National Grange In Delaware

Wilmington Prepares A Rousing Welcome

Wilmington is busy planning to extend true Delaware hospitality to the Convention of National Grangers to meet at the Hotel Du Pont November 10 to 20 inclusive. The city is to be gaily decorated, the stores will wear their finest garb, and every agency in Delaware which can come to the assistance of the city in receiving the Patrons of Husbandry will give its aid.

On Tuesday, November 10, the delegates will start to arrive and will be registered and assigned to their quarters. A public reception will be tendered to the officers, delegates and visitors at which Governor Charles R. Miller, Mayor Harrison W. Howell, Josiah Marvel, Esq., and Samuel Chiles Mitchell, president of Delaware College, will make addresses of welcome. Responses will be made by four of the leading members of the National Grange. This reception will be given jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and the Delaware State Grange.

On Wednesday, November 11, business sessions will be held in the ball room of the Hotel Du Pont in the morning and afternoon. That night the conferring of the Fifth degree will take place.

On Thursday, November 12, business sessions will be held in the morning and afternoon and in the evening the conferring of the Sixth degree will take place.

Friday, November 13 (Good Luck Day to prominent persons including Patrons of Husbandry) will be the big day of the convention. Business sessions will be held in the morning and afternoon and in the evening of the Seventh degree, around which so much of the interest in the National Grange conventions centers, will take place at The Playhouse.

On Saturday, November 14, three business sessions will be held. Sunday, November 15, will be devoted to a memorial service to members of the grange who have died during the past year.

On Monday, November 16, three business sessions will be held, morning, afternoon and night.

On Tuesday, November 17, an automobile excursion to Cooch's Bridge and vicinity, will be taken by the visitors as guests of the Chamber of Commerce and Delaware State Grange jointly. The evening will be devoted to a business session.

On Wednesday, November 18, business sessions will be held in the morning and afternoon and the evening will be given over to the "Priests of Demeter," an interesting grange service.

On Thursday, November 19, a short business session will be held in the morning and about 10 o'clock the delegates and visitors will get away to spend the rest of the day at Delaware College. They will go to Newark on the Pennsylvania railroad and will make an inspection of the State farm, poultry exhibits and the experimental station, after which they will be served with a banquet at Delaware College. In the afternoon they will hold a business session in the college oratory and return by way of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for the evening business session in Wilmington.

On Friday, November 20, two business sessions will be held, and in the evening the closing session of the grange will take place.

It will be noticed from the program that there is a change in the date of conferring the Seventh degree. This was due to inability to secure The Playhouse on the day originally set. The Chamber of Commerce early in the year had arranged to secure The Playhouse for the Grange but due to a misunderstanding as to the dates an attraction was booked to run at the theatre at the time the grange session meets here. In order to overcome this difficulty the Chamber of Commerce bought out the entire house for the evening and turned it over to the Grange.

The War At Close Range

Dr. E. V. Vaughn, Professor of History in Delaware College, announces a very timely topic for the first lecture in the Historical Series for this year. He has secured Dr. W. E. Lingebach, professor of modern history in the University of Pennsylvania for a lecture on "The War at Close Range." In this lecture Dr. Lingebach will give his own experiences in the European war zone last summer. He will explain fully the Russian attitude, the German point of view, and certain phases of English mobilization. He was a spectator at the thrilling war session of the English parliament. When the war broke out, Dr. Lingebach was caught in the land of the Czar and was thus enabled to see much of the situation as he traveled westward to England. This lecture which is open to the public, offers an interesting and authoritative view of the Great War, from the standpoint of an unbiased American. As soon as possible, the exact date of this lecture will be announced.

Lecturer Shows Splendid Pictures

Miss Ruth Frances Davis of Wisconsin gave a splendid talk in the Presbyterian Church last Monday evening, showing beautiful slides of scenery and life in Japan. The talk was incidentally a strong argument in favor of the cause of temperance.

Auto Accident On Elkton Road

A serious accident threatened last Friday evening when an automobile, driven by John Richards, Jr., of Newark, became unmanageable, and ran into a telegraph pole near Newark, on the Elkton road. Mr. Richards was accompanied by Miss Anna McCarns. Both were thrown out and badly bruised and shaken. The car needed extensive repairs.

Successful Social

Men of the Presbyterian Sunday School gave a social evening to the young folks of the school last Thursday evening. A merry evening was spent by the young folk in dodging for apples, blowing out the candles and similar Halloween games. Refreshments of lemonade and ginger cakes were served. The church was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and pumpkin lanterns.

Fire On Levy Farm

The Laurence B. Levy farm, formerly the old Mitchell place, on the Elkton-Chesapeake City road, the scene of a destructive fire on September 7, was visited by another blaze shortly after 2 a. m. on Sunday morning. A resident of Elkton, passing the farm on his way home, noticed the fire in its early stage and gave the alarm. The Singery Company with its auto-chemical outfit hurried to the scene but could not save the barn where the blaze started. It was destroyed with a large quantity of hay and nearby stacks of straw. Loss $3,000, insured.

A handsome loving cup, valued at $250, was presented to the Singery Fire Co. of Elkton, in recognition of its services at the fire last September.

D. A. R. Plan Bake

The Cooches Bridge Chapter, Daughters American Revolution, will hold a bake and Christmas Sale at the home of Mrs. Ernest Frazer on December fifth.

Concert In College Oratory

Preliminary announcement may be made now of an exceptionally fine vocal concert which will be given in the College Oratory on Friday evening, November 13. Mrs. Marie Stone Langston and Mrs. Leonard E. Wales will give the program which was received recently with so much enthusiasm both at the Little Theatre in Philadelphia and at the New Century Club in Wilmington. The concert will be for the benefit of the Delaware College Review.

While definite returns from yesterday's landslide are slow coming in, every report shows that Delaware has voiced the same opinion so decidedly expressed throughout the country. Aside from the repudiation of Democratic policies as administered at Washington, the election in Delaware shows a severe rebuke to Saulsbury and his machine. Wilmington, his home city, swept him out of power; rural New Castle added a strong vote in favor of Republican Rule. The personal reflections put out by the Democrats during the last few days of the campaign, had but little effect.

The latest reports show the State Senate Republican by a majority of one. The House of Representatives is still in dispute.

Locally the Republicans are safe. Harvey Hoffeecker goes to the Senate by a good majority. John F. Richards is elected according to reports this afternoon. The County ticket with Levy Court is in Republican hands.

Regular meeting on the first Monday night of each month, to be held in the Parish House and the membership roll of about twenty will be increased to forty or fifty of next month. Burglars In Neighborhood

On two different charges of horse stealing and one of chicken stealing, Julius Seibert was arraigned before Magistrate Lewis and held in $500 bail on each for the upper court. He is alleged to have stolen horses owned by Irvin G. Klair and Harry Little and to have taken several chickens, a pair of boots and a blanket owned by Benjamin Hicks.

Little's horse had been stolen from the stables of the Stanton Hotel while Klair's had been taken from his stables late Sunday night. Seibert was captured by J. H. Walker and L. H. Pennington who chased him through Christiansburg after Mr. Little had notified them that the supposed thief was coming their way. Detective McCoy and Captain Kane took the prisoner to Wilmington early yesterday morning.

The home of Clarence Stroud, near Stanton, was entered on Monday, in broad daylight, and eighteen dollars in money, and two gold watches stolen from a bedroom on the second floor. The family knew nothing of their loss until the front window was discovered hoisted to the top. The intruder had entered, ransacked the house and departed, unseen. As yet no clue has been found.

Stranger Attempts Suicide

Tragedy Averted In Newark Lockup

John Hobbes, a young man of Hoboken, N. J., attempted to commit suicide early last night in the lock-up in Newark while awaiting trial on the charge of robbery. He was revived and held for a further hearing.

Hobbes was arrested yesterday charged with having robbed the residence of Harry Groves, near White Clay Creek church. He was brought to Newark and placed in the lock-up to await a hearing at night. Shortly before 7 o'clock Officer Shellender found the man lying in the corner of the lock-up with a handkerchief knotted around his throat. A physician was hurriedly summoned and revived him. He was then arraigned before a magistrate, by whom he was held for a further hearing.

The robbery with which Hobbes is charged was committed last Thursday. At the time Hobbes had been working for Groves for several weeks, and when in the absence of the owner the house was robbed, suspicion was directed to the workman. It was not until yesterday, however, that his whereabouts were discovered.

Community Night At High School

Newark High School Alumni Association kept "open house" at the High School on Tuesday, extending to the entire community the invitation to an evening of pleasant sociability. Victrola selections and games featured the evening. A collection of leaves, gathered in the immediate community, afforded interest for nature lovers. The guests were asked to name the leaves. Mrs. E. B. Frazer, Miss Strahorn, and Mr. Henry Mote labeled all but seven correctly. Miss Strahorn receiving a small potted fern as a souvenir of her success. A story made up of the names of well-known songs, the tunes of which were played on the piano and the names supplied by the audience, afforded enjoyment. Miss Agnes Medill read the connecting words. The rooms were comfortably filled and the spirit of good fellowship prevailed.

Delaware Scores On Big Teams

On October 23 a team of three students: G. O. Smith of Narberth, Pa.; J. A. Hopkins of Newark, and L. G. Gibeay of Wilmington, represented Delaware College in the Intercollegiate Dairy Judging Contest at the National Dairy Show held at Chicago, Illinois. Sixteen teams took part in the contest as representatives of the following state colleges: Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New York, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, Kentucky, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oregon.

The Delaware men finished eighth, defeating Cornell, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Arkansas, New Hampshire, South Dakota and Oregon. The Ohio team won the contest; Kansas was second, Maine third, Missouri fourth, and Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts and Delaware very close together for the next positions. The Delaware men were third in judging Holsteins, and G. O. Smith, who was among the highest scoring men of the contest, took second place in judging Ayrshires. The Delaware men were accompanied on the trip to Chicago by F. B. Hills of the Department of Animal Husbandry of Delaware College and Experiment Station.

The National Dairy Show, which was held this year from Oct. 22 to October 31, is an annual event, and calls together the leading dairy interests of the United States and Canada. It is attended by thousands. Its exhibits of dairy cattle and dairy products is the largest of any show in the country and perhaps in the world. The complete exhibits of dairy equipment and appliances are features of the show. The effect upon students and others who attend this show is broadly educative, especially upon those who plan to make the business of dairying a part of their life work.

NO SCORE ON SATURDAY

Delaware Holds Stevens To 0-0

Delaware College in one of the most spectacular games of the season held Stevens' Institute to a 0 to 0 score on the field at Hoboken last Saturday. Although outweighed by at least ten pounds, Delaware put up a wonderful game making most of her gains by smashing line plunges. The game in detail follows:

Ernie Wilson kicked off to Webb, who caught the ball on Stevens' 20 yard line and ran it back fifteen. Herrsloff made three yards and Webb made a first down. Todd got through Delaware's defense for four yards and Webb and Anderson made five more, when Stevens was penalized 15 yards for pushing. Todd tried to go around the Blue and Gold left end, but Captain Handy got through the line and threw him for a slight loss.

Webb kicked to Taylor on Delaware's 25-yard line. As the visitors' halfback was tackled he dropped the ball and Stevens recovered it. Webb went off tackle for two yards, and then tried a wide run around right end, but Groff got through and tackled him for a ten yard loss. After failing on a forward pass, Stevens could not gain the distance necessary for a first down and the pig skin went to Delaware. Taylor and Crawford gave the Blue and Gold eight yards, and then Fidance worked a double pass and got away for ten yards and a first down. Taylor made two yards, but Gray was stopped on the line. Crawford went through Stevens for his usual five yards. Delaware tried a forward that failed, giving the ball to Stevens on her 45-yard line. Todd got away for ten yards on the first play. Delaware tightened up and Webb could make only a yard. On his next trial he was downed before he got fairly started. Cann broke up an attempted forward pass, and Webb kicked the ball out of bounds on Delaware's 23-yard line.

Fidance sent Crawford at the Stevens' line three times and "Mush" made good, gaining three yards, five and then a first down. The period ended with the ball in Delaware's possession on her own 33-yard line.

Delaware, 0; Stevens, 0.

Second Period

Wilson was sent thru right field for seven yards. Crawford made a first down, and Fidance got off another double pass for 12 more and a first down. Delaware was penalized 15 yards for offenses and Crawford got back six of them. Delaware fumbled, but recovered. Fidance failed to gain. Taylor kicked to Anderson, who was downed on his own 15-yard line after he had tried to hurdle the Blue and Gold tacklers. Stevens was penalized seven and a half yards.

On the first play Webb made six yards, but was thrown on the line in the next play. Webb dropped back to his own goal line for a kick but ran with the ball instead and got thru for a first down. He made three yards on the next play. When Todd failed to advance the ball, Harshoff was given the ball. He made 10 yards and a first down. On this play Cann's right arm was injured and Foster took his place at tackle. Todd went at Delaware's line four times before he made a first down and then Webb made two in succession. A forward pass failed. Newton went in for Grievous.

Webb again tried to work his fake kick play but he went down under an avalanche of Blue tacklers. This play gave Delaware the ball. Crawford bucked a stone wall on the first play, but on the next got thru for six yards. Then Taylor kicked to Anderson. As the latter tucked the pigskin under his arm and started toward Delaware territory Smart tackled him. The whistle blew, ending the half with the ball in Stevens' territory. Delaware, 0; Stevens, 0.

The Tech students swarmed on the field and gave an elaborate snake dance singing "Stevens has Delaware's goat." It did not seem so the way things went in the second half.

Third Period

Cann went into the game in his old position. Webb kicked off to Groff, who ran the ball back 15 yards. Crawford and Taylor each made two yards, when Fidance broke thru for a first down. Crawford and Gray made another first down. "Mike" Fidance fooled the Red and Gray team with his old double pass and tackled 12 yards and a first down on Delaware's gains. Crawford did the same thing. Gray failed to gain. On the next play the Stevens backs got thru the line and downed Fidance ten yards behind the line. Two forward passes failed and the ball went to Stevens. Todd could not get by the Delaware line, so Wolf took the ball and made five yards. Webb, too, again failed to gain and a five-yard penalty forced him to kick to Taylor. Crawford made eight yards and then Webb grabbed an inside kick and started down the field. Captain Handy dropped him before he had taken two strides. Herrsloff and Todd together made five yards. A forward pass failing completion, Anderson kicked to Taylor.

Taylor kicked the ball out of bounds in the middle of the field and it went to Stevens. After making a three-yard gain Todd intercepted and ran back five yards. Gray made three, Crawford six and then a first down.

The period ended with the ball in Delaware's possession on her own 30-yard line. Delaware, 0; Stevens, 0.

Fourth Period

Crawford started things by hitting left tackle for nine yards, and Gray picked the same hole for his first down. The big fullback added another 5 yards, and Gray fumbled the ball rolling 15 yards. Handy recovered it. Marshall was put off the field for slugging. Howell taking his place. Stevens was penalized half the distance to the goal, and the ball went into play on the Red and Gray's 17-yard line. Fidance made two yards. Captain Stretch of Stevens, was hurt in the play by running into one of his own team mates, but continued in the game.

When Crawford made 6 yards, Paul was sent in for Graydon. With the ball on Stevens' 9-yard line Crawford made 4 yards. Gray failed to gain and Crawford added two and a half yards more. Crawford put the ball on the one-foot line, but Stevens held so well that he could not get over for a touchdown.

When the ball was given to Stevens, Herrsloff and Webb made a yard through left tackle and Webb got one yard through there. The big Stevens back then went through center for five. Todd made a first down and followed it up with a three-yard gain.

Foster was substituted for Newton. Herrsloff gained a yard, but was taken out. Poole took his place.

Failing to gain through the line, Webb kicked to Taylor on the Blue and Gold 30-yard line. Crawford made nine yards and Gray got the first down. Crawford fumbled, Stevens recovering the ball. On the next Captain Handy downed Todd seven yards behind the Red line, but Poole regained the distance on a plunge through right guard. Grievous took Foster's place. A forward pass failing, Webb kicked out of bounds on Delaware's 30-yard line. And then the game was over. Delaware, 0; Stevens, 0.

Suffrage Convention At Dover

For the first time in its seventeen years of existence the Delaware State Equal Suffrage Association met in convention outside of Wilmington. The session was held last Friday in Dover, and the place of meeting is considered as indicative of the flow of sentiment in favor of suffrage. The convention held in Dover, at the New Century Club, with morning, afternoon and evening meetings. Mrs. John A. Craston, president of the association, and the never-failing bulwark of the cause in this State, presided.

The report of the corresponding secretary, Miss Mary R. de Von, which gave a detailed account of the year's activities throughout the State and country, mentioned among the practical work accomplished, the furnishing of rooms at the Women's College of Delaware and the Delaware Industrial School for Girls. Their booth at the State Fair was successful as a means of propaganda, and their participation in Old Home Week was also a gratification. The association joined with the Congressional Union in its work for the amendment to the National Constitution, and many members took part in street meetings. Quoting Mrs. Craston, the report stated that "Delaware suffragists can claim two virtues—patience and perseverance."

OPTOMETRIST—One skilled in optometry, an expert in measuring eye defects. A physical Eye Specialist.

Concerning Your Eyes

Good eyesight is essential to health and comfort. Eye strain uncorrected leads to nervous disorders and is a factor in causing many reflex disturbances.

Tired, aching eyes, frequent pain over the eyes or head aches are some of the indications of eye strain. At other times the eyes give no indication themselves of strain, but endeavor to keep up the demand upon them, by using the reserve accommodative power until they give out.

GLASSES RELIEVE EYE STRAIN

Success in relieving eye strain depends entirely upon the skill of the practitioner who prescribes the glasses. Our Optometrists are experienced and capable.

Elkton Halloween parade held on Saturday evening was in every way successful, a notable feature being the equestrian section which was largely filled. The streets were lined with residents of the town and visitors, and the best of order prevailed.

A wharf will also be constructed along the river front. The ground is part of the Riverside Farm, formerly owned by J. Edward Addicks, who sold it to Charles S. Hinchman, of Camden, N. J. The people of Newark, who attended the Chautauqua last year, voted, by an overwhelming majority, for the return this year. Upon this strong expression of opinion, several of our citizens assumed the responsibility of guaranteeing the cost of same.

The tickets have now been on sale for several weeks but are not yet sold. Unless the people who asked for the Chautauqua to return co-operate, the guarantors will be compelled to make up the deficit.

According to the contract, only season tickets can be used to pay the guarantee. All single admissions go to the Chautauqua Association of Swarthmore.

No local guarantor benefits financially, yet he has pledged himself to stand responsible for the sale of season tickets. It is hoped that those who signed orders for tickets and voted for this year's Chautauqua will appreciate their responsibility.

Tickets can be bought at all the banks and leading stores of Newark.

The sessions begin tomorrow, November 5.

Signed,
Chautauqua Association of Newark.

Delaware College Extension Lectures

On Wednesday evening, October 28, Professor E. V. Vaughn of Delaware College, gave his lecture on "Some Curious Facts in Delaware History," at Felton, Delaware. The lecture was the first of a series to be given before Avon Club of that place. This club has opened its meetings to the general public on the evenings of these college lectures.

That Delawareans are interested in the history of their state is shown by the fact that further requests for this lecture have come to the Extension Committee from Newmarket, Wilmington, Odessa, Seaford, and Dover.

Upon invitation of the Felton Grange Prof. Vaughn returned to

Felton on October 31, to deliver his lecture on "Our Town—A Typical Community."

The first of a series of extension lectures in Delmar was given by Dr. W. O. Sypherd on Friday evening, October 30, the subject being "What Should a High School Student Read?" The speaker referred in his introduction to the difficulty of answering the question. Even teachers of literature disagree as to the books which should be read during the high school period. In order to arrive at a satisfactory answer, we must be in reasonable accord on some fundamental ideas in secondary education; for instance that a student must study things that he does not like and that he must do many things which he finds difficult to understand. The general answer to the question might then be suggested. A high school student should be asked to read these books which are generally accepted as constituting a part of a liberal education and which are near enough to a student's interests and comprehension to justify an honest, intelligent, and profitable reading. Giving a more specific answer to the question, the speaker indicated a brief list of books and authors which he considered most important: The Bible, Shakespeare, Milton's Paradise Lost, Pilgrim's Progress, Robinson Crusoe and Gulliver's Travels, Vicar of Wakefield, Burns, Scott, Tennyson, and Stevenson.

Invitations To Football Game

The Athletic Council has sent invitations and tickets to the football game between Delaware College and Catholic University of Washington to be played at Newark on Saturday, October 14. Those invited to attend this game include the members of the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington, the mayor and Councilmen of Wilmington, the State officials of Delaware, and the mayor and councilmen of Newark.

Women's College Notes

On Saturday evening, October 31 the faculty and students of the Women's College entertained the faculty and students of Delaware College at a Halloween party in the assembly and reception rooms of Residence Hall. Both rooms were decorated with autumn leaves. Halloween games, such as bobbing for apples, etc., were played. The committee from the Women's College which had charge of the evening comprised Miss Ozella Seville, chairman, and Misses Elizabeth Eggert, Margaret Dunn, and Ethel Grieves. This committee was assisted by Messrs. Adams, Brower, and Mather of Delaware College.

President Mitchell Delivers Addresses

On October 27 President Mitchell of Delaware College, spoke at the banquet of the St. Paul Brotherhood, held in the People's church of Dover. His subject was, "The Value of Your Life to the Community." On Monday morning,

November 2, he addressed the students and faculty of the DuPont High School, Wilmington, on "The Story of the Struggles of the Student." On Friday, November 6, he will give a talk before the Christian Endeavor Union, Wilmington, on "Constructive Citizenship."

It is requested that all contributions be handed to Mrs. Hayward not later than next Monday. Contributions from anyone not belonging to the Club will be most acceptable. AROUND HOCKESSIN

The Waverly and Bridge Clubs combined their Halloween celebration last Saturday evening when a big party was given in the untenanted house on the farm of Septimus Nivin. The whole house rang with the laughter of odd looking creatures who seemed to have been transported from some other land. The guests and some of their costumes follow: Mrs. Fred Becker and Mrs. Alfred Walker, as Colonial Dames; Mrs. Walter Walker of Philadelphia, dressed in a dress from her mother's trousseau; Miss Sophia Nivin in a hoop skirt dress, one from the trunk of an aunt when in boarding school; Robert Walker as candy-man treated the crowd. Mr. Walter Walker appeared in the gruesome garb of ghost; Mr. Fred Becker of Wilmington acted the part of an old colored woman, with Miss Helen Thompson as his daughter; Francis M. Walker represented a Spaniard, and Miss Evelyn Nivin a Spanish flower girl. Miss Emilie Mitchell was the Pun'kin Lady, and Mrs. Samuel Eastburn of New York, and Miss Sarah Eastburn, Indians. Miss Emilie Jackson impersonated an old Irishwoman. About forty guests were present.

Harmony Grange held their Halloween celebration last Monday with 150 in attendance. An interesting literary program was presented. Refreshments of ginger cakes, apples and cider were served.

A large crowd of friends and well-wishers serenaded Mr. Henry Mitchell and bride, last Friday evening, at their home, Woodside Farm. The visitors brought with them many useful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Becker of Wilmington spent the week-end with Miss Helen Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Walker and daughter Dorothy of Philadelphia spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Walker.

Ladies of Hockessin Auxiliary met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. M. Little to hem tablecloths for the Delaware Hospital.

Synod Discusses School Plan

The Synod of Baltimore at its annual session in Wilmington last week inclined favorably to the taking over of West Nottingham Academy at Colons, Cecil county, Md., founded before the Revolution, and converting into a training college for Presbyterian ministers. A committee of seven was appointed to fully consider the subject and report to the Synod at its next meeting.

PLEASANT HILL

Revival meetings will begin Sunday evening, Nov. 8, in Ebenezer M. E. Church. The Rev. E. C. Prettyman will be assisted by Miss Roberta Matthews, an evangelist of Burlington, N. J., for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Buckingham and family entertained on Sunday the following guests: Misses Helen Slack, Blanche Towson, Alma Little, and Alice Moore; Clarence Little and Earnest Lamborn.

The following guests were recently entertained at the home of Mr. J. T. Dempsey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Keelig, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Dempsey and Miss Pierson, all of Wilmington, and Mr. and Mrs. Saml. Johnston and daughter Madeline of Milltown, Del.

STRICKERSVILLE

Mrs. Emily Smith and daughter Martha are visiting at Ridley Park. Mr. Geo. Jones spent the week end with his parents.

Mrs. Olive Drennen is visiting old friends in this neighborhood. London Britain schools opened this week after a week's vacation. The teachers have been attending the county institute at West Chester.

Protracted services closed on Sunday evening at Wesley church. Much interest has been manifested in these meetings. Over thirty have joined the church on probation.

Puff And Powder Club

"Jane", the play to be given by the Puff and Powder Club of DuPonts, is attracting much attention in amateur theatrical circles. Miss Maude Alexander, who takes the star part, is known here. She is the niece of Mrs. Eldred Shriner of Hillcrest Farm above Newark. Her work in previous plays of the DuPont Club has created much favorable comment.

DELAWARE MARKED AT VALLEY FORGE

Monument Unveiled With Fitting Exercises

The granite memorial erected at Valley Forge by the State of Delaware, to the memory of Delaware soldiers in the Revolutionary War, was unveiled last Saturday afternoon. The exercises were presided over by Governor Charles R. Miller, and the presentation speech was made by Judge Henry C. Conrad, who said in part:

"Smallwood's Encampment at Wilmington occupied, so tradition says, the highland between Delaware avenue and the Brandywine, and Franklin and Clayton streets. This land is now well within the city limits, but in 1777 it was a mile away from the built up town. Those familiar with the location will be impressed with the eligibility of the site, the fine view of the country to the eastward and of the Delaware river, with its passing craft, so General Smallwood with his brigade, including the Delaware regiment, selected wisely his winter quarters, and from that location carried out the objects intrusted to him by Washington. From that camp reconnoitering parties were sent in various directions.

"After remaining there for some months, Smallwood's brigade, including the Delaware regiment, marched to Valley Forge and formed part of the encampment there. While here they seem to have formed part of General Stirling's division and from the best information obtainable they were encamped on the high ground beyond the dam. It was not deemed desirable to place the Delaware marker on the site of the encampment, but through the courtesy of the Valley Forge Park Commission the site was chosen where we are assembled today, and your committee is of the opinion that we were fortunate in obtaining so commanding and eligible a location."

AMONG THE NEW MAGAZINES

Edison's Way Of Facing The War

"The only war in which humanity has anything permanent at stake" is described in the American Magazine for November by a staff correspondent, in the report of an interview with Edison, the inventor. "Get into Nature's intricacies and make her give up. That's what we must do," Edison declared and "Suddenly I realized the truth of what he said (the reporter writes). The real war—no mere sport of princelings, but humanity's strife for progress and welfare, the war for the liberation of happiness—was here. I was at the front. This room piled with books and apparatus, was the world's military headquarters in the only war worth waging, and before me sat the world's acknowledged leader, the determined and unconquerable genius who so often had pressed Nature's obstinate resistance from stronghold to stronghold, and finally to unconditional surrender. Compared with the campaign he had waged those of Caesar and Frederick seemed the idle, tiring play of boys. Beside his victories those of Hannibal and Napoleon seemed insignificant."

The article under the title of "Edison in Wartime" gives the story of the great inventor's method of facing the English embargo proposition which cut his source of supply of carboric acid, a material used at the rate of a ton and a half per day, in the Edison Record factory. The facts of the story are as follows:

"Three days after England's embargo on a material that 'cannot be made in this country,' Edison had determined a process for making it synthetically—a brand-new departure in commercial chemistry. Within the next week his plans for a manufacturing plant were complete and his mobilization effected. Seventeen days afterward his plant delivered its first day's output of product—which other chemists assured him would take at least six months. Finally his product is delivered at a cost which warrants his operating hereafter, when the 'foreign product' begins to come in again. It is no temporary measure—he is in the carboric acid business to stay, as long as he needs it."

Delaware State Corn Show

Arrangements have now been completed for holding the Eighth Annual State Corn Show in Wilmington during the week of January 11-16, 1915. This year the Corn Show will be held in conjunction with the Peninsula Horticultural Society which meets at the same time and place. The Corn

Show has become an event of such wide interest to the farmers of the State that an unusually fine exhibit of corn is to be expected in view of the fact that the crop is especially fine in most sections of the State. Premiums for the best ten, twenty and fifty ear exhibits from each county will be offered as well as premiums for exhibits from the State at large. Winners of first premiums at previous shows will compete in the honorary class while those who have not won a first premium and those who are exhibiting for the first time will compete in the amateur class. Thus the new exhibitor is not competing against those who have had successful experiences in exhibiting corn. Substantial premiums will be offered for the best peak samples of wheat, rye, oats, barley, field peas, cowpeas, soy beans, red clover, crimson clover, and buckwheat. A corn institute including lectures by authorities on corn growing will be given during the week.

Premium lists and other information can be secured by writing A. E. Grantham, Secretary, Delaware Corn Growers' Association, Newark, Del.

Here and There

While Enos Whiteman and family of Claymont were visiting neighbors on Thursday evening their home was entered by unknown parties who climbed thru a window and generally ransacked. Young Willard Whiteman returning to the house for a lantern frightened the intruders who dropped a pocketbook containing some money upon the floor.

The suit of Margaret Jolly Moneur, claiming as his lawful widow, her dower interest in the estate of Frank Moneur, of Dover, who died last January leaving another widow there with whom he had lived for 40 years, was partially heard at Dover on Thursday. Counsel for the plaintiff offered a copy of the marriage license issued to her and Moneur in Scotland on November 25, 1864. Owners of properties purchased from Moneur's estate, whose titles are affected by the suit, were prepared to attack the proof offered of the marriage as insufficient, and at the instance of the plaintiff the hearing of the case was postponed until December 21 when further proof will be offered.

The Standard Arms Company of Wilmington, it is reported, has received an order for supplying 500,000 rifles to an export house in New York, the contract to run for two years, designed for the use of one of the warring powers in Europe. The agents seeking the rifles are also said to be inquiring for machine guns, ammunition and shrapnel. The filling of the rifle contract would employ from 800 to 1,000 workmen and require the enlargement of the Standard Company's plant.

Mrs. Ethel P. Brown has filed suit in the Superior Court for divorce from her husband, Hugh C. Brown, a well-known attorney and former postmaster of Wilmington, on the ground of desertion. She was Miss Ethel Parvis of Middletown and has one child, a son, 16 years old, by the marriage.

A Delmar special says that a representative of a Philadelphia liquor firm stated there that the gallon-a-month shipping law on the Eastern Shore of Maryland is to be tested in the Courts, on the ground of interference with Interstate Commerce. The United States Court at Cumberland recently held the Yost law of West Virginia invalid so far as it restricted shipments of liquor into that State from outside points.

Thieves on Saturday night entered St. John's Episcopal Church Eighteenth and Market streets, Wilmington and stole the fine communion service of solid silver, valued at $200, the gift of Mrs. Alexis duPont as a memorial to her husband. The tankard and paten of the St. Andrew's Church service were stolen the same night. The thefts were not discovered till the Communion services were about to begin. Both sets of silver were engraved, and the thieves would be forced to melt them before effecting their disposal.

In the suit of George W. Tebo, a real estate dealer, against Elmer D. Weld to recover commission of a Kent county farm sold by Weld for $6,500 to a Kansan, with whom Tebo had been negotiating for its purchase, the jury at Dover on Thursday found for the defendant, establishing an owner's right to sell his property, although it may have been placed in an agent's hands for sale.

Three masked men about midnight on Friday boarded the last car on the trolley line at Richardson Park and tried to grab the money belt from Conductor Edward Crossan of 1614 Laurel street Wilmington. In the struggle the trio fell off the car which was at once started. The gang opened fire with revolvers, breaking several windows with bullets, one of which went through the rear end of the car. Crossan and Edward P. Murphy, the motorman, of 907 Gilpin avenue, crouched low and escaped injury. L. H. Schwendeman of Richardson Park, a passenger on the car, who alighted there and was walking to his home, was attacked by four masked men but fought them off with a large pocket knife. Later, a similar party seized the watchman of the Wilmington Leather Company, as he was passing from one building of the plant to another, bound his arms and at the point of a revolver marched him to the office which they ransacked. Failing to get any plunder, the masked men took the watchman's watch and pen-knife and disappeared.

The problem of finding work for the unemployed in Wilmington may be partially solved by sewers extensions. The City Council has directed its Finance Committee to consider the cost of an extension to Henry Clay and prepare an ordinance providing for a bond issue to meet the expense of the work. It is understood that the DuPont Powder Company will help to meet the cost of construction.

SUFFRAGE NOTES

(Edited by Mrs. Francis I. du Pont)

In two important States the Federations of Women's Clubs have just given their support to votes for women. In Missouri, where a suffrage amendment was voted upon yesterday, the Board of the State Federation at its meeting in Farmington gave a hearty endorsement; and in Pennsylvania at the State convention last week in Pittsburgh a Suffrage resolution was carried overwhelmingly, with only 28 dissenting votes among the 407 delegates.

This action follows the endorsement of equal suffrage last June at the General Federation's Biennial in Chicago. The Missouri Board went on record as believing in the principle of woman suffrage. For the first time an equal suffrage club was admitted to membership, the Susan B. Anthony League of Kansas City.

Mrs. F. M. Roessing, president of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association declined the honor of being a delegate at the convention in that State, but attended the sessions as the guest of Mrs. Samuel Semple, President of the State Federation.

"That suffrage was the absorbing interest of all the meetings was easily apparent," said Mrs. Roessing, "and therefore the victory for suffrage which followed the debate on the last day was not a surprise. I sat in the gallery while the vote was being taken, and, although I expected a big favorable majority, I did not realize that practically the entire body would rise."

"When the nays were called, 28 women voted against the resolution. There was a total of 407 delegates, of whom over 350 voted in favor, a few not voting. At the following session the anti-suffrage minority protest against the passage of the resolution, to which they could secure only ten signatures. The constitutionality of the federations endorsement of suffrage was attacked by the anti-suffrage, but the attack was quickly dispelled by the fact that if such action on suffrage were unconstitutional, then all previous resolutions on child labor, forestry and similar matters requiring legislative action would also have been unconstitutional.

"The important fact of the endorsement is that the vast majority of that organization, representing 37,000 women, was strongly for suffrage. The State president of the anti association led their campaign from the platform and used every advantage which the position of an honorary president gave her, but this seemed to make the delegates only more determined to express their opinions. I have great admiration for the way in which Mrs. Samuel Semple handled the entire discussion and her absolute fairness.

"The threat that disruption will follow the endorsement of suffrage by the Federation seems most unlikely to be carried out. Even if the anti-suffrage attempt it, there would only be two clubs that would withdraw, both of these anti-suffrage clubs having joined the Federation within the past few months, obviously for the purpose of trying to block the resolution. One of their speakers said she spoke as the president of the Browning Club, but, when questioned, admitted that this club had only twelve members, and had joined the Federation only a few weeks before. The experience of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which endorsed the suffrage last June, is that no clubs have withdrawn in consequence, but the number of new clubs that have joined has exceeded the number affiliated in past years for the same period of time. Since suffrage was first taken up as a study by the General Federation, over 700 new clubs have joined. Mrs. Rudolph Blakenburg of Philadelphia, for six years an officer of the General Federation, stated that the officers did not know of a single club that had withdrawn because of the endorsement of suffrage, and openly repudiated the statement made by the anti-speaker, that the endorsement of suffrage had broken up many clubs.

 By order of Fire Chief WILSON.

Two important results have followed: thousands of people, largely of foreign birth, accustomed to send their savings abroad, are now patrons of our postal-savings system; and enormous sums of actual cash have been released for commercial uses among our own people at a time when the need for every available dollar is pressing.

The growth of postal savings in the United States has been steady and healthy and the system has filled an important gap between the tin-can depository and the factory paymaster. On July 1, when affairs were running smoothly here and abroad and the transmission of money across the Atlantic was safe and expeditious, there was approximately $43,000,000 of postal savings standing to the credit of about 388,000 depositors. Since then over $10,000,000 of deposits have been added and the number of depositors has increased enormously. This unprecedented gain is the more striking when it is considered that the net gain in the last three months is larger than the gain for the entire fiscal year 1914. Scores of offices have done more postal-savings business since the war has been going on than was done by them during the previous existence of the service. The increases are confined to no special localities, but have been felt in every nook and corner of the country. New York city alone made a gain in September of more than a million, while Brooklyn showed a relatively big increase. Chicago reported a larger gain in the past three months than for the previous twelve months. More than 7,000 new accounts were opened during the period, bringing the number of depositors in that city up to over 21,000.

The unexpected increase in postal-savings business has not only added greatly to the general administrative duties of the system, but has brought up many new and interesting problems which have called for the careful personal consideration of Postmaster General Burleson and Governor Dockery. Third Assistant Postmaster General. But their task has been lightened somewhat by the promptness of depository banks in furnishing additional security to meet the abnormal deposits. A number of the very largest banks in the country, which have heretofore declined to qualify as depositories for postal-savings funds, are now among the eager applicants for them.

The Game Of Life

"Night after night the cards were fairly shuffled
 And fairly dealt, but still I got no hand.
 The morning came, but I with mind untruffed
 Did simply say 'I do not understand.'"

Life is a game of whist; from unseen sources
 The cards are shuffled and the hands are dealt;
 Vain are our efforts to control the forces,
 Which, though unseen, are no less strongly felt.
 "I do not like the way the cards are shuffled,
 But still I like the game and want to play;
 And through the long, long night with mind untruffed,
 Play what I get until the dawn of day."

The Christmas War Fund

William George Jordan has written for the women back of the Children's Christmas Fund, an appeal to Americans that cannot fail to stir human sympathy. It is entitled "Christmas Morning in Europe." An extract follows:

"Have you realized what a sad lonely Christmas morning there will be in thousands and thousands of homes in England, France, Russia, Belgium, Serbia, Germany and Austria?"

"Vacant chairs will tell, with grim pathos, of the husband, the father, the son, or the brother, who went bravely out to the field of battle for the country he loved—and never returned. The wounded lying on beds of pain, or weakened, worn and wrecked by shot and shell that make labor impossible, will be mute memorials of the awful might of war."

"Today, in the heat of conflict, despite our earnest effort to be impartial, our judgement, our nationality, our prejudices and our interests, make it hard for us to be rigidly neutral. But in the glow of the approach of the greatest anniversary in the world, Christmas Day, the day of 'Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men,' set apart for all the nations and all peoples, let the fine neutrality of the soul sweep away all human prejudice and make us realize that all these fighting men of the seven nations are equally our brothers, brothers in the divine brotherhood of our common humanity."

"Let us do at least for the children what we can to make them happy, the innocent, suffering, little non-combatants in this greatest war of the ages."

"What can we do?"

"The War Children's Christmas Fund has been organized to send Christmas boxes to the orphaned and helpless children of Europe. Each child's gifts will be put into a separate little paste-board box, carefully wrapped and decorated with a bit of ribbon and a bit of holly to give it a real Christmas flavor. Each box will contain some useful little article of wearing apparel, a Christmas card, a few pennies in the coin of the country, and a handful of candies, raisins and nuts. Each box will bear a printed label, in the language of the country to which it is delivered, stating that the box is a Christmas box sent with best wishes and 'with love of the children of America.'"

"Such an expression of international peace and good-will cannot fail to do good far beyond the mere gladdening of the children: it will tend to lessen the burden of the older ones in seeing the joy of the little ones and in the consciousness of loving hearts sympathizing with them in their hour of sorrow beyond the seas. The final distribution of the boxes will be entrusted to the care of generous-hearted men and women on the other side, ready and anxious to do their part."

"It is estimated that about fifty cents will be expended on each box through the Fund, though its wholesale buying on best terms may slightly reduce this amount."

"A whole day of happiness in a child's life—and a golden memory of that will live through years—all for 50 cents."

"How many children do you thus want to make happy? If you can afford $100, give that, and know that two hundred children will thereby be blessed with a joyous day. Whatever be the amount give it; give it promptly too, for the time is short. If it is only fifty cents, give that—with the fullness of your heart behind it. Seek to get the children to contribute, personally, even at a sacrifice that will make their gifts bigger, finer and sweeter."

"No other investment can yield such dividends—dividends of happiness paid in two continents simultaneously—on Christmas morning."

The women in charge of this work, have among their number, the most efficient organizers in the country. "The Evening Journal" office in Wilmington has been designated as the local office to receive money or suitable gifts, which will in turn be forwarded to New York, and thence to Europe."

U. S. Postal Deposits

The war in Europe is proving a big boon to postal savings in this country. From the very day hostilities opened across the seas postal-savings receipts began to increase by leaps and bounds and withdrawals fell off, a result quite contrary to the predictions of many well-informed persons, who, in their imagination, saw lines of feverish depositors at post-office pay windows anxious to again return their savings to the boot-leg and body-belt depositories whence they came before intrusted to Uncle Sam. But the forecasters failed to reckon on the absolute confidence of the American citizen, regardless of the flag that first met his eyes, in the ability and purpose of the Government to carry out its obligations, not only among the nations of the earth, but with the humblest citizen of our land.

THE TOWN TO BE TREATED TO LAUGHTER

ELISWORTH PLUMSTEAD, the impersonator, made one of the greatest hits of the season on the Chautauqua Circuit last summer. He gave a selection called "When Ezra Sang Bass," which no one who heard it can forget. Of course there were other characterizations which Mr. Plumstead gave with almost equal effect, but "Ezra" is one of those he is best remembered for. He will be seen here at the Lyceum Festival. Plumstead's business in life is to make people laugh with him, not at him. The laugh which is shared by all who are interested and leaves no sting is the greatest gift of mankind. The laugh which all share alike is elevating, and after enjoying it one is better for it. There is nothing clownlike in the work he does. It exercises wrinkles of the brain, which are all too seldom used.

A Great Violinist At Lyceum Festival

Franz Delibes With Trio Rival of Fritz Kreisler

Like to hear good music? A special treat for lovers of really high class music is coming to the Lyceum Festival. The Delibes-Bentley-Stetson Trio will outclass any trio booked for towns of any size outside of New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia.

Franz Delibes (pronounced Dell-bay) is a native Parisian who came to America to fulfill some engagements just before Europe became a monster battlefield. He is easily in the virtuoso class and would have been booked for solo work with the Boston Symphony Orchestra if his contract for the Lyceum Festival had not prevented. Once he has appeared for great Metropolitan concerts, his name will be heard as far as even the great Kreisler. It is safe to say that, with Kreisler on the battlefield, Delibes is the greatest violinist in America. The other members of the trio are also splendid artists. Miss Ethel Bentley, coloratura soprano, is a well known concert singer of Boston. She has been traveling in Lyceum and Chautauqua work during the past three years with success everywhere. Her

THE STROLLERS ARE COMING

Famous Male Quartet Will Sing and Play at Lyceum Festival

Lyceum Festival spells Three Joyous Days largely because of the good music provided. Each day of the three will present its own musical company for two concerts, afternoon and evening. On one of the days will come the Original Strollers Male Quartet and Hand Bell Ringers.

The Strollers are in their fourteenth year of success and have appeared in every state in the Union. All of the past summer they have been appearing constantly upon the platforms of the Chautauqua Association, where their concerts have contributed in large measure to the joy of the Chautauquans.

The Strollers are: William G. Wells, baritone and piano; E. O. Moore, second tenor; Victor A. Englund, first tenor, and Edward C. Parmenter, basso. The work of Parmenter as an impersonator made a great hit with the Chautauquans.

Lay your plans especially for the evening concert, when there will be selections played on the Swiss Hand Bells. These bells make splendid music under almost any circumstances, but the Strollers have learned to give a sustained tone in playing them which makes their music even more beautiful.

singing with pleasure immensely and personality will win friendship for him from her first appearance.

Miss Edith Stetson, the pianist, is best known locally of the three. Last summer she was pianist with the Chautauqua Trio, which made a great success. Many of the local people heard her solos at some one of the Chautauquas held in this section, and they will remember her very excellent ability as a soloist and as an accompanist.

Former College President Will Tell Us How to Do It.

What effect do mail order houses have on this community? Dr. A. E. Turner, former president of Hastings College, will deal with this question in

A number of other interesting questions will come up for discussion by Dr. Turner. Is it worth anything in

Yarrick, Great Magician, Coming to Lyceum Festival

Yarrick has been on the Keith Circuit of Theaters, and up around Boston, his home country, people think he is the greatest magician living. Of course that is the exaggeration of friends, but he is a really wonderful sleight of hand performer. Every trick of the art is at his command and will be exhibited during his entertainment.

Two Concerts by the Vinci Red Orchestra

Soloist Tina De Carles, Soprano

The Vinci Red Orchestra will render two concerts at the Lyceum Festival, assisted by Tina De Carles, lyric soprano. This is one of the best trained Italian Orchestras which will be in concert work this winter. They play the best of music in the best way.

dollars and cents to you for your neighbor to make money? Ever think about that? Dr. Turner is a witty, striking, incisive orator, and in his presentation of perhaps the most important lecture ever delivered in any community will hold the attention of his audience to the last word.

What does your neighbor's back yard mean to you? Do you get on a grouch every time you look at it or do you feel better for having looked at a thing which is a joy to behold? How about your own back yard?

Dr. Turner's lecture is a social survey of the average town, with suggestions as to treatment of town ailments and their cure. Not every town is sorely in need of immediate reform from the bottom up to the top, but there are few which could not stand a little improvement. It is good for any community to have a town doctor come in and look it over with the eye of the expert. He can see the why of many things which are a puzzle to those who have lived there all their lives. Why do so many town boys go to the city?
