May Day Activities To Include Dances In Rainbow Theme

"Rainbow Fantasy" is the theme of the 1956 May Day festivities. Ten dances and a grand finale will be featured in the program. The Maypole dance will be first rather than last. "Blue Mirage," "Deep Purple," "Golden Violins" and "Cherry Pink" are but a few of the selections to be played.

May Day, May 12, is Spring Reunion day for all the alumni. Following the performances, there will be a tea on the green facing Warner Hall. At four p. m. there will be a program on Memorial Library steps consisting of Men's Chorus, Women's Chorus, A Capella Choir and the Symphonic Band.

Nesta Warfield is general chairman of the May Day festivities and is assisted by co-chairmen Shirley Riley and Fifi Dawson. All the dances are under the charge of Lee Seemer and the story was written by Mary Lou Miles. Posters and decorations will be provided by Jay Rowland and Fifi Dawson, art directors.

Because of the large number of dancers, two Maypoles may be needed for the first time in the history of May Day at the university. Shirley Tibbitt and Betsy Yeatman are in charge of the Maypole activities.

Dr. Kirchner Leaves For Rome In May To Continue Study

Dr. Walther Kirchner, professor of history, now on leave as a member of the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, will depart in May for Rome.

From there he will visit Vienna, Munich and England, in order to continue his research in the field of Russian-Western relations. The American Philosophical Society has given him a grant for the pursuance of these studies.

ACP Gives 'FirstClass' Rating To REVIEW For Last Semester

The Associated Collegiate Press awarded the REVIEW a "first-class" rating for first semester issues of the school year, 1955-56.

Graded on three counts: coverage, content and physical properties, the paper was cited for its news sources, its feature stories, and sports coverage.

The REVIEW was classified as a weekly with an enrollment of 2000-1251. Total points scored was 1605, causing the paper to lose top rating. All-American, by only 45 points.

Under coverage, the news sources were rated 'superior,' while excellent ratings were given to balance and creativeness. Treatment of copy and vitality received a score equal to 'very good.' The points in this section totaled 390.

Rated 'excellent' under content, were news stories, style, leads and copyreading. Speech and interview stories were rated 'very good.' 360 points was the total for this grouping. A sub-division of the general heading, content, was the department pages, such as the editorial page which received a rating of 'excellent,' and sports page, which was 'superior' in coverage and 'very good' in writing. The department pages points totaled 295.

Under physical properties, front page makeup and inside page makeup is rated. The front page was 'excellent,' and specific other physical aspects of the page also received a rating of 'excellent.' Also recognized under physical properties was sports display.

The REVIEW submits its paper each year to this service, requesting a rating and general critical survey in order to discover its errors and means of improving itself.

Last year third and first class ratings were awarded to the REVIEW for the fall and spring semester respectively.

Address By Dean Roy Nichols Highlights Honors Day Program

Outstanding students at the university were honored yesterday at the Honors Day Program in Mitchell Hall at 11 a. m. and at the Military Parade at 1:15 p. m. in the afternoon.

Dr. Roy T. Nichols, vice provost at the University of Pennsylvania, gave the main address after president John A. Perkins had completed the awarding of the prizes at the morning program.

Junior Men Become Frosh Counselors Under New Program

To assist men students in adjusting to college life, a student counseling program will be initiated here.

Beginning in the fall, each new male student will be assigned to a counselor, who will acquaint him with the university and answer any questions he may have.

The need for such a program has been increasing in recent years. The women junior counselors have been questioned by the male freshmen and the girls have previously referred the students to the counselor (Dr. Wilfred Pemberton and Miss Margaret Black) offices. The boys didn't know whom to turn to with their questions. Now it will be possible to be certain of whom to see if they have any problems.

Letters are being sent this week to recommended undergraduate men to participate in the program. Although most of the counselors will be juniors, there will be some sophomores and seniors included. Male students who feel they would be interested in being a counselor, but whose names have not been turned in, are urged to contact Miss Black as soon as possible.

The group will be divided as far as possible to keep the major fields of interest similar, in this way: commuters will be advising commuters, veterans counseling veterans and so forth.

Activities of the counselors include working with their 'protégés' during orientation week in the fall. They will also have periodical meetings throughout the year to explain hour tests, give advice on ways to take notes and so forth.

"The group's main purpose is to make the advisees feel that someone is taking an active interest in them," commented Miss Black. "Our primary concern is to make successful students. But if students feel that no one cares what they do, this cannot be accomplished."

Dr. Robert Hillyer Concludes Reading

As has been his custom in the past, Dr. Robert S. Hillyer, H. Fletcher Brown professor of English Literature, will conclude his series of readings on May 7 in Brown Hall Lounge at 7:30 p. m. with excerpts from his own works.

Readings will include poems from "Collected Verse," "Pattern of a Day," "The Suburb by the Sea" and "Poems for Music." Selections from one or two earlier volumes may also be read, as well as a part of Dr. Hillyer's prize-winning narrative, "The Death of Captain Nemo."

Dr. Nichols topic was "Take Time To Think" or "How Benjamin Franklin would Have Done It."

He stressed the excellence of Franklin's political writing, the care with which he made his scientific investigations and the wide audiences which he was able to attract to consider his ideas. "Communication in Franklin's day was slow and thoughts had to be carefully worked out and expressed. While now communications are faster and a lack of clarity of thought and accuracy of expression often results," stated Dr. Nichols.

He emphasized the fact that "Franklin superbly demonstrates the value of thought." The men of Franklin's time had time to think and to write out the fruits of their thinking, a thing which their successors of the twentieth century don't have. "Somehow," according to Dr. Nichols, "we too must learn to take more time to think."

The prizes given by President Perkins at the morning exercises and the students honored by receiving them were: Alpha Zeta Prize, Raymond R. Saatchian; American Association of University Women Prize, Edith Ann Priestly Knotts; American Association of Teachers of Spanish medal, William J. McCorkle; American Chemical Society Prizes, Martha Lou Morgan, Roger Lea Thornton and Richard (Continued on Page 8)

City High Schools To Be Host May 8 To Campus Choir

A Cappella Choir members will make a tour of high schools in and around Wilmington on May 8.

By 10:30 a. m. the group will be at William Penn High School, where they will be served lunch. The final concert of the tour will be given at Pierre S. duPont High School at 1:15 p. m.

The concert program will open with five Mozart pieces with Elaine Labour as the featured soloist. Several lighter selections will follow, including "Jesus Walked This Lonesome Valley," a spiritual, with Alice Matuzeski as soloist; "Black Jack Davy," with Frances Hamilton singing the soprano solo and a medley of songs by Sigmund Romberg entitled "A Tribute to Romberg."

Bradford To Speak At Biological Meeting

Dr. John C. Bradford will be speaker at the final meeting of Beta Beta Beta Biological Society at 7:30 p. m., May 10 in Brown Hall Lounge.

Dr. John C. Bradford, a 1928 graduate from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, will speak on the topic of osteopathy as a career and the osteopath's role in the community. A question and answer period will follow the talk.

Anyone interested in this field is welcome to attend the meeting on May 10.

Loose Goose, Fire Alarm Bug Subject Of Intensive Search

By Ruth A. Levy

The slander of the gander or who goosed the goose? Is the topic of conversation these days.

It seems that one of these large white fowls mysteriously visited Smyth Hall at 1:30 a. m. on April 27, and after being 'subjected' to the stampede of 200 girls during an impromptu fire drill, he serenaded the fair but sleepy damsels of New Castle and Cannon Halls — but from the outside this time.

"Inside Job"

How the goose got into the dorm is not known. One of Smyth's door keys had been missing, however, for a couple of days, which seems mighty suspicious. The stolen key is said to turn on the alarm system which is connected with the back and this system is turned on after 7 p. m. So the bird was let in quietly through one of these entrances.

Then the unknown individual turned on one of the fire alarms. Bedlam followed. As this drill was totally unexpected, some thought it was a real fire. It would be hard to say whether the goose or the girls were more startled.

It took the combined efforts of house directors, Mrs. Pauline Forwood and Mrs. Elizabeth Dressner, and the maintenance men to find and fix the broken alarm. Mrs. Dressner evicted the struggling bird.

Shades of Mother Goose

Waking up to the squawking and squeaking of a frightened and bewildered goose under the windows created quite a sensation in New Castle and Cannon Halls.

All types of reactions occurred. Some students, studying for a psychology exam on the far side of the building, with the door closed didn't hear the commotion. Consequently, when one of the aroused sleepers came rushing into the room yelling that a big goose was outside, the former thought the poor girl was having hallucinations! Or at least illusions!

But when the doubters were shown proof in back and white, or rather, white (goose) on black (night), they were convinced.

The whereabouts of the bird after this episode is not known. Whether it wandered back to its home unaided or was led away will remain, for the present at least, an unsolved crime.

Of course one may speculate; a goose and two chickens were spirited away from the agricultural farm.

Mother Goose seems to have predicted this event centuries ago when she wrote:

"Goosey, Goosey Gander,
Whither shall she wander,
Upstairs and downstairs
And in my lady's chamber."

Barracks Resident Move To Kent Dorm

Amid the downpour on April 24, the girls of the barracks, Topsy and Turvey, could be seen scurrying back and forth carrying suitcase after suitcase of clothes, books and numerous other articles.

Their destination was Kent Hall Dorm which was officially opened on that date.

With the girls came Mrs. Essie McCue, who has been house director of Topsy, Turvey and Boletus for two years.

Kent, which has a living capacity of sixty, has approximately ten rooms on four of the floors. The basement floor contains a game room and a laundry room.

The lounge is on the second floor, and extends the width of the building. One side of it has cupboards built into the wall, the tops of which are glass.

The girls were notified rather suddenly on April 20 that they were to be moved into the new dorm; three days after this they drew for rooms. Standard procedure was followed in the choosing of the rooms.

Three of the floors are now occupied. The former occupants of Topsy took the second floor; Turvey the fourth and the third was split between the two groups.

This marks the second year in succession that the top award at the Intercollegiate Student Chemists Convention has been received by a Delaware senior. The organization includes colleges and universities from Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware.

It was also announced at the meeting that the 1957 convention of the association will be held next April at Delaware.

Dr. A. S. Feldman Receives Position Of Assistant Sociology Professor

Dr. Arnold S. Feldman has been appointed assistant professor of sociology and anthropology to replace Dr. Ralph S. Holloway who recently resigned his position as assistant professor of sociology at the university.

Dr. Frederick Parker, chairman of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, comments on Dr. Feldman: "As the department embarks upon the next stage of development we want to place added emphasis on research. Dr. Feldman's capability in research was one of the big factors, in addition to his teaching ability, that led to his selection by the university."

Dr. Feldman holds an honorary faculty position at Princeton. He also has published, based on research done in Puerto Rico, three joint authorship articles and a book which will appear in the next few months.

Dr. Ralph S. Holloway, whom Dr. Feldman replaces, is joining the faculty of Minnesota State Teachers College at Saint Cloud as assistant professor of sociology in the social science division.

Matt Shilling Takes The Helm Leads Tri-Beta On Excursion

Thanks to the rowing of Matt Shilling, six U of D members were able to visit the Marine Biology Laboratory at Lewes. The group consisted of Tri-Beta members including Doty Polhemus, Barbara Ponsell, Ester McDaniel, Joan Brain, Dr. Herbert S. Howard, faculty advisor of Tri-Beta and Matt Shilling, president. It wasn't until the return trip that they discovered how to run the motor.

The Marine Lab is situated off the coast of Lewes on an island belonging to the university Marine Biology Department. Inspection of the lab showed numerous collections of sea life in a modern set-up. As of yet the entire lab has not been put to use.

After the visit the group collected bugs and beetles along the shore, with Dr. Howard explaining the environmental factors of various insects and their symbolic relations with one another.

Doty Polhemus and Barbara Ponsell then headed for home, while the remaining members went on to Dewey and Bethany Beaches and Indian River Inlet to gather more information concerning inter tidal life.

In Commemoration of

Dean Squire

Dean Francis H. Squire was one of the university's most beloved administrators both to the students and the faculty. His untimely death last week at the age of 53 came as a great shock to the university as a whole.

Dean Squire, apparently in good health, left for England in March on a year's leave to continue his education. Already considered an expert in the field of seventeenth and eighteenth century English history, he went abroad to complete research for an historical account of seventeenth century English.

As an administrator, he gained the respect of both students and faculty. The students recall his ever-willingness to talk to them and to counsel them in their problems. He was always a friend to the faculty members who worked under him. His title of Dean of the University was symbolic of the rank he held over the other deans and also the respect he had among the administrators.

Dean Squire was tall and handsome with graying hair. He had a personality to match his good looks, and for this reason he will be sorely missed in Hullahen Hall and on the campus.

We think that it would be fitting to honor Dean Squire with a memorial or a scholarship fund. Perhaps the greatest tribute of all would be to have one of the new university buildings named after him. Maybe the new student union building could be called Squire Hall.

Big Reason

Small 'Review'

Small Review this week? You're right! This little eight-page edition (mostly ads) is a welcome relief to a staff that has been struggling each week throughout the year to publish twelve and sixteen pages.

The move was prompted by a couple of good reasons. First of all, the paper is nearing the limit of its budgetary allotment from the Student Government Association. But this is not the main reason. By careful calculations, the business manager has figured out that by running on regular issues we should be able to "just" make it. The Review feels, in addition, that it is the duty of the paper to present all the news to the students.

The whole thing then, boils down to the fact that a rash of hour exams has made it impossible for many of the editors to devote their full-time to the paper this week. Three tests in two days is a bitter pill to swallow when there are two Review work nights thrown in; and this is the problem that faces the paper this week.

Here's to a bigger and better Review next week.

Offstage

By George Spelvin

Well — today is the last chance to vote for your choice of Delaware's best thespians. You have until five o'clock today to turn your ballot into the REVIEW office. The winners will be announced in next week's issue.

The George Spelvin Award consists of a certificate of the campus' recognition; we are sorry they could not be displayed in the show cases, but they have not been completely finished.

Remember — five o'clock today — your ballots must be in the REVIEW office.

The theatre season on Delaware's campus is drawing to a close. "Sleeping Beauty," the Children's Theatre Production, plays its last two performances at William Penn High School, New Castle, tomorrow and next Thursday the last laboratory show will seal the E-52 season.

For the lab show two students are assuming the title of director, Richard Sutton, a junior political science major, and Peter Ellsworth, a junior drama major. Sutton is directing Dr. Rob called "The Engagement Ring," and Ellsworth is helping commemorate Mozart's bi-centennial with a play, "The Gray Steward," depicting the last few moments of the great musician's life. The show will start at 8:15 in Mitchell Hall.

Streams of congratulations are in order. First to Thomas Waters, the new president of the E-52 University Theatre; Connie Goodman, vice-president; Elaine Steuber, secretary; and George Boyd, treasurer. All these officers have been extremely active in the past shows and we all know they will do a great job. The president has appointed the two main committee head for next season: Peter Ellsworth, production manager, and Richard Stewart, play selection and casting chairman, hadent;7 vb vb vb vb vb vb

Two other E-52 members were honored yesterday at the annual awards assembly in Mitchell Hall. Suzanne Kozak won the Tony Mitchell Acting Award and George Cavey was awarded the University Drama Group Prize for the greatest contribution to the dramatic program of the university. Last year Cavey was the first winner of the Acting Award. Congratulations to both!!!!

The Arches

By Ellin Coffee and Nancy Alvarado

Three more weeks to go gang, and then the axe falls. The theme of the last couple of weeks is "Tomorrow may bring sorrow, so tonight let's all be gay." Any similarity between the opening of this year's column and last year's is purely intentional.

The caper this week was who loosed the goose in Smyth Hall, or should that be, did you hear about the goose that got peeped? We guess that needs a little explanation. Mrs. Dressner and broom assisted by screaming Smythites chased a rather large, white goose out of the hallowed halls of their dorm. The general commotion was assisted by the fact that a fire alarm was, shall we say, mysteriously set off. It was quite a night!

Congratulations go to Miss Janet Hayes, the KA Rose, to Miss Pat Samples, the Phi Tau Sweetheart, and to Mrs. Joan Mealey, the Delta Tau Queen. Best wishes to the new Mr. and Mrs. Randall Christensen. We also want to congratulate Carol Conrad and Dave Tait who became engaged, and Betty Knoff and Perc Ness who are pinned.

Low girl on the totem pole had the advantage this week, room drawing having taken place. It was quite an experience as per usual. You'd think there was a housing shortage. C'est la vie!

Don't squint so people, there's nothing to read between the lines.

May Day Festival To Begin UD Alumni-Alumnae Reunion

The 1956 Alumni-Alumnae reunion will open on May 12.

Mr. William P. Draper, president of the Alumni Association, will not be able to attend the meeting. Mr. Draper, a member of the class of 1930, suffered a heart attack on April 26 and will have to remain at home during his recovery.

"The reunion should be a successful one, however, as approximately 8000 invitations have been sent out," stated Elbert Chance, director of alumni relations. A crowd of 400 is expected to attend.

C. E. Taylor, '11 and Alice Sheldon Taylor '37, are alumni and alumnae reunion chairmen, respectively, for this year's program.

The annual affair has been scheduled for May 12, with formal events beginning at 10 a. m. At this hour the Alumnae Association Executive Council will meet in the Hilarium of Warner Hall and the Alumni Council will assemble in Purcell Hall. Other former students not attending these meetings will be given campus tours by members of the undergraduate student body.

An 11:15 a. m. general alumni membership meeting in Old College Lounge will be followed by the Alumni-Alumnae Reunion luncheon in Kent Dining Hall. At 1:30 p. m., the ladies of the five year reunion classes and the class of 1955 will gather for special meetings.

The annual May Day program under the direction of Miss Beatrice Hartshorn will share the spotlight with the day's sports events. The pageant will take place on the South campus at 2:30 p. m. This year's theme is entitled "Rainbow Fantasy."

A new feature of this year's reunion will be a joint concert by the university band and choral groups under the direction of J. Robert King and Dr. Ivan Trusler. The program, "Music From Broadway," has been scheduled for 4 p. m. on the north steps of the Memorial Library. At the conclusion of this function, alumnae and other women guests are invited to join Bessie B. Collins, dean of women at the university, for dinner at the College Inn at 6:15 p. m.

There will be the Annual Alumni Banquet in Kent Dining Hall at 6 p. m. At this meeting the outstanding Delaware alumnus will be honored and other awards for classes and individuals will be announced.

Fraternally Speaking:—

Sigma Nu

Spring has hit the campus at last. Everyone is stuffing basketball sneakers and bridge tables back in the closet and bringing out golf clubs, tennis rackets and bathing suits. Sigma Nu's big event of the season will be our week-end tonight, tomorrow and Sunday. A formal dinner-dance tonight at the Italian-American Club, highlighted by the crowning of the White Rose Queen for 1956 will start off the weekend. Tomorrow night a house party is planned with Clyde Bessicks and his combo providing entertainment. The weekend will be topped off by a picnic on Sunday.

Following close on our week-end will be Sigma Nu's annual Father and Son banquet. It will be held May 9. The speaker will be "Admiral" Dave Nelson.

Congratulations this week go to Randy Christensen, who was tapped for ODK, and to Miss Carol Conrad and Dave Tait, who announced their engagement last weekend.

Ozzie Crompton

Phi Kappa Tau

The PKT weekend was a big success and will be remembered for many years. At the dance Friday night the long-awaited awards were made, with these results: Pledges Gene Thomas and Crawford Veasey shared the award for the outstanding freshman; Doug Roberts was named the outstanding pledge and Holmes Russell, nominated the biggest chowhound at the dinner, finally gained recognition for his efforts. Miss Pat Samples was announced as the Phi Tau sweetheart for 1956. She is pinned to Brother Bob Clark.

The house resembled a typical rundown shack at the party Saturday night. The walls were decorated with old newspapers and burlap bags. Several bales of hay covered the basement floor. Any tattered and torn piece of cloth made a good costume. Favors for the weekend were provided by a talented artist from New York, who drew caricatures of all the brothers' dates. He was featured both nights, along with Bessicks' combo.

Congratulations to Tom Lennox, who was tapped by Omicron Delta Kappa last week.

Ed Kimmel

Alpha Epsilon Pi

Tonight starts our formal weekend at the Petti Arms to the music of Manny Klein and his band. With this as a beginning, the Apes will travel many miles in search of much fun and enjoyment. These wanderings will take us as far north as Upper Darby and as far down-state as Dover. Sunday's picnic will be spent with the men of OX. Happy hearts look toward Brother Sirkin as his cottage nears completion. At the same time, hopeful hearts look toward the skies in hope of weather not unlike that which we experienced this past weekend.

With the break in the weather, the clacking of red-backed cards can be heard periodically throughout the house. Last Friday night saw a large turn-out for the first big game of the year. The chirping of the waking birds was heard by the last of the Mohicans as they tripped up to bed. For some it was a rather profitable evening; for the others . . . !

Joe Friedman

Alpha Tau Omega

A weekend of hard work and fun has come and passed for the brothers and pledges of Epsilon Rho. On Saturday we went down to Camp Rodney for our annual Help Week project. The brothers supervised and actually worked with the pledges at such menial labor as raking and otherwise cleaning camp sites and preparing the camp for a summer's course of events. The poor, tired pledges returned only to find, to their dismay, that the house needed a good thorough cleaning, too.

Congratulations to Miss Betty Knoff and Brother Perce Ness, who were pinned this past Saturday evening. Another good Tau bites the dust!

Yorke Rhodes

Kappa Alpha

Everybody from the Kastle had a tremendous week end and for once, the weather was decent. Awards were given to Bill Keene for his tall stories as he got the Goober Gorman Perpetual Lyin' Trophy. Wright Poffenberger was given the outstanding pledge award. Stan Lowicki had a great night, receiving the Outstanding Senior award and our newly rejuvenated Scholarship Trophy. KA is proud to have such an asset as Brother Lowicki. Brother Bernie Andrews was the recipient of the Will Fisher Memorial Trophy for Outstanding Service to Kappa Alpha and his girl, Janet Hayes, was chosen Kappa Alpha Rose to complete the evening.

Our new sidewalk was completed just in time for the big affair and much credit is due to Dinny McManus for his work.

One question is being asked at the Kastle now and that is: Where did Charlie Thompson go?

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Brother "Knut" McKelvey is in the "Sig Ep" spotlight this week, after pitching the "Blue Hens" to a 10-0 victory over Haverford College. In winning the game he struck out fifteen men and allowed only six hits. Also in the sports field, Brother Ken Callaway, another "Sig Ep" cinder man, whom I failed to mention in previous columns, is doing a great job this season for the Blue Hen track team.

The brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon wish to thank Theta Chi for the generous invitation to their "weekend". Unless I miss my guess, the "oxen" are going to have quite a few visitors from behind the "Big Red Door." It is certainly good to know that the feelings of one fraternity are shared by another. It is unity such as this that makes fraternities stronger; dissension never does.

Dick Brady

Delta Tau Delta

Another joyous Delt Weekend has passed into history and this one was complete with newsworthy events. First and foremost, Joan Mealey was elected the 1956 Delta Queen, so congratulations are in order for her and her husband, Jack. Secondly, Walt Jebens presented Gail Partenhimer with an engagement ring; the Deltas would like to express best wishes for the future to them both. Last, but not least, Dick Pruett was named as the outstanding pledge; congratulations to Dick for a significant achievement (the calibre of the pledge class is extremely high).

there was a house party in the Shelter, which was highlighted by the girls' hilarious, if somewhat irreverent, parodies of rushing and the fraternity creed. On Sunday a riotous picnic was held on one of the du Pont estates a few miles from Newark; the featured fare was carbonized hot dogs and lukewarm Coca-Cola.

But seriously, it was a great weekend which everyone thoroughly enjoyed. Ben Payne

Pi Kappa Alpha

Let the rains come! The Pike weekend is over and the We couldn't have had two more beautiful days if we had been given a choice. The order of the day is rest and rehabilitation for the rest of the term.

Wednesday saw the brothers and pledges at Smyth Hall serenading Miss Helene Lash. Festivities began at the North East Yacht Club on Friday night.

The young ladies who were fortunate enough to be present at the dinner were the recipients of the shortie nightgowns emblazoned with the Pike Crest.

The high point of the evening came with the crowning of Miss Sue Woodward as Pike dream girl. Pike chapters all over the country are choosing dream girls and I'd be willing to stack ours against any comers. Sue is pinned to brother Ellie Whiteman, and she was forced to call upon his strong arm for support during the presentation. I must say Sue bore up well under the pressure though, considering the circumstances. I sure wouldn't like to be kissed by all the brothers.

So, best wishes to our very own dream girl and tune in next week for a further account of the orgy of April 27.

Ken Cashell

Theta Chi

Well, it has happened at last! the house's most outstanding bachelor has lost his pin. The news shook the Delaware campus last Tuesday morning that Brother Ralph Snowberger released that most prized possession to Miss Elise Wise. Congratulations to you both. Congratulations are also in order for our sweetheart, Miss Jane Frandson, who was tapped for Tassel last week.

Last Saturday night found Harry Nagle up in the Playhouse reviewing Can Can (he said to put his name in the paper). Watch this column next week for more pinnings.

Delaware Looks To Ursinus For Ninth Victory

Sports SLANTS

by HAL BODLEY
Sports Editor

THE INTENTION IS TO WRITE THIS PIECE ON Delaware's winningest team at the moment—BASEBALL. If you should happen to be a track or lacrosse fan, don't turn back to the fraternity pages until you read a few more lines, because this season's diamond squad has a record that should impress any sports fan on this campus. The record as it stands today, shows that Delaware has won eight games, while losing only two.

Coach Harold "Tubby" Raymond at the beginning of spring training was dubious as to the season's prospects. The Phillies had taken ace righthander Dallas Green, who won six games for the Blue Hens last year, which left a big gap to be filled in the pitching staff. Tony DeLucas, Jerry Bacher, Dick McKelvey and Lou Romagnoli loomed as the top hurlers for the season . . . but then Quarterback Bob Hooper came up to "Tubby" and said, "Coach, has about letting me do a little pitching this year?" With nothing to lose, Raymond decided to let Hooper throw a few baseballs in the pre-season drills. The result was wonderful. "Hooper" was just as effective with the baseball as he had been with the pigskin last fall. To date, he has credit for six of the eight Delaware victories . . . even better than the fabulous Dallas Green.

With Hooper on the mound and Joe Thorpe behind the plate, Gene Watson filled the gap at first base, while Jim Smith and Dick Hofmann looked to be capable performers at the keystone corner. In the outfield "Slugger" John Walsh was holding down right field and "Capt." Jim Zaiser was turning in his usual good job in center. Carmen Cella shaped up as the best bet in left field — so a starting team was set.

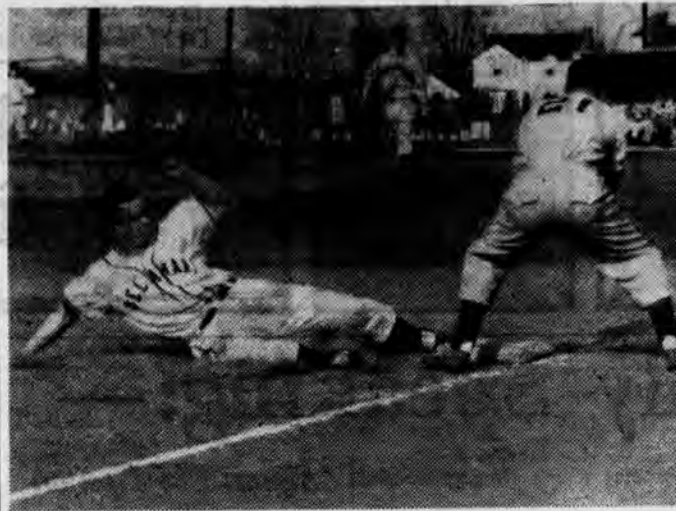

From the snow-covered campus, the Blue Hens departed for the Southland. North Carolina was the first foe for Delaware, and the Hens proved to be better by winning the close game in a pitcher's duel. At Wake Forest, Delaware was out-classed and outplayed. After the game it looked as though a team to hold the National NCAA Championship was good enough to beat the Delaware nine. The Hens had little trouble at East Carolina, but Hampden-Sydney proved an equal match and trimmed the Blue and Gold in a close contest. Hampden-Sydney are the champions of the league in which they participate.

Since the Hampden-Sydney game, the Blue Hens have not tasted defeat. If the next six games can be carbon copies of the last six, then maybe the Delaware team can set some sort of a baseball record on the campus. That's the story of the baseball team, unless you want to bring up the subject of Johnny Podres and Bainbridge, but even though the Commodores defeated the Hens twice, those games do not go into the record books, so there isn't much need to waste space on them.

For further information on this subject, you are invited to attend the game with Ursinus tomorrow afternoon on Frazer field, or if you can't make the game, talk to Coach Raymond, or any member of the team, who are all as hepped up on the subject as we are.

This 'n That

CHURCHILL DOWNS WILL BE THE SCENE OF THE annual Kentucky Derby tomorrow afternoon. $125,000 will be riding on the nose of the winner. For horse racing fans, this event will be aired and televised on CBS starting at 5:15 p. m. . . Rocky Marciano has called it quits in the ring. The heavyweight will always be remembered as a true champion . . . Cliff Browning made a pretty good showing up at the Penn Relays last weekend, finishing fifth in the pole vaulting event . . . The Blue Hen trackmen took a second place in the Baltimore Relays last Saturday afternoon . . . If you get a chance, read Al Cartwright's "A La Carte" in last Friday's Journal Every Evening. A real tribute to our lacrosse team . . . Too bad that Tink Russo can't compete in the field events this semester. He would be a real boost to the frosh. So far, he has thrown the lead ball over forty feet several times.

FIRST BASEMAN GENE WATSON beats throw to third in Delaware's 10-0 rout over Haverford last Saturday. Watson at present leads the Hens with a .375 batting average.

Hens Stage Home Finale In F & M Meet Today

Dante Marini, Neal Keough and Jack Simpson, seniors for the Blue Hen track team, will participate in the final home meet of their college careers this afternoon when Delaware will take on Franklin and Marshall at Frazer Field.

Marini, stalwart distance runner for the Hen thinclads, will climax a brilliant season, as well as career, at the university. The phenomenal runner has collected a bucketful of records during his stay at Delaware, several for his cross-country efforts. His latest record annexation occurred just last Saturday at the Baltimore Relays.

Stickmen Swamp Quakers For Third Win Of Season As Garrett Leads Defense

Delaware's lacrosse team recorded its third victory of the season, defeating Pennsylvania's stickmen, 16-5.

The Blue Hens overcame a three-goal surge by Pennsylvania in the second period and went on to hand the Quakers their fourth straight setback.

Pete Brosius and Bob Cossaboon led the Hens by throwing in four goals apiece. Bob Tait scored three.

Attackman Fred Feiser, highlighted the Pennsylvania offense by scoring two goals for the visitors in the second period.

Keough has been a reliable sprinter, his specialty being the 440 and the 220. Although he has not acquired a sufficient number of credits for graduation in June, he has used up his years for eligibility. He hopes to have his credits some time next year.

Simpson will also be lost to coach Ken Steers through graduation. He has been a consistent point-getter in the field events, especially the high jump. His latest contribution was a second against Swarthmore last week.

The Hens procured a second place at the Baltimore Relays last Saturday, as the Baltimore Olympic Club edged out Delaware and to grab first place.

Highlight of the afternoon was another Marini victory as Dante won the mile run with a record breaking time of 4:36.2 minutes. Marini came back later in the meet to win the 2-mile run 10:29.6.

In the 440-yard relay, Delaware placed third with Bill Walston, Denny Luker, Gil Mahla and Keough as anchor man. Perce Ness took a second in the 440-yard dash.

Jerry Quigg, Jack Terres, Charlie Skinner and Ken Callo-way enabled the Hens to take a third place in the two-mile relay while Walston, Charlie Foster Keough and Mahla combined their forces to grab a second in the 880-yard relay.

In the mile relay Delaware took a second with Keough, Ness, Quigg and Mahla showing the way. The final Hen placement in the meet came when Walston and Luker took a third and fourth, respectively, in the 100-yard dash.

In the Penn Relays last Friday Delaware took a fifth in their class mile relay with Keough, Ness, Cliff Browning and Skinner doing the work. Browning returned on Saturday to tie for fifth in the pole vault with a jump of 12 feet 6 inches.

Hens Top Haverford In 10-Hit Barrage As McKelvey Wins

Delaware chalked up its eighth baseball win of the season last Saturday, as Southpaw Dick McKelvey limited Haverford to six scattered hits at the Hens blanked the visitors 10-0.

Fords Held To Six Hits

McKelvey, in recording his first win of the season, fanned 14 batters, while walking only four. Delaware sent Haverford hurler Paul Rodewald to the showers in the fifth inning and went on to tag relief pitcher Ed Bradley for three more runs and six hits. The loss was Haverford's seventh straight.

The host Blue Hens got off to a fast start, scoring three runs in the first frame. Captain Jim Zaiser led off the inning, bunting safely down the third base line and went to second as Haverford first baseman Tom Martenis dropped the peg from third. Shortstop Dick Hoffman was hit by Pitcher Rodewald. Gene Watson flied out to center, and Jim Smith reached first on a fielder's choice.

Romagnoli Doubles

With the bases loaded Hen third sacker Lou Romagnoli drove a double into left field, scoring Zaiser and Hoffmann. Carmen Cella was hit by Rodewald's second bad pitch of the afternoon. Tom Walls hit a sacrifice fly to center and Smith came across the plate for the third Delaware tally.

In the third frame, Cella tripled into center field and scored on Larry Catuzzi's sacrifice fly.

Zaiser Has Perfect Day

The Hens scored three more runs in the fifth on hits by Zaiser, Watson and Romagnoli, and three more in the seventh.

Zaiser led Delaware with a perfect day at the plate, hitting safely in three trips. Watson and Romagnoli also tagged Haverford pitchers for three safeties apiece.

Delaware will face Ursinus tomorrow at Frazer Field with a 8-2 record.

Del. Linksmen Seek Win In Swarthmore Match

The Delaware golf team will attempt to regain its winning ways today when it opposes Swarthmore College in an away meet at Bowling Green Country Club. The Hens also have a meet on Tuesday when they tackle St. Joseph's at the DuPont Country Club. Coach Irv Wisniewski is hoping his boys will be able to repeat last year's 9-0 victory over the Hawks.

The Hens dropped their fourth match of the season last Friday when they bowed, 5½ to 3½, to John Hopkins University. The only point scorers for the Hens were Tom Metz, Jimmy Shelton and Jim Szymanski. Shelton and Szymanski won their matches while Metz halved his match. Metz and Shelton also won a point for best ball.

Overall Race For Intra Mural Trophy Enters Homestretch As Snakes Lead

By "Pete" Green

On the intra-mural scene recently, Sigma Nu and Theta Chi copped the high honors. Sigma Nu wound up with a perfect record in volleyball, thus winning the inter-fraternity trophy. The campus championship for volleyball which is played off between the winners of the "A" and "B" leagues, was forfeited to Sigma Nu by Sigma Phi Epsilon's "B" team.

In badminton, Sigma Nu also won the inter-fraternity trophy for the team having the highest number of team points. Individual honors went, however, to Alpha Tau Omega's defending champion, Dean Steele. Steele defeated Don Jost in his match, to win the individual championship for the second straight year. Points for this sport are scored for the team having the most men remaining in the contest the longest amount of time.

Greeks Run Track

On the track scene, Theta Chi and Sigma Nu shared the honors. Then Theta Chi won the individual trophy for the inter-fraternity 800-yard relay. This consists of four men running 220 yards apiece. This is a completely separate race from the track meet, thus the inter-fraternity Council sets up a separate trophy for this event.

In the regular track meet, Sigma Nu placed first; Theta Chi, second and Kappa Alpha, third. Two new records were set. Bill Baur (EN) set a new record in the mile in the time of 5.07, and Frank Wickes (EN) set a new high jump record by jumping 5' 6.7/8." Wickes also took a first place in the high hurdles and a second place in the broad jump.

Sigma Nu leads in the overall-intramural championship race by 78 points.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is 2nd and Theta Chi is 3rd.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is the defending overall intramural champion.

Blue Hen Of The Week

By Scotty Wilson

By now just about every Blue Hen baseball fan has become familiar with the new role of quarterback Bob Hooper. The slick hurler is finished throwin' the pigskin and has switched to chuckin' the ol' horseshide.

The unusual thing about it all is that Hooper just started his antics on the mound this year. When the time came for the opening of practice this year, the one-time infielder volunteered his services for coach "Tubby" Raymond and soon found himself drawing regular duty. Since then he has rolled up a total of six victories and no defeats.

Hooper's victims have been the following: North Carolina, East Carolina, Michigan, Muhlenberg, Johns Hopkins and Swarthmore. He's almost a one-man pitching staff! The Hens have taken 8 contests while losing 2 and with this in mind we see has three-fourths of the Hens' wins.

Those who have been following Hooper's accomplishments at the university know also about his chores last fall with the varsity gridders. Hustlin' Hooper engineered Delaware to winning season of eight wins and one defeat.

University Of Delaware Plays Host For Middle Atlantic Tennis Matches

The University of Delaware will be host to some 13 colleges this week end for the three-day Tennis Championship Tournament for the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference, tournament manager C. Roy Rylander, Delaware tennis coach, announced recently.

To date, Lehigh, Albright, Ursinus, Swarthmore, Moravian, Bucknell, West Chester, Rutgers, Lycoming, Haverford, Franklin and Marshall, Scranton and St. Joseph's have filed application forms with Rylander as an indication of their intent to compete for the title.

Proceedings began at 10 a. m. yesterday, when the players from the Middle Atlantic area teed off in the preliminary rounds. Quarter and semi-finals are on the agenda for today, with the finals being decided on Saturday. All matches will be played on the Frazier Field courts.

First Time Here

Various Middle Atlantic championships have been staged at the University of Delaware, the most recent of which was the wrestling tourney held last spring. However, this will be the first Middle Atlantic tennis title test ever to be held on the Newark campus.

Indications are that interest is mounting in the event throughout the Middle Atlantic area, for the entry list has surpassed last year's calendar when nine teams were entered. Two teams which were entered last year, Lafayette and Juniata, have not replied to the announcement of the tournament.

The crack Swarthmore squad, traditionally the tennis power of this area and an old Delaware nemesis in that sport, is again favored to finish in first place as it did last year when Swarthmore was the host college. Larry Shane, the No. 1 singles man for the Garnets, enters the title tilt undefeated and rates as a serious threat for the Middle Atlantic singles crown.

Haverford at the moment appears to be a serious threat to Swarthmore, with Bob Pratt and Phil D'Arrigo, the latter the southern division Middle Atlantic scoring champion in basketball, forming a potent duo for the 'Fords.

Three Entries

Each entering squad is permitted two singles entrants and a doubles team, which may or may not consist of the individuals who compete in the singles matches.

Awards for the singles champion, singles runner-up, doubles runners - up, and team champion will be presented in ceremonies on Saturday afternoon.

The championship event is sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association for the Middle Atlantic States Lawn Tennis Association. A certificate to this effect was received recently by tournament manager Rylander.

Approximately 30 players and coaches will be staying overnight at the University of Delaware for the duration of the tournament. Others who live within easy commuting distance will make the trip daily.

A seeding meeting was held last night between Rylander, chairman of the tennis games committee of the Middle Atlantic Collegiate Athletic Conference, and Ed Faulkner, Swarthmore coach and Rylander's predecessor as chairman. After establishing the seeded player, the two men will make a draw.
