it all day."
It's a new idea to me, too, and since reading it I have observed the gratification of her thoughts—your appeal last week for Christmas presents for the soldiers said nothing of the nurses. Are they being cared for, or have they been overlooked and forgotten? Home means so much to women—won't they be homesick and in need of cheer too?

I attended services yesterday morning at one of the big churches here. Warm praise and an earnest prayer was made for the soldiers "who bore the rifles," but no reference whatever was made of the "soldiers of mercy."

Sincerely,
ELEANOR B. COOCH.

How To Send Gifts To Soldiers In France

There are two ways to get Christmas presents to the American troops in France for those who wish to send packages independent of any organization to the American soldiers in France.

The postoffice department will take Christmas parcels up to 7 pounds in weight when they have been inspected by the postmaster and certified to contain no dangerous or other prohibited articles.

Such mail should be addressed with the name of the sender, the regiment and company, or other unit, to which he belongs, and "American Expeditionary Forces," and be conspicuously marked "Christmas Parcel."

In addition to the postal service the war department will take Christmas boxes up to 20 pounds in weight if they are packed in strong wooden boxes, not to exceed two cubic feet in volume, well strapped, and with a hinged or screw top so that they can be easily examined by the military authorities, and contain no inflammable explosive or other prohibited matter. Such articles should be addressed as follows:—

NAME OF SOLDIER.
Care of Commanding General,
Unit to which he belongs,
Port of Embarkation, Pier 1,
Hoboken, N. J.

No perishable food products other than those enclosed in cans or glass jars should be packed in any such shipment.

The parcel post matter should be marked "Christmas Box" and should reach the Commanding General, Port of Embarkation, Hoboken, N. J., Pier 1, on or before December 5, 1917.

The postoffice department warns everybody that any parcel mailed after November 15 may not reach the Hoboken pier in time to catch Sammie's Christmas gift boat. Therefore that date is official "last mailing day" for the folk who stay at home and who want to remember the boys "Some-where in France."

The rate of postage on all parcel post matter intended for men in the service abroad, whether sent through the mail service direct under the 7-pound limit or sent in care of the Commanding General, Port of Embarkation, for delivery, by military authorities to the addresses, is 12 cents a pound.

If you want to send a gift to any Sammie, without designating him by name, address the parcel care American Red Cross, American Expeditionary Forces, France. Label it "Christmas Parcel," and, if you wish "For American Soldier Who Hasn't a Christmas Gift."

The regulations and directions given above do not apply to parcels mailed now or later to American soldiers in training camps or cantonments in the United States.

Chapel Talks At W. C. D.

On Tuesday morning, October 30, the students of W. C. D. listened to an excellent talk by the physical director, Miss Mary Bigelow. Her subject was "Posture." Miss Bigelow made three points that are well worth the attention of every one. She said that a girl at first acquaintance is judged by three things: 1st, How she speaks her mother tongue; 2nd, How she carries herself; 3rd, How she puts her clothes on.

Dr. Harter of Delaware College spoke in chapel on Wednesday morning. His subject was "Astronomy."

Professor J. E. Moore of Delaware College spoke at chapel on Thursday morning on "The Art of Cooking," and, being a man, he gave a humorous talk on the unfamiliar subject. It was a novel address and was received with enthusiasm by the girls.

On Friday morning Professor

Mary E. Rich talked on "Education: its Relation to Life." She told of the new schools in the Middle West, where the children are taught by actual doing, not by theory. She also made the point that is just coming into prominence, that the child has the power to do original thinking, and that education is the only good means of training that power.

WOMEN KNITTERS EVERYWHERE

Montana Writer Gives Expression To Feeling Over The Land

A writer from Montana in a recent issue of the Philadelphia Public Ledger discusses "the tie that binds" women workers throughout the country as follows:

Out there in central Montana, and I doubt not in every agricultural State in the Union, the women are all knitting. We don't neglect our housework to do it, either; we can't. Not one woman in forty has a maid. Our men must be fed, our washing and cleaning done, the butter made, our poultry care for. But when we sit down to rest we knit. In some way it connects us with this great war as nothing else does. We rarely see a uniform or hear a band—what the papers tell us is all we know of it. Our knitting is the link that makes us feel ourselves a part of the great tragedy that unites us in sisterhood with the patient workers in France and Belgium.

I took some yarn last week to an old Norwegian woman, a neighbor. I had asked her, through her daughter-in-law, if she would knit for the Red Cross. Her face lighted up as she said, "Yes, I have knit all my life; why shouldn't I knit for the soldiers?" She started right away when I brought the yarn, her daughter translating the directions and her little grandson leaning against her lap, watching her. God forbid that they shall have to fight, but if they do, surely the recollection of this scene will be an inspiration to them.

We earn our money for yarn by giving dances at our community hall, the Red Cross women serving supper. At one of these dances, just before the first contingent of drafted men left, I was acting as cashier on a high stool, with my knitting beside me. One of our soldier boys, who had volunteered to go ahead of his turn, came up to pay for his supper. I said, "No, we don't let our soldiers pay"; and touching my knitting, "it's all for you boys, all we earn tonight." He replied earnestly, "Mrs. B., you don't know what it is to us to feel that you folks at home are all behind us." Well, we are. And, though I bake my johnnycake every day and economize on sugar and bacon, I never feel so surely that I am "doing my bit" as when I sit knitting, and as the yarn slips through my fingers I visualize the men in the trenches, on the ships, in the airplanes, and hope the work of my hands may bring comfort to some brave soldier somewhere.

Card of Thanks

Mrs. Nan B. Kennedy wishes to express her thanks to the friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and death of her father, Evan W. Lewis; for flowers, carriages, automobiles; and to Mrs. J. P. Cann, for her singing at the funeral.

Household Hints

One of the handiest small things in a kitchen is a nutmeg grater. If the cake burns on the bottom, or if the toast scorches along the edges, the burned part is removed easily and quickly with the nutmeg grater. It is much more quickly done than with a knife, and the result is far neater.

DOG FINDS WAY HOME

Travels Seven Hundred Miles Without Assistance

Thin, unkempt, hungry and showing every evidence of his long journey back home, Kaiser, a water spaniel owned by W. Horace Long, of Lansdowne, Pa., trotted through Wilmington one day last week, on its way home from Camp Hancock, S. C. It reached its owner's home, at Lansdowne, on Friday, having travelled 700 miles, through South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania.

It had been taken by members of Company C, First Pennsylvania Infantry, to Camp Hancock. Company C was encamped at Griffith Lake near Lansdowne for several weeks during which Kaiser became a great pet with the boys of the company, because he could retrieve so well. When the regiment was ordered to George, Kaiser was taken along.

How the animal made his way back home is a mystery. The license tag was missing from the dog's collar, and Saturday morning its owner journeyed to Media and took out a new license.

BENEFITS OF THE COW TESTING ORGANIZATION

Farmers Urged To Join By
New County Agent,
R. O. Bausman

Due to the high price of feed and the scarcity and high price of labor some few farmers of the county are considering disposing of their dairy herd. When one takes a broader view of the situation, it would seem that this is poor policy. Not for years has there been the scarcity of dairy cattle and the demand for dairy products as there is at this time. Mr. Hoover tells us that Europe is 33,000,000 short of food animals and that even in the United States the production of dairy cattle has not kept pace with the increase in population. According to the number of cows in the United States in 1890 and the increase in population since, we are about 4,559,000 dairy cows short.

On the other hand the increase in exportation of dairy products is enormous. According to Mr. Hoover our exports of butter since the war have increased from about 4,000,000 to about 27,000,000 pounds. The exportation of other dairy products has increased in like proportion. The greatest increase however, in any class of dairy products has been in condensed milk, which has increased from a scant 17,000,000 pounds to 259,000,000 in 1917 and still on the increase. Furthermore Europe knows well where she has exported her best breeding stock and when the war clears up, she is going to draw on American dairy cattle by the thousands to rebuild her destroyed herds.

It seems obvious then that the dairy business of the United States has a great future and the farmer, who maintains his herd thru this trying period will be in a position to reap his just returns.

The Diamond State Cow Testing Association has just completed its year and for the reasons just alluded to, it is the earnest desire of the officers to reorganize the association and thus enable the farmers of New Castle County to co-operate in improving their herds and in increasing their milk production and thus do their bit in meeting this shortage of dairy products.

The cow testing has ever been an important organization in the profitable production of dairy products but in this day of high priced feed and high price and shortage of labor, it is of unusual value. By having the herd tested thru a testing association the poor cows are detected and can be disposed of before further loss occurs. The good cows can thus be given better attention and the heifer calves raised from these cows. During this last year 74 inferior cows were sold from the association. The loss that was prevented is obvious. A good cow still continues to return a good profit but the poor cow returns a greater loss. A good cow requires little more labor than a poor one. At this time it is highly profitable to keep better and perhaps fewer cows. Many cases can be cited in the cow testing associations over the country where a herd was reduced to half thru the disposal of the inferior cows and the profits from the herd were increased. This policy of better and if necessary fewer cows is highly advisable during this period of scarcity and high price of labor.

The association is composed of twenty six members. The tester who is a practical dairyman and who has had special training in the dairy business, spends one day each month with each member of the association. While he is there, he not only weighs the milk and tests it for butterfat and calculates the profit or loss of each cow for the month but he is often able to make profitable suggestions. He is always glad to talk over any question of interest as feeding and breeding of dairy cattle, marketing dairy products or growing crops for the dairy and many of the members have profited by these monthly visits. Moreover the tester visits these twenty six different farms every month and is in a position to bring ideas from other farms. If a man has stock for sale the tester can often place them for him in the association. The farmers in some associations have profited by buying feed in car load lots through the association. A considerable saving can be obtained by purchasing feed in larger quantities.

However probably the most important service that the cow testing association has rendered the farmer this fall is what it has done in raising the price of milk. The average milk dealer is not familiar with conditions on the farm. Many of them were of the impression

Before adjournment immediate that the farmer was making very comfortable profits from his cows. When the Milk Producers' Association took the figures from the books of the Cow Testing Association and showed the milk dealers that the average farmer was not making money on his cows and that many were actually losing money as prices existed, the dealers felt far more kindly towards allowing the farmers the proposed increase in price for their milk and butter. The fact that the cow testing association has been able to furnish the Milk Producers' Association with the figures on the cost of production of milk and butter and the Milk Producers in turn presented them to the dealers, has been an important factor in enabling the farmer to secure a better price for his dairy products.

The County Agent has been placed in the county at the disposal of the farmers. He can do more and better work thru an organization. Join the Cow Testing Association and give him a chance.

War Time Economy In Fashions

War seems to have affected every item of daily life—and dress is not the least conspicuous of these. It is curious how much the latest styles have resulted from the insistent economies of war; it is noticeable in line, in materials, in color, in trimmings. To quote from an article in Good House-keeping for November: "Although there has been no decided change in the silhouette, the winter clothes can be distinguished by their narrower skirts. And for the woman who makes her own clothes, there is nothing quite so satisfying as to find models that are simple enough in line to be easily made, and yet smart enough to give the appearance of coming from the best New York shops. The long-waisted line, the gathered tunic with the deep band of fur, and the tighter underskirt, are the newest notes of the season. The top coat worn with the one-piece dress is replacing, to a great extent, the tailored suit.

Whether it is for complete plumbing work for a new house or a small repair job, any service we perform large or small receives the same careful attention and skillful handling. We have the experience, the knowledge and the facilities to do any job right, at the right figures. Get our estimates.

W. D. DEAN NEWARK, DEL.

The Government First!

Tremendous as is the present activity in the marshaling of men, food and munitions for the conduct of the war, the placing of the Bell System unqualifiedly at the disposal of the Government has relieved one paramount factor of preparedness.

Yet with the growth of our military establishment, the demands upon the Bell System are bound to magnify. Increased activity in commerce and industry also means more need for telephone service by private business. But there must be a careful weighing of the importance of the two.

Every American who wants to help win this war should bear in mind that private service must give way to Government service should emergencies require that everything be subordinated to the telephone demands of the Army, the Navy and other representatives of the Government.

Br-r-r-r! Cold Weather at Hand! You'll need a Snellenburg Overcoat Now!

We say Snellenburg, because there's true comfort in our Overcoats with weight reduced to a minimum, yet retaining a maximum of warmth. They are made according to Snellenburg specifications and that means you get the best in style, fabric and workmanship.

They are all wool; the materials were purchased before advance in prices and as a result of our foresight you are benefited.

Coming direct from our own factory to you means the elimination of a "middleman's" profit, too--a saving for you of from 25% to 33 1-3%.

Now, a word as to the styles-- It seems as though the models for this year are better that ever before. That, of course, is due to the fact that military ideas prevail and there are so many effects to be had on these lines.

Then there is--but, the most vivid descriptions of the many styles would fail to do justice to the garments themselves, so we would suggest your coming in and looking 'em over. That is really the only and best way to fully realize the enormity of our stock and to learn the new fashions and fabrics.

Bear in mind also that our prices are so arranged that all purses may be suited.

MILLION STRICKEN WITH WHITE PLAGUE

Dr. Charles J. Hatfield of New York, executive secretary of the National Association for the Prevention and Study of Tuberculosis, in an address before the North Atlantic Tuberculosis Congress last week declared:

"The cases of tuberculosis in this country are far greater than at first supposed. It has been recently discovered that instead of 1,000,000 active cases, there are nearly 3,000,000 cases.

"This does not mean that there has been any increase in the disease, but more cases have been discovered by modern methods used in its detection. Therefore, the national program must comprise primary education in the prevention of the disease—not only for the general public, but to reach the army cantonments and the medical profession.

"All cases of men who are rejected in the National Army must be followed up and cared for. To provide funds for this work, the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals this year must be trebled."

Save The Potatoes

Potato peeling and potato culls are frequently thrown away. At a time when economy in food is so necessary we should use every part of food stuffs fit for human consumption. By the use of the recipe given below culls, bruised and otherwise unmarketable potatoes and potato peelings may be used.

Equipment Needed

Two clean pans, vats, or galvanized tubs, one large pan, one cylindrical grater, plenty of clean water, and wiping cloths. Instead of the grater a sausage grinder can be used to advantage for the grating of the potatoes. When using the sausage grinder it will be necessary to cut the potatoes into small pieces before feeding into the grinder.

Recipe For Making Home-made Potato Starch

Wash potatoes thoroughly, using plenty of water and a vegetable scrubbing brush. Seat yourself in a convenient position, with a vessel containing potatoes at one side and an empty vessel for the gratings on the other. Place dish pan with grater on low small table or upon your lap. Without removing the skins, grate your potatoes by hand or run them through the sausage grinder. Empty gratings into the second tub or vessel. Continue this operation until your vessel is one-half full of pulp, or until your potatoes have been used.

Pour clean water over the gratings. Stir well, so as to saturate every particle with water. Allow to stand for a little time and then remove the peelings and other floating material from the top of the water. Stir again, add a little more clean water and allow the same to stand for several hours or over night. The starch granules will settle to the bottom and all pulp and potato skins will rise to the top of the water or settle on top of the starch granules. Remove the water carefully, also the pulp and skins. Scrape the dark coat off the top of the starch formation, being careful not to remove any of the starch.

A second time pour fresh, clean water over the starch. Stir thoroughly. Allow to stand for several hours or over night. Remove water and pulp as before and add another application of water. Continue this as often as is necessary to render your starch perfectly white and free, not only from pulp but from all sand or sediment of any kind which is not pure starch.

This operation can be appreciated somewhat by rinsing the first time and then straining the pulp, starch, and water through cheese-cloth or cloth of finer mesh.

Potato starch is a healthful food and can be used in many ways for food purposes, in the making of

DELAWARE WINS FROM GALLAUDET

Forward Passes, Stewart To McCaughan, Resulted In Two Touchdowns

Delaware College defeated Gallaudet by the score of 13 to 7, in one of the hardest fought games of the season. The visitors played a strong game, but Delaware got the breaks and won out. Both teams did all their scoring in the first half. Delaware made both touchdowns by means of forward passes, Stewart to McCaughan. Delaware kicked off and on the first play Gallaudet fumbled. Delaware made a first down and then a long forward pass for a touchdown, Wilson kicking the goal. Gallaudet came back strong and by end runs and line plunging run the ball down the field for a touchdown in the first period. Wilson took the ball over and Deer kicked the goal, making the score 7 to 1 the first quarter. In the second quarter Delaware again took the lead, when McCaughan caught Stewart's forward pass and ran 15 yards for a touchdown. Wilson missed the goal. Neither team scored in the last half. Deer played a great game for the visitors. The lineup-up:

SCHOOL FOR DRAFTED MEN PLANNED BY DELAWARE

College In Co-operation With Government

Delaware College Department of Engineering, under the direction of Dean A. R. Cullimore, is considering the establishment of two schools, one at Newark, and one in Wilmington, to train conscripted men of the second and following drafts, in wireless and buzzer work, to the end that such men be certified to the army as capable operators. Delaware College has been requested through the Federal Board for Vocational Education to take up this work. Men so trained, it is stated, will be placed in the Signal Corps as Corporals or Sergeants at a wage of from $36.00 to $51.00 per month with a possibility of the rank of Master Signal Electrician at $81.00 per month.

Tuition will be absolutely free, Delaware College taking up the work as war service, and there will be no cost whatever to the student. The plan affords an opportunity whereby men of intelligence may find their proper place in the conduct of the war. The following letter is being mailed to all drafted men, none other than whom are eligible:

My dear Mr. _____
According to our information your name appears on the list of drafted men of New Castle County. As Dean of Engineering, I am writing you this letter to lay before you a proposition which has been laid before this school by the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

The proposition is this: The United States Government must secure 15,000 radio or buzzer operators at the earliest possible date for service in the Signal Corps of the Army. At the request of the Signal Corps the Federal Board has asked this school to assist in the training of such operators from the ranks of the men who are shortly to be called to the cantonments.

We are informed by the authorities at Washington that drafted men who attain the required proficiency are practically certain of rapid promotion and increased pay in the Army. The rank of corporal and sergeant with a wage of from $36.00 to $51.00 a month awaits the majority of the men thus trained, and in proportion as a man so instructed shows his ability and interest, promotion lies ahead of him to the position of Master Signal Electrician, with a wage of $81.00 a month.

It may interest you to know that previous to the time when the Federal Board for Vocational Education undertook to co-operate with the United States Army in enlisting the support of this school, similar classes were started in a score or more of evening schools, and wherever these classes have been held, men due for service have eagerly responded on the theory that it is better both for them personally and for the welfare of the country that when they enter the cantonments they should be trained to do a specific job.

Our plan is to hold an evening class at Newark on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday in Delaware College. This class will begin November 15 and will continue indefinitely. It is the object of this class to train radio or buzzer operators so as to be able to receive and send a minimum of 20 words of 5 letters each per minute. The desired standard would be reached by the average student in about 200 hours some would require less than this time, some more.

There will be no charge whatever for the course. Instructors and equipment being supplied to you without cost.

The classes will be limited only to conscripted men due for the second and following drafts, and you can be assured that the general progress of the class will not be held back by inability of some members to maintain high standards of progress and efficiency.

Please let me know at your earliest convenience your decision, no matter whether or not you decide that you can spare the time. The authorities at Washington have already called upon us for a report as to our enrollment.

Very truly yours,
ALLAN R. CULLIMORE.

Arts and Science Faculty Organizes

On Friday afternoon the members of the Faculty in the Arts and Science department organized and elected Dean Edward Laurence

Smith as their president. Any instructor who teaches any Arts and Science study is eligible for membership.

This, in fact, is really a reorganization of professors in Arts and Science. The association existed once in the past, but it took on so many of the characteristics of a legislative caucus in the general Faculty meetings that it had to be discontinued. Now, although the entire Faculty will continue to meet at least once a month, department Faculties will probably have more frequent meetings. So many questions arise which concern only one department that this division of labor was deemed advisable.

The Glee Club

The Delaware College Glee Club was organized Wednesday evening,

November 1, under the able direction of Mr. T. S. Carpenter. Mr. Carpenter is choir director and organist at Trinity Church in Wilmington and his ability is recognized throughout the community. The first rehearsal of the Glee Club was well attended and the prospects for a successful organization are most promising.

On Thursday a business meeting of the club was held at which E. E. Ewing '19, was elected leader and C. I. Sutfin '19, was elected representative to the Music Council. It was decided at this meeting that rehearsals should be held every Thursday evening from 6:30 until 8 o'clock. Plans were also discussed for a concert to be given sometime in the early part of December.
