Municipal Government Report Presented To Newark Council

Professional Consultants Recommend Increased Power For City Manager, Less Council Interference; Advise Four-Year Terms For Representatives Elected At-Large

Increased authority for the city manager; the election of councilmen at-large for terms of four years each; and abolition of standing council committees for "deleterious effect on council-manager relations and on the conduct of city business," were among recommendations in the Public Administration Service survey 98-page report of the administration and management of the Newark municipal government which was presented and discussed at a special meeting of the City Council last Tuesday.

Adopted by council last July, the study was made and the report was prepared by Douglas E. Davis and Thomas R. Jacoby, of the PAS staff, under the supervision of Associate City Manager Morris Aylesworth. The study was presented to the council at a special meeting of the City Council last Tuesday.

Confusion in the city continues to operate under the weak mayor-council form of government, with the city manager and council members assigned certain duties but allowed much latitude in carrying them out, the consultants report.

3 Youths Arrested In Armed Robbery Of Coach Driver

Detective Wm. Brierley Conducts Investigation Including 11 Burglaries

Newark police have charged three youths with the armed robbery of a Delaware Coach Company bus driver and with 11 burglaries.

Detective William Brierley, who was conducting a virtual round-the-clock investigation of a series of burglaries at city business establishments, said the trio was implicated in the robbery as the result of information gained during this investigation.

The robbery was reported by Harvey Kalir, driver for the bus company. He said the three youths came to his bus with masks over the lower part of their faces and took about $300 from him while one of them pointed a sawed-off shotgun at him.

Places allegedly hit by the youths in their burglary spree included Fader Motor Company, on Sept. 15; American Highway Express on Feb. 3; Elks Lodge on Aug. 23; Southern States Cooperative on Aug. 20 and Aug. 26; Hollingsworth Supply on Aug. 7; Ed Fine Oldsmobile on July 17; Aug. 26 and Sept. 6; Newark Frozen Foods on Feb. 20; and Richard Davis, Jr. electrical and oil burner service firm on Aug. 21.

Food Remains Among Best In Bargains As Other Cost Increases Top Table Fare

W. T. McAllister, farm management specialist at the University of Delaware reports hearing a local supermarket customer say "Over $20 and you can get it all into two paper bags." With a sigh of resignation she muttered something about food prices being so high these days and that she didn't get much for her money.

Thousands of homemakers leave the grocery store every day muttering the same thing, McAllister muses with "It's a shame someone hasn't done a better job of keeping prices down. The truth of the matter is that food prices have gone up 59 per cent in the same 10 year period."

Because food prices have increased less than take home pay, the average homemaker now spends only 1/3 of the family income for food. She spent 1/4 of the family income for food in the late 1940s.

"Instead of growing about food prices, it seems to me homemakers should gnash and thank farmers, researchers and food marketers who have made all of this possible. It is only because these people have found ways to step up their efficiency and keep operating costs at a minimum that food prices have shown such a modest increase," McAllister adds.

"Compared with the other things we buy, food is truly a bargain," he concludes.

Eldred Raun Heads Newark Planners In Reorganization

Pinto, Butterworth Join Municipal Planning Body; Dolan Is Vice-Chairman

Eldred L. Raun, 27 Park Drive, Silverbrook, was elected president of the Newark Planning Commission at last Monday night's meeting.

Raun, refinery superintendent for Tidewater Oil Company, succeeds Francis E. B. McCann who had been chairman since last February.

Dr. Paul Dolan continues as vice-chairman by a 4-2 vote over Carroll W. Mumford; Charles E. Grubb, assistant; Clarence W. Taylor, counsel; Charles D. Long, secretary; Mrs. Mary Lejune, librarian and secretary to Grubb; and Mrs. Betty Jane Shultz, recording secretary.

The commission discussed two proposals for establishing a zoning classification for limited manufacturing. The original proposal had been submitted by Edward C. Moore, planning consultant to the urban affairs division at the University of Delaware, who is working on a two-year contract to produce a master plan for Newark.

Moore's proposal had been countered last month by Francis M. Sullivan, who offered a complete set of specifications for the new classification.

George Pinto, newly appointed to the commission along with Wallace Butterworth, suggested that Sullivan or Grubb and Taylor consult and work out their different approaches to the problem. The men agreed to report at the next meeting of the commission, executive director of the Regional Planning Commission, talked with the commission on the need for cooperation between city and the county.

"Budd Polychem" New Identity Of Continental-Diamond Fibre

President Edward G. Budd, Jr., Announces New Name For CDF Subsidiary To Identify Operation With Parent Firm; William L. Rodich Heads Budd Polychem Division

The Budd Company has announced that its wholly-owned subsidiary—Continental-Diamond Fibre Corporation—will become an operating division to be known as Budd Polychem Division.

Edward G. Budd, Jr., president of the Budd Company, said the divisionalization move—effective immediately—is being made "to complete integration of all Budd's diversified activities, and to fully relate them to the Budd corporate identity."

Budd pointed out that the change in name—from Continental-Diamond Fibre Corporation to Budd Polychem—will more accurately reflect the organization's expansion into new chemical-based fields.

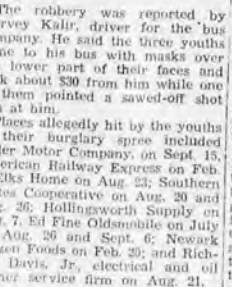

The polychem division's headquarters will remain in Newark, and no changes are planned in executive or operating personnel.

The new division is one of the world's largest manufacturers of laminated plastics; painted circuit board; flexible insulation; vulcanized fibre and mica products; and produces specialized industrial papers and fine paper grades.

The polychem division becomes the sixth major operating division of the Budd Company which, in 1961 had sales of $233,610,495. Other divisions are automotive, electronics, railway instruments, and international.

William L. Rodich

William L. Rodich, who has been chief executive officer of Continental-Diamond Fibre Corporation, will become president and general manager of Budd Polychem Division.

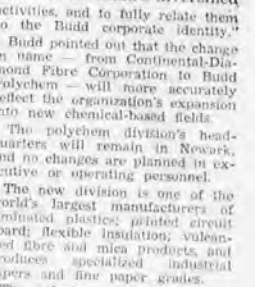

Rodich said that "the product mix of Continental-Diamond Fibre Corporation has undergone substantial change in recent years. Our business has been largely on laminated plastics and vulcanized fibre, with the former making up the larger share. Further, in June we tripled our industrial paper-making capacity with the acquisition of the Brightwater Paper Company of Adams, Mass."

He said that the polychem division, which maintains one of the industry's largest and newest research centers at Newark, will accelerate development of new products and improved materials for its various markets.

In 1961, the Polychem predecessor, Continental-Diamond Fibre Corporation, completed a $6.5 million, three-year modernization program. Highlights included installation of new laminating presses, hydraulically operated and electronically controlled, and new chemical treaters of increased capacity. Beta ray gauges are incorporated in the treating process to assure automatic quality control.

Budd Polychem Division facilities are located here at Newark; in Bridgeport, Pa., and in Adams, Mass.

ZOOMING UP — AND OUTWARD . . .

REGION'S total population expanded rapidly to 1960; estimates show still faster increase for next 25 years. Recent increase is suburban, not in largest cities.

11-COUNTY REGION'S POPULATION SNOWBALLS-OUTSIDE THE CITIES

Have you been ensnared in traffic lately? Did you get elbowed in a swimming pool this past summer? Has a sprawling housing development wiped out the field where your son used to play ball? Have any of your children been assigned to an afternoon shift at school?

Problems like these result from the snowballing population of our metropolitan region. The U.S. Census reports that in just ten years—1950 to 1960—our eleven-county region gained 800,000 people. Of this amazing total, about 200,000 are estimated to have moved into the region, and about 600,000 came from the excess of births over deaths.

The end of this growth is not in sight. Some experts predict that these eleven counties—Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Gloucester, Mercer, Montgomery, New Castle, Philadelphia, and Salem—may have to make room between now and 1985 for 3,000,000 more people—nearly as many as the entire number that were in this region in 1940.

More amazing perhaps than the growth itself are the Census figures showing where the growth occurred. While the ten counties outside of Philadelphia County increased by 41 per cent from 1950 to 1960, the region's largest cities, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Camden, Chester, and Trenton went down by 4 per cent, or a total of 107,000 people.

Will this reduction in population in the cities, if it continues, help the economic prosperity of these cities and therefore of the region? Will the local governments in the suburbs be equipped to handle the complicated job of governing their rapidly-growing communities?

Various agencies in the region are trying to provide solutions to these and similar questions. For example, the Regional Conference of Elected Officials, a region-wide advisory group open for membership to each of the region's nearly 400 governments, and Penjerdel, a non-profit, non-governmental research and reporting organization, are working to convert a potential metropolitan monster into a well-ordered, prosperous region.

Newark Students Win Scholarships Provided By NVF

Two National Vulcanized Fibre Company $1,000 scholarships for industrial careers have been awarded Newark students at the University of Delaware.

Russell W. Howes, 2 Calgary Road, a junior, is receiving the award for the first time, and the scholarship of Donald E. Woodmansee, 139 Haines Street, has been renewed for his senior year.

Purpose of the scholarships is to encourage students taking four or five-year programs in chemistry or chemical engineering to consider careers in industrial research.

Candidates are selected through interviews with company personnel and approved by the dean of students at the university.

In addition to the scholarships during the academic year, the recipient is offered summer employment at the National Vulcanized Fibre research and development laboratory at Yorklyn.

The company also makes an unrestricted grant of $750 to the university each year the scholarship program continues.

Nutritionist Cites Storage Methods for Fresh Fish

When you catch your fish or buy fresh fish, it must be stored properly to remain fresh. According to a nutritionist with the University of Delaware, eating stale fish can be a health hazard. The fish should be frozen immediately after catching or buying. If it is not frozen, it should be cooked and eaten immediately. The nutritionist also suggests that fish be stored in a refrigerator at a temperature of 32 to 38 degrees Fahrenheit. If the fish is not eaten immediately, it should be frozen in a plastic bag or airtight container. The nutritionist also suggests that fish be stored in a refrigerator at a temperature of 32 to 38 degrees Fahrenheit. If the fish is not eaten immediately, it should be frozen in a plastic bag or airtight container.

"Well-Done" Fresh Pork Cited As Safety Measure

Well-done fresh pork is a "must" if you want to make sure this meat is entirely free of danger from trichinosis, says Janet Coblenz, University of Delaware foods and nutrition specialist. Raw or underdone pork can cause this serious disease. Miss Coblenz says thorough cooking develops the rich, appetizing flavor of pork and is important for all forms of fresh pork including roasts, chops, spareribs, fresh sausage, and meat loaf or other mixtures that include fresh pork. Cooking cured pork is another story. The curing process acts as a safeguard. Thaw fish in the refrigerator and only long enough to permit ease in preparation. Thawing at room temperature is not recommended.

Poultry-Egg Board Honors University For Research Aid

The University of Delaware has been awarded a certificate of recognition by the Poultry and Egg National Board. The award was presented to Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the university, in recognition of his leadership in poultry research and consumer education by land-grant colleges and universities throughout the country. The award reads in part: "The Poultry and Egg National Board, a non-profit industry supported organization for consumer information and research, publicly and gratefully acknowledges the contribution of the University of Delaware in leadership training, program building, and unstinting cooperation with the poultry industry to the betterment of both the producers of poultry products and the great American consuming public." In acknowledging the award, Dr. George M. Worshlow, vice-president of the university and dean of the school of agriculture, said, "We are grateful for this recognition and look forward to continued cooperation with the Poultry and Egg National Board." "Safe driving begins in the area about the ears," Don Pauschert, Pana (Ill.) News-Palladium.

Step-Saving Tips In Home Sewing Offered By Expert

Walk a mile to make a dress? Not quite that far. But most women do a lot of walking in dressmaking or other home sewing, according to Janet Reed, University of Delaware clothing specialist.

Typically, a woman cuts out a garment on the dining table, presses it in the kitchen or laundry, sews it on a machine in the bedroom, and goes to several rooms for sewing supplies and equipment. She often has to work at an uncomfortable height or angle, or in poor light.

Several U. S. Department of Agriculture surveys show that most homes need a place planned especially for sewing, Miss Reed reports.

Three-fourths of rural homemakers interviewed in regional housing research, listed sewing as one of their regular household activities. In the South, some families reported making as many as 60 garments a year.

The latest nationwide USDA survey shows that 40 per cent of American women make clothes for themselves and their families, and nearly 70 per cent use a sewing machine to make or mend clothes or household articles.

If you are interested in sewing better designs, Miss Reed suggests writing for "Home Sewing Areas," an eight-page leaflet that may be obtained from the school of home economics, University of Georgia, Athens.

Nottingham Green Winners Reported For Flower Show

Winners in the recent Nottingham Green Club flower show have been announced, with Mrs. E. L. Symington and Mrs. Gordon Leader winning sweepstakes for horticultural facilities with a fund raising campaign to begin next March.

The National Council of State Garden Clubs award of distinction for dried arrangements was won by Mrs. William Smith, and the award of merit for excellence in horticulture, by Mrs. Charles Schmidt.

The Nottingham Green Garden Club President's Cup donated to the club by immediate past president Mrs. William Smith, was awarded to Mrs. Symington for total points in horticulture and arranging.

Dana Ketter, Peggy Brown, and Janice Madsen, and Jeff Peoples, Ricky Smith, and Jimmy Leininger were winners in the kindergarten to sixth grade group.

Christy Carter and Pete Dawson were first place winners in the seventh to 12th grade division, with Lyn Smith and Jim Hatfield winning second place honors; and Paula Smith, third.

Low Calorie Diet Should Be Based On Normal Foods

The strictest and safest way to take off extra pounds—and keep them off—is to plan low calorie menus around foods you normally eat, says Janet Coblenz, foods and nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware.

It's important also to include plenty of variety to stimulate appetites and insure a well-balanced diet, she says. This kind of dieting can develop new food habits which can be continued even after your weight goal has been reached. And it will prevent lost pounds from returning.

The specialist cautions against losing weight too fast. A pound or two a week is plenty. At this rate you can lose 10 to 20 pounds over a 10-week period without endangering health or suffering from other dietary symptoms.

Before going on a diet of 1200 calories a day or less, it's best to consult a doctor to be sure you're in good health.

Special food preparations and meal combinations for quick results may sound glamorous, but they can be very tiresome, Miss Coblenz adds.

Many people who try a crash diet soon return to their old habits and are discouraged by this kind of dieting can be harmful—especially when important nutrients are missing from such diets.

A well-balanced reducing diet can mean improved health for the person who has been eating too many rich pastries and other sweets and avoiding solid nutritious foods.

Whether low or high in calories, a well-balanced diet includes daily choices of four basic foods—milk, cheese, ice cream; meat, fruits and vegetables; breads and cereals.

Moderate amounts of bread and potatoes often considered fattening, have an important place in any diet, according to Miss Coblenz—even in a slimming diet.

Fruits and vegetables also are important to weight-watchers because they offer many appealing choices that are both filling and high in food value.

Haenlein Cites Problem Of Silo Gas Poisoning

Recent drought conditions may cause farmers more problems than the obvious ones of reduced crop yields and poor quality hay and pasture. Dry weather usually increases the danger of silo gas and nitrate poisoning, according to George F. W. Haenlein, dairy research associate with the University of Delaware school of agriculture. He says nitrogen dioxide gas even in small amounts has been fatal to many humans and animals.

Even in cases not fatal, nitrate poisoning may seriously affect health, reduce milk production, and interfere with normal reproduction. The most alarming aspect of nitrate poisoning is that symptoms, even lethal ones, do not show up until several days after exposure.

Detailed precautions on handling high nitrogen silage may be obtained from your county agent's office.

Gem Stone Craft Classes Offered By Mrs. Jamison

Mrs. Jocelyn Jamison, returning for her second year, will instruct the classes to be held at the GNRA activity room in the American Legion Building.

DODGE PRESENTS THE DEPENDABLES FOR 1963

1963 DODGE... BEAUTIFUL NEW ENTRY IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD

1963 DODGE DART... A FRESH NEW COMPACT IN THE LARGE ECONOMY SIZE

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE

Now a complete new line of cars in the low-price field. The 1963 Dodge! People who see it just naturally get carried away. Reasons? 1. The looks: Great! 2. The price: Low! Wouldn't you rather own a Dodge than other low-priced cars? 3. The room: Big! Notice how the roofline sweeps straight back. That means ample headroom for the people in back, not just the ones in front. Seats? Your choice of models with sofa style, buckets or fold-down center arm rest. 4. The upkeep: Low! Dodge is rust-protected. The body unitized. The brakes self-adjusting. A major grease job lasts 32,000 miles, an oil change 4,000. 5. The feel behind the wheel: Like nothing else! Five engines to choose from. Smooth-going torsion-bar ride. Low-friction steering. Chair-high seats. Nylon, leather-grained vinyls. There are several hundred more reasons why you'll be carried away. Your Dodge Dealer has 'em all. See him and drive the beautiful new 1963 Dodge.

INTRODUCING COMPACT '63 DART

At last. A compact that doesn't give anyone the sideline treatment. The 1963 Dodge Dart! Now everybody gets a fair shake on the road. Note the roofline. It goes straight back. Result: Even rear-seat passengers are treated with deference. And so are those who like to action for a change. Dart's standard Six leaves run-of-the-road compacts waiting and wheezing. Its optional engine (just a few bucks more) is the same way, only more so. Economical? Like you expect a compact to be! That's the whole idea. Dart's too roomy to be a compact, too darned thrifty to be anything else.

Few compacts cost less than Dart. None offers the value. A unitized body, for example, that's rust-protected. 32,000 miles between major grease jobs. Smooth torsion-bar ride. An alternator. A high speed starter for fast, sure starts. Two series. Nine models. Including two pizzazz converts. See your Dodge Dealer.

NEW 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY! Your authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been extended to 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first; on the engine block, head and valves; transmission case and internal parts; torque converter; rear axle and differential; and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedule. Factory approved remanufactured parts may be used for replacement.

THE CORNER STONE

A LESSON FROM HISTORY

Russia has learned a lesson from capitalist history. The Soviet Union has decided that trademarks, although foundation of free enterprise, must be made part of the communist economy.

It seems that the government discovered its "no-name" were turning out poor products, despite constant inspection. Entire industrial groups were producing shoddy material. Lack of identity resulted in lack of incentive, and was clearly responsible for lack of quality.

So the Soviet government has given each state-owned firm a name, to distinguish one from another. And it has required many firms to identify their products with a trademark.

A Soviet economist, V. A. Nikiforov, explains the Russian switcheroo this way:

"The trademark makes it possible for the consumer to select the goods which he likes. . . This forces other firms undertake measures to improve the quality of their own product in harmony with the demands of the consumer. The trademark promotes the drive for raising the quality of production."

The statement has a good old-fashioned capitalist flavor.

Letters To The Editor

Mr. R. T. Ware

Publisher
The Newark Post
14-16 Thompson Lane
Newark, Delaware

First I would like to introduce myself. I am William G. Schaefer, Chief Petty Officer, United States Navy. I am the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schaefer, 82 Kershaw Street, Newark.

I would like to take this opportunity Mr. Ware to express my gratitude to you and the staff of the Newark Post for the service provided by your paper to all members of the Armed Forces from Newark.

I left Newark at the age of 17 and enlisted in the Navy in May, 1943.

I am now scheduled to retire from the Navy on Dec. 5, 1962 having completed 20 years of service.

I have received the Newark Post every week for the entire 20 years, having missed very few editions.

The Post has kept me abreast of the growth, changes and happenings that Newark has experienced during my absence.

I know I am speaking for all Newark men who have or who now are serving in the Armed Forces when I say that we are deeply grateful for this free service that you have provided us.

Your paper has brought our town to us wherever we may be stationed.

Very respectfully,
William G. Schaefer

Dear Sir:

Our city officials, including Mayor Carl Rankin, City Manager Francis Neide, and Police Chief Arthur Hausser have demonstrated their interest in public relations by assisting and providing well-trained officers from our local police force to instruct our youth against narcotics.

At the request of Pastor Paul E. Cook and members of Calvary Baptist Church in Newark, the police department has provided these well-schooled officers to demonstrate the dangers of peddlers of narcotics and other vices, to a large group of young people in the local Masonic temple.

Introducing young people to marijuana cigarettes and to alcohol were cited as preliminary steps taken by narcotics peddlers, and the police instructed the groups in procedure to be followed if ever they are approached by such peddlers.

Officers of our Newark Police Department are schooled and trained in the dangers of narcotics traffic with its destruction of body, mind, and soul—and the public, including our schools, churches, and other organizations, should cooperate in having these demonstrations for our young people to strengthen and fortify their minds against such vices.

Shelton has been employed as an insurance and research consultant in Brazil and Mexico.

Poultrymen From 15 States Visit At UD Substation

Poultrymen from 15 states crowded into the University of Delaware Substation meeting room recently to hear latest reports on broiler housing, ventilation, and insulation.

Dr. Till Huston, poultry physiologist at the University of Georgia, gave the keynote address, outlining basic needs of poultry housing.

"A broiler house should provide an environment conducive to optimum growth and performance of the bird," he said. "Such an environment would eliminate all stress conditions."

Frank D'Armi, University of Delaware poultry researcher, told the group what not to expect from a mechanical ventilation system. "Do not expect a system and control to substitute for the flock manager," he said.

Speaking of Money...

"The next ten years in the Job Market"

by: JOHN BUCHANAN

Speaking for the Wilmington Savings Fund Society

Hi there, John Buchanan, SPEAKING OF MONEY. What will be the most promising careers during the next ten years? I thought you'd like to look at the job prospects as projected by experts, so I asked some questions.

Our Secretary of Labor has predicted startling changes in the labor force in the next ten years. For one thing, it will increase faster than the number of people who buy goods and services. That's because the record number of babies being born now will not be old enough yet to buy things.

Another change will be the unbalanced distribution of workers in the different age groups. If you are thirty or older now, you'll be in the 45-and-older group, which will increase 20% by 1970. Those in the 25-and-under group (now in elementary and junior high schools) will increase by 46%! However, the groups in between... the Depression babies 35 and up, and the war babies, 25 and up, will be in short supply, causing employers to draw more upon the older and younger groups.

Professional and technical workers will lead the employment field. The outlook remains excellent for engineers in all fields, but especially mechanical, electrical, chemical, ceramic and metallurgical. Many technicians are needed to work as aides to engineers and scientists. Those in the scientific field should go for a Ph.D. degree for the better jobs.

The second largest profession for men after engineering is accounting, and the demand will be strong for certified public accountants. Teachers will be greatly needed, especially in elementary schools and colleges. Other school personnel—librarians, counselors and administrators—will also be in demand. Here again—the more degrees, the better.

Management people, particularly in the retail trade, will find increasing opportunities, especially if they hold degrees in finance, marketing or purchasing.

Demand for skilled workers during the next ten years will jump 24%; mechanics, machinists, repairmen, building-trades craftsmen, tool and die makers, and so forth.

On the other hand, the unskilled labor market will remain stationary. This tells you emphatically—get more training.

Farmers and farm workers will actually decrease in number, though there will be good openings for those trained as scientists in agriculture.

Where will be greatest growth and best opportunities in the next ten years?

Look to the construction and service industries: finance, real estate, insurance, trade, repairing, laundering, and so forth. Also, government services and the important field of health. We will need increasing numbers of doctors, dentists, nurses.

Career progress and job security—now and in the future—depend on education and training. You know what to do from there on. The time to make a better tomorrow... is today!

At the Savings Fund our business is to help people save regularly. Why not start a savings program with us and make it your Savings Fund, too. Your money will earn interest at the current rate of 3½%, even in a Special Purpose account. You can open an account with as little as one dollar, with full passbook privileges at any office regardless of the one at which you opened your account. You can even sit comfortably at home and bank by mail if you wish. Won't you drop in soon?

Disabled Veterans
To Have Increase
In October Checks

Some two million disabled veterans will start receiving their October checks this month. The amount of the checks will be increased by 10 percent.

The increase is the result of a law passed by Congress in 1950. It provides that the amount of the checks will be increased by 10 percent each year.

The increase will be automatic. No action is required by the veteran.

The increase will be 10 percent of the amount of the check. For example, a check of $100 will be increased to $110.

Hens To Play Lafayette In Home Opener At 2 P.M. Saturday In Delaware Stadium

Coach Dave Nelson's Fighting Blue Hens will start their season in the Middle Atlantic Conference, entertaining Lafayette this Saturday at Delaware Stadium in another league test.

This will be the home opener for the Admiral's powerhouse after defeating Lehigh 27-0, and Gettysburg 49-7, away. The Leopards are 1-1, having stopped Muhlenberg 17-0, and lost to Penn 13-11.

Delaware and Lafayette have met 15 times since the series began in 1914, and the Hens hold an 8-7 edge.

Last year at Easton, Pa., Delaware laced the Leopards 34-0, as reserve halfback Clint Ware scored two touchdowns from the one-yard line.

Scoring in the series stands 200 points for Delaware, 210 for Lafayette, with the Leopards having won the first three games by 41-0, 31-0 and 44-0.

Nelson's men have averaged 278 yards-per-game rushing in the first two contests, and 10 of the 11 Hen touchdowns have been scored on the ground. Delaware has carried for 556 rushing yards, while attempting only 25 passes and completing 10 for 87 yards.

The Leopards' biggest weapon has been the passing of George Hosenlopp, sophomore quarterback who is rated Lafayette's finest in years. He's completed 10 of 30 passes for 132 yards and a touchdown, and is known for his fine touch and coolness under fire. Hosenlopp is a running threat on the roll-out.

Delaware will field much the same starting lineup as at Gettysburg. The Hens, who rushed for 415 yards against the Bullets, are again expected to be paced by junior halfback Mike Brown, 195-pound Wilmington native and All-East candidate. Brown carried seven times for 129 yards at Gettysburg, with touchdowns runs of 68 and 33 yards from scrimmage.

Dangerous rushing threats are halfbacks Johnny Wallace and Joe Slobojan, and fullbacks Ron McCoy and Tom Michaels.

Wallace is second to Brown in two-game rushing totals, and like Brown, has scored two touchdowns. Michaels and reserve halfback Clint Ware, also have scored two TD's.

The two injured Hens, Captain John Scholoto, center, and Fullback Brian Barrabee, are question marks for Saturday. Both have knee injuries which kept them out of action against Gettysburg.

Jake Correll Tops Ciesinski Harriers In Two Victories

Coach Ray Ciesinski's cross-country team defeated the defending Blue Hen Conference champions from Mt. Pleasant at Rockford Park last week 21-45 in the season opener, and the Yellowjackets ran away from Wilmington High's Harriers last Tuesday afternoon for Newark's second straight victory. Big Ray Ciesinski's cross-country crew walloped the WHS Red Devils 19-44.

Jake Correll finished second to Ken MacPherson of the Mt. Pleasant champions, with Newark taking the next three places.

Against Wilmington High, Correll led the field in a time of 11:38.6, followed by Wilmington's Kip and eight Yellowjackets—Sam Bandak, Tom Davies, Bruce Jones, Co-Captains Dick Hawthorne and Jonathan Owens; Terry Crosse, Christ Shuster, and Rod Gillespie.

Other Newark cross-country finishers in Tuesday's test include Leon Wood, Jerry Rhodes, Ken Shuster, Rod Butterworth, Mike Whiston, Wayne Anderson, Dick Grayson, Terry Shira, Tom Word, Wayne Matthews, Chris Sparks, Paul Parsons, Larry Bratavac, Chris Ward, and Larry Markum.

The Yellowjackets face an open date today but run against Conrad on Tuesday, and William Penn on Thursday of next week at Rockford Park.

Ross, Williams To Ride In Sunday Polo Contest

Brandywine polo stars will visit with Wilmington this Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Toughenamon (Pa.) grounds in a match that begins Brandywine's final month of the summer-fall season to be concluded Oct. 21.

Two straight victories over Doe Run, Brandywine's bid to extend its streak will be waged by Dr. Larry Cushing, George Weymouth, Norm Taylor and Gus Leo, Wilmington, who counter with Dave Hamilton, Sam Dixon, Harley Williams and Don Ross, Jr.

The University of Pennsylvania and Cornell Alumni Clubs of Delaware will sponsor a match on Oct. 14, to aid their scholarship funds.

LITTLE LEAGUERS In Capital Trail Little League football this Sunday, the Green Raiders will play the Central Raiders at the Pike Creek gridiron, and the Hummingbirds meet the VFW at Brookside. Both games are scheduled to begin at 1:15 p.m.

It is prohibited, as is shooting from roads and highways, and only the usual state hunting license provisions apply since no federal stamp is required as in the case of waterfowl.

Squirrel hunting was light with the best hunting reported in northeastern Sussex County. Wardens didn't check anyone who had his limit of the bushy-tails.

"We wonder if the lack of quiet patience essential in successful squirrel hunting could be the real reason for a lot of poor squirreling," officials of the Delaware Game and Fish Commission ask.

Delaware's archery season for deer opened Monday and runs through Nov. 3. Persons killing deer for deer hunting with long bows.

A portion of Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge will be open on Saturdays only during October for deer hunting with long bows.

For specific information on hunting in the refuge contact Bombay Hook Federal Refuge, Smyrna.

Small boat fishermen from Slaughter Beach recently brought in some four-pound trout and boats are averaging from 10 to 20 fish.

Persons who have not lined up a hunting spot for this fall may want to try their luck on one of the public hunting lands administered by the Commission. A map of these areas is available upon request.

Mike Brown Tops Offense With 129-Yds. 2 TD's As Hens Wallop Gettysburg 49-7

Not since Nov. 7, 1959, when Delaware rolled up 482 yards in a 62-0 rout of Temple, have the Blue Hens enjoyed a football afternoon like the one they had last Saturday. Coach Dave Nelson's Blue and Gold pounded Gettysburg on the Bullets' home field 49-7, amassing 415 yards rushing and driving to 23 first downs.

Five Hens scored a total of seven touchdowns, with junior All-East candidate Mike Brown leading the way. The brilliant halfback took off for 68 and 32-yard touchdowns runs from scrimmage and gained 129 yards in seven carries, the best performance ever for the 195-pound Wilmington star, last year's team rushing and scoring leader.

Brown had plenty of help from his fellow backs, and the three hard-hitting Hen line units, which blocked beautifully all day and held the Bullets to 36 yards rushing.

Hen offensive power was manifested in Fullback Ron McCoy, 180-pound Smyrna senior, with 53 yards in seven carries and a 12-yard touchdown; Halfback John Wallace, 160-pound junior, 63 yards in 12 carries, and two touchdowns runs of 16 and one yards; and Halfback Bill Hopkins, 175-pound sophomore, 60 yards in eight carries, including a 23-yard touchdown romp.

Fullback Tom Michaels, 177-pound senior, gained 21 yards in three carries, including a one-yard touchdown plunge.

Halfback Joe Slobojan, 160-pound junior, moved 26 yards in six carries; and Quarterbacks Ted Kempinski, Chuck Zolak, and Jack Istnick, gained 14, 9 and 17 yards respectively.

Junior Fullback Bill Orr, 165-pound scrapper, gained 11 yards in two carries in his first extended appearance for the Blue Hens.

Place kicking specialist John Osborn, Normandy Beach (N. J.) junior, kicked four extra points and booted a 24-yard field goal.

It was a day for Winged-T perfection, and Quarterbacks Kempinski, Zolak and Istnick directed a ground attack that was never contained.

Hen aerialists attempted only 10 passes, completing four for 34 yards, but there was little need for an air game.

Delaware piled up a 27-0 lead before the first quarter was finished, led 30-0 at halftime, and coasted to the win.

Head-up football gave the Hens an early psychological jump. As Delaware was forced to kick after its first series of downs, Guard Jim Quirk, downed Arnie Rozental's punt on the Bullet one-yard line.

The home team never recovered, and was able to generate none of the force that almost won in a 22-21 loss to Bucknell.

Eggleston Fires TD Pass To Rotenberg In 7-0 Win
Ken Eggleston fired his third touchdown pass of the season and Coach Rotenberg was on the receiving end for his first as Coach Ed Bearner's Yellowjacket junior varsity stopped the junior Dynahs as P. S. du Pont High School last Monday afternoon 7-0.

Last week in their opener, Bearner's Jayvees defeated Conrad's junior varsity 12-7.

Playing their first home stand next Monday at 4 p.m., the undefeated Junior Jackets tangle with the Dickinson Jayvees on the local high school field.

Table Tennis Club Begins Six-Team League Play
Newark Table Tennis Club league play last Tuesday evening at the Alice P. Smyth YWCA Center featured matches between teams of three players each.

Six teams participated and Hyde Park defeated Milford Meadows six matches to five; Lumbrook beat Kempinski 6-5, and North Star topped Newport 8-3.

An upset occurred when Abe Shelly beat Bruce Holec 16, 21, 23. The club elected to enter a team in the newly formed Delaware Valley Table Tennis League with teams in Arden, Philadelphia, Delaware County, Pa., and Bridgeton, N. J.

Each of these clubs will enter a team of four or five top players.

The Hornets won a 12-9 thriller over Hampton Institute in the CIAA contest.

Newark Loses To Dynahs In 4th Quarter After 7-6 Lead; Hackney, Durham

Co-Captain and Fullback Lee Hackney smashed the P. S. du Pont line for three yards and a fumble down, and Art Durham—alternating at end and tackle for Newark, place-kicked the extra point to give Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjackets a 7-6 lead over the Dynahs in the third quarter here last Saturday afternoon.

But Newark lost command and the 19-7 ball game—the second test of the new season—with a fourth period rally by the P. S. gridgers as Quarterback Dave Missimer ran for a 13-yard touchdown, and Halfback Stan Mosley ran eight yards for the clincher.

Sophomore Norris Saunders took over from Quarterback Mike Kubie near the end of the second quarter when Kubie was badly shaken up, and the 150-pound Saunders led the Yellowjackets the length of the field for Newark's scoring thrust by Hackney in the third period.

"Saunders did a tremendous job for us," Hoffman said. "And there aren't many sophomore quarterbacks who can respond with the necessary leadership when called upon in some tough going," he added.

Newark, with a 1-1 record after two home games, takes to the road this Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. kickoff at Dickinson High School.

Dickinson, with an 0-2 season record, was walloped last Saturday by Brandywine's Bulldogs, 27-0. Newark won its opener over Conrad, 14-7.

Blue Cross, Blue Shield
Mark 28th Year in State

Group Hospital Service, Inc., is now starting its 28th year.

The Delaware Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plan was started in Delaware in 1935 with 1,200 members. It was one of the pioneer plans in today's national movement toward low-cost, prepaid health protection provided by a non-profit, public-service organization.

Today, among the 57,000,000 Americans throughout the United States, 290,000 are members of Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans. Listening to others tell how they have spread the burden of an extraordinary hospital bill, and to Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection, proves the value of this unique health insurance plan.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Delaware are outstanding examples of voluntary forethought and planning for the health of every citizen. This community partnership—Blue Cross and Blue Shield, working together with hospitals, doctors, business and industry, and every member—is a positive force in the development and maintenance of a healthy, safe state.

Each Blue Cross and Blue Shield organization throughout the nation is a community plan, like the Delaware plan, which is well-established and respected in its area. Each achieves and maintains an outstanding record of benefit returns to members through low-cost, non-profit operation. Trustees are public-spirited citizens who serve effectively without pay. Here there are no shareholders, dividends, emoluments, or commissions. Peak efficiency is attained through long-range planning, careful management, and conscientious stewardship of members' funds.

These unique operating principles assure the superior protection Blue Cross and Blue Shield members enjoy. They enable the Delaware Plan to rank high on the list of Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans for its outstanding record of service and economy—a record that is better by far than the record of all other carriers, here and elsewhere.

In Delaware, Blue Cross and Blue Shield face the future with the same spirit and same general objectives that characterized the early days of this unusual prepayment health program: to meet, as fully as possible, your need for hospital-surgical-medical care at reasonable cost to you and, by doing so, to strengthen the voluntary system of health care. The result of this outstanding contribution to the economy and welfare of Delaware has been and continues to be longer life, better health, and greater comfort for everyone.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield pledge to continue to anticipate and provide the benefits that best meet your needs and the needs of the entire Delaware community. Any time Blue Cross and Blue Shield can be of help to you, can help you receive the most from your coverage, call on them. See your group representative, or call any office. They are glad to assist you in every way. Group Hospital Service, Inc., Wilmington, Dover, Milford, and Seaford.

Delaware Blue Cross and Blue Shield publish this advertisement in an effort to keep members informed of the scope of their benefits and how best to use them.

This community partnership—Blue Cross and Blue Shield, working together with hospitals, doctors, business and industry, and every member—is a positive force in the development and maintenance of a healthy, safe state.

Each Blue Cross and Blue Shield organization throughout the nation is a community plan, like the Delaware plan, which is well-established and respected in its area. Each achieves and maintains an outstanding record of benefit returns to members through low-cost, non-profit operation. Trustees are public-spirited citizens who serve effectively without pay. Here there are no shareholders, dividends, emoluments, or commissions. Peak efficiency is attained through long-range planning, careful management, and conscientious stewardship of members' funds.

These unique operating principles assure the superior protection Blue Cross and Blue Shield members enjoy. They enable the Delaware Plan to rank high on the list of Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans for its outstanding record of service and economy—a record that is better by far than the record of all other carriers, here and elsewhere.

In Delaware, Blue Cross and Blue Shield face the future with the same spirit and same general objectives that characterized the early days of this unusual prepayment health program: to meet, as fully as possible, your need for hospital-surgical-medical care at reasonable cost to you and, by doing so, to strengthen the voluntary system of health care. The result of this outstanding contribution to the economy and welfare of Delaware has been and continues to be longer life, better health, and greater comfort for everyone.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield pledge to continue to anticipate and provide the benefits that best meet your needs and the needs of the entire Delaware community. Any time Blue Cross and Blue Shield can be of help to you, can help you receive the most from your coverage, call on them. See your group representative, or call any office. They are glad to assist you in every way. Group Hospital Service, Inc., Wilmington, Dover, Milford, and Seaford.

Delaware Blue Cross and Blue Shield publish this advertisement in an effort to keep members informed of the scope of their benefits and how best to use them.

Navy Notes-Aboard Destroyer "Kraus"

By William P. Mote

Bill Mote has submitted a series of articles of his experience aboard the U. S. Destroyer "Kraus" Home in Newark after active duty with the U. S. Navy. Bill is the son of Mrs. William P. Mote and the late Mr. Mote. His wife and mother reside in Newark. His articles will appear from time to time in the Newark Post.

Drills
I firmly believe that the man who started the concept of night communications drills hated any and all ideas of sleep. At 8 in the evening I return to the shack and for the next three hours we send practice messages back and forth to the other ships. I am to go on watch at midnight. At 11 p.m. I lay down on the potato sacks outside the shack and watch the stars oscillate as the ship rolls, then assume the watch. This is the dull watch and except for an occasional weather message, all is quiet. At dawn I am relieved and once more go below and turn into my bunk.

It has been three hours, but it might as well have been three seconds, when the general alarm goes off once more and we race forward to the radio shack. This time we have an air shot as a plane tosses a sleeve target overhead. Our five and three-inch guns slam away at it. It must take steel nerves to fly with that target 100 or so yards from your tail. It is to the credit of the expert gunners the Navy produces that a shot-down tow plane is hardly heard of.

Then to further confuse the issue, the subs race in and attempt to attack the carrier as the aircraft diverts our attention. But the helicopters have them in sonar contact and the Owens, a remarkable anti-sub ship especially built for the job, streaks across the formation and makes a mock depth charge attack on the first sub at close range, and a simultaneous attack with its weapon Alpha anti-sub rocket on the second.

After this we are released from the task group to proceed northward for our project exercises and to again join the task group in the morning for more plane guard duties.

As we head away from the Wasp, we establish radio contact with the Forrester with whom we will operate each night for the next several weeks.

At dusk we darken the ship. This is in accordance with wartime policy of the carrier we are to join. All topside lights go out with the exception of running lights. Several hours later we meet up with the

Quack Food Advice Costs Americans $500 Million/Year

Ten million Americans waste over $500 million a year on quack diets, fake pills, food supplements and false claims of the quacks, self-styled "nutrition experts," and medicine men.

Janet Coblenz, foods and nutrition specialist with the University of Delaware, warns consumers against falling for these food fads and the claims of these quacks.

In disproving many of the common beliefs of dieting and home remedies, she answers some of the most common questions that concerned consumers ask:

Can a "perfect" meal be purchased in liquid or tablet form?
No. Bulk or roughage, so necessary for body functioning, does not come in tablet or liquid form. To meet the entire needs of the body a variety of food is necessary.

Is it dangerous to eat foods which have been cooked in aluminum vessels?
There is no scientific evidence that cooking in aluminum will harm anyone. Many foods naturally contain small amounts of aluminum. The amount absorbed during cooking is so small it would not be harmful.

If one takes "reducing pills" can he eat whatever he wishes and still lose weight?
Drugs to depress the appetite should never be taken except under the close direction of a competent physician. The drugs themselves do not cause weight loss or influence the variety of foods chosen. They only help control the quantity of foods eaten.

Are the "special low calorie" breads important in a reducing diet?
The average slice of white bread is about 42-inch thick and contains approximately 60 calories. Most of the advertised "low calorie" bread is less than 1/2 inch thick. Naturally it contains fewer calories. Our enriched bread is a good source of iron, B vitamins and other nutrients. Some should be eaten each day.

Are "liquidized vegetables" or "raw vegetable juices" like carrot juice or celery juice higher in food value than the vegetables themselves?
Watch out for someone who only wants to sell a gadget with which to prepare these juices. Raw vegetable juice has no more food value than the vegetables from which it is made.

Are honey and apple cider vinegar taken together, good for digestive disorders, high blood pressure, heart disease and other disorders?
Medical science does not show this to be true.

Miss Coblenz says your well balanced meals should include milk, meat, eggs, fruits, vegetables, cereals and breads. Remember that overweight results from overeating. When ill consult your physician.

NHS Star Tom Hannagan Enrolled At The Citadel

hugue carrier. At the admiral's signal both ships relax the "no light" rule and the Forrester lights up like a Christmas tree.

On the signal bridge, I watch the jets flash off into the night sky, through binoculars. Their fiery trails arc out and upwards and soon the exercises for the project are in full swing.

I am now through until 4 a.m. when we will once more join the task group and refuel from the Wasp. This promises to be an interesting experience.

On the mess decks the movie is over. A few men sit around listening to music on the radio, and drinking coffee or chocolate. There is a pan of hot sweet rolls just down from the galley.

I am tired, as are all the others, but we all must agree that the coffee and buns have a calming effect on our taut nerves and that the day has been pretty good all in all.

One by one we drift below and tumble into our bunks for a few hours sleep. Lying there, it is easy to listen to the water rushing by past the hull. It is lulling and I soon drift off to sleep.

Basic-Intermediate Bridge Offered By Mrs. Morse

A course in basic-intermediate bridge is being offered all people in the Newark area — a course designed for those who have never played bridge, and for those interested in developing knowledge of modern point count bidding concepts.

The course sponsored by the Greater Newark Recreation Association is under the personal direction of Mrs. Richard Morse, who has 20 years of experience.

This course is designed for couples. "Enjoy an evening out learning how to play bridge with your favorite partner," Glenn Smoot advises.

There is a fee, and couples and groups of four will be given a special price. The class is limited to four tables.

The course will consist of 11 lessons on successive Fridays from 8 to 10 p. m., beginning Oct. 5. Registration will be accepted until 5 p. m. Friday, Oct. 5.

Northeast River Squadron Offers Piloting Classes

The Northeast River Power Squadron is offering classes this fall in piloting. Classes have already started but is not too late to register. Both courses are given at Elkton Junior High School on Monday evening at 7:30.

United States Power Squadrons give these instructions on safe boating and navigation on a nationwide basis.

Material is of interest to sailboat fans as well as to power boaters. It is not necessary to own a boat to join a power squadron.

Follow The Rules In Home Canning Specialist Advises

Success in canning comes easy to those who follow certain rules, according to Janet Coblenz, foods and nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware. Disappointments in home canning are usually caused by attempts to bypass some necessary steps or by using faulty equipment.

Miss Coblenz lists several causes of sealing failures and suggests ways they can be remedied.

1. Leaving wrong amount of head space when filling jars. Some brands of two-piece metal caps require less head space than others. Read directions on the box that your jar lids come in.

2. Reusing jars in which commercial food is sold. Commercial food jars are designed for use on high speed packing machines and with caps developed especially for the product being packed. These jars are excellent for their intended use but are not made for reuse.

3. Using old fruit jars. This is a common cause of sealing failure, particularly those experienced by middle-aged or older home canners. Most of the older Mason jars were made to seal on the shoulder with zinc cap and rubber and were not finished for vacuum sealing.

4. Not applying enough heat during processing to force the greater part of the air from the jar.

5. Failure to exhaust (vent) canner for a full 10 minutes before closing petcock when processing fruits and tomatoes under steam pressure.

6. Not keeping everything boiling hot and working "lightning quick" when doing open kettle canning.

7. Using warped, rusty or worn bands, or old commercial caps instead of bands.

8. Failure to screw bands down evenly all the way around.

9. Screwing bands too tight. A band must be tight enough to hold the rubber sealing compound closely against the top of the jar. However, if the band is forced as far as it can be turned with a strong hand or wrench, the jar cannot vent naturally. When the jar can't vent, pressure within the jar causes the lid to buckle.

Two Newark Girls Enroll In Bucknell Fresh Class

Among freshmen students admitted to Bucknell University are two from Newark — Karen P. Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Tucker, 910 Baylor Drive, and Joyce A. Stonecipher, 26 Georgian Circle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Stonecipher.

Both girls attended Newark High School and were members of the National Honor Society.

Miss Stonecipher was captain of the cheerleading squad, and Miss Tucker was president of the senior class.

At Bucknell, Miss Stonecipher plans to study for her bachelor of science in education, and Miss Tucker, her bachelor of arts degree.

because it is fundamentally a means by which the student may apply to himself the questions by which he can lead himself to new information and new insights in any field of learning.

The point is that modern psychology has confirmed the intuitive understanding of Socrates that the most efficient learning of new information is developed through a series of carefully phrased questions that encourage the student to reason his way step by step through new material.

"The student is fully involved in the process all along the way," says Dr. Guerin. "He can hardly avoid learning the desired material."

Teaching machines that have caught the public fancy and stirred public fears during recent years would more properly be called "guided learning," he goes on.

Foods Specialist Advises On Bread As Staff-Of-Life

Janet Sobelentz, foods and nutrition specialist with the University of Delaware, says the "staff-of-life" may be one of our most misunderstood food products. She lists some questions and answers ranging from ways to keep bread fresh, to methods of slicing bread extra thin.

Is it advisable to place a damp towel over tea sandwiches to keep them fresh when made up hours ahead of serving time?

No, because moisture spurs the growth of bacteria. Refrigeration—a better way of holding the made-up sandwiches—slows bacterial growth but does not stop it. For best results, sandwiches wrapped with moisture-vapor-proof material can be refrigerated for several hours prior to serving.

What is the best method for slicing bread extra thin to make dainty tea sandwiches?

Wrap bread in moisture-vapor-proof material and refrigerate until very cold or freeze. Then slice.

How can bakery rolls, soft-crusted dinner or sweet rolls be heated?

Heat 'em in a hurry atop the range. Put two tablespoons of water in the bottom of a large skillet. Insert a trivet or wire rack, placing the rolls on it. For soft-crusted dinner rolls cover the skillet and place over low heat for eight minutes, or until rolls are hot.

For frosted sweet rolls do not cover the skillet. Place rolls on rack or trivet, then place skillet over medium heat for five minutes, or until rolls are hot. The skillet method is the only satisfactory way of heating sweet rolls without melting the frosting.

Does toasting change the caloric value of bread?

Toast has the same caloric value as untoasted bread—80 calories per one-half inch slice.

Is it necessary to completely defrost bread which is to be used for toast?

No, just place sliced bread in toaster or defrost bread enough to slice and drop into toaster.

Is there a low-calorie bread?

No. Basic ingredients of bread—flour, sugar, salt, and small amount of fat—cannot be varied greatly if a palatable product is made. The average slice of bread is 1/2 inch thick and contains approximately 83 calories.

DRESSMAKING AIDS

A dressmaker's tracing paper and a tracing wheel to transfer pattern markings will trim sewing time, according to M. Katharine Jones, New Castle County home demonstration agent. They will also make your sewing more accurate.

are nothing more than mechanical devices developed to facilitate programmed instruction. "But the machines are only part of the picture," Dr. Guerin warns, "and in the long run they may prove to be less important than the programmed textbooks now being published in increasing numbers."

The workshop conducted this fall for university and public school teachers, and industrial training directors, is intended as a practical introduction to the creation and evaluation of programmed materials.

Students enrolled will pursue programming projects related to their professional fields, but, according to Dr. Guerin, it is not the object of the workshop to produce practicing programmers.

"The most important result we expect from this introductory workshop is to give students critical standards by which they may competently evaluate the growing flood of programmed materials flowing from publishers and manufacturers of teaching machines."

The workshop which may be taken at either the graduate or undergraduate levels for credit, meets on Friday evenings in Newark during the fall semester.

The staff of the workshop includes both University of Delaware faculty and visiting specialists from other institutions.

The university group includes, Dr. Guerin; Dr. George H. Henry and Dr. John A. Brown, professors of education; Dr. James B. Krause, associate professor of biological sciences; Dr. Lawrence W. Gulek, associate professor of psychology; and Sarah M. Wiley, assistant business administrator.

Further information on the workshop as well as other courses and programs may be obtained from the extension division, University of Delaware, Newark.

Library Associates Seek Membership In Annual Drive

New members are being sought for the University of Delaware Library Associates, an organization dedicated to the expansion and improvement of library resources at the University of Delaware.

Dr. John M. Dawson, director of libraries at the university and assistant secretary of the Associates, said today that with construction of the new Hugh M. Morris Library, the role of the Library Associates is more significant than ever before.

Although founded just six years ago, the Associates already have made tremendous contributions to the expansion and improvement of our book, microfilm and journal collections," Dr. Dawson said. "Last year, for example, they were responsible for providing the microfilm edition of the British House of Commons Sessional Papers, covering the 18th and 19th centuries and representing some 80,000 documents in 6,000 volumes. Other important microfilm additions were the papers of American Presidents Monroe, Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Pierce, Lincoln, Arthur, Johnson and Van Buren."

In addition to its acquisition function, the Library Associates also hold an annual luncheon program featuring a distinguished author or critic.

Officers of the organization are Henry B. du Pont, president; Mrs. Philip J. Kimball, and W. Laird Stabler, Jr., vice-presidents; Mrs. Edmond du Pont, secretary, and Josiah M. Scott, treasurer.

Checks should be made payable to the University of Delaware Library Associates, Inc., and mailed to Dr. John M. Dawson, at the university. Gifts are deductible for federal and state tax purposes.

City Council

"The practice of keeping verbatim council minutes is not only wasteful of clerical time, but detracts from accomplishments of the body and plays up personality conflicts," the consultants reported, recommending brief minutes with omission of all discussion, and only recording results.

Revision of the "inadequate" city pension plan was advised; it was recommended that police work be reduced to a 40-hour week, and that council withdraw completely from selection of police employees.

"Effective planning has not been accomplished under the present arrangement in Newark," it was reported, with expenditures for planning "well above those for cities of from two to 10 times the population of Newark." It was recommended that a full-time professional planner be employed, appointed by and reporting solely to the city manager.

Officers of the organization are Henry B. du Pont, president; Mrs. Philip J. Kimball, and W. Laird Stabler, Jr., vice-presidents; Mrs. Edmond du Pont, secretary, and Josiah M. Scott, treasurer.

Checks should be made payable to the University of Delaware Library Associates, Inc., and mailed to Dr. John M. Dawson, at the university. Gifts are deductible for federal and state tax purposes.

Telephone Changes Coming Sunday October 21 to NEW CASTLE COUNTY CODE "1" FOR DIALING LONG DISTANCE

Use of numeral "1" will prevent a misdirected local call from being billed as a toll call

Effective at 2:01 A.M. on Sunday October 21, all telephone customers in New Castle County will first dial the numeral 1 (one) when they dial a telephone outside their local (flat rate) calling area.

For example, to call 734-9996 in Dover they will dial 1 (one), then 7-3-4-9-9-9-6.

At the same time

ALL-NUMBER CALLING (ANC)

WILL COME TO NEWARK

3 6 6 - 9 9 9 6

ALL-Number Calling means telephone numbers with no letters of the alphabet. Notice the example above. ANC makes it possible to obtain more telephone numbers than the 2 letter, 5 numeral method does—will enable us to keep up with the growing demand for telephones.

The first three numerals will be the central office number (gone are the letters of the alphabet). There will be three Newark central offices 366, 368, 737.

We are sending you "stick-on" cards, imprinted with your new Newark number. Be sure to place one over the old card on every telephone you have.

For detailed information on dialing, consult the information pages in the new directory.

Fletcher Williams Attends Laboratory Animal Forum

Fletcher P. Williams, Jr., president of Pied Piper Farms, Newark, is attending a meeting of the Laboratory Animal Breeders Association and the Animal Care Panel in Chicago, Oct. 2-5.

Pied Piper Farms, located off Barksdale Road, produces small animals for laboratory research.

Dr. John M. Dawson, director of libraries at the university and assistant secretary of the Associates, said today that with construction of the new Hugh M. Morris Library, the role of the Library Associates is more significant than ever before.

Although founded just six years ago, the Associates already have made tremendous contributions to the expansion and improvement of our book, microfilm and journal collections," Dr. Dawson said. "Last year, for example, they were responsible for providing the microfilm edition of the British House of Commons Sessional Papers, covering the 18th and 19th centuries and representing some 80,000 documents in 6,000 volumes. Other important microfilm additions were the papers of American Presidents Monroe, Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Pierce, Lincoln, Arthur, Johnson and Van Buren."

In addition to its acquisition function, the Library Associates also hold an annual luncheon program featuring a distinguished author or critic.

Officers of the organization are Henry B. du Pont, president; Mrs. Philip J. Kimball, and W. Laird Stabler, Jr., vice-presidents; Mrs. Edmond du Pont, secretary, and Josiah M. Scott, treasurer.

Checks should be made payable to the University of Delaware Library Associates, Inc., and mailed to Dr. John M. Dawson, at the university. Gifts are deductible for federal and state tax purposes.
