The fire, which caused no serious damage, was out when the firemen arrived.

Choral Group To Make American
Debut At Mitchell Hall, Oct. 12

Orfeo Hispanico, one of the world's great choral groups, will be making its first appearance in America when it presents a concert at Mitchell Hall, Newark, on the night of Thursday, Oct. 12.

The Orfeo, under the direction of Maestro Juan Maria Thomas since its origin 18 years ago, is native to the island of Majorca and is familiar to music-lovers throughout the continent of Europe. The singers will arrive in this country on Tuesday and immediately embark upon the tour which is bringing them to Newark in the first of the 1950-51 Artists Series at the University of Delaware.

The Mitchell Hall concert, at 8:15, is open to the public through the sale of reserved seats by the Artists Series Committee.

Piano virtuoso Arthur Rubinstein was the first to recognize the Orfeo. He was participating in a Majorcan festival in 1932 honoring the memory of Chopin, when the Orfeo made its debut in a Carthusian monastery. Other celebrated concert artists, composers, and critics later visited Majorca to hear the Orfeo.

A tour of America has long been contemplated by the chorus, but the Spanish civil war and World War II prevented it for many years. Next Thursday, therefore, 18 years after its initial performance, the chorus will fulfill one of its greatest ambitions by singing before an American audience—that at Mitchell Hall.

Crusade For Freedom
Moves Into Newark

The nation-wide Crusade for Freedom moved into Newark this week seeking signatures for the "Scrolls of Freedom" as an affirmation of faith in the American system.

Crusade officials are stationed at Rhodes Drug Store, the Farmers Trust Company and the State Theatre, where the scrolls may be signed.

Contributions will also be accepted. The money will be used to help finance "Radio Free Europe," which beams propaganda broadcasts behind the Iron Curtain. The donations will also aid the Freedom Bell project. The Bell will be unveiled in Berlin on UN Day, Oct. 24.

The Town Council has heartily endorsed the crusade and urges local residents to cooperate in the movement.

Large Turnout For
First Presbyterian
Rally Day Program

Rally Day exercises were held last Sunday at the First Presbyterian Sunday School with a large attendance of parents, friends and pupils.

Superintendent Mervin S. Dale extended a welcome to the group and congratulated the pupils on their excellent turnout.

Dick Foster, a junior at the University of Delaware and head of the college Presbyterian group, led the singing and taught the school a popular revival song being introduced in many young people's groups, "Get the New Look."

Awards for perfect attendance during the past year were presented to the following: Junior department: Miriam Shaw, second year, "The Saddle of Carlos Perez"; Intermediate: Mary Jeannette Chalmers, 6th year, "Going Steady"; Bob McAlpine, first year, "Young Nathan"; Jack McDowell, third year, "The Green Sprig"; Jimmy Edmondson, fifth year, "Last of the Wild Stallions"; Prince Sam Dameron, second year, "Advent of Egypt"; Ellis Cullen, fourth year, "The White Witch Doctor"; Charles Bailey, twenty-first year, "The Enduring Hills"; teacher, Miss Sara Steele, second year, "The World At Six."

The superintendent congratulated Charles Bailey for his outstanding record of twenty-one years' perfect attendance.

Special mention was made of five pupils who missed only one Sunday during the entire year. They are: Mary Ann Miller, John Miller, Charles Skinner, Carolyn Chalmers and Paul Shaw. Three members missed only two Sundays: Miss Ann Chalmers, Annette Ely and M. S. Dale.

A special offering for the Asheville Farm School was collected by the following ushers: Harry Carswell, Jimmy Edmondson, Billy Thompson and Paul Shaw.

Dr. Charles Lanier introduced the guest speaker, Dr. W. O. Penrose, dean of the School of Education of the University of Delaware, who gave a very helpful and humorous talk on the unusual subject, "You Don't Have To Eat Dirt, in which he pointed out that many people try to satisfy a craving to show off and attract attention by doing some senseless act whereas others, without any thought of showing off, attract much more notice by doing sensible worthwhile helpful things.

Ineligible Students
Enter Schools HereIll-Defined Boundaries Of District Blamed

Due to the fact that the boundaries of the Newark Special School District are in many places vague and ill-defined, a number of pupils have been admitted to the Newark schools who are not eligible for training here.

Only families which pay taxes to the Newark district are eligible to send their children to the schools here.

Supt. Wilmer E. Shue said this week. In an effort to weed out the ineligible, boundary-line students, a survey of the district line is now being made. Mr. Shue said. Families of ineligible students, who are found on all grade levels are being notified, he added.

In many cases, families residing near the district boundaries are found to be paying school taxes to adjacent school areas. Efforts are also being made to clear up these discrepancies.

Mr. Shue explained that the Newark district is divided into two concentric areas. In the first and smaller, both elementary and high school age students are eligible to enter the local schools. In the larger, outlying area, which includes Glasgow, Christiansburg and Eden, only high school age students may attend the Newark schools. Residents in the latter section of the district do not pay their school taxes to Newark.

Christiana Presbyterian
Homecoming Day Sunday

Annual Homecoming Day will be observed Sunday at the Christiana Presbyterian Church, with both morning and afternoon services.

Dr. Ernest Freeman Hall, who is supplying this pulpit each week, will be their speaker at the 11 a.m. service, with Dr. Sidney J. Venable, pastor of the West Nottingham Presbyterian Church, Colorado, Md., as the guest speaker at the 2 p.m. service. Dr. Hall, a retired secretary of the Presbyterian Mission Board, is a member of the New Castle Presbytery, as is Dr. Venable inasmuch as his pastorate is of this Presbytery.

Lunch will be served by the ladies of the church. The public is invited.

Adult Evening Classes To Be Offered Again At Newark High

Although details of the program have not yet been worked out, adult education classes will again be offered at the Newark High School this winter, Supt. Wilmer E. Shue said yesterday.

In order to sample community opinion on just what should be the scope and general objective of this year's program, Supt. Shue is calling a meeting of some 14 civic leaders for Monday, Oct. 9, at the high school. Mr. Shue is anxious that the community at large and not the school take the lead in organizing the adult program.

Over 100 adults enrolled in last year's courses, which covered such fields as arts and crafts, driver training, typing and tailoring. Most popular was the driver training course.

Red Feather Drive
Delayed Here, Will Get Underway SoonFacts Given On How 24 Campaign Civic Agencies
Benefit Newark

The start of Newark's annual Red Feather campaign, scheduled for last Thursday, was delayed due to organizational difficulties but volunteer canvassers will begin solicitations Sunday, local campaign officials said yesterday.

Twenty-four civic and charitable organizations, most of which serve Newark directly or indirectly, stand to benefit from the campaign. Many of these are financed entirely through the annual drive.

Card files on last year's campaign in Newark will be used in carrying out the current canvass. All those who contributed to the 1949 drive will be approached by volunteer solicitors. In addition, Newark industries and business firms will be thoroughly canvassed.

Detailed statistics on just how the 24 Red Feather agencies served Newark the past year were released yesterday by drive officials.

The Delaware Curative Workshop, for instance, handled 10 Newark patients, providing them with 155 treatments at a cost of $366. Another Red Feather agency, the Delaware State Society for Mental Hygiene again sponsored weekly human relations classes at Newark's white and colored schools, handling a total of 350 pupils.

As of July, The Family Society had spent $34.50 in assistance to Newark families, and, in addition helped five families with personal problems.

Some 129 Newark women took part in YWCA activities and another 201 used the facilities of the Walnut Street YWCA in Wilmington.

The YMCA again sponsored such local activities as the school's Hi-Y Club, the Father-Son Indian Guide Tribe with 18 members and the Newark Summer Day Camp with 40 students. The "Y" also handled some 226 local children in several county-wide tours.

Both the local boy and girl scout troops received Red Feather assistance, and the Traveler's Aid Society has been selected by the E52 Players at the University of Delaware to open their nineteenth season. The play will be presented Oct. 18, 19 and 20, at Mitchell Hall, Newark, and will be repeated Oct. 25 at the Caesar Rodney School, Wyoming, under auspices of the Kent County Alumni Club of the U. of D.

Thomas B. Pegg, who directed Anderson's "Mary of Scotland" two seasons ago for the Players, will direct "High Tor." He describes it as "a fantastic-realistic-farce-romance." The plot centers around the resistance of a sentimental young man to land sharks' efforts to buy his fragment of the cliffs above the Hudson River. The would-be developers spend much of the play in the bucket of a steam shovel suspended over the cliff. A phantom Dutch crew throws into striking contrast the unimaginative realism of the Twentieth Century and the poetic idealism of an earlier age. A pair of bank robbers and two young women born in different eras also bring out this contrast, according to Mr. Pegg.

"High Tor," which was one of the plays that helped raise Burgess Meredith to stardom, is the third Maxwell Anderson play to be produced by E52. The first was "Joan of Lorraine" three years ago, and the second was "Mary of Scotland."

Mr. Pegg said that he will list the cast for "High Tor" in the near future.

Newark Earns Second Straight Railroad Award

Philip Cameli, track foreman at the Stanton passenger station of the Pennsylvania Railroad, has won third prize in a company contest on railroad "right-of-way" beautification.

Mr. Cameli, who lives at 318 South College Avenue, won a similar award last year by his expert landscaping and maintenance of the station area.

In a letter congratulating Mr. Cameli on his award, R. A. Smith, show secretary, said, "Thanks for your part in making our show a success and congratulations for your part in making this world a better place in which to live. You have certainly improved the property at Stanton."

Girl Scouts Meet

Miss Mary Byers, field secretary for the Wilmington Girl Scout Council, spoke at a neighborhood meeting of the Newark Girl Scouts on Tuesday at the New Century Club.

Mrs. Charles M. Cooper described a number of trails and hiking areas near Newark.

Mrs. Ernest Mayne has been named a member of the Newark Council.

Council Seeks To Use Historic
Academy Building As Town HallPartial Renovation of Old Building Proposed; Long Range Plan For Complete Restoration Is Considered;
Pay Rise For Town Employees

A plan to restore partially the historic old Academy building for use as a headquarters of the town government was proposed at the September meeting of the Town Council on Tuesday night.

Mayor Wallace Johnson was authorized to discuss the project with the building's board of trustees, which has indicated it favors such a step.

In a busy session, Council also approved a cost of living pay increase for town employees, took steps to seek state aid in the maintenance of through streets and proposed several important new parking and traffic controls. The pay jump came to eight cents for hourly workers and $14 monthly for salaried personnel.

Town Council's Reserves Fall
Off Slightly Past Month;
Now Stand At $26,103.17

The town's cash reserves dropped slightly in September when expenditures topped income by $5,143.95, according to Treasurer Frank Durnall's report.

Total cash outlays for the month came to $27,169.72, while revenue from all sources amounted to $22,025.77.

The town still has a considerable cash reserve, however, $31,247.12 being carried over from August. Exactly $26,103.17 now remains in the treasury.

As usual, electric light receipts proved the major item of revenue. A total of $10,760.63 came from this source in September with power returns adding another $8,308.52. Water rents provided $1,764.01.

Magistrate Clarence Foster reported collection of $585 in fines.

Maxwell Anderson's
Comedy 'High Tor'
To Be Given By E52Student Players To Open 19th
Season October 18 With
3-Day Run

Maxwell Anderson's romantic comedy "High Tor," which won for him the Critics' Circle Award, has been selected by the E52 Players at the University of Delaware to open their nineteenth season. The play will be presented Oct. 18, 19 and 20, at Mitchell Hall, Newark, and will be repeated Oct. 25 at the Caesar Rodney School, Wyoming, under auspices of the Kent County Alumni Club of the U. of D.

Thomas B. Pegg, who directed Anderson's "Mary of Scotland" two seasons ago for the Players, will direct "High Tor." He describes it as "a fantastic-realistic-farce-romance." The plot centers around the resistance of a sentimental young man to land sharks' efforts to buy his fragment of the cliffs above the Hudson River. The would-be developers spend much of the play in the bucket of a steam shovel suspended over the cliff. A phantom Dutch crew throws into striking contrast the unimaginative realism of the Twentieth Century and the poetic idealism of an earlier age. A pair of bank robbers and two young women born in different eras also bring out this contrast, according to Mr. Pegg.

"High Tor," which was one of the plays that helped raise Burgess Meredith to stardom, is the third Maxwell Anderson play to be produced by E52. The first was "Joan of Lorraine" three years ago, and the second was "Mary of Scotland."

Mr. Pegg said that he will list the cast for "High Tor" in the near future.

NHS Senior Class
To Stage Comedy

The comedy, "Charlie's Aunt" will be staged by the Newark High School senior class, Nov. 16 and 17.

Cast for the annual production has not yet been announced.

Assisting will be a faculty committee headed by Raymond Justin, director, and including: Miss Ann Gallaher and Eugene Smith, business managers; Miss Ann Stauter, house and arrangements; Miss Jeannette Thoroughgood, publicity; Eugene Kelechava, Neil Osborne and Elsworth Hoffman, scenery; Ernest Wilder will direct the music.

At a senior class meeting earlier this week, student committees for the annual class party were chosen by President John Speicher.

No new members joined the senior class this term. Two, however, dropped out. They are Edmund Leid, now in the Navy, and David Poffenberger, who is with Newark's Battery 'C' in Georgia.

Lions To Entertain
Newark School Staff

Some 75 members of the faculty of the Newark schools will be entertained at a reception given by the Lions Club next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Country Club.

Members of the Board of Education and officers of the Parent Teachers Association are also invited.

The raise was suggested by Councilman Diehl, who, though he felt it should be higher, agreed that Council could not afford a larger increase at this time. The jump was approved with only Councilman William Coverdale dissenting, his reasons being that no provisions were being made to increase the town's income to cover the plan.

Mayor Johnson, who suggested the plan to renovate the Academy, indicated it might be the first step in a long range project to restore the entire building, if the aid of state historical organizations can be secured. The immediate aim is to provide quarters for the Council and office force, which are seriously cramped in their present building.

The present red brick, 3-story building dates from about 1840. The Academy was opened here in 1767 and was famed as a pre-Revolutionary center of learning. Joined for a time with Delaware College, it later became an independent school again and was used for educational purposes well into the present century. Now in serious disrepair it houses the town library and serves as a meeting place for civic groups.

In an effort to secure state aid for through street maintenance, Mayor Johnson was ordered to seek a hearing with the State Highway Commission. If approved, the plan will greatly ease the town's financial woes. Council pointed out that several other communities in Delaware receive such support. The streets in question are: Main Street, Elkton Road, South College Avenue, New London Avenue and North Chapel Street.

Only Councilman to vote against the move was William Coverdale, who maintains such aid would be a violation of Section 38 of the Town Charter, which authorizes Council to levy a special road tax for street maintenance. While admitting that Mr. Coverdale could be correct, Town Solicitor John P. Sinclair said there would be no harm in opening negotiations with the state. The legal aspects could be settled before the town entered into any definite agreement.

The chronic parking problem, which has increased with the reopening of the University of Delaware, brought some drastic action from the lawmakers. They directed Mr. Sinclair to draft an ordinance forbidding parking on the west side of College Avenue and limiting the east side of that thoroughfare to one hour parking between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. The latter rule will also apply to Delaware Avenue.

By Newark ScoutsNo Need To Wait Until Door to Door Drive

Although the scrap paper collection by Boy Scout Troop 56 will not take place until Oct. 21, householders and business concerns with paper they want removed before that date should call the following scout leaders: Alfred Ploger, phone 2461, William Peoples, 27531; Scout William McYain, 6392.

News of London-Britain Vicinity

September 27 was Booster Night at the New London Grange. The response of the members in bringing prospective members was very good. There was an interesting program, followed by social dancing and refreshments.

Mary Van Sant will be hostess to the Kemblesville Sewing Circle at 2 p.m. on Thursday, October 12.

The list of people suffering from colds and gripe was large these recent weeks, due to the change in weather and the spell of unusual cold weather. The Kalbs, from Pop and Mom, down through Janet, Kurt, Karen and Bobbie, have had nasty colds.

Tommie Filipi has been on the "sick-a-bed" list recently for a few days with a severe gastritis.

Ohio, and the "Old Homestead" was the scene of the vacation enjoyed by the Elwood Wilkins family, including Clara and young Elwood, a couple of weeks ago. Elwood III is feeling quite well after having undergone recent surgery, and is off again to his school in Maryland.

Many thanks to Mothers Clarice Losee, Doris Nichol, and Winnie Filipi, who assisted Marthalee Ness in transporting children and mothers of Southbank for their medical examinations on Sept. 27. Also, it was gratifying to observe the interest shown on the part of the mothers who attended the examinations. This is felt to be the best method of fulfilling the true purpose of these examinations. Medicals only build up statistics unless mamma or papa or both help carry through suggestions.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cairns, Jane, Robert and Charles Junior, plus their house guests, dropped by for a Sunday call at the William Nicholls the 25th. Little Mary Cramer recently visited Grandma Schlagel in northern Pennsylvania. Mrs. Dick Cramer drove up to get her the 28th.

A group of local women attended the A.A.U.W. tea for new members, held by the Newark branch at the Grettum home on Sept. 29. Gwen Schlagel Cramer, Janet Comly Kalb, Marthalee O'Neal Ness, and Alice Taylor composed the group.

Heartfelt concern is being expressed on every side for the little three year old girl, Mary Allison Lang, who was injured by a descending manure scoop on Sept. 20, and now lies in a serious condition in the Delaware Hospital.

The accident took place just after lunch, when the noise of the tractor attracted Jordy and Mary Allison. They scooted quietly up where they thought they were safe, but Mary Allison leaned forward for a better look, and the operator of the tractor, not dreaming the children were near, started up. The rear of the manure spreader knocked Mary against a post, and she fell down. When the man saw Jordy standing there he immediately got down to look for Mary, since the two were always together, but the damage had been done, and a cute little girl with everything to live for is now in a precarious state as the result of this freak accident. Everything possible is being done for this lovely child. The deep sympathy of the community is with the parents, Joan and Fred Lang.

Kemblesville Hall was the scene of a lovely big party on the evening of September 16. The Ralph Fords arranged this occasion in honor of their daughter Dorothy, who was united in marriage to Roger Mendenhall of Blue Bell, Maryland, on Aug. 16.

With the resumption of all activities, we might note that Janet Nichol has joined the Girl Scout group in Newark, and Cynthia Ness is resuming activities with this same group.

Mrs. George Herbener owns a huge specimen of the rare night-blooming cereus, and 'twas a big occasion recently when this plant put forth its magnificent bloom.

May we suggest to the people who might be "jumping the gun" on hunting season, that trespassing on private property which is posted, and shooting gorgeous cock-pheasants before the season opens is definitely courting disaster? The game wardens have strong opinions on such matters.

Another sore point with country-dwellers—every bit of land in the country is owned, and these owners pay taxes on this land. How often have we heard country persons wonder audibly why some city cousins seem to think that anything in the country belongs to everyone?

We believe that we are expressing the opinion of various members of this community seen at the Newark P.T.A. the other meeting night, when we compliment all concerned with the quantity of interesting material presented, and the smoothness with which the whole thing proceeded. We submit our opinion that Dean Penrose outlined one tremendously challenging program for the P.T.A. in suggesting that we undertake our own survey of the schools, and outlining the intelligent way to do it. He said he had no intention of "entertaining" us—but in one sense of "entertain," he certainly "held our attention agreeably." We also feel that Mrs. Cooper emphasized an excellent concept when she urged wider participation in some of the P.T.A. endorsed activities such as home-room mothers, and the project of the Junior Canteen.

to stand out today

We've never believed that you can build too fine a car for the American people. And today there's more proof than ever that what you want is the best the industry can give you in quality of materials, in careful workmanship, in engineering and design.

Never in our history here at Chrysler Corporation have our cars been liked so much—and wanted so much.

We built to please the eye... we built for comfort and safety and for performance to make you proud of your car. And above all, we engineered for dependability and long life.

This means quality you can see... and it also means quality you can't see in hidden vital parts. Through and through we've exceeded the industry's going standards. And the reason was to save you money in the long run—to create built-in values greater than any you've known.

When you see and drive a Plymouth, or a Dodge, or a De Soto, or a Chrysler, we believe you'll discover all-important differences on 6 important counts:

Fine engineering that means extra satisfaction in the way your car runs, handles and stands up.

Design for people that gives you extra room for your head, shoulders and legs—full vision all around—a more comfortable, and more convenient and safer car. Fine materials that mean longer life in working parts and greater pride in the trim, appointments and fabrics in your car.

Careful workmanship that means tighter fit of parts, nothing left loose to rattle or fall apart, thorough checking so that every last detail will be right.

Beauty of appearance that is smart, modern and enduring. Functional beauty that goes with the car's wonderful performance and outstanding inner values.

Dependable Service that increases the life of your car and your pleasure in driving it. Our dealers are men of character and ability—carefully selected for their integrity—you can count on courteous attention, and honest value in car care, trade-ins and new car purchases when you deal with them.

NEWARK TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From Issue of September 30, 1925

Oldest Resident Dies

Following a long illness, Mrs. Mary H. Robinson, 93 died Sunday at her home on West Delaware Avenue. Practically without near relatives, Mrs. Robinson lived quietly in her little home here.

Mrs. Robinson planned her own funeral many hours before her death. Every detail had been previously arranged with E. Clifford Wilson, funeral director. Only two of the original group of pallbearers are living. They are Robert S. Gallaher and Robert Motherall.

Also according to her directions, practically every personal trinket she possessed was placed in the coffin prior to the opening of the services, to the opening of the services, and came to this country at the age of 20.

New Garage

It has been definitely announced that the purchase by Maxwell O. Hammond, of Flint, Mich., a former resident of Wilmington, of the Richard's house adjacent to Renshaw's Lane on East Main Street is the first step in the establishment of a new automobile sales agency and garage there. Buick and Chevrolet cars will be handled by Mr. Hammond.

Wedding

The wedding of Miss Brita Sarah Buckingham, daughter of R. G. Buckingham, Jr., of Newark, and Roger Ellsworth Wooleyhan, of Chesapeake, City, Md., will take place tomorrow at 6 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. H. E. Hallman, pastor of the church.

Personal

Mrs. J. H. Hossinger is on vacation this week. Her place as secretary of the Town Council is being filled in her absence by Miss Eleanor Todd. Sam Bell and family visited relatives in Philadelphia recently.

Midshipman Robert Downes returned to his duties at the Naval Academy on Thursday, following a leave of several weeks spent at his home here.

Hole-In-One

For the first time in the history of golf in Newark, a member of the local club has entered the mythical Hall of Fame by sinking a hole-in-one.

Standing on the third tee on the second round of his match with William Bradford, of Wilmington, last Saturday afternoon, Norris N. Wright, one of the club's consistently good golfers, addressed his ball and whaled into it with his driver.

Three hundred yards away on the green Dr. E. B. Crooks and Prof. W. A. Wilkinson were holing out their putts. Suddenly a strange ball smacked the turf just off the green, skidded along the velvety carpet and dropped like a plummet into the cup.

Wright's return to the locker room was the signal for congratulations on all sides.

FILLIN' IN

A storm of controversy has engulfed us as a result of our brief item a few weeks ago regarding the ownership of Newark's first automobile. We cautiously mentioned that we had heard from unreliable sources that either Dan Thompson or Richard Wittingham were the first to drive a horseless carriage here, and that Otis Gregg owned the town's first Model T.

Almost instantly we found ourselves a target for bitter attacks by local historians and patriots. We were shocked to find so much latent fanaticism on a question that hitherto no one had found important enough to mention. Hordes of authorities, experts, pundits have arisen, each claiming to have the true answer. As things stand now, about ten rival schools of thought are flourishing. Each is not only backing a different contender for the honor of owning the town's first car, but all have developed elaborate and conflicting systems of dogma involving such matters as the make of the car, its cruising speed, rate of gas consumption, and whether or not it had solid or pneumatic rubber tires. Needless to say, each group regards the others as subversive and threats to the security of Newark.

One thing everyone is agreed on, though. We were wrong on all counts. Neither Thompson nor Wittingham owned Newark's first car, but Otis Gregg himself says he did not own the first Model T.

We admit our error and should probably withdraw from the dispute in red-faced confusion. But we feel it is our duty to see justice served in this matter.

The truth is we've been won over by a group of zealots headed by William Crowe, an amateur historian who claims to be an authority on anything that has happened in Newark since 1900. He lives next door to the Post and loses no opportunity to propagandize his cause with us.

Mr. Crowe says, with the light of a true believer in his eyes, that the owner of the first automobile in Newark was a Mr. Samuel Donnell, who bought the fantastic looking contraption around 1903. Mr. Donnell was then the local magistrate, with headquarters in the Deer Park Hotel. The car was an International and had a double chain drive, with huge rear wheels and solid rubber tires. It had a long and useful career and a succession of owners. Eventually, it was bought by the hardware firm of Armstrong and Shank, which later became Geist and Geist and is now the Newark Farm and Home Supply. About 1924, during the Geist and Geist regime, the car was bought by Joseph Crockett, a local farmer, who was fascinated by the ball-bearing rubber-tired wheels and installed them on his farm wagon, where they saw many more years of service. Thus was Newark's first automobile finally conquered by the horse and wagon age after all.

This, we believe, is the straight story, and, in order end the present strife, we think the Town Council should pass a law requiring all patriotic Newarkers to acknowledge Sam Donnell as Newark's first motorist. Dissident groups and independents who are supporting obvious imposters should be required to register and thus be publicly labeled for what they are—malcontents, agitators, subversives and sowers of seeds of disunion. As we see it, this is the only method by which Newark's way of life can be preserved.

Incidentally, the ownership of Newark's first Model T is still shrouded in mystery, and we'd just as soon it stayed that way.

It certainly is comforting to live in the Age of Science, especially during a week of purple suns in green skies followed by eclipsed moons. In any other century, we'd have started heaving out the gravestones and preparing for the final crack-up. As it was, we scarcely raised an eyebrow.

Last week after watching the sun turn from silver to sickly pink, then purple, we walked calmly to the newsstand for the evening editions, confident that Science would be ready with a tidy, pre-packed explanation. Sure enough, there it was. In fact there were several. You could take your choice. "Forest fire smoke," said a meteorologist. "Ice crystals," said an astronomer. "Hmmm-m," said a physicist. We immediately breathed easier.

We thought we detected, though, a certain peevishness among the experts over the whole incident. They seemed to think Nature was being a bit unfair in springing a purple sun on them. After all, the least they ask of the universe is that it stick to the rules laid down by science.

Joseph Mitchell Wins U. of D. Farm Scholarships

Jackets Face Salesianum In Night Game Here On Saturday

Newark Smarting Under Last Saturday's 6-6 Tie With Brown, Bent on Season's Second Win; Kick-off Set For 8 P.M.

Still unbeaten but smarting under their 6-6 tie last Saturday with Brown, Newark High School's grid machine is aiming to get back into the win column this Saturday when it meets Salesianum under the arcs on the athletic field here.

The contest, scheduled for 8 p.m., will be the first of five night games for the Jackets this season. Only other contest under the lights on the home field this campaign will be with William Penn on Oct. 20.

Following is an account of the Brown game by Vernon Baker, a Journalist student at Newark High.

"Newark won the toss and elected to receive. George Stevens' place kick was out of bounds, and the Yellowjackets elected to take the ball on their own 40-yard line. 'Hank Correll carried to the Brown 48 for a first down. After three plays, 'Andy' Murphy, in punt formation, received a bad pass from center and couldn't get the ball away. Brown took over on its own 41 and was forced to punt and Blaney returned from the five to Newark's 30, where Murphy carried for a first down. Brown took over there, however, on a fumble.

"Again the Bears lost the ball on downs and Newark was back on its own 49 when the quarter ended. In the second quarter, Blaney, Correll and George plunged to Vocational's nine, but another fumble ended the march. A few plunges and a pass carried the Bears to their 40, but a fumble gave Newark the ball on its own 39.

"After another exchange, the Bears took over on Newark's forty. Stevens then plunged to the 20 and Minka plashed to Fitzgerald on the five. Stevens in two plays cracked to the one.

"With determination in their hearts, the Yellowjackets held and then took over on their one. 'Davie' George in two plays carried his mates out of danger when he ran the ball up to the 10 as the half ended.

"In the third quarter, Earl Schaeen stopped a Bear threat by intercepting a pass on his own 49 and Murphy halted another march by the same method.

"At the opening of the fourth period, Blaney fumbled while running around right end but Jim Wollaston picked the ball up and carried it to the 34. The next play saw George rip through the Vocational line, outrun the secondary and score for Newark.

The pass from center was over Blaney's head so Earl Schaeen had to race back, get the ball and try to run the extra point over, but he was swarmed over by Brown tacklers.

"After Brown's kickoff, the ball changed hands twice, with the Bears finally recovering a Blaney fumble on their own two, Minka standing in his own end zone spotted Mora and threw him a pass. Mara caught the ball on his own 20 and ran to Newark's 15 before Blaney hauled him down from behind. The next play, Mara scored on a hand off from Minka.

"James Bueche found a weak spot in the Brown line, broke through and blocked the kick to leave the score tied at 6-6.

"The battle see-sawed thereafter with Newark in possession on the Bear's 49 at the game's end."

Two Pool Tourneys Are Underway Here

Leading Cyclists To Compete At Reading

Practically all of the country's leading motorcycle riders will invade Reading Sunday, October 15, for one of the outstanding events in cycle racing, the Eight-Mile National.

The Eight-Mile, one of 11 national championship events sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Association, will be presented on the half mile Reading Fairgrounds track under the auspices of the Middle Atlantic motorcycle dealers.

The American Motorcycle Association is the official governing body of all motorcycle racing in the United States, and E. C. Smith, its secretary, has announced that a purse of $3,000 will be awarded for the Eight-Mile National and eight other events on the Reading card.

The supporting events will include two three-mile heats, a five-mile consolation and a five-mile final for amateur riders, and two three-mile heats and two five-mile consolations for expert riders. Only expert riders will be eligible to start in the National.

Crippled Hens Face PMC In Wilmington Park Saturday Nite

West Chester Victory Costly, Carmichael And DeGasperis Injured

With three members of his starting backfield on crutches, Bill Murray and his University of Delaware coaching staff face a real personnel problem in preparing for this week's encounter with Pennsylvania Military College scheduled for 8:15 p.m. Saturday at Wilmington. Last week's victory over a rugged West Chester Teachers team in an exciting 16-13 melee was not won without costs.

Both of the Blue Hen starting halfbacks, Johnny DeGasperis and Don Carmichael, were carried off the field early in the game and either or both of them might miss the clash this Saturday night at Wilmington Park. Added to the broken ankle suffered by quarterback Guthridge in the opener against Lehigh these injuries could cost the Hens plenty.

Murray will replace DeGasperis with Charley Smith, and Earl Walter will probably fill in for Carmichael. Although these two lack the speed of the injured juniors, they'll add some much needed weight to the Bird attack.

If comparative scores meant anything, Bill Murray would probably ease off on the terrific practice pace that his University of Delaware Blue Hens have been following since August 28th. The Hens might look for a breather against P.M.C. on the basis of a Cadet loss to West Chester and a Delaware victory over the Teachers.

But Murray long ago learned to disregard the scores, and he'll be playing Woody Ludwig's P.M.C. eleven as just another threat to the Hen record. Delaware scouts report plenty of improvement in the Cadet performance in their win over Albright, and the staff figures that passes Andy Prohaska and "Yonnie" Costello will be wearing holes in the sky this weekend.

West Chester's strategy called for plenty of passing against the Hens and the 16-13 score reveals how close they came to success. Murray singled out defensive halfbacks Joe Lank and Paul Mueller for their heroic efforts, and these two each intercepted two Ram passes. Murray also indicated that Al Brodhag would move into a defensive role on the strength of his work Saturday. Cy Kaplowitz will move to defensive tackle and replace Rocky Carzo.

The National Education Association estimates that 12,559 classrooms will be under construction the remainder of 1950 and 1951 in 857 cities throughout the United States. The cities range from 2,500 to over 500,000 in population.

Despite Bad Breaks; Newark A Earns Creditable 1950 Record

Season Reviewed By Manager Leroy Hill; Tho Plagued By Injuries And Drop-Outs, Team Tops County Loop; 3rd In Penn Mar

A review of the Newark A.A.'s 1950 baseball season was issued this week by Leroy Hill, Jr., team manager.

The team, which finished third in the Penn. Mar. League and earned a title in the New Castle County League, was plagued by injuries and misfortunes throughout the campaign.

The club, 1949 Penn. Mar. pennant winners, jumped off to a promising start in that circuit this year. After dropping the opener, they wracked up a straight wins to take the league lead.

Then a combination of injuries, recall of several players by the National Guard and the loss of one key man to Elktion in the Susquehanna League almost wrecked the ball club.

Of the players who took part in the opening game, only two, Jimmy Ford and George Schaeen, played every game. Fuzzy McCormick was the mainstay of the pitching staff until an arm injury prevented him from being too effective.

Albie Sparks, a Junior League product, was a more than adequate replacement for Paul Wunz in centerfield. And Jimmy Knotts, after being moved to the outfield, played excellent ball and turned into one of the club's top hitters. Ronnie Bramble, another Legion boy, proved valuable in the infield, especially at first and behind the bat.

Newark's club this year was the youngest ever to represent the town. During the last two months of the season, the players averaged 18 years. This promises well for the future after a dirth of talent here the past five years, when good ball players were at a premium.

A major threat to good local teams is the beckoning of the so-called amateur Susquehanna League, whose teams are constantly seeking new talent. This year, Elktion, a member of the Susky loop, made George Schaeen such an attractive offer that he felt it necessary to leave the local team after July 4. Schaeen, who had played shortstop three years for Newark, left a gap that was hard to fill. Several other Newark players, according to Manager Hill, also received offers from Elktion but turned them down.

In the New Castle County League, Newark took the title with a record of 21 victories against four losses. The local club eliminated Christiansa in the semi-final play-offs and went on to meet General Motors in the finals. After one game, which GM won, the play-offs were delayed due to bad weather and the fact that GM players were called on to work overtime at their plant. Finally the high school football season opened, and Newark was forced to cancel its remaining games, since several of its players were on the jacket eleven.

Attendance this year was not particularly good, partially because of the close National League race, which kept many fans close to their radios and TV sets on Sunday. Bad weather during the season and is now an excellent playing field. The left field fence is 300-feet from home plate. Also by moving the diamond, the of baseballs, an expensive item, dropped considerably.

Manager Hill this week extended thanks to the following individuals and organizations, which made the club possible: Continental Diamond Fibre Company, Oscar Trivita, Newark, Jackson Hardware, Eagle Pharmacy, Dale's Jewelry, Dear Hotel, Logan's Barber Shop, Newark Pharmacy, Ray Elliott, Gray's Service, Joe Brown's Auto Supply, Martin Billiard Academy, Frank Blue Hen Laundry, Maclary's Newark Trust Company, Rhodes Store, Wilmington Sporting Goods, Cleaves Printing Company.

The Newark Town Council was very cooperative in remodeling the field, as was the Eastburn Construction Company.

The per pupil expenditure for books and instructional supplies the turn of the century was 22 cents. The cost for instructional material today, based on the dollar value of the day, has climbed to $3.44 per pupil. National Education Association reports

A Column of News Contributed By the Journalism Class At Newark High School

News Is Prepared for "Highlights" Column

With several projects in mind, the Journalism students of Newark High School are being kept very busy. Three projects for this school year are: To write for the Newark Post, to write for the school paper, and to write for the Wilmington papers.

In order to be prepared better to do the writing, visits have been planned to the Newark Post, the Newark Journal Co., the Newark Printing Co., and other places of interest in and around Newark.

Preparation Of Copy By Students

Each week students of the Journalism class discuss the events that might be of news interest and assign them to the students. They are concerned with coming news and past news both. After the news is gathered and facts collected the stories are written in class. Typed copies are made for the group by the Journalism Assistance Club or typing students. This copy is corrected by the students according to the proper spreading methods and use of symbols. The final copy is collected and sent to the office of the Principal for approval before the Editor of the Post picks up the copy on Monday mornings at 10:30.

Eighth Grade Girls Begin Sewing

All of the eighth grade girls will be busy cutting and sewing material. They will make jumpers, or Trivits, Blouses, and blouses under the direction of Miss Evelyn Carothers. A field trip to Danneman's store gave the country pupils and some of the Shop, Newark, a chance to buy their materials, thread and other sewing appliances. A lesson on color helped the students decide what color suited them best.

Fruit, Vegetable, Flower Show

Held In Grades 1-6

Grades one to six planned and arranged their own Harvest Show which was held last Thursday in the Newark elementary school. Each student was requested to bring in something for the display.

The boys and girls of the elementary school brought in from their family gardens fruit, vegetables, and flowers, to put on exhibit. Different grades visited each homeroom where articles were displayed. Prizes were not given to the students because the articles were not grown by the children. Next year there will be awards for the children who grow their own exhibit.

One of the reasons for having the Harvest Show was to have the children bring in the biggest and best looking vegetable, fruit, or flowers. The boys and girls enjoyed bringing big pumpkins, watermelons, apples, and beautiful flowers of all kinds, on the day of the show.

Miss Jennie E. Smith was publicity chairman and each teacher acted as chairman of her homeroom.

Water Colors On Exhibition At U. of D.

Outstanding Artists In Show At Memorial Library

An exhibition of outstanding water colors selected from the permanent collection of the Art Institute of Chicago, the first of a new series of museum exhibitions to be circulated by the American Federation of Arts, will be shown at the Art Gallery in the University of Delaware's Memorial Library until Oct. 22. The exhibition will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays; from 8 to 5 on Saturdays, and 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. on Sundays.

Daniel Catton Rich, director of the Art Institute, personally selected the water colors, adding a few Nineteenth Century examples of fine quality, which also represent artists who anticipated some developments now called "modern."

Miss Harriet T. Baily, professor of art at the university, said that the collection is international and varied in character. "Unified by the medium," she said, "this, too, is subjected to the individual variations of gouache, aquarelle, pen and wash, wet paper and dry, and methods of application."

Among the artists represented are three French masters, Louis Barye, Constantin Guys, and Pierre Puvis de Chavannes. In the American water colors, many forms of contemporary expression are revealed. Miss Baily points out, John Marin, considered by some to be the greatest living American water colorist, is represented in the show with "The Brook." Charles Demuth, only artist represented twice, shows "Gladioli" and "Vaudeville Singer." Satire in contemporary American painting is represented by Adolf Dehn, Merwin Jules, Charles Burchfield, Vance Kirkland, and George Grosz. Dong Kingman shows both Oriental and Occidental influences in "Passing Locomotives," one of his best-known works.

Silver Cup Comes To Cecil County Again

John W. Milburn and sons, John and Evan, of Blossom Haven Orchards, at Barksdale, have received notice from the Maryland State Horticultural Society that they have won the much coveted silver loving cup offered for the best bushel of apples grown in the state.

4-H Clubs Seeking To Send Member Abroad

"If we all do our part, we can make sure that Delaware will 'Send One in '51,'" writes Jacqueline Davis, chairman of the State International Farm Youth Exchange campaign. This statement was made in a letter sent recently to all the 4-H Club leaders in the state reporting on the progress toward their goal of $500.

Miss Davis also listed the twenty-one 4-H Home Demonstration Clubs and Granges which have brought the total close to the halfway mark. October has been designated International Relations Month for the 4-H Clubs in New Castle County. A special effort is being made to have complete returns from all the clubs during this month.

AAUW Entertains 30 New Members At Tea

An invitation has been extended to the Newark Branch of AAUW to attend the Seaford Branch meeting October 24. The program for the evening will be given by Cornelia Otis Skinner. Tickets for the event are limited, so members are urged to contact Mrs. Samuel Handloff immediately if they wish to go.

Nearly 100 women attended the AAUW tea for new members last Friday. They were greeted by Mrs. Leroy Grettum, at whose home the tea was held. All new members received fall flower corsages, courtesy of the hospitality committee, headed by Mrs. Robert Hall. The refreshments were served by a committee with Mrs. Russell Hardy as chairman. Mrs. Samuel Handloff, president of the Newark Branch of AAUW welcomed the new members. She then introduced the various committee chairmen. Officers from the AAUW branches were also introduced. They included, Mrs. C. Lynn Waller, Seaford, president of the State Division; Mrs. T. Scott Purse, president of the Seaford Branch; Mrs. Arnold Goldsborough, president of the Wilmington Branch; and Mrs. Muncy Keith, past-president of the Wilmington Branch.

Four members of the Newark Branch have been appointed committee chairmen of the State Division. They are: Miss A. Jeannette Thoroughgood, who is state vice-president and membership chairman; Mrs. Francis Squire, state chairman of recent graduates; Mrs. Leroy Grettum, state international relations chairman, and Mrs. C. M. Olson, state chairman of the study group workshop.

Peninsula Methodist Women Name Aide

A meeting of the Administrative Committee of the Peninsula Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church was held recently in the Wesley Junior College, Dover, Del.

Mrs. Granville Hooper, Cambridge, Md., was appointed promotion secretary to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Vinton D. Shufelt, Hurlock, Md. Mrs. Shufelt's resignation was accepted with regrets by the Conference Executive Committee. Mrs. Hooper is secretary of children's work for the conference and a past president of the Easton District.

Council Meeting

the busy Main and Academy Street intersection was also ordered. In addition, a red blinker light will be set up at the east end of town, where converging incoming traffic from Capital Trail and the Christiana Road form a danger spot.

A broad scale plan for traffic control was outlined by Councilman Carl Rankin, who suggested turning Main Street and Delaware Avenue into one-way streets, east and west respectively, with South College Avenue and Chapel Streets one way south and north. The lawmakers agreed that public opinion would have to be sampled thoroughly before such a radical step could be taken.

In an effort to collect a number of delinquent water accounts, involving a sizeable amount of money, the lawmakers decided to shut off the water supply to such customers if their bills remain unpaid after a 10-day notice.

The lawmakers gave the first and second reading to two ordinances, the first requiring the licensing of peddlars here and the second formally legalizing Sunday movies, approved here some time ago through a referendum.

The possibility of establishing a public ash collection in Newark is under study. The new method, proposed by Councilman Frank Durnall, will replace the current system under which property owners are responsible for their own ash removal.

A request for rezoning from RD to commercial a V-shaped piece of land on East Cleveland Avenue just off North Chapel Street was received from Irvin Crowe, who is planning to erect a filling station there. He was directed to get signatures of the majority of property owners in the area approving the step.

Wayne Brewer, representing the Nottingham Manor Association, requested Council to install about 750 feet of six-inch water pipe in that area at a cost of around $4,000. Mr. Brewer said a previous Council had agreed to assume the cost of the work. The lawmakers pointed out that such pipe was impossible to obtain at this time and advised Mr. Brewer to renew his request when the material again becomes available.

A complaint from Mrs. L. M. Thoroughgood, East Delaware Avenue, charging David Poffenberger, her next door neighbor, with a violation of the zoning ordinance was referred to the Board of Adjustments. Mrs. Thoroughgood claims Mr. Poffenberger has erected an addition to his property in violation of the zoning regulations for that area.

A resolution expressing the Council's regret on the death of Owen S. Hopkins, a town employee, was unanimously approved.

Lawton Dairy's milk was found to have an excessively high bacteria count for the second successive month, and E. S. Biddle, local milk inspector, was ordered to investigate the matter.

A request for two street lights on Bond Street between Annabelle and Margaret Streets was approved.

ed by a committee under Mrs. Russell Hyre. The society's members have been busy making many fine articles for sale, including dressed dolls. Mrs. Clemence Valient is in charge of the hankie club section.

There will be many different varieties of plants on sale. Mrs. Oliver Koellig is chairman of this section. J. Elmer Betty & Sons will stage a display at this booth.

Mrs. Joseph Bryan is in charge of the cakes, pies, rolls and other home-made dainties, while Mrs. George Aument is responsible for the canned goods.

There will also be a white elephant table with Mrs. Orville Ottey in charge.

Miss Anne Gallaher is chairman of the parcel post section. This booth will offer a package for a small fee. These packages have been mailed to Miss Gallaher by friends of the ladies of the society from many different places, some coming quite a distance.

There will be a Stanley Products sale conducted by Mrs. Leonard Wolaston. Nylon stockings will also be offered.

Customers' Corner

Packing your order may sound like a little thing, but our trained employees give it a lot of thought.

They know that it isn't right to place five pounds of flour on top of a quarter pound of butter . . . or to place soap next to cheese.

The men and women of A&P will appreciate it if you will let them have any suggestions as to how they can make a handier package for you to take home.
