CHE Civic Ass'n Seeks Injunction Against 4 Groups

Court Action Possible
With Deed Restrictions
For School, 3 Churches

The Chestnut Hill Estates Civic Association voted last week to attempt pre-court settlements or seek court orders to end the use by four groups of houses which are restricted by deed to single-family dwelling purposes.

Members of the association wanted to permit the Lutheran, Baptist and Jewish congregations to continue, and only take legal action against the Brookside Pre-school Association, but it was felt that this inconsistency would weaken the case in court.

"Members of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church of Chestnut Hill Estates sincerely regret the decision of the Chestnut Hill Civic Association to seek an injunction against the congregation for its use of a house chapel in the development," Pastor Duane P. Mielh said yesterday.

"In order to carry on its program, the Our Redeemer Church will seek an early and amiable agreement with the Civic Association, allowing for use of present facilities until a church building is completed."

"Neither the pastor nor the members of the church see any necessity for court action," he said. "Such action would conflict with the spirit of Christian fellowship which the church wishes to arouse in the community."

Jr. Fishing Rodeo Lauded By Boggs As Aid For Youth

The first Delaware state-wide Junior Fishing Rodeo, scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 23, received the official blessing of Governor J. Caleb Boggs last week.

The rodeo is sponsored by the organization recently formed by Chief of Police J. W. Walling, New Castle, and James F. Godsey, Wilmington Manor, who serves as executive secretary.

In a proclamation calling attention to the rodeo, Governor Boggs pointed out that the organization is recreation to the young people of the state by having them become interested in fishing and he declared his belief that use of leisure time in this manner will strengthen the moral fibre of teen-agers in every community which participates in the rodeo.

Chief Walling said that any group wishing to sponsor youngsters in the contest may still do so. "All they need do is notify the Delaware Junior Fishing Rodeo, Box 106, New Castle, Del., and contestants will be eligible for state awards."

Each local rodeo winner will receive a fishing rod from the Rodeo Committee and individual prizes have been arranged on the local level by sponsoring organizations.

Regular forms on which adults may register the catches will be made available and all entries will appear in the final judging, according to Chief Walling.

Local club chairmen attending the workshop are to take questions for the open discussion which will follow the informal talks of Mrs. Davis and Dr. Dolan.

Miss Maxine Schultz, secretary of the Legislative Reference Committee of the state, will act as consultant to the group, giving information on the services provided by the state for citizens seeking information about bills before the General Assembly.

Mrs. Thomas Herlihy, Jr., chairman of public affairs and legislation, and Mrs. Walter P. McEvilly, chairman of citizenship, are in charge of the workshop. There will be a display of books, charts, and political materials on Delaware. Suggestions for possible club programs and activities will be distributed at the meeting.

Reservations are to be made by Sept. 6 with Mrs. John H. Cronin, 105 Bent Lane, Newark.

"Tombstone Epitaph" Arrives In Newark With Wyatt Earp, OK Corral Gun Battle

Two copies of the Tombstone Epitaph—a current issue, and the 75th Anniversary Edition—arrived at the Newark Post this week, through the courtesy of Clayton A. Smith, editor and publisher of the Arizona weekly newspaper founded in 1879, and featured in Newark on many television screens with "Tombstone Territory" on Wednesday nights.

Things at Tombstone have tamed with time, and the three column headline on the June 13, 1958 issue of the Epitaph reads "Harmony Prevails at City Council Meeting."

In the anniversary edition, the story headlined "3 Die in Earp-Clanton Battle at OK Corral" is reprinted from the Tombstone Epitaph of Oct. 27, 1881.

"The liveliest street battle that ever occurred in Tombstone took place at 2:30 p.m. yesterday, resulting in the death of three persons and the wounding of two others, one probably fatally. The fight was between the city marshal, Virgil Earp, and Doc Holliday on one side, and Ike and Billy Clanton and Frank and Tom McLowery on the other," the Epitaph reported.

"The Clantons and McLowery brothers are known as cowboys, and Ike has been in town for the past week drinking pretty freely, and was arrested this morning for appearing on the street with a Winchester and six-shooter."

"After paying his fine he is reported to have made threats against Marshal Earp and his brothers, and it is known that bad blood existed between them for some time."

"About 2:30 o'clock, the marshal requested his brothers Morgan and Wyatt, and Doc Holliday to accompany him to aid in disarming the cowboys, as trouble was feared in the evening."

"They started toward the OK Corral on Fremont Street, and a few doors below the Nugget office saw the Clantons and the McLowery brothers."

"The situation at the plant, following a past strike without notice," to apply a familiar phrase.

Last Thursday was the second walk-out in four days after Local 1183, United Auto Workers, returned to work following a six-day strike. Management and union officials had reportedly reached agreement on a list of union grievances.

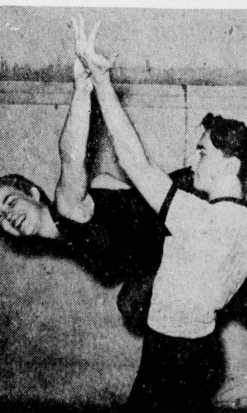

The current series of walkouts is the result of contention by union members in some plant areas that the company is not complying with the terms of the agreement. Walkouts by men in the paint department last Thursday and in the chassis department Wednesday led to work stoppages in other sections.

Original plans and called for a lay-off sometime in the middle of August for the annual three to four week re-tooling for model change-over. A company spokesman said management now has the idea that this will occur due to the unsettled labor situation and has no plans at all for a definite changeover schedule.

Company officials said in connection with the work stoppages that neither the union nor the company attempted to follow established bargaining procedure.

Management feels that any grievances which arise can be settled through the usual procedures and that walk-outs prevent the company from making a thorough investigation of a complaint.

Brookside Players' Stars

One of the outstanding specialty dances in "The Naughty Nineties," to be presented by the Brookside Players and Brookside Lions on Sept. 18-19-20 at Newark Jr. High School, is performed by Linda Baer and Frank Andrea, studying under Pete Conlow of Philadelphia.

Linda, 16, a versatile student at Newark High School, has appeared with the Painters Crossroads Children's Theatre, the Wilmington Drama League, and is studying ballet with James Jamison.

Frank Andrea, 18, has studied drama with the Stella Adler School in New York, voice training under Lillian Sherman in Philadelphia, has appeared in school shows, an off-Broadway production of "Enemy of the People" and had a year's experience in summer stock at Saranac Lake.

brothers talking to Sheriff Behan, who had requested them to disarm. "The Marshal called out, 'Boys, throw up your hands; I want you to give up your shooters.'"

"At this, Frank McLowery attempted to draw his pistol, when Wyatt Earp immediately shot him, the ball entering just about the waist."

"Doc Holliday then let go at Tom McLowery with a shotgun, killing him full of buckshot under the right arm. Billy Clanton then blazed away at Marshal Earp."

"Some 30 shots were fired, all in such rapid succession that the fight was over in less than a minute."

"When the smoke cleared away, it was found that Frank McLowery had been killed outright, with one ball through the torso, one in the left breast, and one in the right breast. Tom McLowery lay dead around the corner of Third Street, the load of buckshot fired by Holliday killing him almost instantly; and Billy Clanton lay in the street with two shots in the right side and a third in the left chest. He was taken into a house and lived about half an hour in great agony."

"Morgan Earp was shot through both shoulders, the ball creasing the skin; Marshal Earp was shot through the fleshy part of the right leg. Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday escaped unhurt."

"Ike Clanton was captured and taken to jail, where he now remains. The jail is guarded by a number of citizens to prevent any further trouble, which there is no apparent danger."

Plans For Local Hospital To Be Discussed Aug. 26

"Accidents hurt. Accidents hurt the people who stand by trying to help," Millard Zeisberg of Newark emphasized yesterday in discussing plans for a Newark hospital.

An open meeting will be held Tuesday, Aug. 26, at 8 p.m. at 16 Tyre Avenue, to discuss plans for a Newark hospital or an ever-open clinic to provide more rapid medical service in the immediate area. Interested persons are invited to call J. P. Hodges or M. D. Zeisberg.

Two Cars Collide Monday On South College Avenue

Two automobiles collided Monday at 12:30 p.m., at the intersection of Darlington Lane and South College Avenue, resulting in total property damage estimated at $225. No persons escaped injury, Newark police report.

James H. Guibeson of Elkton, was turning west into Darlington Lane when his automobile was struck by the car driven by Martha Schneider of Newark, attempting to pass to the right of Guibeson. Both cars were proceeding south on College Avenue.

Damages were estimated at $200 to New Guibeson vehicle, $25 to the Schneider car.

Local Magistrate Fines 28 Racers For "Hot-Rodding"

State Police Break Up
Wednesday Night Drag Racing In Canal Area

State police broke up the "Wednesday night drag races" near the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Wednesday night of last week, arresting 28 drivers and hot-rod fans.

The cases were heard by Magistrate Clarence S. Foster, whose Newark office was filled to overflowing by the round-up of racing enthusiasts.

Twenty-eight of those arrested were 18 or older. The other four were juveniles, held for Family Court.

All 28 of the 18-or-older were fined $5 and costs for trespassing on the U. S. government preserve bordering the canal.

One was fined an additional $50 and costs for reckless driving. A similar charge against another driver was continued.

Three others were fined an additional $5 for having defective mufflers—or no mufflers at all—on their cars.

Troopers said the races had apparently become a well-attended Wednesday night custom. Residents of the area had complained that the crowd appeared to be growing week by week.

The races, state police said, took place on the recently-resurfaced 18-foot road between Summit Bridge and Chesapeake City. Magnolia Swamp Road; and on Route 896, between Summit Bridge and Glassgow.

In some cases, according to troopers, the cars raced side-by-side on public roads, forcing other motorists to the side. Some of the races were held, they said, on narrow gravel roadways within the canal preserve.

Troopers swooped down on the group at the canal preserve Wednesday night between 6 and 7. It was reported that some of the racing fans succeeded in getting away.

Those arrested were taken in a convoy of some 20 cars west on Route 896 to Foster's office in Newark. One police car led the way and another followed.

The magistrate's office and the sidewalk outside were crowded as the arraignments progressed. It was 2:30 a.m. before Foster had disposed of the last charge.

Vandals Destroy Rittenhouse Park Pontoon Bridge

The 60-ft. pontoon bridge over the Christina at Rittenhouse Park was destroyed yesterday morning by vandals who deliberately unbolted the supporting cables and stripped the bridge of railing and guy wires.

Stanley E. Francis, director of the Newark Recreation Association, reported that the vandalism occurred between 8:30 and 10 a.m., between checks by the park custodian, and that some $500 will be required to replace the bridge that had been provided by donated money and contribution of time, effort, and money.

Unprotected from the current with release of the supporting cables, the pontoon bridge was washed down stream and scattered in pieces along the banks.

"It required tools to do the job," Francis said ruefully, "and is an out and out case of wanton destruction. Loss of the bridge will prevent those who enjoy Rittenhouse Park facilities, from crossing the stream."

He said there is little likelihood that the bridge would be replaced this summer—the third year it has been used.

Seabrook Farms Plan Explained For Rotary

Talented Youngsters Present Water Show With Aquaettes, Bryanettes At NCC Pool

Two groups of talented youngsters—the Aquaettes and the Bryanettes—directed by Mildred W. Bryan and Elizabeth Russell, presented a program of dancing, singing, acrobatics, diving and water ballet last Sunday night at the Newark Country Club swimming pool.

Miss Bryan, who conducts the Mildred W. Bryan Dance Studio in Wilmington, is assisted by Miss Russell, director of the Hercules swimming lesson program.

Two tiny girls—the Abbott twins, Jane and Joan—who have been unable to see since birth, were featured starlets with the Bryanettes. The twins in colorful costume, performed a difficult dance on the edge of the pool, gave a diving and swimming exhibition, and joined Betty Russell in a stirring finale, singing "God Bless America."

Other Bryanette stars were Janie Dobrynski, Lillian D'Amico, Dorinda

Council Extends City Limits With Annexation of Fairfield

Newark Gains 126.6 Acres By Acquisition Of Proposed $10 Million Home Development; Finance Committee Plan
To Halt Spending Approved Pending Bond Account Audit

Newark's city line was extended at the regular meeting of council last Tuesday night, to include 126.6 acres of land northwest of town with annexation of the Fairfield tract where a $10 million housing development is planned and the area was rezoned from "RS" to "RM" and to "Business" with the unanimous passage of two ordinances; and City Council accepted recommendations of the finance committee to withhold authorization of all new projects to be financed with funds from Bond Issue No. 2 until the balance in the bond account has been verified.

Councilman C. Vernon Steele, chairman of the finance committee which includes Charles L. Cole, Richard L. Cooch, and Avery H. Goddin, presented a report in which the committee recommended "that no further projects be authorized from Bond Issue No. 2 until such time as adequate financial controls be placed in effect, and the unencumbered balance be ascertained and verified by public accountants."

City Manager J. J. Salvoara said that it would take another month to complete the audit of the bond account because of the press of current work in the financial department.

Favors Annexation
Councilman William Coverdale then asked Eugene Delle Donne, Fairfield developer, if he still desired city annexation of his property without city commitments in regard to the provision of utilities—commitments that will be delayed because of the condition of the bond account and council's action of finance committee recommendations to withhold new project authorization. And Delle Donne urged council to annex the tract.

"I am not trying to hold up annexation," Coverdale explained, "but am trying to avoid placing the developer in jeopardy." With city annexation of the tract, the developer will have no recourse to the county for the provision of sewer facilities.

The property was annexed and rezoned, and the City of Newark has grown another 126.6 acres in area.

Steele's committee also recommended that $160,000 be transferred annually to the sinking fund to cover $55,000 in Levy Court sewer charges and $105,000 for amortization of the premium and interest on Bond Issues No. 1 and No. 2.

Circus Approved
Charles Mulholland, commander of VFW Post 475, requested a permit for the Hagen Bros. Circus to give a VFW-sponsored fund-raising performance in the city, with all funds received by the sponsor to be used for the benefit of the Newark Babe Ruth and Little Leagues, and for community services, including a proposed municipal swimming pool.

Carefully treading legal depths, council approved the VFW request upon payment of the $25 permit fee which is to be returned as a city donation.

A breakdown of the $450 court costs levied by the city alderman was referred to the solicitor, at Councilman Coverdale's prompting for conformance with charter requirements.

Council approved a new agreement received from the State Highway Department for state widening, resurfacing, and perpetual maintenance of that portion of Oglethorpe Road within the city limits, but the signing of an agreement for the western district sanitary sewer system was withheld pending provision of unit costs from L. H. Weiner for such construction.

The public works department is to check the drainage area around the property before the Dallen Road stub, and the two property owners concerned are to be assessed for paving costs only as the result of Councilman George Wilson's insistence that they not be assessed for engineering costs since "the situation came about through faulty engineering in the first place."

Park Decision
Wilson urged action by the parks committee for decision on city use of a tract of land to the rear of 12 lots at Northgate Knolls off New London Road. If the land is to be used as a parksite, he said, 11 instead of 12 houses would be constructed to permit access to the parkland through the 12th lot.

Councilman Wilson pointed out that residents of Gray's Lane had received city sewer bills when no sewers are available in the area. The city is to make necessary adjustments in the billings.

A special executive session of council was scheduled for next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to review the salary raises and wage scale for city employees recommended by the city manager.

COMING OR GOING?

The following brief editorial is from The Wall Street Journal:

"We were scanning the papers the other day, duly noting the crises that abound and mulling the words of famous people who keep getting themselves and their countrymen in hot water, when we came across the news that this month marks the 100th anniversary of Charles Darwin's theory of evolution.

"Further reading of the day's news led us to wish Mr. Darwin was still around so we could ask him just one question: Are we coming or going?"

Newark Recreation Ass'n Playgrounds Brookside - Chestnut Hill Estates

Fifth In A Series

The Brookside and the Chestnut Hill Estates playgrounds are next to the youngest addition to the Newark Recreation Association's seven summer playgrounds. Like the youngsters they serve these two areas are ambitious and energetic.

Both play areas operate on a half-day basis, with Brookside open in the mornings, and Chestnut Hill Estates in the afternoon. Miss Sylvia Field and Roger Smith are the playground directors who carry on the varied activities.

With the playground season nearing its end, Brookside is preparing for an outstanding finale. Members of the Parent Playground Association have been hard at work for the past four weeks, and the Brookside PPA Fair and Talent Show may well be the hit of the season. Planned for this evening at 6 o'clock.

Feature of the evening will be the Talent Show listing 15 acts of juvenile talent. A four-piece combo will provide music throughout, and accompaniment for the variety of singers, tap and interpretative dancers. There will be a magician to astound the audience and there will be an accordionist, and a drum and trumpet duo.

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Dorsman will present a puppet show for the entertainment of all, and Gary Springer will be the emcee.

Mrs. Vivian Fike and Mrs. Mozelle Pyle head the Parent Playground Association and have organized the Fair and Talent Show.

The regular playground program at Brookside has included doll shows, pet shows in which a stuffed monkey was a prize-winner; trips, contests, and the regular daily program of games, arts and crafts, storytelling and lot lot activity.

Outstanding party of the year was Everyone's Happy Birthday Party where the entire playground population celebrated each others birthdays. All brought gifts for the playground to be used during the season.

The Brookside Junior Leader Corps consists of Marjorie Hendricks, Yvonne Isaacson, George McClellan, and Ronny Demaskey.

The Safety Patrol lists Gary Peterson, Danny McCordle and Andrea Moran.

The Chestnut Hill Estates playground has had several family nights, hot dog roasts, work parties and family events during the summer.

Parents have helped clear a wooded area to provide more space for the activities of the over 60 youngsters attending daily.

Mrs. Corvella Hornberger has headed the Parent Playground Association and Chestnut Hill Estates recreation committee, aided by Mrs. Sue Megaw and Mrs. Upton.

Limited by physical surroundings, the program has been of day camp nature with arts and crafts, explorations, and sports holding major interest.

The Chestnut Hill softball team is tied for second place in the playground league, and the basketball, badminton and horseshoe squads have all had their days.

The Chestnut Hill playground has a popular attraction not found on the other areas—Zell Ball—a tethered ball game, in which individuals or teams may compete. This game has been in constant use for the entire summer.

The Junior Leaders Corps includes Pat Stone, Janet Allcorn, and Joe Wronowicz. Safety Patrol members are Ann Brown and Norine Roder.

Joan Aneda Wins State Title In Junior Girls' Tournament

Daughter Of Newark Country Club Golf Pro Joe Aneda Wins Jr. Girls' State Championship With 5 and 4 Victory In Tourney Debut; Barrows Brothers Score Well

Joan Aneda, 15-year-old daughter of Jean Murphy Aneda—and Joe the Pro of the Newark Country Club—won the Delaware State Junior Golf Championship last Friday by defeating Beverly Bried 5 and 4 at the Hercules Country Club course.

Joan, a junior at Newark High School, won the junior girls state title in her first tournament appearance—and her first golf over the 18-hole route.

Dave Holmes, Friends School athlete, defeated DuPont Country Club mate Dave Treadwell, 5 and 4, to win the junior championship for boys.

The Barrows Brothers

Ron Barrows of Newark won the eighth flight in the state tournament by defeating John Stewart of Hercules, 4 and 2, while his older brother, Wes, Jr., lost in the semi-finals of the championship flight to the new champion, Dave Holmes, by 4 and 2.

Joan Aneda was four up at the end of the first nine in Friday's finals, and won the 11th for her five up advantage and eventual crown. Two down at the end of the 11th, Joan evened things up on the 11th and then won four straight after the two girls halved the 12th hole.

"I've been giving her plenty of practice," the proud father of the new champion said, "but we four Anedas were happily surprised at the outcome."

And that was putting it mildly, to judge from the shining eyes and broad grin registered by a very proud father, indeed.

Holmes, who will be 17 in September, will be the defending champion next year, his last in the junior

One of the party of four became a casualty before stepping out of the car last Saturday morning—after stepping on a paper bag of live peeler crabs near the Coast Guard station south of Dewey Beach.

"That crab bit me right through the paper," Bill said, holding up a small bare foot from which a tiny bit of sole was painfully missing. "Ow! It hurts!" he said with real feeling after the shock of surprise.

"Put on your shoes, and come along," he was told by his father, preoccupied with the chore of lug-ging a heavy cooler and another handful of surf rods over the hot, soft, sandy course from the road to the distant beach. "You can soak your foot in the ocean, and the salt water will make it feel better," the parent added. "And bring along the beach umbrella."

That ice-filled cooler seemed to gain in weight with each shifting, sandy step, and nine-year-old John Dollins was leading the foot caravan of four when he shuffled up the last dune, beheld the deep blue of the Atlantic rolling in a vast panorama before us, and breathed deep of a cool breeze blowing off the ocean.

George Gardner and Paul Boswell were rigging up their surf rods group, while Joan Aneda will be in the junior age group for another two years.

Mary McDowell Scores Low Gross 81 For NCC

Mary McDowell, Newark Country Club women's golf champion, scored a low gross 81 last Tuesday, as local clubwomen entertained women golfers from Maple Dale, Dover.

Margaret Ware was runner-up with a low gross 88. Ruth Waggoner scored a low net 71, while Amy Bauer was runner-up with a net 72.

Next Tuesday will be Mary Hagerly Day at the Newark Country Club, in honor of the local women's golf chairman, who is planning to move to Texas.

Bob Stewart, Joan Aneda Win NCC Jr. Golf Play

Bob Stewart won the junior golf event for boys at the Newark Country Club yesterday, while Joan Aneda and Elizabeth Young finished one-two in the girls' competition.

In the sub-junior golfing set, Chip Haines was the winner, with Billy Ulmer second, while Judy Aneda and Barbara Bohning tied for first among the girls.

On the beach ahead of us, swatting at a few black flies that were a minor menace compared with the swarms we had encountered there the week before, and with a rising tide, fair wind, and a cloudless day, surf fishing prospects appeared bright, indeed.

Young John Dollins was racing excitedly over the sand, wrestling with the problem of deciding whether to fish or dig for coins, but remembering his first bluefish that was caught last year at about the same time in the same spot, he took the rod instead of the spade.

John gave it a good try, but with four rods working without a strike resulting, even the search for buried treasure in the sand offered promise of more immediate action.

Finally, Ruth received a good strike and reeled in a big brown and silver kingfish to stimulate a lot of lagging enthusiasm. But this lone lunger proved to be just that—the one fish of the day.

The ocean was warm and the swimming delightful. The weather was perfect, the tide was right—and the fishing was terrific.

Around 5 o'clock, the wind shifted to due west, and with the land breeze came the flies—millions of 'em. It was time to go, and we did.

"I'd like to try it again," Johnny Dollins said wistfully. And there's a fishman as well as the son of a champion.

"Diamond Jim"—$25,000 Worth!

HE CAUGHT $25,000—Still in his fishing clothes, 30-year-old Bill Simmons, (center) unemployed Baltimore longshoreman, proudly holds "Diamond Jim III," the nine-pound rockfish that brought him the top prize of $25,000 in the American Fishery's 1958 Fishing Derby.

At the right is R. Leiter FitzSimmons, president of the derby, examining the diamond-studded gold identification tag that was clipped to "Diamond Jim's" lower jaw when he was put into the Chesapeake Bay June 19. Simmons landed the prize fish near the Eastern Shore end of the Bay Bridge, about 12 miles from where it was tossed overboard. At left is Nick Campofreda, public relations director for the derby, holding a microphone for a radio interview with the lucky fisherman. Simmons said he'll use the $25,000 to pay his bills and buy a house.

Lumbermen Retain Babe Ruth League Crown In Newark

Lloyd Wells Leads Hit Parade With Average Of .485, 25 RBI Total

Newark Lumber retained the Babe Ruth League championship with an 11-3 season's record and a four-game edge over second place Bank of Delaware.

In the final games of the local season, Curtis defeated the Lumbermen by 11-5; the Bankers stopped Continental, 12-10 and lost a 9-1 joust with the Fibremen; and Continental clipped Newark Lumber, 8-1.

In one of the finest pitching stints of the season, Barry Colbert hurled the C-D-F nine to their 8-1 victory over the champions, limiting the hard-hitting Lumbermen to a pair of safeties while striking out nine and issuing but two free passes.

Lloyd Wells of Newark Lumber was the leading hitter in the league with a healthy .485 average and 25 runs batted in.

Henry Brooks, Continental, batted .451; Alan Adams, Newark Lumber, batted .448; and Barry Colbert, C-D-F, hit at a .374 clip.

Curt Johnson has announced that the next meeting of the Babe Ruth League will be held Sept. 8 at 7:30 p.m., in the American Legion home at George Road Village, when the addition of two more teams for a total of six for next year will be discussed.

The addition of two more teams, provided sponsors can be obtained, will mean that 50 new boys will be selected next year instead of the usual 30, S. Kennedy Field reports.

The Phillies came back to score a 14-11 upset in the second contest, and followed up with a 15-10 victory for the City Championship.

Behind the pitching of Buck Johnson, Tommy Brighthaupt, and George Leedom, the Phillies held the Giants to single runs in the first and second innings, six in the third, and two in the fourth innings of the crucial game.

The whiz kids of the Recreation Pony Leagues, scored six in the first and four in the second to lead all the way.

Graden led off with a triple and was hit home by George Leedom. Brother Bill Leedom's home run cleared the bases and errors at first base allowed Yednak and Streets to get on safely. A double by Groce brought these home and a single by Johnson drove in the sixth run of that first big inning.

The Phils gave up seven hits, walked eight, struck out nine, and committed six errors.

The Giants just couldn't make the grade, even with their rally in the third inning. Blanchard and Lednum shared the pitching chores, giving up 10 hits, walking three, and striking out five.

In their big third inning, Lednum got on through an error, Harris singled and Crossan was safe on error. A double by Handling scored one more before the side was retired.

The Giants made nine errors. In the second game of the series, the Phillies took a fast 3-0 lead and by the end of the third had what appeared to be an 11-2 clincher, but the Giants rallied in the fourth with eight runs scored on five hits and four walks in the ball game, 11-10, the Phillies failed to score in the fourth, and the Giants tied the game on Handling's run in the top of the fifth. With the game and championship on the line, the Phillies dug deep and came up with three runs in the bottom of the fifth.

In the initial game, the Phils squeezed out an 8-7 victory, but lost six and committing four errors. The Giants led all the way, but were threatened at the top of the fifth.

The Phillies were the horses of the National League, leading their regular season last year, but losing on a tie-breaker in the finals and lost in the game.

Last year, the Phils met the Giants in the city semi-finals, and after losing the first game, they won the second and took the two big ones for the title.

A large percentage of Christiana Boy Scout Troop 75 is spending this week at Camp Rodney, accompanied by Scoutmaster Don McLaughlin and Jack Redding. Among the local campers are Billy Kee, Tim Davis, Michael Golden, Eddie Baldwin, George and Ralph Fausnaugh, Vernon and Richard West, David Shetler, Herb Sharpe, Billy Kemp, Tom and Dick Whittington.

The Rev. H. G. Holdway, retired minister of the Methodist Church, voted to city provision of a foot path from Apple Road to the West Park School property, for the safety of school-bound children. An offer to sell for $3,500, a 25-ft. strip in the middle of a 165x75-ft. lot was received from a property owner, and the city manager advised against municipal provision of such a footpath.

Councilman William R. Gregg objected to this advice; easements in the original plan were discussed and ruled out; price, condemnation, the weed-cutting problem with a 25-ft. wide strip, and other aspects were debated—and Acting Mayor George M. Neighbors terminated the discussion with the observation "It's getting late and I don't like it here after 10 o'clock."

He proposed that council representatives talk with residents of West Park Place in an effort to obtain a path through the southern end of their lots for the safety of children walking to school. This suggestion is to be followed.

Councilman Wilson suggested annual or semi-annual utilities billings by the city to reduce the work load, and the city manager is to survey this proposal previously presented by Councilman Coverdale, for recommendations.

Stores Control
Coverdale urged the immediate employment of a stores inventory clerk, pointing out a $16,000 discrepancy between book and physical inventory as disclosed by the recent audit, and recommending restoration of old curbing, for which the city manager said money was available.

Salvo reported that $196,888.32 or 76.7 per cent of current city tax billings had been received, and council authorized advertisement of bids for inspection, cleaning, repairing and installing covers on two water tanks in the western district, the purchase of photocopy equipment at a cost of $545.80 for the city; and the purchase of radio equipment for two city vehicles—cars used by the public works director and the electric department.

The contract for the 1958 street improvement program was awarded to W. Southard Jones for the low bid of $27,689; the contract for the New London Road water main extension was awarded to John Julian for the low bid of $17,426.50, and the contract for city purchase of cast iron water pipe was awarded R. D. Wood & Co. of Philadelphia for the low bid of $13,937.80.

Large roomy house, remodeled from top to bottom. 1st floor, center hall entrance, parlor, large living room, dining room, modern new kitchen, new bath, 2nd floor, 3 large bedrooms, new bath, 3rd floor, 2 bedrooms, with fire escape.
