Welfare Committee Provides Record 147 Christmas Baskets

Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey, Orville Little Head Christmas Project Of Providing Gift Baskets For Needy In Area; Hannagan Directs City Aides In Thursday Distribution

A record number of 147 Christmas gift baskets was provided by the Newark Area Welfare Committee last week under the direction of Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey and Orville Little, co-chairmen, and distributed to needy families in the area last Thursday by Newark municipal employees directed by General Foreman Hubert T. Hannagan, with city trucks.

Last year, 142 gift baskets were provided by the Newark Area Welfare Committee and distributed with the help of city employees.

Boy Scouts canvassed the area with their collection of canned and non-perishable food for the welfare committee Christmas project, and each basket distributed last Thursday contained a ham or chicken, potatoes, canned food, oranges, sugar, oleo, bread, and candy, with toys at homes where there were children.

One Of The Best
"This has been one of the very best years I have experienced with the Newark Area Welfare Committee Christmas basket program," Mrs. Dickey said yesterday after directing the project for more than a quarter-century.

"Mr. Little and I wish to express our very deep appreciation to all who helped with this annual Christmas gift basket program."

Newark Area Welfare Committee Christmas baskets are distributed to families recommended by local physicians, nurses, teachers, and clergymen.

Grillo To Lecture On Urban Renewal At Public Meeting

International Architect
To Speak At University
On City Planning Topic

Paul Jaques Grillo, internationally known architect, will lecture at the University of Delaware next Thursday night at 8 o'clock in Wolf Hall auditorium.

The talk, open to the public without charge, will be one of Grillo's final appearances in his American speaking tour before he returns to his native France.

Titled "Destiny of Paris," the talk will include a new approach to urban renewal and city planning.

Grillo, author and consultant, has just completed a stay at Rice University in Houston, Tex., as visiting professor, during which he conducted a three-week seminar in urban planning.

His visit to the Newark campus is part of a year-long program at the university to help undergraduates understand the urban society in which they will live and work after graduation.

Peninsula Society Urges Legislation For Water Usage

The Peninsula Horticultural Society feels it has a stake in water use and allocation on the Delmarva peninsula, and in a resolution passed at the group's 70th annual meeting two weeks ago in Salisbury, legislation was requested in Delaware to insure protection of agricultural water uses.

The society asked to be represented on any commission involved in allocating water rights. A water committee including Robert Riden, Bridgeville; Duane Shierer, Houston; and Joseph Jackewicz of Magnolia, was empowered by the society to represent its point of view in current water rights legislation in Delaware.

Citing current supplies of surface and sub-surface water, the resolution pointed out that water is in great demand by competing factions—industry, cities and agriculture—may be limited in the future.

Other resolutions passed by the society asked for increased fertilizer services by the Delaware State Board of Agriculture, and legislation that would ease the problem caused by elimination of foreign field workers from the United States.

Officers for 1966 are President Albert Ardis, Snow Hill, Md.; Vice-President Edwin Cusick, Cradockville, Va.; Secretary Robert F. Stevens, Newark; and Treasurer H. A. Richardson, Magnolia, Del.

In a special ceremony, Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware, was honored for his service to the organization.

Retiring President Jackewicz presented Stevens with a plaque recognizing his years of effort toward the betterment of Delmarva agriculture.

Stevens has served as society secretary for 18 years.

Pvt. Guy W. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Walker, 259 Mill Road, Newark, completed advanced training as a cannoneer at the Army Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla., on Dec. 16.

Walker was trained in the preparation, loading and firing of field artillery guns and howitzers.

The 20-year-old soldier entered the Army last August and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. Walker is a 1963 graduate of Newark High School.

$1,050.84 Awarded For Savings Idea At Chrysler Plant

Ralph A. Ahrens, Jr. Wins
2nd High Award With Idea
For Cost-Saving Process

Ralph A. Ahrens Jr., has earned $1,050.84 for a cost-saving idea submitted as part of the employee suggestion plan at Chrysler Corporation's Newark assembly plant.

"Surprised elation" was the way plant officials described his reaction when notified of the award shortly before Christmas.

Ahrens resides with his wife and two children at Havre de Grace, Md. An employee in the trim department, he has worked at the Chrysler plant since December, 1964.

The suggestion is the only one that Ahrens has submitted under the plan, and earned him the second highest award paid since it was established a year ago.

Jack B. Adams of Elkton, Md., was awarded $2,191 last August as recipient of the plant's highest award.

Ahrens' suggestion resulted in paint savings on cars with vinyl tops produced at the Newark plant. His award represents a percentage of the amount saved on a year's production of these cars.

"We are doubly happy to make this sizeable award," said Plant Manager C. E. Fowble, Jr., "because it not only rewards Ahrens for an excellent idea but will encourage other employees to submit their suggestions."

In the plant's first year of operation we have awarded employees more than $6,000. These suggestions have helped us to produce cars of higher quality, more economically, in a safer plant."

Ahrens said that while he felt his idea was a good one, he was surprised at the amount of the award.

But not so surprised that he isn't going to keep his eyes open for another award-earning suggestion.

University Invites Public Attendance At Kitchen Clinic

A kitchen clinic for homemakers, home-owners and builders planning to build a home or remodel or rearrange a kitchen is scheduled for Jan. 12 at the University of Delaware.

The clinic, which will be held in the new home management building at the university, will conduct the meeting in Agricultural Hall Room 032.

A morning session beginning at 10 will deal with the basic principles of kitchen planning and storage. In the afternoon session, Miss Morris will assist with individual problems.

People wishing individual assistance are asked to bring blueprints, scale drawings, photographs or other material that would be useful in evaluating the kitchen plans.

Assistance in drawing up the kitchen plans before the meeting may be obtained from Mrs. Mary Keller, New Castle County home economics extension agent, Agricultural Hall, Newark. There is no charge.

Transferred By DuPont

Edward B. Cooper

Manager of DuPont's plastics department laboratory at the Experimental Station, Edward B. Cooper of Newark will be transferred to the plastics patents and contracts division, effective Jan. 1.

Cooper joined DuPont in 1942 as a research supervisor, and was appointed general laboratory director in 1958.

A graduate of Berea College in 1930, he received a master of arts degree from the University of Maine in 1934, and an honorary doctor of science degree by Berea in 1960. He lives at 104 Bent Lane in Newark.

Meadowood Ass'n Yule Contest Won By Harry English

Harry English of 38 Thorne Hollow was named grand champion in the Christmas decorations contest sponsored by the Meadowood Civic Association.

In addition, awards were given in three categories.

John Jewell of 1117 Mayflower Drive, was first, and Mrs. Patrick Feeney of 103 Rockrose Drive, was second in the religious category.

Edward C. Wirth of 139 Rockrose Drive, won first, and William Davis of 126 Marta Drive, second, in the non-religious class.

Firm Of Edward H. Richardson Associates Moves Headquarters Into New Building

Edward H. Richardson Associates, consulting engineers and land surveyors, moved into a new office building in Newark yesterday, and marked the occasion with a reception for clients and other guests.

The Richardson firm occupies the entire first floor of the two-story Robcort Building at 153 Chestnut Hill Road, and operates branch offices in Dover, and at Snow Hill, Md.

The second floor tenant in the 10,000 sq. ft. building, Richard Phillips, AIA, Inc., Newark, is expected to occupy new quarters next month. Fox is the architect for the fully air-conditioned building on a two-acre plot near the 896 Interchange with the John F. Kennedy Memorial Highway.

In addition to offices, conference, computer and drafting rooms, the portion of the Robcort Building occupied by Richardson Associates has modern laboratories for soils; concrete testing and analysis, and a report-preparation area for survey crews.

The exterior of the structure is principally of split stone with special treatment for the front facing Chestnut Hill Road.

This consists of a clay tile solar screen eight feet in front of the main wall. Behind the solar screen is a second floor balcony and a garden-like area on the ground level with night lighting for further attractiveness after dark. The front also has a two-story, glass-enclosed stairway with foyers on each floor.

"Girl In Trouble" Topic For Speaker At "Y" Luncheon

"A Girl In Trouble" will be the subject for next Thursday's luncheon program at the Newark YWCA, Mrs. Donald Fieldhouse, chairman, has announced, with Margaret M. Thompson, executive director of the Florence Crittenton Home of Delaware, Inc., as the speaker.

Miss Thompson is a graduate of Northwestern University, and did her graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania school of social work. She has been with the Florence Crittenton Home for 10 years, and prior to that, was with the Children's Bureau of Delaware.

These weekly luncheons are open to the public without charge. Sandwiches can be purchased at the "Y," or persons may bring their own.

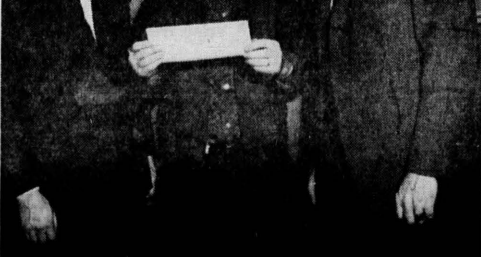

Mrs. Joseph Brown is chairman of hostesses.

The luncheon will start at 11:45 and end at 1 p.m.

Those desiring baby-sitting services should call for reservations by Monday.

The general theme for luncheon programs during January will be social concerns.

Chrysler Check For $1,050.84 As Idea Reward

Ralph Ahrens (center) takes an admiring look at a $1,050.84 employee suggestion plan award presented him by Chrysler Plant Manager C. E. Fowble, Jr. (right).

Also showing pleasure with the award is Chrysler's suggestion administrator, W. G. Robelen, IV, at the Newark assembly plant.

Current Research Reports Scheduled At UDRF Meeting

Cicala, Herr, Stegner
To Report On Projects
Sponsored By Foundation

Reports on three current research projects will be given at the annual University of Delaware Research Foundation luncheon on Saturday, Jan. 8.

The 12:15 p.m. program in the Student Center will include talks by Dr. George A. Cicala, associate professor of psychology; Dr. Richard B. Herr, assistant professor of physics; and Dr. Robert W. Stegner, assistant professor of education.

Cicala will discuss "Effects of Drugs on Learned Fear." Herr's topic is "Some Aspects of the Structure of the Milky Way Galaxy." and Stegner will consider "The Life Cycle of the Monarch Butterfly."

The UDRF and its predecessor organizations have assisted the university for more than two decades by providing funds for the preliminary investigation of new and promising ideas by young faculty members. Support has been given in the areas of agriculture, engineering, biological sciences, chemistry, mathematics, physics, and psychology.

The foundation is governed by a board of seven trustees whose principal duty is to supervise expenditure of research funds.

During the last several years, more than a dozen projects annually have been sponsored at a cost of more than $70,000.

Officers of the foundation are Samuel Lenher, president; Baird C. Brittingham, vice-president, and chairman of the finance committee; John W. Shirley, secretary; Harry G. Haskell, Jr., treasurer; Merlin M. Brubaker, chairman, research committee; George T. Weymouth, membership chairman; and C. Lator Burdick, assistant secretary.

Trustees include Lenher, Brittingham, Shirley, and Weymouth; George P. Edmonds, George E. Holbrook and Otis H. Smith.

Members of the foundation include some of the state's leading citizens in agriculture, engineering, medicine, chemistry, biology, public health, industry, and government.

15 Of Ag School To Present Papers On Weed Control

Fifteen staff members from the University of Delaware college of agricultural sciences will present papers at the Northeastern Weed Control Conference in New York, Jan. 5-7, reporting on results of their research on soybean, corn, vegetable and fruit weed control methods; on addition of herbicides to mulches; and on persistence of herbicides in the soil.

Reports on experiments to control weeds on agricultural land; commercial turf areas; home lawns and highways, will be included in the three-day meeting.

Use of chemicals which retard grass growth will be underlined, as well as means to apply them.

Pollution control experts are expected to attend the conference along with researchers from educational and industrial concerns.

State Honors Newark Resident Leaving For Duty In Vietnam

Lt. Col. Jesse S. Raybourn Receives State's Highest Military Decoration — Conspicuous Service Cross —
With Departure For Vietnam In New Army Assignment

Delaware's highest military decoration, the Conspicuous Service Cross, was the state's parting token of appreciation to Lt. Col. Jesse S. Raybourn of Newark as he left for Vietnam.

Col. Raybourn has been the Army advisor to the Delaware National Guard's 1st Battalion, 198th Artillery at the Greater Wilmington Airport for the past two and a half years.

On Dec. 31 Raybourn will begin a new assignment with U. S. Army Viet Nam. Mrs. Raybourn and their three children will continue to make their home at 1 Lynn Drive in Newark while he is overseas.

The medal was presented on behalf of Gov. Terry by Lt. Col. Everett J. Kimmey, commander of the 1st Battalion, at a farewell dinner given by battalion officers.

Maj. Gen. Joseph J. Scannell, state adjutant general, commended Col. Raybourn's service to the Delaware Guard. "He is an officer who has exerted great influence on the Delaware National Guard," Scannell said, "and this influence will be reflected for years to come."

Enlisted Veteran
Raybourn, an enlisted veteran of World War II Air Force service, is himself, a product of the National Guard. He was commissioned in 1947 to serve as a platoon leader in a New Mexico Guard anti-aircraft unit.

He volunteered for extended active duty in 1949, and served the next three years with similar units in Japan and Korea.

From 1952 to 1954, and again from 1957 to 1959, he was stationed at the Army's Air Defense Center at Ft. Bliss, Texas, where he was an instructor and later assistant secretary of the general staff.

In the intervening years he served in the European command from 1954 to 1957 as staff officer, as a unit commander, and from 1960 to 1963 on the staffs of air defense battalion and group headquarters.

Col. Raybourn graduated from the associate air defense officer career course at Ft. Bliss in 1960, and interrupted his tour in Delaware for five months in 1964 to complete the associate command and general staff college course at Ft. Leavenworth.

Awarded the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters, and the Army Commendation Medal with one cluster, he participated in five World War II campaigns in Europe, and two in Korea.

Thiokol Awarded $2-Million Contract For Retro Rocket

Thiokol Chemical Corporation's Elton division has announced the award of a contract for design and production of the main retro rocket for the scientific payload version of the Surveyor lunar spacecraft.

Scientists at Hughes Aircraft Co., prime contractor for Surveyor, determined it necessary to upgrade performance and size of the main retro engine used to slow the spacecraft as it plummets toward the surface.

Thiokol was selected because of its success in developing and qualifying the present main retro engine.

First flights of the Surveyor are scheduled to start within a few months.

Total value of the new contract is approximately $2,000,000.

Robert W. Arnold Associate Director Of USO In Saigon

Formerly of Newark, Robert W. Arnold, a New York artist, has been named associate director of the United Service Organization for American troops in Saigon.

Son of Mrs. Perrie Arnold of Foulk Manor and brother of Samuel M. Arnold of Canterbury Hills, he enlisted in the Army in 1942 while a sophomore at the University of Delaware, and was commissioned a lieutenant. He served in the Pacific theater of operations.

Following the war he studied art at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and in Italy, France and England.

In 1948 he was commissioned to illustrate the late W. Somerset Maugham's 11-volume series of great novel condensations. His portraits and drawings have been on magazine covers.

Arnold later created 150 illustrations for a history of Protestant churches in America; served on the staff of the Museum of Modern Art in New York; and was art director for Mercury Magazine.

Last Sunday, there was special music at all three services. The Junior Choir of Nancy Archer, Sandra and Susan Rutter, Debbie Miller and Debbie Corridori sang at 8 a.m. worship.

Sarah Dennison of Stanton will leave today by plane for India, returning to India for five years to again teach in the Kodakal School for children of missionaries.

Miss Dennison, a native of Mill Creek Hundred, and daughter of the late Samuel and Alice Polk Dennison of Yorklyn, has taught first grade at Stanton Central Elementary School for seven years after spending five years at Kodakal. She will be first grade teacher at the Kodakal School.

Sponsored by the Presbyterian board of missions she has been attending classes at the orientation center at Stony Point, N. Y. For the Christmas holidays, she has visited relatives in his area and her aunt Maude Polk in New Castle.

Local young people who are home from college for the Christmas holidays include Kenneth Lomax, Lafayette; Dennis Berry and Richard Stouland, Juniata; Cathy McVaugh, Hahemann Hospital school of nursing; James Sullivan, Union; Kenneth Kourer, Jr., William and Mary; Robert Watson, Drexel; Priscilla Harmon, Oberlin; Pam Kanas, Dickinson; Lynn Ayres, Muskingum; Bonnie Avers, Salem; Duncan Anderson, Jr., Washington; Charlotte Harris, Baldwin-Wallace; Randy Jarmon, West Point Military Academy; Patricia and Barbara Houchin, Judith Woodward, Carol Hitchens, James Hassell, John R. Mendenhall, Frances Balestieri, Barbara Baker, Leroy Millett, University of Delaware; Lynn Teitsworth and Ellen Pierson, University of Indiana; Stephen and Samuel Campbell, Jr., Spring Garden Institute.

Connie Sabine of Limestone Road has returned home from the Wilmington General Division of the Wilmington Medical Center after surgery on her right knee.

David Gass of Huntsville, Ala., is spending the Christmas vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Warden Gass of Duncan Road.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Harmon include Mr. and Mrs. Richard Aston of Columbus, Ohio; Margaret Harmon of New Haven, Conn.; and David Harmon on furlough from the U. S. Army at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul Peach of North Star Road, will entertain members of White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church Choir this evening at a holiday party at their home.

Mrs. Ferris Eastburn of Eastburn Farms, was a Christmas dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Eastburn of Avondale, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holler of Limestone Road, entertained at a Christmas Eve dinner with 10 present.

Representatives to Western Quarterly meeting will be named this Sunday at the monthly meeting of Hockessin Friends.

Hill 'n' Dale 4-H Club members and leaders—Sally Evans, Marvin Klair, and James Insigna—went caroling last Monday to Brandywine Springs Nursing Home and Exeter Hall Convalescent Home. They returned to Mr. Klair's home for games and refreshments.

Members of Waverly Club will hold an all-day sewing for the Hockessin branch of the Needlework Guild next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Robert B. Walker and Mrs. Robert B. Walker, Jr., Walden Farm, Hockessin.

The group will meet at 10 a.m. and Mrs. Samuel Campbell, welfare chairman, will be in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Naudain of Paper Mill Road, entertained at a family dinner last Sunday.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Naudain, Mr. and Mrs. George Press and daughter Wendy; Mr. and Mrs. Warner Naudain, Ray and Lynn Naudain; and William and John Naudain.

Seaman Larry Pfeiferroth With Destroyer Assault

U. S. Navy Seaman Apprentice Larry Pfeiferroth, son of Mr. Robert Pfeiferroth of 11 Marlin Drive, Brookside, participated in an Atlantic Fleet training exercise during the first two weeks of December, while serving aboard the destroyer USS Massey, out of Newport, R. I.

An amphibious assault was launched against an "aggressor" force on the island of Vieques off the coast of Puerto Rico, by Navy amphibious and embarked Marine landing forces.

Massey is scheduled to return to Newport for the Christmas holidays.

ECONOMIC PROSPECTS — 1966

The gross output of the American economy will be $672 billion in 1965—about $43 billion higher than 1964.

The National Association of Manufacturers' report on economic prospects for next year states that "comparable growth is attainable in 1966, which would raise the gross national product for the year to close to $715 billion."

The NAM statement cautions that these are not unconditional forecasts. "Non-inflationary economic growth is not a gift of the gods, simply to be accepted and enjoyed. It is to be won or lost, depending on the degree of wisdom presented by the national policies we pursue."

The report points out that we have emerged from an "under utilized" economy to a "fully utilized" economy.

Our national policies must be oriented to assure the accumulation of capital and know-how necessary to make added manpower more productive at a steadily accelerated pace.

To The Editor

The Christmas baskets delivered in the New London Avenue area by the Newark Welfare Committee under Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey's direction, are very, very much appreciated.

I don't know what we would do without Mrs. Dickey, bless her heart. We love her. And certainly, we'll never find another like her.

For more than a quarter of a century, Mrs. Dickey has helped provide these Christmas baskets for people who really need them, and somebody should publicly thank Mrs. Dickey for all of her good work.

Appreciatively,
Anna Coates

Wilmington, Del. 19801

If we ran a general store in town and you were a neighbor and customer instead of us being in an upstairs office and you far away could happen.

As the Christmas season approached we would find more frequent opportunities to chat with you—we would ask if all the children would be home for Christmas—and whether you were spending the day at Aunt Kate's or if it was at your place this year—also

We would make a point of thanking you for your cooperation during the year—"It's been a good year for us," we'd say, "a record-breaking year, but only because of loyal friends and supporters like you—and we sure do appreciate the cooperation you give us year in and year out." We'd shake hands and a strong-

Avon To Continue Full Scholarship For Local Pupils

Inaugurated Last Year 4-Year Grant Renewed In Local School District

Avon Products will continue its four-year college scholarship program as introduced last year to residents of the Newark school district.

All applicants must have attended a public school in the Newark district since the beginning of the second semester of his or her junior year in high school; must have an academic standing in the top 25 per cent of the class; and must be a senior as of last September.

This scholarship of Avon Products Foundation, Inc., again is sponsored by Avon Products, Inc., and will offer another full four-year scholarship to any accredited degree-granting college or university in the United States. There is no restriction on the course of study chosen by the student.

The scholarship will consist of annual payment of tuition in full for a period of four years, and in addition, an amount not to exceed $500 each year will be provided to assist the holder of the scholarship in meeting college living expenses where such need is evident.

Also included is a grant-in-aid in the amount of $500 each year to the college or university attended by the holder of the scholarship.

Application forms and information on this scholarship are available at Newark and Christiana high schools.

The 1965 winner of this scholarship was Eric Jacobson, 240 Cheltenham Road, who is attending Dartmouth.

Members of the scholarship committee selecting the winner are in no way connected with Avon Products.

Committee members are Wilmer E. Shue, Robert Gebhardt, Robert L. Townsend, III, and Robert Hall—all residents of the Newark area.

Avon Scholarship Awarded To Eric E. Jacobson

Robert D. Angstadt, general manager of Avon Products, Inc., at Newark, presents the coveted Avon scholarship award to Newark High School Senior Eric E. Jacobson as the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton S. Jacobson, look on. The Avon Scholarship, because of its generous financial provisions, is one of the most sought after in the Newark special school district.

Avon Products, Inc., Scholarship Award Won By Eric E. Jacobson, Senior At NHS

General manager of Avon Products, Inc., at Newark, Robert D. Angstadt today announced that the winner of the 1965 Avon Scholarship is Eric E. Jacobson, a senior at Newark High School, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton S. Jacobson, 240 Cheltenham Road.

The scholarship has been termed by Supt. Wilmer E. Shue as "one of the most generous available to students in Newark."

The Avon Scholarship consists of four years tuition in full at a college or university; an amount not to exceed $500 a year to the holder of the scholarship for living expenses; and a grant of $500 each year to the college or university attended by the scholarship holder.

Eric competed for the scholarship with other students from Newark and Christiana high schools.

A member of the Newark High School Band, he plays trumpet, and is the student conductor. In 1962, he performed in the County Band, and this year is a member of the All-State Band.

A representative of Student Council, he served as publicity chairman for the American Field Services program which brings students to visit our country each year.

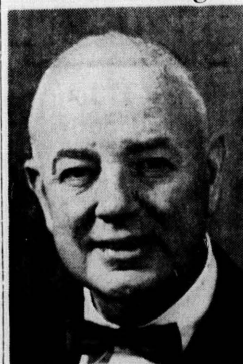

A free-style swimming star, he received the Outstanding Swimming Award last summer in Newark.

Eric has been accepted at Dartmouth College where he hopes to major in chemistry. He hopes to teach and do research, specializing in geriatrics and genetics which he feels to be fields of study which need immediate attention.

The Avon Scholarship committee is made up of Shue, Martin J. Gauger, Robert Gebhardt, George L. Townsend, III, and Robert Hall.

C. of C. Directors Resume Sessions At Avon's Plant

Directors of the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce met last Monday night at the Avon Products plant, and Executive Secretary Carroll W. Mumford reported receiving 139 visitors; 162 telephone calls; and processing 729 pieces of mail on chamber business during the summer since the last directors' meeting on June 22.

Two new memberships in the chamber were approved — for Robert W. Dowling, president of Newark Taxicab Co., and Mrs. Alice Bryant, owner of the Zephyr Knoll Nursery.

Hugh F. Gallagher, Jr., chairman of the chamber committee for study of means to protect local residents against fraudulent business, recommended continued operation under the present municipal peddlers' ordinance, and chamber sponsorship of a "Be Wise—Buy Cautiously" publicity program to protect both consumer and legitimate businessman.

President Silas W. Pettit conducted the meeting attended by Mumford, Directors Robert D. Angstadt, Joseph J. Formisano, Harold J. Meade, F. Racine Stafford, Raymond W. Weimer, and Harlan C. Williams; and committee chairmen Gallagher and Jack Handloff.

Bell, Klimek Announce Viking Varsity, Jayvee Squads After CHS Wrestle-Offs

The Viking varsity wrestling team for the Blue Hen Conference opener at Conrad on Saturday, Jan. 8, was selected Wednesday of last week in a public wrestling-off at the Christiana High School gym, as Tri-Captains Dave Cross, Glenn Hall, and Hal Boyer defeated their opponents to assure their starting status.

The Christiana varsity includes Dwight Hastings, 95-lbs.; Cross, 103; Monte Baldwin, 112; Wesley Wolf, 120; Ken Reed, 127; Hall, 133; Jeff Heath, 138; Bill Rust, 145; Dick Morris, 154; Boyer, 165; Charles Burdick, 180; and Steve Horn, heavy-weight.

Except for changes due to illness, ineligibility, or defeat in subsequent elimination bouts, these boys will represent Christiana as the front line wrestling varsity. Coaches Joe Bell and Ken Klimek report.

In last week's elimination bouts with Marty Stambaugh, referee, Hastings won by forfeit, and lost an overweight match to Ted Thomas in an 8-5 decision.

Cross pinned Richard Macy in 3:45 of the 103-lb. event; and Baldwin scored a pin over Bob Park at 11:2 in 2:48.

Wolf defeated Frank Whittington 10-4 at 120; and won an 8-5 decision over John Hall at 127-lbs.; and Glen Hall pinned Rob Cornelius in 1:03.

Heath defeated Bill Rylander 13-0 in the 138-lb. event; Rust stopped Bob Halstead 7-3 to win the 145-lb. starting spot; Morris won a 4-0 decision over Greg Kracher at 154; and Boyer defeated Tom Mercereille 3-0 at 165-lbs.

Burdick pinned Roger Gullett in 3:22 of the 180-lb. match, and Horn pinned Pat Roby in 2:35 of the unlimited class.

The Viking jayvee squad includes Thomas, 95-lbs.; Macy, 103; John Walters, 112; Whittington, 120; John Hall, 127; Cornelius, 133; John Hopper, 138; Kracher, 154; Mercereille, 165; Gullett, 180; and Roby, heavy-weight.

Christiania squad members will compete in the YMCA wrestling tournament this Thursday and Friday, with matches scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Thursday, and the finals to start at 7 o'clock Friday evening.

On a recent Saturday morning south of Bombay Hook, Dave Davis, Jack Miller, and Harold Wilkins failed to get a shot from their goose pit in the field near the federal wildlife refuge.

The Canada geese were flying in the area, too, but high and far away—way out of range.

After a first-of-the-season start in which he shot his limit of two geese within as many minutes of legal sunrise, and with two shells, too, Sonny Wilkins couldn't believe that second Saturday's shotless session.

So he returned early in the cold last Monday morning, alone, and didn't get a shot. Saw less geese, too.

The sight of a snowy owl in Delaware is a rare treat for the hunter or bird-watcher, but there is a good possibility that these magnificent birds of prey may visit the First State this winter with the cyclic scarcity of lemmings in the Arctic.

According to Industrial Press Service, an editor's friend, "Ghostlike invaders from the north who swoop down into the United States in search of food every four years, are due once again this winter."

Snowy owls with 5-ft. wingspreads migrate from their homes in the barren tundra above the Arctic Circle to southern points when lemmings—rodents that are their principal source of food—become scarce. American birds have penetrated as far south as Florida, Texas, and California.

"The last invasion in the winter of 1960-61 was one of the largest," he says. Apparently unafraid of man, the great birds perched on suburban houseposts and television antennae, and in Boston, one lonely snowy owl visited residents during the Christmas season—swooping over shoppers perched on an office ledge to stare at working people; and taking refuge on the gilded State House dome.

"By early spring the owls are gone. A few make it back to the Arctic, but most die of starvation, disease, or gunfire," Industrial Press Service concludes.

Some years ago, a Delaware State Police trooper struck a snowy owl while driving a patrol car on the highway between Dover and Rehoboth, and L. C. Slicer of Newport—sportsman and master of taxidermy—stuffed the owl. A classic creature it was, too, standing better than 2-ft. high and its unbelievably soft, white, fluffy feathers beautifully barred with brown.

Joe Marousek, veteran Delaware sportsman, observed a great white owl perched on a fencepost at his country estate at Bear, with the owl's back turned to the observer.

Mr. Marousek stealthily stalked the Arctic visitor and instead of shooting the beautiful bird, attempted to capture it by grabbing the owl by the shoulders from behind in an effort to pin its great wings to its sides.

But those shoulder muscles that had taken the ghostly visitor some thousand miles from the Arctic to Delaware, were suddenly flexed—the snowy owl spread its broad wings.

Blue Hen Cagers To Play At Home In Three Straight

After three straight setbacks on the road, Coach Irv Wisniewski's Fighting Blue Hen Cagers return to Delaware next week for three successive home stands in Carpenter Field House.

The Hens face PMC on Monday at 8 p.m.; and Drexel and Georgetown on Tuesday and Saturday at 8:15.

The 3-6 Delaware lost 83-59 at Toledo on Monday; and the Hens were defeated 62-59 by Ashland in the first round of the Wooster (Ohio) Tourney on Tuesday.

In the consolation round last night, the Blue Hens were stopped 91-82 by Grove City.

Wooster, the host team, defeated Ashland 69-57 for the tournament title in the second game of the Ohio basketball classic.

Delaware Co-Capt. John Himes was named to the All-Tournament team.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

Oddenda '65

John Longden, who passed the 6,000 mark in winners during 1965, may be the winningest active rider, but he is not the oldest. Claude Hooper, who rode his first winner in 1924 and was still active in New England this year, is 59.

California, however, does have another jockey record: a jockey named Bob Jennings measures an inch less than six feet in his stocking feet and can do 109 pounds without wincing about his diet. . . . A race at Sunland Park this season featured a Model T Ford foaled in 1924 and a stable pony. The pony won the 1-furlong dash by half a length. . . . Various monasteries are noted for fine wines and liqueurs, but the Trappist monastery in Nelson County, Kentucky, instead of pressing grapes, is pressing alfalfa feed pellets for Leslie Combs II's Spendthrift Farm horses. . . . Something odd in the way of extra equipment was introduced by Steeplechase rider Tommy Walsh when he won the Annapolis with Eagle's Top last June. He wore a special shoulder harness because of a collar bone broken 14 days earlier. . . . An estimated 10,000 persons saw Aristides win the first Kentucky Derby in 1875 and, according to Churchill Downs President Wathen Knebelkamp, about the same number of mutual clerks, concession employees, ushers, security police and others today enter to the annual Derby throng. . . . Joe Hernandez has given the public address call of every race run at Santa Anita Park since Christmas Day 1934, including the year when he worked from a wheel chair after falling off his horse in the stable area one morning.

Boys from fourth through sixth grades, went to the Central YMCA in Wilmington for weekly instructions in the gym and pool to increase their physical skills, leadership and personal growth.

The 10-week program will be offered again in January with buses to take the boys to Wilmington on Wednesday or Saturday. For information, contact the Western Branch YMCA.

Boys participating in the Saturday morning classes were Jonathan Brams, Stephen Brandt, Jeffrey Chait, Benji Coy, Hayes and John Cane, Eric Mac, Jeff Michener, Jonathan Miller, Robert Nowland, Tim O'Brien, Antonio Pinaro, Laurens Ruter, Bruce Sentman, Jeff Shockley, Alfred Sowden, Harold Taylor, Stephen Teuchart, Edward and Ricki Thompson, Brian Wallace, Richard Walton, Benny and Gary Wilson, Stephen Wittle, and John Zitters.

Bob Burton, former Newark High School and University of Maryland backfielder, will coach the professional North American Football League All-Star team as a line-backer for the Annapolis Sailor champions.

Burton was named to the second team defensive unit.

The Wilmington Comets had two first team players in Pat Stillman and Gordon Wright, defensive guard and end.

YMCA Basketball Leagues To Begin Play Jan. 15th

The Western Branch YMCA Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Basketball League will begin play on Saturday, Jan. 15, at Central Junior High School in Newark.

Twenty-two teams from Newark, Christiana, Camden, and Camden-by-the-Sea will compete every Saturday between 9 and noon, and defending champions are Rattkii Tri-Hi-Y and Conrad Hi-Y.

Joseph Conway, Stanton Junior High School science teacher, is supervising the league with help from Lee Autman and Jessie Thomas of the University of Delaware as referees. Each team must have eight members and one adult coach on the roster to qualify.

ROSE BOWL GAME Chrysler Corporation will co-sponsor broadcast of the Rose Bowl game on the NBC television and radio networks beginning at 4:45 p.m. this Saturday, with Lindsay Nelson and Terry Brennan describing the action for television viewers, and Bob Reynolds handling the radio play-by-play.

JERSEY CANOE TRIP Reservations are due Jan. 11 for the Wilmington Trail Club canoe trip on the Rancocas River in New Jersey on Saturday, Jan. 15, with Marion Innis, leader. Transportation will be arranged, leaving Wilmington at 9 a.m. Lunch, and extra clothing in a waterproof bag should be brought by all interested persons.

Swimming Honors Presented 43 Boys In YMCA Program

Forty-three boys from Newark received swimming awards for achievement in the YMCA fitness for living program on Dec. 18.

Parents of participants were invited to attend a program of swimming and gymnastic demonstrations as a climax to the 10 weeks of lessons.

Boys from fourth through sixth grades, went to the Central YMCA in Wilmington for weekly instructions in the gym and pool to increase their physical skills, leadership and personal growth.

Coach Francis Fulghum Faces BHC Opener With Mark Brown As Lone NHS Letterman

Coach Francis Fulghum with Mark Brown as the one returning letterman, faces the Blue Hen Conference basketball season opener at Mt. Pleasant next Tuesday night with a Newark High School varsity squad of two seniors, eight juniors, and one sophomore.

Fulghum's Yellowjacket varsity includes Tom Gross and Perry Mitchell, seniors; Brown, Ronnie Mitchell, Conway Hayman, Orville Wright, Chuck Coover, Brian Ginty, John Jones, and Lou Strengari, juniors; and Sophomore Bill Fletcher.

The tentative starting line-up for the Yellowjackets next Tuesday was announced yesterday by Coach Fulghum, with Gross, Perry and Ron Mitchell, Brown, Hayman or Wright as Newark's front line varsity.

"This is a year of building up a team," the Newark coach said, "as we have but one letterman and only two seniors. We may get off to a slow start, but we should improve as the season goes along."

The defending champions of P. S. du Pont are expected to pack plenty of power with returning veterans, and the Green Knights of Mt. Pleasant are of championship caliber.

Bill Santo is coaching the Newark High School junior varsity cagers.

After the Mt. Pleasant opener, the Newark jayvees and varsity play at home on Friday of next week against Brandywine, with the juniors' varsity preliminary test scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m.

Improvements For Bowie Planned For Opening Day

The construction schedule of improvements for Bowie Race Course's 26-day meeting opening Jan. 8 is being rushed to completion by John F. Loomie, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Maryland track. Principal improvements are centered in the grandstand and stabling areas where facilities have been created for the convenience of patrons and horsemen.

Major projects in the grandstand are installation of escalators and an expanded mezzanine. Escalators are located in the center of the grandstand several steps from the entrance and rise 30-ft. to the mezzanine.

The expanded mezzanine area will afford an easy traffic flow and increased "walking around" room. The area has been beautified by asphalt tile flooring, new lighting fixtures, and bank-type mutual windows.
