Town Districted for Sale of Christmas Seals

Red Cross Committee Began Work Monday

State to Receive 91.7 per cent. of Proceeds for Tuberculosis Eradication

The Christmas Seal Campaign for the elimination of the dreaded "White Plague" was begun here as everywhere else in the Union on Monday morning under the direction of the Red Cross. The local committee under the leadership of Miss Jane Maxwell has been assigned certain districts, and will thoroughly cover the town.

This nation-wide campaign was originally a distinctively Delaware plan, having been originated by Miss Emily Bissell of Wilmington. Through her efforts and those of other far-sighted philanthropists, it has now become a national feature of the Yuletide season. The drive this year is largely educational and the organization is therefore more thorough than in previous years.

Miss Jane Maxwell heads the committee in Newark and is assisted by the following workers whose territories are indicated below:

Mrs. C. L. Penny—East Newark from the B. & O. Station.
Miss Eleanor Todd—Main Street from B. & O. to Depot Road.

Miss Katherine Steele—North side of Main St., Depot Road to Newark Center.

Miss Margaret Anderson—South side of Main St., Depot Road to Newark Center.

Miss Estella Yearsley—East Main St. beyond Newark Center.
Mrs. Annie Moore—Delaware Avenue Depot Road to Elkton Road.

Mrs. Stella Vogt—Delaware Avenue Wolf Hall to Academy St., Academy and South Chapel Streets.

Mrs. Wilmer Hill—North Chapel Street.

Mrs. C. A. McCue—Century Club.

Mrs. Hannah Marsey—North College and Prospect Avenues.

Mrs. Anna Steele—Cleveland Avenue.

Robert Allen—New London Ave. and Choate St.

Mrs. Herman Tyson—Depot Road Amstel and Gillespie Aves.

Mrs. Jessie Kinch—Evansville.

Bayard Carter—Delaware College.

Mrs. Bertha Welcome—Women's College.

The seals will also be on sale at Adloff's Department Store.

For every $1 worth of seals sold, 25 cents remain in the State and the seals are sold, for the benefit of the organized agencies are waging a fight against tuberculosis. Of the remainder of the dollar, after expenses of the campaign are paid the balance will go to the Red Cross and the National Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

It is understood that $50,000 or 25c per capita is the quota for Delaware. This amount is necessary to program out for the coming year. The prevalence of this dread disease makes it incumbent upon every citizen for safety sake to support this campaign.

Man Chairman of County Democratic Committee

Eben B. Frazer was on Monday elected chairman of the Castle County Democratic Committee to succeed James Sauls of Wilmington. The selection was made at a regular meeting of the newly elected committee called for the purpose of effecting organization. Mr. Frazer received the unanimous vote of the committee for the office.

ST. THOMAS GUILD MAKES GOOD FINANCIAL SHOWING

Appoints Committees and Teams For Nation-Wide Campaign

At the regular meeting of Thomas' Guild held Monday evening, announcement was made that $88.55 was cleared at the Autumn dance held recently. The balance in bank for the bell fund is $473.85. The funds raised to defray the expenses of the concrete curbing at the church and parish house amounted to $225, which leaves a balance due of only $30. The Guild was commended highly by the pastor and others for the exceptionally good work done during the past year.

A permanent committee to conduct the nation-wide campaign for service was appointed as follows: President, William D. Dean; Secretary, D. Lee Rose; Treasurer, Charles W. Colmery. Seven teams were formed to conduct a canvass of the membership in the Parish for pledges to service and sacrifice. Each team is headed by a vestryman as chairman. The personnel of the teams is as follows:

Team No. 1. A. A. Curtis, Misses Audrey Miller and Clarice Well.

Team No. 2. Charles W. Colmery, Mrs. C. W. Colmery and Mrs. E. D. Sanborn.

Team No. 3. D. Lee Rose, Mrs. D. Lee Rose and Mrs. Jackson Burnley.

Team No. 4. Mr. George Dobson, Mrs. Thomas Spogell and Mrs. Joseph Cristadoro.

Team No. 5. Dr. George A. Harter, Misses Elinor Harter and Anne Hossinger.

Team No. 6. Mr. Levi K. Bowen, Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. J. Pilling Wright and Mrs. Ernest Wright.

Team No. 7. Mrs. William D. Dean, Mrs. Dean and Miss Lillian Getty.

The pledges to be secured at this time are not for money but for part time or full time specialized service, such as teaching in Sunday School, singing in the choir, serving on the social service committee, joining the Boy Scouts or the Parish Guilds; becoming one of the 1470 men and women called for in the survey to become clergymen, deaconesses, teachers, physicians, nurses, social service workers or executive secretaries.

The church is asking for an "every member enlistment" in Christ's army.

Dr. W. Owen Sypherd entertained the Guild with readings. Mrs. D. Lee Rose and others furnished music for dancing and refreshments consisting of Sauerkraut, mashed potatoes hot "dogs," rolls, and coffee were served.

College Professor Is Contributor to "Outlook"

In the November 27th issue of The Outlook, appears a timely article by Dr. Homer Hoyt, professor of Economics and Business Administration of Delaware College. It has the significant title, "If the Middle Class Should Strike." He gives a masterly analysis of the industrial situation and shows that although this class comprising doctors, lawyers, engineers and technical men, "holds in the hollow of its hand the greatest power of the nation," their high ideals prevent them from using this power for selfish purposes, because it holds its great power "in sacred trust for all mankind."

D. A. R. To Meet Next Saturday

The Daughters of the American Revolution will meet at the home of Mrs. J. Rankin Armstrong on Saturday afternoon December 6 at 2:30.

NEWARK GRANGE ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEW YEAR

Will Hold Reception For Agricultural Students, Dec. 22

Newark Grange met in the chapel room of Old College Hall last night with a full attendance. Announcement was made that the new regalia for the degree team has arrived.

It was voted to give a reception for the agricultural students at Delaware College on Monday evening, December 22. Officers for the ensuing year were elected and a social hour enjoyed.

The officers for 1920 are as follows: Master, C. A. McCue; Overseer, Robert Poole; Secretary, R. O. Bausman; Treasurer, Mrs. Fred Strickland; Lecturer, J. Woodward Olcott; Steward, Claude Phillips; Asst. Steward, George M. Longland; Lady Asst., Florence Colbert; Chaplain, John Singley; Gatekeeper, George Cullin; Ceres, Gertrude Hill; Pomona, Olive Heiser; Flora, Hettie Slack.

American Legion Declares For 100% Americanism

The Lt. J. Allison O'Daniel Post No. 6 American Legion held its regular meeting last Friday evening with a good attendance. A communication from State Headquarters with regard to support of 100% Americanism was unanimously adopted and the Post pledged itself to the limit of its resources in support of law and order.

The service records requested of the men in a previous meeting were handed in to the historian by some of the members and the opportunity extended for several weeks in order that all might have the privilege of having a complete record in the files of the organization.

Much interest was manifested in the formation of a basketball team from the wealth of material in the Post. Pusey Morrison was unanimously elected captain of the team. The personnel of the team which will represent the Post will be made public in a few days.

"Shop Early" Slogan Now In Order

The "Shop Early" slogan is to be borne in mind from now on. The daily papers carry gentle reminders which the majority of buyers are heeding. The "last minute" shopper is the exception rather than the rule these days, which is as it should be.

Tickets Going Fast For Mason Concert

The patronesses for the Mason concert to be given under the auspices of the Faculty Club of Delaware College are finding little trouble in disposing of tickets for what promises to be the musical treat of the season.

Supper At The Armory Tomorrow Night

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will hold a poultry supper in the Armory, tomorrow, Dec. 4th. Fancy goods suitable for Christmas gifts, and a number of useful articles will be on sale.

Eighth Grade Pupils To Produce Russian Play

The Eighth Grade pupils in the public schools have dramatized and are preparing for presentation Tolstoy's "Where Love is There God is Also." The costumes, setting, scenery and all properties will be prepared and provided by the pupils themselves under the direction of Miss Mabel Tebo, a former teacher in the local public schools who is now a student in teacher-training at Women's College. This production will be given in the Newark Opera House on December 22.

NEW CENTURY CLUB OBSERVES GEORGE ELIOT CENTENARY

Will Have Christmas Program Tuesday, December 16

The regular meeting of the New Century Club was held early yesterday afternoon in order to permit the members to attend the illustrated lecture given by Dr. Edith Rabe of the Health Bureau at 3.30. The program consisted of the following numbers:

Instrumental duet, "Hungarian Dance" Mrs. F. M. K. Foster
Mrs. George E. Dutton
Paper, "George Eliot," Mrs. T. F. Manns
Poem, by George Eliot, Mrs. R. W. Heim
Solos, "The Norseman," "Little Boy Blue," Miss Anna Ritz

The program next week will consist of music and a short sketch of the life of Adeline Patti by Mrs. J. O. G. Duffy and Mrs. Levi K. Bowen.
On December 16, Christmas songs and readings by Miss Dorothy Wolf will be a feature of the program.

Sustains Broken Arm In Fall From Wagon

Mr. George W. Russell, superintendent of Red Men's Fraternal Home was the victim of a peculiar accident last Friday which resulted in the fracture of his left arm.

While unloading fodder from a wagon, he was thrown off when the horse became frightened by a cat which jumped out of the barn window. The cat had been caught in a steel trap which had been set for rats. The noise of the clanking chain attached to the trap caused the horse to run away.

Mr. Russell was stunned by the fall and was unable to move until help came. He was taken to Delaware hospital where the broken bone was set. He returned home the same day and is recovering as well as could be expected.

Communion Sunday At Head of Christiana

Next Sunday will be Communion day at Head of Christiana Presbyterian Church. The services will be held at the usual time: Sabbath school at 10 o'clock and public worship at 10:45.

Will Go To Dover For The Winter

George L. Medill will move his family to Dover this week for the winter. They expect to return May 1.

Dance To Be Given By The Continental Band

Next Tuesday, December 9, a dance will be given at the New Century Club under the auspices of the Continental Fibre Co. Band. Music will be furnished by Edward's orchestra of five pieces, from Wilmington. Between dances music will be furnished by the Continental Mandolin Club under the leadership of Mr. Edwards, and by the Continental and Cecilton bands both of which have been brought to proficiency by Mr. Edwards.

Dean Robinson at Home Friday

Dean Winifred J. Robinson will be at home on Friday afternoon, 5 as formerly announced.

Drinking Water To Be Analyzed

The County Board of Education is having an analysis made of drinking water used by the schools of the County. Dr. Herbert J. Watson, State chemist is doing the work.

Mechanics To Attend Church Sunday

The Junior Order American Mechanics will attend service at the Presbyterian church next Sunday in a body. A special service in their honor will be prepared.

RAIN AND "SPUDS" INTERFERE WITH TREASURE HUNT

Six Intrepid Adventurers Brave Rain; Two Successful

The rain of Saturday dampened somewhat the ardor of the venturesome spirits among the youth of the town who had signed up for the "Treasure Hunt" given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. And the lure of golden treasure to be found in J. F. Richard's potato patch proved a counter attraction for some undance spirits to whose imaginations hidden treasure meant little and picking "spuds" for real money meant much. Six intrepid adventurers out of 30 who had signed up were, however, undaunted by any condition of weather or materialistic attraction and two of these John Cunningham and Herman Messick were rewarded by the finding of membership tickets tucked away in a romantic spot in Park Place.

Winner of Rhodes Scholarship to Get College Degree

F. Bayard Carter, who recently won the Rhodes scholarship valued at $1500 and who was expected to take up residence in Oxford early in January, petitioned the American Secretary of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust for a postponement of entrance until his course at Delaware College had been completed. This was granted and young Carter will not enter Oxford until 1920.

The young man's prominence in athletics and in all student activities would make his departure from the granting of his petition is therefore immensely gratifying to his friends.

Distinguished Visitors Here Monday

Former U. S. Senator Willard Saulsbury and David F. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture in the cabinet were Newark visitors on Monday. They visited Head of Christiana and Old Rock churches in an effort to locate the graves of some of Mr. Houston's ancestors.

Decide To Build At Harmony

A meeting of the patrons of Harmony School on Limestone Road was held on Monday to discuss the building of a new school house. The attendance was large and the interest especially keen. Arnold Naudain offered to the district the gift of sufficient land to meet their needs. The sentiment in favor of a new building was unanimous. George L. Medill, president of the County Board and Superintendent Jump were present.

Council Hears Of Street Improvements

Council held its regular meeting Monday night. Routine business was transacted and several bills ordered paid. A communication was received from Delaware College to the effect that the sidewalks fronting the College properties on Depot Road would be improved as speedily as the weather conditions and the procuring of materials will permit. Drain pipes will be laid in the ditches fronting Dr. Mitchell's residence and the properties on the opposite side of the road. These will be covered and the dangerous shoulders at this point will be entirely eliminated.

Work on Delaware Avenue is progressing satisfactorily and some traffic is going over that route now.

Will Have Housewarming In New Home

Mrs. and Mrs. David C. Rose will entertain a few friends at a housewarming on Friday evening at their handsome new residence on South College Avenue.

Head of Agricultural Department to Leave Says Report

Dean Hayward to Resign Position Soon

Has International Reputation as Educational Expert

According to a report published in last night's Evening Journal, Dean Harry Hayward will probably resign in the near future.

Dean Hayward would make no statement regarding the report. A friend who made inquiry at this office this morning made the following statement with regard to the matter:

"Consternation and sincere regret are felt throughout the State as the news comes through unofficial channels that Dean Harry Hayward, head of the Agricultural Department of Delaware College is to resign his position and leave the state.

Dean Hayward came to Delaware about 12 years ago and by his initiative and peculiar qualities of leadership created a department of agriculture second to none in the United States. His ability as an expert in agricultural education has been recognized repeatedly by the Federal department and by leaders in this field throughout the United States.

His thorough knowledge of agricultural problems has been of incalculable value to the farmers of the State, in the interest of whose welfare he has worked tirelessly and unselfishly during his residence in the State. His services were always at the command of granges, schools and local gatherings where no interest or problem was too small to receive his personal attention and command his instant assistance.

His interest in local matters affecting the church, the school or the club was keen and sympathetic.

A tribute to his ability as an expert in Agricultural Education, was paid by the government a year ago when he was chosen one of 7 men from this country to serve as regional directors of this work centered in the American University at Beaune under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. In recognition of the excellent service rendered there he was twice decorated by the French government."

Miss Stuart Wedded Saturday

Miss Carrie Stuart until recently dietitian at the Commons was married on Saturday in Philadelphia to Joseph Roberts of Lebanon, Ohio. The couple are spending a honeymoon in Georgia. On their return they will probably stop off in Newark for a few days before proceeding to their future home in Ohio.

Mrs. Roberts was to have been married the previous Wednesday but an attack of lumbago necessitated her removal to a hospital and prevented her attendance at the student dinner arranged in her honor last Tuesday night at the College.

Methodist Church Activities

The official board of the M. E. Church met Monday night and transacted routine business. The Junior League and probationers' class met this afternoon and the Ladies Aid Society meets this evening after prayer service. The Queen Esther Circle will meet Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Eleanor Worrall. Mr. Herson will have for a text Sunday evening, "The Man Who Adjoined the Meeting."

Will Address Wilmington New Century Club

Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell will deliver an address under the auspices of the educational committee of the New Century Club next Friday evening at their club house. He will with Pierre S. duPont will discuss the School Code. An opportunity for free discussion and asking of question will be given after the addresses.

NEWARK FARMER IS CHAMPION TOMATO GROWER

FARM BUREAU NEWS PAYS TRIBUTE TO ARTHUR W. ROUNDS

SUCCESSFUL AGRICULTURIST TELLS HOW RECORD CROPS ARE PRODUCED

The current issue of the Farm Bureau News pays the following tribute to a progressive Newark farmer:

Arthur W. Rounds, Marketing Committeeman of the Newark community, may be the champion tomato grower of Delaware—and possibly the Peninsula. His yield on 2 1/4 acres of tomatoes in 1919 was 1417 baskets or a little over 10 1/2 tons per acre. Mr. Rounds insists that as much rain fell on his field as on his neighbors and that his storm damage was as great as theirs. Mr. Rounds claims to have never grown fewer than 10 tons per acre and he has been in the game several years.

When asked "What is your secret of success?" Mr. Rounds replied that it was due to seven years' seed selection, careful soil and seed bed preparation and a liberal application of plant food. When asked what he did for the blight, he replied that he had remedy except a liberal application of manure and fertilizer.

Here is his story of the 1919 crop. His plants were grown in the open from especially selected Bonnie Best Variety seed. Mr. Rounds says that anyone buying the average Bonnie Best seed on the market will be disappointed. He insists on rigid seed selection as the foundation stone in building for a big tomato yield. His plants were field set May 25, in rows 3 feet 10 inches apart. Mr. Rounds has a heavy soil as he is situated near the base of Iron Hill.

He could not get the kind of fertilizer which he wanted in 1919, so he used a 3% nitrogen and 8% phosphoric acid goods, and he applied on the 2 1/4 acres 2800 lbs. of fertilizer. Half of the fertilizer is broadcasted and the remainder placed in the drill row. Mr. Rounds is opposed to the general plan of throwing a handful of fertilizer around each hill.

In the winter Mr. Rounds spread seven tons of stable manure to the acre, which was thoroughly disked into the surface soil in the spring before it was plowed under. Mr. Rounds insists on deep plowing, but he has gone about this gradually so as not to turn up a large amount of fresh subsoil at once.

If anyone can beat this record in Delaware we want to know about it and how it was done. We believe this story offers a gold mine of useful information because it is a record of achievement and a success gained through painstaking work and careful study. Who said it did not take any brains in farming? Does any reader believe Mr. Rounds' success was due to luck alone?

cold water, that the salt may be extracted in cooking. In boiling meats it is important to keep the water constantly boiling, otherwise the meat will absorb the water. Be careful to add boiling water if more is needed. Remove the scum when it first begins to boil. Allow about twenty minutes for boiling for each pound of fresh meat. The more gently meat boils the more tender it will be.

Until the shortage of sugar, we never realized the wealth of sweetness stored in some of our dried fruits, and never considered them in regard to their sugar value. As raisins are three-fourths sugar, why not take advantage of that when using them in various dishes?

A handful of raisins added to almost any fruit adds to its flavor and richness.

Apples Stuffed With Raisins

Wash, core and remove the pulp from a dozen smooth, firm apples. Put through the meat chopper two cupfuls of the apple removed, and two cupfuls of seeded raisins; add one tablespoonful of lemon juice, and place them in a greased baking pan. Into a sauce pan put a cupful each of water and corn syrup, add a tablespoonful of butter and boil for five minutes. Pour this sauce over the apples and bake until they are tender. Serve either hot or cold.

THE SELECTION OF SUITABLE CLOTHES DEPENDS ON PERSONALITY

Advice of Outsiders Especially Saleswomen Not Always Reliable

One could write a book of directions to women on what to wear. The atrocities which some women put on their backs in the name of dress are almost too fearful to describe. The great trouble is that it is really impossible to give out any set rules on how to dress, for what one woman may wear with impunity another cannot appear in without secret and sometimes open ridicule. And the same suit which will be called smart on one girl will be characterized as dowdy on another.

Therefore no rigid rules for dressing can be given or should be followed. The selection of suitable clothes is more a matter of following one's personality or appearance than certain directions given out by others, no matter how great authorities they may be.

Girls who wish to look their best should never take the advice of outsiders, especially saleswomen, on what to wear. They should give careful, considerate study to their own appearance. Then when they enter a shop to buy they should try on different styles, discarding this, approving that, until the field narrows down to two or three particularly attractive models.

Never try to buy in a hurry, for you are almost certain to repent at leisure. Remember what you buy has to be worn for months and certainly deserves a few hours' careful consideration in the selection. Do not be a rigid devotee of Dame Fashion, for styles are as variable as women's supposed moods and where one may be very becoming another may be hideous. Usually there are enough different styles to afford room for a wide selection, so that if you search far enough you can generally find something to fit your type.

Color is another matter to be studied seriously by the girl who wishes to appear well dressed. It is much easier to decide what colors become you than to know what style is peculiarly your own. But even colors are sometimes confusing. For instance, it is a generally accepted fact that red rose and all the rich tones of this hue are particularly well suited to the brunette. However, there are dark-haired girls who come more under the head of quaint and demure. To them rose or red is a forbidden color, for there is nothing of the quaint or demure about either of these shades.

You must select your wardrobe with an eye not only to your appearance but to your personality as well. And yet even here there may be confusion, for one often finds the tall, queenly woman who likes to be vivacious, and the little, perky girl, who would love to be stately. In such cases, to fit their desired personalities would be extremely dangerous.

Then it is often easy to be dazzled by the color of a frock overlooking its style. The saleswoman shows you a dress in a shade which you recognize at once as being most becoming to you. You try it on, perhaps, and the shade brings out your good points to such an extent that you never notice the fact that the model accentuates your worst features. Such a mistake is very common, unfortunately.

Dressing is not only an art, it is a study as well. You cannot watch your own type too carefully and the woman who dresses well not only knows her own appearance by heart but does not allow herself to be misled by colors, by fashion or by the words of the saleswoman.

FEW SIMPLE RULES FOR CARE OF GOLDFISH

Overfeeding Is Most Frequent Cause of Death

Many people who try to keep gold fish claim that it is an impossibility, that they soon sicken and die, and they do unless they are attended to properly. "When are they attended to properly?" is a question many lovers of the bright, sunny little fellows would like to have answered.

There are just a few simple rules to follow. In the first place, the aquarium should not be crowded, so that the fish have plenty of room and breathing space. The usual size of an aquarium for the home is about eight by sixteen inches, and ten inches high. This vessel should not contain more than four goldfish and two tadpoles. More than that crowd the tank and the fish soon die off one by one, as they have not sufficient breathing space. Such a vessel should contain not more than two aquatic plants. These plants are necessary, as they absorb the impurities of the water, and keep the aquarium fresh, but too many plants will prevent the fish from swimming about freely and getting plenty of exercise.

Pulverized egg food is the best for the fish, but most persons make the mistake of feeding the fish every day. They are very susceptible to indigestion, and they can be kept in good health only by very careful feeding. Once a week is quite sufficient, and then only a pinch will be ample. The best time to feed the fish is when they are so hungry that they actually jump up out of the water to get at the food. When they permit the food to float on top of the aquarium, and do not seem inclined to take it, it is a sign that they are overfed. In that case they should not receive food again for at least a week.

Another mistake made by those who have aquariums is that the water is changed too frequently. Some change the water every day or every other day. The water should really not be changed more than once in three months. If the aquarium has the proper number of fish and plants, and a few tadpoles, which act as scavengers, the water will be kept fresh and pure. All that is necessary is to add a cup of water occasionally to make up for evaporation. Frequent change of water also kills the fish. This is due mostly to the fact that they are very sensitive to sudden change of temperature, and the fresh water, not nearing the same temperature as the water from which they have been removed, may give them a chill and cause illness at once. Changes in temperature in the outer air do not affect the fish. In fact, the water can freeze in the aquarium without at all harming them, as such a change is gradual; but to suddenly add cold water will be very harmful to them.

When healthy the fish will swim about in a lively fashion, breathing regularly and taking food eagerly. If sick, a fish will slightly turn on one side and swim about in the water as a person in an intoxicated state walks on land. As soon as this is noted some salt should be added to the water. This in most cases restores them to health. If not, the fish should be removed to another vessel, containing water tinged with salt, otherwise its companions may also be affected. If the fish does not recover within a day or two, nothing further can be done.

It is probably not generally known, but fish can be made pets of just as any domestic animal. They gradually begin to know the person who feeds them, and when he or she approaches the aquarium they will show every sign of pleasure and delight, wagging their tails as dogs do on the approach of their master. They will also respond to the call of their name and come to the top of the aquarium when summoned. They also show signs of jealousy, and their manner of life in the aquarium with their companions is an interesting source of study.

The life of a gold fish is from twelve to twenty years.

Delaware College Receives Handsome Gift

Delaware College has just received the gift of eight handsome bound quarto volumes of the Greek classics from Mrs. William L. Boswell of Washington, D. C. These books were presented to her husband, professor of the ancient languages in Delaware College, by the members of the Delta Phi society in Delaware Dec. 17, 1855. A DISCOURSE ON
"COURTING"Uncle Joe Cannon Says Modern
Youths Don't Know
Meaning of Word

Courting? Why, bless your heart, the young fellows of today do not know the meaning of that word! When a young man would walk five or even ten miles through the snow or rain or mud, freeze his ears and fingers and face the danger of wildcats, to see his girl, and that, too, in the general living room, with the family, he was entitled to admit that he was courting.

And that was the rule, not the exception. The young fellows would start out Sunday afternoon to see their sweethearts, and no weather was too bad to keep them at home. It might be too cold or muddy to take out a horse, but in that case he would go on foot, and he would go through as much hardship to see his girl as did the knights of old to rescue fair maidens in castles bold.

But it was his devotion, his courting; and when he won that girl he stuck to her through thick and through thin, through good report and evil report, obeying the scriptural injunction that what God has joined together no man shall put asunder.

There were no marriages of convenience and few hasty marriages then. The courting was long and there were no divorces to follow. The young people might meet often at the singing school or the dance or the husking bee, but these did not take the place of regular "courting."

The courting was on Sunday night and the young man went religiously to see his girl and remained until midnight with the object of his affection, even though the father and mother and younger children were present to share in the visit. When he went home, either through the storm or under the bright starlight, he walked the earth as a conqueror—for he had been in the presence that to him represented the real poem of life. He had been courting—and that is all we need to bring back safe and sane ideas in marriage—courting—in the true sense of the word: The man seeking, if not serving, like Jacob, seven years for the object of his affection. Then he will stick to her and she to him through life.

There are some old fashions that have not been improved upon, and one of them is the old way of courting.

Able bodied Men Should Work Same Hours as Farmers

At its recent three day session in Kansas City the International Farm Congress passed resolutions pointing with pride to the splendid record of increased production during the war made by the farmers, pledging them to continue to produce in such measure as may be required by future emergency, expressing friendship and good will during the war made by the farm-toward labor, but viewing with apprehension the turbulent conditions prevailing in that field of production, and demanding that increased production in the factories should go along with increased agricultural output. The resolutions opposed unionization of public officials, deplored the growing tendency to idleness among all classes of people, protested against the wide margin between production and retail costs, condemned profiteering and opposed further government operation of railways. The demand voiced at the convention was that able bodied men of all classes should work as long and as hard as the farmer does.

"If Only I Had Done Differently"

It goes without saying that the wisest and best of us as we look back over our lives, see much to be sorry for. We have made mistakes and we have done that which we knew to be wrong. No one is altogether satisfied with the way he has met life's problems. But regrets of this sort are a very different thing from the attitude which is continually saying, "If only I had done this," or, "If only I hadn't!"

Some regrets do us good. If we see how our wrongdoing has made unhappiness for ourselves and our friends, our sorrow is likely to make us careful in the future and it will have a tonic effect. If we take a train at 5:15 which is delayed by a freight wreck on ahead, so that we are hours late getting to our destination, there is no point in lamenting that we did not take the six o'clock train on another road. We could not possibly have foreseen the accident. Our inconvenience is not due to any failure on our own part and to allow ourselves to wish that we had done differently is simply a waste of energy. We did the best we knew and we should let it go at that.

We are not likely to reach any place in this world where we shall have nothing to regret. There will always be something we should prefer to have altered. But if we want to be reasonable happy, our most sensible course is to forget about the things we would like to have different and concentrate our attention on those with which we are satisfied. No one can have a happy life who in youth forms the habit of uttering that most futile of all wishes, "If only I had done differently."

"How Are You Goin' to Keep 'Em on a Delaware
Farm?"

A practical answer to the question, "How are you goin' to keep 'em on a Delaware farm after they've seen gay Paree"? is shortly to be made by the Rural Y. M. C. A. in cooperation with rural leaders of the state. To keep men and boys contented and successful on the farms and in the smaller industrial and railroad centers, George L. Goodwin, Interstate "Y" secretary in collaboration with state and local committees is planning a statewide program of athletics, recreational activities, educational classes and rural movies designed to meet the normal need for amusement of farm help and village workers. Every county is to be asked to support a "Y" movement that will establish baseball, football, skating, swimming, and other leagues for country boys and to provide for recreation fields, entertainments, clubs, community gatherings and vocational classes that will give the local young folks something interesting to do, see or hear nearer than the large cities.

Definite plans and programs, such as already in successful operation in more than 150 counties and 1,500 small and large industrial plants, will be developed for popular county approval and support early in the year.

In winter nature ceases from her labors and prepares for the great change. The wind sweeps through the great forest with a sound like the blast of a trumpet. The dry leaves whirl in eddies through the air. A network of hoar-frost covers the plain. The stagnant water in the pools and ditches is frozen into fantastic figures. In the low-hanging clouds, the sharp air, like a busy shuttle, weaves her shroud of snow. There is a melancholy and continual roar in the tops of the tall pines like the roar of a cataract. It is the funeral anthem of the dying year.—H. W. Longfellow.

A company of white troops in the trenches had been enduring a severe gassing for several days when they were finally relieved by a company of negroes. A German prisoner, captured shortly after, was asked how he Yanks fought, and replied:

"Ve gassed dem und ve gassed dem till dey vas black in der face, und still dey came forward."—American Legion Weekly.

Health Week Began Monday

The Christmas Seal Campaign and the Red Cross opened on Monday. Before that date many of the workers were already securing pledges for the purchase of seals. The sale of Christmas seals this year is accompanied by an increased emphasis on the Health Aspect of Red Cross Work.

This week is Health week and its importance for Delaware is recognized at once if we compare the high death rate in this state with that of other communities. It has been established by actual count of death certificate that the death rate for Delaware is abnormally high. We can refuse to look at the facts but that won't change the number of deaths per year that occur with in Delaware. 400 of these deaths annually are from tuberculosis. The Red Cross is devoting money and the energy and effectiveness of its organization to the control of this disease. This is Delaware's opportunity. We don't have to plan or assume responsibility for the carrying out of this work. We know it will be well done. Our job is to provide the money by buying Red Cross Christmas Seals. A real investment it has a public and an individual return. No home is safe while the present toll of disease exists.—Contributed.

Army Engineer To Give
Illustrated Lecture

Under the auspices of the Engineering Society of Delaware College Edgar M. Hoopes of Wilmington will deliver a public lecture at Wolf Hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. This lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides showing the work of the Construction Division of the Army, with which he was connected during the world war when he held the rank of captain.

Previous to his war service he was city engineer in Wilmington which position made him chief of both the Water Department and the Street and Sewer Department, positions requiring great executive ability.

The Construction Division of the Army was created to fill the need arising in the building of large cantonments both in this country and abroad. Their work was entirely separate from the work of the corps of engineers. Due to necessities of appropriation measures, the Division was conducted under the direction of the quartermaster department. The plans however, anticipated making the division a distinct army corps.

Mr. Hoopes is thoroughly conversant with the work done by the division, and his address will be of great interest.

The Engineering Society extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

There are some moods so sensitive that the least touch hurts them, and there are moods when any sort of speech makes us uncomfortable. Solomon tells us that a soft answer turneth away wrath and so it does, oftentimes. But there are occasions when spirits are too bruised and sore for the gentlest answer, and the part of kindness is silence. Blessings on the patience which not only forbears to chide, which does more than keep back the "I told you so," but which goes so far even as to refrain from expressions of sympathy. There are times when the kindest of speeches are not even silver, while a comprehending silence is pure gold.

Farm Bureau Expects to Exceed Membership Quota

Eight hundred members, which is the goal set by the New Castle County Farm Bureau in its membership campaign, is going to be over subscribed, according to the reports made by several of the committees at the annual meeting held yesterday in the Hotel Nobis. Some of the communities have already exceeded their quota. December 17 was set as the date at which the campaign should terminate, which will give each committee time to cover its territory. During this campaign every farmer of the county will have been interviewed relative to becoming a member of the farm bureau. Mayor Taylor and John S. Russell, president of the State Bankers' Association welcomed the Farm Bureau members on behalf of the city.

Frank Yearsley of Marshallton was re-elected to direct the policies of the farm bureau for another year. The executive committee elected follows:—President, Frank Yearsley of Marshallton; Vice-President, C. P. Dickey of Stanton; Secretary-Treasurer and Chairman of Home Economics, Mrs. Mary E. Dickey of Stanton; Chairman, Dairy, J. I. Dayett of Cooch; Chairman, Soils and Crops, J. D. Reynolds, of Middletown; Chairman, Farm Management, W. Truxton Boyce of Stanton; Chairman, Boys' and Girls' Clubs, H. L. Dilworth of Centerville; Chairman, Home Orchards, John Brackin of Marshallton.

According to the report made by County Agent R. O. Bausman, the farm bureau has had a most successful year. Marked progress has been made especially in the improvement of the dairy industry of the county. President Yearsley predicted that with the program of work as presented by W. Truxton Boyce and adopted by the meeting, and as the farmers of the county are daily appreciating more the value of the farm bureau, that 1920 will be the greatest year in its history.

Steps will soon be taken to perfect a Delaware State Federation of Farm Bureaus with the intention of affiliating with the American Federation of Farm Bureaus which will comprise from six to eight million farmers.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of my little darling Grace E. Porter who died Dec. 3, 1916.

Days of sadness still come o'er me
Hidden tears so often flow
Memory keeps my dear one near me
Although she died three years ago.
—Mother.

Soft and bright the stars are shining
On a sad and lonely grave
Lies the darling we loved dearly
Whom we tried but could not save.
—Father.

Peoples' Column

Editor of the Newark Post,
Newark, Del.

Dear Sir:

I was very much amused today in reading on the front page of our regenerated Delaware Ledger a paragraph in regard to our Newark streets. Evidently the author of this paragraph has only taken into consideration the roadways of the town. I vouch there isn't a town in the State where the sidewalks are in as bad condition as in our town. Just why our town fathers do not compel the various property holders to keep the pavements in passable condition is beyond the comprehension of

A Tax Payer.

One reason why women as a rule are more cheerful than men is because they have a happy habit of believing what they wish to believe, while men generally demand proof.

A man is not necessarily virtuous because he's silent. "Still waters run deep," but mud collects at the bottom of them.

Creating an Independent Estate

The average man works a lifetime creating a business. It requires strenuous, unremitting toil to put his business on a sound footing. With many, death intervenes before plans are completed or before the business is in the best of shape to turn over to heirs or dispose of for their benefit. Too often, when the guiding spirit is gone, a business turns out to be a small asset to an estate.

While devoting his energies to building his business, if a man makes it a point to create an independent estate, also, he will have an anchor to windward for himself, a separate fund to tide his family over immediate emergencies, and, meantime, an additional source of income which will always stand him in good stead.

The "Equitable Trust Plan" for creating and enlarging an independent estate is a plan which embodies all the best methods for establishing an invested reserve. Every business man should post himself thoroughly on this plan. Our booklet gives him the means for doing so.

The Farmer's Bank Account

With both labor and capital falsely branding the food producer as the high-cost-of-living profiteer, our farmers must fight together under strong leaders if they are to continue to get a living wage for their labor. In our own county this bank will always stand for your prosperity. Nationally—internationally—the strong voice that is speaking for the American farmer today is

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

The farmer is not a profiteer. He has earned his bank account, his credit rating, his home comforts, by saving the world from starvation. But the world is moving fast, and to keep in weekly touch with farm conditions everywhere—to hold what he has won—the farmer should regularly read THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN. The information

WHY LOSS OF SENSE OF DIRECTION CAUSES CIRCLING

Traveling By Landmark or Compass Only Way To Avoid This

"The tendency of the person who has entirely lost his sense of direction to 'circle' is well known and has been repeatedly proved by experiment," says George Gladden, in an article, "On Being Lost," in the November issue of Boy's Life. "The most plausible reason for this circling is that it is due to the unequal strength of the two sides of the body. That is, if the right side be stronger than the left—which usually is the case—longer strikes will normally be taken with the right leg than with the left, and this will cause circling to the right. The circling seems always to occur when one becomes hopelessly lost and is likely to continue until the victim drops from sheer exhaustion. One instance on record is that of a lost man who, after walking steadily for six days and nights, finally stumbled into a camp only about six miles from his starting point. Five miles of travel in a straight line in any direction from that point would have brought him out of the woods and incidentally would have saved him from the loss of his feet, both of which were so badly frozen that their amputation was necessary.

"Traveling by landmark, or by compass, are the only sure ways to avoid circling. Landmarks should be observed carefully and frequently, for as one proceeds they are likely to change their appearance, sometimes very considerably. The importance of the compass to the lost man is, of course, very great, provided he uses it intelligently. And part of that intelligence will be shown by absolute confidence in the instrument for the present purposes. 'Magnetic variation,' that is, the difference between the magnetic north, as shown by the compass, and true north may be disregarded for ordinary pathfinding in the woods, as the deflection is not sufficient to throw the traveler seriously off his desired course. But beware of local attraction, such as would be established if the compass were held near any iron or steel object, like an axe or a knife or a belt buckle. To make sure that the needle is not being affected in this way put the compass on the ground and note whether the needle keeps its position in both places. Very rarely a compass will be affected by a mass of iron or beneath the surface of the ground."

Queen of Belgians Favors Woman Suffrage

The heroic Queen of Belgium has come and gone, leaving behind her admiration for her democratic manner, her womanly charm, and her genuineness and graciousness. She was interested in whatever might help her country and her people, and expressed herself with engaging frankness when questioned.

The queen believes in co-education. "Girls," she said, "should be educated for one thing and boys for another. I am not a believer in the equality of the sexes. The war convinced me. It thoroughly proved men must be the soldiers and do the work while women are nurses. In the future I believe we will be guided along the same lines.

I believe in times like that women who are not forced to work ought to prepare themselves for specialized social work, such as nursing, welfare and hospital work. That does not mean, however, that I am opposed to women's voting. I firmly believe a woman ought to vote and a woman's intuition will tell her what is right and cause her to vote correctly.

A doughboy in search of entertainment happened on some soldiers amusing themselves at baseball. He took a seat in the outfield of left field and was promptly run into by a perspiring fielder.

"What's the score brother?" he asked.

"Twenty-three to nothing," came the answer.

"Huh. Not much chance to win, have you?"

"Oh, so-so. We haven't had our inning yet."—American Legion Weekly.

"When a man says 'yes' to every thing you suggest, stop suddenly some time and you'll probably find that he isn't paying much real attention to your remarks." — Exchange.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR STATE CORN SHOW

Will Be Held At Dover, December 16 to 18

Arrangements have now been completed for holding the 13th Annual State Corn Show in Dover, December 16th to 18th, 1919. Indications are that this will be the most successful show ever held in the State. The Premium List will be large and attractive and will include awards for forage and grains in the sheaf as well as for corn. A special class is being prepared for Kent County exhibitors, the prizes for which will be donated by the business men of Dover and vicinity. Entries to this class will consist of one bushel each of ear corn. There will be two classes, four prizes each. One for yellow corn and one for white corn.

The Grangers of the State are asked to participate and a class is open to any grange in the State which will submit five 10-ear samples of corn, said sample to be grown by an individual exhibitor. The Grange making the best exhibit of corn will be awarded a silver loving cup furnished by the State Grange Organization. This cup will remain the property of the Grange for the coming year. The Grange which wins the cup the third time will become its final possessor.

"We should not close our eyes to the fact that democracy is something more than a mere form of government by which society is restrained into free and orderly force as well. And these are things which live only in the atmosphere of liberty. The foundation upon which democracy rests is faith in the moral instincts of the people. Its ballot boxes, the franchise, its laws, and constitutions are but the outward manifestations of the deeper and more essential thing—a continuing trust in the moral purpose of the average man and woman. When this is lost or forfeited your outward forms, however democratic in terms, are a mockery."—Senator Borah.

NEWARK HIGH CLOSES SUCCESSFUL FOOTBALL SEASON

Varsity Players Perfect Organization For Next Year

Newark High lost to Tome Literary Society last Wednesday, on Frazer Field, by a score of 12-6. Previous to the game there had been much rain which put the field in bad condition but this was no handicap to the local gridgers.

Steel starred for Newark High by making a sensational run in the 2nd period. Crompton played a fast game on the end. Humphreys starred for Tome.

The line-up: Newark High: Tome Literary So. Crompton, I. E. Hofferbert, Cornog, I. T. Glassey, Mulliken, I. G. Witter, Armstrong, C. Yardner, Hopkins, R. G. Hawken, Meyers, R. T. Haggerty, Sanborn, R. E. Brush, Evans, R. H. B. Curtis, Hoffecker, I. H. B. Berger, Steel, I. G. B. Powell, Major, I. B. Humphreys. Substitutions: Johnson for Witter; Mulliken for Hawkins; Cohan for Berger. Touchdowns: Curtis, Major, Humphreys, Referee Shipley. Umpire: Hancock. Head linesman Berkett. Time of quarters 8 minutes.

This game closed Newark High's season, although this is the first time the local High appeared in the grid iron game they have had a good season. Many of the varsity players had never played the game before, but under the coaching of Longland they have been developed into first class players.

The same varsity will be back next year with the exception of Steel, Mulliken and Hoffecker. Leroy Crompton was elected captain of next year's varsity.

Elkton Defeats Newark Thanksgiving Day

A football team composed of Newark youths met defeat at the hands of a strong Elkton team on Frazer Field Thanksgiving Day 25-0. The local team was out-weighted and outplayed but put up a game fight.

The line-up follows:

Newark

Referee, Ritz; Timekeeper, Bebout; head linesman, Blanton.

Swamp Ticks Give Second Dinner Thanksgiving

The Swamp Tick Coon Club gave second supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCormick near Glasgow on Thanksgiving eve. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCormick, Pusey McCormick, Harry McCormick, James McCormick, Alice McCormick, Ruth Peel, Adelbert Peel, Joseph Slack, William O'Connell, Henry McIntyre, Charles McIntyre, Wm. Schwartz, Clarence Brown, Allan Brown, Earl Brown, James M. Cashell, Norbert J. Cashell, Jr. Irving Cashell, Georgie Ash, The Tick's Mascot. After the supper the ticks went on all night hunt.

The young farmer was showing his city cousin around the farm and incidentally was rapidly falling under the spell of the fair cousin's eyes.

"Now, that's a nice scene," he said, pausing beside a paddock fence to point to a cow and a calf rubbing noses in bovine love. "The sight of it makes me want to do the same thing."

"Well, go on," said the sweet young thing placidly. "It's your cow, you know."

When George Bernard Shaw produced his play, "Androcles," the house rose at the fall of the curtain and the author was brought on the stage to bow to the storm of applause.

A solitary man in the gallery shouted: "I call it rot!"

"My friend," said G. B. S., "I quite agree with you, but what are we two against so many of a contrary opinion?"

"Sedentary work," said the college lecturer, "tends to lessen the endurance."

"In other words," butter in the smart student, "the more one sits the less one can stand."

"Exactly," retorted the lecturer; "and if one lies a great deal one's standing is lost completely."

And Now for the Christmas Gift!

For the Smoker

Our stock of Smoking Stands is ready. They are a very acceptable gift, for not only are they a convenience to the man who smokes, but they keep the ashes and match sticks where they belong.

These smokers come in fumed oak and mahogany finish and in brushed brass.

Standing ash receivers with tray easily removed for cleaning, are marked $1.75, $3.25, $3.75, $5.50 and $8.00.

In brushed brass, with glass tray they are marked $4.50, $5.00, $6.50, $7.00, $8.00 and $12.00.

Some of these are adjustable to different heights.

There are a number of the smoking sets in fumed oak and mahogany with automatic lighter, blue and green glass trays, tobacco jars and some with air-tight humidors. There is a wide range of styles and they are priced $10.00, $12.00, $13.50, $20.00, $27.50 and $37.00.

Thanked daily is the giver of a Sellers Kitchen Cabinet. Surely no more useful, more appreciated gift could be made to wife or mother. Here is a Christmas gift that will be used daily and many times a day, a gift that will save countless steps and lessen greatly the drudgery of the kitchen.

You know, too, when you give a Sellers Cabinet you give the very best you can buy. In no other can you obtain so many new and exclusive features. They alone have the anti-proof casters, the base shelf extender and the very convenient automatic lowering flour bin. All cabinets are made of oak and all have a genuine porcelain sliding top.

These cabinets come in two sizes. The Kitchen Special, 42 inches wide and 70 inches high, and the Mastercraft, 48 inches wide and 70 inches high. The appointments of both cabinets are the same. The Kitchen Special is $52.00 net.

The Mastercraft is $60.00 net. They can also be had in white, grey and blue enamel.

Why not suggest one as a "club" present to wife or mother?

Chairs---Little, Big and Medium

And of all woods and colors and covers. There is always some one of the family who has been wishing and wanting a chair of their very own. Here are hundreds of styles to choose from. There are the cunning little children's chairs in oak and in ivory enamel and in ivory and mahogany, copies of the grownup ones. These range in price from $4.00 to $16.00.

Here are dozens of wood and leather seat Rockers in oak and mahogany finish and in solid mahogany. The wood seat chairs range from $7.00 to $35.00, and included are the popular Windsor chair in various finishes and modifications. Leather seat rockers are extremely comfortable, a chair particularly adapted for living-rooms. These range from $20.00 to $35.00.

And then there are the big, comfy easy chairs covered in tapestry, velours and leathers. They are chairs that any one would be glad to meet on Christmas morning. Chairs that mean hours and hours of comfort. They range in price from $40.00 for an exceptional value in a denim covered fireside chair to the big, morocco covered lounging chairs at $100.00 and $120.00, and up to a wonderful silk damask covered fireside chair at $200.00.

Somebody — somebody you know — wants a chair for Christmas. We can meet almost any of your requirements with this big stock.

And—by the way—don't forget that the baby will want his new high-chair.

Cedar Chests

We have some twenty odd styles and a number of sizes to select from.

These chests are all of genuine Tennessee red cedar—pungent and oily—an ample protection from moths. They come mostly in "skirt length" sizes—42 to 54 inches long—but smaller boxes, particularly used for fur storage, can be had.

One particularly good design has rounded corners with a close-fitting dust-proof lid, double brace, and is marked in the various sizes, $29.00, $34.00 and $38.00. This is a very popular type of chest.

Another box, 48 inches long and extra width and depth, especially suited for bedding, is marked $36.00.

Three special chests in a smaller size are marked $20.00, $23.00 and $25.00 each.

All these chests are rubbed and polished and finished in the light natural cedar. They are all fitted with wood handles and strong, dependable locks. They are widely used for hope chests and a bedroom or storage room these rays seems incomplete without one.

Is there some one on your list who needs a cedar chest?

Floor Lamps

Very popular and extremely decorative are these floor lamps. They give just the right amount of soft, subdued light and come in shades to harmonize with any interior.

The bases of these lamps are mahogany and are all fitted with two chain-pull sockets.

All shades are double; in many cases the silk lining being of contrasting color, so that the lighted and unlighted effect is entirely different. The shades and bases are priced separately so that any combination may be had.

We can supply these lamps to order fitted for gas. We can supply to order the shades covered in your material to match your hangings. These lamps complete with shades range from $30.00 to $150.00.
