M. Jules Jusserand
To Deliver Address
At Commencement*Famous Diplomatic Publicist From France, at Close of Twenty Years
Service in Washington*Rev. Candee to Preach Sermon

His Excellency, J. A. A. Jules Jusserand, Ambassador from the Republic of France to the United States of America, will deliver the Commencement Address on June 11th. Rev. Chas. L. Caudée, D. D., of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon on Sunday, June 10th.

Ambassador Jusserand has just completed his twentieth year of service in Washington. He has won much fame as an author and is often called France's Diplomatic Publicist. As author of many works of high literary and scholarly quality, M. Jusserand has been a member of the famous Authors' Club in New York for nineteen years. He is to be the guest of honor at a dinner given by the Club Thursday evening in recognition of this service.

The Commencement Exercises at the Women's College will be held in Red Men's Grove at 2:30, Saturday, June 9th. Mrs. H. S. Prentis Nichols, member of the Pennsylvania State Council on

Faculty Club to Honor
Members of Senior Class

One of the most delightful social functions of the year will be given at the Faculty Club rooms on Monday, May 21, 1923, when a reception will be given by the members of the Faculty Club in honor of the Senior Class. This reception is given every year by the Faculty Club in honor of the graduating class and has always been a source of pleasant memories to the "grads." The committee in charge of the reception is composed of Major Row, Dr. Foster, and Professor Rees. The nature of the program is unknown, but it is certain that the "grads" are due for a highly enjoyable evening.

Tennis Team To Match
Rackets at Rutgers

The tennis team meets Rutgers this Friday at New Brunswick. So far the team has not been able to come through with a victory, but appearances point slightly in our favor with regard to the Rutgers' tournament. Rutgers has been beaten already this season by Lehigh and Lafayette. Lafayette won by a very close score, and that college cannot boast of a very good team this year. Lehigh, on the contrary, beat Rutgers easily; whereas they had a very hard time winning from George Washington, who won from us.

If our men had better places to practice, they might win a tournament once in a while, but too much cannot be expected of them under present conditions.

BAXTER BREAKS U. of D.
HIGH JUMP RECORD*Team Loses to Haverford

Delaware met her second defeat of the current track season at the hands of Haverford, our old rivals. The meet was held on Tuesday, May 8, at Haverford, the final score being Haverford 77, Delaware 49. Pitman came through as usual and captured the 100 and 220 yard dashes and placed second in the 440 yard run. McKelvie was not up to topnotch form and was beaten in the javelin throw and the shotput. Baxter gave quite an agreeable surprise when he cleared 5 feet 7.4 inches in the high jump. This breaks the existing record at Delaware and foretells a brilliant future as a high jumper for this freshman.

PROSPECTS FOR THE MIDDLE STATES MEET*To Be Held Here Next Year

This year's Middle States track meet will probably be won by Lafayette. Delaware's chances in this meet, which is to be held at Muhlenberg on May 18th and 19th, are not very bright, but it is possible that we may capture third place.

The 100-yard and 220-yard dashes will probably be won by Captain LeConey, of Lafayette, with Carol, of Lehigh, second, and Captain Pitman, of Delaware, third. Lafayette will undoubtedly win the relay. The shot put will be a close affair between Loehler, of Lafayette, Haehlen, of Gettysburg, and Asplund, of Swarthmore; although Loehler will likely make the best heave. Williams, of Lafayette, will have to do his utmost to win the 440, for there are several good quarter-milers entered.

Lehigh Track Team Wins Close Meet

For the first time in three years the Blue and Gold track and field men lost a dual meet on Frazer Field when the Lehigh track team, headed by the fleet-footed wonder-man, Carol, beat Delaware by the close score of 70 to 55. Every event was closely contested and the Delaware boys did not give up hopes of winning the meet until the quarter-mile yielded nine points to Lehigh. Up until this event Delaware led by a small margin.

The feature events were the century and 220. Captain Pitman, handicapped by a poor ankle and staleness resulting from over work, lost both events by a small margin to Carol, the Lehigh star. Pitman finished second in both dashes only a short distance behind Carol. Pitman took part in the pole vault and tied for second but he so tired himself out that he was completely spent when the quarter mile event arrived.

"Sook" Jackson by winning the pole vault annexed his third varsity letter at Delaware. He

Sons of Delaware
Annual Outing and Dinner Saturday*To be Guests at Field Day Exercises at Women's College and Western Maryland Baseball Game*Ex-Governor Stokes to Speak

The Philadelphia Sons of Delaware will hold their annual outing and dinner here on Saturday, May nineteenth. A special train by way of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has been provided for the members from Philadelphia and vicinity. The train will arrive in Newark at 1:03 Saturday afternoon.

An elaborate Field Day program has been arranged by the Women's College. The Sons are invited to attend this affair at 1:30 sharp. The program will consist of gymnasium drills and exhibits of the various sports. Several novel events have been arranged.

ENGINEERS TO BANQUET TUESDAY
EVENING MAY 22*C. E. Chase Gives Address;
J. B. France Elected President

The Association is planning to hold the annual banquet on Tuesday evening, May twenty-second. The committee is arranging to have several well known men in the engineering field to speak. The banquet promises to be a wide-awake affair. Tickets can be procured from any of the officers of the Association.

At a meeting of the A. A. E. last Thursday evening, Mr. C. E. Chase gave a lecture on the Delaware River Bridge, which will join Philadelphia and Camden, and will be completed in 1926.

Mr. Chase started with the beginning of the project and covered every step of the construction. The lecture was by far the most interesting one given this year.

Election of officers took place at the same meeting. The results were: president, John B. France; vice-president, Irwin E. Mather; secretary, Roger W. Cann; and treasurer, Alfred H. Turner.

At a meeting of the Faculty Club of the Women's College on Monday afternoon, the students' petition for a combined paper was passed. This is one step nearer the goal of a University paper.

The Faculty of Delaware College is the next to act on the petition. It will then be presented to the Board of Trustees for final judgment.

CULLEN CAIN PAYS
UNIVERSITY TRIBUTE*Prominent Sports Writer's Views

Cullen Cain, the noted reporter and sports writer, paid a great tribute to the University of Delaware in his article which appeared last Sunday in the Philadelphia Ledger. Here are a few of his comments:

"And, watching the team in its dressing room before the game, watching it go down to defeat that day, watching its supporters in the stands, I was convinced that the coach had called the turn when he spoke of a little school that was so big."

"I never saw or hope to see a cleaner cut, more earnest lot of young men than this Delaware outfit, in the stands and out at play . . . Strong, supple, eager,

C. A. SMITH TO PRESIDE
IN FOOTLIGHTS CLUB*Nine New Members Elected

In the Footlights Club elections on Monday night, "Cliff" Smith was elected president. The elections for other offices were as follows: Wm. Howard, vice-president; A. Travers, treasurer; C. Green, business manager; M. Akin, secretary; J. C. Snyder, property man.

Because of the large number of men going out of college this year, there are nine vacant places on the club for new men, in order to make up the total of fifteen members. The men elected for membership were: Leahy, Grant, Heinold, Yanowitz, Shockley, Givan, Nicholson, Deputy and Hill.

The new members will be initiated at a banquet to be given at the Deer Park on Thursday night, May 24th.

The Footlights Club has extremely good prospects for the coming year. After paying off old debts, the Club will still have a fair sum in the treasury to start on next year. Some very good material has turned up this year in the Freshman Class. It is rumored that plans are being laid already for a musical comedy next year.

Fraternities Have A Social Week-End

Last Saturday proved to be a red letter day on the social calendar of Delaware College.

The Kappa Alpha Fraternity had an informal dance in Old College. Approximately sixty couples were present to dance to the music furnished by George Madden and his famous syncopators. The decorations were simple and effective, consisting of college banners and crimson and gold shades on the lights. The dancing lasted from 8:30 p.m. until 11:30, when refreshments were served.

The patronesses were Mrs. Dutton, Mrs. Walter Steele, Mrs. Tiffany, and Miss Drake. There

J. H. Schaefer to Lead
The Student Council
Beginning Next Year*Three Years on The Student Council
Makes Him Most Logical
Student Leader*Class Representatives Elected

John H. Schaefer, one of next year's most promising Seniors, and undoubtedly the most popular man around the Campus, was elected to the presidency of the Student Council last Friday.

This expression of confidence on the part of the student body, certainly the highest honor that can be bestowed upon any student, has again been shown to the proper person, for "Johnny" was the "logical man." He has not only, while at Delaware, distinguished himself upon the athletic field as one of Delaware's best quarterbacks, but he has also been an exceptionally good student and one interested in all campus activities.

While at Delaware, he has been a member of the Student Council for three years, president of the Blue Lantern Society, varsity quarterback, vice-president of the Wolfe Chemical

Baseball Team ShutsOut Dickinson Nine

After a string of defeats long enough to dishearten the most optimistic, Delaware's baseball team repeated the feat of last season's moleskimmers and blanked the Dickinson nine in an exciting game last Saturday. The seven on Delaware's end of the score was the result chiefly of the hitting of McCormick, Nutter, and MacDonald, and the zero belonging to Dickinson was due to "Jim" Mannix's pitching.

Rifle Club Elects Officers; Six Record Breakers Rewarded

An election of officers for the coming year was held at a meeting of the Rifle Club on Wednesday, May 9, 1923, in Old College. The following officers were elected: John France, president; Roger Cann, vice-president; Rex Jaggard, secretary; and Paul Skewis, treasurer. The captain of the team will be elected in the near future by the members of the team, while a new manager will be appointed by Captain Sparks, coach, Willard Boyce, manager, and Wallace Cook, captain.

The following men will receive minor letters for shooting qualifying scores in fifty percent of the matches held during the past season: R. J. Betty, Cann, Cook, Cooper, France, J. B.; Pierce, Reynolds, and Skewis. The following men are entitled to the insignia for the breaking of records in the following positions:

France, J. B.	Prone
Cook	Sitting
Brown, J.	Kneeling
Reynolds	Standing
Pierce	Four positions (2)
Reynolds	Four positions

COLLEGE POLITICS

College politics is the most corrupting influence in college life.

When a man gets an office thru the cunning intrigues of a few of his friends, rather than being elected because he is considered the most likely person for the job, the aforesaid office loses all resemblance to an honorary position. Instead of an emblem of respect and a reward for true worth, it becomes a symbol of selfishness, of greed, of perfidy, of pollution.

And the man who accepts an office, knowing in his heart that it was obtained for him by underhanded dealing, is just as guilty of complicity in crime—a moral crime, to be sure—as the one who shares in the spoils of a burglary.

Politics and crime are twins; both are begot by Greed and born of Deceit; both work toward a common goal—social corruption.

College politics are the dry-rot of friendship.

It destroys sincerity. Real feelings and honest sentiments must be covered up, and an assumed character must be put on with one's shirt in the morning, if one would escape condemnation.

College politics is a continual cause of rupture between friends, groups, societies, and fraternities.

Around election time everyone is closely watching everyone else to see that nothing is put over on him. Everyone tries to conceal this suspicious vigilance by forcing himself to be overly cordial to the one, or ones, he suspects of cabal, or else he holds aloof and fairly radiates antagonism to all except his confidants. Spontaneity is smothered under a very carefully selected routine of conduct. Natural impulses are stillborn. The result is an atmosphere charged with artificiality, a condition which gathers such momentum during the period immediately encompassing the electoral contest that it lasts thruout the following year.

True cooperation in athletics, in societies, in the college as a whole, is thus an impossibility.

A man's character is revealed by the attitude he takes during a college election.

It is altogether too easy to succumb to the temptation of gratifying one's jealousy of a bigger man by not only voting for a less deserving candidate, but by causing others to do likewise.

The politicians find some vital significance to attach to every ordinary action of the man they are trying to defeat, and they broadcast this theoretical meaning to all of the impressionable and unthinking voters.

A man of any strength of character would decide for himself and by himself the one he considered to be the best of the candidates.

None but a reprobate would attempt to insidiously influence another's opinion in college politics.

In college politics the best man rarely wins. This is not only an injustice, it is folly on the part of those voting, it is an undermining of the very life of the organizations concerned.

It is much easier to sit back and tolerate these petty politicians than it is to stand up and denounce them and their scrubby methods. For after having permitted their unscrupulous policies to exist so long unmolested our moral fiber has become soft and flabby. Our code of honor has degenerated into a lazy toleration. We are moral weaklings. As long as we allow such a contemptible institution as college politics to flourish in the underrun of our immediate society, all talk of an honor system, of clean sportsmanship, of square deals, is the rankest hypocrisy.

The only remedy is the removal of the infection in its entirety.

When a man begins to extol the virtues of one candidate over those of another, vote for the least praised.

If you are only attached to your own countrymen, why, all men are thus attached to their own, and hence wars arise.—Tolstoi.

The members will be the guests of the University at the Western Maryland baseball game on Frazer Field. The game will be called at 2.45. The annual dinner will be served in Old College Commons at 5.30.

Hon. Edwin C. Stokes, former governor of New Jersey, and Milton Harold Nichols, D. D., of Philadelphia, will be the speakers of the evening. Dr. Hullihen will make an address of welcome to the visitors. Ex-Governor Stokes is considered one of the foremost after-dinner speakers in this part of the country. Several of the members will give speeches and reports. A musical program has been arranged for entertainment during the dinner.

A special feature of the outing will be an invitation to all citizens of Delaware, whether members of the organization or not, to meet with the Sons and renew acquaintances and swap reminiscences. Many of the members will bring friends. The University authorities in charge of the arrangements expect a record breaking attendance this Saturday.

The Philadelphia Sons of Delaware are composed of prominent business men in Philadelphia who are natives of Delaware. The Society has a keen interest in the University and has done much for its welfare. In 1919 they established the Sons of Delaware Scholarship. At the banquet last May a contribution of over two hundred dollars was raised and divided between the Athletic Council and the Waiters Union.

PROSPECTS FOR THE MIDDLE STATES MEET

Weatherdon, of New York University should have no difficulty in winning the discuss throw, as he threw it over 136 feet recently in the Penn relays. Likewise Wilbur, of Haverford, who holds the record of his college for the javelin throw, should win his event easily. Weatherdon will probably also win the high jump, although Baxter stands a good chance in this event.

The pole vault is a doubtful proposition. Good pole vaulters appear to be rarer this year than ever before. Most of the firsts in this event have bee won by vaults varying from 10 to 10½ feet.

The distance runs are likewise uncertain; nothing at all definite can be predicted concerning them. The chief reason for this is that there has been no outstanding light in either the half, the mile, or the two-mile, so far this season.

The broad jump will be another closely contested event, with Politika, of Rutgers, as the best bet. Meyer, of Rutgers, and Asplundh, of Swarthmore, should put up a thrilling race in the 120 high hurdles. But in the 220 low hurdles Meyer should experience no trouble.

whatsoever in coming in first. Coach Keyes' was recently elected a member of the Executive Staff of the Middle States Athletic Association, and according to the latest reports the 1924 Middle States track and field meet will be held on Frazer Field. This will be the first time it has ever been held at Delaware, and as this meet is the largest in the East, except the Penn Relays, it should prove a big attraction to all Delawareans.

Among the institutions that will participate are Rutgers, New York University, Stevens, Haverford, Swarthmore, Lafayette, Lehigh, Gettysburg, Franklin and Marshall, Muhlenberg, Dickinson, Union College, Bucknell, Johns Hopkins, and University of Delaware.

Club, associate-editor on the last Blue Hen Board, and just recently he was elected Lieutenant Commander of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. His election, therefore, to the Presidency of the Council has been a logical climax to such a splendid record.

Of the other nominees from the Senior Class; namely, Clift, C. A. Smith and Elliott, the latter was elected, and he, incidentally, was the defeated candidate for the presidency. The two other Council members from the Senior Class are F. B. Smith, editor of the Review, and McDonald, president of the Senior Class, both members ex-officio.

Next year's Junior nominees were Rinard, McCormick, Cann and Jackson; and the two selected from these were Rinard and McCormick, the same men selected from the class last year.

From the present Freshman Class, Leahy was elected over Hanson.

Thus the Student Council for next year will be made up of the following men: Schaefer, president, Elliott, McDonald, Smith, Leach, McCormick, Rinard, Mannix, Leahy and the president and representative of next year's Freshman Class.

Paved roads wind their way down the State past well-kept farms and across lovely green valleys. . . . "They have had great teams down there in all the major sports, and under McAvoy are sure to have them again.

Examinations Held For Scholarships

The preliminary examinations for the sixty scholarships, recently authorized by the State Legislature, to the University of Delaware will be given simultaneously on the third Saturday in June at the Wilmington High School, the State House at Dover, and at the Court House at Georgetown. The rules and regulations governing these tests are found in Section 68 of the School Laws of Delaware.

The sixty scholarships will be divided as follows: 17 to New Castle County, 17 to Kent County, and 26 to Sussex County. These scholarships are for the high school boys and girls of our State, and they should be an effective stimulus towards a higher education for all Delaware high school graduates.

were guests from Wilmington, Dover, and Middletown.

The Sigma Nu Fraternity were hosts to the many guests who attended their lawn party. Altho the rain kept the party indoors during the early part of the evening, it soon cleared up in time to save the affair from being a house party. The lawn was becomingly illuminated by colored lanterns, and decorated by the natural floral decorations of the garden. Winthrop's orchestra furnished music for the dancers. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity had a hastily arranged house party. The fifteen couples present passed an agreeable evening dancing to the music produced by Jimmie Tilghman and Jay Robinson. Miss Taylor of the Women's College proved to be a very popular and pleasant patroness.

Schaefer Succeeds Kirk
As Football Manager

Since Manager-elect Kirk, of next year's football team, has left college, Coach McAvoy recommended that J. H. Schaefer be elected manager to succeed him. The Athletic Council approved this measure.

In his Freshman year, Schaefer missed his letter by a few quarters, but he made his letter playing varsity quarterback in 1921. Last year, just before the opening game, he broke his ankle and remained out of the game for the rest of the season.

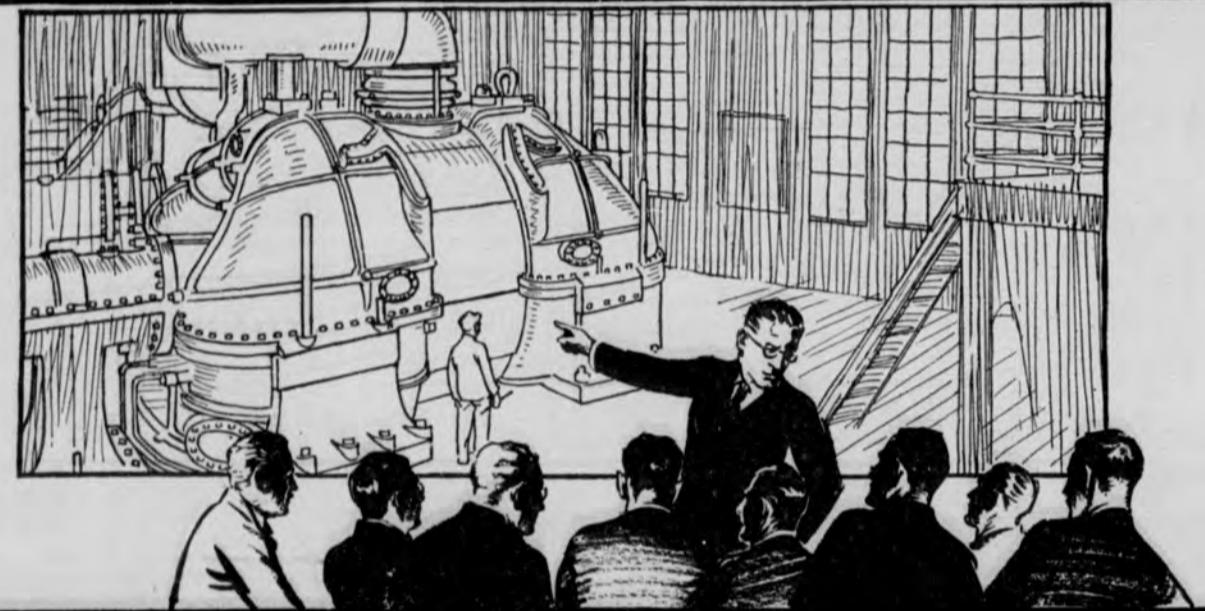

Radio for "Ag" Students

The Westinghouse Broadcasting Station at Pittsburgh, KDKA, has been secured for Chas. L. This lecture, given under the auspices of the Western Pennsylvania Guernsey Breeders' Association, will be broadcasted on Friday night, May 18th.

Ag. students had better become acquainted with "Dinty."

The University of Engineering

Of all the things that go to make the successful engineer, none is more important, nor more in step with the spirit of the profession, than a studious attitude. One man says about another—"he is always willing to learn," "he doesn't think he knows it all"—and he intends to pay a high compliment when he says it.

The great engineers are always at school, always learning, always seeking for more knowledge. They begin with this desire for fuller understanding, and they keep it up to the end.

Any engineering operation, over and above the primary purpose for which it is carried out, is an active and post-graduate class in engineering, also. So that Westinghouse, or any other great business, is, of its very nature, a University where theory and practice combine to make bigger, broader and more practical engineers.

The courses in this University are not limited to prescribed subjects nor terms—the subjects are almost infinite, and the semesters are endless. Men with the weight of years on their shoulders work and learn side-by-side with those whose day has just dawned.

This post-graduate school fits men for almost anything. Fits them for it, and makes them continually fitter. Out of this continuing fitness have grown the engineering accomplishments on which this institution has grown. It is, perhaps, one of the great educational institutions of its day.
