High School Alumni to Discuss School Situation

Will Meet Next Friday Evening

Initial Step Toward Securing New Building to be Considered

The Alumni Association of the Newark High School has called an important meeting to be held at the High School next Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Every member is urged to be present. The chief topic for consideration will be that of arousing sentiment in favor of the erection of a new school building, a matter which in the light of the present crowded conditions in the public schools, the unsanitary condition of the buildings, and the disadvantages under which the pupils and teachers are compelled to labor, the loyal alumni feel should be attended to without delay.

At the annual reunion and dinner held last June the Association pledged itself to an active interest in the affairs of the local schools and at Friday's meeting definite steps will doubtless be taken and plans outlined for the betterment of school conditions here.

According to investigations made recently, the grammar school rooms are crowded beyond their capacity. The library has recently been turned into a classroom to relieve congestion in the Fourth and Seventh Grades, an additional teacher secured and an effort thus made to better conditions. This room is now overcrowded as well as the regular Seventh Grade room. An enrollment of 76 in the First Grade necessitated the erection of a portable building which houses a number of the pupils and is in charge of Miss Sara C. Brown. The usual influx of students at the mid-year will create again a congested condition here.

These and other things equally serious impel the Alumni to immediate action. They are particularly desirous of having a large attendance on Friday evening and have set an early hour to avoid conflict with other engagements.

HIGH SCHOOL LITERARY SOCIETY HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Owing to the press of other activities, the organization of a literary society at the Newark High School has necessarily been delayed. The first meeting of the school year was held last Friday morning during assembly. The program was as follows:

Reading of the Bible, Sara Pearson.
Speech, Alvin Wakeland.
Recitation, Elizabeth Cook.
Reading, Marshall Manns.
Instrumental Solo, Alta Crouch.
Speech, Raymond Russell.
Reading, Herbert Henning.
Recitation, Ruth Gifford.
Speech, Evelyn Stoll.
Music, High School.

GUILD TO HOLD DANCE AND BOX SOCIAL

Next Tuesday evening the Guild of St. Thomas' Church will hold a masquerade dance and box social in the Parish House. This is one of the monthly events which give pleasure to the young folks of the congregation and of the town. A happy time is anticipated.

CHIEF THOMPSON MADE COUNTY CONSTABLE

The Levy Court last week directed County Engineer Grubb to prepare plans and specifications and advertise for bids for a bridge over the White Clay Creek at Stanton and for improving of the Creek road in Bandysville hundred. James W. Thompson, chief of police for Newark, was elected constable for White Clay Creek hundred.

Resolutions offered by County Engineer Grubb approving the return made by the commission for the condemnation of land for the straightening and widening the Lincoln Highway near Newark were adopted.

PAYS OFF FREAK ELECTION BET SATURDAY

Local Democrat Conveys Republican Through Street in Wheelbarrow

The freak election bet, lately on the brink of the limbo of forgotten things, is pulled back every election by some zealous partisans who are willing to take a chance with all the blithesome disregard of consequences which characterizes the vaporings of William Jennings Bryan. Such a spirit impelled two impetuous Newarkers, American Vulcanized Fibre Company employees, to make a wager by which if the Democratic candidate won Mr. Wilson, accompanied by a band, would wheel Mr. Thomas from Deer Park Hotel to the Washington House and back in a wheelbarrow. If the Republican candidate won Mr. Thomas was to perform a similar feat.

To Mr. Thomas, therefore, fell the duty and the responsibility of carrying out the provisions of the bet. The band was conspicuously absent, due perhaps, as a jubilant observer put it, to the fact that a quorum could not be found. "On the bosom of Salt River sluggishly their vessel floats, and their dismal dirges quiver on the air in sobbing notes. Up Salt River's weeping waters they must sail for years, perhaps, just because some tinhorn rotters voted for the other chaps."

Be that as it may, a goodly number of spectators enjoyed the paying off of the bet which took place Saturday at 3 p. m.

POULTRY SUPPER AT HEAD OF CHRISTIANA

The ladies of Head of Christiana Church are making preparations to hold a poultry supper on Thanksgiving eve, November 25. They will have on sale at the same time candy, cake and other good things as well as fancy articles suitable for Christmas giving.

LOCAL GUNNERS PREPARE FOR RABBIT HUNTING

Local gunners are getting their firearms and shooting tops into shape for the rabbit hunting season which begins next Monday. Much consternation prevailed hereabouts and elsewhere through the State when it became known that the Legislature in special session this spring enacted among other measures, an amendment to the Game and Fish Laws, the wording of which as it applies to the hunting of rabbits is not clear. As a result of its ambiguity, the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners, John P. LeFevre, Chief Warden, was besieged with requests to interpret the law.

In a letter sent a month or so ago to all State papers, Mr. LeFevre, stated that after careful consideration of the law, the Board was unanimously of the opinion that the amendment in question does not change the open season during which it is lawful to hunt rabbits and that therefore the gunning season remains as heretofore, November 15 to December 31st.

NEWARK HIGH LOSES TWO GAMES

The winning streak which the Newark High School football team has enjoyed since the opening of the season was broken last week when they dropped two to Maryland teams. The first defeat was administered at Elkton on Tuesday and according to report was lost through the decisions of the referee.

Friday afternoon they were defeated by a fraternity team at Tome Institute in a well-played game. In the second half the latter put in an entirely new team and in the last few minutes of play with the Newark team withdrew in a yard of the goal line, issued a call for substitutes. Their delay in securing the latter prevented the local players from scoring and left the result 7-0 in favor of Tome.

The local team has been challenged by the high school team of Georgetown for a game on Thanksgiving day to decide the championship of the State.

Local Workers Ready for Fourth Red Cross Roll Call

Will Begin Tomorrow Appeal for Membership

Funds Needed to Finish War Work and Carry Out Constructive Program of Health Conservation and Disaster Relief

Mrs. Daniel M. Thompson, Mayor Eben B. Frazer, and others active in Red Cross work in the town are ready to make the Red Cross appeal in support of the Fourth Roll Call, Tomorrow, Armistice Day, marks the opening of this campaign which makes an irresistible appeal alike to soldier and civilian, who knows of the heroic war time service and the equally heroic but less spectacular peace-time service of this organization.

The imperative need of a generous response to the Fourth Roll Call is voiced in the following telegram sent by Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the American Red Cross, to Henry P. Scott, State Chairman:

"The Red Cross comes to its Fourth Roll Call with its war task unfinished. Never were world and national needs so pressing and corresponding opportunities for service so great. The world has not been able even to approach reestablishment after the war. Widespread distress and sickness stare us in the face in Europe, and the Red Cross is carrying on to the extent of its resources in an attempt to answer the call to help. How permanent and far-reaching this help shall be, depends upon the minds and consciences of the American people.

Many Invalid Soldiers.

"At home the wounded and sick soldiers and sailors in hospitals and elsewhere are still numbered by the thousands. The Red Cross cannot demobilize its forces, or organize to stand by those who gave their best for their country and must extend what aid and comfort may be possible.

"An attempt to build up the health of the country, which is the outstanding feature of the peace program of the Red Cross, is taxing the energies of the organization. Demands for visiting nurses come from every corner of the United States, and every effort is being made to supply that need, the filling of which is vital.

"The operation of health centres is opening up a new conception of community welfare everywhere. "Home service is still a necessary function of the Red Cross, for there are thousands of families of soldiers still in need of friendly counsels and relief. The Red Cross is organized and standardizing its capacity for disaster relief so that there shall be in constant readiness a trained organization, ready upon a moment's notice to carry its work of mercy anywhere. So throughout the entire land the Red Cross is striving to salvage the spirit of co-operation aroused by the war and to turn it to the public good. To this end it needs the services and co-operation of every man, woman and child in the country."

The Local Campaign

Local workers have been provided with insignia to be worn as a proof of their right to solicit for the organization. Members enrolling or renewing enrollment will be given certificates denoting membership, and buttons.

The local solicitors are: Mrs. C. O. Houghton, Mrs. Ernest Frazer, Mrs. Daniel Thompson, Misses Fader, Miss Leta Waters, Mrs. J. P. Bowen, Miss Edith Spencer, Miss Yearsley, Miss Hannah Marsey, Miss Hannah Marshman, Miss Gertrude Hill, Mrs. Irene McAllister, Mrs. F. W. Lovett, Mrs. Ethel Campbell, Messrs. Irvin Durnall, E. J. Ellison and others.

Miss Lena Evans will conduct the campaign in the lower part of the hundred and Miss Cardelle Williams at Women's College.

The local branch has been active during the year. They have given aid to 8 families in need, have furnished sweaters to needy children and have contributed to the milk fund at the primary school.

Fifty per cent of the money raised at this time will be left with the local branch for home relief work.

BARACA SUPPER NEXT TUESDAY EVENING

The regular monthly Baraca Supper of the First Presbyterian Church will be given in the lecture room of the church on Tuesday evening, November 16th, at 6.45 o'clock. All members of the Men's Baraca Class and Ladies' Auxiliary are urged to be present. An attractive menu has been prepared by the committee, and a full attendance is desired. Especially are all new members urged to attend.

HEALTH CENTRE MOVES TO NEW QUARTERS

Now Stationed in Home of Mrs. N. M. Bennett on Main Street

A joint meeting of the Child Welfare Committee, the Relief Committee, the Red Cross and representatives from public schools met on Monday afternoon to make plans for the winter's work. Announcement was made that the Elliot Building loaned by Delaware College for the Health work would have to be converted into apartments by the college and other quarters would have to be found for the Health Centre. The college authorities expressed regret that necessity compelled them to take this action and sincere appreciation of their generosity was expressed by those interested in this work.

Quarters have been secured at the residence of Mrs. N. M. Bennett on Main St., and all equipment will be moved over there this week.

The committees have been unable so far to secure milk for the primary school children but hope later in the year to resume the good work carried on with such excellent results last year.

ATTENDANCE AT M. E. RALLY 407

The rally held by the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School last Sunday brought 407 students, 90 of whom have not previously been enrolled. T. B. Ely, one of the speakers scheduled for the occasion, met with a painful accident to his foot and was unable to attend. The other speaker, Milton McCann, was also unable to be present. Dr. T. F. Manns and Rev. Frank Herson filled in the breach and spoke very acceptably. Special music was furnished by Messrs. Van Kueren, Ayerst and Crawford, with cornet and violin; and by Mr. Campbell of the Rehabilitation Division whose dual playing of the autoharp and harmonica was very much enjoyed.

LADIES OF ROCK CHURCH TO HAVE POULTRY SUPPER

FAIRVIEW COMMUNITY ACTIVE

The Fairview Parent-Teacher Association will hold an interesting meeting next Wednesday evening. A fine program is in course of preparation and a good speaker will be procured. This is a live organization in a hustling community and has loyal support.

The Mite Society will meet this week with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Buckingham. Preparations are under way for the annual supper to be held on Thursday evening, November 18. These suppers are famous throughout the town and country. Many Newarkers attend yearly.

AMERICAN LEGION TO ENTERTAIN VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

Will Hold Dance to Raise Funds for Adopted War Orphan

The American Legion Lt. J. Allison O'Daniel Post No. 6, at a meeting held last night discussed the possibility of holding an Armistice Day celebration on Thursday. Owing to lack of time and of interest it was decided to hold no special exercises but to put forth every effort to make the dance held that evening a success. The object is to raise funds for the support of a war orphan recently adopted by the Legion. The committee appointed at a recent meeting reported a small sum in hand. The name of the orphan adopted together with photograph and other records will be forwarded by the Red Cross upon receipt of the necessary $75.

The Legion made arrangements to entertain the Veterans of Foreign Wars on Friday evening, November 19.

NEW CENTURY HEARS ABLE PRESENTATION OF "THE BIBLE"

Dr. W. O. Sypherd Delivers Address on Greatest Literary Masterpiece

Yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the New Century Club Dr. W. O. Sypherd discussed the Bible as a literary masterpiece. The contents, the composition and style were discussed with keen analysis and sympathetic understanding. He urged a wider reading of this greatest of human documents.

Previous to Dr. Sypherd's address a musical program was given. Two piano solos, selections from Chopin and Tchaikovsky, were played by Mrs. William E. Holton, and two solos, "Celeste" and "The Parting Rose," were sung by Mrs. T. T. Martin.

At next Tuesday's meeting the second of the series of historical studies will be presented by Miss M. E. Rohr of the Women's College, who will discuss Virginia. A musical program will also be given.

The following Tuesday will be Reciprocity Day with Smyrna. The delegation of club women from that town will be entertained by the local club. All members who find it impossible to be present are urged to notify Mrs. C. A. Short, club hostess, without delay.

The wedding ceremony was performed in New York City, April 15, 1920.

SALARY INCREASE PARTIAL SOLUTION OF TEACHER SHORT- AGE PROBLEM

U. S. Commissioner Claxton
Discusses Seriousness of School Situation

P. P. Claxton, U. S. Commissioner of Education, in a paper read before the N. E. A. made the following plea for better salaries for teachers:

Teachers worthy of places in the schools in which American children are prepared for life, for making a living, for the duties and responsibilities of democratic citizenship, and for eternal destiny, can never be fully paid in money. Men and women worthy of this highest of all callings will not think first of pay in money or in any other form. For teachers, as for all other workers, Ruskin's saying holds: "If they think first of pay and only second of work, they are servants of him who is the lord of pay, the most unnerfing find that fell. If they think first of the work and its results and only second of their pay, however important that may be, then they are servants of Him who is the Lord of work. Then they belong to the great guild of workers and builders and saviors of the world together with Him for whom to do the will of Him that sent Him and finish His work was both meat and drink."

Workers Paid Largely in Kind

It has ever been and probably must always be that workers of whatever sort received the largest part of their pay in kind, as millers take toll of the grist they grind. Those that work with material things that have easily measured cash values are most easily measured in money. Other rewards will be less in proportion and in importance. Those who work largely for other than the material results that can be measured by money must continue to be content to receive a large part of their pay in the consciousness of work well done for a worthy cause, and in participation, by faith at least, in the results, both near and far away in time and in space.

Average Salary Should Be $2000

The average wealth production of the adult worker of the United States is not far from $1,250 a year—probably somewhat more. The average for men and women of ability, preparation, and industry of such teachers as we are talking about can not be less than $2,000; it is probably nearer three or four or five thousand dollars. But in view of this fact that teaching is by its very nature an altruistic calling, and also because it may reasonably be supposed that the purchasing power of the dollar will increase considerably within the next few years and the cost of living as measured in dollars relatively decrease, let us agree on $2,000 as an average salary for teachers in the elementary and secondary schools of the United States. This is three times as much as the average for the year 1917-18 and more than 150 per cent above the average for the year 1919-20.

If the pay to beginners is so fixed that the average for all teachers in the first year in urban and rural elementary schools and high schools is $1,200, this will allow other salaries of $2,500, $3,000, $3,500, and $4,000. Salaries of 5,000 or more may be held out as rare prizes for those who have gained experience and have proven their worth and who are willing and able to pay the price of such great and fine service as is recognized by unusual rewards in other professions.

The Money Can Be Raised

Can we pay such salaries? With such proper and useful economies as may be easily brought about, including consolidation of small rural schools and the adoption of a well-arranged work-study-play plan in the city schools, the total number of teachers in the public elementary and secondary schools of the United States need not exceed 750,000 within the next 5 or 10 years. At an average wage of $2,000, it will take a billion and a half dollars to pay 750,000 teachers. Increase this by 50 per cent.—a liberal amount—to pay for administration, supervision, buildings, equipment, and supplies, and we have a total of two and a quarter billions—a quarter of a billion short of Spaulding's two and a half billions and only $140,000,000 more than the amount the Department of Labor reports that we paid last year for tobacco in its various forms. Our part in the World War, in which we fought for freedom and democracy, cost us not less than fifty billions of dollars all told. At 5 per cent, the annual interest on this amount is two and a half billion dollars. Without education there can be neither freedom nor democracy. Unless we educate all the people in such way as to enable them to possess these in fullest measure we shall have spent our money for naught and the men who sleep in France and Belgium shall have died in vain.

Can we pay the debt and pay in like proportion for education? The answer is we can not well do so without the other. Our power to produce and to pay will in a measure depend on the health, knowledge, skill, purpose, and will of the people; that is, on their education.

How can we afford to pay for education? Since education is a factor which cannot be eliminated from the wealth-producing power of the people and since all wealth depends on education, we can as a people afford to increase our appropriations for education until the increase in cost becomes greater than the increase in the productive power which comes through education. No people have ever yet found the limit.

Will the people pay? The wealth is theirs, the children are theirs, the schools are their agents, owned and supported by them for the education of their children and for the attainment of all that this means and can be made to mean for their own happiness, for the individual welfare of their children, for the production of material wealth, for the individual and common good, for the public welfare, for civic righteousness and social purity, for strength and safety of State and Nation, and for all that supports life and makes life worth living. I have faith to believe that when the people are made to understand this they will respond. They have never failed. They will not fail now.

WHAT IS GOOD?

"What is the real good?" I asked in musing mood. Order, said the law court; Knowledge, said the school; Truth, said the wise man; Pleasure, said the fool; Love, said the maiden; Beauty, said the page; Freedom, said the dreamer, Home, said the sage; Fame, said the soldier; Equity, said the seer. Spake my heart full sadly; "The answer is not here." Then within my bosom Softly this I heard: "Each heart holds the secret: Kindness is the word." —John Boyse O'Reilly.

MISS BURTON WEDS

Miss Leah Anderson Burton, of Lewes, and Dr. Rowland Gardiner Paynter, of Georgetown, were married Saturday in St. Peter's P. E. Church, Lewes. Rev. C. H. B. Turner officiated. The couple were unattended. The wedding was quiet owing to the recent death of Dr. Paynter's mother.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. Hiram Rodney Burton, of Lewes, former member of Congress from Delaware. After a wedding trip Dr. and Mrs. Paynter will live in Georgetown.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME

Every person mentally and physically able to do so should take the American Red Cross instruction in First Aid Treatment. It's a lifesaver and a pain-saver on the farm, in the factory, on the street, at the office, in the home, wherever accidents may occur. Here's a young wife who ineptly wielded a can-opener and received an ugly gash across her wrist from the jagged can lid. Mother was there, however, with the First Aid kit and Red Cross instruction, and probably prevented a case of blood poison by giving prompt and proper treatment before the doctor arrived.

THE AUTOMOBILE

Product of brain and brawn, I fill man's primary need for transportation.

I aid the progress of civilization by bringing men closer together.

I am the friend and servant of mankind.

I am the companion of recreation and the helpmate of work.

I render employment to millions. I speed production and the delivery of the world's goods.

I am the feet of the salesman, jarring him to greater service, to more and greater riches.

I bring the physician in time to save the stricken. I keep his mind keen and his hand steady. I restore roses to the cheeks of pallor.

I serve the interests of all professions. I am the inspiration of art and of letters.

Man is indebted to me for the broadening influence of travel. I provide comfort and protection on his way.

Woman realizes her independence through my offices.

To youth, I mean the wholesome-ness of the great outdoors, the poetry of motion and the romance of changing scene. To age, I bring rejuvenation through diversion other than the hearthstone.

THE LAUGHING PRAYER

The sorry prayers go up to God Day after weary day, They whimper through the eternal blue

And down the Milky Way.

Deaf to the music of the stars, The children of desire, Beggars before the Throne of God, They wait for God to tire.

The proletariat of Heaven Swarmed in the golden street One day when Michael's host came by

Up to the Judgment Seat.

Above the heavenly mansions Bright, streaming banners flowed,

While cherubim and seraphim Were crowding in the road.

And then a little, laughing prayer Came running from the sky, Along the golden gutters where The sorry prayers went by.

It had no fear of anything, But in that holy place It found the very Throne of God And smiled up in His face.

Then Michael waited in the road, For Michael understood, While God looked on the laughing prayer And found it sweet and good.

So God was comforted. He said: "There still is hope for men. One man prays happily!" And so He turned to care again.

A GOOD PROVIDER

When it comes to being "a good provider," no man would pride himself on furnishing trash liberally for his family. The family is entitled to good, wholesome food that helps growth.

It is the same with reading. Good reading pleases and creates its own hunger for more good reading. The Youth's Companion is the best of reading for all—every member—every age.

And it comes every week—crowded with the best. Let us prove it with a sample.

The Youth's Companion has long since ceased to provide for "Youth" alone. It has become the favorite all-the-family weekly of America. Its name is a misnomer, but is retained for the sentiment it has generated in American homes through its service to every age.

Still $2.50 for a year of 52 issues, but this price not guaranteed beyond January 1, next.

New subscribers for 1921 will receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1921.

2. All remaining weekly 1920 issues.

3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1921.

DELAWARE COL- LEGE AMONG GROW- ING INSTITUTIONS

A summary for 210 colleges and universities in the United States, which shows for the third year before the war, the third year after, and the year 1917, the number of students in college and professional courses, excluding summer and extension courses, issued by the Institute for Public Service in New York City, Saturday, shows that Delaware College is among the institutions which have shown a phenomenal growth and is among the 28 which have more than doubled in percentage of increased enrollment during the period covered. Sweet Brier led with 334 per cent; Boston University came next with 333; Union 324; College of the City of New York, 293; University of Arizona, 242, and Delaware College sixth with 188 per cent.

NOVEMBER

November frost is in the air,
The harvest hay is mown;
And in the fields lay ripened grain
Where seeds last spring were sown.
The leaves have turned to brown and gold
And many trees are bare;
The birds have flown to warmer climes
Where sunshine floods the air,
And all without is bleak and drear
The grass is seared and brown;
And all the ground is littered with
Dead leaves that have blown down.
But in the home the fires glow
And near its cheerful blaze
The children plan for winter's sports,
And dream of summer's plays.
And to each mind there comes the thought,
Of all the things that bless
Our lives, and there is offered up
A prayer of thankfulness.

MAKING MONEY

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toll-some saving of their daily wages. But we submit to you the unquestioned fact that more men have achieved a comfortable competence through the ownership of property—houses and land which bring in a fixed income—than in any other way.

A word to the wise is enough. Watch your neighbors gradually rise in the world and then ascertain how they are doing it.
In nine cases out of ten you will find they have purchased their home or farm—often on easy terms—while their less enterprising neighbor is still paying rent.

A word to the wise is sufficient. If you have not yet started on a place of your own do not delay. Get full particulars about some of the following properties.

158 Acre Farm, near Kirkwood Station, $10,000.

74 Acre Farm, near Stanton, $10,000.

68 Acre Farm, suitable for fruit and chickens, $4,000.

Rapid Construction of Emergency Dormitories a Notable Feature

Buildings Completed Today, just Seven Weeks after Breaking of Ground; Financed by Delaware School Auxiliary Association

Rapidity of construction carried to a surprisingly high peak of speed during the war period suffered a plunge down the steep incline in the period following, but by an almost super-human effort the wage scale was boosted to an even dizzy height. Achievement within the past year or so has been in inverse ratio to the money expended therefor.

A reversion to the war period type has, however, been manifest in the construction of the Emergency Dormitories at the Women's College of Delaware which have been erected in record time by the du Pont Construction Co., of which J. M. Phillips of Edgemore is the head. The work on these two buildings was completed yesterday, just seven weeks after the ground was broken. Contrary to current rumor the material was not "readcut." The plans for the dormitories were drawn by Guilbert and Betelle, architects, who have designed the model school buildings erected for colored children at Hockessin, Marshallton, and Christiana, and emergency buildings elsewhere in the State.

The Buildings

The dormitories are one-story frame structures 32x107; 8 ft. high to the square and 5 feet to the peak. Attractive Colonial doorways to harmonize with those at Warner Hall, give a touch of distinction to the otherwise barren appearing structures, which are painted a red-brown to tone in with the brick dormitories adjoining. The interior is decidedly attractive. To the left of the entrance hallway is a charming reception room furnished in wicker. Gay-colored cretonne cushions and hangings lend a festive and informal air. On the right is a suite of two rooms for the resident faculty member. On each side of the hallway which runs the whole length of the building, are bright, cheery, student rooms to accommodate 21 girls. Ample bathing and toilet facilities are provided; plenty of radiation furnishes sufficient heat which is piped from the central heating plant; and provision made through the use of "Bestboard," a plaster-board which produces the same effect as a thermos bottle, to heat the rooms and halls.

The walls are light tan and the picture molding brown. The ingenuity and natural instinct for home-making inherent in every Delaware girl will soon turn each room into an attractive habitation. Delaware School Auxiliary Association Finances the Project

These dormitories were constructed and loaned to the College by the Delaware School Auxiliary Association of the Service Citizens to provide for an emergency for which they felt in a measure responsible. They had provided the money for establishing free scholarships which made it possible for 50 girls to take teacher-training, who in all likelihood would not otherwise have been able to attend college. For thirty or more of these, accommodations were lacking but since the need for trained teachers in the State is so urgent, these prospective teachers could not be refused admittance. The State Legislature, always alive to the needs of the young people of the State and generous in providing for their education, would not convene until January, and help from that quarter to provide housing facilities was out of the question. In this emergency the Auxiliary Association agreed to construct and to loan to the College dormitories which would provide for these prospective teachers and allow additional rooms for the accommodation of groups of high school students from towns throughout the State, who will be according to plans formulated for the extension of teacher-training, be invited to spend weekends at the college this winter. In the meantime, temporary quarters were secured for all students enrolling. Some were housed at Red Men's Home and single rooms occupied by Seniors were through the generosity of the latter, thrown open to the incoming Freshmen.

Dormitories Opened on Sixth Anniversary

Announcement was made at the sixth anniversary celebration on October 30, that the buildings were ready for occupancy. Students moved in last week and although not all the furnishings have arrived, sufficient have been installed to make the rooms habitable and comfortable.

H. C. Phillips Supervises Construction

The actual work of construction, under the personal supervision of H. C. Phillips, son of J. M. Phillips, superintendent of construction, has aroused much interest among the townsfolk as well as among the faculty and students. Before Wilmington time changed back to standard, the working hours were in accordance with the former, and the industrious hammering which began at 6 a. m. Newark time, aroused many a sleeper who was startled into wakefulness with the thought that he had probably missed his train. The speed and industry of the 23 carpenters employed together with their efficiency in dovetailing the work of the individuals was the subject of much favorable comment.

This construction company formed about 7 weeks ago, is an extension of the Engineering Department of the du Pont Co., and has been engaged so far in school construction. The paint used both on interior and exterior work, is a du Pont product.

The only subcontract let in the construction was that of the concrete foundation which was constructed by J. C. Willis of this town.

The cost of the buildings and furnishings will approximate $45,000, of which according to Mr. Phillips, $13,500 was for labor alone.

PROMINENT OFFICIALS STUDY ROAD CONSTRUCTION HERE

Delaware a Pioneer in Use of Hydrated Lime Says Chief Engineer Upham

A group of prominent road officials, constituting the sub-committee of the Committee of the American Society of Testing Materials, after a conference with Chief Engineer Upham at the Hotel du Pont, on Thursday, made a tour of inspection over various roads in upper Delaware now under construction.

This conference and inspection tour was part of a program of study of the practical use of hydrated lime in highway construction.

According to Charles M. Upham, State Highway Engineer, Delaware is a pioneer in the use of hydrate in the construction of concrete highways, having started its use in 1915, and the experiments in the use in road work are favorable. He says that it has been shown to increase the strength of the concrete, and also increases its mobility, which latter fact makes it more easily molded by the workmen, and thus the smooth roads, for which Delaware is noted, are the result.

Other roads which the highway committee investigated are the Philadelphia pike, with a view to studying experiments in lime grouting of brick surfaces; the du Pont highway below Smyrna, the Townsend highway, Concord pike, and Naaman's Creek road, the latter now being under construction. Mr. Upham was appointed chairman of this committee.

Consideration of experiments in the practical use of hydrated lime in concrete, and arrangements of a program for both laboratory work was the basis of a meeting in Dover Friday. Bulletins will be prepared by the engineers and issued in time for the highway construction period next year.

The next meeting of the committee of the American Society of Testing Materials will be held in Pennsylvania about the middle of December.

WARNING TO MERCHANTS VIOLATING CIGARETTE LAW

Several complaints have reached this office recently that merchants of the town are violating the law relative to the selling of cigarettes to young boys. Flagrant violations of the law are charged against two merchants and suits are threatened if the violations persist.

Those making complaint were loth to take definite action without giving notice publicly of their intention. They ask therefore that merchants familiarize themselves with the law which forbids the sale of cigarettes to persons under 16 years of age.

CHILD WELFARE CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN DOVER

Speakers of National Reputation to Discuss Vital Subjects

A State Child Welfare Conference under the auspices of the Reconstruction Commission will be held in Dover on December 3rd and 4th. The Conference is for the purpose of increasing the understanding of the public in regard to conditions and needs relating to the children of this State.

The following agencies are co-operating with the Reconstruction Commission in promoting the conference: The State Board of Health, State Board of Education, State Board of Charities, State Labor Commission, the Consumers' League, the Juvenile Court of Wilmington, the Community Service and the Children's Bureau of Delaware.

The conference will consist of three meetings, Friday afternoon, December 3rd; Friday evening, December 3rd; and Saturday morning, December 4th.

Mr. Owen R. Lovejoy, a man of national reputation as a child welfare expert and known as an unusually fine speaker, will give the main address Friday afternoon. His subject will be "Foundations for Good Citizenship." The opportunity to hear Mr. Lovejoy should not be missed.

Mr. Wiley H. Swift, a lawyer recognized throughout the country as a leader in the movement to improve laws relating to children will address the Friday evening and Saturday morning meetings. He will present facts and ideas of unusual interest and value at this time.

Other speakers at the meetings will be representatives of the agencies above mentioned that are promoting the conference. The speakers will discuss the significant findings in a recent study of child welfare made by some fifty local child welfare committees. Speakers will also give information concerning child welfare activities in progress in the State and will outline child welfare legislation proposals for consideration and discussion by the audience.

It is felt the conference will be one of real interest and value as it will help to establish a clear point of view in regard to child welfare matters in the State. Therefore, every one interested in increased opportunity and protection for Delaware children can help by attendance and participation in the discussions. The meetings will be held in Dover, Ourea House, Friday, Dec. 3, at 2.30 p. m.; Dover Century Club, Friday Dec. 3, at 8 p. m., and Saturday, Dec. 4, 10.30 a. m.

WILL GIVE PRIZES FOR FARM POULTRY

The State Board of Agriculture offers prizes for the best kept and most profitable farm flocks. The net profits and the care, breeding and management will be considered in making the awards. Only recognized breeds will compete for prizes.

The prizes are as follows: Records of farm flocks beginning December 1, 1920, and closing November 30, 1921. The first prize, $60.00; the second prize, $40.00; the third prize, $30.00; the fourth prize, $20.00; the fifth prize $10.00, and five prizes of $5.00 each.

Also, the following prizes for the first six months: First, $40.00; second, $20.00; third, $15.00; fourth, $10.00; fifth, $5.00.

The first and second prizes in each case are to be awarded to flocks of 100 hens or more and other prizes to flocks of 50 hens or more. The awards are to be based on the egg yields net profits and the general care and management of the flock.

In awarding the prizes large flocks will be given consideration over small flocks. A flock of 100 hens making 100 points will be rated the same as a flock of 200 hens making 99 points, or 300 hens making 97 points, and so on up to 1,000 hens making 90 points.

All farmers are invited to enter the contest. Poultry keeping is one of the most important branches of agriculture in Delaware. A competent poultry man will visit the contestants from time to time and will take careful note of the conditions of the flocks and their surroundings and will make suggestions of how the management may be improved.

It is necessary for the contestants to make a careful inventory of the fowls that are on the place, stating breed and value at the beginning of the contest, and an equal careful inventory at the end of six months and again at the end of the year. Accounts should be kept so that the actual profits are known at the end of the year. On a scale of 100 points, profits will count 80 points; management, including arrangement and sanitary condition of the houses, care of the flock and feeding, will count 15 points; breeding will count 5 points. This may seem a small

DISTINGUISHED LECTURER HERE ON SATURDAY EVENING

The holders of the tickets for the First Annual Artist Series can expect a rare treat next Saturday evening when Roy Chapman Andrews, Explorer of the American Museum of Natural History, will deliver his celebrated lecture on Central Asia. This lecture will be illustrated by more than 3,000 feet of motion picture and many colored slides.

Mr. Andrews is an Asiatic scholar of note. He is at once explorer, author, and sportsman and has traveled thousands of miles in the most remote regions of Japan, Korea, China, and other Far East ern countries. In 1916 and 1917, accompanied by his wife he made a rather remarkable journey in the province of Yunnan, in Western China and even penetrated the mysterious Thibet. Mr. Andrews and his party were the first white people many of the natives had ever seen. Mr. Andrews will leave the United States in February, 1921, on his third great expedition for the purpose of further exploration in Central Asia.

A reviewer of Mr. Andrews says: "A fluent speaker, gifted with remarkable descriptive powers," and further speaks of his pictures as forming "One of the most amazing pageants ever presented while abounding in all the glamour and fascination of reality."

THE HARDINGS ARE OLD FASHIONED FOLKS

Typical Americans, Hospitable And Generous are the President-Elect and His Wife

While President-elect Harding was not born in a log cabin as some of the reporters would have it at the opening of the campaign, his lowly origin and rapid rise from obscurity through sheer grit and ability make an inspiring story for American young manhood.

It will be difficult for anyone to really believe that the man and woman whose names are on millions of lips are just plain, ordinary middle western Americans who have spent their lives in a small town struggling for a place among the substantial citizens of the locality.

Old-Fashioned Folks

Nevertheless they are the people novelists seek to describe as the typical Americans, prosperous in a small way, intelligent and fairly well educated, though not so well read perhaps, knowing a little about many commonplace matters, extremely hospitable and generous, severely conventional, regular attendants at church and lodge meetings, fond of fried chicken and of sitting in rocking chairs on the front porch afterward.

There you have the Hardings.

They haven't changed much with the good fortune that has recently come to them. It is true that Mrs. Harding used to work in her own kitchen and that now they have a cook, but her husband still has his clothes darned to make them wear longer, he shaves himself with an old-fashioned razor, his shirt cuffs are turned when they get frayed on one side, and Mrs. Harding herself wears a hat clear through the season and sometimes longer for she was wearing her last summer straw hat in October this year.

The Hardings live in a big green house with a large white front porch on Mount Vernon Avenue, a quiet, shady street. It is a good street but not in the most exclusive section of Marion, if a town of thirty thousand could have an exclusive section.

There is nothing fancy about the Harding home, inside or out. It is far less pretentious than those of most Marion merchants or citizens of similar standing. The Hardings do not "dress for dinner," nor have tea in the afternoon. Harding likes waffles for breakfast and a well-done beefsteak for dinner. There is refinement at their table, but not "style" and no stranger would ever be embarrassed by a confusing array of forks and spoons. They live just like other Americans of moderate means. Mrs. Harding looks after her potted plants and the Senator makes frequent rounds of inspection after breakfast or lunch to see that there are no loose boards on the back yard walk or to examine the screen door hinges that have been squeaking for several days.

One thing every visitor at Marion discovers the first thing—the Hardings are just what they are, as Mrs. Harding puts it.

Harding's closest friends have often expressed regret that the campaign photographs of the candidate showed a rather stern visage. They probably portray quite faithfully the features of Harding as he appears in the midst of an earnest speech. But there is another Harding which shows far more warmth sitting around the dinner table while political troubles are left outside for the moment. Then the genial, easy going, good humored Harding holds sway.

ALL IN THE GOOD BOOK

Bishop Hoss said at a Nashville picnic: "The religious knowledge of too many adults resembles, I am afraid, the religious knowledge of Eve."

"So you attend Sunday school regularly?" the minister said to little Eve.

"Oh, yes, sir."

"And you know your Bible?"

"Oh, yes, sir."

"Could you perhaps tell me something that is in it?"

"I could tell you everything that's in it."

"Indeed? And the minister smiled, 'Do tell me, then.'"

"Sister's beau's photo is in it," said little Eve promptly, "and ma's recipe for vanishin' cream is in it, and a lock of my hair cut off when I was a baby is in it, and the ticket for pa's watch is in it."—Los Angeles Times.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP

Give Resume of Work Accomplished by Order Heretofore

A continent-wide drive for membership which has for its aim to obtain 200,000 candidates in the next two years is the announcement of William Ladew, Supreme Chancellor of the Order Knights of Pythias. When this quota of new members has been obtained by the lodges in the United States and Canada the order will then have a total membership of 1,000,000 men. Under a plan outlined by the Supreme Lodge at its recent convention in Minneapolis, Minn., a survey will be made in every community in which a lodge is located and a systematic canvass instituted. The campaign includes an outline of the Uniform Rank to attract the younger men and to extend the benefits of the Insurance Department as a means of protection for a man with a dependent family.

Among the constructive enactments of the Supreme Lodge are the abolishment of the semi-annual password and provisions for an annual password, abolishing the printed ritual and substituting a cipher ritual. Plans were formed to nationalize the Pythian Homes and place all homes for aged Pythians and orphans of members now owned by Grand Domains under control of the Supreme Body. Investigation was also ordered into the feasibility of publishing a national Pythian magazine. The convention also abolished the various forms of cards issued to the membership and provided that one form of card be issued.

The Supreme Lodge also authorized the return of the unexpended balance of the Pythian War Relief Fund to the Grand Domains making the subscriptions. Nearly a quarter of a million dollars left in this fund raised during the war will go back to the Grand Lodges to be used in furtherance of their plans of development.

Reports made at the convention showed that the order had made a gain of 80,000 members during the last year, that the Pythian Sisters had a membership of over 300,000 and that the Military Department was making rapid progress among returned soldiers. The Knights of Khorasan, "the playground of the order," showed a gain of nearly 100 per cent during the last year and now has over 75,000 adherents.

The Insurance Department made a gain of $5,533,000 of insurance in force during the first eight months of this year and reported a total of $106,000,000 of protection for dependents of members. Since organization the Department has paid nearly $48,000,000 to widows and orphans of Pythians. The drive for membership has for its aim 100,000 new members for each year of the biennial term.

DAYS OF NOVEMBER

When days are dull and dark and chill,
I hie me forth to Laughterville,
And then my eager steps I steer
Straight to the banks of the river
Cheer
And fishing there I seek a mess
Of Fellowship and Friendliness—
And when night falls so filled am I
With joy, and love, and spirits
high,
That though the skies were dark
with care
The day itself was richly fair.
—John Kendrick Bangs.

MUSKRAT SEASON

TO OPEN SOON

The muskrat season will open this month and the skins promise to be as much in demand this year as a year ago when they made a new high record mark for quantity and price. Practically all the men engaged in the culture of muskrats in Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland on farms located along the Nanticoke river have prepared for a big year. In addition the number of men and boys who have arranged to trap muskrats this season in the marshland districts is greatly increased. Last year it was estimated that not less than 200 trappers worked the lowlands along the Nanticoke river and bay districts. This year there will be at least twice that number.

Musk rats are reported to be numerous despite the enormous catch of a year ago. They are largely young rats, although the sprinkling of the older ones is sufficient to insure a liberal supply of the heavier skins. Glove manufacturers, it is understood, are largely responsible for the demand for muskrat skins.

"Thine Is the Glory"

This painting, which hangs in National Headquarters of the American Red Cross, Washington, depicts the homage of America's fighting men to American womanhood as mobilized for service in the World War by this organization. It is the collaborative scientific and art creation of Major Joseph Gray Kitchell, late of the General Staff, U. S. A., and E. Luis Mora of the New York School of Art. The face of the central figure is a composite of the features of a thousand Red Cross workers selected for the purpose.

MAD DOG CAUSES

EXCITEMENT IN MILL CREEK HUNDRED

Much excitement was caused in the vicinity of Polly Drummond's Hill last Thursday evening when a message was received that a dog suffering from an advanced case of rabies was headed that way from the direction of Wilmington. Mr. James H. Little and his son to whom the message came, started immediately in an automobile hoping by means of the headlight to locate the animal. In this they were successful. They took it to the State Bacteriological Laboratory where an examination by Dr. Herbert Watson confirmed the suspicions of those who had seen the dog. According to report a number of dogs belonging to people on the road traversed by the unfortunate animal were bitten. Fortunately school children had reached their homes before the dog made his appearance in that neighborhood.

The license tag on the dog's collar was taken out by a Mr. McMullin of Wilmington.

"WILLIAM ROCK'S REVUE OF 1920" RETURNS TO THE PLAYHOUSE

Beginning Thursday evening, November 11th, "William Rock's Revue of 1920" will come to Wilmington for its second presentation within a month at the Playhouse.

A little over two weeks ago, when the Revue was first presented in Wilmington, it was seen that the three days assigned to it would be entirely too inadequate for the accommodation and satisfaction of the thousands who were anxious to enjoy it. Consequently Mr. James N. Ginns, manager of the theatre, expended special energy to bring about a return engagement. His efforts were rewarded by Mr. Rock's consent to bring his organization back for three nights and a Saturday matinee beginning Thursday, November 11th.

An enormous cast and chorus accompanies the Rock Revue. Billy B. Van, inimitable comedian and general laugh-maker comes first. He will be best remembered for his splendid work in the same line as the "Bish" in "The Rainbow Girl." William Rock, producer of the attraction, contributes greatly with his dancing and singing. There is also James J. Corbett whose very presence would lend attraction. He is somewhat of a popular singer and dancer. Marion Sunshine is the principal beauty of the attraction. Jue Quon Tai, the Chinese contralto will sing again. The chorus numbers over fifty Broadway beauties.

Seats for the performance may be reserved by mail.

PRESIDENT HULLIHEN ADDRESSES PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI

Tells of Past Growth and Future Extension of Delaware College

An address by President Hullihen setting forth some of the present plans for the growth and extension of Delaware College featured the dinner and meeting of the Philadelphia section of the Delaware College alumni, held last Thursday evening at the Engineer's Club of Philadelphia. Dr. Hullihen spoke of the tremendous development of the college in the past few years, and told of the ways in which it is expected that its influence will be materially increased in the future. He mentioned some figures for some of the Southern state universities which showed that Delaware is now considerably larger than were many of these universities a few years ago.

The dinner and meeting held last Thursday was the first meeting of the Philadelphia section of the alumni resident in Philadelphia and vicinity, and it was declared by several of the older members to have been the most interesting meeting ever held by the section. Dr. Hullihen's talk was informal, and afforded the alumni an excellent opportunity of becoming acquainted with the new president of the college.

The Philadelphia section of the alumni now has about eighty members, and includes the cities of Philadelphia and Camden and the neighboring counties in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The president of the section is Carl Harrington, and the treasurer is John V. Postles. Meetings are held at intervals of about eight or ten weeks during the winter.

Opera House Offerings

Sparkling Comedy Comes Saturday

Comedy, pure and undefiled, is the keynote, theme and accompaniment of "The Desperate Hero," a new Selznick Picture starring Owen Moore which will be shown at the Opera House next Saturday. The photoplay, which depicts the adventures of a young man very much in love and very much in debt, hasn't one serious angle. Owen Moore's frantic efforts to dodge tailor bills and court his sweetheart cause some very odd situations. Gloria Hope is Mr. Moore's leading lady in "The Desperate Hero."

William Farnum As

A Troublemaker

Newark audiences will see William Farnum in a unique role next Monday evening at the Opera House in a new William Fox production, "The Joyous Troublemakers." It is said to be strikingly original, and Mr. Farnum's role very different from any he has recently enacted.

Mr. Farnum is world-renowned as a great romantic actor. Many great classics have been rewritten for him; now, in "The Joyous Troublemakers," he is setting out to make a classic. It is said to be a very beautiful production, full worthy of the star. The background is one of the most delightful spots in the United States, and the director, J. Gordon Edwards, and the photographer, John Boyle, have made the most of it.

It is not a mining camp story, although it is about gold hunting. It is a love story, naturally, for Farnum has been hailed as "the perfect lover," and it is in love passages that his world audience likes him best.

"Hick" Characters in Bill Henry

The new Paramount photoplay, "Bill Henry," in which Chas. Ray is featured, is a clever story from the imagination of Lois Zellner, author of Enid Bennett's recent vehicle, "Happy Though Married." Her story has been pictured by Julien Josephson, author of many of the original stories that have helped win Charles Ray fame. He has added many of his original touches and the whole proves to be a wonderful vehicle for the portrayal of "hick" characters. The picture will be on view at the Opera House, Wednesday.

A VOICE FROM CALIFORNIA

"When we observe the methods of those who have really achieved in the dairy business we will find, in every instance, that success was made possible through the application of common sense rules of cleanliness and sanitation. Clean, wholesome dairy products are the best advertisements, and any infraction of these axiomatic first principles will work to the dairyman's disadvantage and render it difficult to repair the damage wrought.

"Dairymen are, as a rule, in the business to make a success of it, and there is no single factor that will promote business faster than the production of clean, wholesome products.

"The wide distribution of tuberculosis among our animal population causes serious losses annually. When the dairy herd becomes infected there eventually is a reduction in the milk supply and many cows finally die of the disease."

MIDDLETOWN MEMORIAL TO BE DEDICATED THURSDAY

The handsome bronze memorial to the boys from Middletown and vicinity who lost their lives in the world war of 1917-18, was placed in position on Saturday by Wilmington riggers and presents a most creditable appearance. The memorial, which consists of a bronze shaft eighteen feet high, with an ornamental base resting upon a granite block five feet square, was erected from the proceeds of a "drive" conducted by Middletown Post, No. 15, American Legion, and cost about $2000. All the money was contributed in Middletown and from persons living close by.

The memorial is in memory of four Middletown boys, Captain Rupert Burstan, John J. Hoffecker, E. Davis Manlove and Jeremiah Jackson (colored) whose names are inscribed upon the granite base of the structure. The memorial is placed in the center of the public square and will be cared for by the town officials. At the top are two 400 watt electric lights to be used for lighting the square instead of the large light now there.

The memorial will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on Thursday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock. There will be exercises in which the school children will take part and George Wentworth Carr, Philadelphia, a prominent official of the American Legion, and Major John B. LeFevre, of the Fifty-ninth Pioneer Regiment of Delaware, will make addresses. It is also expected that Gov. John G. Townsend, Jr., and Gov.-elect William D. Denney will be present. All members of the American Legion who can possibly do so are invited to attend the ceremonies.
